

Hopper Menace Serious, County Agent Warns

Declaring that the grasshopper menace in this area is more serious than is generally recognized, W. K. Cottingame, county agent, urged general poisoning operations throughout the county.

"Not only are the hoppers here in greater numbers than in the past, but we have a more destructive and different kind of hopper to deal with this year," he said.

The present infestation, Mr. Cottingame explained, is of a migratory type of hopper which came into this section last fall from Kansas. It is, moreover, what is known as a two-generation hopper, in that another crop of hoppers will hatch this fall, and they in turn will lay the eggs for next spring's infestation.

"The present generation of hoppers will lay enough eggs that this fall's crop will be two or three times as large as the present, and the hoppers hatching out next spring will in turn be far more numerous than the number this fall," Mr. Cottingame said.

The grasshopper poison plant, located at the Farmers Co-op Gin, will remain open as long as farmers of this county want to get poison, it was pointed out. Jim Cook, who was in charge of this work last year, is again in charge.

"Crops that are already up over the county look good, as a whole, and we must make every effort to keep destruction by grasshoppers down. Consequently, we cannot urge too strongly that every farmer in Collingsworth County do his utmost toward killing out this infestation," Mr. Cottingame said.

Church Host To Fellowship Group

Representatives from Assembly of God Churches in 16 Panhandle towns will gather in Wellington Tuesday, July 3, for an all day Fellowship Meeting, Rev. Floyd McCleskey, pastor of the local church, has announced.

This is a regular monthly meeting. President of the body is Rev. J. A. Thomas, who several years ago was associated with his father, J. A. Thomas, Sr., in a funeral home in Wellington. Rev. Thomas now lives in Borger.

Dysart Holcomb Gets Ph.D. Degree

Dysart E. Holcomb, who was born and reared in Wellington, received his Doctor of Philosophy degree from the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor in the 1941 graduation exercises Saturday, June 21.

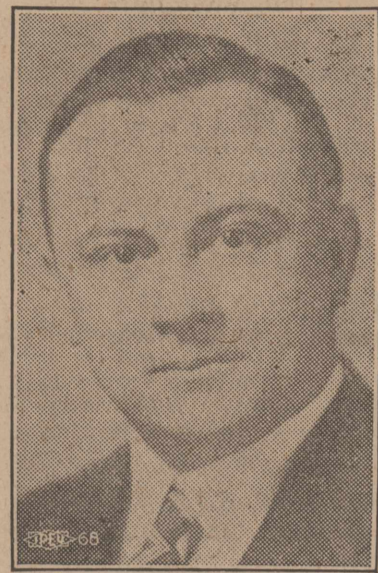

Dr. Holcomb is the son of the late H. A. Holcomb and Mrs. Holcomb of Wellington. He graduated from the local high school in 1933. He graduated from Texas Tech in 1937 with one of the highest grade averages ever made in the engineering department, and in 1938 he received his master's degree from the University of Michigan. While working on his doctor's degree, he also served as an assistant instructor in the University.

Dodson Ships Two Cars Wheat

Only two carloads of wheat have gone out of the county this season, and both of those have gone from Dodson, it was learned here Wednesday. One car is now being loaded in Wellington, S. G. Henry, M-K-T agent, said.

Along with the actual harvesting, however, came the first shipment of Wheat Parity Checks under the AAA program. These checks, numbering 73, and totaling $1,438.60, arrived in the county Thursday and have been distributed. These checks represent the 9 1/2 cents per bushel parity paid by the government. This is only a small portion of the checks expected to arrive in the county during the next few weeks.

Only a small amount of wheat has been sold in Wellington this week, J. E. Warrick Feed Store, said. This is due to rain which fell in the south part of the county and the north central part Sunday. Cutting in some sections will not be resumed until late this week.

Wheat now being sold averages a test of about 55, Mr. Warrick said, and grades as No. 2, 3, 5, and 6.

C. C. Terry Now Improved From Pneumonia Attack

The condition of C. C. Terry, who has been critically ill in St. Joseph's Hospital, was described Tuesday night by members of the family as improving. He became ill Thursday, after plowing in his field during that day. He entered the hospital Friday, and his condition was diagnosed as pneumonia and a heart ailment. His condition is still serious.

Mr. Terry is one of the pioneers of this part of the Panhandle, having lived in this section since before the organization of this county. He moved to Collingsworth County more than 45 years ago, and has lived continuously on his farm three miles north and one-half mile east of town.

Mr. Terry is a director of the Wellington State Bank.

Red Cross Production Room Open Wednesdays

Collingsworth County's Red Cross sewing and knitting room will be open each Wednesday, and those women and girls who are engaged in war production work may meet here to receive instructions or to work, Mrs. John W. Harper, chairman, announced early this week.

The Red Cross sewing room will be located in the home economics room on the second floor of the Wellington High School. The room will be open from 9 a. m. until 4:00 p. m. at present, although as the need arises, the hours will be extended.

