ALTHOUGH MOST deer in Mitchell County scurried into hiding at the first shot fired Saturday morning, this buck at 1452 Austin wasn't phased at all. In fact, it appears no matter how close a hunter gets, this deer won't even make a move. Deer and turkey hunting season opened yesterday (Saturday) and will continue until Jan. 1.

Gunfire will sound through Mitchell County for the next six weeks as hunters take shots at bagging prize deer and turkeys.

Deer and turkey season opened yesterday (Sat-day) and will close Jan. 1. According to Mitchell County Game Warden Ronnie Aston, the hunting season should progress well.

"Everybody who's leasing land has already leased," said Aston, noting that more than 200,000 acres have been leased. However, Aston explained that it is not unusual for available land to be completely leased before hunting season gets underway.

Aston, noted that the recent rains will benefit hunting season.

"Since we've had our rains and the pastures have greened, the deer have fattened back up and are in real good shape," Aston said.

He said that Mitchell County has almost the same number of deer that it had last year.

"Over this area, biologists ran surveys and determined that Mitchell County was the only county which sustained its lines," explained Aston. "Our counts were not down like the other counties."

Since assuming the position of Mitchell County game warden six years ago, Aston said that he has seen good hunting seasons, but in 1975-76, deer, turkey, quail and dove were particularly abundant. Quail season will close Jan. 28 and has been running a little below average due to the dry weather which limited hatches.

Aston noted that dove hunting went poorly this year, due to lack of grain and dry weather. But the deer and turkey seem to be in good shape, although there was a below average turkey hatch.

"Last year we had a good season with a record turkey hatch of 5.7 polts per hen," said Aston. "This year it's 1.02 polts per turkey."

Hunting is permitted 30 minutes before sunrise and 30 minutes after sunset, said Aston.

All deer and turkeys must be marked with a tag from a hunting license.

Resident hunting licenses are available at Agri-Supply, White's Auto, Sparks Hardware, Western Auto and Burrus Grocery and Market for $5.25. Hunters are allowed three deer, which includes no more than two bucks.

Anyone bagging a buck is requested to contact the Record office in order that a picture may be taken.

In order for a deer to be tagged as a buck, it must have a hardened antler protruding through the skin. Otherwise it is an antlerless deer.

Anyone failing to comply with the tagging regulation is subject to a fine of between $25-$200, said Aston. Also, hunters must have permission before en-

Reception Today For Librarians

Ruth Dozier, retiring Mitchell County librarian, will be honored at a reception today (Sunday).

Hosted by the Mitchell County library board, the reception will be held at the library from 3-5 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

Besides honoring Mrs. Dozier, Geneva Davila will be honored as the new librarian who will assume the duty Dec. 1.

The position of clerk to be vacated by Miss Davila will be filled by Mrs. Oren Moore.

Perserverance has been the word describing Mrs. Dozier's success as Librarian of Mitchell County for almost 55 years. Other than the seven years Mrs.

Dozier took off when her son was born, she has been devoted to a love-Mitchell County Library.

It has been more than half a century since Mitchell County started its first library with 117 books on the third floor of the courthouse. Mrs. Dozier should know because she was there.

Mrs. Dozier has seen many changes in the library, Colorado City and the world during her five and one-half decade tenure. But through it all she says people's reading habits have changed very little.

On the other hand, the reading material, in her opinion, has changed for the worse. She reports that Gone With The Wind has always been the most requested book.

Mrs. Dozier came to Colorado City from Tennessee in 1917 as the bride of Boyd Dozier who served this bustling cattle town as a barber. Mrs. Dozier's father was a minister.

"Growing up," she said, "we always had worlds and worlds of books--the whole family read."

Along with serving as librarian she served as a Red Cross volunteer during both World Wars. "The second war seemed closer to home, but they were both terrible."

Mrs. Dozier plans to stay in Colorado City after retiring because she likes it here.

"This is a good little town and will always be a good little town," she says. She intends to catch up on her reading even though she reads constantly. There are always those See RECEPTION, Page 13

Council Executes Quit Claim Deed

In an item added later to the agenda, the City Council of Colorado City Tuesday night executed a quit claim deed giving up all claims of ownership to about 15 acres of land stretching northeasterly from 2nd Street to Austin Street along Lone Wolf Creek.

The land had been deeded to the city in March 1972 by the family of the late H. S. (Dick) Hickman, a longtime city marshal and police chief of Colorado City, with the understanding that the area was to be cleared and designated as a memorial to Hickman and be named Hickman Park.

The agreement stated that the land would automatically revert back to the Hickman family if within six months it hadn't been cleared and designated as Hickman Park and if the other provisions ever failed to be met. The provisions are:

"If for any reason whatsoever or if by ordinance or otherwise, the name or designation of said public park is ever changed or modified as to no longer constitute an appropriate memorial to the late H. S. Hickman."

"If grant should ever fail or refuse to properly preserve or maintain said lands or any part thereof as a public park..."

"If for any reason whatsoever the lands should ever be abandoned for disused as a public park."

City Manager James Campbell stated that the execution of the quit claim deed as requested by the Hickman family was only a formality since the land had never been used and, according to the agreement, automatically reverted back to its previous owners.

H. S. Hickman served as city marshal and chief of police of Colorado City from 1917 to 1951. He died in 1971.

JIM HESTAND was honored at a reception Friday afternoon at the Mitchell County Courthouse. Hestand, who was the Mitchell County Veteran's Administration Services officer for almost 20 years, retired this week. Mitchell County Judge Bill Carter has assumed the duties of VA officer.

Thanksgiving Services

The annual Mitchell County Ministerial Alliance Thanksgiving services will be Tuesday at 7 p.m. at First United Methodist Church.

Delivering the message will be Rev. Jim Hill of First Christian Church.

Musical presentations will be made by the children's choir of Calvary Baptist Church, an ensemble from First United Methodist Church and combined choirs of all churches participating in the services.

