COOLIDGE LEADS SOUTH DAKOTA

Impeachment of Chase Asked By Senate

N. Y. DEMOCRAT SAYS COOLIDGE SLEEPY JUDGE

Oliver Says President Aiding Daugherty In Investigation

RESUME PROBE TODAY

Roxie Stinson to Go On Stand Again For Question

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—Another public session tomorrow in the senate inquiry into Attorney General Daugherty's conduct of the department of justice was promised today by committee members.

Roxie Stinson, the divorced wife of Jess W. Smith, will be again put upon the stand, according to tentative plans and may face a cross examination by Paul Howland and Former Senator Chamberlain, Mr. Daugherty's attorneys, concerning her sensational allegations of the passage of bribe money in bootlegging and prize fight motion picture "deals."

Wheeler in Bed.

Senator Wheeler, democrat, Montant, who it has been announced, has been confined to his home with a cold, and thereby has occasioned a four-day recess in the taking of testimony, was reported to be still in bed during the day, but probably will be able to return to the capitol tomorrow and resume his direction of the inquiry.

The only congressional development in the situation today come when Representative Oliver, democrat, New York, in a speech to the house, besought President Coolidge to "unlock the secret" which he said surrounded the suicide last year of Jess Smith in Daugherty's apartment, where he had lived as the attorney general's close friend, and the ensuing litigation between Miss Stinson and the attorney general's brother, as executor of the Smith estate.

Mr. Oliver said the president has refused to help the senate committee "and is acting like a sleepy judge."

Record News Jubilee

Host to Public Thursday Night

The Record News is going to give the general public an opportunity on Thursday night, from seven to nine o'clock, to inspect its new home and the plant which produces your morning newspaper—for it is, as matter of fact, your newspaper. If it were not for you there would be no morning paper in Wichita Falls. The management of The Record News knows that, and feels that the public has sufficient interest in the efforts of this newspaper to give them what they want, to come down and pay us a call in our new quarters.

So, folks, this is your invitation to visit us in our new home and see how it is possible for The Record News to be brought to your door every morning before breakfast. There is nothing formal about this affair—it is just an opportunity for you to see what we do and how we do it, and The Record News is making no effort to conceal its pride in this modern newspaper plant.

Refreshments will be served and there will be music, with competent folks to show you through the plant. We want you to come and look us over and we sincerely trust you will enjoy your visit.

Remember, the hours are from seven to nine, on Thursday night, March 27.

Heflin and Moses Throw Mud; Committee Adjourns

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—Another display of fireworks was set off in the hearings today before the special senate committee investigating charges of land frauds in the Texas Rio Grande valley.

Threats by Senator Heflin, democrat, Alabama, in the role of committee "prosecutor," to carry to the senate floor his fight on alleged unfair treatment and proceedure, after several rows in the committee, were held in abeyance by the senator, who indicates he would await further developments. The committee adjourned during the final clash between Senator Heflin and Chairman Moses of New Hampshire, over the admission of evidence, to meet again tomorrow.

Chief Postal Inspector Rush D. Simmonds was on the stand throughout today's session, which also was enlivened by charges exchanged between James R. Page, Kansas City attorney, who is assisting Senator Heflin, and George Hill, attorney for R. B. Creager, republican national committeeman from Texas.

Bandits Make $150,000 Mail Haul at Chicago

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, March 25.—Cash totaling between $135,00 and $150,000 in registered mail pouches was snatched from the hands of a lone guardian at the Illinois Central station at Harvey, Ill., early today by four bandits who escaped in an automobile after wrecking a truck and exchanging pistol fire with two men who pursued them on a motorcycle.

The bandit car with a punctured tire was found late today on the outskirts of West Hammond. A few miles further west $4,000 in one-dollar bills, part of the shipment of money, and all the registered mail was found intact by the roadside where the robbers had ripped open the mail pouches.

The hold-up was faultlessly accomplished. The bandit car stopped at the station as William Russell, 60-year-old postoffice messenger, was transferring the two registered pouches containing payrolls for more than 2,000 employes of Harvey industrial plants, from the train to his truck. As the train departed and Russell climbed to his seat, the men surrounded him, flourishing pistols while sawed-off shot guns protruded from their automobile. They seized the pouches and fled.

It's "Convict No. 75,745" Now Instead of William H. Anderson

By The Associated Press.

OSSINING, N. Y., March 25—William H. Anderson, former head of the Anti-Saloon league, once a powerful figure in the political life of the Empire State, today became "Number 75,745" in Sing Sing prison.

Convicted of third degree forgery, his application for a certificate of reasonable doubt denied yesterday, the former dry crusader surrendered in New York this forenoon. He was brought here this afternoon to begin serving his term of from one to two years.

Anderson was far from downcast. "I am a prisoner of war in the hands of the enemy," he said in a statement.

"After the damage I have inflicted on the liquor traffic," said the statement, "I shall not begrudge the wets and their de facto allies any satisfaction they can extract."

As the former dry leader stepped from a cab and saw the prison walls he smiled grimly. He walked with a firm step, head erect, lips compressed, eyes flashing angrily. He was led to the warden's room where his "pedigree" was taken and he was given a number. Then he was taken to another room where his mustache was clipped and he was given a bath. Finally the regulation prison uniform of gray trousers and grey coat, hickory shirt and black shoes was issued to him.

A few minutes later he was led to his cell and the iron-barred gate clanged behind him. Tomorrow morning he will be assigned to manual labor.

Missouri-Pacific Plan For New Rates Opposed

By The Associated Press.

GALVESTON, March 25.—A proposed plan for re-adjustment of the freight rates of the southwest submitted by C. P. Rouch of the Missouri-Pacific railroad at St. Louis met with strenuous opposition from L. M. Hogsett of Houston and C. B. Bee of the Oklahoma corporation commission at the Texas-Oklahoma rate hearing today. Mr. Rouch's plan was based on sulphuric acid as a heavy commodity in this section of the country. He had been testifying only about the rates on this commodity in answer to the ttacks by the Dallas complainants charging discrimination.

The plan proposes, in event the in-

SOLDIER BONUS DRAWS FIRE ON COST ESTIMATE

Finance Committee To Seek Solution of Cost "Mystery"

HEARING TUESDAY

Experts Mixed Up in Efforts To Determine Exact Expense

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—The dispute over the cost of the proposed soldier bonus bill involving a difference of more than $2,000,000 in estimates of veterans' bureau and treasury actuaries drew fire from all sides today as the finance committee temporarily laid aside the revenue bill and attempted to solve the estimate's mystery.

Representative Green, Iowa, chairman of the house ways and means committee, which framed the bill, and Senator Walsh, of Massachusetts, a democratic member of the finance committee, issued statements assailing the estimates of Joseph McCoy, treasury actuary.

Plenty of Errors.

Pointing out a series of "fundamental and glaring errors," Mr. Green declared: "The treasury estimates on the cost of the bonus are wrong as usual."

Senator Walsh said the theory on which Mr. McCoy based his estimates was "absurd" and asked if it was "an attempt to juggle figures on the cost of the adjusted compensation bill and to attempt to mislead the congress and the people of the United States."

Explaining the means by which he arrived at his estimates, Mr. McCoy told the finance committee he had figured the government would have to pay interest on all money applied to pay for the insurance policies under the bonus bill.

No Conclusion.

H. H. Brown, veterans bureau actuary, figured the costs alone would amount to only $2,050,000,000 and which figure was accepted by the house, insisted the government would not have to pay this interest if it invested the appropriation in cuts nding government bonds, thus cutting off the interest which had to be paid on those securities.

The committee reached no conclusion on the probable cost.

CABINET TO FIGHT CATTLE DISEASES

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—Drastic measures were determined on by the cabinet today to stamp out a fresh outbreak in California of the foot-and-mouth disease, which Secretary Wallace reported had appeared in localities as far as 75 miles from the half dozen counties affected last month. Details of the steps to be taken will be worked out by the department of agriculture. The expenditure of a considerable sum of money is contemplated.

K. C. M. & O. GOES ON SALE THURSDAY

By The Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, March 25.—The Kansas City, Mexico and Orient railroad will be offered for sale at Wichita, Kansas, Thursday as scheduled, "so far as known now," W. T. Kemper, receiver, and Judge John C. Pollock of the federal court said today.

Asked regarding reports of a possible postponement, Judge Pollock said he supposed a delay "might be granted if good cause were shown."

Both Kemper and Pollock said they had no knowledge of any reorganization plan.

Radical Confesses Threatening Ford

By The Associated Press.

DETROIT, March 25.—Robert M. Toms, prosecuting attorney, today recommended a warrant charging malicious threats to extort in the case of Waslow Simek, under arrest in connection with three letters which were alleged to have made a demand of $1,050,000 from Edsel Ford, president of the Ford Motor company. Mrs. Annie Hledik, arrested with Simek yesterday, was released.

According to police, Simek confessed that he met with a group of about 20 radicals and a plan was concocted to obtain money from Ford.

New Orleans-Corpus Canal Is Advocated

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—An inter-coastal canal connecting New Orleans with Corpus Christi, Texas, was urged today before the house rivers and harbors committee by Roy Miller, vice-president of the Louisiana and Texas Intercoastal Canal commission. He said the cheap rates such as waterway would afford on the interchange of produce between the upper Mississippi river cities and the south and the southwest would work to the mutual benefit of both sections.

GAS HERE STILL SELLS AT 16c

Retail gasoline in Wichita Falls and surrounding territory continues to sell from 16 to 21 cents.

The Texas company has joined the ranks of the number of companies who posed the 21-cent schedule last Thursday morning.

The Texhoma Oil and Refining company has advanced the price from 18 to 20 cents.

The Gulf Refining company is still selling the product at 16 cents but is expected to meet the new schedule before the end of the week.

Companies are wholesaling gasoline at prices ranging from 14 to 17 cents tank wagon lots.

With the exception of the Gulf and Texhoma companies the price in Wichita Falls and surrounding territory is 21 cents a gallon.

BERGDOLL QUITS POST AT BADEN

Leaves Eberbach for United States Is Belief Of Friends

By The Associated Press.

EBERBACH, Baden, March 25.—Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, the American draft evader, left here this morning for an un-announced destination. As he carried considerable luggage, it is generally assumed that he is quitting Germany.

He made other preparations prior to his departure which seemingly indicated that he did not contemplate returning to Baden.

Coming Home.

Friends of Bergdoll, who professed to be in his confidence, hinted today that Bergdoll was "going home to face the music," since he had become persona non grata with the Badenese government, which it was stated has issued him a certificate of American citizenship which will enable him to cross the German frontier.

The Day In Washington

Debate on the Daugherty case occupied the house while the investigating committee was in recess.

Secretary Hoover's special committee on cotton census reported numerous recommendations for counting the crop.

A commission was appointed by President Coolidge to ascertain the best means of conserving the nation's oil supply.

The certificate in the senate's contempt procedure against Harry F. Sinclair was forwarded to the district attorney.

The senate finance committee laid aside the revenue bill temporarily to study estimates of costs of the soldier bonus bill.

The Austrian and Hungarian governments approved in principle a proposal for creation of a mixed commission to settle war claims.

The house immigration committee decided to ask Governor Hunt of Arizona to testify regarding charges that Secretary Work was favoring Colorado in the Boulder canyon dam matter.

The Western Petroleum Refiners corporation and the Sinclair Consolidated Oil company protested to the shipping board against application to petroleum products of the preferential through export rate clause of the merchant marine act.

Senator Heflin, democrat, Alabama, protested against the manner in which the investigation of alleged land frauds in lower Rio Grande valley of Texas is being conducted and threatened to carry his fight to the senate floor.

Inquiry into the financial affairs of Albert B. Fall occupied the senate oil committee. A resolution looking to impeachment of C. C. Chase, customs collector at El Paso, who refused to testify, was adopted by the senate, Chase, it was said later, had submitted his resignation to the treasury department.

CLAIM M'ADOO WILL GET ALL NEFF VOTES

Special to The Record News.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—Texans here today doubted the statement of David L. Rockwell, McAdoo manager that Neff and McAdoo will form a combination to defeat Oscar W. Underwood in Texas, the understanding here has been that Neff does not believe McAdoo will be available. Rockwell, in an interview in the New York World was quoted as saying Neff will get the favorite son vote and Mr. McAdoo will eventually inherit all the Neff delegates.

SON-IN-LAW OF FALL QUITS AS CUSTOMS HEAD

House Committee to Act On Matter in Next Few Days, Belief

WALSH MAKES DEMAND

Hearing of Teapot Quiz Tuesday Brief And Without Feature

WASHINGTON, March 25.—Impeachment of Clarence C. Chase, son-in-law of Albert B. Fall, as collector of customs at El Paso, Texas, was proposed today by the senate as an off-shoot of its oil inquiry.

A resolution presented by Senator Walsh, the oil committee prosecutor, and adopted by unanimous vote, charged that Chase had conspired with the former interior secretary "to mislead and deceive" the oil investigators and called upon the house, which has the sole power of initiating impeachments, to take such steps "as may be appropriate."

Later it was made known at the white house that Chase had submitted his resignation immediately after his refusal yesterday to answer any questions before the oil committee, but that it had not yet been accepted. Senators said the development would have no effect on the proposed impeachment proceedings.

When it reached the house, the senate resolution was referred without comment to the judiciary committee, which meets tomorrow. Committee members indicated that there would be no undue haste, but that some time in the near future a course of action would be recommended to the house.

While the senate was debating the Walsh resolution, law officers of the government began preparations to press a charge of contempt against Harry F. Sinclair, lessee of Teapot Dome, who also has refused to testify before the committee, challenging the authority of congress to compel the attendance of witnesses before its committees.

District Attorney Gordon conferred with special oil counsel and Chairman Ladd and Senator Walsh, and it was indicated that an indictment would be asked this week of a grand jury now sitting in the District of Columbia.

