Rock Island's New Line Through Wellington Awaits Approval of Interstate Commission

At a meeting of business men of Quanah and Wellington at the local chamber of commerce offices Wednesday morning, it was pointed out that the Rock Island's new line through Wellington is now awaiting the approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission, and this is looked upon with favor by all towns along the proposed route.

Business men from Quanah who were here to discuss railroad matter were Carl Guin, A. P. Pierce, Mason Harwell, John T. Cope, A. M. Wey, Harry Kock, Emory Gose and R. R. Gilliland. Mr. Guin, manager of Quanah chamber of commerce, acted as spokesman for Quanah, discussing the new railroad and asking for co-operation of Wellington people.

R. L. Gillentine was chairman of the meeting. He voiced the sentiment of Wellington people by saying he believed the majority of the people here favored the Rock Island as it offered a trunk line and seemed to be more in earnest about building. The fact that Shamrock also favors the Rock Island was pointed out. Wellington men present were R. L. Gil-lentine, E. W. Jones, S. R. Pinkston, Deskins Wells, Lee O'Neil, E. N. Lewis and Clark Anderson. Announcement was made at Chicago Tuesday by the office of President J. E. Gorman of the Rock Island lines of the planned expenditure of $7,000,000 in Texas on new lines as soon as authority is received from the Interstate Commerce Commission. One projected line would cost $5,000,000 and extend from Shamrock south through Wellington to Quanah, there connecting with Frisco construction between Vernon and Seymour. The line was planned through this route to obtain a short line of business from the Texas Plains territory to Fort Worth and beyond, the announcement stated.

Black Clouds Send People To "Dug-outs"

The black clouds which accompanied the sand and thunderstorm late Tuesday afternoon caused many Wellington people to forsake their dwellings and scurry into storm cellars. The clouds which covered the entire western portion of the skies resembled those of almost a year ago which did such vast damage to Wellington and vicinity. Practically every "dug-out" in Wellington was full-up Tuesday until the clouds had blown over.

Fire Department Answers 3 Alarms During Past Week

All Are Minor Conflagrations and Result in Small Damage

Three alarms were answered by the Wellington fire department during the past week. Last Thursday the department was called to the residence of F. L. Emanuel on El Paso street where a small blaze had started on the exterior of the dwelling from electric wiring. It was extinguished with small difficulty.

Tuesday noon the garage of Judge Holton, also on El Paso street, caught fire, but the blaze was easily brought under control by the use of chemicals.

Early Tuesday night the home of Bob Graham was ignited by lightning being conducted into the attic by electric wires. Although a sandstorm combined with the electric storm was in full blast, the department made a hurried run to the home and the blaze was brought under control in a remarkable short time before serious damage was done.

John Casey, professor of journalism at Oklahoma University, one of the leading convention speakers, extended on behalf of the National Editorial association an invitation for Panhandle newspaper publishers to attend that body's July meeting at Cheyenne, Wyoming.

Memphis Chosen for Annual Convention City
In 1930

At the end of the Nunn-Warren Publishing company's complimentary souvenir luncheon—easily the most colorful occasion of the two-day session—the Panhandle Press association brought its annual convention to a close last Saturday with the selection of Memphis for the next meeting place. Memphis received 17 votes and Quanah 13 in the run-off, while Plainview and Amarillo were unsuccessful candidates and Borger put in her bid for the 1931 convention.

Homer Steen, publisher of the Flaydada Hesperian, was raised to the presidency from vice-president. Olin E. Hinkle, editor of the Pampa Daily News, was chosen vice-president, and Lyman Robbins of the Memphis Democrat was made secretary. In addition to these offices, the executive committee is composed of T. A. Landers of McLean and Fred Story of Childress. Archer Fullingim, editor of the Panhandle Herald, was made staff poet, and Miss Mary Helen Hardin of Childress, whose singing has charmed two conventions, was named official song bird.

The vote for vice-president was a tie for Fred Story of Childress and Olin E. Hinkle of Pampa, which President Deskins Wells broke by voting for the Pampa man. Selection of Archer Fullingim of Panhandle as poet for next year grew out of the reading by J. D. Merriman of Panhandle of a poem by Fullingim.

J. Lindsey Nunn was given enthusiastic approval of his suggestion to give another banquet next year.

John Casey, professor of journalism at Oklahoma University, one of the leading convention speakers, extended on behalf of the National Editorial association an invitation for Panhandle newspaper publishers to attend that body's July meeting at Cheyenne, Wyoming.

Visiting newspaper men declared they received much benefit from the numerous discussions. They also asserted that the high standard set by Childress in entertainment last year was well matched in Pampa, and this fact probably was instrumental in helping Memphis, another small city, to obtain the next meeting.

The convention was presided over by Deskins Wells of Wellington. J. D. Sugg of Pampa, as secretary handled many details, and the success of the entire convention was largely due to his untiring efforts in making all arrangements for the programs.

VISITS IN TENNESSEE

Judge R. H. Templeton returned to Wellington Monday from Tennessee where he had been to visit relatives. He was called to Winchester where his brother was ill but who is now improving. On the return trip Judge Templeton visited with his son, Robert, and his wife who are at Lebanon.

Weather Is Varied During Past Week

With the exception of snowfall, Wellington has been visited by every kind of weather during the past week.

Thursday, April 18, a heavy shower fell in Wellington, accompanied by an electrical storm. The shower did not extend far in any direction and is estimated that the greater portion of the rain fell in Wellington.

The next afternoon, Friday, the showers turned into a beating rain which fell for about five minutes and which filled all flood ditches in Wellington. This was accompanied by hail that damaged the fruit crop to a certain extent in some localities and which stripped many leaves from the trees over the city.

Saturday, Sunday and Monday were each fair during the mornings, but sandstorms blew up during the afternoons.

Early Tuesday night an electrical storm grew out of the west, accompanied by stiff winds, heavy dust clouds, a small amount of hail and some rain.

Wednesday morning brought beautiful spring sunshine which evolved into a sandstorm by noon and with the nightfall a chilling "norther" had blown up, accompanied by torrents of sand.

Thursday morning, April 25, dawned bright and clear, although cool breezes were blowing from the north.

Fourth Group of Good Roads Essays Released by Chamber of Commerce

Interest Among Students Still High in Essay Contest

The fourth group of essays written by rural students of Collingsworth county has been released by the Wellington chamber of commerce for publication in The Leader, and essays appearing this week were written by Monty Mitchell of Salt Fork, Marie Harris of Salt Fork, Ola Langford of Bowen and Alva Ledbetter of Houselog.

"WHY WE SHOULD VOTE FOR PAVED ROADS MAY 11"

By Monty Mitchell, Salt Fork
The voters of Collingsworth county will be brought face to face with one of the most vital questions that ever confronted them. Vital, because the question of good roads is of especial interest to every one. There are several reasons why this question is of so much importance.

Let us examine some facts from California, a state that now has system of state highways. These facts have been obtained from 109 different points. There are around one and a half million automobiles registered in California. The commission mileage shows that there is an average yearly mileage of 1400 miles per car on highways alone. This is an immense mileage. What is true in California may be so also in Texas. So why not have as good a road system in Texas as in California? Let's help make Texas popular by aiding in the good road movement. We can render a valuable aid in voting for the good roads for Collingsworth county on May 11.

