that land should be plowed in about 4 inches deep all vegetation should be turned under. Then ground should be packed with surface packed so as to make seed bed.

after each rain the land should harrowed to break the hard crust will form on the surface and the moisture in the ground.

that should be sowed about the 1st of September. About 40 lbs. of cleaned seed should be sowed with a drill that will distribute the seed evenly about two and a inches deep. After the wheat grown and has a good start about 1st of December take a straw roller and spread a light covering straw over the ground this will hold moisture and keep the out from the cold weather.

then don't pasture the wheat and you will likely have some wheat anything else is favorable.

LITTLE SON OF MR. AND MRS. McLARTY PASSES AWAY

Died at his home in our city, little R. V., son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McLarty, aged four years and one month Death came to this little boy at 9:30 a. m. yesterday after an illness of only a few days duration.

The funeral of the little son will be held at the Ochiltree Cemetery at two o'clock this afternoon. Rev. I. W. Rogers, pastor of the First Baptist Church will conduct the services.

This beautiful child life was so precious, so fraught with blessings to his parents that he seemed a flower of paradise permitted to bloom for a brief season by their side, then recalled to its native skies, leaving the earth read for them lonely and dark indeed. The Herald extends its heartfelt thanks to the sorrowful parents in this sad hour of bereavement.

CARD OF THANKS

I want to express my appreciation to the good people of Perryton who so kindly came to the assistance of my son, Eldon Drake, and family when they lost all their furniture and household effects in the fire which destroyed their home last Tuesday afternoon. O. E. Drake

RESIDENCE DESTROYED BY FIRE

The residence occupied by W. E. Payne and P. W. Drake was burned to the ground on last Wednesday afternoon. The fire was caused by the explosion of an oil stove. The building and contents were a total loss. E. T. King, the owner, carried insurance of $500.00 which partially covers his loss.

A GOOD RAIN

Everybody is wearing a big smile these days, because our long dry spell has at last been broken. This entire section was visited by a fine rain which fell last Monday night. It is estimated that at least one half inch of that much needed moisture came down. This little rain will do much good but we still need more—So won't somebody please prevail on the weather man to open up his reservoir again real soon.

The Herald $1.50 a year in advance.

PAY YOUR POLL TAX IF YOU EXPECT TO VOTE

We wish to call the attention of all voters and more especially the women to the fact that only those that pay their poll tax before February 1st are entitled to a vote in any election. Last year many people lost their vote on account of not attending to this matter soon enough. This is the year of election of county officers and each and everyone should see that the right men are put into office, but you can't do this except by the power of your votes. The law states that all males and females over 21 and under 60 must pay poll tax before Feb. 1, of each year if they expect to cast a vote.

Don't let 12 p. m. on Jan. 31st find you without a paid up poll tax receipt.

Prominent speakers and highway engineers will be invited to attend the convention.

The D-C-D Highway Association will publish about February 15 th several thousand copies of the "D-C-D Highway News", which will be distributed free along the lines between Galveston, Texas, and Boulder, Colo. CARD OF THANKS

To all the friends whose sympathy and services were so kindly tendered in this time of bereavement, I desire to extend my sincere thanks. Mrs. James William Deeds.

SNORTY GOBBLER COMPANY DRILLING ON WHITSELL RANCH

A representative of this paper accompanied a party of business men to the Whitsell No. 1 Well which the Snorty Gobbler Company is sinking on the Whitsell ranch. The delegation was as headed by Dan Vinson, President of the company and W.W. Stratford, head field man. Judge J. M. Grigsby, Col. J. N. North, Oscar Wetlin, M. O. Willis, Mr. Wwatt of Enid, Okla. were the other members of the party.

The Snorty Gobbler Company have a working force that is seldom found on any job of this size. Not a single person connected with this well draws a salary.

The men take their remuneration in acreage. They are all experienced oil workers and believe strong enough that they are going to hit big that they are putting their service up against the possibilities of striking oil or gas in paying quantities.

Dan Vinson the chief of the works is positive that they will have a well in not less than 60 days. Think what a good gas well would mean to Perryton. Gas piped here would mean that we could offer the best of inducements to factories such as a paper mill making straw board from the thousands of tons of wheat straw which goes to waste here every year.

A gas supply would also mean a brick plant and that would mean cheaper building material besides giving employment to number of men.

