Glenna Gee Rites Held

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Friday in the Church of Christ at Lefors for Glenna Gee, 26.

Officiating was Milton Caraway, Minister of Main Street Church of Christ. Burial was in Fairview Cemetery in Pampa under the direction of Carmichael-Whitley Funeral Directors Inc. of Pampa.

A native of Pampa, she attended school in Lefors. She had been a resident of Olton about two years. She was a member of Main Street Church of Christ.

Survivors include a daughter, Tracy Deon of the home; two brothers, Royce Gee of Lefors and Gene Gee of McLean; and a sister, Mrs. Barbara Cullon of Stinnett.

Bicentennial-Homecoming Parade Planned

Homecoming, Oct. 10, will take on a Bicentennial atmosphere, and a generous sprinkling of red will mingle with the traditional Blue and White.

Theme for the Homecoming Parade, announced this week by Bill Johnston, sponsor of Olton Student Council, will be "Remember When..."

Floats and other entries in the gala event will be directed toward calling memory back in some instances 200 years to the birth of a struggling nation, when isolated colonists were endeavoring to weld themselves together and write laws for self government that would provide liberty and justice for all.

According to Johnston, float entries will be in two classes: (1) traditional school division; and (2) open division, in which any civic group, club and/or organization, business or individual may compete for honors.

Because of the Bicentennial emphasis, and the desire on the part of students to encourage the entire community to have an active part in the National celebration, the student council will make no entry charge for parade participation.

Melvin Rape, Bicentennial parade co-ordinator, will work closely with school authorities in endeavoring to make this year's Homecoming Parade "one to remember, long after the day is past."

For her efforts in celebration planning, Olton has applied for designation as a Bicentennial City, and permission to fly the Bicentennial flag.

Through the office of Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture, the city has already been approved one of ten cities for a special flag display for the event.

An American flag which has flown over the Capitol

Building in Washington, D.C. and a Texas flag which has flown over the Capitol Building in Austin will be presented in ceremonies during the festivities and flown through the two day celebration. The flags will later be placed in specially constructed display cases and carried by a delegation of West Texans to Washington for presentation in the Nation's capital, thereby creating a unique segment of history of West Texas activities.

Several added attractions are being planned by the Bicentennial Committee. Interesting "remember when?" personalities will be featured.

Still in the planning stages, help and ideas from interested persons will be welcomed by Parade co-ordinator Melvin Rape and Elmer Moore, Co-ordinator of ex-student affairs.

Hospitality rooms will be open in down town areas during Friday afternoon for visiting guests and friends. Hopefully the longest and best parade in Olton's history will precede the gridiron classic, as the Mighty Mustangs are pitted against Idalou Wildcats.

An after-game coffee is being planned for the entire community and guests, with opportunity for individual and class coffees to be held the following day.

A two day Arts and Crafts Show and an exhibition of antique farm machinery are also in the planning.

BICENTENNIAL TRAYS - Pretty metal serving trays, picturing events of Revolutionary War days, are being sold by the Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture. To be used or kept as a souvenir, they sell for just $2 each and the small profit from sales will be used to help defray expenses incurred for the Bicentennial events of Oct. 10-11. Football Guessing Game On, $50 Grand Prize Offered Grid guessing begins this week with contest number one of the 1975 Enterprise football quest for $50.

The popular annual feature takes on a new look this year with a change in the grand prize offered. In past years, two tickets to the Cotton Bowl game New Year's Day plus $20 cash were claimed by the best guesser. This year the top contestant will receive $50 cash.

Anyone may enter the contest but only one entry is allowed per person.

The contest is fun and requires no special "know-how." Upsets throw even the best pigskin predictors. The important thing is to persevere and continue in the competition even though you trail by several points. Leaders may hit "slumps" and others may hit lucky streaks.

Entry deadline each week is noon Friday. Entries should be deposited with any sponsoring merchant.

Pick a winner in each of the games listed on the contest page. Circle the number on the entry blank of the teams you think will be the winners. Predict a score in the tie-breaker game, which is also counted in the win-loss total. Fill in the entry blank and leave with any of the 19 sponsors.

Sponsoring the contest are

Consumers Butane, Rube and Son Garage and Auto Parts, Thompson Implement, Olton Coop Gin, Don's Super Save, Thompson Chevrolet, Olton State Bank, Sluder Insurance Agency Pay-N-Save Grocery, Production Credit

Association, Walker Texaco, Leon's Grocery, G.H. Bley "66" Station, Sherman Insurance Agency, Nixon's

McLain is a native of Hart. Son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom McLain of Hart, he graduated from Hart High School and United Electronics School in Dallas. He had been employed five years with Kittrell Electronics of Dimmitt.

