Pirates Play West Oso For District Championship

With victories knotted at one for each team, the Rockport-Fulton High School Pirates were scheduled to play West Oso for the district basketball championship at 8 p.m. Tuesday, February 18 at Ray High School gym in Corpus Christi.

Unfortunately, it was impossible to publish the result of the game in this week's Pilot since the paper was being printed about the time the game was starting.

Following is an account of the first two playoff games:

Pirates Stop West Oso Bears

You might think that with a couple of players who stand 6-4, Rockport would have done a lot of scoring under the basket.

But if that's what West Oso thought Tuesday night, February 11, it was mistaken. Instead, Rockport used an effective outside shooting game to post a 64-49 win over the Bears in the opener of the District 15-3A basketball playoffs.

The Pirate's two big men, John Brasher and Mike Lyons, might as well have been late suiting up for the game because guard Scott Gillis connected enough from the 20-foot range on set shots to heap plenty of damage on West Oso. For the night, Gillis led all scorers with 22 points and got his long distance message across to the Bears with 11 field goals in 20 attempts.

Rockport built an early 20-6 lead on five shots from not less than 15 feet. Those came from guard Robert Crabb and forward Johnny Rios. Then, in the second quarter, Gillis went to work. He stationed himself at a 45-degree angle from the bucket and let loose with five straight field goals from about 20 feet.

Despite a poor shooting efficiency, West Oso stayed close, thanks to the play of Richard Brodie and Frankie Davis.

But the start of the third quarter spelled disaster for the Bears. With Rockport leading only 26-25, Brasher and Gillis each scored once and Rios came through twice to open the bulge to 34-25 before West Oso realized the situation. The Bears never got closer than five points after that.

West Oso's largest problem was its own shooting. The Bears' best quarter was the second when they hit six of 19 for 31 per cent. For the game they were a terrible 18 of 72 for 25 per cent.

On the other hand, Rockport was 31 of 62 for the game for an even 50 per cent. In the second half the Pirates were specially hot with 18 field goals on 28 attempts, a 64 per cent clip.

The second game of the series was played Thursday, February 13 at Moody beginning at 8 p.m.—Callers-Times—

Application From Sinton Wins Praise

The City of Sinton has drawn strong praise from state officials for being first with the best in the field of community development applications.

At a quarterly meeting of the Texas Municipal League Dist. 11 last week Jerry Arterburn said the Sinton application was "the most personalized" one submitted to the governor's office. Arterburn is special assistant to the director of state planning and development.

Most applications tended to be formal and stiff, but not Sinton's, Arterburn stated. For an example, he displayed a colored map which indicated the condition of all housing in the San Patricio County city.

He brought congratulations from Gov. Dolph Briscoe on Sinton being the first city to apply and qualify for community development money.

Carper presented Finis Jolly of San Antonio, area director for the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, with a certificate naming him an honorary citizen of Sinton.

The delegates decided to hold their next quarterly meeting in Port Lavaca. That meeting will be at a date to be determined later, probably in May.

Carper and Mayor Walter S. Falk of Rockport cosponsored the meeting Thursday night.

The Texas Municipal League Region II rejected 17-7 a Corpus Christi proposal calling for a form of state utilities regulation.

Many of the members complained because copies of the resolution were not presented to them prior to the meeting here.

The vote was on a motion by Corpus Christi Mayor pro tem James Acuff to back suggestions on utility regulation presented to the group by Houston Mayor Fred Hofheinz.

The election will be held April 5 and the deadline for filing as a candidate is March 5.

The following positions will appear on the ballot: Place 1 in the Rockport Area, incumbent Jan Wendell; Place 2 in the Rockport Area, incumbent Gary D. Smith; Place 5 in the Fulton Area, incumbent Otis Mundine; Place 6 in the Fulton Area, vacant position, one year unexpired term.

All the incumbents, Wendell, Smith, and Mundine have announced for re-election.

Boyce Laqua, Jr., a member of Rockport Pirates Band, providing music for Arbor Day celebration, January 17, was incorrectly listed as Boyce Lockwood.

The Rockport Home and Garden Club apologizes for this mistake in name spelling.

Navigation Board Meets

The Board of Navigation and Canal Commissioners met in regular session February 11, 1975 at the District's office at 7:30 p.m. with Chairman Richard J. Fox presiding. Present were Commissioners R.W. Landrum, David Maguigin, Hal B. McKnight and Harbor-master B.C. DeForest. Commissioner Brown and Attorney David Connery were absent.

Also present at the meeting was W.S. Coaker. Minutes of January 7, 1975 regular meeting were read and approved. Treasurer's Report was reviewed and placed on file. Monthly bills were approved and checks signed.