An offering will be taken to be used to make Christmas baskets. Dec. 3, an offering at each church will be taken for the Christmas basket program.

The public is invited to attend the Thanksgiving services.

Bi-District Matches Set Football...

Colorado City's Wolves will meet Slaton's Tigers Saturday in Snyder for the bi-district championship. Colorado City is champion of District 6-AA while Slaton is representing District 5-AA.

Game time will be 7:30 p.m. with Slaton the home team. Officials of the two schools met Saturday morning in Snyder to work out the details.

Colorado City was undisputed champion of District 6-AA with seven wins while Slaton won five and lost two in district and was in a four way tie with Tahoka, Seminole and Frenship after they lost 7-3 to Tahoka Friday. Who would represent the district was determined by drawing numbers out of a hat and Slaton drew the one.

Tickets costing $3 per adult and $1.50 for students will go on sale at the high school here early in the week, as soon as they are available.

Wolf fans will sit on the east side of the stadium. Last year in bi-district, the Wolves were the home team and sat on the west side of the stadium.

...Volleyball

The Colorado High School volleyball squad will meet Seminole for the bi-district title.

That game will be played at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Snyder High School Gymnasium. It took officials of the two schools, Colorado City and Seminole, some

2 1/2 hours to arrive at a neutral site for the play-off.

Price of tickets is $1 for adults and 50c for students.

Seminole defeated Denver City in a district play-off at Plains Friday afternoon to decide the winner of District 5-AA.

Representatives of Colorado City, the District 6-AA volleyball champion met with Seminole representatives at 11 a.m. in Snyder Saturday to decide on a time and place for the bi-district match.

The winner of the bi-district match will advance to the regional tourney to be played in Lubbock on Dec. 2.

Coach Carol Dakan's squad in winning their sixth volleyball crown in a row this season compiled a 4-0 district record against the other two district opponents, Ballinger and Stamford.

Freeze To Spur Activity At Gins

Activity at Mitchell County gins should increase this week, according to gin officials.

Friday's freeze was what area producers were reportedly waiting for and now activity should get underway.

Bob Benson, Mitchell County extension agent, estimated that about 10 per cent of the crop has been harvested as of Friday.

Benson said that the freeze should have caused the leaves to die and when the fields dry, producers should be in business.

Don Stewart, Agricultural Stabilization Conservation Service director, said that the light freeze was "exactly what we wanted."

Stewart explained that the county didn't need a hard freeze because that would have killed the grass.

"As soon as the leaves of the cotton dry up, the harvest will be in full swing," said Stewart.

A check with local gins indicated that some activity has taken place, but not too much. Area gins reported the following:

--Buford Co-op Gin, 10 bales ginned, none on the yard.
--China Grove Co-op, 27 bales ginned, none on the yard.
--Farmers Gin, 261 bales ginned, none on the yard.
--Mitchell County Gin, 160 bales ginned, none on the yard.
--Westbrook Gin, 48 bales ginned, none on the yard.
No reports were made by Producers Co-op Gin, Colorado Gin or Loraine Co-op.

BEAUTY TIPS

By Janie Farda

Facial masks should be done on a routine basis, preferably twice a week. These are face masks which can be made at home with kitchen ingredients. Normal skin can use what is called an egg and oatmeal mask. To make this, beat one egg at room temperature, add 4 tablespoons of ground oatmeal. Mix together and pat onto the skin. Leave this for 10 minutes and rinse with cool water.

Oily skin can use a baking soda with bran mixture. Use 3 tablespoons of bran and 3 tablespoons of soda adding a small amount of water to make a paste. Smooth onto the skin leaving for 15 minutes. Mix 3 tablespoons of vinegar with 1 cup of cool water to remove mask.

Dry skin can become enriched by an olive oil and egg yolk mask. Beat one egg at room temperature, with 2 tablespoons of olive oil. Pat this mixture on skin for 10 minutes then rinse with warm water.

For a very exotic mask using ingredients found in your kitchen, try a mixture of 4 tablespoons of yeast, 3 tablespoons of water, a touch of almond juice and 1 tablespoon of honey, 1 tablespoon of lemon juice and 1 tablespoon of rye flour. Mix these ingredients well and pat on skin. While waiting brew rosemary tea and after 20 minutes remove mask with tea.

For a complexion care plan try to gently cleanse to remove soil while softening. Mask to continue cleansing process and use freshener on days mask is not used. Use make-up base to protect the skin-translucent for a natural effect.

Advanced exercises are legover, lying in a T position, bring left leg over to touch right hand keeping opposite leg and shoulder flat. Head to knee exercises are hands and knees, lower head bringing knee up to meet it then raising both as high as possible.

Scissor fold exercises are scissor spread position (#2) one leg folded back, lie back, hands over head, do sit up touching both hands to extended foot.

Cancer Information Service Receives $473,336 Grant

The Cancer Information Service (CIS), a statewide toll-free "hotline" providing cancer education for Texas residents, recently has received a three-year contract for $473,336 from the National Cancer Institute to extend its scope of services.

Sponsored by The University of Texas M.D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute at Houston, CIS has assisted over 12,000 people with questions or concerns on prevention, detection, treatment and causes of cancer.

"The statewide toll-free telephone lines of CIS have proved to be a very effective tool for providing the public easy access to current, factual information on cancer," stated Dr. Charles A. LeMaistre, president of M. D. Anderson.

"Unfortunately, fear of cancer remains one of the biggest obstacles to its early and successful treatment. The goal for CIS is to help replace this fear with the facts that can help people understand cancer.

ceptions surrounding cancer, CIS is now prepared and funded to produce print materials and radio and television programming for public and patient needs.

Information lines into CIS are 792-3245 in Houston and 1-800-392-2040 toll-free in Texas. The phones are manned from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on weekdays by American Red Cross volunteer operators. Additional volunteer training is designed by CIS staff and Anderson medical consultants.

"Cancer Answerline," a monthly news column appearing in many Texas newspapers, will continue under terms of the new CIS contract and will be jointly sponsored with ACS.

