CUTTING FLAYS ROOSEVELT SECRETARY

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP)—A sharp criticism of Louis McHenry Howe, secretary to President Roosevelt, for appealing to the people to stand with the administration in slashing veterans' benefits was loosed on the senate floor today by Senator Cutting (R-N. M.), a Roosevelt supporter.

SENATE GROUP ADOPTS TAX PROGRAM

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP)—The senate finance committee today adopted the Harrison tax program to finance the $3,300,000,000, public works project in the industrial recovery bill. It eliminates the house increases of tax rates on small incomes.

GOLD HOARDERS FACE PROSECUTION

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP)—Attorney General Cummings said today he had transmitted to the field offices of the bureau of investigation more than 1,000 names of suspected gold hoarders with a view to compelling compliance with President Roosevelt's order that all gold or gold certificates above $100 be returned to the treasury.

OWSLEY TO BE ENVOY TO ROUMANIA

DALLAS, June 5 (AP)—The Dallas Times Herald says it has learned that President Roosevelt will submit the name of Col. Alvin Owsley of Dallas to the senate for confirmation as minister to Roumania in the next day or so.

FDR RECOVERY BILL IS SENT TO SENATE

IMPROVEMENT OF RAIL SYSTEMS OF NATION SOUGHT BY PLAN

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Overwhelming house approval today was given another of the Roosevelt national-recovery proposals—the Rayburn measure to improve the condition of the nation's railway systems.

Creating a federal coordinator to effect economies and scale down capital investments in the rail systems through a suspension of the anti-trust laws, the bill now goes back to the senate for adjustment of differences between the two branches. It passed without a record vote.

Repeals Recapture Clause

The measure also places holding companies under the jurisdiction of the interstate commerce commission and repeals the recapture clause of the 1920 transportation act thus cancelling $361,000,000 in government claims against carriers for excess profits.

The bill protects labor by preventing the discharge by railroads of any employees through consolidations or eliminations of services or terminal facilities.

ADDRESSES GRADS

Dr. Harry L. Kent, below, president of New Mexico College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts, addressed graduates of Texas Technological college in the school's seventh annual commencement this morning.

Texas Technological college's largest graduating class filed into the gymnasium this morning in the college's seventh annual commencement exercises where 167 of the 302 degree candidates received their diplomas. The remainder of the class will complete their work in summer school.

Dr. Harry L. Kent, president of New Mexico College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts, addressed the graduates. Following the talk, Dr. Bradford Knapp, president, awarded degrees and announced honor students. Invocation was given by Rev. R. C. Campbell and benediction by Rev. Walter P. Jennings.

"Man's problem is the same as that of any other animal—how to live or make a living", Dr. Kent said in prefacing his message to the students. "For our purpose this morning, I would like to have you think of this problem of living divided roughly into two parts—first, the problem of the individual and his family making a living, and, second, the problem of the group, the problem of living together if you other and protecting ourselves from please, of getting along with each each other."

Dr. Kent traced the ages of strife of peoples, asking "Is it not time that mankind learn more about the art of living together?"

"No longer is it a struggle of the

Oklahoma Co-Ed Halts Fugitive

GIRL PULLS HAIR OF CONVICT TO BRING ABOUT CAPTURE

(By The Associated Press)

CHICKASHA, Okla., June 5.—The courage of an Oklahoma Aggie co-ed was credited today with a large share in stopping the frenzied cross-state dash of Frank Sawyer, fleeing Kansas convict, near Binger, Caddo county, Sunday.

Sawyer, one of the 11 desperadoes who escaped the Kansas state prison at Lansing last Tuesday, left a trail of kidnapings and stolen automobiles in his frantic attempt to escape the cordon of officers thrown about northeastern Oklahoma.

One Other Retaken

Lewis Bechtel, recaptured near Dripping Springs, Okla., is the only other one of the Kansas fugitives who have been retaken. Two Oklahoma convicts who escaped Wednesday were recaptured Thursday night about 20 miles from the McAlester prison.

Sawyer, also a fugitive from the Oklahoma prison, was captured in a gun battle and free-for-all fight after he had kidnaped Bob Goodfellow, Caddo county clerk, and his 20-year-old sister, Lois Goodfellow, a junior at Oklahoma A. & M. college.

Goodfellow, wounded in the groin by a posseman's bullet when Sawyer used him as a shield, was taken to an Anadarko hospital, where his condition was described as serious but not critical.

Drives Into Ditch

After abducting the Goodfellows, Sawyer ordered the girl, who was driving, to go to Oklahoma City. The co-ed drove the car into a ditch while her brother attempted to seize Sawyer's pistol but the move failed.

While Sawyer was trying to get the car out of the ditch, with pretended assistance from the Goodfellows, Sheriff Horace Crisp and Deputy Al Marlow of Grady county drove up. Sawyer seized Goodfellow and opened fire.

When her brother was wounded, Miss Goodfellow, ignoring the blazing pistols, started pulling Sawyer's hair, which being cut short in convict style, proved unsatisfactory. Then according to the sheriff, the young lady began choking the convict, giving the officers an opportunity to close in.

"I was not afraid of him then," she said afterward. "I was just afraid Bob had been killed and I wanted to choke him awful bad."

KIDNAP LEADER

Arrested at Amarillo, Walter McGee, below, 37-year-old ex-convict has confessed his part in the kidnaping of Mary McElroy, daughter of Kansas City's manager. He is characterized as leader of the gang to which $30,000 ransom was paid.

TEXAS AIRMAN IS AHEAD OF SCHEDULE

COMPLETES ATLANTIC FLIGHT ON NORWAY COAST; IS TIRED

BY STANLEY P. RICHARDSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, June 5.—James Mattern, United States aviator dashing round the world in a solo flight, landed in Moscow this afternoon, dog tired but "feeling fine."

He was exactly 51 hours and 37 minutes out of New York City. (This put him almost three hours ahead of the Post-Gatty round-the-world flight record he is trying to beat).

To Continue Flight

Mattern landed here at 7:57 a. m. Eastern Standard time, swooping down on the muddy field from a sky darkened by angry clouds. He declared he would remain in Moscow two hours and then press on toward Siberia.

After taxiing his ship to a standstill the Texan was gathered up by half a dozen Soviet aviators and tossed into the air several times in quite the most enthusiastic reception ever given an American airman here.

Greeting several old friends among the newspaper correspondents he grinned as he declared: "It seems almost like being back home again."

Surrounded by perhaps 200 air-

Two Men Attack Mexican Officer

A. MELENDEZ SUFFERS BEATING; SUSPECT HELD IN JAIL

A. Melendez, a police patrolman assigned to Little Juarez, local Mexican quarter, this morning was in Lubbock sanitarium suffering from a beating, and a Mexican suspected of having participated in the attack was in city jail. X-ray photographs showed Patrolman Melendez, who also is a minister, had suffered no fractures, the attending physician said.

The policeman, who has been attached to the department about a year and became a regular officer about six weeks ago, said the assault occurred about 3:30 o'clock this morning at Avenue K and Second street, as he was returning to Little Juarez. Called by a woman, he had arrested a Mexican for drunkenness and put him in city jail.

Hailed By Two Men

At the intersection, Melendez related, two Mexicans signaled him to stop. He did so, they stepped on the runningboard of his car, and the fight began. He had taken no precaution upon stopping, the policeman explained, as he had talked Sunday afternoon with the man who hailed him. The man, whom Melendez had arrested for drunkenness, and his father both had apologized for his behavior.

As the policeman fought to prevent one assailant from knifing him, the other took Melendez's pistol and struck him on the head with it repeatedly. He dropped and then was kicked, he said. Sometime in the battle he pulled free his blackjack and fought off his attackers. Melendez's gun had not been found late this morning.

The officer suffered cuts and bruises on the head, a laceration above the lip, a bruised eye, and

VET INCREASE IS HALTED

ROOSEVELT SAYS NEW TAXES NECESSARY IF ALLOWANCES HIKED

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 5—President Roosevelt has served notice on congress that if it insists upon increasing spending on veterans new taxes must be raised to keep the budet balanced.

Upon this ultimatum from a White House conference, Democratic house leaders decided today to postpone action on veterans increases made by the senate in the independent offices bill until the country's reaction has reached the members. They also hoped Mr. Roosevelt would make a direct statement to the public.

Wants Budget Balance

Calling fifteen house Democrats to the White House last night, the chief executive stated in no uncertain terms that though he wants congress to adjourn Saturday he was prepared to stick it out in Washington all summer to keep the budget balanced.

Further, he made it clear he felt that the Democratic controlled congress, in restricting economies proposed by him on veterans allowances, was taking back power previously given him, and he insisted that by increasing expenditures it was violating the party's campaign pledge. He recalled that the veterans administration was making a survey of the border line cases where veterans are destitute and that it was seeking a relaxation of regulations under the economy act.

Condition Held Grave

The Democratic leaders considered grave the situation brought about by the senate in amending the independent offices bill to increase veterans' allowances $170,675,607. This change also reduced to 25 per cent the cuts in compensation for World war service connnected cases and Spanish American pensions.

One Killed, Score Injured In Storm

CHICAGO, June 5 (AP)—A 70-mile gale and rain storm that caused one death here and injuries to a score of other persons and property damage amounting to thousands of dollars in Chicago and other Illinois cities was followed today by relief from the highest temperatures of the year.

