Snyder Daily News

Ask Us

Q—Will the newspaper be running more information on the candidates for Snyder ISD board of trustees before the election?

A—Yes. Snyder Daily News has asked candidates in contested races to respond to selected questions. WTC board candidates will respond in Sunday's edition. On Monday, Snyder ISD candidates' responses will be published. Hermleigh and Ira school board candidates will follow on Tuesday, Wednesday, and possibly Thursday, as space permits.

Local

'Hedda Gabler'

Western Texas College's experimental version of the classic drama "Hedda Gabler" continues tonight, Saturday and Monday at 8 o'clock in the Fine Arts Theatre on campus.

Tickets are $5 each.

Boosters

Snyder All-Sports Booster Club will meet at 7 p.m. Tuesday in the high school student center to discuss the annual sports banquet.

ARP sign-up

Secretary of Agricluture Edward Madigan has announced that farmers have until May 1 to sign up for 1992 annual commodity acreage reduction programs administered by the ASCS.

This extends the sign-up period two weeks beyond the original deadline of April 17.

Ag advisors

Scurry County Appraisal District's agricultural advisory committee will meet at 2 p.m. Monday to discuss agricultural valuations for the 1992 tax year.

The public meeting will be held in the appraisal district office at 2612 College Ave.

Egg hunt

The business committee of Snyder Chamber of Commerce will host its second annual Easter egg hunt at 2 p.m. Saturday in Towle Park. Pre-kindergarten through third grade children are to meet on the swimming pool parking lot.

Pictures may be taken with the Easter bunny for $2 each.

Health Unit

Scurry County Health Unit will have a special three-day clinic Tuesday through Thursday from 8:30-11:30 a.m. and 1:30-4 p.m.

The clinic will give four-year-olds and kindergarten time to be immunized before Spring Roundup. Parents need to bring their child's immunization record.

Early balloting is slow despite contested races

County voters haven't been exactly rushing to the polls during the first week of early voting in the Western Texas College, Snyder City Council and Snyder, Ira and Hermleigh school board elections.

As expected, the race drawing the most interest is for Snyder public schools board of trustees, where eight candidates are challenging for two at-large seats.

Running for Snyder public schools board of trustees are Benjamin Felan, Luann Burleson, Mike Levens, Charles G. Anderson, Tim Coffman, Travis Bunch, Rudy Gutierrez and Richard Chambers.

Ninty-eight people had voted in that election as of late Thursday afternoon.

The early voting period in all five board and council races began Monday and will continue weekdays through April 28. The actual elections are scheduled May 2.

Polls at Ira and Hermleigh schools are not open today in observance of Good Friday. Polls are open at Snyder ISD, the college and City Hall.

Twenty people have cast early ballots at the college, where two board seats are up for election. Carolyn Barbee and Mike Dennis are candidates for Place 3. W. Jay Kidd and Joe B. Flowers are contending for Place 4. Both are at-large positions.

Only three people have voted in the Hermleigh ISD board election, despite the fact that six candidates are running for two at-large places on the board. They are R. Neil Beeks, Ronnie Price, Nelson Edwin Eckert, Allen Kuss and Randy Bates.

Candidates for Place 1 on the Ira ISD board of trustees are Darryl Calley and Don Davis. Keith Clements is the only candidate for Place 6. Wylie H. Oliver, R. Douglass White and Jeff Brown are running for Place 7.

The Ira ISD board races have generated only six ballots.

The turnout is light and expected to remain so for four Snyder City Council district seats, none of which are contested.

Area lawmen looking for shooting suspect

Mitchell County law enforcement authorities are continuing their attempts to locate a Colorado City suspect who fired three shots at a car traveling eastbound on Interstate 20 early Thursday evening.

Among the passengers in the 1985 four-door Cadillac which was fired upon were two Snyder residents, driver Christina Carreon of 1914 Coleman and a passenger, Bobby Eagan of 1003 Ave. F. Two Colorado City residents, Delia Diaz and Paul Martinez were also passengers in the vehicle.

The suspect in the shooting, 27-year-old Alfredo Diaz of Colorado City, is still at large. He is being sought on a warrant for attempted murder.

Mitchell County Deputy Sheriff Phillip Rodriguez said the incident occurred about 7 p.m. near mile marker 219.

According to reports, Alfredo Diaz was driving a 1984 Chevrolet Camaro when he pulled up alongside the Cadillac and began shooting. After several frantic moments, Carreon got the Cadillac turned around in the median and headed back to Colorado City where Deputy Rodriguez pulled the vehicle over.

"They were pretty shook up," said Rodriguez. "The glass was all broken out and you could see where the front windshield had been hit."

Rodriquez said Alfredo Diaz and one of the passengers, Delia Diaz, might be brother and sister, but said there is no motive for the shooting at this time.

The weapon is believed to be a revolver of an unknown caliber. Diaz, considered armed and dangerous, is described as 5-foot, 6-inches in height and weighs about 160 pounds.

Keeping tabs on our neighbors:

Gene Dow, in the Seminole Sentinel, told about a sports writer who observed a bevy of peroxide blondes who made a scene at a baseball game.

The young writer penned: "The bleachers went wild."

The Wall Street Journal reported that Congress, in 1990, sent the Pentagon some 20,000 letters. Those letters required more than 250,000 man-hours to answer.

