Rhodes In KC Monday

Democratic congressional Candidate A.L. (Dusty) Rhodes, who is taking advantage of the spring holidays to be with his family, and at the same time, stay hot on the campaign trail, visited in Knox City Monday afternoon.

The candidate was to have met friends in the office of the Knox City coordinator David Counts at 3:15 p.m. but due to a mixup in communication, the group expected him at 1:45 p.m. and most of them had left by the time he arrived. Rhodes expressed regret at the mixup and stated that he would return in the near future to meet with them as planned.

Rhodes began their tour in Anson, spent some time in Hamlin, Aspermont, Rule, Rochester, and O'Brien before arriving in Knox City.

The candidate's pretty wife Nance and the four Rhodes children canvassed the downtown area while Dusty and Counts stopped in at the American Agriculture Strike Office.

The group left here for Monday before departing for Haskell where the Abilene businessmen and attorney met with the Haskell County Farm Bureau at 7:30 p.m.

Johnston Opening Used Car Business

Sam Johnston of O'Brien is now associated with Penman Motors of Knox City in the used car business and according to Johnston, will be open in the very near future at 600 East Main Street.

Associated with McIlwain Motors in Abilene for awhile, Johnston has, in recent years, sold cars as an individual salesman.

He invites everyone to come by and see him.

Bassmasters' Tourney To Benefit Fund

In a meeting of the Knox City Bassmasters Monday night, with president John Egenbacher presiding, the group made plans to host the Bassmasters' Knox City Area Ambulance Fund Benefit Bass Tournament on April 8-9.

According to a spokesman, all proceeds will go to the Ambulance Fund and trophies will be awarded as prizes. First place will go to the heaviest stringer of ten bass; second to the next heaviest stringer of bass and will share honors with the largest bass.

The tourney will be held at Lake Stamford and although the contest will be restricted to Bassmaster members, anyone may pay the membership fee of $5.00 and the entrance fee of $5.00 and fish the tournament. The headquarters will be at the Ancon marina and fishing hours will be from 6 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, April 8, and from 6 a.m. to 3 p.m. Sunday, April 9.

On Friday, April 14, the Bassmasters will host a benefit fish fry at City Park from 6:00 to 8:00 p.m. Admission tickets will be given to persons who make a minimum contribution of $3.00 per person to the Knox City Area Ambulance Fund. Pre-school age children will not need a ticket provided they are accompanied by their parents.

As in the past, each family is asked to bring a salad.

Tickets may be obtained from Bruce Campbell Jr. at Citizens State Bank, or from J.B. Tabor at West Texas Utilities. Ticket sales will begin April 2 and will be limited to the first 150 persons.

Parade Plans Are Underway

Plans are now underway for the annual parade Friday, April 14, which will kick off the Knox City Junior Rodeo beginning at 7:30 that night.

Chamber manager Doris Crownover reminds all merchants, clubs and organizations to start planning for the coming parade. Plans for floats should be started early and those planning to have a float in the parade should begin preparations now, Mrs. Crownover said.

In Joint Elections

Voters To Mark Ballots Saturday

Knox City's tenth joint election, coming up Saturday, April 1, in the Community Center at the corner of South Third and Avenue B, should see a good turnout as a race developed for school trustee.

The contest is in the Knox City-O'Brien Consolidated Independent School District election where four candidates are running for three places on the school board. Appearing on the ballot in this order will be John Gillispie, Allen McGaughey, Barbara Barnard, and J.M. Emerson.

In addition to the school election, voters will mark ballots also for the City of Knox City and the Knox County Hospital District.

Appearing on the ballot in the city election are, in this order, Charles Auburg, L.V. Worley, and Celso Gonzales. All are incumbents with no opposition.

Also on the hospital ballot, incumbents Vernal Zeissel and Richie Smith, both of Monday, are unopposed.

Polls will be open from 7:00 a.m. until 7:00 p.m. and Otis Harbert will be election judge.

