Editor's Viewpoint

By LON WILLIAMS

I was sitting in front of the TV this week watching an exciting movie when suddenly...

On the screen came a psychodelic-shirted, middle-aged man with white plume growing out of his head... er hat... and immediately stated that he was someone other than who he really was. He kinda looked like an ostrich rather than a peacock.

Nothing's cuter than little babies. The Burkburnett Informer Star would like to show the world your new addition...

Burkburnett has the nicest folks in the whole world. It's true. The nicest folks just all seem to come to Burk sooner or later.

Please be patient with us for the next few weeks. The newspaper office is torn all to pieces as we are in the middle of remodeling and building.

In other words, if we foul up in the next several weeks, we are setting up the excuse in this issue. Ha.

Chamber Monthly Membership Luncheon is Monday, February 2, at Noon at Town Hall. Bob Browder, Texas Electric Industry Specialist will be our guest speaker...

Bob Browder Speaks At C of C Luncheon

The Burkburnett Chamber of Commerce regular Monthly Membership Luncheon and Meeting is set for Noon, Monday, February 2 at Town Hall.

Jaycees To Sponsor 2nd Annual "Our Little Miss" Pageant

March 20 and 21 are the dates selected for the 2nd annual "Our Little Miss Burkburnett" Pageant to be held in the high school cafeteria.

Homecoming Set

WICHITA FALLS - Plans for homecoming activities at Midwestern University February 13-14 are taking shape with the aim of making this year the best.

The theme of the 1970 homecoming is "The 70's - the Age of Aquarius."

Student organizations are busy working on stationary displays. Prizes of money are spurring the birth of artistic ideas to be followed by feverish work on building and decorating the displays.

These will be exhibited under lights near the Physical Education Building. Winners will be announced during halftime Friday night at the Indians - Bishop College basketball games in the coliseum.

The homecoming dance will be held in Clark Student Center ballroom after the game.

Saturday activities include registration, annual alumni meeting and noon luncheon with Sen. Jack Hightower the keynote speaker. Tours of the campus in the afternoon will be followed by a concert in the coliseum Saturday evening to complete the schedule.

development.

"1970 is here... and we want to get underway with a good turnout and a lot of enthusiasm at this meeting," new Chamber President T.M. Cornelius stated.

"We would like for all Chamber members, including all committee members and committee chairmen, to be present for this luncheon," Gene Allen, Manager, stated.

The Pageant is a youth development program designed to give young ladies early goals in good grooming, social graces, talent training, and scholarship. It is the only international pageant system for children providing a next level of competition beginning with the local preliminaries, thru state pageants and culminating at a fabulous international stage.

The Pageant is open to all young ladies ages 3 thru 12 living within a 35 mile radius of Burkburnett. Ages 3 thru 6 will be the "LaPetite" division competing in party dress and sportswear. Ages 7 thru 12 will be in the "Our Little Miss" division competing in party dress, sportswear, singing, dancing, musical instrument, dramatics, etc.

Entry fees of $15.00 may be a personal or business sponsorship and must accompany the entry blank. Business sponsorships will be listed in the official program as backers of this fine youth activity. Entries should be mailed to the Burkburnett Jaycees, P. O. Box 398, Burkburnett, Texas 76354.

FEDERAL FUNDING CUTS COULD THREATEN LOCAL SCHOOLS

CLARK GRESHAM

Weldon Nix

Five Candidates Seek Two County Offices

The political picture began to become clearer this week as five local candidates announced in seeking two offices.

Incumbent Clark Gresham, in making his announcement for office to the Burkburnett Informer Star stated: "I ask for the opportunity to serve you again as your Commissioner of Precinct 2. I am proud of my record since 1956 as your County Commissioner and hope to serve your interests in the coming term."

Gresham moved to Burk in 1929 where he worked in Adams Drug for 11 years. In 1941, he began work for George McClarty at the Corner Drug and attended Capitol College of Pharmacy in 1942. In 1956, at the death of County Commissioner W. T. Holman, Gresham was elected from a slate of four to the Commissioner's post.

He is a 20-year Elder of the Church of Christ; active member of the Burkburnett Volunteer Fire Department for 30 years, having held every office including Fire Chief, and President of the West Texas Firemen and Fire Marshalls Association; former President of the Burkburnett Rotary Club 1947-48; Past President of the Burkburnett Chamber of Commerce and director...

Following the livestock judging and the presentation of checks and ribbons, officers of Burkburnett Junior Livestock and Project Show Association were elected.

Last year's officers and directors were: Floyd Marten, chairman; J. E. Riley, vice chairman; Elmer Klinkerman, secretary-treasurer; Jim Frye, Jack Aaron, Charles Goins and A. C. Hicks.

Newly elected officers and new directors include: Elmer Klinkerman, chairman; James Roderick, vice chairman; Vernon Duncan, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Elmer Klinkerman, reporter; Frank Martin, J. B. Riley, Floyd Marten and Charles Goins.

A special thank you to all Burkburnett merchants and other individuals who contributed so much to make this year's show the finest ever.

1967 Rotary Club Man of the Month.

Challenging Gresham for office will be Burkburnett businessman Weldon Nix, who announced for office in the Sunday Wichita paper. Nix, a resident of Burkburnett for 17 years, has served as a member of the school board for the past fourteen years - having served as past chairman and vice-chairman. He is currently board secretary. He is a past president of the Burkburnett Lion's Club; a member of the Burkburnett Fire Department 7 years including 2 as Chief; he is serving as a member of the Wichita County grand jury as a member and substitute foreman.

"This is the first time I have asked to be elected to a job with pay," Nix said. "If I am elected, I will sell my business and divest myself of other interests."

A graduate of Petrolia High School, he attended North Texas State University for three years before entering the Air Force. He worked five years as a district storekeeper for a gas company, and was district office manager for another gas company seven years.

The office of Justice of the Peace will be contested by three Burkburnett persons who have filed thus far. They are Louise Bean, local realtor; Archie Faulk, local oilman and farmer; and Eldon Morris, who was appointed to the post to fill the unexpired term of Claude Adams in 1969.

The last day for filing is Monday, February 2, to get names on the ballot. Applications must be received by 6 PM and must be accompanied by a $50 filing fee.

Industrial Team Sets Meeting February 2nd

Burkburnett's Chamber of Commerce Industrial Team goes into its first "huddle" for 1970 in a meeting to take place at 2:30 PM at the Texas Electric Reddy Room, Monday, February 2nd.

The Industrial Team, designed to push for new industry for Burkburnett in 1970, will meet with Industrial Specialist for TEC Lon Browder, and then set up a plan for action for the year.