CIS was conceived and funded by NCI beginning in 1975 at each of the comprehensive cancer centers designated by Congress. The 20 centers for a communications network help establish a positive climate for encouraging the public to seek medical treatment for suspected cancer problems at their earliest and most successfully treatable stages.

Early evaluation results of the program based on reported behavior suggest about half the callers are taking some positive health measures as a result of contact with this information resource.

Will we get a large increase in insurance premiums when our teenager starts driving the family car?

Regrettably, yes. Young drivers, particularly young men, cause a disproportionate number of accidents, and consequently rate a higher premium. In 1972, for example, drivers between 15 and 24 made up 20 percent of the driving public but accounted for 32 per cent of all fatal accidents. Your daughter may also be rated higher, but her increase will be more modest.

If your son or daughter has successfully completed an approved driver education program, he or she is probably eligible for a premium discount. Also, if your teenager is a good student, as indicated by his high school or college grades, he may be eligible for still another discount. Your local independent agent can help you obtain the discounts, which may be substantial.

OAK STREET BAPTIST CHURCH

Today is Deacon Election Sunday. Each church member is asked to nominate three men who they feel are capable.

This will be the last day to bring fruit and can goods for a basket.

Don't forget the Missions Banquet November 29. Brother Fred Leurets Missionary to Nigeria will be the speaker. Sign-up in church foyer if you plan to attend.

22ND & AUSTIN ST. CHURCH OF CHRIST

The ladies bible class will not meet next Wednesday due to the holiday. Meeting will resume November 29 at 10.

Thanks to everyone who responded so very well to the special contribution last Lord's day. The total contributed was $6,544.58. That means they will have less to borrow and less on which to pay interest.

FIRST UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

Tuesday night at 7 p.m. there will be an Annual Community Thanksgiving Service. It will be at the church. The children's choirs from the church and Calvary Baptist will have the special music. Rev. Wayne Oglesby of Oak Street Baptist will preach. This is the first time in several years that they have hosted the Thanksgiving Service. The Ministerial Alliance has placed the time early enough so that many of you can go and get home at an early hour. Because they are hosting the service this year, they hope that you will feel the responsibility to come and attend.

Church offices will be closed Thursday and Friday for Thanksgiving holidays.

The Ministerial Alliance is sponsoring the Christmas Basket Program again this year. The Alliance requests that children bring canned goods to Sunday School that would go into the baskets. Also, December 3, has been designated by the Alliance as the Sunday they ask Sunday in mind. It might be that individuals would like to make a special gift for the support. If so, please make out your checks to the Church but designate it "Christmas Basket."

Today from 6-6:30 p.m. in the Sanctuary a group of clowns from the First United Methodist Church of Midland will be leading the worship service. Several of the youth are planning to join them so they may have as many as 15-20 clowns.

The service will be done in mime and will be under the direction of the Rev. Bill Weir and several members of the Clown Ministry group from First United Methodist Church in Midland.

The youth and all interested adults will be meeting with the group at 5 p.m. and Rev. Weir will explain the elements of worship and will describe how clowns can lead worship through the ancient art of mime. Parents of small children can bring their children at 5:45 p.m. and they will show them a clown going into makeup. (This may help keep the small children from getting scared of the clowns).

Wednesday evening Bible Study and Prayer Meeting is from 6:45 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. in the Wesley Classroom of the Chapel Building and is open to anyone of any age in the church. At present they are studying in the New Testament-The Letter of James, Chapter 1.

The Sunshine Singers and the Melody Makers (Junior and Children's choirs respectively) will be sharing their music Sunday morning in the worship. Today is a very important day--National Bible Sunday and Thanksgiving Sunday. These two themes will be carried out in the decorations of the Sanctuary.

The children have been working on their music for many weeks now, along with the music they plan for their Christmas program on Dec. 10. They have prepared the number, We Praise You for the Sun written by Allan Mahnke, which reflects a theme of thankfulness. It's words read, "We praise you for the sun, the rain, and your love for they give us healing, strength and joy."

Beginning with January, 1979, the Worship Committee sees the need for making some changes concerning the giving of flowers for morning worship services. For many reasons among which is the rise in cost of each arrangement, they feel it might be helpful if additional individuals or groups within the church were allowed to give flowers on special occasions important to them. In the past the flowers have been taken care of by three individuals and two UMW Circles. Because one of those Circles has disbanded and because of the rising costs, they feel the need to ask others if they would like to share in this ministry also.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH

The Mitchell Scurry Baptist Association will meet Tuesday at Colonial Hill Baptist Church in Snyder. Supper will be served at 6 p.m. by the host church and the Executive Board and W.M.U. will meet at 6:45 p.m. The evening program will begin at 7:15 p.m. Rev. Charles P. Love, missionary to Guyana, will bring the message.

Today at 6 p.m. there will be a meeting in the Fellowship Hall for a church-wide Thanksgiving dinner and service. The Church will provide the turkey or meat, bread, and drinks. The rest of the meal will be Pot Luck. After they eat they will have a short service around the tables in the Fellowship Hall. Everyone is encouraged to go and share in the food and fellowship at this season of Thanksgiving.

December 3 through 10 will be the week of prayer for Foreign Missions and the Lottie Moon Christmas Offering. This year the church's goal will be $1,200.

Tuesday the annual Mitchell County Thanksgiving Service will be at the First Methodist Church at 7 p.m. The service will last an hour with refreshments afterwards. Several special numbers will be sung and the children's choir will do one of them. Wayne Oglesby will bring the main message. They hope you will join with other Christians in our county for this worship service. Because of this service on Tuesday all of the Wednesday night activities will be cancelled, therefore plan to go to church on Tuesday night instead of Wednesday night.

