SECURITY OFFERED TO FRANCE IN EXCHANGE FOR EQUALITY

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, Nov. 22.—A government spokesman said today that the French door to peace is wide open to Chancellor Hitler of Germany if he cares to enter carrying an olive branch.

This authortative invitation was made as a comment on an interview with the German chief by Fernand De Brinon, a close friend of former Premier Edouard Daladier, published in the newspaper Le Matin.

Peace, Security Offered

The interview quoted Hitler as offering peace and security to France in return for equality for Germany.

Le Martin said Hitler visualized the greatest obstacle to accord between France and Germany as the question of the Saar territory, now held by France. The French government spokesman said, "the question is whether Chancellor Hitler will submit to the supervision of the armaments we know he is building."

HITLER DENIES ATTACK PLANNED

PARIS, Nov. 22 (AP)—Chancellor Adolf Hitler of Germany offered peace and security to France today in an interview published in the newspaper Le Matin.

In return, he asked equality for Germany which he said could be realized "by stages and details talked over."

To give security to France, the chancellor said he would "willingly do anything not involving dishonor or danger to my country."

"No Attack Planned"

If France desired to add to a Franco-German accord "the supplementary security of a defensive alliance with England," he added, "I would willingly subscribe to it, for I have no intention of attacking our neighbors. Poland now understands that. But, because Poland is nearer Asia than you, she knows us better."

"I am convinced," said Hitler, "that once the question of the Saar—which is German land—has been settled, there is nothing, absolutely nothing, which can oppose Germany to France.

"Alsace Lorraine? I have said often enough that we definitely have renounced it to be able to think

LEE TRACY IS UNREPORTED

MOVIE STAR IS MISSING AFTER FLEEING FROM MEXICO CHARGES

(By The Associated Press)

MEXICO, D. F., Nov. 22—Fears for the safety of the missing Lee Tracy, American stage and screen player, were expressed early today by officials of the motion picture company with which he is associated.

Tracy fled by airplane yesterday, although police said he had promised to remain here pending investigation on charges of offending public morals.

Plane Long Overdue

Many hours after his plane, a private Travelair piloted by Fritz Bieler, was overdue at El Paso no word had been received here and the officials added no word had been received, either, from Hollywood.

"All we can hope is that he was overtaken by darkness and came down near some town in safety," one official said. "We have absolutely no idea where he is or what can have happened."

Bieler, who has been flying here for many years, took off from the central airport at 8:15 o'clock yesterday morning and should have arrived in El Paso 10 or 12 hours later.

In addition to Tracy, two companions were passengers in the plane.

May Have Crossed Border

Some pilots expressed belief Bieler had flown across the border heading directly for California, although they said he would have had to make at least one stop for gasoline.

Tracy was arrested on a complaint that he appeared unclothed on a hotel balcony and shouted at cadets. He admitted the shouting, but denied he was unclothed.

The editor of the newspaper Voz De Chihuahua in Chihuahua told the Associated Press by telephone during the night that a plane believed to have been the one carrying Tracy had passed over there about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, heading north.

GIRL SHOT DOWN BY FORMER LOVER

MADILL, Okla., Nov. 22. (AP)—Four shots fired by a former sweetheart killed Miss Anne Ables, 25, while she was making candy for her Sunday school class in the kitchen of her mother's home here.

Beale Tunney, 35, of Van Alstyne, Tex., who did the shooting after entering the kitchen from a rear door last night, then put a bullet into his head. He was taken to a Sherman, Tex., hospital, where physicians said he had only a slender chance to live.

Miss Ables' grandmother, the only witness to the shooting, said Tunney threw open the back door, seized the young woman by one wrist and shot her in the head four times.

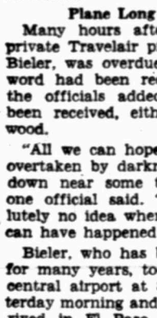

Two Film Players Granted Divorces

NEWKIRK, Okla., Nov. 22. (AP)—Divorces were granted in district court here today to Hart (Jack) Hoxie and to Juanita Weber, both movie and vaudeville players. Each charged abandonment.

Hoxie's wife, Marion Hoxie, who goes under the stage name of Marion Sikes, and Mrs. Weber's husband, W. B. Weber, a New Mexico cattleman, did not appear in court.

PRIDE OF SOVIET AIR FLEET CRACKS UP AT KHARKOV

(By The Associated Press)

MOSCOW, Nov. 22.—A dispatch from Kharkov said the newly-constructed airplane K-7, said to be the largest airplane for overland flying in the world, crashed there yesterday killing 14 persons.

The dead were reported to include the chief pilot and mechanic and several Kharkov aviation officials, but beyond these bare facts no details were given out.

Investigation Ordered

A soviet government commission was appointed immediately to investigate the cause of the crash and establish responsibility for it.

This is the second major aviation disaster in the Soviet union in the past few months.

On Sept 5 eight executives of the aviation industry were killed in a plane crash at Podolsk. Among the dead were three of Russia's leading aviation figures.

The K-7 was a six-motored monoplane without the orthodox fuselage.

Instead, all accommodations for luggage and fuel space as well as controls were in the wings. Only a slight frame work of steel composed the structure on which the rudder was anchored.

Designed to Carry 128

The great airplane was designed to carry 128 persons including its crew. It was designed with sleeping accommodations for 64 persons, divided into 16 cabins containing four berths each. During day flights the cabins were convertible into eight seating compartments on the order of the modern European sleeping car.

The 16 cabins looked out onto two

CALIFORNIA FIRE OUT OF CONTROL

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 22. (AP)—Defying the efforts of 600 or more trained fire fighters, a brush blaze which started at 8 o'clock last night in the foothills northwest of La Crescenta was still out of control today. More men were being rushed to the area.

The fire had been confined to Pickens and Sutton canyons, northeast of Los Angeles, the county fire warden's office reported. Fighters said there was no immediate danger of any of the palatial residences in the section being destroyed.

Early this morning fear had been expressed for the buildings on two large estates as well as a sanitarium. Ambulances stood by during the night, ready to remove the 20 patients.

New Disorders Are Reported In Cuba

HAVANA, Nov. 22. (AP)—New disorders in the interior developed last night and early today as rumors that the threatened revolution was near circulated in a tense and strife-weary capital.

Seven bombs exploded in Camaguey province during the night. One man was gravely wounded. Considerable property damage was reported.

Manzanillo port strikers, in an ugly mood, fired on vessels in the harbor; but there were no casualties.

Irish Film Player Is Critically Ill

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 22 (AP)—Development of peritonitis after an operation for acute appendicitis caused concern today for the recovery of Maureen O'Sullivan, Irish motion picture actress.

So critical was Miss O'Sullivan's condition Dr. W. E. Branch sent to the University of California medical school at San Francisco for serum with which he planned to combat her illness.

"WAS THAT RED SKIN'S FACE RED?" ASKS FAN

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 22 (AP)—Al G. Feeney, three-in-one fire marshal, state police chief and athletic commissioner, pondered today on which of his powers he should invoke in dealing with Chief Chewchki, heavyweight wrestler.

The chief, billed from Ardmore, Okla., came into the ring last night for the third and deciding fall of a wrestling match with "Irish" Pat O'Shocker of Salt Lake City, recent favorite of the Detroit society grand dames.

The Chief had taken the first fall but had lost the second. On the deciding fall, he flopped O'Shocker who, however, wriggled away and darted for the ropes rubbing his bare legs and gesticulating toward the Indian's tights.

Referee Heze Clark backed the chief into a corner and, while the fans howled, pulled off the chief's tights, leaving him with not much more covering than a fan dancer. From the tights Clark extracted two pieces of sandpaper studded with tacks. Then he awarded the third fall to O'Shocker.

BAND OF 75 CONVICTS RUNS WILD, WRECKS PRISON PLANTS

(By The Associated Press)

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 22—Embittered over their imminent segregation in a "prison within a prison," a band of 75 recalcitrant convicts are blamed for the most destructive riot in the history of the century-old Eastern State penitentiary.

Running wild during a recreation period in the penitentiary yard yesterday, the enraged convicts smashed into and fired prison buildings and destroyed valuable machinery.

Shops Are Wrecked

They wrecked and set ablaze the weaving shop and the dye shop and wreaked destruction in part of the kitchen and the chaplain's quarters.

For two hours they had the penitentiary in an uproar—the fourth revolt behind its grim walls within the last six weeks.

Then the guards, reinforced by several hundred city policemen, detectives, state troopers and state highway patrolmen forced them into cells with the aid of streams from fire hose and shots fired from riot guns but not aimed directly at the prisoners.

Extra Guards On Duty

Unrest which seethed through the prison all yesterday was believed to have resulted from information reaching the prisoners by "grapevine" that Warden Herbert Smith intended to segregate the group of 75 responsible for the other demonstrations in a sort of "devil's island"—a prison to be created within the penitentiary.

OVER MILLION AND HALF IS ALLOTTED

FEDERAL FUNDS WILL BE MATCHED WHEN BONDS ARE SOLD

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Nov. 22.—Texas' relief commission, through its county boards, today completed arrangements for distributing the $1,502,500 federal funds just allotted to the state for November use.

The commission had requested the governor to make a request for that much money. When proceeds of this state's $2,750,000 bond issue are available Texas will match the amount just sent here to carry on the work until the bonds can be sold. Bids for the securities have been invited, to be received until December 1.

Program Explained

Mayors, county judges and members of county boards met here yesterday to hear an explanation of the manner in which civil works money will be expended.

Lawrence Westbrook director of the civil works program and of the relief commission said county boards, with few exceptions, were functioning efficiently and that the relief work was going on without friction.

The relief commission has confirmed boards appointed by the commissioners' courts in about 100 counties. It voted yesterday to permit the courts to appoint and install county boards without awaiting confirmation of the personnel by the relief commission. Previously it had decided that new boards should not be installed until they were aprpoved by the commission.

BOY SCOUT DRIVE CONTINUES TODAY

With reported contributions estimated to aggregate more than $500, four troops of workers in an annual Boy Scout financial drive, which began here Tuesday, were continuing solicitation today.

Although about $130 in additional suscriptions had been reported at noon, D. T. Jenning, area scout executive, said most of the campaign troops were attempting to complete their assignments before reporting results.