Jack Aaron is chairman of the team for 1970 having been appointed by Chamber President, T. M. Cornelius. Aaron headed the same group when CIBA located in Burkburnett.

"We plan several Industrial Seminars for the Burkburnett Industrial Team," Aaron announced. "We want every man on the team to be an expert in some area such as financing, taxes and taxing, building requirements and others. We hope to meet with Mr. Browder of Texas Electric on several occasions and be instructed on how to be the most effective."

Industrial team members will be contacted before the Monday afternoon meeting.

Nixon Veto Stuns Officials

Burkburnett and Wichita County School officials are wondering this week what to do and where to turn for additional funds needed to complete the school year following President Nixon's veto of the $19.7 billion dollar Education and Health appropriation bill. The bill contained Public Law 874 which provides for aid for federally impacted school districts of which Burk, Iowa Park and Wichita Falls schools all come under.

Unless the federal impact funding is passed, Burkburnett Public Schools would stand to lose about $243,000.00 in federal aid. This cut from a total budget of 1.5 million could cause a shortage of money. "We have 3,333 kids in school here," Supt. I. C. Evans told the Informer. "Of this amount 2,720 are federally connected, 997 are from Capehart and are already funded for. But this leaves 1600 who would be affected by such a cut."

Trees Planted Then Stolen

The Informer Star learned today that several trees have been taken from the expressway where the State has been planting for the past several weeks.

One Highway Department official reported about a dozen trees planted along the expressway to add beauty to the Burkburnett area have been taken thus far.

"We are asking that anyone seeing someone remove these trees to contact the local Police Department."

It is our intention to prosecute anyone found stealing trees to the limit of the law. The theft of trees from the expressway would be Theft of State Property and anyone found guilty could face additional stiff penalties from the State.

"Of course, I feel certain that the President will come forward with a solution and soon. No doubt he has already heard from every federally impacted school district in the country," Evans told us.

"Another thing," Evans went on. "Burkburnett has submitted application for entitlement to an increase in funding for the past three years without receiving any increase in federal impact funding. Under law we are entitled to it because of the terrific increase in Burk student load. Totally, we should be entitled to about $550,000 in funds for classroom expansion and increased student load over the past three years. I do not expect to get it."

When asked if the impact funding were not restored by presidential action Evans replied: "We would be in definite hardship for funds even to complete this year of school. I would guess that we would be unable to finance totally the last six weeks of school."

Vernon Duncan Named President Of 1st National

Vernon T. Duncan, has been appointed President of the First National Bank of Burkburnett.

It will take a man of extraordinary capabilities to follow Mr. A. R. Hill. I am indeed grateful."

Duncan came to Burk from the First State Bank in Grandfield, Oklahoma, where he served as Executive Vice-President for eight years. He also was employed at the First National Bank of Frederick, Oklahoma, and an employee of the Department of Agriculture spending a number of years with the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, and the Soil Conservation Service.

Mr. Duncan is a former President of the Grandfield Chamber of Commerce and Kiwanis Club. He is currently active as a member of the Burkburnett Chamber and Rotary Club, and a member of the First Baptist Church.

Mr. A. R. Hill reported at the Annual First National stockholders meeting a very successful year in spite of increased operating costs. Also, the new Vice-Chairman of the Board pointed with pride to the new expanded bank parking facilities completed recently as "an asset to Burkburnett as well as to the First National."

Mr. O. W. Prechel was re-elected Board Chairman.

Also, in the January 21st meeting, all directors were re-elected. In the Directors meeting which followed, Mr. Hill was elected Vice-Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer. Vernon T. Duncan was elected President. In other positions James E. Frye, Sr. was elected Executive Vice-President and Auditor; Dale Lewis, Assistant Vice-President to Vice-President and Cashier; Jerry McClure was re-elected Vice-President; Mrs. Nilla Braden was re-elected Assistant Cashier.

"Stockholders enjoyed the regular dividend payment plus a 12 1/2% employee bonus again this year," Mr. Hill stated. Directors of the First National Bank are:

Glen H. Bear, C. B. Bowles, Vernon T. Duncan, A. R. Hill, James E. Frye, O. W. Prechel, H. C. Preston, Jr., and Harold Van Loh.

VERNON T. DUNCAN, PRESIDENT

Guidelines Of Life

By MAX DOWLING, PASTOR
... Central Baptist Church

Did you ever watch a film or a set of slides when the projector was out of focus? Or maybe you have taken pictures without focusing your camera carefully.

Either way, the pictures you see are fuzzy. Perhaps you can identify all the objects in a picture, but you can see none of them clearly. If the focus is poor enough, you are unable to distinguish the objects in the picture at all.

Sometimes when people study the life of Jesus, they get a blurred picture because they do not understand the focus of His life. He expressed that focus clearly in Mark 10:35-45. Listen again to Mark 10:45.

FOR EVEN THE SON OF MAN CAME NOT TO BE MINISTERED UNTO, BUT TO MINISTER, AND TO GIVE HIS LIFE A RANSOM FOR MANY.

Jesus performed many, many good works. He helped the lame to walk again. He made the blind to see again. He stopped the trembling of the palsied. He caused the deformities to become whole. He raised the dead. He gave mental health to persons who were disturbed.

But none of these actions was the central focus of His life. All of His actions contributed to His supreme purpose: to ransom men from sin. It was this purpose which prompted Him to do all the good things He said. It was this purpose which led Him to give His life for us all.

Good deeds are important in the Christian's life. God expects us to help our fellowman in every way we can. But the focus of the Christian life is the furthering of God's purpose to bring all men to himself.

Therefore, our prayer should be: Father, focus our lives that our good works may truly glorify thee and cause men to turn to Christ as their Saviour.

Up, Up And Away

BY EDDIE LAXSON

Still on the subject of forced landings, but this week offers a different approach.

No names will be revealed, as the person involved lives in Burkburnett and there is a slight chance the man would not like to have the story laid at his feet.

About the year 1951, a meeting to organize a Civil Air Patrol group at Sheppard was staged one night with approximately 50 present.

The subject of flying was naturally brought up and some wished to know how much flying could be expected and the safety of flying in such an organization.

This particular individual, who is still teaching at Sheppard, was trying to impress his listeners with the ease of learning to fly and the safety factors involved and related the following story:

"Flying is so safe and easy that any normal person can master the art in no time at all," he said. I agreed with that statement, but I held back the desire to ask his definition of the word 'master'.

One interested listener wanted to know if forced landings were dangerous and if the speaker had ever had the experience of landing a plane with a dead engine.