Poet, Painter Tells Testimony Of Life

By GARRY PEEBLES
There's a story in the Bible which tells of a man who was given a talent (possibly a type of currency in those days) by his master who then went on a trip leaving the man to put the money he had been given to the best use possible.
Eventually the master returned and asked the man for an account of what he had done with his talent and the man replied he had done nothing with it—he had hidden it. The story ends with the man losing everything he had, simply because he didn't use it.
It's been said that we will also lose whatever abilities we possess if we don't put them to use. There is one longtime Colorado City resident, however, who will never have to worry about this.

Record Closes For Holiday

In observance of Thanksgiving, the Record office will be closed Thursday, as will most businesses in Mitchell County.
The Record will re-open Friday at 8:30 a.m.

The home of Mrs. R. H. Ratliff at 1109 Locust is a testimony that through the years she has used her abilities not only to make her own life happier but also for the benefit of those around her.

The first and most noticeable thing about Mrs. Ratliff's home, where she has lived since 1927, is the paintings which cover the walls, most of which she has done herself. She speaks with some modesty of the awards she has won and the places where they have been exhibited.

One of the most interesting of her paintings is that of a street in New Orleans called "Pirates Alley," presumably a route which some of the city's less reputable citizens used for a getaway whenever the need arose. Looking at the work, one can imagine some of them fleeing down the street away from the scene of their latest villainous crime.

Although her works cover a wide variety of types of scenes and backgrounds, she admits that her favorites are western scenes, one of the most beautiful of which is a painting of a ranch in New Mexico with the mountains in the distance.

A native of Georgia who moved to Texas with her family when she was 12, Mrs. Ratliff shows a great deal of love for this part of the world through her paintings as well as through another of her talents.

She is a poet who has won a number of awards, the latest of which was a poetry prize in October from two publishing houses. She has had more than 30 of her poems published in literary magazines and anthologies and she is a member of the Poetry Society of Texas.
Probably her most notable accomplishment, however, is a book of poetry she has had published which is titled, While The Iron Is Hot.

The name comes from her attempts to record the impression or emotion of a particular moment while it is still fresh in her mind or "While The Iron Is Hot." Most of the book's poems have a western theme. One in particular tells of her impatience to return to Texas while visiting relatives in Georgia.

Perhaps the way she feels about this country can best be illustrated by two lines of one of her works, "I love infinity of land and sky...And there I will live and there I will die."

Another characteristic of her poetry is the sense of humor she possesses which is shown very well by the following poem about a burro and taken from an incident of her childhood:

"A burro for a dollar
We'd have it for our own
We pooled our dimes and nickles
And had to push him home

Then into business very fast
With burro rides for sale
With one to pull and one to push
And one to twist his tail

We rode one day to see a friend
Seven miles from town
We were so long coming home
The sun was going down

The whole town was searching
We heard the whistle blow
If we'd just walked and carried him
We'd have been home long ago."

Mrs. Ratliff, who has lived in Colorado City since 1922, was married to the late Harry Ratliff, a prominent West Texas oil attorney here.

She has two sons; Bob, owner of Bob Ratliff Insurance Agency here and Hubert, who has a commercial investment realty firm in Houston.

MRS. R. H. RATLIFF is pictured above in her home at 1109 Locust with one of the many paintings she has done over the years. A resident of Colorado City since 1922, she is an accomplished poet as well as a painter.

Dec. 4 Election For Committee

Nominations have been made for community committees of the Agricultural Stabilization Conservation Service.

Area farmers will be electing nine committees from three communities. Ballots will be mailed from the ASCS office Wednesday with Dec. 4 scheduled as the election day. Votes will be tallied Dec. 6.

Election of the community committee is a yearly function of the ASCS office. The purpose of the committee is to keep farmers in the communities advised on government programs and to select a county committee which hires and supervises the local county executive director.

One representative from each of the three communities will be selected to serve on the county committee.

Nominees from A community, which encompasses the area west of the Colorado River, are Preston Morris, Rex McKenney, Louis Rees, Floyd L. Ritchey, Robert Bolin and Wylie Oliver.

Curtis Shaw, Mike Beights, Wayne Oliver, Dickie White, George Martin and Terry Haggerton have been nominated from B community, which includes the area north of Interstate 20.

From C community, which is south of I-20, nominees are David Stubblefield, Dwayne Harris, Billy Cornutt, Robert Holman, Edward Roach and Lester Finley.

Christian Athletes Have Sale

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes of Colorado Middle School will be selling Popcorn in decorated glass containers beginning Tuesday through Sunday. This popcorn sale is a great idea for Christmas gifts.

The money collected from sales will be used for a trip at the end of the year.

You do not pay for the popcorn yet, you sign your name stating you want to buy it and when they get the popcorn in they will get it to you and you can pay then. The cost of the jar and popcorn is only $2.75.

Lone Wolf Raises Rates

The new electric rates of Lone Wolf Electric Cooperative, Inc. will reflect an average increase of about 13 per cent.

This increase was granted by the Public Utility Commission of Texas in October.

Different classes of services will reflect different adjustments. Rate schedules on all classes of service are available at the office of Lone Wolf Electric for your examination.

THE HIGHLY SKILLED and intelligent personnel of Frontier TV Cable and HBO are eagerly waiting to serve you! The boss has been out of town for a week and the secretaries were anxious to welcome him back. Pictured left to right are Doris Carter, Trisha Aston, Ann Beaty and Sharon Dockrey.

Hunters Offered Season Forecast

With all the seasons for the major game species starting up this month, officials of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department offer the following general forecast of the hunter's prospects in the various ecological regions of the state.

For the most part, hunting for deer, turkey and quail will be reasonably good over most of the state—depending as usual on local conditions.

Dry weather last spring hampered reproduction of game species in some areas, but summer rains were widespread enough to avoid any major die-off, according to the department's big game program director, Charles Winkler.

Here are the last-minute prospects, summed up by ecological region:

SOUTH TEXAS

Generally deer populations are lower in the western portions of South Texas. Most of the decrease was caused by lower fawn production as a result of the drought last spring and early summer.

In the eastern part of South Texas deer populations are similar to last year's.