Mr. and Mrs. McLain have one son, Derek, two years old. They attend the Church of Christ.

In addition to offering service and repair of television and radio equipment, McLain will feature two leading brand names in television - Zenith and RCA. Shipment of the latest models is expected any day.

Broom Sales Nets $1670

Oltonites spent $1,670.14 this week on triple-benefit purchases which will provide lasting services.

Conducting their annual broom sale for Light-house for the Blind, Olton Lions sold brooms, mops, mats, brushes, pot holders, dish towels and numerous other items.

Customers received "something for their money" in the project - their purchases were well made, quality merchandise.

Lions received a portion of the monies received - $441.91 to be spent on any number of worthwhile projects conducted by the club throughout the year.

Third and most rewarding aspect of the successful sale, blind persons will be given help to help themselves. Such sales become resources for the employment of the blind worker; provide training and rehabilitation programs and help the sightless beneficiaries find a better way of life. For these uses, the Lighthouse for the Blind now has $1,228.23 from Oltonites who care.

Crafts, Olton Art Guild and The Art Corral.

Entry fee is $3 for two paintings; $1 for each additional painting. Miniatures have an entry fee of 25 cents. There will be no entry fee for youth artists.

in conjunction with the Bicentennial Celebration Oct. 10-11. Shave permits must be obtained for any man not wishing to grow a beard.

Shave permits - a garter which will be worn during this period - will go on sale Tuesday from any member of the Lions Club. Made by Pro Sox, they are being sold for $5. Strict enforcement is planned for persons who do not abide by the "permit or beard" law.

Any man found clean shaven and without permit Friday or Saturday Oct. 10-11 will be punished. Punishment, meted out by Delmer Givens and Co-horts, is that "violators will be made to ride, lead or persuade a goat down Main Street of Olton."

Trophies are to be presented for the Fanciest, Ugliest, Most Abundant, Peach-Fuzziest and Most Patriotic beards.

Proceeds from the sale of shave permits will be placed in the park fund.

How Pretty!

Rex Boyles

You are not going to believe this! Remember what we discussed in last week's article? Remember the little kid we used to illustrate the necessity of making decisions? I saw it for real the other day. A little kid walked up to the candy counter at the show and was trying to decide which one of all those delicious looking treats he wanted. His little peepers were searching the rows of candy to find "just the right one". Something caught his eye. That's the one! He had made his decision. It was a box covered with an "eye-catching" pink and white design. He was pleased, because he knew he had found "just the one".

However, what the little fellow didn't know was that the candy inside that tantalizing box tastes something like tar mixed with chalk dust. I know from experience. I had already made the very mistake he was about to make). Just as he was about to make that mistake, his mother came to the rescue. (She must have known what was in that box). She changed his mind and helped him pick another. As they left to go into the show, I smiled, thinking about the simple but sweet favors our mothers and dads do for us. I smiled too, thinking about what the fate of that little fellow would have looked like after he had tasted that stuff. Can't you just hear him, "Mom, how can anything so pretty taste so terrible?" What a shock!

The more I thought about it though the less I smiled. One sobering thought kept stamping out my smile. One agonizing thought kept grinding away my humor. What that box of candy tried to do to that little boy, Satan does to me! Sin is just like that box of candy. It's wrapped up in a neat and pretty package, but inside it's nothing but an ugly and filthy sore. From the outside it offers warmth and pleasure, while on the inside it gives nothing more than the chill and agony of wantonness.

Satan has us some pretty packages wrapped up, doesn't he? He wraps his ugly killer in just about anything. He will use beautiful women, impressive men, innocent words, grand structures, awesome scenic views, and even pious religion. With a little primping by Satan, lust becomes "love". . . drunkenness becomes "socializing". . . greed becomes "just trying to get by". . . lying becomes "an occupational necessity". . . cheating becomes "a good deal". . . godless language becomes "man talk".

Satan has even provided us with a set of complementary phrases in time of need. "Everybody is doing it". . . "I had to do it". . . "I like the taste of it". . . "I just can't make ends meet". . . "It won't hurt anything". . . "Nobody will ever know". . . "How could anything that is so much fun be wrong?"

What will all those pretty packages and catchy phrases be worth when God burns off the pretty and gets down to the real matter? You and I play with some things and dabble in some others that seem not only harmless but worthwhile, and yet all the time we're "fooling around" with a killer. Ask Adam and Eve! Ask Noah's world! They know that sin is not what it looks like. They know that when you pay for a pretty package, you get more than what you bargained for (Romans 6:23).

