Texas Demos Steamed Up For Session

Fur May Fly On Roosevelt Issue

By DAVE CHEAVENS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, May 13 (AP)—New and substantial indications today were that the May 23 state Democratic convention here would be a lulu, if not a downright brawler.

The convention issue is flatly whether Texas will send to the national presidential nominating session at Chicago a delegation that is for or against a fourth term nomination for President Roosevelt.

Trend Not Clear

Both pro-Roosevelt and anti-Roosevelt forces during the past week turned on the steam, and there was yet no clean-cut indication as to how county delegations will finally stand. It is quite possible that strong feeling on both sides may be given ample vent before the state convention, thus avoiding the sort of row that opened the Waco presidential session four years ago.

These are the latest developments:

Today Gov. Coke R. Stevenson said he was not inclined to accept an invitation to be keynoter and temporary chairman of the convention; he told his press conference he hoped a man satisfactory to both sides could be found.

Stevenson Titular Chief

(Stevenson, as governor, is titular party leader in Texas; he has also been generally anti-administration in his views on domestic policies).

Today, former State Senator Alvin J. Wirtz, former undersecretary of the interior, issued a formal statement here, saying "a few self-constituted bosses in the state executive committee" have been maneuvering to send a "hand picked delegation of Roosevelt-haters to the Chicago convention." Wirtz said "they pretend friendship for the President in order to induce a majority of Texas Democrats to endorse their plan of sending an uninstructed delegation to Chicago."

(Wirtz did not claim to be spokesman for pro-Roosevelt forces in Texas, but he had been generally regarded as strong pro-administration in Texas Democratic party affairs.)

A plan is under study to set up headquarters in Austin for lining up members of uninstructed delegations for a fourth term, although none of the advocates of this plan has yet permitted use of his name in connection with it. It was known also that one group of fourth term advocates have lined up office space to use as headquarters during the convention.

Class One Of Smallest In History Due To Noticeable Absence Of Men

Marked by the noticeable absence of men, one of the smallest classes of graduates in the history of the college will receive degrees at eighteenth annual Texas Technological college commencement exercises Monday night in the college stadium at 8 o'clock.

Only 137 seniors, including 39 graduates of September, 1943, and January, 1944, will be presented degrees by Dr. Clifford B. Jones, president of the college, the president's office announced Saturday.

Of the 35 men receiving degrees, 18 are in absentia. Six of these are now in the service.

Hon. T. Whitfield Davidson, judge of the U. S. district court of Dallas, will deliver the commencement address. Others appearing on the program will be Rev. John A. Winslow, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church here who will give the invocation; Dr. Jones, who will confer degrees and senior honors; Fike Godfrey, who will present the senior class gift, which will be accepted by Charles C. Thompson of Colorado City, chairman of the board of directors; and Rev. Alsie H. Carleton, pastor of St. John's Methodist church here, who will give the benediction.

Dr. H. I. Robinson, pastor of the First Methodist church of Lubbock, will deliver the sermon at baccalaureate exercises in the stadium tonight at 8 o'clock. Those appearing on this program with Dr. Robinson will be Rev. H. G. Gantz, pastor of the First Christian church; Rabbi Isadore Garsek, Congregation Shaareth Israel; and Rev. Father Edward Lawler, assistant pastor of St. Elizabeth's church. The college concert band will play for both exercises.

The graduation ceremonies will be the final one for Dr. Jones as president of the college, his resignation having been accepted by the board to become effective on June 1.

It was announced Saturday that in the event of inclement weather the exercises will be held in the college gymnasium.

Cannie Marion Chandler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Chandler of 2416 Thirty-fourth street, will be among the three graduates receiving high-honors at the exercises. The others are Oliver Steeley Walkup of Tulsa, Okla., and Helen Ruth West of Levelland.

Among the twelve seniors graduating with honors are five Lubbock girls. They are: Ophelia May

Illness Is Fatal To Mrs. Martin

Mrs. Buddie Martin, 19, whose illness Friday was reported diagnosed as hydrophobia, died Saturday noon in an Oklahoma City hospital and an autopsy has been ordered in the case, family friends last night said they had been informed.

Mrs. Martin, who first became ill May 2, was flown Wednesday to Oklahoma City after doctors at a local hospital declined to make a diagnosis.

Dr. J. W. Rollo, city health officer, said after an investigation of the case that he had failed to find any evidence supporting the theory that Mrs. Martin was bitten by a mad dog. The woman did not care for dogs and held a slight fear of them, according to her mother-in-law, Mrs. L. M. Sikes, of 2507 Twenty-seventh street. Friends and other relatives were unable to recall any occasion when she might have been bitten.

Funeral Is Pending

Her husband, who operates a service station at 1101 Nineteenth street, said in a telephone call to local relatives that funeral services would be held up pending completion of the autopsy. Rites probably would be held at Chickasha, Okla., her former home, he said.

Survivors include her husband; a four-year-old daughter, Judy; parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Foster, of Floydada; two brothers, Sgt. Eugene Foster, of Harlingen, Tex., Sgt. Clyde Foster, Elgin, Fla.; three sisters, Mrs. Edith Kelly, Mrs. Lura Havron, both of San Diego, Calif., Mrs. Jewell Walters, of Chickasha; an uncle, Cpl. Paul Foster, of 2116 Fifteenth street, who is stationed at Lubbock Army Air field.

It was said that Mr. and Mrs. Martin had been Lubbock residents for two or three years.

College Work Open To Young Reservists

DALLAS, May 13 (AP)—Members of the Army Air forces enlisted reserve who will be 17 years 9 months of age or less on June 1 are being accepted for college training under the Army specialized training reserve program, before being called to active duty after their 18th birthdays, Eighth Service command headquarters said today.

Applications for the training must be made before May 20 to the Army Specialized Training division of the Eighth Service Command, Dallas 2, Texas.

Those who accept the opportunity to study at government expense will not lose ther status as Army Air force enlisted reservists, and the date of their call to active duty with the Army Air forces will not be affected.

Raids On Bucharest Cause 30,000 Deaths

BERN, Switzerland, May 13. (AP) Eyewitness reports received today by the national Zeitung at Basel said Allied air attacks on Bucharest, Romania's capital, had taken a toll of 30,000 dead and smashed the center of the city's residential area.

Many bombers struck the mine laying station between Bucharest and Ploesti, where for weeks thousands of wagons had stood temporarily sheltering refugees from the Ukraine and Bessarabia, the report said.

They added that Romainian rail traffic is now limited strictly to the military.

STOCKHOLM, May 13. (AP) — Four American bombers landed at Malmoe and one Mustang fighter near Kristianstad today after raids on northern Germany. None of the crewmen was injured.

Quotas Set For New Bond Drive

The state quota in the 16-billion dollar Fifth War Loan drive starting June 12 is $464,000,000, and for Lubbock county, it is $4,685,000.

This information was contained in a telegram to the Avalanche-Journal Saturday from Nathan Adams of Dallas, state chairman.

"It's going to be the toughest, the most intensive and the most important money raising undertaking of the war," the telegram said.

The total compares with a state quota of $395,000,000 in the Fourth drive last February. However, investments in that drive were $479,000,000 substantially larger than the new quota.