The largest item that faces the people of today, that of new commerce, time saving and cheaper haulage of goods, cannot be compared or even estimated in money at all. It is huge. Suppose that all this commerce had to be hauled over dirt roads. Think what an immense loss it would be in both time and money. How can we prevent this? The answer is very simple, just use a little of your time and vote for the road bond on May 11. Should the road bonds carry, it would mean a saving of many millions of dollars a year in tires, springs, gasoline, depreciation of our cars and transportation of farm products.

From this saving alone we could carve out our entire highway system every few years and rebuild it if necessary. Highways joy.

There exists today a certain relation between automobiles and highways. Each increase in automobiles brings an increased demand for better highways. We have the automobiles, why not the highways? The cars have come here to stay. Why not make the best use possible of them? Why not have roads over which we may drive with a certain degree of pleasure. It seems that every man who owns an automobile should be in favor of good roads. Why not line up with those supporting the movement and vote for good roads on May 11.

Good roads have served as an important agent in eliminating the isolation of rural communities. They have brought town and county into closer contact with each other. They have made possible the location of schools and churches so they are closely accessible to each and every one. Increased use of motor trucks has brought about an increased demand for good roads. Motor trucks are increasing year after year. These have been rendering a very valuable service in making transportation and commerce from city to city and from farms to market more closely carried on.

Most any one would be in favor of another railroad through our county, even if taxes were a little higher. A paved road through the county would be of almost as much value as a railroad. It would bring the people in close touch with what railroad we do have. Let's vote the road bond first and show by this that we are living in a rich, prosperous and wide awake county. After we do this, some wide awake railroad company will build a good road across the county.

After giving this question the most serious thoughts and consideration, it seems that every farmer or person living in a rural community of Collingsworth county should support the good road bond on May 11. Why not?

"WHY WE SHOULD VOTE FOR PAVED ROADS MAY 11"

By Marie Harris, Salt Fork
It has been said that roads and highways are indexes to a nation's civilization. At all events, the older the nation, the better are its roads; a statement that can be verified by comparing the roads in Europe with those of the United States and Canada.

Outside of the cities of the United States and Canada, only a small percentage of the roads have been improved, that is, with crushed stone, gravel or some other materials, and the condition of the roads in the United States and Canada is no disgrace to these countries at present, because they include so much territory and have been settled so rapidly that it has been impossible for the states and smaller communities to construct roads as they are needed.

In case one farmer is not willing to vote for the paved roads he should have to pay the very highest taxes.

Poor roads are the cause of the greatest loss of profit to a majority of the farmers of the country for the following reasons. First: It increases expense of hauling, because careful estimates of the United States Department of Agriculture show that on a muddy road the greatest load an ordinary horse can haul in a wagon is eight hundred pounds; and on a dry earth road it is from one thousand to two thousand pounds and on an asphalt road from five thousand to eight thousand pounds. From this we can see that on the best road one horse can do the work that it would require five to eight horses to do on a muddy road.

Second: Because the loss of the market many farmers cannot market their crops, at the time when the prices are the highest, because they are unable to move them on account of the condition of the roads become passable the season for that commodity has passed, or the market is overstocked and the prices are lower.

Third: Because one of the important conditions entering into the value of the paved roads is access to a good market. And let two farms have the same quality of soil, and be equally distant from a market, one being on an improved road and the other on a dirt road. The value of the farm on the good road will be considerably greater than that on the other.

The most important agencies in bringing about this movement for good roads are the office of Public Roads, established in the United States Department of Agriculture in 1893, and reorganized as the office of Public Roads and Rural Engineering in 1915. The automobile, which has become a practical necessity. Therefore, these cars we are buying, are worn out on the dirt roads by having the paved roads we can save them and they will last longer and give better service. Why not vote for paved roads?

Today road making has become a highly developed branch of en-

Prompt Action

The Commissioners of Collingsworth County acted promptly and wisely in accepting the State's offer to advance funds to construct earthwork and drainage on the State and National highway running north and south through this county. As a result of their action this county will get the benefit of the state fund as well as a much better road. If bonds for paying are not voted, the county will have the improved roads, and if they are voted this county will be two years ahead of what it would have been without this move on the part of the state.

No definite action has been taken by the state at this time, but the action of our Commissioners opens the way for them to act on the proposition. Gibb Gilchrist will present the recommendation to the State Highway Commission in the near future, and it is believed that they will be favorable to the proposition. If this recommendation is accepted, the state will construct the first unit of the highway through this county with state funds. The county's participation in the measure will be to furnish the right of way. This county has considerable to gain and nothing to lose by the transaction.

Lawn Contest

It is to be hoped that Wellington will have another lawn contest this year. The lawn contest has been tried only two years, but its influence has already made itself felt in the civic improvement that has been brought about. The lawns and homes of this community are reflecting greater beauty than at any time in the past, and the lawn contest is the motivating influence. It has awakened a civic consciousness in the minds of Wellington people, causing them to realize the need for an attractive town. A town with beautiful lawns and homes looks inviting, and it has a greater chance to prosper than the unsightly town because it is a more desirable place for a home. The lawn contest should be put on again this year.

Is Liberty Passing

Probably much of our modern increase in crime can be laid to the fact that in the past quarter-century a vast number of acts, once innocent and legal, have been turned into offenses by legislation.

Instead of a liberal, well-ordered legal code that permits every citizen to lead his own life so long as he does not tread on his fellows, we are burdened with a multitude of petty laws, many of them conflicting, and practically all of them bound by red tape.

In a recent article, H. L. Menden, editor of American Mercury, said that "the Bill of Rights is on its last legs. . . . Step by step, at first cautiously but of late boldly, the learned justices have found reason to sustain the wholesale destruction, first of individual rights, and then of State rights. Today the once free American citizen is a mere subject. . . ."

What real crime there is, and no doubt there is a great deal of it, could be easily enough handled under a simple, vigorous and swift legal and penal code. Once murderers and thugs found that technicalities and evasions were of no avail and served only to hurry them to the hoosegow, crime would start down the hill. Once the job sisters and professional reformers were put in their place, real offenses against society would diminish.

The average person is well disposed and honest. And the average criminal would swiftly eschew his profession if punishment were certain and swift. We need fewer and better laws, not more; a simpler legal machinery, not a more ponderous one.—Shamrock Texan.

A Federal Project

The Panhandle of Texas is under consideration by the federal Government as a possible site for one of two narcotic hospitals it is to establish. Authority for the construction of two large sanitariums for narcotic addicts was given at the last session of Congress. One is to be in the East and the other in the Southwest.

Colorado, Utah, Arizona and the Texas Panhandle comprise the area decided upon by the public health service of the government wherein the southwestern unit is to be located. Estimates from Washington, according to late press dispatches, place the cost of each hospital at $4,000,000.

Amarillo is well located with reference to serving the Southwest through such an institution, and it behooves the city, through its Board of City Development and other agencies, to present its advantages and claims to the proper board at Washington. A project of such magnitude is worthy of considerable effort.—Amarillo News.

