HOOVER AND ROOSEVELT SET MEETING TUESDAY

Pennsylvania Election Scandals May Give Demos State's Electoral Vote

VARE MACHINE CHARGED WITH BALLOT FRAUD

Witnesses Claim Liquor Given Voters For G. O. P. Support

OFFICIALS 'D R U N K'

Negro Votes Bought And Armored Cars Toured City, Is Testimony

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 17. (UP)—Booze and cash were used as lures to voters in the polling booths, witnesses today told the congressional campaign expenditures committee investigating charges that the presidential election was "fraudulently conducted" in this state.

The witnesses told an amazing tale of alleged frauds, drunkenness, coercion and intimidation in testimony that was intended to switch Pennsylvania from the column of Hoover states to the list of Roosevelt states.

Salaries Assessed

Railroad and utility officials were scheduled to add to the evidence unfolded before the committee when it resumes its hearing Friday.

In bewildering succession, witness followed witness this afternoon, points in testimony including charges that:

Five per cent assessments were made on the salaries of city employes for the Vare campaign fund.

More than 7,500 persons were improperly registered; registrations coming from empty houses, vacant lots and garages.

Negro votes were bought for 25 and 50 cents apiece.

A report had been current on election day that strong arm men in machines were cruising about polling places with shotguns in the cars.

Officials "Drunk"

The judge of election in at least one district was "drunk and three other officials were intoxicated."

Voting machines were put out of commission and threats of bodily violence were made at the polls.

More than 2,000 complaints of election irregularities were received at Democratic headquarters.

Liquor, and the promise of food were given to voters.

The house committee, headed by Congressman Ragon of New York, began functioning on the initiative of Democratic leaders. The latter complained of alleged frauds. Records and financial accounts of the state and city Republican committees were subpoenaed. Republican party leaders were called as witnesses.

Wilson Flies Complaint

S. Davis Wilson, who was chairman of the Roosevelt independent committee before the election filed a complaint resulting in the hearing, although numerous other complaints have been received.

Simultaneously, the re-election of United States Senator James J. Davis over his Democratic oppo-

Parley Slated Dec. 6 On Red River Bridge

AUSTIN, Nov. 17. (AP)—Sidney Benbow, Texas assistant attorney general, said today a conference would be held in Austin Dec. 6 or 7, concerning litigation involving the free bridge across Red river connecting Denison, Texas, with Durant, Okla.

Oklahoma will be represented by W. C. Lewis, assistant attorney general.

The state's attorneys will discuss plans to contest a suit filed by owners of a parallel toll bridge for damages resulting from construction of the free bridge. The toll bridge company claimed the Oklaend of the free bridge was on land granted them by the Chickasha Indians in the form of a perpetual franchise.

Dallas Woman Killed When Hit by Truck

DALLAS, Nov. 18. (AP)—A woman identified as Mrs. Etta Wood of Dallas was killed when a large truck of a grocery company hit her at a downtown street intersection today. A boy with her suffered severe head injuries.

Police Mobilized As Youth Kills Escort And Assaults Girls

CHICAGO, Nov. 17. (UP)—A sweetheart killer eluded 6,000 police tonight as the city's love lorn couples hesitated about sitting in their automobiles on darkened streets.

The blond killer shot Frank M. Jordan to death when the latter fought to protect Miss Emma Dahnke.

Half an hour later the killer accosted James Guisinger and Miss Lillian Henry in another automobile. He tore the collar from Miss Henry's dress, used it to bind Guisinger's hands behind his back and threw him from the car. He kidnaped Miss Henry, attacked her twice in six hours, and at 4:30 a. m. today slapped her face and disappeared.

A few minutes later every policeman in Chicago was ordered to seek a 22-year-old youth of fair complexion and ragged clothes as the perpetrator of the city's most ruthless crime in months.

Girl Sobs Story

"Frank and I were sitting in his car about 10:30 p. m.," sobbed Miss Dahnke. "The boy came up and said it was a stick-up. Frank started to get out to fight him and the boy shot him with a little black pistol. Frank fell dead, I screamed, and the boy ran."

In 30 minutes the same youth came upon Guisinger and Miss Henry, 20-year-old niece of Deputy Police Commissioner James Alcock, in their car a few blocks away.

"I just killed a guy," he boasted, "and you'll get it too unless you do what I say."

He squeezed into the small coupe, forced Guisinger to drive down an alley, and there ripped the collar from Miss Henry's dress. He used it to tie Guisinger's hands. He took rags from a side pocket of the car for a gag. He put Guisinger in the rumble seat.

Tells of Murder

Then he pressed his revolver against the girl, and forced her to drive to Guisinger's home, where he threw the latter out. There followed a night of terror for Miss Henry. She described it thus:

"He started to make horrible love to me. He treated me terribly. I think I must have fainted. Then we drove and drove until we came to a vacant prairie near Hoyne avenue. He kept me there for two hours and renewed his revolting attentions. He told me about how he had killed that poor man earlier in the evening.

"'I went to rob another couple in another car,' he told me. 'The guy refused to put up his hands, so I gave it to him. The girl started to holler so I ran.'

"While he was talking he suddenly slapped me and ran down the railroad tracks nearby. I finally managed to drive James' car to my home and tell my mother what happened."

Gov. Sterling And Highway Official Each Bags a Deer

ALPINE, Texas, Nov. 17. (AP)—Gov. R. S. Sterling today killed a 13-point blacktail deer on the H. L. Kokernot ranch 20 miles north of Alpine. W. R. Ely of the highway commission also brought down a buck.

WOMAN KILLS BUCK

SAN MARCOS, Texas, Nov. 17. (AP)—Mrs. Jack Robertson of San Marcos was the first woman in this vicinity to bring down a buck since the season opened. While hunting with her husband north of New Braunfels this morning, Mrs. Robertson brought down an eight-point buck weighing more than 120 pounds. Mr. Robertson had not had any success hunting up to that time.

FIRE MASCOT LOSES LIFE

Prize Dog Killed When He Answers Alarm

"Died in the line of duty" was the report of District Fire Chief Henry Smith of the central station Thursday when the company's mascot, "Don," was crushed under the wheels of a department truck at Ninth and Indiana. "Don" was added to the central station staff about six months ago as a young pup and readily mastered the technique of speed in taking his place on the first truck to leave the station on an alarm.

Thursday morning "Don" was busy in another part of the city hall and failed to catch the first truck out, but made a desperate attempt to overtake the second truck as it rounded a corner into Indiana from Ninth. His speed caused the mascot to over-reach his goal and he fell under a wheel.

The veteran mascot "Mac" left the central station in a jealous rage when the younger dog replaced him and is now making headquarters at No. 3 station at Seventeenth and Holliday.

The department answered a trash fire alarm at the rear of the Jack's Super Service station at Sixth and Indiana at 11:30 o'clock when "Don" was killed.

Kilgore Well Closed For Exceeding Allowable

LONGVIEW, Texas, Nov. 17. (AP)—The Oriental Oil company's well on the Alexander farm, in Kilgore field was closed today by a temporary injunction granted by District Judge W. C. Hurst.

The state, in the injunction suit, charged the Oriental company exceeded the legal allowable by 285 barrels on Nov. 15 and 16, in production from the well. This was the seventh well closed in the last six days by court injunction and the 10th closed thus since a three-judge federal court decision several weeks ago voided existing proration regulations. That decision has not been made final by decree.

Mineral Wells Selected By DAR for 1933 Meet

AUSTIN, Nov. 17. (AP)—The Texas Chapter, National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution today selected Mineral Wells as the 1933 convention city. A resolution was adopted to hold the annual meetings of the organization in March, starting next year.

No date for the convention at Mineral Wells had been set.

San Antonio withdrew its bid as the next convention city with the understanding it would press its claim in 1934.

Temperature Rises After Light Snow

Clear skies were welcomed by Wichitans for a short time Thursday as evidence of a definite break in the cold wave of the two preceding days. The skies cleared for a short time after a light snow during the morning. The snow melted as fast as it fell.

Warmer temperatures were reported throughout the Wichita area by railway dispatchers. Continued warmer weather and cloudy skies were predicted for this section Friday. The temperature climbed to 48 degrees Thursday afternoon after a low of 35 degrees early in the morning. Skies were cloudy later in the afternoon.

The mercury stood at 46 degrees at 5 p. m. and a light northeast breeze was registered at the Texas Electric Service company cooperative weather bureau. The barometer was high at 29.32. The temperature dropped to 36 degrees at midnight.

Albany Oil Man Killed When Tank Explodes

ALBANY, Texas, Nov. 17. (AP)—Joe H. Dixon, 33, oil man of Albany, was killed this afternoon when a hundred barrel oil tank exploded in the southern part of town. His son was burned severely.

The force of the explosion, believed to have occurred from a spark from a cigaret Dixon was smoking, shook nearby residences and blew off the top of a steel welded tank. Dixon was on the tank making an adjustment in a natural gas line running from his residence 200 feet away.

Bank Robber Escapes Jail's Hospital Ward

LUBBOCK, Texas, Nov. 17. (AP)—Jack Sullivan, 25, his right arm still in a sling because of gunshot wounds, escaped a Lubbock county jail hospital ward this afternoon, held up Joe W. Harris at a street intersection a block away, and fled south in Harris' automobile.

The notorious Portales, N. M., man, a suspect in the Olton, Texas, bank robbery, was wounded seven times in the leg, abdomen, and arm when he attempted to run a gauntlet of Texas and New Mexico officers at Mountainair, N. M., Sept. 13.

Governor to Pardon Dry Law Offenders

OLYMPIA, Wash., Nov. 17. (INS)—A lenient attitude will be taken toward liquor law violators, and some prisoners now serving terms in state and county prisons for liquor sentences will be given their freedom after Dec. 8, when the repeal of Washington's state dry law becomes effective, according to announcement by Governor Hartley.

BAPTIST MEET OPPOSES DRY LAW REPEAL

Churchmen in Convention At Abilene Select Fort Worth

SESSION ENDS TODAY

Resolution Condemns Use Of School for Dance; Favors Race Law

ABILENE, Texas, Nov. 17. (AP)—Use of public school buildings for dancing, proposed repeal of the Texas race track gambling law and all activities in connection with alteration of the state and national prohibition laws were condemned today by the general Baptist convention of Texas in adopting recommendations of its committee on civic righteousness.

The committee commended "the citizenship of our nation for its orderly conduct in the change of administrations by popular vote," but deplored "the motives that have actuated leaders in deceiving enough of our citizenship to believe that the return of the liquor traffic, and its corruption, will bring prosperity and peace to our people."

Would Disregard Party

A laymen's work committee report, in describing the ideal Baptist layman, among other things said such a person "in the political realm" would vote "for right principles in government and righteous men for public office, regardless of party affiliation."

The convention voted to hold its 1933 meeting in Fort Worth next Nov. 8-11. Dr. W. W. Cancellor of Mineral Wells was selected to preach the convention sermon next year, and Dr. E. D. Head of Houston was chosen alternate for that assignment.

A spirited contest for the 1933 convention site had been waged before the convention committee on "Place, Time and Preacher," by Fort Worth, Mineral Wells, Houston, Harlingen and San Antonio.

Advocates of Houston and Harlingen carried their fight to the floor of the convention in opposition to the committee's recommendation, but Fort Worth was declared the winner on a viva voca vote.

The convention had another day's business on its program. Reports on Christian education, Baylor college and Baylor university and dis-

Two Held at Longview After Theft of Jewels

LONGVIEW, Texas, Nov. 17. (AP)—Jim H. Letts, Houston attorney, was free on bond today on charges of receiving and concealing stolen property and Horace S. Groves was in jail under $1,700 bond on charges of felony theft in connection with an alleged attempt to steal a $1,750 diamond stud and a diamond ring valued at $600 from Archie Stephens of Gilmer, Texas.

Stevens said he gave the two articles to Groves to be sold. Groves later reported to Gregg county officers that he had been hijacked, kidnaped and robbed of the stud and ring. In a statement to officers, he said he had taken the valuables to Houston to Letts who advised officers there of the alleged hijacking and that Letts gave Groves $90 on the stud, in turn borrowing $125 on it.

The stud was recovered and Letts was returned here Tuesday from Houston.

PREACHER TO PRISON

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Nov. 17. (AP)—The Rev. Stephen Althea Berrie, unfrocked minister convicted of murder in the poison death of his first wife, was taken to McAlester state's prison today to begin serving a life sentence.

HUSBAND KILLS HOTEL OWNER

Wife's Employer Shot After Woman Discharged

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas, Nov. 17. (AP)—Arthur Dowd, manager of the Nueces hotel here, who was shot and wounded this afternoon in his office at the hotel, died at 9:45 tonight in a hospital.

Officers arrested a man who, they said, was the husband of a maid who claimed she was dismissed by Dowd from the hotel's employ a few hours before the shooting.

Three shots struck Dowd in the head and two others in the body. The man held in jail refused to discuss the affair.

Prisoners Escape From Sheriff in Automobile

LAWTON, Okla., Nov. 17. (AP)—Officers of Comanche and adjoining counties tonight searched for two prisoners who early today overpowered Sheriff E. R. Young and his son, Dunn Young, of Stephens county near Indiahoma, Okla.

C. E. Elliott and Roy Dodson, the prisoners, were being taken from Amarillo, Texas, to Duncan to face automobile theft charges.

The prisoners were handcuffed at the time of the escape. One of them seized Sheriff Young's pistol and forced his son, who was driving the car, to stop. After forcing the father and son from the car and making them unlock the handcuffs, the pair sped away.

The car was found wrecked.

Farmer and Wife Held After Banker Disappears

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 17. (UP)—A farmer and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Wilkerson, today were held for investigation as officers searched for I. S. Hemingway, a loan banker, who disappeared mysteriously.

"We have information the Wilkersons know something about Hemingway's disappearance," Assistant County Attorney Draper Grigsby said.

Search for the loan man, reputedly wealthy, started last night when his attorney reported to the sheriff's office his client had vanished and that he had received a letter from him postmarked at Sulphur.

Planes Fail to Find Missing Texas Hunter

BEAUMONT, Texas, Nov. 17. (AP)—After flying over marsh lands near High island in search of M. W. "Pete" Hargrove of Beaumont, reported lost there yesterday when hunters found the frozen body of his brother-in-law, Louis Henry Bond Jr., of Rusk, two aviators returned here this evening, reporting they had found no trace of the missing man.

Search was carried on also by land and water. Numerous parties tramped through the marshes afoot and small boats manned by coast guard were taken through the bayous.

Red Cross 'Shock Troops' To Storm Business Area Today In Final Drive

Leaders Go Into Action to End Campaign When Subscriptions Lag; Iowa Park, Burk and Electra Organize

Shock troops of interested Wichitans will storm the downtown business area Friday morning at 9 o'clock in a concentrated drive to send the 1932 Red Cross roll call over the top in this city. Many Wichitans have failed to respond to solicitations of team members in the campaign and drastic action is necessary in completing the drive as soon as possible, Roll Call Chairman Linton H. Estes stated Thursday.

Mr. Estes and American Legion officers were busy late Thursday completing rosters of workers who will drive through downtown Wichita Falls Friday contacting every citizen possible to boost the Wichita county chapter membership. A meeting of the shock troops will be held at the Red Cross headquarters at 9 o'clock Friday morning when final instructions will be issued for the clean-up campaign.

Life Saving and Aid to Needy

"The Red Cross is a paying proposition for local citizens in that we receive far more from the national organization than we subscribe," Walter D. Cline said Thursday in discussing the final plans at chapter headquarters. He pointed out the large amounts of federal flour and cloth distributed through the Wichita county chapter as direct aids for needy families of the city. In addition the chapter offers assistance for disabled war veterans and life saving instruction for the safety of citizens at the swimming pools of the city during the summer months.

Campaign leaders hope to complete the drive Saturday although the limits extend to Nov. 24.

County Quota 750

The county quota has been placed at 3,800 and 750 memberships are expected to be secured at Iowa Park, Burkburnett and Electra. Mr. Estes contacted chapter leaders in the three communities Wednesday and reported the quotas had been set and workers were in action. Iowa Park is including a quota of 100 memberships in a current community chest drive. Electra, with some members already secured, will open an active drive Monday and at Burkburnett the campaign opened Wednesday for 300 members and 75 were enrolled the first day. W. D. Bent of that city accepting a personal quota of 100 cards for oil field workers.

Wichita Falls firms placed on the 100 per cent membership roll Thursday were the Primrose Refining company, Buchanan Stationery company, Wichita Cigar and Tobacco company, White House Market, Mack Taylor Drug company and Nunn Electric company.

Dead Negro Indicted For Spinster's Death

NATCHEZ, Miss., Nov. 17. (INS)—Slaying of Miss Jane Surget Merrill, wealthy spinster recluse, today was charged to a dead negro man and a negro woman, his alleged accessory, in indictments returned by the Adams county grand jury.

Emily Burns, negro woman, was indicted as an accessory to the murder and on another count for aiding a murderer to escape. George Pearles, negro, slain by Arkansas officers shortly after Miss Merrill was killed, was indicted for the actual slaying.

No action was taken by the grand jury against R. H. Dana, "wild man of the woods," and Miss Octavia Docker, "goat man," neighbors of Miss Merrill, who were held for several days in connection with her death.

Homestead Exemption From Only State Tax

AUSTIN, Nov. 17. (AP)—Bruce Bryant, first assistant attorney general, today ruled that the constitutional amendment adopted at the Nov. 8 election exempting homesteads from taxation up to $3,000 applied to state taxes only. The ruling was given to the legislative tax survey committee.

It had been advanced in some quarters that the exemption would apply to county, municipal and district taxes.

UNIQUE PARLEY IS ARRANGED BY TELEPHONE

Capital Buzzes With Talk Of Debts, Budget And Needed Revenue

CONGRESSMEN CALLED

President to Confer With Three Chief Members Of Finance Body

By JOHN F. CHESTER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Engrossing himself in the two great problems facing the federal government—war debts and a balanced budget—President Hoover today arranged with President-elect Roosevelt to meet with him next Tuesday to discuss these subjects and then called a bipartisan parley with congressional leaders for the next day.

In the early afternoon, while the national capital buzzed with war debt and budget talk, the president lifted the now-historic telephone on his desk to hear his successor-elect say he would reach Washington at 3:30 Tuesday afternoon and would go directly to the executive offices.

Calls Legislators

Later, after most of official Washington had quit work for the day, Mr. Hoover summoned the three ranking Republicans and Democratic members of the senate finance committee and the house ways and means committee to meet with him Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock to "discuss questions of foreign debts."

Ambassadors Claudel of France and May of Belgium conferred with Secretary Stimson on the debt problem, but left the state department reporting they had received no reply to requests for a moratorium extension and a review of the debt situation.

Begin Slashing Budget

Meanwhile, on Capitol hill, the house appropriations committee began its slashing of the budget. It went to work on the treasury-post-office money bill, with Chairman Byrns predicting an appropriation "considerably less" than the $1,056,000,000 given by the last congress. At his desk in the executive offices, President Hoover considered both war debts and budget in a series of conferences with his administration's aides.

He had before him the latest treasury information showing the federal deficit as of Nov. 15 had exceeded $709,000,000—with expenditures approaching $1,342,000,000 since July 1.

New Taxes Insufficient

Additional figures were being amassed by Secretary Mills, meanwhile, to show that although the new billion dollar tax bill had brought in slightly increased revenue in October, as compared with last year, it could not bring collections for the quarter up to last year's mark.

The president called in J. Clawson Roop, director of the budget, for more information, and also Secretary Hurley, who left the White House after an hour, reporting the war department budget "in very satisfactory shape," but with no recommendtalons for national defense.

Postmaster General Brown, after a similar White House conference, said the postoffice funding was proving a "peculiar problem," and spoke of possible decreases in personnel.

Debts Claim Attention

It was the foreign debt problem, however, that provided the more dramatic incidents of the day.

M. Claudel and M. May just had left an additional conference with Undersecretary William Castle of the state department, who shortly before had conferred with the president, and senators and representatives still were declaring in Capitol hill their opposition to alteration of the debt agreement, when the telephone buzzer rang beneath Mr. Hoover's desk.

The conversation that followed brought the first important verbal interchange between the chief executive and his victor at the polls since the war.

Conference to Be Brief

The words themselves were kept

VON PAPEN AND CABINET RESIGN

Hindenburg Seeks Man To Guide Republic

BERLIN, Nov. 17. (AP)—Chancellor Franz Von Papen, who has directed the German government for a little less than six months, resigned today, taking his whole cabinet out with him, in the face of almost unanimous opposition in the new reichstag.

He goes out to make room for others in an effort to realize President Von Hindenburg's ideal of a cabinet of "national concentration" appointed by and primarily responsible to the president but supported or at least tolerated by a majority of the reichstag.

