Ike Ready To Consider Visiting Russia

MOTHER-IN-LAW BARRED FROM THEIR WEDDING—A Pasadena, Calif., businessman, Louis E. Purmort, 34, and his bride-to-be, Mrs. Barbara Stanley Thorndike, 26, a divorcee tell newsmen why Purmort obtained a court order barring his mother from attending the coming wedding. The son quoted his 68-year-old mother as saying she would kill him rather than see him marry a "blonde divorcee." He said his mother warned him she would be at the church to stop the wedding. Dulles, French Chief Agree

By DAVE MASON

PARIS (AP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and President Charles de Gaulle found themselves in agreement today, as in the past, to maintain Western access to Berlin. They conferred for an hour and a half.

American and French spokesmen said the talks covered a wide range of problems, but no new decisions were reached.

The spokesmen said, however, that De Gaulle and Dulles were in complete agreement that the West must maintain its routes to West Berlin, 110 miles behind the Iron Curtain, and would not accept any move by the Soviet Union to substitute East Germans for the Soviet soldiers in those positions where the four occupying powers come together in Berlin.

The American spokesman said the talks in Paris had progressed in a similar manner to those in London. There Dulles conferred with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, who is going to Moscow Feb. 21 for a visit that the British hope will ease East-West tensions.

Dulles is going on Saturday to Bonn for talks with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer about Western problems, primarily how to approach fresh negotiations with the Soviet Union on the German unification question.

He had a meeting with French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville before seeing De Gaulle.

Britons of all political complexion cheered Prime Minister Macmillan's decision to fly to Moscow Feb. 21 for what he called a reconnaissance mission.

The suave 64-year-old Macmillan was depicted in the British press as a "diplomatic prince charming out to win the hearts of the Soviet people." Some newspapers predicted the trip would lead to an early East-West summit conference.

Dulles openly — and the French privately — endorsed the Macmillan venture as possibly useful, but they did not share the British public's expectation that it might start a thaw in the cold war.

One thing was clear: the West will await Macmillan's return from talks with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev before forging any new proposals on the reunification of Germany to counter Soviet demands that the Allies get out of West Berlin.

Dulles still insisted that he is carrying no new proposals in his European tour of London, Paris, and Bonn. He implied he is doing more listening than talking.

BILL EILAND

W. A. McGLAUN

Two More In Council Race

Two more candidates filed for places on the ballot of the city general election of April 7 this morning, K. O. Pitner, city secretary, said.

Both are candidates for place No. 3 on the council which is now held by G. W. Parks Jr., 2100 Avenue M.

They are Bill Eiland, dealer here for Oldsmobile and Cadillac cars, and W. A. McGlaun, Texas Co. consignee here.

Eiland was born Oct. 21, 1926, in Stanton, Tex., and is 32 years old. The family residence is at 2503 Thirty-second Street.

McGlaun, a native of Scurry County, was born Feb. 12, 1905, and is 54 years old. His family residence is at 1200 Twenty-fifth Street.

Russell Yorgesen, accountant, is the only candidate so far for place No. 1, and J. H. Mixon, appliance and tire store owner, is seeking reelection to place No. 5.

Deadline for filing is March 7, 30 days prior to the election. Absentee voting begins 20 days before the election and ends three days before the election.

It was erroneously reported in yesterday's Daily News story on the first two candidates that Parks had moved away from Snyder.

Place No. 1 on the council is now held by Hollis H. Fields, owner of cleaning and laundering establishments here.

Other members of the council are Harold Bennett, mayor, Rex Fields, Steve Birdwell and Stanley Noah.

Councilmen serve terms of two years each.

Ike Has No Definite Plans Made

THOMASVILLE, Ga. (AP)—The White House said today President Eisenhower would consider visiting Russia if future developments indicate it would serve the cause of peace.

Press secretary James C. Hagerty made the statement in commenting on Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's invitation to Eisenhower Thursday to come to the Soviet Union.

But Hagerty stressed that Eisenhower has no present plans to go there.

The press secretary earlier had declined comment on the Khrushchev invitation, extended informally in a speech by the Kremlin leader at the Moscow 21st congress of the Communist party.

But today Hagerty volunteered this statement at Eisenhower's vacation headquarters:

"Premier Khrushchev's invitation to President Eisenhower to visit the Soviet Union occurred in a lengthy speech which contained very hostile references to United States leaders.

"It seems strange that Premier Khrushchev, if he really welcomes a visit by the President, would extend it in such circumstances.

"The President had no present plans to make such a visit — in fact, he hasn't received any invitation except through the reports of an off-hand invitation extended in a political speech.

"Ever since he has been in office, President Eisenhower has always made it clear that he was willing to go anywhere in the world if, by so doing, such a visit would serve the cause of peace.

"Should future developments suggest that a visit to the Soviet Union or anywhere else would serve to advance this cause, then it certainly would be considered."

Strong Arm Integration Backers Fade

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress members favoring throwing the full power of the government behind the Supreme Court's school integration ruling today found little official help outside their own group.

Neither the administration nor Democratic leaders were ready to lend a strong helping hand for such a full-scale push.

President Eisenhower did not recommend this course of action Thursday when he submitted a seven-point civil rights program to Congress.

Legislation proposed earlier by Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas similarly makes no provision for forcing compliance with the court's 1954 decision that racial segregation in the schools is unconstitutional.

Advocates of stronger measures contend that essential to an effective civil rights program is authority for the attorney general to initiate court actions to bring about school integration.

Vice President Nixon and Atty. Gen. Rogers reportedly favored this but were overruled in discussions within the administration.

Rogers told a news conference, however, that he feels the administration proposals are constructive and would prove helpful "to the over-all problem presented in the civil rights field."

In Congress, Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and other supporters of the administration's program described it as in line with the President's avowed moderate course in the explosive civil rights field.

Criticism came from Southerners opposed to any civil rights legislation. They denounced the program as an offensive invasion of states' rights and as politically motivated.

On the other side were Senate and House members who said the President's program was all right as far as it went but that it did not go far enough.

Their principal complaint was pointed up by the comment of Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-NY) that "The President, by implication, accepts the idea that all enforcement of civil rights in the field of schools should be by the judicial branch of the government."

"What is needed," he said, "is executive enforcement."

Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill) said the administration program fails to include what he called the most essential point because it would not empower the attorney general to seek injunctions against interference with civil rights guaranteed by the 14th Amendment.

Carr Openly Opposes Sales, Income Taxes

AUSTIN (AP) — Speaker Waggoner Carr has come out openly in opposition to either a sales or income tax.

He told newsmen yesterday most representatives oppose a general sales tax although he said sentiment could change later in the session.

The speaker said he favored a broad-based tax.

BRAIN COOLING TECHNIQUE

New Surgery For Skull Described

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A brain cooling technique enabling surgeons to cut off the blood supply and operate inside the skull or on the heart for a full hour was described at a press conference by a surgeon.

The system, worked out on dogs by Dr. John E. Connolly of Stanford University, is almost ready for trial on humans, he reported.

Present techniques permit a surgeon to work while a patient's brain is bloodless for no more than eight minutes without irreparable damage.

Dr. Connolly told a press conference that his refrigeration technique, derived from Japanese research in the same field, involves supercooling of the brain while the body remains warmer.

By a method called hypothermia, heart surgeons sometimes cool the whole body by surrounding it with ice, reducing the normal temperature of 98.6 degrees to 82 degrees. This slows the metabolic rate (as in animal hiberation) and the heart can be stopped for surgery—but for eight minutes at most.

The body cannot be cooled further but the brain can, Dr. Connolly found.

Few Marriages Hopeless

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "Most unhappy marriages are merely sick and can be made healthy and happy again."

This word to divorce-bound parents is a Los Angeles judge's newest attempt to keep families together.

A printed appeal soon will go to every parent with children under 15 who becomes involved in a divorce suit here. It does a little scolding and a lot of encouraging.

Stop and think, the estranged husband and wife are urged.

"The two minutes you take to read this may change the course of your life," says the booklet signed by Judge Roger A. Pfaff of the Conciliation Court.

Pfaff's continuing efforts to save marriages have received wide publicity. He heard more than 5,000 divorce cases last year.

Think of your youngsters, his booklet tells the feuding couple. Three fourths of the juvenile offenders come from broken homes. "Children are too often the forgotten third parties to a divorce action."

Look past the present. "In the heat of anger and injured pride, divorce-bound couples do not take time to look ahead to the lonely and grim future. Where both parents and children commence to live on the ragged edge of nothing because two households must be supported out of income usually barely ample to support one."

Forty-three of every 100 couples who have taken their troubles to the Conciliation Court's five trained marriage counselors since 1954 have made up, 75 per cent of them permanently.

Rogers Files Alabama Suit

WASHINGTON (AP)—Atty. Gen. Rogers today filed suit in U. S. District Court at Montgomery, Ala., charging the Board of Registrars of Macon County, Ala., with discriminating against Negroes seeking to qualify as voters.

The suit is the second of its kind under the 1957 Civil Rights Act designed to protect voting rights.

An action against the registrars of Terrell County, Ga., which raises the same discrimination issue, is now awaiting trial in the Federal Court at Columbus, Ga.

The action at Montgomery named as defendants the Macon Registration Board and Grady Rogers and E. P. Livingston.

Grady Rogers and Livingston in December announced their resignations as Macon registrars after being ordered by the U. S. District Court to produce their records for examination by the Civil Rights Commission.

Man Hurt In Auto Mishap

Teddy Swift, 23, of 605 Nineteenth Street, suffered a possible slight concussion and other injuries late last night in an auto accident near Fluvanna.