TEXAS & TEXANS

By Will H. Mayes

THE SPECIAL SESSION

In failing to submit appropriation measures to the special session of the legislature Gov. Moody used good judgment. Had he done so, the chances are that the appropriation bills, would have been passed first and the rest of the time would have been spent in wasteful wrangling. Even as it is there is a prospect that little beneficial legislation will be accomplished. Doubtless some disposition will be made of the prison problem, for even a dull legislator can understand that penitentiary matters could hardly be made worse. There is likely to be more talk than action over the civil service measure. The legislature should not spend much time on putting into effect the constitutional amendment calling for the creation of a State educational board. If the legislative body were smaller and better informed as to the needs of Texas a week would be ample time in which to dispose of all the measures as yet submitted and also the appropriation bill, but there are those who guess that still another session will be necessary.

COURT REFORM

One of the most important problems confronting Texas is reform of the judiciary, from the justice court to the supreme court. Gov. Moody is interested and no doubt before the session is far along will submit the matter, as he has intimated he will do. The idea that many legislators have about court reform is only to create more courts or have more judges to handle the business of the courts. If Texas could only get rid of its antiquated court procedure, it would then be in position to rid itself of half the cost of maintaining courts.

SENATOR BAILEY'S PASSING

The death of Ex-Senator Bailey removed one of the best known political characters of the period. While he was perhaps not in accord in most of his views with the majority even of the political party to which he belonged, his convictions were so pronounced and well formulated in his own mind and conscience that he never hesitated to express them in positive and well-understood terms. He was courageous and bold, seemingly caring little for the opposition of the masses. His was a life of political strife and the hotter the battle the more enjoyment he received from the encounter. Perhaps his greatest fault was reluctance to change an opinion once it was formed and with this was coupled his abiding belief of the superior knowledge of the early exponents of the Democratic party. He was ever a defender of the constitution of the country as it was originally drafted and was reluctant to subject it to any changes.

PARKING PALO DURO CANYON

There is a movement to have Palo Duro Canyon in the Texas Panhandle set aside and improved as a public park. Palo Duro ranges from one to sixteen miles long. It is a great chasm in the level prairie of that section and is not visible until its very banks are approached. Its entire length furnishes surprises at every turn, scenic views of magnificent grandeur and picturesqueness. By all means it should belong to the state and be opened its full length to the people who would like to visit it. Texas has reached the stage in its development where it can afford to utilize its beauties to best advantage and should not longer neglect to acquire and improve its best natural park sites.

EAST TEXAS FRUITS

East Texas, through its regional chamber of commerce, has started a campaign for planting more fruit trees. The result has been that in the second year of the movement 270,000 fruit trees have been set out on the farms of that section, Smith county leading with 35,000 trees. That part of Texas is especially adapted to all kinds of fruit, except those requiring a tropical climate, and it needs only such active interest as its chambers of commerce have been showing lately to make it the great fruit-growing center of the Southwest. The East Texas chamber of commerce has shown good judgment in its interest in agricultural and horticultural development, even though it has neglected politics somewhat, and the result of its close attention to the interests of its people is already being seen in improved conditions.

APPROPRIATE MEMORIAL

The Shakespeare Club at Llano will erect a memorial to the Llano county boys who died during the war while in the country's service. The memorial will be a bronze monument on a Llano granite base on which will be inscribed the names of the war dead. There is an appropriateness in the use of Llano granite, which suitably represents the sturdiness of its people. There is something in a solid monument, too, that impresses those who look at it with the suggestion of unselfish appreciation. Memorial halls are all right, but it is difficult to dissociate them from the thought that they were constructed as much for the convenience of the living as in memory of the dead.

SAN MARCOS RESORT

San Marcos has long been one of the most attractive small cities of Texas, its schools and natural beauties having drawn to it the best class of citizens. Recently one of the most beautiful resort hotels in the state has been completed in one of the city's many pretty parks, with a small lake front and with towering hills to the back, golf links right at hand, and every attraction and convenience of the best resort hotels of the country. It was built by A. B. Rogers, who has perhaps done more than any other person to make San Marcos favorably known to visitors and whose new hotel will doubtless become as well known as he made Rodgers Park. Texas needs more resorts of the kind, but will not soon have one in a more beautiful setting.

ROASTING EAR SEASON

Texas grown roasting ears are being shipped from the Rio Grande Valley in carload lots. From some parts of Texas roasting ears will be shipped until the frosts of fall, making most of the year roasting ear season in Texas. The first carload of spring cantaloupes has come into the country from Mexico it will not be long now until South Texas will be shipping these delicious melons to all parts of the country.

WANTING CREAMERIES

Texas farmers are finding that it pays them for neighboring towns to have creameries. Recently 76 farmers attended a chamber of commerce meeting at Carrizo Springs to discuss with the town people the building of a creamery.

DECK'S Didactics

By H. D. W.

When Collingsworth county does have a pretty day, I don't believe the beauty of such a day can be rivaled by any state in the Union. Wednesday morning was lovely with its sunshine and its freshness. The dew on the grass in my yard looked like shimmering crystals and the trees and flowers seemed to murmur thanks for the blue sky and the fragrant air.

P. S. This was written early Wednesday morning.

But my, Wednesday morning should have been fair. Look at Tuesday. And as if the day wasn't bad enough a windstorm came up. I was downtown and got to thinking of leaving my wife at home last year when the house blew in; so I went home, but she was safe in the cellar with the colored woman. My wife thinks I don't get scared at storms, but Tuesday's experience did make me decide to have the cellar door fixed.

You can believe it or not, but Jack Tinkle went fishing with W. H. Montgomery and Bill Knudson of Shamrock and they caught a twenty eight pound catfish on a trot line. Jack brought the head back to prove it. It looked like a whale to me. If I thought I could catch a fish half that big, I would go fishing every day. The biggest fish I ever caught in my entire life weighed nearly a pound.

Isn't there some man in this town who is interested in boys who can spare part of his time to devote to Scout work. One of the local troops is without a scoutmaster. If someone has a little time and a little patience and loves boys, here is a chance to render a distinct contribution to the community. Nothing is as important as the citizenship of tomorrow, and they should be given time and attention. Scouting commands the interest of every healthy boy, and to my mind it is more valuable than Sunday School.

I spent last Friday and Saturday in Pampa attending the annual meeting of the Panhandle Press Association. From the standpoint of arrangement and entertainment it was one of the most successful I have ever attended. J. D. Sugg of the Pampa Times, handled the details that resulted in the successful program, and it was due in large part to his efforts that the meeting was successful throughout.

Buster Keaton in New Comedy Soon

A complete theatrical production, staged as a play within a play, and turned into a hilarious comedy when the hero introduces mishaps into dramatic action, is one of the odd tricks in humor in "Spite Marriage," Buster Keaton's new Metro Goldwyn Mayer starring vehicle, with synchronized score and sound effects, which will be at the Rialto Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday.

"Spite Marriage" is a hilarious story of backstage life with Keaton as a love sick tailor who invades the theatre for love of an actress. She marries him out of spite against a former lover. A yacht wreck, a chase by some determined rum runners and other comical thrills embellish the story. Among the most breath taking sequences is one where Keaton mans a ship alone during a raging storm at sea and hangs from the mast head downward.

"Spite Marriage" introduces something wholly original and new in screen fare, for its humor is supplied almost entirely by the interpretation the star gives his role. Another star might play the part straight and a serious drama would result without changing one situation.