The inevitable happened when the chairman of the government operations committee demanded to know how a Pentagon report entitled "Reducing the Burden of Government Regulation," was being implemented.

The letter was addressed to John G. Tower, Secretary of Defense. Congress had earlier rejected the late Mr. Tower for the top defense post after a bitter confirmation battle.

The congresman's staff says several incorrect letters went out because a three-year-old mailing list was used. The staffer added more explanation: "It's hard to avoid such mistakes because we send out so much stuff."

Our advice. Quit sending out so much "stuff."

O.G. Nieman, in the Hereford Brand, overheard two women in a restaurant bragging about their doctors.

"You should see my doctor. He's marvelous."

The other said, "Why should I see your doctor? There's nothing wrong with me."

"That's why my doctor is so wonderful...he'll find something."

WTC stands out in opening show

Thursday night was a good night to be a Snyder rodeo fan.

A local coed was crowned WTC Rodeo Queen and nine Western Texas wranglers placed in different events in the opening performance of the annual WTC NIRA Rodeo.

"We had a real good opening night," said WTC coach Bob Doty. "We had a pretty good crowd and lots of good cowboys and cowgirls riding."

The rodeo continues through Saturday with 8 o'clock shows nightly.

Tickets, available at the Scurry County Coliseum box office, are $4 for adults and $3 for children.

Following Thursday's grand entry, Snyder's Julie Williams was announced as the 1992 Rodeo Queen.

Williams' coronation sparked a successful night by locals, beginning with the very first event, bareback riding.

WTC's Eric Mouton, the final rider in the event, carded a 74, which put him in second place behind Scott Jamison of Odessa College by a single point.

Travis Whiteside, who claimed first place at last week's NMJC Rodeo for Western Texas, was awarded a third-place 66.

Perhaps the most memorable ride of the evening was offered by sophomore Troy Cattoor of WTC.

The sophomore from Nephi, Utah, scored 63 points on his ride, a fourth-place effort, before being unceremoniously dumped by his mount, Clipper.

Cattoor sustained a neck injury and was tended by emergency medical technicians on the floor of

Upper Colorado SWCD awards presented

L.D. Smith was honored as Conservation Farmer of the Year and Bill Blankenship was named Conservation Rancher of the Year at the Upper Colorado Soil and Water Conservation District awards banquet Thursday.

The banquet is held annually to recognize farmers, ranchers, educators and students who practice and teach good conservation.

Presenting this year's awards were Upper Colorado SWCD directors Charlie Henderson, Walter Stirl, Leon Sterling, Burl Belew and Brent Murphy.

Smith and his wife, Juanita, have 660-acre rows of cotton 20 miles southwest of Gail.

Blankenship and his wife, Dean, run a stocker operation near Fluvanna.

North Elementary Principal Ray Courtney was given the Urban Conservation Educator Award. Borden County ISD kindergarten teacher Deidre Smith received the rural award for educator of the year.

Essay contest winners were Snyder Junior High School eighth grader Veana Clay, first place; SJHS seventh grader Jeremy Skellenger, second place; and Hermleigh senior Alison Beeks, third place.

Rural poster contest winners were Clay John Anderson of Borden County ISD, first place; Salvador Luna of Hermleigh ISD, second place; and Toni Martinez of Hermleigh ISD, third place.

Winners in the urban poster contest were Riley Ann Tatum of North Elementary, first place; John Gutierrez of Central, second place; and Mary Jane Martinez of Central, third place.

Speaker for the banquet was Paul DeArman, area conservationist from Big Spring. DeArman showed slides he took while working with a United States conservation effort in Gambia, West Africa.

Others participating in the program were Terry Hefner, district conservationist, and Mike Squires, range conservationist.

Caterpillar announces total UAW recall; early retirement

PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — Caterpillar Inc. has begun mending fences with the United Auto Workers by announcing the recall of 12,600 union members who refused to end their five-month strike even under the threat of being fired.

But bickering between the company and the union continues as they disagree over the schedule for getting all employees back on the job.

Caterpillar Group President Jerry Flaherty said Thursday the company is trying to ease union bitterness by backing off a threat to lay off 15 percent of the workers in an effort to streamline its operations.

Instead, the company will offer early retirement and rely on attrition to eliminate 1,350 union jobs gradually.

"We are taking these actions out of genuine concern for the well-being of our employees and the company's long-term need to remain globally competitive," Flaherty said.

He predicted half the strikers would be back to work Monday and 90 percent in two weeks, saying it would be too complicated to return 12,600 employees to work at once.

But UAW secretary-treasurer Bill Casstevens said the union wanted its workers back on the job immediately.

"Clearly, management has deliberately delayed the return of workers ... in an obvious and cynical move to deny the returning strikers the holiday pay for Good Friday to which they would otherwise be entitled," he said in a statement.

Caterpillar should take all the workers back immediately, since it had offered to accommodate all strikers anyhow on April 6 under an ultimatum to return to work or risk being fired, he said.

The voluntary retirement program will target about 500 union workers in specific departments. About 500 others have retired since the strike started Nov. 4, Flaherty said.

That plan angered UAW spokesman Jim O'Connor, who said early retirement was an issue for collective bargaining.

On Tuesday, following two days of federal mediation, the UAW announced it was ending its strike without condition and resuming contract talks.

