1988 Fall Harvest Underway; Good Crop Year

Friday night, tomorrow, from 10 p.m.-1 a.m., the Muleshoe Youth Center will be sponsoring an After-Game dance at the American Legion.

Scotty Snipes of Clovis will be providing the music for the dance.

The Muleshoe Young Homemakers will sponsor youth skating at the Bailey County Civic Center, tomorrow, Friday, 7-9 p.m.

Balloons will be given all the skaters attending. Admission will be $1 per skater.

The third annual Sundown Softball Co-Ed Halloween Tournament is scheduled for October 28-29 and 30 with a $90 entry fee per team. Deadline for entry is October 25.

Sundown will furnish Gold Dot balls for the tournaments.

Trophies will be presented to the 1-3 place teams; individual T-shirts for the 1-2 teams; both male and female MVP's will be named and 6-T-shirts will be presented for the best Halloween costumes.

For additional information, contact Debbie Gilmore at 806/229-3491.

FIRST BALE OF COTTON FOR 1988--Monday afternoon, the first reported bale of cotton was ginned in Bailey County. The trailer load of cotton was taken to Clauch Gin at Bula around noon on Monday, October 17. It was produced by Jim Cannon, who farms northwest of Bula. The cotton produced a 550-pound bale. Cannon said he planted Paymaster 145 on dryland on May 17. Pictured with the bale are from left, Jim Cannon, Chase Cannon, Dusty Cannon and Jim Cannon. (Journal Photo)

Bumper Grain Sorghum Will Help Agricultural Outlook

"As we enter into the fall harvest season, Bailey County farmers are starting to realize the yields from the many hours of hard work during this past summer," said Spencer Tanksley Bailey County Extension Agent. "The 1988 crop year will be remembered as one of good, timely rainfall, good weather conditions through the summer, with a light infestation of insects and good crop yields.

"This doesn't mean to say that we haven't had farmers who have had hail damage, washed in crops and have suffered other natural losses or disasters," he continued.

According to the county agent, temperature wise, this has been a very cool summer with low heat unit accumulations in crops. This year's cotton crop is about 300 heat units behind the average. Therefore, Tanksley still sees a lot of cotton fields without open cotton bolls.

"Many early May planted fields of cotton show 20-50 percent open bolls at this time," continued Tanksley. "Late planted cotton, into early June, still needs more time with hot temperatures to help mature the crop."

Monday morning, Dr. James Supak visited the Bula community with producers about harvest aid chemicals and how to use these to get the crop ready for harvest.

Several late planted fields in the Bula area need more time and do not need chemicals applied for the next couple of weeks, according to what Dr. Supak and the Bailey County agent determined.

He said producers who need more information should contact the Bailey County Extension office at the courthouse in Muleshoe for a cotton harvest aid guide.

Tanksley said that in viewing other crops, the corn harvest is approximately 75 percent complete with a normal to better average in both yellow and white varieties.

Annual Dinner

By Methodist

Is Planned

First United Methodist Church of Muleshoe will sponsor its seventh Annual Second Thursday Turkey Dinner on Thursday, November 10.

The dinner will begin at 11 a.m. and run through 1:30 p.m. on November 10 in the Fellowship Hall. Take-out orders and deliveries will also be available that day. Tickets for the all-you-can-eat dinner will be $6.

Proceeds from the dinner will stay in the community this year, with half going to the hospital and the other half toward meeting the needs of the hungry in the community.

A spokeswoman for the church said, "We recognize a conflict in scheduling with our Turkey Dinner and a salad luncheon sponsored by the AARP. Due to advance preparations, we are unable to change dates. We hope everyone in our community will support our dinners."

Jenny McDaniel

Wins First Place

In F-Ball Contest

There's a new first place winner in the weekly merchant's football contest this week.

Jenny McDaniel was the only person to miss just four games in the contest, so waltzed away with first place.

Two persons missed five games so it was off to the tiebreakers to determine the second and third place winners.

Kay Graves was closest to the correct tiebreaker score, but was still 71 points off on what proved to be a pair of very high scoring games.

In third place was Jerry Johnson, who was 90 points off on the double tiebreaker.

But, even with a third place win, Jerry Johnson is maintaining a very slim lead in the contest at this point.

One second place win and two third place wins put him ahead by two points.

But, no one needs to 'throw in the towel' yet. There are still a few weeks to go before the end of the annual contest, and the grand prize winner may still be lurking in the background somewhere. So keep those entries coming in.

MISD Superintendent

Talks About Education

Using a humorous approach, and a fast pace, Dr. Lawrence Ward, the new superintendent for the Muleshoe Independent School District, spoke to the Muleshoe Rotary Tuesday at noon.

After being introduced by L. B. Hall, owner/publisher of The Muleshoe Journal and Bailey County Journal, Dr. Ward said he was very pleased with the high quality and outstanding newspaper in Muleshoe.

After appropriately identifying various Rotary members, he gave a brief background on his own club activities, citing that he had been a member of the Kiwanis Club.

Singling out a Rotarian or two, he mentioned the "Wayne Newton" of Muleshoe and said he had noticed more attorneys in Kiwanis than in Rotary Clubs, a remark that was well-received by the Rotary members, after his explanation of why this was so.