The goal is $3,000, for another year's support of the scout movement in Lubbock.

A second and first class and merit badge board of review will be conducted at scout offices in City hall at 7:30 o'clock tonight, and the November court of honor will be Friday night, Executive Jennings said.

SETTLE PREDICTS MAN WILL BE ABLE TO GO 15 MILES INTO STRATOSPHERE

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—A prediction that man in the future will be able to penetrate as much as 15 miles into the stratosphere even with the present knowledge of ballooning was made today by Lieutenant Commander T. G. W. Settle, who, with Major Chester L. Fordney, has ascended higher than any other American.

Settle called at the navy department to tell the story of his trip into the upper reaches to Secretary Swanson, and expressed himself as fully ready "to try it again."

In fact the commander said he would prefer that his next flight be made in a larger balloon in order that a higher altitude could be attained.

While the balloonist talked, experts at the bureau of standards were busy calibrating his barometer to determine just how high a ceiling had been reached in his recent effort.

Studies of the atmosphere during Settle's flight showed that temperatures dropped rapidly to a point approximately 67 degrees below zero, Farenheit as he ascended but then remained constant even to the peak of the flight.

Within the balloon, because of the absorption of heat from the sun, he and Fordney were able to work without gloves with their instruments in a mild temperature of 45 to 52 degrees Farenheit. The gondola was painted in such a way as to absorb the heat.

Settle estimated that while in

SENATORIAL DIGNITY CAST ASIDE

Some senators may jump to conclusions—others through windows, when necessary. When Senator Tom Connally was obstructed by crowds from attending the U. S. Senate committee investigation of the election of Senator John Overton in New Orleans, he climbed a fire escape and leaped through a women's washroom, as shown here, to reach the hearing. Senator Connally is chairman of the inquiry.

MURDER CLUES ARE SOUGHT

WOMAN DISCOVERED ON OPERATING TABLE, SHOT TO DEATH

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Nov. 22—A baffling murder mystery in which the victim, a 23-year-old woman, was found shot to death on an operating table of a physician's private office faced police for solution today.

The body of the victim, Mrs. Rheta Wynekoop, was discovered last night by her mother-in-law, Dr. Alice Lindsay Wynekoop, well known physician, in her offices in the basement of her West Monroe street home.

At Loss For Clues

Aside from the fact that Mrs. Wynekoop was almost entirely stripped of her clothing police said they found no evidences of a struggle and admitted that they were at a loss for clues.

In fact, the killer had evidently taken pains to handle the body as carefully as possible as it was covered with a blanket that had been tucked in at the ends and the head, face down, rested on two small pillows.

Nearby lay a revolver covered with a cloth, but police scoffed at the suggestion that Mrs. Wynekoop might have killed herself for she had been shot in the back just below the left shoulder. Three bullets had been fired from the weapon but her life had been taken with a single shot.

$12,309,230 For 54 Projects Allotted

The allotments included sewage systems and sewage treatment plans, water systems, 11 school buildings, municipal buildings, state improvements, highway improvements, and hospitals.

The allotments included:

Houston, Texas loan and grant, waterworks, $2,502,000; College Station, Texas, grant, state improvements, $10,500.

The plans for the flight, it was said, depend on the weather. The exact destination was not announced.

NEW CLUES IN HART MURDER

THREE OTHERS SOUGHT FOR ABDUCTION OF YOUNG MERCHANT

(By The Associated Press)

SAN JOSE, Calif., Nov. 22.—The story of a rancher's wife sent police and federal authorities on a search today for three additional participants in the kidnaping and slaying of Brooke Hart, son of a wealthy merchant, to which two men already allegedly have confessed.

The woman, Mrs. D. Silveria, told federal authorities a story of overhearing a conversation near the barn of her ranch at Berryessa, north of here.

"Two Cars Stopped"

The night of Hart's disappearance Nov. 9, she said, a roadster followed by a sedan, stopped near the barn and she heard a man on the running board of the roadster order a young man to get in the other machine.

"Then the sedan started away with the lights all out, and one man drove away in the roadster, fast," Mrs. Silveria said. "I am sure there were four men in the sedan, in addition to the man transferred from the roadster to the sedan."

Locations Coincide

Locations mentioned in the story coincide with events as related in the confessions of Thomas Thurmond and Jack Holmes, police said. Thurmond and Holmes are held in a San Francisco jail as the confessed kidnapers and slayer of Hart.

Search continued for the body of Hart who, Thurmond and Holmes said, they threw off the San Mateo-Hayward bridge after slugging the youth, binding his arms and weighting his body with cement blocks.

Woman On Bond In Attack On Husband

HEMPSTEAD, Nov. 22. (AP)—Mrs. Texia Hudson, 45, of Austin, estranged wife of D. G. Hudson, Hempstead grocer, was freed on $1,000 bond here today after a night in jail on a charge of assault to murder in connection with an attack on Hudson last Saturday.

R. B. Oakley, 21, of Nederland, senior pre-medical student at the University of Texas, who is a roomer at a boarding house operated in Austin by Mrs. Hudson, was released on $1000 bond yesterday. He returned to Austin.

ARGUMENTS BEGIN

COMANCHE, Nov. 22 (AP)—Arguments began today in the trial of R. C. Tipton for the slaying of Pink Milton here last January after Judge R. B. Cross delivered his charge to the jury.

DANGERS SEEN BY SPRAGUE IGNORED

SPECIAL ADVISOR FOR TREASURY QUITS AS PROTEST TO PLAN

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—The administration went forward with its gold program today undeterred by the contention of Dr. O. M. W. Sprague that grave dangers lie ahead if the policy is pursued.

Resigning as special financial advisor to the treasurer, Dr. Sprague wrote to President Roosevelt that unrestrained inflation and a breakdown of governmental credit threatens as a result of the present monetary procedure.

Gold Price Unchanged

The price of domestic gold was fixed today at $33.76 an ounce, unchanged from yesterday, with the dollar, slumping again, carrying the world gold price upward from an opening of $34.41.

Officials expressed no perturbation at Sprague's dire predictions. From Warm Springs came word that Mr. Roosevelt was resolved to go ahead with his plan for increasing commodity prices by forcing the price of gold upward through purchases at home and abroad.

In his letter, Sprague called attention to the fact that some issues of government bonds had slipped below par.

Joining this to the fact that the government must borrow huge sums within the next year or so, he predicted that if the present trend continues, investors will be unwilling to put their money in government bonds.

New Money Issue Seen

The result, he said, would be that the administration would be forced

THREE BUS LINES FACE INJUNCTION

WACO, Nov. 22.—(AP)—The Texas and New Orleans railroad bus line and three other transportation companies today were under a temporary injunction in a suit filed yesterday by James V. Allred, Texas attorney general, seeking penalties totaling approximately $1,000,000.

Besides the T. & N. O., companies named were the Southland Greyhound Bus lines, the Southwestern Greyhound Lines and the Southern Pacific railroad.

Allred alleged that the T. & N. O. line was operating between Waco and Bremond without a permit from the state railroad commission, on the strength of a permit granted the Southland and sold Nov. 1 to the Southwestern. The petition alleged the line was operating under a "lease or some sort of agreement" with the Southern Pacific.

The state alleged violation of both the motor bus law and the motor carrier law by carrying passengers and freight and seeks a penalty of $500 a day for the former and $100 a day for the latter for each day since Nov. 13, 1932.

Nelson Companions Thought Arrested

That two men who admitted, after being arrested last night in Shreveport, that they had robbed postoffices at Meadow and Kennedale, Tex., may have been former companions of Andrew H. Nelson, who escaped while facing trial for the Meadow robbery, was expressed unofficially here today.

Nelson, whose father was postmaster at Meadow when the postoffice there was robbed, escaped from a United States deputy marshal at Abilene, Nov. 12, after being released to the deputy marshal from Lubbock county jail Nov. 11. Nelson was to be tried in United States district court in Abilene that week.

Victor H. Lindsey, United States commissioner here, at noon today said Nelson had not been recaptured so far as federal authorities here knew.

Velvet Spells Novelty In New Clothes

By RITA FERRIS
Associated Press Fashion Editor

PARIS, Nov. 18 (AP)—Velvet makes many fashionable funcies in the new winter mode. In plain, plaid, ribbed, crinkled and quilted weaves it adds a note of novelty and contrast to both daytime and evening costumes.

Black velvet scarfs tied close to the throat and anchored in place with a shimmering diamond brooch appear as a smart finish to black wool and crepe frocks. Bright plaid velvet ribbons knotted in a bow under the chin give a touch of color to brown and dark blue frocks.

The velveteen or corduroy velvet shirtwait worn with a tailored suit is one of the new notes of the season. A high-collared tomato-red velvet shirtwaist tops a grey flannel suit, and a sapphire blue corduroy shirt gives chic a caramel brown tweed.

Little tailored velvet bows in light tints add a new touch to the bodices or dark wool frocks. Shell pink appears on black, blue-green on brown. Darker velvet touches give distinction to many a light evening frock, as a shimmering mauve satin finished with shoulder twists of deep plum colored velvet.

TEXTILE WORK AT TECH INSPECTED FOR FOUNDATION

An investigator for the Textile foundation, Frederick Feiker of Washington, D. C., Monday inspected textile engineering work at Texas Techonological college. Mr. Feiker is on a tour of the 11 colleges giving textile engineering instruction in this country.

"Mr. Feiker is making a survey of textile engineering instruction in the United States," Prof. Carl D. Brandt, head of the department, said. "He came in Sunday and left Monday night. It was his first visit to Texas and he was accompanied by Mrs. Feiker. They were much impressed with what they saw here.

"He went over our plant and equipment and then talked with other members of the faculty who are giving instruction in our line in other departments.

"On his way out here Mr. Feiker was in contact with textile mills to ascertain what they want in the way of training for professional engineers. He will make a full report of what he has found to the textile foundation."

There are 11 schools and colleges in the United States that train men in textile engineering work; six are located in the south and five in the north. Two of the six are in Texas, A. and M. and Tech.

Funds for the work originally came from money which the government secured through dye manufacturing and similar work during the world war. A sum of approximately $1,500,000 was secured from this source.