Schools To Make Up Time

Due to the fact that the Knox City-O'Brien Schools were closed on Thursday February 9, and Friday, February 17, because of extreme weather conditions, makeup days have been set by school officials.

According to reports, the district applied to the State Commissioner of Education for permission to waive the two days in question, whereby the school system would not be required to makeup the days. However, the Commissioner has since ruled that if the days can be made up on regular school days prior to June 1, 1978, that procedure must be followed.

Therefore, the following amendment to the 1977-78 calendar is now in effect:

Friday, May 26, and Tuesday, May 30, will be regular school days with Monday, May 29 as Memorial Day holiday. Wednesday, May 31, will be a teacher workday and the last day of the 1977-78 school year.

For high school students, quarter examinations will be written Friday, May 26, and Tuesday, May 30, for the remainder of the school. Friday and Tuesday will be regular school days with activities announced on an individual class basis. Eighth grade graduation will be held

Stenholm Visits Friends Here

Charles Stenholm of Stamford, Democratic candidate for the U.S. Congress, 17th District, told the Knox County Retired Teachers and their guests Thursday afternoon at the Community Center, that there were many ways groups such as theirs could provide a great service to the community. "One especially which would benefit the area right now is to get people to register to vote," Stenholm said, reminding those present that the deadline to register for the May 6 primary is April 6.

Mrs. Lillian Logan, president of the Retired Teachers Association, had rescheduled the meeting for Thursday afternoon and invited all interested persons to attend and meet and visit with the Stamford candidate.

"With seven Democrats and one Republican in the race for the seat being vacated by Congressman Omar Burleson, who is not seeking re-election, there will be a good race in the 17th District," Stenholm said. "Also," he continued "Texans will need to elect a governor, along with a number of other very important offices." He urged more young people to become involved, but did say that it was a most pleasant surprise to him to see the number of younger persons who are already active.

Stenholm told the retired persons that he knew with their fixed incomes, inflation is certainly a major issue. He also spoke on the energy situation and the current agricultural problems which are of vital importance to this area. He emphasized that government spending must be brought under control. Following his very informative speech, Mr. Stenholm conducted a question and answer period.

Guests registered from Rochester, Abilene, Roscoe, Munday, Abnerath, and Knox City. A special guest was Mrs. Delores Williams of Abilene who is with the Department of Human Resources.

Knox City coordinator Stacy Angle assisted Mrs. Logan and the Retired Teachers with the afternoon meeting.

Bruce Campbell Jr., area coordinator for Stenholm, was host for a get-together for farmers and businessmen at Roddy's City Cafe Thursday morning.

The Stamford candidate and his group had lunch in Benjamin in order to meet and visit with voters there.

After lunch, Stenholm visited the AAM Strike office. Assisting Stacy in distributing literature downtown and accompanying Mr. Stenholm and his field coordinator "Beep" Cain of Roscoe were "Charlie's Angels" Laurie Ashcraft and Rhonda Skiles of Knox City and Cindy Tibbets of Rochester, who all wore T-shirts with the imprint "Charlie Stenholm's Angels".

CHARLENE BROTHERS

The weather is finally getting to be bicycle riding kind, so if you should not see my car at the office, it may not mean I'm not there as I plan to do some walking or bicycle riding to work on pretty days. This will be after they finish this road work out here. I'm here every morning unless something drastic happens, but in the afternoons I maybe out trying to run down the last of the taxpayers to get a rendition signed or chasing down something of the appraisal I'm working on. If you are over 65 years of age and I have not found you home would you please come by the office some morning and sign your exemption? We need all of these signed. Veterans you have to sign a new exemption every year also.

Remember to come out and vote in the school and city elections Saturday. You can vote at the gin office for both elections. We are going to try to have a telephone committee organized by then, if you need a way to go to the polls we will have someone for you to call. No one will try to tell you who to vote for, just that we want everyone that would like to, to have a way to go vote and vote for the person of their choice.

Baum Visits County Towns

Democratic Congressional candidate Jim Baum of Big Spring has fulfilled his pledge to take his campaign door-to-door in 73 towns and cities in the 17th District. Baum began his canvass of all 33 counties in early January.