"Fury of Wild" to Be Shown At Gem

"Fury of the Wild," the FBO production which will be shown at the Gem Theatre April 29 and 30 should give one hundred percent entertainment to all picture goers who enjoy melodrama.

Filled with fast action, suspense, thrills and deep human interests, the picture has a dynamic star, a wonder police dog named Ranger.

The scenes in which the hero faces super human odds in a fight to save those who have befriended him from the hands of a band of desperadoes, with Ranger assisting, are thrilling from beginning to end, and the uncanny intuition and intelligence of the dog in thwarting the schemes of the gang leader are equally well done.

The plot revolves around the steadfast loyalty of a dog for his master, who, although a prison inmate for a year, expresses a desire to follow the straight and narrow path. The dog's intuition tells him when things are not right and when his master finally succumbs to the influence of gangsters who are planning a robbery, the canine shows exceptional intelligence.

Baby Star Plays "Hot Stuff" Part

Doris Dawson, one of the most beautiful of the Baby Stars chosen for 1929 by the Wampus organization in Hollywood, has an important supporting part in First National's new picture, "Hot stuff" which is to show at the Rialto theatre Monday and Tuesday, April 29 and 30.

As a decided type and great beauty, Miss Dawson is both a contrast and a compliment to Alice White, the star of the picture. Doris is nearly as small as Alice, but dark, with chestnut hair and blue eyes, while Alice is a saucy, pretty blonde. The two are friends and later sorority sisters in the picture and they make a pair that would create a commotion on any campus in the country.

"Hot Stuff" is a collegiate picture, adapted from the story, "The Bluffers," written by Robert S. Carr before his twentieth birthday, and giving a youth's view of youth's problems. It is a story for all ages but presents a new angle on the ever present question, "What is to become of the young people of today?"

Louise Fazenda, famous screen character woman, has an important supporting part and others in the cast include William Bakewell, Buddy Messinger.

gineering. In the construction of a road we voters should cast our votes for paved roads.

With the improvement of roads and modern methods of construction the management has passed from petty officials of a local community to the county and the state, and is placed in the hands of road engineering who, with their assistants, see that the roads under their supervision are kept in repair. They also lay out and supervise the construction of new roads that are authorized.

Then for these reasons and many others, why not cast your vote for paved roads on May 11.

"WHY WE SHOULD VOTE FOR PAVED ROADS MAY 11"

By Ola Langford, Bowen

We should vote for paved roads for several reasons: They are as follows:

First: There are not many counties in Texas that don't have paved roads so why don't we have them.

Second: When it is rainy weather paved roads don't get muddy and you won't get stuck on paved roads. Paved roads are the thing to have.

Third: You don't have to have someone dragging the roads every time it rains. When it rains men have to grade roads on Sunday or any other day.

Fourth: Paved roads are nicer to ride on.

Fifth: When it rains you have paved roads you don't have to wait for the roads to dry enough for you to get through. You can go any way and want have to have some one to pull you out of the ditch or a mud hole.

Sixth: When you have paved roads traveling in a wagon doesn't cut ruts in the road or make chug holes in paved roads. That is the reason I want paved roads.

Seventh: Paved roads would make our town, or our little city rather, grow more rapidly.

Eighth: Have better ways of traveling; have more visitors in the town of Wellington and the town would be much better for the people have better regulations.

Ninth: It would be more pleasant for the ones who are traveling and also for the people of Collingsworth county.

Tenth: The ones that don't vote for paved roads are afraid that they lose a dollar or two, but paved roads are worth thousands and thousands to every one all over the world.

Eleventh: The people that don't vote for paved roads will enjoy riding on our paved roads if the election carries and I sure hope it carries.

Twelfth: The farmers would have better roads to carry their goods to market and could make quicker trips to town or anywhere else they wanted to go.

Thirteenth: Where there are paved roads only one can make a trip quicker, you wouldn't have to slow up for the chug holes.

Fourteenth: Paved roads are not rough on cars. Anyone knows that rough roads are hard on cars or they should know it. If one breaks a spring to the car the spring to the car will cost as much or more than the amount put on the taxes, if there were any more on the taxes at all.

Fifteenth: On paved roads you are not liable to have a puncture any time so I think paved roads are the thing for old Collingsworth county.

Sixteenth: When you are on dirty roads you can't see what there are in the chug holes so there are apt to be nails, tacks, glass or a thousand of other things that causes punctures. I had rather take the money that I would spend for tires, tubes and springs and vote for paved roads.

Seventeenth: The people of Collingsworth county don't realize how much paved roads would mean to them.

Eighteenth: These people that think paved roads are injurious to the people and county but it really would be a help to everybody. The people would see what a help it would be to them.

Nineteenth: If the people would wake up in Collingsworth county they would see what a mistake they have made by not voting for paved roads. Roads that they can enjoy riding on, roads that you won't dread to ride on. You can really know what you are riding on.

Twentieth: When anyone goes on a trip if they don't have paved roads they always said if I had good roads I wouldn't mind to go and I could make it in such a length of time if you have paved roads you wouldn't have to wait for the roads to dry for you to start but can pack up your car and go.

Twenty-first: Collingsworth county just needs paved roads and a new court house and Wellington would be all right. That would be all she would need to make her grow.

Twenty-Second: I think we need paved roads to ride on as other counties do. When you ride on paved roads and ride on the Collingsworth county roads you think you are riding over mountains. Where if you had paved roads we could brag on our roads the same as any other county.

So let's vote for paved roads May 11. Wake up, see what is ahead of you.

"WHY WE SHOULD VOTE FOR PAVED ROADS MAY 11"

By Alva Ledbetter, Houselog

First, I want to thank the Wellington chamber of commerce for this opportunity on essay writing that I may say something in my essay that will benefit Collingsworth county. As I was born in Collingsworth county I do not think any question could be of more interest than the paving of roads, for I, like any one else, would like for the county in which I born, come out on the map as being the leading county in the state. I think that the question of paving roads in Collingsworth county at this time, had not been possible, that our good county commissioners would not have put the question to vote before the people of this county. And the citizens had ought to take advantage of the opportunity that the commissioners have given them, and vote for paved roads on May 11, and by so doing make Collingsworth county a better place in which to live.

A paved road running both ways through the county would at least raise the valuation of the land two dollars per acre. Think of what this would be above what the road bonds will cost us. And also think of what this raise in land valuation would mean to the land owners of this county. Then why not vote for paved roads May 11.

The reason for paving the roads that has been decided on is not because of being the best roads in the county but because of being more traffic on these roads.

Some of the people oppose the road bonds because they do not believe in placing a debt on an "un-born generation," but why not have something here to live for when the "unborn generation" gets here.

Another objection to the road bonds is that they think the farmers and stockmen will have to pay taxes for the business men of this county. But haven't the farmers and stockmen just as well pay taxes for them as to pay freight money? Speaking of the business men being strong for paved roads is not because they think they own't have to pay the taxes, but they want to see Collingsworth county grow. They understand that the best is not too good for the people of this county. And they are willing to pay their part of the road tax to pave the roads. The farmers cannot do without the business man any more than the business men can do without the farmer. Then we must work together for Collingsworth county to prosper, and cast our votes for paved roads on May 11.