That little boy let his mother change his mind about that candy. Why don't we let Jesus change our minds about that sin? Anything that looks that good can't be too bad. . . can it? Ask Jesus! He died to prove it. . .

Everything But The Kitchen Sink

Isn't this an exciting time? There's so much going on that it's almost exhausting just to think about it; much less be involved in the many happenings.

If you aren't involved - get that way!

For Crusade goes this week, it's had to be a time never to be forgotten. For us who didn't get there (yet, at least) it's been great reading about it and hearing others relate their impressions. And for the pessimists who claim "it won't last" well that brings back a long ago quip to a similar statement, "Well, neither does a bath!"

The Bicentennial! Isn't it exciting?

What a marvelous time to be a student in school studying history! With so much of our past being relived via television, radio, the printed word and those persons who are involving themselves with Bicentennial plans - well, it's just a great time to study history!

Two hundred years! That's an awfully long time and I guess it isn't unusual for today's people to shrug off those events of yesteryears. But a little time spent delving into those momentous events of two centuries ago can certainly give us an humble renewal of appreciation and gratitude for our Founding Fathers!

Be watching! We're going to be having all sorts of super special happenings right here in Olton. And, please! Get involved!

the ending of the Declaration . . . with a firm reliance on the protection of divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our Lives, our Fortunes and our sacred Honor."

"We've lost that mutual pledging. We've lost it in Lionism and in our country. We're in this together. We're going to have to start again with a sense of pledging - to repledge and rededicate ourselves to 'life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness'."

"We need to get excited. We need to get enthused and we need to get involved."

Johnson commended the local club for their support of the youth exchange program, a "pet project" of the new governor. The Youth Exchange Program and the International Relations Program are two avenues, he said, where Lions "may contribute to the betterment of our country."

"These youth are goodwill ambassadors. They're going to infect lots of people with what they see here."

Citing Japan's participation in the program, Johnson said he believed Japan had overcome the devastation and defeat of World War II into a leading nation in the world "because they made friends around the world."

Johnson challenged Lions to seek new members but also to keep members. "Texas has the worst retention rate in the nation. Last year we organized 45 clubs and lost 49. We have one-tenth retention."

He summed up his solution to that problem by telling his listeners, "Put him (the new member) to work," with the reminder that Lionism has 12 areas for service.

Lions International adopted the sight conversation fight in 1924, he said, "And Helen Keller," meeting the delegation that made that decision, "dubbed the Lions her Knights of Blindness."

The annual Coaches All America Football Game has enabled Lions to enter another fight. Through the benefits received from that source, a kidney research foundation is now located in Lubbock.

"There are, presently, nine dialysis machines in Lubbock, maintaining life for persons who might otherwise be doomed. Before, the nearest facilities for dialysis were Dallas to the east; Albuquerque to the west. There is no charge for this service, whether the patient is a millionaire or a pauper."

"Sight preservation and kidney research, these are the bookends for the other 10 areas of service."

During the business session of Tuesday's meeting, the local club voted approval to the board of directors recommendation that the Lions become members of Water Incorporated.

Members also voted to officially charter Boy Scouting for local youth and to sponsor a project to benefit an opportunity plan founded to enable needy young persons to attend college.

The Young Homemakers Begin New Year Monday

Young Homemakers organization of Olton will hold its first meeting of the year Monday, Sept. 8 at 7 p.m. in Homemaking Cottage of the public schools. All members are urged to be present and bring a guest or a prospective member.

Theme for the year will be focused upon the Bicentennial, according to Mrs. David Britton, president, and the club will be taking an active part in the celebration of our nation's 200th birthday.

Among other things the years program will include candle making, an Old Fashioned Christmas Party and a tour of the Mount Vernon collection in Briar-croft Center, Lubbock, and

LINDA WARWICK

Cook Of The Week

Recipes are shared this week by a pretty young visitor from Canada who likes to cook but seldom uses a recipe. The recipes shared by Linda Warwick of Blyth, Ontario, are compiled from her thoughts for she does cook by the "bit and dab method."

Linda came to Olton for a three-week visit through the Lions International Youth Exchange Program and enjoyed that time so much she extended her stay. The extended stay has now led to the desire to make this her home.

"I've cancelled my plans to go to modeling school in Ontario, I want to be at home here." She would still like to become a model but, if that is not possible, would like to find work here and be a Texan.

Linda's home is a small town with an "involved" Lions Club. Through the community activities of the club, she has worked with both senior citizens and youth.

She has also been actively involved in work of her church, the United Church of Canada and teaches a Sunday School class for boys 12 to 14. She belongs to the youth group of her church and used to sing with the choir.