Then, getting down to 'brass tacks,' he told the group, "I am here to represent kids. That's my job; 'an advocate for kids.'"

He based his talk on Affective Education vs. Causitive Education.

In Causitive Education, we educate the head," he said, "but

Mules Continue To Rack Up

Statistics As Season Winds Down

Friday night, the Muleshoe Mules will be hosting the Tulia Hornets, and will be making every effort to take the 'sting' out of the traditional annual foe of the "Never-Say-Die" Mules.

Gametime is 7:30 p.m., and although the Mules have suffered through the trauma of numerous injuries this fall to the Mules, will be in there trying for another victory. Gametime is 7:30 p.m. in Benny Douglass Stadium at Muleshoe High School.

To date this year, the Mules are 2-5 for the season, having victories over Shallowater and Amarillo River Road.

In district action, they are 0-2, having faced down the powerhouse Dimmitt Bobcats, holding a lead until less than a minute and a half remained in the ball game. Last week, they were defeated by Floydada.

After seven games, the Mules have rushed 283 times for 841 yards; their opponents have rushed 263 times for 1183 yards.

In passing, the Mules have completed 23-60 for 279 yards and have been intercepted eight times. Their opponents have completed 36-96 passes for 671 yards and four interceptions.

The Mules have 67 first downs, with 51 through rushing, 12 passing and four through penalties. Their opponents have had 95 first downs, with 67 being in rushing, 25 passing and three through penalties.

The Mules have had 36 penalties for 295 yards to 31 for their opponents with 256 yards. The Mules have lost 14 fumbles and their opponents have lost eight.

Individually, Michael Dunham has carried 104 times for 409 yards; Daniel Olivas, 29 times for 191 yards; John Orozco, 44 times for 161 yards; Jeff Hicks, 28 times for 42 yards; Larry Gonzales, two times for 11 yards; Tim Shipman, 29 times for 78 yards; Eric Richardson, 22 times for 63 yards; Estevan Sandoval, eight times for 7 yards and A. J. Liles, 17 times for 1 yard.

Jeff Hicks completed 12-27 passes for 165 yards; A. J. Liles, 10-30 for 107 yards; Larry Gonzales, 1-2 times for seven yards.

Top receiver has been Estevan Sandoval, who has received 10 for 201 yards; Tim Shipman, seven for 28 yards; Daniel Olivas, two for 12 yards; A. J. Liles, one for eight yards; Doug Chitwood, one for 18 yards; Johnny Horn, one for seven yards and Michael Dunham, one for five yards.

To date for the year, Michael Dunham has a total of 414 offensive yards; Estevan Sandoval, 392 yards; Daniel Olivas, 360 yards; John Orozco, 161 yards; Tim Shipman, 128 yards; Jeff Hicks, 123 yards; A. J. Liles, 114 yards; Eric Richardson, 109 yards; Doug Chitwood, 18 yards; Cont. Page 6, Col. 6

Horns Down Amherst

In Football Rivalry

When the Lazbuddie Longhorns went to Amherst last Friday night to take on the Bulldogs, it was with the thought that it was a very crucial game for the 'Horns.

But, by the time the game was over at 7:07 of the third, it had been Lazbuddie all the way.

Amherst had a bad night and lost four fumbles and lost two interceptions to the Longhorns.

In the first quarter of the 51-6 game, Wes Jarman scored from 18 yards out on a pass from Michael Williams, and Brian Glover kicked the extra point.

Kevin McGehee received the next Michael Williams pass for 40 yards and paydirt, with Glover again making the extra point.

Brian Glover then latched onto a 35 yarder from Michael Williams and raced it into the end zone, then made the extra point.

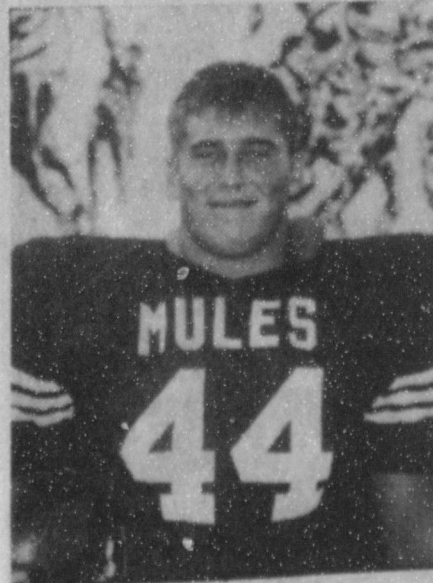

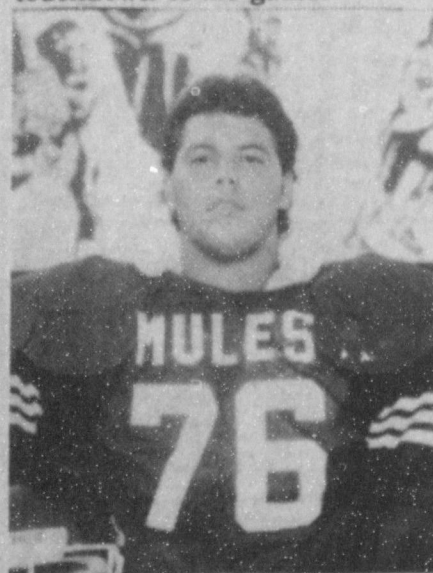

At the end of the first, it was 24-0 for Lazbuddie.

