THE LUBBOCK AVALANCHE

VOLUME XX — LUBBOCK, LUBBOCK COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, JUNE 24, 1920 — NUMBER 52

PEOPLE SHOULD KNOW OF LUBBOCK

THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE WILL SOON FORMULATE PLANS FOR THE NEXT TWELVE MONTHS' CAMPAIGN

EVERY MAN IN LUBBOCK SHOULD BECOME A MEMBER

Conditions Are Such Now That Insures Much Activity In This Section And The More People Who Know About This Great Country The Greater The Development

The South Plains country will be in the finest condition imaginable to invite people to come here this fall, and there will be a great field for development before us. It will be a time for real work of the organized bodies of this section, and now is the time for organization and team work, in lining things up for bigger things this fall.

The Lubbock country is in fine shape now. True there has been some hail damage, and this we notice has been all over the western half of the State, and this damage is no more severe than many other things that have occurred in other sections of the State, such as wind storms, floods, etc., and crop conditions, taking them as a whole, could hardly be better. There will be a great crop raised here this year, and land values will be appreciable probably as never before in the history of the South Plains.

Lubbock, as is acknowledged by people who are anyways familiar with the true conditions is geographically advantageously located and with the several railroads in to this point, with a splendid chance of increased railroad facilities in the very near future there is no longer any doubt that Lubbock is to be the real city of the Plains country, and therefore the country surrounding this city for many miles around will be in demand, when the people know these to be facts, and all that will be necessary for this to be made plain to them is to get them to see this section. In order to do this, it is necessary that we maintain a strong commercial club organization. We have the organization, and it has in the past been of great benefit to the town and surrounding country. It has not had the financial support that it should have had, and has been in a manner handicapped on this account. At this time the chamber is getting ready to map out a campaign for the next twelve months, and soon there will be a drive for membership and financial support, made for this organization and not a single man in the city should refuse to become a member of this organization. Every business firm should subscribe liberally to this institution, which in the hands of capable men, and this we are sure it is, will do unestimable work for the upbuilding of Lubbock and in that way every man; even though he has nothing more than a salaried position, will be benefitted by the existence of this organization, and can well afford to contribute to its support.

We do not know at present the outline of the publicity campaign for the chamber of commerce, but there should be a large appropriation for publicity, and literature properly distributed will mean a great deal toward interesting people to come to this city and the Lubbock territory to invest their money.

The board of directors will soon be in position to announce the new manager for this organization, and we understand that they have practically closed a deal with a man who is a real live wire, and one who is capable of doing big things for the development of the Lubbock country if given the proper support of the people of this city. This support should not stop at the corporate limits of the city of Lubbock, but farmers and ranchers should also contribute their part toward the maintenance of a real live commercial organization, as they are benefitted equally as much as the town fellows, and should be as greatly interested in the development of the country, and the upbuilding of Lubbock as the man in town.

Let's get behind the chamber of Commerce with out booster duds on, and give them a strong financial backing, and there will be no doubts as to the manner in which Lubbock will forge ahead and take her place as the leading city of the plains at a very early date.

NEW GIN FOR LUBBOCK PRACTICALLY ASSURED

J. V. Daniel, formerly a resident of Lubbock, is here this week and is making preparations for building a gin here to be ready for the coming gin season. The location of this gin, we are informed, will be in the Southeast part of the city and will be a modern gin in every respect.

This new gin will give Lubbock citizens four good gins or double the capacity of that of last year and will aid very materially the farmers in the efficient handling of their cotton.

JENKINS WILL PRESENT WILLIAM G. McADOO

Kansas City, Mo., June 23.—Dr. Burris A. Jenkins, editor of the Kansas City Post, has definitely decided to present the name of William Gibbs McAdoo to the Democratic National Convention.

Jenkins today wired his paper here from Pueblo that he had reached such decision after conferring with the other members of the Missouri delegation, now enroute to San Francisco.

According to Dr. Jenkins two-thirds, if not three-fourths of the Missouri delegation favor presentation of McAdoo's name. It was this strong sentiment, Jenkins explained, that hastened his final decision.

The Post's editor wired that he would go ahead and deliver his speech nominating McAdoo without the latter's consent, adding that Missouri would "draft" him.

"McAdoo cannot refuse," Jenkins concluded.

DAMAGING HAIL IN DAWSON COUNTY SUNDAY

Lamesa, Dawson Co., Texas, June 22.—Severe hailstorms fell over the major portion of Dawson county Sunday night, completely destroying some crops and doing considerable damage to live stock and buildings. Farmers estimate that 30 per cent of the cotton crop was destroyed. Some will replant while others will put in late feedstuff.

County Judge J. H. Moore is spending a few days this week in Dawson county, upon invitation from the county judge of that county. Judge Moore will make a number of public addresses in behalf of better school buildings and facilities in that county. He was accompanied by Grandpa J. P. Webb, who will also make some talks along this line.

John J. Noone and wife and Mr. and Mrs. William M. Peck left Tuesday afternoon for Denver, Colorado, where they will remain a few days. From there they will go to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peck, in Concordia, Kansas.

Dick Howard is here from the oil fields this week, visiting with home folks. His many friends here are glad to learn of his success in his new field of labor.

Mrs. Geo. Morris returned from Snyder this morning, where she has attended the meeting of the Eastern Star.

BAND CONCERT SUNDAY AFTERNOON ON COURT LAWN

Bandmaster Bowron is authority for the statement that the Chamber of Commerce band will give an open air concert on the court house lawn Sunday afternoon, and he further states that the band is in fine shape and is in position to produce high grade band concerts and requests the people to come out and attend these concerts. The band is maintained for your entertainment, and it is to be hoped that you will avail yourself of the opportunity of hearing it's music.

MITCHELL COUNTY OIL ATTRACTS ATTENTION

Colorado, Mitchell Co., Texas, June 21.—S. S. Owen, manager for the Underwriters' Oil Company, announces that the company has a pay well out of No. 1 at Wetsbrook, about 12 miles west of here. This well is 3,405 feet deep and the drill has gone through sixty feet of pay sand. It bailed thirty barrels today, and the drillers are using the oil for fuel. Mr. Owen said that he feels sure the well is good for 200 to 2,000 barrels when shot. The material for shooting has been ordered.

People are coming in from other points of the country to investigate this field.

COMMUNITY TELEPHONE LINE NEARING COMPLETION

The community telephone line being built by private parties from the Grovesville community, connecting with the Lubbock exchange is within two miles of Lubbock, but may remain that way for several weeks according to reports of some of the stockholders in the line, on account of the scarcity of wire, and they have not been able to locate any yet.

SCHOOLS CAN USE STATE AID TO PAY TEACHERS

Austin, Texas, June 24.—Applications are now being made by schools for money under the rural aid law. The amount received from this source is determined by the financial condition of the school; if it has money enough to meet all demands, it cannot obtain aid. With the apportionment per capita increased some $5 per pupil, unless salaries are increased, many schools will have enough money on hand to meet demands, and may not be eligible to receive aid. Increases in salary, it is understood, will be considered sufficient ground for granting rural aid to schools.

Miss Ruby Dekins, who has been visiting with relatives and friends in Coleman, for several weeks, returned home this morning. She was accompanied by her nephew, Troy Phillips.

George W. Ragland of Abernathy and also Miss Ruby Daniels of that place are in a local sanitarium this week.

Miss Ruby Reynolds of Slaton underwent an operation in the Lubbock Sanitarium the latter part of last week.

CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR SPEAKS HERE WEDNESDAY

Ex-Attorney General B. F. Looney of Greenville, Texas, candidate for governor on the Democratic ticket, spoke to a small gathering here Wednesday night in the District Court room. Mr. Looney referred to his past work and the merits of what he had done and asked the support of the people by reason of his broad public experience. He referred to the incidents that happened while he was representative, Senator and attorney General. He said that the man who is elected governor should have the qualifications and the aim to execute the law as it is. He referred to the dope, "candidates running on a business platform," as junk "as evidenced by preceding candidates holding the governor's chair who ran upon a "business man's platform." Mr. Looney added, "that a man should not be elected to this position because he was the alumnus of of some university, a member of some fraternal organization or a member of some particular church, but should be only on the basis of his knowledge of State affairs and the confidence reposed in him by the people that he be governor by a principle, and upon the record they had made in the past.

Mr. Looney also spoke of the dangers of allowing a measure giving the State authority and right to purchase lands for the homeless. "The homeless man has been a problem in every country and no satisfactory solution had been offered," exclaimed Mr. Looney, and continued, " I am opposed to the law giving the State this right, involving an unlimited expenditure of money and an enormous indebtedness. First, because it is socialistic; and because it puts the State in a position of buyer and seller of lands." In solution of the above problem, Mr. Looney said he believed that if a similar course must be done or followed to relieve the home situation that he believed that the State should exempt loans from capitalists or others whose money was lent for home purchasing. He claimed this would give the borrower the benefit of the tax exemption and not the man who loaned his money, as the rate of interest would be low. This plan offered was compared with the present system of the Federal Reserve Banks.

Mr. Looney also advocated some measure offering inducements to cotton and woolen mills. "Our forefathers some fifty years ago followed this plan. They gave sixteen sections of land as a bonus or inducement for the building of one mile of railroad", said Mr. Looney. He suggested that the inducement for these mills to be located in Texas should be a tax exemption or something similar.