The reply revealed that he had experienced a number of such landings which I could not deny, but he went on to describe one of his most memorable dead stick landings and I could not see where any part of the account would fit into my way of thinking because it was exactly 180 degrees out of phase with my experiences and other pilots I knew who had experienced forced landings.

"My wife and I were making a cross-country flight one dark night in a twin engine plane quit, leaving us at the mercy of gravity," the pilot said.

I had never experienced or heard of two engines quitting at the same instant—perhaps it has happened.

Weren't you scared stiff? "No, my wife was a little concerned, but I knew that a plane is built to glide without an engine for power, and I knew my training background was the best, and I had no qualms concerning the outcome of the forced landing," the pilot answered.

Now, to anyone who has had one or two forced landings, that statement will not hold water. I have had more than my share of forced landings, and I have listened to many pilots relate their feelings. All are of the opinion that so much uncertainty accompanies a forced landing even in the day time in a light plane, that one becomes very tense and would give anything to know that the final roll would end with no fatalities. The condition the plane will be in when it stops has never occupied too much of my concerns during such an ordeal.

The story ended with everything in tip top condition, and the listeners were assured that it was a common occurrence.

I am wondering if pilots will write agreeing or disagreeing with my thinking or the speaker's.

Next week—an account of a first ride.

TAX MAN SAM

RED MEANS "WATCH OUT!"

The new red, white and blue tax forms come in nice patriotic colors. The good tax folks may have felt that the patriotic theme would make a nice addition...however, the colors on the tax forms serve a definite purpose. The red ink printing on the front of the form 1040 signals "Stop." What Internal Revenue hopes that you will do is to see the red "stop sign" and go back and check the instructions or check your figures and eliminate a large part of the errors that came in on last year's tax returns.

May we suggest that you might feel blue about your tax return if you don't watch out for the red stop sign and correct the errors. The computer doesn't go by colors. The computer simply sends out a notice. It doesn't really matter how red, white and blue your attitude might have been when you prepared your return.

IDEAL FOR POOLS - According to the Southern Pine Association, atrium design is ideal for home swimming pools. The pool is located in a central yard surrounded on all sides by the house itself. Thus sheltered from busy streets and neighboring abodes, you can swim and sunbathe in complete privacy.

Lutheran Pastors Hold Meeting

SHEPPARD AFB, TEX. --- Lutheran pastors of the Missouri Synod met with Chaplain (Lt. Col.) Daryl G. Meyer at Sheppard Air Force Base recently.

In addition to holding the organization's regular monthly business meeting the group heard a lecture entitled "Counseling the Bereaved" and heard the Sheppard Technical Training Center mission briefing at Chapel 2.

Capt. Steven L. Jaffe, psychiatrist at the U. S. Air Force Hospital staff, discussed counseling for the bereaved.

The visiting clergymen and their wives had lunch at the Sheppard Officers Open Mess. They also toured the 3630th Flying Training Wing where they observed training for both the fixed wing and rotary wing aircraft pilots.

Lutheran ministers attended from Bowie, Burkburnett, Harold, Iowa Park, Olney, Vernon and Wichita Falls.

SHEPPARD AFB, TEX. --- Lt. Col. Robert L. Johnson has assumed duties as chief of the Department of Civil Engineering Training, 3750th Technical School at Sheppard Air Force Base succeeding Col. Maynard G. Hamilton who has become commander of 3750th Civil Engineering Group at Sheppard.

Colonel Johnson came to Sheppard from Tan Son Nhut AB, Vietnam where he was pilot of a EC-47 aircraft for a year. He is a command pilot with more than 4,200 hours of flying time.

A native of San Antonio, Tex., Colonel Johnson entered military service in 1944 at Foster Field, Tex., and served in the Southwest Pacific as a pilot during World War II. He was released from active duty in December 1945 after the close of World War II.

He worked with the base civil engineer at Randolph AFB, Tex. as a civilian from then until August 1950 when he was recalled to active duty with the Air Force and assigned to Joint Long Range Proving Ground at Patrick AFB, Fla.

He then served at Kadana AB, Okinawa, Itazuke AB, Japan, and Walters AFB, Tex., as base civil engineer. His next assignment was a student and later as instructor, at the Air Force Institute of Technology (AFIT) at Wright-Patterson AFB, Ohio, in the Civil Engineering Officer course.

From there he went to the University of Texas where he obtained a Bachelor of Science degree in architectural engineering through the AFIT program. He had previously done college work at Texas Tech University at Lubbock, Tex., University of Dayton in Dayton, Ohio, and Miami University at Oxford, Ohio.

He returned to base civil engineering work at Clark AB, Philippines. His successive assignments were at Headquarters Air Training Command at Randolph AFB, Tex.; Misawa AB, Japan; Kadana AB, Okinawa; Headquarters United States Air Force in Washington, D. C.; and Tan Son Nhut AB, Vietnam.

His decorations include the Distinguished Flying Cross, Air Medal and Air Force Commendation Medal.

Colonel Johnson and his wife, Norma, reside at 107 Falcon Drive in Capehart Housing. They have two married daughters, Patsy who lives in Germany and Peggy, who resides in Austin, Tex., and two grandsons.

Howard--His Name Trapshooting--His Game

SHEPPARD AFB, TEX. --- Standing on the 27-yard line, SSgt. Terry M. Howard barks out the "signal," takes aim... and fires. He connects more than 96 percent of the time.

No, he's not driving his team for a touchdown. His "signal" isn't "hut" - it's "pull." And he's not hitting a receiver, unless you call a clay pigeon a receiver.

Trapshooting is the name of Sergeant Howard's game and his "completion percentage" of 96.72 is the best in the world. He also owns the world trapshooting record of 299 "hits" out of 300 targets.

If you're still not impressed, you should know that the "sarge" has been shooting competitively for less than two years. He won the very first "shoot" he entered in February, 1968, and he hasn't been on the losing end much since then.

Packing 210 pounds on his 6-2 1/2 frame, Howard, who is assigned to Sheppard's 24th Weather Squadron, looks more like a candidate for a defensive line than a rifle range. And he probably enjoyed football more than trapshooting until a sergeant at Clinton-Sherman AFB, Okla., talked him into giving guns a whirl late in 1967.

"I had hunted some as a kid, but trapshooting is a completely different ballgame," Howard says. After collecting four trophies, a stereo set, a shotgun and a bundle of loot at that first shoot, he began to take his new hobby seriously.

A native of Des Moines, Ia., Howard soon discovered he had a penchant for picking clay pigeons out of the air with a .12 gauge shotgun. By June of 1968, he had met, and defeated the entire U. S. Air Force trapshooting team.