In her community, she has participated in walk-a-thons and bake-a-thons for worthwhile causes and likes being a part of things.

An "outdoors girl," Linda loves sports and "would love to be a hockey referee." She is a devotee of football and wants to learn more of the Cowboys and other US football teams.

Linda also loves music. She likes rock but also enjoys country and western. She likes to dance.

Her Texas visit and her stay in Olton with the Wandie Hutson family has given her still another "favorite thing." Visiting farms, she has become a fervent irrigation hand. "I still think it's a ball," she says with smiling enthusiasm.

"MUD PIES"

2 c milk
1 c sugar
5 to 6 tsp cocoa dash salt

Place ingredients in saucepan and stir over heat until mixture comes to boil. Continue to stir so that mixture does not scorch for 1 minute. Add 3 c oatmeal and stir until thickened. You may also add coconut, if desired. Drop onto plate or put in dish to be cut in squares. Chill till set. Keep refrigerated.

Linda also makes peanut butter "goodies." Melt peanut butter in top of double boiler and add miniature marshmallows. Stir until well coated with peanut butter and drop onto plate. Chill.

HAMBURGER DELIGHT

1 lb hamburger meat
1 can pork and beans
1 can (or 1 pt) tomatoes, drained
2 chopped onions
salt and pepper to taste
1/2 c catsup

Brown meat and onions. Add remaining ingredients and cook on top of stove until flavors blend. Good served on toast, buns, rice or "as is."

Linda says you may make meat pie with this basic recipe by adding diced potatoes and other desired vegetables. Place in

Tanner-Davis Wedding Solemnized In Seabrook

Wedding vows for Miss Susan Mae Davis and Russell Hughes Tanner were solemnized Friday evening, Aug. 22, at the Seabrook United Methodist Church.

The Rev. Floyd Giles, Pastor, officiated the double-ring nuptial before a setting of a basket of white daisies and mums. A prayer pillow flanked by twin eleven-tiered candelabras entwined with greenery and white doves.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas T. Davis of Seabrook and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil D. Tanner of Olton.

Selections of wedding music were presented by Mrs. Don McFarland of League City, organist who accompanied Jack Waggoner of Houston, who sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Lord's Prayer".

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a gown of white organza and Swiss Guipure lace. In classic silhouette, the fitted bodice featured a sheer yoke and high neckline, lavishly accented with the rose patterned lace.

The long bishop sleeves were cuffed with satin organza and lace. From the lifted waistline, the gently flared skirt featured a wide lace edged band of satin organza, which formed a panel in the back, and completely encircled the hemline that swept into a train of court length. Her veil of illusion fell below her shoulders. The bridal bouquet of daisies, mums, baby's breath and greenery was centered with orchids.

Miss Carol Ann Davis of Seabrook was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Becky Wroblewski of League City and Misses Judy Ann Jensen and Debbie VanEman both of Houston. The attendants wore long gored blue dotted Swiss skirts, white dotted Swiss blouses with square necklines with white bows in back. They each carried stemmed clear goblet sized votive candle cups with lighted blue candles encircled with blue and yellow flowers. Yellow bows and streamers were tied to the stem.

Little Miss Nancy Michelle Beck of Lamesa, niece of the groom, was flower girl. She wore a long white dress fashioned with a blue ruffle at the neckline, blue cord at waistline and blue bow in back. Bridal attendants and flower girls headresses were circles of blue net held in place by halos of blue and yellow flowers.

The groom's best man was his father, C.D. Tanner. Groomsmen were Ronnie Thomas and Doyle Telly of Houston and Kerry Marcabel of Pasadena. Ushers were Mike Davis of San Selma, Calif., brother of the bride, and Ronnie Wroblewski of League City.

For her daughters wedding Mrs. Davis wore a long lime green chiffon gown. Mrs. Tanner chose a formal length dress in aqua. Each wore an orchid corsage.

The reception was held in fellowship hall.

For the wedding trip to San Antonio the bride chose a plaid double knit pant suit.

Mrs. Tanner, a graduate of Alvin Jr. College, is a graduate nurse. She is employed as a surgical nurse at Herman Hospital, Houston.

A graduate of Olton High School, Tanner attended West Texas State University and is employed by Lowe Chemical Company, Houston.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell H.

Tanner are at home at 10910 Gulf Freeway, Apartment 563, Houston, Tex. 77017.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted Thursday evening by Mr. and Mrs. C.D. Tanner at the Sheraton-Kings Inn, Nasa Road 1, Houston.