FIELD MANAGER OF W. T. C. OF C. MEETS DIRECTORS

J. E. Farrow, field manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, met Monday morning of this week with the directors of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Farrow spoke to the directors of this body for several minutes regarding the work done by this large body. In his talk Mr. Farrow told of how the Washington authorities recognized in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce the strongest organization in the United States. There is only one other similar organization that has a larger membership than the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and that is the United States Chamber of Commerce, an organization fifteen years of age, while the West Texas Chamber of Commerce has been organized only 18 months. In his talk Monday morning Mr. Farrow spoke of the great good that this organization had done for West Texas during the past year. He spoke especially of the transportation service or bureau which is located in Fort Worth. One instance was cited by Mr. Farrows showing the increased regard for the Chamber of Commerce of West Texas that was brought about by the transportation. Weatherford, when asked to become affiliated with the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, said that it was not in West Texas and therefore would not received any direct benefit from this organization. Nevertheless, a membership numbering twelve progressive men of Weatherford was received. Last winter, during the coal strike when people were suffering for want of fuel; gins were being stopped in Weatherford because they could not receive fuel and other vital industries of the town were being handicapped, Weatherford asked the West Texas Chamber of Commerce what could be done. Their bureau in Fort Worth was notified of the Weatherford condition. Several cars of coal that had been confiscated by the Texas and Pacific Railroad was released immediately to the sufferers of Weatherford. Without request, Weatherford sent in a very large membership to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce this year. Only one town and county in West Texas that appealed to this body during this crisis that was not benefitted according to Mr. Farrow, and that was Wellington and Collinsworth county. Several cars of fuel had been turned over to this point at Wichita Falls through the transportation service rendered by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. This coal was never, however, delivered to Collinsworth county because passing through Oklahoma all the coal was taken from the iars by the people, the Governor of that state having issued a proclamation to the effect "that the people follow the law of self-preservation."

Mr. Farrow will spend several days in Lubbock in the interest of this body.

DESTRUCTIVE HAIL IN THE LITTLEFIELD COMMUNITY

L. B. Seaton, manager of the McAdams lumber yard at Littlefield was a business visitor in Lubbock Monday and reported a very destructive hail in the vicinity of Littlefield, ranging to the south and west of that place. Crops were totally destroyed, and many buildings damaged by the large hail stones. The damage will amount upwards of $100,000, according to Mr. Seaton. Much wheat, cotton and corn is in the list of damaged crops.

CLASSIFICATION OF HIGH SCHOOLS GOING FORWARD

Austin, Texas, June 24.—High school classification is going forward in the High School division of the State Department of Education. As soon as information is available, the schools will be notified of their classification. As both length of term and salaries paid teachers determine classification and affect affiliation, all classified and affiliated schools must know what length the term will be and what salaries will be paid next year within a few days. The High School division holds that, effective high school work can not be done where teachers are underpaid.

We call your attention this week to the quarter page ad of the Slaton celebration committee. They are extending a cordial welcome to all of Lubbock people to come and celebrate with them. They will have a program extending over two days, and there is something promised to be doing every minute. A serial ball game between Slaton and Post is one of the features of the celebration.

LUBBOCK WILL ENTERTAIN PANHANDLE BANKERS

It is practically assured, according to local bankers who attended the annual meeting of the Panhandle Bankers' Association in Clovis this week, that Lubbock will be chosen to entertain this body in 1921. While nothing definite was done at Clovis regarding next year's convention place, there was only one other competitor for the convention and that was Memphis. After finding out that Lubbock wished to entertain the bankers, Memphis withdrew her request and that left Lubbock without competition.

"The Clovis people did a fine thing" according to C. A. Burrus, of the Citizens National Bank, in entertaining the bankers. Auto rides were given the visitors, all shows were free and in fact everything was done to make the stay pleasant."

RAISING TAX ON BIG TRACTS; CUT ON SMALL

Amarillo, June 21.—Taxes on small parcels of land and small city property will be lowered 25 to 30 per cent by the Commissioners' Court of Potter county, according to Less Whittaker, tax assessor. The county commissioners are considering raising the valuation on ranch lands from $2 to $3.50 an acre. Renditions for $25,000,000 worth of property have been made, and it is estimated that taxes on only $16,000,000 worth will be needed.

DESTRUCTIVE HAIL IN MANY PLACES THIS WEEK

Last week and this week have brought about great destruction in many portions of the Panhandle and South Plains and other sections of West Texas. Scattered here and there are places where great destruction has been wrought by hail, but even with this condition confronting us there is a much larger territory that has been greatly benefitted by the magnificent rains of the past two weeks. Thousands upon thousands of acres of crops have been practically assured by the precipitation of late days, and there will probably be the biggest crop gathered in this section this fall that was ever known.

Smith Shaw was in from his farm in the Grovesville community last Tuesday and reports everything lovely in that section. Plenty of rain and says crops are looking better than he has ever seen them at this time of the year.

Mrs. Elma Paul of Friona, Texas, arrived here the latter part of last week and will undergo an operation in a local sanitarium before returning, we are informed.

Roscoe Wilson, local attorney, was in Amarillo the first of this week attending to business matters.

BAPTIST REVIVAL MEETING NOW IN FULL SWING

Although the crowds are not as large as should be, the revival meeting of the First Baptist church in this city which is now going on is regarded as a great success. The preaching of Rev. B. W. Vining of Corsicana, is a great spiritual uplift to the hearers. Several conversions have been made and a few additional memberships to the church. It is the opinion now that the meeting will likely close the coming Sunday. Everyone is especially requested to attend the balance of the meeting with the assurance of receiving much good.

ATTORNEY SAYS "CHURCHES MUST BE STRENGTHENED"

It is the belief of Hon. E. L. Klett that the industrial, social and general conditions of the United States must be guarded from the "worldliness and fickleness" of the present times. The present condition is alarming to Mr. Klett, and according to him the burden of solution of this problem is up to the churches. The above assertions were made by Attorney Klett during a conversation regarding the attendance to church services at the present time.

LUBBOCK PEOPLE WILL WATCH SCORE BOARD

Preparations for telephone connection with the Plainview ball ground is being made today. Tomorrow at four o'clock when the game between Lubbock and Plainview is called people of Lubbock will eagerly watch the reports of the games as it is played. Each play will be shown as if actually on the ground.

LUBBOCK WILL HAVE NEGRO AND MEXICAN SCHOOL

Lubbock begins its "Americanization" of the negroes and Mexicans this year by starting each a separate school. The increase in this class of population has been tremendous or more than the total of those who resided here in the past years. As there is money prorated to each scholastic age of such people, there are justifiable to schools. Therefore two teachers have been employed for nine months. The salary of the teacher for the negroes has been set at $75 per month and for the Mexicans, $110. Altogether Lubbock will have 34 teacher employed for the coming school term. All these have been secured and their names will be published in the Avalanche next week.

Mrs. W. H. Wilkison, after undergoing a serious operation in the West Texas Hospital, is rapidly recovering and returned to her home Monday afternoon.

GEO. M. BOLES ELECTED MEMBER FAIR BOARD

Dr. I. E. Barr, who was instrumental in the organization of the Panhandle and Southplains Fair Association of Lubbock, and who was chosen by the stockholders to be a member of the board of directors, recently because of private affairs, tendered his resignation as a member of the board. Arnett, Jr., another well known stockman, will be in chage of the stock exhibit of the fair.

LUBBOCK DEFEATS POST BY SCORE OF 3 TO 1

Many people accompanied the Elks team of this city to Post last Sunday and witnessed what they called a fast game. Only one serious error was recorded against the local team according to the visitors. Bassenger and Karr were Lubbock batteries, and Bassenger did some real pitching in Sunday's game. The score in the final inning was 3 to 1 in the local team's favor.

Lubbock has now won five straight games and the team is gradually working better all along. Friday they will go to Plainview for a game.

LUBBOCK WILL NOT CELEBRATE AT CONVENTION

At a meeting of the board of directors of the local Chamber of Commerce, it was the opinion of these men "that because of financial reasons," Lubbock would not hold a public celebration in connection with the Panhandle Firemen's Association convention to be held here in August. that Lubbock would celebrate at least Reports had been made several times one day during the convention.

The city authorities are first making an effort to collect back taxes to pay for the paving, but if that doesn't work they propose to raise the taxes until they do secure enough money.

The traffic laws of the city are being revised and the lone, hen-pecked man of the administration, the city marshal, has been instructed to see that they are enforced.

Gambling and other high crimes are in disfavor and the way to have political pull in that town is to be a busy and law-abiding citizen, with the good of the town and your neighbor at heart.

Stranger things have happened than that an administration of the public affairs of a town by women should be a success.

In fact, the administration at Jewett seems to have taken hold with a vengeance and we believe that it is quite likely that the result in a general way will prove beneficial to the town.—Amarillo News.

BAPTISTS HAVE ACCEPTED THE CANYON CLUB GROUNDS

Plainview, Texas, June 18.—Baptists of the Panhandle, meeting in annual assembly at Plainview yesterday, accepted the offer of club grounds at Canyon.

The Canyon Country Club and the Canyon Chamber of Commerce offered the assembly 127 acres of land known as the Canyon Club Grounds. Announcement of the plans of the Panhandle Baptists for improving the grounds has not been made, but it is considered probable that a large assembly house and camping facilities will be provided, as was intended when an attempt to get grounds in Palo Duro Canyon for the Panhandle B. Y. P. U. was made some time ago.

Visitors and delegates to the Assembly are holding a picnic and barbecue at Pioneer Park today.

J. Y. Boyd, wife and daughter, of Hillsboro, Texas, are here spending a few days visiting at the home of Senator W. H. Bledsoe. Mr. Boyd is a brother-in-law of the senator.

