The Herald has grown with this section from strictly a ranch country. This area now consists of thriving towns and cities, supported by scientific farming and stock farming, augmented by huge oil fields, with the nation's largest known oil reserves.

Shy 8 Inches Of Rain Last Year

Just a bit late in the day to tell about the rainfall for 1948, or rather the lack of it, but the Old He is the official Weatherman at the Herald office, and as we were a shut-in all of January, as well as a bit of February, we just didn't get to the matter.

Anyway, so far as rainfall is concerned, it was one of the smallest since the memorable year of 1917, which perhaps set a record of about 8 inches for the year. We did not take the time to look up the 1947 record, but believe it was just above 13 inches, and augmented by the rains and snows of the last four or five months of 1946, we produced a fair crop in 1947.

Month by month report is as follows for 1948. You will note that March and November last year not enough rain fell to measure:

January	22
February	1.92
March	0.00
April	.31
May	1.27
June	.81
July	2.01
August	.51
September	2.60
October	.96
November	.00
December	.15

Nothing Definite On Health Unit

In our issue of Jan. 28, there quite an article about a Health Unit here to cost in the neighborhood of $60,000, to serve what is known as the Five County Health Unit. It is composed of the counties Hockley, Terry, Dawson, Gaines and Yoakum. Because of its centrally located position, Brownfield is favored for the headquarters when and if the new unit is built. We understand that approximately $15,000 will be spent for x-ray and other laboratory equipment.

It was understood here at that time that the federal government would put up a third of the cost, and that the county of Terry had tentatively assumed another third, around $20,000, of the expense. Also the movement was awaiting the pleasure of the city council of Brownfield.

In conversation with Bill Aschenback, City Secretary, this week, he informed us that the matter was still pending, as no blue prints or estimates were submitted to the city, and until such was put on a more understandable basis, the council did not act although favoring the unit.

Acting Mayor C. C. Primm was in Fort Worth Tuesday on business, and could not be reached at the time. In the meantime, we understand that Levelland and Hockley county are making an effort to locate the unit.

Later: Since Mr. Primm returned home, he has stated that even if the City Council approves the Health Unit, the matter of their part of the money will have to be submitted to the voters for approval or rejection.

An Old Time Knock Down Fight

What promises to be the first knock down and drag out wet-dry fight in Texas, may come up soon, if the state Senator from Rio Grande City, down on the border insists in introducing a bill to sell liquor by the drink. The bill as proposed would sell drinks with no more than 50 percent alcohol, being mixed with other liquids, etc.

The Women's Christian Temperance Union, led by Mrs. Van De Wats, of Austin, threaten to bring on a state wide vote to banish all sales of legalized liquor, if the bill is approved.

Very few people here in the Brownfield section believe that such a bill (liquor by the drink) would be approved by Gov. Jester. The WCTU claim that such a law would re-introduce the old time saloon.

Miss Zona Lee Chesshir, daughter of Mrs. Nell Chesshir, has accepted a position in the bookkeeping department at Teague and Bailey Chevrolet, and started her duties Saturday.

Pioneer Claimed By Death

Will Alf Bell, age 74, died at his home early Monday morning, Feb. 14. Mr. Bell had been suffering from a long illness. He was well known in Brownfield and all the surrounding territory as a civic worker, and banker. He had been a resident of the vicinity for 42 years. Tudor Sales Gets Car Load Buicks

W. B. (Red) Tudor informed us this week that he was now getting in new Buick cars fairly well. He received a car load (four), this week. And of course he is selling all he gets.

Like most of us, he can see that the gradual fall of living costs will discourage another round of wage increase demands, of strikes, and that cars may soon be fairly plentiful.

Highway 51 Ass'n Meets in Levelland

The Highway 51 Association met in Levelland on Wednesday, February 16, at 11:00 a.m. David Nicholson, secretary to the Chamber of Commerce, Judge Homer Winston, and all four county commissioners, Lee Bartlett, Sam Gossett, Bruce White, and Horace Fox attended.

Sixteen counties are represented in the association. They are trying to complete Highway 51, across the Canadian River. It is hoped that a bridge or dam can be constructed, making this an international highway from Canada to Mexico.

Each county will compile some information to be presented before officials in Austin. About 60 men from all 16 counties were represented. The meeting next month will be held in Seminole.

Census Almost Completed

The Chamber of Commerce reports that the census takers have almost completed their job. The project will be extended another week in order to give the people who have not been contacted an opportunity to call in at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Brownfield Cubs Drop Two Conference Games

On Friday, February 11, the Lubbock Westerners thoroughly drubbed the Cubs by a score of 61 to 20. Lubbock led the entire game and the Cubs were never closer than 5 points to them.

The Cub reserve team was swamped by the Lubbock B team 56-16. The Cubs held up well in the first quarter but after that just seemed to quit clicking.

Saturday, Brownfield was defeated in Borger by the Bulldogs with a finishing score of 56 to 33. The Bulldogs led at the half by a margin of 23-16. Gorby had scoring honors with 19 points.

Two Lubbock Men Picked Up For Passing Bad Checks Here

Two young men from Lubbock drove into a local station this week. They purchased gas and oil and tried to pass a check between two unknown parties. When the attendant refused the check they presented a personal check.

Because of their suspicious actions the attendant notified the sheriff's office immediately, and gave the sheriff the name on the check and the license number.

The sheriff called Lubbock and learned from the bank there that the check was on, that there was no account in that name. The highway department was called on and immediately gave chase. The car was followed to Post and then Slaton where the occupants were arrested.

On being returned the next morning the young man was fined. Officers complimented the station attendant for his promptness and especially for getting the car license number, without which the party would have never been apprehended, as the check was under an assumed name.

Group Returns From Washington D. C.

Seven South Plains men, including Terry County Judge H. R. Winston, have been in Washington in connection with the cotton acreage allotments for 1950-51. Judge Winston and L. H. Carmack of Tahoka returned Friday night, and the other five on Saturday.

The group asked that cotton allotments for the coming two years be based on the crops of the past two years, rather than the past four or five which would bring the South Plains acreage allotments down to a low figure due to failures in 1945 and 1946. They appeared before a House subcommittee, dealing with cotton acreage allotments.

Judge Winston informs us that no definite action was taken on the proposal of the group by the sub-committee but that things are still in a formative stage.

Fred Wooley, assistant administrator of production and marketing for the Department of Agriculture, told Judge Winston that there is a parity price on grain sorghums which last year amounted to 77 per cent or $2.28 a hundred.

Two dinners were given by the group while they were in Washington, for the sub-committee members, who include Rep. Bob E. Poage of Waco. Rep. George Mahon of the 19th District was also a guest.

Mr. Privitt and Buell Price are running several machines down there, and Privitt was operating one of the machines while there on business Sunday. He caught his glove in the speed chain on the cotton stripper and suffered the loss of the little finger on his right hand.

The injury was treated at the hospital in Pecos. Mr. Privitt is now back at his business.

Mrs. W. T. Howze and son, Bobby Jones, drove to Big Spring Tuesday to meet Mrs. Howze's daughter, Earlene, who arrived by plane from San Francisco, Calif. Miss Jones will leave Sunday morning for Dallas, where she will make her home.

Letter to the Editor

Do you believe in the future of Brownfield? The ones who are now of school age are the ones who, in later years, will determine what our city will be. But it is shocking to learn that there are many children here who are not in school, because of having no clothing.

One of the greatest factors in juvenile delinquency is poverty, another is lack of education. So far, we have been very fortunate in that the juvenile delinquency rate here has been very low. But it may not remain so if the existing situation is not remedied.

It is believed, by the good teachers here in the city of Brownfield that if certain organizations would sponsor such a program, we could put every student back at his desk, dressed in good serviceable clothes. Such a program would be a good investment out more than that, think of the happiness it would give.

We have kept our town clean so far. Let us make it one at which the towns surrounding will look to as an example. We have given to the overseas clothing drive, to the March of Dimes, and every other worthy cause. It is time we spent some effort at home.

Not enough can be done however, unless sponsored by some organization. Our teachers are doing far beyond their duty in this matter—but they don't have the time to spare to do the things that will have to be done.

There is need of money to buy shoes, socks, and underwear. Then there will be need of some persons to be responsible for the collecting, buying and distribution of the clothing.

If our teachers have been so kind as to start this movement then let's all cooperate.

Jaycees Make Plans For Annual Rodeo

It was tentatively decided at the Jaycees luncheon on Monday that their annual rodeo would be held on June 23, 24 and 25, providing that these dates do not conflict with any other events.

John J. Kendrick, president, advised Frank Szydlowski, a member of the rodeo committee, that he should inform the Rodeo Association of America of the dates and learn if there will be other rodeos in the immediate area, slated to take place at the same time.

The planned dates will fall on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Afternoon and evening performance will be held on Saturday. Since the Stamford, and the Levelland events will precede and follow the Brownfield dates it was thought that perhaps more star performers would be attracted.