Administration is in the hands of a committee of three men, one representing the woolen textile manufacturers, one the cotton textile men and one the silk and rayon men. They secured Mr. Feiker, who was formerly with the foreign and domestic commerce bureau in Washington and before that a vice-president of the McGraw-Hill Publishing Co., as director.

An outgrowth is expected to be a coordination of instruction work in the colleges giving the work and a more practical course of instruction to fit the needs of mills, Professor Brandt said.

The visitor expressed surprise and pleasure at the department of the local school and its program of work. He was impressed, he added, by the interest shown in weaving of homespun cloth and of the use of wool grown on the campus for the department.

Heinz To Battle Kanthe Tonight

WRESTLING TONIGHT at the Auditorium. Sunshine Heinz vs. Strongy Kanthe in the main event, a two-out-of-three fall match. Jack (Olympic) Van Bebber vs. Sailor (Arkansas) Moran in a 30-minute semi-windup.

All the wrestling you want for 65 cents, if you want it a ringside; 40 centimes if you don't want to risk getting a lapfull of grunt and growl men.

* * *

The fight game continues to grow in Lubbock. There are bigger crowds at each successive show. Come early for choice parking spaces.

STRIKE EIGHT—OUT!

And now Ranger High school's football dreams go fading away, although the team, leading its district and a big favorite, has not lost a single titular game. (There is a hidden compliment to Lubbock High in this). Old Man Ineligibility sponsored by the University of Texas Interscholastic league, waves his wand and another good football team goes down.

* * *

The little forked-tail imp alights on our shoulder and whispers in our shell-like ear: "You'd like the eight-semester rule fine, if they could rule out Amarillo's Sandies with it, wouldn't you?" But the the little white guy surmounted by a halo hovers around the right ear with: "No. You want the best team to win in any case. To the imps with the eight-semester rule!"

COURAGE, LADDIES

It is with only a sympathetic understanding of Coach Weldon Chapman's plight that we anticipate the Lubbock-Amarillo game at Butler Field, come a week from tomorrow. Not in recent history has a coach at Lubbock High school been confronted with such circumstances as face Coach Chapman. His poor football material—the poorest in many seasons—constitutes just one reason for his plight. The depression, or rather, an exaggerated opinion of the depression, is just one other reason. Untimely poor health (it is improving rapidly) is just one more reason.

* * *

We have said it before and reiterate: Coach Chapman is an unusual coach. He has taken poor material and worked wonders with it. Many times he has proved himself a great coach. But even Coach Chapman and his most able assistant, Burl Huffman, can not work miracles or black magic. They've got to have a foundation for their artistry, and, thanks to the high school football rule-making body, they just don't have it.

* * *

Major college conferences have rules, too, but none so drastic and silly as a lot of the schoolboy regulations inflicted on innocent and law-abiding coaches and players in Texas. Eligibility rules of the big conferences strike at the purposeful recreant, the player or coach whose strategy includes flagrant violations for which there are no excuses. Take the case of the University of Arkansas and this Schleuter fellow. Maybe Coach Fred Thompsen didn't know about it, but Schleuter himself knew that he had played on several teams before becoming a Razorback in Cornhusker clothes, or vice versus. "I just wanted to get away from it all, and take a fresh start," was Mr. Sleuter's excuse for failing to turn in Nebraska credits when he enrolled at Arkansas.

ONE AND THE SAME

Speaking of Nebraska, Coaches Cawthon and Smith of Texas Tech are just back from Kansas, where they saw Oklahoma play a football game. Michigan was playing Minnesota that day.

* * *

Coaches Cawthon and Smith also saw the Wildcat Aggies of Kansas State play a football game. It was that particular football game that drew the attendance and attention of Messrs. Cawthon and Smith. They drove the distance in the campus hack, and, returning Monday night, decided to put off football practice until this afternoon. If you ever saw the campus hack you know what we mean.

* * *

"The best football team that will ever have been in Lubbock," was the way Dutchy Smith twisted a sentence in describing the Kansas Aggies, or Kansas State Wildcats. The Kansas Aggies, or the Kansas State Wildcats, are some pumpkins, according to the Matador Mentors, and it is going to take some mighty pert playing on the part of the Matadors to even hold the Kansas Aggies, or Kansas State Wildcats, to two or six touchdowns, according to Coaches Cawthon and Smith.

* * *

In fact, the Kansas Aggies, or the Kansas State Wildcats, boast the presence in the lineup of at least two strong candidates for all-America honors this season, we learn. Their names are Dougal Russell, who performed mightily against the Oklahoma Sooners last Saturday, and Ralph Graham, captain who has performed mightily against any and all opponents the Kansas Aggies or Kansas State Wildcats have faced all season.

* * *

Before going any further, let us inform you that Texas Tech plays the Kansas Aggies, or Kansas State Wildcats, at Matador Field on Thanksgiving Day, 1933. And it is a ball game as promises to be a ball game, no less. You fans have been on Texas Tech's neck to schedule some games with teams of the upper stratum. Dear fans, here is your wish.

JACK VAN BEBBER TO MEET SAILOR MORAN IN SEMI-FINAL

A three-fight card promising much activity and many thrills and spills is Promoter Sled Allen's weekly offering at the Auditorium tonight. The promoter believes he has a card lined up that will fill the well-known bill.

In the main event, a finish fight in which the winner must take two falls, Tommy "Sunshine" Heinz, formerly of San Diego, now of Lubbock, takes on a stranger here. The stranger's name is Dick Kanthe, and he hails from Detroit, Michigan. Known over the northern states for his wrestling ability, Kanthe also is popular in vaudeville circuits for his strong man stuff. His weight-lifting, rod-bending, nail-eating power is incorporated in his wrestling, and brave is said to be the man who tackles him for the first time.

He's Got A Record

Kanthe comes to Lubbock tonight with an unblemished wrestling record, having never been whipped in his weight. He is a welter weight, tipping the beam at about Heinz' poundage. Folks have learned to swear by the hard-working, conscientious wrestler who has won four fights in Lubbock, all of them against established competition. The pleasant-faced Teuton lad always comes out with a new batch of tricks, and critics believe he'll need all of them tonight.

A local favorite returns to the ring tonight after a fortnight's rest, Jack Van Bebber, Texas Tech wrestling coach, meets Sailor Moran for a second time in the local ring. This match is coming back at popular request. Unbeaten in Texas, Moran looms as a favorite, but he has never whipped Van Bebber. Local fandom, admiring Van Bebber's powerful physique and clean wrestling, believes he may turn the trick that sends Moran to defeat.

Fought To Draw

In their first meeting a few weeks ago, Moran and Van Bebber wrestled 30 minutes to a draw, the local youth drawing a big hand for his fine work with the Arkansas mauler. An unorthodox, in some respects, as Dutch Mantell himself, Moran is capable of putting on a great show. His extra activity in the ring always provides for a cheer or a salvo of boos and hisses.

Van Bebber, seven times National amateur and one time Olympic champion, has won all his professional fights with the exception of the draw with Moran. They meet in the semi-windup tonight.

And In Addition

Something extra will be included in tonight's program. Between the preliminary and the semi-final, Van Bebber and Heinz will go into the ring and demonstrate various holds and locks used in the professional game. At the request of several fans, Promoter Allen has announced this extra feature. It is probable that Cal Farley, popular sportsman of Amarillo and former contender for the world's welterweight championship, will be there tonight to explain the demonstrated holds. Three or four of the most popular winning holds will be demonstrated from the ring.

Tonight's card begins promptly at 8 o'clock, with two young middleweights furnishing the curtain-raising fireworks.

Admission prices will remain the same: 65 cents ringside, 40 cents general admission and 10 cents for ladies.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. — Vernon Cormier, 127, Worcester, Mass., outpointed Dave Barry, 123, St. Louis, (10).

Sports writers are calling Bob McQuage, North Carolina State College halfback, one of the hardest workers on the southern gridiron. In the game with the University of Georgia he kicked a 53-yard field goal, averaged 43 yards in eight punts and ran with the ball eleven times for an average of four yards each time.

DISTRICT GRID RACES TO BE COMPLETED

ONLY TWO OF SIXTEEN TITLES DETERMINED IN TEXAS LEAGUE

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Football teams of the class "A" division of the Texas Interscholastic league are nearing the finish line in district competition. Once the sixteen district winners have been determined, bi-district games will start and eventually will settle the 1933 state championship which the Corsicana High school Tigers won last year in a scoreless game against the Fort Worth Masonic Home team.

Several district races have been settled but many will linger in the doubtful column until Thanksgiving day games. All district champions, according to an interscholastic league rule, must be determined by Thursday night, November 30.

Three Titles Settled

Dallas Tech Wolves are champions of District 8. Bowie of El Paso won the title in District 4. Corpus Christi has the championship won in district 15. Brownsville and Harlingen will play Friday for the title in district 16. They are the only two teams in the district.

All other districts still are doubtful although many of the leaders can get no worse than ties even should they lose their Turkey day battles.

Amarillo holds undisputed lead in district 1 with three wins and no defeats. The Sandies play their final game Thanksgiving against Lubbock and are heavy favorites.

Abilene Takes Lead

Abilene took the lead in district 2 (Oil Belt) when Ranger officials, discovering they had played an ineligible man, voluntarily forfeited district victories over Abilene, Cisco and Eastland. Abilene's revised standing is four wins, no losses. Cisco took second place with three wins, one loss. These teams meet at Abilene Thanksgiving day, with Abilene needing only a tie game to cinch the title.

Sweetwater and San Angelo play Thanksgiving for the district 3 championship. Sweetwater is undefeated in three games. San Angelo is unbeaten but has a tie game.

Wichita Falls and Vernon clash Friday at Wichita Falls in a district 5 melee that probably will determine the championship. Wichita Falls is undefeated in two conference games. Vernon has two wins and one defeat.

Highland Park, undefeated in four starts, and Sherman, undefeated but tied in one of four games, will settle district 6 race at Dallas Thanksgiving day.

Fort Worth Central Unbeaten

Fort Worth Central apparently has won the district 7 crown. A victory for Polytechnic this week-end over Masonic Home would settle the district championship. Central is undefeated in five conference games.

Greenville's three wins and no defeats appears to be the best in district 9. Greenville plays Marshall Thanksgiving. Marshall has won one, lost one and tied one conference game.