LOCAL ITEMS OF INTEREST AROUND LORENZO

Lorenzo Enterprise:

Lorenzo and vicinity received a two inch rain Wednesday afternoon late and within fifteen minutes after the hail had commenced water was running in our streets. Reports say that the rain did not extend much more than five miles south in this territory.

The sad death of little Jennie Aline, the seven-weeks-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Ellis, occurred here last Monday night about 10 o'clock, following the brief illness of one day. The little one contracted pneumonia early Monday morning, and while everything within his power was done by the physician to save its life, nothing was of any avail. Funeral services were held at the Estacado burial grounds where interment was made immediately following.

W. E. McLaughlin of Ralls was in our city Wednesday seeing after several cars of lumber he had shipped here for the erection of five modern homes. He is dividing his large tract of land north of here into five good sized farms and is building a fine dwelling on each and otherwise making modern improvements.

Actual work on the new building to be erected by the First State Bank here on the site formerly occupied by J. H. Welch, was begun Tuesday morning, and sufficient labor has been secured to enable completion within the contracted time. The building will be in size 25x100 feet and one story high. The banking room is to be 60 feet long, and a room in the rear 25x30, to be occupied by a mercantile establishment. This building is being erected at an approximate cost of $13,000, not including banking fixtures and equipment. The equipment, etc., has not been purchased as yet, but Mr. Wiese, the cashier, says it is their intention to buy an up-to-date set, such as found in all modern banks. Every devise and arrangement to add to efficiency will be used in order that its customers may enjoy the service of a complete and modern banking system.

Entered at the Postoffice at Lubbock, Texas, for transmission through the mails as second class matter.

After a stormy session of the American Federation of Labor in session at Montreal, the League of Nations was endorsed.

These summer days are a good time to paint up the old house. A coat or two added now may prevent necessity of both boards and paint later.

Thieves, are playing through this section promiscuously these days. At Plainview last week one of the stores was entered and a large amount of merchandise taken. The Loraine Mercantile Company at Loraine was robbed of over a thousand dollars worth of silk goods and made good their escape.

A Chamber of Commerce has been organized at Tahoka and R. B. Haynes has been elected secretary. We note even at this early date after it's organization, more publicity being given the affairs of Tahoka and Lynn county. A live Chamber of Commerce is of unestimable importance to the development of any country and the upbuilding of cities.

The officials down Salton way are tightening down on the gamblers in a manner that is very commendable. They had several boys and men before the city court, so we are informed, last Monday to answer charges of gaming, and are assessing punishment in each and every case where conviction is obtained.

If the farmers keep up the present pace there will be more food for the people this winter. In some parts of the country they are working day and night in shifts, the tractors moving 24 hours a day. But that is only in certain parts of the country. In others the same disposition to work overtime is not manifest.

Lubbock is going to Plainview strong tomorrow to play a matched game of baseball with the Elks team of that city. These teams met here a few weeks ago and played one of the tightest games that has been played, and both teams have been greatlf strengthened since that time, and the game is looked forward to as a hard fought one.

In their craze for publicity people in various parts of the country who "knew Harding when he was a boy" are rushing into print. In a short time the same chestnut stunts will be pulled off over the democratic nominee. Editors publish the stuff, but smile at the vanity of people who take such pride in basking in the fringe of the spotlight of better men.

LINDSEY THEATRE

Friday and Saturday July 2nd-3rd

Between a cruel and powerful Sheik of Arabia and a daring American captain of the famous Black Horse Troop, a deadly feud arose for possession of Sari, the lovely, unveiled Virgin, beggar girl of the Stamboul streets. One she hated and dreaded—the other she almost loved. Then, one fateful day, she entered, unseen, a Turkish mosque, borbidden to women under penalty of death. There she saw a sight that froze the blood in her veins——that changed her in a moment from a care-free girl to a woman. What was the dreadful act Sari saw in the mosque; who committeed it, and why? What became of the Sheik and the American as a consequence of what she saw? Those are tremendous moments in "The Virgin of Stamboul." Don't miss them. Now playing.

WEST TEXAS SHOULD SUPPORT WEST TEXAS MEN

Lubbock voters have had an opportunity to hear three of the candidates for governor speak, either for themselves, or through authorized mouth pieces, and there will no doubt be a scattering of votes when the Democratic primary is held. Bailey will no doubt get a very light vote in this county, while according to what we can learn by listening, and saying nothing, that Neff will likely lead with Thomas next and Looney third place. Neff has not yet spoken, but has a large following, and will no doubt have a good hearing when he appears here as per his scheduled dates in another part of this paper. The Avalanche has no fight to make against either Mr. Looney or Mr. Neff. We believe either would make a capable governor, and Bailey is out of the question with us. We believe that Mr. Thomason should receive the West Texas vote. He is a West Texas man, and if West Texas ever expects to get anything in the way of fair play we must stay by our West Texas candidates, especially when everything else is equal and believing that Mr. Thomason is equally as capable as Mr. Neff or Mr. Looney, we would like to see him receive a strong vote in Lubbock county, and will support him in the coming primary.

Our buyers will leave the first of July for market and anyone wanting any special garments or wearing apparel will please call at the store and give us the necessary information to enable us to take care of your needs. Mission Study Class

The Phillippines. Here is a nation ready to be led to Christ. Since 1916 the Filipinos have been enjoying a large measure of self-government and since that historic day in May, 1898, when Commodore Dewey broke the Spanish fleet and entered Manila Bay and raised the American flag, the Phillipines have grown to political stature.

The Phillipine Islands have made more progress intellectually and economically in the past fifteen years under American rule than in the previous four centuries. The bond uniting them to the United States has been irksome neither to them nor to us. What reason is there then for the agitation for Phillipine independence?

Two very good reasons why we cannot afford to give up the Phillipines are, namely:

"We cannot set them adrift to be gobbled up as Formosa has been gobbled up, as Korea has been gobbled up, as a considerable part of Manchuria has been gobbled up—or, to lapse back into savagery and intensive warfare."

"We can not abandon our new frontiers in the far Pacific." Either of these two reasons are compelling enough to govern our policy toward the Phillipines.

The Democratic party will talk about Filipino independence for the next twenty years, but it will take it out in talk. The Phillipines will remain our easternmost frontier. They need security far more than they need independence. Independence might easily be a fatal gift.

Within three months after Dewey entered Manila Bay, Protestant missionary representatives were on the spot. Now there are about 200 missionaries, including wives, and 1,260 native workers, conscientiously but inadequately covering the field. The general average has been one evangelistic missionary for every 50,000 people.

Historians of the future must not record that America nurtured 10,000,000 of her wards into full citizenship and gave them responsible government, and yet left them in moral and spiritual darkness. They have proven apt pupils, let us not forget, "the letter killeth, but the spirit giveth life."

WE'RE ready for the Glorious Fourth. Are you? Come in and let us give you an Independence Day musical program,—a vivid suggestion of how to make the Fourth a day of finer meaning in your home.

We'll send a New Edison to your home—together with a fine group of patriotic selections.

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

Our Budget Plan will turn your "fireworks" money into a first payment. It will make similar economies provide the balance. It's a systematic thrift idea.

Why throw your money into the air on the Fourth? Isn't it a finer patriotism, a bigger family policy, to spend it on music—good music? What's a Fourth without music?

The thrill in those grand, old airs of the Republic! The exultation! The memories! The ringing pledge!

All these and more—have been given life by the soaring art and the fervid hearts of great artists!

All these and more are RE-CREATED for you by the marvelous realism of the New Edison.

The perfect realism of the New Edison was proved again in an astonishing test made March 10, 1920, at Carnegie Hall, New York City. Anna Case, world-famed soprano, matched her voice directly against its RE-CREATION by the New Edison. During the test, the lights went out. The audience, in the darkness, could not tell whether Anna Case was singing or whether the New Edison was RE-CREATING her voice.

You can experience the New Edison's supreme realism for yourself. Come in and let us give you Mr. Edison's Realism Test.

Extra Width Gives Extra Wear

The tread of a Horse-Shoe 5-inch Cord Tire is four inches wide, considerably wider than that of the average cord tire.

This extra wide tread adds greatly to the anti-skid qualities of the tire and gives longer life by distributing the wear over a larger surface. The unusual design of the edge of the tread overcomes any tendency of the tire to "climb" out of ruts.

You will note that this distinctive Horse-Shoe Tread is almost solid rubber throughout most of its 4-inch width.

Those who have used the Horse-Shoe Cord Tire tell us that a better cord tire has never been built. That is why we take pride in recommending it to you without any reservation whatsoever.

NOTICE

K. Carter, president;
W. S. Posey, treasurer;
R. A. Holland, Secretary;
Lubbock Mutual Aid Association,
Lubbock, Texas, June 25th, 1920.

This is to advise you of the death of Mrs. D. B. Hamilton, formerly of Lubbock, Texas, but recently of Roswell, N. M., holding certificate No. 63, and her husband has been paid the sum of $1,000.00.

Each member is hereby assessed $1.00 with which to pay the next death call, and this amount should be paid to R. A. Holland, secretary, of Lubbock, Texas, on or before July 10th, 1920, or you will stand suspended. If you are in arrears for back calls, include in remittance and be re-instated, otherwise you could not collect in case of death.

Mrs. Hamilton has been a member since 1917. It is not necessary to say that the Association is in fine shape as we are paying the full amount of policy, and while we have had several deaths this year, the insurance is cheap compared with other lines.

We had rather pay the dollar than to have it paid to us.