Jim Frazier of Porter and Frazier, Certified Public Accountants, presented the interim financial statements.

Coaker appeared before the Board to request leasing property at the East end of North Street. The matter was tabled until further verification as to ownership is determined.

Mrs. Rosemary Wolbrecht was granted an extension of her lease at Cove Harbor.

Approval was given for payment of the following invoices: 1) Membership dues to Gulf Intracoastal Canal Association.

2) Membership dues to Coastal Bend Council of Governments.

3) Fire and Extended Coverage on the Shell Shop.

4) Vehicle Insurance Coverage.

Membership in the Texas Ports Association and the Texas Water Conservation Association was tabled.

Harbor-master B.C. DeForest gave a progress report on harbor and property maintenance.

There being no further business, the meeting adjourned.

Chemist Talks To Rotarians

Jack Dittmar, chief chemist of Briner Paint Manufacturing Co. of Corpus Christi, was the speaker at the Rotary Club luncheon meeting last week at Ramada Inn.

He discussed causes of corrosion along the Gulf Coast, such as high humidity, high winds, nearness to salt water, and presented a film which demonstrated the use of anti-corrosion paint.

Dittmar is a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh and has been employed in the paint industry in various parts of the country for 24 years.

Experience includes formulation and research in surface coatings, direction of laboratory in research in industrial coatings, technical service and surveys.

He is past chairman of NACE, Corpus Christi, member of the Houston Society for Paint Technology, educational chairman NACE, Corpus Christi, and holds a vocational teachers certificate from the Department of Vocational Education, State of Texas.

He has lectured at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, University of Missouri, Rolla, various NACE and Society of Paint Technology meetings.

He is Scoutmaster of Troop 281 Rockport, a Southwest Football Officials Association football official, and works with the U.S. Marine Corps in their TOYS for TOTS program, and is active in National Association of Corrosion Engineers.

Fire Destroys Callico Home

Despite valiant efforts by members of the Rockport and Fulton Volunteer Fire Departments, the Callico home at 102 Perch Lane in Copano Cove burned to the ground Sunday night.

No one was in the home at the time of the blaze and no injuries were reported. Cause of the fire was undetermined.

Firemen battled the flames for over three hours before bringing the fire under control, and they were aided by neighbors who pitched in and helped.

It was a tribute to the firemen that the fire was prevented from spreading to other structures in the area.

Three Cases in District Court

Three criminal cases were disposed of in District court Monday, with District Judge John Miller presiding.

In the first, a trial by jury, Pablo Riojas, Sr., was charged with aggravated assault on Antonio Rodriguez. The jury found him guilty of simple assault. Judge Miller sentenced Riojas to six months in the county jail.

In the second case, heard by Judge Miller, John Koenig, Richard Graff and Robert Cochrel pled guilty to theft of property valued at over $200 but less than $10,000. The judge sentenced them to three years in the penitentiary but probated the sentence and ordered restitution of $600 from each of the defendants.

In the third case, Steve Wallace was charged with theft of property valued at more than $200 but less than $10,000. He received a three-year sentence which was probated.

222 Cases Are Pending

Aransas County Judge John Wendell disposed of 16 cases on file in his court during January. Another 222 were left pending.

Of the pending cases 111 were swindling with worthless check cases, 19 were driving while intoxicated, 24 marijuana possession and 68 other criminal matters.

Wendell received 17 new cases in January to build up the total to 238 on the docket.

He dismissed seven cases during the month including one driving while intoxicated, three hot check charges and three hot check charges and three other criminal matters.

Grand Jury Reports No Organized Crime in County

After four days of deliberation, the Aransas County grand jury concluded last Thursday there is no organized crime in its jurisdiction.

The panel also returned indictments charging Lex Newton Braudrick with the murder of K.W. Smith and returned 16 other true bills.

H.T. Bailey, Jury foreman, told Judge John Miller of 36th District Court that law enforcement in Aransas County is much improved over last year. A number of trials after a narcotics round-up last summer resulted in a series of convictions.

tions and penitentiary sentences.

The jury's written report Thursday was a response to Miller's instructions that it investigate narcotics and organized crime in Aransas County.

The report said jurors talked to school principals and other community leaders.

"Their response was almost without exception in the negative, particularly as to the organized crime."

The jury said in questioning witnesses and arresting officers "we attempted to uncover evidence of organized crime. We found no tangible evidence in this group."

The jury also said it found no evidence of organized prostitution in the county.

"It is our finding that the illegal use of controlled narcotic drugs and marijuana in the county decreased markedly in the past year, this due largely to the prison sentences given violators recently convicted."