Dr. Gott By Peter Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: About a year ago I was diagnosed with ulcerative colitis. I read an article that a bacterium known as Helicobacter pylori has been found in almost all ulcer patients and antibiotics might cure 80 to 90 percent of these patients. What is the proper control these days for my condition?

DEAR READER: First of all, be careful not to confuse two distinct diseases.

Ulcerative colitis is a chronic colon disorder of unknown cause (probably autoimmune) marked by attacks of bloody diarrhea, fever, abdominal pain and exhaustion. This affliction is not caused by bacterial infection, although sulfa drugs are often used for treatment.

On the other hand, duodenal (or peptic) ulcer affects the first portion of the small intestine (or lower stomach) and was, for many years, considered to result from excess stomach acid due to stress.

Doctors now realize that ulcers can be caused by many factors: stress, yes; but also medicine (such as aspirin) and a peculiar type of infection with the bacteria you mentioned. Experts doubt that ALL ulcers are caused by Helicobacter pylori but certainly some are — especially "intractable" ulcers, those that do not heal with conventional therapy (antacids and drugs to reduce gastric acid). Therefore, while this new and astonishing finding won't help you, it may aid thousands of patients with ulcers, who could be treated and cured with antibiotics.

As for ulcerative colitis, you should follow your doctor's advice. Accepted treatment for ulcerative colitis (in ascending order of seriousness) is: sulfasalazine (an antibiotic), cortisone enemas, cortisone by mouth, cortisone by vein, emergency surgery (for hemorrhage or other life-threatening complications).

DEAR DR. GOTT: I suffer from fibromyalgia; however, it is a concurrent sleep disorder that is disturbing me most. Can you refer me to the proper specialist for comprehensive therapy?

DEAR READER: Fibromyalgia may be the cause of your insomnia.

As I have written before, many patients with chronic ailments have difficulty sleeping, or are frequently awakened by pain, shortness of breath or the need to urinate, to mention three common symptoms.

Fibromyalgia, a poorly understood muscle disorder marked by tense and sore muscles, can certainly cause frequent nighttime awakening. Rather than focus on the sleep disorder, I suggest you work with your doctor to find ways of coping with the pain of fibromyalgia; once that goal is achieved, your sleep pattern should return to normal.

The symptoms of fibromyalgia often respond to physical therapy, heat, massage, muscle relaxants (such as Flexeril or Robaxin) and non-narcotic analgesics (such as Excedrin PM).

If your abnormal sleep pattern is not related to fibromyalgia, you can request your doctor to refer you to a sleep laboratory; most major teaching hospitals have such facilities.

To give you further information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Sleep-Wake Disorders." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

Costa Rica will buy U.S. wheat

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States will sell Costa Rica $15 million worth of U.S. wheat under the Food for Peace program.

"This is another important step in helping Costa Rica meet its food needs," said Secretary of Agriculture Edward Madigan. "With an agreement such as this, the United States shows its continued commitment to developing countries. In addition, we hope to establish a strong U.S. agricultural presence in this market."

The agreement, which must be ratified by the Costa Rican Congress, will provide financing for approximately 90,000 metric tons of wheat.

Appeals court overturns abortion ban

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A federal appeals court overturned a ban on nearly all abortions in Guam less than a week before the U.S. Supreme Court hears arguments on a less restrictive law that could undermine Roe vs. Wade.

The law in the largely Roman Catholic U.S. territory would have made abortion illegal except to save a woman's life or prevent grave danger to health or in ectopic pregnancies — a dangerous, abnormal pregnancy that develops outside the uterus.

Following Thursday's ruling by the 9th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, Guam Gov. Joseph Ada said he would appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court. "I feel that this is a temporary setback, but we will win in the Supreme Court," Ada said.

Loretta Ucelli, spokeswoman for the National Abortion Rights Action League in Washington, said the ruling was a small victory.

"The ruling will protect the health and lives of women in Guam, but only temporarily," Ucelli said. "The ruling is based on Roe vs. Wade, but Roe's days are numbered."

The Guam law, in effect only four days before it was blocked by a federal judge in March 1990, is one of several measures aimed at challenging the Supreme Court's 1973 Roe vs. Wade ruling that proclaimed a woman's right to an abortion. Similar laws in Louisiana and Utah are being challenged in lower federal courts.

The Supreme Court is scheduled to hear arguments Wednesday on a less-restrictive law in Pennsylvania that could result in the undermining or repeal of the 1973 decision.

In its ruling, the 9th Circuit said the Supreme Court has declined to overrule Roe vs. Wade despite criticisms of the 1973 decision by individual justices.

"It would be both wrong and presumptuous of us now to declare that Roe vs. Wade is dead," said Judge William Canby in a 3-0 opinion joined by Judges Herbert Choy and Dorothy Nelson.

The 9th Circuit opinion on the Guam law was opposite of a ruling by the 3rd U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, which decided in the Pennsylvania case that Roe is no longer binding.

In upholding most of the Pennsylvania anti-abortion law last year, the 3rd Circuit said Roe had been supplanted by a standard allowing state laws that did not place an "undue burden" on the right to abortion.

"Surely an outright criminalization of abortion places an 'undue burden' on the exercise of the woman's right," Canby said.

The 9th Circuit ruling was praised by Simon Heller, a lawyer for the American Civil Liberties Union's Reproductive Freedom Project, which aided in the challenge of the Guam law.