Poorer antler development than last year is anticipated, again due to the drought, but the hunter may not notice any difference. Good bucks were seen on surveys in mid-October. Buck/doe ratios are generally good, perhaps better than last year.

Range conditions are excellent at present. However, vegetation probably will not affect hunting due to the practice of hunting from elevated stands and hunting late in the season after the first frost.

Quail populations are fair, although the Chaparral Wildlife Management Area reported good hunting the first week of the season. A late hatch resulting from late summer rains greatly improved the hunting outlook.

The turkey hatch was only fair, but hunting will probably be about like last year, with a good carry-over of last year's birds.

EDWARDS PLATEAU

Generally, deer populations are high throughout the Hill Country, although declines were observed along the eastern edge of the Balcones Escarpment. The fawn crop was good and antler development is better than average.

Range conditions currently are excellent. The acorn crop is spotty but better than average. Vegetation may hamper visibility early in the season and deer may not move much. However, deer are already using feeders in many areas.

The turkey hatch was below average last spring, but good hunting still is expected due to a high carryover from 1977.

POSSUM KINGDOM

Deer populations are generally increasing in this area, after declining in the early 1970's. Good populations have been observed in Brown, Bosque, Palo Pinto and Stephens Counties.

Range conditions are excellent in most of this area and moisture conditions are good for winter weed production. Dry conditions prevail in the area from Goldthwaite to Waco.

There are good quail populations in the whole Possum Kingdom area, especially in Bosque and McLennan Counties.

PINEYWOODS

Deer populations are expanding and hunting prospects are good. Although range conditions are dry there is a good acorn crop and deer are in excellent physical condition.

Antler development is better than average.

POST OAK BELT

Deer populations are down considerably in this area. The primary problem is habitat destruction as woodland is converted to improved pastures.

Heavy hunting pressure on bucks has caused unbalanced sex ratios (six does per buck). Antler development is generally poor due to a low nutrient level.

Farmers To Get Questionnaires

From mid-November to early January, thousands of Texas farmers and ranchers will receive a crop or livestock questionnaire from the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service or will be personally interviewed by the Service's field staff.

The information gathered through the questionnaires and interviews provides the basis for determining the final acreage, yield, and production of crops and end-of-the-year livestock and poultry numbers for the state of Texas and for each county.

Reliable information on what is produced, how much, and where is important to farmers, ranchers, and others in making production and marketing decisions and in providing an unbiased picture of Texas agriculture.

These are also essential to farm organizations and legislators in promotion, planning, and enacting wise legislation and are used in establishing acreages and payment levels to producers under the various commodity programs.

Grass Could Be A "Death Trap"

Cattle in some parts of Texas may find lush forage to their liking this time of the year, but the grass could be a "death trap."

The problem afflicting cattle, especially cows in late pregnancy or early lactation, is known as grass tetany or grass staggers, points out Don Dorsett, forage specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Grass tetany is caused by a deficiency of magnesium in the animal's diet," explains Dorsett. The problem is most prevalent in early spring and late fall when forage is often lush but is low in magnesium. Dry grasses can also be a factor once cold weather hits.

"Grass tetany is most often a problem when cows are on a strict grass diet. It is particularly prevalent in pregnant cows or those with young calves that have a high energy requirement which cannot be met with grass alone," notes Dorsett.

To prevent grass tetany, the specialist suggests supplementing cattle, especially cows, with a grain or other high energy, magnesium containing feed and establishing legumes in grass pastures. Legumes contain adequate amounts of magnesium to meet animal requirements.

When should a cattleman suspect grass tetany in his herd?

"The physical symptoms are broad and include a depressed appetite, nervousness, stiff movements, twitching of the muscles, extreme excitement, grating of teeth, convulsions, coma and finally death of the animal," explains Dorsett. "From the onset of the symptoms until coma usually takes less than 10 hours, and few animals survive once coma is reached."

Although physical symptoms of grass tetany appear suddenly, the condition actually occurs over a period of several weeks, notes the specialist. Livestock can store magnesium in their bones, and during short periods of deficiency in feed, they have the ability to use this magnesium. However, when the stored supply is exhausted, the physical symptoms appear, first in older animals.

Spike Bucks

Are Still

Protected

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department reminds hunters that there still are seven counties where spike bucks are protected.

County commissioners courts in Bandera, Comal, Houston, Kerr, Kimble, Real and Walker Counties had requested protection for spike bucks.

Spike bucks are defined as those having an antler protruding through the skin but without a fork. In other regulatory counties, a buck with an antler protruding through the skin is considered a legal buck.

Pastures Fall Victim To Weeds

Weedy pastures contribute little to a profitable cattle operation. Yet, both native and improved pastures often fall victim to the invasion of weeds, and the result is reduced forage production.

"Weedy pastures are quite abundant this fall over Texas," points out Don Dorsett, forage specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "This is undoubtedly a result of the cost-price squeeze that livestock producers have been facing the past few years. However, with an improved cattle market, producers will hopefully direct more attention to weed control next spring so as to make pastures more productive."

Rev. Robert Bracy

Pastor

St. James Baptist Church

And not many days after the younger son gathered all together, and took his journey into a far country, and there wasted his substance with riotous living. Luke 15:13.

It has been said that the Bible is as contemporary as today's newspaper. Jesus' story about a wandering boy (Luke 15:11-24) is a case in point for it has to do with our sense of loss.

Talk to persons around you and you soon come to see that one of our basic problems today is that of meaninglessness. The question being asked from all sides is, "What is life all about? What is the purpose of it all? What meaning does life have?"

Thoughtful souls are demanding to know if life is worth the effort; whether the treadmill of daily toil makes sense.

Many of us live lives of quiet desperation, lost in the sense of not knowing which way to go, which direction offers the most hope, and which values have the most significance.

Now this problem is not new—it has always been with us. Jesus told three stories about our loss. The first was about a sheep that became separated from the flock and the shepherd. The second concerned a coin which somehow got misplaced or mislaid and thus became lost from its owner. The third story was about a young boy who took his share of his father's inheritance, traveled to a distant country, and ultimately found himself in all sorts of difficulties.