The following men are on the job at present: Dan Vinson, Chief; W. W. Stratford, Field Man; Dennis Hammett, Driller; Heiner and Goblen, Tool Dressers; Moyer and Cogsdale, Firemen; Johnson, Cook and Lemon, Teamster.

LOOKS LIKE ANOTHER MURDER

Jim Tower, the Sign-Man from Spearman, was in our office Wednesday and reported the finding of the body of a murdered man near Goodwell. Mr. Towers says the body was discovered on the Guymon-Goodwell road and had apparently been dragged from the road into the weeds by the wayside. We give more particulars in our next issue.

SHIPPED FORTY-TWO CARS OF HOGS DURING DECEMBER

In an interview with J. L. Donley, the hog buyer, he stated to a reporter for this paper that he shipped forty-two carload of hogs from this section during the month of December and that he had averaged a car each day for the past ten days. These hogs have been shipped from several different points but Mr. Donley says that the Perryton market has furnished him with the best grade.

If most of our farmers would reduce their wheat acreage and raise more hogs, poultry and produce this country would soon hear the last of these hard times complaints.

ROAD BUILDING

FEDERAL COMMISSION URGED

Highway Question Concerns Agriculture, Commerce, Military and Social Needs.

"National development and the need for economy demand the formation of a highway policy under a federal commission," said George M. Graham, member of the highways committee, National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, speaking before the senate committee on post offices and post roads.

"The economic barrier now confronting us is the lack of adequate highways. There is urgent need to build these highways as quickly as possible, and with the maximum economy."

"Highways should be planned with consideration of their relationship to railway and waterway communication. The highway question concerns agriculture, commerce, the military and the social needs of the nation. The roads program is national in scope and is related to all departments of the government."

"Highway policy, therefore," Graham continued, "should be unified under a federal highway commission directly responsible to the chief executive, as is now the policy in state road administration."

"Economy will be served by such a measure as roads will be with regard to all the needs of the nation. It will be possible to pay higher salaries than can now be done under the bureau system. Millions of dollars are to be expended on roads, and it is the highest economy to secure the ablest brains in the country for the administration of these funds."

"Selection of roads of primary importance and concentration of federal funds in conjunction with state funds on these roads is the first step needed. States should be required to meet the federal aid as states rather than passing their responsibilities along to counties as many states do now. In this way, it will be possible to have state policies correlated with the national program. The counties will benefit from the general interstate highway system, and the funds which the counties formerly used in conjunction with federal aid can be devoted to more specifically local purposes."

"Maintenance should be provided for by the states in all cases," Graham emphasized, "in order that as the public highways are developed they may be depended upon as permanent avenues of communication, in order that the original public investment be protected.

"States which have been sufficiently progressive to build their share of federal aid are now in a position to develop secondary systems, and are therefore that much ahead in economic development."

"A wise highway policy will construct and maintain roads through government forest reservations from federal funds, without calling upon the treasuries in the states wherein these are located. Wherever a state contains large areas of federal lands due modification should be made of the present 50-50 expenditure of federal and state funds."

Possible for Motorist to Travel From Atlantic to Mississippi on Hard Surface.

From the Atlantic coast to the Mississippi river on paved roads? This may sound like a motorist's dream, but it will be actually possible to make such a trip this fall. The last stretch of the national pike in Illinois will be completed then. Never before has such a long paved road been possible in this country.

A Fable In Slang

By our own

BRICK WALL MASON

Now the outlook wasn't brilliant as he lamped about the place; anyone could see his finish if he didn't change his pace. All his shelves with goods were burdened, bought by box and barrel and bale, in a market that was titled and had cost him scads of kale. With the season fast advancing and with goods that ought to sell, he at least agreed with Sherman, war most certainly was—Well, it is strange how fearsome fancies flit across the troubled mind, and the fear of going "bughouse," left the thought of Bug behind. In days ago when trade was brisk, when he felt so sure and snug, he'd refused a Selling Service represented by a Bug—With his business prospects brightest he declined with such disdain, that the "Print-Smith" who had asked him never spoke of it again. But, thought he, with storm clouds rising, better seek most any port than to drift in troubled waters endign in the Bankrupt's Court. So he beat it to the print shop, to Ye Ed. began to moan "Wat's that Advertising Service, beat it in my ivory dome."