The accident occurred at 11:05 p.m. .7 of a mile north of Fluvanna on FM 1269, according to highway patrolmen Gordon Johnson and Arthur Dyson.

He was taken by Bell ambulance to Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

Swift, who was driving a 1951 Oldsmobile sedan, had parked his disabled car on the shoulder of the road and was in front of the car, with the hood raised.

Roy F. Trice, 30, of Snyder, who was driving a 1957 Chevrolet station wagon, was approachng Swift's car from the rear when he was blinded by lights of another car, Johnson said, and his car struck the rear of Swift's vehicle.

The impact knocked the car into Swift and threw Swift under the hood of his car. He was the only person injured.

Airport Bill Set For Senate Action

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today takes up an airport grant bill far exceeding President Eisenhower's request after passing a $2,675,000,000 omnibus housing measure containing a billion dollars more than he asked.

Senators stayed late Thursday night to put through the big housing measure, first major piece of legislation they have handled this session. It goes to the House, which is not expected to act before the week of Feb. 15.

The passage vote was 60-28, slightly more than the two thirds margin which would be needed to override a veto.

Democrats trimmed the housing bill somewhat on the floor in an effort to minimize its impact on the fiscal 1960 budget and thus avert a veto by President Eisenhower.

The airport and bill calls for 565 million dollars in federal grants compared with Eisenhower's request for 200 million. However, for the next fiscal year it would exceed the budget by only about 35 million.

Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney (D-Okla), sponsor of the airport bill, said he has no advance plans to make floor compromises such as the Democrats agreed to on housing.

Some Republicans charged that the action on housing coupled with Democratic plans for the airport bill showed that wild spenders were in control of Congress and that any hope of a balanced budget was wrecked.

But Democratic leaders contended they had met the President half way on the housing measure and that they did not see how he could veto the bill.

Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala), author of the bill, said he did not believe it would increase spending by more than 100 to 130 million dollars in fiscal 1960. Eisenhower had estimated a 70 million surplus for the year, which begins July 1.

Recording Of Attack Shocks Solons

WASHINGTON (AP)—The gruff terrifying words: "The target is burning. I will finish him off, boys," echoed on Capitol Hill today with shocked demands for stepped-up defense programs.

The words, the State Department says, were those of Soviet jet pilots shooting down an unarmed U.S. transport plane.

At least 6, possibly 17, American airmen died in the fiery crash Sept. 2 of the unarmed C130 transport near the border between Turkey and Soviet Armenia.

The plane admittedly had wandered across the border and over Soviet territory, but the State Department expressed a suspicion the crew may have been misled by Soviet radio signals.

State Department officials Thursday disclosed they have a graphic recording of harsh, barking voices they said were those of Soviet pilots sending the plane into its death plunge. An English translation was made public.

The department said the recording was absolutely authentic but would not say where it came from.

The recording appeared to have caught Soviet First Dep. Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan in an uncomfortable spot. He brushed off several inquiries about the plane on his recent visit here and treated it as a routine crash.

The Russians turned over the bodies of six crewmen a short time after the crash but have consistently denied any knowledge of the 11 other airmen aboard the plane.

As two of the plane's unidentified victims were buried today with military honors in Arlington National Cemetery, two members of the Senate Armed Services Committee renewed demands for a speed-up in the defense program.

Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo) said: "It becomes more and more clear that some day we will have to stand against the growing Communist aggression. We will never put our defenses in a proper position to take that stand by tailoring our defense to a balanced budget."

Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash) said the attack was the outgrowth of "a weakening defense posture on our part." He added that "a weakening defense posture invites such attacks. The weaker they become, the more adventuresome the Russians become."

Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga), chairman of the Armed Services group, said the incident demonstrates that the cold war could flame into a nuclear holocaust.

Russell said the State Department recording will stir a feeling of revulsion throughout the whole civilized world. He told a reporter that "it should increase our awareness of the need for an adequate military defense in this country."

Russell and other members of his committee agreed the incident raises new obstacles to any negotiation with the Soviet Union.

Several senators recalled recent denials by Mikoyan of any knowledge of a Soviet attack on the American plane.

Sen. Homer E. Capehart (R-Ind) said that "before Russia can be accepted into the society of nations, their leaders must learn to tell the truth."

Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont), assistant Senate majority leader, called for a strong personal protest by President Eisenhower and a demand for compensation for the lives lost, as well as for the destruction of the plane.

Sen. Frank J. Lausche (D-Ohio), who read excerpts of the recording to the Senate Thursday, said it was "very shocking information." He said the case must be remembered when the United States is asked to take the word of the Soviet Union or consider conciliatory moves by the Kremlin.

State Department Press Officer Lincoln White said the recording was made on the same day and at the same time the plane went down.

U.S. officials have insisted all along that the plane wandered off course and did not deliberately cross the Soviet border. Officials said Thursday it might have been misled by radio beams from the Soviet cities of Batumi and Poti. Those beams are close to the frequencies used by beacons at the Turkish radio control centers which served as navigation points on the flight plan of the transport.

The 20-minute recording purportedly covers operations of five Soviet fighter pilots whose radio talk among themselves included:

"The target is a transport, four engine.

"I am attacking the target.

"The target is burning.

"The tail assembly is falling off the target.

"Look at him, he will not get away, he is already falling.

"I will finish him off, boys, I will finish him off on the run.

"The target is falling."

Federal Delay Is Blamed For Lack Of Airport Safety

NEW YORK (AP) — A city agency says the federal government is responsible for delay in safety improvements at La Guardia Field, destination of an American Airlines plane which crashed into the East River Tuesday night.

A spokesman for the Port Authority of New York, which operates La Guardia, said Thursday the authority has been ready for three years to build a pier off Runway 22 to provide approach lights for aircraft.

American's prop-jet Flight 320 undershot Runway 22 and smashed into the water. Sixty-five persons died. Three crew members and five passengers survived.

The authority spokesman, who asked not to be identified, further commented: "The entire responsibility for establishing navigation and safety aids rests with the Federal Aviation Agency."

In Washington Thursday night an FAA spokesman said an instrument landing system for the East River approach to Runway 22 had been authorized and on order since July 1, 1957. He said it takes 18 months to two years to get the needed apparatus assembled, adding that delivery had been promised for October of this year.

The FAA spokesman said installation of a high-intensity light system as part of the instrument-landing system would require a pier extending 3,000 feet into the river. This would involve an additional problem of creating a deep water channel, he said.

Authorities have noted that the sinking of pilings into the water at that area well might impede shipping.

Three bodies were found Thursday in the tail section of the crashed airliner, brought up from the river bottom. That brought to 25 the number of bodies recovered.

As investigators looked into all phases of what could have caused the crash, Edward Slattery Jr. of the Civil Aeronautics Board said: "The only thing we're sure of is that there is no indication of what caused the accident."

But Flight Engineer Warren E. Cook, 35, a crash survivor in critical condition at Queens General Hospital, has been quoted as saying that the plane's pilots "might have had a mix-up with those new altimeters."

The pilot, Capt. Albert H. De Witt, 59, is dead.

Officials hoped that the copilot, Frank Hlavacek, 33, also critically injured, might be in condition to be questioned today.

The Chicago Tribune, in a copyrighted story, quotes Cook as telling his wife Flora in Aurora, Ill.: "We didn't know anything was wrong until we hit."

Cook also told his wife, The Tribune said, that "it isn't easy to cross-check between the pilot's and copilot's instruments in that big Electra cockpit."

The newspaper said the Electra turbine-propeller plane was equipped with two new-type altimeters, one for each pilot.

"Flight training crews in Electra repeatedly had misread the altimeters and had protested so violently to the operations chiefs that American had planned to install a third altimeter, one of the older types, in the central instrument panel," The Tribune said.

In New York a spokesman for American Airlines said that "we've had no violent protests" about the new altimeters.

"We've had suggestions about changes, as we do on equipment in any new airplane, but this is expected," he added.

The spokesman declined comment on Cook's reported statement about not realizing anything was wrong until hitting the water.

Civil Aeronautics Board officials talked with Cook Thursday but declined comment.

Big Balloon Springs Leak, Takes Plunge

BROWNWOOD, Tex. (AP)— A huge research balloon apparently sprung a leak and plunged earthward with a rush today, thwarting scientists' bid for an altitude record.

The filmy bag, lifted by 3 million cubic feet of helium gas, soared 85,000 feet, levelled off for about 15 minutes and then started dropping about 1,000 feet a minute.

Paul Yost of Sioux Falls, S.D., in charge of the polyethylene balloon, said gas pushing out of the bag and the swift descent probably would tear it to shreds before it got back down. One hundred pounds of instruments in the gondola floated down by parachute.

Aerial observers and a ground crew hurried toward Cleburne, 100 miles northeast of here in Central Texas, expecting the balloon to fall near there.

Dr. Michael Friedlander of Washington University of St. Louis had said the takeoff, at 5:33 a.m. gave promise of sending the big bag over the 142,000-foot record for unmanned balloons.

It kept rising until 7:15 a.m., hovered at 85,000 feet and then began dropping at 7:30 a.m.

Weather Bureau observers in Dallas said instruments in the gondola started down by parachute at 8:37 a.m. The balloon then was still about 20,000 feet high and about 20 miles south of Fort Worth.

The launching by a team of scientists was one of a series to measure cosmic ray intensities and gather other data.

Undersea Volcanic Action Suspected

The Japanese coast guard has warned shipping out of the area around Suwanose Island, 80 miles south of Kyushu.