Of the new quota $236,000,000 is expected from individual investors, including $125,000,000 in Series E Bonds.

In Lubbock county, the Series E quota is $1,110,000, or somewhat less than the $1,195,000 of the Fourth loan drive.

However, the county's total quota is considerably larger than the $3,600,000 of the Fourth campaign. Lubbock county went well above both quotas, exceeding the total goal by more than $1,000,000 and the Series E objective by approximately $250,000.

Escorting Mustangs Pound Polish Area

LONDON, May 13. (AP) — Mustangs escorting Flying Fortresses and Liberators to northern Germany Saturday swept on into Poland in the deepest penetration of Europe ever made by British-based fighters.

P-51's of both the Eighth and Ninth U. S. Army forces tangled with German fighters over Poland, U. S. headquarters of the European theater of operations announced.

New Drive In North Burma Batters Japs

Nips Continue To Push On In China

By RAY CRONIN
Associated Press War Editor

THE Japanese were hit by a new Allied offensive in northern Burma yesterday and were losing ground there, but in China's Honan province Nippon forces won new successes against hard-pressed Chinese armies.

American-trained Chinese troops of Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's command launched drives against three Japanese bases in North Burma. Supported by tanks, dive bombers and artillery, the Chinese struck hard along a two-mile front and advanced in two other sectors.

Three Spearheads

Three Stilwell spearheads were pointed toward the Japanese strongholds at Kamaing, Mogaung and Myitkyina. An official headquarters report said an Allied advance column was holding Manpin, 10 miles from Kamaing. A Japanese attack on that front was thrown back.

Heavy fighting raged on northeast India's Imphal front as the Japanese made unsuccessful onslaughts to gain a mountain pass leading to the Imphal plain. Meanwhile, Allied fighters and dive bombers battered the Japanese in the Kohima region, north of Imphal. Other planes were attacking the strategic fortified area of Ningthoukhong. To the south Japanese planes were strafing British gun positions at Potsangbam. Two Nippon sky fighters, and probably three more, were shot down.

Reports from Southeast Asia headquarters said the Allied push to drive the invaders from hill positions around Kohima was "mainly successful." The Japanese lost eight, and probably two more, of the 25 planes they threw into this action. Allied air forces suffered no losses.

A southwest Pacific headquarters communique told of heavy air strikes against Japanese northern New Guinea bases Friday. One American Liberator was lost to enemy anti-aircraft fire while participating in a raid on Mokmer airdrome on Biak island in the Schoutens.

Allied planes dumped bomb loads on Wewak and attacked Timor and Boeroe airfields.

American patrols in the Hollandia and Aitape sectors killed 101 additional Japanese soldiers and captured 30. This increased Japanese fatalities in the area to 1,716 and boosted the prisoner total to 356.

Texas At New High In Oil Production

AUSTIN, May 13 (AP)—Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson said today Texas has hit an all-time high both in the number of wells and actual production of oil.

The present number of oil wells is 101,022, which last week produced 2,126,300 barrels of oil each day, said Thompson, adding:

"Texas has met every call for oil and has increased her ability to produce all the while.

"We are apparently going to have plenty of oil.

"So far this year there have been 2,412 regular drilling applications, an increase of 1,021 over last year; and 1,189 completions as against 690 for 1943. There have been 68 wildcat discoveries as against 20 last year."

CASPER, Wyo., May 13 (AP) — Three officers and three enlisted men were killed early this morning when a B-24 heavy bomber from the Casper Army Air field crashed in an emergency landing two miles northwest of Miles City, Mont.

The dead included: Lt. Jack D. Busby, co-pilot, Seymour, Texas.

Allies Batter Gustav Line; Air Armadas Down 63 Nazis

12 Bombers, Ten Fighters Lost In Slashing Assault

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Sunday May 14. — Two thousand U. S. bomber and American-Allied fighters hammered three major targets in northern Germany yesterday and shot down 63 Nazi planes in sky duels which cost the invading Americans 12 bombers and 10 fighters.

Up to 750 Flying Fortresses and Liberators, escorted inland by nearly 1,000 U. S. Lightnings, Mustangs and Thunderbolts, and covered in their withdrawal by hundreds of RAF Mustangs, attacked a Focke-Wulf plant at Tutow, rail yards and locomotive repair shops at Osnabruck, a synthetic oil refinery in the Stettin area and other targets.

5,000 in Two Days

The formation was part of a total of approximately 5,000 American and British planes which hurled 8,000 tons of explosives on occupied Europe in two-way attacks from Britain and Italy during the day.

The bag of 63 German planes, 54 by the fighters and nine by bomber gunners, made a two-day total of 213 Axis aircraft shot down over Germany.

No enemy opposition was met over Osnabruck, the German pilots instead ganged up on the formations which flew deep into northeastern Germany. "Many enemy fighters were driven off or destroyed by our escort before they could reach our bombers," the communique said.

Start At Midnight

The major blows in the daylong attacks began around midnight when British night bombers lashed out from home bases at targets in France, Belgium and Germany, and from Italian bases at rail junctions in northern Italy.

As the onslaught roared through its 29th day, it closed a week in which there was hardly a single hour when Allied bombs were not exploding on Nazi-held soil. So many targets were hit in the past seven days that to record an accurate total was almost impossible.

The luftwaffe, which lost 150 planes Friday, again sent up swarms of fighters to challenge bombers raiding Tutow and other long distance objective from the west today, but many refused battle and Americans hitting Osnabruck met sacarcely any opposition.

Supply Lines Battered

Hundreds of light Allied bombers shuttled back and fourth over northern France and Belgium, ripping airfields and rail yards feeding the Nazi Atlantic wall.

Although Berlin told of terrific battles over Germany, the first American airmen back from the attack on Osnabruck said Nazi fighter resistance was negligible after Friday's duels in which 150 German planes were shot down at a cost of 42 American bombers and 10 fighters.

Tutow, 105 miles north of Berlin and 35 miles east of the Baltic sea port of Rostock, was the second of several targets attacked in northern Germany.

It was the 16th operation in 13 days for the American heavy bombers, and they left their British bases just a few hours after about 750 RAF night bombers had dumped 3,000 tons of bombs on rail targets at Louvain, and other targets in northwest Germany and France at a cost of 14 planes.

During the day, American Marauder and Havoc bombers escorted by Thunderbolt dumped over 500 tons of bombs on four airfields, Abbeville-Drucat, Beaumont-Sur-Oise, and Beauvais-Tille in northern France, and Chievres, 25 miles southwest of Brussels, the Belgian capital. All returned.

Later in the day Thunderbolt

Nazi High Moguls Turn To Speculation On Invasion

"Rommel Plan" Invoked In France, Whole Male Population Involved

By JAMES M. LONG
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, May 13—The German high command communique, normally the most conservative of the daily fixtures broadcast by the Berlin radio, declared today that the Allied air offensive against the Nazi continent "may be regarded as the preparation for invasion."

It was the first time that the German command, now confronted by an Allied land, sea and air siege, had used the word "invasion" in its daily bulletins, and the Nazi press speculated that the blow would fall simultaneously with a new Russian offensive.