Howard did this from the 24 1/2-yard line, meaning he was within 2 1/2 yards of the top. Trapshooters start from the 16-yard line, then advance their distance from the clay targets as they become more proficient - ultimately to the 27-yard line.

To illustrate the rapidity of Howard's progress, he made the 27-yard stripe after six months - a full six months earlier than the previous best.

In July, 1968, the "sarge" tried out for a spot on the United States team to compete in the World Championships at San Sebastian, Spain.

The results must have shocked even Howard. After missing his 48th "bird," he nailed 252 straight, then added 23 more hits for a total string of 275. His 299 out of 300 mark was a new world's record, surpassing the old standard of 297. And his 275 consecutive hits shattered the previous mark of 187 straight.

After taking a second at the U. S. Championships at Phoenix, Ariz., Howard and five teammates packed their gear for the World Championships. Despite his seventh-place finish among a field of 105 of the world's best shooters at San Sebastian, Howard was disappointed with the results.

"They really set it up for us," he says. "The wind was terrible, it got real foggy one day and if you missed with your first shot, you could forget it." Still, the United States did take second place, largely due to the shooting of Howard and James Beck, who took third place.

America's high finish is especially significant in light of the vast difference between United States and international trapshooting. In the latter, the "birds" can be shot in virtually any direction and at a much higher speed.

Howard thinks the easier American trapshooting is due to the nature of Americans. "The good civilian shooters over here don't want to go out and miss a lot of birds. Hitting 100 straight is good, but 50,000 people have done it before," he observed.

In international competition, the pressure is almost unbearable at times. Howard believed trapshooting at this level is "the toughest shotgun game in the world."

"I've always been a little bit scared all the time," Howard admits, "like I might be working on luck. I know one thing, I'm not going to do any bragging. Once you start thinking you are the greatest, there's nothing left to shoot for."

With 136 trophies, a world record and a seventh-best in the world rating, Terry Howard has good reason to brag a little. But for now he'll leave the bragging to his wife, Penny. "After all," Howard says, "she thinks I'm a lot better shot than I do."

COUNTY AGENT NEWS

Oranges play an important part in the family health as one of the best sources of vitamin C. Since the body cannot store this nutrient, oranges served regularly can help provide daily requirement.

For the most satisfaction, buy the orange variety that is tailored to your needs, says Thelma Wirges, County Home Demonstration Agent.

The Navel variety is orange to deep orange in color, smooth, thick skinned, seedless, easy to peel and section. You can easily identify this variety by the small navel formation on one end. Its main use is for sections and out-of-hand eating.

The Temple orange is fire-red orange in color, its skin is like that of a tangerine and it has a sweet distinctive taste. It divides easily into sections and is a good choice for salad and desert dishes.

The Pineapple orange is medium to large in size, deep orange in color with a reddish tinge and has large and numerous seeds and a definite pineapple aroma. Use this orange for juice.

The Valencia orange has thin rather smooth skin and fewer seeds than the other juice oranges. It is medium to large in size, deep golden orange in color and its juicy, solid and heavy for its size. The Valencia is of special value because it ripens late in the season and is available after other varieties are off the market. It is a multi-purpose orange and can be used for slices and sections as well as for juice.

An orange can be served whole, or peeled and sectioned for an easy desert. Broiled orange halves make a different meat garnish. Appetizers and salads containing fresh oranges and other fruits are very tasty.

Quality oranges are firm and heavy for their size, with smooth, thin skins. Skin color does not indicate ripeness or inner color of fruit. Most surface scars and russet spots do not affect flavor or juiciness unless the oranges have soft spots or are wet. Larger oranges usually are better buys because they have more juice and more sections. But size does not affect quality.

Your family is not drinking enough milk, Thelma Wirges, County Home Demonstration Agent, suggests trying a different angle to insure they have enough calcium.

Nonfat dry milk may be included in a number of mixed dishes without ever being detected. Meatloaf, macaroni and cheese, cream soups, mashed potatoes and cooked cereal are just a few examples, says Miss Wirges.

Use it without reconstituting and check the package for specific instructions. Nonfat dry milk costs substantially less than fresh fluid milk, too. The powder can be kept on the shelf for a long time and requires little storage space.

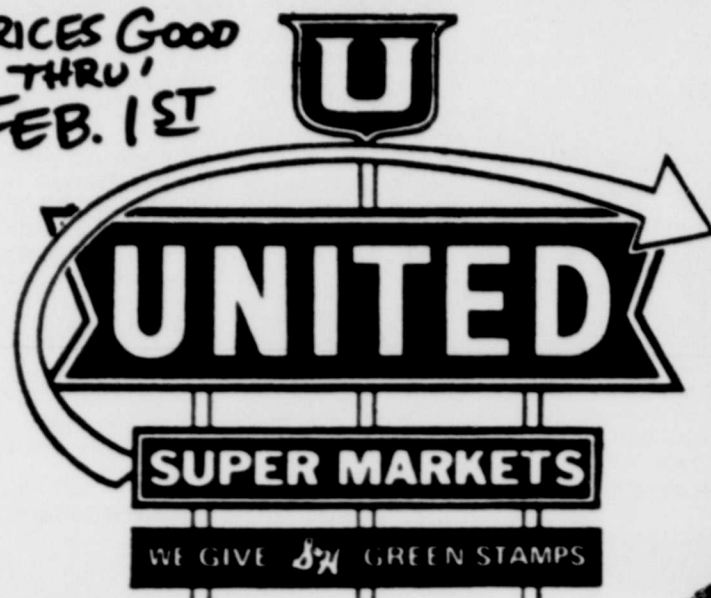

Evaporated milk is another economical product which can be used in a variety of ways. The unopened cans have the advantage of requiring shelf space and, like nonfat milk, may be kept for fairly long periods of time without deterioration. Once the can is opened, it should be refrigerated.

Evaporated milk is made by removing a little more than half of the water from the whole milk, so it can be used successfully in puddings, cream soups and cream sauces, scrambled eggs and in baked goods.

Remember to use half as much milk as the recipe calls for and to add an equal amount of water. In these days of high prices, it might be a good idea to explore these money-saving ways with milk.

Farm Bureau Week Slated February 2-7

Governor Preston Smith and Judge Calvin Ashley have designated the week of February 2-7 as "Farm Bureau Week" in Wichita County. The county Farm Bureau organization will have a special enrollment drive during this period as part of a statewide effort to push Farm Bureau membership in Texas over the 116,62 figure achieved in 1969.

The Wichita County Farm Bureau ended its 1969 membership year with 740 member families.

The official proclamation called for citizens "to give due recognition to this observance honoring the Wichita County Farm Bureau."