These stories all end on a happy note—the shepherd finds his sheep, the coin is located, and the boy returns to his father, who shouts gleefully, "My son was dead, and is alive again; he was lost and is found."

All this seems to say that we may lose our way in life—by keeping our heads down and looking for greener pastures, by indifference or neglect, or by deliberately setting out to live life by our own standards and values—thus leaving the "Father," God.

The boy in Jesus' story has been called the "prodigal" son. Webster defines "prodigal" as being "addicted to the wasteful expenditure of money, time, and strength." This is an accurate description of this nameless lad who, upon leaving home, in his ignorance and lack of experience, soon found himself in the pig-sty, the Jewish symbol of absolute degradation and despair.

Now I suggest to you that this youth represents us all in that we have within us the desire to do what we want, go where we please, and live as we choose. We want to be free of the Father's guidance and wisdom. We say to ourselves and others, "No one is going to tell me how I must live."

The foolishness of this behavior is the notion that this is our world, not God's, and therefore we need to decide how it is to function all by ourselves. The result is confusion—loss—loss—with each of us desperately trying to find fame, satisfaction, and happiness.

Life loses its purpose, meaning, and direction when we get separated from the Creator of life. We find ultimately that we are "prodigal"—that is, that we become "addicted to the wasteful expenditure of money, time, and strength." Call it "pride," call it "rebellion," call it "lack of faith." But by whatever name we give it, the result is the same. As humans we separate ourselves from the Source of the universe and thus become "lost."

Like the prodigal son, we need to ask what we do to ourselves and others in our loss and to return home to the Father. Our joy is in the discovery that we are forgiven, accepted, and loved by the Father; that we are treated by Him as though we had never been away, had never broken His heart by our leaving. Our hope is to be found in the love of the Father for all His children—who at times become prodigal sons who get lost.

MAXEY WARE (left) is shown above accepting the Colorado City Bass Club's annual trophy for catching the largest bass of the year. The award is being presented by club president Mike Walla. It is the third time Ware has won the trophy.

Ware Captures Fish Trophy

For the third time, Maxey Ware, Westbrook High School teacher, has won the Colorado City Bass Club's annual trophy for catching the largest bass of the year.

Ware's fish, caught at Twin Buttes, weighed in at eight lbs. three ounces. In the club's top five competition, Ware took the first four places. In addition to the fish mentioned above, he caught three others weighing in at eight lbs. one ounce, seven lbs. nine ounces and seven lbs. six ounces respectively.

Alvin Byrd took fifth place in the competition with a seven lb. four ounce lunger.

Bassham Relates History Of Ranch

I'm proud to have been a part of something which affected so many people," Colorado City Mayor Marion Bassham said Wednesday as she related the history of her family and the Spade and Rendorbrook ranches.

Mayor Bassham was speaking before the regular bi-monthly meeting of the Mitchell County Historical Commission and as she told the story of her family and their part in the development of West Texas, she evidenced a great deal of happiness at the remembrances she has of times past.

At one point she told of how she and her friends as young girls used to go and watch some of the ranch hands at work. She stated that they were a great group of men to have had the patience to put up with a group of girls who occasionally got in their way. Mayor Bassham's great grandfather, Isaac L. Ellwood, was the one who began the whole thing. He was born in New York State in 1833 and apparently from the very beginning he was a good businessman. As a boy, his first income came from barge hands on the Erie Canal who were willing to buy sauerkraut from him.

After a time spent in California during the gold rush, Ellwood finally settled in DeKalb, Ill. in 1855. He married and in 1859 his first son, William L., was born. The son was to follow in his father's footsteps in all the man's business ventures.

Isaac built up his farming business and raised horses and cattle for a number of years afterward. It wasn't until 1873, however, that he entered into the business venture on which his fortune was to be based.

About this time he and a man named Joseph Glidden were working separately on something called barbed wire. They were both planning to apply for a patent on the invention but after some study, Ellwood decided that Glidden had the best idea. Ellwood paid Glidden $265 for a half interest in the invention.

In 1873 the I. L. Ellwood Manufacturing Company was opened in DeKalb. It manufactured barbed wire, and various types of steel fencing, wire and nails. Ellwood retained his interest in the barbed wire industry until 1898. By that time the invention had made him a fortune and had completely revolutionized cattle ranching on the plains.

In July 1889, Isaac and William Ellwood traveled to Texas. After making a stop at Fort Worth they boarded a Texas and Pacific passenger train for Colorado City which was known then as the Cowman's capital, the leading cowtown west of Fort Worth.

Colorado City put the Winters' Blizzards on defrost as the Wolves won 61-0 to take the undisputed District 6-AA crown Friday at Wolf Stadium before a large crowd.

Colorado City will meet Slaton in bi-district Saturday in Snyder.

The Wolves have not let opponents score now for 31 consecutive quarters, a Colorado High record. The 61 points scored Friday was the highest total since 1949. The Wolves were undefeated and unscored on in district competition and the win gave the Wolves a nine win and one loss record, the best record for Colorado High since 1954. The Wolves have scored 237 points this year while giving up only 32 points to opponents.

It is the second consecutive District title for the Wolves, another first for the Wolves.

One big achievement in the game was that Fullback Gary Hulme, a four year letterman with the Wolves, went over the 1,000 yard mark for the year. Against Winters he had 187 yards on 19 carries, giving him 1,010 for the year in 10 games in 187 carries, an average of 5.4 yards a carry.

Hulme went over the 1,000 yard mark with 2:21 left in the third quarter. He is the first Wolves runner to go over the 1,000 yard mark in a season since Dan Steakley accomplished that feat in the late sixties.

In other district games Friday, Stamford came in second in the district with a 12-9 win over third place Coahoma, Wylie came in fourth with a 33-6 win over Merkel and Ballinger won over Anson 20-13.