Think of the difference in the freight money and in having merchandise hauled in trucks. We all see it would be much cheaper, and that is what we are wanting, something better and cheaper. We know that these cars and trucks are here to stay, why not begin making a better road now for them to travel on? With a paved road Wichita Falls or Amarillo could be reached in four or five hours drive, with commercial trucks hauling our products to market. Then why not vote for paved roads and reap the benefit of these markets?

I think there are only two things that come before good roads and that is good schools and good churches. And to have them we must have good roads. For instance, if some pupil has finished the grades that are taught in the school nearest their home, they then are compelled to go to another school, the school being so far away that they will have to go in their car, and by the time they have fixed one or two "blow-outs," caused by the bumpy roads, and pushed out of the sand once or twice they don't feel like studying when they get to school. And when Sunday and Sunday night comes to those who live out in the country eight or ten miles had rather stay at home than to ride so far over the rough roads. Citizens, if more will attend school and church by having better roads we will be repaid for all the money it costs to pave the roads.

Collingsworth county does not belong to any individual, but belongs to everyone that lives in it. This question on paving should not be looked at from a selfish standpoint, but looked at in such a way it will benefit every one in the county. Therefore, citizens, please think twice before you cast your vote, and vote for paved roads on May 11.

170 Students and Faculty
Members Are Present
At Banquet

Members of the Junior and Senior classes of the Wellington high school were entertained at the annual Junior-Senior banquet held Friday evening, April 19, at the basement of the First Christian church where approximately 170 students and faculty members were present. The annual Junior-Senior banquet is always one of the most important affairs of the school year and marks the opening of the spring festivities sponsored by the upper classmen of the high school.

Durward Herron, of the Junior class, served in the capacity of toastmaster and directed an unusually good program.

G. L. Farrar, superintendent of the high school, directed a well worded address to the students present, taking advantage of the opportunity to give the seniors present an abundance of sound advice.

Julia Slough, president of the Junior class, spoke the address of welcome after which Raymond Powell made a response for the seniors.

G. Ward Moody made a humorous address to the students. His comments were well received and added much zest to the entertainment.

An orchestra furnished music during the three course dinner, and several special numbers were also played which consisted of saxophone numbers by Garland Hampton and Edward Lee Pritchard.

Miss Annalu Harper was called upon for a reading.

The banquet was served to the following members of the Junior class: Edwin Parker, Frank Campbell, John Vaughan, Harris Phillips, Paul Bell, Robert Willoughby, Misses Tarsley Singley, Bessie Hunt, Dorothy Margaret Cocks, Mary Katherine Hutcherson, Georgia Montague and Faye Bell.

Faculty members present were G. L. Farrar, Misses Mildred Hulsey, Corinne Allen, Hazelle King, Kay Ingram, Estelle Shepard, Louise Harle, Lota Price and Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Davidson. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. G. Ward Moody, Mrs. Aubrey Dobbs and Mrs. Henry Cocks.

Practically all members of the Junior and Senior classes were in attendance.

New Hotel For Altus Assured With Contract

A contract for $120,000 for the construction of a new hotel on the corner of West Commerce and North Main in Altus was awarded to the McMillian-Shelton construction company of Enid late Wednesday by Hedley and J. D. Abbott.

Work on the building which will cost approximately $250,000 completed, will start by April 25 with the building expected to be finished by October 1.

The McMillian-Shelton company is now building the Mangum hotel. The contract made Wednesday includes every phase of work to be done in connection with the remodeling of the present Phipps-Snyder building and addition of two stories except the plumbing. This contract will be handled separately.

With the contract for the building costing $120,000 and $70,000 paid for the Phipps-Snyder location and building the new hotel completed will cost approximately $250,000.

The hotel will include 80 rooms, fifty with bath or showers, and 30 without. Each room will be uniform in size. To insure every room being sufficiently large the number of rooms originally planned was decreased slightly this last week in the series of conferences held with the architect and contractor.

The outstanding feature of the new hotel will be the combined banquet room and dance hall covering an area of 40 feet by 90 feet on the second floor. A special scheme of decorating is being worked out to make this room especially attractive.

Memphis Sets Aside $40,000 as Share For Project

The Hall County Commissioners' Court in session at the courthouse in Memphis last week passed a resolution placing funds in escrow for the county's portion of the cost on the Red River project announcement of which was made in last week's issue of The Democrat.

The work for which the appropriation has been made includes the construction of grading, small drainage structures, a concrete bridge over the Prairie Dog Fork of Red River, grades and an overpass over the Denver South Plains Railroad.

The Commissioners Court placed the sum of $40,000 in escrow in the Citizens State Bank as this county's share of expense in connection with the project. This amount will match the sum of $66,399.28, the amount given by the state and $121,395.78, the amount given by Federal government. The Denver Railroad has appropriated $20,000 as its share of the expense, which makes the total cost of the project $247,795.06.

In speaking of the action taken by the Commissioners Court, County Judge A. C. Hoffman of Memphis said: "I am very pleased to know that work is to begin within the near future on this important project. The people of Hall county have been waiting eagerly for word from the state highway department relative to the submission of bids for the construction."

"I might add that both the state and federal governments have been very liberal with us in this matter, and the county appreciates their assistance and help."

Shamrock Buys Airplane Field

Purchase of a 160-acre tract of land in the Walker-Martin addition at Shamrock for use as a landing field for Shamrock, has been announced by the Aviation committee of Shamrock Chamber of Commerce.

The topography of the property and its proximity to the city makes it an ideal site and members of the Aviation committee expressed the opinion this city would soon have excellent facilities to care for airplanes.

It can be converted into a landing field at a very nominal cost and the time arrives for a first class airport the property will be entirely suitable for the purpose.

Members of the committee, A. N. Holmes, H. P. Kuhlman, W. H. Walker, Homer Ewton and B. F. Holmes, bought the property themselves as an investment and announced they would turn it over to the chamber of commerce for use as a landing field. They believe the increase in the value of the land will compensate them for their investment. They bought the land from Judge E. H. Small.

The chamber of commerce is negotiating with an airport corporation which is putting in a chain of airports between St. Louis and Albuquerque, N. M., to see if the corporation would be interested in building a port in this city.

Work of converting the land into a first class landing field will be started at once.

Mangum Masons Resume Work on $40,000 Building

Construction of the Masonic building in Mangum, stopped on March 30, was resumed last week. J. W. Harris, contractor, made default and his surety, the Union Indemnity company of New Orleans, took over the work. The bonding company made a contract with C. L. Irwin, who was foreman for Harris, to complete the contract for $75,000. The building is to be completed in about four weeks it is estimated.

Harris is said to have bid too low on the job. His bid of $33,081 was considerably lower than the next lowest bid. Some builders estimate that the building will cost $40,000.

Harris also made default on contracts for school buildings at Blair and Headrick. The Headrick building was completed but the bonding company lost on outstanding bills. The Blair building is uncompleted and the bonding company let a new contract Monday.

The Union Indemnity company made Harris' bond on each of the three contracts and lost a total of $22,000. C. L. Barr of Kansas City, claim adjuster for the company, spent several days looking after the contracts.

Although the law was passed nine years ago it is still in effect and the city council asks that citizens take notice of its contents.

Opening Game of League Schedule Sunday, April 28

Wellington's First League
Game to Be Played
Here With Mangum

Wellington's ball club is all set for the opening of their part in the Oklahoma-Texas schedule, according to Manager George McCullough, and the Mangum team will meet the locals at the Wellington Fair Park in the opener Sunday afternoon, April 28.