"I think the 9th Circuit has struck an important blow for the rights of women throughout the United States, and in these conservative times that's very courageous," he said.

Clarke Forsythe, vice president and general counsel for Americans United for Life, which defended the law, predicted the Guam law ultimately would be upheld — either on direct appeal to the Supreme Court or as a result of any standard set in the Pennsylvania case.

Guam is an island 3,700 miles west of Hawaii. Most of its 133,000 residents are members of the Catholic church, which has been a particularly heated foe of abortion, arguing that it amounts to the taking of a life.

Juan Peron, the president of Argentina, died in 1974 and was succeeded by his wife, Isabel.

Workshop for day care providers slated May 9

A workshop for day care providers is scheduled for Saturday, May 9, from 9:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. at Plains Cotton Cooperation Association in Lubbock, 3301 E. 50th St. The $7.50 fee will also include lunch.

Issues concerning self-perception, dealing with parents, discipline, activities for afterschool, and the impact of American Disabilities Act for child care providers will be addressed.

This workshop is co-sponsored by the Texas Association of School Age Care and Children's Enterprises and the Texas Agricultural Extension Sevice.

Day care providers wishing to attend the workshop may call the Scurry County Extension office at 573-5423 for further details.

Kindergarten registration scheduled April 22 in Ira

Registration for kindergarten for the 1992-93 school year at Ira is planned from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Wednesday, April 22. To be eligible, a child must have reached his/her fifth birthday on or before Sept. 1, 1992.

Parents are asked to bring their child's birth certificate, which is issued by the county courthouse, and his/her Social Security number.

The child must also have a current record of immunizations which include:

—Three doses of OPV.

—Three doses of DPV/Dt/Td (one dose since fourth birthday).

—One dose of rubella, on or after the first birthday.

—One dose of measles, on or after the first birthday.

—One dose of mumps, on or after the first birthday.

San Antonio gets ready for citywide celebration

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Thousands of revelers are descending on San Antonio for Saturday's kickoff of Fiesta, the annual spring bash featuring food festivals, pageants, concerts and parades.

The citywide fete usually lasts 10 days, but this year officially begins a day late so as not to conflict with Good Friday. The celebration runs through April 26.

Now in its 101st year, Fiesta is a mix of about 150 events held throughout the city and sponsored by civic groups.

One of the most popular Fiesta parties is "Night in Old San Antonio," a four-night fling beginning Tuesday in the La Villita section of downtown.

Revelers of all ages pack the historic village and roam around sampling Mexican food, German sausage and other goodies while sipping cool beverages and listening to live music.

Fiesta parades on the final weekend highlight Fiesta.

The Battle of Flowers parade on the afternoon of April 24 has its roots in the original Fiesta celebration in 1891, when San Antonio decided to honor those who fought in the war for Texas' independence from Mexico.

The final Saturday night features the Fiesta Flambeau parade, a procession that winds through downtown for several hours and includes floats, marching bands, public officials and an assortment of unusual costumed characters.

In the past, some Fiesta events have been marred by violence.

Escalating gang violence has prompted sponsors of La Semana Alegre, an outdoor concert that runs nine nights, to rent metal detectors this year to keep guns and knives away from the party.

Debbi Hindman, president of the San Antonio Jaycees, said four airport-style metal detectors and four metal-detecting wands will be used to scan for weapons during the event, which began Thursday.

Some plays are too hard

By Phillip Alder

Both sides have the potential for good play in today's deal. But in the real world, the defensive coup is virtually impossible to find. Therefore, test your declarer-play. Cover the East-West cards and plan the play in four spades. West leads the club queen.

North's raise to four spades was pre-emptive, showing good playing strength for spades but a paucity of defensive tricks. This bid gave the opponents little room in which to maneuver. Here five clubs is likely to finish only one down, a good save against a making game. True, West might have made a thin take-out double, but opposite a passed partner, it didn't look inviting.

West led the club queen and continued with the club jack when declarer ducked in the dummy.

South did well, finding a line that would work even if West held the heart ace. After ruffing at trick two, declarer played a trump to dummy's king, ruffed the club king high in hand and returned to dummy with another trump. Now South made a strange-looking play: He led dummy's diamond 10 and ran it. (If East had covered, South would have won with the ace and taken a ruffing finesse through West.)

West won with the queen but was endplayed. Whatever West led now — the heart ace, a diamond (into South's tenace) or a club (conceding a ruff-and-discard) — declarer would lose only one heart and make his game.

What was the defensive coup? If East had overtaken the club queen with his ace at trick one and switched to the heart 10 (or queen), the defenders would have taken the first four tricks. No way, man!

Patrick guides Tigers to 5-3 District 2-4A baseball victory

By PHIL RIDDLE
SDN Sports Editor

Snyder senior pitcher David Patrick had been out for a couple of weeks with a deep shoulder bruise. It was no coincidence that his return also marked the resurrection of the Tigers chances in the District 2-4A playoff chase.

Patrick hurled a complete-game seven-hit 5-3 victory against the potent offense of the Estacado Matadors Thursday at Moffett Field, in a make-up game from Tuesday.

"David pitched a great game," said SHS coach Albert Lewis. "Especially considering that he's been out for so long.

"We would have been real pleased to have gotten four or five good innings out of him, but for him to pitch a complete game against the kind of lineup Estacado throws at you was impressive."