Kevin McGehee added two more touchdowns in the second quarter, the first being a five yard run, with Glover kicking the extra point. Kevin then came back with a 35-yard scamper, but the PAT failed.

The Amherst Bulldog's only score came just before halftime when Steve Pierce scored on a Kevin Sherrill pass, but the PAT Cont. Page 6, Col. 1

DEFENSIVE PLAYERS OF THE WEEK--Sharing Defensive Player of the Week honors for the Muleshoe-Floydada football game last Friday night are brothers Jaime and Salvador Olivarez. They combined in forcing a fumble in the end zone, and then scoring the Mules' sole touchdown of the game.

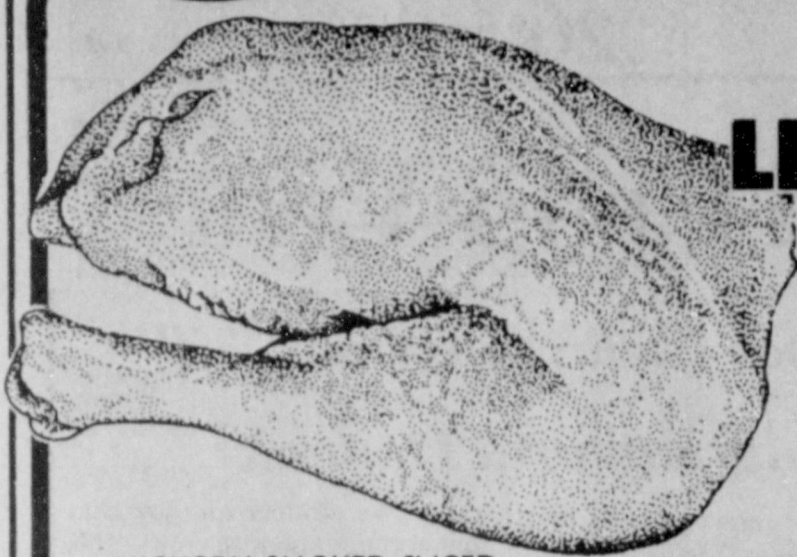

OFFENSIVE PLAYER OF THE WEEK--Michael Dunham was again chosen Offensive Player of the Week for his actions during the Muleshoe-Floydada game last Friday night.

City Accepts Pickup Bids During Meet

After opening and comparing bids from two local dealers, members of the Muleshoe City Council chose the low bid submitted by Muleshoe Motor Company for two new pickups.

Muleshoe Motor bid $11,445 for one of the pickups and $15,265 for a four-wheel drive pickup. They were allowing $3,800 in trade in for other vehicles. Their base bid, which was accepted by council members, was for a total of $22,910.

Also bidding on the two pickups was Robert D. Green. They bid $11,455 on one of the pickups; $15,874 for the four-wheel drive and a $3,500 trade in allowance. Their total bid was $23,829.

In other action, City Manager Dave Marr told the Council that the airport is 'still on hold.'

Farm Bureau Gives Nod

To Teel Bivins

State Senate candidate Teel Bivins, an Amarillo cattleman, has received a major endorsement from the Texas Farm Bureau. The endorsement marks the first time ever that the Farm Bureau has made a recommendation in the 31st Senatorial District, or anywhere in the state, through its 'Friends of Agriculture Fund.'

"We believe Teel Bivins will best represent this district in Austin during these critical economic times," said Aubrey Rasor, a Gruver farmer who is the District One Director of the Texas Farm Bureau. "He is a conservative, he has an understanding of what it takes to earn a living from agriculture, he has a deep and abiding appreciation for the people and the land in this Panhandle region, and he is young and aggressive."

"He will be a sincere representative of the people, who will listen to our concerns, and will make decisions based upon the view of the people," Rasor said.

The decision to endorse Bivins came after Farm Bureau county meetings in each of the 22 counties that make up District One. There are at least 13,000 voting delegates in the district. Farm Bureau is the largest farm association in Texas.

Bivins said he was proud to receive the Farm Bureau endorsement. "When you consider the fact that some 35 percent of the agricultural revenues in the entire state come from north of Lubbock," Bivins said, "I believe it's important that we have a voice for agriculture in the Texas Senate."

"I make the better part of my living from agriculture. I know what it is to have a wheat crop hailed out, I know what it is to face drought, and have markets go all over the place," Bivins said.

If elected, Bivins would be one of only two senators who makes his living from production agriculture.

made no commitment on building the crossing from Highway 84, across the tracks to the new airport southeast of Muleshoe.

He also said bids will be taken at the meeting on November 15 for a paving project for a portion of the City of Muleshoe.

Preliminary ground work has been done, and specs are being worked out at this time.

Cage's Attend Parents' Weekend

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Cage of Muleshoe sampled campus life during Parents' Weekend at Austin College Oct. 8-9. Their daughter, Ali, is a student at the liberal arts college.

Approximately 600 parents, grandparents and relatives of Austin College students attended the tenth annual Parents' Weekend.

On Saturday, the visitors listened to a lecture by Dr. Shelton Williams, professor of political science, on "U. S. - Japanese Relations: The AC Connection" and a welcome and orientation by Dr. Randy Hudson, director of alumni and parent relations. They also were honored with a buffet luncheon and dinner theater.

