Draft Board To Classify Feb. 16 Registrants Soon

Induction Likely For Some In May And June Calls

Army Asks Classifications Be Made Immediately To Prevent Possible Shortage

WASHINGTON, April 1, (AP) — Selective Service headquarters announced today that men who registered February 16 would be immediately classified and some would probably be inducted into service in May or June.

There has been some confusion as to whether the February 16 registrants would be integrated with men who registered prior to that date or be called after exhaustion of all previous registrants but today's announcement said:

Boards Act At Once

"Local boards, throughout the nation were instructed to start classification at once, of the several million men who enrolled on February 16, and to prepare to fill the Army's June call for men, and possibly the May call, with these registrants and registrants from the first age group."

The announcement explained that men who registered Oct. 16, 1940, and July 1, 1941, constituted one group which was referred to in the memorandum to local boards as the "first age group" with those

Old Toothpaste Or Shaving Cream Tubes Must Be Turned In To Get More

WASHINGTON, March 31 (AP) —The War Production Board today prohibited retail merchants from selling toothpaste or shaving cream in tubes to any customer who fails to turn in some type of used collapsible tube for each new one purchased.

The provision, first of its kind, and effective immediately, makes retailers responsible for the trade-in transaction, and directs that the used tubes thus collected be held subject to WPB orders.

At the same time, the Board placed drastic restrictions on future use, and production, of collapsible tin tubes, and prohibited their use entirely for foods, cosmetics and most toilet preparations.

Under the terms of the trade-in provision, the WPB spokesman declared, retailers are liable to penalties prescribed under the second war powers act — a maximum of $10,000 fine and a year's imprisonment — if sales of tube toothpaste

Irrigation Water Rates For Summer Are Announced

City officials are this week announcing the starting of the annual Summer Irrigation Water Rates, effective with the next reading of the city water meters.

The rates call for 50c per thousand gallons for the first 3,000 gallons; 25c per thousand for the next 2,000 gallons, and then 15c per thousand for all above 5,000 gallons.

The officials report that the city now has an ample water supply, with the city wells being able to pump more than one and one-half millon gallons of water every 24 hours.

The city has also been called upon to furnish water for the transient labor camp, located just southeast of Lamesa, due to failure to find water in sufficient quantities at that place. Pipe for the extension of the city lines is expected to arrive by May 15, and the connection will be made as soon thereafter as possible.

School Students Buy $264.75 In Defense Stamps

G. M. Roberts, principal of the Lamesa Elementary School, reports that $264.75 worth of United States Defense Stamps and Bonds were sold in the schools Wednesday, the regular weekly Stamp Day.

This amount, together with $3,187.25 previously reported, makes a grand total of $3,452.00 worth of Defense Stamps and Bonds purchased by the Elementary School children.

The home room of Mrs. V. L. Lawson, a first grade room, purchased the largest amount that was bought Wednesday, which was a total of $152.45, and also put her room in the lead in the Primary School building. Miss Crausby's room still leads the school, however.

Annual Courier Cooking School Scheduled May 4-5-6

Are you always seeking new and tasty ways of preparing your favorite dishes — do you need to economize on your food budget — does planning meals to be sure your family is given a balanced diet sometimes cause you no end of worry - do you desire to learn how to cook new and appetizing dishes and use less sugar and other restricted foods?

These and many other pressing food and home management problems will be thoroughly discussed during the Happy Kitchen Cooking School which will be held here May 4, 5 and 6 at the Majestic Theatre. The Dawson County Courier has again contracted with, Southern Newspaper Features of Dallas, for the school, and with Miss Hogue, noted Southern Home Economist and Food Authority, in charge. It will be remembered that Miss Hogue had charge of the Courier School last year, which was one of the most successful ever held in Lamesa.

Miss Hogue is an outstanding authority on foods and home management, and Lamesa women will be more than glad to welcome her back. She has made a thorough study of nutritious and body-building foods - those of high vitamin content—and this will be highly valuable and timely, as much stress is now being placed on the value of proper foods.

She will give actual demonstrations from the stage of the school at each session. In addition, she will answer any questions, the famous "question box" being one of the features of the school.

Mr. DuBose's talk centered on the dangers of propaganda of our own making, and he stressed very emphatically that we should follow the advice of the president and investigate from every angle before we place our belief in anything relative to the war situation.

In concluding his talk, Ed stated that we should place our confidence in our leaders, and unite all classes of thought and labor to the common end, Victory in the present struggle.

CRAWFORD HOME SUPPLY REMODELS FRONT OF STORE

Work was comleted late this week on the remodeling of the service station at the front of the Crawford Home Supply, located at the corner of North First and Houston streets, just across from the Post Office.

The drive-in apron was lowered considerably, and the old pumps in the center of the station were removed and the curb made smaller by several feet. This greatly increases the appearance of this station and at the same time makes it more convenient and easy to wait on customers.

Swifts in India have been timed at 200 miles an hour.