"We have had splendid co-operation from women in every part of the county, and under the present set-up we can do lots of work before the fall comes," Mrs. Harper said.

Committees in charge of the various phases of Red Cross production work were named at a meet-

The second registration of young men eligible for military training will be held July 1, in Wellington, J. N. Wallace, clerk of the local draft board reminded Wednesday.

This registration will include all young men who have become 21 years of age after October 16, 1940, the date of the first registration, and July 1, 1941.

"Collingsworth County should register around 100 men at this time," Mr. Wallace said. "This guess is based on the estimate of state headquarters that the registration this time will be about 8 per cent of the first registration."

Only one registration place has been provided for, and that will be at the draft board office on the second floor of the county courthouse. A few assistants will be chosen by the board this week to help with the registration, Mr. Wallace said.

The registration will begin at 7 a. m., and continue until 9 p. m.

A slightly different form to that used last October will be used on July 1, Mr. Wallace pointed out.

Men who are away from home will register in the city or town in which they happen to be on July 1, 1941, advance information for the state office indicates. These men, it was emphasized, should be careful that their home address be given, if they wish their registration cards sent to their home boards.

A. Englander To Open Store

A. Englander, Bonham merchant, last week announced that he is opening a ready-to-wear store in Wellington in the early fall, to be known as A. Englander Co., Inc.

The store will be managed by Marvin Englander. It will be located, according to present plans, just north of the Parsons Drug Co., in the building owned by S. D. Pritchard and formerly occupied by Dunlap's.

Mr. Englander said that he is moving to Wellington this week, and will be here for part of the time during the summer months.

75 At Future Citizen Outing

Seventy-five Future Citizens of Collingsworth County and their sponsors attended the annual encampment held at Craterville Park, Oklahoma, Friday and Saturday, June 20 and 21.

This trip was a purely recreational one for the boys and girls, W. K. Cottingame, county agent, said. Activities included hiking, swimming, sports, and visits to the museum and zoo at the park. Meals were cooked out of doors by the boys and girls themselves.

Future Citizens listed included Irvie Robertson, John Coffee, Doyle Hartman, Charlie Gibson, Betty Berry, Jim Pate, Marie O'Rear, Jean Kelly, Melvin Breeden, Billy Joe Breeden, Herbert Willingham, Della Mae Coffee, Mrs. Coffee, Nova Loving, Katherine Clark, Sue Leach, Oletha Winegeart, Ethel Stephens, Zelma King, Faye Jones, Evelyn Farmer, Nancy Wallace, Mildred Stafford, Barney Stafford, Marion Baumgardner, Troy Bass, Robert Fritts, Marion Cottingame, Gene Long, Mildred Clay, Miss Alice Strawn, Mrs. Allard Vandiver, Miss Rose Erisman, J. Feed May Be Used On Washed-Out Cotton Land

Farm operators wondering what crops they may plant on cotton land washed out too late for replanting were assured this week by the AAA office that feed may be planted in place of the cotton.

"Any farmer can increase his feed acreage up to the full amount of his cotton acreage," it was explained.

At this time, W. K. Cottingame, county agent, reminded that while the above arrangement may result in a surplus of feed in this county, it can be safely stored in a trench silo.

"The size of your silo, however, should depend on the number of stock you have to feed out," the agent warned. "If you have only a small number, your trench should not be so wide nor so deep as it would be where you have a large number to feed. In either case, your trench silo may be as long as you think you will need."

Church Of Nazarene To Hold Special Services

Week end religious services, to include a Missionary Convention and a homecoming day are scheduled for the Church of the Nazarene in Wellington Friday, Saturday and Sunday, June 27, 28, and 29.

A featured speaker all three days will be Rev. H. A. Wiese, a missionary to China, who due to war conditions in the Orient is unable to obtain a passport to return to his mission work. Rev. Wiese will have with him moving pictures and slides which he will show, depicting conditions in China since the Japanese invasion. In addition, he will have curios and other Chinese articles showing how the people of that country live.

Rev. Wiese went to China in 1920, and has spent 17 years there. He is under appointment to return as soon as he can get through to that nation. After the present war with the Japanese began, Rev. Wiese remained at his

Christian Church To Hold Revival

Rev. and Mrs. Harold Sheets of Austin will return to Wellington this summer to conduct revival services at the First Christian Church, beginning August 25, Rev. H. H. Neeley, the pastor, announced this week. Rev. and Mrs. Sheets were in charge of the revival services last summer, and during the time made a number of friends here.

The revival will continue for two weeks, and possibly longer, Rev. Neeley said.

"All church people and non-church folks are cordially invited to attend every service of this revival. Brother Sheets is a sound gospel preacher and Mrs. Sheets is a good singer and pianist," the pastor stated.

Mrs. Guy Clay will serve as pianist for the revival.

Voters Select U. S. Senator On Saturday

County citizens Saturday, will vote in the surprise election of the year—that in which a successor will be named to fill the place of the late Morris Sheppard.