Should an indictment be returned, there would be put squarely up to the federal courts the question of the authority of congress and Senator Walsh said that if this were sustained, Sinclair probably would be hailed before the bar of the senate for contempt and placed in the custody of the sergeant-at-arms until he agreed to answer the questions put to him.

Today's open sesion of the committee itself was brief and devoid of sensation.

$78,494 IS COLLECTED.

AUSTIN, Texas, March 26.—Inheritance taxes amounting to $78,494.60 have been collected by State Comptroller Lon A. Smith from September 1, 1923, to March 1, 1924, according to announcement today. A special auditor from the department was sent out last week to round up delinquents in this tax and as a result the following delinquent sums have been collected: Harris county, $5,296; Jefferson county, $863; Galveston county, $24,573; totaling $30,731.49.

Advantage Held In Race With Johnson Reaches 614 Votes

McMasters Wins Easily in Gubernatorial Fight With Sterling; Coolidge Lead Report Comes on First Returns

By The Associated Press.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., March 25.—President Coolidge was leading Senator Hiram Johnson by nearly 2,500 votes for the republican presidential preference in returns available at midnight from today's state-wide primary in South Dakota.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., March 25.—President Coolidge had a slight lead over Senator Hiram Johnson of California in early returns tonight from today's state-wide presidential primary in South Dakota.

When 110 of the state's 1740 precincts had reported, according to the unofficial tabulation made by the Sioux Falls Press, Coolidge had a lead of 614 votes, the count standing: Coolidge 6,333; Johnson, 5719.

First returns on the democratic presidential preference were from Watertown, where the factions opposed to William G. McAdoo carried the city 201 to 101, voting for an uninstructed delegation to the New York convention.

The same precincts in the republican senatorial contest gave Governor McMaster 6,589 and Sterling 5,172.

This vote, the newspaper estimated, probably represents one-sixth to one-seventh of the republican vote cast.

McMaster's nomination was declared by the Press to be "assured by a decisive majority."

SPEARMAN LEADS LOUISIANA RACE.

By The Associated Press.

NEW ORLEANS, March 25.—J. Zac Spearing, New Orleans attorney, on the face of early returns from today's democratic primary to select a successor to the late Representative Dupree of the second Louisiana congressional district, was leading his two opponents, Genevieve Clark Thomson and T. Semmes Walmsley by several hundred votes.

Twenty-five precincts out of 113 in New Orleans gave Spearing 2,407, Thomson 1,681, Walmsley 388.

Scattered returns from the four parishes in the district indicated that Spearing was leading there.

McMASTER WINS BY BIG MAJORITY.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., March 25.—The Sioux Falls Press at 8 p. m. declared available returns indicated Governor W. H. McMaster had won the republican senatorial nomination over Senator Thomas Sterling "by a decisive majority."

IDAHO REPUBLICANS TO SUPPORT COOLIDGE.

By The Associated Press.

LEWISTON, Idaho, March 25.—The republican state convention here passed a resolution instructing the Idaho delegation to the national convention of that party to vote for the nomination of President Coolidge as presidential candidate. Another resolution endorsed the administration of Governor Moore and the re-election of the entire present congressional delegation was demanded.

Insurance Companies Make Good Profits

By The Associated Press

AUSTIN, Tex., March 25.—Substantial profits were made in 1923 by mutual, reciprocal and Lloyds companies writing fire insurance in Texas according to a report issued today by John M. Scott, state insurance commissioner. Thirty-four mutual companies collected premiums of $1,057,882 and had losses of $508,884. Their loss ratio was .485. Twenty-seven reciprocals collected premiums on fire insurance business totalling $1,081,672 with losses of $420,684, making their loss ratio .389. The Lloyds which numbered seven companies, collected in premiums $420,494 with losses of $192,010 and a loss ratio of .480.

ELECTRA DRILLER DIES IN BLAST

W. O. Kemp, 55, Killed When Boiler On Lease Explodes

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Mar. 25.—W. O. Kemp, aged 55, was killed instantly this morning when a boiler exploded on the Len Cook lease about three miles southwest of here. The explosion occurred about 5:30 and shook the country for miles around, reports from Vernon and Wichita Falls saying that the shock was felt distinctly at those points. It is supposed that Kemp tried to fill the boiler with cold water when it was almost dry, the explosion resulting. He had been on the Dyson syndicate lease adjoining the Len Cook, and had gone back to his own well to attend the boiler.

The body was completely dismembered, pieces being picked up here and there, and his head not having been found yet. Parts of the boiler were picked up as far as a quarter of a mile away. He was the only man on the lease at the time.

Kemp was a resident of the Thrift community, and is survived by his wife and five sons. His body is in the hands of the Totten undertaking establishment of this city. No funeral arrangements have been announced yet.

BOY DIES TRYING TO SAVE BROTHER

By The Associated Press.

DALLAS, Texas, March 25.—Effort of James Ferguson, 10, to snatch his brother, Rowland, 7, sons of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Ferguson, from under the wheels of an automobile today driven by Mrs. Jack Kirkpatrick of Greenville, on a street here today, were unsuccessful, and the younger boy was killed. Mrs. Kirkpatrick said the children, en route home from school, darted into the street from behind another automobile.

Thousands of Rotarians Over Entire Country Hear Local Organization In Radio Program Via Dallas Tuesday

Thousands of Rotarians all over the country heard the program of the Wichita Falls Rotary club, given at the Kemp hotel Tuesday night and broadcasted through the Dallas News and Evening Journal broadcasting station at Dallas, two hundred miles away, and judging from the hundreds upon hundreds of telegrams that came pouring in before the program was over they liked the bill.

The broadcasting was in connection with the district Rotary conference which will be held in Wichita Falls April 3 and 4, and was made possible through the courtesy of Walter Dealy of the Dallas News and Dallas Evening Journal. Adams Colhoun, well known announcer for the Dallas station, T. C. Colhoun and James Bradshaw of the telephone company came to Wichita Falls and handled the microphones and other apparatus necessary in giving the program. The Western Union telegraph company set up four extra wires to receive messages in the local office and a telegraph receiving station was established in the Kemp hotel, so that messages from Rotarians in the southwest might be received. Everything worked like a charm and the program met with general approval.

Jim Allison was to speak, talking to the Dallas Rotary club and the Fort Worth Rotary club, of which he was formerly president, the two clubs being met in joint session at Fort Worth Tuesday night. The Original Southern Trumpeters, who make their home in Wichita Falls, and who have been engaged for the P. B. M. style show at the Strand theatre this week, furnished the instrumental music for the occasion.

Hubert Harrison, in a two minute talk, extended the radio glad hand to all Rotarians throughout the country and invited them to Wichita Falls for the coming district conference. Then sixteen Rotarians, under the leadership of R. E. Shepherd, indulged in a sing-song, which went over with a bang. Of course they sang "Ham and Eggs." The Reverend Nat Grafton told his unseen audience some more interesting things about the conference and what is in store for the visitors. T. C. Colhoun, in the style which has caused him to be so well known by radio fans throughout the country, handled the program in elegant style.

Telegrams began pouring in at the start of the program and came in bunches long after the program was concluded. They came so fast they couldn't be counted, nor the winner of the cup—the club whose individual members sent the most messages—be determined. It was estimated there would be at least two thousand messages. This was partly due to the splendid co-operation of the Western Union throughout Texas and adjoining states.

It was an interesting demonstration of the use of the radio in widespread publicity.

When Is the Best Time to Advertise?

(Answer)

The best time to advertise is every day.

The day your ad is out of the paper is like being out of your office when a man with money calls.

Somebody wants something all the time—The paper is read every day it is published. If it were not, then all of the money paid for news features, newsprint and other cost connected with publishing a newspaper is wasted.

As people read the newspapers every day you should have an ad running every day the same as you open up your business and send out personal salesmen.

START RE-CHECK OF CITY TAXES

Seek to Reduce Number Of Assessments On Unrendered Rolls

With the work of assessing over 75 per cent complete, the task will start soon of rechecking all city property to reduce so far as possible the amount of property to be placed on the unrendered roll. City Tax Assessor and Collector Hyer stated Tuesday that this work would begin within the next few days. Practically all of the residential sections of town have been assessed and nearly all of the business portion.

In making the first rounds, the assessors have necessarily missed a number of tax payers. With householders away from home it has been impossible to obtain renditions on all property within the city and it is to offer another opportunity for these renditions to be made that the recheck of the city will be made.

If renditions are not obtained this time, the property will be listed on the unrendered roll and assessed at whatever amount the tax assessor deems advisable.

MISSING GIRLS BELIEVED FOUND

Belief that the two Young county girls who were kidnapped March 11 from their home near Miller Bend had been found in Ardmore, Oklahoma together with the man supposed to have enticed them away, was expressed here Tuesday following receipt of a message stating that the trio was in jail at Ardmore. The telegram, sent by the Ardmore city marshal, stated simply that a man and two girls answering the description of those wanted had been arrested there.

The wire was sent to Constable Frank Morgan who has been active in the search for the missing girls. The father of the pair authorized the local officials to take any steps necessary to locate his daughters.

3 Fires Reported Tuesday Morning

Three fires between 3 o'clock Tuesday morning and noon kept the local fire department busy. Damage occasioned by all three blazes will be less than $1,000.

The first alarm came in at 3 a. m. from the Grover Bullington Bicycle shop on Tenth stret. An over-heated electric motor was causing considerable smoke and sparks which resulted in the call for the fire department being sent in. ittle damage was caused here.

A blaze in a garage at 1107 Seventh street at 6:20 in the morning caused approximately $400 in loss when a truck owned by the Wichita Laundry company and filled with clothing was damaged. A small coupe in the garage was also damaged to some extent.

The last alarm of the day came at 12:30, noon, from the R. R. Ross home, 506 Travis street. Fire of undetermined origin was discovered in a servant's house at the rear and caused a property loss of about $200.

NEGRO WOMEN TO FURNISH CELL

A proposal made by the Ladies' Aid socities of the negro churches here that the negro women's cell in the city jail be equipped with articles to increase their comfort has been accepted by the police department. New linoleum for the cell floor and covers for the bed will accordingly be furnished.

A delegation from the societies visited the jail Tuesday afternoon and after an inspection suggested that they be allowed to provide a table and some chairs for the place. The police declined this, however, on the grounds that a recalcitrant negress would soon reduce such furnishings to kindling wood.

The new flooring and covers are to be supplied in a short time, it is understood.

Stage Set For Style Show

The Style Show to be presented this evening by the P. B. M. Co. at the Strand is looked forward to eagerly by Wichita Falls belles as one of the most enjoyable theatre events of the season.

Besides viewing some of the most artistic and stunning creations of the spring season, in suits, wraps, frocks, evening gowns, and sport togs, a splendid vaudeville bill is offered including the Original Southern Trumpeters, Octavia Powell, known as the "little queen of versitality" and George Conley, lyric tenor.

The troupe, which has been performing this week at the Strand has met with enthusiastic success, will present a special program during the style show on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings.

Greed and Love Produce "Torment"

Greed and love are the two principal ingredients of Maurice Tourneur's "Torment," the First National pocture opening at the Olympic theatre today.

Involved in the story are two world news events—the disappearance of the Russian czar's jewels and the Japanese earthquake.

Into its picturization Tourneur, with his gifts for the picturesque, has brought a Russian nobleman, a band of American crooks, Japanese government officials, a yacht at sea, scenes from the Russian revolution and from the Tokio holocaust.

The principal characters in this dramatic production are portrayed by Owen Moore, Bessie Love, Maude George, Joseph Kilgour, George Cooper, Morgan Wallace and Jean Hersholt.

Bosworth Plays Dual Role

For the first time in 15 years of picture work, Hobart Bosworth has played a dual role. He appears as Robert Horton and Thomas Lipton in Emmett Flynn's production of "Nellie, the Beautiful Cloak Model," coming today to the Strand theatre.

The parts are exceptionally difficult inasmuch as Bosworth's two characters must closely resemble each other, and yet have distinctly different personalities.

History to Be Burlesqued in Hysterical History Comedies

With the present rage for picturizing history, ancient, modern, American, and foreign, it is no wonder that an enterprising producer has decided to take advantage of the vogue of history to burlesque it.

Universal Pictures corporation announces a series of one-reel comedies to be known as "Hysterical History." Already the accepted finesse of Cleopatra, the inquisitiveness of Mr. Balbos, the perseverance of Chris Columbus, the conquering mania of Napoleon, Caesar, Alexander and Hannibal, the electrical Mr. Benjamin Franklin, the voracious Captain John Smith, the equestrian Paul Revere and the ambitious Maximillian are being reduced to the studio formula of single reel comedies. They will be shown on the screen this fall.

The originator and director of this unique series is Bryan Foy, son of world-famous Eddie Foy, and best known heretofore as the author of "Mr. Gallagher and Mr. Shean." The pictures will be made by Mr. Foy with the assistance of Monty Brice at Universal City. One of the actors engaged for the "Hysterical" comedies is William Farney, whose burlesque ability has been exemplified times without number and who is one of the oldest and best known comedians on the screen. He will be remembered by picture goers of eight or 10 years ago for his exquisite burlesque with Gale Henry in "Lady Baffles and Detective Duck."

Louise Fazenda heard and saw Duse, the great Italian actress recently. Now the comedy queen is taking lessons in Italian from her father who has seven languages at his command, including Italian.

Fred Malatesta is an Italian movie actor who plays heavies. He received his stage training in Naples, Rome and Milan, but got his screen technic in the good old U. S. "There are some things that no one can do as well as the Americans," says Mr. Malatesta, who has just finished a feautred role in "The Reckless Age" for Universal. "There is nothing quite as clever as American humor. The Latin races dramatize everything so that their acting is more fraught with emotion. Nowhere are there studio facilities as in the United States, but the American actors many times feel an impatience to spend years in perfecting their acting, while the foreign trained actors acquire a finesse and knowledge of their art that is a tradition with them."

Charles Kingley's "Water Babies" is to be filmed. Elinor Fair is to be featured in it and it too, will be "shot" in Florida.