The communique announcing the resignation said the cabinet had retired because "it wishes to clear the way for the president so that he, as the leader of the nation and with the high authority of his office, may bring about the consolidation of all truly national forces which alone can assure Germany's future.

"Under the present conditions, the government believes it acts in the best interests of the Fatherland if it returns its offices to the president. In so doing it acts in accordance with the often-pronounced principle (without yielding the principle of authoritary government) that personal considerations have no place in so serious an hour."

The president accepted the resignations. His first move probably will be to appeal personally to the several party leaders. The next few days will show whether he can find a man who can command both his confidence and that of the parliament.

BAG DEER

LAREDO, Texas, Nov. 17. (AP)—John McKay and J. R. Reed of the state comptroller's department, bagged two 12-point, one 10-point and one 8-point deer near Laredo yesterday. They all were sent to Austin.

GIVEN LIFE TERM

CORSICANA, Texas, Nov. 17. (AP)—Ollie King was found guilty today of murder in connection with the fatal shooting of Dave Dycus last July 9 and was given a sentence of 99 years imprisonment.

Train Kills Young Druggist On Way To Wife And First Job In Months

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Nov. 17. (AP)—Tom Stallesworth, 26-year-old druggist, son of Dr. J. P. Stallesworth of Canoe, Ala., was killed here this morning when he tried to board a freight train for Kansas City, where his wife and his first job in months were waiting for him.

He had been beating his way from one city to another in search of work since his savings were exhausted. Last week he started from Kansas City to his home in Alabama, where his wife was staying. The day he reached home he received a telegram to return immediately to Kansas City and go to work.

His wife, Margaret, took a passenger train for Kansas City. He promised to meet her there, and followed on a freight. Monday morning he reached Springfield, walked across town to the North Frisco yards, stopped at an oil company beside the tracks there and became acquainted with the manager, E. P. Cook. Cook persuaded him to stay off the trains until the snowstorm, which then swept Springfield, was over. Young Stallesworth spent Monday night at the Salvation Army, Tuesday night near the stove in a fire station.

This morning he set his chin grimly and tackled a Frisco freight. His fingers slipped on an icy grip. He fell in the snow, the train passed over him and severed both legs. Cook, his new friend, heard faint cries for help, looked out and saw what had happened. He held the mangled figure in his arms while an ambulance was on its way to the scene.

Stallesworth was conscious for several hours, talking feebly of his wife, his father and his defeated plans—then he died.

Last Of Peace-Loving Piankeshaws Dies In Tulsa After Vivid Career

MIAMI, Okla., Nov. 17. (AP)—The Piankeshaws, who astounded De Soto because they were the first Indians he ever met who didn't want to fight, are gone.

The last Piankeshaw fullblood, known by his vanished people as "Te-Wah-Guah-Ke-Mon-Goh," or the Storm, because he was born in one, but just "Uncle George" Finley to his many white friends, was buried here today.

But "Uncle George" left a verbal treasure-trove of tribal lore. He loved to tell the legend of De Soto, who encountered the then-powerful tribe near the present site of New Madrid, Mo., and won their lasting affection by praying for rain, which subsequently came down in torrents.

The Piankeshaws once were Omahas, who with the Quapaws were offshoots of the Sioux and kindred tribes which dwelt along the Ohio and Wabash rivers before Columbus discovered America.

Their ranks sadly depleted by malaria and the westward-pressing whites, the Piankeshaws were induced in 1853 to move from Missouri to a reservation in what now is Miami county, Kansas, and there, in a terrific prairie storm, "Uncle George" was born 77 years ago.

But he fled in civil war days from Quantril's raiders, finding a haven with fellow tribesmen in the country of the Oklahoma Osages, and later the government arranged to allow the Piankeshaws and others to select new lands in Indian territory.

"Uncle George," who died in Tulsa yesterday, toured 11 states with the Sells-Floto circus in 1878 as a bareback rider and married a Utica, N. Y., girl, Nora Crosby. They had two children.

LEASES SOLD TO TIDEWATER

Conroe Field Properties Change Hands

FORT WORTH, Nov. 17. (AP)—Purchase of one-half to a full interest in approximately 2,500 acres of partially developed and proven acreage in the new Conroe field has been concluded by officials of the Tidewater group during the sessions of the American Petroleum institute at Houston, it was reported here today.

The transactions involve a consideration in cash, oil and development contracts of roundly $1,500,000, and gives the Tidewater second place in ownership of oil reserves in this new major field," the paper says. "In addition, the transaction involves the entry of the Tidewater with a pipe line gathering system, and as a general purchaser in this field. Heretofore, the Humble has been the only oil buyer in this field. The new gathering system will terminate in a connection with an existing major company pipe line, through which oil produced and purchased by the Tidewater will be transported to gulf coast shipping points.

This latest major purchase augments the position which the Tidewater management has built up in the past several months in acquisition of properties in various Texas fields, notably in East Texas, to serve as a crude supply and reserve for its refinery at Bayonne, N. Y., and its east coast distributing system.

The properties purchased involve nearly 2,500 acres with six producing wells and more than a hundred proven locations.

Properties involved include a half interest in the George W. Strake 665 acres Lewis lease, with two wells drilling; a half interest in 1,800 acres with six producing wells in five leases purchased from Herman Heep; and full interest in 280 acres scattered but all considered proved. The other half interest in the acreage purchased from Heep is owned by the Houston Oil company. The Heep leases involved include the Hamman 232 acres with one producing well; the Courtwright 300 acres with two wells; the Dobbins 100 acres with one well; the Hooper 56 acres with one well and the Freeman 36 acres with one well.

Voting Scandals In Pennslyvania

nant, Lawrence H. Rupp, is being contested. Chairman Ragon of the house committee emphasized today that his committee was "not interested in the senatorial election."

The names of Gen. W. W. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad system, Samuel Vauclain, chairman of the board of the Baldwin Locomotive works and Edward T. Stotesbury, head of Drexel and company, were brought into today's testimony. S. Davis Wilson said that he sought to "show that these men gave money to this (the Vare) organization in return for utility favors."

Book Lists Donors

Much interest centered on a "little grey book" presented in evidence, listing contributions to the Republican city committee here. Odd amounts cited as contributions—sums of $10.01; $7.38 and $37.68—were said by Davis to represent five per cent assessment on the salary of city employes to support the Republican cause.

Bernard Davidowitz, inspector of the registration commission, testified that more than 7,500 were improperly registered, and said that many voters were promised food orders for voting "properly."

Aaron Hilton, negro, testified that negro votes were bought for 25c and 50c apiece. He charged that "Clinton A. Sowers" paid for the votes. A Clinton A. Sowers is member of the state legislature from Philadelphia. Hilton charged further that most of those whose votes were bought did not go into the booths themselves—a party henchman pulled the voting machine lever for them.

Odd Fellows Head Free In Election Fraud Case

COMMANCHE, Texas, Nov. 17. (UP)—W. D. Carroll, grand master-elect of Odd Fellows in Texas, tonight was at liberty under $3,000 bond after he had given notice of appeal from a sentence of two years imprisonment, imposed upon him by a district court jury here today.

Carroll, who for 25 years has been assisting in the holding of elections here, was convicted of a charge he miscalled ballots in the county judge's race during the August run-off primary.

He has also been indicted under a charge he miscalled ballots in the county tax collector's race.

Wells Talks on Power, Principle and Purity

"The young man of today should be equipped with power, principle and purity," Dr. L. N. D. Wells, Dallas evangelist, said Thursday night in a revival sermon at the First Christian church. Power must be disciplined by principle to be of real service and this principle must come from study of God's word, he stated. Two additions to the church roll were received at the close of the service.

Services Friday evening will start at 7:45 o'clock instead of 7:30. The sermon subject will be "The Question of the Judgment."

DEATHS

J. O. PENNINGTON

Funeral services for J. O. Pennington, 24, of Gorman, Texas, will be held in that city Saturday. The body will be forwarded Friday by the Hines mortuary. Mr. Pennington died Wednesday at a local hospital. A brother, H. J. Pennington of Gorman, will accompany the body.

H. B. DENMAN

H. B. Denman, 73, of Amarillo, died at a local hospital Thursday morning and the body is held by the Hines mortuary pending arrival of a son, J. O. Denman of Amarillo.

MRS. EULA M. IVERSON

The body of Mrs. Eula M. Iverson, 41, of Big Spring, was forwarded to Baird, Texas, Thursday afternoon by the Hines mortuary for burial Friday. Mrs. Iverson died in a local hospital Thursday morning. The husband, A. O. Iverson of Big Spring, survives.

A Capital Time At The Capital

There was gaiety aplenty when Washington staged its annual Armistice ball, under the auspices of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Nick Altrock, famous clown of the baseball diamond and coach of the Senators, is shown with a couple of prize catches. Behind him is Gen. Pelham Glassford, resigned Washington chief of police, and at left is Walter Johnson, former member and manager of the Senators.

JURY CHOSEN AT MONTAGUE

Testimony in Reynolds Case To Begin Today

Special to The Record News.

MONTAGUE, Texas, Nov. 17.—The selection of a jury to try L. H. Reynolds, 63, Saint Jo farmer, for the slaying of Nettie Goff, 39, was completed here late this afternoon. Testimony of witnesses is scheduled to begin with the opening of court Friday morning at 9 o'clock.

Reynolds is under indictment for murder in connection with the death of Mrs. Goff and her husband, O. P. Goff, 46, on the Goff farm, five miles west of Saint Jo, on Sept. 20. Goff and his wife both died of wounds inflicted by shots from a shotgun.

Life Term Asked

Reynolds faces trial for each death. Arraigned today, he elected to be tried first for the murder of Mrs. Goff. Upon completion of this trial, he will be tried for the murder of the man.

Glenn Wilson, county attorney-elect, who is assisting County Attorney Temple Yarborough in the prosecution, said that the state would not ask the death penalty, but would seek life imprisonment.

The jury that will decide the farmer's fate is composed of C. H. Culp, Bowie; Mint Harris of Nocona; Bert Lancaster of Bowie; E. H. Kelly of Stoneburg; E. F. Clegg of Nocona; E. E. Vaughn of Illinois Bend; C. E. Ayers of Bonita; H. D. Sewell of Nocona; H. A. Reynolds of Nocona; E. D. Pennell of Nocona; R. C. Miller of Bonita and M. C. Knox of Forestburg.

Venire of 75

The jury was completed from a special venire of 75 men after two-thirds of the number had been called. The state used nine challenges and the defense seven before the 12 men were agreed on.

The dual slaying was said to have followed an attack with clubs allegedly about to be made on Reynolds and his stepdaughter, Amanda Poole, 25, by Goff and his wife as Reynolds and the daughter sought to retrieve calves that had broken into the Goff corn field.

Miss Poole was charged with her father in the slaying but was no-billed by the grand jury. Reynolds has been in the county jail since the shooting. He had never asked for bond.

Legion Urged To Aid Red Cross

Matters pertaining to the Red Cross drive now on in Wichita Falls consumed a large part of the program at the regular meeting Thursday night at Pat Carrigan post, American Legion, at Memorial auditorium.

Col. C. C. Kirby, in charge of the army division of the Red Cross drive, talked to the veterans, explaining the importance to the city and county of work being done by the organization, and urged legion members to give the drive their support.

J. F. Friberg, post service officer and also service officer for the Red Cross, talked on similar matters.

V. V. Musick, chairman of the legion sick and relief committee, requested that legionnaires with clothes they are no longer able to use turn these garments over to him in order that he could distribute them to needy veterans and their families.

Sergt. J. M. Giron, chairman of the Americanizing committee, talked on efforts being made to create a greater sense of patriotism among the citizenship, after which a resolution was passed that the post here furnish every school room in this district with a chart illustrating the proper respect due the flag of the United States and when and how to correctly pay this respect.

Beware the Cough or Cold that Hangs On

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (Adv.)

BANDIT ADMITS BANK ROBBERY

Gun Play Clears Up $10,000 Oklahoma 'Job'

OKMULGEE, Okla., Nov. 17. (UP)—Deputy Sheriff E. W. Jones tonight said the $10,000 robbery of the American Exchange bank had been solved with the arrest of a bandit suspect, John Lindsay.

Lindsay, arrested after he had been implicated in a shooting affray at the farm of Alfred Mays near Nuyaka, was said by police to have confessed receiving stolen money.

Lindsay, Jones said, named Ford Bradshaw, Jim Berg and Newt Clayton, all of the Cookson hills region, as the actual bank bandits.

Lindsay, police quoted his confession as saying, told how the money had been divided in Mays' chicken house.

Mays also will be charged with harboring criminals and receiving stolen money, it was said.

The information was prepared too late today for filing of charges, according to the prosecutor's office.

Lindsay, officers said, ran amuck on the Mays farm and imprisoned Mays in the barn, and shot Mr. and Mrs. William Henson and two others.

Jones quoted Lindsay as saying that he became infuriated when he did not find his share of the loot where it supposedly had been hidden for him.

CRAPPIE 'RUN'

Lake Wichita Anglers Say They're Biting Hooks Again

The crappie are biting again at Lake Wichita!

Or at least that's the word anglers brought in Thursday and The Record News passes it on to its readers for what it is worth.

Several limit catches of fine fish were reported. Although the "run" did not approach that of three years ago when crappie were hauled out by the thousands, those fishing at the lake said they had little difficulty in taking fish. The famous "run" was the week before Thanksgiving three years ago.

Thieves Break Door At White House Market

Thieves smashed a glass panel from a south door of the White House market, 1124 Scott, at 9:15 o'clock Thursday night but failed to gain entrance to the building. The same panel was knocked out Wednesday night and $3 in pennies taken from the cash drawer in the store.

Dokey Temple May Be Established at Electra

Possibility that a Dokey temple may be established in the Wichita area, probably at Electra, was announced in an address by Ray Corder of Electra at Iowa Park Thursday night. Mr. Corder was the featured speaker at a district meeting of Wichita area Knights of Pythias, of which the Dokey temple is the playground division.

R. B. Murphy of Iowa Park welcomed visitors from Electra and Wichita Falls at the meeting and Rabbi S. J. Schwab of Wichita Falls responded. It was announced that a meeting would be called about Dec. 15 to complete details of the Dokey organization and selection of the site. District Deputy Grand Chancellor L. H. Kreighbaum of this city presented a report on the Waco district activities at the meeting.

How to Get Relief From Catarrh

If you have catarrh, catarrhal deafness or head noises caused by catarrh, you should know this simple home treatment which frequently overcomes these distressing conditions. Secure from Allison's Drug store or your druggist one ounce of Parmint (Double Strength). Take this home and add to it ¼ pint hot water and a little sugar.

Take one tablespoonful four times a day, breathing should become easier, while the distressing catarrhal head noises, dropping mucous and defective hearing should gradually disappear under Parmint's tonic action. Catarrh sufferers find Parmint just what they need.—Adv.

RARE SKELETON FOUND IN CLAY

Girl Slain 20,000 Years Ago, Scientists Say

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 17. (AP)—A startling discovery that a skeleton found in Minnesota about two years ago is probably that of a 17-year-old girl slain violently 20,000 years ago was reported to the National Academy of Sciences today.

The details appear to confirm one of the great goals of scientific search for proof that modern man lived in North America when the last glaciers were melting and to furnish a dramatic account of the first American tragedy, possibly a crime of passion, a seeming "murder" that waited 20,000 years to "out."

The "evidence" was presented in pictures by Prof. Albert E. Jenks of the University of Minnesota. The skeleton was found in 1931 in Ottertail county, Minnesota. It lay on the bottom of what Prof. Frank Leverett, University of Michigan geological authority, told the academy was a glacial lake 20,000 years ago, now dried up and in the intervening years covered with 11 feet of soil. Road builders turned up the skeleton about at the bottom of this 11 feet.

Study of the formation of joints, Professor Jenks said, indicated the bones were those of a girl of about 17; her head features were Mongolian, with a specially apish shape of the nose bones. Unusually fine preservation by the tightly packed clay that held her so long made the skull markings easy to interpret. On the back of the skull, Professor Jenks showed pictures of two grooves which he said were unlike anything he had been able to find in other fossil humans.

The skeleton lay on its side. Nearby was an antler dagger, its point broken. Also a graceful shell pendant, made apparently to suspend about the neck, was found.

Skull Of Cat-Like Animal 50 Million Years Old Found

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17. (AP)—A strange cat-size creature like no animal now living has come back after 50,000,000 years to help tell scientists how the mammal tribe to which man belongs got its start toward mastery of the earth.

After half a million centuries of oblivion, buried half a mile under the earth, the skull of this ancient beast has been brought to the surface by an oil well drill in Caddo parish, Louisiana. In announcing the find the Smithsonian institution said it is "one of the most remarkable discoveries in the history of vertebrate paleontology."

The skull, though small and insignificant in itself, brings long-wanted knowledge of conditions on earth when drying up of the great swamps was spelling the doom of dinosaurs and giving mammals a chance to develop unhindered. Mammals are warm-blooded, while the dinosaurs were reptiles and cold-blooded.

The creature is important because scientists heretofore have known little about mammals in their early days.

Libel Charged in Aviation Corp. Proxy Fight

NEW YORK, Nov. 17. (INS)—Papers in a million dollar suit for libel were served late today on partners of E. F. Hutton & Co., members of the New York stock exchange, by La Motte T. Cohu, president of the $20,000,000 Aviation corporation of Delaware.

The suit is based on statements made in a booklet distributed by the Hutton firm in the proxy battle for control of Aviation corporation between the management represented by Cohu and E. L. Cord, the millionaire automobile manufacturer.

CASE NEARS JURY

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas, Nov. 17. (AP)—The case of Liborio Garza, charged with the murder of Alexander Downs, deputy sheriff at Robstown, Oct. 16, was expected to go to the jury tonight. The state has demanded the death penalty and the defense has pleaded temporary insanity. Another man was killed and two others were injured in the fight at a dance at Robstown.

How Old?

He doesn't look a day over fifty. And feels like forty.

At the age of 62.

That's the happy state of health and pep a man enjoys when he gives his vital organs a little stimulant!

When your system is stagnant and you feel sluggish, headachy, half-alive—don't waste money on "tonics" or "regulators" or similar patent medicines. Stimulate the liver and bowels. Use a famous physician's prescription every drug store keeps. Just ask them for Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin.

This appetizing syrup is made from fresh laxative herbs, active senna, and pure pepsin. One dose will clear up almost any case of headache, biliousness, constipation. But if you want to keep in fine shape, feel fit the year 'round, take a spoonful of Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin every few days. You'll eat better, sleep better and feel better in every way. You will never need to take another laxative.

Give the children a little of this delicious syrup two or three times a week. A gentle, natural stimulant that makes them eat and keeps the bowels from clogging. And saves them from so many sick spells and colds.

Have a sound stomach, active liver and strong bowel muscles that expel every bit of waste and poison every day! Just keep a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin on hand; take a stimulating spoonful every now and then. See if you don't feel new vigor in every way. Syrup pepsin isn't expensive.

HOOVER SIGNS INSULL PAPERS

Warrant Sent to Greece For Return of Magnate

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17. (AP)—President Hoover signed an extradition warrant today to have Samuel Insull Sr., returned to this country from Greece.

The warrant signed at the White House and other documents in the case of the aged Chicago utilities operator who is charged with larceny and embezzlement already were in the mail tonight in a diplomatic pouch for dispatch by the fastest steamer to the American legation at Athens.

Upon arrival in the Greek capital where Insull is under arrest at request of authorities here, the presidential warrant will be authenticated by the American officials for presentation at an early date to Greek authorities.

After these formalities, the defendant will be arraigned in a Greek court, where the legal aspects of the case will be considered to determine whether all requirements have been fulfilled with reference to a recently effected extradition treaty between the United States and Greece which make larceny and embezzlement offenses extraditable.

The American application in the proceedings will be handled by two Illinois state's attorneys, Charles A. Bellows and Andrew J. Valchos, now in Athens, in cooperation with the American legation.

The extradition requests of President Hoover was based on a treaty which became effective Nov. 1.

Cops Go for Nudist, Smell Booze and Nab Distiller

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 17. (UP)—Women in a downtown section of Kansas City complained to police that a nudist devotee insisted upon taking his morning exercises behind the undrawn blinds of his rooming house.

Officers investigated, saw Frank Miller standing undressed at the window doing his "daily dozen" and entered the house to arrest him.

Sergeant C. W. Shepherd smelled a familiar odor and went to investigate. There sat R. C. Dupree, negro, watching a still in operation. Dupree was arrested; the appartus confiscated.

About that time, in came Sam Maniroina, carrying a bucketful of spaghetti. It was Miller's breakfast, he explained.

All three men were taken to police headquarters.