Baum has campaigned in Knox County, knocking on doors in Knox City, Munday and Goree.

"During these past two months I've visited and spoken to civic clubs, talked to people in their homes and business and had countless cups of coffee with voters in restaurants," Baum related.

The next phase of Baum's campaign will be geared toward the District's largest cities plus return visits to towns and communities previously canvassed.

Baum says, "There's a great deal of discouragement on the part of voters. Many are completely disgusted with big government and bureaucracy. It's unfortunate, but many people just don't feel they have a voice in government any more. And that's exactly why I'm running for Congress...to give the middle income families a chance to have their say."

Baum adds, "The current farm situation has been the biggest expressed by citizens. I have backed American Agriculture and their demands for 100% of parity. To lend further support, I drove to Edinberg and visited with jailed farmers March 2.

"If we're ever going to give our government back to the people," Baum said, "we have to start now. Every day we wait, more people become disillusioned and less receptive to working for better government."

WTU Chairman To Retire Friday

Robert E. (Bob) Kennedy, chairman of the board of West Texas Utilities Co., is retiring, effective March 31, after 45 years of service.

The announcement was made Tuesday afternoon after the Board of Directors meeting which followed the company's annual stockholders meeting. Durwood Chalker will assume Kennedy's duties in addition to his present responsibilities as the company's president and chief executive officer.

Also announced was the election of three new officers including a vice president, the assignment of a new title to the company's chief accounting and financial officer, and the re-election of six officers.

Randal Meador, director of engineering and a veteran of 29 years with WTU, was elected as vice president.

Glenn Rosilier, who as controller and director of accounting and finance heads the company's financial operations, assumed the additional title of treasurer. Former treasurer was David Webb, who has resigned after seven years with the company to enter private business.

Don Shahan, administrative assistant in federal taxes and financial analysis, was elected an assistant secretary. George Woodfin, assistant to the treasurer, was elected assistant treasurer.

Re-elected were:

Chalker, president and chief executive officer; G. Holman King, vice president and director of corporate affairs; W.P. (Bill) Sayles, vice president and director of customer services; Jerry Johnson, vice president and director of administrative affairs; LaVerne Grace, secretary and assistant treasurer; and Ann Hawk, assistant secretary.

Kennedy, who is well known throughout the electric utility industry and in Texas business and publishing circles, is WTU's senior employee in length of service.

He joined the company in 1933 as a part-time mail clerk while attending Hardin-Simmons University. When he graduated in 1934 with a BA degree, he went to work fulltime in the Treasury Department and the Advertising Department before joining the Army in 1943 during World War II.

After duty as a public relations officer, Kennedy rejoined WTU in 1946 and served successively as veteran affairs coordinator, advertising manager and manager of the Public Sales Department. He was elected a vice president in 1961 and a director in 1965.

On January 1, 1975, Kennedy became chairman and chief executive officer. He relinquished the chief executive post in 1976 after suffering a heart attack, and was elected chairman of the board.

Kennedy has been prominent in civic affairs, both in Abilene and in the state. He has been a member of the board and executive committee of the West Texas Rehabilitation Center. He served on the Board of Directors and is a former vice president of the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas, has been a director and vice president of the Texas Manufacturers Assn. and a director and president of the Texas Public Relations Assn. He also has been chairman of the Information Committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Meador is a native of Fort Chadborne in Coke County, a graduate of Bronte High School and a World War II Marine Corps veteran.

He joined WTU in 1949 after earning an electrical engineering degree from Texas A&M University. He was named director of engineering in 1977.

Serious business can be a mighty fine feelin'.

A mighty fine feelin' means different things to different people. A mighty fine feelin' is watching a tickled three-year old riding on a red rocking horse. Home Health Agency Offers New Service

There has always been a tremendous need for clients who needed skilled nursing service by an LVN or an RN, but they were ineligible for home health visits because their skilled nursing need did not meet the Medicare guidelines for "skilled care". Seeing this special need the MBFA Foundation (More Benefits For the Aged), began a new service as of February 1, 1978, to meet the needs of these special clients.