There is to be another "Tarzan" picture. It will be called "Tarzan and the Golden Lion," and Elmo Lincoln, of course, will be the hero.

"Racing Luck" is finished and is a coming release and Monty Banks the star of the picture is back in Hollywood to make another somewhat similar one. "People seem to like speed in a picture," comments Monty.

Mae Busch

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation announces that it has signed Mae Busch to a new contract for an extended period of time as a reward for the excellence of her characterization of Polly Joy in Emmett Flynn's "Nellie, the Beautiful Cloak Model," to be shown at the Strand theatre today, for four days.

Her work in this role and in her previous role, that of Bessie Collister in Victor Seastrom's "Name the Man!" has placed Miss Busch among the small number of great screen actresses, as differentiated from those whose screen apparel is mainly due to their beauty and personal charm. Miss Busch has an elementary force in her screen characterizations which make them step from the screen and become real human beings.

Beginning her career as a Keystone comedy girl, Miss Busch graduated into an enticing vamp in Erich von Stroheim's "Foolish Wives." Her next big hit was as Glory Quayle in "The Christian." Following that she appeared in "Souls for Sale," then Victor Seastrom chose her for "Name the Man!", his great production of the Hall Caine novel, "The Master of Man."

W. F. BUILDING AND LOAN MAKES LOANS OF $47,000 TUESDAY

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Wichita Falls Building and Loan association yesterday 25 loans amounting to $47,000 were authorized.

It was voted also to increase the number of board meetings to two a month, instead of one a month as formerly. This was done in order to facilitate loans, and make the matter of getting money quicker for those wishing to borrow.

Yesterday's business of $47,000 brings the total of the loans made by the association to $600,000, representing 325 transactions.

HICKS FUNERAL HELD.

Funeral service for Earl R., fourteen months old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hicks, 1404 Second street, were held from the residence Tuesday afternoon with the Rev. A. J. Holt officiating. Burial was in Riverside cemetery.

U. CLUB WILL AID ROTARIANS

Asked to Co-operate In Housing Guests At Convention

University club members were asked to co-operate with the Rotary club in housing the guests who will be in attendance at the district Rotary convention to be held in this city April 2, 3, and 4, in an announcement by Julian Bobo, who presided at the University club at the regular weekly meeting Tuesday noon. The hotels are unable to care for the 1,500 delegates who are expected to attend the convention, citizens are asked to open tehir homes to the visitors.

Individual members of the University club have made delightful contributions to the art committee of the Junior college, Dr. J. W. Cantwell, superintendent of city schools stated. Three busts were received by the committee Monday, and other contributions are coming in. The committee reports several full size pieces, many of which will be in place at the opening of the college.

Dr. C. M. Simpson spoke of the number of unusually beautiful pictures which are on display at one of the local art stores, the pictures having been donated to the art committee.

The club was entertained by a vocal solo, "June Morning," by Mrs. John W. King, accompanied by Mrs. Harwood Stacy. For an encore she sang "Do You Believe in Dreaming?" The Rev. Leslie Miller sang "Holy City," also accompanied by Mrs. Stacy.

KEMP TO DALLAS TO VERSCHOYLE TO RECORD NEWS

Melodies and musical selections from the singers of Wichita Falls, Rotary club sung in the Kemp hotel last night were picked up by a microphone connected with a leased wire run through the local telephone office and connected with the receiving station of the Dallas News, from which the singing was broadcasted for hundreds of miles.

C. H. Verschoyle, 1511 Eleventh street, tuned in with the Dallas News station and called a member of the editorial staff of the Record News by telephone who heard most of the program being received by the radio.

The unique feature of the experience is that the program was heard by telephone after transmission had been made to Dallas and thence to Wichita Falls, and then was heard distinctly from one telephone to another.

Music Memory Contest of City Schools To Be Held in Baptist Church March 28

The annual music memory contest for the children of the public schools will be held Friday evening, March 28, at 7:30 o'clock at the First Baptist church, when local artists will present 50 musical selections from famous composers which the school children have been trained to recognize.

The soloists of the city who will give a beautifully arranged musical concert are Mesdames John Wegg King, W. M. Priddy ,C. Y. Tully, Wayne Holmes, Lois Parker, and Miss Ina Pearl Curry, sopranos; Mesdames Louella B. Thompson and Fred Barron, contraltos; A. H. Britain, Harwood Stacy, Misses Annette Walsh and Craig, Messrs. Ernest Kats and James Youngblood, piano; Mrs. F. R. Collard, organ; Mesdames Jouette Bonner, T. B. Greenwood and Mr. Stanley Raub, violins; and Wm. E. Young, baritone.

Each child who recognizes correctly, 20 of the 50 selections played or sung, will be awarded a certificate of honor by Dr. J. W. Cantwell, superintendent of schools for 100 per cent standing.

The musical evening is in the nature of an artists concert celebrating the opening of the contest, and is perhaps one of the most important affairs in the school year beside being of wide interest to townspeople.

The pupils will sit in the lower part of the house which has been specially reserved for them, while parents and friends will sit in the balcony of the church. No small children will be admitted without their parents.

Teams will be chosen from Alamo, Austin, Barwise, Carrigan, Fannin, Sam Houston, San Jacinto and Travis who are eligible for the contest. These schools will then prepare for the elimination which will decide the winning team to be sent to the district interscholastic meet at Iowa Park, April 18.

Although high school and junior high school students do not take part in the interscholastic music memory contests, Friday evening has been set as the time for a tryout among themselves.

DEATHS

Funeral services for Mrs. Anna Scroggins, 58, who died at the general hospital early Sunday morning, were held at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon from the chapel of the Merkel Undertaking company, with the Rev. Nat F. Grafton officiating. Burial was made in Riverside.

Mrs. Scroggins had lived here only a short time, making her home with her son, Faye Scroggins. She is survived by him and another son, H. E. Scroggins of Tulsa, Okla.

BLOCKER LOSES VALUABLE DOG

Motorcycle Officer Joe Blocker of the city police department is searching for a fine female German police dog which escaped Tuesday morning for the second time in less than a week. The animal broke away from the Blocker home and has not been seen since.

The dog which is a very valuable one, is prized highly by the officer and he has asked that any one having information as to its whereabouts communicate with him at the city hall.

Warrant Notes For Street Fund Here

The first $18,000 installment of street improvement funding warrant notes of the $52,000 issue recently sold by the city will be delivered today and cash on the warrants obtained, Mayor Collier announced Tuesday. The full issue was received yesterday from Brown-Crummer and company, the Dallas firm purchasing the bonds, and certificates on the issue executed.

They will be returned to Dallas and money obtained.

The city council authorized the issue some time ago in order to meet expenses of street improvement here.

Satins!

How much style that one word expresses this season! To be shod in a satin slipper is to be well dressed. We are particularly proud of two new models that have just been unpacked from their wrappings and we are certain that they are the very ones so many women have been waiting for.

One is shown in Tan Bark or Black and has a cleverly cut-out vamp which is made more distinctive by a neat strap rising well over the arch. The other is shown in black and is to be marveled at for its sheer simplicity. Either may be had in Junior Spanish heels.

Sandals!

Truly these popular styled slippers are synonomous of the spring season, and their colorings make them ideal to wear with just the dress that you would have them harmonize. They are shown in hues of Red, Green, Blue, Tan Bark, White, Black and Brown.

Two Weeks Search Ends With Finding Of 16-Gallon Keg of Liquor Tuesday

A search that started two weeks ago with the arrest of a local man on prohibition violation charges ended early Tuesday afternoon when Constable Frank Morgan, Deputy E. S. Richardson and Scout Ranger J. W. McCormick seized a 16-gallon keg of corn liquor on a farm near the Archer county line and arrested August Weismann. Charges of possession of intoxicating liquors were filed against Weismann in federal court yesterday.

Two weeks ago a man was arrested on similar charges and from him it was learned that he had traded a Victrola for the liquor found in his possession. A search was started for this which led to the Weismann home on a small farm near the Archer county line. The machine was found in the place Tuesday and a hunt made for liquor. The 16-gallon keg, filled, was located under a kindling pile in the yard. Officers said that several jars of liquor were found about the house.

The man arrested was not home when the officers conducted their search but he was apprehended a little later and taken to jail.

OIL NEWS

BOOM STARTING IN PANHANDLE

Drilling Contracts Signed And Much Interest In Field

Special to The Record News.

AMARILLO, March 25. — Texas company's producing oil well on the S. Burk Burnett lease in north Carson county, continues to increase in production and has demonstrated its worth sufficiently to cause the closing of several contracts for immediate drilling to the north and east in adjacent sections.

Crude from the Texas No. 1 Burnett in the southwest quarter of section 114, block 5, Carson, is flowing into flow tanks at the rate of approximately 2,000 barrels daily. The well is not permitted to produce at a capacity rate because of the failure of pump equipment to move the production to the 55,000 barrel storage tank two miles away, as fast as produced.

One half mile east of the Texas well, T. B. Hoffer and associates have closed a fifty-fifty drilling agreement on the southeast quarter of section 114, block 5, with administrators of the Burk Burnett estate. One mile north of the Texas well, near the center of section 9, block Y, Hutchinson county, Western Enterprise Oil and Gas company has closed a contract with Dixon Creek Oil company for the immediate drilling of a well.

Plains Oil No. 1 Weatherly on section 17, block Y Hutchinson, in the vicinity of the Texas producer will be placed on production at once. Assurance of pipe line connections and a market for the production of a number of producing wells in north Carson and south Hutchinson counties which have been completed for several months, has resulted in a number of wells being cleaned and placed on production.

Workmen are engaged in cleaning the Holmes, McIlroy and McGee No. 1 Smith, in the southeast of section 10, block Y Hutchinson, two miles north of the big Texas producer.

Shamrock Has Good Well In Swastika Area

The Shamrock Oil company's Hardison No. 4, Swastika district, Archer county, has been completed and is flowing natural 385 barrels daily from sand found at depth of 1,312 feet.

The company's Richardson B-1, is making 100 barrels on pump from sand encountered at 1,323 feet.

The company is rigging up for Hardison No. 5, and Goldsmith No. 1. Derrick is up for the No. 6, Hardison.

1,000 Barrel Well In Archer County

The Sixty-Six Oil company's L. F. Wilson No. 1, lot 3, section 29, American Tribune New Colony lands survey, Archer county, blew in late Monday afternoon from a sand found at a depth of 1,620 feet and is rated as having an initial production of 1,000 to 1,200 barrels. Additional storage is being erected at the lease. The well will be swabbed.

The well is located approximately one mile northeast of the Panther pool and about a half mile north of the Riner-Bailey discovery well.

Hotel Keepers Ask More Protection

AUSTIN, Texas, March 25.—Directors of the Texas Hotel Keepers' association in session here today directed a legislative committee to ask the Texas legislature for laws giving better protection against worthless checks. The hotel directors endorsed the state movement for tourist parks and camps, declaring this will bring additional patronage to Texas.

The hotel directors protested the payment of fees on copyrighted music, and urged passage of a bill pending in congress remedying the situation.

Rigging Up

By SUMMERS

Washington correspondents are leading the public astray in their zeal to play up the Teapot Dome case.

The news services serving papers in every state of the union carry the dispatches out of Washington. In the news stories nothing is said that tells of the good of the oil industry.

The press is the medium of teaching the public and telling of events throughout the world. The oil industry has been played in large headlines in such a way that the public is led to believe the industry as a whole is corrupt.

The Hill tank farm section of the Powell field is causing concern. The wells are coming in gushers and boosting the output of the field.

After flowing at the rate of 15,000 barrels daily for two weeks, the Humble Oil and Refining company's gusher at Hull has suddenly stopped flowing and has shown no signs of reviving.

Production in the Haynesville, La., field is declining rapidly.

The executive committee of state attorney generals from all over the country is to meet in Washington this month to discuss crude oil and gasoline prices.

GUSHERS IN GERMANY.

Hugo Stinnes and the billionaires of Germany are not overlooking the importance of petroleum supply. New discovery of oil in Hanover, where one of the greatest gushers in Europe has been brought in, which is said to exceed the production of all other German wells, has filled industrial Germany with joy.

Hugo Stinnes and associates are not going to pay tribute to foreign oil producers. They are playing the game themselves and all this reminds the writer that foreign monopolies control raw materials which are essential to American industry.

Nitrates and iodine are controlled by a British selling agency in Chile; potash is controlled by German producers; tin is controlled by British producers; crude rubber and gutta percha are controlled by British and Dutch combinations. quinine is controlled by Dutch producers; mercury is controlled by Spanish and Austrian combinations; coffee is controlled by the government of Brazil; quebracho, used for tanning purposes, is controlled by a combination of producers and foreign manufacturers.

All these commodities and their control and prices are of vast importance to the American farmer. Total imports of the monopolized raw material to American industry last year had a value of $525,000,000. This was the value of the raw imports but the prices paid for the refined products by American buyers climbed to the heavens.

Americans own more motor vehicles than all the peoples of Europe and yet a foreign combination fixes the price of crude rubber and the American manufacturers of rubber tires are compelled to pay the price. These manufacturers are business men and they pass it on to the American buyer or consumer.

This is the greatest of nations, the richest of nations but America continues to pay tribute to the producers and exporters of many of the leading raw materials that enter into the demands of civilization.

GREATEST THING IN ELLIOT'S TIME.

American's foremost educator and grand old man, Dr. Charles Warren Elliot, was given a birthday anniversary luncheon. He reviewed his life, he reviewed the history of the world for the ninety years that he lived and he concluded his little address as follows:

"I take great satisfaction, in the extraordinary growth of political and religious liberty which I have witnessed during my long life. That increase of human liberty and in the toleration toward religion in the different practices is the greatest thing that has to come to the world in my time."

It goes without saying that civil and religious liberty is the greatest boon that mankind has known and it had its birth under American skies. Roger Williams was the apostle of civil and religious liberty before the declarations made by Lord Baltimore or the founder of American democracy.