Inside France, the Nazis were reported rushing final preparations, requisitioning all remaining automobiles and speeding a "Rommel plan" under which virtually the entire male population of France between the ages of 16 and 60 would be put in concentration camps on D-day to safeguard the German rear.

Even as the daily communique warned the German people of the impending onslaught, the Allies, in addition to undertaking a campaign to destroy the German armies in Italy, were hammering by air with increasing tempo at Nazi communications to the potential western battlefront.

Drive In Italy Linked Up

The German command described the new Italian offensive as being "on the largest scale" and as "an obvious attempt to tie down German forces," thus linking the assault with the expected western invasion.

German accounts took the new Allied offensive against the Gustav line as being only the forerunner of a bursting storm. "The German high command expects the flare-up of fighting in Italy to spread to other sections of the European battlefront," said the Nazi Transocean News agency. "We are aware of Gen. Alexander's words that the Allied troops in southern Italy are striking the first blow in a final battle."

Squeeze On Satellites

The German news agency DNB quoted a Stockholm report describing the newest Allied moves to squeeze the Axis satellites out of the war—the Washington-London-Moscow ultimatum of yesterday—as bringing the diplomatic campaign to climax "before undertaking any decisive military step."

"This foreshadows Soviet and British-American offensives," the dispatch said.

Flame Throwers Clear Nazi Nest

WITH THE EIGHTH U. S. EVACUATION HOSPITAL, on the Main Fifth Army Front, Italy, May 13. (AP)—During the second night of the Allied attack, American flame throwers were used to dislodge German machinegun nests and pockets of resistance that were seriously impending the progress of our infantry and in some rocky sectors were stopping it cold.

Casualties arriving in the dawn told of seeing whole squads of Germans incinerated by molten fire from the flame throwers. Those who survived leaped from cover and were cut down by Americans armed with tommy guns before they could take three steps.

Company Being Chewed Up

One private from Newark, N. J., who handled a flame thrower, said his company had been stopped and was being chewed to pieces by a hidden machinegun. Second Lt. Howard D. Sharman, Memphis, Tenn., called for flame throwers and directed the fire on the machinegun post, a sort of inverted foxhole built with rocks above the ground.

"I 'blasted' the target first with liquid, then when it was well wetted down, I ignited it. This creates a vacuum and sucks the flame through all the crevices and kills everything it touches."

The flame "sort of rolled along the ground" as he fired short bursts and then the pillbox seemed to be enveloped in flame. Three Germans managed to leap out, but were shot instantly. After that the company moved forward and occupied the hill, which was covered with dead Germans.

Freed Prisoners Of Japs Near Death

SAN FRANCISCO, May 13 (AP) Gaunt-faced, undernourished, some so weak they had to be carried on stretchers, a large number of men, women and children freed from Japanese captivity on Dutch New Guinea has arrived at an Australian port, Aneta, the Netherlands news agency, reported today.

The dispatch, written at the port of debarkation, said:

"Many were stretcher cases. They were taken to American hospitals for treatment. Arrival was one of the most pathetic scenes yet witnessed at an Australian wharf. Victims of Japanese ill treatment were dressed in motley garments, mainly clothes that liberating forces had given them . . ."

Enemy Maintains Grim Resistance In Hill Positions

By NOLAND NORGAARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, May 13. — Allied troops, on the offensive in Italy, smashed deeper tonight into the heavily-fortified Gustav line, increasing the gains of two miles or more that they had recorded during the day but encountering grim resistance from the Germans in strong mountain positions.

Exact locations of the gains could not be disclosed pending tomorrow's daily communique, but

NAZI RAILROAD CUT

NEW YORK, May 13 (AP) — Radio France at Algiers reported tonight that Allied bombers in Italy had cut the Nazi-used railway through the Brenner pass in a raid today. The broadcast was recorded by the Federal Communications commission.

already the Allies hold at least five villages and seven strategic hills and were going ahead after the close of the second day of their big push aimed at destroying the Germans in Italy.

All In Heavy Fighting

Americans, French, British and Poles all were engaged in heavy fighting.

The French pressed forward after occupying an important area of high ground that commanded the German stronghold of Castelforte.

(It was indicated but not definitely stated that Castelforte had fallen. German broadcasts announced its evacuation, making a total of six villages taken by the Allies).

A late dispatch from Associated Press war correspondent Sid Feder told of the spectacularly swift fall of the village of Santi Cosmo Damiano to the American Fifth Army, two miles beyond the Garigliano river; and of the penetration of the adjacent stronghold of Castelforte.

British Seize Town

British Eighth Army troops also seized the village of Sant'Angelo on the west bank of the Rapido river, two and one half miles south of Cassino, direct dispatches said.

French troops attached to the Fifth Army swept on past their original objectives, and Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark, commander of the Fifth Army, congratulated Gen. Alphonse Juin, the French commander. "You are roving to an anxiously awaiting France that the French Army has returned, sacred to its finest fighting traditions," Clark told him.

U. S. heavy bombers concentrated on blasting 14 rail centers in what officially was termed "the climactic phase of 'an operation

Reds Hint New Drive Impending

LONDON, Sunday, May 14. (AP)—The Soviet high command announced last night Russian bombers attacking German military trains and stores at Daugavpils (Dcinsk) in Latvia and Tartu in Estonia had touched off violent explosions and fires Friday night in a possible prelude to a fresh Red Army northern offensive.

The German high command also indicated that Russian troops in force had smashed across the Moldava river, 60 miles inside Romania, when it told of fighting between Romanian soldiers and a full Soviet rifle division on the west bank of that river.

Dnestr Not Mentioned

Neither the Germans nor the Russians mentioned the lower Dnestr river section near Tiraspol. Where Berlin had declared that a Russian bridgehead had been erased and where Moscow said German counterattacks had failed.

No essential changes occurred on the long land front, Moscow said.

In all sectors during Friday's fighting Russian forces wrecked 40 enemy tanks and 28 planes, the communique said.

Pouncing on a Norway-bound German convoy in the Barents Sea last Thursday, Russian planes of the far northern command sank eight ships—two convoys totalling 12,000 tons, four escort vessels, a minesweeper and a coastguard cutter, the supplement said. Six German aircraft also were declared shot down.

Tech Board Meets At College Monday

Members of the board of directors of Texas Technological college are to consider the matter of selection of a president of the college to succeed Dr. Clifford B. Jones, in a meeting at the college Monday, but it is not likely that a selection will be made at the session, Chas C. Thompson chairman of the board of Colorado City told the Avalanche-Journal by telephone Saturday.

A sub-committee of the board has been considering several possible selections for the president's post and a discussion of their findings will more than likely be presented at the meeting here, Thompson said.

Two members of the board, A. G. (Pat) Mayse of Paris and Karl Hoblitzelle of Dallas, will not be present at Monday's meeting, held annually at commencement time.

Wounded Vets Make Mother's Day Gifts

TEMPLE, May 13 (AP)—During the past month soldiers with stiff fingers and wrists from battle injuries have been busily weaving, painting, printing, and making gifts to honor mothers all over the United States this Mother's day.