The storm struck with sudden fury last night and sent almost 60,000 scurrying for cover at a Century of Progress exposition where 15 of the injured were given medical attention at the hospital on the grounds.

WOULD ELIMINATE TARIFF DEADWOOD

S. S. PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT AT SEA, June 5 (AP)—The view that the London economic conference offers a chance to cut "deadwood" from tariff hedges that encircle many countries was put forward today.

As the vanguard of the United States delegation sped eastward, led by Secretary Cordell Hull, delegation quarters urged that tariff problems be approached with this understanding:

That the field offers a prospect of readjustments of mutual benefit without imposing corresponding sacrifices.

Authorities asserted that the attitude of "give and take" in tariff bargaining is exaggerated since much can be done with little giving.

TWO MEN ARE HURT BY CAR

ONE VICTIM INJURED SERIOUSLY; DRIVER MAKES STATEMENT

Two young men were injured, one of them barely escaping probable death, when struck by an automobile as they were walking across a street at Eighteenth street and Texas avenue between 8:30 and 9 o'clock Sunday night.

John Huckabee, 24, suffered a deep laceration on the neck, tissues of the jugular vein being scraped, three fractures of the lower spine, and an injury of the right ankle. His condition, however, was not critical, the attending physician at West Texas hospital said this morning. Huckabee, living at the home of a brother-in-law, Roscoe Hensley, is a son of J. E. Huckabee of Lorenzo.

R. L. Keetch, 29, of 1802 Texas avenue, son of L. W. Keetch of that address, was dismissed from the hospital after emergency treatment for a laceration above an eyebrow, and bruises and scratches.

Cecil Stokes, 221 Avenue H, driver of the car, a Ford coupe, this morning made a statement to police. Other witnesses also made a statement.

Postal Receipts In May Show Increase

Postal receipts for May showed a gain of $1,384.40, or 18 per cent, over the corresponding month in 1932, Postmaster John L. Vaughan, announced this morning.

Receipts for May were $8,922.80, compared with $7,538.40 for the same month in 1932.

The gain, the postmaster added, indicated an increase over the previous year in addition to the one cent postage increases. Last year two cent postage was in effect during May.

TECH DIRECTORATE MEETS HERE TODAY

Members of the board of directors of Texas Technological college are here today for their annual commencement meeting. They were in session this afternoon, acting on routine affairs of the college's business.

Today noon, they attended a luncheon at Hotel Lubbock at which Dr. H. L. Kent, president of New Mexico A. & M., Dr. and Mrs. R. Thomsen of Amarillo, were guests. New members of the board of directors were also honored in the luncheon.

New members meeting with the board for the first time are: Joe Sneed of Amarillo, Mrs. John A. Haley of Midland and Mrs. Emma Maharg of Plainview. Other directors here are: Clifford B. Jones of Spur, chairman; Gen. John A. Hulen of Fort Worth, R. A. Stuart of Fort Worth and Roscoe Wilson of Lubbock. Houston Harte of San Angelo and John W. Carpenter of Dallas were unable to attend.

Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Sneed accompanied their husbands here.

Marrying Justice Has Minister At His Own Wedding

Lubbock's marrying justice, who hung up some sort of a record here officiating at weddings, has fallen victim of Cupid, but he was married by a minister. Sunday evening, W. S. Clark, justice of the peace in place 2, precinct one, and Mrs. T. D. Morrel were married by the Rev. R. C. Campbell, pastor of First Baptist church, in the home of the bride's daughter, Mrs. Gordon Flenniken, 1608 Avenue N.

Sons and daughters of the couple and a few friends attended. Mr. and Mrs. Clark will reside at 1608 Avenue N.

PHARR MAY BE A CANDIDATE

DISTRICT JUDGE SAYS HE PROBABLY WILL RUN FOR CONGRESS

Yielding to numerous requests of his friends, Judge Homer L. Pharr of the 72nd district court this morning made known his intentions of being a candidate for congress from the newly formed 19th congressional district, which includes the South Plains.

"I am seriously considering getting into the race," Judge Pharr said asked concerning rumors of his probable candidacy. "I have been conferring with my friends, and they are with me, and the way it looks now, I likely will be a candidate.

To Meet Friends

"Of course, there is some time between now and the first of January, but it appears that I will be a candidate. I will make a trip over the district, after court adjourns, to meet my many friends and talk over the situation with them."

Judge Pharr pointed out the great increase in popualtion of the new district, comprising 25 counties, between 1920 and 1930. The increase was from 110,107 in 1920 to 254,357 in 1930, a net increase of 144,250 or 131 per cent.

TWENTY MEN OFF FOR FORT BLISS

Twenty men, headed by Tillman Robert Dillard of Lubbock, left last night over the Santa Fe for Fort Bliss, the last large contingent of South Plains young men for the Civilian Conservation corps, Sergeant James G. McDermitt, army recruiting officer, said this morning.

Three replacements from Lynn county, three regular men from that county, one replacement from Hale and two from Floyd county, are to go tonight, provided the men report here in time, the sergeant added.

Up to this morning 377 regular men and 10 replacements had been forwarded to camp. The total will be 380 regulars and 16 replacements.

Sunday night's score included 10 from Lubbock county, eight from Scurry, one from Lamb and one from Dawson. They were:

Lubbock: Lee Roy Thomas, Oscar Miller Hudnall, George Mark Janes, Haskell Ford, Clyde McKinzie, Tillman Robert Dillard, Edgert Bert Woodward, Flavis Gene Gilbert, Enith Lee Bolt, Thomas Norman Ward.

Scurry: Dewey R. Ryan, James R. Barrett, Douglass H. Burney, John C. Horton, Elza E. Pirtle, Shaderick McGintey, Elbert D. Justice, Lloyd C. Gordon.

Lamb: Tom G. Brown; Dawson, Emery E. Freeman.

Lava Flow Danger Is Believed Over

NAPLES, Italy, June 5 (AP)—A lava wave from Mount Vesuvius was halting a few feet from the precipitous edge of the Valley of Inferno today, and as the flow gradually stopped it was believed danger to the town of Terzigno was over.

Will Demand Death For Abduction Gang

KANSAS CITY, June 5 (AP)—"Death and nothing less" is the punishment T. A. J. Mastin, county prosecutor, will ask for the kidnapers of Mary McElroy.

He made this determined announcement as Walter H. McGee, 28-year-old former convict, and Clarence Click, confessed leaders in the plot were being brought to his office for the filing of charges.

The other actual kidnapers, named in the confessions attributed to McGee and Click, are George McGee, brother of the principle, and Clarence Stevens, fugitives.

MRS. ROOSEVELT STOPS IN TEXAS ON AIRPLANE JOURNEY TO LOS ANGELES

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, June 5.—After a short stop here for breakfast, during which she was welcomed to Texas by Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt continued her airplane journey to Los Angeles for a visit with her son, Elliott, at 9:42 A. M. (C. S. T.).

Mrs. Roosevelt, who arrived here at 8:20 A. M. after a day and night flight from Washington, was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Waterbury of Tyler, Tex., her cousins, Amon G. Carter, Fort Worth Publisher, C. R. Smith, vice president of American Airways, and Robert Pool of Dallas.

All except Smith, who planned to accompany Mrs. Roosevelt to Tucson, Ariz., will leave her plane at El Paso.

Breakfast was served the first lady in the office of Smith at Love field, municipal airport. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Waterbury, Ben Critz, president of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce, and Mrs. Critz.

After greeting Mrs. Roosevelt at the airport, Gov. Ferguson and her husband and adviser, former Gov. James E. Ferguson, returned to their hotel and planned to return to Austin this afternoon.

Mrs. Roosevelt will stop tonight at Tucson, Ariz., as a guest of Mrs. Isabella Greenway, a close personal friend, and continuing on to Los Angeles where her son has his headquarters as manager of an airway line.

Perfect flying weather was reported over the route Mrs. Roosevelt planned to take.

PTA Delegation Is At National Meet

CLAUDE, June 5 (Special)—Mrs. A. F. Wood, president of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers, announces that a meeting of the executive committee of the Texas Congress will be held at the Austin Club, Norwood Building, June 15 and 16. The first session will begin Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

Making up the program for the state convention, which will convene in Sherman in November, is the outstanding business for consideration at this time. Other business pertinent to the Congress work will receive due attention.

Delegates from Texas were active participants in the conventon of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers recently held in Seattle, Washington.

The Texas Branch won the membership banner—being one of the two states that gained in membership.

Texas Women Serve

Mrs. S. M. N. Marrs, Austin, former president of the national congress, is chairman of the budget committee and a member of the publications committee. Mrs. Ella Caruthers Porter, Dallas, is national chairman of thrift and one of the national honorary vice-presidents. Mrs. A. F. Wood, Athens, president of the Texas congress, served on three important committees which were the committee on cooperating agencies, committee on procedures for nominating committee and procedures for nominating committee for national committee chairman. Mrs. Stephen Chamness, Austin, executive secretary for the Texas branch, was ready always with information on state affairs and consuming information from every convention channel that would further our Parent-Teacher program in Texas.

The Child and His Community proved to be a timely central theme around which all addresses, conferences and discussions centered.