The district 10 championship hinges on the important battle Friday between Athens and Tyler at Athens. The Hornets are leading with four wins against no defeats. Tyler has four victories and one tie. Tyler is favored.

Outcome Doubtful

Waco, Hillsboro and Corsicana all have a chance at the district 11 championship. Waco and Hillsboro play Friday at Waco. Corsicana meets Cleburne Thanksgiving. This district offers the most doubtful outcome of all.

Two San Antonio teams, Brackenridge and Thomas Jefferson, will play Turkey day for the district 12 crown. Both are undefeated. Brackenridge has four wins against three for Thomas Jefferson.

San Jacinto appears to have the title won in district 13 which is an all-Houston district.

Port Arthur and Beaumont, leading the parade in district 14 with unblemished records, and each with three wins, battle at Port Arthur Thanksgiving for the championship.

Tech Plans For Wildcat Battle

TICKETS GO ON SALE FOR GAME WITH AMARILLO

With early activity indicating an early sell-out of choice seats, Lubbock fans planning to attend the Lubbock-Amarillo high school football game in Amarillo on Thanksgiving Day are warned to purchase tickets early.

Authorities at Lubbock High were told yesterday that more than 2,000 tickets already had been sold at Amarillo. One hour after the "down town" ducats had been placed on sale, 750 of them had been sold. By Monday night, 1,200 had been distributed. It was estimated that at least that many more would be sold Tuesday.

Five hundred adult and 400 student tickets have been sent to Lubbock, that many seats having been reserved on the initial order. Townspeople may purchase the tickets at the J. & J. Sporting Goods company store here for $1, Superintendent M. H. Duncan of Lubbock said last night. Student tickets in the reserved sections are 40 cents.

Strong indications that the Westerners will go to Butler field for victory and that an earnest bunch of rooters would back them up showed Monday and again yesterday at Pep meetings at Lubbock High. Coaches Weldon Chapman and Burl Huffman are not letting up on their gridders.

CUP GOLFERS QUALIFIED

MANDATORY TEACHING RULES FOR GOLF TO BE ESTABLISHED

BY PAUL MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO, Nov. 22 (AP)—Working in unison again after the stormiest year since its organization, the Professional Golfers' association of America, has decided to automatically qualify all Ryder Cup players for the P. G. A. golf championships and to establish a mandatory set of teaching rules.

The proposal to allow automatic qualification in the P. G. A. championships to Ryder Cup players came after a revolt threatened to break up the organization. Last September, several Ryder Cup players, campaigning for the cup and exhibition money in England, insisted on automatic qualification. At first, it was refused, but later, as the storm increased and star players threatened to withdraw, the demand was granted.

Must Be Same Year

"Such automatic qualification will apply only in those years in which the Ryder Cup matches are played, however," reminded George R. Jacobus of Ridgewood, N. J., president of the P. G. A. "It is believed that a player good enough to be named on America's Ryder Cup team is good enough to qualify for championship."

The adoption of a uniform set of teaching rules, one of the most progressive ideas ever advanced, was urged by President Jacobus with an aim to clear up conflicting methods of instruction and to center on one nationally accepted course. Under the plan, each professional and amateur golfer will be asked to submit his idea of the "perfect way to teach golf" to sectional and local boards.

These boards, assisted by a physician, will draft a course and submit it to a national board composed of the nation's leading teachers physicians and the president of the United States Golf association—if the latter accepts the invitation to join such a board.

To Pick The Best

The national board then will pick what appears to be the best and surest method of golf instruction send it to the professionals all over the country, and make it compulsory to follow the method or quit the P. G. A.

"Our idea is that golf has advanced far enough so we can determine the best and soundest method of teaching," President Jacobus told the delegates to the annual P. G. A. convention in session here. "Trick ideas that only tend to confuse the starter and duffer are going to be out. Why should a golf pupil learn to play the game one way in San Francisco for instance, and another way in New York, Florida, or New Mexico? There must be one perfect way to swing a club, one best way to stand, and one best way to grip a club and we're going to find out and make it stick."

Plans to adopt an anti-swearing code for tournament players was abandoned by the association on the theory that "gentlemen don't need such a rule" and that persistent swearers can be frowned into silence.

Annual dues were cut from $40 to $25. Election of officers was on today's program.

MATADORS OPEN HARD PRACTICE SESSIONS FOR KANSAS AGGIES

Texas Tech's Matadors took the gridiron this afternoon after a four-day period of rest and relaxation. It is the first day they have donned uniforms since beating Baylor university here last Friday.

Soon after their gridders had turned in a fine 13 to 0 victory over the Bears of the Southwest conference last Friday, Coaches Cawthon and Smith departed for Manhattan, Kansas, advising their charges to take things easy and "forget about football" until their return. After scouting the Kansas State-University of Oklahoma game Saturday, the Tech mentors returned home Monday, but extended the football reprieve until Wednesday.

Preparations will begin in earnest now for the entertainment and edification, if not defeat, of the Kansas State Wildcats, or Kansas Aggies. Coach Bo McMillin, one of the most popular gridders and coaches in the country, will bring his entire troupe here for the local Thanksgiving day classic. It will mark the first meeting of the teams, but it will not require traditional rivalry to make of it a football spectacle.

"The Kansas State team will be by far the best football club ever to come to Lubbock," Coach Pete Cawthan of Tech said upon his return from Manhattan, home of the Wildcats. "It will be one of the most colorful games of the season, anywhere. We're going to be set for them. They may beat us, but they'll know they will have had a battle."

Efforts to concentrate student and resident interest and enthusiasm on the game have been started by coaches and school authorities at Texas Tech, with "ten thousand fans" as their goal.

Ten thousand fans will be more, by a couple of hundred, than have packed Matador Field in the last three years, but "it can be done again, and we're going to do it."

Need the Crowd

Texas Tech's hopes of becoming a member of a major conference or of scheduling future games with "upper crust" teams, will be enhanced or discouraged according to the size of the crowd at Texas Tech field on Thanksgiving day. This was the way high officials of the school expressed themselves at a meeting of the athletic council yesterday afternoon.

Tickets for the game were placed on sale yesterday at the J. & J. Sporting Goods company store. Regular prices prevail—$1.50 for reserved seats in the grandstand, $1 for bleacher seats. A goodly number of choice seats were sold yesterday, the agency reported.

PUBLISHERS AND HASHERS WIN IN PLAYOFF GAMES

Mitchell's Cafe will meet the J. & J. Sporting Goods company or the Avalanche-Journal Publishing company in a five-game playoff series for the indoor baseball championship of Lubbock.

The Cafe team won its way to the finals in the "Shaughnessy system" playoff by defeating Lydick Roofers for the second consecutive time last night, 9 to 4.

Avalanche-Journal turned the tables on the J. & J. Sporting goods company last night, winning an 11 to 6 victory in the first game and evening the standing at one-all in their three-game series. They are to meet again Friday night to determine the winner of that bracket. Beginning next Monday night, a five-game series between the winner of the Avalanche-Journal - J. & J. game and Mitchell's Cafe will be played, the winner to be known as the indoor champion.

Hutson On Mound

With Truman Hutson pitching great ball at times, but passing four men to walk in as many scores, the Publishers held the Sports scoreless except in the fifth and sixth innings. In the fifth, the Sports pushed across five runs, and added their sixth in the sixth inning.

Meanwhile, the Newsies had taken a 2-run lead in the first, and had scored in every inning to end the sixth leading, 11 to 6. There was no scoring in the seventh inning.

Scoring five runs in the first inning, the Mitchell men hopped off to an early lead, added one in the second and five in the sixth. Pitcher Richard Godeke, who struck out a dozen batsmen, pitched shutout ball in all but two innings, allowing three tallies in the third and one in the fifth.

The entire proceeds of 16 high school football games in Los Angeles Nov. 10 were to go to charity.

PICADORS AND N. M. FROSH WILL PLAY

TECH FRESHMEN WILL MEET NEW MEXICANS FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Texas Tech's freshman footballers, coached by John O'Dell Morgan, are priming themselves for an important and probably entertaining combat on Matador Field Friday afternoon with the first year gridders of the University of New Mexico. The Picadors confident and cocky, engaged in a snappy and vociferous workout.

On another corner of the practice lot, the Texas Tech varsity reserves were making preparations for a Saturday foray against the Amarillo Junior college Badgers.

As heavy and talented a set of freshmen footballers as Tech has had since its beginning, the 1933 Picadors have a .666 batting average in games played this season. Not allowed to begin practice sessions until school had officially opened, the Picadors were ill-prepared for their opening tilt with the strong New Mexico Military aggregation, but they held the Cadets to a 13-6 count.

Trounced Senior Team

In November they trampled the Amarillo Junior college in the last quarter 13-0, thereby defeating the Badgers by the widest margin in Freshman football. A few weeks later Morgan's men repulsed the Panhandle Aggies from Oklahoma, 21-0, on the home grounds.

The recovery of two regulars, injured in the Panhandle game, puts the Picadors in the favorites position to take New Mexico. Jim Wells of Brownfield, a big back with legs like a steer and considerable ball-toting ability, was the secondary star, along with Hair, in the game with Amarillo junior college. Against Panhandle he was also going good, but came out in the second quarter with a broken collar bone. He will be back in the line-up Friday.

Walter Goodenough (pronounced Good-enuff), watch-charm guard from Dallas, will also be available, after recovering from a knee injury.

Nowlin And Graves

Nowlin and Graves are two other outstanding men at the guard positions. Nowlin, reformed tackle, jars the scale indicator at 190 pounds. Graves, 200 pounds, should make a nice mate for Gaines Davis on the varsity next year.

Katrola, from Stephenville, and L. Browning, of Snyder, are the starting tackles. Both have shown up well all season, and tip the scales at around 190 pounds.

Robert Hale and Louis Spears, two former Lubbock high gridders, have been the standouts at the flanks this year. Spears blocked a punt in the Amarillo game that ultimately resulted in a touchdown, and he played brilliantly against Panhandle Aggies. Hale, a long, rangy 170 pounder is effective both on defense and offense.

Wiggington, at 175 pounds from Chillicothe, has had the regular pivot assignment since early season. A center of the cruising variety he spends lots of time in opposing backfields, and has been known to intercept a pass.