Maybe we should have a moral to adorn this little tale 'bout this Advertising Service turning "Stick-ers into Kale." And that we should give in detail how the Service pulled him thru, but we'd rather spend the same time showing what 'twill do for you.

If people looked like the pictures of the tailor's fashion plates and the dressmakers' models, they would all be in the bughouse.

The recent winter storms have brought about a lot of land-slides in various sections, but none of them are up to the big one in the fall of 1920, that carried away seventy thousand Democratic office-holders.

When Briand went back to France the other day he kissed Secretary Hughes on both cheeks. Gosh! Next thing we knew some of those delegates from Timbucktoo will be breaking in and trying to rub noses with us.

A snore is an impediment in one's sleep, on rather to the sleep of others. It is the midnight music that escapes when the door of the face is ajar. Darkness gives a snorer courage and the timid lamb becomes a roaring lion. It is a pity that some cannot be as eloquent while awake as they are resonant in the quiet reaches of the night.

If a woman has a husband, an auto and a can opener, what more does she want? They no longer seem to care about building up a home, or having more than one baby—such things interfere with social pleasures and joyriding. And the men are no better. With almost half the people now, home means nothing more than a flat or apartment, a trunk and a car.

A straw vote of Chicago shows eighty per cent for a modification of the prohibition laws in the direction of greater liberality, which moves the Cincinnati Enquirer to assume that it represents a nation-wide sentiment. It does nothing of the sort. Chicago is composed of about the same percentage of foreigners as that vote, and there you are.

Among other prices which ought to come down and have not are those charged at the "good hotels of the country." The rates of these institutions, both as to rooms and meals, are from three times to ten times too high. People who allow themselves to be robbed in such a manner are foolish. Paying five to fifteen dollars a night for a bed to sleep in, and three to five dollars a meal, is burning up money that might much better be given to the poor and needy.

Brisbane says editorially that it is a wonder so many find life bearable at all as they grow older, yet we all stick to it. There is nothing wonderful about it. It all depends upon how one has lived. If one has been just, honorable and honest, he will have the respect and friendship of his neighbors and fellow man, and find life well worth while, but if he has sold himself for a mess of dirty dollars they know how he got them and secretly despise him. Without the respect and confidence of those around us life is bound to be pretty much a failure, but with that it is like the mellow fruit upon the tree or the scent of the fragrant flower after the bloom has faded. Life is what we make it.

It is not too late yet to make New Year resolutions, and one of the best is to make up our minds to do and act individually as we would have the nation do and act. As we are individually so will the community and nation be. If we exercise a Christain spirit toward our fellow men instead of trying to beat them out of every dollar they have or earn, it is sure that they in turn will meet us half way and act the same toward us, and then, seeing how well it works out, others would profit by and emulate the example. Let us then make up our minds to do our own little parts as best we can to live up to the teachings of the gentle Nazarine, and if a lot us do that it will be surprising what a good effect it will have on the whole world.

THE DEVIL NEVER SLEEPS

While the Lord made the world, the devil has been busy in it every since, and is now, putting his particular finishing touches on it. We had ample proof of this in the great World war and are now getting some more proof of it in the devilment that has been and is going on in politics, in Wall street, among Big Business, in industry and in many other walks of life. It is the devil who is just now stirring up such egotists as Hearst, Brisbane, Wells, Shaw and other to do all they can to discredit the efforts of the peace conference, and to bring upon the world more war as soon as possible. The devil had a finger in all three of the political parties last national campaign, as everybody knows who is posted even a little bit about politics. That old devil is busy all the time and never sleeps a wink. As soon as we knock him out at one place he bobs right up at another, and it keeps us busy all our lives trying to circumvent him.

The devil commenced on the first women and has been playing school-master to her sons ever since, and some of her daughters. We have to give him credit for wonderful persistency and energy. He sat into the game with a cash capital of one snake and now it looks as if he had about a quarter of the globe captured and an option on a lot more. There are politicians all over the world, and some men in other lines of business and bunco for whom we have less respect than we have for the devil. They are not angles, but risen jermies. If the men who now seek to hewart peace and bring about hatred and more war, for instance, ever lodge quarantine and get into hell among he erstwhile angels who were expelled from heaven for misbehavior and now inhabit the dark regions of the damned, the decision there would be that they were cholera morbus bacilli or itch microbes, and the black abode would be ordered fumigated.