Patrick struck out four and walked three and managed to avoid trouble until the top of the seventh when the Mats managed two runs on three hits and a walk.

Patrick tossed home for a force on Bobby Davis to end the game, after EHS loaded the bases.

The Tigers took a 2-0 lead in the bottom of the first frame.

Junior Raymond House, playing shortstop in Lewis' revamped infield, led off with a walk, stole second and scored on a Bobby Clinkinbeard opposite-field single.

Chris Winter, Clinkinbeard's courtesy runner, scored on a pair of errors.

Snyder added a run in the third when House, who singled aboard, trotted across the plate when Brad Hart ripped a single to left-center.

The Tigers' fourth and fifth scores came in a sixth-inning burst, in which seven batters went to the plate.

Bryan Crawford slammed a base hit to open the inning, followed by a walk to third-baseman Jason Rios. Michael Fields was issued a free pass by EHS reliever Darryl Ruth to load the bases for a two-RBI single from House.

Estacado got a run in the third when Zebbie Lethridge drove in Thomas Coleman, who had singled.

"We feel lucky to get by," said Lewis. "We also feel like if we'd had Patrick, we might have won one of the district games we lost, either Dunbar or Frenship."

The top hitters for Snyder were House and Crawford, each with a two-for-three night.

Snyder now holds a 14-7 overall record and is tied for second in the district with Estacado, Levelland and Frenship, with a 2-2 slate in loop games. Estacado is 6-11 for the year.

The Tigers have very little time to enjoy Thursday's win. They travel to Lamesa to tangle with the league-leading Golden Tornadoes for a 6 p.m. battle today.

Snyder will start right-hander Daniel Espinosa, 4-4, on the mound. Lamesa, 15-4 and 3-1, will counter with Wesley Diaz.

Clippers earn NBA post-season berth

by The Associated Press

Larry Brown, the first man to coach two NBA teams in one season, is now the first to coach the Los Angeles Clippers into the NBA playoffs.

The Clippers, whose franchise last appeared in the postseason in 1976 when it was located in Buffalo and called the Braves, clinched the playoff berth with a 96-93 victory over the NBA's worst team, handing Minnesota its sixth straight loss.

"It's been 16 years, and that's longer than I stay at most of my jobs," Brown said, mocking his own reputation for job-jumping.

If the Timberwolves had been able to win, the Clippers' playoff spot was still secure because the Los Angeles Lakers lost 102-94 at Sacramento. The defeat left the Lakers on the verge of missing the playoffs for the first time since 1976, the year the Clippers last appeared in them.

Ron Harper had 29 points for the Clippers, including a free throw with 15 seconds left that completed the scoring. A free throw by Danny Manning with 1:49 left put Los Angeles ahead 95-90 before a free throw by Tony Campbell and basket by Sam Mitchell made it close down the stretch.

In other NBA games, it was Miami 95, Milwaukee 87; Indiana 119, New Jersey 113; Washington 119, Orlando 106; and Phoenix 121, San Antonio 101.,

Charles Smith had 24 points and 11 rebounds for the Clippers.

Gerald Glass scored 16 points for the Timberwolves.

Kings 102, Lakers 94

Wayman Tisdale scored 22 points to help Sacramento put Los Angeles on the brink of playoff elimination.

Dennis Hopson came off the bench to score 11 of his 19 points in the fourth quarter for the Kings, who outscored Los Angeles 9-4 in the final 2:11 to end a 17-game losing streak against the Lakers, dating to Jan. 10, 1989.

The Lakers, who got 27 points from Terry Teagle, fell one game behind Houston for the eighth and final playoff berth in the Western Conference. The Rockets have a better record against conference playoff teams — the fourth tiebreaker — so the Lakers would have to win their last two games while Houston loses its last two in order to avoid missing the playoffs.

Suns 121, Spurs 101

Cedric Ceballos scored 13 of his 27 points in the third quarter as Phoenix broke away from San Antonio.

Ed Nealy added 17 points in 21 minutes on 6-for-6 shooting for the Suns, who won their eighth straight game at home, where they finished 36-5.

Sean Elliott scored 20 points and Terry Cummings 19 for the Spurs.

Bullets 119, Magic 106

Michael Adams scored 34 points and Washington snapped a six-game losing streak by beating Orlando.

Adams made 13 of 21 shots, including five 3-pointers, to help the Bullets win their final home game of the season.

Angels rally past Rangers

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) — After the Texas Rangers did not get what they needed from their ace closer, Jeff Russell, California's Bryan Harvey protected the Angels' ninth-inning lead for a 3-2 victory Thursday night.

California scored three runs in the ninth inning. Rangers starter Brian Bohanon gave up a double to Chad Curtis to start the inning and on came Russell. He yielded singles to Bobby Rose and Junior Felix. An error by third baseman Dean Palmer and Gary Gaetti's sacrifice fly handed Russell his first loss against a victory.

Last year, Russell had 10 blown saves in 40 save opportunities.

"I think we were supposed to win this one," Gaetti said. "We kept getting out of jams, and when you do that, you usually win."

But they had to have some tidy relief, and Harvey, the AL's top fireman last year, did the job. Harvey, who converted on 46 of 52 save opportunities last year, earned his third save.

"It was a big game to win, another one-run game," said California manager Buck Rodgers. "We better get used to it. We're going to be in a lot of one-run games this year.