Balloting will be considerably lighter than in the general election, since this, being an off-election year, caught many local citizens without poll tax receipts. Only 1546 poll taxes and exemptions were issued, J. W. Holder of the Tax Assessor-Collector's office said Wednesday morning. This is more than 1,000 less than were paid last year.

In addition, approximately 400 overs will be able to vote in this county, it is estimated.

Twenty-nine candidates are listed on the ballot from the Democratic, Republican and Communist parties, along with one independent candidate. They are:

Democratic Party: Joseph C. Bean, E. A. Calvin, Arlon Barton, Cyclone Davis, Martin Dies, Guy B. Fisher, W. E. Gilliland, A. E. Harding, Commodore Basil Muse Hatfield, Robert Grammer Head, O. F. Heath, Sr., Bubba Hicks, Lyndon B. Johnson, W. W. King, Gerald C. Mann, Sam Morris, Starl G. Newsome, Jr., W. Lee O'Daniel, Floyd E. Ryan, Walter A. Schultz, C. L. Somerville, Joseph (Joe) Thompson, Edwin Waller, III, W. C. Welch and John C. Williams.

Republican Party: Politte Elvins.

Independent: W. R. Jones.

Communist Party: Homer Brooks.

Voting boxes in the various communities will be established at the regular places, Mrs. Claude Nelson, deputy county clerk, said. Voting in Wellington will be in the county court room and the justice court room.

They need you in the Army Behind the Army!

This word goes out to every community in Collingsworth County Tuesday, July 1, when the United Service Organizations drive opens here. On that day, and the next few days that follow, the county's quota of $800 will be raised. This money, and that raised in similar drives throughout the nation, will be used to equip and maintain recreational activities for young men serving in the armed forces of the United States.

"This drive comes closer home to all of us here in Collingsworth County than any we've engaged in recently," Deskins Wells, county U. S. O. chairman, reminded this week. "Already there are families whose sons or brothers are serving in the army for one year or maybe a lot longer than that. Other young men from other families will be going in the near future, and there will be not one of us who does not have a relative or friend training to defend America."

Plans for the drive were laid in a meeting of all committees held Monday night. In addition to the existing committees, new workers were added to bring about a more effective coverage of the county.

In order that the purposes and work of the United Service Organizations may be thoroughly familiar to the people of the county speakers will give brief explanations before all churches of the county Sunday. Speakers already named are Judge C. C. Bishop, Baptist Church; S. R. Pinkston, Methodist Church; Rev. H. H. Neeley, Christian Church; all of Wellington. Other church speakers will be named later this week.

Miss Robbie Wells explained the plan before members of the Rotary Club at their luncheon meeting Tuesday, while Rev. Doyle Ragle is scheduled to describe the drive at the Kiwanis Club Friday.

Committees working with Mr. Wells in the conducting of this campaign include the following complete list:

Judge C. C. Bishop, Wellington chairman.

Special Gifts Committee: Cameron Beam, chairman; Sandy Parsons, Jr., Bill Lynn, J. W. Wells, Mrs. S. R. Pinkston, Mrs. E. W. Jones, Miss Katherine Boverie, Mrs. Pink Sullivan, Mrs. L. A. Manzer, Harley Kern, M. P. Watkins, Father Andrew Quante, Dr. E. W. Jones and James Don-eghy.

Spotted Rains Fall Sunday

Damaging rains again struck sections of Collingsworth County Sunday afternoon, June 22, but skipped other areas with only light showers to give further benefit to small cotton and feed.

It was estimated that as much as four inches of rain fell in the Samnorwood and Lutie areas within an hour. Heavy rains extended east from this area to the Oklahoma line. Farther north and northwest, the rain grew lighter, until the northern part of the county reported only a shower. The rain also was light south of Salt Fork.

The second section of the county to receive dashing rains at this time was an area west of Dodson, extending south into the Arlie community. Only about one-half inch fell at Dodson.

Some replanting will be necessary in those areas where the heavy rains fell, including all crops that had been planted late last week.

Wheat harvesting was also held up and in some sections cannot be resumed until the latter part of this week, if no more moisture falls.

Letters Of Danish Girl Describe Nation, People

In spite of war raging through Europe, and the conquest of the Scandinavian countries by Hitler, one Wellington boy still carries on correspondence with a friend in Denmark. He is Hall Wells, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Wells, and the girl with whom he corresponds is Inge Rasmussen of Copenhagen, Denmark.

Their correspondence began about four years ago through an International Correspondence Bureau, designed especially for high school boys and girls in an effort to foster better understanding and friendship among youth of the different nations.

In spite of censorship, their letters reach each other, although the letter which Wells received only a few days ago had been ten weeks en route. All letters now received have been opened and passed by censors.

Below are parts taken from letters received from Miss Rasmussen during the last year. Her original wording has not been changed: Copenhagen, 14 April, 1940

My Dear Hall,
I suppose you know what have happened in our little native country the last days. Of course I cannot write anything about it, but we are all very saddened. If you don't hear for a long time from me, please write again because many letters now are lost.