Regulations On Suits Went Into Effect Tuesday

The War Production Boards long expected cloth conservation order, issued to the trade on March 3rd, and made effective on retail stores March 30, and to tailors-to-the-trade on May 30, 1942, is hardly as severe as was first expected. The new order is designed to conserve woolen and worsted fabrics as affecting men's clothing.

The order imposes 25 cloth saving restrictions for the designing of men's and boys clothing, and it is estimated that they will save enough cloth to produce 26 per cent more suits and 10 per cent more topcoats than would have been possible without these changes.

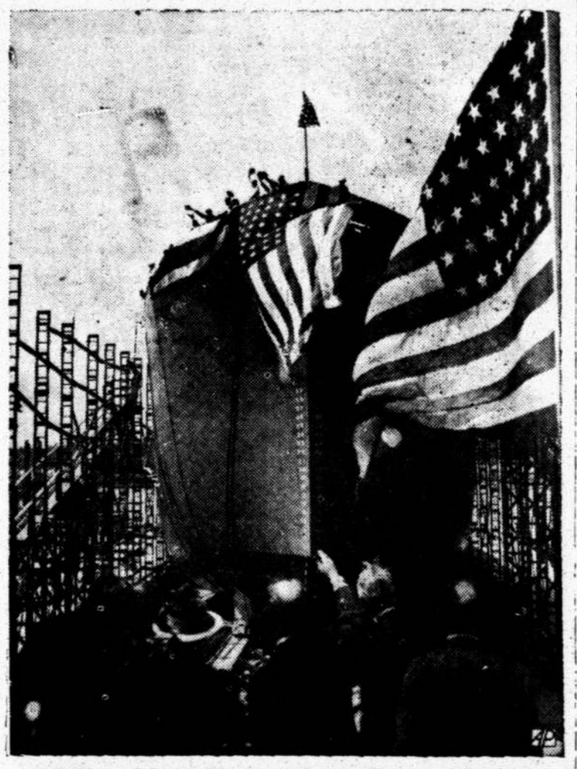

The most important restrictions are those banning suits with two pairs of pants, vest with double breasted suit, cuffs on trousers, evening tail coats, and double breasted tuxedos. About the only ban which will be noticeable to consumers will be the elimination of cuffs on trousers.

In this regard, the regulations state that on or after March 30, 1942, no person shall finish a pair of trousers made of wool cloth with cuffs or cause such to be finished with cuffs by others for his account.

Wool cloth is defined as any cloth containing new wool, reprocessed wool, or reused wool.

Other eliminations are in the matter of pleats, tucks, patch pockets, etc., as have been the style for mens clothing the past few years.

WAR FLASHES!!!

(By The Associated Press)

Japanese sea-borne troops thrusting closer to India were reported today to have landed at the chief West Burma port of Akyab, only 100 miles from the Burma-India frontiers, as prospects for mobilizing India's 390,000,000 on the side of the United Nations took a sudden brightening turn.

A Chinese spokesman in Chungking said the Japanese landed at Akyab which is only 300 miles from Calcutta across the upper bay of Bengal.

Besides heightening the threat of Japanese invasion of India, the landing directly imperiled the rear of British lines, now guarding the rich central Burma oil fields.

Meanwhile, dispatches from Australia indicated that Japan's invasion forces in the southwest Pacific, halted in their attempted overland drive in New Guinea, were preparing to launch a sea-borne attack on the key allied base at Port Moresby, only 300 miles across the Torres Strait from Australia itself.

The Sydney Sun declared such an invasion was "suggested by recent movements of enemy ships, which are being constantly attacked at Lae and Salamaua by the Allied Air Forces."

Lae and Salamaua lie on the northeast coast of New Guinea, less than 200 miles above Port Moresby.

The war department reported sharp skirmishes on the Philippines Bataan peninsula today in wake of the latest large scale Japanese attack on the American-Filipino defenders there. Enemy artillery and dive bombers shelled and bombed the defenders positions but no general action was reported.

American-Filipino command soldiers have raided two Japanese bases on the southern Philippine Island of Mindanao, and observers believed that the invaders would be attacked constantly by the thousands of natives hidden on the island.

OPM Sets April 6 to 11 As Scrap Rubber Week With Cooperation Of All Asked

What To Believe . . .

In a novel the other day we read that a man sheds his illusions somewhere in his twenties and then sheds his disillusions along in his fifties.

It is now about time that this country shed its disillusions. We must believe that there are more right thinking people in the world than there are evil thinkers. We must believe that there are more capable men in power in this country than inefficients. We must believe that our allies are our friends instead of thinking they might possibly be using us. We must believe there are more honest business and professional men, seeking to assist their country, than are greedy and self-seeking. We must believe these things because they are true and because we know it. Not to believe them is a sign that we have not yet reached the full view of experience. — CAPS and lower case.