"That's why it's so great to have a closer like Harvey. If you get a lead, you know you're going to keep it."

NCAA probe targets Duke cage standout

RALEIGH (AP) — The NCAA was contacted before the season began about Christian Laettner's agreement to write an article for GQ magazine, a decision that may have compromised his amateur status.

The Winston-Salem Journal reported Thursday that Laettner signed a contract his senior year with GQ magazine. NCAA rules say a student athlete's eligibility is jeopardized if he makes an agreement for professional services or promotes a product while still eligible.

Laettner, the leading scorer for Duke's championship team, agreed last August to keep a diary during the 1991-92 season which would be published by the magazine later this year.

Fox becomes ACU Wildcat

ABILENE — Snyder standout offensive lineman Chad Fox has signed a letter of intent to attend Abilene Christian University.

Fox, a 6-2, 260-pound tackle for the SHS Tigers, anchored the Snyder line and helped put coach David Baugh's squad in the Class 4A playoffs for two straight years.

He earned all-area honors and was named to the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal's All-South Plains team.

In addition, Fox was a two-time All-District 2-4A selection.

He also is a member of the Tiger baseball team and is active with FCA.

The signing was announced by ACU head football coach Ronnie Peacock.

NOTICE OF SETTLEMENT MODIFICATION

In October of 1986, two classes, the first described as all Mexican-Americans currently eligible to vote and all Mexican-Americans who in the future will become eligible to vote in the elections for members to the City of Snyder City Council, and the second defined as all Blacks currently eligible to vote and all Blacks who in the future will become eligible to vote in elections for members to the City of Snyder City Council were certified in Pena v. City of Snyder, Civil Action No. CA5-85-261, pending in the United States District Court for the Northern District of Texas, Lubbock Division. After lengthy negotiation, the parties to the above-referenced law suit reached a settlement which was judicially approved on March 12, 1987. Under the agreement, council members were to be elected under a mixed single-member/at-large voting system. The single-member district lines were recently amended to equalize the population between the districts. No other changes were made. Implementation of the change will begin on or before the May, 1992 election.

Because the court was required to approve the original settlement, it must also review poposed amendments. A hearing, therefore, will be held on the 27th day of April, 1992, in the United States District Courtroom for the Northern District of Texas, Lubbock Division, at 9:00 o'clock a.m. at which time the court will consider the alteration. Members of the above-defined classes will be given the opportunity to object to the change. Their objections must be written and filed with the Honorable Halbert O. Woodward, United States District Court, Room C-210, Federal Building, 1205 Texas Avenue, Lubbock, Texas 79401, Mr. Rolando L. Rios, Attorney for the classes, 115 E. Travis, #1024, San Antonio, Texas 78205, and Mr. Brian P. Quinn, Attorney for the Lubbock Independent School District, 1722 Broadway, Lubbock, Texas 79401. All objections must be received by the court, Mr. Rios, and Mr. Quinn no later than the 24th day of April, 1992.

Since this court may wish to hold a hearing on the objection, anyone filing one must appear at the Federal Courthouse, Room C-216 in Lubbock on the 27th day of April, 1992, at 9:00 o'clock a.m. and be prepared to present his contentions. If he or she does not, the objection will be waived.

AVISO DE MODIFICATION DE CASERIO

Teen arrested in apparent cult attack

HOUSTON (AP) — Police say a 17-year-old Georgia man attacked a teen-age girl as part of a cult ritual, telling his stabbing victim that he enjoyed killing and wanted her to die.

Scott Edward May was arraigned on attempted murder charges before State District Judge A.D. Azios Thursday and ordered held in Harris County Jail on $150,000 bond.

May is accused of cutting the throat of a 16-year-old girl and slashing her with several knives while the two were on a date April 11, Houston police said. They said she was stabbed in the throat, back, neck, chest and arm.

"He told her that he wanted her to die and that he enjoyed killing," Sgt. Jim Binford said. "She was able to get away from him but his intent was to kill her. He told her that, and he in fact thought he had killed her."

The girl, whose name was not released, was able to flee the car where the attack occurred and seek help, Houston police spokesman John Leggio said. She remained hospitalized for her injuries Thursday at an undisclosed location, he said.

May was arrested Tuesday.

"The man's confession to this particular crime indicated that he practices Satanism and the occult," Leggio said.

Several library books on satanic rituals and the occult were found during a search of May's apartment, he said.

"He also had a diary in which he listed the details of the stabbing and what he planned to do," Leggio said. "He also had a list of other people he wanted to stab and murder."

Police on Thursday were trying to verify details May provided about two to four stabbing murders he said he committed in Houston and outside the city as part of his satanic rituals, beginning when he was 14.

"It is beyond a fantasy thing," Binford said. "He has been evasive in talking about some of them (other slashings), but has bragged about some of them. He has shown no remorse."

"He spoke of urges that he had always had all of his life in attacking people, even family members ... it was an urge that he could not overcome."

Police said May was part of a juvenile transfer program that allowed him to move from Georgia to Texas about seven months ago.

Under the Interstate Compact Agreement, Leggio said communities in one state that "have a troubled or disturbed juvenile" can exchange them for offenders from other states. "They reestablish that person in a new environment with the hope that they can stay out of trouble," he said.