Evening entertainment was presented by Mike Reid, former football great and Grammy award-winning composer.

As an example of the extracurricular side of college life, they were invited to attend a football game between the AC Kangaroos and the Tarleton State Texans. Parents and grandparents of AC football players

Texas' oldest producer honored in Anson by TDA

(ANSON)--Texas farmers and ranchers have been the workhorses which tamed the wilderness and made the Lone Star State the envy of the nation. I can think of no one who represents that pioneer spirit any better than Mr. J. D. Poland, and the Texas Department of Agriculture is proud to join in honoring him with our Oldest Producing Producer Award," Texas Department of Agriculture Lubbock District Director Martha Edwards said here.

Edwards joined State Senator Steve Carriker of Roby and Jones County Judge Roy Thorn at a ceremony honoring Poland at the Poland farm, located about 30 miles northwest of Abilene.

"It is unusual to find a business of any size which can stay in operation for eight decades. Yet, Mr. Poland has managed this month to celebrate both his eighth decade in farming and his 101st birthday. It took a lot of ingenuity, dedication and just plain sweat to start farming in the West Texas brush country back in 1908. Obviously, agriculture has undergone an avalanche of technological changes over the past 80 years. But, Mr. Poland is fond of saying 'God doesn't like quitters,' and that attitude is a reminder of the real reason so many of us love agriculture," Edwards said.

Poland was born in 1887 in Collin County near Farmersville. The Poland family moved to Jones County in 1889, and J. D. Poland graduated from Merkel High School. Poland later graduated from the Carlisle Military Academy in Arlington, Texas, as a commissioned officer. However, he returned to the family farm in Jones County in 1908 after the death of his father. Poland has remained on the farm except for service in the U.S. Army during World War I. The Texas native fought in France with the Army's 165th Brigade.

The Oldest Producing Producer Award was presented to Poland by State Senator Carriker whose Senate district includes Jones County. Poland was selected by TDA officials who reviewed hundreds of applications from elderly Texas farmers and ranchers.

Parents To 'Help'

Monday night, when the Fine Arts Boosters met at the 16th and D Church of Christ, the following statement was released:

were recognized in pre-game activities.

Sunday's activities were highlighted by an all-college worship service in Wynne Chapel and a buffet luncheon.

"The Fine Arts Boosters would like to stress that 100 percent of the money made goes to fund projects for the Art, Speech and Band departments of junior high and high school. Please understand if you are called upon to help, it is because your child is in one of these departments, so please do your best to help!"

With President Kent Wiley conducting the meeting, Marilyn Cox gave a financial report and Ronnie Bennett, Pat Mudford and Patsy Chance reported on the concession stand.

The Boosters said they would like to say a big "THANKS" to the following merchants for sponsoring the Mule Popcorn Megaphones now available at the concession stand: Bingham & Nieman Realty; Poynor's Home and Auto; First Bank, Pay-n-

Save and Atkins Insurance.

Next meeting for the Fine Arts Boosters will be Monday, November 21 at 7:30 p.m. at the 16th and Avenue D Church of Christ.

PARMER WILL VOTE ON NEW COUNTY SEAT
Parmer County is to have a county seat election which has been called in response to a petition for such election. This petition was circulated throughout the county on Tuesday of last week and signed by over 300 of the citizens of the county.
This petition was presented to the county judge office in Farwell on Wednesday, and prayed for an election to decide whether or not the county seat of Parmer County should remain in its present location at Farwell or be moved to Friona of the same county and state.
The election has been called to be held on Monday, November 26.

NEW EQUIPMENT FOR POST OFFICE
Since the Muleshoe post office has been given higher classification, A.J. Gardner, postmaster, is becoming quiet high brow because of the manner in which Uncle Sam is pouring in modern equipment for his use.

Recently he has received a new Royal typewriter, automatic parcel post scale and individual stamp cabinets. There is a rotary stamp canceling machine, and A.J. says as soon as the future location has been definitely decided upon he expects to receive an entirely new set of customers mail boxes and other furniture and fixtures to complete the new equipment.

RESIDENTIAL MAIL DELIVERY SURVEY EXPECTED SOON
Postal officials here said this week that the district postoffice department is expected to begin a survey in Muleshoe with the view to establish home delivery of mail.
Postmaster Arnold Alcorn said although the date of the survey is not known, it is expected to be in the near future. If the majority of patrons express a desire for residential mail service, the district postal department will then check to see if all requirements are met, such as having houses correctly numbered, streets and sidewalks, and other items which must be compiled with before the service begins.
A survey recently undertaken by the Chamber of Commerce showed an overwhelming majority in favor of residential delivery.