Interest in Wellington's club is growing steadily and in all probability a record crowd will be in attendance at Sunday's game. All candidates for the team have been going through daily workouts during the past two weeks and it is believed that Wellington will be able to develop one of the best teams in the league. There is a possibility that several new men may be added to the string within the next few days and prospects for a winning nine are unusually bright.

Last Sunday afternoon the Wellington team won from Hollis 14-3 in an exhibition match played here. Wellington's line-up Sunday was as follows: McDuffy and Daniels, pitchers; Horton, catcher; Knight, 1b.; Dean, 2b.; Ballenger, ss.; Bellah, 3b.; Riley, lf.; Long, cf.; Rosser and Maddox, rf. McDuffy pitched the first five innings while Daniels held the mound during the last four.

An exhibition game with Paducah has been arranged for Thursday afternoon, April 25, to give the locals further practice before their league season opens.

Sunday's game will be called at 3:30 and all Wellington fans are urged to be out early to give the home team support.

Winning Students Will Get Prize

AUSTIN, Texas, April 24.—To the student winning first place in the art contest of the Texas Interscholastic League at the State meet to be held in Austin May 3 and 4 will be given a genuine antique fragment, the gift of Gutzon Borglum, noted sculptor and designer of the Confederate Monument on Stone Mountain in Georgia, according to Prof. Samuel E. Gideon of the University of Texas department of architecture, who is in charge of the contest. There will be three events, one still life and charcoal, one still life and color and the third clay modeling from life.

The meeting Tuesday night was presided over M. E. McNally, chairman of the library board. The first item of business was the election of officers. Mr. McNally was re-elected chairman by the unanimous vote of the board members present. William Russell Clark was elected vice-chairman; Mrs. W. C. Milam was re-elected secretary and W. M. Walker re-elected treasurer.

Chairman McNally appointed a committee consisting of F. N. Foxhall, C. R. Webster and W. M. Walker to meet with a committee from the City Council to discuss how the money appropriated should be expended.

Order Is Passed For Improvement Of Highway No. 4

Will Cooperate With State
By Furnishing Right-of-way

Special Session

Commissioners Hold Special Session to Decide Matter

At a special meeting of the commissioners court of Collingsworth county Saturday the question of the construction of earthwork and structures on State Highway No. 4 were considered and the commissioners signed an order whereby Collingsworth county agree to furnish right-of-ways in Collingsworth county from the Childress county line to the Wheeler county line, according to Mrs. Marguerite Bartlett, county clerk.

The order passed by the commissioners Saturday reads as follows: "Should the State highway department decide to advance the necessary funds for the construction of earthwork and drainage structures, we agree to furnish the state highway department the necessary right-of-ways, to be in no case less than 100 feet wide and on location approved by the state highway department. This right-of-way is to be furnished free of cost to the state of Texas and to be fully fenced and delivered with satisfactory title."

"We understand that if this highway should be constructed on such a proposal as is herein contemplated, the county will not be relieved in any way of any obligation that may exist now or in the future to furnish its proportionate share of the complete structure of this highway."

"We further agree that if any bond issue is voted in this county or in any road district embracing this highway, to provide such funds in the election order as may fulfill this county's complete share of such construction in such manner as may be required by the existing policy of the state highway department at the time such election is called."

"It is understood that this action is taken primarily to expedite the construction of earthwork and drainage structures in order that such earthwork may become seasoned and settled, and not in any way bear on the ability of the county to provide funds or its willingness to provide the necessary share of construction."

The order was dated April 20, 1929, and was signed by J. E. Jones, H. K. Willingham, H. L. Cagle and J. A. Coleman, commissioners of Collingsworth county.

Passion Play in English Coming To Wichita Falls

Will Be Presented Soon for First Time In South

For the first time in the South the Passion play, spoken in English, is to be presented in Wichita Falls on May 1, 2 and 3 in the Memorial auditorium under the auspices of Market temple of the Shrine, but a colossal company under the direction of Clarence E. Cramer of Chicago.

The Passion play has been presented, of course, in motion pictures and has been presented in German in a number of the leading cities in the South but this will be the first time it has been presented by a company of professional actors and singers in the leading parts in the English language.

The Passion play depicts the story of the betrayal, trials, crucifixion, burial and resurrection of Jesus Christ.

As a great tragedy, it has no superior in the world. But, unlike all other tragedies whose Hero is killed, the Passion play closes with the most jubilant of scenes, "For He is Risen."

The great chorus of 200 voices to sing in the performance at the Memorial auditorium where it will be given the first three days in May, sings the well known and loved "Hallelujah Chorus" from The Messiah.

The Cramer production is reverently staged and creates a vivid and lasting impression.

Audiences leave with the song on their lips, singing from their own hearts for it is a tragedy whose Hero alone of all men rose from the dead.

The musical numbers are all sung in English, so as to bring to the entire North Texas territory the most potent of dramas in a way which will be understood readily by a child.

Tickets are now on sale at the Passion play headquarters, Hamilton building, Wichita Falls, Texas.

Childress Beer Now in Sewer

With resounding pops as their aged tops were removed 200 bottles of beer seized by Childress officers the last few months were poured into the drain basin of the fire department building last week. They were killed all right, but in a different way than was intended for them originally.

Thirsty onlookers stood by to catch a last fleeting glimpse of the liquid as it disappeared down the drain, according to the Childress Index. Officers Blansitt and Moore had charge of the ceremony. They were assisted by fireman Jones.

Clarendon Man Given 99 Years

Joe Dunwoody, one of the men implicated in the killing of the Hedley night watchman on the last of December, 1928, received a sentence of ninety-nine years at Clarendon in District Court Wednesday afternoon. The jury on the case remained out of the court room three hours before reaching a verdict. The trial was completed in record time, taking less than three days to complete from the time the jury examination was started until the verdict was reached. A special venire had been called consisting of 126 men. The other of the cases against the men implicated in this same offense will not come to trial here at this term of court. A change of venue is to be asked on these cases. The place of trial has not been ascertained.

Papers Written Against Voting For Good Roads

Two Men Contribute Articles to Leader Against Road Bonds

Two men have contributed articles against the road bond issue to The Leader with the request that these papers be published, giving their points of view. The papers follow:

"SOME FACTS AND FIGURES ON THE PROPOSED ROAD BOND ISSUE"