Unrest may, and doubtless does, have its drawbacks, but it is natural—it is human nature. Those who never experience it never amount to much. A clam is contented, and so is an Indian and a tramp.

A number of sapheads are advocating the issuance by the government of fifty billions of greenbacks, government promises to pay. How lovely! We would all have a gripsack full of money that wouldn't buy a meal ticket. Russia, Germany, Austria and other European countries have already amply demonstrated that rank fallacy.

TO WOMAN—GOD BLESS HER!

We poke considerable fun at the ladies over their short skirts, and all that, but we want them to understand that it is only in fun. They are all right, short skirts, long skirts, or no skirts at all, and have a champion in us that never tires or quits. We advocated the ballot for them many years before they got it, and have stood with them in their efforts to purge the world of the curse of whisky. Many men of the pulpit and platform are forever criticising women, instead of turning their glances inward upon themselves and never seem to tire of moralizing about God's latest and noblest work. To such as they woman is a creature of frailty, her beauty a curse unless shielded by the mask of the Turk or the sackcloth of sectarians who deny her the right to be other than a secluded chattel.

A woman was the mother of Jesus. Woman is the mother of humanity. She has been the inspiration for all that this world ever accomplished for good. In woman is enshrined the deathless trinity of devotion, sacrifice and love. She is sweetheart, wife and mother, and because she is all that homes exist and nations rise. She was first at His cross and last at His sepulcher; she is, in fact, the way of the cross. She realizes love's apothosis through travail and pain. She is man's best and only friend, and sticks to him even when he deserts himself. She carries the divine spark of God's own beacon light to guide mankind and Christianity away from the rocks and into the paths of all that is grand and good in the world.

When we were children we thought that when we grew up we could make all the noise we wanted to, but when we did grow up we found others making all the noise.

Man was made to mourn. There can be no doubt of it. After reading the political gush in the papers and the anti-conference drivel from Brisbane's typewriter a fellow is confronted with the hard fact that the only way to get out of the world is to go off somewhere and die.

Congressman Reavis of Nebraska introduces a resolution in Congress to the effect that France should be asked to pay what it owes this country, upon the theory that as it contemplates large naval and army expenditures it can afford to pay its just debts first. That is what this paper has been contending editorially for months past. France has no business blowing in our money on increased armament.

LET'S ALL GET BUSY

This reconstruction period we are passing through just now is a very serious matter, and one that every individual should at once get busy on. Don't imagine that because you are only an individual instead of a law-making body that you need not bother yourself. That is a grievous error that millions of men are making right now and have been ever since the war ceased, which is the main reason that the problem of reconstruction and getting back to normal is so serious.

We ought to have prosperous times as crops have been plentiful, capital was never so abundant and the signs are right, but there is yet a lack of public confidence. There is a disposition on the part of capital to wait awhile before going into new enterprises. We have talked Bolshevism and other crazy isms so much of it has got on our nerves and made many capitalists timid about investments. What the whole country wants is less hot air and more constructive work done, less paying the air over trifles and more things of real moment started, less swivel chair patriotism and more statesman less graft and dishonor and more American manhood, less societies passing the hat for contributions and more work on the road and farms, more irrigating projects, public highways, public streets, and all that sort of thing—something that creates work and pay—and an oceanful less of gab.

After hundreds of years England and Ireland have at last agreed to quit disagreeing. Why can't husbands and wives do that?

Brace up, now, for this new year of 1922! The big world outside is bright and bustling and all you have to do is to get busy and open it like an oyster. You are not half as wretched as you imagine.

According to some of the Republican senators it was not the Kaiser, but the Democratic administration that brought about the War, while Mr. Hearst proves beyond a reasonable doubt that all our tribulations are due to Ex-President Wilson. People in high places frequently shoot off more flapdoodle than we common folks do.

The main reason thousands of people are in poorhouses and like asylums is because they have fooled away their money and possessions when they had a chance to lay by something for old age. And many thousands more of us follow that same old example today.

The auto bandits take our watch and chain, the coal barons grab our pocketbooks, the weather continues old and there is not even liquid warmth any more. It is a sad world mates.

One lady says she knows there must be a hell because there is a necessity for such a place for the men. Sure! We can see where she is right! And heaven will then be some lovely place with a population of only lady angels.