We would have to pay several deaths each year before paying the full amount of the policy.

Send remittance promptly, as we do not know but the next claim may be yours, so let's be ready to pay it by remitting and having it in the treasury ready to pay.

If you neglect to pay calls promptly and are suspended do not blame the association for we want you to stay with us, but cannot take the risk unless you pay promptly.

CARROLL THOMPSON HELPS FARMERS WITH PESTS

Not so very long ago there was a gentleman living in the Southeast part of Lubbock county who had said "that Lubbock county did not need an agricultural agent, that what they did would not repay the county." The first of June, Carroll Thompson resigned as agent for this county and since that time no one has been sent to succeed him. The same man who said the above about the county agent has recently made three trips to our city seeking the aid of the agent. Every day this month Mr. Thompson has been called by farmers to help them. Worms of various kinds are depradating the young feeds, garden truck, etc. Grasshoppers are doing an unusual share of damage to the fine crops. Mr. Thompson has given his aid to them, has several times gone out to the farms and help mix the solution and show them how it should be handled. Last year it was the same way and June and July were two of the busiest months. Most of the agent's work during these months is to help in saving the crops. Later on work will be needed to help in securing a market and then on through the winter making ready for another crop.

Mr. Thompson is making no charge for the work that he is doing now. However, he states that, although out of the position he could send in a favorable report to the Extension Department of the work done this month. One day this week Mr. Thompson gave to helping vaccinate a bunch of calves. Every day some one seeks the aid of the county agent. Lubbock county cannot afford to be without this necessity, judging from the work done the past few years by Mr. Thompson.

AN IMPORTANT LETTER

SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS.—"In my early married life I became very ill with feminine trouble and no doctoring or medicines gave me any relief until I started to take Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I was down in bed, unable to do my own housework, but it was only a short time before I was feeling stronger and all my pains left me. I took about six bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and can say positively that it cured me of all feminine trouble for I have been in perfect health ever since. I take pleasure in recommending Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription to all women suffering with inward trouble."—MRS. ANNIE F. EDDS, 224 Rogers Street.

MAIN LINE OF SANTA FE SEEMS PROBABLE

It is seldom that the Banner publishes rumors that have no foundation for veracity, and the following, while it be discredited by many, is being seriously considered. It is reported, from reliable sources, that the branch of the Santa Fe, which now runs through Ralls, is soon to be extended, not by way of Spur, but is to take a route that will lead to Roaring Springs, hence, to take such a course, it will be necessary for the line to turn directly at Ralls and go by way of Catfish draw.

It is hardly necessary for us to go into details as to what this will mean to our town, but will say the effect would be far beyond what the most optimistic have dreamed.—Ralls Banner.

Aregular morning operation of the bowels puts you in fine shape for the day's work. If you miss it you feel uncomfortable and cannot put vim into your movements. For all bowel irregularities HERBINE is the remedy. It keeps the system in fine, vigorous condition. Sold by all druggists.

GIVING TIRES THEIR PROPER ATTENTION

Millions of miles are built into tires and are thrown away by neglect, ignorance and abuse. American motorists lead in wasting mileage because they did not learn the lesson of tire conservation as did Canada and the European nations through the stern necessity of the war.

When these countries were short of automobile tires because they were being diverted to war use, motorists soon learned that through proper use and care, tires would deliver between 25 and 50 per cent more mileage. Pneumatics that would have been discarded previous to 1914 ran thousands of miles after they would have ordinarily been replaced—and the eyes of car owners were opened to the mileage possibilities hitherto unrealized.

As you go along any street you will see wheels out of alignment. This is caused in many cases by side pressure in running against curbs. It takes only from 100 to 200 miles of running on a poorly aligned wheel to wear off the tread. Close watch should be kept for wobbly wheels, and the defect should be corrected quickly if full mileage is desired.

Undoubtedly the commonest abuse is underinflation and overloading. Motorists should provide themselves with air gauges to test air pressure frequently. When inflation drops 20 per cent below that advised by manufacturers, the tires should be pumped up. If extra equipment makes the load greater than that figured on by the maker, over-size tires should be used for over-loading will produce fabric breaks the same as will underinflation.

Tread cuts are experienced by every motorist. It is impossible to avoid sharp stones or rutty roads, but if the cut goes through the tread to the fabric, it should have immediate attention. The fabric must be absolutely dry in order to build the tire properly and if the tire with tread cut is run on a rainy day, water works into the layers and completely ruins the rotting fabric. If small cuts are thoroughly washed with gasoline, coated with cement and tire putty worked into them after a thorough drying, good results will be obtained. If the cut is large it should be vulcanized.

When an under-inflated tire strikes a sharp stone the rubber gives, but the fabric does not.

Perhaps several or all of the plies are punctured. It may not blow out immediately but possibly later while running on a smooth road or even standing in the garage.

To cope with trouble on the road, outside protection and rim-cut patches should be carried as part of the equipment. One doesn't buy life insurance with the idea of dying or patching equipment with the idea of having tire trouble, but it gives a feeling of security and is mighty handy when trouble comes on the road.

As important as the casing, the tube should be given much attention. When putting in a new tube, a little talc should be used so that it will not chafe and stick to the casing when heat is generated by hot pavements or long running. Cementless patches are used for emergency tube repairs and should be a part of the equipment. In case of puncture, the rubber near the point of penetration should be buffed with sandpaper, the spot cleansed with gasoline and the patch held firmly over the puncture for several minutes.

Valve insides are more important than the average motorist realizes. If the air pressure drops because of defective valve cores, these will end in trouble.

A common way of abusing tires is the use of improper chains. They should not be used unless absolutely necessary, then care should be used to see that th-y are large enough, that they are loose enough to allow te links to creep and not dig into and wear the tire. They should always be put on the same way for after use they get flat on one side and develop sharp points.

Improper storage will give more trouble than can be imagined. If the car is placed where there is oil on the floor, the effect on rubber is very deteriorating. If tires are placed against hot steam pipes, the place of contact will be over-vulcanized and cause trouble later.

Driving in or "riding street car tracks may be a better method of traveling roads when the pavement is rough, but it plays havoc with tires. In this way the tread is worn out in one spot and the entire load is thrown on this small portion of the tire, tending to pull the tread loose.

There are so many abuses that are unavoidable such as sudden stops and rutty roads that tires get severe punishment without subjecting them to those that can be prevented. If preventable abuses are avoided and care taken in the ways mentioned, the wonderful mileage built into tires will be delivered to the greater satisfaction of the car owner.—Buick Bulletin.

TIRES

Will Win For You

"Here is a tire you can trust—a better tire than any other manufacturer has ever built," Barney Oldfield told Gaston Chevrolet before the Indianapolis 500-mile race.

Gaston Chevrolet trusted Barney Oldfield.

So he chose Oldfield Tires, and became the first driver in history to win this, the world's greatest race without a tire change.

In his 500-mile flight over the rough bricks at 88.55 miles an hour, Gaston Chevrolet's tires resisted a degree of wear fully equal to that of 20,000 miles of ofdinary running. Yet they finished in condition for many more miles of cruel competition.

A man whom his friends really trust, deserves your faith too.

Trust Barney Oldfield!

Trust Oldfield Tires to banish tire troubles for you as they did for Gaston Chevrolet.

Cord and fabric in all sizes and for all cars—the tires you need are here and ready.

TATUM SELLS INTEREST IN SANITARY CREAMERY

E. F. Tatum, who has been manager of the Lubbock Sanitary Creamery for the past two years, recently sold to S. E. Hosehouser of Snyder, Oklahoma, his one-half interest. L. G. Sowell, who has been in partnership with Mr. Tatum, retains his interest. Mr. Hosehouser is a brother-in-law of Mr. Sowell and has recently moved his family to Lubbock to make their home.

Under the management of Messrs. Tatum and Sowell the Lubbock Sanitary Creamery has grown until it is one of the big business enterprises of the city. Their company is known for its wonderful products and because of the unexcelled quality of the cream made by this company. They ship hundreds of gallons to numerous South Plains towns. The Lubbock Sanitary Creamery has this year installed many new and expensive pieces of machinery and is probably now the most up-to-date ice cream manufacturing concern in West Texas.

Mr. Tatum tells us that he will remain in Lubbock and probably enter into some other kind of business.

Miss Ethel Hale of Phoenix, Arizona, who has been here for a few weeks the guest of Mrs. Louie Moore, accompanied Miss Francis Burton, formerly with the Lubbock State Bank, to Atlanta, Georgia, where they will remain throughout the summer.

SECOND SECTION

THE LUBBOCK AVALANCHE

VOLUME XX | LUBBOCK, LUBBOCK COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, JUNE 24, 1920 | NUMBER 52

First of All--- "Quality"

Time was that business used to be
A contest among men to see
Which one could reap the dollars,
And he was first who made the boast
That he was profiting the most
From hats and shirts and collars.

Then men thought only of themselves
And goods stacked high upon their shelves.
And did the cash keep coming.
The customer got little thought
Beyond the bill of goods he bought,
So long as trade was humming.

Today in business he succeeds,
who serves the best his fellow's needs,
And is not mad for dollars.
Whose vision is a broader thing
Than just the profits trade may bring
From hats and shirts and collars.

Now men have found that profit lies
In not being always "penny wise."
That trade is public serving;
And he eventually wins most
Who can in honor make the boast
That he is most deserving.

To sell a tawdry thing and make
A handsome profit's a mistake;
It took men years to learn it,
A profit now is deemed a loss.
That gold can't cover up and gloss;
Unless you truly earn it.
—Edgar A. Guest, in "Zincopper Topics."

