New Residences Are Being Built

Several beautiful new residences are under construction in Tahoka at this time. Calloway Huffaker is erecting a large new home out in the Roberts addition, southeast of the high school, which will be one of the nicest in town. The outside will be finished in Austin stone. Mrs. R. W. Fenton, Sr., is erecting a new cream-brick two bedroom home on North Fifth Street just west of the R. W. Fenton, Jr., home. Otis Spears, former High School principal, is erecting two nice four room houses which he will rent in the first block south of the High School. Neely Brooks is building a nice three bedroom home in the Roberts addition west of the high school. The new Clint Walker home in the same area is near completion, and likewise is one of the better homes being built at this time.

Congratulations

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Seale on the birth of a daughter weighing 7 pounds at 11:45 p. m. Tuesday, July 25. The little lady has been named Karen Sue.

Former Citizens Die In Wreck Near Seymour

Mr. and Mrs. James Madison (Jim) Kennedy of Lubbock, formerly of Lynn county, were killed, and their little daughter, Betty, age six, was critically injured, when their car and a big truck met head-on in the rain near Seymour Tuesday at about midnight. Mr. Kennedy is a son of Mrs. Jim Barister of Tahoka. They lived in the Redwine and New Lynn communities until a few years ago.

Funeral services for the couple will be held this afternoon, Friday, at 3 o'clock at Rix Funeral Home, Lubbock.

The three had left their home on Tahoka Highway, in the outskirts of Lubbock, at about 6 p. m., and were en route to Avery, where they were to visit Mrs. Kennedy's mother, Mrs. J. W. Dalby. He expected to go from there to Batesville, Arkansas, to visit a sister, Mrs. Opal Maberry.

The crash occurred about one mile northeast of Seymour. The Kennedy's 1937 Ford coach and a Miller & Miller Freight Line truck, driven by Robbie Joe Hudson, 25, of Wichita Falls, both drivers possibly blinded by the heavy rain, met head-on, with the impact on the right front of the car, indicating one of the drivers was on the wrong side of the road, investigating officers stated. Hudson was uninjured. Mrs. Kennedy, 37, died in.

Heavy Rains Visit County During Week

Rainfall in Tahoka during the past week has totaled 3.03 inches, two inches of which fell Saturday night and Sunday.

Friday night and Saturday morning, the rainfall amounted to .21 inches, Saturday night and Sunday 1.99, Monday .23, Monday night .10, and Tuesday night and Wednesday .40. No rain fell Wednesday night, but indications were Thursday morning that the rainy spell might not be over yet. All of Lynn county now has received sufficient moisture. In fact, most of the county has received far more than the farmers desire, and some sections have been flooded by much more rainfall than Tahoka has received. Most of the Draw area now has sufficient moisture, but missed the big rains.

Crop prospects over most of the county are reported to be about the finest ever. However, worms are present, and much poisoning will surely be necessary. Some farmers are already poisoning when they can get in the fields.

Two areas of the county last week received severe hail damage and a few farmers in each area were completely hauled out. One area is south and southwest of Wilson. The other is west of New Home.

Cotton now needs hot, dry weather again.

Elliott Oil Co. Adds Station

O. C. Elliott this week is expanding his Panhandle service station business by adding another station—the station at the corner of Sweet and Lockwood streets just north of the Keltner Hotel.

He will continue to operate the station south of the square on the O'Donnell Highway. The new station will be repainted, remodeled, and a new grease rack built.

Mr. Elliott has been in business here four years since his release from the service, and has built up a substantial wholesale and retail business.

Central Baptist Plans Revival

Revival services will begin at Central Baptist Church Sunday, July 30, and continue through Sunday, August 6. Two services will be held daily at 10 a. m. and at 8:30 p. m.

Pastor H. C. Yielding of the First Baptist Church of Rock Springs will do the preaching. Alton Webb of Gomez will direct the music.

Tahoka Paving Repairs Planned

Before the current Tahoka City paving program is completed, all holes, imperfect spots, and about 20 drainage problems will be corrected by the engineers and the contractor, Sam Sanders Construction Co., members of the City Council have informed The News.