Chairman Of Ration Board Urges Cooperation Of All In Conservation Of Rubber

According to information furnished this office by the Office of Price Administration on the gravity of the rubber supply, a vision is given of the necessity of conserving the present crude rubber stocks of the United States as well as the present stocks of tires and tubes of all kinds, as well as the tires on our cars, trucks, buses and farm implements. Therefore we wish to urge every eligible applicant for tires or tubes on eligible vehicles and tractors to get every bit of service possible out of present tires and tubes before making application for new tires or tubes. If you don't, you are sabotaging the war effort that much.. and our boys that are in the armed forces might have to suffer from the lack of proper equipment on account of the rubber shortage.

I wish to urge truck operators to load lighter and drive slower, and car owners to drive slower and conserve rubber in every way possible, and tractor operators to get every bit of the service possible from their present tires. Let's not get the rubber hysteria and thereby hinder the war effort. Now is the time for calm and sound thinking on the part of all as we have a war to win, and we should all be willing to do our part.

I wish to urge all who have been placed in a preferred class by being in the eligible classifications to secure new tires and tubes, to cooperate in every way possible to conserve rubber.

Many of us will not only have to do without tires, but we will be without a multitude of other rubber articles which have become essential parts of standards of life.

I am not trying to scare anyone unnecessarily. I am simply attempting to develop public understanding and recognition of the hard cold facts.

According to the information this office has, at the current rate of use of rubber, the United Nations would have had net stocks at the end of this year of only 278,000 tons of crude rubber and face a complete exhaustion of stockpiles by the end of March next year.

Conservation of rubber is necessary to the War Effort.

J. E. BARRON, Chairman,
Dawson County Rationing Board.

Ladies Asked To Bring In Sewing

Mrs. M. Q. Martin, chairman of the Red Cross Sewing Room of Dawson County, has requested that any one having any sewing or knitting that they are doing for that organization, to finish it as soon as possible and bring it to the Legion Hall.

A shipment is to be made soon, and if the quota for this county is to be completed and shipped on time, this work must be brought in.

Nation Faces Exhaustion Of Rubber Stocks

Citizens Asked Especially To Bring In All Tires Ruined Beyond Repair

J. E. Barron, chairman of the Dawson County Rationing Board, announces that the week of April 6 to 11, inclusive, has been designated as Scrap Rubber Week by the Office of Production Management.

During this week all Dawson County citizens who are holding tires worn to the point where they are no longer usable can help relieve the rubber situation by turning them in immediately to a scrap or junk dealer, the Board says.

Price Administrator Leon Henderson emphasizes that it is a mistake to believe that casings worn or damaged beyond repair are acceptable as "basic carcasses" for retreading or recapping. The tires sought as scrap are those that are completely worn out or have suffered damage which makes them unfit for recapping.

"There is a pressing demand for scrap rubber to augment the nations restricted crude rubber supply," the OPA Administrator said. "Old tires are the main source of scrap rubber supply. Those tires that we are urging be turned in for scrap purposes no longer have any service value."

Farmers and others are likely to have accumulations of old tires around farms and others around homes and places of business, and are asked to carefully check and turn in what they can find.

Mr. Barron states that the local board wishes every one to join in this scrap rubber week and bring in all old casings and tubes that they have and turn them over to scrap or junk dealers and tire dealers that will pay you the scrap rubber price for them.

All true Americans should join in at once in this effort to get all scrap rubber into the rechaimed rubber channels to help the war effort. Your part is to gather up any old casings and tubes you have and bring them in at once. Don't wait for George to do it.

Pampa Gets Big Spring Baseball Franchise

Pampa, April 1 — Business men and baseball fans rallied tonight in a "showdown meeting" and over subscribed a fund guaranteeing the professional baseball in the West Texas-New Mexico league here this summer.

The Pampa franchise recently was moved to Albuquerque, new member of the league, but Pampa got busy and made up the money to purchase the Big Spring club, bag and baggage, and move it to the Oiler city.

Ratliff To Manage

Dick Ratliff, veteran catcher, who finished the season with Big Spring, last year, and held the whip hand governing the franchise, was named acting manager of the new Oiler team.

Ray McKernan, Pampa oilman, was named temporary chairman of the executive board. Permanent officers are to be elected at a meeting of stock holders next week, it was announced. Spring training is to begin next Tuesday at Roadrunner Park, home of the Oilers for the past two years.

President Milton Price and the West Texas-New Mexico League have been asked formally for permission to transfer the Big Spring club, recently acquired in a trade that saw the original Big Spring club go to Lamesa, the former Lamesa club go to Big Spring.

The 1941 Lamesa Club, then, will form the nucleus of the 1942 Pampa club as a result of the series of "deals," provided the league and its president agree. There was little reason to believe that any opposition would be met.

Nine members of last year's Lamesa club are on the reserve list and subject to the call of the new Pampa club, it was said.

The condor of Peru, large flying bird, has been known to weigh 26 and one-half pounds.