I have never told you about my family. My father is an officer in the Danish army, and he was born in America, in New York, and many of our family steadily lives in U. S. A. I have a big brother, soon 19 years old; have you any sisters or brothers?

Our religion is the Evangelical-Lutheran faith, what is the same as the Danish state-church. All the small children in Denmark are christened and when they are about fourteen years old they are confirmed, where they affirm their christening. The ratification is a very beautiful action, and all the boys and girls must prepare them a half year to it; it's called "To go to the clergyman."

You know Denmark is a kingdom. Our king reigns together with a parliament, elected by the people. Any man and woman entering 21 can elect. Our present rule is a democracy. My school is a secondary school; the pupils can choose whether they will learn Latin or French. Of languages I now have English, French, Dutch, and Swedish; and besides we have a lot of mathematics. There are only girls in our school, but many schools in Denmark are now common schools.

Yours sincerely,
Inge.

You know I live in town and therefore it is not easy for me to tell you about our agriculture, but I will try:
Our agriculture is very intense. The common farmer has not got many animals. He has five, six horses and about twenty cows. However, he has many pigs and a lot of fowls, ducks and geese. The Danish pigs are all very long and very low. In that manner one gets the best bacon. Perhaps you know we export most of our bacon and eggs to England.

About our dairy farming. All the farmers in a part combine and start a dairy. As they are many they can afford to buy the best machines and therefore the Danish products are some of the best in the world. It is called cooperative instinct.

It was a very good idea to send me the flag of U. S. A. My best thanks. In return I shall send you our flag, "Danebrog," it is called in Danish, and it means red cloth. Of course it is symbolic with the white cross in the scarlet ground. It is told that Danebrog fall down from the skies in 1219 when the Dane struggled with the Baltic, apropos myth. Do you know that in Denmark we have a lot of myth and popular ditty.

Denmark is noted for its many cycles (bicycles). Rather every Dane has got a cycle just now, where we cannot get oil. It may ring remarkable in your ears, because you have a lot of oil in Texas.

March 29, 1941
A fortnight before I received your Valentine-letter. Before, I knew a little about the Valentine Day because once I have seen an American film about it. In Denmark we have a day called Shrove-tide. In that day all children disguise themselves in party-colored costumes and then they go to their family or friends of their homes and they sing their "shrove-song." In return they become muffins and so many goodies they are able to eat.

In 1940-41 a strong national feeling has come up in Denmark, and it especially appeared Sept. 26 when our king was 70 years old. Over the whole of Denmark the flags waved and all Danes had bought a little pin like this I am sending you. The income of these pins the king received like a present from the peoples, and now the king has established a legacy of the money.

You write about your oranges and bananas. Indeed, I am quite envious, because this year we can not get neither fruits nor coffee. Perhaps you know that most of the Danes are very fond of coffee. I, however, prefer tea to coffee. Every month we can only get a minimum portion of coffee or tea, and instead we get some terrible substitutes.

Yours affectionately,
Inge.

LETTERS From the PEOPLE

June 16, 1941

Mr. Deskins Wells, Wellington, Texas, Dear Deck,

I thought I would write and thank you for The Wellington Leader. It sure is nice to read the news of your home town.

There are not very many boys from Wellington in camp here I know. I see Kenneth Harris and Ruben Maxwell every once and a while. They are located about a mile from me.

We just returned Friday from maneuvers. We stayed out there a week. Being in reserve all the time except twelve hours, we didn't have to do anything except lay around under cover. These beds here in camp sure were nice after sleeping on the ground. We maneuvered against the 45th and 2nd divisions.

I am in the Heavy Weapons company. Our weapons are the thirty and fifty caliber machine guns and the 81 millimeter mortar.

I have been selected as messenger from the Third Platoon. My job is carrying messages from the company to the Battalion Headquarters.

It is getting late so I suppose I had better close.

Yours truly,
Pvt. Milburn Derryberry, Co. D., 142 Infantry, Camp Bowie, Texas.

And on Tuesday, the 1st day of July 1941, at the Court House door of Collingsworth County, in the town of Wellington, Texas, between the hours of ten A. M. and four P. M. I will sell said interest of A. W. Howard at public vendue, for cash, to the highest bidder, as the property of said A. W. Howard by virtue of said levy and said Alias Execution.

And in compliance with law, I give this notice by publication, in the English language, once a week for three consecutive weeks immediately preceding said day of sale, in The Wellington Leader, a newspaper published in Collingsworth County.

Time Yet For Planting Of Summer Garden

It isn't too late to plant a summer garden, W. K. Cottingame, county agent, reminded early this week, naming vegetables which may be planted at present with good chances to mature, and produce well.

Vegetables which may be planted now include any variety of peas except English peas, okra, peppers, lima beans, or most other varieties of beans, watermelons, cantaloupes, squash, cushaws, pumpkins, and possibly lettuce. Tomato and sweet potato plants set out now may be expected to produce.

"Particular attention should be paid to using good seed, and planting will need to be a little deeper than the spring plantings, especially if we have no more rains," the county agent warned.