Patients from every theater of action in the world have been spending leisure time making gifts out of yarn, leather, thread, felt hats, metal, shells, coins from foreign countries, and other scrap material in the occupational therapy section of McCloskey General hospital.

One boy from Minnesota declared as he worked with leather preparing a purse for his mother, "a pleasant occupational therapy is a pleasant way to dispose of 'hospitalistis'."

Home Dem Agent 'Fired' In Further Shakeup At A. & M.

By NELSON FULLER

COLLEGE STATION, May 13— The board of Texas A. and M. college today announced sweeping changes in the college's extension service, including the dismissal of Miss Mildred Horton, vice director of the extension service and state home demonstration agent.

Directors also voted unanimously to abolish the title of president emeritus which had been voted to Dr. T. O. Walton last fall.

A statement at the conclusion of an executive session today said: "The board is still working toward selection of a president of the college and hopes to be able to announce his name in the not too far distant future."

Miss Horton, in a statement by the board at Fort Worth last March 11, had been named as having attempted to block federal extension service approval of the appointment of E. R. Eudaly, director of the extension service.

"The board does have evidence that efforts have been made to block Mr. Eudaly's appointment," the statement said. "Miss Mildred Horton wrote a letter to Washington, the purpose of which was to block Mr. Eudaly's confirmation."

Replaced By Miss Hearn

Directors voted that Miss Maurine Hearn be elected vice director for women and state home demonstration agent, effective at once. Miss Hearn has been with the extension service for 12 years and before being appointed to the new position was the home demonstration agent in district seven in West Central Texas.

On recommendation of Miss Hearn and with the approval of John D. Prewit, acting director of the extension service, the board voted that the service of Miss Omah Jacks, state girls club agent and Miss Minnie Mae Grubbs, district home demonstration agent, be dispensed with immediately.

In the case of Miss Horton, Miss Jacks and Miss Grubbs, the directors voted that each be paid

County Rural High Schools Planning Graduation Events

Baccalaureate sermons for Lubbock county rural high schools are slated for next Sunday and dates of commencement exercises range from May 22 to May 25, according to announcement made this week-end by school superintendents and Roy Boyd, county superintendent.

Cooper High school commencement exercises are scheduled for May 22, Roosevelt high school, May 23, Shallowater high school, May 24, and Idalou, Frenship and New Deal high schools, May 25.

NEW DEAL HIGH SCHOOL

Senior honor students of New Deal High school, Monroe, are Bettye Jo Jackson and Felicia Goebel, Supt. A. L. Faubion has announced. No. speaker has yet been selected for baccalaureate services next Sunday and commencement exercises will feature an all-student participation May 25 at the high school auditorium at 9 p.m.

Mrs. Earl Hobbs is to play the baccalaureate recessional beginning at 9 p.m. D. L. James is to read a scripture, the congregation will sing two selections and a trio composed of Dolores Lyda, De Alva Lightfoot, and Vernell Henry will sing "Perfect Day."

Four speeches by seniors will be featured for commencement with Felicia Goebel speaking on "The Harvest of Hope," Basil Agnew, "We Accept the Challenge," La Rue Campbell, "What We May Expect," and Bettye Jo Jackson, "The Broader Vision." A. L. Penuel is on the program for the invocation, Sherman Taylor for the benediction and Mrs. Earl Hobbs for the processional.

The senior class will sing "One Fleeting Hour" and "Though We Part," Felecia Goebel is to give a piano selection, and James Atebury will play the violin. D. L. James, principal, will recognize the honor students and presentation of diplomas will be made by Supt. Faubion. The class gift to the school will be presented by Jack Hobgood.

Senior candidates other than those mentioned above are Sharlott Crabtree, Dorothy Daugherty, Jeanne Gardner, T. Z. Goodgion, jr., Henry Kveton, Winfred Medlock, Verbal Peeples, Rosie Phillips, De LaVerne Shipp, Joe Frank Tarver and Billie Edwina Young.

COOPER HIGH SCHOOL

Cooper High school baccalaureate service will be held Sunday night, May 21, and commencement exercises will be Monday night, May 22, according to an announcement made Saturday by S. G. Anthony, superintendent.

Twenty-four graduates will receive diplomas at commencement which will feature a mock trial called "The Cooper Community vs. Senior Class 1944." Rev. E. Herber, pastor of the Wilson St. John's church, will be the main speaker at the baccalaureate service. Both services will be in the school gymnasium.

Grammar school commencement will be Thursday night when Roy Boyd, county superintendent, addresses the students. Mrs. Floyd Roan will present her pupils in a music recital Friday night, Supt. Anthony said.

High school candidates for graduation are Faye Cummins, Frankie Cummins, Katy Dodd, Doris Gill, Velera Goode, Lorene Hamilton, Mildred Kitten, Fay Martin, Margaret Melcher, Jean Meyers, Betty Marie Robertson, Margie Shelton, Alice Marie Slater, Frances Sullivent, Darduella Swope, Betty Jo Tapp, Harold Gene Barrett, Kenneth Brownfield, Raymond Davis, Donald Johnson, Deryl King, Agnew Kitten, Doyle Shepherd and J. B. Morris.

IDALOU HIGH SCHOOL

Dr. H. I. Robinson, pastor of the Lubbock First Methodist church, will address graduates of the Idalou Rural High school at commencement exercises Thursday, May 25, at 9:15 p.m., L. K. Kinsey, superintendent, announced this week-end.

Evalyn Brunson is valedictorian and Aretta McCoy is salutatorian of the class and each will have a part on the commencement program.

Rev. B. H. Baldwin will give the baccalaureate sermon next Sunday evening at 9:15 o'clock at the school, the superintendent said. Rev. J. R. Wood will give the invocation and A. C. McIlroy the benediction. All music will be provided by Mrs. G. A. Kelley.

The commencement program will begin by the seniors giving a pledge to the flag. A quartet will sing and special awards will be presented by H. A. Harrison. Supt Kinsey is to present the diplomas and Rev. Cone J. Merritt will give the benediction.

Air Group Downs 95 Japs And Loses Only One Plane

By DAN BOWERMAN
United Press Staff Writer

PEARL HARBOR, May 13.—A slender Texan told a great success story of the Pacific war today in describing how his air group shot down 95 Japanese planes while losing but one to enemy aircraft.

Lt. Cmdr. Edgar E. Stebbins, Dallas, skipper of Air Group No. 5, said that in 2,535 fighting sorties, members of his group had sunk 57,000 tons of enemy shipping while compiling its amazing air combat record.

Groups Enroute Home

Stebbins was one of a group of Navy fliers of the 5th, 23rd, and 30th Air groups en route home after five to 18 months duty aboard American carriers. The men told their stories at a press conference while awaiting transportation the rest of the way home.

Together, their units have sunk 113,000 tons of enemy shipping, shot down 186 enemy aircraft, and destroyed at least 167 other planes on the ground. They hung up that record while protecting U. S. warships and landing forces during a series of raids and invasions which began with the 5th air group's entry into action on the Marcus island raid last September 1.

The 23rd went into its first battle at Makin island Sept. 18, and the 30th got into action at the Gilberts and Makin the following day. All were in on the second attack on Truk April 30.