Lighted Glasses Aid Vision

LEIPZIG, (UP)—By adding electric bulbs to ordinary spectacles one's range of vision may be indefinitely extended. The current is supplied by pocket batteries, the frames of the glasses being wired. Several forms of the new luminous spectacles have been exhibited at the Leipzig fair, suited for a wide variety of work. Surgeons, dentists or chemists can thus work in the dark, or a housekeeper may explore dark closets while both hands are left free for other work. Amateur photographers can use these spectacles with ruby bulbs in place of dark rooms.

Tillman County Federation Of Farm Clubs Hold Annual Meet At Tipton

Special to The Record News.

TIPTON, Okla., Nov. 17.—Between 250 and 300 women, representing 16 farm clubs of Tillman county, held their annual one-day session here today.

The program of the Tillman County Federation of Farm Women's Clubs ranged from entertainment numbers to discussion of federation and club activities for the coming 12 months.

Officers, named at a recent meeting, were introduced. They are Mrs. Fred Waldrup, president; Mrs. Henry Martin, vice president; and Miss Jewel Pace, secretary.

The morning session was opened with a song, after which members of the Cheerful Helpers club presented a play. A reading was heard from Ruth Wearmouth.

The afternoon program of entertainment consisted of a radio program by the Home Builders club and a "kitchen orchestra" presented by the Utility club.

Business included the reading of a letter from Miss Susan B. Gray, county home demonstration agent, discussions and several talks. Mrs. Waldrip, the new president, and Mrs. Charlie Caldwell, addressed the gathering. A discussion on the planting of small fruit was held.

DEBT PARLEY SET TUESDAY

Roosevelt Calls Hoover On Telephone

from the public, but as interpreted by one of the White House secretaries they decided that the conference to come next Tuesday afternoon need not be of such length as to necessitate Mr. Roosevelt remaining overnight as a White House guest. The scene for the meeting of the two men who have opposed each other so strenuously during recent months was set tentatively for the executive offices, which the New York governor shortly will make his own.

The president-elect asked that the meeting—their first in more than a decade except for brief exchanges at the governor's conference in Richmond and at a White House supper the next day—be made "wholly informal and personal."

He expressed a willingness to go over the entire situation, including war debts, world armaments and economic affairs, as well as more domestic problems, but served notice he felt responsibility for immediate action rested with those now in authority.

Oppose Cancellation

Even during the Hoover-Roosevelt telephone conversation today, debt talk resounded in the capitol, a forerunner of much more to come.

Senator Ashurst, Democrat, Arizona, declared himself, as have both the president and president-elect, against cancellation of the debts.

He said the American people had placed a heavy burden of taxation upon themselves to finance the war and should not shift any of this burden from those who borrowed from the government at that time.

Senator Norbeck, Republican, South Dakota, questioned about his attitude on the debt question:

"I voted against passing the debts over last time. I did that on the theory that it would lead to an impossible situation."

Representative McFadden, Republican, Pennsylvania, who lost his patronage after a speech last year in which he asserted the president had "sold out to international bankers," today said "the present debt situation unquestionably was brought about by unauthorized pledges President Hoover made to Premier Laval."

Representative Rainey of Illinois, the Democratic leader, and Representative McReynolds, Democrat, Tennessee, likewise declared themselves against any further moratorium proposal.

Rainey asserted any such proposal would "have trouble getting a single vote from the present house."

MOLEY TO ACCOMPANY PRESIDENT-ELECT

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 17. (AP)—Franklin D. Roosevelt, the president-elect, will be accompanied by Prof. Raymond Moley, an authority on economics, when he calls upon President Hoover at the White House next Tuesday for a discussion of war debt problems.

Following his telephone conversation today with Mr. Hoover, Governor Roosevelt announced the Columbia university professor, one of his campaign advisors, will be his only counsellor.

Conversation Withheld

The president-elect was working in his study on the first floor of the executive mansion when he called Mr. Hoover. It was shortly before the governor's luncheon. Only his press representative, Marvin H. McIntyre, was in the room when he conversed with the president.

"What was said, governor?" he was asked.

"Ask Mac," he replied, smiling.

McIntyre also smiled, but said nothing.

Mr. Roosevelt, entirely recovered from the mild attack of influenza that kept him in bed five days, will return to the state capitol tomorrow.

Goes Home Saturday

Saturday morning the governor will drive to Hyde Park where he will remain until Monday evening. He will leave New York for Washington about 10 o'clock Tuesday morning. The conference with Mr. Hoover is set for 4 p. m. that day.

"Will you complete the conference in one day," he was asked.

"That I don't know," Roosevelt answered, adding that he likely would remain in the capital Tuesday night, going to Warm Springs, Ga., Wednesday morning.

Louis Mc H. Howe, Mr. Roosevelt's political adviser and close friend, was a guest at the mansion last night and this morning. He left for New York before Roosevelt called Washington.

As usual Governor Roosevelt was asked at today's press conference:

"Anything on beer?"

"Nothing more than what I said in my campaign speeches," he replied.

Several times during the campaign he referred to the Democratic platform plank declaring for "immediate modification of the Volstead act to legalize the manufacture and sale of beer." At Pittsburgh he referred to a beer tax as a source of revenue.

"There was a report, governor, that you would call a special session of congress immediately after your inaugural," was another question.

"Yes, and there was a report last night that I was assassinated," he came back, adding that his son Elliott, in New York, heard the report and called the mansion. The governor added he had made no plans beyond Jan. 1, when he steps out as New York's executive.

Mention of Elliott reminded one of his conferees a son had been born to Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Roosevelt today in New York.

"Yes, wasn't that fine," was Mr. Roosevelt's comment.

Session Condemns Move To Change Dry Laws

cussions concerning the Southwestern Baptist Theological seminary and the church's hospitals were scheduled tomorrow. Dr. George W. Truett of Dallas was assigned to preach the closing sermon tomorrow night.

Opposes Pardons

Today's activities were devoted to a review of the convention's finances, selection of the executive board, reports on woman's work, promotion committee and discussions of home mission and laymen's work.

The civic righteousness committee report noted that the "disastrous economic conditions accentuated and more definitely revealed to our civilization, the menacing and threatening breakdown in the civil life of the nation and of the world."

It asserted that "announcement through the press that violators of the prohibition law should be pardoned and given immunity for the violation of our national prohibition laws will work as a menace against respect for law, and will impede the enforcement of all laws in our nation, and will create a widespread disrespect for law and order."

It condemned "advocacy of repeal of the race track gambling law of Texas and any modification thereof."

The practice in some communities of permitting the use of state, county and city school buildings for dancing was condemned, as were "questionable picture shows." Sunday baseball, modern dances and the tendency to general desecration of the Sabbath."

O. S. Lattimore of Austin, associate judge of the court of criminal appeals, speaking on the report, urged activity on the part of all Baptists toward enforcement of prohibition laws.

Cites Kidnaping

He cited the disappearance of Raymond Robins, nationally-known prohibition advocate, as an incident that should arouse all Christians and good citizens to united action against the illicit liquor traffic and any movement designed to legalize it.

"According to the newspapers it is likely Raymond Robins was taken out in the ocean and drowned by bootleggers," Judge Lattimore said. "That should provide prohibitionists with a winning motto in this fight against the liquor traffic. 'Remember Raymond Robins,' should be the battle cry."

Dr. M. T. Andrews of Texarkana, delivering the report of the committee on home missions, said if "the South could be won, it would hasten the evangelism of the entire world." Describing the "soul winning field" he said there were 22,000,000 "lost souls in the South, Cuba and Panama.

"In our home mission work we have every feature of the foreign mission field save for crossing the ocean, because in this area of the South we have foreigners, Indians, mountaineers and negroes," he said. "The task of evangelizing the South seems to be the peculiar province of southern Baptists."

Rev. Paul Bell, in charge of the Baptist Mexican mission at Bastrop, told how "individualism to combat communism" was being employed by workers with Mexicans.

Dr. Alfred E. Carpenter, in charge of mission work in the Canal Zone, told the convention Southern Baptists had from six to 12 million Gospel prospects.

Laymen Losing Faith

"We are carrying on this program of evangelism with a half dozen workers and they are only half supported," he stated. "But we are not retrenching or withdrawing. Instead we have added 22 stations."

The convention accepted a recommendation of the committee on laymen's work presented by A. D. Foreman Sr. of Houson that a laymen's promotion committee be created to work in co-operation with the general secretary of the executive board.

The plan provides for the selection of one layman in each of the 17 denominational districts of the state to "promote and aggressively encourage the organization of Baptist brotherhoods."

Foreman said that "covetousness is the biggest sin," and that "one-tenth the income of every man belongs to God."

"There exists more bewildermept than ever among laymen, and some are losing faith," he said.

Foreign missions were on the program tonight for discussion by Dr. T. B. Ray, secretary of the foreign mission board; Dr. C. E. Maddry, executive secretary of promotion and secretary-elect of the foreign mission board and Dr. W. R. White, pastor of the Broadway Baptist church of Fort Worth.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1981 C. M. Co.

How Doctors Treat Colds and Coughs

To break up a cold overnight and relieve the congestion that makes you cough, thousands of physicians are now recommending Calotabs, the nauseless calomel compound tablets that give you the effects of calomel and salts without the unpleasant effects of either.

One or two Calotabs at bedtime with a glass of sweet milk or water. Next morning your cold has vanished, your system is thoroughly purified and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you wish—no danger.

Calotabs are sold in 10c and 35c packages at drug stores.—Adv.

CHEMISTRY MAY WHIP CANCER

Professor Describes Findings of Experiments

NEW YORK, Nov. 17. (AP)—Recent discoveries in a "chemical attack on cancer" made by the National Institute of Health, Washington, were described tonight to the New York Electrical society by Prof. Carl Voegtlin of the institute staff. The institute is a branch of the U. S. public health service.

"Chemistry," he said, "has contributed so effectively to the advance of medical knowledge generally that it is reasonable to suppose it will also be of help in the solution of the cancer problem."

Early this year, he said, it was found at the institute that the supply of oxygen regulates to quite an extent both the breaking down and the building up of albumen proteins alike in cancer and healthy body tissues. Oxygen starvation breaks down the albumen, a plentiful supply builds it up.

Aids Disease

"This fundamental observation," said Prof. Voegtlin, "may possibly have a far-reaching influence not only in the study of cancer, but also in the study of other diseased conditions.

"It is quite possible that the oxygen supply carried by the blood to certain portions of the tumor (cancer) and surrounding invaded tissues may be inadequate, and thus cause a breaking down of cellular (individual body cells) albumen. Injury and even death of a cell may thus result.

"On the other hand an adequate blood circulation would favor the building up of albumen and of cells, and thus favor the progress of the disease."

Professor Voegtlin described a new method of studying the acidity of cancer with a fine glass capillary electrode devised at the institute. Inserted into cancer the electrode shows that amlignant growths are acid even in early stages. Normal tissues, on the other hand, give slightly alkaline readings.

Contains Sulphur

The institute has found also that cancers contain "in fairly high concentration" a sulphur containing substance, gluthathione, which occurs normally in most animals cells. Gluthathione favors cell growth, Professor Voegtlin said, and "it is reasonable to suppose it plays a part in the growth of cancerous as well as normal tissues."

Copper in infinitestimal amounts is found to inhibit multiplication of cells. Iron, manganese, cobalt and zinc are "without appreciable effect."

"It is not at all impossible," he concluded, "that the results obtained along these different lines of attack may, if properly evaluated and coordinated, suggest attempts at a chemical treatment of cancer."

Henrietta Junior Unity Entertains for Mothers

Special to The Record News.

HENRIETTA, Texas, Nov. 17.—Wednesday afternoon members of the Junior Unity club had as their guests their mothers, members of the Senior Unity and Delphian clubs at a tea where they presented Mrs. Ann Witherspoon of Wichita Falls, who gave a book review of "The Good Earth" by Pearl Buck.

The president of the club, Miss Christine Carter, introduced Mrs. F. O. Moore, club sponsor, who introduced Mrs. Witherspoon.

Miss Viola Grace Doern of Wichita Falls, recently returned from New York where she studied in Juliard School of Music the past two years, contributed two violin numbers to the program. The piano accompaniments were played by her mother, Mrs. G. Wayne Barker.

Tea was poured by Mrs. Moore who was assisted in serving by members of the Junior Unity club.

Music Clubs Meet At Kingsville Today

KINGSVILLE, Texas, Nov. 17. (AP)—The Kingsville Music club will be host to the fifth district Texas Federation of Music Clubs which will meet in 10th annual convention here tomorrow and Saturday. Mrs. F. L. Carson, San Antonio, is president of the district organization.

Mrs. Lena Milam, Beaumont, president of the Texas Federation of Music Clubs, will be guest and speaker on fine arts evening, tomorrow, and prominent musicians of South Texas will be on the program. Three choruses will be sung under the direction of Mrs. J. R. Manning.

The entire program of the convention will be dedicated to Joseph Hayden in celebration of the composer's 200th anniversary. Dean Myers of Southwestern university will give an illustrated lecture on "Hayden, the Man and His Music."

Transparent steel, made of sheets thinner than paper, is proving useful in the manufacture of scientific instruments.

Heiress To Wed

The second marriage for Natalie Guggenheim, above, heiress to the great copper fortune, will be with parental blessings. Her mother, Mrs. Edmond Guggenheim, announced engagement of the heiress to Robert M. Studin, son of a wealthy and socially prominent New York attorney. Miss Guggenheim's first matrimonial episode—with the son of a Long Island baggageman—ended in annulment.

Winter To Isolate Little School On Isle In Great Lake

CALUMET, Mich., Nov. 17. (AP)—A few more days of freezing temperature and one of the strangest little schools in America will be isolated in Lake Superior by winter ice.

Six families, representing a population increase of 200 per cent over former years, have chosen to stay until next spring on Isle Royale, that 229 square miles of summer beauty and winter waste 50 miles off the upper peninsula shore.

For the first time in 80 years the state of Michigan has established a school on Isle Royale. There are six pupils, including four boys between 5 and 12 years of age and two girls in high school.

Their teacher is Mrs. Dorothy Simonson of Calumet, who took her 6-year-old son with her. Five of the pupils are sons and daughters of Holder Johnson, a commercial fisherman, living at Chippewa harbor, and it is in his home that the school is siutated.

Although winter closed in earlier than usual and a gleaming expanse of firm ice already encloses Isle Royale, adult residents of the little community were relieved because a most important shipment of books, sent from the state library have arrive'

The books must serve a school and a community which will see another book, magazine or newspaper until spring. Reading entertainment for both adults and children during the long winter evenings was provided.

A BICYCLE CITY

PHOENIX, Ariz.—The bicycle, like the horse, has seen its best days as a means of transportation in America. Phoenix is one of the cities where bicycles are used considerably and it can be considered the last stronghold of the bicycle in America. Phoenix has established licenses which every bike must have.

Mothers, Mix This At Home for a Bad Cough

Saves $2. So Easy! No Cooking!

You'll be pleasantly surprised when you make up this simple home mixture and try it for a distressing cough. It's no trouble to mix, and costs but a trifle, yet it can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief.

Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water for a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed. Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, put it into a pint bottle, and fill up with your sugar syrup. The pint thus made costs no more than a small bottle of ready-made medicine, yet it is the most effective remedy that money can buy. Keeps perfectly and tastes fine.

This simple remedy has a remarkable three-fold action. It soothes and heals the inflamed membranes, loosens the germ-laden phlegm, and clears the air passages. Thus it makes breathing easy, and lets you get restful sleep.

Pinex is a compound of Norway Pine, in concentrated form, famous as a healing agent for throat membranes. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

Junior Forum Plans Dance And Luncheon

Junior Forum members will figure in the social week-end events, which are the buffet supper and dance at the Woman's Forum clubhouse Friday evening and the Russian luncheon and program at the same place Saturday. Reservations are already being taken for the luncheon Saturday at 12:30 o'clock by Misses Mary Virginia Barron and Marguerite Peery. All girls who expect to attend are urged to make reservations by Friday evening. Members of the senior forum are always invited to the junior luncheons.

A special request has been made by the social service committee, it has been announced, that all girls bring something for a shower for the day nursery.

Miss Mary Virginia Barron, president of the juniors, will preside during the luncheon, when an interesting feature of the business meeting will be reports from the recent conference of T. F. W. C. at Corpus Christi, where the outstanding work of juniors focussed the eyes of the state on Wichita Falls. Miss Marguerite Peery was delegate from first district; Miss Jeannette Moore presided in a junior luncheon where an officer of the general federation made an address; Mrs. Langford, the junior sponsor and also a state chairman, was on a program and Mrs. G. D. Anderson presided in the program of the department of which she is state secretary.

Program

A piano sextette, and a review of the former Countess Irina Vladimirovna's "A World Can End," given in four sections by four clever members of the department, will compose the program. The girls presenting reviews are to wear costumes of aristocratic Russia and the group of girls who will be hostesses will be in peasant costumes.

The buffet supper to which girls will take their escorts Friday evening will be served in the forum dining room at 8 o'clock. The boys will take the girls to the method of expense as in the dance last season. Buddy Pearson's orchestra will furnish the music for the dance.

PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

We have a friend who was born and reared in Missouri. She told us a few weeks ago about a friend of hers who had just returned from a long trip saying, "I came through Missouri and I don't blame you for loving it. The foliage was the most gorgeous I ever saw. I know what all of them have in their houses, too," she added laughingly. When she was asked how she knew that, the reply was, "They were housecleaning and everything was outside."

◇

And so it is in Missouri and in several other states we know and love. Housekeeping is an art and it is just as Charles Dudley Warner said in the delightful "Backlog Studies" he wrote some 40 years ago, to the best of our reckoning, "housekeeping (or other work) must come first."

◇

"To deliberately sit through a morning and read a novel," he said, "to enjoy yourself, is this not, in New England (I am told they don't read much in other parts of the country) the sin of sins?"

◇

Mr. Warner himself did not have this New England point of view; he thought it wrong to postpone pleasure until both mind and body were too tired to fully enjoy it, and the morning, was to him, a particularly nice time to read a novel. But speaking of the New England point of view of that date, he wrote, "No wonder we take our amusements sadly."

◇

To those who were born and bred in the South, the difference between their homeland and hardier, sort of "north wind" countries, is quite noticeable. One has more energy, usually in the latter. Then in the North, there are, or there used to be, foreign girls who knew how to do housework and who could be trusted to go ahead with it.

◇

But in the South it is a rare thing to find a home where one servant is equal to a staff, as good German girls have proved themselves. We have had good servants in our day—but like the rest of mankind—we are doing it all ourselves now.

◇

So housecleaning does not come at just a certain time, though it does distress us if dust lies upon the furniture or if things are not put in their proper place. We do not, however, regard the different sections of America as the East and West, where "never the twain shall meet." The women of the country are sisters, even when their habits are not just the same. Minds are quite as important now as physical ability used to be.

◇

Years ago, one of our aunts warned us, "Now don't sit down to read a book before you do your dishes," but we are ashamed to acknowledge we have done it. You who know the inspiration of a good book will condone it.

◇

In these days when it is a hard thing to raise money, we have heard of a new venture in a colored church—we name no names nor places. The "Reverend" is letting a diamond ring go to the one of two old women in the church who can raise the largest amount of money, and all the friends of the old women are supposed to donate to the cause. We do not know if the transfer has yet been made but we were told the minister remarked, "I hope when you make your will you'll will it back to where you got it." But some good old darky will be wearing a diamond—how large and how pure we do not know.

Junior C-C Members Meet at Lunch Today

Introduction of members of the 1932 banquet ticket sales committee in charge of Leon Horn will be a feature of the Junior chamber of commerce membership luncheon Friday at the Wichita club. Committee members will be presented by President Don T. Haynes from the speaker's table. The sale will be launched Nov. 25 for the party Dec. 10.

Dr. L. N. D. Wells Dallas evangelist, will appear on the program as the featured speaker. Dr. Wells is conducting a revival at the First Christian church and will be presented by Dr. H. T. Wood, pastor. Dr. Wood is program chairman.

SLENDER FIGURES IN DEMAND

Women must be slender. Fashion demands slenderness—men admire it. So women willingly submit to almost any form of mild torture to attain a slender figure. They take bitter-tasting medicines, go on the penance diet of a monk, take exercises that would wear out a trained athlete.

These methods of reducing are neither desirable nor necessary. I am glad therefore to be able to tell my readers about a system of reducing that is sure, pleasant and safe. It is called the Harvin System and was devised by experts in weight reduction.

It is so simple that many of you may doubt that it will take off the excess pounds, but let me assure you it will. And not only will it bring you down to your normal weight—it will keep you there.

The Harvin System, which is obtainable at Renfro Drug Store and other good drug and department stores, consists of Harvin Salts and the Harvin plan.

The Salts are a combination of various salts of high therapeutic value, so delightfully flavored that they are as pleasant to take as an after-dinner mint.

The Harvin Plan is a blessing to fat people, for it denies them practically nothing. It allows them to have the foods that are usually barred—pies, cakes, cookies, wheat cakes.