Jaycees are working now on a deal to purchase other rodeo grounds, but in the event that this is not arranged the rodeo will be held at the present grounds. However, added seating arrangements will be made.

The first Jaycee sponsored rodeo which was held here last year was quite successful. Prior to last year the rodeos here were sponsored by the Brownfield Rodeo Association.

R. L. Lewis Purchases Interest in Phillips '66' Station

R. L. Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dolph Lewis announces in this issue the purchase from J. L. Newson of his interest in the Phillips 66 Service Station on the Lubbock Highway. He will be in partnership with Charlie Beavers.

Mr. Lewis needs no introduction to the people of Brownfield. He has lived here most of his life. He returned here after some time in the service and was employed by J. B. Knight Hardware. For the past year he has been working in Plainview.

Bad Mail Connections Get No Better Fast

Most of us thought there would be some sort of improvement in getting mail in and out of Brownfield, after transfer to truck, and this included Postmaster Jas. H. Dallas. Most of us pulled in our tempers and endured the holiday rush. But when it takes a paper four days to go 30 miles, a double squawk is coming, including both publisher and reader.

A. M. Parker of Levelland has some property here, and subscribed for the Herald in January. He has missed some copies entirely, and last week's Herald did not reach him till Tuesday this week. He was over on other business this week, and called. He stated that he did not want to seem disgruntled, but he would like to get his paper regularly and promptly. His name and address was checked on the mailing list, and found to be OK.

Mr. Parker believes with us that most of the trouble lays either at Lubbock or Levelland itself, and not in Brownfield. He says that Levelland is now a swift growing oil field town, and that box accommodations as well as postoffice help is insufficient. But if it takes mail four days to go 30 miles, we as well recall oxcart days.

We also have had bad mail connection with Meadow. It couldn't be worse and we are at a loss to know what can be done. The afternoon mail now leaves here around six, and the office at Meadow is closed when it gets there, and therefore it goes on to Lubbock and back next day—perhaps.

To cite two instances otherwise that we know, because the subscribers are relatives. Our daughter lives in Brownwood, which has direct train mail connections with Lubbock. Occasionally she gets her Herald Monday, but mostly Tuesday next week.

On the other hand, a brother lives at Grandview, Texas, and out on a rural route, but maintains a PO box for his Sunday mail. He usually gets his paper Sunday. His paper perhaps transfers at Sweetwater to the T & P, and again at Fort Worth to the M.K.&T., but he gets his paper two days earlier than our daughter, although farther away and two train transfers.

There's something putrid in the dunk about this matter.

Tom Adams Holds Title Of Light Heavy Weight

Several fight fans from Brownfield went to Fort Worth Monday night to see Tom Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Adams fight in his final bout for the State championship of light heavy weight Golden Gloves contest. Tom took the title of his San Antonio opponent.

In the semi-final Sunday night Tom knocked out his opponent. Tom is leaving this week for Chicago, where he will participate in the National Golden Gloves contest.

Tom fought in the Abilene division.

Skill Runs High In New Home

Over in Lynn County, the New Home basketball team of girls is routing practically all opposition on the court to take the honors thus far in their district. A "B" team, they defeated Wilson to the tune of 64-14, and will be a high threat in the district 15 tournament at Lamesa Feb. 22-27.

Skill, teamwork and a pure thrill of the game go hand in hand to place the New Home girls high on the winning list.

New Product Keeps Potato Sproutless

Problem of Storage Now Aided by New Methods

The sprouting, shriveling and softening of potatoes when kept at room temperatures now can be prevented with use of barsprout. The treated potatoes remain firm, practically farm-fresh, and not only cook but also taste better. The product is equally effective on certain other root crops such as beets, carrots, turnips and rutabagas.

The active ingredient is methyl ester of naphthaleneacetic acid. When applied to the potatoes as a dust, it vaporizes and literally "gets into their eyes," keeping them from sprouting. Feeding test have shown that the chemical imparts no harmful effect. Tests have been conducted for the past five years at leading agricultural experiment stations. By this treatment the potatoes may be kept at ordinary room temperatures without sprouting and without formation of reducing sugar. Ordinarily potatoes are held below 45 degrees and shrink 5 percent in weight, developing reducing sugars which affect color and taste.

Near Ainsworth, Neb., this farmer drives his empty wagon across a desert of snow after delivering a load of life-saving hay as near as possible to his cattle. Two Old Friends Depart This Life

Partings are often sad, even if friends are to be separated for only a year or more. We learned much about that during the war. But when our old friends depart for the other world, our time of reunion is much more indefinite. However, many of us are nearing the end of the trail, and it may not be long until we all can assemble again, we hope in a better world.

Saturday and Monday, two of our best friends left us. Both were here 40 years ago, when we came here a young man and a stranger. Both made us feel at home. H. H. (Hezzie) Longbrake departed this life Sunday. He was in the hardware business when we came here. He was one of the most accommodating and friendly men we ever met. We don't remember ever seeing Mr. Longbrake the least bit miffed or much less expressing hate.

Will Alf Bell passed on Monday, and like M. Longbrake, had been in poor health for several years, and his death was expected, but nevertheless regretted. Such men were they who came to this town and county and helped prepare it for those who like modern living conditions. Mr. Bell was the cashier of the Brownfield State Bank when we arrived here in Jan. 1909. It was located in what is now the Commerce Hotel, now on Eight, but located where Piggly Wiggly store is now located. Like Mr. Longbrake, if a person was the least worthy of accommodation, he or they got it.

H. H. as most people called Mr. Longbrake, had quite a stock of hardware for that time, and a huge stock of windmills and supplies, as he furnished many ranches of this entire section, even into New Mexico. Later, when there were a few two cylinder cars in the community (we believe there were 13 in Terry county when we got here) Mr. Longbrake placed gasoline barrels in front of the store, got a pump and filled their cars. He hired a mechanic, Curley Gamble, to help him repair cars.

Long years after Mr. Bell retired he informed us that while cashier of the State Bank some ten years, he never lost a dollar on a loan, and took very few mortgages. Most of the notes were plain notes, signed only by the borrower. Their presence in our town will be greatly missed.

Girls to Show Best Own-Made Outfit In 4-H Dress Revue

Fashion forecast — definitely more feminine! Well, Texas 4-H Club girls won't be all dressed up in "butons and bows" when they model a costume of their own making in the forthcoming 1949 annual 4-H Dress Revue, but they will be wearing the most becoming styles in work, school and party clothes.

Texas' acceptance of the program has been announced by the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club work. This activity is conducted under the direction of the Cooperative Extension Service.

All the fun, excitement and accomplishment afforded by the Dress Revue—to say nothing of the economy—has made it one of the most popular contests among 4-H girls, according to reports of State Club leaders and the girls themselves. Based on a five-point plan, objectives of the 1949 program are, namely: (1) find out just what sort of clothes are needed; (2) acquire the know-how to plan, assemble and care for clothes; (3) learn what to wear and when—all within the family budget; (4) select costumes with an eye to individuality; (5) last, but not least, develop poise and habits of good grooming.

Again this year Simplicity Pattern Co. will provide all awards in the National 4-H Dress Revue program totaling $11,180. They include silver medals for county winners and an all-expense trip to the 1949 National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago for state winners. All state winners modeling outfits in the Dress Revue presentation at the 4-H Club Congress will receive a handsome leather-cased scissors set.

Last year more than 300 4-H girls throughout the state participated in the Dress Revue contest.

Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Nowlin of Clovis, N. M., were business visitors here Tuesday.

Part Of French Thank You Train To Texas

Last year much was heard of the Friendship Train various states and communities in the United States dispatched to the starving people of Europe. It was such a gesture of good will, that the French have loaded a lot of their small "40 and 8" cars with gifts from the French people, which is termed the "Merçi" or in plain English, "Thank You," train.

At Chicago, the Santa will take over the portion for the Southwest. In turn, the Santa Fe will deliver the Texas portion to the MK&T railroad at Dallas, to be carried to Austin. Such priceless and unduplicated gifts as for instance the flag of Verdun, will be kept at the Smithsonian Institute.

These small French box cars, 24x9 feet, will be loaded on flat cars to be moved over the nation. There will be gifts for each state, the District of Columbia and Hawaii. A rare Sevres vase will be personally presented by the President of France through a representative.

It is believed these gifts will represent six million people of France, as well as veterans organizations and civic clubs. We understand the gifts intended for Texas will be put on exhibit at Austin in some place to be designated.

Otis Longbrake Takes His Mother Home

Otis Longbrake, of Guyman, Okla. called on the Herald one day early this week, and informed us that he was settling up the business matters of his late father, H. H. Longbrake, as best he could by Wednesday this week. He also stated that he and wife were carrying his mother home with them to make her home for the present.

Otis related that his father's daughter, Mrs. Bernice Vossler, of Findlay, Ohio, visited his dad recently. Mrs. Vossler is a daughter by his dad's first wife, who died in Ohio. Otis stated that H. H. got great pleasure from this visit, as it was the first time he had seen her in years.