Stebbins said all bombing was done in daylight at low altitude, from 1,500 to 2,000 feet. The first raid on Truk was his group's toughest, he said. The pilots encountered terrific anti-aircraft fire and skilled and determined Japanese airmen.

Since then, Stebbins said, the enemy's tactics and determination have deteriorated.

Japs Skiddish Now

"They no longer will meet us on even terms," he said. "They won't tangle with our boys unless they have us outnumbered. And they prudently avoid our combat teams and concentrate on our semi-defenseless stragglers."

The group had lost two of its nine torpedo planes in an earlier engagement, and entered Rabaul with but seven craft to pit against a harbor filled with eight Jap cruisers, 20 destroyers and innumerable smaller vessels, defended by shore batteries and 75 enemy planes aloft.

The group lost two torpedo planes in the action.

PLANE PRIORITIES

MEXICO CITY, May 13. (AP)—Faced with a rapidly growing air traffic, the communications ministry announced today that priorities would be given in the future only to persons traveling on official business. This means that priorities formerly given to private business men for flights inside Mexico will be suspended.

An ordinary hen belonging to B. F. Dedman of southeast Lubbock, last week laid an egg which may or may not be an omen, according to Mr. Dedman. The egg had a "seven or a six or a two" turn it one way and the figure is imprinted upon one end. You turn it one way and the figure is a seven, turn it another and it is a six, while still another way, it resembles a two. About the omen, even Mr. Dedman is wondering.

ALL AMERICAN MOTHER—Pvt. Ellen G. Lloyd of Harrisburg, Penn., has been acclaimed an All American Mother by soldiers at South Plains Army Air Field where she is a member of the Wacs. Pvt. Lloyd is shown as she pauses in a letter to one of four sons she has in service. A fifth has died while in uniform. One son has earned the DFC, Air Medal and four Oak Leaf Clusters. The others are sergeants, one with the AAF in England.

"Keep Too Busy To Worry" Is Advice From WAC At SPAAF With Four Sons In Service

The world's outstanding Uncle has one of the nation's outstanding Mothers at South Plains Army Air field, Pvt. Ellen G. Lloyd of Harrisburg, Pa., who in uniform is standing shoulder to shoulder with four sons in uniform fighting this war. A fifth son has died in service. She is Mother of the Day at SPAAF to soldiers who have met and talked with her.

"Mom" Lloyd had a civilian job with the War department in Pennsylvania but early in March she decided she could do a better job in uniform. So the next letters to her son carried news their mother was a WAC.

"Every single one of them wrote back congratulating me," she says proudly.

Serving In Air Corps

One son, Lt. James A. Watts, 23, is just back from duty with the Army Air Forces in the Southwest Pacific, where he served eleven months as a pilot on a medium bomber and was awarded the DFC, Air Medal and four Oak Leaf clusters.

Sgt. Sherwood F. Watts, 24, is in the intelligence service at Camp Richey, Md.

The other three sons are stepsons but Pvt. Lloyd prefers to call them her own "because they treat me as if I were the only mother in the world."

S/Sgt. William C. Lloyd, 23, has been with the AAF in England for almost a year. Sgt. Harry C. Lloyd, 22, is in an anti-tank division at Camp Robinson, Ark., in training for combat. Pvt. Thomas C. Lloyd was drowned at Camp Stewart, Ga.

"Mom" Lloyd has her own theory to keep from worrying.

"My advice to a mother with a son in the service is to keep busy," she said. "In the WACs I'm not only keeping busy and not worrying, but I am doing something to help bring my sons back home sooner."

Bottleneck Breakers

By pressing metal powders into the desired shape in one stroke, it has been possible for Chrysler Corporation to produce many parts for weapons in but a fraction of the time required to make them by ordinary machine methods. This process also eliminates waste of precious materials and saves countless man-hours.

It all started some years before the war when Chrysler Corporation's Amplex Division began pressing bearings out of powdered metal and impregnating them with oil which penetrated the tiny pores of the metal itself. Once installed in hard-to-reach places in automobiles, vacuum cleaners, washing machines and other devices, these "Oilite" bearings provided their own lubrication without further attention.

Today almost every American-built weapon is made in larger quantity, at a saving of time and material, and functions better in action because it contains from one to scores of precision parts made by Powder Metallurgy. Such parts range from single pieces weighing 64 pounds down to tiny rivets weighing 10,000 to a pound.

Thus the science of peace has been applied to conserving the nation's manpower, materials and finances while speeding the production of better weapons.

LET'S ALL BACK THE ATTACK—BUY MORE WAR BONDS

You recall how Grandma mixed flour, seasoning and baking powder . . . then shaped and baked them into vastly different kinds of cookies, doughnuts, cakes and bread.

Powder Metallurgy is fundamentally very similar. Starting with metal "flour" so light and fluffy a breath of air would blow it away, various "recipes" are mixed, pressed in molds and actually "baked" in huge heat-treating ovens . . . to become tough, finished parts for many types of war equipment.

War Production Threatened by Drive To Unionize Management

★ The drive of union leaders to unionize management, beginning with foremen, is a threat to the war production effort.

★ It is a long step toward putting industrial management in the hands of union leaders.

★ What kind of collective bargaining is it when union leaders sit on both sides of the table?

★ It raises an issue which Congress must clarify by amending the necessary laws, including the war labor disputes act.

The Automotive Council for war production representing 550 established companies embloying 1,200,000 workers and delivering 20% of the Nation's War Production, has authorized its president — ALVAN MACAULEY, to make the following public statement and send it to the President, other government officials, and all members of congress:

AT THIS most critical moment in history, on the eve of the Great Invasion of Europe which may settle the issue of Human freedom for years to come. The public is entitled to know of a situation which threatens the success of that great effort.

The council has given careful consideration to the adverse effect on War Production of the strike of foremen in the twelve plants of major war producers in the Detroit area and the still greater threat inherent in the organized drive to unionize management, beginning with foremen.

This is a long step toward putting Industrial management in the hands of union leaders.

Successful business undertakings and great achievements depend on an organization responsive to the decision of those in charge. The commanding officers of production, like those of the Army, must have their captains and lieutenants, their sergeants and corporals. Foremen, supervisors and managers are officers in the production Army.

The division of their obligations and responsibilities between management and any outside organization will be just as disastrous to our war production front as outside organization of the Army's officers to bargain and debate with their superiors would be at the battlefront. "No man can serve two masters."

THE ISSUE NOW IS:

Can Union Leaders unionize management and take over control of War Production?

Are their organizing drives for this purpose to be allowed to interfere with the efficiency and effectiveness of this production? Will they be allowed to disrupt American mass-production industry, one of the greatest assets of our country in both war and peace, by using it to experiment with a new and untried form of union-controlled management?

What kind of collective bargaining is it when union leaders sit on both sides of the table?

If management is to be unionized, where is union control to stop?

This issue results directly from the fact that the Federal Laws and their administration are vague and confused in respect to the Status of management.

In the interest of the war effort, we urge Congress to make it clear that it does not intend to permit Labor Leaders to take over the management of our War Producion Plants. This can and should be done immediately by clarifying and amending the necessary laws, particularly the War Labor Disputes Act.