Full production from tomatoes cannot be expected during the hot months unless the plants are protected from hot winds, it was explained. Placing of tow or other sacks around garden fences, or in other manners to protect the plants was suggested by the agent.

"And it will be all the better if you can arrange some way to spray the sacks with water from your well," he suggested.

At the same time Mr. Cottingame urged the poisoning of insects which in this section often destroy gardens.

For sucking insects use black leaf 40, either as a spray or dust, and for biting insects, use calcium arsenic or arsenic of lead, either as a dust or spray," Mr. Cottingame said.

"The way to determine whether it is a biting or sucking insect is to see if the leaves of the plant have holes in them. If they do, then you may sure you have biting insects to deal with, but if you find no holes, then it is a sucking insect on your vegetables," he continued.

All vegetables should be thoroughly washed after insect poisons have been used on the plants, the county agent warned.

Mrs. N. B. Ringgold Attends Funeral Of Father In Oklahoma

Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Ringgold, who lives on Route 3, Wellington,

He was last here about two years ago.

Old Red River Bridge Due To Be Dismantled

The Red River bridge on the old Wellington-Childress highway, will be dismantled, and the lumber used in the construction and repair of bridges and culverts in Childress County, the Commissioners of that county decided last week.

The mile-long span was damaged considerably by high waters on the river during recent weeks and is now unsafe for travel. Little repair work has been done on it since the completion of the new concrete bridge on highway 83 about ten years ago. Since the changing of the road and the construction of the new bridge, little traffic has gone over the old structure.

The old bridge is one-way, with a widened place in the center for passing. It was, however, considered a modern structure more than 20 years ago, when it was built. Increased traffic, however, made it obsolete a number of years ago.

RAILWAY LABOR UNION DEMANDS WOULD COST 900 Million Dollars A YEAR

THE labor unions have made their demands upon the railways of the United States—and through the railways upon the PUBLIC. These demands are vastly larger in proportion than any they have ever made. The economical and efficient operation of the railways is vital to the nation's defense effort. Therefore, the Western Railways present to the public the following facts:

The labor unions representing engineers, firemen, conductors, brakemen and switchmen are demanding a 30 per cent increase in wages, amounting to 190 million dollars a year—although their present rates of pay are the highest in history.

Other unions representing a greater number of railway employees are demanding wage increases ranging as high as 95 per cent—averaging 47 per cent—and amounting to 580 million dollars a year—although their present rates of pay also are the highest in history.

Thus the wage increases being demanded by the labor unions amount to 770 million dollars a year, an average increase in excess of 41 per cent.

In addition, certain of these labor unions have demanded advances in their pay not included in the above figures, and more rules for the creation of unnecessary jobs.

The situation, then, is this: The total cost of complying with all the demands made would be approximately 900 million dollars a year!

The average weekly earnings of railway employees are now 15 per cent higher than in the peak year 1929, while the cost of living is 12 per cent less.

The demands of the railway labor unions are being made when the entire nation has just been asked to make a supreme effort for National Defense.

The railways cannot meet these demands without a great increase in the cost of transportation. They exceed by more than 700 million dollars the income that the railways had left after paying their annual expenses, taxes and charges in 1940.

The railways have a vitally important job before them. They need all their resources to continue adequately to serve you and contribute effectively toward the National Defense Program.

Editorial

National defense is no longer a matter of men and machines—of soldiers and army camps. It has come right down to the front door of every American, of every man and woman in Collingsworth County.

The United Service Organization drive will be held this week, and here is where everyone can do his part—a part which this nation cannot do without.

Briefly, the federal government is building recreation buildings at or near its army camps. It cannot supply funds for private activities, and upon the U.S.O. has fallen the task of raising money to equip these buildings and to maintain the activities. And the U.S.O., composed of six nationally known non-profit organizations, calls to the people of American for this money.

But why, you may ask, do we need all these new recreation buildings for soldiers and sailors? Early in the defense program though it is, the government has already learned that the areas surrounding the camps do not provide adequate recreational facilities for these young soldiers, and a good many young men who had rather do otherwise are spending most of their time off duty hanging out on the street corners.

But there is more to this United Service plan than recreation. It will serve the religious and spiritual welfare and the educational needs as well as the social needs in the armed forces and defense industries of the United States.

When one of your friends comes by this week to ask you for a contribution, by giving you will be helping the defense of this nation, just as is the man serving in its armed forces.

Not only should we give to the U.S.O., but we must give. Thousands of young men are in the army without being asked whether or not they wanted to be there. We, too, must remember that in times of stress, we must think of others just as we think of ourselves, and unless we do what is our part in the national defense, this country will be the weaker for it.

A debtor is one who owes money; a creditor is one who hopes to get it back.

OTHER EDITORS SAY--

An Oshkosh, Wisconsin newspaper, name not given, is said to have originated the following:

"You cannot bring about prosperity by discouraging thrift.

"You cannot strengthen the weak by weakening the strong.