A Japanese ship saw smoke rising above the sea in the area. The Central Meteorological Agency reported there were high tides at the same time.

Frigid Air Covers Most Of Midwest

By The Associated Press

A new cold wave, just as bitter and unwelcome as the old one las week end, stung the Midwest today. Frigid air blanketed most of the country's midsection.

It was 30 degrees below zero in northern Minnesota, and it was near zero as far south as northern Arkansas. Snow added to the wintry chill from northern Arkansas and southern Missouri into Tennessee and southern Kentucky. It was freezing in northern sections of the Gulf states.

Most of the Eastern and Southern sections were out of the cold air pocket. But the icy air appeared headed through the Ohio Valley and into the Middle Atlantic states and New England as well as the western Gulf region.

More than five inches of snow covered Fayetteville, Ark., and storms swept across parts of the Middle Missouri and Ohio Valleys Thursday and continued during the night in some areas.

Snow flurries flecked the Appalachians, and light snow and flurries fell in the Great Lakes region from northern Indiana northward through northern Michigan. The snow cover at Houghton, Mich., was 46 inches.

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market was slightly lower in active trading at the opening today.

Most leading stocks declined fractionally. A few stocks made small gains. Lorillard rose more than a point.

Small losses were taken by Santa Fe, International Telephone and Union Pacific.

General Motors was off ⅜ to 47⅛ on 5,000 shares.

Yesterday The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dipped 50 cents to $215.70.

Reds Blame U. S. Again

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) —U.S. Army Lt. Richard Mackin says the East German Communists tried to convince him that the Americans were responsible for his being held captive eight weeks.

The 27-year-old flier from Washington, D.C., was released Thursday after negotiations between the Reds and the American Red Cross. The U.S. government, which does not recognize East Germany, would not negotiate with the satellite regime and held the Russians responsible for his detention.

Four other American soldiers who had been held in East Germany were freed at the same time after payment of 4,500 marks — $1,071 — for their "detention expenses." U.S. intelligence officers were questioning them today.

Pact May Be Near In Harber Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—Negotiators have reached a tentative settlement of the six-day strike that has tied up 400 harbor craft here.

Members of the striking union will vote Saturday on a new wage offer by the employers.

The tentative settlement on a wage increase was announced Thursday night by Mediator Thomas G. Dougherty of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

Neither side in the dispute had any comment on the agreement.

However, Capt. Joseph O'Hare, president of Local 333 of the National Maritime Union, said the strikers would return to work immediately if the proposed settlement is ratified Saturday.

Four thousand members of the union have been idle since Saturday midnight.

The employers, represented by the Marine Towing and Transportation Employers Assn., made a stepped-up offer of 20 cents an hour more for all employes this year and 10 cents more next year. The union members Sunday rejected a two-year package of 21 cents an hour.

Before the strike started, the union was demanding $1 more an hour. During the negotiations the union scaled this down to 40 cents the first year and 20 cents the second year.

Prestrike wages ranged from $1.95½ an hour for deckhands to $3.11½ for captains of seagoing tugs.

The strike has idled tugboats small oil tankers, barges, and other harbor craft.

Ocean liners and other ships, although inconvenienced, docked and sailed during the strike without the usual aid of tugs.

Movement of a large variety of vital supplies and commodities halted, but there was no real pinch.

SPEAKERS—Pictured above are left, Mrs. Carl Herod, president of the Ladies Hospital Auxiliary who is spending much time and hard work trying to organize a Junior Hospital Auxiliary in Snyder. Next to Mrs. Herod is Mrs. Theo Lamb, a sponsor and Mrs. Maurine Pilcher, Director of Nursing at the Cogdell Hospital, who gave a very informative talk to Snyder High School girls yesterday morning. Junior Hospital Auxiliary To Be Organized In Snyder

Approximately 375 girls gathered in the high school auditorium Thursday morning to hear talks on the organizing of a Junior Auxiliary to the Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. T. D. Wiman, principal of the High School, explained to the girls the purpose of the meeting and then introduced Mr. Pat Falls, also a school representative and chairman of the county hospital board. After a brief welcome he introduced Mrs. Carl Herod, president of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Hospital who explained the conditions and hopes of a Junior Auxiliary in Snyder.

She told of the many meetings and luncheons she had attended in other cities with such organizations and the many worthwhile duties they were performing. "A Junior Auxiliary is an asset to any community and you can not realize how beneficial they are to patients in a hospital".

Mrs. Herod, introduced Mrs. Theo Lamb, one of the Junior Auxiliary sponsors. Mrs. Ed LeMarquand the other sponsor was unable to attend due to illness.

Mrs. Herod explained that high school girls from age 14 through graduation were eligible to become members. Although the girls desire to join the organization they still must have consent of their parents. They will be a complete organization within themselves with their own officers, rules and responsibilities, and under the direction of the Hospital administration and Director of Nursing.

Special blanks were distributed among the girls for their signature so that the sponsors will have some estimate on how many girls are interested in organizing an auxiliary in Snyder. Due to the overwhelming turnout there were not enough blanks to go around, but a meeting will be held at the Martha Ann Woman's Club Saturday afternoon at 2:30, and any girl interested in this organization is welcome to attend.

Mrs. Herod then introduced Mrs. Maurine Pilcher, Director of nursing at the hospital who said:

"More and more our Texas Junior Auxiliaries are stressing the importance of orientation in training their workers. New volunteers are shown the physical layout of the hospital, told of the inter-relation of its departments, and the relationship between the hospital and auxiliary is explained, thus making possible this working together harmoniously.

"Fortunately this relationship is usually happy, but there can be pitfalls, and these we try to avoid.

"Volunteers occupy a unequal place in the hospital. They receive no salary, they are bound by no contract, they are subject to no discipline except their own. It is for this reason you, as volunteers should sit up your own strict standards for yourselves, and try to live up to them. Ethics plays an important part here.

"Sometimes volunteers may be over eager, see needs, and jump over heads. They may rush into projects without consulting administrators or governing boards. You must remember that the hospital and auxiliary are organized groups with officers, department heads, and committee heads, and that there are recognized channels through which suggestions may be presented and decisions made. Ethics and procedure again are to be remembered.

"Volunteers are in a sense guests in our hospital, and like good guests anywhere, they should be tactful, willing to help with the chores, appreciative of employes, considerate of our hosts (patients). Volunteers should keep out of family arguments, refrain from criticism, keep confidential matters to themselves — never tell your family or anyone in the hospital about the patient — check any impluse to takeover and run things. There can be no visiting of patients except in the line of duty.

"Volunteers act in a dignified and considerate manner at all times. While at the hospital, you are a part of it, and should be above criticism.

"Basically the tasks assigned to the Junior Auxiliary are to extend any service to the patient and family which would make the hospital experience as pleasant as possible. 'No task too small' is a good slogan. The work cannot be identified with any one floor, or department.

"Some of the tasks you might be doing are: delivering mail, be an escort, do small errands for the patient or nurses, read mail to patients, mail letters, write birth announcements for new mothers, help look after the family while a loved one is in surgery or the emergency room. Feed the helpless patient for the nurse, direct the family to get a bite to eat;

"Help locate the family for the Doctor or nurse if they are needed, channel signs of dissatisfaction to the head nurse, or head of the department. There are numerous other jobs we might mention. This service to patients and families, brings warmth and attention — the little things which can be overlooked in our growing and busy institution.

"These activities encourage self development, job satisfaction, good health and a reputable character, and a willingness to help. You will be happy because you feel, and rightly so, that you are making a worth while contribution to the patient's welfare, and too, you will be increasing the efficiency of the nursing staff.

Robes with marabou and swansdown trim are back in fashion favor. Some are done in velvet and some in gold or silver lame.

Acacia Club Hears Talk On Germany

The Acacia Study Club met Wednesday at the Martha Ann Woman's Club. Hostess for the meeting were Mrs. Elmo Weyel, Mrs. Pete Iverson and Mrs. Jay Huckabee were guests of the club.

In the meeting on Jan. 21, the new officers for the club year 1959-60 were elected. They are: Mrs. Bill Lee, president; Mrs. Bob Womack, first vice-president; Mrs. Bill Fry, second vice-president; Mrs. Bill McClatchy, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Mark McLaughlin, recording secretary and Mrs. Gloria Rogers, treasurer.

Mrs. Gloria Rogers, who was in charge of the program Wednesday, introduced Mrs. Art Blanchard as guest speaker.

Mrs. Blanchard spoke on political and economic trends in Germany since 1946, when she was in Germany for several months.

By referring to the works of contemporary German writers, Mrs. Blanchard showed the development of the Nazi party "The German people are not as a nation to be held responsible for the growth of Hitler and Nazism any more than we as a nation can be held responsible for such American development as the Ku Klux Klan," Mrs. Blanchard said.

She described the many political parties in Germany and explained the structure of German government. After having seen the devestation of Germany in 1946, she said she is amazed to read now of the great restoration of German cities and the tremendous recovery that has been made by the German economy.

It was on a note of optimism with hope for a healthy economic and political future for Germany that Mrs. Blanchard ended her most interesting and informative talk.

Following the program, Mrs. Harold Lacik, acting president in the absence of Mrs. D. M. Dennis, presided over the business meeting.

On recommendation of the Ways and Means committee, the club voted to hold a bridge benefit the afternoon of Saturday, March 7, from 1 to 4:30, with admission to be $1.