Adamses Don't Know Which War We're Fighting

By CHARLES L. FONTENAY
Wide World Features

HENDERSONVILLE, Tenn.—They never heard of Hitler and they think Mussolini is just another "furriner" . . . they don't have any mailboxes because they never get any mail . . . And not a single member of any of the families has ever seen the inside of a school room.

"They" are the Adams families —"the cave people" Sumner Countians call them, although they do not live in caves any more—who live in the Tennesee hills about 10 miles north of here.

There are six or eight families, whose members range from two to nearly 70, living in crude log huts about a mile and a half from the nearest county road. One or two of them have been to Nashville, and a few of them have occasionally visited Hendersonville and nearby Gallatn and Goodlettsville, but some of the youngsters have never been outside their little colony.

With crude implements and a rangy horse, the only work animal in the colony, they eke out a living by cultivating small patches of corn and potatoes. They occasionally tour the back roads selling shoe strings they make from groundhog skins.

"Old Tom" Adams is probably the oldest member of the colony, but he doesn't know just how old he is.

"I jist can't say exacly," he said, "I misplaced my papers somewhars, but I reckon I must be between 66 and 68."

"What do you think about Hitler?" Old Tom was asked.

He looked sharply from face to face, then replied tentatively. "Well I don't rightly know. What do you think about him?"

"Oh, hes' doing all right," was the answer, with a view to testing Tom's knowledge. "He's probably exactly right about everything, don't you reckon?"

"Wal, he might be," was Tom's careful retort. "But if he ain't right, he orta be."

According to B. E. Westgate, Sumner County farmer and fox-hunter, and County Health Officer W. M. Deadman, the Adamses wandered down into the county a decade ago from some "place in the upper Cumberland country."

The land they settled on was "open land" (with no owners) when they first came and recently there was a movement to force them to move—but the "cave people" had remained in peaceable possession of the land for the legal seven-year period, thus attaining squatter's rights. Despite their ignorance of other worldly customs, the Adamses knew their squatter's rights and so they still have their land.

And, though they live within 30 miles of Tennessee's capital city, which recently was partially blacked out in an air-raid alert, the Adamses don't know theres' a war on.

Steel Mills Make Music In Their Workers' Ears

By DUKE MORAN
Wide World Features

WHEELING, W. Va. — John (Pop) Grimes, 51 and baldish, surveyed the scene before him.

A rehearsal of a "home talent" show with a big league radio rating.

Spread before Pop's mild blue eyes in a make-shift rehearsal hall in an outmoded Wheeling office building was the cast of the Wheeling Steel Corporation's "Musical Steelmakers."

There was not a single bonafide professional in the lot. The cast is composed of horny-handed millworkers, office employes, sons, daughters, nieces and nephews. They are work-a-day people for whom the radio show is a pleasant lark. Of course, they are paid for their rehearsal time but these extra wages in no way compare with the salaries paid professionals who are no more talented.

The show is Pop's baby—that explains his nickname. He fathered the idea and acts as Pop to his cast, ranging in age from 17 to 62.

Pop is the man behind the scenes but the show represents years of personal effort by him as advertising manager of the musical corporation, a constant struggle to improve the program, to keep the best talent possible and to keep rehearsals moving as regularly as the shifts in the mills.

"Our first appearance on the radio was Nov. 8, 1936 over WWVA (Wheeling)," Pop recalled as his cast waited the rehearsal signal. "But", he added, "I tried for six years before I sold the idea."

From this modest start, the program grew into a network feature on Sunday afternoons, first over Mutual and since Oct. 5, 1941 over the Blue Network—with 68 stations piped in.

"Those four men," Pop pointed to a quartet of huskies, "are our Singing Steelmen—and they are just that."

The quartet consists of Frank Nalepa, 32, bass; Walter Schane, 42, baritone, Bill Griffiths, 37, second tenor, and Will Stevenson, 48, first tenor. Dayton Powell, 32, built as solidly as a baby tank, is their pianist.

Powell is a press operator at the corporation's Martins Ferry, O., plant and has been employed eight mills, is a scale repairman at the years. Nalepa, seven years in the Steubenville, O., works. Schane is head clerk in the tube galvanizing department of the Benwood, W. Va., plant. Griffiths, with the concern 16 years is a rotary shearer, and Stevenson is a weighmaster, with eight years service.

No More Pork And Beans To Be Placed In Cans

Because of tin shortages, there won't be any more canned pork and beans or baked beans when present supplies run out.

This curtailment should not bother homemakers, because there are plenty of dried beans available. These keep well and taste good, if they are prepared right, says Hazel Phipps, food preparation specialist for the A. and M. College Extension Service.

In preparing the beans right, the first rule is to give them plenty of time to soak over night in cold water or five or six hours in lukewarm water. Be sure to wash beans before soaking them, and cook them in the water in which they have been soaked, for this will save the minerals and vitamins, she says. Beans are rich in iron and vitamin B-1 and these food values "soak out into the water."