Other persons named in true bills returned by the grand jury Thursday included Tana Renee Murillo on a charge of attempting to murder Daniel Jack Battle and Margaret Florence Battle; John E. Sprinkle, John B. Price and a third man not arrested, burglary of a building; Diane D. Canales, delivery of marijuana; Marcos Q. Navejor, passing marijuana; James Lawrence Music, attempted burglary of a building.

Richard T. Graf and Robert Eugene Cockrel and John Koenig, theft; Danny Carroll Wright, passing marijuana; Freeman H. Lamar, forgery; Juan Gozalez Molina, driving while intoxicated; Carlton Richardson, driving while intoxicated; Lex Newton Braudrick, stabbing K.W. Smith and Richard Arispe kicking a person.—Callers Times—

Clerks Will Hear About Court Management

College Station -- County and district clerks will get an in-depth look at various court management techniques in Texas at the upcoming County and District Clerks Seminar at the Aggeland Inn here Feb. 26-27.

Among prominent speakers who will key on improving the management techniques and efficiency of clerks are the Honorable Kerry P. Fitzgerald of Dallas and the Honorable John F. Onion of Austin, points out Charles Lawrence, county officials program specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and general chairman for the seminar.

Fitzgerald, a noted criminal trial lawyer, will discuss how clerks can more efficiently handle the increasing number of criminal appeals that are resulting from recent federal court decisions. Criminal appeals are now more commonplace and are requiring the best efforts of clerks, notes Lawrence.

Onion, who is the presiding judge of the Court of Criminal Appeals, the state's highest appellate court in criminal matters, will review the Code of Criminal Procedure for clerks and will give some insight on possible future changes in criminal law.

Other key issues to be discussed include open records and open meetings, changes in the Probate Code, election law reforms, handling financial statements, the New Family Code, preparing the Extraordinary Writ, and legislative trends for clerks.

According to Lawrence, the two-day seminar is expected to attract some 400 county and district clerks from throughout Texas.

The seminar is a part of the County Officials Program of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and is being sponsored in cooperation with the County and District Clerks Association of Texas and the Texas Criminal Justice Council.

Pirates Play—

Thursday night, February 13, in the Moody gym.

The third and deciding game (Rockport won the first one Tuesday night in Rockport, 64-49) was played Tuesday night in the Ray High gym, Corpus Christi.

"They killed us on the boards", lamented Rockport Coach Bobby Flanagan. The Bears were regularly getting two and three shots as Larry Davis and Jerry Davis plucked errant balls and put them back up or passed to teammates for more shots.

Despite the strong offensive board work, West Oso had only five more shots than Rockport and the teams wound up even in field goals, 24. But the Pirates were whistled for 19 fouls to West Oso's 13 and the Bears took advantage, hitting 10 out of 17. Rockport was better quality-wise but its 6-for-6 at the line was the final difference.

It was as close as a ball game could be until the final three minutes, with Rockport holding a 16-15 first quarter edge; West Oso up by 31-30 at the half and 47-46 at the third-period stop. But Rockport cashed only three of 11 fourth period shots while West Oso was 5-for-10 and quick baskets by Jerry Davis (two) and Frankie Davis erased a 48-47 Rockport lead and pumped the Bears ahead for good, 53-48.

West Oso lost a last-gasp layup by Frankie Davis when the timekeeper ruled his shot did not get off before the final buzzer.

"We did a lot better job rebounding," West Oso Coach Ray Loisele said, "and we changed defenses a lot. We used five different defenses and I think that confused them (Rockport). And we did a little better shooting tonight than in the first game (when the Bears hit only 17 of 77)."

"The turning point of the game was when we blew that lead in the second quarter," Flanagan said. Reeling off 10 unanswered points, Rockport jumped to a 26-19 edge, but the Davis boys took it away with a late spurt as Jerry scored three points; Larry put in three; and Frankie added a basket just before the buzzer to put the Bears ahead, 31-30.

After West Oso jumped off to a 9-2 lead, the Bears' biggest margin, the score was tied twice and the lead changed hands 17 times before the Bears took control on two field goals by Jerry Davis and one by Frankie Davis.

Frankie Davis led game scorers with 19, closely trailed by Jerry with 18. Johnny Rios, mostly on a 4-for-4 third-quarter streak on corner shots, led Rockport with 14. -Caller Times

Children View Chinchilla

A blue gray female chinchilla was an interesting subject of study last week at Live Oak Elementary School. The third grade class of Mrs. Mary Jackson was host and caretaker of the small native of the South American Andes Mountains.