He declared for religious liberty for all mankind and not religious liberty for all Christians alone. This did not appeal to the New England puritans and so the Welsh champion of civil and religious liberty found a home among the wild Indians who permitted him to worship his God according to his conscience.

Dr. Eliott is a direct descendant of those early puritans but like Roger Williams, the Welsh champion of religious liberty for all mankind, his religion is as broad as the universe and he is for the brotherhood of man at all times.

WHERE CHILDREN ARE HUNGRY.

At least three million five hundred thousand of the fourteen million school children of Germany are in desperate need of food. This is the verdict of Dr. Haven Emerson of Columbia university, who returned to this country after a most searching investigation.

Wonderful people are the Quakers, the world over. More than seven thousand children in Germany are now being fed by the American Friends' society and in the closing days of March the money of the American Friends' society purchased the food that sustained the life in at least one million of the starvelings of the former German empire.

It was the lowly Nazarene who left a gospel of the right sort behind him and the Quakers, without a great deal of noise, have practical application of that gospel for hundreds of years.

THE REASON WHY THE OTHER 98½ PER CENT HAVE IT BOBBED

The Great Grandmother

"But I should like to help you if I can," said Basil. "That's exceedingly kind of you," said Sir Amos. "but I don't really think there's anything for you to do."

"But Mr. Price really is helping us,' said Mary. "Yesterday he made a packing-case."

"Did you really make that packing-case?" said Sir Amos. "It struck me as quite the most remarkable and, if you don't mind my saying so, quite the most useless packing-case I have ever seen."

"I believe I can give you exactly what you want," said Royce. "If you like I'll run into Carnew in my car and fetch it out. I'll hand it over to Mr. Price. I hardly like to go further than that. It wouldn't do for me to give it to you or Miss Coppinger, or even to old Mahony. You understand my position, Sir Amos. As a lawyer, acting for your creditors, I can't do more."

"It's very good of you to do so much," said Sir Amos.

CHAPTER XII.
Surrounded.

Royce left the room. Basil followed him as far as the door. He intended to go to Carnew and help to bring back the packing-case. But he glanced at Mary's face as he crossed the room and stopped abruptly. He thought, he certainly hoped, that he saw an appeal in her eyes, as if she wished him to stay where he was. He responded to it at once and stood rather awkwardly just inside the door which Royce closed after him.

"It's a d—d nuisance," he said to Mary, "to have this fellow Rafferty butting in. Things were bad enough before, but we might have dodged Cohen and Kaltcer, or checked them. We could certainly have got to windward of Charlie Royce, who doesn't really want to interfere with us. But Rafferty's a different business, especially now that he's ruled. He has every corner boy in the country ready to follow him. It makes things infernally difficult. Go fetch Mahony."

"Mahony," said Sir Amos, when the old man entered, "I suppose you've heard about Jimmy Rafferty?"

"I've heard plenty about Jimmy Rafferty," said Mahony. 'And, what' more, I seen plenty, more nor I wanted to. I don't know will we be able to do what your honor wants done if Jimmy Rafferty is set against the doing of it."

"Where's your boat, Mahony?" said Sir Amos.

"She's where you told me to have her, round in the pool under the old tower."

"Good," said Sir Amos. "It seems to me that our best chance is to get started at once. Cohen won't be expecting us to do anything before night. He'll think we daren't go dragging a great packing-case about in broad daylight for fear of Charlie Royce seeing us and stopping us."

"Charlie's all right," said Mary.

"I know that," said Sir Amos. "I'm relying on Charlie. And there's another thing that will be a help to us. Neither Cohen nor Rafferty will think of our taking it off to that island of yours, Mahony. It's a d—d unlikely place to take anything to. They may be keeping a lookout at the cross-roads this minute for a cart with a packing-case on it. They're sure to have the avenue gate watched all night, but I don't believe they'll ever think of our taking it off to Inishraher. Can you sail a boat, Mr. Price?"

"Yes," said Basil, "I've done a lot of yachting, racing, and so on."

"Going off to Inishraher in Mahony's boat in this weather isn't exactly yachting," said Sir Amos. "Still if you really can sail a boat you might be useful. An extra hand is always useful."

"Thank you, sir," said Basil.

He was greatly pleased. A sail out to Inishraher, old Mahony's island, would be an adventure. In the company of Mary Coppinger it would be a delightful adventure.

"The minute Charlie Royce comes back with the packing-case," said Sir Amos, "you must all get to work and then start as soon as you possibly can."

Royce arrived much sooner than expected. He walked back into the room less than half an hour after he had left it.

"Well," he said, "I always knew Cohen was no fool, but it turns out that he's a deal cuter than I expected. And he's taken no risks."

"What's up now?" said Sir Amos.

Royce looked round the room with a smile.

"Of course," he said, "all this is no affair of mine, and I haven't the remotest idea what's going on. I've simply come back to tell you what's happened to me because I think it may interest you to know. As I walked down the avenue I came on Cohen. He was sitting under one of your alder trees, Sir Amos. There were two ugly looking lads behind him with revolvers."

"Watching the house, I suppose," said Sir Amos.

"That idea occurred to me," said Royce, "though I haven't the dimmest notion what they can want to watch the house for. However, I turned back and struck down toward the old tower at the end of the point. I came on Jimmy Rafferty with another crowd, and I had to tell him something to account for the way I was meandering about. Not that he believed me. He didn't. I hardly expected he would. But I felt I owed him an explanation, for I turned away from him up the hill, and past the old garden I found Kaltcer, fur coat and all, and another of Jimmy Rafferty's boys along with him."

"The long and short of it is," said Sir Amos, "that we're surrounded and can't get out."

"Surely," said Basil, "you'll allow me to go for the police now. It's plainly their business to put a stop to this kind of organized tyranny."

"The police," said Mary, looking appealingly at Basil, "would only make things worse."

"I don't know what the devil we're to do," said Sir Amos. "If they've picketed us as close as Charlie Royce says we haven't the faintest chance of getting a packing case out of the place either by day or night."

"Could we," said Basil, "pretend that it was the body of a pet dog in the packing case and bury it?"

It was a wild suggestion, and nobody took any notice of it.

"A Bavarian wolf hound," he said hopefully, "sounds quite a large kind of dog. We might pretend that the packing case was the coffin, and bury it in a hole somewhere. We could dig it up afterward, you know, when they're gone. They can't stay here watching the house for ever."

"But we haven't got a packing case," said Mary! "Charlie Royce didn't bring one."

That by itself, was a sufficiently weighty objection to Basil's plan. But Sir Amos added another.

"Do you think I'm such a d—d fool," he said, "as to bury my great-grandmother in a damp hole and leave her there for weeks?"

"Your great grandmother," gasped Basil.

CHAPTER XIII.
The Gainsborough.

"Oh, don't be a perfect fool," said Sir Amos. "I'm talking of the portrait of my great-grandmother, that one there."

He pointed to a large, dirty picture which hung above the chimney-piece in a cracked and tarnished frame.

"It was painted by Gainsborough," he added.

He spoke in a loud, angry tone.

Royce, who was standing in the window, turned round.

"I wish," he said, "that you wouldn't shout quite so loud."

"I'm sorry, Charlie," said Sir Amos. "I keep forgetting you're a lawyer."

"And acting for your creditors," said Royce. "But luckily I didn't hear a word you said. I don't know what you're talking about; but I don't mind telling you what I'd do myself in a purely hypothetical case. Suppose I had a picture and I wanted to get it away to some safe place, and supposing I was surrounded with people who wanted to steal it from me but couldn't get it as long as it was in the house. And supposing that what I wanted to take away was a very large picture—mind, now, I'm only putting a purely imaginary case. But if I was in that position I should be inclined to cut the canvas out of the frame and roll it up. You can't walk through armed pickets with a packing case which it takes two men to carry. But one man, after dark, might slip through with a roll of canvas done up in an oil-skin cover."

"It's an awful pity, you're acting for the creditors," said Sir Amos.

"I'm not acting for anybody's creditors," said Basil, "and if you'll allow me—"

"I'm going back to the hotel to look out for a bit of dinner," said Royce. "You'd far better come along with me, Price."

"Very well," said Sir Amos, "but come up again this evening, Mr. Price. Don't listen to me now, Charlie. Come up about midnight, Mr. Price. Mahony will be down at the point, with the sails on his boat. Mahony do you go down to the village at once. They'll let him through the pickets, won't they, Charlie?"

"I expect they will," said Royce, "if he's not carrying anything with him."

"Go stark naked if they insist on it," said Sir Amos, "and when you get there borrow a saw from somebody and a hammer from somebody else, and—"

"Sure have a saw and a hammer," said Mahony, "They're put in the shed this minute, along with what's left of the packing case the young gentleman made."

"Borrow others," said Sir Amos. "Borrow every tool you can think of, and buy a good big bag of nails. As you come back, let Rafferty and Cohen see what you've got with you. Then go into the shed and make as much noise as you can, hammering at the packing case. If any one comes and looks at you tell him you're trying to nail it together."

So Goes It

Our attention is called to an advertisement which mentions popular shades in spring hosiery in the following logical order:

Chicago finds considerable pride in the fact that it only had 270 murders in 1923. And yet some of those Chicago folk think Texans are wild and untamed.

The Chicago newspapers print the fact that the number of murders was reduced from 330 the year previous. Huh, that doesn't mean anything, except that the marksmanship wasn't as good in 1923 as in 1922. It just means that some of them missed.

The Kansas City Star apologizes to one of its readers because it referred to the wrong man as the "present incumbent" and declares it meant "former incumbent." Which reminds us, in the matter of present incumbents, there just ain't no such animal.

The fact that it snowed in Los Angeles the other day will not dampen the enthusiasm of L. A. real estate agents. They will point out that it was accomplished only for scenic effect.

A man in Chicago, found tip-toeing up the elevated stairs with his shoes in his hand, explained that he thought he was entering his flat and didn't want to disurb his wife. Since the item got into the newspapers, he doubtless still is explaining at home.

Hevinks! We never thought it would come to this. The editor of a Beauty Magazine says that bobbed hair and the tight fitting hats which go with it are sure ways of causing baldness. The senate should investigate.

DEMOLAYS INSTALL OFFICERS TONIGHT

The Order of DeMolay will hold its regular meeting Wednesday evening, March 26, at the lodge room on the second floor of the Masonic Temple. The officers of the chapter who were elected at the last meeting will be installed together with the degree team which the new officers have selected. Installation is under the supervision of the advisory board.

Second order of the evening will be the regular monthly discourse on the subject of "Citizenship Activities in City and Country," which is the fifth subject in the "American Citizenship Practices" course which the DeMolay are now studying. More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

YOU CAN NEVER TELL

The rabbit looked upon the seal
Who floundered in the sea,
And cried "How happy I should feel
If I a seal could be!
When chilly blows the wintry air,
When biting blizzards bliss,
I'm sure that I should never care
Had I warm fur like his."

In time the wistful rabbit died,
As all must, soon or late,
And pleasant would have been his pride,
Could he have known his fate.
Perhaps his spirit still may gloat
Somewhere beyond, because,
When made into a lady's coat,
A seal was what he was.

An ancient hen observed "Alas!"
When, with their tails upflung,
She saw a flock of broilers pass,
"Alas! If I were young!
The poultry yard regards me not,
Its eyes are all for youth;
Old age has but a hapless lot,
And that's the dismal truth!"

But could the aged hen have seen,
When she became a ghost,
That though all sinewy and lean,
She still was served on toast,
She would have had one perfect day,
And cackled with acclaim,
For after she had passed away
A broiler she became!

American Glee Clubs

By DR. FRANK CRANE

A movement is on foot to organize the associated glee clubs of America. This will be national in scope and will have branches throughout the union.

Such a movement is of far-reaching importance. Few things would add more to the happiness of the people, more increase their culture and more develop their unity than the habit of chorus singing.

There is no reason why America should not adopt the splendid basic idea of the Eisteddfod of Wales and the Sangerbund of Germany.

Already we are spending enormous sums on music, but its mostly for music that is to be sung at us, and not music that is to be made by us. There is a difference.

In 1920, one person paid $800,00 to keep the Chicago Opera company. Last year a score of wealthy New Yorkers contributed half a million dollars toward the endowment of local orchestral organizations.

Nothing should be said against the encouragement of extraordinary and unusual talent; but it is time that something be done for the development of ordinary talent.

We can think of few things that would contribute more to the general welfare than the organization of singing groups in factories, large commercial establishments, insurance companies, department stores, schools and other places where human beings are gathered together to work. Work plus music means better work.

Besides this, life in cities and villages would be much brighter if there were more meetings for song.

SOILS AND SOIL PHYSICS.
Bacteria Life in the Soil Dependent Upon Oxygen.

The soil is a densely populated manufacturing plant. It is populated by untold millions of bacteria of various kinds and classes, who are constantly at work changing the various chemical combinations found in the soil into other combinations.

These bacteria are essential to the proper growth of plants for many of them are the producers of foods that the plants must have.

Many compounds in the soil are not in such form that plants can use them until after certain of the soil bacteria have changed them into other compounds which can be assimilated by the roots of the plants.

All of these soil bacteria depend upon an adequate supply of oxygen for their life. They must have air to live and continue their activity. It is therefore easy to see how essential it is that the soil be properly aerated.

In discussing the effects of temperature on the soil we saw how the soil bacteria were dependent upon temperature for their activity, how the warmer the soil the more active they were in producing plant foods. However, if there is no oxygen or air in the soil these bacteria cannot work, regardless of how favorable the temperature may be.

Whenever a soil is saturated with water most of the bacteria in it cease working on account of the lack of available oxygen. This is one of the reasons why plants do not grow in a water-logged soil. Their food supply is diminished and they are being smothered besides.

WHAT TODAY MEANS TO YOU

By MARY BLAKE.

AIRES.

The early morning aspects are more than ordinarily excellent and although they decline somewhat, the day continues very favorably on through the evening. Avoid assuming responsibility and "taking a chance."

A child born today will enjoy fair health and have an amorous disposition.