The specialist says use soft water if it is available, for hard water toughens the beans. Cook them at a moderate temperature. In othwords, simmer them — don't let them bubble and boil, for hard boiling cracks the skins, toughens the protein and makes the beans mushy. Miss Phipps gives this caution: Never use soda to cook beans. This destroys the vitamin B-1. Bake the beans in a slow oven, about 250 degrees.

As far as cooking is concerned, dry beans may be treated pretty much alike. That is, although the recipe may call for one type of bean usually almost any other kind or variety may be substituted. Season beans with something salty, sour, fresh, crisp, or bright and spicy. Beans are bland and they combine well with crisp bacon, ham knuckle, salt pork, chili, a dash of lemon juice, onion or tomatoes.

Take The Load Off His Heart!

The observance of Army Day, April 6, marking the twenty-fifth anniversary of America's entry into the World War in 1917, signalizes also the beginning of the nation-wide movement for the assistance of soldiers' families and dependents. Every community in the country today has its quota of men in the Army, and the home folks of these communities are organizing units of the Army Emergency Relief.

The Army Emergency Relief is a fund being raised to provide for the assistance of dependents of any soldier who wears the uniform of our country. It operates without official "red tape." Emergency conditions are recognized and relief is given promptly. The mother who visits her boy in camp and finds his outfit suddenly moved, leaving her stranded, is immediately provided with necessary funds by the Army Emergency Relief. When a soldier becomes a casualty his dependents are given sympathetic care and funds are advanced until the payment of a pension or his insurance.

The Army Emergency Relief is incorporated under the laws of the District of Columbia as a non-profit organization. General John J. Pershing is honorary president. The chairman of the board is Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson, the acting president is Under Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson. The fund is administered by Major General William D. Haskell, formerly commander of the 27th Division.

Donations and contributions are accepted from any legitimate sources, organizations or enterprises, and already a great deal of money has been received. Families or soldiers and patriotic citizens in the cities and towns and the smaller villages throughout the country are taking the initiative in the work. It is a spontaneous movement of the people, without high pressure campaign methods, and its entire service is voluntary.

Outside of the larger cities committees formed by the citizens have had whole hearted cooperation of local newspapers, and in many communities the press is promoting the organization of the movement, in some cases the funds being raised as a memorial to a home boy who already has made the supreme sacrifice. All persons interested in organizing local units to assist the Army Emergency Relief have been asked to communicate with Col. John Thomas Taylor, assistant director, Bureau of Public Relations, War Department, Munitions Building, Washington, D. C. Said Col. Taylor:

"We praise our country's defenders but our greatest service to the man on the battle line is the assurance that we are looking after his loved ones at home. In doing this we take the load off his heart."

Grandson Of Mrs. J. B. Brown Recovering From Seige Of Infantile Paralysis

The following story, clipped from the March 29 issue of the Shreveport Times, is of much interest to a number of Dawson County people. Warren Ponder, about whom the article is written, is a grandson of Mrs. J. B. Brown of Lamesa, and naturally she was very much thrilled and proud of the gallant fight her grandson is making for his life. Following is the story:

Warren Ponder's chances to live weren't very good when he was placed in the iron lung at Charity hospital last Aug. 21. His chances grew worse as weeks, then months passed and he wasted away in the iron lung, able to breathe by himself for only short periods.

But by some miracle, Warren's downward path of life has been reversed. He's on the mend.

Yesterday ended a full week outside the long metal tube which has kept him alive for seven months.

Reading a Zane Gray "western" novel yesterday afternoon in a warm spot in the sun, Warren laconically answered, "Seems pretty good," to a question regarding his release from the iron lung. "He's just understating," laughed his pretty nurse, Miss Loraine Rogers.

"Warren's a normal boy," Miss Rogers said. "We wheeled him down to the hospital school yesterday and he wanted to leave as soon as possible."

Warren expects to leave the hospital in another two months. Until then he'll exercise those limbs that are weakened by disease and unuse and will take water treatments daily under the supervision of hospital doctors.

For the first time, yesterday, Warren ate his lunch without the aid of a nurse.

Warren is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Warren Ponder, formerly of Pleasant Hill. He complained of severe headaches which began last Aug. 18 while he was in swimming with some friends. The headaches developed into a backache and the local doctor diagnosed the condition as infantile paralysis.

Until last week Warren remained in the long metal tube, whose power of inducing artificial respiration meant life for him, for seven months.

Hope first bloomed last December that Warren would be able to survive the sickness whose ravages result in hundreds of deaths a year. At that time he was removed from the respirator and allowed to stay out for 22 hours. He was placed back into the iron lung for eight hours of sleep and was removed again.

For four days and three nights Warren breathed naturally and was treated as any other hospital patient. Then he was found in convulsions. He suffered four convulsions and was unconscious for two days and nights and in addition to the breathing assistance he obtained from the iron lung, he had to be given oxygen.