World Day Of Prayer To Be Held Here February 13

The United Council of Church Women of Snyder will sponsor World Day of Prayer Friday, February 13, at 9:30 A. M. and 7:00 P. M. at Trinity Methodist Church. Mrs. Charles Tyer is World Day of Prayer Chairman for the local group. Mrs. Dale Clemmer will be in charge of the morning program and Mrs. Ned White will lead the evening observance which is especially for the working men and women and any other person who finds it more convenient to attend than the morning meeting. The public is cordially invited to each service. The theme is "Lord, I Believe."

This is the seventy-third observance of World Day of Prayer, which began in 1887. On the first Friday in Lent, thousands of Christians around the world will be united in a service of prayer and thanksgiving. Services begin on the Tonga Islands, west of the international Date Line, where Queen Salote leads her subjects in prayer.

Throughout the day prayers are raised in one hundred forty-four countries on six continents in more than sixty languages and one thousand dialects, ending with the setting sun on St. Lawrence Island, Alaska.

The purpose of the day is to unite all Christians in a bond of prayer, to pray for all the peoples of the world, and to make an offering for Christian missions at home and abroad. This offering is used for interdenominational mission work through the Divisions of Home and of Foreign Missions of the National Council of Churches.

Each year the service is written by Christians in a different country. The service for 1959 comes from Christian women of Egypt, where Christians are a tiny segment in the great Muslim sea. Yet they affirm "Lord, I Believe."

Needs Besides Good Seed

Good gardeners know that it costs the same to grow the poorest variety or mixture of flower, vegetable or grass as it does the finest and most satisfactory. Time and labor, plant food and possibly pesticides, watering when necessary — are the main outlay for garden and lawn. Cost of seeds are of minor consequence.

There may be a few cents difference in packets of alyssum or of zinnias or snapbeans, according to variety and what it costs the seed growers to produce those varieties. Purchase for results desired and you can forget the price.

Get the best seeds of the newest and best varieties of the kinds and colors you want. If in doubt, look in the seed catalogs or on the seed packets, front and back, for varieties which have merited All-America Selections awards. They are considered the finest of their kinds and colors. No garden can be better than the seeds you plant.

Paint the outside of a galvanized garbage can an appropriate color and put a large decal on the center of one side and use it to store unused garments or blankets in it. This is mouse proof and mothproof with the addition of a few moth crystals. This may be stored safely in either basement or attic. There is no need to decorate the can unless you really wish to do so.

Food Packaging

Jams and jellies will soon be available in individual-serving waxed paper cup type containers with 10 assorted flavors to the package. Ready-to-bake biscuits are now available in fibreboard containers that open easily and insure perfect-shape biscuits. Some meat products such as calf liver and pork sausage will soon appear in waxed paper tubs. These and many other new packaging developments account for the popularity of smokeless-odorless incinerators. The packages can be disposed of easily and quickly every day, 365 days of the year.

Calorie Watchers

Here's an easy way to make 6 delicious servings of creamed chipped beef: Use 4 ounces of dried chipped beef. Rinse the beef in boiling water to remove the excess salt; drain, then tear into shreds. Heat 2 cans of cream of mushroom soup with an equal amount of milk. Add the shredded beef. Beat one egg until foamy and very light. Fold it into the drief beef just before serving. Lots of protein in this!

Biscuit Spread

Chopped syrup-preserved ginger may be added to creamstyle cottage cheese and served as a spread for hot rich biscuit. Good with fried chicken!

LWV Officers Visit In Snyder

The visiting officers were guests of Mrs. Ann S. Spencer, local board member, while in Snyder.

Faked black diamonds have shown up in frosted gold-colored jewelry to enliven holiday dresses. These appear in pins and earrings, too.

New Alyssum For '59 Gardens

'Pink Heather' alyssum is the newest and first pink alyssum. It covers itself with bloom throughout the growing season. Attractive edging, rockery and pot plants are uniformly mounded and only six inches tall.

'Gardengreen' bush snapbean is the new prolific garden bean. Tender and meaty, stringless and fiberless, round straight pods are held up off the ground and are easy to pick.

'Jade Cross' Brussels Sprouts would win at any world's fair for vegetable perfection, the finest and earliest of all and each plant is loaded with dozens of sprouts from bottom to top.

These are the only All-America Selections for 1959 introduction, most outstnading of their kinds to date. Leading seed firms offer them.

A Call To Get Tough

If our State Department ever had any call to get tough with Soviet Russia, it is now. Evidence of a war-like attack on an unarmed U. S. transport plane by Soviet aircraft last September, but only made public yesterday, comes as shocking confirmation of suspicions held by the general public for a long time.

This, of course, is but one of many "incidents" which have occurred over a period of years. Moreover the pattern is well established. The Soviets always appear able to devise a new incident to claim attention as soon as an old one begins to wear thin.

The latest, which had a happier ending than the one in September, had all of the earmarks of a put up job. American soldiers with a motor convoy between West Berlin and West Germany were held up by East German Communists within sight of West German soil. The American soldiers said circumstances definitely indicated that the incident had been planned in advance and with a purpose.

There have been other incidents involving aircraft, and in every case the Soviet Union has either ignored protests altogether or replied with the traditional Oriental, "So Sorry, our mistake."

Disclosure that the United States has a tape recording of a conversation between Russian pilots prior to, and during the attack last September, is the most telling evidence to be made available to the public. Of the 17 men on board the American plane, the fate of 11 still remains a mystery. Six, including Lt. John Simpson, brother of Mrs. Sterling Parker of Snyder, were known to have been killed.

These "incidents" not only cause apprehension at home, but could make other nations wonder about the strength of America's backbone.

Krush Stalin Use Differen' Tactics

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 21st Communist party congress in Moscow, dominated by Premier Khrushchev, showed once again the difference between him and Stalin. It was the difference between an undertaker and a salesman.

Stalin was a constant reminder of death. Khrushchev puts on the jolly "Let's get together, fellows" act. He's just as tough as Stalin, but smoother.

Stalin's idea of getting rid of anyone he didn't like was to blow his head off. Khrushchev just shoves them into oblivion but lets them live. He has a growing list: Molotov, Malenkov, Bulganin, and others.

Khrushchev let the congress delegates get off steam by publicly scorning the old time Bolsheviks he pushed aside. But there's no sign he intends them any physical annihilation. This would seem a pretty good indication of his confidence in himself and his own sense of power.

Reports from Moscow disclosed nothing sensational at the congress which ended Thursday. Perhaps it was tougher for being fairly placid.

Khrushchev didn't really budge an inch toward the West, although near the end of the congress he called—as he has before—for an end to the cold war. In a burst of self-confident generosity he told the West it could consider itself the winner, "just so you end it forthwith."

He did boast of Soviet missile production, letting Americans and everyone else guess whether he was talking true or making propaganda. And he promised, as he had before, a better life for the Soviet masses.

There's no reason to think he won't or can't make good on his promises. People who have tried to undersell him before have found themselves wrong.

A psychologist would probably say Khrushchev's a lot smarter at getting work out of the Russians than Stalin.

Stalin got work and compliance by holding aloft a sword of terror. Khrushchev tries to give the Russians a sense of participation in the creation of their own future by whipping up enthusiasm for his programs.

The routine nature of the 21st congress was in great contrast with the sensations of the one in 1956 when Khrushchev shocked the whole communist world—not to mention the rest of the world—by downgrading Stalin.

It's a good guess he did that at that time in an effort to erase from everyone's mind, by demonstrating the reasonableness of the new Kremlin men, the idea that Soviet leadership was a symbol of barbarism.

If this is a correct assumption, Khrushchev now apparently feels his idea worked. He has no reluctance to pay some tribute to Stalin for laying the foundations of present Soviet successes.

Khrushchev stirred up the West with his demand that the allies get their troops out of Berlin and leave it an open city. It was a good starting point to create dissension among the Allies who may wind up having different ideas on how he should be answered.

He may have given the appearance of willingness to make concessions about West Berlin. It's an optical illusion so far. For example: he talked of possible unification of East and West Germany.

But he made it clear he is never going to stand by for a reunification that means the disappearance of communism in East Germany where the Russians worked hard to build it up.

Uncle Sam Doing Lot Of Building

WASHINGTON (AP)—Your government has built a lot of nifty new buildings lately, including a 13-million-dollar one that may have been put in the wrong place.

The Eisenhower administration wants to call a halt to voting any new projects at this time.

But the hammering and digging now going on all adds up to a sidewalk superintendent's dream—as well as a drain on the budget.

Hundreds of construction workers head for Capitol Hill every workday morning. Down on one corner, big machines are chewing out a pit on which another big office building will be built for House members. The congressmen already have two office buildings, but say they need more space. Cost of the new structure: more than 64 million dollars.

Across the street, the front of the Capitol is being ripped off to make more room. Cost: $10,100,000.

From the Capitol, you can look across the grounds to the impressive new office building for senators, now getting its finishing touches. Price tag: $25,400,000.

Workmen are busy a few blocks below Capitol Hill on a fancy new Museum of History and Technology for the Smithsonian Institution. The tab: 36 million dollars.

Down toward the Potomac River, work is coming along on a big addition to the State Department. Cost: 32 million dollars.

The Central Intelligence Agency will get a 46-million-dollar headquarters on the Virginia side of the Potomac. A government office building in Southwest Washington will cost $16,275,000.

The 13-million-dollar structure that many think may have been put in the wrong place is the Atomic Energy Commission Headquarters. It was completed a year ago at Germantown, Md. That's 28 miles from the center of federal activities here, and top officials must commute frequently for conferences. They look upon the travel distance as a nuisance and a waste of valuable time.