These repairs will be made to both the new and the old paving. Several complaints have been registered with the Council, which body wishes the public to know such repairs will be made. Most of the bad places are being left purposely until all can be corrected at the same time.

Junior Teams Schedule Play

Last Sunday's scheduled Junior Baseball League games were rained out, and the teams have decided to end the league season play-off games this Sunday and Sunday of next week.

Sunday afternoon at 2 p. m. on the Jaycee field in Tahoka, Northside will play Southside for the right to meet New Home a week from Sunday. North and South have each won four and lost four games in League play, while New Home has won five and lost three.

Following close of the schedule, Lynn county will likely enter an all-star team in the Lubbock Junior Baseball tournament.

Evangelist Wessie Mickey of the North Side Church of Christ Fort Worth will preach at a 10-day meeting opening tonight at the Grassland Church of Christ. Services are at 8 o'clock each evening.

Immediately following the Grassland meeting, he will preach at a 10-day meeting, beginning August 13, at the Tahoka Church of Christ, according to Ernest West, local minister.

The evangelist has held successful meetings at Levelland, and for several years was minister of the Odessa Church of Christ.

The public is invited to the services of both meetings in Lynn county.

Laylan McMahon, a Sophomore in Wayland College, is leading the song services in a revival meeting being held at Sparenburg Baptist Church this week. Laylan is the son of Mrs. Loyce McMahon of Tahoka.

Five Run-Offs Are Necessary In State Contests

Texas cast over a million votes—about 1,060,000—Saturday in a more or less colorless State Democratic Primary election.

Governor Allan Shivers, who succeeded to the office on the death of Gov. Beauford Jester on July 11, 1949, was easily elected to a full term, receiving 804,270 votes. His nearest competitor among the six opponents was Caso March, who received only 190,687.

There were about 10,000 votes yet to be reported Wednesday.

Pierce P. Brooks of Dallas, making his fourth race for a state office, led the ticket in the race for Lieutenant Governor with 210,207 votes, but Ben Ramsey of San Augustine county was not far behind with 183,026. There were 12 candidates in the race, and Representative Preston E. Smith of Lubbock failed to make the run-off, though much of West Texas backed him with a substantial vote.

Youthful John C. White of Wichita Falls, former student in Texas Tech, went into the run-off against the veteran incumbent.

Treasurer's Race Two Precincts Require Run-Offs

Lynn county citizens turned out 2,900 strong last Saturday in the Democratic Primary election to vote in several hot district, county, and precinct races.

Sam Houston Garrard, young attorney, defeated the veteran B. P. Maddox, present incumbent, for the office of county attorney by five votes. Garrard received 1398 votes to Maddox's 1393.

Sheriff Roland W. (Slick) Clem, seeking a second term, was re-elected without a run-off being necessary. He received 1585 votes, while Charlie F. Wells got 1014, and A. L. (Allie) White, 281.

County Judge Tom Garrard carried Lynn county 1585 to 1286 in his race for District Judge, but Louis B. Reed of Limasa, the present incumbent, won the race in the district.

J. E. (Red) Brown, recently appointed to the office of Tax Assessor and Collector, won the nomination for a full term to the office over Marvin J. Munn, the vote being 1736 to 1080.

A run-off will be necessary to name a new County Treasurer, the leading candidates being Thomas (Tom) Reid and Mrs. P. A. (Opal) Nowlin. Reid received 1218 votes, Mrs. Nowlin 912, and Mrs. Tommy Lishman 695.

Run-offs are also necessary to name two Commissioners, precinct 1 and precinct 3.

In Precinct 1, E. J. Cooper, the present incumbent, received 389 votes but was led by Clarence Church of Wilson, who received 429. P. K. Fleming was the loser having received 218.

In precinct 3, C. W. Roberts of Grassland won the nomination for Commissioner without a run-off, receiving 399 votes to 297 for the present incumbent, Willis Pennington, and 24 for Samie Norwood.