As the Wellington Leader has kindly agreed to publish an argument against this road bond issue, I want to give some facts and figures. I am sure there are plenty of folks that can beat me a city block peddling hot air, and I shall not contend with them at all, but this bond issue is a big proposition and ought to interest every taxpayer in the county. $800,000 is lots of money. The interest alone if they can vote these bonds at five per cent is $40,000 and at the present condition of the money market I don't think it can be done and even if it can the interest alone is more than $100 every day, an amount nearly as large as the entire county tax now collected and yet some of these bond boosters are telling folks it won't raise taxes more than six or eight dollars per 160 acres. The entire county tax in 1927 was $56,812 and about ten days ago they had collected something over $55,000 for 1928 and the interest and sinking fund on the bonds will almost if not equal the entire amount of our county taxes and you can figure for yourself about how much it will raise taxes and more of it the interest alone on these bonds is twice as much money as this county ever has spent on all roads in this county and if we vote this debt on ourselves we would just have two roads which would possibly accommodate 20 per cent of the people of the county. I know that some of the bond boosters are promising to build the north and south road and east and west road and then build the people of Quail a road and the folks at Dodsonville a road and then maybe run out to Swearingen, but boys the talk just ain't near big enough and more of it this county will have to spend thousands of dollars on right of ways for these roads. Some may say, "Ah, we have the right of ways." Yes but not straight enough to pave and this paving costs, approximately $25,000 per mile and we can readily see these right-of-ways will have to be straightened and the whole expense of right of ways will have to be paid by the county and when you angle across a man's farm it is going to cost something and boys, I honestly believe you would have come out better if you had designed these roads and let the folks know what they was voting for, but the shape you have got it in now there is not anybody knows anything only we are going to try to vote about a million dollar debt on ourselves and then let the state come in and say where we spend it, and listen, I don't think for a minute that the taxpayers of this county are going to do any such thing. Now I live right on Number 9 highway and it would be real nice for me to have a paved road right into town but I don't want it near bad enough to see this ungodly debt saddled on this county. There is nothing in this county but the farming industry and a little stock raising to ever pay this debt and the farmers are not the people that are running around. We just haven't got time. Now I do not object to these trading people, commercial clubs or anyone else having paved roads but I do object to paying for said roads for the other fellow to drive on. Now if you trading boys do want paved roads and want to vote a gas tax to pay for them, come on, I am with you if it takes a dime a gallon, then if it gets too high I can swap old Lizzie for grubworms and go fishing but when you go vote a bond against my property and every other man's in the county, excuse me, please. This bond issue is goosely unfail. There is plenty of farms that will be from ten to twenty miles from these roads yet their property is tied up and they pay just the same rate of tax that the people of Wellington does. Let's build good roads but let's do it on these main highways with a gas tax and spend our county money where it will benefit the people of the county. The interest alone on these bonds will build and maintain a good dirt road from every community in this county equal to the state roads. Now the county has been spending $20,000 per year the last few years and we see a big improvement in the roads. Give our commissioners $40,000 more and every community can have a good road and the people that pay the bills will get the benefit of the roads. So lets all remember, the eleventh of May and see how bad we can beat these bonds.—Geo. C. White.

THE ROAD BOND ISSUE

Last fall on a Saturday afternoon some matter turned up suddenly on my farm that made it necessary for me to go to town immediately. As I was about to step into the car there came up a drove of Mexicans who wanted me to settle with them for their week's picking. I told them that I had no time to settle with them just then, but if each of them would tell me how much he needed that afternoon I would give him a check for that amount and that tomorrow morning we would adjust the accounts according to the weights they had for the week. That was all right with them and I went to the house again and wrote the desired checks. Among the pickers there were also two cavalierly young bucks. They wanted ten dollars apiece. As I gave them the checks I threw in a little fatherly advice that they shouldn't spend all that money between now and Monday. They gave me a good natured grin and the quickest witted of the two said: "Well—maybe tomorrow we are dead."

It seems to me sometimes, as I think over the possibility of the 2000 farmers of Collingsworth county voting a debt of $800,000 plus 5 1-2 per cent interest upon themselves, that they must be animated by some such spirit. At least, I fear that, unless those that are against the bond issue make sure to go to the polls and vote, the bond issue will carry this time.

Let us eat, drink, be merry and build concrete highways, for tomorrow we die. One darling little girl who is anxious to win the 25 dollar prize and is writing the best kind of an essay she knows how, tells the farmer-daddies and mamas to go and buy them on credit, assuring them that the young folks will pay for them someday if the old folks can not do it in their day. Bless her heart, the innocent little thing, you should be careful about lubrication

THE lubrication requirements of the present high speed motors are most exacting. With their fine adjustments, these motors will not operate efficiently with every oil. They require a lubricant which is made especially to meet the particular conditions which they have created.

That's why it's most important to always specify the oil you want—and it will pay you well to insist always on a brand which has back of it the resources and experience of the Continental Oil Company. Then you will always be sure to get the right oil—in the grade made especially for your motor.

Ask for these brands at the better service stations and garages.

Rock Island Is Petitioned for Hollis Railroad

Possibility that the Rock Island Railway might put in a railroad extension from the Mangum spur through Hollis to Childress, Texas, has been confirmed by a letter received by W. L. Hollis from J. E. Gorman, president of the road.

The Rock Island is extending branches into the Texas plains and southwestern Oklahoma, following study and surveys, Thursday, a petition was filed by the Rock Island Railway with the Interstate Commerce Commission, Washington, D. C., for 198 miles of new mail line from Shamrock, Texas, to Quanah, Texas. At the same time the Frisco filed for permission to construct a line from Quanah to Vernon, Texas. The newly mapped Rock Island route will shorten the distance between Amarillo and Fort Worth, Texas, from 457 miles previously to 380 miles under the new routing.

Hollis has been corresponding with the Rock Island people since April 1, and a number of business men here are making plans to do everything possible to interest the railway company to extend either of the proposed lines through Hollis.

Should Hollis get the road, it would mean direct connection with southern and northern points and would prove a remarkable stimulus to the town.

Hollis went to Oklahoma City this week on business, and while there intends to confer with Rock Island officials on the question.

Human Interest in Coming Photoplay Has Strong Appeal

There is a human interest note in "Trial Marriage," a Columbia Production, which will be the attraction at the Ritz in Wellington Thursday and Friday, April 25 and 26. It reveals how a much married father passes the taint on to his two daughters who regard matrimony as a lark, to thrill jaded senses. Against colorful backgrounds of jazz, passionate love and novel settings on a Long Island estate, and along the Parisian boulevards, a tense drama is enacted.

One sister steals the other's sweetheart, enters into a trial marriage, while engaged to another man, gets into thrilling complications when the other girl takes a hand in the game of love and tangles things up.

"Trial Marriage" is drama of a new sort, swift in action. It works up to one of the greatest climaxes ever conceived. Erle C. Kenton is responsible for the direction and Joseph Walker for the beautiful camera shots.

In addition to the photoplay, Cecil Callahan, manager of the Ritz, has made arrangements to present the famous Keys quadruplets of Hollis in a musical and entertaining program.

An American named Gene Tunney gave a singer $1000 to sing a song for him in Spain. Probably some publicity seeker.

Here Comes the Circus!

A person has to look just right with so many people coming to see you—is the philosophy of "Rosie," huge pet elephant of one of the big circuses that wintered in Florida. "Rosie" is shown having manicure preparatory to her winter tour through the northern states.

how will her opinion about debts change some day when the crops come as near failing as it is possible in Collingsworth county; when the vendor's lien note comes due, and very likely another mortgage on top of it; when as, it usually happens at such times, the hogs get the cholera and the best mule dies; and the little kiddies that hang on her apron strings are puny for some unknown reason—and, Heaven knows, the young mother doesn't want them in that shape. When misfortune comes, it is the old saying, it does not come in single file but in battalions. And as the farmer's dollar notoriously doesn't buy as much as the other man's dollar (the Department of Agriculture at Washington is my witness) the situation becomes all the harder and all the more enduring.