The Industrial Workers of the World, so-called by themselves, get highly indignant when it is hinted that I. W. W. means I won't work. Maybe it means Ignorant Worthless Wallopers. It certainly does not mean I Want Water.

Rockefeller's daughter has just been granted a divorce from her husband, McCormick, the harvester king, on the grounds of non-support. We are surprised that Mac couldn't support a wife, but maybe her father, by strict economy, may help her buy some eats.

A Man's Home Is His Castle

A bright, cheerful, well painted home adds much to your comfort. It breathes an atmosphere of contentment and well being. It gives the owner a feeling of deep personal pride and satisfaction—it reflects his personal taste and preferences. It adds beauty to his community—to his city.

More than that—it improves his property in value as well as in appearance. His home is adequately protected from the destroying influences of sun, rain, snow, frost, heat and cold.

Inside and out there is a Sherwin-Williams finish for every purpose—weather-resisting, home-beautifying paints, varnishes, enamels, stains.

OCHILTREE SCHOOL NOTES

Last Saturday afternoon the Spearman basketball team both boys and girls, motored over to Ochiltree and played games with the teams of that school. Although Spearman was victorious in both games the losing teams played so brilliantly that they deserved as much praise as the winners. The girls game was the first to be played. After a closely played contest Ochiltree lost by a very slight margin. The score was six to four in favor of Spearman. The Ochiltree girls as well as Spearman played splendidly and no doubt they will soon have the reputation of being the best girl team in the county.

The boys game like the girls was also very closely contested. The Ochiltree team outplayed the visitors in the first part of the game and at the game end of the first half the score was 7 to 4 in their favor. In the second half, even though they played hard they lost the game. The final score was 18 to 14 in Spearman's favor. The Ochiltree boys admitted their defeat like good sports and are always eager to try again.

SUCCULENT SALADS.

Salads using lettuce for the main portion of the salad should not be mixed until just before serving to insure the crispness of the lettuce. Lettuce should be washed, drained and wrapped in a thin cloth. Old curtains, good for nothing else, make fine salad cloths. Wrap the lettuce in the cloth and lay in the ice chest, then it will be always ready.

Tomato and Cucumber Salad.—A very simple but attractive salad is one arranged on a long dish or platter. Place the sliced cucumbers in overlapping slices and a few tomatoes also sliced and arranged in the same manner. Let each serve himself taking one or both. Pass the dressing with the salad.

Pear Salad.—Cut peeled and quartered pears into eighths and arrange on lettuce with a little chopped apple and celery. Sprinkle with shredded almonds and serve with a rich mayonnaise dressing.

Pineapple and Cheese Salad.—Place a ring of pineapple on a crisp leaf of curly lettuce and fill the center with a ball of cream cheese softened with cream and sprinkled with paprika. Serve with a mayonnaise or boiled dressing.

When the canned pineapple is used as is the common custom, the juice thickened slightly and mixed with olive oil and a dash of lemon juice makes a very palatable dressing to serve with the salad.

Cucumber Boats.—Peel long cucumbers and shape in the form of a boat hollowed out. Sprinkle with seasoning and fill with salmon mixed with the chopped portion taken from the centers. Serve on lettuce with any desired salad dressing.

New Beet Salad.—Chop new beets very fine and mix with a dressing colored pink with the liquor of the beets. Season with chopped onion and the usual seasonings. Serve on head lettuce with a spoonful of the dressing on top of the salad.

DAIRY POINTS

SUNFLOWER IS MADE USEFUL

Experiments Not Sufficiently Developed to Reach Definite Conclusions in Northwest.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Sunflowers are likely to become good for silage material for farmers on irrigated land in the Northwest, according to reports received by the United States Department of Agriculture from Montana. The Mammoth Russian is in much favor, although experiments have been tried with some of the smaller varieties. The sunflower were drilled in rows 20 inches apart and irrigated. They were put in about the middle of May, but from their frost-resistant qualities it is believed they could be put in at the same time as grain is sown. About 15 pounds of seed were used to the acre on irrigated land, but it was stated that if sunflower ers are to be raised under dry-land conditions the seed should be put in rows 30 to 36 inches apart.