The new Gulf service station completed last week on Main Street just north of the Pik & Pak store was opened for business the first of this week.

Paul Pittman, who has been operating the Gulf station at Sweet and Lockwood streets, is the operator of the business in the new location.

A beautiful new tile and stucco building, complete with a wash and grease department, store room, office, and rest rooms has been erected for the business. The building and equipment is modern in every respect.

Thokha Colored Boy Scouts will have a special vesper service at the Negro Church Thursday night, August 3, to which the public is invited.

Jesse Lee Lawson is Scoutmaster of the new Negro troop here.

Go To Church Sunday.

By BILL STRANGE, JR.

A lady lecturer made a statement that should be as interesting as a bargain sale to all our charming feminine readers, especially those with progeny. The lady said, "Even if she has five children, a wife should look the same before breakfast as she did when she was dressed for a date before she was married." So break out the formals, and show Papa and the kids you've still got more glamour than a travel folder on Tahiti. We would like to guess that the lecturer doesn't have five children, and if her words are taken seriously there are going to be a lot of late breakfasts.

It is complained that "hello" on the telephone is meaningless. Still it commits you to nothing, especially if you say it in a disguised voice. There's no disguising in this fact: Your present car may have to do you for a long time to come. Treat it to the best maintenance service. Lives Of 60 Texans Saved

AUSTIN, July 27. —An even 60 Texans were alive at the end of June because of the Texas Highway Patrol's way against speeders. That figure represents the number of less lives lost in traffic accidents during that month than in May.

Walter J. Elliott, Chief, of the Texas Department of Public Safety's Patrol Division, reported today that his men filed more arrests for speeding during June than in any previous one-month period in the history of the organization. In that 30-day month, Patrolmen spread a total of 3,390 speeding charges on the arrest records of the state, thereby bringing to, at least, a temporary halt the continuing upward trend of traffic fatalities which has been noted each month since the beginning of the year.

Colonel Homer Garrison, Jr., Director of the State Safety Department, points to the 146 traffic victims of June and calls attention to the fact that this is a decrease of 19 over the same month of 1949. And referring to the fact that June was the first month of this year which showed a decrease he attributed it to the all-out directive issued by Chief Elliott to his men to "bear down" on the speeders.

"Speeding," Garrison stated, "accounted for the largest proportion of the 11,724 cases of all types filed during June by members of the Texas Highway Patrol."

He further stated that members of the Patrol filed 733 D. W. I. cases and 878 passing violation cases during the same period. The average rate of convictions in all traffic offenses was about 95 per cent he said.

"WILD BILL" ELLIOTT TO APPEAR AT EACH OF FOUR PERFORMANCES OF RODEO BIG SPRING, July 27.—Special attraction at the 17th annual Big Spring Rodeo, slated for August 2-3-4-5, will be the appearance of the popular star of movie westerns, "Wild Bill" Elliott.

Elliott will make a personal appearance at all four of the Big Spring shows, slated for 8:15 each evening.

He will have two mounts here with him—Stormy Night, which he rides in the grand entry, and Thunder, used in an act, in which Elliott calls on children from the audience for help.

Elliott has been the daring hero of scores of popular western films, having appeared as the original "Red Ryder" of the movies.

His act will be one of several specialties at the Big Spring show which will be marked by the formal opening of a brand-new, all-concrete, bowl-type arena, located west of the city near the airport entrance. The new arena seats 7,500, is below natural level to minimize wind and dust, and has not a post or pillar to obstruct view from any seat.

Mrs. Ann Poling, 609 Delaware St., Indianapolis, Indiana, who was suffering from deficiencies of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron, and Niacin, smiles as she pours herself another cup of coffee. Mrs. Poling says life lately is like it used to be years ago... "that is, of course, since I've been taking HADACOL." She can't get over what a difference HADACOL has made in her outlook on life.