I just read Mr. I. T. Goodnight's excellent letter in the Standard. Good for you, Mr. Goodnight! Go to it. Some more like you are needed to sound the clarion call of safe and sane finance in our county affairs. You saw the determined organization of the county a few weeks ago, in the court house, to put the thing across. The country boys and girls have dangling before them a fifty dollar bait from the chamber of commerce to write and sing the praises of costly cement highways. The old Romans were stunningly frank in their day calling a spade a spade. "Money doesn't stink," they said, and it has an agreeable odor also today, even the boys and girls who need it to satisfy the age-old appetite for show and finery. Many a turn will be done for the clinking of a dollar. On the other hand, we farmers have no chamber of commerce to checkmate that sort of thing in an equally organized manner. That's our hard luck, and I fear we will therefore have to pay the fiddler unless enough of us make it a point to go to the polls and vote against it. After that, if we lose, it is our business to shut up and be sweet.

It is worthwhile to look at Mr. Goodnight's figures again. At 5 1-2 per cent the $800,000 that we are apt to vote upon ourselves will bring $44,000 to the bondholders. As the bonds run for 30 years we'll have to pay that sum 30 times over. That will make the nice and tidy sum of $1,320,000. Add to that the principal of $800,000 and we have all in all two million, one hundred and twenty thousand dollars to pay—that is, we and our children. The State Highway Engineer of Wisconsin states that a first class highway will last twenty years if not abused too severely. In other words, ten years before the highway is paid for our children will have to build a new one. We old folks are usually denying ourselves a good many things in order that our kids, when their time comes, may have something to start on. We would be ashamed to leave a twenty-five dollar debt for our boy or girl to pay for us. But we vote bonds by the hundreds of thousands for them to pay.

Mr. Goodnight is eternally right, from the standpoint of the farmer when he says, "take that $44,000 and build a bridge across Buck Creek and Salt Fork." Take the next $44,000 and build up the many lateral roads that need fixing thundering bad. When that is done we'll be ready to listen to a scheme of paving the highway. If not now at some special session, then in two years the legislature is very likely to do something that will permit us to have our paved roads at the expense of those who use them.

Yesterday I was obliged to travel the road from Wellington to Memphis. (I don't mean the road by the way of Quail). It is shocking to have to travel such a road and you may bet your last dollar that it won't get much fixing if $44,000 interest is to be paid each year to the bondholders and $26,000 into the sinking fund.

A few weeks ago my wife brought home a copy of Harper's Magazine, from Wellington. It contained an article by Elmer Davis, a man of national reputation and a student of social and political matters. "IF HOOVER FAILS" was the fetching title of the article, and who could resist reading it, whether he voted for Hoover or Smith? I am going to close this piece with a few sentences from that article, for they are worthy of remembering. He says: "Our road system would have been beyond dreams of our ancestors, and we owe it to the automobile; but the farmer who lives along the roads are bankrupt and it is partly road bonds and taxes that have made them so. Your modern farmer drives into town in half an hour, over good roads. His father needed three hours to get his team thru the mud; but when he got to town he put money in the bank." I am going to add a little episode. Four weeks ago my 12 year old boy and I made a trip to Houston in our family car. We picked out the paved roads. They are wonderful to travel on, just like a $5000 automobile is wonderful to travel in and a fifty thousand dollar residence is wonderful to dwell in. But the farms and farmhouses, especially from Fort Worth on did not at all compare in excellence with the roads we traveled. When we got south of Waco my boy began to notice the squalor and general dilapidation of the farm places, many of the houses being old time loghouses. The cows that we often saw were neither Jerseys nor Holsteins. They were plain scrubs. "Daddy," he finally asked, "why don't they build better houses here and have better cows? See there, there is a big crack in the chimney." Elmer Davis' claim was being demonstrated before our eyes. It was my chance to give him an object lesson. I believe I succeeded. At any rate he is not entering the contest to win the twenty-five dollar prize, telling why we should sell our birthright for a paved road.—Richard Wischkaemper.

Good Prospects For Texas Crops

DALLAS, Texas, April 24.—Statistics gathered by the Department of Public Relations of the Southland Life Insurance company for March indicate unusually good prospects for crops this year in Texas. The reports would tend to show that all crops may be somewhat retarded but no seriousness attaches itself to this fact at this time.

One of the most encouraging aspects of the report is a large number of counties reporting sizeable increase in grain and feed crop acreage and great decrease in cotton acreage. There is, however, a rather peculiar situation in regard to this. It is indicated that East and North Texas will plant more cotton probably because of scattered failures of small grains. Central and West Texas on the other hand indicate a large cut in cotton acreage in favor of grains.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

SECTION 1. That Sections 2 and 3 of Article 5 of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

"Article 5, Section 2. The Supreme Court shall consist of a Chief Justice and eight Associate Justices, any five of whom shall constitute a quorum, and the concurrence of five shall be necessary to a decision of a case; in other matters, until otherwise provided by Law, the jurisdiction of the Court shall be exercised under such regulations and orders as the Court by a majority vote may prescribe. No person shall be eligible to the office of Chief Justice or Associate Justice of the Supreme Court unless he be, at the time of his election, a citizen of the United States and of this State and unless he shall have attained the age of thirty years, and shall have been a practicing lawyer or a judge of a court, or such lawyer and judge together at least seven years. Said Chief Justice and Associate Justices shall be elected by the qualified voters of the State at a general election, shall hold their offices six years, or until their successors are elected, and qualified, and shall receive such compensation as may be provided by law. In case of a vacancy in the office of Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, the Governor shall fill the vacancy until the next general election for State officers, and at such general election the vacancy for the unexpired term shall be filled by election by the qualified voters of the State. The Judges of the Supreme Court who may be in office at the time this amendment takes effect shall continue in office until the expiration of their term of office under the present Constitution, and until their successors are elected and qualified. When this amendment takes effect, the Governor shall immediately appoint six additional Associate Justices of the Supreme Court for terms of office so that the terms of two of such appointed Associate Justices shall expire with the term of office of each of the present members of the Supreme Court, and, upon the qualification of such new Justices, the Commission of Appeals of the State of Texas shall terminate."

"Article V, Section 3. The Supreme Court shall have appellate jurisdiction only except as herein specified, which shall be co-extensive with the limits of the State. Its appellate jurisdiction shall extend to questions of law arising in cases of which the Courts of Civil Appeals have appellate jurisdiction under such restrictions and regulations as the Legislature may prescribe. Until otherwise provided by law, the appellate jurisdiction of the Supreme Court shall extend to questions of law arising in the cases in the Court of Civil Appeals in which the Judges of any Court of Civil Appeals may hold differently on the same question of law, or where a Statute of the State is held void, and shall extend to such other questions as may be within the Court's Appellate Jurisdiction under the Statutes of the State in force when this amendment takes effect. The Supreme Court and the Justices thereof shall have power to issue writs of habeas corpus, as may be prescribed by Law, and under such regulations as may be prescribed by Law, the said Court and the Justices thereof may issue the writs of mandamus, procedendo, certiorari and such other writs, as may be necessary to enforce its jurisdiction. The Legislature may confer original jurisdiction on the Supreme Court to issue writs of quo warrantum and mandamus in such cases as may be specified, except as against the Governor of the State.

The Supreme Court shall have power, upon affidavit or otherwise as by the Court may be determined, to ascertain such matters of fact as may be necessary to the proper exercise of its jurisdiction.