Two nationally recognized child development experts will conduct seminars at a Child Care Trainers' Institute to be held Jan. 18-19 at Texas A&M University.
The Institute, which is sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service (TAEX) and the First Years National Seminar Series, is designed for professionals who provide education and training for child care workers.
Dr. T. Berry Brazelton and his faculty will present a seminar on "The First Years" on Jan. 19. Dr. Brazelton is Clinical Professor of Pediatrics at Harvard Medical School and Chief of the Child Development Unit at The Children's Hospital in Boston.
Although he has published more than 150 articles and 15 books on child development, Brazelton is probably best known for his Lifetime cable TV series on "What Every Baby Knows."
On Jan. 18, Dr. Brazelton will present an evening program on "Working and Caring," which offers sound advice for working parents on raising children in the late 1980s. The evening program will be open to the public and to institute participants.
Dr. Bettye Caldwell, nationally-known authority on early childhood education and advocate of policies in support of young children and their families, will present the keynote address on issues related to child care for the Jan. 18 trainers' seminar.
Caldwell is Distinguished Professor of Education at the University of Arkansas at Little Rock.
During the conference, participants will be able to choose from among 27 concurrent sessions presented by child development leaders from Texas and surrounding states. The sessions will include presentations on curriculum, nutrition and health methodology for training and administration of child care programs.

Registration for the institute sessions is limited to 300. Information and registration materials for both the institute sessions and the evening program may be obtained by writing TAEX Child Care Trainers' Institute, 205 Special Services, Texas A&M University, College Station, TX 77843-2251.
"Now that more than half of pre-school children have both parents in the work force, public interest and professional attention have become focused on the quality of child care available for families," said Diane Welch, Extension Service family life specialist and institute coordinator.
"The purpose of this conference is to enhance the delivery of child care services by contributing to the professional development of those people who provide training for child care workers," she said.
Welch said individuals attending the institute will be able to earn continuing education units (CEUs) from Texas A&M

Friendship Club

The Muleshoe Friendship Club met Thursday, Oct. 13 in the home of Olene Watts for a covered dish luncheon.
Following the luncheon, Olene Watts, president, presided over the business meeting. Adelyn Swafford gave the opening prayer and Gladys Darsey, secretary, read the minutes of the previous meeting and they were approved. She also gave the treasurer's report.
"We were so happy that Lois Witherspoon, who recently moved to Lubbock came to be with us" said Maud Young.

Members present were: Ruth Shafer, Adelyn Swafford, Rob Damron, Sammie Ethridge, Maud Young, Pauline Guinn, Jewell Griffiths, Kathryn Cole, Lois Witherspoon, and Olene Watts, hostess.
The next meeting will be with Mrs. Witherspoon in Lubbock on Nov. 9. Maud Young gave the closing prayer.

CHILI CHEESE BUTTER

1/2 cup softened butter or margarine, 1/2 cup shredded Jarlsberg cheese, 1 small clove garlic, minced, 1/4 teaspoon chili powder
In bowl, combine all ingredients until well blended. Spoon into serving dish; cover. Chill until ready to serve. Makes about 1 cup spread.

Fall Harvest

exceptionally good in many fields in the southern part of the county," he added, "with some of these fields to be producing 'bumper' yields. Only about five percent of the crop has been cut for harvest."

Tanksley added that moisture is still high in grain sorghum.

The quality of hay is down because of so much rainfall, reminded Tanksley. Early, excessive rainfall has hampered harvest conditions.

On the bright side, the hay prices are remaining high, with standing alfalfa at $70 per ton.

The county agent said despite frustrating harvesting conditions the prices for hay have stayed very good.

"Soybeans are a 'catch crop' this year," said Tanksley. "They are showing a good yield in the 35-45 bushel per acre range, and the local market price is $7-$8. About 80 percent of the soybeans have been harvested in this county."

"Looking at the wheat situation," said Tanksley, "we are starting to see people turn stocker cattle in on August planted wheat."

"After about 30 days without measurable precipitation, we see dryland wheat needing good 'top' rain."

He added, "Deep moisture is very good, but the wheat is dry on top."

Farmers are still facing many hours of field work in the next 45 days as they harvest their fall crops.

"We are hoping for a delay in the first freeze until mid-November to give the crops more time to mature," said Tanksley.

"The average freeze date is around October 26-27 for this area, but we sure would like to see that delayed some."

Tanksley said vegetables all across the county are good this year. We have had a good onion and potato yield, and the vegetables have proven to be a good, quality crop.

At this time, we are seeing quality carrots and peppers still being produced.

For those interested in Halloween, the pumpkin harvest is very good. They are small in size, said the county agent, but are of a very good fruit quality. There is also a national shortage of pumpkins, which even more enhances the good area harvest.

Livestock is in good condition and the range condition is staying good. There is still an abundant amount of forage for cattle to graze. However, this grass is drying out, added Tanksley. Livestock may need some protein supplement later in the fall.

Tanksley said cattle are being moved into the county, are being processed and put on stubble.

Although the market for stocker cattle has been slow in recent months, more cattle are anticipated to be moved into the area in the coming weeks.

"Overall," concluded Tanksley, "we are looking at 1988 being a good crop year, that could generate more agriculture dollars and income for the county. The price outlooks are still good for most commodities."

Claunch Named

SCS Director

For Zone 4

Carl Bamert, chairman of Blackwater Valley Soil and Water Conservation District in Bailey County has released the following information:

"The District held an election October 6 at the old Bula School for zone four director." This zone comprises the Fairview, Circle Back, Bula and Enochs communities.

"Bennie Claunch, resident of the Bula community was elected to this position and will serve a four year term as do all district directors," Bamert said.