If today is your birthday, your character is remarkably strong, but, at the same time, you are affectionate and considerate. You weigh carefully your words and actions, and once your mind is made up no one can turn you from your purpose because you know you are right—unless, in the pursuit of your ends, you find that some human being is injured, when your kindly thought and consideration for others will stop you in your course.

Your disposition is a happy one, and your life is brimful of sunshine. You have a knack of creating an atmosphere of merriment wherever you may be; many, ignorant of the will power that you possess, misjudge you, and consider you an "easy mark." They however, have a rude awakening, and all learn to render tribute to your firmness—tempered as it always is with kindliness.

In your affections, you are sincere and constant; you are faithful to one, and to one alone, and thereby give and receive great pleasure and happiness. No matter, though, how deeply you love, you cannot be persuaded to deviate from the path of right, and your strength of character will enable you to resist many temptations to which, if your affections were allied with weakness, you would readily succumb.

In business, your associates respect you as you are never guilty of sharp practice, you "play on the level," and although not spectacularly successful, you have something greater than riches—the confidence of others.

In the Balance Sheet of Life, a strong character, and unselfishness and kindly thought, are assets that will always show a healthy surplus over any liabilities.

Successful people born on this date, are:

William T. Smedley, artist; George F. Loring, architect; Edward Bellamy, author; Joseph P. Remington, educator and pharmacist; John R. Thomas, composer and singer; Herman Haput, civil engineer.

"U. S. HAS STRUCK BODY OF LOW GRADE ORE IN POLITICAL LIFE," SAYS BAKER.

"The clouds that are gathring over us are only momentary. Every now and then in our political life, as in our mining operations, we strike a body of low grade ore. But that does not mean that in the large our life, public or private, is unsound," so declared Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war, in a recent address in New York.

"These things come upon us when our vigilance is relaxed and we are exhausted from doing good. We have just come through a period when America was superb. We have come through a period when we were greater than ever we were in our whole history and greater than any other nation in the world.

"To a world that was rocked with ruin we brought our limitless unselfishness. Then when the war was over we tired of being good. We went into a slump.

"We pulled a veil over our faces and closed our eyes to what was going on in Washington.

"I decline to believe that these are more than surface indications. But when we see this sort of evidence we are obliged to ask how we can get back. The 100,000,000 people in America are fundamentally sound. These things will pass.

"But we are challenged to get back to those things which made us superb. We forgot after the armistice that we lived in the world.

"We adopted a policy of political isolation. We forget this meant moral isolation. Instead of being a loved neighbor, we became an unpleasant neighbor. We rapidly succeeded in making ourselves very unpleasant neighbors. We cannot be isolated politically without being isolated industrially and commercially.

"I challenge this isolation policy which we have been pursuing, because it is indicative of a moral slump. America cannot be happy alone. We must replace in the world what went out when Woodrow Wilson died—the things that he stood for and the things that were in the heart of America when it was at the greatest. That great moral giant stood for the heart and soul of America.

Today's Poem

ONE AND TWENTY

When I was one and twenty
I heard a wise man say,
Give crowns and pounds and guineas
but not your heart away;
Give pearls away and rubies,
But keep your fancy free,
But I was one and twenty,
No use to talk to me.

When I was one and twenty
I heard him say again,
The heart out of the bosom
Was never given in vain:
'Tis paid with sighs aplenty
And sold for endless rue.
And I am two and twenty,
And, oh, 'tis true, 'tis true.
—A. E. Houseman in "A Shropshire Lad."

"POM-POM" CREPE IS NOVEL WEAVE FOR SPRING COAT

By MME. LISBETH.

"To be or not to be" is a question that is not only worrying Hamlet but every woman these days. And the subject of the query is—fur. Shall we have our new spring coat fur-trimmed or shall we wear one of the much lauded scarfs instead? Fur is wonderfully becoming and any coat trimmed with it will be smart looking—that is a foregone conclusion. And it is always good—no matter what the styles.

On the other hand scarfs are newer and undoubtedly mark a wrap as of this season's vintage, if attached anyway. And of course the question is solved if one can have a suit with which to wear a scarf and a coat trimmed with fur—but many of us can't, more's the pity.

The coat shown in the picture would tend to throw the scales over in favor of fur. It is fashioned of a novelty weave—"pom-pom" crepe with trimmings of light brown fur. It is the usual model with modified mandarin sleeves and a convertible collar. Almost all the coats shown in the shops have huge collars of self material that may be fastened high up about the neck. The belt seems to have definitely disappeared from the coats this spring.

Mothers AND THEIR CHILDREN

A Coach and Four.

One Mother Says:

One rainy afternoon when Sonny didn't seem to know what to do with himself, I took some old cotton cloth, tore in into two-inch strips and sewed these together end to end. As I worked I told him a story about old-time stage coaches driving over mountains and through forests. Then I gave him the improvised "reins," placed some dining room chairs in a row and set him with his lively imagination, to driving a coach of his own. He had a great time the rest of the afternoon.

Color Cut-Outs

An Orchestra Uniform

Mary brought two other girls to play in the school orchestra, one for the piano and another for second violin. Before many days more boys had been added until there was a piccolo, a flute and two cornets in addition to the violins and a drum. The players all practised hard; then it was decided they should play before the school.

"What'll we wear?" Mary asked the other girls.

"My best dress is green and Sue's is blue," answered Agnes, the pianist. "Won't we look funny with your lavender!"

"The boys are all wearing blue suits, so I think it would be nicer if we all wore blue dresses. Let's have a uniform!" was Mary's suggestion. The girls agreed, and here you see the dress they selected.

The dress the orchestra girls chose for their uniform is blue with gold braid. All of them had dresses just alike.

Home-Wrecking Is Always An Inside Job | Dorothy Dix | Lays Blame For Stolen Affections on Lack of Effort

The More a Woman Costs a Man, the More He Will Value Her—So Take This Tip, Wives, and Don't Mark Your Own Price Tag Too Low.

A young woman wants to know why men prefer the girl who demands expensive entertainment to the one who would save their money, and be willing to be fireside companions to them.

Heave alone knows, daughter. Probably men prefer the gold diggers to the savers for the same reason that we all crave the luxuries, rather than the necessities of life. There is no one who wouldn't rather have an automobile than a wheelbarrow, and whose appetite does not call for cake rather than it does bread.

Anyway, whatever the reason, it is true that it is the bird of paradise, with gorgeous plumage, that ravishes a man's fancy, and not the quiet, domestic little hen who is busily scratching around in the barnyard. The more that a woman costs a man, the more he values her.

Of course, men howl with rage over the high cost of loving. They accuse girls of being grafters and holdup artists. They declare that the latest incarnation of Robin Hood wears abbreviated petticoats, and uses a lip stick, and has bobbed hair. They wonder why a girl cannot eat enough before she leaves home to stay her until she gets back again, and why, when she has to be fed, she invariably orders the highest priced dishes on the menu. They grow sarcastic over the fact that the male who thinks nothing of taking a ten-mile hike has to be conveyed two blocks in a taxi, when there is a man to foot the bill.

Furthermore, they assert that the reason they do not marry is because it costs so much to court a girl that it leaves nothing to marry upon. All of which is true. Nobody will deny that the girl of today is a cheerful little worker, who is an artist in separatting a man from his hard-earned dollars.

But she is not entirely to blame. She has looked around a bit and observed that she has got to put herself in the luxury rating to make men want her. Otherwise, the pass her by and leave her on the shelf.

For there are plenty of girls who are not in the de luxe class. They don't demand expensive entertainment. They would be perfectly satisfied to sit at home with a man and pop corn, or sing duets, or dance to the phonograph instead of going to jazz palaces. They don't expect orchestra seats in a theatre. They would be tickled to death to go to the neighborhood movie.

But are these girls sought after by men? Do mencrowd their little living rooms? Do men beseech them for dates, so that they can spend a pleasant, inexpensive evening in agreeable feminine society? They do not. They are left solitary and alone, with no more takers than a left-over remnant on a bargain table.

The men are all off chasing after the girls whose company is so expensive that it will send them to the cafeterias for a week. Yet the golden girls are no whit more attractive than the homespun ones.

We just naturally value things by what they cost us. We are mad over orchids when we pay $15 a spray for them. Where they grow wild nobody notices them.

The peculiarity of men that makes them value a woman by what she costs them is of especial significance to married women, and it suggests to the astute that the greatest mistake that a wife can make is to make herself too cheap.

It does not take a female Sherlock Holmes to discover that the best wives are seldom the best loved and the best treated. It is not the wives who toil, and save, and skimp, and go shabby whose virtues are rewarded by the devotion of their spouses.

On the contrary, the women who hold their husbands to the end, and whose husbands are proud of them, and boast of them, are the women who, when there are any sacrifices to be made, and any heavy work to be done, let George do it, and who keep themselves young, and pretty, and attractively dressed.

Also, it is the women who demand things who get them. The chap woman who will put up with cheap things always has to do it; but the woman who will have nothing less than the best gets it as her just due, and her husband's respect and admiration thrown in. Nor is the expensive wife the handicap she might be supposed to be. Many a man who would be content with doing little things himself is spurred on to make the effort that achieves a big success because he had to get his wife limousines and pearls.

Men take women at their own valuation, and every man treats his wife just exactly as she demands to be treated. If she holds herself cheaply, and is willing to be a door mat, he walks over her. If she considers herself nothing but a slave, she will work like a slave for her board and clothes, and will never have a penny of her own. If she will stand being talked to and abused like a dog, she will get a dog's treatment.

But if she demands fair treatment, if she demands to be treated with courtesy and consideration, if she demands admiration and appreciation, if she takes the queen's seat, and holds it, she will be looked up to and worshiped like a queen.

Women write their own price tags, and they make the error of their lives when the don't mark up the price as high as the traffic will stand.

Every Woman in Texas Should Read This

"ROANOKE, Texas. — "It would take too much space for me to praise Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription as I would like to. I was ill for weeks, not able to do my work. At evening and head would ache day and night. I would have high fever, my back and I had feminine trouble of a serious nature. The doctor wanted to give me treatment, but a druggist advised my husband to get a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Before I had finished the first bottle I felt so much better that I bought another and before I was through taking that I was well. I can never recommend this medicine too highly for weak women."—Mrs. R. E. Cunningham, Route No. 1.

Baptists Baptize 112,050 Since 75 Million Campaign

By The Associated Press.

DALLAS, Texas, March 25.—Texas Baptists have baptized 112,950 converts since the opening of the Baptist 75 Million campaign, D. F. S. Groner, general secretary of the executive board, has announced. The campaign was opened in May, 1919, and during that year the churches reported 16,481 baptisms. The second year of the campaign brought about 24,279 baptisms and the third year reports showed that 35,469 people were baptized. A total of 36,720 were baptized during the fourth year of the campaign this number being twice that of the first year.

Texas Baptist missionaries have achieved a record in the number of members received into the church by baptism and letter. This number totaled 154,024 during the past ten years.

How Appendicitis Very Often Starts

Chronic stomach or bowel trouble often causes an inflammation which spreads to the appendix, causing appendicitis. Ordinary bowel inflammation can often be relieved with simple glycerine, buckthorn, etc., as mixed in Adlerika. Yannigans Blank Regulars Tuesday, 5-0

COOMBS' CREW HOLD OFF ALL TANNER GANG'S EFFORTS AND RUN IN WIN IN FAST AFFAIR

Cecil Coombs' yannigans poured it on the regulars in the second intra-club game at Athletic park Tuesday afternoon, when Skipper Tanner's crew went scoreless against the yannigans' five tallies. Chalked up, the rookie ones scored 5, regulars 0. Buddy Tanner stopped the affair in despair with eight innings.

Two right slingers and two southpaws mixed their slants from the mound, each team having one of each kind. For the winners, Dick Morgan and Hippo Hodges worked for a win, while Boob Faulconer and Lefty Wright were touched considerably to lose for the regulars.

Yannigans Lead.

There was a good amount of sterling pitching mixed up in the fray. Faulconer and Wright did not lose their game, alone, but failure of their teammates to hit and field at crucial moments caused much of the trouble. The yannigans, however, led the hitting by a wide margin, and were good in the field.

Some Pitching.

More pitching was done than at any other time this trip. All the four got away with some good ones, and had something on the ball. Hodges was particularly good in sending the skipper's gang away empty handed.

Buck Freeman wrought havoc for the yannigans, scoring three of their five runs and holding down center field like a ball hawk. Crozier got three singles in a row, the last scoring Freeman and Cheeves. With two on in the seventh, Coombs batting for Lyons, walked, filling the bases. Crozier's single followed and broke up the game.

Tanner Out.

Manager Buddy Tanner took a hand in the proceedings for the first time. The infield then looked like a million dollars. With Coombs' team also working well, it was an airtight game, and better than many in the middle of the season. Cecil Coombs worked a short time in right field.

Yannigans-Regulars.

The teams were lined up yesterday afternoon in great style. Nearly everybody got in the game, Fussell, Wulf, Hogis, Belcher, Marcum and Gibson being among those not playing.

The regulars: Jonnard, catcher; Schwab, first base; White, second; Tanner, third; Michaels, shortstop; Weiss, left field; Fitzgerald, center; Williams, right; Faulconer and Wright, pitchers.

Some long ones were lifted, but the home runs of the regulars were not again forthcoming to pull them out of the hole. Wobido connected for a three-base hit. Freeman got a couple of two-baggers. Cheeves drove out a good one to score Freeman for the first tally.

Gallery.

Cars parked in front of the entrance and around the sides in regulation one-two-three order looked like a matched game. The baseball weather is now warming the apple bug, and speculation is again high among Spudder supporters.

With slight exception, everybody seems pleased with the prospects. A young, fighting team is what Wichita Falls has, which can be seen with half an eye. All players were pepping up the game Tuesday and working hard.

Since for the first time pitchers cut loose with anything, there was much to be seen. Lefty Wright used a floating slow ball with good effect in his mixing. Hippo Hodges got his deceptive delivery working, and made the few runners hug first. His throw was seemingly as likely to go to first as to the plate.