Raymond Schroeder of Burkburnett is president of the Wichita County Farm Bureau. Membership chairman is Loys D. Barbour of Iowa Park. Others on the committee are: Preet, 1, J. W. Tole, C. W. Brock, L. B. Slaughter and Fred E. Dwyer; Preet, 2, Norman Roberts, New Crane and Brack Preston, Jr.; Preet, 3, Carl Barnhill, Robert Wilcox, Gordon Parkey and Rex Wells; Preet, 4, Carl Moeller, Ed Foster, Jr., Floyd Brose and R. B. Wittenbach. Each precinct chairman will have volunteer workers.

The committee chairman said every farmer and rancher in the county is needed "as a member and leader in Farm Bureau."

"Each of us in agriculture has too great an outlay in our business not to do all we can to protect our investment in capital, time and labor," he declared.

The text of the proclamation issued by Governor Smith and Judge Ashley reads:

"Agriculture is vital to the economy of Wichita County, our State and Nation; and 'The productive efficiency of our farmers and ranchers has helped stabilize food prices and the cost of living for all our citizens; and

"This record of achievement has resulted from educational and technological advancements in agriculture under the free choice system;

"Farmers and ranchers have recognized the value of joining together in an organized effort to promote and protect their interests;

"Four out of five farm and ranch families in this Nation belong to a general farm organization of families united for the purpose of analyzing their problems and formulating action to achieve educational improvement, economic opportunity and social advancement, thereby promoting the national welfare.

"I, Calvin Ashley County Judge of Wichita County, do hereby designate February 2-7 as FARM BUREAU WEEK in Wichita County, and urge our citizens to give due recognition to this observance honoring the Wichita County Farm Bureau. "In official recognition thereof, I hereby affix my signature this 21st day of January, Signed Calvin Ashley Wichita County Judge

FORAGE TESTING ADVISED

A. M. Meekma, Extension dairy specialist, suggests that dairymen have all forage tested before attempting to balance herd rations. Not knowing the nutrient value of forages can cut production and increase the feed bill, he says.

COMMERCIAL BANKERS IN A&M MEETING -- The 18th annual Texas Farm and Ranch Credit School for Commercial Bankers will be held on the Texas A&M University campus February 16-17. Commercial cattle feeding will be a prime topic of discussion.

Scouts To Hold Chili Supper

A benefit chili supper will be sponsored by the Burkburnett Boy Scout Troop 155 from 6 to 9 PM on Saturday, at the First United Methodist Church in Burkburnett.

Proceeds will be used for the purchase of scouting equipment, repainting the church bus, which the scouts use, and for sending two Scouts to Austin for a report to the state during Scout Week.

Troop 155 has over 40 active Scouts, with more than 35 having received their Eagle Rank since the troop was chartered in 1954.

WHAT IS THE SAFE LIMIT FOR LOSING WEIGHT?

A workable weight-losing diet consists of three meals a day made up of food with high nutritive value. A safe limit is the loss of about two pounds per week.

MISS ELIZABETH JACKSON

Jackson-Bennett Engagement Told

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Jackson Sr., 813 Chestnut St., Burkburnett, announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Elizabeth, to Phillip R. Bennett, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Bennett, 2215 Wichita St., Vernon.

Miss Jackson will be a 1970 graduate of Burkburnett High School.

Mr. Bennett was a 1968 graduate of Vernon High School and is presently employed at Wichita Restaurant Supply, Wichita Falls.

The wedding is planned for June 13.

SEW A QUICKIE

In this season of skinny dress shapes and body-hugging silhouettes, the T-shirt look is tops. It clings, it swings, it's fun to wear—what more could you ask?

Just one thing and now you have it. McCall's Patterns has designed a T-shirt dress that's as easy to sew as it is to wear. Available in misses and junior sizes. "Quickie" Step-by-Step Pattern #2237 is especially recommended for knits. A scoop neckline and tiny-button trim add endearing young charm to the classic design. Suit yourself to a T with long or short sleeves, regular or "mini" hemline, matching slacks—it's all included in the pattern. Best of all, you can whip up this instant wardrobe from only a few basic pattern pieces.

Burkburnett TCTA Begins New Program

President, Irene Frey announces the beginning of a new program for the Burkburnett Classroom Teachers Association. This new program is the participation in the Red River Regional Blood Bank in Wichita Falls. All members are urged to support this new program and feel free to call upon the bank for blood when needed.

Mr. Leon Pace donated the first pint to the program. This pint makes Leon a member of the Three Gallon Club at the Red River Regional Blood Bank.

LANGUAGE OF ASHDOD

During a two-century exile the remnants of the Jews had inter-married with strangers. Alas, their children learned the speech of Ashdod: "In those days also saw I the Jews that had married women of Ashdod, of Ammon, and of Moab; and their children spake half in the speech of Ashdod, and could not speak in the Jews language, but according to the language of each people." (Neh. 13:23,24)

How tragic. They forgot Hebrew and the Law of God. Today people are forgetting God for Ashdod. Our speech betrays us. We have learned worldly language; our children are taught evil four-letter words on T.V. We forget Bible language and the Lord. We reason, talk, and live in worldly conceptions. LET US OBSERVE THE LANGUAGE OF ASHDOD RELIGIOUSLY.

PASTOR: I am often called this. But I am not a Pastor. "Pastor" is a term or title for elders or overseers of a local congregation. (This was always plural, Acts 14:23) The minister is called an "evangelist" in Eph. 4:11, "minister" in several N.T. examples. Since the word "minister" means servant we can all be ministers in some way or another.

REVEREND: I am often called this and I prefer not to have this title. People often apologize for forgetting when they address a preacher "reverend". And they should, for Psalm 111:9 says of God, "holy and reverend is thy name". DOCTOR: A preacher or evangelist is not medical. Folk are about to blow a fuse these days trying to be intellectual. All titles making distinction among brethren are eliminated when Jesus said in Matt. 23, "call no man Rabbi, Father, or Master".

SACRAMENT: The Lord's Supper is not a sacrament. It does not involve all kinds of mystical worship that is foreign to God's word. It is a memorial, a proclamation, a communion. (1 Cor. 11:23-29)

SABBATH: Is not Sunday but Saturday. Sabbath is the seventh day, Sunday is the first day. Christians worship God on the first day. (Acts 20:7; 1 Cor. 16:1,2; Rev. 1:10) THE CHRISTIAN SABBATH AS SUCH WILL BE HEAVEN AND ITS REST FROM THIS SINFUL WORLD.