LORENZO BEING FORMED INTO INDEPENDENT DISTRICT

The recent scholastic census of Lorenzo, a common school district of Crosby county, gives the school of that place 240 pupils. This number of student ages demands at least six teachers, according to the Board of Trustees of the Lorenzo school. Being a common school district the past year the Lorenzo school suffered for teachers and finances. The trustees realizing that something should be done and quick, secured the services of Senator W. H. Bledsoe of this city. Senator Bledsoe presented the matter or rather caused it to be presented at the recently adjourned legislature and now Lorenzo is an independent school district.

The Board of trustees of the Lorenzo school, composed of L. J. Mathis, L. B. Day and G. J. Catching, accompanied by the principal of the Lorenzo school, J. G. Leverett, were in Lubbock again Monday morning of this week in consultation with Senator Bledsoe for the purpose of determining upon the proper course to pursue to care for a special election of their independent school district for the purpose of voting whether or not bonds be issued against the independent school district to the amount of $50,000 for the purpose of erecting suitable school building facilities. This fund will be used particularly for the purpose of erecting a two-story brick building. In this election which will probably be held in a short time, there will likely be an opportunity offered to the citizens of Lorenzo to say the amount of tax that will be collected to properly finance the school. It is the opinion of the board of trustees that the maximum amount will be assessed.

The new building which all think is practically assured, will be rushed to completion as soon as possible and will likely be used part of the coming school year.

OFFICERS FEE BILL FAILS OF PASSAGE

Austin, June 18.—The third called session of the thirty-third legislature adjourned sine die today after having recessed for thirty days.

Officers fee bill which proposed an increase of approximately 50 per cent in fees, was defeated in the house on a point of order that there was no quorum present, there being only 25 members on hand. The object to the bill as contained in the report of the conference committee was the elimination by the conferees of a provision contained in the original house bill that all fees in excess of the actual cost for feeding prisoners shall be returned as excess.

Both branches adopted the free conference committee's report on the emergency educational appropriation bill after eliminating an item of $175,000 for the construction of a dormitory at the college of Industrial Arts and $12,000 for increased salaries in the state department of education.

As adopted the bill carries $1,071,654.

The Finance Committee of the Missionary Society will meet next Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock with Mrs. F. M. Maddox. Every member is urged to be present.

McADOO WILL REFUSE TO BE A CANDIDATE

New York, June 18.—William G. MrAdoo in a telegram to Jouett Shouse of cashington, made public here today announced that he cannot permit his name to come before the democratic convention and adds that "this decision is irrevocable as the path of dut cto me seems clear and unmistakable."

Mr. McAdoo declared he must have a responsible opportunity to rehabilitate his family and having been out of office less than 18 months, he has not yet been able to accomplish this. A presidential campaign, Mr. McAdoo explained, imposes upon the candidate unavoidable expense which he said he was unable to assume and which he did not want his friends to assume.

Mr. McAdoo in his telegram, expressed the opinion that the republican convention and platform assure a democratic victory if the latter party adopts "a straightforward, unequivocal, unevasive, earnest and liberal platform and puts forward candidates who will command public confidence."

Washington, June 18.The refusal of Wm. G. McAdoo to allow his name to be presented to the San Francisco convention will result in the waging of an active fight for the namination of Senator Carter Glass of Virginia, declared Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Shouse tonight.

ALMOST A CLOUDBURST AT TEXLINE SATURDAY

The Southwest Plainsman says Amarillo is in need of a cemetery, not that the city is dead—no, far from that, but for the reason that the cemetery that Amarillo uses is located in Randall county, and is too small now for the city of Amarillo's use, since it has grown to be a real city.

DORT

Quality Goes Clear Through

It is generally acknowledged among keen students of conditions that the American public has become surprisingly motor-wise. Our own observations corroborate and confirm this.

Were it otherwise we would be somewhat at a loss to account for the noticeable national tendency to single out the Dort as an especially desirable car to own.

It would seem that so pronounced a preference as that which the Dort has won would be possible only among buyers possessed of pretty precise information upon motor car values.

Regardless of the reason, however, the fact remains that the name Dort has come to stand in the eyes of buyers as a car of measurably greater excellence than common.

RED CROSS SERVICE.

The annual Red Cross drive for members this year will begin Armistice Day, November 11th, and close Thanksgiving Day, November 25th, according to advice recently received by members of the Lubbock Chapter of the Red Cross from the St. Louis Headquarters of the Southwestern division. The campaign will be known as the "Fourth Red Cross Roll Call."

Red Cross officials at national headquarters in Washington have announced that, as a result of the roll call last Fall, the American Red Cross now has 10,000,000 members with returns still coming in. This is more than 20 times the pre-war membership and, of course, does not take into account the 14,000,000 school children members of the Junior Red Cross.

In determining the date of annual enrollment of members, explanation was made on the decision of the Red Cross to make each "Armistice Day" the occasion for renewing popular allegiance to the organization through dollar annual memberships. Thus the Fourth Roll Call will have for its primary purpose the obtaining of as nearly a universal membership as is possible, in order to properly and efficiently carry out its peace-time program and responsibilities.

These obligations include continuance of measures in behalf of America's war veterans, particularly the disabled; service for the peace-time army and navy; development of stronger national resistance to disease through health centers, increase of the country's nursing resources and Red Cross co-operation with official health agencies; continued preparedness for disaster relief; home service and community work; and completion of relief among the war-exhausted and disease-ridden peoples overseas.

ATTENTION EX-SERVICE MEN

Former service men are notified by Director R. G. Cholmeley-Jones of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance that a new official circular of information listed as LD-9 and entitled, "New and Liberal Features of War Risk Insurance," is now being issued.

The text of this bulletin is based upon the latest amendment to the War Risk Act which permits payments in one sum on converted insurance in case of death, and enlarged the permitted class of beneficiaries in the case of both War Risk (Term) and converted insurance.

The circular is printed in booklet form, illustrated bc charts, and has an index by the use of which any ordinary question about government insurance may be readily answered. A copy of the booklet may be obtained by writing to the Bureau of War Risk Insurance, Washington, D. C., or upon application to organizations of former service men and welfare organizations co-operating with the Bureau of War Risk Insurance.

Former service men whose insurance has lapsed or been canceled, and who wish to reinstate it or convert it, or to effect both of these processes at the same time, are advised to secure a copy of the official form described as "LD-8," "Good News for all Ex-Service Men," which is a combination of information sheet and reinstatement and conversion blank, the latter to be filled out, detached and mailed directly to the Bureau.

Regardless of how long a service man has been discharged or how long his insurance has lapsed or been cancelled, he may reinstate his War Risk Insurance at any time before July 1, 1920, or within eighteen months after his discharge, if that be a later date, and upon payment of only 2 monthly premiums on the amount he desires to reinstate, with a satisfactory statement of health.

A bulletin "New Provisions For Compensation and Medical and Surgical Care and Supplies under the War Risk Act," officially listed at "LD-36" is also announced by the Director of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance and is now ready for distribution. This circular is addressed to former service men and may be obtained by writing directly to the Bureau of War Risk Insurance, and contains the warning that a certificate of injury must be obtained from the Bureau within one year from date of discharge or resignation in order to preserve eligibility and substantiate claims for compensation on the part of anyone who sustained injury or contracted disease while in the service.

To quote the bulletin: "No compensation is payable unless the disability or death can be traced to an injury or disease incurred during actual service.

"Many persons, however, have received injuries or contracted disease in the service and the ill effects thereof do not appear until some time after their discharge or resignation. If the disability resulting from the injury or disease contracted in the service does not occur before one year after discharge or resignation you may be unable to obtain compensation, for the law provides that when such disability or death occurs as shown by the medical evidence after one year succeeding or following your discharge, a certificate of injury must have been obtained from the Director of the Bureau, within one year from the date of such discharge in order that the Government may pay you or your dependents. You must ACT NOW.

"Do not fail to get this certificate if you sustained injury or disease in the service chich, even though it may not bother you now, may become acute or aggravated later. Apply to the nearest District Supervisor of the Public Health Service, or write to the Chief Medical Advisor, Bureau of War Risk Insurance, Washington, D. C., giving your full name, serial number, organization and rank at time of discharge or resignation."

The Compensation and Insurance Claims Division of the Bureau has approved 147,081 claims for compensation on account of disability through service, and is now making payments thereon each month to the extent of $4,488,058.31.

That's exactly what a good barn is. It keeps the cattle in good condition, thus saving waste from loss in weight, and death due to exposure. Besides, it takes less feed to give more weight when cattle are properly sheltered.

Invest in a good barn. Don't rush in and build it "just any old way," for you will surely regret it. Plan for the future. Build so you can enlarge or add to your buildings as you need more room.

Whenever you are in town, come in and we will be glad to talk over different barn plans. Or, we will come out and see you, if you wish.

THE LITTLE THINGS OF LIFE

Reader, if you were asked to name the most popular man in town, whom would you designate?

Perhaps you think, on the spur of the moment, you would indicate some lawyer, or some favorite minister, or perhaps some old family doctor, or any one of a dozen or more notable personages in the community.

But on second thought you are not so sure, and after mature reflection you are ready to discard them all.

Then you begin to cast about among the less notable ones. Now you are "getting warmer," as the children say.

Now you have located him, and you are surprised, because he is never associated in your mind with the great, or even the near great, nevertheless, as you study him, his popularity and the reasons therefor are brought forcibly to your attention.