The Wolves got the win over Winters without passing from scrimmage. The only pass thrown by the Wolves came after the third touchdown when Quarterback Gene Carter threw to Jay Feaster for two extra points. Feaster caught the ball in a crowd to get the points.

Colorado City amassed 417 yards rushing with Hulme getting 187 of that. Fullback Doug Johnson had 89 yards on 10 carries, Ricky Sanchez had 88 yards rushing on nine carries, Joe Franco had 57 yards on six carries.

What happened on the opening kick-off signaled what the game was going to be like. The Wolves received and Ricky Sanchez raced 85 yards to score with 12 seconds gone in the game and Hulme kicked the extra point.

The Wolves got the ball back shortly when Jay Feaster got a Blizzard fumble at the Blizzard 42 and Colorado City drove on in to score with Hulme going the final 23 yards. The try for extra point failed, making the score 13-0 with 7:21 left in the first quarter.

On Winters' next possession, the Wolves Tony Truelove got his sixth interception of the year and returned it to the Blizzards' 49 and the Wolves again drove in to score, with Sanchez going the final 10 yards and Carter passing to Feaster for two extra points, making the score 21-0 with 4:22 left in the first stanza.

The Wolves got the ball next on their own 40 and drove in to score with Hulme going the final four yards and Ruben Garcia kicking the extra point, making the score 28-0 with 11:34 left in the second quarter.

Colorado City got the ball at the Winters' 47 and drove in again with Joe Franco going the final 25 yards and Garcia kicked the extra point, making the score 35-0 with 7:20 left in the first half.

On Winters' next possession, Ernest Aguilar blocked their punt attempt and then recovered the ball on the one and Quarterback Gene Carter dove over on the next play for the score and Garcia again added the extra point, making the score 42-0 with 5:09 left in the first half. That ended scoring for the first half.

To open the second half, Winters got the ball, couldn't move and punted but the punt was fumbled by the Wolves and Winters had the ball for the first time on the Wolves end of the field at the Wolves 20. The Blizzards got to Colorado City's 11 but were backed up on a delay of game. Then on fourth down, they were attempting a fake field goal with the ball to be centered to the would-be kicker and he was to pass to a man who acted like he was trying to get off the field but was actually in motion. However, the ball was centered over the head of the would-be kicker/passer and the Wolves ended Winters' only threat of the night.

The Wolves got the ball at the Winters 40 and drove in to score again, this time on a 26 yard run by Hulme and the try for extra point was no good, making the score 48-0 with 7:04 left in the third quarter.

Winters next possession was halted on a pass interception by Rodney Wheeler who returned it to the Wolves 35 but was set back to the 15 on a clipping penalty. The Wolves again drove in to score, the final two steps taken by Sanchez and the try for extra point again failed, making the score 54-0 with 39 seconds left in the third period.

The two teams exchanged punts and the Blizzards got the ball at their own 34 and four plays later, the Wolves Joey Landeros got a hand on the punt and Defensive End Mitch Hamer caught it on the bounce and raced 35 yards to score with 6:42 left in the game. The kick for extra point by Ruben Garcia was good, making the score 61-0 to end the scoring.

The Wolves threatened again with about four minutes left in the game as they drove from their own 43 to the Blizzards' four. However, the Wolves obviously decided not to embarrass Winters any further and Quarterback Tony Truelove scrambled

Junior Varsity Whips Steers

Colorado High School's junior varsity football squad ran their season's mark to 9-1 Thursday night trampling the Big Spring Steers 28-6 in the season finale.

The Wolves got on the scoreboard early in the first quarter on a 20 yard run by Jay Green who was Colorado City's leading ground gainer for the night and who accounted for half of their points.

Colorado City led 14-0 at the half on the strength of a second quarter six yard run by Clay Hammond. Victor Jackson ran over the two points.

The Wolves made it 20-0 in the third period on Green's second TD of the night, a 35 yard run and the team finally closed out its scoring on a 70 yard scamper by Victor Jackson. Green ran over the two points.

Coach Mike Easterwood said that his team would probably have had a shut-out except for a fluke fourth quarter play by the Steers that nipped their six points.

Booster Meeting Tuesday

Head Coach Mike Farda will show the film and comment on the Winters game at the weekly meeting of the Wolves Boosters club, 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Middle School Cafeteria.

All interested persons are invited to attend.

around in the back field before he was finally tackled for a 25 yard loss.

Comparing this year's District 6-AA champions with last year's, statistics show that the Wolves have scored this year 237 points and have given up only 32 while they scored 245 points and gave up 143 points last year. In 1954, the Wolves scored 331 points and gave up 86 points on defense.

Tagging Rules Set For Hunters

Texas deer hunters should be aware that Texas Parks and Wildlife Department game wardens issue numerous tickets each hunting season for improperly tagged deer.

Tagging should be the first step taken upon possession of the deer—even before field dressing. Tags must be completely filled out, and department officials recommend attaching them, along with permits when required, to the animal's antler or foreleg with string, wire or clear cellophane tape.

If the hunter plans to have the deer's head mounted, he must obtain a receipt from the taxidermist and attach this receipt to the remainder of the deer. A deer given to a person other than the one who killed it must have the properly completed and signed tags and permits attached. A document signed by the hunter stating his name, address, date of kill, hunting license number and county and ranch where kill was made must accompany any portion of the deer given to another person.

books which have attracted her curiosity but she hasn't had time to read. She also enjoys knitting, as well as playing Canasta with friends.

Mrs. Dozier explained that the federated clubs of Colorado City began the library in 1924 with 117 books. The books were donated at a book shower, she explained.

"We started out in a room on the third floor of the Mitchell County Courthouse," said Mrs. Dozier.

In 1927, the library was moved to the former Coleman School building. "Then in 1953 the Jaycees refurbished the Ford Showroom in the Harrington building for our library," Mrs. Dozier noted.

"Finally, in 1966, it was a dream come true—we moved into the present building and officially became the Mitchell County Library," she said.