The hopefuls were long gone yesterday toward getting into shape. Des Moines will be along Friday and should get into some good games.

Undefeated Sam Houston Nine Beats Alamo, 8-2

Playing a hotly contested game at Sam Houston school Tuesday afternoon, the baseball boys of Sam Houston won over the Alamo team by a score of 8-2. So far in the season's games, the Sam Houston school has been undefeated.

The lineup for the winning team includes Caywood, catcher; Van Greare, pitcher; Durham, first base; Chatin, second base; Vencon, shortstop; Wrearsey, third base; Kelly, left field; Weaver, center field; Allan, right field. The players of Alamo included Allired, Veach, Ramsey, Bennett, Adair, Hannon, A. Veach, Flowers, Hunt.

Back 'Again!

ANDERSON MARTIN.

The local heavyweight leather pusher will again appear in the American Legion's boxig exhibition next Saturday night meeting, on this occasion, Kelly Hunt, also a lad of some experience in the fistic world.

Anderson Martin for the past several weeks, has been taking his regular work-outs at the Legion Hall and pronounces himself in first class shape at this time and only regrets that he cannot again meet Cowboy Rogers, with whom he has had three battles and losing but one of them.

Kelly Hunt, who stands about six and one-half feet in heighth, weighing about 185 pounds, hails from Idaho, he confesses that he has not had a fight of any importance for the past several months, but feels that his past experience in the squared corner will be sufficient.

Those who have been regular spectators at the workout quarters, voice the opinion that Anderson Martin has gained a great deal in the past few weeks and should develop into a formidable foe for any one in his class.

These boys will box in the semi-final on the next Legion card.

terstate commerce commission sees fit to change the present rate structure, a system of grouping the various towns and cities in Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, and Arkansas. Mr. Rouch said he opposed any change in the present rate structure and in his testimony defined it, but if a change was made as a result of this hearing, he would prefer the rates be made on change basis as he suggest.

Mr. Hogsett opposed the plan, because, he said, it discriminated against Houston and Mr. Bee attacked it because it said Oklahoma was not considered in the making of the rates.

Aggies-Pirates Trek Meet Today

Special to The Record News.

GEORGETOWN, March 25.—The Texas Aggies come here tomorrow for the second Texas intercollegiate track meet of the year. Beaten in every event by the Longhorns last Saturday at Austin, the Pirates of the Southwestern university here will try to retrieve their vanished fortunes in the meet with the Aggies tomorrow.

The Pirates demonstrated nothing against Texas, but they are an older and wiser lot since Saturday, and will probably run a better race. The Aggies are untried this year, nothing being definitely known regarding them other than that they are unusually weak at the hurdles.

Southwestern university has one other meet scheduled this year with a conference opponent, that being with Rice institute at Houston on April 19.

WACO LOSES TO BAYLOR BEARS

Special to The Record News.

WACO, Texas, March 25—Effective pitching by Rosy Gore gave the Baylor Bears today's game over the Waco Indians, 4 to 2. Gore allowed four blows, two of which were doubles, both coming in the same inning. Walker, hurling for the Indians, allowed but six hits and fanned nine batters. Errors at critical stages put Walker in the hole.

Baylor engineered two fast double plays.

The pitching of Gore, the hitting and fielding of Collier and the hitting of Shires were the features of the game.

Score by innings:

Waco	100	100	000—2 4 3
Baylor	120	000	010—4 6 3

Battries: Walker and Humphreys; Gore and Williamson. Umpire O'Hearn.

Creasy to Captain Baylor Track Team

Special to The Record News.

WACO, March 25.—Frank Creasy of Waco, was elected captain of the 1924 Baylor track team here today. Creasy and Keifer were the only two athletes considered, the vote being unanimous.

Creasy won his first letter in 1923, both as a high jumper and hurdler. Although he placed in the high jump in the conference meet in 1921 he did not make a letter. He is also a letter man in basket ball and baseball.

Chamber to Act On Mellon Tax Phase Soon?

The Wichita Falls chamber of commerce has been asked by the Association of Certified Public Accountants to pass resolutions favoring the appointment of a board of tax appeals to hear controversies on income tax matters. This board is to be appointed by the president of the United States, and neither the secretary of the treasury nor the treasury department has anything to do with it, was announced from the chamber of commerce Tuesday afternoon. It is claimed that if the matter is handled in this manner, there will be greater assurance of a neutral board.

At a meeting of the tax committee of the chamber of commerce Tuesday afternoon which was appointed by the president of the chamber, A. H. Britain, the committee indicated that they would make a report favoring such a resolution at the next meeting of the board of directors which will be held Tuesday, April 1.

Those present at the meeting were T. P. Duncan, J. T. Harrell, Carter McGregor, J. J. Perkins, and Frank Lowson of Washington, D. C., and Messrs. Hutchinson, Senior and Junior, of the Dallas firm of Hutchinson and Smith.

U. C. V. LEADER DEAD

By The Associated Press.

EL PASO, Texas, March 25.—The body of General E. W. Kirkpatrick, commander of the Trans-Mississippi division of the United Confederate Veterans, who died last night at his copper mine at Hillsboro, New Mexico, will be taken to his home in McKinney, Texas, tomorrow, it was announced here today. Roy Kirkpatrick, a son, was to arrive here late today to accompany the body.

General Kirkpatrick was expected to arrive in El Paso last Friday for a visit, but illness prevented him coming here.

Memorial services will be held here at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Sports of 1924

Eddie Collins has one bad habit. He chews gum. When Eddie comes to bat the gum reposes on top of the button of his cap. When there are two strikes on him (then Eddie needs some moral support) he reaches up and takes the gum and puts it back in his mouth. He can then choose between striking out or getting a hit, so he chews um—and gets a hit.

Norman Brookes, the famous Australian net star, always wears an old odd-shaped cap when he plays tennis. Alma Richards, former Olympic high jump champion, never competes without wearing a battered felt hat. But more famous than these head pieces is Eddie Collins', because of the gum that goes with it, and the psychology that goes with the gum.

PATE, DEMPSEY, LEWIS, BROWNING AND MOORE CHOSEN DIRECTORS

Constitution and by-laws was adopted and a board of directors was elected at a well attended meeting of the North Texas Fish and Game association at the courthouse Tuesday night.

The following men were submitted by a committee on nominations and elected unanimously to compose the local membership of the board of directors:

Charles Pate, H. W. Dempsey, Alec Lewis, C. B. Moore and Perry Browning. President E. G. Hill and Secretary Harris H. Roberts will also hold membership in this body, ex officio. F. E. Brandebury, elected vice-president for this city at a previous meeting, is the eighth local member of the board of directors.

The committee on nominations was appointed as follows: Judge J. N. Aiken, B. R. Greever and B. G. Oneal.

Directors Ready.

A quorum of five men to be always on hand to act on business as the board of directors was the chief purpose of the election of the five directors last night. It was pointed out that vice-presidents and other directors not residing here might find it impossible to attend board meetings at all times and on short notice.

The constitution as adopted after various insertions by vote of those present, was drawn up by the following committee: Judge Aiken, Alec Lewis, H. W. Dempsey, president and secretary.

By-Laws and Constitution.

President Hill read the by-laws and constitution presented by the committee, and insertions and corrections were made and voted upon by those members present. The most important of these insertions follow:

Dues, one dollar per year, payable in advance; voted that those having made previous donation will be counted paid for the ensuing year.

Quorum, ten per cent of current membership at any special or regular business meeting.

Quorum, five directors shall represent a quorum at all times.

Committee on legislation and laws shall be composed of five members.

Committee on auditing shall consist of three members.

Disbursements: no salary shall be paid officers, but all stenographic costs shall be defrayed by the association.

Representative Meeting.

As has been the case in all meetings held since the formation of the association, there was a large gathering of sportsmen from this section. Iowa Park, Seymour and Burkburnett were among those places having sportsmen present, who took a hand in the proceedings. Although the directors elected last night were all from Wichita Falls, this was done with the consent and on the motion of out-of-town men, who agreed that quorum should reside here to take up business on short notice.

Claude Russey of Seymour, chosen vice-president from there at a former meeting, was present and said a few words about the progress of the association in his city. Prominent sportsmen there are heartily in favor of the movement and the organization, stated Russey, and will probably get in the association soon. Interest is also known to be in both Throckmorton and Knox counties, he said.

Fish Soon.

Fish for Lake Kemp promised by the state fish and game department will be here within a few days, announced Secretary Roberts. They are already caught at Lake Caddo and only await good weather conditions to be brought here, he stated he is advised. According to Roberts, information is that twenty cans of the stock fish, five and six fish to the can, each of croppie, Mason perch, bwim, calico, rock and other kinds of bass will be in the assignment.

May Have Bulletin.

A monthly bulletin containing information on fish and game and the association may be issued, stated Secretary Roberts, when publicity and educational movements were suggested.

Tommy Gibbons to Meet Carpentier

By The Associated Press

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 25.—Governor McCray who informed recently of the report that Tommy Gibbons and Georges Carpentier had been matched for a bout to be held at Michigan City, Indiana, declared that the Indiana law, which prohibits staging of prize fights, will be enforced.

CHICAGO, March 25.—Tom Gibbons of St. Paul, challenger of the world's heavyweight championship, and Georges Carpentier, ring idol of France, tonight were matched to meet in a 10-round no-decision contest at Michigan City, Indiana, or Benton Harbor, Michigan, on July 4.

Carp Guarantee

Carpentier was guaranteed $70,000 with a privilege of 25 per cent of the receipts, while Gibbons, waiving all claim of a guarantee, accepted a flat 30 per cent. Jack Curley, representing the French light heavyweight, received a certified check for $15,000 guaranteeing the match.

The match will be promoted by Floyd Fitzsimmons who owns arenas at Michigan City and Benton Harbor.

Michigan City

Fitzsimmons reserves the right to wait until May 10, to name the scene of the contest, but it is probable that he will select Michigan City, which is less than 50 miles from Chicago.

FORCED DOWN.

HAVRE, March 25.—The McLaren airplane, which began its world flight from England today, descended near here this afternoon owing to the fog.

Monte-Greer Go Legion Header

A double-final composed of two ten-round bouts, one eight-round semi-final, and two six-rounders are announced as slated for the American Legion card Saturday night at the opera house.

Donald Greer of Lawton and Wildcat Monte of Amarillo will fight the main go. Battling Jennings of Henrietta and Pat Fitzpatrick of Oklahoma City will do the first ten rounds.

Anderson Martin, local heavy, will again appear, this time with Kelly Hunt, Oklahoma battler of the heavy department. They are scheduled to go eight rounds in the semi-final event.

One-Round Casey of Wichita Falls and Kid Snyder of Burkburnett are on for a six-round go. Casey has worked up so to be considered a good fighter here the last few months. Snyder, an old favorite, has not appeared here in several weeks.

Smiling Joe Herman and Tuffie Bryant will again meet, in a six-round affair. Herman, here from points north, showed more skill and science to beat Bryant their last tilt. Bryant, a local boy, is a battler and wants another chance at Smilin' Joe, the sensational flash.

A battle royal will finish out the pugilistic endeavor.

The Original Southern Trumpeters are booked to entertain between bouts.

Scout Demonstration At Barwise School

A public demonstration of the methods and purposes of scouting will be held at the Barwise school Wednesday evening. Local Boy Scouts will be in charge of the affair and will give an exhibition and entertainment of varied nature.

A small admission fee will be charged and the public is urged to attend.

Lenore Smith Wins Carrigan Contest

Lenore Smith, a student at the Carrigan school, has declared winner Tuesday afternoon in the declamation elimination contest held there as a preliminary to the public school interscholastic league trials. The winner of the city meet will represent the schools in the district interscholastic league events.

Second place was awarded to Mattie Cook, third to Juanita Chapman and fourth to Cleo Flatt.

It was announced at the school Tuesday that the school play originally scheduled for presentation last Friday night but which was postponed will be given Friday night, April 4.

RAIL COMMISH TO HEAR CASE

Austin Bureau
Record News.

AUSTIN, Texas, March 25.—The state railroad commission has given notice of a hearing on April 8 of application of Texas railroads for further revision of rates on casinghead gasoline and gasoline for blending purposes, and on naphtha or blending distillates. The Western Petroleum Refiners association has submitted an alternative revision schedule, which will also be considered in the hearing.

MILITARY HEAD SPEAKS OF CAMP

Says Summer Trading To Be Best Ever This Year

Plans are being made by the war department at Washington to make the 1924 month long citizens military training camps in the eighth corps, area more attractive to the youth of this district than ever before, according to Colonel A. M. Risdon of Houston, adjutant of the 90th division, who has been in Wichita Falls for the past few days in connection with this work.

Added consideration will be given this year, he says, to amusement of students, entertainbent of visitors, religious services, demonstrations and ceremonies, competitive athletics, including dances, military band concerts, movies, amateur theatricals and the like, competitions of various kinds, involving trophies and medals for the winners, there will be opportunities for play, including group games, field and track sports, and mass play.

"We especially desire," Colonel Risdon remarked, "that candidates bring their bathing suits and such other athletic clothing as they possess with them this year. This should include track and baseball shoes, and the ever-popular musical instruments and cameras. There are swimming facilities at all camps.

"The student's welfare is carefully guarded," Colonel Risdon continued. "Every opportunity will be accorded him this year to attend the Sunday service of his particular religious denomination. During his recreation hours, attended by chaperones and hostesses, buildings prepared for this purpose will be open to him.

"Fathers and mothers of real, live boys who want to attend one of these camps this summer should not hesitate to encourage him. He will be well cared for, under the observation of experienced officers and non-commissioned officers. He will develop alertness and self-reliance in both body and mind. He will return in a month bigger and better than when he left, filled with new ideas, and imbued with new ideals. He will have rubbed shoulders with and talked to hundreds of future citizens of the country.