In the first place you study him as he comes down town in the morning. His progress is slow, as he seems to be stopped by every person he meets. And he has a warm handshake and a "good morning" for all. You follow him to his place of business and see him radiating the same sunshine and cheerful greeting, and you find he is known to every employe on the place as "Uncle."

Watch him, if he is a merchant, as the store begins to fill with customers. Each receives the same cordial welcome. To the ladies he is especially courteous, and you are surprised to see that courtesy unshaken even when confronted by one whom you by no stretch of imagination could term a lady. He sees your surprise and—"for the sake of the sex," he smiles.

Now watch him as he starts for home toward nightfall. School is out and the children are on the streets. Here he must stop to shoot a marble with a crowd of urchins, and they hail his coming with shouts of glee. Another must persuade him to have a try at his top. On account of his avordupoise he has to draw the line at the hoop which another offers him, but he starts it off for the youngsters to pursue.

A little further on he is accosted by a bevy of small girls, who are in their element as they swarm around him, clamoring for a story, teasing him to jump the rope, or even rifling his pockets for suspected sweets.

You see him as he reaches his home when the good wife meets him at the gate. She has a sad tale for his ear. Sorrow has entered a neighbor's home. At once he is all sympathy, and without waiting to enter his own door, he passes on to the house of sorrow. Perhaps he can offer naught but sympathy, but this comes so plainly from the heart and is accompanied by such a warm clasp of the hand, that it carries its blessed message of comfort and sympathy.

Now you are beginning to appreciate the true reason of his popularity. He is a man of innumerable small deeds of kindness, but those deeds are such as touch the heartstrings of the people about him. He, himself, has never aspired to great things, being content to occupy himself with the small affairs of life, knowing full well, wise man that he is, that of such is human life composed. He would smile with incredulity were you to hint to him of his great popularity, because he is essentially one of the humble ones of earth.

And his great popularity—whence comes it?

In his heart he has caught and held the echo of a voice of the far off past—"and the second is like unto this: thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."—Selected

THE DIVORCE EVIL

Judge W. S. Anderson, of the 37th Judicial District of Bexar county, Texas, has granted 7000 divorces during the last seven years, an average of 1000 a year. In speaking of this record recently Judge Anderson gave some interesting statistics and opinions on the subject.

He says: "There is no State in the Union as easy to obtain a divorce in as Texas. The law here does not require that the plaintiff shall be corroborated in his or her testimony in order to procure a divorce and the court can make no order compelling the husband and father to support his children except during the time that the suit is pending. * * Two-thirds of all the divorces granted are to persons under thirty years of age and nine-tenths of them have the idea of remarriage in their minds when they apply for divorce." Discussing the causes of divorce he says that in many cases the causes of estrangement can be traced back to the fact that the wife worked in the business world. This is not always true," he says, "but in most cases when the woman becomes independent and goes outside the home every day they both become interested in other people and are soon wholly uncongenial Few divorces ever occur where the wife stays at home strictly attending to the duties of home and motherhood and the couple who live as they should where the husband goes home at night and finds his wife there waiting for him, never appear in the court room."

The divorce history we are making these days is such as to make the people of this country feel very uncomfortable. That our divorce laws should be radically amended no thoughtful student will deny, and yet the remedy to be effective must go beyond the enactment of more stringent divorce laws. Laws and rules governing marriages must be carefully thought out and worked out, but even then it will be found that laws will not cure the evil. The whole social organization must be worked over and a new emphasis put upon the sacredness of the marriage relation. Marriages are frequently too hasty and too easily consummated. Men and women quite naturally argue that if they prove unsatisfactory their annulment will not be difficult. Too many schemes for the entertainment of men and women outside their own homes have been devised. These are supposed to be cultural, but their cultural value is often outweighed by the damage they do the home life. If people stayed at home more they might have less polish, but they would be more decent. In these modern days it is a rare thing for the father and mother and children to spend their evenings at home, shut in from the influences all about them that distract and disrupt, in the sweet fellowship that is typical of the social life of the upper country.

Children who have been deprived of such a life have been bequeathed a lifelong poverty that no material success can counter-balance.—Texas Christian Advocate.

PLANS FOR WEST TEXAS HOSPITAL SUBMITTED

Local architects who have been working in connection with architects of large cities on the plans for the construction of the $100,000 building to be the home of the West Texas Hospital met with the directors of this institution last night and submitted their plans to them. Great care will be taken by the directors they say, in completing the plans fully before accepting, however, it is their intentions to rush the construction of the building.

CATTLE, HOGS AND SHEEP STEADY TO LOWER

Kansas City Stock Yards, June 21.—Though cattle receipts today were liberal, trade was active, and prices for the best were fully steady with others, showing a moderate decline. Prime 1408 pound Kansas steers sold up to $16.75, yearlings $16.25 and long yearlings $16.65. Hog prices were steady to 10 cents lower, top $15.30. Sheep and lambs were 25 cents lower and in the lowest position of the year. Top lambs $15.00.

Today's Receipts

Receipts today were 15,000 cattle, 10,000 hogs and 9,000 sheep, compared with 14,000 cattle, 8,000 hogs and 4,000 sheep a week ago, and 15,100 cattle, 8,500 hogs and 6,300 sheep a year ago.

Beef Cattle

Killers traded freely in all good to choice corn fat and best grass fat steers offered today at steady prices. Two bunches of steers sold up to $16.75. Some long yearlings brought $16.65 and other fed steers sold at $15.25 to $16.50. Yearling steers and heifers mixed sold up to $16.25. Some wintered Kansas steers sold at $14.50 to $15.00 and most of the straight grassers sold at $11.00 to $12.50. They were quoted weak to 25 cents lower. The best cows and heifers were steady and common to medium kinds were 15 to 25 cents lower. Veal calves were steady for the best and 50 cents lower for the others.

Stockers and Feeders

Liberal supplies of stock and feeding cattle were offered and demand, though larger than a week ago, was not sufficient to keep prices steady. Most sales were 15 to 25 cents lower. A large number of common stockers are selling at $7.00 to $8.00, and better grades $8.50 to $9.50. Feeders are selling up to $12.50.

Hogs

Trade in hogs was active today at steady to 10 cents lower prices. A 15 to 25 cent decline in Chicago caused the moderate decline here. The top price was $15.30 or 5 cents higher than the top price last week and the bulk of the hogs $14.75 to $15.15 was steady to 10 cents lower. Pigs were strong to 25 cents higher at $13.00 to $14.50.

Sheep and Lambs

Most of the offerings in the sheep division were quoted weak to 25 cents lower. The best lambs sold at $14.50 to $15.00 and ewes $7.00 to $7.25. Fat ewes are back to the low level of last summer and receipts are fairly liberal. Demand for thin lambs is limited and a good many are offered. Good to choice breeding ewes are rather scarce.

Horses and Mules

Trade in horses and mules started this week in about the same position as last week. Good grades are meeting a fair demand but common kinds are slow sales.

FIRST LDBBOCK WHEAT SELLS FOR $2.50 PER BUSHEL

The first car of wheat raised in Lubbock county this year was bought this week by H. A. Davidson's Feed Store of this city. B. E. Needles of Shallowater was the owner and received a price of $2.50 per bushel. Mr. Needles has about one hundred and sixty acres of wheat and the yield has been estimated between twelve and fifteen bushels per acre. Threshing of wheat has not started in this section yet, however, deliveries will be started in July.

More wheat was planted this year in the Shallowater community than any previous year and all reports from the planters are that it is making a good yield. By threshing this crop early the farmers will have ample time, it is thought, to raise a good crop of Sudan or some other quickly matured crop. There are a few acres of wheat planted in various sections of the county, while the biggest percentage of crops this year will be cotton, corn, Sudan and maize.

The "Hoosier Beauty" Solves the Servant Question

There are just two classes of people who need the "Hoosier Beauty"—those who have servants—and those who have not.

Those who have servants will find it easier to KEEP HELP, once the Hoosier is installed in the kitchen.

Those who have no servants will find that the Hoosier shortens steps and lightens work—tremendously. It is truly the silent servant with a hundred hands.

The panel above shows just one detail of Hoosier construction that costs us thousands of added dollars a year. Note the generous-sized hinges that flange firmly to the front. Note too that the front, which is in a single piece, is screwed solidly to the framework. This makes the Hoosier a lifetime investment.

SENATOR BLEDSOE PRAISES HOBBY'S ACTION

Senator W. H. Bledsoe of this city, who returned the latter part of last week from Austin, the man who introduced the resolution appropriating $100,000 to care for the expense of sending the militia to Galveston, praises the action taken by Governor Hobby. According to evidence at hand Mr. Bledsoe stated that it was the Panhandle farmers who were suffering from the Galveston strike. Many cars of twine, used for wheat and other small grain harvesting had been tied up in Galveston for months. Directly after putting the city under martial law the cars began moving. When Senator Bledsoe entered the resolution appropriating $100,000 to send militia to Galveston he was asked by a Federation member, "Why, I thought you were for us?" Senator Bledsoe replied by saying to the effect that he was when he thought the laborers were right, but did not consider they were right in that case. Senator Bledsoe praises Hobby as a Governor.

Will Ward left Thursday morning for Lubbock, where he will render valuable assistance to that city as pitcher in a number of base ball games with Slaton. Will is an excellent pitcher, and is cool and collected under all conditions, and these are the many reasons for his services being so much in demand. We know he will make good with the Lubbock team.—Tulia Herald.