Majority Likes Dead Ball Rule

STAR PLAYERS FAVOR REGULATION BUT ADMIT IT ROBS FOOTBALL GAME OF MANY THRILLS

(Following is the first of three stories on what the college football players of the country think about the rules and what, if anything, should be done about them.)

* * *

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 22 (AP)—The so-called "dead ball" regulations in the national intercollegiate football rules, by which runs with recovered fumbles are barred or ball-carriers automatically stopped if anything but their hands or feet touches the ground, are endorsed today by a slight majority of star players polled by the Associated Press.

Evenly divided in their opinions in the south, east and middle west, the balance in favor of the existing restrictions is thrown into the scales by the players of the far western gridirons. In the combined Rocky Mountain and Pacific coast sections, the vote was 15 to 10 in favor of the "dead ball" rules, thereby making the aggregate totals 41 to 35 for the entire country and giving the national rules-makers something to think about. The mid-west stood 9 to 8, the east 12 to 12 and south 5 to 5.

Old Thrills Missing

Nearly all the players concede that the old rules, permitting the defense to gallop off with recovered fumbles or allowing ball-toters to keep going after being knocked off their feet, would return many thrills to the game but a majority likewise stress the fairness, as well as the safety, of the current regulations.

"Maybe I would have scored a touchdown against Stanford when I picked up a fumble in the third period of our game," says Ford Palmer, captain and star end of Southern California, "but it wouldn't have been right because Stanford outplayed us and deserved to win."

Other star ends, including Colin Stewart of Carnegie, Graham Batchelor of Georgia, Ray Morse of Oregon, Bill Smith of Washington, and Joe Skladany of Pittsburgh, agree that it's fair enough to prevent running with a fumbled ball. They point out it placed too much premium on hanging onto the pigskin, under the old rule, besides paving the way for too many touchdowns on "breaks".

Flukes Prevented

Howdie Gordon of Creighton and Vernon Close, Vanderbilt halfback, agree there probably would be fewer low-score or tie games, if the defense were permitted to run with a recovered fumble, but likewise admit they prefer the balance provided by existing rules. Bob Dunlap of Oklahoma, Captain Charlie Schiele of Missouri and Cliff Marsh, Detroit captain, add that the present rule prevent an inferior team from beating a stronger one on flunkey touchdowns.

On the other hand, Fred Camrinus, star St. Mary's end, expresses a wide viewpoint in holding that additional thrills for the spectators make it worth while to permit running with a fumble. In agreement with him are Captain George Parke of Montana State, Captain Charles Straub of Virginia Military institute, Art Buss, Michigan State tackle, Lee Carlin, captain of the George Washington university team, and Clair Bishop, Nebraska guard. Most of these players also point to the advantage of making the offense more careful about handling the ball and giving the linemen opportunities to distinguish themselves by dashing off for touchdowns.

Most of the ball carriers heard from prefer being allowed to try to gain more ground after being partially or even completely knocked off their feet, even though they also admit the factor of bodily safety is something for rules-makers to consider.

Sixty-four men, including six lettermen, turned out for rowing at the University of Washington when the fall sign-up was called.

TEAM UNDISMAYED BY TALK OF THROWING OUT THREE GAMES

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Nov. 22. (AP)—Undismayed by unofficial talk of throwing out three Southwest conference football games they have won because of the ineligibility of Ulysses Schleuter, lineman, the University of Arkansas Razorbacks renewed training today determined to "beat the University of Texas and win the title, even if we are ruled out."

President J. C. Futrall of the university said last night Arkansas would not agree voluntarily to forfeit the three games because of Schleuter's ineligibility but would await action of the Southwest conference committee December 9.

Schleuter, former University of Nebraska football letterman, he said "was only a minor player and was in no way responsible for Arkansas victories." He said investigation has shown Schleuter played only three minutes against Texas Christian and Baylor and five minutes against Rice. Arkansas plays the University of Texas at Austin Friday.

PROJECTS ARE CONSIDERED

HOMESTEAD PLAN FOR TEXAS TO START IN NEXT TWO WEEKS

AUSTIN, Nov. 22 (AP)—The first of seven subsistence homestead projects proposed for Texas will be under construction within the next two weeks, it was announced today following a meeting Tuesday between the Texas advisory committee and Dr. C. C. Taylor, federal director of subsistence homesteads.

All except seven of the many proposals submitted were abandoned and formal approval of the seven will be withheld until Dr. Taylor and the committee has made a personal investigation. Sites that will be inspected, starting today, are at Houston, Arlington, Wichita Falls, Sherman, Denison, Three Rivers, Beaumont, Port Arthur and Marshall.

To Inspect Locations

The committee will inspect the Houston location today; Arlington, Thursday; Wichita Falls, Friday and Sherman-Denison Saturday.

The remainder of the sites likely will be visited next week.

Dr. Taylor will be accompanied by his assistant, Francis J. Clair, who probably will remain in Texas to personally direct installation of the subsistence homesteads. Dr. Taylor said he planned to have the first of the projects actively under way before he returns to Washington.

Texas Response Good

Both Dr. Taylor and J. E. McDonald, commissioner of agriculture and chairman of the advisory committee, were enthusiastic over the response accorded to the subsistence homestead plan in Texas.

Tentative plans for the program in Texas call for establishment of approximately 400 families on subsistence farms, with each family to be provided with from one to ten acres. The homesteads would be equipped with a house and agricultural implements. Poultry and livestock and seed will be provided.

It was estimated each of the homesteaders would be selected through the aid of local committees.

"DEPRESSION CLOUDS VANISHING? WELL, AMERICA, DON'T FORGET ONE THING: IT IS REAL FUN TO STAY AT HOME"

BY JULIA BLANSHARD
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—If and when Good Times come 'round the corner. . . .

Lanky Louis Bromfield (he of the rural-quiet personality and the scintillating, sophisticated mind) hopes that America won't lose the one big gain it has made during the past trouble-fraught months.

"The depression has given the American family its first chance since the war," is the opinion Bromfield expresses now that he has had a few days in which to look around at his homeland after three years' sojourn in Europe. "May it grow and prosper!"

Bromfield is tremendously interested in the subject of families. His 1933 novel, "The Farm," really is a semi-fictional story of his own family history, from the middle of the 18th century down through the trek to Ohio from New England and Maryland to his own boyhood in Mansfield, Ohio. Then too, he is a family man himself. He has been married twelve years to the same wife and is the father of three daughters, Ann, Hope and Ellen, aged nine, six and 20 months.

Lack of Money Gives the American Family a Break

"Of course the rise in the status of the American family is a simple case of economics," Bromfield said. "All the children can't run about in their own autos when autos are not to be found in the garages. They can't go to all the hot-spots when there is no money—and fewer hot-spots. Their having to stay home a little, for a change, gives the family the first break it has had in years."

That, in itself, persuades Bromfield that some good has come out of the depression.

"When I was here at the peak of prosperity, everybody, including myself, seemed completely insane to me," he said. "The American home, morals, integrity, taste—everything that was good, old-American—had completely gone to pieces. I have noticed a distinct change in people's tastes. Everybody is enjoying simple things.

"I think it was about time that America did begin to enjoy simple pleasures, like sitting to chat with friends in sidewalk cafes and giving home dinners.

Our Principal Trouble? Too Much "Apparatus"!

"It seems to me that all of us Americans, reared in the machine country, have been the victims of too much apparatus. No one thought you could have any fun at all unless there was a lot of complicated apparatus and trimmings to it. Fundamentally, no people anywhere in the world really enjoy themselves more than Americans. It is fine to realize that they are beginning to learn how to do this naturally rather than artificially."

Bromfield has a right to this opinion. He not only advocates the simple life, he lives it. In France he and his little family stay on a farm in the old village of Senlis, about 25 miles from Paris. The house is an ancient "presbytere" and in the garden there is a 13th century chapel and medieval graveyard. Also in this garden are 367 different kinds of flowers—and one of the finest collections of American vegetables that Europe boasts.

"I am the gardener," he stated emphatically. "And if France ever gets to giving Legion of Honor ribbons for vegetables, I'd receive one sure for my Hubbard squash. I introduced it to France and it was a howling success. So was my corn on the cob.

Though inherently modest, Bromfield practically boasts of his ability at gardening. "I was brought up on the farm in Ohio," he explained. "Ran the whole farm myself for 18 months when I was in my teens and made it pay. I planted, reaped, milked, plowed, did everything. I am a very good plower," he added, with justifiable pride. And somehow you can just see his tall figure with its long legs following a plow, and his big, useful-looking hands directing it. Too, his blue eyes, the focal point in his candid-looking, pock-marked face, have that "look of far horizons" that only sea captains, cowboys and lone farmers get.

His Ambition to Become An American Farmer

Some day, Bromfield hopes to own and run an American farm. Right now he is busy getting Mrs. Bromfield, the girls, the maid, two Scotties and a cage full of canaries settled temporarily. The canaries, he explained, were a compromise.

"The children cried because they couldn't bring their pony. So we compromised on the canaries!"

Though a confirmedly pacific person, after fighting on every front from Switzerland to the North Sea in the World war, there is one thing Bromfield won't take lying down. That is being called an "expatriate."

"I do have a long lease on the farm at Senlis," he explained. "But I spent last winter in India and much of the other two years were spent traveling through Europe. Eventually, we plan to settle here and divide our time between our American farm and traveling. Our roots are here."

Certainly most of his books are distinctly American in setting and character. "The Green Bay Tree" is the life of a beautiful and lawless woman, in a great steel town. "Possession," "Early Autumn," which won the Pulitzer Prize, and "A Good Woman" and "Twenty-Four Hours," all deal with America.

Trained for Writing In His Native Land

Here it was, too, that Bromfield got all of his training for writing, first on a newspaper, then in editing a magazine, assisting a well-known theatrical manager, editing for a publishing firm and doing theatrical, musical and art criticism for The Bookman.

For so quiet a man and so busy an author and farmer Bromfield has a magnificent sense of play. He swims like a fish, skiis like a demon and dances like Fred Astaire. He speaks three languages fluently and can understand more. And he is a formidable bridge exponent. Lately he has taken up painting and admits that he thinks his art work has possibilities.

Liberals Who Demand Best Prices For Farmers Plus Full Protection for Consumers In Row With "Middleman" Group

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
The Evening Journal's Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Farm holiday hell-raising, as Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace calls it, has varied in intensity with the weather.