However, Otis stated that he had a hard time finding Mrs. Vossler when his father passed away, as she went on west, but left no definite address. He finally located his sister at a ranch in Arizona, but was unable to attend the funeral of her father.

THE KNOW WHY OF FOOD HANDLING

"Your health is largely in the foodhandlers when you purchase food for consumption either at home or in eating and drinking establishments," Dr. Miller, Director of the South Plains Health Unit stated. It is necessary for the "Know Why" to reach the general public as well as the foodhandler.

The foodhandlers school to be held in Brownfield from the 21 February through 26 February between the hours of 2:00 p. m. and 4:00 p. m. is important. This school is conducted not only in Texas but in all of the forty-eight states. In fact, some cities in Texas and other states require a course in this school before foodhandlers can secure jobs.

The Texas State Department of Health has furnished the South Plains Health Unit with a copy of the daily program which is as follows:

Monday—Foodhandling and bacteria.

Tuesday—Preventing Food Contamination and Spoilage.

Wednesday—Three enemies of Food Establishments.

Thursday—Sanitation, Storage, Handling of Dishes and Utensils. Food Establishment Sanitation.

Friday—You and Your Job; Personal hygiene and salesmanship. "The close cooperation of all is essential for the success of the school," Dr. Miller points out.

Economic Highlights

Happenings That Affect the Dinner Pails, Dividend Checks and Tax Bills of Every Individual National and International Problems Inseparable from Local Welfare.

Nothing that could be called alarm is disturbing the business world. However, there is a great deal less unquestioning belief that the postwar boom is going to continue for an indefinite period to come.

A good many of the signs are pointing downward now. There was a noticeable drop in employment during the last months of 1948, and jobs are nowhere near as easy to find as they once were. As 1949 opened, prices were lower than at the beginning of the preceding year—the first time that has happened in 10 years. One automobile manufacturer announced a substantial cut in production, due to the fact that new cars were piling up in their dealers warehouses. In a long list of lines consumer resistance is noticeable, and a buyer's market is setting in. In almost all lines, more and more consumer caution has been evident. Savings are down, and installment purchasing has increased. Enterprises which live on luxury spending—entertainment, vacation travel, furs and jewelry, etc. the drop in business has been relatively heavy.

This poses a question which only time can answer. Is the decline from the postwar peak simply a normal and inevitable adjustment following an avalanche of spending for goods which were completely unobtainable for years? Or is it the start of a serious business setback that could run into a real depression? Most of the economists still favor the first view. But they have their fingers crossed.

One theory holds that a depression of the extreme type, such as that of the '30s, is no longer possible—that the government is now geared to immediately prime the pump and through spending and various controls keep the machine ticking at a good rate until normal economic forces for the better could again take over. But that is strictly a theory and no one really knows how it would work out in practice. Few people are willing to bank on it for their economic salvation.

The change in the business picture, small as it has been, seems to be making itself felt in some congressional circles. As an example, a considerable list of lawmakers, including many on the Democratic side, look with little favor on more taxes, either on individuals or corporations, on the grounds that they might act as a deterrent to production and plant expansion. There is also a strong sentiment against complete repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act and a return to the Wagner Act, because of the danger that another wave of strikes and other labor-management disputes might result. This sentiment, incidentally, seems to be shared to some extent by members of Mr. Truman's official family.

RAILROADS HELP BUILD OUR GREAT NATION
 A short time ago, we were among nations a pigmy. In the hundred years since the railroads came, we become the giant, richer and more powerful than all the others, because of our transportation. He who serves America has a sacred duty; no sacrifice is too great, no exertion too great. The greatness of America is wrapped up in the greatness of transportation.—Col. J. DO YOU WANT Dictatorship OVER PUBLIC HEALTH?

NO ONE likes dictatorship or monopoly. But that is exactly what the State Medical Association is trying to establish in Austin at our State Capitol. It would be a dictatorship over public health more absolute than anything conceived by Hitler or Mussolini. The bill that would bring about this dictatorship is Senate Bill 63, the so-called Basic Science Bill. It would give the State Medical Association a death grip on the healing arts. IF THIS BILL PASSES you will no longer be able to go to a chiropractor in Texas, or to a naturopath, because there would be none. Eventually, it is probable you would be unable to go to any type of doctor, except a member of the State Medical Association—the dictatorship would be that strong. You wouldn't think this could happen in Texas. But it will unless you. . .

EXPRESS YOUR OPPOSITION TO S. B. 63 . . . by writing to your representative and senator. (Adv. sponsored by the Committee for Health Freedom of Texas, W. Early Jackson, of Austin, Chairman)

Navy Watches Old Man Weather

Weather plays an important part in the development and testing of aerial missiles. Therefore, the U. S. Navy maintains complete meteorological facilities at the Naval Ordnance Test Station, Inyokern, Calif., for predicting the antics of Old Man Weather. Such information is additionally of invaluable aid to the American public in many ways and is available when needed. (Official Navy Photograph)

Herbert Bell and Family Leave Early
 Herbert Bell, wife, two daughters and a son, of Marshall, were here for the funeral of his brother, W. A. Bell, and planned to spend the week here. But they decided that they must return earlier, leaving Thursday. However, he called up the Old He and apologized for not getting around to see us this time. Herbert stated as he and family lived here for several years in the early days of Terry's history, he sort of felt like this was still his secondary home. He also stated that he had never been let down by Terry county people, and that he wanted to say that the people here had been swell to his deceased brother and family, as well as he and his family.

COTTON CHARMER

When the sun shines bright on the winter resort scene, beauties blossom out in pretty cotton costumes for suntime fun. This fair dame enjoys the Southern climate in a cotton chambray sundress by Saba of California. A boned bodice, halter, and ruffles add to its feminine charms.

UN Cure for Bigotry

George S. Kaufman, noted dramatist and director, says everyone has a part in the United Nations: "Unless the United Nations succeeds, we're going to find ourselves in a state of chaos. Man needs to jolt himself into understanding this before he gets further jolted by the consequences of war, ignorance, prejudice and bigotry. The UN is trying to do a job to conquer these traditional foes of humanity but it can't succeed unless the public knows and understands what the UN is all about! It is our responsibility—the responsibility of you and me—to know and understand."

MRS. PRICE ENTERTAINS PLEASURE CLUB

Favors UN Plan

Ezra Stone, well-known radio star, has written: "As Henry Aldrich, I have made a specialty of getting into a good deal of trouble for the past ten years. Inevitably, I require the cooperation and assistance of his family, friends and neighbors to extricate me from his difficulties. Nations are like that too. Magnifying some and community problems to those of international scale, it seems to me we will find through the United Nations the perfect blueprint for common understanding, tolerance and a never-ending search for truth and respect for our fellow man."

Says UN Our Only Hope

Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., well-known movie star, had this to say about the United Nations: "The UN is attempting to secure the peace, improve economic conditions throughout the world, obtain equal rights and opportunities for all mankind and a hundred other similarly vital aids to humanity's ills. It is the solemn duty, as well as the imperative necessity, for every American to keep informed about the issues of the day, to support and advise our representatives in this world organization and to spread the word about its accomplishments, its aspirations and its problems among neighbors and friends. All Americans—all human beings everywhere—have the biggest stake of our civilization in the UN."

Sees World Brotherhood

Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, eminent Minister Emeritus of the Riverside Church, New York, made the following statement: "The United Nations is attempting to bring the precepts of the Sermon on the Mount into international relations just as the heritage of Judeo-Christian ethics has formed the bedrock of American democracy and social progress, so, too, is the UN grounded on those same ideals. Each of us, by strengthening the bonds that link us to our fellow man, can assist the United Nations in advancing its great purpose."

Oil Company Leases Small Tract 100 Years

AUSTIN, Feb. 16—Land Commissioner, Bascom Giles, has found a 'steady customer' for a small tract of school land in Pecos County.

The Commission has received payment from an oil company covering rental on the tract for the next one hundred years, making the present lease effective until the year 2049.

The tract, less than two acres in size, is one of the smallest in the School Land Board's records. However, it has paid off in man-sized hunks—$20,000.00 to the Permanent School Fund in cash bonuses and $217,398.00 in royalties. The 100-year rental payment is without precedent, Giles stated.

However, added the Commissioner, the lease may be forfeited unless production is maintained and unless all regulations of the School Land Board are conformed with.

Mrs. J. A. Roberts and daughter, Letha Nell, of Coahoma, are visiting Mrs. Roberts' daughters, Mrs. Fred Smith of Brownfield, and Mrs. B. R. Lay of Jonsson.

Mr. and Mrs. K. D. Snedeker were in San Angelo last week. They took their grandson who had been visiting them home.

Unity in Fashions and Furniture

You're not just seeing Trojan horses before your eyes. Model Alyse Debnay is really wearing a dinner dress in Trojan horse design, which is repeated in the host chair, the drapery, the place mats and no telling where else. The matching furniture, fabrics and clothes were created by designer Robert Dorr, Jr., and shown at a furniture show in Los Angeles. Heaven help Pop's pocketbook if the idea should spread.