The outstanding new leaflets from the national office exhibited were: "Parent-Teacher Courses and Outlines," edited by Dr. Ada Hart Arlitt; "Timely Suggestions on Nutrition," by Adelaide Baylor; "Parent-Teacher Manual," a combination of the handbook, projects and program making, and eight organization leaflets into one volume; "Practical Aids for Study Groups and for Individuals Interested in Child Care and Training," by Ellen C. Lombard; "A Parent-Teacher Program," consisting of ten suggested program outlines having as their objective a better understanding of present day issues which affect the welfare of children.

GRADUATION

common people against rulers, the favored few, the kings and lords. Today as always it is the struggle to protect the weak from the strong, a struggle to find a way that shall insure that both the weak and the strong may live together and live well.

"Today our problem is to find ways to control these strong individuals who because of their strength, their ability gain control over an undue share of the fruits of the earth and the fruits of the labor of mankind . . . New rules, new means of control, more equality of opportunity, greater assurance of a living for each and every individual we must have and in time and by some means we will have . . . Shall this nation and the other enlightened and educated nations of the world look always to Mars for progress, or shall we finally look to Athena for guidance and safety

"Many Problems Solved

"Man has solved practically all of the innumerable problems of making a living except the problem of living together without resort to violence and conflict. Man's mind has been the agency of progress in every field save this one. . . .

"Graduates of Tech, you are going out into the world, not a hard world but a troubled world; a disturbed, disorganized world; an economically unbalanced world which man and will be balanced if we see clearly and work honestly. A socially disturbed world which can and will be righted if all of you apply principles of fairness and justness and righteousness with courage and without deviation. A world whose nations and peoples are in a state of social and civic unrest, a world torn and disturbed, a world upset and distracted because the old order has not grown rapidly enough and a new order must be designed, defined and established. A world entering upon a new era, a changing world, therefore a world full of hope.

"A world full of opportunity for service by trained men and women; intelligent men and women, courageous, fair minded, altruistic men and women. Men and women who have a will and a desire to undertake new things; to plan and support a new deal."

Roosevelt Praised

At this point, Dr. Kent emphasized the responsibility of adult groups and the young group of graduates to follow the courageous leadership of President Roosevelt and the men he has selected to put across the new deal.

"What an opportunity lies before you with a wonderful promise of such an active constructive life in a new era!," he continued. "What a chance to help shape this new era in its beginning! And to enjoy the fruits of your labors later! What a fearful and disappointing world lies before you if you are thinking only of your worldly profit and affluence through slipping into a place made open to you by somebody else. What a glorious, thrilling, adventurous world lies before you if you have energy, vision, skill and perseverance and a determination to use your talents, your training, your influence, to set disturbances in order, to balance inequalities, to relieve distress, to insist upon civic righteousness, to stand for fairness and justice and open mindedness between nations, to strive for and support social and civic righteousness in individuals and the nations."

Religion was described as being "a sentiment, mysterious and a power" by Dr. R. Thomsen Sunday evening in preaching the baccalaureate sermon to seniors of Texas Technological college in annual exercises conducted in the campus gymnasium. Dr. Thomsen is pastor of the Amarillo Central Presbyterian church.

Text From Psalm 27

The text for the sermon theme, "What Religion Means To Me", was taken from Psalm 27: "The Lord is my light and my salvation whom shall I fear?"

The speaker exhorted his hearers to accept religion for what it can do to life, health and harmony of character.

"There is more beauty, strength and joy in faith in God than there could be in life without Him", he said.

The Rev. J. O. Haymes, pastor of First Methodist church, said the invocation and the Rev. Jack M. Lewis, pastor of First Presbyterian church, read the scripture lesson.

An anthem by the college choral club and audience singing was directed by W. R. Waghorne, head of the music department.

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, June 5. (AP)—Cotton had a steady opening today. Liverpool was still closed for Whitsuntide but there was fair trade buying at the start here and prices opened 4 to 6 points up. The market soon eased, however, on selling induced by fears that the government would not be able to finance the purchase of cotton acreage under the farm relief bill at present prices. July dropped to 8.95, October to 9.21 and December to 9.36, or 5 to 8 points under the opening figures.

Later in the first hour the market rallied on a renewal of trade buying and recovered 5 to 7 points of the previous decline with July at 9.02 and October at 9.26, or 4 to 6 points above Saturday's close.

The market gradually declined during the greater part of the morning, partly due to the erratic course of stocks and wheat, but mainly on selling based on the continued good weather in the belt. July eased to 8.81, October to 9.07 and December to 9.21, or 21 to 23 points down from the early highs and 15 to 16 points under Saturday's close.

Late in the morning, the market rallied with improvement in stocks, which induced shorts to cover, and July recovered to 8.92 and October to 9.18, or 11 to 12 points up from the low to within four points of the close of Saturday.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, June 5 (AP)—Cotton opened steady, 4-8 higher on trade and commission house buying and expectations of favorable Washington developments. July 9.05; Oct. 9.32; Dec. 9.48; Jan. 9.57; March 9.71; May 9.85.

The opening advance met further liquidation, probably brought in by the declines of Saturday and a favorable view of weather in the south. Selling was absorbed on slight setbacks, however, and the market was steady at the end of the first half hour with July ruling around 9.04 and December 9.47 or about 4 to 6 points net higher.

After demand had been supplied at about the opening prices, the market turned easier under increased liquidation and scattered selling. Failure of the bullish features noted at the opening to create more general buying may have been a disappointment to holders of contracts, while a disposition to emphasize the difficulty of securing acreage reduction in view of prevailing prices and the large percentage of the crop already planted, was referred to in connection with the selling. July broke to 8.87 and December to 9.28, making net losses of about 12 to 14 points, but offerings tapered off after the reaction of about $1 a bale from the early highs and the market was steadier late in the morning. At midday July was ruling around 8.93 and December 9.35 or about 5 to 8 points net lower.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, June 5 (AP)—Helped by notice of arrangement to finance sales of $10,000,000 of United States wheat to China, wheat turned upward today after a wavering start. Extremely high temperatures in domestic winter wheat territory southwest tended also to lift prices. Opening unchanged to 3-8 lower, wheat afterward rose all around. Corn started at 1-8-5-8 decline, and then rallied somewhat.

Livestock Market

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, June 5 (AP)—(U. S. D. A.)—Hogs: 3,000; steady to 10 lower; top 4.60; bulk better 180-260 lb. truck hogs 4.40-4.450; packing sows 3.75.

Cattle 3,000; calves 7.00; steady; good fed yearlings 5.75-6.25; plain grass steers 3.00-3.50; good heavy cows up to 3.75; butcher sorts around 2.00-2.25; good heavy calves to 5.00; plainer grades 4.00 down; good stock steer yearlings 5.25.

Sheep 7,000; market not established.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, June 5. (AP)—The stock market absorbed profit taking in fairly large doses today and leading issues again turned upward.

Strength was displayed by a number of specialties, with the sugar and alcohol groups being in demand at gains of 1 to 3 or more points. Commodities were rather uncertain.

Allied Chemical again was a star performer with a gain of around 4 points. Western Union gained as much. Wet issues that drew renewed attention included Crown Cork, National Distillers, Liquid Carbonic, industrial Alcohol and Owens-Illinois Glass. Among other stocks up 1 to 2 were Woolworth, American Telephone, Du Pont, Celanese, U. S. Steel preferred, Case, International Harvester, American Can, Great Western Sugar, Porto Rico Sugar, American Sugar Refining, Dome Mines, McIntyre Porcupine and Louisville & Nashville. The rails were inclined to proceed at a slow pace, although Santa Fe, Delaware & Hudson, Southern Pacific and Pennsylvania were fractionally firmer.

Hobbs Wind Storm Damage Is Slight

AMARILLO, June 5 (AP)—Dr. C. S. Stone, a physician, said over long distance telephone that only slight damage was done when a wind storm struck Hobbs, N. M. about midnight Saturday.

One tourist camp was damaged and the roofs were blown from a number of small houses, Dr. Stone said. One man was injured slightly.

"The report of a tornado was erroneous," Dr. Stone said.

A special report from Hobbs, given The Daily Journal over long-distance telephone Sunday near midnight, said the one man injured in the Hobbs windstorm was Ted Dungan, 26, unmarried and unemployed.

Dungan was in a tourist camp cabin, one of four which collapsed when the twister hit the camp. He was injured about the head and body but was not considered dangerously hurt.

In addition to the tourist cabins one other building gave way before the storm. It was a private garage owned by Grady Thompson. Damage was negligible.

Four Arrested In Booze Raid Freed

Two men and two women arrested Saturday by the sheriff's and police departments in connection with a raid in which about half a gallon of alcohol and a pint of whisky were uncovered near here, were released from county jail Sunday upon order of Daniel A. Blair, district attorney. Evidence was insufficient, he said. A third woman had been freed without charge earlier.

A woman arrested Saturday by deputy sheriffs on a highway about four miles south of Lubbock will be charged, District Attorney Blair said. Whether a man arrested in the same case would be charged with liquor law violation was undetermined. Five and half gallons of whisky was taken in the arrest, officers reported.

Hanging Victim Is Not Yet Identified

AMARILLO, June 5 (AP)—The body of a man, about 60, found hanging by a rope from an alley fence in the industrial district here Sunday, remained unidentified in a local mortuary today.