Revolutionary Period Clothing Is Described

Olton's Young Homemaker Club has chosen the project of promoting Revolutionary Day costumes for festive occasions during the Bicentennial year as their contribution to the privilege of celebrating the nation's 200th birthday.

Mrs. David Britton, president of the club, has done a little research in the matter and here offers a bit of information about both men's and women's wear in the year 1776.

She states: "As we think of ways to celebrate America's Bicentennial, we are reminded of the attire of that period. Dress of the people in the larger towns differed from that of the outlying areas.

America's statesmen fashioned their clothes from the styles of the English. His three piece suit was made from fine imported fabrics such as corduroy, velvet, velveteen, damask, raw silk, linen or a brush cotton. Colors were sometimes subdued, sometimes bright but never "loud". Colors ranged from reds to yellows to greens and blues. His suit included a coat, vest, knee breeches and a shirt made of soft linen.

"Eighteenth century ladies of Philadelphia and New York adopted their styles from the French and English. Little girls clothes were copies of their mother's.

"The women dressed in floral prints and solids of imported fabrics such as damask, taffeta, chintz, silk, woolen and muslin. Dresses were usually trimmed with ruffles and laces.

"The frontier man and his son led an outdoor life, therefore their clothing was made of natural fabrics such as leather or a linen-wool combination for warmth as well as strength.

"The clothes of the pioneer women were functional. Fabrics were homespun and usually in solid earth colors. The warm one-piece dress, plain shawl and functional apron was often the daily attire.

"Her 'mobcap' was both a functional and flattering accessory. During the day it shielded her tresses from dust and dirt, for she only washed her hair once or twice a month. Another version was worn at night to keep body heat from escaping through the head.

"Dressed like this she planted corn, churned butter, fed her family, held 'quilting bees' and often added only a fresh apron and cap for Sunday best."

TO STINNETT

Mrs. John Lambright visited Saturday and Sunday with her son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Milford Lambright of Stinnett.

Girl Scouts Called To Meet

Girl Scout and Brownie programs are again getting underway according to Carrol Scribner one of the leaders.

Groups are planned for second grade Brownies, third grade Brownies, a fourth grade Junior troop, fifth grade Junior troop, and seventh and eighth grade Cadets. A troop for high school senior Scouts will be available if the demand justifies.

Miss Scribner states that senior Scouts may earn a bar serving as program aides in troops of younger girls.

Leaders and helpers are needed throughout the program. Interested people are asked to meet with the age group in which they are interested.

The Cadet troop will meet Monday, Sept. 8, following school hours, in the Scout House for organization and planning.

Registration fee is $2 for each girl.

Intersection Sight Of Three Accidents

Elza Miller was dismissed from Littlefield Hospital Thursday after being admitted there Friday following a grinding two-vehicle crash at the intersection of Highway 70 and FM 385 in Springlake.

Miller suffered a cracked vertebrae in the accident which occurred when the driver of a tractor-trailer failed to stop at the lighted intersection. Miller's pickup was "totaled."

Two other accidents occurred at the same intersection Thursday of this week, sending one person to the hospital.

The first happened about 10:30 a.m. when a van type vehicle driven by J.B. Pellum of Channing, Calif. failed to yield right of way to a Steer Tank Line truck. Identity of the truck driver was not available; he was taken to Central Plains Hospital for a cut on the head.

Mrs. L. Hutto of Littlefield, 80, was admitted to Littlefield Hospital following a 3:55 p.m. collision at the intersection. Mrs. Hutto was a passenger in a car owned by Mrs. Nora Gaston and driven by Mrs. Euen.

Elkins, both women from Littlefield.

Traveling south, Mrs. Hutto stopped at the intersection, proceeded to cross when their car stalled. She then pulled into the path of a car belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Bilberry of Floyd, N.M. The Bilberrys were unhurt and were able to drive from the scene.

Member-Guest Tourney Slated

Harold Payne, golf pro, would remind golfers of the Fall Member-Guest Tournament slated at Olton Recreation Center.

To be held Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 13-14, the tourney will include flights for both men and women.

Entry fee has been set at $25 per team, which includes dinner for each participant and one guest. Gift certificates will be awarded as prizes.

Sept. 10 has been announced as cut-off date for registration. Payne asks that members register as soon as possible and suggests that they also invite golfing non-members to enter the contest.

PUBLIC NOTICE SUMMARY OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS (S.J.R. NO. 11) SPECIAL ELECTION NOVEMBER 4, 1975

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

Revising the separation of powers, legislative and executive provisions of the Texas Constitution. Article II, Separation of Powers, is amended to:

Provide that the powers of government of the State of Texas are divided among three distinct branches: legislative, executive, and judicial. Except as otherwise authorized by the constitution, members of one branch may not exercise any power properly attached to either of the others.