Today's reception for the librarians is being hosted by the Mitchell County Library Board. Members include Rev. Roy Byrd, chairman; Mrs. Eddie Pilsand, secretary; Mrs. Kenneth Cowan, Mrs. Orin Feaster, Glenn Coon; Mrs. C. H. Martin and Mrs. D. G. Rollins.

Finally, the antlers from a buck or the antlerless permit attached to an antlerless deer must remain attached to the carcass until it is processed at a commercial facility or at the residence of the person possessing the animal.

tering someone else's land. Trespassing fines are between $25-$200.

Anyone wishing to report game law violations should contact Aston at 728-5522 or the Colorado City Police Department at 728-5294.

Does can be hunted by permit only, which were distributed last month. Aston noted that 700 permits were passed out in Mitchell County.

Regarding turkey hunting, two turkeys of either sex are allowed during the entire hunting season.

With hundreds of hunters expected to come to Mitchell County from all areas, Aston noted that deer hunting has become a business.

"The income that the landowners receive from their leasing is needed nowadays," said Aston. "There are several landowners leasing now who used to not lease. In the last three or four years, landowners began to lease strictly for economics."

Regarding hunting accidents, Aston noted that most accidents generally occur when hunters mix alcohol with guns.

"They just don't mix very well," he said.

Briscoe Approves Grant

Governor Dolph Briscoe has approved two criminal justice grants affecting Mitchell County.

They are: -$16,871 for a court administration project for the 32nd Judicial District, which includes Fisher, Nolan and Mitchell Counties. -$25,714 to the West Central Texas Council of Governments for the regional law enforcement academy.

The local grants were among 81 approved by Governor Briscoe statewide from Law Enforcement Assistance Administration (LEAA) funds under the Crime Control Act of 1976.

Deposit Up To $1500 TAX FREE IN THE CITY NATIONAL BANK IRA

INDIVIDUAL RETIREMENT ACCOUNT
If You're Not covered under any other retirement plans, start your own. It is an account called an Individual Retirement Account (IRA) approved by the Internal Revenue Service. It is now possible for wage earners to add to their financial security by establishing their own personal retirement plans. Federal Legislation now permits employees and self-employed persons receiving compensation and not covered under any other retirement plan to establish their own INDIVIDUAL RETIREMENT ACCOUNT. And you can save immediately on income taxes while planning a secure future for you and your family.

What is an Individual Retirement Account?
An Individual Retirement Account (IRA) is a personal tax sheltered retirement plan. It was developed to bring every American worker the opportunity to build a more secure future for themselves and for their family.

Who can establish an IRA?
IRA's are available to any wage-earner. The only requirement is that you not currently be a participant in an employer-sponsored plan.

Can my spouse establish one?
Your working spouse may establish a separate IRA, too, provided he or she is not currently a participant to an employer-sponsored plan.

How much can I contribute to my IRA?
Federal law allows a maximum annual contribution of $1,500 or 15% of wages, whichever is less. Of course, smaller amounts can be contributed each year.

Are my contributions tax deductible?
For Federal income tax purposes, contributions to an IRA are fully deductible for gross income up to the maximum allowed by law. You can deduct your contribution even through you don't itemize deductions.

Do I pay taxes on the income earned by my account?
The earnings of your account are not currently taxable. Each dollar of earnings produces additional Dollars Which Are Also Not Currently Taxable. This tax-free compounding continues until retirement.

When do I Pay taxes on my account?
Your Account, including principal and earnings, is not taxed until you receive payment from it.

When can I begin to receive payments?
No payments can be made to you before you reach age 59 1/2 unless you become permanently disabled. If your death should occur sooner, funds in your account will be paid to your named beneficiary. You must begin to receive payments from your account by the time you reach age 70 1/2.

How do I start an account?
Opening an Individual Retirement Account is as easy as opening a savings account. Stop in and one of our officers will gladly assist you.

Attention is called to the fact that the Owner is exempt from the payment of the State Sales Tax normally levied against material costs. In order to take advantage of this exemption, materials and labor costs must be identified by the successful bidder. In developing this division of labor and material costs, the bidders are cautioned to include all costs and allowances, not representing direct material costs with labor.

The contract sum, as identified by the base bid shall not include any allowance for the payment of State Sales Tax on materials required to complete the work. The successful bidder, upon award of the contract, will be furnished with a permit number which will enable him to purchase the required materials without payment of such taxes.

Specifications and plans may be obtained from the office of the School Superintendent located at 534 East 11th Street, Colorado City, Texas or by calling 915-728-3721. The bidder acknowledges the right of the Owner to reject any or all bids and to waive any informality or irregularity in any bid received, in addition, the bidder recognizes the right of the Owner to reject a bid if the bidder failed to furnish any required bid security, or to submit the data required by the bidding documents, or if the bid is in any way incomplete or irregular.

Dear Customer:

The City of Westbrook collected 4 bacteriological samples during the month of September and October. The results of the coliform bacteriological samples exceeded the Texas Department of Health's "Drinking Water Standard" on one sample each month, which were promulgated as required by the "Safe Drinking Water Act," Public Law 93-523.

Drinking water containing coliform bacteria in excess of the standard may constitute a potential threat to public health. Our water system has additional check samples as required by the "Drinking Water Standards." These check samples were O.K.

Coliform organisms are common to the intestinal tract of man and animals. Their presence in water is an indicator of bacteriological contamination of the sample either from the water system or from a sampling error.

Increased monitoring and customer notification of the public when the standards are exceeded are required by law as a means of keeping the public informed. Mrs. Ruby Sweatt Operator

TEC Stops Interviews Locally

The Texas Employment Commission will no longer be coming to Colorado City to interview.

According to Chamber of Commerce Manager Larry Winders, there was not enough traffic in Colorado City to justify sending a representative every other Tuesday. Interviews were conducted at the Civic Center.

Persons needing the services of the TEC should now use the Sweetwater TEC, located at 114 West Broadway in Sweetwater.