The Automotive Industry is not only producing a large part of our national armament output, but is also the largest manufacturing industry in peacetime; thus the nation is relying upon its prompt reconversion to provide jobs after victory.

The council was created by the Industry immediately after Pearl Harbor to expedite in every possible way the industry's war production efforts. This included exchange of production equipment, knowledge of production methods, and efficient use of scarce materials and manpower. This industry has done an outstanding war production job.

The council has never intervened in the collective bargaining problems of employer-employee relations, and there is no intention to depart from this practice.

Unless Congress Acts, This Crisis Will Further Obstruct An All-Out War Production Effort

Partisan Forces Open All-Out Offensive Against Germans

NAPLES, May 11. (Delayed) (AP)—Yugoslav authorities announced today that the partisan forces of Marshal Josip Broz (Tito) had opened an all-out offensive as part of an Allied onslaught against Hitler's fortress Europe.

(Presumably this dispatch was delayed pending the opening of the Allied offensive in Italy Thursday night).

The Yugoslavs said troops of the army of liberation have opened attacks against the Vardar and Ibar valleys—the two main escape routes of German troops now in Greece.

Meanwhile Greek patriots were reported harassing four German divisions in that country.

SLAVS HOLD INITIATIVE IN ALL BUT TWO SECTORS

LONDON, May 13. (AP)—Yugoslav troops are battling German invaders in Croatia and Bosnia, but hold the initiative on other sectors, Marshal Joseph Broz (Tito) declared today in a communique which made no mention of a Naples announcement that the Partisans had opened an all-out offensive.

Tito's broadcast war bulletin said more than 2,000 German troops had been killed in fighting in Montenegro and southern Sanzak from April 5 to May. 5. Partisan losses for the period were reported to be 900 men.

Several thousand German troops were reported exerting powerful pressure on Partisan positions in western Bosnia but there were no indications they were making much headway.

In Slavonia the communique said Tito's forces had "taken the initiative in ther own hands."

NEARLY 15,000 MOSLEMS FIGHTING BESIDE SLAVS

BARI, Italy, May 8. (Delayed) (AP)—Nearly 15,000 Moslems now are fighting in the ranks of the Yugoslavian liberation army, a spokesman for the Partisan mission in Italy reported today.

Streaming into liberated territories from the occupied sections of Bosnia and Macedonia they have been placed in two all-Moslem brigades and in some smaller detachments assigned to the various corps of Marshal Tito's armies.

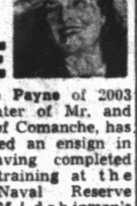

They share supplies and equipment on an equal basis with other partisan outfits, and their ability to travel swiftly and lightly has made them invaluable to the guerrilla warfare being waged in many sections of the Yugoslav hinterland.

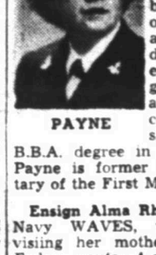

Brigade Gains Distinction

The first Moslem brigade was formed four months ago and it has particularly distinguished itself in the Velika Kladusha section of western Bosnia, the spokesman said.

One Moslem leader, Sullivan Pillipovic, of Tuzla, Bosnia, holds the portfolio of minister of forests in the partisan provincial government, and another, Avdo Humo, son-in-law of a prominent member of the Royal Yugoslav government in exile, is serving as vice president of the Bosnia liberation committee. A third, Nuriya Pozderac, a senator under the late King Alexander of Yugoslavia, was killed in June, 1943, while alongside the partisans.

Memorial Service Is Set Here By IOOF

A public memorial service, honoring the memory of W. R. Francis of Fort Worth, who died recently, will be held by Lubbock IOOF lodges Tuesday night at 8 o'clock in the lodge hall in the Myrick building.

Francis was past Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Texas, past Grand Encampment officer, past department commander of Canton, and past representative to the Sovereign Grand Lodge.

All orders will be draped during the ceremony. The following orders will be present: Subordinate No. 609, South Plains Encampment No. 26, West Texas Canton No. 24, Ladies Auxiliary No. 24, and Rebecca Lodge No. 321.

The Rebecca Lodge will have charge of the ceremonies with Mrs. Thelma Porter presiding.

Recreation Plans Shaping Rapidly

More activity centers will be operated during the coming summer than ever before in any community recreation program in Lubbock, according to plans related Saturday by Mrs. Grace Dyess, superintendent of the new city department of recreation.

Plans for the summer recreation program are taking shape rapidly, she added. Present attention is being concentrated on the summer activities, although the program as set up by the recreation council and city commission is to be year-round.

The scenes of full-time activities will be various of the city parks, including Pioneer on Seventh street, Carlisle on Twenty-seventh, Rollie Burns on Twenty-third, Mexican park and Booker T. Washington in the negro district.

Program For Children

A great many activities, including a full-time program for children, are planned in Mackenzie state park. Mackenzie and its various facilities hold an important place in the planning, Mrs. Dyess said. Sunday programs are scheduled there. The recreation building in that park also will be used a great deal, the events including regular Friday night folk and square dances.

In addition to the various parks mentioned, which have been used in recreation programs of the past, activities also are scheduled in the old Avenue Q and W lake bottoms, on the Boy's club property adjacent to Rollie Burns park and on land belonging to the Catholic church which adjoins Mexican park. These places will be the scenes of active sports. Softball diamonds are to be laid out on the Avenue Q lake property for twilight leagues.

Several Positions Open

Mrs. Dyess said that positions still are open for several places on the summer recreation staff. Specificially needed, she added, are directors of Mexican and negro activities and several older teenage boys who could aid in the supervision of active sports. Applications for these places should be made in the recreation department offices on the first floor of the city hall.

Plans are to put the program into actual operation early in June, as soon after the closing of schools as practicable. Several days will be devoted to the training of the staff before activities are started, Mrs. Dyess said.

Some Landlords, Tenants Not Familiar With Rent Rules

While there have been no basic changes to rent control regulations, some landlords and tenants, too, still apparently are not familiar with the Office of Price administration provisions, says Earl W. Heath, rent director of the Lubbock defense rental area. The following are some of the requirements provided in OPA regulations listed by Heath.

Every dwelling unit rented or offered for rent, must be registered with the area rent office, 1415 Avenue Q. Forms for registration may be obtained from that office. A separate registration statement is required for each individual rental unit (except rooms in hotels, rooming houses, auto and trailer camps, etc., coming under rent regulations governing such units for which a special registration form is provided.)

A tenant who sublets all or any part of his dwelling must register as the landlord of his sub-tenant. Dwellings not previously rented, or newly constructed must be registered within 30 days after first renting. Dwellings changed from after July 1, 1943,. new dwellings resulting from conversion (a change in the number of dwelling units within the building) must be registered within 30 days after the first renting which establishes a new maximum rent. The new maximum rent so established is subject to review and reduction by the rent director if it is found to be higher than the rent for comparable accommodations on the maximum rent date.