Article III, The Legislature, is amended to:

Continue the present structure of the legislature consisting of a senate with 31 members and a house of representatives with 150 members. The present organization and procedure of the legislature are continued except that the provision allowing closed executive sessions of the senate is omitted. Provisions on the conflict of interest of members of the legislature are continued, as is the governor's power to veto bills or line items in appropriation bills. The article provides for single-member senatorial, representative, and congressional districts. A compensation commission is created to recommend the compensation and allowances to be received by members of the legislature. The legislative compensation, set by law, may not exceed this recommendation and does not take effect until after an intervening general election. The article provides for annual sessions of 140 days in odd-numbered years and 90 days in even-numbered years, and a veto session of 15 days upon request of three-fifths of the membership of each house. The legislature may meet in organizational sessions prior to the convening of the legislature in regular sessions.

Article IV, The Executive, is amended to: Continue the present status of the governor and all other statewide officers, and include the commissioner of agriculture as an executive department officer. The governor is limited to two consecutive terms. The governor is authorized to designate chairmen of state boards, and to remove gubernatorial appointees to state agencies for cause unless the removal is vetoed by the senate. The article mandates the legislature to provide a new governor-elect an appropriation so the governor-elect may organize an office prior to inauguration, and permits the legislature to grant powers of fiscal control to the governor. All governmental agencies, with several exceptions, have a life of not more than ten years unless extended by the legislature, and, at the regular session held in odd-numbered years, the governor shall submit to the legislature a report on the organization and efficiency of the executive branch.

The wording of the proposed constitutional amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment revising the SEPARATION OF POWERS, LEGISLATIVE, AND EXECUTIVE PROVISIONS of the Texas Constitution."

If adopted by the voters, will become effective January 1, 1976, except Article III, Section 5, which becomes effective January 1, 1981.

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT

Revising the judiciary provisions of the Texas Constitution. Article V, The Judiciary is amended to:

Establish a unified judicial system consisting of the supreme court, court of appeals, district courts, and circuit courts. Existing county courts and county judges are continued until otherwise provided by law. All judges (except municipal judges), district attorneys and district clerks must be elected by the people. The supreme court and the court of criminal appeals are merged into a single court of last resort, and this supreme court is authorized to provide for efficient administration of the judicial system and to balance case loads. Individual rights for a trial by jury and appeal by the accused are continued. The state is granted the right to appeal in criminal cases in limited circumstances, and the legislature is permitted to establish methods of appeal to the courts from decisions of state agencies.

The wording of the proposed constitutional amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment revising the JUDICIARY PROVISIONS of the Texas Constitution."

If adopted by the voters, will become effective September 1, 1976.

PROPOSITION NO. 3 ON THE BALLOT

Revising the voting and election provisions of the Texas Constitution. Article VI, Voter Qualifications and Elections, is amended to:

Provide for registration and qualifications for voting including voter residency requirements to be established by law. A citizen of the United States who is at least 18 years of age and who meets the registration and residence requirements provided by law is a qualified voter unless the person has been convicted of a felony and for that felony is incarcerated, on parole, or on probation, or unless the person is mentally incompetent as determined by a court. Voting by the people in all elections must be by secret ballot, and the legislature shall provide by law for residence, registration, and absentee voting requirements, for the administration of elections, and for the protection of the electoral process. The general election for state and county officers is to be held in even-numbered years on a date prescribed by law.

The wording of the proposed constitutional amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment revising the VOTING AND ELECTION PROVISIONS of the Texas Constitution."

If adopted by the voters, will become effective September 1, 1976.

PROPOSITION NO. 4 ON THE BALLOT

Revising the education provisions of the Texas Constitution. Article VII, Education, is amended to:

Provide that the Permanent and Available School Funds and the county public school funds are continued for the support of the free public schools. The State Board of Education is retained and the Permanent and Available University Funds are continued for the benefit of The University of Texas and Texas A&M Systems. A new Higher Education Fund for Texas is established for the benefit of colleges and universities outside The University of Texas and Texas A&M Systems. The state ad valorem tax of ten cents on $100 valuation is continued as the source of revenue for the Fund. The ten cent higher education tax may be changed by law within the ten cent maximum. The legislature may allocate by law a portion of the Higher Education Fund to certain state vocational and technical institutes. The article provides that the public education system must furnish each individual an equal educational opportunity, but a school district may provide local enrichment of educational programs exceeding the level provided by the state consistent with general law. Authority to issue Permanent University Bonds is continued but the bonds may not exceed 30% of the Permanent University Fund.