GENERAL COMMITTEE OF CONVENTION MEETS

The general committee for the entertainment of the Panhandle Firemen's Association to be held here in August, met last Friday night for the first time. This committee is composed of the several committees. The purpose of the meeting was to arrive at a definite amount of badges and other equipment to be used by the visitors and participants. After some discussion it was decided that a metal badge bearing an impression of "The Hub of the Plains" signified by several sopkes, five of which represented the railroad facilities of Lubbock. Attached to this metal badge will be a ribbon upon which there will be stamped, "Tenth Annual Convention Panhandle Firemen's Association, Lubbock, Texas." Other emblems were decided upon and the committee looking after the purchase of flags and other decorations were requested to secure prices from several wholesalers and report at another meeting of the general committee.

Discussion was also made about the celebration in connection with the Firemen's Convention. Lubbock not celebrating the 4th of July it was thought probable by the general committee that one of the days be set aside for this event could be designated as a celebration for all the people and this way not interefere with the program of the convention. However, before going further with the work this matter will be taken up with the Chamber of Commerce's Directors and in case a celebration is decided upon by the Directors, the general committee of the convention will necessarily be aided by a committee representing the Chamber of Commerce. It was thought advisable that this matter be taken up with the directors before solicitation of funds for the convention is started.

Discussion of how to create much interest in the convention was made and it was decided upon that the publicity committee send out bulletins regularly to the various departments notifying them of the plans for their entertainment and the amount of prizes that would be awarded to the winners. A personal letter to all chiefs has been forwarded.

GRAVE COAL SHORTAGE FORESEEN BY AUTHORITIES

Washington, D. C., June 18.—A coal shortage next winter, which may curtail production of iron and steel and seriously effect other industries, is foreseen by the federal reserve board in its review tonight of business, industrial and financial conditions for May. The situation is acute in some districts, according to the board, and production in many lines is being held down.

Production Curtailed

Production of coal is being curtailed, chiefly as a result of car shortage, the reserve board reports. It estimated the car supply at mines in the east at only 30 per cent of normal. Labor difficulties, while complicating the situation are considered by the board as only a minor cause of reduced coal production.

In the southwest according to the review, many mines are operating at only two-thirds capacity. Coal shipments to other countries are reported as light.

Freight Congestion Blamed

Commenting on the far reaching effect of the car shortage and freight congestion, the board states that reports of its agents indicate that the transportation tie-up is largely the result of the railroad strike, which still continues over a large section of the country." The congestion is further accentuated, according to the board, by local strikes of other groups of transport workers. Sporadic strikes in the manufacturing industries, notably textiles, have continued to indicate unrest, the report says.

Farm Labor Shortage

An acute shortage of labor on farms is reported.

Little hope for a reduction in prices is held out by the board, though it is suggested that recent change in prices may further the basis for a more far reaching alteration in the essential price structure.

The outlook, the boad says, has been such as to cause a severe curtailment in the volume of stock and securities transactions.

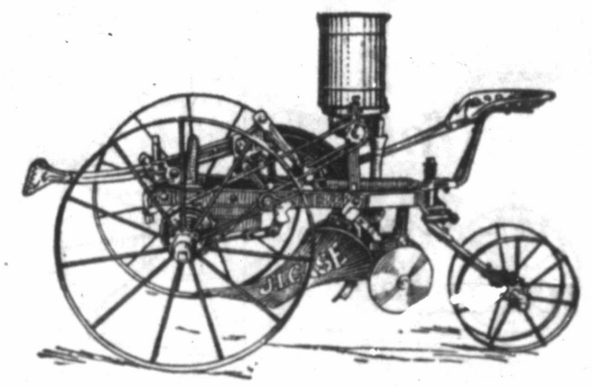

MERCHANT HAD INSURANCE WITH WESTERN COMMUNITY

One of the best insurance policies to be had is the fact that you are a resident of the Southplains and West Texas, according to A. P. Moore, pioneer merchant of Gomez, who lost his entire stock and building in a fire several days ago. Mr. Moore has been in the mercantile business in that section for about 15 years and had at all times helped in the pushing forward of every worthy enterprise. Because he had in earlier times lost money by carrying policies with companies who later went broke and being unable to get insurance on his property through an old line company, he had neglected having any insurance. Thus he lost practically everything he had, all means of making a livlihood for his large family, in the recent burn. But he had insurance, had kept his premiums paid by giving his long list of customers good service and extending to them all the courtesies possible through trying years. The first part of last week his friends and former customers of the Gomez country decided to pay off, and today work will be completed on a nice two story building, 26 feet in width and 50 in length ready for Moore to occupy Monday. Mr. Moore was here today and through the courtesies of the wholesalers of Lubbock, men who had known him to be honest and upright, purchased a nice stock of goods which will be sent by truck to Gomez and again he will be in business in a newer and better home. 24 men volunteered their work on the building.

I. Heidenheimer, David Lowenburger and L. Strassberger were indicted late Thursday by the federal grand jury of charges of sugar profiteering. Lowenberger and Strassberger made five hundred dollar bonds. Heidenheimer is in Europe.

PUBLIC OPINION

What become of our big men in politics?

Echo answers, with a few exceptions, "Gone where the woodbine twineth."

It is not the brain power of a Calhoun or Webster that makes a big man.

If Washington had depended alone on his brain power he would not have lived in history as a big man. As a statesman his brain power was not that of a Calhoun or Webster cast, but the fact that he always stood firm for what he thought was right and best for government and people regardless of self, made him a big man.

Always when a new political issue comes before the people for action, a big man will lay aside self, investigate pro and con, and then stand for what he thinks is right as to the issue, even if he has to stand alone, while a little man—a mere politician —will wait for developments, and if the issue proves to be popular, he then elbows to the front, and tells the dear people how great the issue is.

After an issue has been thoroughly canvassed and developed and a big man finds he was wrong, he publicly admits the fact and gives his reasons why he has changed his opinion.

A little man never has this burden, he waits for the thing to get going good before he spouts.

At one time the slanders against Washington were so vile and brutal that it caused the tears to flow, and he said while sitting with his Cabinet, "I wish I was dead."

President Wilson, by vile political pressure has near about been robbed of his life, yet he stands firm for what he thinks is right and best for government, and people. He is an A-1 big man.

At one time when Clay was about to offer a compromise bill on the tariff issue, he was threatened by friends that if he did so, he would never be president. His answer was, "I had rather be right than president." Clay lived in history as a big man. A big brain man may be a little man, while a mediumed brain may be a big man.

If a big man finds that he is wrong on an issue, he admits the fact, and then gets right.

In Webster's great Constitutional speech, delivered to the senate, the main point in his argument was that the constitution was not a compact between the states a short time afterward, knowing what he was going to say would blot out all hopes of the presidential office. He admitted publicly that he had been wrong, that the constitution was a compact between the States. Webster lives in history as a big man.

Today all kinds of issues are afloat, and seem to be popular. Some of these issues strike—hard—at the fundamental principles upon which our government was founded. The man in office or one who seeks office that feels his way, will never live in history as a big man, no matter how brainy.

"Returns to Plains After Fifty Years' Absence---What a Change!"

From Amarillo News

With a violin made 100 years ago in Shenandoah Valley, Va., tucked under his arm, and a picture of the Panhandle as it was 50 years ago in his mind, Elisha Philip Moore arrived in Amarillo from Marshal, Mo., last week. Mr. Moore is a brother of Mrs. W. B. Benton, who lives three miles east of the city, and while a guest at his sister's home, he is endeavoring to renew acquaintance with the Texas Panhandle.

The mental picture of the country carried for half a century by Elisha M. Moore, does not fit the country now. On the occasion of his first visit, he was 20 years old. Now, he is 70. Disappointment is natural. The westward march of progress has spoiled the Panhandle that lived in the memory of Elisha Moore for half a hundred years. More than ever to him the frontier days of the west are as a dream.

First Here as a Surveyor

It was a member of a surveying party that Elisha Moore took his first glimpse of Texas' northern plains. The crew that he accompanied did surveying for the state in the Panhandle section in 1871. In the party with him were John Fellows and Wesley Bogard, from his home town, Mrashal, Mo. Three others from Kansas made up the crew. They started at a point on the Texas-Oklahoma boundary and ran section lines south across the Panhandle. Fifty years, Elisha Moore finds, has wrought such bewiledring changes, that he is unable to locate the lines he helped to run or point out the spot where his career as surveyor ended.

When Elisha Moore was last here, there were no railroads, highways, wagon roads, or bridges. There were no plowed lands nor fields of ripening grain, no cities, villages or towns. There were no telegraph poles, no oil derricks, no flying machines, no fences and no automobiles darting to and fro across the country. When Elisha Moore and party were here they traveled by team. Beneath their wagon was swung a boat. By means of that crude craft, streams were forded.

For subsistence, they were thrown upon their own resources. Supplies were hauled all the way from Oklahoma or New Mexico. Provisions were procured from Indians or any one they chanced to come upon with food to sell or trade. Buffalo ranged the plains but there were no stock pens nor corrals to put the animals within their reach, and the wily herds kept at a safe distance.

Life One of Hardships

Life on the Plains was one of hardships, measured by the present day mode of living, but it was the life Elisha Moore and all early day pioneers would live over again if they had their choosing. It is only when far out on the plains, away from the noise of trains and out of sight of church spires and telephone poles, that the country after fifty yeads bears any semblance to the Panhandle Elisha Moore knew.

The Dallas country was as disappointing to Elisha Moore as the Panhandle. "Dallas, when I was here did not have one-tenth of the population that Amarillo now has," says the venerable visitor. All Dallas was hauling water by wagon from Browder Springs that are now in the heart of the city when he knew the place, he said, and the one railroad station the city had, was provided with a platform for a depot. That platform as Elisha Moore remembers it, was 200 yards long and piled 8 to 10 feet high with buffalo hides. Many of these hides came from the Panhandle Plains. Carcasses of animals for their hides, were common on the plains when he was here.