Mrs. Poling says: "Three months ago a good friend of mine told me about HADACOL—she knew how much stomach distress I had had. Any type of food that was fried or that had acid in it I just couldn't eat. It affected my sleep, too. In fact, I couldn't have been in a worse condition. When I ate what I wanted to I felt miserable and when I didn't eat these things—I didn't have a proper diet and still felt bad. Then when I started taking HADACOL, I felt better immediately. I've got a bottle in the house now—and will continue to keep HADACOL from now on. I have told many folks about HADACOL—and they all thank me for telling them about HADACOL. They all have gotten wonderful results from HADACOL like I have. Now I eat anything I want and get a good night's sleep. I can't praise HADACOL enough."

HADACOL Can Help You, Too!... as it has helped thousands of others whose systems lacked Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin. Yes, even hundreds of doctors have recommended HADACOL to their patients. The HADACOL formula is so effective for stomach distress, nervousness, insomnia, constipation, aches and pains of neuritis, and a general run-down condition caused by such deficiencies.

Make Up Your Mind... to give HADACOL a chance to help you, as it has helped countless thousands of others. Remember, there are no substitutes for HADACOL. Always insist on the genuine HADACOL. No risk involved. Buy a bottle of HADACOL, either the trial size, $1.25 or the large family or hospital size, $3.50, and if HADACOL does not help you your money will be refunded.

Newly Remodeled D & H Super Market To Give Away Freezer

Celebrating the opening of the new remodeled and redecorated Tahoka store, D & H Super Market, formerly operated under the name Davis & Humphries, will give away free to some visitor a new 7 1/2 foot Philco Upright Freezer. The presentation will be made at 8 p. m.

During the past few weeks, workmen have been busy enlarging, redecorating, and rearranging the large store and installing new equipment.

The floor space has been enlarged from 4,000 square feet to 5,500 square feet. The meat department has been moved to the back of the store, the vegetable department moved to the east side, a drug department installed, and a number of other features added.

The vegetable department has a refrigerated rack 40 feet long.

There is a 10-foot dairy box, and 16 feet of frozen food cases. All of these extend down the east wall.

The market, now in the rear, has 26 feet of closed market box and 16 feet of self-service racks.

The drug department is conveniently located near the front. New center fixtures out and out have been installed. Wall shelves have been rearranged and redecorated.

Walls, ceilings, and all old fixtures retained have been tastefully redecorated, with a harmonizing color scheme of chartreuse, duobonnet, yellow, grey, and tan. New streamlined lighting fixtures have been installed. Harmonizing Venetian blinds were also installed.

Also, a second air conditioner was installed to better cool the building.

Travis Shelton Is Elected District Attorney, Lubbock

Travis Shelton, formerly of Tahoka, was elected last Saturday as district attorney of the 72nd Judicial District, which comprises Lubbock, Cochran, Hockley, and Crosby counties, by a two-to-one margin over C. L. Harris, former legislator.

Travis was born at Dixie, a twin of Mrs. Avis (Buck) Buchanan, their parents being Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Shelton of this city. He attended school at Wilson and Tahoka, graduating here in 1939. After spending three years in Texas Tech, he entered the service and was overseas 22 months with the Coast Guard. He graduated from the University Law School in January, 1949, and opened a law office in Lubbock. Almost immediately, he was appointed assistant county attorney, which position he filled until he resigned to run for district attorney.

The outside of the building has been repainted, and new and attractive signs painted thereon in keeping with the new name, D & H Super Market. Davis & Humphries, owners of the business operate 18 other stores in Lubbock and over the South Plains, and own and maintain a large warehouse which serves them all. C. W. Conway is local manager of the store in Tahoka. Jack Daniel is assistant manager, and Olin Buff is market manager. Other employees include: Willie Garrett and Judy Riddle, market; Bobby McMillan, produce; Joe Harvick, checker; Louis Cowan, stocker; and Charles Hyles and Jerry Stephens.

Bill Proposing Cut In West Texas Cotton Acreage Discussed By Smith

Wilmer Smith of New Home, who recently made a trip to Washington, D. C., along with others from the South Plains, seeking to keep the cotton acreage allotment in this section from being cut, has given The News further information on the bill.

The bill discriminates against West Texas, and the 19th Congressional District stands to lose about 355,000 acres of cotton if it is enacted. Down-state Congressmen are for the bill, since they stand to gain by West Texas' loss in acreage.