"You cannot help the poor by destroying the rich.

"You cannot lift the wage-earner by pulling the wage-earner down.

"You cannot keep out of trouble by spending more than your income.

"You cannot further the brotherhood of man by inciting class hatred.

"You cannot establish sound social security on borrowed money.

"You cannot build character and courage by taking away a man's initiative and independence.

"You cannot help men permanently by doing for them what they could and should do for themselves."—Ed Bishop in The Dalhart Texan.

• A Sure Sign Of Prosperity

Convincing evidence that prosperity has returned can be found in the increasing flock of grafters. When there is money to be invested, swindlers thrive. The victims may be widows with insurance money left by their husbands, wage earners or salaried people who have accumulated small cash savings, small business men who have prospered in their own business and are looking for easy profits on the outside. Anyone with cash and limited financial experience is a ripe prospect for gentle grafters.—Cleburne Huston in The Stamford American.

• Another Kind Of Draft

You may be able to bluff in the big city, but here at home in Claude most folks know the size of your over-draft.—Thos. T. Waggoner in The Claude News.

• Waterfalls On The Caprock

There are several waterfalls on the eastern escarpment of the high plains in Floyd county this week, the falls being especially notable on Monday afternoon following the big rain Sunday evening.

A natural phenomena that occurs only once every ten to fifteen years, the falls are made by the big lakes of water which finally fill above their rims. The water moves eastward on the natural slope of the land through low areas. These are apparent to the natural eye only when the water begins flowing.—The Floyd County Hesperian.

• New Material For Botanists

Texas botanists have had some special chores to do this spring and summer. A number of new plants have made their appearance in West Texas, presumably from seed and spores borne by the dust storms of the past few years. I was told recently that new wild flowers, heretofore not found south of Colorado and Kansas, have appeared in some parts of Texas; also that livestock have been killed, in some places by eating new and poisonous vegetation. The theory of the botanists is that most of these new growths will presently disappear, being unsuited to Texas' climate, but that a few will like it here, and decide to stay.—John Gould in Wichita Falls Times.

That Reminds Me . . .

By RALPH HERBERT

If Secretary of Agriculture Wickard's most recent appeal to the American people is heeded the cheese sandwich and that weird combination called a "cheeseburger" will begin to disappear from the menus of the lunch counters. The answer to the puzzle is—Great Britain.

Among the British people cheese has always played a larger part as a food element than here in the United States. Bread and cheese and a pint of "bitter"—a variety of bitter beer—in thousands of cases comprise the lunch of British workers in heavy industries.

In ordinary times the British had no trouble getting cheese from New Zealand and Canada as well as from nearby countries like Ireland and Holland. In addition, they manufactured a considerable amount of cheese themselves. Now Holland is in the hands of the Nazi enemy, New Zealand is very far away with its distance enhanced by the ship scarcity, and at home in Britain milk is needed for babies and sick people. Hence John Bull turns to Uncle Sam and virtually says:

"Ship us all the cheese you can spare."

In the last war, Americans heeded the slogan: "Save wheat and meat for our Allies."

The Secretary of Agriculture says that many citizens have asked him personally how they can help the British in their fight for existence. At the present time he says his answer is: "Save cheese so we can send more to the British."

Stocks of cheese in the United States are 29,000,000 pounds ahead of what they were last year. If a considerable part of this stock, plus what Canada has, can be successfully sent to Great Britain one great gap in the food situation there will be filled. There is need for every bit of dairy products that the United States and Canada can spare.

What Is The U. S. O.?

Here are answers to the question: "What is the U.S.O. all about?" In the popular "quiz" form of questions and answers, this article describes the background, development, program and policies of the United Service Organizations.

The Organization

What is the U. S. O.? The letters U.S.O. stand for the United Service Organizations for National Defense, Inc., a non-profit corporation which brings together six national agencies in a common program of service to our defenders. These agencies are: The Young Men's Christian Association, the National Catholic Community Service, the Salvation Army, the Young Women's Christian Association, the Jewish Welfare Board and the National Travelers Aid Association.

Who will U.S.O. serve? Soldiers, sailors, marines and defense workers, young women as well as men in camps, bases and manufacturing areas where there are no adequate resources in nearby communities for recreational and welfare activities.

Will the U.S.O. supplant the present work of its constituent agencies? No. The U.S.O. is a planning and coordinating group. The individual agencies operate the program which will have elements common to all of the participating agencies. Each one will be allotted a portion of the U.S.O. program, planned and coordinated to serve our youth engaged in defense.

Origin

How did the U.S.O. originate? The agencies felt it was just as much their duty to volunteer their services and experiences in a defense emergency as in actual war.

Did the government wish this? The President, the Secretary of War, the Secretary of the Navy and the Federal Security Administrator, not only welcomed the offer but directly asked the agencies to take over a specific program.

What prompted their request? It became evident that while the Government could conduct morale and welfare work within camps and bases, there was need for the same sort of work in areas near camps and defense centers which could serve the youth while they were off duty.

Why Not The Government?