The other directors and their zone locations are Ernest Ramm, zone one, which is the northwest portion of Bailey County, including the West Camp and Progress communities; Carl Bamert, zone two, northeast Bailey County including Muleshoe and the Y-L community; zone three, J. L. Dale, central Bailey County, including Stegall, Baileyboro and Needmore communities; and zone five, Johnny Furgeson, southwest Bailey County, including Maple and Goodland communities.

IT'S SPOOKTIME AT WEST PLAINS MEDICAL CENTER--Just in case you were not aware of the latest edition of the "O'Lantern" family meet Jill (left) and Jack (right) O'Lantern and their new son. This is a sneak preview of the young O'Lantern son officially to be born at 12 midnight on Monday, October 31, 1988. He is in his bassinet right outside the nursery at the hospital, being attended by sometimes O.B. Nurse Lucille Harp. The card on the end of the bassinet indicated the young son weighed 10 pounds, three ounces and was 22 inches long. The card also noted that Dr. Allgood was the "baby's doctor," and the mother's doctor is Doctors Purdy/McClanahan. Go by and see the display. (Journal Photo)

smiling and happy with what he's doing and taking care of your car. Then, you have someone with an IQ of 140, who doesn't care about you--or your car--which one would you rather have?"

He spoke of finding the right 'niche' for youth and educating them in the proper way.

A believer in motivator Zig Ziglar, he spoke about the difference in hardening of the arteries and hardening of the attitudes.

Dr. Ward also used an article from the Kansas City Times, telling the group that his prerequisite for being an administrator did not include having been a coach, but he was in elementary education.

The superintendent gave an article about what youth learn in kindergarten, and likened it to adulthood -- citing that all the things learned, such as "share everything," "say you're sorry," "clean up after yourself if you make a mess," "stick together" and "hold hands," all fit adult situations.

"Everything's in there somewhere," he said. "We learn everything in kindergarten -- not in graduate school," he added.

Superintendent Ward also talked about school being a safe environment, and gave a number of examples proving this to be true.

He also talked about school being a place to make mistakes -- but to learn from these mistakes and to grow from them. "We must work hard to educate the whole person," he continued.

Using Robert Frost's "The Road Not Taken," he spoke of the beauty of language.

Dr. Ward was enthusiastically welcomed to Muleshoe by the Rotarians and guests present for the meeting.

MULESHOE JUNIOR VARSITY

It was a very slim loss for the Muleshoe Junior Varsity Mules last Thursday night, when they were defeated by the Floydada JV 8-0.

Coach Kyle Carver said, "The Mules, again, over-tripped their opponents in offensive output, but had costly penalties that lost field position."

They held the Floydada JV scoreless until the fourth quarter, when the Floydada team managed to get on the scoreboard.

Creative Writing Class Writes Short Stories

The creative writing class has been working on many different short story forms in the past weeks. This characterization, "My Dad", was written by Wendy Green.

Every child needs a role model, and luckily I was blessed with a dad who has influenced every aspect of my life. For as long as I can remember, I noticed what an influential and respected man he was. I observed that the people he had dealings with felt that he was honest and reliable. He was, however, every bit as honest and reliable in our home setting. Through the years, I grew to admire his hardworking, devoted manner and decided that I wanted to be as exemplary as he.

To his business colleagues, he is a very capable, sensible, and erudite gentleman. His imposing stature indicates his firm, steadfast, yet demanding personality. He is very courteous to others, always making a special point to know everyone's name and putting their needs before his own. He is also a perfectionist, making sure he does everything properly and on time. Because of these distinguished characteristics, he is trusted by his clients and considered to be a respected community leader.

As a family man, my father is loving, devoted, and trustworthy. When my sister and I were growing up, he strictly disciplined us, only because he wanted us to grow into nice young ladies. He also expects the best of us because he knows we are capable of accomplishing that which is expected of us. He is very supportive of us and tries to attend all our activities, and even though he will not admit it, I believe he resigned as Judge so he could spend more time with Amber and me before we left for college. He works hard at two jobs so he can give my family nice things, and he hardly ever complains or asks anything of us.

Dad is not the type of individual to show his feelings, but by his actions, I know he loves and cares for his family and friends deeply.

The community sees my dad as a unique person because he is cordial, dedicated, ethical, and admirable. This is true; he is all of these things. He is, however, also a very caring, loving, and loyal individual, and I am thankful he is my dad.

MHS Dedicates In Memory

MHS has suffered two losses in the last weeks. As the entire town knows, two very active students died in two different car wrecks. This week we, as editors, decided to dedicate "The Class" to Lisa Triana and Lee Palmer. All students were shocked and some were devastated. Many created poems and short stories, dedicated to Lisa and Lee's deaths. We are featuring this poem by Julie Crittenden, a senior at MHS. On behalf of the entire MHS student body, we remember them all and all the good times shine through!

A LOST FRIEND

Friends are sometimes lost when a fight breaks them apart.
Or when unkind words are spoken that brings pain to their hearts.
These friends can be brought back if your care for them is true.
A hug, a smile, an apology, are a few things you could do.
But friends that are lost forever,
taken away from this earth, can only be remembered by the things they've done since birth.
These memories can be good ones of the joy that they brought.
And all the times of happiness,
and struggles that you together fought.
Just remember your friend forever with the smile upon your face.
And be thankful for the memories of you and your friend together in

held in the Harvey Hotel in Irving, Texas.