But Leggio said it was unclear whether May was under any supervision with the transfer and since he had turned 17 in January, he no longer would be subject to juvenile laws.

the arena before being taken out on a stretcher and transported to Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

Less than an hour later, Cattoor combined with teammate Sid Morris for a 7.8-second first-place time in the opening go of team roping.

"He just got his bell rung," said Doty. "It looked pretty bad when it happened, but he didn't even want to leave the coliseum on the stretcher."

Other Western Texas entrants taking honors Thursday included steer wrestler Jim Phillips and goat tying specialist Gina Burnett.

Phillips, in first place after one go-round, took his steer down in a scant 5.4 seconds to lead second-place David Underwood of Howard College by over three seconds.

Burnett is in third place with an 8.6 clocking, trailing Texas Tech's Kody Newman, with a 7.8; and an 8.5 by former WTC team member Lisa Meloy's 8.5. Meloy now competes for West Texas State University.

Western Texas' roughstock domination held in the saddle bronc riding when Trey Griffen tied Howard's T.J. Kenney for first place. Both scored 72 points.

Thad Little grabbed third for WTC, just a point back, on Bald Hornet.

Jackie Dunlap and Angel Miller of Western Texas hold sixth and seventh positions in the barrel race with respective times of 15.61 and 16.31. Holding first in the event is Sul Ross cowgirl Kasey Hall with a speedy 14.51.

Jason Smith of Vernon Regional JC took the early calf roping lead with a 10.4 Thursday and Howard bull rider J.C. Nix took a 77 in Thursday slack to claim the event's top spot.

Obituaries

Jerry Grimes

1914-1992

COLORADO CITY — Services were to be held at 2 p.m. today at Kiker-Seale Funeral Home Chapel for Jerry Grimes, 77, of Colorado City, formerly of Snyder. The Rev. Mike Foster was to officiate. Burial was to follow in the Colorado City Cemetery.

Mr. Grimes died Wednesday at Mitchell County Hospital.

Born April 29, 1914, in Collinsville, he moved to Mitchell County in 1991 after living in Snyder for 23 years. He had been employed as a truck driver for Goodpasture-Green Trucking in Brownfield. He was a member of the Pentecostal Church.

Survivors include his ex-wife, Dorothy Turner of Snyder; four sons, Jerry Grimes of Snyder, Ricky Grimes of Sweetwater; Bill Grimes and Jimmy Grimes, both of Colorado City; 17 grandchildren; and six great-grandchildren.

Burglary investigated by officers

Snyder police began a burglary investigation and made six unrelated arrests Thursday.

Officers are investigating the burglary of Western Auto, in which an undetermined amount of cash, pocket knives and watches were taken.

Entry was gained by breaking the front door glass. No charges have been filed in the case.

The break-in was discovered by Bill Dryden of Dryden's Shoes, who notified police at 7:21 a.m. Thursday that the front glass door of Western Auto had been broken.

Police made the first of six misdemeanor arrests at 1:33 p.m. in the 1000 block of 32nd Street. Officers took a 35-year-old man into custody for possession of a controlled substance, marijuana.

At 3:29 p.m., police arrested a 19-year-old man in the 2000 block of 27th Street on a warrant for criminal trespass.

At 3:43 p.m., officers arrested a 25-year-old man for driving with a suspended license in the 1400 block of 25th Street.

At 4:19 p.m., a 68-year-old man was arrested in the 3300 block of Avenue K on a warrant for reckless conduct.

Officers also arrested a 33-year-old man at 5:16 p.m. in the 3200 block of Avenue K for public intoxication and a 48-year-old man at 5:52 p.m. in the 2800 block of Avenue Y on a warrant for Class B assault.

At 4:29 p.m., officers worked a hit-and-run at 2700 38th St. Involved were a parked, unoccupied 1978 Datsun owned by Hollie Colvin of 1902 Scott and a vehicle which left the scene.

Police also aided a number of stranded motorists and handled several domestic disputes without incident Thursday.

On the Issues

Pesticides with dinner

Editor's Note — The Associated Press asks the major presidential candidates a question each weekday about their views on a particular issue and assembles their responses.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here are the views of the major presidential candidates on the question: "Should the federal government tighten regulation of chemical pesticides used on farm crops that eventually find their way to the American dinner table?"

DEMOCRATS

—Jerry Brown: "Yes. The federal government should tighten regulation of chemical pesticides. We should be using pesticides only as a last resort and continuing the process of certifying organic gardening techniques. We should also renew soil conservation efforts."

—Bill Clinton: "As president, I will work to ensure that we have strict regulation of pesticides so that our food supply is as safe as possible for our families."

REPUBLICANS

—George Bush: The Bush administration wants an amendment to the Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act that would let federal standards supersede state standards on acceptable levels of pesticides, making the federal standard the ceiling instead of the floor. The amendment would allow a greater cancer risk from pesticides, raising the floor from one in a million to one in 100,000.

The Bush administration has also opposed legislation closing the "circle of poison," in which pesticides banned in this country are exported for use in other nations and returned to us on foods like bananas and coffee.

—Patrick Buchanan: A spokesman said Buchanan had not taken a public position on the issue.

Patent granted for blood substitute

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A patent has been granted to a San Antonio researcher for a blood substitute designed for short-term use in heart-bypass surgery, officials say.

Dr. Thomas Runge, a professor at both the University of Texas Health Science Center at San Antonio and at UT-Austin said Thursday the new substitute will be closer in function to whole human blood than the many other substitutes now being developed.