Now those persons who require less than skilled care under the Medicare guidelines, or those who need skilled care, but cannot afford to pay the regular charge and have no means of insurance, are eligible through the Texas Homemaker Service, a division of the MBFA Foundation. An example of this type of service would be the client who needs a B 12, or other type of vitamin injection, as has been ordered by their attending physician, and has no Medicare, Medicaid, Veterans, or private insurance of any kind, and cannot afford to pay the normal charge. Now this patient could have the visits by the LVN or RN in their home at a reduced rate based on their individual financial status.

This service will also be most helpful in the instance of the patient who has been on the home health service under Medicare, or some other type of insurance coverage, and has depleted this coverage but is still in need of skilled nursing service. Now the client himself can pay a reduced rate and remain on the service under this new system, through the Texas Homemaker Service. This service should not be confused with regular homemaker services, as this is still skilled nursing care given by an LVN or RN, but just does not meet the Medicare guidelines.

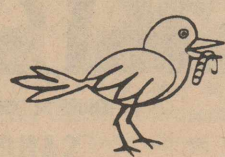

The client must be under the care of a physician who will order this service for the patient. One may discuss this with his or her physician or may call the home health center in Seymour for more information. The phone number to call is 888-5505, or in Knox City, Dell Rumley, RN, at 658-3254, who will be happy to answer any questions readers or their physician may have regarding this new service. The goal of the Foundation is to be able to meet the total medical needs of their clients, and this new service will provide another means to clients towards better and more complete medical care.

The MBFA Foundation's motto is a "Vision With A Task" and this task is continually being accomplished and the vision is becoming a reality to those the Foundation is privileged to serve.

"Truly this was the Son of God". (Matthew 27:54).

Looking back on the Easter Season with the times of worshipping together; hearing the Love Story of our wonderful Lord; The Son of God who gave His life in such an astonishing way for our sins; we feel like the Centurion who was charged with Killing Jesus. He was so flabbergasted he exclaimed, "Truly He was the Son of God".

All our sins were laid on Jesus and He became our sin offering. We cannot possibly know the spiritually agony He endured for us, but in the Cross He secured our Salvation. His atoning work was finished before He died. How do we know? He said so. As soon as it was finished He accepted the sour wine (stupefying drink) and cried, "It is finished".

God loved us so until He let His Son died for our sins; and whosoever believeth in Him shall not perish but shall have everlasting life. Thanks be unto God for His unspeakable gift; for by grace are we saved through faith; and that not by ourselves; but it is the gift of God.

GRANDMOTHERS ENJOY GRANDMOTHER ROLE

Grandmothers enjoy their role as grandmothers. According to a recent study, they find the role both rewarding and satisfying.

However, grandmothers differ in their interaction with grandchildren.

Some see their grandchildren more frequently than others, and much of this has to do with age and how involved grandmothers are with their own families.

Young grandmothers, those between 40 and 65 years of age, enjoy the role but are more involved in their own personal lives.

These women are generally better educated, married and working, and devote more time to friends and community activities.

On the other hand, older grandmothers, 65 years of age and older, value the grandparent role and spend a great deal of time with grandchildren.

In general, they are less educated, widowed, and non-employed, so grandchildren help fill empty hours.

Grandmother activities involve babysitting, home recreation, and drop-in visits, with most of the interaction initiated by the parent or grandchild.

This implies that parents control how often grandparents and grandchildren are together.

CUT CREDIT-CARD COSTS MAXIMIZE SPENDING POWER

Consumers can cut credit-card costs and maximize power by managing credit-card use in three specific ways.

Efficient credit-card use depends on payment methods date of purchases and number of different cards used.

Payment Methods When possible, always pay the full amount due rather than the minimum—this will mean no finance charges added to the bill.

Also, consumers can extend their own credit by waiting to pay a bill until just before the due date—but be sure to allow enough time for the post office to deliver the payment and for the company to process it.