LET US NOT ALLOW OUR SPEECH TO BETRAY US, BACK TO THE BIBLE AND NOT TO THE LANGUAGE OF ASHDOD.

Doty-Rainey Nuptials Exchanged Saturday

Wedding vows were exchanged Saturday afternoon by Miss Emma Lou Doty and John Edward Rainey. Jim Antwin, Church of Christ minister, officiated in the Church of Christ in Grandfield.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Doty of Devol and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Lawson of Grandfield.

The alter was banked with palm and fern trees interspersed with candelabra and centered with a unity candle.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a formal A-line gown of white peau de sole with Empire bodice trimmed with Chantilly lace. The skirt and train had lace motifs and seed pearls. Her veil of illusion was held by an arrangement of white velvet roses and leaves accented with pearls. She carried red roses and lily of the valley on a white Bible.

Miss Donna Burton was maid of honor and Mmes. Paul Josefy and Bobby Green of Burkburnett were the other attendants.

They wore formal gowns with red velvet Empire bodices and white peau de sole skirts. Their headpieces of red velvet bows held short white illusion veils and they carried red roses and feathered white carnations.

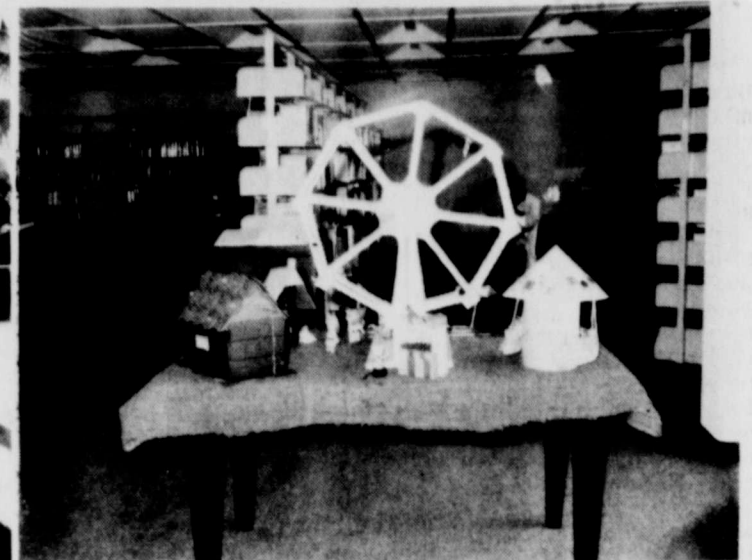

Nick Rainey was his brothers best man and groomsmen were his brothers, David and Joe Rainey. Ushers were Mark Rackley and Jack Cochranover. Nita Moore of Burkburnett was flower girl and Darren Todd Doty was ring bearer.

The brides parents were hosts for a reception in the Community Center. They were assisted by Mrs. Oleta Moore of Burkburnett, sister of the bride, and Mmes. David and Joe Rainey and Mary Beth Doty. Following a wedding trip the couple will be at home in Grandfield.

The bride is a graduate of Mrs. Carter's School of Beauty and will be employed by Bonnie's Beauty Shop. Rainey attended Southwestern State College and will attend Cameron State College next semester.

ON DISPLAY LAST WEEK in the Burkburnett Library were two projects of special interest to children. These were made by Mrs. Lavern Easter and Mrs. Gwen Dowling, elementary education majors at Midwestern University. Mrs. Easter's display shows a king with his jewels, and books which are compared to "jewels fit for a king". Mrs. Dowling's exhibit portrays storybook characters familiar to all children.

Go Gourmet!

Take the easy way out and you'll be in with our classic Fresh Apple Cheese Tarts. Here's a deluxe dessert to send taste buds into orbit and launch the cook as a master chef de cuisine. No special skills are involved in the sculptresque beauty of this apple combination made at your leisure to please the most demanding connoisseur. Apples underscore a kooky mixture of Cheddar, blue and cream cheeses—a lush, taste lingering treat destined for a cordial dinner date. Apple wedges top this pastry, palate-bound for the place of honor. A sweet time will be had by all!

FRESH APPLE CHEESE TARTS

2 cups finely diced peeled apples
8 4-inch baked tart shells
1 package (8 ounces) cream cheese, softened
1/4 cup crumbled blue cheese
1/4 cup finely shredded Cheddar cheese
1/4 cup milk
Apple wedges
Fresh lemon juice

Spoon diced apples evenly into tart shells. Blend together cream, blue and Cheddar cheeses. Beat in milk until light. Spread cheese mixture over apples in tart shells. Chill. Remove from refrigerator about one hour before serving. Just before serving, garnish each tart with apple wedges which have been lightly brushed with lemon juice. Makes 8 tarts.

Shower For Miss Turner Held Thursday

Johnette Martin was hostess for a lovely kitchen shower honoring Miss Rebecca Turner of Devol, bride-elect of Ron Holt of Randlett, in her home north of Randlett on Thursday, January 22. Acting as co-hostesses for the occasion were Miss Donna Kay Burton of Randlett and Mrs. Sherry Edgeman Berry of Burkburnett, classmates of Miss Turner.

The refreshment table was decorated with peacock blue and pale blue, the chosen colors of the bride-elect. A peacock blue tablecloth with lace overlay covered the table from which hot spiced punch and cake bearing the message, "Becky and Ron, January 30" was served. Johnette Martin led the group in several games throughout the evening.

Those enjoying the evening with the honoree were: Jessie Hamill, Bryana Payne, Treva Zwieacker, Clarita Holt, Linda Green, Gladys Holt, Dorothy Turner, Lydia Martin, Debbie Eastman, Faye Martin, Sherry Berry, Laura Adams, Donna Kay Burton and Johnette Martin.

LOCAL FFA YOUTH ENTERS

'70 HOUSTON SHOW

FFA'er Tommy Young of Burkburnett has entered commercial steer in the Junior Division of the 1970 Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo, to be held February 25th through March 8th.

The Junior Commercial Steer Show has proven of great interest and benefit to participants and spectators alike at the Houston Livestock Shows in past years. Exhibitors are limited to members of 4-H Clubs and Future Farmers from throughout the state, and only beef breeds which they have fed and cared for are on exhibit.

Junior Commercial steers will arrive at the Exposition Building on March 2 and will be classified, or graded, at 1 PM March 3. The Commercial Steer Sale will be held at 9 AM Thursday, March 5.

All steers entered, whether purebred, grade or crossbred, must weigh at minimum of 700 pounds at the official weigh-in at the show. Entry is limited to 1 pen per exhibitor, which may either be a pen of 8 or a pen of 3.