Students from all the classes observed the animal, which was about nine inches long and had dense soft delicate fur more than an inch deep. A good description by one young boy was, "She looks kind of like a little rabbit, only prettier, but her ears are short and her tail looks like a squirrel's."

"Chica" became the subject of paragraphs and stories as study in encyclopedias determined that she is a member of the rodent family, makes her home in a burrough and lives on roots and coarse grasses. Long ago chinchillas were eaten by the Chincha and Inca Indians and their fur was used for clothing. When the Spaniards came to South America in the early 1500's, they named the animals for the Chincha Indians and introduced the fur into Europe. Demand for chinchilla fur became so great that the animal was almost wiped out. They are now raised commercially on ranches in the United States and other countries.

After her visit at Live Oak School, "Chica" is spending some time in the fifth grade of Edward Corbin at Rockport Elementary and the fourth grade of Mrs. Edward Corbin at Fulton Elementary School.

Since the secretary resigned to go into a day circle, Dorothy Leslie acted as secretary and called the roll which each responded to with a Bible verse.

The treasurer was ill but sent her report. There were $17.50 in disbursements since the December meeting which included the budget payment for January. Some 25 cards were sent by three people and 70 visits by 6 people in the last two months.

One member, Nancy Currie, has been very ill and was in intensive care last week but is now in a room at Spohn. A card from the circle will be sent to her, as well as to two other shut-ins assigned to the circle. Katherine McLester gave the Bible lesson on Matt. 9 and 10.

Alice Morrison and Dorothy Leslie reported from the W.O.C. meetings and also the regional meeting which they had attended in Corpus Christi on January 28.

Circle 3 will serve at the February church supper and also have the refreshments at March W.O.C. meeting. Sewing bee for February 20 was announced.

Many other plans were discussed for making this a very active chapter and in use made of our new Center.

Railroading on a new track—The replica of an old-time caboose is actually a traveling showroom. Large enough to display a half-dozen Baldwin organs, Watson Piano and Organ Company's "caboose" takes the merchandise to the people. Complete with its own PA system, air conditioning, heating and generating systems, and fold-down stage, the "caboose" can be used to demonstrate the ease with which Baldwin organs can be played, as a setting for organ shows, or even for delivery with the organ playing. The "caboose" will be at the Sea-Aire Shopping Center, Feb. 20, 21 and 22.

Homemaking Teachers Meet

Homemaking teachers from the south Texas area met at King High School in Kingsville Friday evening and Saturday, February 14 and 15 for their annual In-Service conference. Miss Frances Mutscher, local high school homemaking teacher attended the conference.

"Birth Defects - The Tragedy and the Hope" was the topic of the address presented by Dr. Regine Hay, Geneticist, University of Texas Medical Branch at Galveston. Dr. Hay was the keynote speaker Friday evening, and also conducted a workshop Saturday morning.

Mrs. Betty Jacobs, Waco, and Mrs. Myra Taylor, San Antonio, March of Dimes personnel, conducted workshops on the work being done by the March of Dimes in an effort to combat birth defects. The consultants also presented information concerning educational materials which are available.

March of Dimes field representatives are speaking to homemaking teachers across the state in an effort to reach youth through homemaking classes, stressing and importance of proper nutrition and eating habits early in life, and early pre-natal care as important factors in preventing birth defects.

Following the area business meeting, Saturday afternoon, the meeting adjourned. The conference is under the direction of Mrs. Bobbie H. Moore, Area Consultant, Homemaking Education, Texas Education Agency.

Facts About Heroin Given

Chief of Police James Craig-mile recently prepared the following information about heroin in the public interest:

Shortly before the turn of the century in this country one out of every 400 persons had become morphine addicts. This figure does not take into account the unknown thousands that got their fix by partaking of opium derivative patent medicines and cough syrups. The claims made were that these drugs gave one a feeling of relief and euphoria.

Morphine which is derived from opium is more potent than refined opium, could be purchased very cheap and there was no Federal Agency set up to control widespread sales. Then heroin was compounded from morphine and was hailed as a "cure" for addiction to all opium related drugs. Heroin was much more potent than morphine and the user became "hooked" almost immediately.

Addiction to heroin was found to be much more difficult to cure than morphine addiction. In 1914 the U.S. Congress passed the Harrison Narcotic act, which was designed to restrict the use of narcotics to bona fide medical treatment.

From this time on underworld channels began exploiting the drug market. Once a user is hooked you have a steady customer. From the sales you reap one of the highest profit margins in the world and it is tax free.

This high profit margin is what attracts the underworld to drug traffic and induces many people to invest their money in the drug market.