Generally, consumers have 20-30 days after the closing date to pay a bill.

Date Of Purchases Plan purchases according to the closing date on an account.

A consumer can extend the time between purchase and payment by making purchases just after the closing date.

Also, if it will be a "must" to pay a finance charge computed under the average-daily-balance method, try to plan purchases to lessen the number of days any purchases are on account.

Number Of Different Cards Used

Lumping purchases onto one card can save money on postage and make record-keeping easier.

Also, if a card holder has a higher credit limit on one account—for example, $800, it is more economical to charge all purchases on that account.

Since most credit cards have a breakpoint of $500 at which interest becomes lower, any amount over the $500 would be charged a lower rate of interest than it would be if the total $800 worth of purchases were spread among several cards.

If the play is one of the top two to win it will advance to area which is held in Big Spring.

EDITORIAL

by Junior Figueroa

As track meets, golf tournaments, tennis meets and UIL contests start, teachers will find it hard to have class with all of their students present. There will usually be somebody gone for some extra-curricular event. Students will also find it difficult to catch up with the work they missed by participation in these events.

Most teachers encourage students to participate in extra-curricular activities, especially sports. This is good because any student who has a special talent in anything should participate and try to develop their talent more. Some students, who do participate, find it hard to make up work especially when these events require two or more days from school, like regional meets and club conventions.

Students should know that if they will take time and ask the teacher for extra help and make up work they have missed, their averages will not fall so low.

Methodist Women Meet March 21

Members were reminded that Friday, March 31, at 6:30 p.m. on KRBC-TV in Abilene a program entitled "Portraits of Aging", will be telecast with Myrtle Dean Parish and Fred Killough telling their stories.

Attending the meeting were Mmes. Eva Penman, Cordelia Woodward, Myrtle White, L.W. Graham, Emma Watkins, Paula Lorenz, C.C. Hoge, Lois Cybert, Lillian Logan, Ruby Robinson, Charlotte Griffith, Elizabeth Wilson, and Helen Patterson.

GED Tests Slated Saturday In Haskell

The General Educational Development (GED) Tests will be given at the Haskell High School Official Testing Center in Haskell, Saturday, April 1, beginning at 9:00 a.m. A fee for the test will be charged.

The GED Program provides a means for determining the educational level of adults who have not completed a formal high school education. A certificate of high school equivalency may be issued to adults who successfully complete the GED examination, verifying that the holder has demonstrated a level of competence on the examination which is equivalent to that of a high school senior.

The program is administered nationally by the American Council on Education, Washington, D.C. The Texas Education Agency authorizes accredited high schools and institutions of higher education to serve as testing centers. The centers administer the GED test to adults who are eligible and report the scores of successful examinees to the Texas Education Agency, which issues certificates of high school equivalency free of charge.

The test has five parts: Correctness and Effectiveness of Expression, Interpretation of Reading Materials in the Social Studies, Interpretation of Literary Materials, in the Natural Sciences, Interpretation of Literary Materials, and General Mathematics Ability. The test questions are multiple choice. There is no time limitation but most examinees take approximately eight hours to complete the test battery.

Persons eligible for testing must:

- be a resident of Texas or a member of the Armed Forces stationed in Texas;
- be at least 17 years of age and officially withdrawn from school for one calendar year. (Applicants who have attained their 17th birthday and will enter the Armed Forces may test immediately after withdrawing from school;
- be 18 years of age and officially withdrawn from school.

To receive a certificate of high school equivalency, the examinee must:

- complete the examination with a minimum standard score of 40 on each of the five tests OR an average standard score of 45 on all five tests;
- have attained at least their 17th birthday prior to date of testing and be out of school for one calendar year;
- have attained their 18th birthday and be officially withdrawn from school.

Applicants must wait six months before retesting. If the applicant is tutored by a certified teacher or participates in an adult education program, retesting may occur when the instructor determines the applicant is prepared.