I should like my readers who are overweight to try the Harvin System for a few short weeks. I am sure that they will be delighted with the improvement, not only in their figures, but in their general health as well. Margaret Murray.

P. S.—Harvin Salts cost but 65c a package.—Adv.

Bagby Group Hostess To Alathean Class

A charming party was given the First Baptist Alathean Sunday school class Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. T. Wells, with the following members of the Bagby group as hostesses: Mesdames George Keith, F. A. Ford, W. T. Wells, W. H. McDonald, Billie Whatley, A. M. Howard, James A. Nelson, C. B. Norris, C. D. Whitley and C. W. Stovall.

Mesdames A. M. Simpson and L. T. Francis sang a pretty duet, "I Love A Little Cottage," with Mrs. Myrl Thompson accompanying. Delightful get-acquainted games were enjoyed and a delightful refreshment plate was served.

Those present were Mesdames E. Van Noy, R. C. Stanford, Dan Lundien, P. H. Lambert, F. W. Woodward, J. F. Luke, J. K. Estes, Leslie Howard, Myrl Thompson, Geo. Proctor, C. O. Smith, L. B. Harris, A. B. McIver, L. T. Francis, C. M. Smith, A. M. Stimpson, T. L. Wheeler, G. F. Berry, C. W. Stovall, C. D. Whitley, C. B. Norris, James L. Nelson, A. M. Howard, Frank H. Morgan, Billie Whatley, W. H. McDonald, Geo. D. Keith Jr., and F. A. Ford.

CORKING GOOD FIND

DENVER, Colo.—"No hen dropped this," said Patrolman John Wells as he picked up a cork—wet, and reeking of moonshine. Wells, Patrolman Roy Bloxom, and Detective A. L. Colton were searching the chicken coop in the rear of Jimmy Iantorno's home. A thorough search revealed a hidden cave containing 25 gallons of liquor. One of the jugs was minus its cork.

Our Children

By ANGELO PATRI

A SMILE IN THE DAY

There has to be a smile in the day, even in the principal's office. A smileless day is a catastrophe, not to be borne. And the funniest thing about it is that right in the midst of the smile there is always the feeling that this cannot be borne. It is awful. Dreadful. Goodness me. And all the time you are laughing.

The other day I was standing in the office door as the children went by to their classroom from swimming in the pool. I noticed that one little lad looked queer. He wasn't striding along, chatting. He wasn't looking at anything or anybody. He seemed rather uncomfortable. I beckoned him into the office, a big sunny room, with lots of comfortable chairs and big tables where people come to talk and rest.

"What's the trouble?"

"I'm all wet. I didn't hear the teacher whistle so I was late in getting out of the pool. I hurried and my underwear fell in. I had to put it on and it's wet. It's all right. It'll dry all right."

"No. That won't do. You can't sit in wet underwear all afternoon. Come in here. Now you take off that wet suit and put on my overcoat and we'll hang the wet things on the radiators to dry." He remonstrated saying I must not trouble, but I hustled him along and soon he was sitting in the washroom in my overcoat reading a book and munching some candied almonds that I left him for company.

I turned to my work and the next thing I knew there was a delegation of visitors, important looking gentlemen from abroad. They had come to take a look at an American school. I welcomed them and started them off on their tour of inspection. All the time Dominick was drying off in the washroom, hidden from sight. I never thought of company going in there. But that was where I had reckoned without the company.

"Please, may I wash my hands? I could not resist putting my hands into the clay in the pottery shop and now I want to touch the lovely rugs in the weaving room. I must wash these," and he held up a pair of muddy hands.

There was nothing to do but open the door and usher him in. There sat Dominick reading his book, munching his almonds, all wound round with my overcoat. The wash was spread out to dry on the wash basin, the radiator and the window sills.

"Gott in himmel, what is?" stammered the astonished visitor.

"It is a little boy drying his clothes," said I. "He let his shorts fall into the pool and we had to dry him out."

Something about it struck us all as too funny for words and we burst into laughter. At first Dominick was inclined to be shy about it but even he could not help laughing. The kindly professor patted him on his damp head and said, "Never mind, never mind. So long as you dry out without chilliness you are all right. Lucky little goose to be born in America."

Somehow all the stiffness vanished from the visiting party. They laughed and talked as freely as though they were in their own schools 3,000 or more miles away. They were at home now. A smile had worked its charm on them. The little boy goslin had made them human and friendly and understanding. We need a smile in the day for just that. To keep us in mind that we are human.

Old-Time Architecture 'Atrocious,' Says Speaker

Changes in architectural styles in this country during the past century, and with various stages of civilization's progress, were discussed by Herbert Voelcker, local architect, in a classification talk before members of the Rotary club Thursday noon at the Kemp hotel.

Modern architecture in the United States was extolled by the speaker as being far superior to that of earlier generations. Mr. Voelcker classified the building styles of 50 years ago as "atrocious," and deplored the glaring embellishments that "supposedly decorated" residence and business structures.

While giving a brief review of the growth of architecture, Mr. Voelcker said that this country had no outstanding architects until about 75 years ago. In closing his address, he exhibited and discussed the architectural plans of the new federal building here.

R. E. Shepherd conducted a singsong, with Mrs. Shepherd at the piano.

Art Department Presents "Afternoon With Dickens"

Approximately 50 interested members and visitors were present at the Woman's Forum clubhouse Thursday afternoon when the drama department, Mrs. John B. Rhea, chairman, gave the first program of the season. "An Afternoon With Dickens," was the delightful theme under which each number was given.

Miss Marguerite Fisher gave a charming appreciation of the writer, stressing the depths of human nature expressed in his many books.

"A Child's Dream of a Star," a beautiful example of Dickens' imagery, was given by Mrs. Charles Reid and was followed by a lovely duet by Mesdames Walter M. Priddy and C. Y. Tully, with Mrs. Lucille Brooks Huff accompanying. They sang "What Are the Wild Winds Saying," a song based on a scene in "Dombey and Son."

Mrs. J. T. Harrell, whose charm as a reader is well known, was the high light of the afternoon in the charming interpretation she gave to a cutting from "David Copperfield," choosing that memorable scene when David and his wife had their first quarrel. She held the audience spellbound during its delivery.

Owing to the illness of Mrs. A. J. Longley, the scene from "The Tale of Two Cities," was not presented.

Mrs. Rhea opened the meeting and presented Mrs. C. D. Shamburger, chairman of ways and means of the Woman's Forum, who announced the square dance to be given at the clubhouse Saturday evening, Nov. 26. Members were urged to attend, even if they did not dance. The evening will be a delightful get-together benefit for the forum, it was said.

The charming group of hostesses who greeted the audience in the foyer included Mesdames Porter Oakes, John Thomas, Clarence Beavers Sr., Lesley Humphrey and Howard Renfro.

Highland Heights Class Spends Day Quilting

Members of the Bethany class of the Highland Heights Baptist church met for the day at the home of Mrs. H. C. Burge Thursday to work on a quilt.

A delightful luncheon was served after the morning's work and a short business meeting in the afternoon, preceded further quilting. In this meeting, Mrs. Ed Muller was elected treasurer of the class; Mrs. E. B. Bourland, group captain No. 1; Mrs. H. C. Burge, No. 2 and Mrs. Stevens, No. 3.

The group who spent the day were Mesdames C. A. Bivins, Betty Johnson, Roy Edgmon, J. I. Gregory, E. D. Bourland, W. W. Belcher, Ed Ward, H. C. Burge, J. B. Wilson and J. F. Clayton.

Carrigan P.-T. A. Will Sponsor Operetta

An operetta, "Twilight Alley," by Mrs. Henry Backus and Paul Bliss, will be presented at the Carrigan school Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock, with Misses Elizabeth Wright, Roma McCarty, Mayme Swenson and Loreign Russell directing it under the sponsorship of the Carrigan P.-T. A.

Proceeds will be used for the purpose of graveling Blonde street in front of the school.

The operetta is in two acts and the characters are to be played by a splendidly trained group of children. The public is invited to attend.

Wichitans on Program In Burk Banquet

A number of Wichitans went to Burkburnett Thursday evening to attend the City Federation of Women's Club's annual banquet, which was held in the First Methodist church.

Those on the program from Wichita Falls were Mrs. Flora Greenwood who gave beautiful violin numbers with Mrs. Tom Coleman accompanying; Mrs. Harry Fuller, with a reading and Mrs. T. A. Hicks, who was the guest speaker of the evening. She gave a sympathetic and beautiful talk on "Changing Ideals."

COLD HATRED

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla.—The "Woman Haters" club, a group of boys from 15 to 17 years of age, will have to do their hating out in the cold from now on. The clubhouse where they held their secret "hating" meetings caught fire and before the firemen could reach the scene the only trace of clubhouse left was the stove.

Side Quit Hurting, Got Stronger, Well; CARDUI Helped Her

Mrs. R. L. West, of Huntsville, Ala., writes: "I was weak and run-down. I had a pain in my side, and I kept losing weight. I grew nervous over my condition—this was unusual for me, for I am very cheerful when I am well and don't easily get nervous. I knew I ought to take something. My aunt told me I ought to try Cardui, which I did. I began to feel better. I kept it up until I had taken three or four bottles. My side quit hurting and I was soon feeling strong and well."

Cardui is sold at drug stores here.

Y. W. C. A. Will Hold Annual Open House

Special significance will be attached to the annual open house of the Y. W. C. A. for which plans were completed at the board meeting Thursday morning in this celebration of 25 years of work as a national unit. From 4 to 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon, the members of the board of directors of the local organization will be hostess and will honor the clubs of the Y. W. C. A. and their friends.

A musical program under the direction of Miss Lucille Snyder will be furnished by members of the High School Girl Reserve club.

Mrs. J. C. Mytinger is general chairman for the occasion; Mrs. William Huff, chairman of invitations and Mrs. Ralph DeShong, decorations. All members and friends of the association are invited.

The observance of the 25th anniversary of the forming of the present national organization will serve to commemorate the work of Miss Grace Dodge, founder and president until her death in 1914. Largely through her efforts the union of the American Committee and the International Board of Women's and Young Women's Christian associations was brought about.

The outstanding celebration was held Nov. 12, in New York, headquarters of the national board, where a "Festival of the Years," was given in Carnegie hall. Dr. Mary E. Woolley and Mrs. Robert E. Speer, members of the national board and women of international note were among the speakers for the occasion.

Friberg Organizers Mother-Singers

Members of the Friberg Parent-Teacher association met at the school Wednesday afternoon to organize the mother singers. Mrs. Ethel Bryant was elected as leader and Mrs. J. H. Meyer, pianist with Mrs. M. N. Johnson as assistant.

Mother singers present were Mesdames A. F. Housel, Doyle, J. H. Meyer and Ethel Bryson.

It was announced that the next meeting will be held at the school Nov. 30, at 3 p. m. All mothers were urged to be present.

Child Fatally Burned When Clothing Blazes

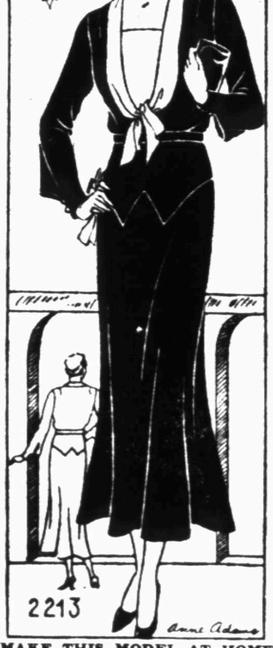

DALLAS, Nov. 17. (AP)—Eight persons were burned, one fatally, when their clothing caught fire from open stoves in their homes.

Richard Garnica, 3, died last night of burns suffered when his clothing caught fire while he was playing in the yard of his home. His sister, Aurora, 2, was in a serious condition from similar burns.

Free And Blank Verse Studied By Poetry Club

Free and blank verse were the forms of poetry studied at the meeting of the Poetry Study club at the Woman's Forum clubhouse Thursday afternoon. Mrs. O. P. Maricle gave the lesson on blank verse, using a clever method of writing examples on a blackboard and having the members scan them.

Mrs. J. Truman Stevens taught the lesson on free verse, and read as an example of perfect free verse, "The Sacrament," written by Louise Morey Bowman, a Canadian writer who has had several books of poetry published and whose work is used in the most prominent magazine. The poem was taken from a new anthology, "Principal Poets of the World."

Mrs. Gose Waggoner, leader for the afternoon, presented an American writer who was also a personal friend, in the well known Witter Bynner, who spent seven years in the Orient. Mrs. Waggoner gave an interesting talk concerning the writer's life and read a number of his verses.

One new member, Mrs. L. E. Dickerson of Henrietta, was introduced, and read as her initial offering a beautiful poem in blank verse.

Mrs. J. W. Thomas of Burkburnett, announced the acceptance of a poem in an anthology which Vision, a poetry magazine, is publishing.

Members present included Mesdames Gose Waggoner, O. P. Maricle, J. L. Elkin, J. Truman Stevens, Ann Stallings of Bowie, J. W. Thomas of Burkburnett and L. E. Dickerson of Henrietta.

A. P. I. ANNUAL MEET CLOSES

Doubt Expressed That Boyd Will Serve Long

HOUSTON, Nov. 17. (AP)—The American Petroleum institute closed its 13th annual convention here late today and chose Chicago as its 1933 meeting place, selecting Oct. 24-26 as the dates.

As the convention rounded out its last session, there was at least some doubt as to whether W. R. Boyd Jr. of New York, executive vice president, would remain in his post for long. It was generally reported he had unsuccessfully favored certain changes in institute policy.

Boyd, apparently in high good humor, declined to discuss the matter, other than to say he held the new president, C. B. Ames of Oklahoma City, in high esteem.

Will Resign

Ames, who was elected president over Amos L. Beaty of New York, the incumbent, announced he would resign immediately from the Texas corporation, of which he is vice president, to begin active work for the institute. Beaty and Boyd, incidentally, had been in friendly disagreement as to certain matters of policy.

Meanwhile, it was made known the executive committee proposed to continue paying a salary to the president, said semi-officially to total $50,000 a year, although there had been objection to that course from some quarters.

The concluding session of the convention was devoted to committee meetings on technical topics. The three divisions, production, refining and marketing, announced new general committees, each of which had 25 members, five selected by the president and 20 by each of the respective divisions.

Reports Heard

The production division went over engineering and companion problems in drilling; the refining division heard reports concerning chemical research in motor fuels and the division of marketing spent a large part of its session going over the gasoline tax situation. During the convention speakers including retiring President Beaty, had denounced the present level of taxes as inequitable.

Two resolutions from the marketing division were adopted by the board of directors. One called for continuance, without change, the work of the department accident prevention, and the other established a basis of representation on state and regional code committees.

Barge Operator Favors Waterway

CHICAGO, Nov. 17. (INS)—By means of inland waterways, 50,000,000 bushels of grain may be moved from the Middle West to the southeastern states at 10 cents less per 100 pounds than railroad freight rates, Theodore Brent, former manager of the federal barge lines, declared today.

Brent was a witness before the Shannon congressional committee investigating government competition with private business. Asked what effect the deep waterway would have on transportation, he said:

"It will mean that goods can be transported from Chicago and Milwaukee and the upper Middle West at a considerable saving by means of an eight-day trip from Chicago to New Orleans instead of the present five-day railroad freight trip."

The federal barge lines would be profitable if the government deepened the channel of the Mississippi, Brent declared. He explained that 9,000 ton barges may be used in the river below St. Louis, but that 2,500 ton barges must be put in service above that point.

"It is the business of the federal government to develop the waterways just as it develops the highways," Brent said.

PAIN DEADENED CHEST COLDS LOOSENED WITHOUT DRUGS

Get quick relief from neuralgia pain, sciatica pain, neuritis pain, rheumatic pain, lame back, stiff neck, headache, strains and chest colds by rubbing plenty of Baume Bengué (pronounced Ben-Gay) on the spot. It doesn't blister or stain. Rub it in till it sinks down and soothes the pain or breaks up the chest cold. Take no drugs, for any drug that is powerful enough to "deaden" pain or loosen a chest cold may not be good for you.

But beware of imitations. Ask your druggist for Baume Bengué by name (called "Ben-Gay" in English). There are many analgesic baumes, mostly cheap imitations of Ben-Gay made out of synthetic drugs. That is why they are cheap. That is also why they are ineffective. Insist on Ben-Gay and you will get real results.

Seaman Crushed to Death When Freighters Collide

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 17. (AP)—William H. Moros, 30, of Shamokin, Pa., an oiler in the freighter Alamar, was crushed to death while sleeping in his bunk when the Alamar and the Makalla, another freighter, collided head-on in Delaware bay late last night. There was a report that another man also had been killed.

Both ships were badly damaged in the crash, the hull of each being ripped 10 feet above the water line.

BONE CHAMPION OF COMMONERS

Victor Over 'Five and Ten' Author Is Wet

SEATTLE, Nov. 17. (UP)—Homer Theodore Bone, the slight, slender "natural rebel" who retired United States Senator Wesley L. Jones to private life after 33 years in congress, will crusade "for the common man" as senator.

Bone climaxed 25 years of crusading "for the common people and against the power trust" when he, running as a Democrat, overwhelmingly defeated the author of the "five and ten" dry law at the polls. Bone led the entire Democratic ticket, including Governor Roosevelt, at the polls.

"The election was the voice of the common man, crying for a voice in the affairs of government," said Bone.

Fought Power Trust

"The small merchant has suffered tremendously and he wants and is entitled to a voice in affairs of the government. My lot is with him, as opposed to special privileges."

He fought the "power trust" for years and was co-author of the Grange power bill in Washington, authorizing formation of power districts by vote of the people.

On prohibition, Bone stands on the Democratic platform of repeal. He doesn't believe in mincing words and frankly says that in his opinion, resubmission and repeal are the same thing.

"As a lawyer I see no difference in them," he added. "This talk of resubmission was just a soft word used by some candidates for fear of offending drys and catering to wets."

Bone likes to read good books, enjoys whipping a trout stream with a fly, providing there are any fish, and confesses a fondness for "crawfish and Beautyrest mattresses."

Proven Relief For RHEUMATIC PAINS

A famous prescription that has been refilled over 1,000,000 times

There's nothing experimental about Prescription A-2851, the famous prescription for the relief of Rheumatic pains. For over 65 years it has been sold by leading druggists for a specific purpose—to help rheumatic sufferers quickly and effectively. That it has helped them is proven by the fact that it has been refilled over one million times for those who found relief through its use.

Prescription A-2851 is designed to drive uric acid out of the system and dissolve the chalky deposits which cause painful swellings. It is also most effective in relieving many forms of gout, neuritis and nerve pain. Contains no harmful drugs or opiates. Prescription A-2851 may now be had in pill form as well as in the liquid as formerly. At all druggists.

No More Piles

How to End Terrible Agony Without Salves or Cutting

Thousands of Pile sufferers do not know that the cause of Piles is internal—bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel.

That is the scientific truth about Piles—the real reason why salves and suppositories do not give permanent relief, why ctuting does not remove the cause.

Your itching, bleeding or protruding Piles will only go when you actually remove the cause—and not one minute before. External treatments can't do this—an internal medicine should be used. HEM-ROID, the prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, succeeds because it stimulates the circulation, drives out congested blood, heals and restores the almost dead parts.

HEM-ROID has such a wonderful record of success in even the most stubborn cases that Allison's Drug Store and all good druggists advise every sufferer to get a bottle of HEM-ROID Tablets today. They must end your Pile agony or money back. —Adv.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL TEAMS PLAY 6-6 TIE IN TITLE GAME

Sherman Beats Denison 19-6 To Win District 6 Title

The Rambler's Corner

By FRED THOMPSON

Coyotes Will Win

We pick the Coyotes to defeat Stripling of Fort Worth today. The records of the two teams clearly indicate the Coyotes are the superior team. Stripling has defeated only Mineral Wells and Weatherford in conference competition, losing all other league games to Masonic Home, Central, Poly and North Side of Fort Worth.

The Coyotes were able to defeat only Electra and Childress in conference play, but Electra clearly is a better team than either Mineral Wells or Weatherford.

Stripling did not fare as well against Masonic Home, leader of the Fort Worth district, as the Coyotes fared against Amarillo, which in these parts is rated as good if not better than Masonic Home. As we remember, Masonic Home trimmed the Striplingites 40-someodd to nothing. The Coyotes held the Sandies to a 25-point margin of victory.

Another Prediction

The Rambler picks Chillicothe to "take" Burkburnett today. The Eagles have the edge in the backfield. We are not so sure about the line, but if the Eagle forwards play as well against Burk as they did against Olney, Chillicothe will open enough holes for the galavantin' Rat Ramsey. Bryarly's punting will be the main thorn in the side of the Eagles.