On the project under observation it was intended to let the sunflowers get fairly well matured, about the same as corn, before putting them in the silage but as a storm broke them down it was necessary to put them in the silage earlier. The yield was from 50 to 40 tons per acre. Cows fed on sunflower silage kept up the usual flow of milk as well as those which were fed on the grain silage. Some of the big Holstein cows ate as much as 90 pounds per day. No unfavorable results could be noticed in the flavor of the milk. While this experiment has not gone far enough to reach definite conclusions, it indicates that sunflowers may be considered a good crop for silage in some localities.

Farmers Given Better Understanding of Value and Cost of Various Feeds Available.

A series of 26 dairy feeding schools were conducted during the spring months in six New Hampshire counties by county agents, working co-operatively with the United States Department of Agriculture and the State Agricultural college. Seven more are planned. In carrying out these school-lecturing and formal talk have been practically eliminated and the dairy men are seated at tables, where they figure out for themselves the composition of various rations and compute costs. Much enthusiasm has been aroused.

That the results are worth while is indicated by the statement of a Hooksett farmer, who reported a saving of $1 a day, while another who attended the school at Warner wrote the county agent that he is now saving $36 a month as a result of feeding a ration that he figured out there. The discussion provoked by the farmers figuring these rations gives a better understanding of the value and cost of the various feeds available than any amount of lecturing could possibly accomplish.

WHITE SCOURS CAUSES LOSS

Disease Contracted by Way of Navel or Mouth Soon After Birth—Tablets Worth Trying.

Many calves die of white scours or pneumo-enteritis, which is a deadly germ disease born in the calf and contracted by way of the navel or mouth soon after birth. Medicinal treatment usually fails, but triple sulpho-carbolate tablets are well worth trying, under direction of a qualified veterinarian. He should also immunize each new-born calf with polyvalent anti-dysenteric serum and likewise use it in double doses should a case occur. Provide a new clean pen for new-born calves. At birth saturate the stump of the navel of each calf with tincture of iodine and then apply powdered starch. Repeat the treatment daily until the navel is entirely healed. Also cleanse the flaps with a saturated solution of boric acid before the calf is allowed to suck for the first time and daily for ten days if it continues to nurse.

RULES FOR FEEDING SILAGE

Good Plan is to Allow Three Pounds of Material to Every 100 Pounds of Live Weight.

A rule for feeding silage to the dairy cows is: Feed three pounds of silage for every 100 pounds of live weight. A cow weighing 1,000 pounds should receive about 30 pounds. A cow which weighs over 1,500 pounds should receive about 45 pounds of silage per day. Silage is usually fed twice a day, in the morning and evening after milking.

KU KLUXISM VS. LAW VIOLATION

One day this week two of our aged citizens whose hair is frosted with more than three score and ten winters, accosted us on the streets and stated that they were ready to join the Ku Klux in Lockney whenever they were organized. This is public sentiment becoming crystallized for law enforcement and men, even those who long ago have ascended to life's hill and are swiftly passing down the other side are willing to join the Ku Klux or any other vigilance committee to enforce the laws.

We do not know that there will ever be organized in this community a Ku Klux Klan. We do not know whether conditions of affairs will warrant such action, but we do know and are bold to say that the only way to keep the Ku Klux from coming to this and other towns is to enforce our laws. Ku Kluxism is not more than vigilance committees in spirit and action. The disregard for law and degeneracy of society in general has brought the Ku Klux to the front, and their course will not be staid in this country until men go into the jury box and enforce the law with conviction of murder and theft. The state of affairs in America is alarming with the spirit of Cain moving over the whole face of the earth, and law violation have become so prevalent that one's life and property is not safe. Tuesday's papers gave account of two murders being committed by women. Two husbands were murdered in cold blood, and its flimsy explanation was that husband was cruel to them. Murder is catching, and the policy of allowing men and women to go free for murder in this country has increased this kind of crime ten fold and the tendency is still increasing. When has there ever been a woman convicted in Texas for murder? When one woman murders her husband and gets off with it, others will do likewise. So it is with the men who murder the fellows and with those who steal and rob at will. The Beacon stated last week that whenever he Ku Klux comes to Floyd county we would not oppose them. If there are those who do not endorse the Ku Klux movement then get yourselves in position in mind and action to enforce and help uphold the majesty of the law. The law abiding people of this nation have arrived at the point where they are going to have our laws enforced and if men and women won't enforce them sitting on juries, then the people are going to take the law in their hands.—Lockney Beacon.