Refunds Are Provided

In addition to the civil and criminal procedure provided by the emergency price control act, a landlord who fails to register, within the specified time, a maximum rent fixed by renting after the effective date, will be required to refund any reduction later ordered by the rent director. The refund to the tenant must be made from either the date of first renting or from March 1, 1944, whichever is later, except in cases where the unit was changed from unfurnished to fully furnished after July 1, 1943 in which case the reduction ordered and the refund due the tenant is effective back to the date first so rented.

Landlords having rental units which are registered should go to the area rent office to obtain the necessary forms, and assistance to properly register all such unregistered dwelling units.

When there is a change of tenants, the landlord must show his stamped copy of the registration statement to the new tenant, and obtain the tenant's signature and the date on the back of the form. Within five days after renting to a new tenant, the landlord is required to file a notice of change in tenancy, which shall also be signed by the new tenant. The tenant is not required to pay rent unless the landlord is willing to give the tenant a written receipt for the amount paid. All persons renting house-trailers and spaces for such trailers for dwelling purposes are required to register each such unit and space rented.

The maximum rent date for this defense rental area is March 1, 1942. For dwellings rented on the maximum rent date, the rent charged on that date is the maximum rent, Heath said. Regardless of any contract or agreement, whether made before or after the effective date of the regulation, the landlord cannot charge more than the maximum rent.

The emergency-price control act provides a tenant who has been charged more than the maximum rent may sue his landlord for three times the amount of the overcharge or for $50, for each separate overcharge, whichever amount is the greater. In addition, the tenant may recover reasonable attorney's fees and costs as fixed by the court.

The maximum rents fixed by the regulation may be increased only by an order of the rent director. The grounds on which the rent director may increase the maximum rent are limited. Landlords must petition the rent director on forms provided for this purpose and must secure an order approving an adjustment in rent before collecting the new rent. Some of the grounds on which a landlord may petition to raise his rents are:

Substantial alterations to the premises by major capital improvement.

Substantial increase in services or furnishings, in some cases where there has been a substantial increase in the number of occupants of the property, and in some cases where there has been a substantial increase in the number of sub-tenants.

Must Show Registration

The landlord's copy of the registration statement must accompany every petition for adjustment of rent.

Any rent collected in excess of the maximum rent is a over-ceiling rent and is refundable to the tenant.

Many refunds of over-ceiling rent to tenants are being made by old and new landlords (persons recently purchasing rental property) as a result of lack of understanding these requirements of the rent regulations. Petitions must be filed with the rent control office and an order issued by the rent director fixing the new rent before it can be so collected.

Decrease In Services

The landlord must petition the rent director for permission if he wishes to decrease the services, furniture, fixtures, equipment, utilities, or any substantial service furnished on the maximum rent date, or when first rented thereafter, unless the unit is vacant, or landlord has consent of tenant in which case a report to the rent office of such change is required within 10 days after so renting. The services must not be decreased until the landlord's petition has been approved and an order issued by the rent director, approving such decrease.

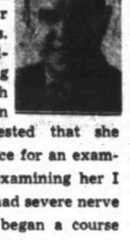

Landlords in this defense rental area who are renting rooms or other rental units that are not registered with the local rent control office should register all such rental units at once. Also all landlords who have not reported their last change of tenants should do so without delay, Heath explained. The forms for making this report and the registration statement forms should be obtained at the local area rent office, 1415 Avenue Q. Assistance will be gladly given by persons on duty in the rent control office.

Case History No. 1608. Lady age 22 who was tired all the time, nervous and irritable. She was also subject to severe sinus headaches. Her condition became so severe that she had to stop school. She came to my office for an examination. I found the cause of her trouble, removed the cause and today the young lady is back in school.

For every symptom there is a cause. If you do not get to the cause of your trouble, you cannot expect to get well. If you have pressure on nerves you can expect illness. We will be glad to examine you for the cause of your condition and if we can find the cause and correct it we will take you as a patient.

Touring Priest Suspended From His Duties In Church

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., May 13. (AP)—Rev. Stanislaus Orlemanski ran into a stormy homecoming today from his flying visit to Moscow and conference with Premier Stalin, getting a prompt suspension by his bishop as a greeting and quickly declaring in return he was "being crucified for my church."

The Polish-American priest immediately said he was appealing the suspension order, stripping him of all priestly privileges, to the apostolic delegate in Washington.

Views Are Different

The appeal, he told newspapermen at a press conference, automatically invalidated the suspension order and made it possible for him to carry on his parish duties pending action by the apostolic delegate, Archbishop Amleto Cicognani, on the appeal.

(Diocesan authorities, however, disagreed with this statement, saying that the suspension remained in force until higher church officials had ruled upon the appeal.

(They also said that failure to comply with the penalty would be a further violation of canon law and could lead to the imposition of heavier punishment.)

Most Rev. Thomas M. O'Leary, bishop of the Springfield diocese, announced the suspension only a few hours after Fr. Orlemanski returned from Russia. The suspension stated the priest could not administer the sacraments, celebrate mass or perform any other divine duties.

Purpose Of Trip

The priest told the newsmen "I went to Moscow to see what I could do for the church in Poland, the Ukraine and White Russia. But Stalin made it universal. He went belond my expectations and agreed not to persecute the Catholic church not only in those places but in any part of Russia.

"He went further than that in agreeing to co-operate with the church against persecution anywhere.

"This is a test case. If we cannot agree with Stalin on religion, how then can we get together with Stalin on material things?"

Fr. Orlemanski displayed a document, typed in Russian, which, he said, was Stalin's signed agreement not to persecute the church.

Stalin Reaction Feared

He said the premier first wanted to make the document public as soon as it was signed but finally agreed to allow Fr. Orlemanski to show it the apostolic delegate or to make it public himself, if he found that step necessary.

"I am being punished for doing something for my church," the priest added. "If Stalin hears things like this, he will be irritated—we may lose what we have gained.

Fr. Orlemanski said he had planned to keep secret his written agreement with Stalin, until he had turned it over to the apostolic delegate, "but I came back here and found what some priests had been saying about me, I decided to make the plan public."

The priest said, further, that he had brought back a definite plan for the form of government to be established in Poland after the war but he declined to give even the slightest hint as to what the plan embodied.

Delivered By O'Shea

The announcement of the suspension of priestly privileges was taken to Fr. Orlemanski by Rev. George J. Shea, chancellor of the diocese, who explained that Bishop O'Leary had imposed canonical penalties which would prohibit Fr. Orlemanski from functioning, although he still would remain a priest.

Shortly afterward, Fr. Orlemanski sent the following letter to Bishop O'Leary:

"You are hereby notified that I am no longer under your jurisdiction but the jurisdiction of the apostolic delegate in Washington, D. C. Sincerely yours in Christ, Fr. Stanislaus Orlemanski."

The priest declined any amplification of the message and refused further comment.

Nothing From Delegate

In Washington, a spokesman said the apostolic delegate has no statement to make at this time.

At the time his eventful visit to Moscow first was made public, a chancellery spokesman said that Fr. Orlemanski did not have his bishop's permission to make the trip.

The priest said that he had undertaken the voyage to do something good and added that he belonged to no party—no clique. "I am working for the Polish people," he declared.

"I went as a private citizen," the priest continued. "Nevertheless, I think my government is fully entitled to have a report from me on what I was doing in Moscow, and I expect to tell my government whom I saw, what was said and what I did.'