The Hide-Out Play

When Ted Jefferies assumed command of the Coyotes he revived the ancient hide-out play in this section. His team has consistently been unable to make it work, but several other teams in this section have put it over. Zundelowitz Junior High made it work to defeat Bowie here recently in a wild last minute finish. Archer City used it to score on Olney last week, thus earning the distinction of being the only team in this section to cross Olney's goal line this season.

Various other teams have tried it. It was used in the Frosh-Soph Junior college game here last Tuesday and it would have been successful if a high wind hadn't been blowing across the field.

Sewing Circle Fullback

Bill Parker, sports writer of The Associated Press, has found a star backfield man in Texas who spends his idle hours with needle, thread and sewing machine. Let Bill tell you about it:

"Mighty gladiators of the gridiron! You've read your reams of copy about them. Don't allow this yarn to spoil any of your illusions about football's powerful he-man. 'Tis a true story about a star football warrior who can qualify for any old family sewing circle and doesn't flush when his qualifications are mentioned.

"He is Sidney Sublett Pyland. The owner of the monicker is a 'versatile' quarterback and fullback for the Southwest Teachers college of San Marcos, Texas, and is an all-conference man. He has a swell cognomen—'the mighty Pyland.'

"He knows as much about a pair of scissors, a thimble and a sewing machine as the best seamstress in these United States. His only 'football injuries' in four years at the teachers college have been needle wounds in his thumb.

"Broad of shoulder, possessing a large, short neck, husky from the ground up and the ozone down, his physical make-up is ideal for stardom on the gridiron, wrestling arena or the heroic strong man in the footlight sketch.

"Pyland picked up the cognomen 'the mighty' because he has always insisted on playing football minus head-gear or shoulder pads. He craves to pummel the opposing line with only the off-tackle smashing power that nature gave. Sure, he comes out of the games with his shoulders black and blue. He doesn't mind. But football is only a side-line with him. There's a real indoor sport he lives best of all—sewing.

"He buys a flock of new shirts, rips them to pieces and re-makes them to suit his fancy. He makes his own suits and patches his own socks. His clothes always have plenty of buttons because he sews them on.

"He recently reached stardom in the sewing circle when a sweet and very young co-ed at Southwest suddenly discovered she had no new dress to wear to a party. She needed a new dress, made a certain way. She needed it quick and how. She rushed to a store, purchased the material and then back to school and Pyland. He glanced over the pattern, whipped out his scissors, needle, spool of thread, oiled his machine and started sewing. He finished the dress on the third down with an hour to go. It was a perfect fit, and the co-ed's admiration lingers on and on.

"Pyland is the football and sewing circle hero of the Southwest Teachers college campus. The only guy who ever accused Pyland of being a 'softie' because of 'the mighty's' ability to make a co-ed dress, is still trying to find a pair of false teeth that will fit a dilapidated lower jaw."

Ligosky and Edwards On Wrestling Program

George Ligosky, the bearded Russian, and Billy Edwards, the Kansas City headlock specialist, hook up tonight in Govro arena for the feature attraction of the weekly grunt and groan program. Both men are well known exponents of the rougher style of wrestling.

On the semifinal Jack Curtis, one of the outstanding favorites for the junior middleweight championship belt being offered in tournament competition here, will meet Tistu Higami, the Jap button wrestler. This 45-minute tussle should give the fans plenty of thrills for both will have their chances at the belt in sight and will put out to the limit. There will be another preliminary.

Texas Aggies Forced Indoors by Weather

COLLEGE STATION, Texas, Nov. 17. (AP)—Cold, rainy weather drove the Texas Aggie football squad inside today and instead of a scrimmage they held a skull practice. Coach Mattie Bell outlined again new plays the Aggies will use in the Thanksgiving game with the University of Texas and each player's assignment was gone over thoroughly.

ZUNDY BOOTS CHANCES AWAY

McAbee's 45-Yard Gallop Deadlocks Count

By FRED THOMPSON

Record News Sports Editor

City junior high school football honors will be divided this year, the Reagan Redbirds and the Zundelowitz aggregation having battled to a 6 to 6 tie in the championship game at Coyote stadium yesterday afternoon.

The Zundymen roundly outplayed the Redbirds throughout the contest but frequent fumbles and a host of penalties cost them the decision. Zundelowitz was given four juicy opportunities to score in the first half alone and could make but one of them good, while Reagan took advantage of the one big break that came its way to tie the score in the final quarter, when Pinky McAbee intercepted a Zundy pass and galloped about 45 yards for a touchdown.

Zundy Scores First

Zundelowitz pushed over its marker early in the second quarter after a march of 38 yards. Smith of Zundy was downed with a Reagan punt on Reagan's 38-yard line, and the combination of Smith, Stephens and Hill embarked on a series of line plays that netted a first down on Reagan's 9-yard line. Smith gained 4 yards on two bucks and Hill picked up only 1, but on the fourth down Stephens dashed through right tackle for the remaining 5 yards.

Smith's pass to Warren, in the try for extra point failed. John Davis of Reagan failed to place kick for Reagan's extra point after the tying touchdown had been scored in the fourth quarter.

Zundy made one final threat to score after the count had been deadlocked in the fourth quarter, but a 15-yard penalty erased the chance. Zundy recovered a Reagan fumble on the latter's 46-yard line and a 13-yard pass, Smith to Warren coupled with good runs by Stephens and Hill were instrumental in giving the team a first down on Reagan's 20-yard line. Two plays later, however, the penalty was inflicted, and Zundy was forced to punt.

Redbirds Start Clicking

The Redbirds, cheered by their touchdown, got going late in the concluding stanza, and both the running and passing attacks, which until then had been mostly unproductive, started clicking. However, the Zundy goal line was not seriously threatened and as the game ended Zundy had the ball and had punted to midfield.

The Zundy warriors made things look dark for Reagan in the first quarter, when the team seemed touchdown-bound three times. Stephens fell on a weak punt by John Davis on Reagan's 6-yard line to open the first threat shortly after the game started. On the next play, however, Hill of Zundy fumbled and Reagan kicked. The punt, however, was returned by Hill to Reagan's 25-yard line, and another march started. This one stopped on Reagan's 15-yard line, where Stephens fumbled, Davis of Reagan recovering.

Wilson of Reagan fumbled a few plays later to give Zundy a third break. Stephens of Zundy recovering on Reagan's 27-yard line. A 15-yard penalty obliterated this chance, however.

New Hide-Out Play

The hide-out play, which has become almost an institution in Northwest Texas since Coach Ted Jefferies of the Coyotes revived it here, was tried by both teams. Zundy's attempt, on the first play of the game, failed to work, but Reagan put it over at the start of the second half for a gain of 20 yards. The Reagan boys executed it cleverly. After the first play Corbell of Reagan remained on the ground, feigning to be badly injured. Coach Beck of the Redbirds and a doctor hastened to the field, made an examination of the player's allegedly injured leg, shook their heads dolefully and asked two officials to help bear the boy off the field. McAbee was sent in as a substitute. But Cordell never left the field, stopping near the sidelines after the officials had deposited him. When the Redbirds snapped the ball, one of the players ran out of bounds on the opposite side of the field, in order to leave only 11 men on the gridiron, and Cordell was eligible to receive the long pass.

Zundelowitz produced the outstanding running stars of the game in Gene Stephens, quarterback, and Hill, left halfback. Whitlow, Zundy's center, was the outstanding man in the line on defense, stopping most of the Reagan running plays. Davis, Reagan quarterback, carried most of the running burden for the Redbirds, but was never able to get past Whitlow and his mates for consistent gains.

First Downs 10 to 6

Zundelowitz made 10 first downs to six for Reagan.

Zundy drew 14 penalties, for a total of 100 yards. The Reagan team itself was not penalized a single time, but a 15-yard penalty was assessed when a Redbird on the sidelines offered his team some advice. Yesterday's game marked the third engagement of the Redbirds in which the team did not draw a single penalty.

The starting lineups:

REAGAN (6)	Pos.	ZUNDY (6)
G. Davis	L.E.	Warren

OLNEY BEATS HOWARD PAYNE

College Freshmen Buried Under 14-0 Score

Special to The Record News.

OLNEY, Texas, Nov. 17.—Albert Acker's Olney Cubs gave the dope a lurch today by defeating the Howard Payne college freshman team, 14 to 0, in a practice game here.

The Cubs, playing against three former Olney High school stars now attending Howard Payne—West, Sullivan and O'Brien—outplayed the collegians all of the way and successfully repelled the visitors' one threat to score.

Olney took the lead in the first quarter when after an exchange of punts Quarterback "Bull" Graves ripped off a 25-yard sprint to Howard Payne's 7-yard line and then bucked it over. Gilmore converted the extra point with a place kick.

The freshmen were given their opportunity to score in the second period when one of Graves' punts was blocked on Olney's 20-yard line. The Olney line, however, refused to budge and the ball went over on downs. In the third period Olney filled the air with passes for good gains but failed to add to its margin.

The last marker came in the fourth period. The freshmen held the Cubs for downs on their own 25-yard line, but the visitors' punt was blocked by Pyeatt and Sloan, who plunged through the enemy line. Graves recovered the ball and galloped about 20 yards to cross the goal. Gilmore again place kicked for the extra point.

The Freshmen then resumed an air raid, one of the passes from Edwards to West being good for 25 yards, but their efforts went for naught.

Edwards, Freshman quarterback, was the outstanding ground gainer for the visitors.

The lineups:

OLNEY (14)	Pos.	FRESHMEN (0)
Gilmore (c)	L.E.	West
Hennig	L.T.	Cheeves
Pyeatt	L.G.	Sullivan
Crawford	C.	O'Brien

Duncan Eleven Takes On Yukon Team Today

Special to The Record News.

DUNCAN, Okla., Nov. 17.—Duncan High school goes up against one of its hardest games of the season against Yukon there Friday afternoon.

Yukon is the conference leader, having won over such powerful squads as Purcell and Anadarko rather easily. Considerable wind was taken out of Duncan's sails last Friday by a 7 to 0 defeat at the hands of Lawton. The same day however, Yukon was being defeated 13 to 6 by El Reno. This contest muddles up dope on the Duncan-Yukon game, since Duncan held El Reno to a 6 to 6 tie here Oct. 7.

Duncan played a sluggish game against Lawton and was lucky to escape with a 7 to 0 defeat. Lawton gained 237 yards in scrimmage to 76 for Duncan, which failed to show up anything like the squad which held El Reno to a tie.

Duncan closes the 1932 season with a game here Thanksgiving day against Marlow.

Stork Market Inquiry To Resume Next Month

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17. (AP)—Preparations for resuming the senate stock market inquiry next month and for investigating the Insull utilities crash as well were quickened today with the arrival of Chairman Norbeck of the banking committee.

The South Dakota senator announced the committee would go on with its examination of stock market practices at the opening of congress three weeks hence and said enough evidence in connection with the Insull case had been collected to "start at any time."

CHILLICOTHE MEETS BURKBURNETT

Graham Steers Meet Nocona Indians; Hollis Plays Elk City Team

With all of the major conflicts over, the lull preceding inter-district games has set in and relatively few contests in the next two weeks will be hair-raisers for Northwest Texas and Southern Oklahoma football fans.

The one exception this week-end will be the Chillicothe-Burkburnett game at Chillicothe today. Though both are out of the championship running in district 4, class B, their set-to will be of interest to every follower of the sport. The winner will cinch third place in the district, which is paced by Olney and Crowell. Chillicothe held Olney to a scoreless tie and Burkburnett lost to Olney 2 to 0, these figures indicating that when the teams line up for battle on the Eagles' field they will be just about equally matched.

Graham Meets Nocona

In the other class B district, Graham will invade Nocona today in the last conference game for both teams. Nocona is conceded little chance, although the Indians will put up a hard fight. The only other conference leader to meet league competition in this area today is the Hollis team, pacing the Southwestern Oklahoma conference, and the Tigers are expected to have no hard time disposing of Elk City. The game will be played at Hollis.

There will be no conference games today in class A, district 5, Vernon taking a week off to prepare for their Thanksgiving day battle with Electra, and Childress doing likewise before their Turkey day game with Quanah. Four practice games, however, are on the bill this week-end. Wichita Falls is host to the W. C. Stripling High school of Fort Worth and Electra will journey to Breckenridge today. The third contest is Quanah's jaunt to the home of the powerful Pampa Harvesters. This game will be played tomorrow at Pampa. Childress plays at Clarendon today.

Wichitans Favorites

The Wichita Falls-Stripling game is practically a toss-up, with the Coyotes holding the advantage, if there is one. The Coyotes earned this rating by their splendid showing of last week, when they held the Amarillo Sandies, outstanding state title contenders, to a relatively low score of 31 to 6. Stripling, according to Wichitans who have seen the Cowtown boys in action, does not have the speed and aggressiveness that had been latent in the Coyotes all season and which sprang into full bloom when the locals disappointed the Panhandle invaders by putting up a splendid, aggressive fight.

Wichitans Favorites

Electra is given no chance whatever to beat Breckenridge, but the Tigers probably will emerge from the game much better equipped for their annual engagement with the Vernon Lions, Electra's ancient and bitter rivals.

Seymour vs. Megargel

There will be one other conference game in district 4, class B, besides the Chillicothe-Burkburnett affair. Megargel will journey to Seymour. The teams will be fairly evenly matched. Archer City forfeited its game with Crowell.

The Olney Cubs yesterday disposed of the Howard Payne Freshmen, 14 to 0, in an upset. The collegians were strong favorites to win but the Ackermen completely outplayed them. The game had been originally announced as a Friday afternoon game in this newspaper. The report was an error.

Bowie at Jacksboro

Besides the Nocona-Graham game in district 5, class B, there will be one other final conference tilt—Bowie's engagement at Jacksboro. The Jacksboro team is a heavy favorite.

Shamrock and McLean will battle today at McLean for sectional honors in their class B district. The contest will attract quite a crowd, according to pre-game ticket sales. One other contest listed is Stamford's joust at Haskell.

Five conference games are booked for today and tonight in the Southwestern Oklahoma conference. Besides the Hollis-Elk City scrap, Sayre will play at Clinton, Hobart at Cordell, Weatherford at Erick and Mangum at Frederick. Another Oklahoma game of significance is Walters' invasion of Waurika.

The Coyote-Stripling game this afternoon will start at 3 o'clock.

The Stripling squad arrived here last night from Fort Worth by bus and established headquarters at the Kemp hotel.

Coach Ted Jefferies sent his Coyotes through a light workout yesterday afternoon and at its conclusion announced all was in readiness for the contest.

Confident Frog Team Leaves for Houston

FORT WORTH, Nov. 17. (AP)—Confident but expecting a hard battle, Coaches Francis Schmidt and Raymond Wolf and 28 of their T. C. U. Horned Frogs boarded a train tonight for Houston where Saturday they meet the Rice Owls. They plan a workout on the Owls' field Friday afternoon.

Before departing the Frogs were sent through a complete rehearsal of their offense and defense. It completed their heavy workouts for the game.

Haskell Eleven Meets Stamford Dogs Today

Special to The Record News.

HASKELL, Texas, Nov. 17.—The Haskell Indians today rounded out a week of hard practice in anticipation of the invasion of the local gridiron by the Stamford Bulldogs Friday. A hard game is expected. The Indians were given a rousing send-off in a giant pep rally.

Coyote Line And Backfield Mainstays

If the Stripling boys can take it today, here are two fellows who'll do their share to make 'em like it. Snapped as he was kicking a ball from placement is Bob Decker, giant blond tackle who has played a stellar game in the line this season. Holding the ball is little Cleve Pierson, the Coyote's best safety man in years, a good broken field runner and, when the occasion demands it, a heady field general.

BOBCATS PLAY AT CLARENDON

Bradshaw and Raney Back In Childress Lineup

Special to The Record News.

CHILDRESS, Texas, Nov. 17.—With Bradshaw and Raney practically recovered from recent serious injuries and available for duty, the Childress Bobcats Friday will journey to Clarendon for a practice game in preparation for their Thanksgiving day battle with the Quanah Indians.

The Bobcats expect to be stronger Friday than they have for several weeks, with the return to the lineup of the outstanding stars who have been sorely missed.

TIGERS FACE TOUGH FOE

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, Nov. 17.—The Electra Tigers face one of the strongest teams they have ever met when they journey to Breckenridge Friday to play the Buckaroos. The contest will probably be a long drawn-out affair as the Tigers are the underdogs. The small Tigers will be no match for the heavy Buckaroos and it is likely that the mentor at Breckenridge will play a number of second string men. Since the game is a con-conference affair, Coach Gibson will possibly save his injured players so that they will have plenty of time to recuperate for the Vernon game Thanksgiving. The Tigers will end their season at the Vernon game when Doll Williams, the Electra football queen, will be crowned.

The entire squad will be taken to Breckenridge. Last year the Buckaroos played in Electra and downed the Tigers, 29-6, with Electra's only touchdown being made by Eual Sandefer who ran 70 yards for a touchdown. Little is known about Breckenridge except the boys defeated Olney 21-0 which means that they must have a strong team.

Texas Tech Freshmen Defeat Wayland, 43-6

LUBBOCK, Texas, Nov. 17. (AP)—After loitering around for the first half, the Texas Tech freshmen gridders opened up in the last two periods to defeat the Wayland college Jackrabbits, 43 to 6, here this afternoon.

It was the fourth victory for the Picadors, the New Mexico university freshmen, Tech varsity reserves and the Amarillo college Badgers having fallen before Coach Del Morgan's team in previous contests. Brode Puckett of Spur and Ted Wilson were backfield stars for Tech, with Gaines Davis of Abilene playing an outstanding game in the Tech line.

BEARCATS COME FROM BEHIND

Winner May Meet Vernon In Bidistrict

DENISON, Texas, Nov. 17. (AP)—The Sherman Bearcats defeated the Denison Yellowjackets, 19 to 6 here today to win the football championship of district six.

Denison scored on the first play after opening kickoff when Lowe, quarterback, ran 71 yards for a touchdown. Duval scored on a short line buck for Sherman's first score. Sandell's short line plunge and Davis' 72-yard run after intercepting a pass scored two more touchdowns for the winners in the third period.

Lowe returned the opening kickoff in the second half 62 yards to Sherman's 10-yard line and made another run of 41 yards to become the leading ground gainer.

Regardless of the outcome of the Thanksgiving day game between Sherman and McKinney, the Bearcats will win the district title.

BEARCATS MAY MEET VERNON

The Sherman Bearcats, district six champions by virtue of their victory over Denison yesterday, will meet the Vernon Lions in the bidistrict game provided the Vernon team defeats Electra in its final conference game Thanksgiving day. Vernon practically cinched the district five championship last week by defeating Quanah, 6 to 0.

The Sherman aggregation uses the Notre Dame method of offense.

TURKEY NEEDS SLOW COOKING

Care Will Improve Taste Of Thanksgiving Bird

No matter how careful you may have been in the selection of the largest, plumpest turkey—your dinner will fail to be a success unless you observe all the important steps in the preparation of this gorgeous bird. There are so many things to do on the day of the feast that it is well to get all the fussy time-consuming tasks accomplished the day before. The turkey can be washed, pin feathers and tendons removed the day before. The savory dressing may be made and packed in a bowl, ready to stuff the bird early Thanksgiving morning.

When you are ready to give the fowl its last touches, rub the entire surface with salt. Then spread the breast, legs and wings with any fine flavored fat that has been rubbed until creamy. This fat may be mixed with flour if you wish. If the bird is kept breast downward during most of the cooking period the fat will flow down through the white meat and give it a specially fine flavor.

Place the turkey in its pan and roast, uncovered, until the surface begins to brown, then cover and reduce the heat to about 300 degrees Fahrenheit. The bird must be basted every 15 or 20 minutes, using additional fat the first two or three bastings. After that there will be plenty of fat in the pan for the purpose. More turkeys are spoiled in cooking by a too high oven temperature. This should be reserved for the final browning when the pan may be uncovered for a short time.

Whole Wheat Nut Muffins

One egg.
One cupful milk.
Two cups whole wheat flour (Purina).
One-half teaspoon salt.
One-half cup chopped nuts.
Five teaspoons baking powder.
Two tablespoons sugar.
Four tablespoons shortening.
One-half cupful finely-shredded dates.

Beat egg until light and add milk. Mix and sift the dry ingredients and add to the first mixture. (The dates and nuts should be added to the flour mixture before combining with the liquid). Beat just enough to blend thoroughly. Add melted shortening. Turn into greased muffin pans and bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) for 25 minutes. This quantity makes 12 muffins. Left-over muffins may be split, buttered and toasted for breakfast or supper.

Corn Pudding

Two eggs.
One cup milk.
One can corn.
One level teaspoon salt.
One level tablespoon sugar.
One tablespoon butter.

Beat eggs until frothy add to them the milk, salt, sugar and butter. Stir these into the corn. Pour into a greased pudding dish and bake about 25 minutes, or a delicate brown.