An investor reaps large profits and may never see a "bag" of heroin during his career. This individual remains in the background and does not get involved in the actual traffic of drugs, some professional people and legitimate appearing business persons have been known to invest in illicit drug trade.

Reducing morphine base to heroin is a dangerous process for amateurs and in some foreign countries many persons are killed through explosions attempting the chemical process.

When processed properly the heroin appears as a fine, fluffy snow-white powder. If the refinement is not complete the heroin may have a malt colored tint. This type is referred to as "Mexican" or "Brown Stuff".

As examples of high profit margin in heroin traffic, consider the following: Opium can be purchased from a Turkish poppy farmer for $23.00 per pound, a skilled chemist can produce $16,000.00 worth of heroin from this pound.

A kilo of heroin (35 1/2 ounces) can be purchased over seas for approximately $2,500.00 or $75.00 per ounce.

From a one ounce quantity of pure heroin (at $75.00 per ounce) the various middle men sell and resell this one ounce, each adds a quantity of milk sugar there by reducing the heroin content.

When the heroin is ready to be sold by the pushers on the streets, the original ounce has been cut down to 3% to 5% heroin by the continual addition of milk sugar by greedy suppliers.

It is packaged in paper packages for street distribution and from the original $75.00, a profit as high as $32,000.00 may result.

Need we ask why so many greedy people invest money in illegal drug traffic which brings misery to so many lives.

Nursing Home News Items

Aransas Pass Convalescent and Nursing Home news items for February 10-16 included:

Last week at the Center was one full social activities as well as other things of interest taking place. Monday morning began our week with the exercise and kick-ball program. Monday afternoon, the residents and staff once again were entertained by the piano music of Mr. R.E. Kiely.

Tuesday afternoon, the ladies of the Presbyterian Church of Aransas came out for their monthly game day.

Wednesday morning preceding our exercise and kick-ball program, Mrs. Bonnie Fletcher, again was out to instruct the class in "tube painting".

Many of our residents are really enjoying this craft very much. Wednesday evening, the "Acteons" of the First Baptist Church of Ingleside, along with their sponsors, Mrs. Blasingame and Mrs. Morris, came over to present their monthly program. They sang hymns that the residents asked for and then they presented their own program. They then served valentine cookies and punch to all. They also presented each resident with a very personal valentine which they had made themselves. This program is always enjoyed by our "little people".

Thursday morning, the Pentecostal Church of Aransas Pass came out for their weekly program. Thursday afternoon, the Aransas Pass Rebekah's came out for their monthly game day which was really enjoyed by several of our new residents.

Friday afternoon, Father James Hamilton came to celebrate Ash Wednesday and say Mass for all of our Catholic residents. Friday evening, the men from the Aransas Pass Church of Christ, came out to show some more pictures on film of the Bible.

Sunday morning Church Services were conducted by Rev. Al Bankert for all residents who wished to attend. Thursday, Friday and Saturday were busy days for our beautician, Mrs. Lois Kinney, in making our lady residents pretty for the week-end.

A special thanks to the Alpha Delta Tau Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, of Ingleside, for the nice valentine favors they made for our residents.

Also, a big thanks again to Kathy of the Dixie Creme Donut Shop of Aransas Pass for the nice snacks she brings out to our residents. They sure enjoy these very much. A very nice valentine week was enjoyed by most of our residents receiving valentines, candy and flowers from their family and friends.

Last but not least, we wish to thank the Future Homemakers of America and Mrs. Charles Branch of the Aransas Pass High School for the beautiful valentines they made and placed on each residents door with their names on them. Thanks to each and every one of you for "caring".

Peninsula Oaks Garden Club

The Peninsula Oaks Garden Club had Marie Kuykendall, an artist at shell arrangements, as speaker at the monthly meeting Thursday, February 13.

For display there were flower pictures, African violets, apple blossoms and decorated driftwood. During her talk she stressed the point that all arrangements, whether made of real, artificial or shell flowers, used the same principles.

After her talk, she demonstrated how to select, handle and color shells used in art work. A plaque, made entirely of shells found locally, was used to illustrate where the best shelling areas are around Rockport.

Mrs. Frances Naquin, president, asked that the members help prepare the ski basin planter for spring planting. She then introduced the new member, Mrs. Jo Ann West who recently moved to Peninsula Oaks and guest, Mrs. Molly Allen.

Others attending the meeting were Alice Morrison, Dorothy Leslie, Thelma Sours, Ruth Duncan, Frances Merriwether, Bernita Kinsey, Inez Boney and Betty Abt.

Refreshments were served by Dorothy Leslie, Alice Morrison and Thelma Sours.