Post-Mortem at 'Namru One'

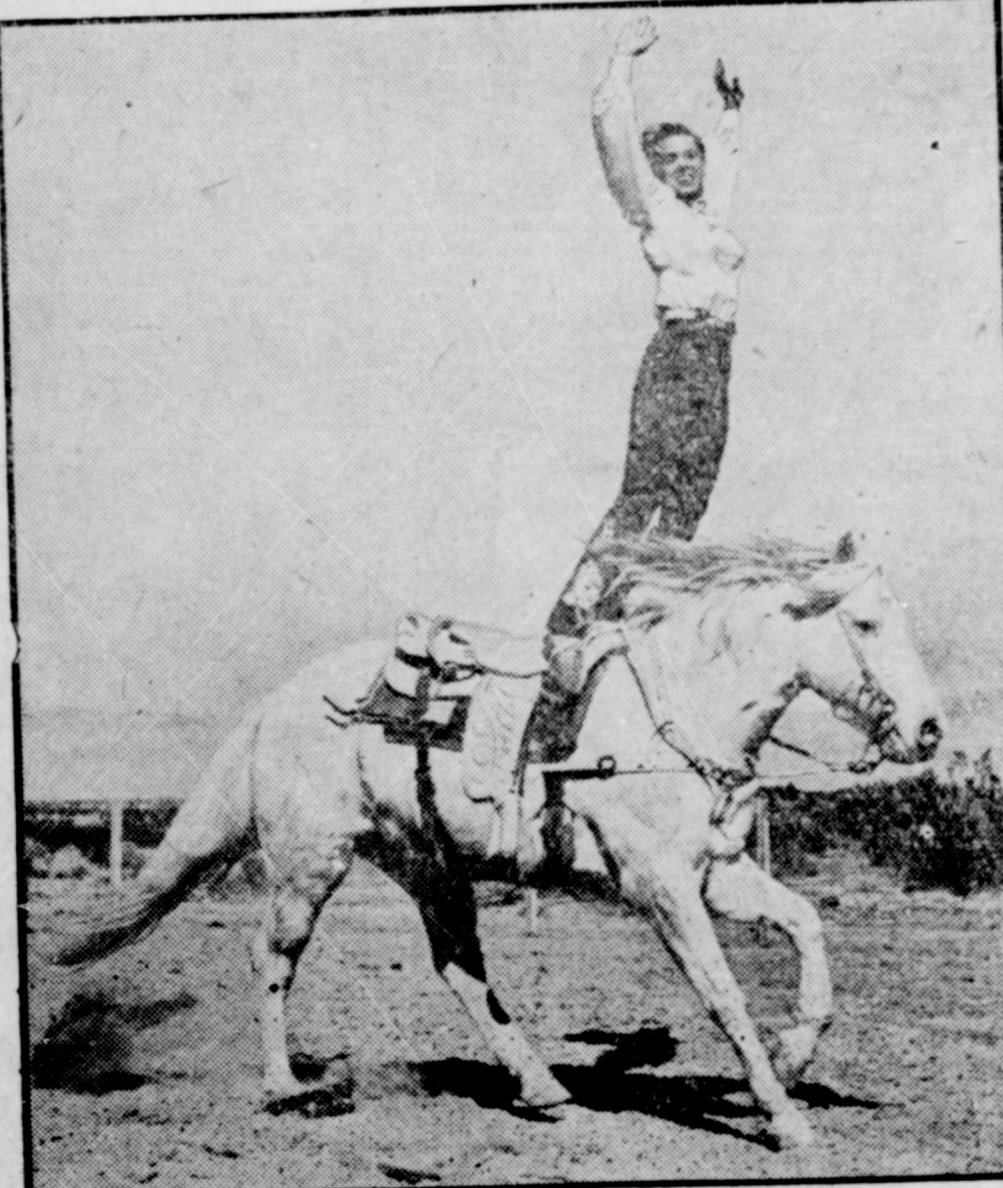

The Naval Medical Research Unit No. 1, at the University of California at Berkeley, directed in 1943 to investigate possible enemy use of infectious disease as a weapon, has not only gained considerable knowledge of mass defense against disease, but also has assimilated invaluable information for the control of communicable airborne diseases among peacetime populations. Photo shows an autopsy under way on an animal infected during the course of studies at "NAMRU ONE." Protective masks are worn by the laboratory researchers. (Official Navy Photograph)

Fugitive From War in China

This poor woman, a refugee from war-ravaged North China, lives on a sampan on Shanghai's Soochow Creek. She lights her stove in order to cook a meager meal for her family, all of whom are working ashore. The muddy creek is filled with thousands of such families who eke out a miserable existence while waiting and hoping for peace.

Price Cost Squeeze Put On Farmers

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 16—The price-cost "squeeze" is reaching out for the farmers. And there isn't much they can do about the "fixed-cost" end of it. Farm operators can't plow off the cash outlay for labor, fertilizer and materials. But they can adopt improved farm practices that will lower their cost of unit production.

That's what C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist of Texas A. & M. College, says about the pinch of high production costs and sagging incomes farmers generally are feeling. A recent drop in meat animal prices has the producers wondering "What next?" about the net returns in livestock production. And nearly everywhere people are asking questions about how to meet this situation and still keep fairly good living standards.

To be a profitable farmer, you've got to study the farm business

SUN WORSHIPPER

It's time to tan at sunny resorts now, and sun worshippers have migrated South to bask in Old Sol's rays. Cotton shorts are the order of the day at vacation spots for the girls who are seeking tans. This pretty vacationer wears black cotton shorts and off-the-shoulder midriff by Margaret Newman with a multi-colored brush printed skirt to top the ensemble.

HALEY BEST HISTORIAN WRITER FOR USA

CANYON, Feb. 16 (WTNS)—"Incidentally one of the finest American historians lives in Canyon. J. Evets Haley's books on Charles Goodnight and Jeff Milton are the best pieces of Americana available today." Thus commented Frazier Hunt, noted journalist and world traveller at a speaking engagement at Amarillo's Knife and Fork Club last week. He was high in his praise of the works of Haley, the dean of historians and writers in Southwestern history. Hunt also said: "This Southwest region is fabulous in its materials for historical writing." Haley is a graduate of West Texas State College and the University of Texas. He has devoted the greater part of his time and effort for the past 25 years to research and writing in Texas and Southwestern history. He has interviewed more of the early pioneers in the Southwest than any other person. Author of six books on Southwest history, he has also written numerous articles in state and national publications. Haley's latest book, Jeff Milton, was the only book on Southwestern History on display at the recent meeting of American Historical Association in Washington, D. C. He is an ardent supporter of the Vandale Historical Essay Contest and has worked with the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society and Texas State Historical Association in gathering and preserving Southwest materials. Links UN With Freedom

Fabian Bachrach Clarence Francis

Clarence Francis, Chairman of the Board of the General Foods Corporation, recently gave the following warning: "The United Nations faces the most arduous and challenging series of mandates ever given to an international organization. Limitless patience and hard work will be needed to reconcile all the differences that are bound to arise among so many diversified cultures, religions, races, economics, and philosophies. But let us remember this: There can be no lasting security or freedom in this age for any nation—or for any individual, either—without a successful functioning of the UN."

Urges Harmony Via UN

James B. Carey

James B. Carey, Secretary-Treasurer of the Congress of Industrial Organizations, has recently stated: "The United Nations is attempting to accomplish on a world-wide basis the same thing the CIO has been seeking for years—the creation of a society in which men work together in peace and harmony regardless of their race, color, creed or national origin. We have found that the common interests of workers are far greater than their differences, and we believe that nations, if given the proper opportunity, will find the same to be true. The UN can—and must—provide the opportunity."

Soils Need Air for Total Crop Growth

Increasing Depth of Aeration Boosts Yield "Stuffy" soils that have little or no oxygen available to the plant roots that grow in them just are not able to support high crop yields. Hard working plant roots need oxygen if they are to do a good job of supporting the plant and collecting plant food for the above ground parts. Working with muck soil, N. K. Ellis, Purdue university, and Richard Morris, U. S. soil conservation service, found that when liberal quantities of oxygen penetrated the soil only four inches the yield of red beets, sweet corn, onions and Chippewa potatoes was small. When the soils were "ventilated" to 18 inches the yields increased as much as 10 fold. When the depth of aeration was increased to 36 inches the yield of some of the crops was increased. The yield of carrots went from 3 to 33 tons per acre when the depth of aeration was increased from 4 to 18 inches. Sweet corn yield went from 3 to 4.75 tons; onions from 45 to 275 50-pound bags; red beets from 3.75 to 13.5 tons and potatoes from about 12 to 258 bushels per acre.

It may pay to go deeper than this plow is set.