It is designed for short-term use in bypass surgery, but Runge said, "I don't see any reason not to use it an all applications.

"You could use it on the battlefield. You could use it in an ambulance," Runge said.

The AIDS epidemic has prompted an intense search for a safe blood substitute.

A substitute also could presumably be stored longer and not require matching blood type, officials say.

The patent, granted earlier this year, combines perfluorocarbons, an already available synthetic material that can carry oxygen in the bloodstream, with a plasma substitute that basically is 10 percent sugar in water, Runge said.

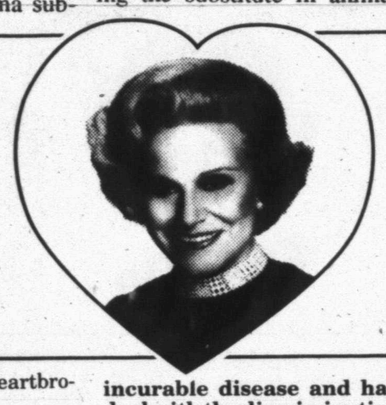

The plasma substitute helps replace oxygen in the body by removing excess fluids in tissues, Runge said.

Runge said a health science center committee Wednesday granted permission to begin testing the substitute in animals.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1992 Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I never thought I would be writing a Dear Abby letter, but I am so angry I have to vent, or I will explode!

I have a very close male friend of more than 30 years. We have no secrets and have shared wonderful experiences and trips together. "Jim" is openly gay. For decades I begged (and even tried to bribe) him to give up cigarettes, but to no avail. He pleaded "hopeless addiction" and refrained from smoking in front of me. But his clothes and car smelled strongly of smoke, so he didn't kid me.

Abby, about a month ago, Jim suddenly gave up smoking! I asked him if it was on doctor's orders, and he said, "No, I just don't feel like smoking." Then, a few weeks ago, I saw him and he looked absolutely green. He was breathless, as though he had been running, and said he felt "just terrible." I told him he didn't look too well, either, and urged him to see his doctor.

To make a long story short — he paid a visit to the doctor, who ordered him immediately into the hospital. The diagnosis is pneumocystic pneumonia.

Abby, I am furious with him! When all the publicity about AIDS came out 10 years ago, he told me he hadn't had contact with anybody "in ages." And over the years, as mutual friends became sick, I asked him if he had been tested for AIDS. He just repeated that he hadn't been near anybody in almost 10 years and, if he was HIV-positive, he would rather not know it!

How could anybody be so selfish? How could he have had so little consideration for the people who love him? If he cared so little for his own health — couldn't he have at least made sure he was all right for my sake, and for the other friends who treasure him as I do? I am heartbroken.

If he had only confirmed he was HIV-positive, he and his doctor could have monitored his immune system, and he would have had advance warning that he was in serious trouble. Instead, he wasted precious weeks!

The doctors "think" they can pull him through this "episode" — but what if they can't? This is so unfair! Why, oh why would an intelligent person who knows he is at risk refuse to be tested when it is so important that people know their status?

HEARTBROKEN IN HOUSTON

DEAR HEARTBROKEN: Your friend is lucky to have such a caring friend as you. His is a classic case of "denial."

It is very difficult for some people to face the possibility that they might be infected with an incurable disease and have to deal with the discrimination and rejection they might encounter.

And you are absolutely right — especially today with the advances that have been made in treating HIV-infection and its effects. Persons who know they are at risk should be tested so that they can benefit from what help is available. With proper treatment and early intervention, the quality (and quantity) of life is far from hopeless.

Astro-graphs

By Bernice Bede Osol

Your Birthday

April 18, 1992

You could establish several enviable relationships in the year ahead. They will be with individuals who will be just as concerned about advancing your hopes and desires as you will be about theirs.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Your greatest asset today is your ability to mastermind the affairs of others. Ways of doing things effectively, which they'll overlook, will be obvious to you. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Astro-Graph Matchmaker instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail $2 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) When working in close proximity with others today, keep an open mind and, if their suggestions are superior to yours, be willing to adjust your views. Everyone will gain.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) This could be the day you've been waiting for to talk to the boss about improving your lot at work. You're holding some aces, so play them wisely.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Don't hide your feelings under a bushel today when it comes to someone you really like but about whom you have been reticent. There's a strong probability the feeling is mutual.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Give situations that could make or save you money the serious respect they deserve today. These are your strong areas, and good results are likely.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Impressive results are possible today in situations where you have something to sell or promote. The secret to your success depends on how sincerely you believe in your product.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Your imagination, flair and resourcefulness in financial matters could be rather outstanding today. All it will take to trigger these attributes will be the right kind of challenge.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Friends will find your personality extremely intriguing today: You'll be both dynamic and mysterious. But you won't be role-playing; it will just be the natural you.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Friends will respond to your appeals for assistance today — if you play to their emotions. This will be particularly true of two people you helped recently.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You may have the opportunity today to get to know someone better about whom you have felt indifferently. You and this individual have a great deal in common and could become very good friends.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) When put to the test today, you'll conduct yourself well in situations where you exercise authority. You'll be fair and just, yet firm when necessary.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Don't discount the suggestions of friends today in matters that affect you socially, but, on the other hand, don't take as gospel any financial advice they may offer.