The administration stand on opposing any new projects at this time means some face-lifting planned for the city, including progressive elimination of temporary buildings built during World Wars I and II, is being put off again.

The administration in June 1956 outlined a proposed $386,314,000 program for the 1956-59 period to provide permanent quarters for 41,740 employes, or 63½ per cent of those then in temporary, nonconforming and leased space.

However, only about 163 million dollars worth of the buildings have been started or will be under way by the end of this year. These will accommodate only about one-fifth of the 41,740 employes.

In the face of the building already under way, the 1959-60 budget recommended that the government take a breathing spell in the initiation of new projects.

A check shows that the comparable Washington area building program under the Truman administration included:

Renovation of the White House, $5,759,648; a new General Accounting Office building, $25,349,494; a new central heating plant, $6,693,732; a new office building at Suitland, Md., $1,489,326; and a new federal court building, $11,999,758.

Time-Killing Now An Accepted Art

NEW YORK (AP)— One of the hardest things to kill successfully is—time.

It is a particularly tough problem in the modern business office. There the average man or woman has to spend eight hours doing work he could actually do in three hours.

This leaves him the task of pretending to look busy for five hours. You think this is easy? Well, it isn't. What professional actor wouldn't be worn out by a five-hour performance?

Yet office employes have to do this day after day after day—all year long.

They are trained workers, not trained actors. It isn't the three hours of daily work that makes them gray and feeble before their time. It's that five hours of daily acting—acting like they're busy when they aren't.

Some employes never learn the trick. Others give performances that would make John Barrymore in "Hamlet" look like a high school sophomore.

The chances are, however, that you will find at least some of he following typical examples of time-wasters in your own office:

The Endless Wanderer—All day long he wanders from the desk to the water cooler to the rest room—then back to his desk for five minutes, and on to the water cooler again. At 40 he has kidney trouble and fallen arches.

The Groundhog—He crawls into a tunnel in the pile of debris on his desk, and emerges only at lunch and quitting time.

The Dutch Wife—If cleanliness were godliness, this guy would sit at the right hand of the heavenly throne. He cleans his desk, his telephone, his swivel chair, his memo paid—and still has two hours left to devote to polishing his spectacles.

The Hypochondriac—He wastes so much time taking pills to improve his health that he ends up too sick to be fired.

The Open-eyed Sloth—He appears to be studying some office figures. Actually he is daydreaming, with his eyes wide open, of the girl he lost in kindergarten.

The Poor Deceiver—This poor fellow is so dumb he can't think of anything to do except to make paper airplanes and sail them out the window. He is off the payroll in two weeks.

The Coffee Break Artist—He can make a 15-minute coffee break last longer than a Roman orgy, but somehow he never gets caught. He is the secret office hero.

The Authentic Genius—This mental giant figured out that if he ran in and asked the boss's advise every half hour, he could waste two people's time instead of one. But the boss, grateful at feeling useful too, has given him three raises in the last year. Everybody hates him for his brains. But he doesn't care. Who else is smart enough to get the boss to do his work for him?

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS

TIGER CAGE FANS are hoping history repeats itself tonight when the Bengal basketeers go against the Sweetwater Mustangs at Sweetwater.

The Tigers haven't lost a basketball game in Sweetwater since J. P. Ward took over the SHS cage reins some five seasons ago.

Ward came to Snyder in the fall of 1954 and the Black and Golders have proceeded to trim the Mustangs four straight times in the Pony Gym.

Milton Ham, a sophomore at the time, got the streak going in the 1954-55 season when he hit a field goal in the final 10 seconds for a 66-64 Tiger victory.

The Tigers then measured the Mustangs in 1956 and 1957 with Ham again figuring heavily in the victory on each occasion.

In 1956 the Tigers downed the Mustangs at Sweetwater, 71-64 with Ham leading the Bengals in scoring with 21 points and the Tigers followed up in 1957 for a 65-61 decision, Ham again leading the Tiger scorers with 19.

Then the Tigers made it four straight over the Mustangs in the Pony playhouse last season, 61-46, Israel Hinojos leading the Tigers with 16 points.

Complete Turnover In Tiger Ranks

The Tigers have been the underdogs before to the Ponies in the past four years but never as much as the Cats will be in tomorrow's game.

Not a single member of the current Tiger squad played against Sweetwater last season while the Mustangs have two boys who started against the Tigers last year, Buford Patterson and James Parker.

Patterson, in fact, was the top scorer for the Mustangs in last year's Tiger-Pony game at Sweetwater with 14 points.

We'll venture, however, that the Tigers may well make it five straight wins in the Pony gym if they can come anywhere's close to their performances of the past two games.

You can rest assured the Tigers will make an all-out effort to keep their streak going tomorrow night. Nothing is more pleasing to the Tigers and Mustangs to beat each other in any sport. The fans have followed the Tigers well to Sweetwater the past two seasons but the district title hinged on the outcome each time.

sports add buckin the line

This year, though, the importance of the game, titlewise, is missing. But the Bengals would still like to win and they'd cettianly appreciate your continued

Ex-Graham Coach Given The "Boot"

Roy Curry, who left a wealth of material at Graham a couple of seasons ago to take the head coaching job at Arlington Heights of Fort Worth, was recently fired as the Yellow Jacket coach.

Curry, you may recall, was the Graham mentor in 1956 when the Steers scored in the last 20 seconds of the game to nip the Tigers, 7-6, in bi-district play.

Graham lost only one starter off the club but Curry, nonetheless, accepted the offer to become head coach at Arlington Heights for the 1957 season.

Arlington Heights, under Curry's guidance the past two years, managed only three wins in 20 starts, leading to his ouster.

Curry was retained in the Fort Worth school system, though, as a junior high coach.

Mudd Leads Eagles Past H-SU, 73-72

DENTON (AP)—Jim Mudd, a 6-7 Eagle, fired for 12 field goals last night as North Texas defeated Hardin-Simmons 73-72.

Mudd was pulled from his customary spot under the basket and hit most of his field goals from outside the circle. He added three free throws to tie Hardin-Simmons Martin for scoring honors with 27 points.

New Faces To Give Phillies A Boost

(Fifth of a series under the managers' own bylines sizing up their teams' pennant chances)

By EDDIE SAWYER
Philadelphia Phillies

WAYNE, Pa. (AP) — I think the Philadelphia Phillies have made some progress since the end of the 1958 season — on paper, at least.

The 1959 squad will be younger and faster. Several weak spots have been improved, especially in the infield and behind the plate, through trades and purchases.

We purchased Johnny O'Brien for infield insurance, acquired third baseman Gene Freese from St. Louis for Solly Hemus, shortstop Ruben Amaro in the deal that sent outfielder Chuck Essegian to the Cardinals, and second baseman Sparky Anderson from Los Angeles for Rip Repulski and two minor league pitchers.

This gives us some depth in the infield that we didn't have before. Some of these boys were minor leaguers last year but they have been standouts in their positions.

Our catching was spotty last year due to injuries, etc., so we made a deal with San Francisco for Valmy Thomas and pitcher Ruben Gomez. We had to give up a good pitcher in Jack Sanford, but we had to have help behind the plate. Jim Hegan, who was acquired from Detroit near the end of last season, should help our catching department, too.

The strong point for the Phillies has been pitching and that should be our long suit again. We have a number of youngsters with good arms who have a chance to be good pitchers in the majors.

Robin Roberts made his comeback last season and looked good especially in the second half of the season. Ray Semproch was a fine rookie. I also consider Don Cardwell and Jack Meyer potential stars. I am anxious to get a look at Ruben Gomez as well as Al Schroll, a pitcher we purchased from Minneapolis after he won three games in the Little World Series.

I look for Curt Simmons to make a comeback and feel that Seth Morehead has all the requisites of a top-level man.

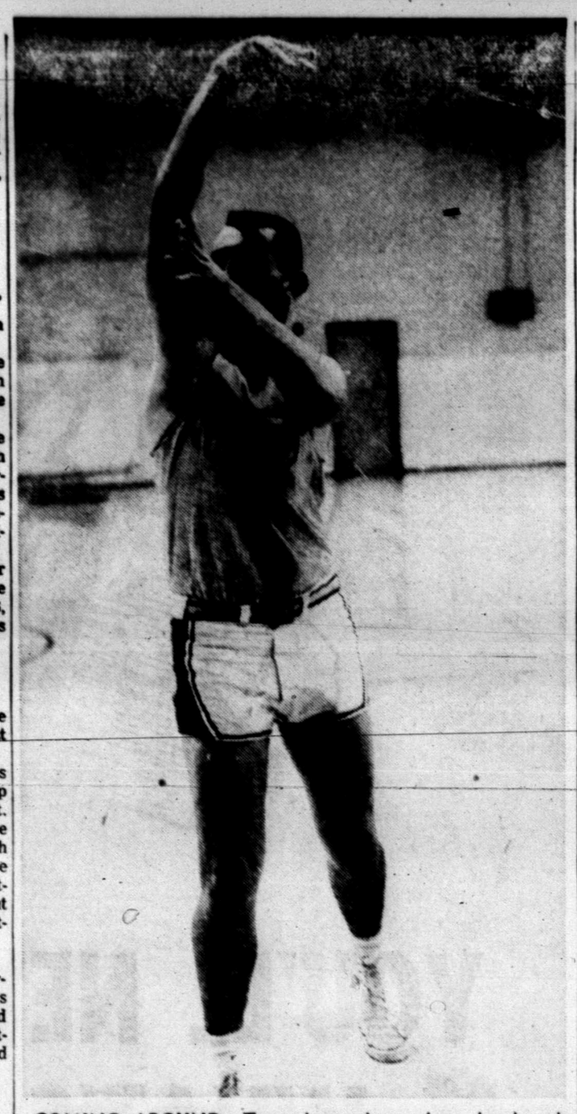
Although we were last we had the batting king in Richie Ashburn and the best pinch hitting percentage in the majors. We won our last six games against the two top clubs, Milwaukee and Pittsburgh.