ADVERTISING is BIG NEWS

"Yes," relates Mrs. Farmer, "I did notice in The Herald that you were featuring them today. We live several miles in the country and so I have made a habit of reading Herald advertisements, thus knowing before I come to town that I can get my favorite brands — it saves my family 'gasoline money' by reading the ads."

Mrs. Farmer is absolutely right. She groups her "want list" quite frequently, and in this manner she can do orderly shopping when she reaches town—having scanned the advertising and knowing before hand just where she can get her needs. run it is really a money saver for the entire family. Now, more than ever before, The Terry County Herald is reaching a wider range of people who buy—response to advertising is greater because of savings to a greater number of families. Over forty years of sending reliable advertising messages to Brownfield trade territory has impressed its value upon the people. Just so, advertising identified with the traditions of that long record generates reliability for the firm names represented.

STRICKLINLY SPEAKING

Down at Austin, there are a few Senators and Representatives who are still trying to get the so-called "Fair Trades" bill through. As we understand it, our senator and representative, Kilmer B. Corbin and Preston Smith are both opposed to the bill.

If you are not acquainted with this bill, it is simply a measure to let manufacturers, many of them outside Texas, set the price on their goods, and those selling under that price would be subject to prosecution, and privilege of handling the goods taken away from such dealers.

Is that your idea of "fair trade?" Or "unfair trade?" Some forty states have already had this law slipped by on them, and it is costing the people of those states added millions of dollars, per annum.

Dr. William E. Greer of the Boston University school of medicine, recently came out with a statement that the poison of the black widow spider is 15 times more potent than the venom of rattlesnakes. After considerable research, and much treatment of soldiers in the southwest Pacific during the war, Dr. Greer recommends Calcium Gluconate as the best remedy.

But, Dr. Greer says you must hurry this or any other treatment, for in an hour or so stomach convulsion will hit the victim, and any treatment may be too late.

It seems that the Irish are not always able to get along with each other, let alone people of different nationalities. North Ireland, which is Protestant, has recently held an election to see whether or not they join Erie, the south Irishland Republic, which is heavily Catholic. The Hinkles Make A Grab For The Herald

In another part of this paper is an article about what progress Bobby Hinkle was making in the Air Corps. Let us state that his mother, Mrs. Wesley Hinkle, as well as his teachers here were having some headaches about this boy when in high school here, but he has evidently sowed his wild oats and now making good.

Anyway, Mrs. Hinkle says all the family make a grab each week for the Herald when it arrives, and everything is read even to the ads—nothing escapes, and that it seems like they have had a visit from the Herald force. They like our colyum, Stricklinly Speaking. Then Mrs. Hinkle gets off on the weather, which has misbehaved there more than ever, setting a 50-year record. There were 38 days of sub-freezing weather, and about 18 or 20 inches of snow. This is very unusual for the Portland, Oregon area.

Texas 4-H Clubs All Set For 1949 Garden Program

More than 4,700 Texas 4-H Club boys and girls who pledged their "hands to larger service" last year are expected again to enroll in the 1949 National 4-H Garden program. Announcement of this state's acceptance of the program has been made by the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club work. The activity is conducted under the direction of the Cooperative Extension Service. Last year nearly 375,000 4-H Club members ranging in age from 10 to 21 years planted and tended approximately 80,000 acres of garden, according to reports of State Club leaders. Born of wartime necessity, the National 4-H Garden contest was first launched in 1942. Peacetime has not lessened the incentive to produce, because 4-H'ers continue to raise a large variety of fruits and vegetables which keeps the home table supplied and reduces the family outlay for food. Records are kept of costs, progress and money returns as part of the 4-H requirements. County Extension agents and local Club leaders organize and encourage the youth to learn how to care for and manage a well-planned garden, carry out a program of disease control, and market surplus produce. In an effort to "make the best better," products are exhibited as county, district and state fairs, as well as in community competitions. Each 4-H Club member enrolled in the garden program has an opportunity to win one of four county medal awards provided by Allis-Chalmers. Also a state award of an all-expense trip to the 1949 National Club Congress in Chicago, and a chance to become a candidate for one of eight $300 scholarships.

If it isn't the unions, it's the management that is complaining of this, that and the other. One of the latest complaints comes from the railroads after the Brotherhoods had demanded that an extra crew, now termed feather-badders, be carried along on all the streamlined diesel trains, either passenger or freight. It is believed by the disinterested that the modern diesel, although pulling two or three times the load of the old steam variety, are no more trouble for an engineer and "fireman" to operate than the old steam engines, especially the coal burning variety. The demand for an extra crew seems to stem out of the fact that the modern train carries two or three times as many passengers or merchandise.

Then too, the railroads have the older complaint. That they have to furnish and keep up their own right-of-way tracks, etc., and pay tax on the track and upkeep as well as their rolling stock. On the other hand their chief competitors, the trucks, use the state and county highways, built and maintained by public taxation. And to tell the truth, their argument sounds a bit logical. For that very reason the Herald has never been very hot for fine airports, built at public expense, and public taxation for upkeep. Airports can be used for nothing else than airplanes that are public carriers, and only a small portion of the population uses that mode of transportation up to this time. In other words, it seems to us that the general public is subsidizing a mode of transportation and at great expense, that a very small percent of the general public uses.

Of late we have heard much about the possibility of our Texas supplies of natural gas being entirely exhausted, leaving a large population in sections like our own, which is without wood or coal, to either leave the country or freeze. Then there is another school of statisticians who maintain that our natural gas supplies are inexhaustible. That new fields of natural gas will be found as it is needed. Between the two most of us so-called lay folks, are prone to believe that most anything can be exhausted, even water in certain sections, maybe right here on the Plains if we get reckless with its use. Perhaps, though, speaking of fuels, coal comes nearer being here for a long time to come, perhaps hundreds of years, than any other fuel. Of course wood can be grown as fast as used in a lot of our country with plentiful rainfall, but a bit hard to accomplish in this more or less arid section. They tell us there are untold billions of feet of gas in this huge supply of coal deposits all over the USA. And that when our natural gas becomes exhausted, they will pipe us gas made from their coal through the same lines they are now getting our natural gas. Sounds pretty good, except that it would cost us about ten times as much as they are now paying us. It seems that our railroad commission that has such matters in charge, are disagreed as to amount of natural gas piped out of Texas. However, Representative W. R. Chambers of Brownwood has introduced a bill to correct the situation, and go a bit slower about piping our gas here and there, in some instances to states that have both natural gas and large deposits of coal. We hope to see the Chambers bill adopted, as most disinterested people are of the opinion, that we are fast selling to other sections a natural resource we need to encourage industries to come to Texas, as well as laying a good plan to some day be without fuel ourselves.

Over in Hungary, the Russo satellites are arresting high Catholic officials, as well as Protestants, and pinning charges of treason and other crimes on them. To most writers and observers who have visited that country in the past few years, or have been located there recently in an official capacity, believe that the charges are all hatched up purely to do away with churches, which is one of the aims of the Soviet governments, as religion interferes with Communist idea of training youth to serve their cause. But recently we read of another side to this argument that we had missed before. A paper we read stated that this Catholic Cardinal recently sentenced for life was the biggest landholder in Hungary, having a million acres of the best farm land in that country, and thousands of serfs to work it at slave wages, or as this paper rather intimated, in the holy name of religion. We confess we know nothing of the circumstances of this particular case, but we do know the churches are not too welcome in any of the behind the iron curtain countries.

In last week's issue, we made complaint about the poor spelling ability of most, not all high school students. We might have added, poor punctuation. But it evidently did not set well with one our townsmen, who severely criticized us for our poor English. If the reader had cared to investigate the matter, he would have found that the Old He's king's English has been a matter of poor record with West Texas press in general for years, and really we wouldn't change if we could. The sectional editors expect it, so do our old readers and other. But they, and even some "perfassors" claim they understand what we're driving at. Ah! doggone it we ended with a proposition. Some of the mistakes can be attributed to us; some to our new linotype operator, who was a local high school boy, and a few to the linotype itself, which occasionally fails to drop a letter, hyphen, etc. We are glad to publish his criticism, but you will note down in the middle of his letter, the gentleman mis-spells our name. Now that's funny. And we still say the schools and colleges are turning out a lot of poor spellers.

Last Saturday was Abraham Lincoln's birthday, which reminds us that a few people living or dead hold ill feeling to the martyred president. As a lad, we sat at the feet of a lot of Ex-Confederates including our old dad, and listened to them discuss Civil War times. As we remember, none of them had anything against the honest rail-splitter president. But this could not be said of their idea of General Sherman or Secretary of War, Stanton in Honest Abe's cabinet. A man with the heart of Lincoln just could not harbor malice toward anyone, even a Confederate solider. And had he lived out his second term, it was the opinion of those old soldiers as well as millions of other southern people, that reconstruction of the south would have been an easy matter and would not have left the bitterness that developed after Lincoln's death. As time mellowed memory, Abraham Lincoln will become dearer to his countrymen.