Before last week he has never been removed from the lung except for his daily baths.

Mr. and Mrs. Ponder have moved to Shreveport during Warren's illness and are living at 2833 Judson street. They have seven other children.

The iron lung was given to Charity Hospital five years ago by the local chapter of the American Junior Red Cross.

"One extra plane..."

"... or extra tank, or extra gun, or extra ship completed tomorrow may, in a few months, turn the tide on some distant battlefield; it may make the difference between life and death for some of our fighting men."

—PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT, February 23, 1942.

Would you be the one who failed to help buy that plane, tank, or ship—by failing to buy your share of Bonds? Could you sleep nights knowing that American boys were being killed because you and others "put off" doing your part?

Remember, they are OUR boys now—from your State, your town, perhaps your very home. They're out there risking their lives—giving their lives—so that America, your free America, can live. And just as you are counting upon them to give everything they've got, so they are counting upon you to give everything you've got—by working harder than you ever have before and by investing in Bonds to the very limit of your powers!

Can they count on you? Make your answer ring clear and true—let our boys know that every man, woman, and child in America is behind them 100%! Go to your local post office, bank, savings and loan association, or other official sales agency today. Pledge yourself to buy all the Bonds you can—regularly, every pay day until this war is won! Supply Of Seed Cotton In West Texas Variable

The supply of seed cotton for the year 1942 planting in Texas is spotty, according to M. C. Jaynes, cotton work specialist of the A. and M. College Extension Service. Most of the geographical divisions of the state probably will be self sustaining, and a few may have some seed to spare for other areas, while the remainder will be classified as bad.

Based upon information assembled by the Texas Cotton Crushers Association, Jaynes says that sufficient seed has been brought in for several plantings in the cotton counties in the Panhandle.

The situation in the South Plains seems bad and more seed is needed. The El Paso area needs more SXP seed, but has some of other varieties which may be made available to other areas by the middle of May or by June 1.

In the northwestern counties, Motley and Dickens, eastward to Montague and Wise, there may be sufficient seed to plant, Jaynes says, but there is not enough of high germination. In the Northern Blacklands area from Hill County to the Red River, however, the situation looks "fairly good," and there appears to be enough seed for at least one planting. Some gin-run seed is available for other areas.

The western portion of the middle blacklands area will need more seed if it is necessary to plant more than twice. Some gin-run seed, testing 79 to 83 per cent, culled and re-cleaned, may be available for other regions. Southward to Travis and Hays and eastward to Houston and Anderson Counties, sufficient seed is indicated. There appears to be sufficient seed available in the south central counties. Southeastern counties, with some exceptions, seems to have sufficient seed. Part of the Rio Grande Valley counties have sufficient for at least one and possibly two plantings.

Decreased Milk Production

Dairy cows will not produce a maximum when infested with hornflies, says E. R. Eudaly, dairyman of the A. and M. College Extension Service.

The flies cause loss in milk production because they suck the cow's and their annoyance often causes cattle to refuse to graze. Hence, they do not get their fill of grass which is the best milk producer, and it takes a part of the feed which otherwise would go to milk production to replace the blood. Some investigators claim, Eudaly says, that during seasons of abundance hornflies are responsible for losses of one quarter to one half of the normal milk production. Moreover, annoyance by the flies during milking might cause contamination of the milk with consequent lowering of its quality.

Sprays, which many dairymen use will keep flies off cattle during the milking and for an hour or more afterward. But this does not prevent loss in milk production. However, a cattle fly trap used as a gateway to and from water, feed, or other frequented places, has been found effective for the control of hornflies on many dairies, farms and ranches. Plans for building the trap may be obtained from the county agricultural agents or writing to the Extension Service, College Station.

Dairymen should build a fly trap and prevent annual loss in milk production caused by hornflies, Eudaly suggests. "Keep your cows producing to the limit of their capacity during 1942."

Texas 4-H Club Girls Are Definitely Defense Conscious Says Specialist

The 38,351 Texas 4-H Club girls were definitely defense conscious during 1941, says Onah Jacks, the state girls' club agent of the A. and M. College Extension Service and "Any Bonds Today?" well might have been their theme song.

They championed food production and use as their first duty, growing 11,942 gardens and setting out 10,704 new fruit plots or orchards. Through the girls' efforts, 11,791 dairy cows were provided for farm homes, and dairy products were increased by 4,017 gallons of milk and 383,146 pounds of cheese and butter. The home meat supply was increased by 12,328 animals — hogs, beeves, lambs and goats — and by 190,409 turkeys and chickens. Moreover, these young farm girls raised and cared for 381,509 hens and pullets. Translated into breakfasts for soldier boys, this great flock had a yearly productive capacity sufficient to provide, with reasonable care, every man in the United States Army with more than one egg a day for six weeks.