Pay Rolls in Oklahoma Hold Up for Month

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 17. (UP)—The weekly pay roll of the average Oklahoma workman has suffered no decline during the last month, State Labor Commissioner W. A. Pat Murphy said today in his monthly report.

In representative industries using 22,314 employes, total weekly pay rolls were $477,981, or an average weekly earning of $21.37.

Cotton showed an increased seasonal volume through cottonseed oil mills. Lead and zinc industry revealed an improvement in volume but a decline in wages. Employment in the oil industry dropped 8 per cent and total pay rolls 3.4 per cent this year.

Only slight changes were noted in other industries.

MAY SAVE POET'S HOUSE

PARIS, (UP)—Despite the fact that it lacks architectural distinction, admirers of the poet Alfred de Vigny are petitioning the French government to preserve the house in which he was born as a historic museum. It is located in Loches, Touraine, where Louis XI spent much of his time at the chateau in which the cardinal who invented iron cages for prisoners was imprisoned in a large, grilled birdcage suspended from the ceiling. It is in danger of being torn down unless steps are taken to preserve it as it is in the wake of a street widening.

DEMPSEY BACK ON MOVIE LOT

Ex-Champ Has Tough Time In Cinema Battle

By JOHN N. MARTYN

NEW YORK, Nov. 17. (UP)—Dempsey comes out of his corner wearily as the eighth round begins. He is bleeding from an old cut over his left eye and his mouth is badly torn. The fans are on their feet shouting for a knockout and it looks bad for the ex-champ.

Breaking from a clinch Dempsey lands his first clean blow, a lucky one to the chin. He lands another . . . and another. Killer Gerkin is going down. He is down . . . seven, eight, nine, ten and out! Dempsey wins!!!!

Roars of applause. Cheers, boos and

"Out!!"

He Kisses Paula

"That was swell Jack," calls the director. "Now stand where you were at the knockout and get set for the business where you scram over to the corner and kiss Paula. She's waiting there and your victory saves the show and puts her back on the stage."

Cameras are switched, makeup men swarm into the ring. Sound apparatus is wheeled into position. The blood on Jack's face is freshened up. A few new cuts are added. A shower of water from a sponge gives him plenty of hard-earned perspiration.

The Manassa Mauler's comeback apparently was a success in the Warner Brothers Brooklyn motion picture studios.

"Are you all right?" the former heavyweight champion asked his ring opponent, Henry Gerkin. "Do you think it looked right. How was the count? It sounded long to me but if the director liked it I guess it was all right."

Worked All Day

In his dressing room later Jack explained why he was so anxious to make every detail of his first talking picture perfect, a two-reeler.

"The movies have changed since I made my first one years ago," he said. Sound makes 'em much more serious. Things have got to be right. Scenes we'd have run off in an afternoon some years ago we work on for days.

"I've been here since 8 o'clock this morning," he said, "and it will be too late even to make a show by the time I get away. And if you have any idea that jumping around in that ring for 12 hours is fun, report here tomorrow and I'll put you to work.'"

Ice Industries Head Says 'Buy Advertising'

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 17. (AP)—Frank B. Ostermueller of Dallas, Texas, told the National Association of Ice Industries today that the industry needs all the newspaper advertising space it can buy "to sell the economies and efficiencies of ice refrigeration and ice refrigerators that are modern."

Ostermueller, chairman of the association's marketing service, said the industry "needs copy that sells."

Elisabeth Morrow And Her Fiance

Miss Elisabeth Morrow and her fiance, Aubrey Niel Morgan, were photographed together for the first time when, as shown here, they walked down the gangplank of a liner at Plymouth, England. The recently announced engagement of the sister of Mrs. Charles Lindberg to Morgan, a business man and sportsman of Wales, was the result of a romance begun during the naval conference of 1930, when Miss Morrow accompanied her father, the late Senator Dwight Morrow, to London.

Science Shatters Another Illusion; 'Southern Type' Woman Is Just Myth

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 17. (AP)—Science has shattered another treasured illusion of the Southland.

Romancers who praised the "southern type" of woman will be surprised to learn that, physically, there is no such type.

Dr. Harley Gould, biology instructor at Newcomb college in New Orleans, dispelled the glamorous belief after an exhaustive study of representative types on the college campus.

"If we could stand together, side by side, the average girl of old southern ancestry and the average girl of about the same age from general old American ancestry, most of their body measurements would be as much alike as if they were identical twins," he explained.

The only possible way to identify the traditional "southern" woman would be by "what she said or did, and not because of what she looked like," he said.

"The southern girls are more slender, weighing on the average nearly six pounds less for the same height. Their chests are smaller and flatter, and their hands are a little narrower in proportion to their length. These are probably environmental differences. The smaller chest denotes, perhaps, the less active life, and the narrower hand, less useful labor."

Dr. Gould brought out the yardstick and scales and applied them to several hundred co-eds of representative southern ancestry. He then compared his findings with the measurements and weights of the average American girl as reported by Dr. Ales Hrdlicka, anthropologist of the Smithsonian institute.

Stops Skin Itching In Two Minutes

This formula for skin diseases is astounding the most skeptical in the marvelous way it heals severe cases of Ringworm, Athlete's Foot Eczema, Tetter, Itch and other parasitic skin troubles. The minute it touches the sore spot, you feel a soothing, cooling sensation; in a few days you marvel at how your skin has healed. If you suffer with skin diseases of any kind, get from any druggist a 60c box of Tetterine, and get relief or get your money back. Shuptrine Co., Dept. D, Savannah, Ga.—Adv.

LaFollette to Introduce Relief Bill in Congress

DETROIT, Nov. 17. (INS)—Senator Robert M. La Follette Jr., of Wisconsin, will re-introduce in the "lame-duck" session of congress his bill to provide unemployment relief for states and cities "without the red tape of the R. F. C.," he said today while visiting Detroit.

"I don't mean direct relief from the government to the individual," he explained. "I mean advances by the federal government for relief purposes in the same manner that the government has been making advances for roads and the like—not loans, but in some way matching the relief expenditures made by the states and cities themselves."

TAKE OVER "WHITE HOUSE"

HAVRE, (UP)—French nuns here have taken possession of the "White House of Havre," from which President Felix Faure of France in August, 1892, inaugurated the first transatlantic telephone conversation in history with President McKinley in Washington. This former summer home of one of France's earliest presidents is now the cloistered home of the Sisters of the Order of the Adoration. The street upon which it is built is named Rue Felix Faure. The once luxurious interior of the mansion is now ascetically plain.

EXCITING STORY!

ALACIA
Cursed with Beauty; Blessed with Brains

She thought happiness was always just around the corner and she chased it in a high-powered motor car. Limitlessly wealthy, unfathomably beautiful, her 16-cylindered intellect kept men sighing at a distance, until she rounded the corner on two wheels and found . . . Paris Love.

ARMAND
A King Without a Throne . . . Picks a Queen Anyway!

Armand moved in a brittle, narrow, old world! In it he was King. Out of it, he was a startling sort of young man with courage to get what he wanted. A motor crash, a jewel robbery, an automobile race with Death at the wheel . . . and he learned about . . . Paris Love.

KATE
No Brains In Her Head; No Dust On Her Feet!

Twenty years too late, Kate Sayers was trying to be foolish. For her the sun had set, but she went on making hey-hey. A desperate effort it was, in which she swam from Bar to Salon to Night Club to Bistro on a sea of cocktails. But eventually, her hand triumphed over . . . Paris Love.

SANTINI
Kate Called Him Grand; Alacia Called His Bluff

Women learned about Fate from him! Sinister and dangerous, he supplied happiness for cash, picked his spots when he fell in love and insisted that Cupid's arrows be gold-tipped. But he fooled one woman too many and traveled to the bitter end of the long road that began with . . . Paris Love.

A Washington Bystander

By KIRKE SIMPSON

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—With nearly 48 million persons qualified as registered voters, it took very special consideration to make one particular vote in all that lot news of nation-wide importance.

WILLIAM E. BORAH

Yet William E. Borah, "a senator from Idaho," as the said Congressional Record always puts it, managed to achieve the distinction of being the only individual voter whose exercise of his franchise was front page stuff both before and after election.

Any one who has followed Borah's striking career in the senate or in national politics could not fail to be aware of his liking for an individualistic role—and his uncanny knack of making good his position in that role.

The Perennial Question

For years every national campaign has had its "What-is-Borah-going-to-do" question. And nobody but Borah ever seemed to know in advance what he would do.

When the Idahoan, after bulking as the major figure in the Hoover 1928 campaign broke so utterly with Hoover leadership in the special session of congress for which he was perhaps primarily responsible, the interest of political observers in his case began getting steamed up at once. Where would he be in 1932 with Mr. Hoover renominated, as nobody doubted the president would be?

It seemed impossible that the senator could go through the convention period and campaign without showing his hand.

Yet he did. He managed even to escape from a situation thrust upon him by unauthorized publication of a story to the effect that he was going to vote for Hoover anyhow. Not for a moment did he lose his front page news value.

Certainly there was more written and printed about that Borah vote than about any other cast in the election. And to the day when this is written, apparently nobody but Borah knows what he actually did on the ballot left behind him when he started back to Washington before election day.

Still in Spotlight

Borah was certain of a continuing place in the public eye whatever happened on election day. His inquiry into the St. Lawrence waterway treaty, to be launched before congress reconvened in December, guaranteed that. Nothing could happen to deny him that, not even a possible early loss of his foreign relations committee chairmanship.

That chairmanship has been an important peg to Borah. Upon it has been draped much of his prominence in recent sessions of congress. Yet even without it Borah would continue to be a factor in the daily flow of political news.

For years, ever since the League of Nations fight in the senate, Senator Borah has held virtually daily newspaper conferences while in Washington.

They are part of the routine of "covering" the senate. When the Borah-Hoover alliance was at its best, the senator's gatherings were sometimes termed "Little White House" sessions.

However he voted, Borah will continue to be a factor in Washington political life.

Deer Hunter Dies Of Burns on Trip

CROCKETT, Texas, Nov. 17. (AP)—P. O. English, 29, died yesterday in a local hospital as a result of burns incurred Tuesday while on a hunting trip near Crockett. English and two companions had gone to the Neches river bottom preparatory to hunting deer. When his companions returned after a short absence from their camp they found English with his clothes almost burned off his body.

Hambone's Meditations

A woman can make an awful change in a man's life, but she generally requires an awful lot of change in doing it.

"Some blame success on push, others on pull," an economic student writes. And let it be said that alarm clocks and stepladders have been the means of getting a lot of people up in this world.

These dull winter days are made a lot duller now by the early arrival of the postman with the daily consignment of bills.

Among other items that seem to be missing in the newspapers is one about former Candidate Foster receiving a telegram from Former Candidate Upshaw.

They say beer is coming back, but we haven't seen any signs yet on the drug store windows.

Remain at Home

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA authorities or rulers telegraphed governors of 48 states urging them to discourage pilgrimages of needy people to Washington this winter. According to the message to the governors, jobless pilgrims are advised that "on arrival in Washington neither food nor lodging can be furnished them and their trip will inevitably bring great discomfort and much hardship." Four years ago Herbert Hoover advised the American people that "we were on the point of eternally banishing the poorhouse under the flag." Gone is the poorhouse but the bread lines stretch across the continent and the jobless number more than 10 millions.

An American electorate representing 42 of the 48 states voted the policies of the Hoover administration hollow reminders or memories of the past. They elected a new congress with more than two-thirds of the senate Democrats or their progressive allies and three-fourths of the new congress of the Democratic-progressive stripe all pledged to the platform demands of the convention that named Roosevelt and Garner as standard bearers.

This was in the nature of a mandate from the American people for the Hoover administration to rest on its oars, to hands off foreign affairs until March 4, to avoid pacts or pledges or promises in debt negotiations and to understand that the policies of the out-going would not be the policies of the in-coming administration on March 4, 1933. Indeed, the final results of the presidential election voted the Hoover administration out of power. From top to bottom it is an administration of dead ducks completely repudiated by the American people.

The Spirit of Giving

ONE of the natural by-products of the economic stress through which we have passed has doubtless made less difficult the task of obtaining funds for such praiseworthy organizations as the Red Cross, the Community Chest, and the Salvation Army—drives for all of which soon will be a matter of recent history in Wichita Falls. That factor is the average individual's awakened sense of want.

Few persons in this country have gone through the past three years without having been forced to curtail severely expenditures which formerly they deemed entirely necessary to their comfortable existence. Many have been reduced to the acceptance of living standards far below those to which they are accustomed. And multitudes have actually suffered for want of food and clothing.

After such experiences, it is not surprising that funds for charity and emergency relief should be subscribed promptly, even when the average individual has much less than formerly from which to give. He is keenly alive to the suffering imposed by lack of means; because his consideration has been aroused by experiences which have come to him, or at least very close to him, he is instantly sympathetic with those less fortunate.

The depression has taken its toll of human happiness. But this aroused human sympathy is a commendable by-product which alleviates mightily the suffering still extant.

Our Debt to the Red Cross

WICHITA FALLS and Wichita county owes a debt to the American Red Cross which our citizens can repay in part by taking out memberships in as large amounts as they can in the annual membership campaign in that organization now being conducted in this county.

Following a summer of drouth and crop failures and adverse business conditions the Red Cross came into West Texas several years ago and furnished food and seed and supplies to thousands of people who could hardly have expected aid from any other source.

For the past two years the bread that has been eaten by hundreds of people right here in Wichita county has been from flour furnished by the Red Cross.

Its expenditures in this county have been many times the amounts that it has received from membership contributions.

In addition to this the national organization has given aid to stricken people in every great calamity over the world where it could reach and help.

There is every reason, therefore, why the Red Cross should be given all the support this community can give.

Memberships and donations are now being solicited in Wichita county. Receive the solicitors cordially and give what you can.

Marines and Politics

ALTHOUGH most of us overlooked it under the press of our own election, it is worth noting that the republic of Nicaragua has just held a presidential election also, and that the winning candidate was Dr. Juan Bautista Sacasa.

The interesting thing about this is that American marines were sent to Nicaragua six years ago for the express purpose of keeping Dr. Sacasa from taking office. Just why our state department wanted to keep him out was never quite clear, but the marines were sent in and Dr. Sacasa was kept out and a number of fine young men on both sides were shot to death.

Now, in an election supervised by the marines, Dr. Sacasa is triumphantly elected; and if you can think of any reason on earth why our marines should stay there any longer you have a very agile and nimble mind indeed.

SO THEY SAY!

If a woman can carry around a pearl necklace worth $750,000 she knows where her breakfast is coming from—and she knows where she can get strawberries and cream on Dec. 10, even if that pearl necklace goes.—Arthur T. Barry, noted jewel thief, recaptured after an escape from Auburn prison, N. Y.

◆ ◆ ◆

Our national pastime is passing the buck. Every man or woman in this life must work out his or her own problem, but how many have the courage or the will to do so? And that is a defect not confined to those who go to jail.—Rev. William E. Cashin, chaplin at Sing Sing prison for 12 years.

Things I Never Knew Till Now

(And oh, the dividends they pay!)

That while Italy is spelled with a "y" there is no "y" in the Italian language. (What sport for readers if that's a boner!)

That a tri-motor passenger plane burns 80 gallons of gas an hour, the distance covered being approximately 110 miles.

That Maurice Dekobra, the world's richest writer, received rejection slips for 14 years before his first manuscript was accepted.

That beginners might be encouraged by his courage. More than five million copies of his works have been published in 50 languages.

That any psychology professor will tell you that bad manners always accompany depressions. (Business of thumbing one's nose!)

That people who faint always fall forward.

That Esposa in Spanish means wife. Esposas means handcuffs.

That during the most recent "upturn" in Minneapolis more cars were stolen than were sold.

That your chance of being killed in a train wreck is one in 37,500,000. And girls are safer on B'way at 4 a. m., than 4 p. m.

That in England they are "flicks" not movies.

That in Japan, custom requires the women, upon being married, to pluck their eyebrows—as a distinguishing mark.

That the rainiest region in the world (about the Ganges river) requires irrigation for agriculture.

That it takes seven miles of walking to break in new shoes.

That because its soil is made of pure phosphate, Ocean island, 2,000 miles off the coast of Australia, is worth $105,000 an acre.

That negroes show the least evidence of greed, according to authorities, and the most is found in foreign peasantry stock.

That the song played before "taps" on Armistice day throughout the nation is "The Roll Call," written by Stanley W. Krebs, a teacher at the New York Schools of music. (This is his only write-up, too!)

That the lion is not found in the jungle, but lives only in the open spaces or "veldts" of Africa. (Ah, there Mr. Buck!)

That in Persia, when a robbery is committed, the police are held responsible. And unless they capture the culprits within 48 hours they must make good the loss or take the jail term.

That the oldest savings bank is not in Massachusetts as reported here, but in Philadelphia. Begya poddon, moddom.

That a bar of steel worth $5, when wrought into horseshoes is worth $10. If made into needles, it is worth $350—if into penknife blades $32,000—if into springs for watches $250,000.

That altho' our congress is slow in passing measures and bills, the French lawmakers have considered one passage now for 49 years!

That the Public library here contains the recipe for a drink known as the "Blue Blazer." It is to be found in "A Bon Vivante's Companion, or How to Mix Drinks" by Prof. J. Thomas.

That London subways have smoking cars for "Ladies Only."

That Shakespeare wrote in haste; never erased or read a proof. He had no idea, they say, that his plays would ever be produced.

That when musical notes were first conceived at the beginning of the 11th century they were called do, re, mi, etc., because they happened to be the first letters of the words to a hymn to St. John.

That Demosthenes, who stammered in his youth, and couldn't recite the shortest piece, became the greatest speaker of his time.

That one of the cab fleets in town rents its tires at 9 cents each per day from a tire company.

That the following items are from this column's pet contributor, Master Isadore Elinson, a funny guy. Have a chuckle:

That it isn't the waving of the red flag that arouses the bull to murder. It's the awful looking hat the bullfighter wears!

That in Holland it's against the law to throw old shoes at the bride and groom. That Helen Morgan won overnight fame as a singer with a tear in her voice because somebody put a tack on the piano.

That in her next flicker, Marie Dressler will display her legs to show up Marlene Dietrich. That an expurgated edition of "Lady Chatterley's Lover" was done in Braille (the touch system for the blind) and a lotta readers cut their fingers because of all the sharp-pointed asterisks.

That Harpo Marx, upon seeing the Statue of Liberty with one hand raised, climbed up and tickled her under the arm.

And that before a doctor can obtain his M. D. degree, he must first receive a diploma for horrible penmanship.

New Pastor Appointed For Stamford Church

Special to The Record News.

STAMFORD, Texas, Nov. 17.—The Rev. Carradine Hooten has been appointed pastor to St. John's Methodist church and has moved his family to Stamford. He comes from Fort Stockton in the New Mexico conference.

Dr. W. G. Fletcher, pastor of this church for the past two years, was moved from this conference to Texarkana where he will pastor the Hardy Memorial church. Dr. Fletcher came to Stamford in exchange of pulpits with the Rev. C. L. Cartwright, the Fletchers coming here from Fresno, Calif. For a number of years he was superintendent of the missionary work of Southern Methodists in Cuba and later served prominent charges both in Florida and California.

The year 1926 was the second largest in the history of foreign financing in the United States.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

THE LETTERLESS ALL-CONFERENCE QUARTERBACK—Though "Boob" Nash, star quarterback of the Lon Morris college of Jacksonville, Texas, excelled on the gridiron to the extent that he was chosen for the all-conference eleven, his classroom standing prevented him from receiving his football letter last season. The college required all athletes to make passing grade in not less than three courses before a letter is given, which Nash failed to do.

Q.—In what states were there no bank failures last year?—M. P.

A.—There were no failures in Vermont, Rhode Island, Delaware, or the District of Columbia in 1931. There were no failures of national banks in the above and Maine, Connecticut, Louisiana, Wyoming, and Nevada.

Q.—Which is larger, the room in which the house of lords meets, or the one in which the house of commons meets?—L. G.

A.—The house of peers is an apartment 97 feet long, 54 feet wide, and 45 feet high, magnificently decorated. The house of commons is a smaller apartment, done in much plainer style.

Q.—In what months of the year do telegraph and cable companies and automobile companies do the greatest volume of business?—G. H. F.

A.—The automotive industry does the greatest amount of business from March to September, while telegraphs and cables are busiest from October to May.

Q.—What were the names of the sisters who while returning from canteen service in France jumped from the deck of a vessel?—R. J. D.

A.—Gladys and Dorothea Cromwell, twin sisters, met their death in this manner from the deck of the Lorraine on Jan. 19, 1919. The French government later awarded the two sisters the Croix de Guerre.

Q.—How will the terms of our lawmakers be adjusted if the lame duck amendment is ratified this winter?—J. F.