The body was hanging from a new cotton rope. The man's coat was neatly folded on the ground and his hat was placed on top of it. He was neatly but cheaply dressed.

The only mark of identification was the name "Becker" written with ink on a leather spectacle case.

port attaches, he was escorted to the airdrome reception room where officials listened to his wishes concerning gasoline and oil and conveyed to him information on weather- conditions and landing facilities east of Moscow.

Weather Not Good

The weather conditions were not of the best, but Mattern declared he woud go on. He ate hungrily of the sumptuous meal which was waiting for him.

An airport doctor intervened to feel Mattern's pulse and, with his fingers still on the aviator's wrist, he said:

"He is very tired and needs rest."

When this was translated to him, Mattern grinned and remarked: "I feel fine but I would like to have about an hour's sleep."

The airman, who came to Moscow from Norway, where he completed his transatlantic crossing yesterday, also expressed desire to have a bath. As soon as he had finished his meal he was provided with a shower and put to bed in a room at the airport. He emphasized that he wished to be called promptly in order that he might lose no time.

Mattern said he hoped to hop non-stop at least as far as Novosibirsk (about 1700 miles) on leaving Moscow.

He landed here after having had only three hours sleep since leaving New York, all of which he obtained during his halt at Oslo, but he looked extremely fit despite his obvious weariness.

Lands In Norway

Explaining his action in flying via Norway, Mattern said he encountered a low pressure area about 400 miles out over the Atlantic which coated his plane with ice and forced him finally to turn north. Although he had fuel for several hours more flying, he was so weary with battling the elements that he decided to land in Norway.

After his three hours' rest there he proceeded to Moscow direct, coming across the Baltic sea and passing the Soviet frontier from Estonia. On this stage of his journey he was hampered somewhat by headwinds but made fairly good time.

While he was resting at the airport his plane was surrounded by scores of curious Russians who audibly admired the red, white and blue machine, particularly its metal propeller.

Faces Headwinds

Eastward from Moscow for several hundred kilometers Mattern faced extremely unfavorable weather, including a strong headwind and clouds, which promised to retard his progress.

When he arrived at Moscow Mattern was 51 hours and 37 minutes out of New York City. It took Post and Gatty 54 hours and 34 minutes to reach the Russian capital, so the Oslo flier was almost exactly three hours ahead of the record holders.

Post and Gatty remained in Moscow 11 hours and 30 minutes. Thus Mattern had a chance to gain more time by spending a shorter period there, still getting a sizeable amount of rest.

SURPRISE LANDING MADE ON ISLAND

OSLO, Norway, June 5. —(AP)— Jimmie Mattern, the grinning Texas airman the world had feared lost, was at Moscow in his red-white-and-blue plane "Century of Progress" today after a surprise landing on a small island 70 miles southwest of Oslo.

Fighting storms and fogs, which forced him 300 kilometers off his course, the dauntless flier from San Angelo, Texas, fought his way through successfully to land safely on Jomfruland island, on Norway's south coast, at 4:15 a. m., Eastern Standard time, yesterday.

A private plane was sent there to give him any aid necessary and at 9 p. m., Eastern Standard time, yesterday, he hopped for this city. Landing at the military airdrome, he halted only briefly, and with his big tanks brimful with more than 700 gallons of gasoline, he was off toward the Russian metropolis.

He is the first man to make a non-stop hop alone from New York to Norway.

Mattern, who appeared very tired, said he had had nothing to eat except oranges and only a little water to drink during the long flight from New York to Newfoundland and thence across the Atlantic.

"When I reached the west coast of Norway, I thought it was Scotland," said Mattern.

"But finding later that it was Norway I followed the south coast in the hope of making Oslo, but I didn't know just where that city was situated.

"Seeing what I thought was a sandy shore, I circled around and made a landing on a stony beach. The landing was rather difficult, but I brought the machine to earth satisfactorily on a little island inhabited by 20 persons."

After an hour's sleep, the airman attended to his plane, and flew off to Oslo. He landed at the military airdrome an hour later.

"I thought I never would reach land again," Mattern said. "Once I ran into a thunder storm and then ice forming on my machine forced me down from 6,000 feet almost into the sea."

The airman was somewhat downhearted at losing ten hours by going out of his course. His charts were faulty, he said, and he was unable to navigate along the Norwegian coast by map.

Mrs. Pierce Is In Critical Condition

Her condition having declined through Sunday, Mrs. M. A. Pierce, 1702 Avenue O, critically burned in her home Saturday morning, was near death at 1 o'clock this afternoon in West Texas hospital. An arm and both legs were burned severely when a preparation with which Mrs. Pierce was treating a floor became ignited.

Recreation's Value

The tremendous usefulness of public recreation grounds in a time when economic depression gives lots of people more leisure than they know what to do with its graphically shown in figures just issued by the National Recreation Association.

Slightly less than 7500 of the 12,684 directed play areas supported by 1012 cities in the United States and Canada were visited by more than 270,000,000 adults and children during 1932. Attendance at outdoor playgrounds was 13,000,000 above the previous year's total.

Even in desperately hard times, public recreation deserves full tax support. Money spent on these facilities is money very well spend indeed. It would be difficult to overestimate the amount of good that organized, tax-supported play spots have done during the past year.

Political Implications Of Morgan Disclosures Expected To Be Numerous; Favored Clients Are Subject To Attack

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
(The Journal's Washington Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, June 5. — The political implications of the Morgan disclosures are likely to be numerous. The country has never heard anything like those disclosures and reports indicate that it is pretty sore.

Much more startling than the revelation that the Morgan partners paid no income taxes was the fact that the Morgan firm, with its hands on a vast network of industry and finance, had distributed favors impartially among leaders of both the Democratic and Republican parties.

Dutcher

Half a dozen men who had been seriously mentioned for the presidency of the United States were among those to whom Morgan secretly sold stocks at not much more than half the market price. It is fairly certain that none of them will be seriously considered again.

Subject To Attack

As long as they participate in politics they will be subject to attack as "Morgan men."

In both parties the clevage will be accentuated between those who believe it is quite all right for a public figure to maintain a profitable friendship with the House of Morgan and those who don't. Progressives in both parties have new ammunition and a new battleground involving the great Morgan "spider web" of control.

There's a real political philosophy in the investigation. The men who have pushed it—and President Roosevelt himself has at least given it his blessing—want to reduce the Morgan power. That power has been less obvious in this administration than in any for a long time. Roosevelt, ever quick to seize a strong popular reaction and capitalize it, is expected soon to move in some way which will strengthen his popular support and leave him in a better position to place the Morgan and associated interests where they can no longer be considered an "invisible government."

Opponents On List

The list of prominent Democrats who received Morgan largesse was strongly reminiscent of the bloc of conservative party leaders who stood against Roosevelt when he sought the Democratic nomination. John W. Davis, John J. Raskob, Owen D. Young, Newton D. Baker, B. M. Baruch were among them.

Their political influence waned at the Chicago convention and now takes another sock. The only important erstwhile "stop-Roosevelt" leader missing from the lists was their old friend Al Smith.

Senators Involved

Some of the senators who voted against publicity for lists of the stock beneficiaries have some cause for worry since their own names were made public. Any one of them who isn't called on for an explanation the next time he comes before the voters will be lucky.

Senator McAdoo of California, who lost a presidential nomination nine years ago after it was disclosed that he had accepted a fee from Doheny, the oil man, doesn't have to run again for five years, but he was wild when he found that he was to be revealed as a Morgan friend who had received stock at below market value.

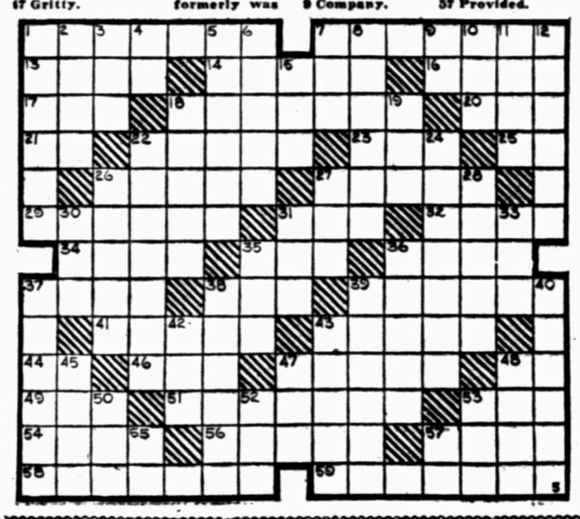

"Coalition Of Rich"

Any third party movement which develops may be expected to make the Morgan revelations its chief stock in trade, since leaders in both the old parties have been smeared. Such a movement can make good use of the words of Senator James Couzens of Michigan, the richest man in Congress and a member of the investigating committee, who says:

"When it comes to money there are no Republicans or Democrats. Rich men never fight each other seriously. There's the finest coalition between all parties when it comes to control of the Treasury of the United States."

DARLING FOOL. by MABEL McELLIOTT

BEGIN HERE TODAY

MONNIE O'DARE, young and beautiful, sails for Europe with an old friend, MISS ANSTICE CORREY. Monnie believes DAN CARDIGAN, with whom she has long been in love, has jilted her, partly because his parents look down on Monnie who is poor. Dan's parents want him to marry wealthy SANDRA LAWRENCE. Sandra, pretending to be Monnie's friend, does her best to win Dan, even telling him Monnie is going to marry CHARLES EUSTACE, another admirer.