By the way, since our subscription campaign started, the solicitors have found that this editor has been accused of just about everything except outright crime. One man stated that the writer is a Republican. We voted the Republican ticket once in 1908 our first ballot in a presidential election. We had sorter tired of William J. Bryan running, and voted for William Howard Taft. We have voted a straight Democratic ticket since until last fall. We voted the Democratic ticket then except we took Thurmond instead of Truman as we consider Thurmond the best Democrat of the two. One man stated the writer was a "radical." Most people take us for a conservative. Anyway, we are glad that these accusers are men enough to read our paper whether or not they agree with all we say or print.

It seems that our legislature is the world's worst time waster. The Texas Senate however, got organized fairly early in the present session, and got down to work, but it took the House of Representatives 21 days to organize and pretend to work. One whole day, February 2, was taken up in discussing the Ground Hog his habits and menace to the race. And we don't suppose there is a Ground Hog in Texas unless in some zoo. And even if there were plenty of these animals they would have little effect to Texas weather. Even trained weathermen reach their wry end at times, especially in trying to predict cold waves and blizzards their courses and severity.

New Hog And Chicken Vitamin

COLLEGE STATION, Feb 16—The newly discovered vitamin B 12 gives promise of being of great practical importance in swine and poultry production, Carl M. Lyman, J. M. Prescott, of the Texas A. & M. College department of biochemistry and nutrition, report. A recent study reported to the Journal of Biological Chemistry, is looking forward to the establishment of a reliable method for determining the vitamin B 12 needs for swine and poultry.

Hog feeding tests the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station workers have under progress are showing marked increases in growth rates as the result of adding a commercial preparation of B 12 to their regular rations. No satisfactory way has yet been established for analyzing this vitamin in feedstuffs and animal tissues, though a number of scientists over the nation are working on the problem. The full possibilities of B 12 cannot be developed until a practical system of analysis of the new vitamin is perfected. Texas A. & M. research workers report progress in the determination of this vitamin through a microbiological method.

What's Happening Down At Austin

By GARTH JONES
Austin, Tex.—(AP)—The surface water controversy brewing in the 51st Legislature recalls another scrap that resulted in the organization of the Texas Water Conservation Association.

The TWA was formed in Austin Oct. 2, 1944, and it has been active in water and similar legislation on both state and national levels.

J. E. Sturrock, former attorney for the state board of water engineers, is the TWA's general manager and has been its executive head since the organization was formed.

Sturrock said the association was set up by water users and water use agencies after Texas and other western states protested the consideration of a rivers and harbors bill then in congress.

"The army engineering corps was trying to get every stream that would float a skiff designated as navigable," he said. "When a stream is used for navigation you can't use it for irrigation and municipal purposes."

Sturrock said the membership of the association can be classified as to five types of water users with the majority of members in the irrigation class. Next come industrial users. Third is municipalities and cities. State river authorities and navigation districts make up the other classes of membership.

Sturrock said the TWCA has about 1,000 contributing members, representing about 20,000 water users over the entire state. The primary purpose of the association is "the promotion of the continued improvement and development of the state's rivers, harbors, lakes, water and land resources and the investigation and approval of practical and economically feasible projects throughout the state."

It is "non-partisan and non-profit." The by-laws of the association lists these purposes of the TWCA: "1. To promote and support the development, conservation, control, protection and utilization of the water resources of Texas for all beneficial purposes. 2. To promote and assist in the proper coordination of plans proposed by agencies of the federal, state, and local governments, associations, and private enterprises, to control, protect, and utilize the water resources of the state.

3. "Through all means of publicity open to the association to create a widespread interest in water resources development and conservation by the citizenship of Texas, and to keep all members of the association fully advised on all matters pertaining to or affecting water resources development and conservation in this state.

4. "To encourage in all ways possible needed legislation, both state and national, to carry out the association's objectives."

The TWCA has two types of memberships. Individual membership is open to any citizen of Texas or elsewhere on payment of $25 annually. Sustaining membership is open to all districts, authorities and associations set up for utilization of water resources and to individuals, firms, corporations, cities, towns, associations or groups who desire to contribute funds for the TWCA objectives. Sustaining membership is $100 or more. Each sustaining member has four votes at the annual meeting.

Individual and sustaining members must declare their classification at the time they join—irrigation, industrial, municipal, navigation, or river authorities. The board of directors consists of 35 members—seven from each of the five water use classifications.

Any matter that comes before the board goes to the water use section affected. If that section approves the matter, then it goes to the executive board of eleven members.

Truman May Attend Fort Sill Reunion

LAWTON, OKLA., Feb. 16—President Truman's old Army buddies, stationed at nearby Ft. Sill, Okla., may have a reunion with him when "The Lawton Story," new Hallmark movie based on the Wichita Mountain pageant, hold its world premiere here on April 1.

A second invitation in the form of a joint resolution by both houses of the state legislature—will be extended the President when Senator William Logan introduces it in the Senate at Oklahoma City.

Governor Roy J. Turner talked with Mr. Truman personally about coming to Lawton during a conference in The White House at the recent inaugural ceremonies. Mr. Truman indicated that he would like to re-visit Ft. Sill and Lawton, adding that he had been promising himself a trip to Okla. for two years.

During 1948, the Houston Bank for Cooperatives lent more than 28 million dollars to 173 farmers cooperatives associations in Texas, serving more than 114 thousand farm and ranch families.

Farm Cash Income Down From 1947

AUSTIN, Feb.—Farm cash income in Texas amounted to $1,658,952,000 in 1948, a 12 percent drop from the all-time high in 1947, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported.

Representing principally the drop in crop prices, income from all farm products except grain sorghum, wool, hogs, poultry, milk products, peanuts, and flaxseed was below the 1947 level.

Dollars income for 1948 was above a year earlier in the East Texas Timbered Plains (up 2 percent), Edwards Plateau (up 6 percent), Trans-Pecos (up 11 percent) and South Texas Plains (up 17 percent), while other down in that area told us that southern Calahan and southwest Eastland county got some 12 or more inches of snow. For a fact, folks, old west Texas—all of Texas for that matter, is wet and very wet for January.

Found the kids, Herman and Sallie and the two dogs, Buddie and Rover right up to par. Had a lot of good stuff cooked up, and we enjoyed the visit with them in prime order. The first night Herman and his orchestra played for a style show in Brownwood, and for the VFW auditorium at Abilene the next night. He also had to be at Bangs for a March of Dimes drive Saturday. Despite all this, we were with him quite a bit.

Sunday, in company with Sallie, we made a trip to Cleburne and Johnson county. Got with Al Stricklin and wife at Cleburne, and so on out to the farm eleven miles southwest. There we found the eldest son of our brother, Meeks Stricklin, Benton and wife from Paris, and Benton's wife's sister, husband and little son from Arlington. So, there was just about a family reunion—and at the food—served about one P. M.

Our crowd had to pull out about three after getting some roses and red buds out of the nursery, as it would take us till after dark to get to Brownwood. Al and wife also had to drive to Wichita Falls that night, as he had to make some furniture sales there Monday. The sun went down on us at Comanche, and we were not sorry, as it was a blazing orb that afternoon and right down the road. Not too good on our eyes, even with blinds.

So, it was after dark when we got in. Pulled out of Brownwood about nine-thirty Monday, had lunch at Snyder and home by three P. M. Are you still following?

The Proper Way To Store Eggs

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 16—If you can't drop an egg into the frying pan without breaking the yolk, perhaps you aren't storing the eggs correctly in the refrigerator.

There's a right and wrong way to store eggs in the refrigerator. And the right way, Myrtle Murray, extension home marketing specialist of Texas A. & M. College says is outstanding on the small end with the large end up.

Here's why. The large end contains an air cell just inside the shell. If this end is down, the air cell, causing the air cell to rise and gradually loosen the membrane. At the same time, the yolk, because it's heavier than the "white" part, rises from its normal position in the center of the egg to the top, or small end.

When the yolk floats to the top, it becomes attached to the membrane and may stick there. This is why it's often so hard to break egg-shells and drop the yolks out without breaking them.

Yolks in eggs stored large end up will remain in the center, and not float to the top where they'll stick to membrane.

Miss Murray says that 640 farm wives from 35 Texas counties re-

Income Tax Help For Small Businesses

Four informative pamphlets, designed to assist businessmen—particularly the so-called small businessman—in solving most of his tax problems, have just been released in El Paso by T. U. Purcell, District Manager for the Department of Commerce.

The pamphlets are titled—"Your Rights of Review When the Government Questions Your Income Tax Return"; "Small Business and the Declaration of Estimated Tax"; "Basic Tax Information for Small Business Enterprises"; and "How an Unincorporated Business May Convert a Net Operating Loss Into a Refund on Previous Years Income Taxes."

"All of these bulletins were prepared in the Commerce Department's Finance and Tax Division some with the cooperation of the Bureau of Internal Revenue—and all are written in plain, non-technical language," said Mr. Purcell.

port selling eggs on a grade basis directly to the customers. And the women guaranteed these eggs on their grade basis.