A.—If the lame duck constitutional amendment is ratified during next winter, as is expected, the terms of members of congress and of the president which begin on March 4, 1935, will be shorter than the customary terms since they will expire in January of the particular year in which they would have lasted formerly until March.

Q.—Is Franklin D. Roosevelt a member of Tammany hall?—A. G. N.

A.—Governor Roosevelt says that he is not now and never has been a member of Tammany hall. He adds that there is, strictly speaking, no such organization as Tammany hall. There is a society of Tammany which is a patriotic organization dating from the Revolutionary war. This society owns the "hall" which it rents to the New York county Democratic organization. It is this latter organization that is commonly known as Tammany hall.

Q.—What is the substance so often used as a substitute for ice for skating exhibitions?—J. R. L.

A.—Ordinary photographer's hypo has lately been used to make artificial ice for skating purposes. The chemical is spread on the ground, groomed with a hot iron, cooled and is then ready for skating. Hypo is a compound of sodium thiosulphate with a considerable quantity of water. At normal temperatures it is dry and glassy, but somewhat soft solid of much the same texture as ice.

Q.—How does the number of automobiles in the United States in proportion to the population compare with the number in England, France and Germany?—L. F.

A.—In 1930 the total motor vehicle registration in the United States was 26,526,779 or 4 3-5 population per motor vehicle. Motor vehicle registration in England totaled 1,308,272 or 27 population per motor vehicle; France 1,459,650 or 28 population per motor vehicle; and Germany 679,300 or 92 population per motor vehicle.

Q.—At what date were gold quarters and half dollars coined?—M. W. D.

A.—No 25 cent or 50 cent gold pieces have ever been issued by the United States government. Between 1830 and 1875 gold half dollars and quarter dollars were issued by private parties. These pieces never were legal tender, although they passed as currency at a time when there occurred a shortage of coins with which to transact business. The issue of private gold coins never was sanctioned by the United States government.

Q.—Whose statue stands in Uniontown, Pa.? It is a short man holding a beaver hat.—H. W. J.

A.—The statue is of the Marquis de Lafayette, for whom that county was named. He made several visits to that county during and after the war of the revolution. The statue was made by a wood-carver and placed on a dome of a courthouse erected about 1840. When the present courthouse was built, the statue was resurrected from the basement of the old courthouse and placed on a pedestal on the present courthouse lawn.

BLIND TRIANGLE

PITTSBURGH.—Mrs. Mildred May Henderson, 33, doesn't have to see the man she marries. She just picks out a man and marries him. Mrs. Henderson, who is blind, received a divorce from Charles A. Henderson—also blind—at 1 p. m. and 2 p. m. she married Oliver Kaufman, 23 years of age and blind. They were married by Justice of Peace James G. McFarland, who has only one arm.

BANKER'S WIFE WINS JUDGMENT

Insurance Awarded Missing Man's Spouse

FORT WORTH, Nov. 17. (AP)—Judgment for $111,668.54 was entered in district court here today in favor of Mrs. Emma R. Norwood in her suit against the Southland Life Insurance company of Dallas to collect an insurance policy on the life of her husband, Sidney B. Norwood, Cleburne banker, who vanished in October, 1921.

The judgment was in accordance with a jury verdict given Mrs. Norwood three weeks ago on her contention that her husband had been missing continuously for seven years, and under Texas law, should be presumed to be dead. The jury found Norwood had died prior to Sept. 22, 1928, the date of lapse of the $100,000 insurance policy on his life.

In addition to face value of the policy, the judgment allowed Mrs. Norwood damages of 12 per cent for refusal by the insurance company for payment, and $10,000 in attorneys' fees. The insurance company was given the benefit of $12,730.80 in automatic loans on the policy before Sept. 22, 1928.

The insurance concern has 10 days within which to file a motion for new trial.

Fox Hunters End Annual Sessions

HUNTSVILLE, Texas, Nov. 17. (AP)—The Texas Fox and Wolf Hunters association annual fall meeting broke up today just as a rain, wished for all week, began to fall.

Winners in the daily events were announced as follows: All age hunt, first, Lindy, 12-month-old dog owned by A. W. Reese of Milano, Texas; second, Blue Bell, owned by Dr. A. A. Elder of Deport, Texas. Derby class, Dan owned by Fitzgerald of Dallas and Elliott of Mexia.

Dr. George T. Veal of Dallas was elected president, Dr. L. H. Bush of Huntsville, first vice president and J. W. Elliott of Mexia was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Dallas Officers Hold Washington Bank Suspect

DALLAS, Nov. 17. (AP)—A man suspected of participation in a bank robbery at Colfax, Wash., last September, was arrested here last night and was held pending arrival of officers from that state.

Police had been on the lookout for him since receiving his description from Washington authorities and since the arrest of Edward Bentz, at Dallas, also wanted for the robbery. Bentz has been identified as the man who robbed banks at Blue Ridge, Texas, and Pondet, Texas.

In a belt around the man's waist, officers found $300 in $20 bills.

Malaria takes more than 2,000,000 lives throughout the world annually.

MOTOR LICENSE LAW MUDDLED

State May Be Unable To Collect Off Farmers

AUSTIN, Nov. 17. (AP)—T. S. Christopher, assistant attorney general, said today a special session of the Texas legislature might be needed to amend the motor vehicle registration statutes if an opinion entered recently by the fourth court of civil appeals at San Antonio was not overruled by the supreme court.

The decision of the appeals court held that trucks operated over the highways by J. C. Engelman, Inc., to carry water and motor fuels to his farm in Hidalgo county were "implements of husbandry" and exempt from payment of motor vehicle registration fees.

Christopher said that under this decision private passenger automobiles operated by farmers could not be required to pay registration fees.

A motion for rehearing on the decision of the court of civil appeals has been filed and Christopher said he was prepared to apply immediately to the state supreme court for a writ of error to test the decision of the lower court. Should the supreme court grant the application for a writ of error, the effect of the lower court decision would be stayed, but should the writ of error be refused the decision then would be effective.

Christopher said motor vehicle registration fees were due Jan. 1. If the civil appeals court decision is in effect on that date farmers could not be forced to pay the fees, he said since a law passed at the regular session of the 43rd legislature which will convene Jan. 10, could not be made retroactive. The decision would have the effect of stating that no fees were due on farmers' vehicles, Christopher said.

It also was feared by Christopher that the entire motor vehicle registration statute might be declared unconstitutional on the ground it was class legislation if the decision became the law.

Engelman was granted a permanent injunction by the 93rd district court of Hidalgo county restraining the state from interfering with his trucks. Engelman contended that the trucks were operated only temporarily on the highways and that they mainly were "implements of husbandry," as defined by the motor vehicle registration statute.

THIRD INDIAN PARLEY OPENS

Gandhi's Aides Absent In New Conference

LONDON, Nov. 17. (AP)—Prime Minister MacDonald opened the third Indian round table conference today, wecoming the delegates to what he called "these familiar scenes" and expressing the hope that before the end of next month they will have succeeded in formulating a constitution extending a degree of autonomy to India.

Reduced in number and shifted from ancient grandeur of St. James' palace to four drab rooms in the house of lords, the 40 delegates who will participate in this meeting have been called a "hand-picked" group because Mahatma Gandhi and his Nationalist congress party are not represented.

Today's meeting and another scheduled for tomorrow are for organization purposes. The main work of the conference will begin next week.

Mr. MacDonald said this meeting will "fill in the gaps" left by the first two conferences. It is expected that the work will progress smoothly.

Some of the "gaps," such as the relationship between the federal government and its units, also the special powers of the governor-general, and the financial and military safeguards in the new constitution, strike deep at the roots of the whole problem of responsible government in India.

While these delegates, one of them a woman, debate in London, Mahatma Gandhi remains in prison at Poona, where he was placed several months ago for his campaign of civil disobedience.

U. S. PRISONERS WANT PARDON

Dry Law Offenders Plan United Drive

(Copyright, 1932, by The United Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Four thousand federal prisoners convicted of liquor law violations are planning a united demand for freedom in the event the prohibition act is repealed or modified.

Officials of the prison bureau here told the United Press such a movement already has made considerable progress in various government penal institutions.

Liquor law violators comprise 36 per cent of the entire population of federal prisons. Sentences range from a few months to seven years. Most of these prisoners are first-term offenders. Many are women and youths.

"It is a fair assumption that more than half of these prisoners never would have committed other federal offenses," Director Sanford Bates of the prison bureau told the United Press.

Expense High

It costs the government about $340 each year to maintain each prisoner. This does not include the expense of capturing, arresting, trying and transporting the offender.

Prison bureau records show that an overwhelming majority of federal prisoners committed from Tennessee, Kentucky, North Carolina, Georgia and other southern states are mountaineers or country folk. This class of citizens ordinarily violates few federal statutes.

Wholesale pardoning of federal liquor offenders might meet legal obstacles unless repeal or modification is clear cut, officials said.

Legal minds of the justice department declined to comment on the proposed blanket pardon demand. Other officials, however, said such action, if approved, would relieve over-crowded conditions in federal jails.

The governor-elect of Michigan already has stated that he favored pardoning liquor law violators serving terms in state prisons.

WHEAT'S ORIGIN

The first grains of wheat grew wild on the steppes of Asia, thousands of years ago. This wild wheat was the genesis of the wheat we know and use today.

THE "KITCHEN-TEST"

It's a baking test, in ovens like yours. Before Gold Medal Flour reaches you, it has demonstrated in the Gold Medal Test Kitchen that it bakes perfectly. It's been used by Betty Crocker and her staff to bake cakes, pies and pastry. Gold Medal Flour and Gold Medal recipes are both tested the same way, under expert supervision. Use them together and you'll get bakings your family will say are wonderful!

It's good economy to use the best flour there is—Gold Medal—because it means all your bakings are sure to turn out right. The success of a baking depends largely on the flour you use. Yet the flour costs, on the average, only ⅛ as much as all the other ingredients. So when you use Gold Medal Flour, you don't run the risk of wasting the other more expensive materials—as well as your own time and work. START WORK ON BEER MEASURE

Ways and Means Committee to Discuss Issue

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17. (AP)—Chairman Collier was asked today to have his ways and means committee to get a bill to legalize beer ready for presentation to the house when it convenes next month.

"I'll talk with the boys about it and see what they want to do," he replied.

The suggestion was offered by Representative O'Connor, Democrat, New York, in the interest of increasing the possibility of such action at the coming session.

The New Yorker, leader of the Democratic wet bloc in the house, made the same proposal to Representative Rainey, of Illinois, party floor leader who said he would talk with members here and probably would write a few of the absentees in deciding whether to undertake hearings.

O'Connor said "the public is impatient," that "it will protest delay" on legalizing beer and that hearings would take but a few days.

He added he is trying to get in touch with Representative Beck of Pennsylvania, leader of Republican anti-prohibition forces, for a conference on the form of beer legislation to be proposed.

Representative Cochran, Democrat, Missouri, said 35,000 men would be put to work in Missouri as soon as beer is legalized. The present Missouri delegation, he said, would have 10 votes for beer at the short session compared with the four from that state who voted for it last spring.

Roosevelt Uses Governor's Job With Credit and Evades Campaign Pitfalls

Man Who Will Be Next President Is a Progressive, Realizing A Government Must Grow and Change

Editor's Note—Defeated at the polls and stricken with infantile paralysis, Franklin D. Roosevelt retired to the political sidelines—but only temporarily. He was back again in a few years, this time as governor of New York. In today's sixth and final installment of his life story his rise to the presidency is recounted.

By GARDNER BRIDGE
(Copyright, 1932, by The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—As Governor of New York, Franklin D. Roosevelt, a progressive Democrat, came to grips almost immediately with the Republican controlled legislature.

His election, in the year of a nationwide Republican victory, 1928, marked him at once as a strong contender for the presidency, and the majority party in the legislature greeted him with narrowed eyes.

The first fight was over the executive budget, a new procedure in spending the state's money which was having its first tryout under Roosevelt's administration.

Governor Roosevelt was dissatisfied with the way the fiscal chairmen of the legislature interpreted the new system, and the ensuing battle ended up in the courts, Roosevelt won.

Given Free Hand

Next came the St. Lawrence waterpower issue, a political football which had been kicked around in midfield for some 20 years. Roosevelt was determined to get behind a goal post with it and chalk up a score of "cheap electricity for the small consumer."

The Republicans, apparently anxious to eliminate the issue from the next state campaign, broke away and gave Roosevelt a free hand to appoint a commission charged with the duty of working out a plan of public development of the hydro-electric resources.

Other problems that arose during Roosevelt's two terms as governor included three state prison riots, the City Trust failure and the closing of the Bank of the United States, and the necessity of deciding what was to be done about Mayor James J. Walker, whose New York City administration was under investigation by Samuel Seabury.

The Seabury investigation, with its climactic hearing in the executive chamber, presented what many observers considered the most critical test of Roosevelt's political career. If he removed Walker he would incur the wrath of Tammany hall; if he did not remove him he would be accused of genuflecting toward the wigwam.

Walker Resigns

The nation watched interest as the drama unfolded itself. The scholarly looking Seabury, once a judge of the state's highest court, calmly and impassionately drew a picture of alleged indiscretions in the mayor's financial household. Walker, impulsive, eloquent, made stirring speeches about being persecuted, about his public record, and pleaded for a reputation builded on the best years of his life. The governor, who by now was the Democratic nominee for president, sat back patiently directing his questions and pressing when necessary, for full answers.

Then on the night of Sept. 1 the problem solved itself. Walker resigned.

Roosevelt's nomination at Chicago, his spectacular flight to the convention halls to accept the candidacy, the celebrated break between himself and Al Smith which was healed during the campaign, partly through their mutual interest in Governor-elect Herbert H. Lehman, all that is recent history and needs no retelling here.

His election to the highest office in the land followed a campaign in which he stressed the importance of bringing aid to the "forgotten man."

One Great Principle

"There can be only one great principle to guide our course in the coming years," he said in closing his campaign. "We have learned the lesson that extravagant advantage for the few ultimately depresses the many. We must put behind us the idea that an uncontrolled, unbalanced economy, creating paper profits for a relatively small group, means or ever can mean prosperity."

The Roosevelt who enters the White House will be, in his own words, a "progressive." And by progressives he means those "who realize that a government must grow and change as its people grow and change; that what is wise government today may be foolish government tomorrow."

Lucky Days

PITTSBURGH, Pa.—A recent Tuesday was sure a lucky day for Saturday. Nick Saturday 66-year-old watchman, had the laugh on three bandits who held him up recently. For two years Saturday had carried his life savings around in his pocket. Tuesday morning he put his $700 in the bank on a hunch. When the bandits held him up he had only $4.70.

P.-T. A. Congress Will Close Convention Today

GALVESTON, Nov. 17. (AP)—Two sessions devoted primarily to business and a night meeting at which T. Alfred Fleming, supervisor of the conservation department of the national board of fire underwriters made the principal address featured the second day of the Texas congress of parents and teachers here.

Business of the convention will be concluded tomorrow and the convention city for 1933 will be selected at a post-convention board meeting. Mineral Wells, Sherman and Abilene are competing for the next convention.

Proposed changes in the bylaws evoked lengthy discussion at the meeting this morning with the result that chairman of child hygiene and summer round-up and the chairman of the board of trustees of the endowment fund were added to the executive committee.

MINE PICKETS DEFY TEAR GAS

Bombs Fail to Quell Union Disturbance

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 16. (AP)—Tear gas bombs were used by the state highway police today in an unsuccessful attempt to quell a disturbance caused by 1,000 "progressive union" miners pickets at the Peabody Coal company's Cora mine today.

The men were jammed in so tightly that those affected by the gas were unable to withdraw and no further gas was used.

The pickets, however, won the day as only a single automobile load of United Mine Workers of America were able to run the gauntlet.

The two unions have been at loggerheads for several months and although both have signed almost identical basic wage scale contracts at $5 a day, the progressive union has sought to prevent the United miner group from working in this state.

No troops were detailed to the region of the clash today. Two miners were beaten severely and their car was demolished by the pickets. Yesterday Robert J. Christ, chief engineer of the mine, was shot in the shoulder and three company men were beaten. None was dangerously injured.

Peabody officers said tomorrow would be a "work day," and that a determined effort would be made to hoist coal.

Chief Walter Moody of the state highway police, threw five tear gas bombs into the mob, and after the situation became tense, dined with actinr Sheriff William Beynon in telephoning Adj. Gen. Carlos E. Black for a conference. Beynon and Moody decided to swear in an additional force of special deputies.

Representative Favors Dean Law Modification

COLEMAN, Texas, Nov. 17. (UP)—J. W. Golson, representative-elect, indicated here tonight he favors "some modification of the Dean law," Texas prohibition enforcement measure.

"In my opinion, the penalty for selling small quantities of intoxicating liquor is too severe and too expensive to the taxpayers of the state. I have not yielded my original opinion on prohibition, but I think we can have a sane system dealing with offenders of the law."

Golson indicated he favors an elective highway commission.

Put more SUNSHINE days on your calendar

How many days in the month do you feel your best? You can add to these sunshine days by simply obeying nature's laws.

The first of these laws is regular elimination. Avoid common constipation by eating a delicious cereal.

Tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN furnishes "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to help aid regularity. ALL-BRAN also contains twice the iron of an equal weight of beef liver.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. How much more pleasant than pills and drugs—so often habit-forming.

Serve as a cereal or use in cooking. Directions on the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

WALSH BLAMES MORROW MAID

Police Inspector Believes Girl in Lindy Case

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Nov. 17.—Police Inspector Harry W. Walsh in another series of the Jersey Journal today of copyrighted articles describing his part in the investigation of the kidnaping and subsequent slaying of the Lindbergh baby, asserts he is "convinced" Violet Sharpe, maid in the home of Mrs. Lindbergh's mother, Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow, was the "informant—the agent—of the kidnapers."

Miss Sharpe committed suicide during the investigation.

"I am convinced," Walsh writes, "that Violet Sharpe deceived us. And that she did so deliberately.

"I am convinced that she was the informant—the agent—of the kidnapers.

"I believe she committed suicide in panic, fearing her guilt had been discovered, or over-burdened with her guilty knowledge after news of the baby's death."

Gives Reasons

Walsh, who was in charge of the questioning of the employes at the Morrow home, said he arrived at these conclusions from the following facts:

"She was the recipient of the phone call at 10:30 Tuesday, March 1, that ordered Betty Gow (the baby's nurse) to Hopewell. This gave her knowledge that the baby would be in Hopwell that night.

"She told conflicting stories concerning her movements on the night of March 1.

"She insistently refused to reveal the identity of the person she was with on March 1.

"Her physical condition changed for the worse after it became known the baby was dead. I attribute this change to the working of her conscience. I believe that previously she had been buoyed by the hope that the baby would be returned safely. She would get a cut of the ransom money, and no one would be the wiser.

"She ended her life just before she was to be questioned again by police, and, as I believe, when she feared the screws of detection of her guilt were getting tighter and tighter."

Walsh says the persons with whom Miss Sharpe spent the night of March 1 later were located and exonerated of any suspicion.

Denies "Third Degree"

Walsh denies any "third degree" was applied to Miss Sharpe, stating she was questioned only twice subsequent to the original questioning together with the other members of the Morrow household. These last two periods of questioning, he writes, lasted six minutes and three minutes, respectively and both were done in the presence of agents of the U. S. department of justice, state troopers and members of the Newark police department.

Walsh also reveals that Dr. John F. Condon of the Bronx, the "Jafsie" who paid over $50,000 to the supposed kidnapers, reported to Colonel Lindbergh that "John," the man to whom he paid the money, told him there were five of the kidnapers, divided into two groups, the first composed of two men and a woman and the second of a man and a woman.

"In my mind was the suspicion," Walsh states, "that the woman in the second group might be Violet."

Describing the search for the "Ernie" Miss Sharpe said she was with the night of March 1, and whom she said she believed was a bus driver, Walsh states the name of every bus and taxi driver in the states of New York and New Jersey was obtained and that every "Ernie" on the list was questioned.

Hen Lays Hoover Egg

RADFORD, Va., (UP)—Mrs. W. D. Lorton says her hen has beaten the Literary Digest to it. The biddy, a black Ancona, has laid an egg on which the word "Hoover" is plainly defined, all the letters but the "R" and one "O" being flawless, according to Mrs. Lorton. The other letters are easily recognizable. Mrs. Lorton thinks of presenting the egg to the president.

Bonus Army Plans To Move On Washington Again

Seemingly undaunted by their defeat last summer, bonus-seeking veterans are planning another march on Washington. And here you see a group of the men after an organization meeting in New York, when it was announced that this contingent, with others from all parts of the country, would converge on the capital Dec. 5 with a demand that congress appropriate money for cash payment of the bonus.