ARTHUR MACKENZIE, rich New Yorker, sails on the same boat Monnie and Miss Corey take. He showers Monnie with attentions and one night in London asks her to marry him. Monnie hesitates, promising to give her answer next morning. While she is trying to decide what to do she receives a letter from Dan.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXXVIII

Monnie turned the letter slowly in her hands. Dan's familiar writing, black and bold, stared back at her. Her heart turned over. How odd—how very odd it was to receive a letter from him at this moment, when she was trying to make the most momentuous decision of her life! It was as if Dan himself had reached across the many miles that separated them, saying, "Wait, Monnie! Don't forget me. I'm still here!"

Ah, but he was the one who had forgotten, her sore heart reminded her. He it was who had written that other letter, the cruel one telling her they'd better "hold up the plans" for the January wedding. No it was no use depending on Dan. She'd done that in the past and her pride, her love, her faith in him had been wounded past bearing.

Should she open it? Should she make her decision first—and by this time she had pretty well decided what she would say to Arthur Mackenzie on the morrow—and read Dan's letter afterward? Had he still the power to sway her past reason, past belief? Did she dare to see what Dan had written her on the very day before she had sailed from New York to adventure and another man's devotion? She wondered. While she was pondering the matter, flushed and disturbed, little Miss Antice blew in.

"My dear, I had no idea you'd be home so early!" Miss Anstice, imposing in silver cloth with a collar of gray fox, stared frankly at her traveling companion. "I thought you'd be out until all hours. 'Painting the town,' as they say. Are you feeling all right?"

"Yes—no." Monica stammered, not knowing how to explain. Then on a sudden impulse she blurted out the truth.

"Mr. Mackenzie's sailing unexpectedly for home tomorrow," she said. "He—Miss Anstice, he wants me to marry him and go with him."

"Well, I declare." Miss Anstice's beautiful coiffure of silvery Grecian curls fairly quivered. She sat down abruptly. "Of course. I knew something like this was in the air," she began breathlessly, "but not so soon! My dear!"

"I—I haven't decided," Monnie confessed. "I don't know what to do. Help me, Miss Anstice. What shall I say to him?"

"If you're considering me in this," cried the older woman shrewdly, "please forget all about it. I can get along splendidly although I shall miss you, of course. The truth is Sally Richardson is dying to do Paris with me—with us, I mean, and wants to go on to Switzerland afterward. So you see I shouldn't be alone. Do as your heart bids you, my dear! I never advise in matters of this sort. Too risky. But I will say this. Mr. Mackenzie's a splendid man and very fond of you, anyone can see that."

"I—I don't love him," Monnie faltered. "I'm fond of him. I like him as a friend but—but—"

"He doesn't make your heart stand still, eh?" Miss Anstice considered this, bright head on one side like a silver-plummaged bird. "Well, my dear, I've seen many a marriage in my time. Love matches. They don't always turn out so well, either. You have an even chance for happiness, starting with friendship and respect. Then, too, my dear, there's the matter of money to be thought of. I'm not a worldly person. You know that. Been poor all my life until just lately. And now that I have my taste of luxury I'm afraid I shall never be able to do without it again. It's all so pleasant—breakfast in bed, nice frocks, being able to tip the waiter without worrying about it. Yes, money's important.

"I'd be the last person in the world to tell a girl to consider money only when thinking of marriage and I know what poverty can do to young people. I'd like to see you get some of the whipped cream of life while you're young."

It was a long speech and Miss Anstice was rather breathless at the end of it. She stripped off her creamy gloves and smoothed them together.

"There's your family, too," she continued after a silence. "Kay—think what a brilliant marriage would do for her."

"I've thought of that," Monnie said briefly. She crumbled the letter in her hands, looking at the fire in the grate.

"Child, child, you're shivering!" the older woman said, appalled. "Go to bed. You mustn't catch cold. We'll talk of this in the morning."

Monnie escaped, her head in a whirl, the letter still clasped in her hand.

The clock struck one, struck two. In the room beyond she could hear the faint snore of her benefactress. Monnie knew that she herself would be a wreck tomorrow, look a perfect fright, if she didn't get some sleep. She tossed and turned restlessly between the crisp English sheets. Yes, Miss Anstice was right. Reason triumphed over emotion here. Her mind had been almost made up when the conversation had begun. Miss Anstice had crystalised her feeling. She would be a fool to throw away such a chance. She would say "yes" to Mackenzie on the morrow and go away with him as his wife. She would forget all the old ardours of young love. They were silly, weren't they? What was that old song she had heard somewhere? Oh, yes, "Oh, how I laugh when I think how I cried about you."

That was the right spirit, no doubt about it! Take love lightly! The trouble with her was that she had been too serious about Dan, probably had bored him by the very earnestness and steadfastness of her devotion. That wasn't what men wanted or what they cared about. They liked you to laugh, to be gay and foolish and inconsequential. Monnie had been all of that with Arthur Mackenzie.

Well, pirate or not, she liked him. A girl liked to be swept off her feet. The boldness, the swiftness and unexpectedness of the situation appeared to her. Beyond the morrow she would not look. When his deep voice came to her over the telephone she would say: "I'm coming with you."

There would be, naturally, notices in the newspapers. Mackenzie was too important for his marriage to go unnoticed. People would say, "Who is she? A nobody!" and dismiss her. Except in Belvedere. People there who had ignored her, turned their faces the other way when they passed her on the street, would be anxious now to say they'd known her. It was silly—it was unworthy and Monnie knew it—to feel a thrill of triumph at this thought but she was only human and could not suppress the feeling.

She could not sleep—at least until the read Dan's letter. It was burning a hole in the pillow underneath which she had thrust it.

Reluctantly Monnie drew it forth and, snapping on the roseshaded lamp beside her bed, ripped open the thick envelope. She had steeled herself to coolness, to indifference, but in spite of herself her heart beat faster at the opening sentence.

"Darling Monnie," (Dan wrote) "I have been all sorts of a fool and can you forgive me? You know I'm not very good at letter-writing—never was. I can't say what I want on paper. But will you just drop me a line to say everything's all right? I wired you at the hotel but they said they couldn't deliver the message because you'd already gone. I got home just as you were leaving. Wasn't that rotten luck? I'll be waiting. All my love."

Monnie stared at it, turning the thick sheet in her hands. It was the longest letter she had ever received from Dan, the most articulate. All is love! Why, she had been a fool ever to think she'd lost it! When two people felt as she and Dan did about each other, when the whole world was charged and glorified for one merely by the knowledge that the other existed in it, it was stupid—wasn't it?—to take second best.

Suddenly everything was clear to her. Her course was clear. Miss Anstice admitted she would get along without her. She would leave tomorrow, not as Arthur Mackenzie's bride but as Monica O'Dare, going back to the man she loved. Calmness descended upon her. She slept.

Miss Anstice woke her, shaking her gently. "My dear, he's on the wire!"

"Who? Where?" Ah, she was so weary. What did Miss Anstice mean?

"Mr. Mackenzie. He sounds terrifically excited—and happy."

It all came back to her at once. Something she had to do—to tell Arthur Mackenzie. She wasn't going to marry him after all. All her dreams of a brilliant marriage had faded. Dan still cared for her and wanted her.

She stumbled to the telephone, knotting the cord of her dressing gown.

"I'm sorry," she said in a low voice, "I can't." Simply that. No explanations. No excuses.

The man at the other end of the wire hesitated for a long moment. Then, "Can I do anything to make you change your mind?" he asked.

Monnie, feeling utterly abject and ashamed, said no. But, she added, "I'm leaving for New York today. If you don't mind I'm taking passage on your boat."

He gave a joyous shout, triumphant in his voice.

Monnie, with Miss Anstice's surprised gaze upon her, knew what his thought was: it would be easy for him to break down her defenses on the trip home.

SKYLINE TRAIL COMPLETED

GATLINBURG, Tenn. (AP)—A skyline horseback trail to the top of Mt. Leconte, one of the loftiest peak in the range, is practically finished in the Great Smoky Mountains national park. The trail is eight and a half mile long, and its elevation at the start is more than a mile above sea level.

Chicago's Mayor Kelly fired a cannon in a celebration incident to business revival. Well, that certainly should have produced a boom.

Nine kinds of water are now known to scientists, reports Dr. David Dietz, science writer. Many more, however, are known to Wall Street stock brokers.

In view of the bicycle-riding craze that now gripe Hollywood, we expect that movie actresses will soon be competing with the farmers in the raising of fat calves.

Relieve Headache And Quiet Nerves In 3 Minutes

When you have one of those violent, nerve-racking headaches, from inorganic causes, you can get soothing relief in three minutes with "B. C." a reliable, pleasant-to-take remedy. "B. C." is prepared by a registered pharmacist, compounded on a different principle from most relief-giving agencies in that it contains several ingredients so blended and proportioned as to accomplish in a few minutes what we believe no one drug formula can do in so short a time. "B. C." should also be used for the relief of muscular aches and pains, common colds and neuralgia; for reducing fever and quieting a distressed nervous system without opiates, narcotics or such habit forming drugs. Get "B. C." in 10c and 25c packages, wherever drugs are sold. (adv.)