Congressman George Mahon is doing everything possible to secure elimination of the features which would hurt his district.

Incidentally, The News stated last week that the bill had passed the House of Congress. Mr. Smith says the bill was approved by the House Agriculture Committee, and was scheduled to come up in the House this week.

The part of H. R. 9109 that will have the most far-reaching effect in West Texas, should it pass, is that part which deals with allotments based on the history of cotton in the county.

The bill states, in part: "For the purpose of computing future county allotments in any State which received a 1950 State acreage allotment in excess of three million acres (which could mean only Texas), the 1950 cotton acreage history for the county shall be deemed to be the larger of the 1950 county acreage allotment or the acreage which would have been allotted to the county in 1950 if the State acreage allotment, without deduction for a state reserve, had been apportioned to the counties on the basis of the acreage to cotton (including the acreage regarded as planted to cotton under Public Law 12, Seventy-ninth Congress) during the years 1945, 1946, 1947, and 1948."

(which could only mean such counties as those in this area, as they are the only ones to which the rule applies.) This portion of the bill was written solely to penalize many West Texas and South Plains counties, because our acreage was large enough when determining the 1950 acreage allotment, to cause us to fall under the "California Gadget," or to be determined by the 1947 and 1948 history. When the 1952 acreage allotment is determined, we will be given credit for our 1950 allotment, but the increase granted to other sections of Texas will cause our percentage of the Texas acreage to be much smaller and our acreage must also be smaller. This will not only apply to the year 1952, but to the 4 years following, which makes the bill seem even more vicious and discriminating to those who realize the full effect of said bill, if enacted.

Mrs. King Was
Pioneer of Plains

With the passing of Mrs. Sophie Jerkins King, who died at the family home here July 12, Lynn county lost another of its pioneer citizens.

Mrs. King and her husband, the late George W. King, who died in 1925, came to Tahoka in 1905.

According to a son, Ben C. King of Lamesa, Mr. King operated a hardware store on the site now occupied by Cathcart's Texaco station, which he later sold to Hall Robinson.

Then, with the coming of the railroad in 1910, he bought a livery stable located on lots in the block occupied by Magnolia Service, Tahoka Bakery, and Tahoka Auto Supply. He also operated a bus line between the depot and town, with Ben usually driving the team-drawn bus. He retired following sale of the business in the middle 'teens.

Sophie King Montgomery was born December 25, 1867, in Lexington, Kentucky. She came to Tarrant county, Texas, with her parents in about 1882. She was baptized in the Church of Christ at the age of 16, and remained a faithful member until her health failed. She was married to Mr. King in 1884, and they moved to Wilbarger county the next year.

In 1891, the Kings moved to Floyd county, where they ranched in the old Mayshaw community, about nine miles north of Floydada. While living there, Mrs. King drove the mail hack from Mayshaw up to Curlew, near the northwest corner of Motley county and near the old JF ranch pasture. They came from Floyd county to Tahoka in 1905.

Mrs. King was semi-bedfast for over six years prior to her death, but she never lost her courage. She greatly enjoyed the loyalty of many friends who paid her frequent visits.

In addition to the sons and daughters and one brother, Enoch Montgomery of Bessie, Okla., all mention last week, the following were here for the funeral: Mrs. Guy King, Jake King, Mrs. W. D. Nevejs, Mrs. Edna Wilson, Mrs. Dutch Wington, all of Lubbock; Mrs. Rose Norton, Temple; Mrs. Clara Montgomery, Miss Betty Montgomery, and Commie Montgomery, all of Knox City; Mrs. Pinkerton, Don Inman, and Mrs. Speck Miller, all of Lamesa; and Miss Jessie Montgomery of Bessie, Okla.

Pallbearers were: W. E. Smith, Fred McGinty, Louie Weathers, Tom Garrard, W. V. McElroy, and Truett Smith.