The way eggs candled before they are packed and marketed has quite a bit to do with maintaining their quality, too, she says.

A Fine Visit To Brown And Johnson Counties

delayed

Well, the Old He made something of a record last week. We had hardly been out of the house since January 1, yet we crawled in the old Chevy with the Mrs. and hit the road for Brownwood around 9:30 Friday A. M. And we stood the trip fine. Really, though, we would have been at the office cell. "They are intended to serve as guides for all the small operator who does not feel able to afford technical accounting or legal advice in preparing tax returns and to point out that tax litigation is not reserved for large corporations, which can afford high priced accountants and attorneys."

The pamphlets may be obtained free of charge, from the El Paso District Office of the Department of Commerce in the El Paso Chamber of Commerce Building.

Purcell also announced that his office received another shipment of the popular "Your Federal Income Tax—1948," published by the Bureau of Internal Revenue and designed to help solve most of the income tax problems of the average taxpayer. This booklet may be obtained from Mr. Purcell's office for 25c a copy.

some last week had there been no ice, but as weak and awkward as we were, it would have taken half the hands to get us in and out of the office. So, we just kept the little portable typewriter at home and hit some hot editorials and such like in high places.

By golly, if we get to feeling fit and fancy this fall, think will go down to Borden county and hunt 'possums. We saw at least two, maybe three dead ones in the road that had been run over by cars. If that many were killed accidentally, there must be some more in those mesquite thickets. Also saw one badger, but he was very much alive. The roads and fields were much dryer in the Snyder-Gail area than anywhere along the highway to Brownwood.

We have had a very jaded appetite of late so we decided to just get a hand-out at a drive-in at Abilene, together with a bottle of coke. The Mrs. took some kind of a sandwich, but we fell for—you guessed it—a hamburger. You know we relished that doggone hamburger better than all the nick-nacks that had been given us in the month that we were a shut-in. Maybe it was partly the drive—maybe it just hit the spot.

Between Abilene and Cross Plains there was more snow than we saw anywhere. In fact, there were pastures and fields this side of Cross Plains that the snow was still solid on the ground. Some

Boudreau Joins Top Money Men

Lou Boudreau, playing manager of the world champion Cleveland Indians, signs a new two-year contract as President Bill Veeck looks on happily. Exact terms of the contract were not revealed, but it is believed Boudreau will make about $65,000 a season, which puts him among baseball's top money-makers. At any rate, Boudreau said he was well satisfied with the healthy raise.

TEXANS IN WASHINGTON

By TEX EASLEY

AP Special Washington Service
Washington —(AP)—Probably the busiest office on Capitol Hill is that of Texas' new Senator Lyndon B. Johnson.

Hundreds of letters pour in daily from all parts of Texas, and as many as 2,000 on a single day have been received since he took oath Jan. 3. He has a staff of 16 employees to help him hew close to a self-set rule that every letter be answered within 24 hours.

Johnson took over the same three-room suite occupied by his predecessor, former Senator W. Lee O'Daniel, but he has rearranged things.

The large center room which served as a reception office for O'Daniel has now been taken over completely by Johnson's administrative assistant, John Connolly of Floresville, and the latter's own staff of stenographers and legislative trouble-shooters.

Among those in the latter unofficial category are Walter Jenkins of Wichita Falls, Glynn Stegall of Graham and Warren Woodward of Coleman. All experienced men in the ways of Washington, having served with the senator when he was a member of the House. They handle innumerable queries by getting on the telephone and contacting the proper federal officials.

Visitors enter the suite now in the smaller end room which heretofore was occupied by O'Daniel's secretaries and stenographers. Miss Mary Rather, formerly of Sugarland and Austin and for many years a secretary to Johnson, usually welcomes them.

When Miss Rather is engaged in other matters, Mrs. Dorothy Nichols, Jr., of Cotulla or Doris Seeliger of Lockhart may be the ones to welcome the visitors.

Behind a desk at the back of the reception room sits Horace Busby of Fort Worth, former Texas newspaper and radio man, who serves as Johnson's press relations official. He is the one to whom the reporters first go with their queries. If he can't supply the answers, or if for any reason the newsman wants to see the senator, he gets prompt admission into the inner sanctum.

An analysis of the huge volume of mail Johnson receives, says Busby, shows that more than half is from individuals asking for aid in their own personal problems which have a connection with the federal government. The remainder is largely from individuals expressing their views on matters such as pending labor or social security legislation.

Others on Johnson's staff include: Mrs. Henry Long, Lubbock; Mrs. Christine Moore, Dallas; Mrs. Goldie Ruth Brians, Bryan; Barbara Cunningham, Austin; Sarah Jones, Humble; Norman Heine, Lampasas; Bob Brill, Austin, and Walter Bayer, Dime Box.

Congress appropriates funds to pay for a senator's staff, and the amount each is allocated depends partly on the population of the state he represents. Every administrative assistant gets a fixed salary, which with a cost-of-living bonus approximates $10,000 annually. For the rest of his staff, Johnson receives about $56,000 yearly. Salaries range upward from approximately $250 monthly received by some of the stenographers.

AROUND THE CAPITOL

One of the most impressive receptions this winter in Washington was one given in honor of Speaker Sam Rayburn by Rep. and Mrs. Clark Thompson of Galveston. Numerous Cabinet members and others high in the government, including General Omar Bradley, attended.

Here visiting old friends and taking part in both pre-and-post inaugural activities has been Mrs. Beatrice Peebles Conlin of Dallas. Her husband, Maj. Paul Conlin, is on duty in Stuttgart. She returned from Germany recently with their two children, Emily and Harriet.

Former Dallas Mayor Frank W. Wozencraft and Mrs. Wozencraft, now residents of Washington, have just returned from New Haven, Conn. and a visit with their son Frank M. The son has been chosen editor of the Yale Law Review for the last half of the school year.

Gib Sandfer, former manager of the Hardin-Simmons University Cowboy band, is promoting a tour of the U. S. A. Air Force Band throughout the nation. He is writing to heads of civic organizations in various cities inquiring whether they wish to sponsor the Air Force band's appearance in their locality. Last year Sandfer managed a tour of the U. S. Navy band.

Austin Anson, manager of the Texas Citrus and Vegetable Growers and Shippers Association, testified in opposition to the 75 cents per hour minimum wage at the House Labor Committee hearing on the subject.

He started off his testimony by stepping up to the committee chairman and laying down grapefruit and a cabbage.

Then he started a graphic description of the output of Texas farms and citrus groves. Shipments from the state last year totaled 22,065 box cars of citrus and 48,106 cars of vegetables, and in addition, 20,314 cars equivalent by truck.

He said the proposed increase over the present 40 per cent minimum would have to be absorbed by either the grower or consumer.

Record food crops during 1948 have increased food supplies and improved the world food outlook. No slackening of consumer demand for food is in sight, unless the number on the pay check drops sharply this year.

For control of clothes moths, spray the entire surface of all closet walls, particularly around the baseboards and edge of the floor, at three-month intervals. Use 5 percent DDT in a stainless kerosene solvent.

Some Impressions On How Jesus Chose His Apostles

OF the 12 men whom Jesus called to special discipleship, He said, "Ye have not chosen Me, but I have chosen you."

These, whom we call "Apostles," and worthily so, were not Apostles at first. They were men from ordinary walks of life. There is no evidence that they were men of special education or training, though it is a great mistake to think of them as simple, or unlearned men.

The Jewish system of education, with schools attached to the synagogues and with the responsibility resting upon parents, assured the Jewish boy an education for his time and environment as sound as the average boy receives today. Their future work in the founding and leading of the Christian church made evident the training the disciples had in the Master's school and in His companionship. But they undoubtedly had some education when they responded to the Master's call.

Why, out of the many, did Jesus choose these particular men? We cannot answer that with full knowledge, but we can get some rather definite impressions, from the nature of the men, and the nature of the task to which Jesus called them.

It was not enough that they should be good men and well-intentioned. They must be good for the purpose for which Jesus chose them. They must be men of adventurous spirit, capable of endurance, men of ambition, willing to sacrifice everything for a cause and a worthwhile goal.

Jesus undoubtedly saw in them the makings of what they really became, and their achievement in the founding of the church justified His vision and His faith in them.

But what about Judas? Was Judas deceived in him? Or did Judas himself change? Of one thing we can be sure. The failure was not the Master's, but the failure of Judas. Jesus called him for what he might have been. But Judas failed to rise to the vision.

Jesus calls us all for what we may be. How much do we rise to His vision of us?

The problem of rabies control is one dealing with human beings. And the solution to this problem is one part science and 99 parts human relations.

Veterans' News

World War II veterans receiving education or training under the GI Bill are urged by the Veterans Administration to include name and address of their school or training establishment in all correspondence with VA.

This information should be included in addition to the clearly legible, complete name and address of the veteran and the extremely important claim number.