Hell-raising in the Agricultural Adjustment Administration here goes merrily on.

Nowhere in government ranks is there more persistent, bitter warfare. The battle is between the liberals, who demand best possible prices for farmers plus full protection for consumers, and the friends of the 'middleman,' primarily interested in guarantee of profits.

Butcher

The clash comes over marketing agreements and codes submitted by the industries. Sugar, milk, tobacco, the meat packing industry, and others already have provided battlegrounds.

James F. Dole, the Hawaiian pineapple magnate, who became chief of the AAA food products section, is expected to resign if the consumers' counsel's office wins its fight for provision for consumer grades and standards in every one of the $9,000,000,000 food industry's codes.

Definite food standards would be set up, with compulsory labeling on all cans and packages.

• • •

Dole is one of numerous business men who are administrative assistants and section chiefs under Administrator George N. Peek. The liberal group includes Assistant Secretary Rex Tugwell, Economic Adviser Mordecai Ezekiel, Chief Counsel Jerome Frank, Consumers' Counsel Fred Howe, and Economist Gardiner Means—men with honest, experimental minds, but no profit incentive.

In general, they look to Wallace for support. They complain, in effect, that processors and distributors seek undue profits at farmer and consumer expense.

Resignation of the AAA Food Advisory Board, representing the industries, was one result of the struggle. So was that of Charles J. Brand, who wanted to be AAA co-administrator and active head of the fertilizer trade association at the same time.

Gen. W. I. Westervelt, head of the important processing and marketing division, privately has suggested a compromise to Tugwell. Tugwell was receptive, but you can look for hot fights over the packers' agreement and the food standards issue just the same.

Steady Nerves

LOS ANGELES—J. O. Bircks, range master at the police pistol target range here, often wondered "what effect a bullet wound would have on a policeman's nerve." He found out.

A stray bullet pierced his thigh and while he was waiting for the ambulance he tried out his aim, making a score of 49 out of a possible 50.

Judge Explains

SAN FRANCISCO — Things were a bit vice versa in the superior court where Judge Walter Perry Johnson presided. It was the judge's turn to say "you see it was this way—"

Everybody was curious about the jurist's black eye and bruised nose. He said he got it when the iron doors over a sidewalk freight elevator sprang open and knocked him down on his way to court.

Season Closed

PITTSBURGH—People began to wonder what was becoming of Pittsburgh's pigeons, the birds which eat the peanuts visitors shell out in front of the courthouse.

So Ray Sprigle, Allegheny county property and supplies director, looked into the matter and found that somebody was breaking screens and windows in the courthouse tower.

The pigeons flew in through the windows and were captured—and killed—by the window-breaking "hunters."

So Sprigle has declared a "closed season" on pigeons—spending $1,200 for new windows and screens and posting a guard to protect the birds.

May Take A Trip

DENVER—Chickens may send Joe Martinez back to Mexico, land of his birth.

Joe admitted in court he had been present for no good purpose in Fred Vecchiarelli's chicken coop. Anthony F. Zarlengo, deputy district attorney, then pointed out Joe can be sent back to his native country if he is sentenced to a year or more in prison.

So now it is up to the trial judge to determine if Joe goes to Mexico or to the penitentiary.

DEVICE STILLS WAVES

SEBASTOPOL, U. S. S. R. (AP)—A pneumatic "wave breaker," designed to calm rough seas, underwent successful tests here. Perforated pipes were laid on the bottom of the harbor and compressed air pumped into them rose to the surface and broke the waves.

AUSTIN, Nov. 22 (AP)—Senator Cecil Murphy of Gainesville, one of the Texas senate's most attractive bachelors, soon will become a benedict. His engagement to Miss Zula Matthews, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George S. Matthews, has been announced and the wedding will take place soon.

There still remains a formidable list of eligibles, matrimonially speaking, among legislators. They include Senators Margie E. Neal of Carthage, W. K. Hopkins of Gonzales, John W. Hornsby of Austin, W. R. Poage of Waco, H. Grady Woodruff of Decatur and Tom Deberry of Bogata.

Vaughan Becomes Leader

Representative Ben F. Vaughan of Greenville has developed into a leader in the house of representatives. He always makes himself heard in debate. He is an animated speaker and hits straight from the shoulder, sledge-hammer style. There were few pieces of important legislation in the long session and the special meeting that Vaughan did not take a hand in. It was apparent that his strength was felt, because judged by the way the other members voted on bills that he sponsored or opposed, he has a pretty good legislative score.

Vaughan's senate-mate, Joe M. Moore, also from Greenville, is a demon for debate too. He is a scrapper. Incidentally, the Greenville senator and the house member from that town are about the same size and each is a good speaker. Greenville is pretty well represented in the Texas legislature. Senator Moore is a candidate for lieutenant governor. If he is elected, Vaughan is very likely to aspire to the upper house vacancy. If he is as effective on the campaign stump as on the floor of the house, he will be a hard candidate to beat.

RESORTS TO BE REBUILT

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—At least two beach resorts will be constructed in this region to replace those washed away by the terrific storms of the past summer. One will be on Brazos Island, the other on Padre Island.

A Jealous Husband for Her!

Besides her pet Scotty and pretty smile, Pat Patterson the English actress, had some pronounced views on marriage when she arrived in New York. American husbands, for instance, won't do for Pat. They give their wives too many liberties. Now a jealous husband—that's something. He's the sort who'll be suspicious whenever she's out of sight—and that suits Pat just dandy. She's on her way to Hollywood to fulfill a movie contract.

Strange Habits Revealed

Mrs. Wood's strange habits first me to light in 1931 when Otis F. ood, her nephew, visited the 94-ar-old widow in her hotel room d said he found the floor covered th $500 bills although the old lady d refused to leave her room for e last two years or to allow anye to attend to her physical, menor financial needs.

Wood later was apopointed her al guardian and extracted first 0,000 in cash which Mrs. Wood pt in a brown paper parcel she d in her faded taffeta frock. Later ood found an additional $500,000 currency in a hidden pocket of r skirt.

Guards were then stationed at or of her hotel room and, when ficials began to open the 40 unks, some of which dated from e days of the California gold rush, y found jewels, rare books and nts which also totaled almost $1,-0,000 in value.

She was the widow of Benjamin ood, New York publisher, and in 93 was one of New York's social aders. Her "hobby for stock speculation enabled her to build up the rtune which she converted into sh and hid in the room in 1907 en there were rumblings of a nic. She died in a new apartment the same hotel on March 12, 1932.

Will Invalid

In her will Mrs. Wood left her estate to her sister, Miss Mary E. ayfield, and her daughter, Miss ama Wood. Both heirs died before rs. Wood, so the will is invalid and e court must determine who are e nearest relatives. More than 100 rsons have already brought suit share in the estate.

Surrogate James A. Foley permitted Richard A. Knight counsel for seven new claimants, to present ir case although the final date for filing claims has expired.

MONTGOMERY WARD AND COMPANY TO OPEN NEW STORE DECEMBER 2ND

High officials of Montgomery Ward & Co. are here preparing for the formal opening Dec. 2 of the company's new Lubbock store at Broadway and Texas avenue.

J. J. Hanley, assistant retail operations manager, of Chicago has been in Lubbock for the past week directing general operations preparatory to the new store's opening. With him are: Ray C. Moore, personnel manager, also of Chicago and W. A. Eaton, district supervisor for Oklahoma, of Cushing, Okla., and M. J. Robinson, district supervisor for South Texas, of Fort Worth.

Store Is Closed

The company's store was closed at its former location, 1109 Thirteenth street, Monday night.

The new building, a three-story structure of the latest design, has been erected and equipped at a cost of approximately $155,000. Workmen are busy night and day preparing the building for occupancy by the company.

"Lubbock is an excellent business center and ideally located so as to attract retail business of all kinds from at least a seventy-mile radius," Mr. Hanley said Tuesday. One of the things which impresses me most is the wide agricultural activities engaged in. What I have seen since I have been here convinces me that not only cotton but the raising of grain sorghums, livestock and feeding is important."

Business Better

Mr. Hanley said business conditions are decidedly on the upward trend in the East and the effects of the NRA are being felt to a considerable degree. More men are being put back to work than at any other time during the past four years. And there appears to be a better understanding between manufacturers and workers constantly developing, he says.

"Montgomery Ward and company has been quick to sense all of these betterments," he declared. "Having stores in every section of the United States makes this possible. The company is of the sound opinion that the store best equipped and merchandised to do business will do more business than the store with antiquated fixtures and incomplete stocks."

Store Well Equipped

And the company's new store is to bear this out, he said. Practically all of the stock in the new store will be new, only the staple items being brought over from the old store. Special purchases are being made and the New York buying office is busy assembling what will perhaps be the most comprehensive assortment of fashions and ready-to-wear for men, women and children in this part of the state, he said.

The arrangement and type of counters will feature the new store. There will be no show cases. "Everything in the store under your eyes" is the achievement of this new display plan. Every piece of merchandise except reserve stocks, is prominently displayed on large, convenient counters.

The first floor will carry fast moving textile lines, while the second floor will display yard goods, fashions and allied merchandise. On the upper floor will be furniture and floor coverings with additional space available for the display of bulky materials, such as roofing, fencing and farm equipment.

Lighting is to be a feature of the new store, the lights being a result of years of research. They are devoted so that they are a near approach to actual daylight. Stairways are conveniently placed.

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Nov. 22 (AP)—Cotton opened steady, 2 to 4 points advance on steadier cables and higher foreign exchange. Dec. 10.09; Jan. 10.17; March 10.35; May 10.48; July 10.62; Oct. 10.81.

Orders were rather evenly divided at the opening advance and selling increased slightly after the call with prices easing off from 10.10 to 10.04 for December and from 10.49 to 10.43 for May or about 2 to 3 points net lower.

Many small selling orders seemed to be reaching the market through commission houses while there was also a little more selling for southern account and a continuance of December liquidation.