Milwaukee, San Francisco and Pittsburgh are the teams to beat and I feel that they will battle down to the wire for the pennant, with the rest of the clubs acting as spoilers.

Next —Paul Richards, Baltimore Orioles

Frank McKinney of Indianapolis, a bronze medalist in the 1956 Olympic games, is the son of former Pittsburgh Pirate President Frank McKinney.

Three of the University of Wyoming varsity basketball players come from Nebraska. They are Hal Whitefoot, LeRoy Hulsebus and Bill Nelson.



COMING AROUND—Terry Lee, above, has developed into a valuable hand for the Tigers since district play began. Lee pumped in three quick field goals in the second quarter against Colorado City Tuesday night to send the Tigers reeling to a 56-48 decision. Lee, who has started on occasions, is ticketed for plenty of action against Sweetwater tonight. (Lee Watson photograph)

Tigers Battle Ponies Tonite

The Tiger basketeers, fresh from their first victory of '59, will be out to make it two straight tonight when they battle the Sweetwater Mustangs at Sweetwater in a District 3-AAA contest.

Tipoff time will be 8 p.m. The "B" teams of the two schools will clash at 6:30.

Coach J. P. Ward's Tigers broke a nine-game losing streak Tuesday night with a 56-48 decision over the Colorado City Wolves. At the same time, Sweetwater was handing the Lamesa Tornadoes a surprise defeat, 50-42, to pull into a two-way tie for second place in the district standings.

Lake View leads the district race, won by the Tigers the past two years, with a 4-0 record. Lamesa and Sweetwater trail with 3-2 records while the Tigers and Colorado City share the cellar spot with 1-4 marks.

For the season, the Tigers are 5-12 and the Mustangs 9-12.

Sweetwater measured the Tigers, 51-42, in the first round of the double-round robin district schedule. The Tigers led 22-21 at halftime in the first game with the Mustangs but the Ponies came back strong in the second half for the victory.

Buford Patterson is the leading Mustang scorer in district play with 79 points in five games for a 15.8 average. Danny Tankersley leads the Tigers with 69 points in five outings for a 13.8 average.

Patterson ranks third in district scoring and Tankersley fifth.

Following are the probable starting lineups for tonight's game with district scoring figures:

TIGERS

Forwards — Jerry Fleming (31) and Jimmy Don Robinson (23).
Center — Danny Tankersley (69).
Guards — Stan Hulen (33) and Bill Dubose (64).

SWEETWATER

Forwards — Buford Patterson (79) and James Parker (33).
Center — Billy Belew (50).
Guards — Carroll Feagan (52) and Wayne Witt (25).

Boys Club Rallies For 77-76 Win

The Boys Club and Canyon Reef staged fourth quarter rallies last night to annex victories in the City Basketball League at Junior High Gym.

The Boys Club overcame a 5-point third quarter deficit to edge past Poe & Wasson, 77-76, in the feature game. Canyon Reef was forced to erase a 9-point deficit after three quarters of play to defeat D&H Grocery, 59-49.

By winning, the Boys Club continued unbeaten in five games and it virtually sewed up the title for the Boys Clubbers. The defeat pushed Poe & Wasson to third place in the standings.

Poe & Wasson, after trailing 19-17 in the first quarter, came back to lead at halftime, 33-30 and 54-49 after three quarters. But the Boys Club rallied to pull the game out in the final period.

Four Boys Clubbers scored in double figures with Royce Burrows leading the way with 26 points. Israel Hinojos followed with 20 and Ace Amos and Bill Hartsfield with 13 each.

High point honors of the game, however, went to Howard Jones of Poe & Wasson who tallied 33 points, 23 of them coming in the last half. Bob Womack was the only other Blackhawk in double figures with 15.

D&H Grocery, down 27-23 at halftime, surged ahead 45-36 at the three quarter mark but the Grocerymen cooled off in the final quarter, scoring only four points, and Canyon Reef pulled the game out, 59-49.

Grady Gafford led Canyon Reef with 23 points, followed by Clarence Minton with 19 and Carter with 10.

Jim Strother led D&H with 14 points with Ted Masters and Dub Holt next with 10 apiece.

Canyon Reef took over second place in the standings with last night's win.

Tiger Frosh Nips Ponies; B-Devils Bow

The Tiger Freshman cagers outlasted the Sweetwater Freshman in a nip-and-tuck contest yesterday at Sweetwater, 44-43, to annex their 13th win in 18 starts.

Sweetwater, however, swept the two junior high games, winning 32-26 in the 8th grade game and 24-10 in the 7th grade tilts. Snyder, previously, had swept both games in the junior high ranks at Snyder.

Little Steve Free led the Tiger Freshmen to victory with 22 points despite fouling out with three minutes to go. Larry McNair, who also fouled out, followed with seven points and Mike Morris with six, Ed Phy with four, Freddie Miller and Travis Hatter with two apiece and Gilbert Hinojos with one.

Aldridge was high for Sweetwater with 19. Snyder led 11-4 after the first quarter and 21-20 at halftime with Sweetwater taking a 36-34 lead at three quarters. But the Kittens rallied in the final quarter for the win. Sweetwater missed a chance at tying or winning the game in the final two second when she had a 1-and-1 situation at the free throw line, only to miss on the first shot.

Snyder 8th lost its third game in 17 starts this season to Sweetwater 8th. In the previous game, Snyder had whacked Sweetwater 8th by 47-19.

Pat LaFountain and Jimmy Taylor led the Blue Devil 8th graders yesterday with five points apiece followed by Stuart Long, Darrell Aldridge Kenny Wellborn with four each and Luke Nigliazzo and William Robinson with two each.

The Tiger Freshmen and Blue Devil 8th grade will compete in tournament play this weekend. The Tiger Frosh goes to Big Spring, meeting Goliad of Big Spring at 2:30 today while the Blue Devil 8th grade goes to Andrews. The locals will meet Brownfield tonight at 7:15 in the opening round at Andrews. Both tournaments will continue through Saturday.

Snyder Wins Lone Match

BROWNWOOD, Feb. 5 — Only one Snyder boxer saw action here Thursday night in the opening night of the Regional Golden Gloves Tournament here.

Marvin (Potter) Mayfield, Snyder decisioned Jimmy Manser of Brady in the Pee Wee Division in the lone bout involving Snyder. Mayfield floored Manser in the first round and then proceeded to a clear-cut decision.

Snyder brought a team of 15 boys here, most of whom will fight tonight. The Snyder team is already assured of two titles and a runnerup in the High School Division.

Bantamweight Abe Gonzales and lightweight David McKinley of the Snyder team are unopposed while middleweight Leon Deere has already gained the finals.

The finals will be unreeled tomorrow night.

Life Begins At 40 Tourney To S-Finals

HARLINGEN (AP) — David Goldman, medalist and twice champion, meets Jennings Gordon and defending champion Phil Powell plays Lonnie Wendland today in the semi-finals of the Life Begins at 40 Golf Tournament.

Goldman, of Dallas, shot 3-under-par golf yesterday in taking out D. T. Byrne of Canada 7 and 3.

Powell, of Wichita Falls, was two over par when he disposed of Dutch Kuenstler of Alice 3 and 2. Wendland, of McAllen, defeated Calvin Huff of Raymondville 4 and 3. Gordon, a Rome, Ga., golfer, ousted Huck Harrison of Brownsville 4 and 3.

Harvard's baseball batterymates pitcher Gerry Emmett and catcher John Davis, are key members of the Crimson squash team.

Bradley Making Big Noise In Missouri Valley Cage Circles

By DON WEISS

The way the Bradley Braves have honed their hatchets, the three-team run for the Missouri Valley Conference basketball title should be a dilly.

The Braves, who whipped Seattle 86-70 in an intersectional game Thursday night, are involved in a race with Cincinnati and St. Louis that should carry the stretch suspense of some of the old Cunningham-Venzke-Bonthron mile duels.

Only the Southeastern Conference, with Auburn, Kentucky and Mississippi State, can hope to match the Mo Valley for class and balance at the top of the league standings.

Cincinnati, with its great Oscar Robertson, is the front-runner in the MV with an 8-0 league mark. St. Louis, carrying a 12-game winning streak, and Bradley trail with 5-1 conference record. Both defeats were inflicted by Cincinnati.

But there's still a lot to come before the race winds up March 7, when Bradley entertains Cincinnati on its home court. In between, Cincinnati has another game with St. Louis, and St. Louis and Bradley meet in a home-and-home series.

These should be some games, with Cincinnati currently fifth in The Associated Press' national poll with a 15-2 overall record, Bradley eighth on a 16-2 ledger and St. Louis ninth with 14-2.

The hunch is all three are stronger clubs since the last time they saw each other. Cincinnati has nailed nine in a row since it ran into a two-setback roadblock in the Dixie classic during Christmas week. St. Louis hasn't lost since it fell to Cincinnati 57-50 on Dec. 20.

Bradley is streaking with six victories since falling to Louisville three weeks.