Many more people will go camping this summer than ever before. Camping with the whole family is becoming more popular every summer and American industry is well aware of this. Van-type campers, tent trailers, travel or "hard-side" trailers, pick-up campers of all kinds, tents, and camping equipment of all types such as lights, stoves, portable charcoal grills and such are being turned out in ever-increasing numbers and types.

If yours is one of the thousands of Texas families who will go camping this summer you should be planning it right now. In your planning by all means investigate the possibilities offered by our state parks. You can find just about any outdoor activity that appeals to you - and you don't need to drive half way across the nation.

Fishermen who go for salt water will find good fishing at Goose Island, Copano Bay Causeway, and Port Lavaca Causeway State Parks. Fresh water fishing is available in many of our parks including Falcon, Garner, Lake Corpus Christi, Martin Dies, Jr. and many others. In fact, 39 of our parks offer either salt or fresh water fishing.

Water skiers will find 11 lakes within the system where skiing is allowed and a great many of the parks have swimming pools or swimming areas. There are even five parks with beautiful golf courses.

If you are interested in Texas history there are 24 parks and historic sites where the colorful and historic past will come alive for. One outstanding exhibit can be found in San Jose Mission State Park and National Site in San Antonio. Of course no camping is available in this park but you certainly should stop by there for a few hours - it'll be time well spent. Goliad State Park is another beautiful historic spot and camping is available there.

Many parks such as Davis Mountain and Caddo State Parks have new interpretive centers with exhibits on their history, flora, fauna, and archeology of the area. Many parks have nature trails where you can learn a little about the trees, shrubs, and flowers of the area, and birders will be at home in such parks as Bentsen-Rio Grande and Goose Island. For naturalists there is a wealth of beauty in the diversified landscapes of the parks from the lush greenery of Palmetto State Park to the sandhills of Monahans.

The best way to plan your camping trip through the state parks is to go by your local Parks and Wildlife office and pick up a sheet showing the state parks and the facilities available at each.

Picnickers, fishermen, bird watchers, nature lovers, artists, photographers, golfers, horsemen, antique lovers, history buffs, water skiers, swimmers, and just campers can all find what they're looking for in Texas State Parks.

Mrs. Virginia Shivers attended the funeral of her brother-in-law, J.T. Trull in Woodville on Monday, February 10th.

Governor's Office of Traffic Safety

Sgt. Mike Webb of the Sheriff's Department and Officer Gary Langston of the City Police Department presented a program on drug abuse to the fourth grades at Rockport Elementary School on February 11. The officers answered the student's questions, discussed drug abuse, and showed the children a display of drugs and related equipment. The children were told to report to their parents or teachers if approached by any one with suspicious material.

Garden Club Met Feb. 13

The Rockport Home and Garden Club met at the Methodist Fellowship Hall with 31 members and guests attending. Guests were Mrs. R.N. Weekly, Mrs. George Anderson, Mrs. M. Shellenberger and Mrs. Katherine Gore from Rockport, Mrs. Nell Jefferson from Dallas, Mrs. Traverse Grimm, Garrison, Illinois, Mrs. Clinton Knop, Great Bend, Kansas and Mrs. Burnett Gable from Hayward, Wisconsin. The hostesses were Mrs. Ron Levi and Mrs. Joe Hugenberg. Refreshments were homemade cream puffs and diced fresh fruit.

L.D. Nuckles, Information and Education Officer of the Texas Parks and Wildlife, showed slides of the Texas wildflowers and conducted a running commentary on each slide. Members learned that there are 23 species of the prickly pear in Texas, that certain plants are used for hardening the wax in making candles, that there are 700 known poisonous plants in the United States, the cats claw is why cowboys wear chaps, that bees love certain plants and these are a good source of honey.

He showed the different varieties of sunflowers, the locoweed so harmful to livestock, the standing cypress which grows six feet tall, the gay feather which dries so beautifully and many others.

President Mrs. B.F. Street read a complimentary letter received from Mrs. Carter, District Director #7 of Texas Garden Clubs. She complimented the club on the way it recognizes and honors past presidents by having a local artist, Kit Dinger, paint a section of their yard and this becomes the cover of the year-book.

Mrs. R.H. Stafford gave a report on the Advent Gardeners' Flower Show held in San Antonio. The members are all accredited flower show judges. The theme of the show was "The Future is Now on the Square Tube" and their arrangements depicted a popular T.V. show or a personality. All dialogue was in poetry.

Mrs. W.K. Thomas won the contribution prize of the dried arrangements donated by the Blossom Shop.