Wilson Is West Texas Champion

On the SIDELINES
By Edward J. Neil

There is a lesson in patience and unswerving determination in the victory of little John Ryan of Manhattan college in the 3,000 meters run of the I. C. 4-A. games up at Cambridge.

Johnny's triumph didn't attract a great deal of attention, what with the excitement attending the team battle between Stanford and Southern California, but the fact remains it was one of the meet's outstanding individual achievements.

For four long years Ryan has been watching the great Joe McCluskey of Fordham run, and always until the meet at Cambridge he had a view from the rear. Year in and year out, indoors and outdoors, the husky little 130-pounder ran his heart out, only to fail before McCluskey's closing bursts of speed.

But this time he licked McCluskey, and there is no happier person in the country today than the 20-year-old, freckle-faced runner from Albany, N. Y.

"It was following McCluskey around all these years that finally brought results," he said. "I've always stayed as close to him as possible in all our races. The more often we raced the longer I could stay with him.

"Coach Pete Waters told me that one day I would beat McCluskey, and I knew that if I followed instructions I would. Waters has never been wrong in anything he told me about my running."

WEIGHED ONLY 90 POUNDS

Ryan's victory in the gruelling distance run must have been almost as sweet to Coach Waters. For seven years, starting when Ryan was in Manhattan prep school, Waters brought him along.

For a couple of years Ryan weighed only 90 pounds, but Waters, admiring the slight youth's determination, put him on a diet that included "emulsion" and watched him gradually grow into his present robust self.

All the time and care that Waters spent on the lad was richly rewarded when Ryan made good in his last chance at McCluskey. This is Waters' tenth year as Manhattan's track and field coach, and Ryan gave him his first individual running championship in the I. C. 4-A. games.

LIFE'S LITTLE TRAGEDY

I witnessed what probably was the spoiling of a beautiful friendship over at Max Schmeling's training camp at Lake Swannanoa, the day Max put on the gloves with Dempsey.

Two young hitch-hikers (I didn't learn from where), truged into the grounds early in the afternoon. They wore heavy shoes and the dust on their knap-sacks indicated they had come from afar to see the celebrities.

They had a camera, and the first thing anyone knew they had the over-obliging Dempsey out in the sunlight for a round of snapshots. First one posed with his arm around Jack, then the other. Dempsey had a couple of hundred things on his mind, but he posed until the boys had their fill.

Just as they finished with Jack, around the corner came Schmeling, and the pair went through the whole routine again with the smiling German. Boy! what they wouldn't have to show the home folks.

AND SUCH LANGUAGE!

Off went Jack and Der Moxie to keep their fistic engagement leaving two excited and jubilant youngsters to gloat over their prizes. Exactly thirty seconds later they were at each other's throats!

You guessed it. They had forgotten to turn the roll after the first picture!

The last seen of them they were going their separate ways, saying all sorts of uncomplimentary things over their respective shoulders.

YOUNG ABILENE GOLF STAR WINS OVER JIMMY PHILLIPS

WICHITA FALLS, June 5.—(AP)—Carnes Wilson, 18 year old Abilene linksman, is the new champion of the West Texas Golf association.

In the final match of the ninth annual association tournament here yesterday he defeated Jimmy Phillips of Ranger, defending champion, 4 and 2.

Shoots Accurately

Deadly accurate with his approach shots and putts, Wilson completed the first 18 holes seven up on his adversary. He pulled a spectacular shot on the ninth hole when he sank a 75-yard approach shot for an eagle three.

On the afternoon round his drives were erratic and frequently landed him in trouble but his tremendous lead made it possible for him to stave off Phillips' strong rally.

Phillips trimmed Wilson's lead to five up on the 27th hole and when they finished the 33rd, Wilson was only three up.

The match was settled on the 34th. Phillips drove straight down the middle and Wilson sliced behind a clump of trees. Wilson lifted his iron shot over the trees and landed on the green. Phillips hit the left side of the green, almost in the rough.

In attempting to pitch up, Phillips rolled fully six feet past the cup, while Wilson's approach putt came to rest a foot from the cup. His four won the hole and the match.

Second flight — Les Swafford, Ranger, defeated J. D. Slaughter, Lubbock 3 and 2.

Third Flight—T. J. Waggoner, jr., Wichita Falls defeated Joe Bihl, Lubbock 3 and 2.

Fourth flight — Fred Johnson, Vernon, defeated C. D. Whitley, Wichita Falls, 2 up.

Fifth flight — James F. Gibbs, Wichita Falls, defeated G. L. Berry, Wichita Falls 3 and 2.

Championship flight consolation —J. C. Southwaite, Sweetwater, defeated Orion Daniel, Wichita Falls, 4 and 3.

Second flight consolation — Harold Knotts, Wichita Falls, won over Lee Davis, Fort Worth, by default.

Third flight consolation —R. D. Oswalt, defeated L. H. Creager, Mineral Wells 1 up.

Fourth flight consolation— Gene White, Electra, defeated Raymond Myers, Wichita Falls 3 and 2.

Fifth flight consolation—T. Edgar Johnson, Vernon, defeated J. E. Handy, Wichita Falls 2 and 1.

TWO MORE BIG RACES SET

MR. KHAYYAM IS SEEN AS THE OUTSTANDING THREE-YEAR-OLD

BY ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 5. (AP)—Picking the outstanding three-year-old of the year was a much easier task today as the result of Mr. Khayyam's galloping victory over Mrs. Silas B. Mhson's Head Play in the American derby last Saturday but there still remain to be run the $50,000 Belmont stakes and the $35,000 Arlington classic before son of Omar Khayyam can claim undisputed possession of the crown.

The 68th running of the Belmont will be held over one and one-half miles at Belmont park Saturday but Mr. Khayyam is not eligible for what may prove to be the richest three-year-old race of the year.

Mr. Khayyam Not Named

The mother of the colt that cost Mrs. James M. Austin of Westbury, N. Y., $400 as a yearling at the Saratoga sales, was so lightly regarded that Mr. Khayyam, a son of the only foreign born horse ever to win the Kentucky Derby, was not named for the rich stake.

As a result, C. V. Whitney's The Darb, victor in the Withers mile, is expected to win and set the stage for the fifth running of the classic at Arlington park, July 15. In addition to Mr. Khayyam and The Darb, all of the outstanding colts and fillies of the age have been entered in that event.

Head Play, second by inches to Broker's Tip in the Derby, apparently has gone back since his easy victory in the Preakness, a race in which Mr. Khayyam did not run.

Many refused to take seriously the defeat of Head Play by Mr. Khayyam in the Wood Memorial, a race run over a mile and 70 yards, with the Kentucky colt giving weight to all rivals.

The American derby demonstrated, however, that Mr. Khayyam's Wood Memorial victory was no fluke for he finished two and one-half lengths in front of a mighty tired Head Play.

Flour Mill Record Is Set At Sherman

SHERMAN, June 5 (AP)—Four Sherman flour mills set a record for the city and perhaps the state in the year ending May 31 when they ground nearly six million bushels of wheat into 1,249,373 barrels of flour.

The city's previous record was 987,000 barrels, set last year. Heavy future orders are keeping three mills running near capacity production.

Harvest of wheat in Grayson, Cooke and Denton counties began recently and was expected to reach a peak in a few days. Acreage was cut about half by the winter freeze but production per acre was expected to be about normal.

The Tennessee legislature is considering the installment sale of automobile license plates.

TAHOKA LOSES FIRST GAME OF SEASON

LEVELLAND TROUNCES LEAGUE LEADERS AS ENOCHS CLUB WINS

TAHOKA, June 5. (Special)—By successfully invading Tahoka to whip the local club, 8 to 1, the Levelland South Plains league aggregation hoisted itself to the .500 per cent step Sunday. It was the league leaders' first loss in the six league games played thus far.

The Tahokans made six hits and seven errors; Levelland nine hits and two muffs. Batteries were Edwards and Wells for Tahoka; Weaver and Payne for Levelland. Edwards struck out nine; Weaver 10.

ABERNATHY LOSES TO ENOCHS, 9-5

ABERNATHY, June 5.—(Special)—Abernathy and Enochs are now tied in games won and lost in the South Plains league, following a game here Sunday, spiced with good pitching and hard hits. Enochs took the game 9 to 5, giving them two wins to four losses.

The visitors began the scoring early, smashing out a home run, a three-bagger and a single in the second inning off Billsbury, to pile up four markers. They allowed Abernathy to sneak in a run in the third when Miller, who replaced Billsbury on the mound for the locals late in the second, hit a hard single to score later when Calloway, visiting third baseman, fumbled a ball batted by Clark.

Both teams went scoreless until the seventh, when Abernathy pushed to the front by putting over four runs. Barrett, the first to bat for Abernathy, put out a single and advanced to second on Beaton's sacrifice. Holloway, Miller and Moody each took singles to push runners in and when Scott Prather also took a single, the total scores for the inning stood four.

In the eighth, McCormick of Enochs flied out to Moody, after a single from Allen. Walker gained first on Holloway's only error of the game, and then Durwood Howell smashed out a three-bagger to score three men. Howell came home on a hit from Patterson, pinch hitter.

Truman Miller, Abernathy pitcher for seven innings was a star. He went on the mound when Enochs went wild in the second. He made three hits in four trips and scored two runs. He fanned six men and walked one.