The prize they are aiming for carries an automatic berth in the NCAA tournament. The conference runner-up usually goes to the National nvitation tournament.

St. John's (NY) returned to Madison Square Garden and regained its winning touch 85-76 over Richmond. Utah fattened its Skyline Conference lead by trimming Colorado State U. 68-48, and Eastern Kentucky held its Ohio Valley Conference lead with a 72-69 decision over Tennessee Tech in Thursday night's other features.

Bucknell handed Temple its 12th loss in 17 tries, 79-72 as Bob Ericson scored six points in the closing minutes. Bob Skousen hit for 24 points and John Nicoll 22 in Brigham Young's 85-77 victory over New Mexico, and Montana dropped Wyoming 73-61 despite a 36-point performance by Tony Windis. Orby Arnold's 21 points led Memphis State over Tampa, 95-65.

All Indians, Cubs Have Inked Pacts

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Chicago Cubs and the Cleveland Indians are ready for the start of spring training.

The Cubs joined the Indians Thursday as the only major league baseball clubs with all players signed when pitcher Dave Hillman agreed to terms. Cleveland announced last week that all its players were in the fold.

Activity on the signing front was brisk Thursday as other clubs also received signed agreements from their hired hands.

The Chicago White Sox signed their 24th and 25th players, leaving them with 14 unsigned. Centerfielder Jim Landis and rookie pitcher Stover McIlwain were the pair who agreed to terms.

The Los Angeles Dodgers boosted their signees to 24 when Jim (Junior) Gilliam, an infielder-outfielder, came to terms. Gilliam batted .261 last year.

Three Philadelphia Phils' players signed, bringing the total to 24. Infielder Bobby Young, catcher Jim Hegan and rookie pitcher Don Erickson were the latest to join the fold, leaving 18 unsigned.

The Kansas City Athletics increased their list to 20 when veteran infielder-outfielder Dick Williams and three rookies agreed to terms.

The others were pitchers Ken Johnson and George Brunet and second baseman Luke Klimchoch.

A pair of New York Yankee catchers signed, bringing the Yank list to 10. Darrell Johnson and rookie John Blanchard were the signees.

The Boston Red Sox signed two rookie pitching prospects, Jerry Casale and Arnold Earley, bringing their total to 14.

Cardinals In 'Must' Game

Hermleigh will face a do-or-die situation tonight when they meet Westbrook in a District 16-B cage tilt at Westbrook.

Westbrook leads the race with a 5-0 record with Hermleigh second at 4-1. A Cardinal win tonight would deadlock the title chase. Westbrook handed Hermleigh its lone district setback earlier in the season, 56-54.

In the girls game, Westbrook is in second place at 4-1, and will be

MUSICIANS TURN SALESMEN—Members of the Snyder High School band and vocal music departments have turned into salesmen for this week and next week—selling magazine subscriptions. Profits from the magazine sales will be used to help pay costs of the spring trip the students take. They hope to raise enough money to take a trip to Corpus Christi. Pictured above three of the four team captains are making a sale to Mrs. L. L. Mooty, 3722 Austin. The students are, from left, Phillip Smartt, Jerry Roe and Camilla Roberts. The fourth captain, not shown, is Bob Fields. (Lee Watson photograph)

Child Slain By Father In Theater

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — A woman screamed hysterically in the darkness: "He's killing my baby."

An usher snapped on the theater lights, and some 50 patrons turned in their seats. They saw Jose Longoria slashing wildly with a pocket knife at a small boy, his son Steven.

The 4-year-old died quickly of body wounds.

The mother, Violet, 25, sobbing as she was taken to a hospital for treatment of shock, told police the story.

She and her husband were estranged. She and Steven were living with her parents. Longoria, 32, was released from jail only last Thursday after serving time for drunken driving. He asked to meet her Thursday to discuss future custody of the boy.

The child sat enthralled by the movie, one specifically aimed at youngsters. His parents became more and more embroiled in a bitter discussion.

Apparently no one heard them. They were in the back row of the spacious Warner Theatre. Most of the other patrons were down front, or in the balcony.

Suddenly, police said, Longoria flashed the knife.

A patron, David Cole, was the first to reach Longoria when the lights went on. The father offered no resistance.

Police said Longoria had told them he felt the child was under a bad influence.

"I love my son, but I'd rather have him dead then grow up to be a juvenile delinquent," he said.

Longoria, onetime investigator for a private detective agency and lately a laborer, was charged with murder.

Wife Hears Fatal Shot

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Henry Scates, 42, telephoned his wife Thursday and said, "Honey when you hear this shot go off, that will be all of it."

Mrs. Scates heard a shot over the phone, then silence on the other end.

When police reached the Scates home, they found him dead of a head wound, slumped in a chair with a rifle beside him.

Mrs. Scates was at work in a downtown jewelry store.

Justice W. E. Richburg, who ruled suicide, said Scates apparently was despondent over loss of his job during layoffs last year at a nearby aircraft plant. He was a technical writer.

Maria Callas Loses Battle In Court

MILAN, Italy (AP) — Maria Callas has lost another fight.

A Milan court ruled Thursday that the music critic of the newspaper Il Giorno didn't libel her when he wrote after her La Scala performance of "Anna Bolena" last year that she had hired people to applaud her, "struck amateur-like poses," and was "unworthy to tread the stage of La Scala."

The court said the wrtier, Beniamino dal Fabro, was only exercising his normal right of artistic criticism. The soprano was ordered to pay costs of the case. She had sued for 100,000 lire—$160.

School Musicians Become Salesmen

Have you just started a serial story in one of your favorite magazines, then received a notice that the magazine subscription has run out?

If that has happened to you it is no longer necessary to worry about whether the villian was caught, or the young lovers eloped — you can keep getting the magazine and never miss an issue.

Members of the Snyder High School band and vocal music departments are selling magazine subscriptions to raise money for their spring trip, and they hope to raise enough to go to Corpus Christi.

"We have all popular magazines —even many which are not ordinarily stocked by news stands," Bob Fields, one of the four team captains in the drive, said.

Last year, band and music students sold a total of about $6,000 worth of subscriptions and netted a profit of about 38 per cent of the sales.

"We got a little more than $2,500 out of the magazine sales, which was enough for a nice trip to Corpus Christi," Melvin Montgomery, band director, said.

"The campaign was conducted at about this same time last year, and there are many persons in Snyder whose subscriptions are about to expire," Montgomery added.

He suggested that a call to any member of the band or music department would get prompt action, or that prospective subscribers could call the band hall at HI-3-6303, or contact any band or vocal music student.

The students have formed four teams and the teams and individuals who sell the most magazines will receive prizes. The top individual salesman will receive a console high-fidelity record player. Other individual prizes will be given in drawings to students who sell their quota of eight magazines, Montgomery said.

No Violation By Calvert Reported

AUSTIN (AP) — The Travis County Grand Jury agreed yesterday with State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert that no law was violated in his accepting an alleged $28,000 in cash from his employes.

The grand jury reported a short time after it questioned Calvert for about an hour. The state's No. 1 bookkeeper and fiscal officer took 417 sworn statements from present and former employes into the secret room with him.

Calvert, 67, said the affidavits proved employes gave voluntarily when they contributed cash for his Christmas presents.

"I know that there has been no violation whatsoever either in spirit or in letter by me or any person connected with the giving of these gifts," Calvert told newsmen. Calvert denied the money totaled $28,000. He estimated it at between $13,000 and $15,000 since 1949.

The grand jury's report said:

"After a thorough investigation of the testimony given before the Senate Investigating Committee and interrogation of witnesses from the Senate Investigating Committee, the comptroller's office and Robert S. Calvert, the Travis County Grand Jury has found no violation of law."

At the same time, the 12-member body returned an indictment of misapplication of $13,014 in public funds against Jess M. Mansfield, auditor in the Comptroller's Department for 25 years.

Mansfield was charged Nov. 26 with misapplying monies he received from an Austin service station. He had the checks for state taxes made out directly to him.

Close friends and investigating officers said Mansfield was in ill health and had several operations the past few years.

Three Children Die As Building Burns

SOMERVILLE, Mass. (AP) — Three children perished early today on the top floor of a burning three-story wooden dwelling, two of them when they mistakenly entered a closet in the belief it was the exit.

Found dead in the closet were Daniel Hennessey, 12, and his 6-year-old brother, Lawrence.

Their sister, Jeannette, 11, was found dead in bed.

Their mother, Irene Hennessey, 30, was burned on the face, hands and body and had to be carried out of the flaming apartment bodily to keep her from further injury in her efforts to rescue her children.

Nye Denies He Confessed Cuba Crime

By STANFORD BRADSHAW

HAVANA (AP) — Alan Robert Nye was reported today to have denied that he had confessed to plotting to assassinate rebel leader Fidel Castro.

The 31-year-old former U.S. Navy pilot from Whiting, Ind., reportedly made his denial to U.S. Vice Consul Hugh Kessler in an interview with him Thursday. Kessler declined to confirm the report.

Police headquarters also had no comment. High revolutionary police and military officials met until late Thursday night discussing Nye's case.

The rebels arrested the American six-footer as he marhed in their ranks in Orient Province Dec. 26 five days before ex-president Fulgencio Batista fled and Castro's revolution triumphed.

Brought to Havana after the rebel victory, he told news men Monday that he was not involved in any plot against Castro but had wanted to fight for the revolutionary cause.

Police headquarters announced Thursday that Nye had confessed he had gone to eastern Cuba to kill the rebel chief and that Brig. Gen. Carlos Tabernilla, head of Batista's air force, had promised him $100,000 if he did the deed.