With the purpose of the Junior Commercial Show being to encourage young cattlemen to participate in a practical beef production program, emphasis on economy in the feeding operation is not only recommended, but is a prerequisite for entry. A narrative report on the feeding program followed in the care of the animal is required by each participant, along with completion of the Feeding Records form furnished by the Houston Livestock Show upon entry.

Armour and Company will host the Commercial Steer Exhibitors Banquet again this year to be held on March 4, where the following cash awards will be presented winners of the Feeding Records Contest: 1st Prize - $1000 awarded by Burton Bros. Packing Company; 2nd Prize - $500 awarded by Port City Packing Industry; 3rd Prize - $250 awarded by Port City Stockyards Company. A $50 General Louis Pulaski Memorial Award will be given for the best set of records in this contest, along with a special trophy presented by The Texas Trophy Company.

Superintendent of Junior Commercial Steers is Harold Franke, Animal Science Department of Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas, who will be assisted by Doyle Moore of Columbus, Texas.

Dates for the 1970 Houston Livestock Show & Rodeo are February 25 through March 8. For the first year, the first two days of the show will be restricted to livestock judging and sales.

All indications are there will be a record number of livestock and commercial entries. Even with the 16 acres available in the $7 million air-conditioned Exposition Building, exhibitor space is at a premium.

The Rodeo will be held in the world famous Astrodome, with a seating capacity of 45,000. Top professional cowboys will compete for the world's richest rodeo purse, expected to exceed $100,000.

Elvis Presley will be making his only Texas appearance in 1970 at matinee and evening performances on February 27, 28 and March 1, Charley Pride will follow on March 2, 3 and 4; Bobby Goldsboro for only one day, March 5; and Buck Owens and Roy Clark on March 4, 7 and 8.

A tuning fork that executes 261 vibrations a second produces a middle-C note. But so does a buzz saw if run at a speed where 261 teeth cut into the wood every second.

The meeting then adjourned and refreshments were served to the 17 members present.

Members voted to contribute to the Community Welfare Council.

Mrs. Avo Landes was program leader on "Conservation".

Members answered roll call with the name of a State Wild Flower.

Mrs. Wilma Thaxton gave a talk on the Texas State Flower, Tree and Bird. Mrs. Lou Ethel Boyd told about "The Origin of Arbor Day".

Mrs. Mary Cecil brought two flower arrangements to be voted on.

The meeting then adjourned and refreshments were served to the 17 members present.

The Texas Conference on Insect, Plant Disease, Weed and Erush Control, will be held February 24-26 at Texas A&M University's Memorial Student Center. It's an opportunity to get the latest information and control measures for economically important insects, plant diseases, weeds and brush. The three day program is action packed and is designed to answer many of the questions asked throughout the year on the subjects to be covered.

Screwworm cases in the Southwestern States for 1969 totaled only 219 against 9,268 confirmed cases in 1968. The past year was described by officials of the eradication program as the best in the history of the program from the standpoint of confirmed cases. Stockmen are advised to keep checking animals and when worms are found, to submit sample to the laboratory at Mission for positive identification. Sample bottles may be picked up at the County Agent's office.

Forage testing can take a lot of the guess out of the quality of the forage you are feeding, says County Agent B. T. Haws.

The nutrient content of forage crops varies so widely that it is difficult to precisely calculate ratings for best performance using average values for a given forage.

Recent analyses of some Coastal Bermudagrass hays shows the crude protein content varied from 3.3 to 17.2 percent. Protein content of alfalfa varied from 8.7 to 23.2 percent. A wide variation was also noted in other quality factors.

Thus, it is easy to see that the average values cannot be used with confidence in most cases. Underfeeding will result in decreased productivity and overfeeding in waster nutrients. In either case, profits will be lowered.

Forage sampling supplies and information on how to take a sample may be submitted to the Forage Testing Laboratory at Texas A&M University.

Efficient marketing of agricultural products will be one of the main topics at the 18th annual Farm and Ranch Credit School for commercial bankers February 16-17 at Texas A&M.

The Honorable John White, Texas Commissioner of Agriculture, will kick off this section of the program. His subject will be Texas Agricultural Products.

Monrovia, the capital and chief port of the African nation of Liberia, is named for United States President James Monroe.

The next meeting will be Thursday, February 12, with a Valentine program and a baby identification contest.

The members voted to donate $5.00 to the Oil Park Fund to be used as needed by the committee.

They also voted to invite Senior Citizens from nearby Oklahoma, to cross the river and join the group.

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health

Accent on Health

J. E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

Are the so-called "childhood diseases" limited only to children and do adults have an immunity to them?

Not so, says the Texas State Department of Health.

The childhood diseases are a myth. The fact is that these diseases are so contagious among children that most people have had them by adulthood and thereby have developed immunity. But adults can and do catch them, and when they do, they are sometimes much sicker than children.

Two of these so-called childhood diseases -- mumps and German measles (rubella) -- have special dangers for the adult patient. Mumps can be damaging to both adult men and women. And German measles, when occurring in the early part of pregnancy, can result in damage to the unborn child. A new vaccine may eventually lead to the eradication of German measles, but there is a danger until all women in the child-bearing years have been immunized against it.

So, if you are exposed to any "childhood" disease and believe you have never had it, ask your doctor what you can do to protect yourself.

It is extremely important that you and your children keep protection against smallpox up to date. True, the absence of smallpox in this country has led to a lack of public concern about this serious disease, and large segments of the adult population are unvaccinated or require boosters. In some parts of the world smallpox continues to be a serious problem. If just one single undetected smallpox case should be introduced into a U.S. community, it could touch off a serious epidemic.

Is it true that a baby is protected by his "natural immunity" acquired from his mother? Some of a mother's natural or acquired immunities if any, can be passed on to her unborn infant as her blood courses through the placenta and nourishes him, but this inherited immunity remains effective for only a short time.

In the case of whooping cough, a highly contagious disease that is especially dangerous and often fatal for small babies, there is evidence that immunity is only occasionally passed on.

Every parent, advises the State Health Department, should plan an immunization program beginning at six weeks of age against diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus, poliomyelitis and smallpox. Booster shots to maintain complete protection should follow at prescribed intervals throughout childhood and, in the case of certain diseases, well into adult life.

Use Checks, Money Orders to Pay Taxes

DALLAS - Use a check or money order to pay your 1969 Federal income tax. Ellis Campbell, Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue for North Texas, said today.

Unlike a cash payment, a check or money order gives you a record of payment in case of loss or misdelivery.

Mr. Campbell pointed out that payment can be stopped on a misplaced check or money order and a new payment made.