The Club girls contributed to home security to the extent of 1,284,538 quarts of fruits, vegetables, and meats canned, brined and otherwise preserved; 726,715 pounds of food cured, dried or stored fresh, and 36,117 pounds stored in freezer lockers.

As food must produce health, the 4-H Club girls used the Texas Food Standard as a basis for preparing 398,910 dishes and serving 166,624 meals, Miss Jacks relates. And, through their influence 15,851 families improved their everyday meals.

By careful planning, making, repairing and remodeling of clothes, and providing good care for them together with buying wisely, 23,634 girls saved more than $26,000 in 1941. This sum is arrived at by allowing 25 cents on each of the 106,562 garments they made.

In a war-weary world Texas 4-H Club girls contributed to national welfare as they made homes clean, more comfortable, convenient, and attractive. During the year they improved more than 9,770 rooms, and 3,920 yards and helped with 3,725 repair jobs which included reroofing, house painting, adding windows or chimneys and repairing porches and steps. Better rest was assured by the 6,258 mattresses and 1,821 light woolen covers they made.

Home recreation was stimulated by the 4,038 games and other facilities for play provided by them, and county homes were beautified by the 69,902 new shrubs, trees and roses they fostered during 1941. In preparation for 1942 they have 8,869 plants growing from seeds and cuttings.

The 38,351 girls were enrolled in 2,010 clubs in 191 counties, 65 per cent of whom were 12 years or older and 29 per cent had done 4-H work three years or more. They were assisted by 2,223 women, who served as sponsors of the community clubs. In addition there were 8,025 Negro 4-H Club girls doing the same type work in improving their homes and communities.

"Compared with five years ago, 4-H work 'gets 'em younger but it keeps 'em longer'," Miss Jacks comments. "With a vital program of producing and using food, saving everything and working with their families and neighbors toward better home and community life, Texas' 4-H girls are making a wartime contribution as distinctive as their peace time achievements."

Mayor W. L. Marr Makes Final Statement

In submitting myself to the Lamesa voters for a continuation in the Mayor's office, I deem it appropriate to bring to the attention of the voters some of the main points on which my candidacy is based.

While serving as Mayor, I have not been a part-time official, but have devoted my entire time to the duties of the office, the same as if I were operating my own business.

The improvements to the city will compare favorably with those of other neighboring towns, large or small. In fact, to appreciate Lamesa streets, one has only to ride over the streets of other towns.

The water system and fire protection has been developed to where there is no just cause of complaint from any resident of our town. Utility prices are as low as are enjoyed by any neighbor town that does not operate its utilities.

Taxes are as low as can be expected with the service that results from money derived therefrom.

The City Park and Recreational grounds have been developed to the highest point with the resources that the city had that could be thus devoted, and this work will still be developed and enlarged as it can reasonably be done. The city has been well policed and lawlessness is at the minumum. I do not claim all credit, but I feel assured that I have done my part, and will continue if called to further service.

The work that I have done has been a pleasure and the wholehearted co-operation of the citizenship in these constructive accomplishments will always be a pleasant memory to me.

Respectfully,
(Signed) W. L. Marr.

Crop Loans Last Year Exceed All Previous Years

More than two-thirds of the 1941 Texas wheat crop went into Government loans, according to P. C. Colgin, state commodity loan supervisor.

Grain sorghum and barley producers, taking advantage of loans offered in 1941, placed more than a million bushels in ware houses and on farms and were advanced more than a half million dollars, Colgin stated.

Grand totals on all wheat, barley and grain sorghum loans for the state included 26,179 applications covering 21 million bushels on which nearly 20 million dollars was advanced, he pointed out. Included in the final tabulations are 16,778,646 bushels of ware house stored wheat, 1,508,144 bushels of farm stored wheat, 131,453 bushels of farm stored sorghums, 294,450 bushels of ware house stored barley and 954,981 bushels of farm stored barley.

Popularity of the loan program in Texas is increasing every year. Totals for the 1941 program exceed the totals for any preceding year, the loan supervisor pointed out.

Under the Commodity Credit Corporation loan program, producers receive 85 per cent of parity loans, retain interest in the grain, and are in position to sell when markets advance.

Vernon W. Bryant Appeals To Voters

It has been a real pleasure to serve as a member of the City Commission for the past 3 years and while asking the people of Lamesa to be elected for a second time, I also wish to again thank the voters of this community for that privilege.

I am aware of the fact that the minds, interest and efforts of all of us here in Lamesa, as elsewhere in our country, are now centered on the biggest, most important, and most sacred problem we ever faced, and that we must pool our efforts and our energies to the big task at hand. I am also aware of the fact that local politics is now a small and trivial matter, yet there was never a time when careful and economic management in every public office, from the lowest to the highest, was ever more needed than now.