The conference, held October 6 through 8, featured a variety of guest speakers as well as a number of concurrent special sessions addressing specific topics of interest to members. Among the noted guest speakers were Dr. Donald T. Rippey, University of Texas, who discussed "Educational Challenges for the 90's" and Ms. Tommie Butler, Director of Business Education, State Department of Arkansas, who discussed "Trends in Business Education."

The purpose of the annual convention, explained Texas Business Educational Association President Dr. Annice M. Elliott of Fort Worth, is to encourage business education teachers to stay abreast of current educational issues and to provide sessions for teachers to improve their skills and knowledge in the areas of technology.

Mrs. Smith is the Chairman of the Muleshoe High school Business Department. She is also a member of the State Executive Committee, State Membership Committee, State Nominations Committee, District XVII Representative. Mrs. Smith was the 1987 Business Teacher of the Year for District XVII.

Battling Beauties Burst By Trojans

The annual F.T.A. Powder Puff game took place on Monday, October 10th. The Trojan team consisted of sophomores and juniors and the Battling Beauties team consisted of seniors and freshmen. Right from the start the Trojans began to dominate with Amber Green running the ball in for a touchdown. Lisa Noble from the opposing team got the score tied by making the only touchdown for the Battling Beauties.

Throughout the evening many injuries occurred. Both teams became very rough with all the anticipation and excitement. Mary Lou Bastardo and Jenifer Hayes received minor stitches. Also Brenna Mathews and Norma Agundis captured sprained ankles. After a short warning from coach Littlefield the game proceeded.

Half time activities included the crowning of the King for each team. King candidates for the Battling Beauties team were Jaime Olivarez, Micheal Dunham, Kevin King, Daniel Olivas, Austin Swint, and Chris Young. The King was Daniel Olivas escorted by girlfriend Tamara Fisk. The Trojan King candidates were Walter Lackey, Danny Pollard, Frank Precure, and Brett Pylant. The King for the Trojans was Danny Pollard escorted by the entire Trojan team.

Both teams had great support from the band members, the crowd, and the incredible cheerleaders. The team cheerleaders became more of the crowd pleasing clowns, however, they all supported their team to the final second.

With the clock running its final seconds the score was Trojans, 24 and the Battling Beauties, 6.

Today We Saved A Life

Today a child who had been blind from birth saw the love in her mother's smile.

Today a woman who had been told she could never have a child, gave birth to a beautiful little girl.

Today a man once haunted by depression was able to conquer his sadness and despair.

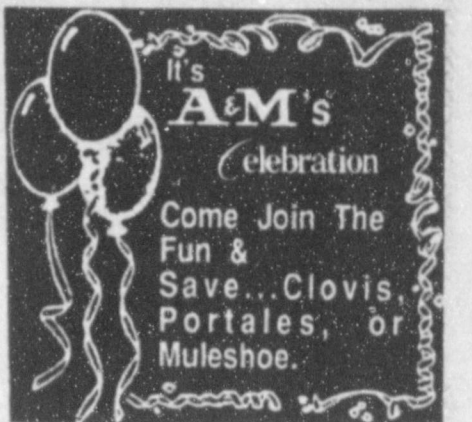

Today a man was given a new kidney and a whole new life.

Today a little boy, born without legs, walked home from school.

Today an elderly woman, deaf from early childhood, heard the sound of her voice.

And, most precious and wonderful of all, today we saved a life. Give so that we can do more. And more. And more. Give to your local nonprofit hospital. Give to life, suggests the National Association For Hospital Development.

'Safe' Water Supplies Come With Management

Texans are interested in finding ongoing ways to keep water supplies safe on a permanent basis.

Dr. John Sweeten, agricultural engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said that good management practices by all citizens can help reach this goal.

Sweeten said the upcoming Gulf of Mexico Program, also known as the Gulf Initiative, is an attempt by the U. S. Environmental Protection Agency to reduce waste discharges and nonpoint source pollutants (nitrogen, phosphorus, organic matter, pesticides and the like) into the Gulf.

The concern is that the Gulf of Mexico is an exceptionally valuable resource for both Texas and the nation. Protection of this resource is vital, thus the EPA and other agencies including the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, will assist with protection of this regional effort.

In Texas, these best management practices have been studied and identified by people in agriculture and forestry.

"Application of these practices can go a long way toward providing safer, cleaner water supplies in the future," Sweeten said.

He said that the Texas State Soil and Water Conservation Board has been designated as the state's leading agency for control of farm and forestry nonpoint sources of pollution.

Sweeten said this board has listed 65 best management practices that can be used to help reduce water pollution.

These management categories have been grouped into 10 broad areas for management purposes, he said.

The categories include:

1. Structural erosion and runoff control practices (terraces, diversions, waterways, etc.)
2. Planned cropping practices.
3. Planned tillage practices, to retain rainfall and control soil erosion.
4. Establishment of permanent vegetation.
5. Maintenance of permanent vegetation, including proper grazing systems on rangeland.
6. Structural grassland practices.
7. Agricultural waste management practices including no-discharge systems for concentrated livestock and poultry operations.
8. Nutrient management practices to balance nutrient input with crop needs.
9. Pesticide and harvest aid chemical management practices.
10. Irrigation water management practices to control return flows.