"The camps are open to civilian inspection at any time. The commanding officers invite these visits and arrange for accommodation of visitors at places around the camp. Visitors invariably carry away with them a great deal of enthusiasm for the C. M. T. C. are always loud in their praise of sanitary conditions in the camp and the soldierly like bearing of its inhabitants.

Colonel Risdon stated that 1,800 answers to inquiries by the government as parents' reaction toward the camps showed improvement in the physical and mental condition of the boys who had attended the camp.

Testimonials from the young men themselves, he stated, showed perfect satisfaction with the training they had undergone.

Applicants must pass physical examinations similar to those held for the regular army before their applications are approved. They must have been properly vaccinated, and must be citizens of the United States, although there is no distinction between foreign and native born.

All expenses are paid by the government, including transportation to and from the camp, uniform, arms and equipment; quarters and meals at the camp; laundry at the camp; medical attention. Candidates who pay their own carefare to and from the camp will be repaid upon arrival at the camp, at the rate of five cents a mile for the shortest usually traveled route.

The work of enrolling candidates in Wichita Falls for this camp is in charge of Major Harold J. Weiler, Captain John Fletcher, Captain Tom B. Martin, and Captain O. E. Nelson. Applications to attend the camp can be obtained from these men and should be handled through them, Colonel Risdon stated.

"BLIND AS A BAT"

That's the impression so many people give you who still go day after day as if "under a cloud," because they feel that there is no hope for them to get rid of the disfiguring blemishes on their skin.

If they would just notice or ask their dealer, they would find that thousands of people who once were in the same shape they are in, are now free from those distressing pimples, blotches, bumps, tetter, rash, eczema, ringworm, "breaking out," etc., and the secret of it is that they have learned that the one sure way to do it is by using the wonderful Black and White Ointment.

Black and White Ointment is economically priced in liberal size packages. The 50c size contains three times as much as the 25c size. All dealers have it.—Adv.

50 Stocks Break to Lowest Season Levels Tuesday

SHORT SALES ONE FACTOR

Most Make Recoveries More or Less Before Close

MARKET FEATURES.

Total stock sales 1,015,200 shares.

Twenty industrials averaged 95.09; net loss 1.16.

High 1924, 101.24; low 94.88.

Twenty railroads averaged 84.24; net loss .71.

High 1924, 85.90; low 82.74.

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 25.—Stock prices crumbled in today's active market under the weight of heavy short selling and intensive liquidation of long stock, inspired by omission of the extra dividend on American Can and the sudden increase in the call money rate from 3 1-2 to 5 per cent.

More than 50 stocks broke through to new low levels for the year, including Baldwin at 116 3-8, Studebaker at 48 1-2, Stewart-Warner Speedometer at 76 1-4, Maxwell Motors "A" at 43 3-8, American Tobacco B at 135 1-4, Bethlehem Steel at 51 1-2, Crucible Steel at 55 5-8, Republic Steel at 47 5-8, American Woolen at 68 3-4 and Marine preferred at 25 6-8. The extreme losses in these issues ranged from 1 to 6 points but in the majority of cases, closing prices showed partial recovery from the lows of the day.

Despite the fact that heavy selling of American Can late yesterday was based on alleged "inside information" that the extra dividend would be omitted, several commission houses indicated in their morning wires that the $1 extra would be paid, bringing about short covering which carried Can a point above yesterday's close in the early trading. When only the regular dividend was announced, a flood of selling orders were thrown into the market, carrying Can down to 108 3-8, the stock closing slightly above the low for a net loss of five points. More than 75,000 shares changed hands in the first hour of trading, the day's total sales being slightly below 150,000 shares, or more than one-eighth of the total business.

There was no special news to account for the selling of Baldwin, but the weakness of that issue soon communicated itself to other parts of the list and accelerated the general decline. U. S. Steel common closed nearly a point lower at 98 5-8, after having touched par in the early trading.

Rail stocks continued to offer stronger resistence to pressure, although Lackawanna broke nearly 4 points to 117 1-2 on semi-official denial of reports that a special distribution to stockholders was under consideration, and Atlantic Coast Line dropped 2 points.

Some selling took place in the Pan-Americans on reports of labor trouble in Mexico, while other oils yielded in sympathy with the general decline in other quarters.

Call money opened at 3 1-2, advanced to 4, 4 1-2, and finally 5, where it closed. Time money was somewhat firmer, 30 to 60-day loans being on a 4 1-4 to 4 1-2 per cent basis with leaders firm in demanding 4 1-2 for loans of 3 months or more. Commercial paper continued to rule at 4 3-4 per cent.

Trading in the foreign exchanges was quiet with fluctuations narrowing considerably. Demand sterling held steady around 4.29 1-4 and French francs just below 5.40 cents.

MONEY At Work

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments.

Don't make the common mistake of buying securities just because the price so low. Consider the value.

A low priced stock or bond is not necessarily cheap. In fact it is usually expensive, when earning power and assets are considered in relation to the purchase price.

Of course there have been examples of stocks and bonds making a phenomenal recovery, and these examples are always published widely. However, little is heard about the countless number of cases where a stock dropped to almost nothing and then "passed out."

The mere fact that a stock is "cheap" is usually evidence that the men who know the most about the company, do not believe it has any future, and are selling their holdings.

An outsider who is probably no judge of values should not come in and buy the stock which they are selling just because the price is low.

Opening: March 26.65@80, May 27.05@20, July 26.70, October 24.90, December 24.10.

NEW YORK, March 25.—A further sharp decline in today's early trading in cotton was followed by rallies on covering and trade buying. May sold off to 26.60 but recovered the greater part of the loss, closing at 27.20, with the general market closing steady, net 8 points higher to 26 points lower.

The market opened barely steady at an advance of two points to a decline of 40 points, but after rallies of a few points, weakened under continued selling promoted by the circulation of March notices estimated at 8,000 bales, relatively easy cables and a favorable early weather map. Active months sold 58 to 65 points net lower, but the March liquidation was soon absorbed and the market rallied during the day on reports that ocean freight room had been booked for shipments of 27,000 bales out of the local stock, the report of the statistical committee recently appointed by Secretary Hoover deducting 224,000 bales from available supply figures, and reports of a better trade demand. Last prices showed rallies of 30 to 70 points from the lowest. Trading is March ended at midday.

Exports today were 27,177, making 4,618,037 so far this season. Port receipts today were 11,878. U. S port stocks, 631,291.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK.

CHICAGO, March 25.—Cattle 11,000, steady; best matured steers, 12.10; yearlings, 11.75; bulk steers, 10.00; canners and cutters, 2.85@3.75; bologna bulls, 4.65; bulk vealers to packers, 9.00@10.00; top shippers, 11.50.

Hogs 33,000; active; 10 to 15 cents lower; medium averages, 7.45@7.50; butchers, 7.35@7.40; light averages, 7.25@7.40; packing sows, 6.60@6.75; pigs, 6.50@7.00; estimated holdover, 15,000.

Sheep 27,000; steady to strong; wooled lambs, 15.75@16.25; top, 16.40; clipped lambs, 14.35@14.50; shorn wethers, 10.50; odd lots 1at wooled ewes upward to 11.25; shearing lambs, 15.75.

FORT WORTH CATTLE.

FORT WORTH, March 25. — Greatly reduced receipts of cattle and calves appeared today, but the decrease did not serve to bolster the market. The trade dragged, but when sales were made they were about in line with the losses recorded on the week's opening market. Receipts amounted to 1,500 head of cattle and 350 calves.

Small receipts of steers arrived. Prices were steady with the 25 cent decline that prevailed Monday.

Fat cows again cleared with freedom at good steady values. Sales of heifers and yearlings were in line with the week's opening decline of 25 cents. Good calves are now selling around 6.00@6.50.

Shipper demand created activity in the hog market, a supply of 1,200 head selling early at rates that were in line with Monday's 15 cent cut to packers. The best car here sold at 7.15 to shippers, with most of the run going at 6.75@7.10. A half car also notched 7.35. Pigs were disposed of at unchanged rates, the best here selling around 5.00@5.25.

Nothing of much importance arrived for the inspection of sheep traders. Receipts reached only 200 head. On all kinds the market displayed a steady trend. A few sales of lambs were made at 15.50 to 15.75.

COTTONSEED OIL

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 25.—Cottonseed oil was irregular today, but on the whole firm, closing bids being two to six points net higher for active months. Proposed German relief and light offerings of crude restricted selling. Supporting orders from the south were in evidence.

Tenders of 200 barrels were put out. Sales 15,300 barrels. Prime crude 8.15 sales; prime summer yellow spot, 9.40@9.75; March closed 9.40 bid; May 9.65, and July 10.05, all bid.

SMASH WHEAT PRICES AGAIN

Another Season Low Today Twice Record Been Established

By The Associated Press.

CHICAGO, March 25.—All deliveries of wheat smashed down today to a new low price record for the season. Heavy selling order to stop losses on the part of holder and to anticipate declines was chiefly responsible. Closing quotations were unsettled, 7-8 cents to 1 3-8 cents net lower, March 1.01 7-8 to 1.02, and July 1.03 3-8. Corn finished unchanged to 1-8 cent higher, oats 1-8 to 3-8 cent off, and provisions unchanged to a set back of 10@12 cents.

Corn was sustained largely by prospective further delay to the crop movement. Wet weather prevented the increase of receipts, even if the farmers were willing to sell. The oats market sagged in sympathy with wheat.

Provisions averaged lower, reflecting the decline of hog values.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

By The Associated Press.

NEW ORLEANS, March 25. — The cotton market was extremely erratic and early in the day was subjected to severe selling pressure. The start was irregular and first prices showed declines ranging from fifty down to six points up, near months being the weakest. The market soon rallied and some months reached figures slightly above the previous close. At the highest which was near the start, May traded at 27.53, July at 26.72 and October at 24.12, or 1 to 5 points over the previous close. The market then experienced a severe slump which carried May down to 26.90, July to 26.15 and October to 23.57, or 55 to 63 points down from the high. During the afternoon most of this loss was recovered, July actually trading back to within six points of the early high. In the late trading, prices eased off some and the close showed net losses for the day of four to 11 points on old crop months and 15 to 21 points on new crop positions.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION
THE STATE OF TEXAS

To the sheriff or any constable of Wichita county, greeting:

You are hereby commanded ot summon S. L. Berteau by making publication of this citation once each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, to appear at the next regular term of the Eighty-ninth district court of Wichita county, to be holden at the courthouse thereof in Wichita Falls, on the first Monday in April, A. D., 1924, the same being the seventh day of April, A. D., 1924. Then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 25th day of February, A. D., 1924, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said court No. 15420-C wherein, Wichita State Bank & Trust company, a state banking corporation is plaintiff and S. L. Berteau, A. W. White, the Exchange National bank of Shreveport, Louisiana, a national bank corporation, and the Burk-Bates Oil company, a joint stock association, are defendants and said petition alleging that on the first day of January, 1921, plaintiff was lawfully seized and possessed of the following described land and premises to-wit:

Situated in Wilbarger county, Texas, and described as follows:

1st Tract: Being an equal undivided ½ interest in and to the south ½ of section 31, block 11 of the H. & T. C. Ry. company survey in Wilbarger county, Texas.

2nd Tract: Being 80 acres of land in said Wilbarger county, Texas, and being a portion of ... M. B. Tatum and James Collingsworth survey in said county and bounded as follows: Beginning at the southwest corner of a tract of 160 acres conveyed to J. H. E. Young by Preston C. Staley shown by deed of record in the deed records of Wilbarger county, Texas, to which reference is here made for description said southwest corner being northeast corner of this tract; thence south 72, west 819.2 varas to a stake in the east line of said 160 acres of land conveyed by P. C. Staley to Lucy H. Staley, northwest corner this tract; thence south 18, east with the Lucy H. Staley east line 551.1 varas to a stake the southwest corner of the Gentsch 103.13-acre tract for the southeast corner of this tract; thence north 18, west with Gentsch west line 551.1 varas to the place of beginning, containing 80 acres of land.

3rd Tract: 114 acres of land out of the east ½ of the M. B. Tatum survey in Wilbarger county, Texas, bounded as follows: Beginning at the northwest corner of a 40-acre tract off the south end of ... acre tract sold by J. C. Clement to D. ... Green, which said 40 acres is fully described in a deed recorded in volume 51, page 267 deed records of Wilbarger county, Texas; thence north 72, east 2,729½ feet to an iron pen for the southeast corner; thence north 18, west with the above 360-acre tract 1,918 feet to a stake for the northeast corner of this tract; thence south 72, west 2,731.8 feet to a stake on the west line of said 360-acre tract for the northwest corner of this tract; thence south 18, east 1,819 feet to the place of beginning and being the same land described in a deed from J. C. Clements and wife to Clois L. Green recorded in volume 6, page 522, deed records, Wilbarger county, Texas, to which reference is here made.

That on or about the first day of January, 1922, the defendants unlawfully entered upon said premises and ejected plaintiff therefrom and unlawfully withheld him from the possession thereof, to his damage in the sum of $10,000.00. That the reasonable annual rental value of said land and premises is the sum of $2,500.00.

That plaintiff is the owner in fee simple title to the above described land and premises and that the defendants Berteau and White, on or about Nov. 14, 1921, filed an abstract of judgment of record in the judgment lien records of Wilbarger county, Texas, against Clois L. Green and that said judgment purports to have been obtained in the district court of the Seventy-eighth district of Wichita county, Texas, and makes a cloud upon the title to plaintiff's land and that S. L. Berteau on or about the same date filed an abstract of judgment in the abstract of judgment records in Wilbarger county, Texas, against Clois L. Green defendant, obtained in the Seventy-eighth district court of Wichita county, Texas; said two abstracts of judgment being recorded in volume 5, pages 156 and 163 respectively of the abstract of judgment records of Wilbarger county, Texas.