Sec. 2 The Lynn County News Sec. 2

TAHOKA, TEXAS,

FRIDAY, JULY 28, 1950

Odds and Ends

(By E. I. The Elder)

Nearly every West Texan, we guess, loves to see flowing water, except on rare occasions. I like to see it, even, flowing down the streets of Tahoka and over the farmers fields, especially when it is needed. When I was a kid I liked to see the little creek "get up" that flowed down through my father's farm, and nothing thrilled me more than to see the old Leon on a rampage, as I have seen it near Moffat and Belton.

Well, the other day my sister Mary and I had occasion to go down to one of the bridges that span the Brazos here in Waco and to our surprise we found that the river was "on a rise." We just stood for awhile at the edge of the bridge and looked over the rail watching the turbid but not tumultuous water flowing almost serenely and almost silently beneath us and rolling relentlessly onward toward the sea. The banks were about half full, I judge, and the distance from water's edge to water's edge, roughly measured, was about 336 feet. Evidently it was carrying a lot of rich soil down to the gulf.

That vast volume of water came from heavy rains, we judged, that had recently fallen possibly about Mineral Wells, Graham, Seymour, and other localities up the various streams that form the Brazos. I wondered if any of it could have come from Lynn and Lubbock and Hale and other South Plains counties; well, not much of it, I guess, if any.

But whether any of that water came from the South Plains or not, it is true that all the water that comes down the Running Water Draw through Plainview and on down off the Caprock near the southwest corner of Crosby county and all the water that comes down off the Caprock near the southeast corner of Lynn county forming the Double Mountain Fork of the Brazos River that passes down by Justiceburg, and all the water of the Clear Fork that forms in Scurry and Fisher counties and comes on down by Lueders and old Fort Griffin and thence on eastward to join the water of all the other prongs of the Brazos at Possum Kingdom Lake—all these waters do sooner or later find their way down to Waco and pass under the bridge on which we stood the other day. Many a gallon of Lynn county water must have passed under this very bridge, for it was built in 1869, being opened for traffic in January 1870. The bridge is 475 feet long and was erected at a cost of $130,000. It is a suspension bridge, and it is claimed that when erected it was the longest single-span suspension bridge in the world. Though eighty years old, it is still being used, although a much newer and expensive bridge now bears the burden of traffic.

As I stood on this bridge and mused a bit, it occurred to me that while water which fell in the Grassland, Redwine, and Draw communities might be passing at that very moment under that bridge, it might also be true that water from the same rain-cloud falling southeast of O'Donnell at Tredway and in Tobacco Draw would pass down into and through—Borden county in channels which converge in that county to form the Colorado River, which water would pass on down through Colorado City, Robert Lee, Ballinger, and on into and through Buchanan Lake and at that very moment might be flowing under the big bridge across the Colorado River in the city of Austin. Whether that were so or not, part of the heavy rain-falls that visit these neighboring communities in Lynn, Dawson, and Borden counties does go down the Brazos River and part of it down the Colorado.

It is also interesting to note that while these two river courses diverge widely as they leave the Plains, their lower courses converge again, and they flow into the Gulf of Mexico at points only 40 miles apart.

The Brazos goes into the Gulf at a group of towns which are separately incorporated but in reality constitute a single community, namely, Freeport, Velasco, Lake Johnson and several others, containing a rapidly growing population, which may soon become a real city. Only forty miles down the coast, the Colorado empties its waters into Matagorda Bay at the little town of Matagorda.

Not long ago, in one of my contributions to this Column, I speculated a bit as to how the Waco or Huaco Indians happened to start a village on the banks of the Brazos at this place. Well, I made a pretty good guess but find that I missed the mark a little.

After that contribution was published I got to browsing around in my sister's library one day and ran across a little booklet entitled "HIGHLIGHTS OF WACO HISTORY" written by Roger Norman Conger and printed by the Hill Printing & Stationery Company of Waco. I read it through and found that it was filled with interesting information, but there were a few points that needed to be cleared up. Not knowing Mr. Conger, I went occurred to me that he might be related to the Goddards and some of the Edwardes out in our country. Any way he impressed me as a very courteous and accommodating gentleman.