Elisha Moore comes from a family of mechanics. The century-old violin he carries was made by Philip Moore, a great uncle. Philip Solomon Moore, an uncle, was the inventor of the first flying shuttle known to all familiar with the early day loom.

CLEVELAND SIX

"Handsome is as Handsome Does"

An old adage as true today as in all the yesterdays.

No car offers cleaner lines, more truly dignified gracefulness or deeper lustre of finish than does the Cleveland Six. But these qualities would be but a surface, were it not for what is beneath them.

The exclusive Cleveland motor, the most highly developed of the powerful over-head type, gives a character of performance in flexibility of power and speed, and in dependability and endurance, that surpasses other light cars.

The sturdiness of its chassis construction, the ease of its control, the soft cushioning of its low underslung spring construction, the certainty of its brakes,—all these qualities add to the comfort and safety of its performance on any kind of roadway, on the steepest hills and in crowded traffic.

Take a Real Ride in the Cleveland, and You will know What a Good Car it is.

The Strength-Creating Power of GROVE'S TASTELESS Chill TONIC has made it the favorite tonic in thousands of homes. More than thirty-five years ago, folks would ride a long distance to get GROVE'S TASTELESS Chill TONIC when a member of their family had Malaria or needed a body-building, strength-giving tonic. The formula is just the same today, and you can get it from any drug store. 60c per bottle.

THE WEST IS SETTLING UP RAPIDLY NOW

West Texas is fast settling up. This is attested by the establishment of a great number of new postoffices throughout this section. Two new ones were granted last week in the Panhandle section: Nailton, Lipscomb county, fith Alva L. Clark as postmaster; Wawaka, Ochiltree county, with Lilly L. Black as postmaster. Application has been in to the department for some time for the establishment of a postoffice at Ropes. The delay seems to be in the selection of a name for the postoffice, as Ropes was not acceptable to the department on account of a postoffice by the name of Roper, being already established somewhere in the United States. In all probability the new office will be called Ropesville.

PULLING COTTON SAMPLES FOR PROFIT MUST STOP

Pulling cotton samples for profit will be put under ban in Sweetwater and Nolan county, it was decided by members of the Nolan County Growers' Association in session here this week.

Other important business transacted follows, quoting W. C. Calvert, farm demonstration agent for the county:

"The directors of the Nolan County Cotton Growers' Association met in the county capital last Monday. A more earnest and determined set of men would be hard to find. The organization was perfected, and matters of concern to the cotton grower were considered. Among them the practice of cutting and picking cotton on the cotton yards of the county. One very well known farmer stated he stored 19 bales of cotton on a cotton yard and the shrinkage amounted to 765 pounds of cotton. This was denounced a an out-right steal. Vigorous steps will be taken to put an end to this graft.

"Last season the ginners refused the farmer who had spent his money for good seed to run the rolls out and allow the farmer to have his seed for planting, as pure as possible. Steps will be taken to adjust the matter. That they will be successful, is now assured.—Sweetwater Reporter.

Efficiency is Acquired Information

WHAT DO YOU KNOW? Recently many magazines have been printing series of questions that the average American should be able to answer readily. Intelligence tests to grade mentality were adopted in the United States Army, and are rapidly being introduced into our public school systems. Many of us, when confronted with these tests, are surprised to find that WE DO NOT KNOW AS MUCH AS WE THOUGHT WE DID. We may have a general idea, but not a definite knowledge.

Here is the Nelson's Encyclopædia, that is kept always absolutely up-to-date by means of the Nelson Patented Loose-Leaf Binding Device. It cannot grow old—it is perpetually new. Every six months the publishers furnish 250 or more new pages. You insert these new pages and discard the old, and you have the Encyclopædia of Today constantly keeping pace with the world's progress.

Old encyclopædia methods were perhaps all right when the world was pursuing a normal stride year in and year out, but the New World demands a new encyclopædia. A reference work giving information of the world's affairs can no longer be planned for a decade's use. THE NEW TRUTHS MAKE THE OLD TRUTHS UNTRUE. Of what use is an encyclopædia of a world that no longer exists? The efficient man is the man who knows—the man who has the knowledge of the New World as well as of the past; the man who has the information or knows where to find it.

THE WORLD'S GREAT AUTHORITY

Nelson's Loose-Leaf Encyclopædia is an Authority in the Library of Congress, U. S. Depts. of State, Justice, War, Navy and Agriculture, U. S. War Ships, U. S. BOX CAR SITUATION IS IMPROVING SLIGHTLY

Amarillo, Texas, June 19.—"The box car situation shows only slight improvement," said R. J. Parker, general manager of western lines of the Santa Fe Railway, when asked about the car situation this morning. Mr. Parker considers conditions grave and that they cap only be met by the co-operation of all interests.

"The car shortage is nation wide," continued Mr. Parker. "The Interstate Commerce Commission estimates that the mitimum and immediate needs are 100,000 more freight cars. The country has advanced and produces more freight than ever before. But the railroads on the other hand have been unable to make material addition to their equipment since before the war. The 100,000 freight cars built for the U. S. railroad administration hardly replaced the cars that became worn out and were retired during the period of Federal control. Even the roads that have the money, have had to wait for delivery of equipment ordered.

"The shortage of cars," said Mr. Parker, "has been intensified by labor troubles at ports and terminals and by shortage of shipping. Cars choke terminals, waiting to be unloaded. Long strings of cars under load lie idle for weeks at the principal ports. Every effort is now being made to berak the blockades.

"The railroads under the provisions of the 1920 Transportation Act for dealing with emergencies of this character, appealed to the Interstate Commerce Commission. Under the supervision of the commission and the car service commission of the American Railway Association open top cars are moving east and box cars west for distribution to the various roads. On May 20th orders were issued to move 40,000 open top cars eastward and 20,000 box cars westward within thirty days. The Santa Fe was ordered to deliver 200 open top cars a day for twenty days to other roads at Kansas City and Chicago. This united effort to move cars to where they are most needed is beginning to show results.

"Another feature adds much to the difficulty," said Mr. Parker. "A very large number of cars are out of service because they are in bad order. Every repair track is packed with cars in need of repairs. In the southwest less than ten per cent of the box cars on hand are fit for grain loading. Only about two per cent of Santa Fe box cars are at present on its own lines. Every day a car remains out of service on the repair track adds to the car shortage. Repair work is being rushed as far as labor conditions will permit."

Asked as to the probable requirements for cars to move the grain crop this year in the Panhandle-Plains district, Mr. Parker said: "The Santa Fe is a business institution very closely identified with the business life of every community it serves. The road is therefore keeping in close touch with the needs for transportation. This is particularly true in regard to live stock and farm products. We aim to provide equipment for prompt movement of live stock, grain, alfalfa and other products when ready for market and for that purpose store cars. This year there have been no cars to store to meet the needs for moving the new wheat crop.

"The traffic department," continued Mr. Parker, "estimates that the wheat crop on the Plains, Slaton, and Pecos divisions will be about 6,325 cars, averaging 1300 bushels to the car. It is estimated that there remains nearly 3,000 cars of the 1919 grain crop to be moved, including kafir and other grains. Of this probably 1,000 cars are stored in elevators and 2,000 cars still held on the farms.

"A year ago the road had several thousand cars in storage at the time the wheat crop was ready to move," said Mr. Parker. "This year we not only have no cars in storage, but are behind on cars for movement of last year's crop still in elevators and on the farms. The outlook is serious, as only such cars will be available as are allotted by the car service commission from day to day. So far only 100 cars a day is promised, but it is hoped that the number may be increased."

The campaign carried on by the Panhandle-Plains Chamber of Commerce to provide farm storage and the advice of bankers to stack wheat Mr. Parker considers practical. He hopes that the car situation will improve under the system of nation wide distribution now in effect. But even under the most favorable work of the car service commission, it will be impossible to move all the crops at harvest time.

The public can assist greatly in this emergency by loading cars heavy and unloading cars promptly. Every day a car stands idle waiting for load or to be unloaded adds to the car shortage.

"The Santa Fe at this time," said Mr. Parker, "asks the fullest co-operation of the public in speeding up traffic. The Santa Fe is doing its best to move traffic quickly and the public can help very materially by prompt loading and unloading of cars. More equipment has been ordered and further orders will be placed soon. But at the present time it is necessary to make the best possible use of what equipment is at hand."

BURFORD'S FRIENDS INSIST THAT HE RUN

L. O. Burford, who has so faithfully and efficiently served this county as commissioner of precinct number three, has finally surrendered to the will of a large number of friends who insisted that he continue in the office, and this week authorizes us to place his name in the announcement column of the Avalanche as a candidate for re-election to this important office. Mr. Burford says he will not have time to make an active campaign of his precinct, and would not if he did, but since he has offered for re-election, he will appreciate your vote and the influence of his friends, at the Democratic primary July 24th. It would be unwise for the Avalanche to try to tell many of the people of this community of the splendid work Mr. Burford has done for the county while in this office, as his work is on record and shows for itself. One thing we do wish to say in his behalf, and that is he is conservative, but progressive with it, and is thoroughly familiar with the needs and conditions of the county in general, and we are sure will be as faithful to the interests of the county as ever before.

Raleigh Brown of the Robinson Furniture Company, returned this week from a visit with home folks and acquaintances in Dallas.