The police said Nye had made the statement voluntarily and had not been mistreated. He was being held on a technical charge of landing illegally in Cuba, but there was no hint of what further action would be taken against him.

QUESTION: How many times can a kangaroo jump in a mile?

* * *

ANSWER: This depends on how fast the kangaroo wants to cover the mile, of course. With his huge hind legs, he is a powerful jumper. He can take little jumps or he can jump several times his own size. Kangaroos range in size from two to eight feet, but most of them are about seven feet in height. If a 7-foot kangaroo takes jumps only his own size, he could cover the mile in 755 jumps. If he jumps three times his size, he could make it in only 248 jumps. He probably couldn't keep up this pace for very long, but you can get an idea of how quickly he can travel when he needs to.

* * *

FOR YOU TO DO: How many jumps would it take you to cover a mile? Measure off 12 feet, then see how many jumps it takes you to cover it. Start with your feet together and don't take any run. Divide the number of hops into 12 and you will have the average size of your jumps. Now divide the size of the hop—two feet, perhaps—into 5,280 feet and you have your answer.

'Macbeth' Finally Reaches Met Stage

By W. G. ROGERS
Associated Press Arts Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — It took Verdi's "Macbeth" 112 years to get a Metropolitan opera performance. But it looked Thursday night, and sounded too, as though it had been worth waiting for.

There have been other presentations of this somewhat ungracious work in this city, and the new voice heard in it had also been heard in town before. But they were two firsts for the Met, and there were some very exciting perfections in both singer and production.

Leonie Rysanek, a soprano from Vienna, made her Metropolitan debut as Lady Macbeth. Though the attractive young singer gave an angry and impassioned interpretation, she didn't quite drive on to that whiplash fury which Verdi worked into many pages of his score and which Shakespeare, too, wrote into the role of the woman beset by implacable ambition.

On the other hand she had some beautiful high notes and loud, too, that never wavered and never turned shrill. Every sound she uttered was a pleasure, and often her voice was completely lovely. She filled the vast house with her top notes, though there was not the same volume to the lower ones, unless Conductor Erich Leinsdorf, in an otherwise admirable dynamic reading, covered her voice a bit too much with his fine orchestra.

Leonard Warren had the title role, and as always, his remarkably versatile voice responded to all his demands. The script required him to simulate terror and some other emotions that he didn't always communicate, but that probably wasn't his fault.

For the other characters, Jerome Hines made an imposing Banquo, and Carlo Bergonzi was Macduff.

Carl Ebert staged the work, and Caspar Neher did costumes and sets. Both were here for the first time. Dimitri Mitropoulos began the prepreation but, stricken ill, he was replaced by Leinsdorf for final rehearsals and Thursday night's premiere.

Says Soviets Coldhearted

DALLAS (AP)—The wife of one of the U.S. Airmen missing since Russian fighter pilots shot down their transport plane last September said last night she can not understand how the Russian pilots could have been so coldhearted.

Mrs. LaRoy Price, who lives here, commented on the recording of the conversation between the Russian jet pilots during the attack and released by the State Department.

"I don't see how the Russians could be so coldhearted," she said. "Of all our pilots I know, I don't think one of them could do such a thing."

Her husband, Sgt. LaRoy Price, is one of the plane's crew still listed as missing. Six of the 17 crewmen were reported killed.

Mrs. Price said that she planned to attend the burial of two of the crewmen at Arlington National Cemetery, Washington, today.

Another Member Of 'Our Gang' Cast Dies

MEADVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Death has claimed a second former member of the "Our Gang" movie comedy cast within the past three weeks.

Don Law, 38, who played "Fats" in some 20 of the old-time child comedy films, died here Thursday after a brief illness.

Carl (Alfalfa) Switzer, 32, was shot to death Jan. 21 in Van Nuys, Calif., in a fight over $50.

In recent years Law managed a clothing store and the Meadville office of the Greyhound-Harmony shortline bus companies. He is survived by his wife and three children. Funeral services will be held Monday.

Four Negro Children Perish In Home Fire

AUSTELL, Ga. (AP)—Four Negro children, aged 1 to 4, perished in a fire that raced through their two-room frame house near here Thursday night.

Police identified them as Loretta Ellison, 1; Gary Gene, 2; William Henry Jr., 3; and Sara Ann, 4; children of Mr. and Mrs. William Henry Ellison.

The parents were visiting neighbors when the fire broke out.

Ellison told police he guessed the reason the house burned so rapidly was because it was sealed with old cardboard boxes. The cause of the fire was not determined.

Tripplers In Oklahoma Are Near Revolt

By JIM MONROE

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—"This could cause a revolution," said a would-be whisky drinker.

"Why, my bootlegger said he didn't have any vodka and didn't even know when he'd get some," said a social drinker.

"There ought to be a law against this," said a clubman.

For 50 years folks in constitutionally dry Oklahoma haven't been bothered by the law. But suddenly it is being enforced.

Oklahomans are talking more about whisky and probably are drinking less than ever before. And they are paying more if they do drink.

The reform administration of 33-year-old Gov. J. Howard Edmondson is trying to dry up the state and bring repeal to a vote.

"We want to give the people a clear-cut choice between prohibition and repeal," Edmondson said.

Whisky bills and a referendum proposal are before the Legislature.

Joe Cannon, 33, an attorney from Muskogee, is directing the crackdown on bootleggers as public safety commissioner heading the Highway Patrol. He has staged periodic roadblocks across the state, trying to stop the flow of illegal liquor from Missouri, Kansas, Texas, and Arkansas.

In the past month whisky has gone up $1 to $1.50 a pint, if you can find it.

"I just can't serve my people," a bootlegger explained. "But one thing about it, they're not fussy anymore. I've had people beg me for Scotch that never drank Scotch in their life. It was all I had."

Bourbon, the biggest seller, now goes for $5.50 a pint in Oklahoma City.

INFANT BAPTISM

(Question) Does the Bible teach that infants are to be baptized?

(Answer) The bible teaches that baptism is for those who have been TAUGHT the gospel. (Matt. 28:19) For those who have BELIEVED the gospel. (Mark 16:16) For those who have Repented of their sins. (Acts 2:38) An infant cannot be taught has no sins of which to repent and thus cannot be scripturally baptized. If the infant baptism theory were universally followed, in a few generations there would not be a person on the earth scripturally baptized. Infant baptism had its origin with those who believe that babies are born totally depraved. Since Baptism is connected with forgiveness of sins, they then originated the practice of infant baptism to remove this alledged stain. Here is a case where one false doctrine begat another. Recently I read, "Children may be lawfully baptized even if the parents object, provided the child is in danger of death and it can be forseen that the child will die before attaining the use of reason . . ." Contrast this with, "If thou BELIEVEST with all thine heart, thou mayest" (Acts 8:37) Many imbibe their religious belief from men they consider Godly, without investigating the bible at all. They assume that which is in direct opposition with the bible. Such is the case of Infant Baptism.

(Address letters to Mr. Pace in care of the 25th Street Church of Christ)

ON BRITAIN TOUR—The Rev. G. M. Cole pastor of the First Baptist Church here, is shown as he left Houston by KLM Royal Dutch Airlines Monday with a group of 77 Southern Baptists on an evangelistic crusade to England. The $100,000 trip for the group will include two weeks of preaching in Britain. Rev. Cole will then visit the Holy Land with a smaller group.

CHURCH NEWS

Calvary To Host Meeting

The Calvary Baptist Church will be host Tuesday for a monthly meeting of the Central-West Texas Baptist Bible Fellowship.

Representatives are expected from about 20 churches in the areas of San Angelo, Ballinger, Brownwood, Abilene, and Sweetwater.

The program will begin at 10 a.m. and close at 3 p.m. Lunch will be served to the guests by women of the church here.

Special music will be included on the program, and there will be a special talk at 1:15 p.m. for women, while ministers are in a special meeting, by Mrs. R. M. Perry of San Angelo, who recently celebrated her 50th anniversary of teaching the Bible.

Spivey To Training Meeting In Dallas

The Rev. R. Charles Spivey, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, will attend a church officers training meeting next Monday through Wednesday in Dallas.

The meeting, to be attended by all pastors of the United Presbyterian Churches, is designed to help pastors learn how to better train church officers. It will be held at the City Temple Presbyterian Church in Dallas.

Rev. Spivey is chairman of the committee on foreign missions for the churches in Texas, and while at the meeting he will hold another meeting of presbytery chairmen.

THIS WE BELIEVE:

As a great building rests upon the structure of its foundations, so a great Church must be established upon a firm foundation of faith in Bible truth.

2. We believe there is one God Persons: Father, Son and Holy eternally existent in three Spirit. Matt. 28:19-20; Matt. 3:16-17; 1 John 5:7.

JACK DEAN—Pastor

Dreamed of by millions, searched for by many, discovered by a few.

Established, built, maintained, and governed by a Fundamental Belief in God. That is America — these United States. That is our home . . . that is you and me. How else could the heritage we hold come into being? A System? . . . Not so! But a dedicated, consecrated way of life as set forth in the Sermon on the Mount. Through the grief and misery suffered at Valley Forge, shines the same light which has illuminated men's minds since time began.

That same light — the Word of God — is now lighting and showing the way — the way of truth — to us as a nation and as individuals.

Just so long as each of us, each day, rededicate our lives to a Fundamental Belief in God — shall we endure.

The Public Spirited Firms and Individuals on this page bring you this weekly message in the hope that it will point to a better way of life and be an inspiration to everyone.