Except for near month liquidation and switching from December to later deliveries, business was quiet later in the morning with fluctuations comparatively narrow. There was enough trade buying or covering to absorb scattered liquidation and southern selling on declines of 4 or 5 points from yesterday's close. December after selling off to 10.02 was holding around 10.04 at noon with the market showing net losses of 2 or 3 points at midday.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 22 (AP)—Cotton started quiet but steady today. Liverpool was lower than due but this was offset by an advance in sterling. Gold was unchanged. First trades here showed no change to one point down and both December and March advanced a point after the start, but the general market eased later with stocks and on a renewal of near month liquidation in advance of notice day. December declined to 9.99 and March to 10.26, or 4 to 5 points under the early highs and 4 points on both months below yesterday's close.

At the end of the first half hour the market was steady but at the lows.

The market ruled quiet all morning and prices eased off slowly under continued December liquidation, mainly by transfers to later months. There was also some hedge-selling. December traded as low as 9.97 and March at 10.23, down 6 to 7 points from yesterday's close.

Near noon the market rallied 2 to 3 points from the lows on a little trade buying and price fixing.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Nov. 22 (AP)—Traders in stocks and staples, apparently placing varied interpretations on developments at Washington, moved cautiously in the markets today and prices presented a rather mixed appearance.

With the domestic gold price unchanged at 33.76 an ounce, the dollar dipped and rallied in foreign exchange dealings then settled down to a fairly steady range. Equities drooped in the first hour and came back to a narrow and generally dull routine. Grains were inclined to ease while cotton and other commodities did little. U. S. government securities were heavy and active. Other bonds were irregular.

Metal shares, including U. S. Smelting, American Smelting, McIntyre Porcupine and Cerro De Pasco, regained popularity with gains of 1 to around 3 points. Others up fractionally to a point or more were Case, Consolidated Gas, Public Service of New Jersey, Du Pont, Johns-Manville, Celanese and Texas Gulf. National Distillers American Commercial Alcohol and Schenley were off 1 to 2 and some of the rails eased. American Telephone, American Can, U. S. Steel and other leaders were unchanged to slightly lower.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Nov. 22 (AP)—Wheat underwent a quick tumble of more than two cents a bushel early today. Uncertainties of monetary prospects were the chief apparent influence, with traders attention directed largely to disturbing effects of the resignation of O. M. W. Sprague from the United States treasury department.

Opening 7-8 to 1 7-8 down, wheat afterward receded further. Corn started 1-8 to 7-8 off, and subsequently showed additional setbacks.

MRS. INSULL INJURED

PARIS, Nov. 22. (AP)—The Paris edition of the Chicago Tribune said today that Mrs. Samuel Insull, wife of the former American utilities magnate, now in Athens, has been in a hospital at Neuilly under an assumed name for several days.

The newspaper said she had been suffering from mysteriously caused wounds of the head and face, but now appears quite recovered.

Man Faces Charge In Fatal Accident

A charge of leaving an automobile parked without lights on a highway was filed against J. W. Parish, living 10 miles west of O'Donnell, in Tahoka yesterday. The complaint was an outgrowth of the accident which took the life of A. M. Hill, about 58, Sunday night 6 miles south of Tahoka.

The complaint was filed by Highway Officer Jack Reaves, W. E. Renfrow and John C. Keller. Parish, Reaves said, was driver of a car for which Hill was repairing a flat tire when he was struck by an automobile driven by Tobe Bishop of Lakeview.

Funeral services for Hill were conducted here at 3:30 p. m. Tuesday by Rev. J. W. Watson. Burial, directed by Rix Funeral home, was in Lubbock cemetery.

Sudan Negro Held On Liquor Charge

J. L. Pepper, a Sudan negro charged with retailing whisky without a license, still was in county jail here this morning in lieu of $300 bond. Pepper was brought here late Monday by C. E. Luce, Sudan city marshal.

The complaint, alleging a violation of an internal revenue act, was filed with United States Commissioner Victor H. Lindsey. This charge was filed, it was understood, because of repeal of the prohibition amendment.

Officers confiscated seven quarts of whiskey at Pepper's restaurant, it was alleged. After the complaint was filed, one of the negro's first questions was, "Could I get a license?" Whether he had an answer was not reported.

ROTARIANS HEAR DISTRICT LEADER

O. B. Sellers of Fort Worth, governor of the 41st district of Rotary International, addressed members of the Lubbock club at Hotel Lubbock today noon in his first official visit to the club.

His talk, an inspirational one on the spirit of Rotary, detailed changes in conditions and affairs of the world today and pointed out how Rotary had played a part by serving as a common meeting ground for men in all walks of life.

"This new social order we have today is based on unselfishness and sounds like the Rotary plan," he said. "Rotarians' duty is one of strict cooperation for a better world."

He cited how service clubs had stood the test of the depression, mainly because of the fellowship, community service and international goodwill.

Speaking of business conditions, Mr. Sellers declared business had "picked up unbelievably" in the past 60 days and that a spirit of optimism prevailed wherever he had been.

Alvin Hendricks of Littlefield, Percy Ralls and Dr. Harry Schwab of Ralls and J. H. Brewer of Slaton were out-of-town visitors at the luncheon.

PLANE RAZED BY FLAMES AT SPUR

SPUR, Nov. 22 (Special)—A trimotored transport plane that R. G. Vaughan, the owner, of Abilene valued at $20,000, was destroyed by fire early Tuesday afternoon on the field at Spur municipal airport.

The ship was believed to have caught afire from grass lighted by a match of a cigaret. Four passengers who were to be taken on a sight-seeing flight escaped safely.

The passengers had just boarded the ship when Vaughan discovered the blaze. It spread rapidly and just as the passengers fled, the plane burst into flames. No one was injured.

STRATOSPHERE

the stratosphere the balloon moved at a rate of between 25 and 35 miles an hour, but at times the movement was smooth. He compared the balloon's flight to that of a vessel drifting in calm water.

Because of the freezing temperature and lack of oxygen in the stratosphere the gondola was kept tightly closed until it had descended to 26,000 feet, he added. The air was kept pure by bottles of oxygen and chemicals to absorb impurities from the air.

"Only on one occasion did we have to hasten the absorbtion of the liquid oxygen," he said. "The instruments indicated that more oxygen was needed, although we did not feel the necessity of it. So we took one of the oxygen bottles and poured it on the deck (inside) of the gondola."

that I have been heard. But how many times must it be repeated that we desire neither to absorb what does not belong to us nor to force the love of those who do not love us?"

To the interviewer's suggestion that there was anxiety that even though settled, the disagreement might crop up again, Hitler replied: "I alone decide what is Germany's policy and when I give my word it is my habit to keep it."

The old rehabilitation and relief commission acted to administer the funds sent here by the federal government. WOMAN HEADS OVER ATLANTIC IN PLANE SHORT OF FUEL

GRIEF OVER DEATH OF HUSBAND BLAMED FOR UNUSUAL SUICIDE

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Nov. 22. (AP)—Restless waters of the broad Atlantic today apparently formed a grave for Mrs. Louise Turck Stanton, who borrowed a plane and flew seaward to meet death wherever the craft's fuel ran out. The 30-year-old junior leaguer had recently lost her husband in an automobile accident.

In notes left behind she asked that it not be called suicide—for "I particularly dislike the word suicide"—and explained she just wanted to go "out into space and find out what it's all about, and if there isn't anything—that's O. K. too."

Search Too Late

It was hours after she flew eastward in the borrowed plane with about enough gasoline to last four hours and take her some 350 miles to sea, that airport authorities found the notes and began a search. It was too late then. Then, too, in her notes she had begged them not to undertake a dangerous search which she said "wouldn't do any good."

To Bert Maloney, airport manager, she wrote: "There's not a plane on the field that can reach me (and return) or do anything if they could—I'll be at sea, that's all, and you can count on me that the job will be thorough. I don't want any wreckage found." She also told him "you must absolutely keep any of the men from doing any dangerous searching. . . . Sorry to have to have it that way but it's better than having an aviation 'accident'."

Grief Is Blamed

Friends said they believed Mrs. Stanton was grief-stricken over the death of her husband, Gordon M. Stanton, who lost his life in an automobile accident here less than two weeks ago. They had been married less than a year.

Her family—she was the daughter of Col. and Mrs. Raymond C. Turck—was silent and did not disclose the contents of notes she left to them. In the note to the airport manager, the young woman had requested that there be no "sentimentalism."

To her flying instructor, Laurie Yonge, she wrote saying she had made arrangements for replacing his plane which she used on the fatal flight and expressing a hope he would be able to get another plane just like the one in which she was believed to have flown to her death.

Held Pilot's License

She held a private pilot's license although she was slightly crippled from infantile paralysis. Both she and her late husband were flying enthusiasts and Yonge said she was a "very, very good little flier," with about 100 hours of solo flying to her credit and had been taught aerial acrobatics.

Maloney and Yonge were of the opinion she headed the plane due eastward across the sea, pushed it hard until the fuel failed and then sent it into a spin for the final plunge. Knowing her well, they said they believed she had done just what she said she planned.

Although they made a search, they said it was a "mere gesture." Wireless messages were sent to ships off the coast but no reports of wreckage were received.

She was a graduate of National Cathedral school, Washington, D. C., and was considered an artist of exceptional ability. Last summer she and her husband spent several months abroad.

Elm Bark Coughed Up After 65 Years

TAHOKA, Nov. 21 (Special)—After being lodged in S. H. Howell's lungs about 65 years, a sliver of slippery elm bark about 2 inches long was coughed up by the aged man recently.

"I remember distinctly about 65 years ago of swallowing a bit of bark while chewing some slippery elm," the man said. "It was back in Smith county when I was a boy. I was unable to expel it at the time, but thought little of it afterward.

"All these years, however, I have had spells of coughing from time to time. I guess these were due to the sliver."