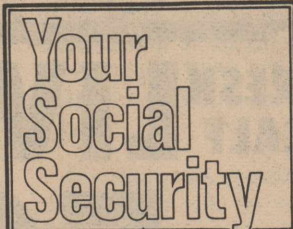

Applicants are advised to bring their Social Security Number and their driver's license as proper identification.

SSI FOR BLIND AND DISABLED

Most people know that persons in financial need, over the age of 65, may be eligible for supplemental security income (SSI) payments. However, many people do not know that persons of any age, who are blind or disabled, could also be eligible.

A person is considered disabled if he has a physical or mental impairment which prevents him from performing any substantial gainful work and if the disability is expected to last or has lasted 12 or more months, or is expected to result in death. A person is considered blind if his vision is no better than 20/200 with glasses or who has a limited vision field of 20 degrees or less.

Disabled drug addicts or alcoholics receiving SSI must undergo treatment at an approved facility or institution in order to continue receiving payments. Their payments must also be made through a representative payee on his behalf.

If a person is receiving SSI payments because of a disability, they should report to the social security office if any of the following occur:

1. If a disability improves significantly
2. If the recipient is able to work while disabled
3. If a drug addict or alcoholic stops treatment
4. If the disability becomes worse (to the point where a representative payee is needed)
5. If a person dies.

GTE Files Revised Tariffs

AUSTIN - General Telephone Company of the Southwest has filed revised tariffs with the Texas public Utilities Commission which would give a credit to customers who provide their own primary instrument, reduce all extension rates and make service connection charges uniform across the state.

R. Rex Bailey, vice president-revenue requirements for the company, said the filing is not a rate case filing but is being made in response to a PUC order issued to all Texas telephone companies. The order requested all companies to file tariffs in compliance with the new Federal Communications Commission registration program under FCC Docket 19528.

Bailey explained the filing as basically providing a credit for customers who provide their own primary instrument and a redistribution of revenues through reduced extension rates and adoption of a statewide multipart service connection charge. Effective date if approved would be April 15.

Under the new tariffs the company would provide a 55-cent per month credit to the bills of customers providing their own primary instruments.

At the same time the company proposes to reduce all extension rates for both business and residence to 85 cents per month, resulting in an annual savings to existing customers of $2,614,560.

However, Bailey said to offset this decrease in revenues, the company proposes to extend to all Texas exchanges the multipart service connection or change in service charge similar to the one now being charged in some major Texas exchanges and other states served by General Telephone Company of the Southwest.

He continued this would result in $2,611,995 in additional revenues from new customers or customers who request a change or addition to existing service.

"The five-part service connection charge is designed to pass the cost of providing each service to those customers using the service," Bailey explained.

The five-part service plan includes separate fees for: (1) paperwork in establishing records for billing, etc., associated with the account; (2) work performed to connect the customer's service to the telephone network, (3) premise visit; (4) customer-initiated premise wiring, and (5) instrument handling charge.

"Under this proposal, the customer pays only for services rendered," Bailey states.

The new charges, which would be a reduction from those already in effect in several Texas cities, would range from a minimum of $34.50 to $49.75 for a residence, the latter charge applying when all services are performed at least one time. Likewise, a business telephone installation or charge of service would range from $46.50 to $73.00.

Bailey pointed out the five-part charge is designed to place the cost of providing the service on the customer using the service, not the entire customer group.

"The changes are being proposed to comply with the new FCC registration program and to change current rate structures which have become inappropriate as a result of the FCC decision," he explained.

"Traditionally, basic service rates have been based upon value of service concept. Rates for optional services or products such as extensions were priced to contribute to basic service rates in an effort to keep basic rates at the lowest possible level."

"Now, under the current FCC program, the company believes extension telephones and nonrecurring activities such as service connection charges should be closely related to actual costs, and that is what the revised tariff filing proposes."

Bailey said the end result will mean roughly the same amount of revenue for the company, in fact, an estimated $2,500 loss in revenue, with the reduced rates for extensions offsetting the increases to be received from the multipart service connection charge.