Editorial

1975 Texas Public School Week

Of all the factors which have made this nation great, the major one has probably been the ability of our society through the years to provide consistently the highest level of public education in the world. If this is to continue, it is up to the private citizen to take an active role in the improvement of the educational system, for it is the individual who makes the system work on the local, state and national levels. Each of us has a duty to learn as much as possible about local school operations and policies, including funding.

March 3-7 has been designated as TEXAS PUBLIC SCHOOLS WEEK this year. You are invited to take this opportunity to seek answers to your questions about education and the system, and to evaluate your local school district and personnel. Visit, observe, and ask -- do your schools have qualified teachers? Do they have enough money available to give your child and others the educational base so vital to living and working in modern society?

Whether you are a parent or not, your comments, questions, and observations will be most welcome. Won't you please take part? Observe TEXAS PUBLIC SCHOOLS WEEK, March 3-7.

Art Ass'n. Honors Cowan

Plans for future art oriented events were revealed Saturday evening as over 200 people gathered to honor nationally known artist Jack Cowan.

George Cone of Live Oak State Bank was the high bidder on a water color donated by Cowan to enhance the future growth of the Rockport Art Association.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hugenberg were the winners of a Tom Beecham drawing which was awarded during the evening's festivities.

Many new members were signed up and the association welcomes any other interested persons -- they need not be interested in painting, only in their community.

The Rockport Art Association sponsors and is responsible for Rockport's July 4th Art Festival.

ACCENT ON HEALTH

J.E. PEAVY, M.D.
Commissioner of Health

One of the most heartening success stories in public health is being written in Texas--the dramatic, almost unbelievable decline of immunizable diseases.

In 1974, a combined total of only 641 cases were reported to the State Health Department for diphtheria, tetanus, pertussis, (whooping cough), measles and rubella. And for the second straight year there was no polio reported in the state--another milestone in itself.

While all preventable diseases may never be wiped out, the Texas State Department of Health--along with private physicians--is working toward that goal.

Last year, reports State Health Commissioner Dr. James E. Peavy, was the best year in history in preventing the immunizable diseases. Provisional Health Department reports show no cases of polio, nine cases of diphtheria, four cases of tetanus, 99 cases of pertussis, 212 cases of measles and 317 cases of rubella.

Compare these 1974 figures with those of bad years. Contrast the zero level of polio with 1950 when 2,778 cases and 210 deaths occurred.

Place the nine cases of diphtheria alongside the 5,756 cases reported in 1933. Or the 212 cases of measles which is only a handful in comparison to the 86,086 measles cases reported in 1958.

The 99 cases of pertussis in 1974 is small indeed when you consider the 16,590 cases occurring in 1943. The four cases of tetanus reported last year is just a fraction of the 157 cases recorded in 1942.

Remember when rubella--or German measles--was so widespread? Highest total for this disease was in 1970 when 8,409 cases were reported, as opposed to 317 last year.

As immunizations have increased in Texas, the disease levels have moved steadily downward.

When the Texas Legislature in 1971 passed a compulsory immunization law, it contributed greatly to reduction of diseases in the school-age group. Because of the success of the compulsory school immunization program, more attention is directed now toward the pre-schoolers in State Health Department activities. Statistics have shown that outbreaks have repeatedly taken the heaviest toll among children from one to four years.

With the almost a quarter-million babies born in Texas each year, it would take only a few years for a giant disease reservoir to be built up--if these children went unprotected.

The State Health Department is making sure this doesn't happen, and its immunization program is primarily aimed toward the pre-schoolers--that large group of youngsters who could be the target for disease.

Among the preschool group, special emphasis is given the newborns. Federal and state funds have authorized the hiring of a group of Community Service Aides who are stressing the need for early immunization.

When a baby is born in Texas, the Immunization Division gets a computer printout showing the baby's name, parents' names and home address. The Bureau of Vital Statistics of the State Health Department provides this information.

Parents of newborns receive a card informing them of immunization schedules and recommending vaccination times. They are asked to return the card and indicate which immunizations have been started.

That's where the Community Service Aides come in. They take referrals from the Immunization Division and attempt to track down those who don't respond. Last year an average of 75 Community Service Aides were employed and assigned to regional and field offices to promote immunizations in the pre-school group.

They received 135,773 new referrals during the year--about 1,800 per aide.

The aides show a high degree of self reliance. Often they don't wait for the computer printouts of new births but get them from local registrars, speeding their contacts with new mothers.

It has taken the combined efforts of health-oriented individuals and groups in both the public and private sector to produce the immunization results which produced such low disease levels in 1974. The State Health Department is hoping for similar results in 1975.