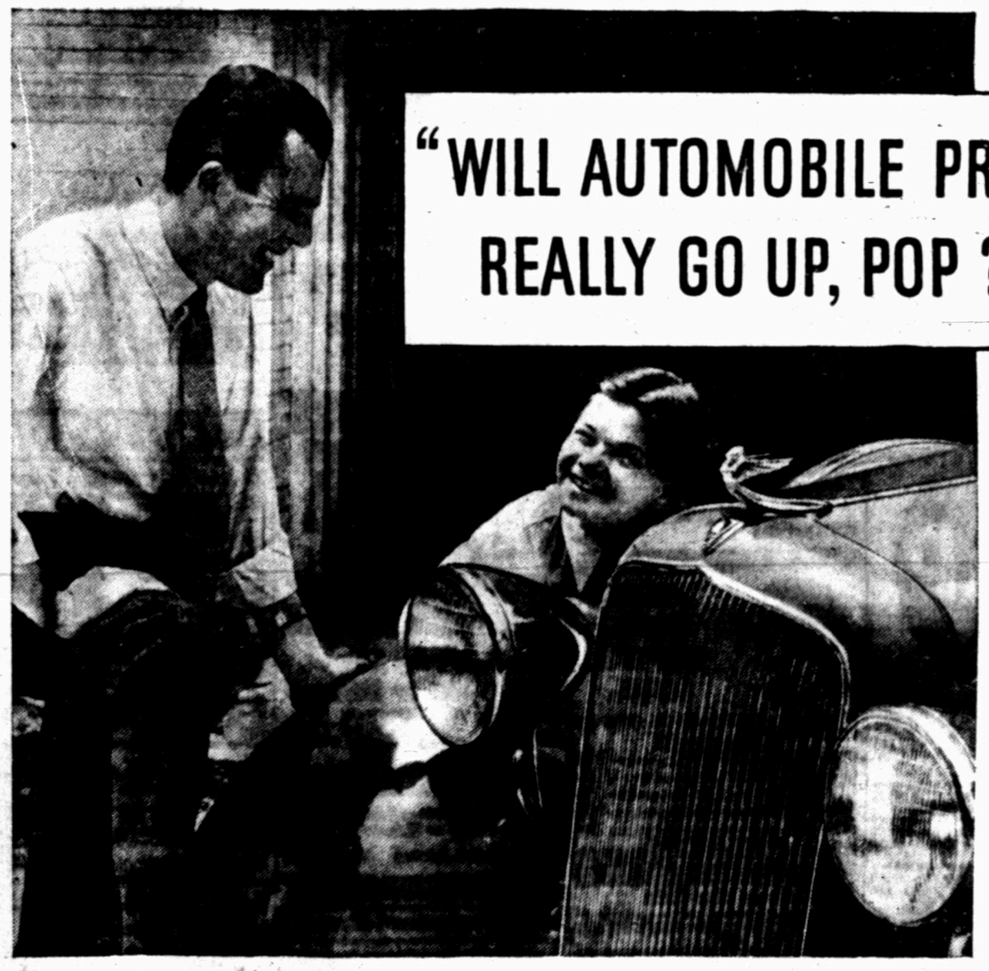

Mr. Howell showed the piece of bark to a doctor. It was about as long as a match, but only about half as big around.

Presbyterian Men To Attend Supper

A supper-meeting of Men-of-the-Church will be conducted tonight, beginning at 7 o'clock, in the First Presbyterian church, Rev. Dr. Jack M. Lewis, the pastor, announced.

Rev. W. Frank McElroy, a Presbyterian missionary to Africa, will present an illustrated lecture. Rev. W. H. Foster, pastor of First Presbyterian church at Brownwood, will take part in the program. Two baritone solos will be sung by Herbert S. Brown.

Rev. Mr. McElroy and Rev. Mr. Foster are guests in the home of Doctor and Mrs. Lewis.

"WILL AUTOMOBILE PRICES REALLY GO UP, POP?"

"That's why I bought our New Plymouth Now, Sonny!"

BUTTER—EGGS—shirts—shoes. They're all on the up. Will motor car prices rise too?

Figure it out for yourself. Everything that goes into a car costs more today than a few months ago. Steel, for example. And ore. And glass.

But these increased costs are not yet reflected in Plymouth's price to you. The price of the big, roomy, much-for-your-money Plymouth Six is still $445 and up F. O. B. at the factory.

What do these dollars buy? A beautiful big car. A car you'll be proud to own—that "has everything" you would expect in any higher-priced automobile.

What else do Plymouth-dollars buy? Hydraulic brakes that let you stop in a snap but without a jerk. A husky 70-horsepower motor. Floating Power engine mountings that give you a smooth ride—that add life to your engine.

And a safety body of steel reinforced with steel solidly placed upon Plymouth's sturdy rigid-X double-drop frame.

The Bargain of the Decade!

Even at today's tempting price, it's not what you pay that makes Plymouth a bargain. It's what you get for what you pay! That's why Plymouth is a best-seller, in the lowest-price group, in more than a few cities. That's why it will pay you to see a Dodge, De Soto or Chrysler dealer—and ask him to give you a free Plymouth demonstration that will convince you!

BACKFIELD men get a lot of pounding when piled up in line play, or hit hard in an open-field tackle. There are several ways in which a back can cut down the chances of injury

The only way to guard against dirty work in pileups and in tackling is to avoid it as much as possible. Following are a few hints for ball carriers which may help:

Hit hard. Never stop driving. A hard running back is less often hurt than a slow one. Use the interference. The blockers are there to protect you, and if you get this into your head it will make the game easier on you and make for greater gains. Learn to fall relaxed. A stiff arm or leg hitting the ground is more likely to get hurt than a lax one. Run with the feet wide apart, as is shown in sketch. You're less likely to fall hard on being tackled.

TO PRESENT CODES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22. (AP)—Hugh S. Johnson said he expected to take the newspaper, motion picture and several other codes to President Roosevelt when he goes to Atlanta and Warm Springs on Thursday.

Cobbler Finds a Weigh to Collect Bill in Gold

If necessity is the mother of invention, Cobbler Mike Byrd, left, ranks as at least a first cousin. Miner Ed Lewis, right, with gold in his poke, went to Grant's Pass, Ore., to have his shoes cobbled. No scale was available, but ingenuity was. Balancing a yardstick on a cobbler's knife, held in place by pincers, Byrd weighed the gold. A dime on one end weighed a tenth ounce. Dust to balance the "scale" was poured on the other. The bill was $1.50. Byrd estimated the gold at $1.75, giving Lewis 25 cents change. The bank found his guess was less than two cents off.

SLENDER, BLONDE, CLOISTERED DORIS DUKE BECOMES WORLD'S RICHEST GIRL

NEW YORK, Nov. 22. (AP)—Doris Duke—slender, blonde, cloistered—became the world's richest girl at midnight last night.

She was 21 then and came into control of a third of the Duke fortune. Her attorneys wouldn't estimate the amount, pointing out that daily market capers affected greatly such a stupendous investment.

However, approximately $10,000,-000 passed into her hands when the clock struck 12.

About $30,000,000 In All

Her entire legacy has been estimated at $30,000,000. She will get another third at 25, and the last third at 30.

There was no legal or social hullabaloo when the money entered her possession. The law simply declared that the girl is the legal owner of some millions of dollars.

Money has never meant much in Miss Duke's life. Her father, the late James Buchanan Duke, built up a fortune in North Carolina and swelled it in the money marts of the world. Water power developments, tobacco interests and investments in many other fields amassed the Duke fortune.

Under Heavy Guard

"I wish," she said once, "I could go into a store and shop for things just as any other girl."

But she can't. A flock of detectives guard her trail and chaperons accompany her everywhere she goes. Attempts are made to conceal her identity when she travels because of frequent reported kidnap threats.

Parent Education Urged By Speaker

SHERMAN, Nov. 22. (AP)—Education of parents to assume responsibility for their own children was the keynote of an address yesterday by Dr. Edythe P. Hershey of Dallas before the Texas congress of parents and teachers.

"It is not up to your or any other organization to become a drudge for parents who will not assume their own responsibilities," Dr. Hershey asserted, "but to create a sentiment that will appeal to the parents.

"We should help those who are unable to help themselves by maintaining adequate clinics, but there is no use of your 'toting' children of capable parents to clinics."

Mrs. C. E. Roe, national representative, was the principal speaker at a banquet.

QUOTA IN RED CROSS CAMPAIGN EXCEEDED IN BUSINESS AREA

With the Lubbock business district Red Cross roll call quota of $1,150 exceeded by $41.45, Chairman Bert Pinson and other leaders in the Lubbock county chapter's annual drive today awaited reports from Lubbock residential districts and schools, and from other communities.

Other districts, last night had not approached quotas set at the beginning of the drive. The residential section had reported $24.50 of a quota of $100 and the public schools and Texas Technological college only $9.50 of $250 assigned.

With 331 members reported, the team of Hugh Harbert continued in the lead yesterday. The group directed by Paul Hardwick was second with 274.

Membership credited to other majors were as follows: Turner Adams, 160; William H. Evans, 132; and W. D. Girand, Jr., 108.

Mr. Pinson announced that J. C. Penney Co., Borden Ice Cream company, Bell Ice Cream company, and Rogers-Ratliff Buick company were additional 100 per cent organizations.

Mrs. George Field, chairman of the campaign in the residential section, urged women club members to sell the memberships assigned to them.

Chairmen at Slaton, Idalou, and Shallowater, and in rural communities were urged to make their reports as soon as possible to Mrs. Carlton W. Benson at Red Cross headquarters, 708 Thirteenth street.

SENSE OF SMELL IS AVENUE THROUGH WHICH BAFFLING EPIDEMICS SPREAD

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 22 (AP)—A discovery that the sense of smell is the mysterious avenue through which some of the most baffling epidemics spread was announced to the National Academy of Sciences today.

Dr. Simon Flexner, director of the institute, reported experiments showing that the virus which causes infantile paralysis enters the brains of monkeys by traveling from their noses through their olfactory nerves. The monkey is the experimental animal whose infantile paralysis so closely parallels the human disease.

"Two-Way Transport"

Not only, said Dr. Flexner, does this virus enter via the nerves of smell, but those nerves form a "two-way transport." The virus can pass from a paralysis infected brain down the olfactory nerves and out the nose.

He explained that while using this route to infect the brain, the virus is to some extent insulated against the body's own protective chemicals.

"The olfactory nervous structures," he said, "are to a considerable extent isolated from the blood and lymph, which carry the protective, immune substances effective against impending infections. They afford, therefore, a potentially ready means of penetration of the virus into the central nervous system.

"It is only after the virus has reached the brain that the cellular reactions in the system, detectable by microscopic and chemical examination, make possible the escape of these protective substances."

The insidious nature of the attack through the olfactory nerves was shown by monkeys immunized so that they did not get paralysis when the virus was injected directly into their brains. Yet the disease attacked them when the virus was allowed to enter their noses.