During the past term I have done my best to cooperate with the other members of the Commission toward the best interests of the city as a whole. I have considered that each member of the City Commission, since he too was elected by a majority of the people, should have an equal part in the management of the City's affairs. I shall certainly expect to continue to lend my sincere cooperation to all members of the commission, regardless of who is elected, to the end that all problems confronting us may be solved in the most efficient and economical manner. To my way of thinking the business of running a city like Lamesa, is an important task, and the same principles that apply to the most successful management of any business establishment or organization may most certainly apply to the management of our city's government and affairs.

At this time more than ever before it is necessary to eliminate all sources of waste and all unnecessary spending, and to be as careful and efficient as one may be.

It is to these ends that I have worked, and it will be to these ends that I shall continue to work if elected.

Thank you,
Vernon W. Bryant.

or shaving cream be made in violation of this order.

Purchasers will not be required to exchange a used tube of the same type as the tube being purchased.

It was understood that the used tubes eventually would be reprocessed and allocated back to the tube manufacturers — possibly representing the entire supply of tin they can expect for the duration of the war.

The order provides that tubes containing ten per cent tin may be used only for certain medical ointments and pharmaceutical preparations, while tin-coated tubes must be used for toothpaste and shaving cream.

In the orders earlier in the day, the government pared a long, new list of non-essentials from the nation's economy, to save metal for guns and convert machines to war production.

Toymakers were ordered not to use a lengthy list of scarce metals, plastics, and colors, and to stop making any electric trains, metal toys, or model airplanes that fly. The order takes effect July 1.

Use of iron, steel, and zinc was banned at the same time for a list of household articles, ranging from fly swatters and cuspidors to curtain rods and coat hangers. Pots, pans, and kitchenware were curtailed in various degrees.

Vacuum cleaner production must halt entirely after April 30, under another order. The $85,000,000 industry, employing 12,000 persons already is one-quarter converted to war production.

Local Board-

who registered Feb. 16 being referred to as the "second age group."

To Call For Both

"The War Department," the announcement said, "has indicated that beginning June 1, 1942, requisitions will probably call for men of both age groups."

The memorandum said that local boards, which had not completed mailing of questionnaires to registrants of the first age group, should continue to mail them, but "at the same time the local board will proceed to mail . . . questionnaires . . . to registrants of the second age group in sufficient numbers to insure the filling of the June call (estimated not to exceed the February call of 1942) entirely from the third registration, if such action is required."

If any local board finds it does not have a sufficient number of men from the first age group available in Class 1-A to fill its May call, it was authorized to call enough men from the second age group to fill its quota and was told to continue to classify men in the second age group to be sure that it has enough by June 1, to fill a normal call.

Method To Be Revealed

The paragraph referred to calls for both groups said:

"The War Department has indicated that beginning June 1, 1942, requisitions will probably call for men of both age groups. In such event it will be necessary to lay calls for the month of June 1942, and for subsequent months on both age groups. In those local boards where the first age group is exhausted by June 1, 1942, calls will be necessity be made only upon the second age group. The precise method which will be followed for the filling of calls for the month of June, 1942, and for subsequent months, as between registrants in the first age group and registrants in the second age group, will be made the subject of a subsequent memorandum."

Men between 21 and 35 years of age, inclusive, registered October 16, 1940. Those who reached 21 years of age between October 16, 1940, and July 1, 1941, registered on the latter date, and on Feb. 16, those who had not previously registered but who were within the ages of 20 and 45 years were listed.

Mr. Bourdene declared that this will be the most important tour of its kind ever staged out of Dallas. "The chamber of commerce and the manufacturers and wholesalers of Dallas have been sponsoring these annual tours for 41 years," he said, "and we believe our mission on this trip to be of paramount importance.

"Too often the great effort and sacrifices that other communities make in times like these are overlooked because of the hustle and bustle to complete a job. Many of the things they do are taken for granted and I, for one, hope that our trip this year will help alleviate this.

"We want to come to Lamesa and say: 'Thank you for the untiring effort and support you are giving the national government in the greatest mass effort for victory this nation has ever known.'

"We hope that when the 'Victory Special' visits your city it will bring about a better understanding of our common problems so we can co-operate more fully toward our all-important goal in the future."

Open House At Lubbock Flying School April 6

In keeping with the Nation's observance of Army Day, the large, new Lubbock Army Flying School will hold open house for the South Plains visitors from 1 to 3 o'clock, Monday afternoon, April 6, Colonel Thomas L. Gilbert, commanding officer, announced today.

The general public is invited, but because of the Army's normal wartime precautions, visitors cannot be permitted to bring cameras onto the post, the Colonel said.

During the afternoon flight training of the school's cadet classes will go on uninterrupted, and the visitors may observe the training in progress. Several types of Air Corps training planes will be exhibited.

Col. Gilbert pointed out that in the near future there will be a formal dedication of the new field, to which the public will also be invited.

The large post at Lubbock is an advanced flying school where the Air Corps is training heavyweight aviation cadets to fly its big twin-engined bombers and transport planes. Col. Gilbert, a long-time Texan, is a flying officer himself, and has a record of more than 7,000 hours in the air.