I went to see Mr. Conger that very afternoon. When I told him my business, he enthused mightily and proceeded to talk volubly and most interestingly about the Waco Indians, their village, and the starting of the white man's city here.

In my Column I had alluded to the Waco or Huaco Indians as a peace-loving tribe who possibly had taken refuge at the Springs on the river here from the warlike Comanche or other hostile tribes; had found shelter here, liked the place, and stayed. I stated that I had no idea how long they had been here when white settlers began to come in—traders first, and then permanent settlers.

Well, from Mr. Conger and his book, I learned that the Waco Indians had been here a long time, and that they were not a peace-loving tribe, as I had heard, but were a war-like people. By long and intensive research, study and authentic information of many kinds gathered from many sources, Mr. Conger learned the facts set forth in his book, from which we can quote only skimpily although he consented for me to quote as freely as I might desire.

"The waterways of this country were always the preferred locations for the towns and villages of the Indians and the location at Waco was ideal. Fish and game of every kind were plentiful. More important still were the springs of crystal water gushing forth at the site of Waco village. An early writer has said that the Waco Indians had an almost superstitious veneration for the big spring on the Brazos and had a legend that as long as they drank of its waters their tribe would flourish and never become extinct.

Near the Waco village to the eastward resided the Tehuacans, and a short distance to the southwest lived the Tonkawa tribe. The Wacos and Tehuacans remained at peace with one another and banded together in mutual defense against the fierce Comanche, Kiowas, and Apaches, who lived farther west but were well-nigh perpetually on the war path. While the Wacos obtained their living principally from hunting and fishing, they also cultivated small patches of corn and garden and lived in comparatively permanent dwellings built of poles and thatch.

They were much more aggressive and war-like than their Tehuacans and Tonkawa neighbors, and in the days of the pioneer settlements they contributed their own share of theft and murder. In 1841, Dr. Robert C. Hill, then dean of Texas geologists and a prominent historian as well, made the declaration that in his belief Waco was the oldest city in America, basing his opinion on the description of a village given by a Spaniard named Moscoso who had visited the region in 1541. He thought that the village described was the original Waco Indian village. But, whether that opinion is well founded or not, it is evident that Waco village was founded many, many years before the coming of the white man.

During the long years of Spanish occupation of the Southwest, the Spaniards made many expeditions over the country, Conger states, and the records indicate that the Wacos "did not take kindly the advances of the Spaniards and harried their expeditions, forts, and missions on several different occasions. The Wacos from the village at the big spring, and kinsmen from another Waco village farther up the Brazos, were participants in the destruction in 1749 of the Spanish Fort at Taovays on Red River, Montague county. They were also party to an Indian assault near that same time upon the Spanish Mission of San Saba near the present city of Menard.

It was early in the year of 1801 that the village of the Wacos was chanced upon by a bold party from the young Union in the East. This was the notorious Phillip Nolan and his band of adventurers and traders. He established his camp somewhere on the Brazos and some historians claim that it was at or near Waco village. At any rate, on March 22, 1801, a body of 200 Spaniards attacked his camp, and Phillip was killed at or near Waco village. During the years of colonization of Texas, the Waco Indians became increasingly aggressive. They rode constantly on horse-stealing raids against the settlements and were accused of occasional murders of white wayfarers.

Later, in the eighteen-twenties, the Wacos received an all but mortal blow from a large band of Cherokees who moved into the Waco region ahead of the white frontier, bringing Negro slaves, considerable other property, and a rather civilized form of agriculture. They pitched their settlement on the east bank of the Brazos opposite the big spring set upon the Wacos fiercely, and in just a few months succeeded in driving them entirely away to the westward. These Cherokees took up their farming in the fertile Brazos valley but kept jealous watch over the Waco spring, and sniped constantly at parties of Indians or whites who chanced to stop there for refreshment. They were finally driven out by a company of Texas Militia.