The wording of the proposed constitutional amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment revising the EDUCATION PROVISIONS of the Texas Constitution."

If adopted by the voters, will become effective September 1, 1976, except Article VII, Section 9, which becomes effective January 1, 1979.

PROPOSITION NO. 5 ON THE BALLOT

Revising the finance provisions of the Texas Constitution. Article VIII, Finance, is amended to:

Provide that state taxes may be levied and collected only by general law and to prohibit any state ad valorem tax on real property or tangible personal property except the ten cent tax provided for in Article VII and a tax of two cents on the $100 assessed valuation to provide funds for the State Building Fund. Provides that all real property and tangible personal property must be taxed equally and uniformly in proportion to market value. Existing exemptions from ad valorem taxation are continued. The present dedication of motor fuel taxes for highway purposes and the Available School Fund is retained. The "pay-as-you-go" principle for the operation of state government is retained. The legislature shall establish separate formulas for appraising land to promote the preservation of open-space land devoted to farm or ranch purposes and may establish separate formulas for appraising land to promote the preservation of forest land devoted to timber production. The $3000 exemption from state ad valorem taxation for residential homesteads is continued and the legislature by law may increase this amount. A separate $3000 exemption from ad valorem taxation by political subdivisions is provided for the residential homestead of persons at least 65 years of age and the political subdivision may increase this amount. The legislature by law may exempt from ad valorem taxation certain property owned by veterans' organizations, non-profit water corporations, and persons in need because of age or disability, and economic circumstance. The legislature may also exempt property to preserve historical, cultural or natural history resources. Taxpayers are provided a new method of correcting inequitable tax assessments by paying ad valorem taxes under protest and suing for a refund in a district court. State debt may be authorized by law only if approved by a two-thirds vote of each house of the legislature and submitted to and approved by a majority of the qualified voters of the state voting on the question. Public funds and public credit may be used only for public purposes and no public funds or public credit may be used to influence the election of a public officer. The article prohibits a retail sales tax on agricultural machinery or parts, fertilizer, feeds or seeds, prescription drugs or medicine, or food, except food sold by restaurants for immediate consumption. An assessment voted by marine food or agricultural producers on their product sales is not a tax if provision is made for the individual producer to receive a refund of the assessment when the producer does not desire to be assessed.

The wording of the proposed constitutional amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment revising the LOCAL GOVERNMENT PROVISIONS of the Texas Constitution."

If adopted by the voters, will become effective on September 1, 1976.

PROPOSITION NO. 7 ON THE BALLOT

Revising the general provisions of the Texas Constitution. Article X, General Provisions, is amended to:

Provide the basic requirements relating to public officeholders such as the official oath and residency requirements. The provision defining the separate and community property of spouses is retained, and the protection of a homestead from forced sale is continued. The legislature is required to protect certain personal property from forced sale. Current wages for personal service are not subject to garnishment. A private corporation may not be chartered except under general law, and no bank may engage in business at more than one place in this state. The legislature must provide for the regulation of bank holding companies. The present system of local-option elections for the prohibition or sale of alcoholic beverages is continued. The legislature is required to prohibit lotteries and gift enterprises but may permit certain bingo games and raffles. The presently existing provisions for retirement benefits of teachers and other public employees are modified to allow the state to contribute more than 10%. A policy that the quality of the environment of the State of Texas is to be protected is established, and the legislature is required to implement and enforce this policy. No state funds may be used to remove surface water from the river basin of origin if the surface water is necessary to supply the reasonably foreseeable water requirements of the basin for the ensuing 50 years, unless the removal of water is sufficiently replaced to the point of removal from outside the state or is on a temporary, interim basis. The seaward beaches of the Gulf of Mexico and coastal submerged lands belonging to the state are held by the state in perpetual trust for the people, and subject to reasonable limitations prescribed by law, the public has the free and unrestricted right of use and benefit of the beaches. The provision is continued that, except as otherwise provided by law, a rate of interest in excess of ten percent a year is usurious, and that if a contract does not specify a rate of interest, the rate under the contract may not exceed six percent a year. Discrimination against handicapped persons is prohibited, and a goal of the state is established to provide every resident access to adequate, comprehensive health care.