Most of these practices already are receiving widespread use. According to James Moore of Temple, an engineer with the State Soil and Water Conservation Board, effects of the practices will vary across the state because of variation in climate, topography, soils, cropland, management techniques and economic conditions. In some instances, it may be necessary to alter the practices or develop new practices to solve unique problems.

Sweeten said quality for both surface and groundwater are major concerns at federal and state levels.

"Water quality is the second highest national priority initiative for the Extension Service - USDA and is one of 12 critical issues identified by citizen clientele groups which the Texas Agricultural Extension Service is focusing additional educational attention," he said.

Alabama 'Tide' Will Defeat Penn State

Alabama opened the 1988 season rolling over Temple and Vanderbilt, then just slipping by Kentucky before being upset by Mississippi. Penn State has also been struggling. The Lions mauled Virginia in their opener, but barely beat Boston College the following week.

Then Rutgers surprised the Nittanies 21-16. Temple wasn't too much of a problem, Penn State winning big 45-9. Incidentally, the Tide whipped the Owls 37-0. Alabama beat the Lions 24-13 last fall for its fourth win against three Penn State wins since the series started in 1981. The game will be in Birmingham, almost home to the Tide. Flip a coin: Alabama.

In September, Southern California proved that Oklahoma was not invincible. Now, members of the Big Eight Conference would like to prove it further. Colorado is in position to be the first team to have a better than average chance. The Buffaloes, 24-21 upset winners over Iowa last month, host the Sooners Saturday. Colorado took a 24-6 beating from Oklahoma last season, and the Buffaloes are underdogs again. However, even if they don't spring the upset, the score will be much closer in Boulder this year.

The big upset weekend in college football usually comes about mid-October. And it's coming up. Through games of October 8th, we've picked 820 winners and missed the boat on 276. Our average, .748.

At this point in the season, the power in the East appears to be the Mountaineers of West Virginia. They've already demolished Bowling Green, Cal-Fullerton, Maryland, Pittsburgh, V.P.I., and East Carolina. Now, after a week off, they'll be challenged in four of the final weeks by Eastern powers Boston College, Penn State, Rutgers (watch out!) and Syracuse. And they'll play three of them in their own back yard. The Eagles are first, and it should be another win for the Mountaineers.

YOUR GARDEN

Gardening In The Winter? Sure!

Thanks to the season-extending benefits of a lightweight, floating garden cover, you may be able to enjoy your garden well into the cooler months.

The spunbonded polyester porous fabric, such as the one manufactured by Reemay, Inc., is air and water permeable. When put over a garden, it creates a "greenhouse effect" for the enclosed vegetation. Water, along with liquid pesticides and fertilizers, can easily pass through the fabric, while the air remains warm, allowing for proper germination and growth. This enclosed warm climate also helps contain moisture, a feature that can combat the difficulties of planting during a drought.

Lazbuddie Notes

BY: LHS NEWSPAPER STAFF

Mrs. Barbara Lust's first period Home Economics class worked on the computers to print out the eight FHA goals. The students learned how to select designs, type in data, and how to print it out. The first period class would like to thank computer instructor Hardy Carlyle for allowing them to work with the computers.

On Saturday, October 15, the Lazbuddie band travelled to Lubbock Texas Tech Marching Festival sponsored by Tau Beta Sigma and Kappa Kappa Psi. The band, directed by Mrs. Becky Jones, performed a contest show at 9:40 a.m. where they were criticized by three judges. The band's performance earned them a "4", and it was video-taped so that they can work out any problems in time for the contest on Tuesday, October 18, in Lubbock.

Last Thursday, the Junior High defeated Amherst 60-27. In defeat, Matt Cozby had two touchdowns, Paul Williams had two PAT'S and one touchdown, and Leland Brockman had one conversion. Eddie Luera had one touchdown, Jonas Hernandez ran one in for a touchdown, and Jody Copp had one touchdown and two conversions.

A breakfast contest was held between two nutrition classes for a period of two weeks. The contest was sponsored by Mrs. Barbara Lust, the Home Economics teacher. The main purpose of the contest was to improve the students' eating habits in the morning. The losing class made a buffet breakfast for the other class.

"I found out that many students do not eat breakfast, so we held the contest to try and improve their eating habits. Many students discovered that they felt better after eating breakfast and they weren't starved for lunch. The results of the contest were some new eating habits while some," reported Mrs. Lust, "still don't eat breakfast and fuss."

The second week's prize winners for perfect attendance were first grader Jeffery Seaton, third grader Richard Flores, seventh grader Lisa Galaviz, and twelfth grader Sheldon Mason. All won solar calculators.

The Lazbuddie Longhorns will be playing Three Way Friday night for Homecoming. The Seniors will be serving a Mexican food supper from 5-7 p.m. It will also be served after the game. The price will be $5.00 for adults and $3.00 for children under ten.

During half-time of the game, there will be the crowning of the 1988 Homecoming King and Queen. Candidates for King are Brian Glover, Wes Jarman, Scott Miller, and Kevin McGehee. The Queen candidates are Susan Redwine, Ginger Jesko, Lynn Proctor and Holley Morris.