The first white settlement in the vicinity of Waco came in 1844, when a young Connecticut yankee named George Barnard, 26 years of age, established an Indian trading post in the bottoms of Tehuacana Creek, about eight miles south of Waco Spring. He brought in a stock of goods and also dealt in hides, dressed and undressed, hides of deer, bear, raccoons, foxes, beavers, bobcats, and panthers, also buffalo hides and robes. He did a thriving and successful business. He treated the Indians fairly as they drifted back in small numbers and won their friendship. White settlers by this time were also pouring in.

In 1848, Capt. George B. Erath, who had learned surveying surveyed out a plot of the original town of Waco, in the midst of which was a public square in 1849 and 1850, and the county of McLennan was organized with Waco as the county seat in the latter year.

Now, what I wanted to find out from friend Conger was the exact site of the old Waco Indian village and the location of the Big Spring and sometimes called the Waco Spring, near which the Waco Indian village was built. I had asked quite a number of people and some of them said it was up in Cameron Park and some said it was the spring in the little park below the old suspension bridge. Erath's survey of the original town of Waco was at the west end of this bridge with the square a couple of blocks further west.

The latter site had been recognized by the Daughters of the American Revolution as the proper site and a monument had been erected by that organization at that place in 1917 bearing the following inscription:

"Created by Henry Downs Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution 1849—May 5, 1917, Reestablishing the Waco Spring Famed in Local Tradition as the Camping Grounds of the Waco Indians and the first crossing of the Brazos River."

But Historian Conger says that this was not the spring at which the Waco Indians built their village. He declares that the correct location of the spring and the Waco Indian village was some six blocks west and about the same number of blocks north of the suspension bridge park. That spring no longer exists. It was dried up, Conger says, by the numberless artesian wells which were drilled in Waco many years ago, giving it the name of the "Geyser City." The spring failed and most of the wells themselves ran dry in the course of time, and just a very few of the wells are still functioning. The real site of then ancient Indian village remains unmarked.

It was on a visit to the spring in the little park just south of the bridge that we walked across the Brazos on this bridge and watched the water roll beneath us on toward Marlin and the Gulf.

And the spring in the park near by is still there. It was encased in a rock wall on three sides years ago, and stone steps lead down to the cool, clear water gushing out into a little well and then gurgling its way on down to the great stream of water below.

We also drove up to the site of the real Indian village as located by Mr. Conger and stood where the Indian Squaws sat and sang their lullabies to their little papooses for countless years before the white man took over in the 1840's.

What a stepper!

Just hint to the gas pedal and she steps out like no other low-priced car. And that's true whether you're driving a Ford V-8 or "Six". But this high-stepper is a low spender when it comes to costs. You can own a V-8, for example, for hundreds less than most "Sixes"—and a Ford "Six" for even less.

What a stopper!

This '50 Ford actually helps you apply the brakes. They're 35% easier-acting King-Size Brakes that use car momentum to help you stop. Like Ford's extra-rugged "Lifeguard" Body, they give you the kind of protection you'd expect only of costliest cars. And for added safety and comfort, you ride low and level in the "Mid Ship" section of the car, between the wheels—not over them. You're cradled in comfort on "Hydra-Coil" front springs and "Para-Flex" rear springs that give a road-bugging smoothness truly amazing.

What a looker!

Yes, again in '50, Ford received the Fashion Academy Gold Medal as "Fashion Car of the Year." And Ford's stay good looking because their baked-on finish is "made to live outdoors." That means high resale value which, together with Ford's low running costs, puts Ford further out front as America's savingest car.

For Honors Earned

FOR HONORS EARNED in serving the people of Tahoka, Southwestern Life Insurance Company pays tribute to Mrs. Gladys M. Stokes, who in the past year has gained professional distinction by qualifying for:

- 1. Membership in the Leaders' Round Table of Texas, honor group of the Texas Association of Life Underwriters, limited to those who meet all of the exacting requirements of that organization.
2. The National Quality Award, granted by The National Association of Life Underwriters and the Life Insurance Agency Management Association to all agents whose service to the public has been deemed superior.

Southwestern Life, now in its 48th year of service to the people of Texas, is proud that it can offer to Texans an agency force without a superior.