Newty Walker, who is a brother of Wilcey Walker of the Yanks, had Abernathy batters buffaloed most of the game. He gave up only seven hits, and fanned eight men.

One feature play of the match was the double-play perfected by Moody, Scott Prather and Barrett in the third.

Abernathy	001	000	400—5 7 5

SLATON DEFEATS AMHERST TEAM

SLATON, June 5.—(Special)—Although Amherst used three pitchers, Slaton's heavy and fancy wielding of the bat could not be stopped, and Slaton won the South Plains league game here Sunday, 14 to 8.

Amherst, however, made it a batting contest, chalking up 14 hits to 20 for Slaton. The Slaton battery was Thompson and Fincher.

GAME FORFEITED

MORTON, June 5.—(Special)—Umpire Archie McGee here Sunday afternoon declared the scheduled Lubbock-Morton game forfeited to Morton, 9 to 0, because the Hubbers did not appear, D. L. Wood, Morton business manager said. Wood said the contest was scheduled for 3 p. m., and the Morton club was at the field until 5:30 p. m.

FOUR HUNDRED KILLED

CANTON, China, June 5. (AP)—Four hundred bandits infesting the borders of Kwantung and Fukien provinces have been killed by Canton government troops, according to Chinese reports.

The Cantonese authorities are attempting to wipe out brigand bands which are pillaging South China.

TO ENFORCE LAW

DICKENS, (Special)—"I will enforce the law on sale of beer in Dickens county," said W. B. Arthur, sheriff, in a formal statement. "I will continue to enforce it until it is legalized by the state legislature or by a vote of the people."

SCHMELING RULES AS HEAVY FAVORITE OVER MAX BAER

BY HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 5 (AP)—The east and west fistic styles will meet in the Yankee stadium Thursday night when Max Schmeling, studious German, faces California's playboy heavyweight, Max Baer, in a 15-round duel.

It is, as a matter of fact, the very contrast of the two men's fighting styles and personalities that has served to whet the public's interest and all but assure Jack Dempsey a premotorial bullseye in his first New York venture.

Schmeling Is Favored

Schmeling, the stolid, unemotional fighting machine of apparently unlimited stamina, rules a 2 to 1 favorite over the Livermore larruper who carries his care-free, devil-may-care disposition right into the ring with him.

The German has trained faithfully in his inaccessible camp at Lake Swannanoa, N. J., perfecting his defense and timing, shortening his punches, carefully heeding his trainers' advice. Baer too has reached the peak of physical condition but by another method. Training at Atlantic City for six weeks, the big Californian has clowned his way through daily workouts, putting aside all thoughts of defense, inviting his sparring partners to take pot-shots at his granite chin. Unless he develops a sudden attack of caution, he'll fight just that way.

Baer Not Afraid

Baer does not believe there is a heavyweight extant who can hurt him seriously. Like the Dempsey of a decade ago, he is willing to take a couple of punches any time in order to land just one. He may change his mind when he samples the terrific punching power that lies in Schmeling's arms, especially the German's right.

In previous bouts in this country, Schmeling has shown amazing stamina. Over the last five rounds of 15-round bouts he consistently has battered tiring opponents. He may find Baer, however, at least his equal in this respect. The Californian has fought two 20-round bouts in the last two years and finished both of them fresh and strong. He will have great physical advantages over Schmeling—an inch and a half in height, five in reach and about 18 pounds in weight.

Big Gate Looms

The financial aspects of the bout have been decidedly encouraging to Dempsey. Advance sales are reported just short of $100,000 with prospects of a crowd of 50,000 and a gate of $250,000 if the weather is fair and warm.

Both fighters have virtually completed training. Schmeling will go through one more public workout tomorrow, but Baer wound up boxing yesterday. He will take only light exercise today and tomorrow and leave Atlantic City Wednesday for the seclusion of a private home in New York. Schmeling will break camp Thursday morning and arrive in New York just about in time for the weighing-in ceremonies that afternoon.

Four hundred Fort Myers, Fla. school children will receive dental treatment through a cooperative clinic formed by local dentists.

YANKEES HIKE LEAD; DOWN A'S TWICE

MARGIN INCREASED TO FOUR GAMES OVER WASHINGTON SENS

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

It appears to be the misfortune of more than one good ball club this season to be in the same league with the New York Yankees. Once they couldn't keep up with the slugging of the present world champions, and now they are finding the Yanks' array of pitchers sheer "poison."

The Philadelphia Athletics, who had climbed to second place in the American league a few days ago by a brilliant winning streak of ten out of 12 games, got a taste of Yankee flinging in a four-game series and wound up in the fifth notch again. They not only couldn't get the hits, but in four games, 46 batsmen were set down by the strikeout route. The Friday and Saturday games saw 28 strikeouts as Lefty Gomes and Walter Brown set up marks of 13 and 12 whiffings respectively. Seven more fanned in the first game of a doubleheader as Russell Van Atta outpitched Merrit (Sugar) Cain to win 3-2 and eleven more fanned the breeze in the second game as Johnny Allen turned in a one hit masterpiece to win 6 to 0.

Yank Lead Increased

The double victory gave the Yankees a lead of four games over the second place Washington Senators, who had to go 13 innings to beat the Boston Red Sox 4-3. They got the winning run on a walk, a sacrifice and Ossie Bluege's single off Jonny Welch after the heat forced George Pipgras out of action.

The Chicago White Sox moved into fourth place by winning two games from the St. Louis Browns, 13 to 6 and 10 to 2. The Cleveland Indians and Detroit Tigers divided a pair of low-score games. Cleveland won the first 2-1 on a ninth inning rally then fell a run short in an eighth inning outburst and went down 4-3.

Giants Take Lead

The New York Giants, only National league team to win two games out of a set of four double bills, marched into first place by the margin of five points over the St. Louis Cardinals. Brilliant mound work enabled the Giants to beat the Brooklyn Dodgers 2-0 and 6-1 as Hal Schumacher and Fred Fitzsimmons allowed only eight hits between them. Lefty O'Doul's homer was the only Brooklyn run.

Cincinnati knocked the Cards out of the lead by winning the second game 6-2 on the pitching and hitting of two former St. Louis players, Paul Derringer and Jim Bottomley, after the Cardinals had put in a late rally against Silas Johnson to take the opener 4-2. Pittsburgh's Pirates scored seven runs in a ninth inning uprising, marked by Floyd Vaughan's homer, to beat the Chicago Cubs 9-3 in the opener, but two circuit blows by Paul Waner off Pat Malone's pitching ended their scoring in the second clash and Chicago won 9-2.

Eddie Holley's five-hit flinging and an unearned run gave the last-place Phillies a 1-0 victory over Boston but the Braves came back to slug out a 9-6 decision in the nightcap.

Oilers Trounce Houston, 9 To 6

SAN ANTONIO CREEPS UP ON LEADERS BY BEATING STEERS

(By The Associated Press)

Breaking through the tight Houston defense, the Tulsa Oilers Sunday trounced the Texas league leaders, 9 to 6. It was the first game this season in which the Buffs have had more than six runs scored on them.

The Oilers took a liking to the fast ball offerings of Ed Greer, big right hander, scoring three runs in the second, three more in the fifth, another in the seventh and two in the eighth.

Missions Creep Up

San Antonio crept up on the leaders by handing the struggling Dallas Steers another lacing. The score was 3 to 0. The loss was the fourth in succession here for Dallas. The Missions lengthened their winning streak to five games.

The Steers were baffled by the hurling of Elton Walkup, young right-hander, who limited them to three scattered hits. John Whitehead, serving on the mound for Dallas, turned in a nice game. The Missions touched him for six hits in all.

At Beaumont the Exporters came from behind to win the first game of a double header against the touring Oklahoma City Indians, but in the nightcap the Indians took them into camp. The score of the first game was 8 to 5; the second, 6 to 3.

In losing a game to the Indians, Beaumont's sensational winning streak which carried them up to third place in league standings was halted at eight victories in succession.

Galveston Wins Pair

Galveston's first division club won both ends of a doubleheader from Fort Worth, 4 to 2, and 6 to 0.

Chief Moore had the Panthers in check in the first game, allowing them but five hits, while his mates were collecting eight safe blows off White, Chambers and Minogue.

In the second contest, Frank Tubbs pitched a one-hit game for the Buccaneers. Ray Ater, Fort Worth third sacker, slapped out a single to prevent Tubbs having a clean sheet in the seven-inning affair.

FOULIS TAKES GOLF HONORS

CHICAGO PRO BREAKS PAR TO WIN THE ST. PAUL OPEN

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 5. (AP)—Jimmy Foulis, descendant of one of Scotland's great family of golf teachers, wasn't quite good enough to qualify for the big 1933 National open show but he had $1,500 in his pocket today and about that much satisfaction.

Competing against many of the important contenders for this year's National open crown, including five members of America's Ryder Cup team, the silent Chicago pro kept his head down and sailed in with a par-smashing 72 hole total of 283 shots to win the $5,000 St. Paul open championship at Keller course here yesterday.

His card not only clipped five shots from par over the rolling Keller course but it beat George Von Elm of Los Angeles, golf's famous business man, by three strokes and Captain Walter Hagen of the Ryder Cup squad by five. More than that, he showed a doubting gallery that he wouldn't break under the pressure. His rounds were 70-72-69-72.