Isn't this duplication of the Government activities? No. The Army and Navy can only be responsible for activities within their own military reservations. Isn't that activity sufficient?

IN GAY ROMANCE

Irene Dunne and Cary Grant, one of the most popular romantic teams in Hollywood, are reunited Sunday at the Ritz Theatre in "Penny Serenade," sensational new production. The film tells of the marital problems faced by an irresponsible newspaperman and his wife.

No. It has been found that young men when off duty want to leave the government reservations and mingle with civilian life. There is also a national problem arising from the migration of thousands of families in connection with defense industries.

Why can't they be left to their own resources when off duty? It has been found that areas surrounding camps are inadequate in their resources for men who come to town by the thousands, find themselves without proper recreational facilities, without friends and with little to do but to stand on street corners or be importuned by those who seek to exploit service men commercially or viciously.

How U.S.O. Will Work

How will U.S.O. meet the problem? It will establish more than 300 service clubs outside of camps, naval stations, defense production centers and overseas bases. The Government will provide the buildings, and the U.S.O. will have to find the funds to operate these programs.

With What Money?

Where will U.S.O. get its funds? U.S.O. believes that private citizens owe it to the youth that is defending them to provide decent and pleasant surroundings for their leisure hours. It will seek funds through private subscription, thus giving citizens strengthened morale through active participation. Moreover, it is held that citizens have some spiritual responsibility for the defense forces.

The Program

What is the basis of the U.S.O. program? To serve the religious, spiritual, welfare, educational and social needs in the armed forces and defense industries of the clude such projects as:

Religious service for those of various faiths, in cooperation with chaplains of the forces and churches in the community.

Counsel and guidance for personal problems. Social events, and entertainments.

Hospitality in homes and the creation of opportunity for normal friendships.

Facilities for service within the clubs, such as recreation rooms, lounges, meeting rooms, possibly limited sleeping quarters and all of the services one might expect from a club.

Group activities.

Cooperation with educational and cultural programs in camp.

Hospital visiting in cooperation with chaplains and the American Red Cross.

General information service.

Aid to transient service men.

Contacts between soldiers and their homes when necessary.

Will this duplicate the regular services of the agencies which may have local units in the camp areas? No. These established units will continue their work as separate units but will endeavor to coordinate their work with the U.S.O. service clubs.

A boy like this

Some day will be running Your Electrical Servant

WHO knows whose boy... Maybe yours. Or your neighbor's.

But he's somewhere in this neck of the woods... on some West Texas farm or in town... burning with the grand old American urge to "get ahead"... try his wings at running a business.

One day he will join this organization. As a clerical worker. Or a lineman. Or a helper in the power plant. Or perhaps a meter reader.

It doesn't matter what the job... he'll do it well. And he will climb. A boy like this... intelligent, clean-cut, strong, unafraid... asks only for the opportunity. There are plenty of opportunities with Your Electric Servant... opportunities to serve the people. This boy will win out without having to depend upon a temporary political or government job.

It's the American way... the healthy, solid pattern that has built free enterprise in this country.

And (this is important) because this boy is of the people, he will know best how to serve the people.

That is why we're always looking for likely youngsters. Let them grow up in the business like all of those now connected with the organization.

The result is that Your Electric Servant is made up of trained and experienced men and women who are devoting their lives to serving you. Because they know their jobs, and know your needs, they have succeeded in providing you greatly improved service at constantly lowering cost.

Electric Service is modernized and improved all the time. The cost is only about half what it was 10 to 15 years ago. Today you get twice as much service as you did a few years ago for the same money.

Years of training and experience enable the people who work for Your Electric Servant to keep on giving you better service and more for your money. That's their business. And they know that only training and experience can continue to improve service, bringing more benefits of electricity to more and more people at less and less cost.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

Whoops! My eye is getting better definitely. I have been down to the office about half of the time this week, and I hope—just knocked on wood—to be able to be working full time by next week.

You never know about the trouble other people have until you have a similar trouble yourself. While my eye was on the blink, I found out that Mrs. Hunter Sims, Frank Eikenburg, Cecil Craven, Tobe Deahl and a lot of others have had similar trouble. Tobe Deahl wrestled with an eye ulcer for five weeks last summer.

I can't imagine one coming at a worse time than it did for Frank Eikenburg. One hit him just two weeks before his first child was born, and lasted for two weeks after. His wife tried to wait on him and he tried to wait on her, and both of them nearly went crazy, but I didn't hear a word about it until my own eye started to give me trouble.

Lew Fields, who came down here last Saturday to make a political speech, told me that he had one when he was a soldier in France and that it lasted from October to December.

Now about the weather. Although he was fired, Ben Hurst horned in again and said it would dry up on June 2. He is fired a second time. Tom Campbell is also fired. Early in May I asked Tom if he was keeping check on the amount of rainfall. He told me no on account of the fact that he started measuring the rain in a tin can one year and immediately it dried up. Knowing this but being a ranchman primarily, he wouldn't get out his measuring can long after the pure -D farmers were hollering for the rain to stop. Therefore he is fired. In fact, folks, I think we had better turn this weather business back to the Lord.