PROPOSITION NO. 6 ON THE BALLOT

Revising the local government provisions of the Texas Constitution. Article IX, Local Government, is amended to:

Provide that the counties of the state are those that exist on the date of adoption of the local government article and that county boundaries may be changed if approved by a majority of the qualified voters in each affected county who vote on the question. Counties may be merged or county seats relocated if approved by two-thirds of the qualified voters in each affected county who vote on the question. The present elected constitutional county offices are retained and four year terms of office are provided. The voters of a county may create additional offices, eliminate offices, or combine the duties and functions of offices. The voters may also grant ordinance making power to the governing body of the county. Cities and towns having more than 1,500 inhabitants may become home-rule cities. Tax limitations are established for operating purposes for cities and counties and the legislature is required to fix debt limits for cities, towns, counties, and school and community junior college districts.

The wording of the proposed constitutional amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment revising the GENERAL PROVISIONS of the Texas Constitution."

If adopted by the voters, will become effective September 1, 1976.

PROPOSITION NO. 8 ON THE BALLOT

Revising the mode of amending provisions of the Texas Constitution. The proposed article will be the last article of the constitution. If only Proposition No. 8 is adopted, the article will replace Article XVII of the present constitution. If other propositions are adopted, the article will be appropriately renumbered to remain the last article of the constitution. If all propositions are adopted, the article will be Article XI. Article XVII, Mode of Amending the Constitution of the State, is amended to:

Establish a procedure for constitutional amendments requiring a two-thirds vote of each house of the legislature and majority approval by the voters. The calling of a limited or unlimited constitutional convention with voter approval is provided. The question of whether to call a constitutional convention must be submitted to the people every 30 years.

The wording of the proposed constitutional amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment revising the MODE OF AMENDING PROVISIONS of the Texas Constitution."

If adopted by the voters, will become effective September 1, 1976.

TEXAS TALK

By Billy Davis

Eleven-thousand dollars for a bale of cotton? According to studies made at the University of Texas, that's the value of a bale by the time it reaches the retail trade in the form of all cotton shirts. The same study indicates the value of the cotton increases more than five times after being processed into fabric. Obviously catching the ear of cotton producers, this economic message has succeeded in making them more aware of the importance of milling and fabric production. Feather Fabrics, Inc. is a joint venture between Lubbock area producers and a Dutch textile plant with the operation already underway. Farmers in the Littlefield area are planning to open their own 30 million dollar textile plant within the next two years. At least four other groups in the prime cotton producing country are looking toward similar operations and even more could be announced before the end of the year.

EMPLOYEE OF THE WEEK

We are presenting this week Mrs. Rachel Ruthart, assistant cashier. Rachel began her work with Olton State Bank five years ago in the bookkeeping department. She has since worked as a teller, and presently is in charge of bookkeeping operations.

She began her education in the schools of Turkey, but her family moved to Canyon where she was reared. She is a graduate of Canyon High School, and has attended West Texas State University in that city. Since her affiliation with Olton State Bank she has taken several courses with American Institute of Banking through Lubbock Christian College, Lubbock.

The young matron states that she "has worked all of her life." Employed some seven years by the University she worked in various capacities including secretarial position, ledger clerk, and bookkeeper.

Rachel left the position of head bookkeeper at WTSU in 1969 when she moved with her husband, the late Garland Ruthart, from their Amarillo home to Olton that he might become office manager of Olton Feed Yards at its opening.

She has two children. A son, Rodney, is in fifth grade in San Marcos Baptist Academy, San Marcos. Her daughter, Reagan, is a fourth grade student in Olton Schools.

Rachel denies having any real hobbies. She says her interest lies in "whatever is happening at the moment, what might seem a hobby today will not be tomorrow." She is a member of First Baptist Church.

In her capacity in the bookkeeping operations she is available to answer any question patrons may have about the way accounts are handled. She invites depositors to drop by to see her if they have a question. . . For after all that's what friends are for.

Kristi Sweigart of Riverside, Calif. was a guest at the party honoring four-year-old Boe.

Glen Witten, Kathy Jody and Trisha; Bill Witten of Plainview; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Witten, Holly and Ty; and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Witten, Rex and Joy.

Aug. 23 Mrs. Annie Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Schwab of Plainview attended the wedding of Mrs. Johnson's niece, Mrs. Carolyn Dyer, and Tony L. Haffon in Midland.

Mr. and Mrs. John Norfleet and Nancy were recent guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Skelton and Kristi of Sulphur Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. C.D. Tanner returned home Thursday from attending the wedding of their son, Russell, and making a ten day vacation trip. They stayed three nights with Tanner's sister, Mrs. Lois Beasley of Hull. Tanner made a fishing trip in the bay.

They were overnight guests of Luther Alexander of Sherman, a former resident of the Olton area. They also called on Tanner's aunt and uncle, Mrs. Dee Guest, Murry Myers and Charlie Myers at Strawn.

They were accompanied on the trip by their granddaughter, Nancy Beck of Lamesa.