Electrical energy worth $500 is contained in every flash of lightning, according to calculations of an expert.

Suspect Is Charged In Fatal Shooting

SAN ANTONIO, June 5. (AP)—Mike Benites, 27, has been charged with murder for the fatal shooting of Marcus Amaya, 41, Friday night.

Mrs. Benites told police that Amaya, who is her uncle, came to the house and insisted on speaking to her husband, who was asleep. When her husband was aroused, a fight ensued, during which Mrs. Benites was thrown to the floor and Amaya was shot.

SOMETHING NEW =REBUS=

Here's A Good One

Can you make a sentence from today's "Rebus"? It's fascinating . . . it's intriguing. "Rebus" is a combination of pictures and words, which may be deciphered in to a complete sentence.

If you can work the "Rebus", bring your solution to the Avalanche-Journal Classified Ad Department before 6 p. m., Monday, June 5th. The two persons submitting the best correct sentence will receive two guest tickets to see "Little Giant."

GAIN SHOWN IN EMPLOYMENT

UPTURN IN TOTAL OF WORKERS IN TEXAS OCCURS IN MAY

AUSTIN, June 5. (AP)—The bureau of business research of the University of Texas reported that "the long awaited upturn in the number of workers on pay rolls in Texas finally occurred in May."

The bureau's report showed that the 908 establishments covered in its monthly survey had increased employment 3.1 per cent during the period ending May 15 as compared to the previous month. The May 15 figures also showed employment to be 1.1 per cent greater than in the corresponding period in 1932, marking the first time since March 1930 that the number of workers had exceeded the number on the corresponding date a year earlier.

Widely Destributed

"Not only is this increase from April to May an unusual one on the basis of past experience, but it is widely distributed over a great many different industries," the report stated. "Of the total of 63,964 workers 56,224, or about 85 per cent were included in groups which were calling more men back to work.

Furthermore, 20,416, or about one third of the total number of employes were receiving higher average weekly wages than they did a month earlier."

The report showed average weekly wages declined slightly, from $22.13 in April to $22.02 in May, but because of the increased number of workers, the average weekly pay roll showed a rise of 2.5 per cent.

Cities Report Gains

More men were employed in Austin, Beaumont, El Paso, Ft. Worth, Houston, Port Arthur, San Antonio and Wichita Falls on May 15 than on the corresponding date last year. Gains over the preceding month were reported in Amarillo, Dallas, Galveston, Waco, and several smaller towns.

Both the number of workers and the average weekly wage showed an increase in beverage plants, men's clothing manufacturing, railroad car shops, electric railway car shops, petroleum refining, commercial printing, newspaper publishing, laundries, dry cleaning plants and meat packing and slaughtering plants.

'Big Shot' Starts Work on Dam

Four tons of dynamite blasted away a mountain of dirt and rock marking the last "big shot" before actual construction of Boulder Dam begins. The picture was taken as thousands of tons of rock fell into the Colorado river canyon. In the foreground may be seen the tunnels through which the river's flow has been diverted.

INTERESTING NEWS, COMMENT FROM AUSTIN

BY R. W. BARRY

AUSTIN, June 5, (AP)—Ernest O. Thompson, member of the Texas railroad commission, went to Sherman several weeks ago to see Randolph Bryant, judge of the United States district court. It was an important mission. Thompson and the two other members of the railroad commission had been summoned to show reason why they should not be held in contempt of court. They had done something in something the oil and gas conservation laws that Judge Bryant decided was in contravention of a judgment of his court affecting some order the commission previously had promulgated.

Thompson did not know whether he and his colleagues would be penalized when he left Austin. It was with considerable timidity he approached Judge Bryant.

Given Souvenir

Now Thompson has a souvenir of that visit. It is an autographed photograph of Judge Bryant presented to Thompson on that occasion. The inscription read: "To my good friend, Col. E. O. Thompson, with my fondest regards. Randolph Bryant."

Thompson takes pleasure in exhibiting that picture to visitors in his office.

"There I was shaking in my boots, fearful I'd be doing time in jail, and here is what I came away with," Thompson jocularly explained.

Long Time Friends

But, presentation of the picture, he said, had nothing to do with the official business the two transacted. They have been friends of long standing, the friendship preceding Thompson's election to the railroad commission.

They have hunted together for many years. Last winter they went to Mexico on a lion hunt and brought down some big game.

As Brought Over Associated Press Wires Today

The Wrong House

NEW YORK—"Oh, well," said the lurking stranger, as he surveyed the fraternity houses at New York university. "I don't know what Pi Lambda Phi means, but I guess that's as good a house as any."

So he entered it, in what police called a burglary attempt. But the house choice proved a mistake. Inside was George Weinstein, star sprinter, who collared the man after a short—very short—chase.

Needs Police Aid

LITTLE ROCK, Ark.—The police department here is looking for a rum runner, a missing cargo of rum and a $100 bill.

Officers said a man who told them he was enroute from St. Louis to Florida with an automobile load of bonded whiskey asked help in locating his partner, who went to get the $100 bill cashed and now is gone with it and the whiskey.

Out She Went

PITTSBURGH—There she sat, in the marriage licensce bureau, impatiently tapping her foot. Then she walked over to Clerk Edgar Howe and told him the man she was to marry went out to get another dollar. (A license costs $2.)

"I won't marry a man who hasn't enough money to pay for a license," she told Howe decisively. "When he comes back tell him I've changed my mind."

And out she went.

DALLAS.—John J. Vay was sentenced to 90 days by Federal Judge W. H. Atwell for impersonating an army officer and obtaining money falsely by that means. Vay told the court his wife's vanity in presenting him as "captain" proved too much for him and he never denied the rank because, he said, that would have been unchivalrous.

SAYS SESSION IS PLANNED

GOVERNOR'S HUSBAND CLAIMS SOLONS ARE TO BE RECALLED

AUSTIN, June 5.—(AP)—James E. Ferguson said Governor Miriam A. Ferguson likely would convene the legislature in special session next fall to consider state finances.

Mr. Ferguson pointed out that it would be necessary for the legislature to pass enabling legislation in event the $20,000,000 unemployment relief bond issue is authorized in the special election on August 26.

He said should the president's industrial rehabilitation program be carried out, Texas would receive between $250,000,000 and $300,000,000 for reconstruction.

"Austin will be the busiest place in Texas within a few weeks," Ferguson predicted. "Expenditure of that much money in this state would be equal to a four million bale cotton crop at ten cents a pound."

He commented on the deficit in the state treasury and intimated the legislature might be asked in September to consider finances.

For Disorders Due To CONSTIPATION

"I have used Black-Draught for a number of years and I find that it is about the best medicine I can take for headache, biliousness, a tight feeling and for gas and spitting up of my food," writes Mr. Bert Smith, of Carthage, Mo. "Taken in broken doses, Black-Draught will relieve this. It will also help (as a laxative) a cold and hoarseness. When I feel 'all down and out' I take Black-Draught and in a few days am feeling all right. It is also good for bad breath and other little troubles of this kind when due to constipation."

Picture Said To Be Worth One Million

CHICAGO, June 5. (AP)—If claims made by Dr. Maurice H. Goldblatt, Chicago art critic, are accepted by others Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Edwards, Cincinnati, may see the painting for which they paid $3,000 rise in value to more than $1,000,000.

The painting, "Madonna of the Yan Winder," was dentified by Dr. Goldblatt as a Leonardo Da Vinci masterpiece for which historians and biographers of the artist have been searching four centuries.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwards bought it in Paris from a Russian nobleman and since then said critics had expressed opinions that it was either a Luini or a Sodoma.

DON'T GAMBLE—BE SAFE!

with this 3 Times Safer Tire

Amazing new invention eliminates cause of blow-outs

Heat generated inside the tire separates rubber and fabric — starts "invisible blisters", common cause of blow-outs, even in new tires.

The exclusive Goodrich Life-Saver Golden Ply resists heat—makes the new Safety Silvertown 3 times safer from blow-outs at high speeds.

"I COULDN'T help it. I was driving along . . . doing 50 to 60 . . . and everything seemed all right. Then suddenly—without any warning whatever—my right front tire went BANG! I couldn't steer . . . I couldn't stop."

Has this ever happened to you? It could. Investigations show that the chances are better than even you'll have a blow-out some day. When . . . nobody knows. But right now . . . in summer weather . . . blow-outs are most likely to happen.

What causes blow-outs?

Today's high speeds generate terrific heat inside the tire. Rubber and fabric separate. A blister forms . . . inside . . . where you can't see it . . . and GROWS . . . bigger and bigger until . . . BANG! A blow-out. And your car may careen through a fence or into oncoming traffic.

But now Goodrich has perfected the amazing Life-Saver Golden Ply. This invention resists intense heat. Rubber and fabric don't separate. Thus, blisters don't form. Blow-outs are prevented by eliminating their cause.

At gruelling speeds on the world's fastest track the new Goodrich Safety Silvertown Tire lasted 3 times as long as first quality tires that did not have this feature. These Silvertowns never blew. They were run till the tread was gone—but the Life-Saver Golden Ply refused to give.

Remember, Goodrich Safety Silvertowns cost not a single penny more than standard tires. So why take chances? That blister—that blow-out in the making—may be in your tires right now! Put a set of these new Silvertowns on your car and have real protection between you and the road. You owe it to your family and yourself.