Checks or money orders should be made payable to the Internal Revenue Service. Write your social security number on the check or money order and state the exact purpose of the payment to help assure your payment is properly credited.

TAX NEWS

(Dallas, Texas) - Texas farmers are subject to self-employment tax for 1969 if their farm income is $400 or more. Ellis Campbell, Jr., District Director of the Internal Revenue Service, advised today.

The self-employment tax rate is 6.9 percent with a maximum of $38.20, and is in addition to income tax.

A self-employed farmer is one who operates his own business or farm. A farmer is also considered self-employed if he employs others to operate or work his farm even though he does not live on it himself.

A farmer must file a Federal Income Tax return and pay the self-employment tax due if his net earnings from self-employment are $400.00 or more, even if his gross income is less than $600.00 and he owes no income tax.

The self-employment tax applies to a maximum of $7800. But this figure is reduced by any wages from which Social Security taxes are withheld.

A special optional provision in the law enables farmers to acquire Social Security credits even if they have a loss after expenses are deducted.

"Farm" as used in the Federal tax law relating to Social Security and self-employment taxes, includes stock, dairy, poultry, fruit, fur bearing animals, and truck farms, and also plantations, ranches and nurseries.

"Farmer's Tax Guide," IRS Publication 225, furnishes more detailed information on this subject. The booklet is available without charge by sending a post card to your county agent or Supply, Internal Revenue Service, P.O. Box 1738, Dallas, Texas 75221.

Devol News

A miscellaneous shower complimenting Miss Emma Lou Doty and her fiancé John Rainey, was an event of January 18, at the Community Building in Devol.

The honorees colors of red and white were emphasized in the decorations and a doll dressed in a bridal gown was the table centerpiece.

Refreshments were served to thirty guests.

The couple were married on January 24 at the Church of Christ in Grandfield.

Mrs. Vernon Lagrove spent the weekend in Tulsa visiting in the home of her granddaughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Armen Mirzalian.

Mrs. Frank McClendon was admitted to the Scott and White Clinic in Temple, Texas, on Wednesday, January 15, for observation and biopsy of a head tumor. She is reported to be resting nicely at this time, and will be able to return to her home in Devol this week for a ten-day stay until the time when she will return to the hospital for more surgery.

Rev. and Mrs. Carlton Campbell and family moved into the Baptist Church Parsonage in Devol on Saturday, January 17.

Bro. Campbell has accepted this call to pastor the church here and had taken up his duties as pastor in December, and is now on the field for ministering to the needs of the church and community.

The Campbell family moved here from Sheppard AFB where he is in the Air Force.

A pre-wedding shower honoring Miss Rebecca Turner, and Mr. Ronnie Holt, was held Saturday, January 24 at 7:00 PM in the Devol Community Building.

In need of a Pull...

It is fun to get out and romp with our children, to share in their joy. Sometimes it is even work to pull them on a sled. Afterwards you may be tired and bones and muscles ache, but you think fondly of the laughter, and squeals of delight and the love that shines in a child's eyes. Then you think it's all worth the effort, for they won't be young forever, and someday you will only have memories.

They won't be young forever and now is the time that they need a pull in the direction toward God. Now is the time that you can lead and share in the joys of their worship. Take your children to Church

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Education And Inflation

As Congress convened this past week for this year's session, the Senate turned immediately to a matter of grave importance for Americans and Texans - that of fiscal 1970 appropriations for the departments of Health, Education, and Welfare and Labor and the Office of Economic Opportunity.

The Senate approved a bill providing some 19.7 billion dollars. President Nixon had recommended 1.3 billion dollars less than Congress provided. Even before the Senate acted, he indicated that he would be inclined to veto a bill containing the full amount approved by Congress because of the inflationary impact the additional government spending would foster.

I agree that the additional overall government expenditures would tend to be inflationary. At the same time I have strongly supported that portion of the funds contained in the bill for what is known as impacted school aid.

In areas where there is a heavy concentration of government activity, such as areas near military bases, the local tax base is narrowed by expansive federal ownership of lands and facilities which cannot be taxed. At the same time, there is a large population of persons drawn to the area to work at the federal installations. Many of these persons actually live on federal property. Others do not. But the children of all these families usually attend local public schools.

This means that the local school district must pay for the education of children without the benefit of collecting taxes on the federal lands. In turn, this means a heavier burden on the non-federal lands from which the school district can collect taxes; unless the federal government pays its share of the educational costs of these children belonging to families in which the wage earner is federally employed.

This is the reason for government school aid paid directly to local school districts which are impacted with federal-owned lands and facilities. The government must continue to meet this responsibility.

In Texas, we have 26 separate school districts with 278 schools within those districts which are qualified to receive impacted aid.

I mentioned that some of the families of eligible children actually live on federal property and others do not. Since residential property is subject to local taxation even though it is occupied by a federally-employed family, the law provides a reduced formula for impacted aid payments to school districts for children of these families. Many families in Texas qualify under this formula and the aid to Texas school districts for the education of children of these families is significant.

The administration requested 5.8 million dollars for impacted aid payments for those children who actually live on federal property; but it requested no funds for those who do not. The bill approved by both houses of Congress provides the requested funds for Texas school districts and adds 23.3 million dollars in payments for children who live on private taxable property and whose parents are employed on non-taxable federal property. Those funds are vitally important to the affected school districts, and I have supported that appropriation.

I have done so as I recognize that if it were not for the federal presence, the parents of those children would be employed at non-governmental enterprises on corporate or business property which would be subject to local taxation. Thus the loss of local tax base is still real for the school district, even though they are educating children of families living on private taxable residential property.

I believe the administration has taken a position of sound fiscal responsibility in opposing the other increases in the HEW appropriations bill with the single exception of impacted school aid which I believe vital for Texas school districts.

I have spoken often before of the need to hold down government spending as one of our most effective tools in the current battle against inflation. We must succeed in our efforts to offset the spiraling cost of living. We are paying too many of our hard-earned dollars to buy the goods and services we need and desire to provide for ourselves and our children an acceptable standard of living.

Overriding on the part of the federal government will fuel the fires of inflation. And we must remember that inflation affects all our economy. It affects the money our government spends on education as much as that we spend at home for food and clothing. If the government attempts to add education by providing funds for lower priority items now, those dollars will buy less than they would if spent after we have curtailed inflation.

Some economic indicators are now beginning to show some positive signs that the cost of living is indeed beginning to ease. But we cannot afford to rush to the conclusion that the battle is already won. If we do, we may find ourselves tempted to spend funds which our federal government still does not have. If we fall to this temptation, we could easily discover that we will have lost even the minimal gains that our belittling efforts to date appear to be bringing.