That pursuant to said judgment the said defendants Berteau and White procured an execution out of the Seventy-eighth district court of Wichita county, Texas, and to be levied upon the above described land and premises on all the interest of the defendant Clois L. Green in said premises and the sheriff of Wilbarger county, Texas, W. A. Ish, proceeded to sell said premises to the defendants S. L. Berteau and A. W. White by sheriff's deed dated Nov. 3, 1921, filed for record Nov. 8, 1921, and recorded in volume 87, page 57 deed records of Wilbarger county, Texas, which said deed and abstract of judgment above mentioned constitute a cloud upon plaintiff's title.

That defendant Burk-Bates Oil company filed an abstract of judgment against Clois L. Green, L. E. Key and O. P. Darsey in the abstract of judgment records volume 5, page 156 of Wilbarger county, Texas, on or about Jan. 10, 1921, which said abstract of judgment constitutes a cloud upon plaintiff's title. That the defendant Exchange National bank of Shreveport, Louisiana, filed an abstract of judgment against Clois L. Green, rendered in the Eighty-ninth district court of Wichita county, Texas, in the abstract of judgment records volume 5, page 168 of Wilbarger county, Texas, filed on May 11, 1921, and the filing of said abstract of judgment creates a cloud upon plaintiff's title.

That at the time of filing of said abstract of judgment and sheriff's deed above mentioned said Clois L. Green did not own any interest in of the above described tracts of land but the same was owned by this plaintiff and its vendor by good and sufficient title dated Jan. 1, 1921, filed for record on Jan. 15, 1921, volume 86, page 77, deed records Wilbarger county, Texas, and that this plaintiff is the legal and equitable owner and holder of said premises in fee simple and sues for judgment concelling said purported sheriff's deed, and said abstract of judgment in so far as they effect the title to plaintiff's land or constitute a cloud thereon;

Wherefore plaintiff prays that the defendants be cited to appear and answer this petition as the law directs and upon the final trial hereof it have judgment for the title and possession of the above described lands and premises and that a write of restitution issue and for damages and its costs of suit and for cancellation of the sheriff deed above mentioned and for removing of clouds from its title, etc.

Herein fail not, but have before said court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said court, at office in Wichita Falls, Texas, this the 28th day of February, A. D., 1924.

A. F. KERR, Clerk.
District court, Wichita county, Texas.
By Eunice Jackson, Deputy.

14 Indictments Returned Tuesday Afternoon By Federal Court Grand Jury

IN SESSION ONLY ONE DAY

Several Bills Made Public; No Arrests In Others

Completing its work in a little over one day's time, the grand jury of United States district court which was impanneled Monday morning, made its final report to Judge Atwell at 3:30 Tuesday afternoon and was adjourned. Fourteen bills of indictment were returned.

The grand jury was charged by the court immediately after the March term convened Monday. It retired at once with Assistant United States District Attorney Reinhart and had practically completed its labors at noon Tuesday. Twenty-two members composed the inquisitorial body, of which George T. Abercrombie was foreman.

Several of the indictments were made public but others in which arrests have not as yet been made were not revealed.

28 TRADE TRIP TICKETS SOLD

Twenty-eight of the $25 tickets for the booster trade trip to be made April 22 and 23 have been sold, according to reports given at the joint meeting of the trade extension committee and the special committee appointed from the business council of the chamber of commerce. It was decided at the meeting to sell 125 of the tickets for the boosters.

The committee appoined by the chairman of the business council, J. T. Gant, will try to dispose of the tickets as quickly as possible.

Those present at Tuesday morning's meeting were: J. T. Gant, Frank Quesiser, L. R. Buchanan, Jack Barnard, W. S. Curlee, George Keith, Jr., Jimmy Williams, M. A. Bundy, George Gutzman, Charlie Nash and George Wilson, Jr.

NEGRO PARTICIPANT IN FIGHT LOCATED

Looking decidedly the worse for wear, S. M. Madison, a negro, appeared at the police station Tuesday and perfected a $25 appearance bond on affray charges growing out of his Monday night knife fight with Fred Anderson, another negro. Anderson, with severe knife wounds in his back and about the face and arms was found in the lobby of the Staley building after he and a negro with whom he had been in a black-jack game on the twelfth floor had settled their differences with knives and clubs.

Madison disappeared immediately after the fight and was not located until Tuesday. His head had been badly bruised and incerated by blows from an iron pipe that Anderson used in the scrape. Anderson is also under bond and their cases have been set for trial next Thursday morning.

WHITWORTH MAY BE CITY'S PHYSICIAN

Dr. J. M. Whitworth, a young physician now practicing in Fort Worth, will probably be the next city doctor, it was learned Tuesday. He will take the place of Dr. Duane Merideth whose resignation was presented to and accepted by the city council Monday night. Dr. Whitworth has not definitely accepted the proposals made him by Health Commissioner Patton but it is expected that he will agree to terms within the next few days.

Under present arrangements, Dr. Whitworth will devote his entire time and attention to city work. This will be departure from customs heretofore observed when resident physicians with private practice have taken over the city's work and handled it in connection with their own. It is expected that more effective services can thus be obtained than has been the case in the past.

Rev. McGuire Goes To Amarillo Tuesday

The Rev. W. D. McGuire who has been conducting evangelical services for the Volunteers of America with Mrs. McGuire with the aid of the Municipal Welfare Board was able to leave for Amarillo yesterday.

Rev. McGuire appealed to the Municipal Welfare Board several days ago after his services with the Volunteer Workers of America were terminated, saying he was without funds. He was immediately given assistance, but owing to the illness of Mrs. McGuire was not able to leave this city until Tuesday.

BIG CROWD SEES LAST PERFORMANCE OF ELKS REVUE

The last performance of the Elks' "Atta Boy Leap Year Revue" was presented to a large audience at the Wichita theatre last night. Wichita Falls people took advantage of their last opportunit yto see what is generally spoken of as one of the best non-professional shows of the year. The six consecutive performances of this show make almost a record for Wichita Falls amateur theatricals, it is said.

3 MEN BILLED FOR AUTOMOBILE THEFT

An indictment charging transportation of a stolen automobile was returned by the federal grand jury Tuesday against Fred Hendricks, John Gibson and Jack Wells, three men arrested in Durant, Oklahoma some six weeks ago and who are now held at Sherman, Texas. It is held that an automobile owned by Mrs. L. M. Crunk of Wichita Falls was stolen and taken across the Oklahoma line.

The three men are the same who were implicated in the looting of a safe in Sherman the night after the Crunk car was stolen here. They face state charges on this alleged offense.

We wish to thank our many friends and neighbors for their kindness shown us during the sickness and death of our darling baby boy.

THINGS YOU SAY, DO AND SEE AND SOME YOU DON'T

W. K. Niles, who left last week for Van Wert, Ohio, where he was called by the critical illness of his mother, will return to his home the end of the week after her death which occurred Tuesday morning.

Under the auspices of the First Spiritualist church of Wichita Falls, a series of mass meetings will be conducted by the Rev. Max Hoffman of Butte, Montana, missionary at large of the Montana State Spiritualist association, and Dr. J. S. Maxwell, president of the Texas Spirtualist association. The meetings will begin Wednesday and will continue through Sunday, March 30. They will be held at the Labor temple.

An unusual collection of magazines has been received by the Salvation Army of the city, including "War Cry," "Victory," and others, which are printed in various languages. Among the languages are included Swedish, Scandinavian, Chinese, New Zealand, French, Indian in three dialects, German, Czecho-Slovakia, Danish and English.

M. L. Stephens of the United Production company has returned to Wichita Falls after several days in Houston.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Gregg and Mrs. D. G. Swanson of the Salvation Army, left Tuesday for a several days' visit to the oil fields working in the interest of the self denial drive.

An attempted burglary of the Willard Candy kitchen, 617 Indiana avenue, was frustrated Monday night when the thieves, evidently becoming frightened, dropped their tools and fled.

The "Coke" hounds gave drug store counters plenty of action Tuesday. It was the first warm day this spring that fountain supplies were in demand, but there were plenty of them yesterday to make up for lost time.

The police department's chain gang was unable to start Tuesday morning as had been planned, owing to the inability of the "guard" to be on hand and superintend operations. Chief Hodgins declared that the gang would be put to work within the next day or so.

Miss Edna Rhader, 1609 Eleventh street, accompanied by her mother, left Tuesday afternoon for Rochester, Minn., where Miss Rhader will undergo treatment at the Mayo Brothers clinic.

George B. Maxwell, an Oklahoma City attorney, was in the city Tuesday on legal business.

SEWER PLANNED IN SUNSET HTS.

Council Ready to Give Relief to Territory; To Cost $5,500

Immediate relief of some kind is to be given by the city council to the Sunset Heights territory now lacking in sewer facilities, it was learned Tuesday. Although the council has not committed itself definitely, officials expect that a sewer line which, with laterals will be aproximately two miles long will be constructed. The estimated cost of the project is $5,500.

Residents in Sunset Heights, which include certain portions of Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Seventh and Eighth and the cross streets of Polk, Taylor and several shorter thoroughfares, have been making a vigorous campaign for sewer facilities in the territory. Conditions brought about by the lack of a sewer have constituted a menace to the health of the territory, the council has been told, and they are rapidly growing worse.

The commissioners have recognized that relief of some kind was needed but because of the expense involved they have been proceeding cautiously with any plan. Preliminary surveys for a proposed sewer route have now been completed, however, and it seems that the only feasible plan is construction of a sewer from the addition to the river.

One route contemplates laying the line from the river edge south on Fifth street to the city park at the end of Seventh, then turning it west to Polk, and extending laterals out Seventh, Eight, Sixth, Fifth, Kings highway and other streets in the affected area. Several other possible routes have been outlined, any one of which may be accepted.

It will be necessary to instal a septic tank at the outlet on the river.

HEAR MOTIONS IN U. S. COURT

Wednesday to Be Devoted To Civil Actions; Criminals Thursday

Hearing on motions and pleadings in civil actions scheduled for trial occupied the time of Judge William H. Atwell in federal court Tuesday, with indications that civil trials might start Wednesday, the first three days of the present term of court, which opened Monday, were set aside for hearings on civil matters.

Defendants and witnesses in criminal cases are to be in court Thursday morning when the criminal docket will be sounded and judgments taken in cases where the defendants fail to respond. Trial of criminal actions will be started soon after.

Postalwaites Suing Carter For Damages

Alleging that by reason of unnecessary grief, mental anguish and actual and exemplary loss occasioned by the defendants negligence they had been damaged to the amount of $30,800, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Postalwaite of Cotton county, Oklahoma, Tuesday afternoon filed suit for that amount against Roy I. Carter, local oil operator.

The charge grows out of the death May 1, 1923, of the plaintiffs' son, Glenn, who was killed in a boiler explosion on Carter's lease in Archer county. It is alleged in the petition that a defective boiler to which the defendant's attention had been called was not repaired and that as a result of this neglect the fatal accident took place.

It is recited that actual damages in the sum of $1,800, Glenn Postalwaite's earning capacity, had been suffered as well as $20,000 for grief and unnecessary mental anguish. A total of $15,000 is asked as exemplary damages, bringing the gross total of the suit to $38,600.

6 BILLED ON DRUG CHARGES

Federal Grand Jury Returns Indictments On Narcotic Law

Indictments charging six individuals with violation of the federal narcotic laws were included in the 14 bills returned Tuesday afternoon by the federal grand jury. Five of the cases originated in Wichita county with the other being brought in from Montague.

Two of the indictments name two parties each, May Howard and Hoyt Taylor being billed in one and George Bloxom and Mrs. Earl Andrews Underwood in the other. The defendants in the first were arrested December 23, 1923 on charges of trafficking in morphine and cocaine while the two named in the second bill were taken in custody January 8 on similar charges. May Howard is named in a second indictment returned as a result of her arrest March 6 on identical charges.

The other two persons indicted were Mamie Appel, arrested February 19 and S. D. Cole, a Montague county resident, arrested December 17, 1923.

CLUB GIRLS HEAR Y HEAD

Miss Helen Beavers Is Speaker At Tuesday Night Meeting

"Women need an association that will bring their ideals higher than the best business ethics" said Miss Helen Beavers national Y. W. C. A. secretary in a short talk to the Business and Professional Women's club at the monthly business meeting last night at the Y. W. C. A.

Reports were given by the various committees of the club. Plans are being considered whereby the gymnasium classes may continue through the summer. A round table discussion concerning the club and its relation to the Y. W. C. A. took up a part of the evening's program.

The girls noticed and appreciated the new furniture of the association rooms which has been made possible through the efforts of the chairman of the house committee, Mrs. M. M. Adickes, and through the generous gift of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Priddy.

Samples of the new stationery of the business and Professional Women's club were passed out to those present at the meeting.

Bankrupt Fraud Draws Charges For Olney Man

An indictment charging him with having concealed stolen assets from a referee in bankruptcy was returned Tuesday by the federal grand jury against Volley R. Martin of Olney, a former merchant of that place who was adjudged bankrupt, Feb. 14, last.

The indictment recites that in February of this year on involuntary ples in bankruptcy was taken by Mr. Martin and that in the inventory of his dry goods business, operating in Olney under the name of the Martin Dry Goods company, approximately $1,000 worth of dresses, notions and other items were concealed.

BLOCK OF PAVING ON INDIANA AVE. FINISHED TUESDAY

One block of the new Indiana avenue paving was completed Tuesday afternoon by the Plains Paving company and work started on the second of the four-block stretch between Sixth and Tenth streets. After considerable delay occasioned by adverse weather conditions, the Sixth to Seventh street block was completed. One side of the street was paved last week but with the recent period of inclement weather, further work was delayed.

Blocks were torn out of the Seventh and Indiana avenue intersection Tuesday afternoon and progress will be made toward Tenth street today. It is hoped that with favorable weather at least another block can be paved before the end of the week.

You can choose the model that reflects your individuality — which is something a wrong hat can't do.

The assortment is so big and varied that you're assured in advance of a satisfactory choice.

The light-weight Stetsons and Knapp-Felts are especially in favor just now — quality and looks and wear, without weight.

New arrivals in Stetsons include the big, wide ones that West Texas and Oklahoma know so well.

See our window display.