Sandy Parsons, Sr., says that we won't make half a cotton crop this year. It is the first time I have ever caught him wrong about cotton, but my guess is that he has missed it a mile. My notion is that we will make a good cotton crop and a bumper feed crop. However, you had better be ready to fight grasshoppers and worms.

Can your extra garden stuff and your fruits. You will be glad you did before the war is over.

Something ought to be done about the condition of the cemeteries and the vacant lots in Wellington.

My lots are clean. I rented them to J. McBroome and he has a nice garden growing on them. I get one fourth of all he grows and the neighbors don't cuss me about the weeds. There is only one trouble. Old man McBroome won't deliver the rent and insists that I come after it.

The Collingsworth Organization for the USO is set up and ready to go. The drive will start Tuesday, July 1. The various committees voted for this date, because they wanted the paper to carry more information about what the USO is and they wanted the Church Committee to get in some licks Sunday. Collingsworth County's quota is $800 and they are confident they will make it in two days. I figure they will make it in one.

Some didn't wait for the drive to start. Fatty Watkins has already given $25, Harley Kern $15 and George Aaron $5. If there are many folks of this volunteer spirit, this county may raise its quota before the drive officially starts.

On Page 11 of this issue you will find considerable information about the United Service Organization. But I am clipping several paragraphs from Ed Bishop's column in the Dalhart Texan, which I like better.

Maybe you don't have a boy in the Army or Navy now. Perhaps you will never have one, so you are probably not particularly interested in this U. S. O. business we've been hearing a lot about lately. Seems like one's got an idea about giving our young sailors and soldiers some kind of amusement. Anyway it's another plan to inveigle you out of some of your hard-earned money, so it don't strike you as being important.

But whether you are a childless man or woman, whether you are a bachelor or an old maid, to whom the present emergency means nothing more than a lot of fanfare, you do know what it means to be homesick. You've seen great big he-men become silent, moody individuals, sometimes breaking into sobs that shook their massive frames. And you understood because sometime in your life you've been homesick.

And if you were to leave home and friends today and suddenly become associated with ten thousand other persons you would still have time to be homesick. Especially if, during your off hours, the only entertainment offered you was a nearby honky-tonk, a beer parlor or a domino hall. You'd have a lot of time to think about your parents, brother and sister. And a lot of time to brood over the fact that you were drawing only a few dollars a month salary and having a tough time making it last fifteen days.

And tonight when the sun goes down it will set not only on your home and mine but on a thousand army camps where a million and a half American boys are training to protect our homes. And when the sun goes down the boys need something to do besides thumb a ride to the town ten miles away and while away the evening on the street corners or pool rooms. They need good clean recreation clubs, where they rest, relax and enjoy good companionship. And that's what the U. S. O. plans to give them.

But the U. S. O. is not an organization of capitalists. It's made up of little fellows like you and me, those of us who can still go home to our family at night but think enough of our soldiers to make a little sacrifice for them. It's our chance to help out. It's our opportunity to serve.

Wading Pool Opens Thursday

The City Park wading pool for small children will be opened Thursday, June 26, Bura Handley, city engineer, announced today. The pool will be open each afternoon from 1 o'clock until 6 o'clock.

Mrs. N. E. Feemster will be in charge of the pool this summer. All children up to 12 years of age may use the pool, Mr. Handley said.

"The water in the pool will be kept sterile, so that at no time will there be danger of any disease spreading by this means. The children will be carefully watched and cared for, and we know that this wading pool is going to give the little boys and girls of the town just as much fun this summer as it has in the past."

Fields Speaks In Behalf Of Johnson Here

Lew Fields, prominent Amarilloan, spoke in Wellington Saturday night in behalf of the candidacy of Lyndon Johnson for United States Senate.

Citing the past record of Mr. Johnson, Mr. Fields, reminded that of all those working on the agricultural situation in Washington, it was Representative Lyndon Johnson who secured much that was gained for the farmers, and he who induced the President to sign the Parity bill.

He pointed out that Johnson's residence in Washington had fitted him to take his place among the law makers of the nation without first having to undergo the apprenticeship of all those new to the capital, and which could be ill afforded in critical times.

In addition, Mr. Fields visited with numbers of local residents, many of whom he met last summer when he was seeking the post of Congressman from this district.

Denver Train Held Until Payment For Cow Made Owner

Because of a $50 judgment, a Fort Worth and Denver freight train was tied up in Wellington for three hours last Friday. The judgment resulted from the fact that a cow belonging to E. A. Singley was killed by a Denver train last year.

Singley sued the railroad and got judgment in the last term of district court. When it was not paid, Lon Watkins, attorney for Mr. Singley, tied up the train and detained it at Wellington until the judgment was paid.

LeVaune Bradley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Bradley of Dozier, was confined Saturday, June 21, in St. Joseph's Hospital where she underwent a tonsilectomy.