Student-veterans and job-trainees who follow this advice will expedite any action on their case by VA and avoid delays often caused by lack of sufficient information contained in correspondence from veterans.

Veterans Administration has conducted a training program for corrective therapists at the Winter VA hospital in Topeka, Kansas, to broaden their understanding of the needs and problems of neuropsychiatric patients.

The course—the sixth given for corrective therapy personnel in VA hospitals—was a joint program of the Division of Physical Medicine Rehabilitation of VA's Department of Medicine and Surgery, and the Division of Adjunctive Therapy of the Institute of Psychological Medicine.

Training programs previously were conducted at VA general medical and surgical hospitals in Richmond, Virginia; Hines, Illinois, and Los Angeles, Calif. Two previous courses also were held at the Topeka hospital.

Future training programs are planned for the Topeka VA hospital and for other general medical and surgical hospitals, to keep corrective personnel informed of the latest developments in their field.

GI QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q I am a World War II veteran. Is my wife eligible for treatment at a VA hospital?

A Not unless your wife is an ex-service woman. Dependents of veterans are not entitled to hospitalization under the VA.

Q I want to give the beneficiary of my NSLI the right of choosing, in the event of my death, either a lump sum settlement or any of the available monthly payment plans. If I designate no option, will she have this right?

A No. Payment in a lump sum may be designated only by the insured. However, if you provide for lump sum payment, she may have her choice of available plans.

Q The automobile furnished me by VA was totally wrecked in an unavoidable accident. Will VA give me another one?

A There is no provision under the law to provide more than one automobile to an eligible veteran. Q Must a disabled veteran go to a vocational school or may he go to a liberal arts college, a high school, or similar institutions under the Vocational Rehabilitation Act?

A He may enroll in any VA-approved educational institution or training establishment offering the course of training which Veterans Administration has found that he needs to insure his proper rehabilitation in line with his own desires.

Here's the Answer

Important To Watch Milk Source

AUSTIN.—As a safeguard against the serious and disabling disease known as undulant fever or Malta fever, Dr. Geo. F. Cox, State Health Officer, advises Texans to drink milk only from approved sources. Undulant fever is usually acquired by human beings as a result of consuming raw milk products from cows infected with Bang's disease.

Raw milk or raw milk products can be consumed with safety only when they are known to be produced by cows tested and found to be free of Bang's disease. Pasteurization, of course will kill the germs if present.

To assist in lowering the incidence of undulant fever all dairymen should remove cattle infected with Bang's disease from their herds as soon as the disease is discovered. Even if the milk is made safe for human consumption by pasteurization, infected cows are still a menace to health since they can transmit the disease to healthy animals and to their owner and

Tree Nursery Sought For West Texas

AUSTIN, Feb. 10.—Authorization of a West Texas tree nursery without provision of funds to establish or operate it is sought in a bill introduced in the 51st Legislature Wednesday by Representative Cox of Breckenridge.

The bill, designed to provide seedlings for West Texas farmers and ranchers, provides that the nursery be under the direction of the Texas Forest Service of Texas A & M College.

If the Legislature approves the measure, funds could be provided by future Legislatures to operate the nursery, which the bill dictates must be in West Texas.

other persons who handle them.

"Undulant fever from cattle," Dr. Cox said, "is one health hazard we can eradicate in our State through absolutely safe milk supplies from dairy herds free from Bang's disease."

"Unless a herd known to be free from this infection, only pasteurized milk should be used so that the disease cannot be passed on to the consumer of milk and dairy products."

Miss McIlroy Tells About Her Thrilling Trip To Mexico

(We are publishing below an account of Miss Danna Ruth McIlroy's trip to Mexico. Miss McIlroy was awarded the trip when she won the Harvest Holiday Queen Contest last October. Mr. Hiram Parks offered the trip as a prize and arranged for all of Miss McIlroy's sight-seeing and entertainment.)

By Danna Ruth McIlroy

Friday, Jan. 28:

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Parks, my mother, Mrs. T. H. McIlroy, and I left Brownfield, and drove to Eagle Pass where we spent our first night.

Saturday:

We crossed the border at Piedras Negras. Here we met the Mexican consul, Leopoldo de Sananogo, who personally took us through the inspection. We reached Monterrey that night. Here we visited the Coacabana night club.

Sunday:

We continued down the Pan-American highway to Valles where we spent the night. I noted the many orange groves that lined the road. The Mexican people we encountered along the way treated us with great friendliness.

Monday:

Today we drove through several ranges of mountains. The people here farm with practically no implements. Their farms lie on the steep sides of the mountains.

We reached Mexico City about 8:00 p.m. Here we had reservations at the Del Prado Hotel. This hotel has been built recently and is rated as the most modern and beautiful on the North American continent. Our lovely suite of rooms indicated that the hotel is surely not over-rated.

Mr. Salvador Osio, movie director and buyer and seller of Mexican films, a friend of Mr. and Mrs. Parks, and Roberta Contu, pressman and columnist for the Mexican paper, Novedades, met us here.

That night we dined at the night club, El Patio.

Tuesday:

We spent today on an overwhelming tour of the noted sight-seeing spots in Mexico City. We visited the National Palace, which contains many famous paintings by Diego Rivera, the renowned contemporary Mexican artist. From here we went to Chapultepec Park and made a tour of Chapultepec Castle, the palace that the Emperor Maximilian built. The palace is filled with a collection of magnificent furniture. We saw the Empress Carlotta's gold embossed state carriage, her elaborately appointed boudoir, and bath, with its tremendous marble tub.

After leaving Chapultepec we visited some of the old and new residential districts of the City; the famous Catholic Cathedral, market places, glass and silver factories, and finally the slums.

That night we had dinner at the Astoria night club.

Wednesday:

We were introduced to Mr. Buena, executive secretary of the consulate, who invited us to be his guests at the jai lai games. This afternoon we toured three movie studios, the Azteca, Ciosa, and Chienabusco. At one of the studios I was introduced to Tito Guizar, one of Mexico's most popular singing stars. His popularity extends to the United States where he has many fans. He appeared at the High School Auditorium in Lubbock last year, and told us that he would be back again this year.

Thursday:

Today we left Mexico City for a tour of notable spots in the surrounding countryside. We stopped at Huejatzingo, and visited the second oldest convent in Mexico. It was built by the Franciscan monks about 400 years ago. In Chalula, we saw some of the 365 churches that the conquering Spaniards made the Indians build, one for each day of the year.

Our next stop was Puebla, the great manufacturing city. From here we drove to Tehuacan where we had lunch at the Peniel Hotel, home of the famous Garci Crespo water. Leaving Tehuacan we went to the highest point in Mexico, a place 18,686 feet above sea-level, overlooking the beautiful Orizaba valley. From here we dropped down 4,000 feet to Forten de Las Flores, where we spent the night at the Ruiz Galinda Hotel.

As we entered the Hotel little flower girls put fresh flower leis around our necks. The Ruiz Galinda is famed the world over for its swimming pool which is covered daily with fresh orchids and gardenias. The hotel also has a bowling alley, tennis courts, and acres of beautiful flower gardens. That night we drove back to Mexico City.

Throughout our travels I am constantly impressed with the abundance of gorgeous fresh flowers. At each luncheon and dinner our table is beautifully decorated with colorful flowers. In the flower market you can buy a dozen roses, carnations, gladioli or lilies for three pesos, amounting to forty-five cents in our money.

Saturday:

This afternoon we attended the horse races. At night we attended the jai lai games as the guests of Mr. Buena. Our box at the Frantana, where the games were held, was decked with flowers. The jai lai games are fascinating. Jai lai is the fastest game in the world. It is played in pairs. The contestants of the game use a bat made of woven basket and attached to mit. This implement is used to strike the ball against a solid back stop. The balls move at such a high rate of speed that they can prove fatal if a contestant is hit.

Sunday:

This morning we visited the Museum of Fine Arts and here saw the remarkable glass curtain. This curtain is made of hundreds of panes of painted glass. Artificial lighting used behind the curtain creates the effects of lighting from early morning to sundown. The curtain is a landscape scene with two famous volcanoes in the background.

From the museum we went to Zochemilco, the world famed floating gardens. Here we rowed in a tiny boat named the Maria, through the mirrored colors of a million flowers.

We returned to Mexico City in the afternoon to see the bull fights, and I truly felt like a queen. I can only offer a thousand thanks and my gratitude and appreciation to all who made this trip possible for me. I particularly want to thank Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Parks, walls enclose the arena. One bull jumped the first enclosure, trapping himself between the walls. It took about 30 minutes to litter from early morning out. These bull fights, although they were in a sense gory, are the most magnificent spectacle I have ever seen, or can imagine seeing.

Monday:

Mother and I returned home by plane. Words cannot express the wonderful impressions this trip has left me with. We were treated royally, every place we visited, and I truly felt like a queen. I can only offer a thousand thanks and my gratitude and appreciation to all who made this trip possible for me. I particularly want to thank Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Parks,