Important To Eat Breakfast

Euell Gibbons might go to a little more trouble than most to get his wild hickory nuts every morning, but at least he eats breakfast! While millions of Americans skip this most important meal for time purposes, diet or whatever, they're doing themselves more harm than good.

The Texas Medical Association urges all Texans to eat a good breakfast and start a good day. Studies show that workers who tuck away a good meal before work get more done than those who skip breakfast or eat a poor one. As the morning goes on, the hungry ones grow less efficient. After lunch they do better for awhile, but then they slow down again. And what is true for those workers is also true for homemakers, weight watchers, teenage girls, and everyone else. Those who eat a good breakfast have a better chance to do a good day's work than those who neglect breakfast.

Breakfast can be prepared in minutes. If the family eats at different times, or if a child has to be left to eat breakfast alone, plan ahead of time. Eggs can be cooked and bacon prepared early and left for latecomers. Cooked cereal can be kept hot until eaten. With foods ready at hand, family members can serve themselves. When every minute counts, you can use canned, frozen or fresh citrus juice. This can be mixed or squeezed the night before. Ready-to-eat cereals, which are available in a wide variety to please any appetite, only take a second or two to prepare. Sausage or ham bought pre-cooked only take a few minutes to heat and serve.

Let's take a look at ingredients that make a good breakfast. In any breakfast, light or hearty, try to include fruit. It gives zest to meals, prevents constipation and is outstanding in providing vitamin C. Cereals and bread give protein, iron and other minerals, vitamins and food energy. An active worker or growing child can have a heartier breakfast by eating both cereal and bread. Choose whole-grain, enriched or restored kinds, for they offer added values in B-vitamins and minerals. Butter and margarine used with bread help provide food energy and vitamin A. Milk supplies our bodies with calcium, the B-vitamin riboflavin and top-grade protein. Normal healthy adults need a pint or more of milk in some form each day. Young children need from two to three cups; older children should have at least three cups; and teenagers, a quart. Be it evaporated milk, skim, buttermilk or non-fat dry milk -- it's all rich in energy.

Eggs, meat, and fish provide high grade proteins for body building and repair, and they have mineral and other values besides. Building foods of some kind are a must in the day's eating and one or more should appear in each morning meal.

Something hot in the morning, whether a hot beverage or hot cereal is good for you. It is cheering and gives you a sense of well-being, summer or winter.

If you are a weight-watcher, eating a bird-sized breakfast or skipping the whole meal is a poor way to try to keep your weight under control. It's a far better plan to eat a good breakfast and learn enough calorie arithmetic to even out your day's quota over the three meals. More calories than you need for work or play is where fat begins.

Presbyterian Circle Meets

Circle #1, Women of Presbyterian Church, met at the home of Mrs. Mark Stalker at 9:30 a.m. February 13. A social hour was enjoyed, during which hostess served coffee and cookies from a pretty table carrying out the Valentine theme. Ten members were present.

Mrs. Harold Wilkinson moderated Bible lesson from Book of Matthew, with circle members participating. She also gave interesting account of Mission work being carried on by the church, displaying a large world map reflecting the names of persons serving in various mission fields.

Mrs. W.L. Reaser will be hostess for March meeting in church Memorial Room. Mrs. Stalker will moderate Bible lesson.

Texas Shrimp Landings Off, Profits Down

Texas shrimpers landed 34 per cent fewer shrimp last December than they did in December, 1973, and the shrimp they landed were worth 53 per cent less, according to the monthly report of the National Marine Fisheries Service.

Shrimp landings totaled 3 million pounds valued at $3.7 million last December, the service reported. The numbers compare to 4½ million pounds worth $7.6 million in December, 1973.

Total shrimp landings in 1974 totaled 49,351,100 pounds.

Weather conditions were rough in December. Trawlers working brown shrimp made short trips and suffered extensive damage to rigging and deck structures during periods of highest winds.

Fishing craft working white shrimp adjacent to major passes made poor catches of small shrimp. December landings of both brown and white shrimp were the poorest in volume and value in recent years.

Long-range trawlers working the distant Campeche-Contoy area made only fair catches of pink shrimp.

Oyster fishermen harvested about 9,600 barrels of oysters in December, the service reported. This was the poorest December harvest in recent years.

Blue crab landings of about 100,000 pounds were one-third the volume in December, 1973. Bad weather conditions accounted for much of the current decline, but a definite downward trend in crab catches has been evident since early summer, the report said.

Four new vessels entered the shrimp fishery in December, and two vessels were lost at sea, the service reported.

Fuel supplies were adequate at 27.5 to 36 cents per gallon. Sport fishing activity was