Aged 'Grandma' Provides Books For Ozark Hill Folk

Unique Idea of Woman Gives Literary Oasis To Backwoods

By M. H. POTTER

CHECK'S CORNER, Ark., Nov. 17. (AP)—The poor hill people of this Ozarks region, although nearly isolated from the rest of the world, have a veritable literary oasis founded by an enterprising little grandmother with the aid of a stray sheep, a spinning wheel, and an old-time loom.

Their oasis is a free library which quenches the thirst of the sturdy hill folks for books. Nearly a quarter of a century ago, Mr. and Mrs. X. S. Check, both book enthusiasts, organized the first community club of their countryside. The idea of a community club didn't get far, for there was no money with which to buy books. At that time, it is said, all books within a radius of 10 miles could have been carried under one arm.

But one stormy night a means presented itself. It came in the form of a stray, bedraggled ewe which stumbled onto the Check premises. Grandma Check fed the stranger and quartered her for the night. The next morning there was a lamb. No one came to claim the animals and Mrs. Check decided to found a library with the aid of the sheep and her own knowledge of spinning wool.

The sheep were shorn, the wool was spun into thread and coverlets and quilts were made and sold to the townspeople. The money was put into the library's "hope chest" and as the sheep increased, more and more articles were made.

Three years were spent in accumulating funds and then, eight years ago, Grandma Check obtained an initial stock of about 200 books. A little frame building was put up behind Check's country store and the one-room library was started. It has grown steadily and now has more than 3,000 volumes.

The library and the store are the only activities of Check's Corner.

And Grandma Check, despite her 74 years, still keeps on with her weaving and spinning. While she spins in her bedroom work shop, her sheep, all from a common ancestry, graze near the house and flourish.

"MISS EUROPE" TO MARRY

PARIS, (UP)—"Miss Europe 1930," otherwise known as Mlle. Diplarakos, daughter of an Athens barrister, is to marry Paul Louis Weiller, a French aviator. The date of the wedding has not yet been set. During the war Weiller is said to have brought down five enemy airplanes and received the Croix de Guerre with 11 palms and two stars. He received the ribbon of the Legion of Honor from M. Poincare, and the rosette from Marshal Foch. Among the decorations awarded M. Weiller by allied countries, is the British Military Cross.

Electra City Lake Stocked With Fish

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, Nov. 17.—A total of 18,000 fish has been placed in the city lake this year and between 30,000 and 40,000 will be added next year. During the past few months, rearing ponds have been built at the city lake. About 3,000 bass and 15,000 crappie have been placed in the lake. W. P. Detmer furnished a number of crappie, and Doc Preston gave a large number of bass minnows for the ponds. Superintendent Harper of the fish hatchery at Diversion lake also placed a large number in the lake.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn.—The mice seemed to like the rat poison which C. P. Tracy, city sanitary engineer, had in his office. The rat and mice exterminator which was sitting in Tracy's office was so attractive to mice in his office that they gnawed through the paper container and ate the poison.

MUSICIANS TO GIVE CONCERT

Club Artists to Make First Appearance Tuesday

Impressive compositions of the greatest writers, to be presented by several of Wichita Falls' outstanding artists, are to be presented next Tuesday night at the Junior college auditorium on the Musicians club's first evening musicale of the current season, according to Mrs. Flora Greenwood, program chairman for the event.

Thus far three instrumental groups, and one of voice, have been announced, and Mrs. Greenwood announced that a second group of songs probably will be included in Tuesday night's concert.

Mrs. Ross G. Smith and Ernest Katz are piano soloists for the evening. Mrs. Pearl Calhoun Davis, soprano, will present two numbers, and Stanley Miles Raub, violinist, will conclude the program with three numbers. Mrs. Lucille Brooks Huff and Mrs. J. W. Akin Jr., will be accompanists.

Mrs. Davis has for many years been one of the most eminent sopranos in the entire Southwest, and has been director of the First Methodist church choir and Woman's Choral club here for two years. Her infrequent solo appearances have been artistic highlights in the city's musical experiences during that period.

Mrs. Smith became a resident of Wichita Falls last spring, and already has established herself as a pianist of genuine ability and charm. For her group Tuesday night, she has chosen selections from Liszt, Mendelssohn, and Debussy.

Mr. Katz, who spent most of the past summer in Europe, will play three numbers. His performances in the past are a guarantee of interesting qualities and excellence in his playing Tuesday night.

Mr. Raub has constructed an impressive three-number group from the works of Rachmaninoff, Wieniawski and Mozart, demanding full exercise of the feeling and technical brilliance which characterize his performance.

Members of the Musicians club will enjoy guest privileges for the Tuesday night musicale.

Watch the Dog

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah.—If you see a dog on your golf course, keep your eye on your golf balls. Players at Nibley park course found a new racket involving a boy and a dog recently. The boy had trained the dog to run after balls that had been hit out of sight by players. The dog would bring the balls back to the boy and he'd pocket them. When a foursome caught the pair in the trick, both disappeared and haven't been seen since.

A. & M. EXPERT 'TALKS TURKEY'

Choosing Thanksgiving Bird Is Described

COLLEGE STATION, Texas, Nov. 17.—To choose a good turkey for Thanksgiving dinner is a simple art that any housewife can learn, says E. N. Holmgreen, poultry husbandman in the extension service at Texas A. & M. college. Wise buying means money saved and the assurance of a delicious meal, Mr. Holmgreen points out, adding that Texas farmers have improved the quality of their turkeys a great deal in recent years, and are doing a good job in selecting their best for the market, but until all turkeys are sold to consumers strictly on recognized grades the housewife will always need to know how to pick a good one as well as how to cook it.

"A poorly fleshed or crooked breasted bird gives a much lower percentage of edible meat than a fat, plump, trim bird, and therefore costs as much and often more per pound of actual meat than a good one," Mr. Holmgreen said. "A long-legged, short breasted, pin-feathery bird may be in fair flesh and have a desirable weight, yet not carry enough fat to cook into the tender delicacy so much desired.

Requires Little Time

"It takes only a minute of handling and looking underneath the outer feathers to tell whether a turkey is a good dinner bet, and that minute may save a quarter and a dinner. Pick a short-legged bird, one whose thigh bone is about the same length as the breast bone. See that the breast is well covered and straight. The breast bone of a tom ought to measure eight to nine inches, and of a hen six and one-half to seven inches. The thigh (drum stick) may be slightly longer than this and the shank (lower part of the leg) slightly less than this. These proportions are important because it usually means a more quickly maturing bird, more apt to be finished, fat and free of pin feathers.

"Pin feathers are important because they are a nuisance in dressing and when present in large numbers are a positive indication of an unfinished turkey which won't dress out into a clean carcass. They are recognized by the large, soft, dark quills. Look for them by pulling back the large tuft of feathers on the front of the breast and on each hip. Long-legged and crooked-breasted birds are more likely to have them than others.

Should Be Fat

"A good Thanksgiving turkey should be fat. The natural color of turkey meat is dark, approaching blue, but a well fattened bird will have a thin covering of fat over this dark flesh which leaves little of the blue in evidence. The drum stick is the last place a turkey lays on fat.

"Styles in turkeys are changing. The smaller bird, short of leg, long of thigh, plump, fat and stocky is the one the consuming public is favoring now for the good reason that it gives the most for the money. The longer, rangier birds may be cheaper in price per pound but may prove to be dearer by the time the last meal of turkey hash is served."

Stamford P.-T. A. Holds Thanksgiving Program

Special to The Record News.

STAMFORD, Texas, Nov. 17.—A Thanksgiving program was presented by members of the seventh grade at the November meeting of the P.-T. A. Wednesday afternoon at the high school auditorium.

Marjorie Harris announced the program which included three short plays, group songs by the class, three vocal numbers by little Freda Culwell, a first grade pupil and a discussion of the problems of financing the schools by Doris Jackson. Doris illustrated her remarks with blackboard charts revealing that in 1928 $195,000,000 was spent for luxuries, against $78,000,000 for education and that $602,000,000 was spent for cars and their upkeep.

Mrs. W. B. Tayman, president, conducted a short business session in which Mrs. G. C. Carothers was elected treasurer to fill a vacancy. The home room of Mrs. R. L. Cook won the loving cup for the next month by the highest percentage of parents present for the meeting. Mrs. Mary Bostick's room was second.

CANT FOOL IT

If the Venus flytrap plant of Carolina has been induced to shut on something it doesn't want, it opens again quickly, and when it has been cheated two or three times in succession, the plant ceases for a time to respond.

DO YOU NEED REVENUE?

That set of unrented office rooms is "eating its head off." It's a part of your business overhead which includes taxes, interest charges, etc.

An unrented house, either business or residence or a spare room, offers the same problem to the home owner. You have no justification in assuming they can't be rented until you have put your problem up to Want-Ad Headquarters. If they can be rented at all, Daily Times-Record News Classified Ads will do the work at the lowest cost—two papers for the cost of one.

Advice To Investors

By Charles W. Storm—Editor of the "News Service of Wall Street"

P. K.—Please furnish me with information on Packard Motor Car company stock.

Answer—Net loss for 1931 was $2,909,000 contrasted with profit of $9,084,000 (60 cents a share) in 1930. Company lost $2,513,127 in first half of 1932 against $90,121 in like 1931 period. Although the 1932 deficit from operations may approximate as much as 30 cents a share, Packard is in advantageous position during this period of restricted demand for high priced autos through its maintenance of a strong current financial condition. Cash and equivalent amounted to $13,300,000 and current liabilities totaled less than $3,000,000 at the end of June. Company's excellent trade reputation will aid in the restoration of sales and profits once the present depression of public purchasing power is relieved, and, over the longer term, recent efforts to broaden the field of operations should prove advantageous. Adequate earnings on the $15,000,000 outstanding shares will require a considerable period for development. The stock is speculative.

G. L. S.—Please supply me with full data concerning Liggett & Myers "B" stock.

Answer—Liggett & Myers "B" stock, issued in March, 1920, has paid dividends in varying amounts from June, 1920. Since first quarter of 1928 the annual rate has been $4 a share, with $1 extra annually. Earnings in 1931 off in sympathy with reduced cigaret sales to $6.87 a share on 3,136,919 shares of common and common "B" stock against $7.15 in 1930. Financially strong, ratio of current assets to current liabilities 26 to 1, working capital over $150,000,000. Book value of common and common "B" stock $37.50 a share. A 10-year analysis of consolidated income account, including 1931, shows average earnings of approximately $6.60 a share yearly on the two junior issues. Stock is reasonably valued statistically in spite of industry facing added state tax uncertainty and extended drop in cigaret consumption. Downward trend in cigaret withdrawals has apparently been checked, however, improving company's earnings prospects. Stock is classed as a business man's investment.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Nov. 17. (AP)—Trading in cotton was quiet today and prices fluctuated within a range of 8 or 10 points. December declined from 6.36 to 6.27 and closed at 6.28, with the general market closing steady at net losses of 2 to 5 points.

The chief trading feature was evening up of December contracts in preparation for possible notices next week. Trade buying, presumably to fix prices again absorbed some of the December liquidation while a good part of the business was in the form of switching from December to later months at just about the recent differences. At the close December was 26 points under May compared with 27 points yesterday.

Liverpool cables reported a smaller market there but said there was a continued demand for cotton goods in Manchester with offers more workable.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 17. (AP)—Cotton appeared to be marking time today as prices moved narrowly in a quiet market, finally closing unchanged to one point net lower.

The opening was steady as Liverpool cables came in about 3 to 4 penny points better than due. Private cables said there had been scattered buying and trade calling and sterling was lower.

Liverpool is due on New Orleans tomorrow unchanged to 1 penny point down.

Port receipts 60,582, for week 306,256, for season 4,027,304, last season 4,519,123. Exports 39,972, for week 169,866, for season 2,645,602, last season 2,231,256. Port stock 4,563,498, last year 4,681,974. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Gulfports and Houston 139,382, last year 145,617. Spot sales at southern markets 33,284, last year 51,420.

Futures closed steady net unchanged to one point down:

Liverpool Cotton

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 17. (INS)—There was a good demand for spot cotton at the opening today with prices steady. Receipts totaled 18,200 bales, all American.

At midday middling fair was quoted at 6.76d, strictly good middling 6.31d, good middling 6.06d, strictly middling 5.81d, low middling 5.46d, strictly good ordinary 5.11d, and good ordinary 4.81d.

Futures opened steady with Jan. at 5.31d, March 5.33d, May 5.36d, and July 5.37d.

CHICAGO COTTON

CHICAGO, Nov. 17. (AP)—Cotton was quiet in light trading and the range of prices was narrow today. The close of the board of trade was 2 points net lower to 6 points net higher. The opening was 1-4 points up on better cables than due and higher openings at New Orleans and New York. Light gains were made in early business, but the market eased in later trading and rallied near the close. Nearly 1-inch of rain fell at Corpus Christi and light showers in the East. Freezing temperatures prevail generally over much of the cotton country. Stocks and grain were lower and this helped to deter the accumulation of a speculative interest in cotton.

Four Men Charged in Stinnett Bank Robbery

BORGER, Texas, Nov. 17. (AP)—Four men were charged with the robbery Tuesday of the First State bank at Stinnett in warrants signed by Henry D. Meyers, county attorney, this morning.

They were "Shine" Popejoy, "Jelly" Stewart, "Sparky" Johnson and Tom Stapps. Popejoy and Stewart were from Borger, Johnson was indicted but never apprehended for the March 15 robbery of the same bank and Stapps was from Oklahoma City.

Meyers, Sheriff Frank Whaley, District Attorney W. L. Connell and Deputy Sheriff Burt Bryan left this afternoon for Oklahoma City in an effort to identify four men held there as the robbers. The arrests were made after Whaley sent a telegram to Oklahoma City.

Stocks Retreat Further In Session Marked By Lowest Volume In Weeks

By JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Stocks gave up a little more ground today, although they held much better than grains. Volume was the smallest in a fortnight and activity so substantially professional that the minor fluctuations appeared to represent only the "in and out" transactions of floor traders.

Changes over the day showed frequent shifts of direction, but all the moves were of minor extent. However, the undertone was easy and although one of the little rallies came at the close most leading issues finished a shade off. Except for Homestake Mining, which jumped nearly 8 points, there were no outstanding swings such as occurred yesterday. Farm implement stocks were unaffected by losses running close to two cents a bushel in wheat.

Foreign angles to the news received most attention. Sterling had a sharp reaction and German bonds dipped when resignation of the Von Papen government was announced. The still-present debt problem may have been less a factor in market hesitation than of late; but Wall street's unwillingness to venture very far from the sidelines at this juncture was quite evident.

Net losses in shares were almost entirely fractional. U. S. Steel, American Can, Bethlehem, Union Carbide, Allied Chemical, Anaconda, National Biscuit, American Tobacco "B," North American, Western Union, Consolidated Gas, New York Central, Pennsylvania and Santa Fe averaged half a point lower. Losses of around a point appeared in Westinghouse, Union Pacific, Southern Pacific and Lackawanna. Penick & Ford profited by declaration of a larger extra dividend than had been paid last year. Home-Stake's strength coincided with news of larger gold production in the United States during September and the general let-down of commodity prices. Stock sales totaled 700,040 shares.

SHRINE PARTY FRIDAY NIGHT

Night Club Entertainment Starts at 10

Increasing interest in the Maskat temple night club dinner dance Friday night indicates a capacity attendance of nobles and their ladies, Potentate Sydney A. Gaines announced Thursday. The attendance for the informal entertainment will be limited to 65 couples and reservations will be received by Recorder Al Ellis and J. Paul Montgomery.

The party will open at the Golden Dragon night club at 10 o'clock Friday night to run until 3 o'clock Saturday morning. A seven-course chicken dinner will be served at midnight while two floor shows will be in progress. An 11-piece orchestra will furnish the music for the guests to dance before and following the shows, which are in charge of Noble Emil Hermann. Mr. Hermann has announced a special chorus of beauties for the occasion.

Fort Worth Concert Of Noted Tenor Open To Civic Music Members

Members of the Northwest Texas Civic music association may use their membership cards for admission to the concert to be given next Monday night, Nov. 21, at Fort Worth by Mario Chamlee, eminent tenor, it was announced here Thursday by Mrs. Walter Robbins, secretary.

Members of the organization perfected here last spring may obtain their cards by applying to Mrs. Robbins. Distribution of cards to the entire local membership has been delayed temporarily by delay in the receipt of programs for the ensuing season here from Chicago headquarters of the Civic Music Association, Inc.

Chamlee's concert at Fort Worth will be given at 8 o'clock in the auditorium of the Central High school building, Mrs. Robbins said. Membership cards in any civic music association admit the owners to any programs anywhere presented by those organizations.

Coe Glade, contralto of the Chicago Civic Opera company during the past three years and accredited also as a soloist with symphony orchestras, will appear at the Junior colege auditorium here on Monday night, Nov. 28, in the first of three concerts to be given this winter by the local association. Membership cards will be distributed before that date, according to Mrs. Robbins.

Photographs can be cleaned by wiping lightly with a piece of old linen dipped in warm ammonia water.

Bold Thief Hires Truck To Deliver His Stolen Goods

City police were searching for a suspect Thursday afternoon who allegedly took a 33-pound case of coffee and hired a transfer company to deliver the coffee to a second-hand store on Fifth street. Detectives Luke Hart and O. A. Roberson recovered the coffee after one pound had been used. Two employes of the transfer company were released after questioning.

The coffee was taken from a truck at the H. O. Wooten Grocery company store, 1213 Scott, early in the afternoon.

Bars of the Brooks Grocery store, 1320 Harrison, were pried off a rear window by burglars Wednesday night. The loot included 34 in pennies and $1 in small change. Other thefts reported to police Thursday included an electric motor taken from the home of S. A. Cobb, 214 North Burnett; and five gallons of gasoline from a pump at the Continental Refining company station at 301 Flood.

Final Services Held For Victim of Crash

Funeral services for Kenneth D. Ritchie, 34, 1200 Kenley, were held Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the First Christian church. Dr. H. T. Wood, pastor, officiated and burial was in charge of Hines mortuary in Rosement. Mr. Ritchie was fatally injured Tuesday night in an automobile collision near Tyler.

Survivors include the widow; a son, Jack; a daughter, Joyce; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. D. Ritchie of this city; two brothers and four sisters.

Four Sentenced to Die For Patrolman's Death

NEW YORK, Nov. 17. (AP)—Four men convicted of the murder of a policeman were sentenced today to die in the electric chair the week of Dec. 26.

The men were convicted Nov. 11 of the murder of Patrolman Joseph P. Burke during the holdup of an alleged speakeasy June 12 last.

The four sentenced to die were Vincent Walsh, 19, Alfred Celentano, 20, his brother, Joseph, 25, and Russell Kelly, 18.

Legion Services Pay Last Tribute to Vet

Funeral services for Harry A. Madison, 40, of this city were held from the Merkle Undertaking company chapel at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon. The Rev. Finis Crutchfield, Floral Heights Methodist church pastor, officiated, and burial in Rosement was in charge of the American Legion. Mr. Madison died at Arlington, Texas, Tuesday. Three sisters survive.

Grant Street Blaze Causes $1,750 Damage

A blaze starting in a clothes closet while members of the family were away from home resulted in damage of $1,000 to the house and $750 to contents at the residence of Eli Whitehead, 3106 Grant, at 5:30 o'clock Thursday morning. A unit of the fire department controlled a garage fire at the rear of Joe Hircy's home, 1509 Smarsh, at 11:45 o'clock Thursday morning.

Several families, as a rule, share a communal kitchen in which they do their cooking, in Moscow.

STILL OWNER GRANTED PLEA

Court Supends Term Given 'Shorty' Long

After three days' of deliberation, Judge P. A. Martin of the 89th district court called Shorty Long to the courtroom Thursday and imposed a two-year suspended sentence for possession of a still, to which the defendant entered a plea of guilty last Monday.

In admitting his guilt as charged, Long testified that he had resorted to the manufacture of whisky as a means of bare livelihood in his inability to find employment. He asked for a suspended sentence and declared that two small children are dependent solely upon him for support and care. The court took the plea under advisement.

Rites Set Friday for Ex-Governor of Louisiana

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 17. (AP)—Funeral services for former Gov. O. H. Simpson, who died here today, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Bultman mortuary. Interment will be made in Greenwood cemetery.

Optimists Give Vernon Program

Solon Featherston of this city was the featured speaker at an Optimist International week program sponsored by the Vernon club in that city Thursday. The program was presented by members of the Wichita Falls club with President Leon Horn presiding. Mr. Featherston discussed work of the international organization. President Glenn Russell of the Vernon club opened the meeting.

Members making the trip included Mr. Horn, Secretary Ira D. Brown, Dr. H. P. Ledford, Henry Hamilton, L. E. Wentling, Ira D. Brown Jr., C. E. Pimlott and Wilburn Page. An entertainment program of piano and vocal numbers was presented by the local club sweetheart, Miss Lucille Snyder, and Miss Doris Owens.