Two Periods Set For Asking Canning Sugar

The Lubbock Office of Price administration has announced that two periods have been designated during which consumers may apply for canning sugar.

The first period is from May 15 to July 1. An OPA spokesman pointed out that only ten pounds per person will be allowed during the period. The second period will be announced at a later date.

This change in procedure is in line with the regional OA request made earlier that consumers not apply for home canning sugar until some home grown fruit was available in the Lubbock district.

KRUEGER IN MEXICO

MEXICO CITY, May 13. (AP) — All morning papers with one exception reported today that "Lt. Gen. Walter N. Krueger" had arrived in Mexico for a rest, but the U. Wirtz Charges Demo Gag Rule

AUSTIN, May 13. (AP)—A. J. Wirtz, former state senator and former undersecretary of the interior, today criticised "a new self-constituted bosses" in the state Democratic executive committee and urged Roosevelt fourth-term supporters to attend and be on the alert at the state convention May 23.

Never referring to the "few self-constituted bosses" by name, Wirtz said they have spoken without authorization, in the name of the Democratic state executive committee, and have "attempted to place Texas on record in opposition to President Roosevelt and a fourth term."

Pretended Friendship

Wirtz said the group was pretending friendship for the President to induce endorsement of a plan to send an uninstructed delegation composed of "Roosevelt-haters" to the national convention.

Criticism was levelled by Wirtz at choice of the Texas Senate chamber as the state convention meeting place. He said the chamber was built to accommodate 31 state senators, and that it was inadequate to hold the delegates.

Wirtz also asked if the recent announcement that Austin hotel rooms all are taken meant that "the bosses" hope to discourage Roosevelt supporters from coming to Austin.

"Texas Democrats must be diligent," Wirtz said. "They must see that all delegates attend the convention. They must see that any attempt to apply the gag rule and to use the steam-roller is wrecked at the start."

Kansan Is To Speak To Knife And Fork Club This Week

* * *

The overall problem of feeding and supplying American civilians, armed forces and industry—plus lend-lease—is to be discussed at 7 o'clock Tuesday night in Lubbock hotel before the Knife and Fork club by Willard Mayberry, large-scale wheat farmer and sheep rancher.

Mayberry has gained a national reputation as spokesman for the highly specialized and important modern business of growing crops and raising livestock for food and raw materials for industry, said Jack M. Randal, Knife and Fork president.

Secretary To Landon

As a Shakespeare-quoting, country philosopher who speaks in plain terms on issues of importance to agriculture, Mayberry is a writer of magazine articles and in demand as a public speaker.

Until recently a member of the Kansas State Highway commission, Mayberry has been in close touch with farmers and business men throughout the Middle West. He was secretary to Governor Landon three years. In addition to his farming of wheat, maize and broom corn, and his sheep ranching, Mayberry is a small town editor and a truck, tractor and automobile dealer. He has worked on sheep and cattle ranches in Colorado and New Mexico, railroad construction gangs and in Rocky Mountain lumber camps.

A college graduate and former reporter for William Allen White's Emporia Gazette, Mayberry lives in Elkhart, Kas., once the heart of the dust bowl.

Little Hope Held Satellites Will Capitulate Before Invasion

WASHINGTON, May 13. (U.P.)—American officials doubted today whether any of the satellite nations would capitulate before the invasion of western Europe and the big Red Army drive to the west begin.

However, hope was expressed that yesterday's tri-partite declaration by Russia, Britain and the United States, promising softer terms to those who quit the war now and threatening dire consequences to those who don't, would at least cause dissension and unrest among the people behind the German lines.

Position Of Satellites

Looking at the position of the satellites realistically — occupied by German troops, filled with gestapo agents and dominated by puppet governments of the Axis—the Allies will be surprised, pleasantly so, if their declaration alone produces an actual surrender.

Although the declaration was addressed to the peoples of the satellites, it is the governments which must do the surrendering. The pressure by the Nazis on those governments not to surrender is just as strong as that of the Allies to do so.

The declaration, offering easier terms to Hungary, Bulgaria, Rumania and Finland, is popularly interpreted to mean that the "unconditional surrender" policy would be modified for the satellites if they elected to quit.

Not Concerned With Terms

Technically, however, unconditionally surrender is not concerned with terms. It means that any terms—harsh, medium or soft—shall be dictated by the victors and the surrendering nations shall not be permitted to bargain.

The term was coined by President Roosevelt at Casablanca and there has been considerable debate about its meaning ever since. Secretary of State Cordell Hull said this week that unconditional surrender still was the official policy of this government so far as he knew.

SOVIET EDITORIAL CRITICIZES LEADERS

MOSCOW, May 13. (U.P.)—The newspaper Izvestia, in an editorial commenting on the Allied declaration to small nations affiliated with Germany, said today that the present leaders of the satellites are not capable of "breaking with Germany, as is shown very clearly by the Finnish government."

"The question at issue," it added, "involves not only the present day but the whole national future of these countries which are chained to Hitler's chariot."

Wet-Dry Election Is Ordered In Yoakum

PLAINS, May 13. (Special) — The Yoakum county commissioners court has ordered an election to be held June 1, for the purpose of determinining whether beer shall be legalized in the county, it was announced here this week. The decision of the court to hold the election came after a petition, signed by W. H. Lobough and others, was presented.

Beer elections were held in this county three times in recent years, with the dry's winning each time. It is believed the recent election in Gaines county, adjoining Yoakum, prompted the signing of the petition for another election here.

Prisoner Exchange To Take Place May 17

MADRID, May 13. (AP)—Spanish authorities announced last night that everything was in readiness for the exchange at Barcelona May 17 of 919 Allied prisoners for an approximately equal number of Germans.

The Swedish exchange ship Gripsholm, which left New York May 2, is due in Barcelona May 15 and the German hospital ship Gradisca is due the next day from a north Italian port.

Reports from Barcelona said the Allied prisoners included 814 British and 18 American soldiers, 20 British civilians and 67 Latin-American civilians.

Details For Acceptance Of Nazi Surrender About Ready

By WES GALLAGHER
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, May 13.—American-British-Russian plans for acceptance of Germany's surrender are nearly completed, and call for complete destruction of the Prussian-built Army, a reliable informant disclosed tonight.

This war's terms for Germany are said to differ from the last war's in that they are "surrender" terms rather than "armistice" proposals.

Go Back To Big Three

The European advisory commission has nearly finished drafting these surrender terms and will turn the completed proposal back to the governments of the big three.

Go Back To Big Three

The European advisory commission has nearly finished drafting these surrender terms and will turn the completed proposal back to the governments of the big three.

Premier Stalin is then to give a directive to the Red Army commander-in-chief for negotiating with the Germans when the time comes, and the combined chiefs of staff then would forward the agreed plan to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as a directive in any negotiations he might undertake.

In the last war the German Army kept itself more or less intact under the armistice terms by marching back into Germany.

Complete Surrender

The new terms, it is understood, provide that the German Army must surrender completely, lay down its arms where it is fighting and await disposal by the Allied authorities. The Russians particularly are insistent on this point, fearing that the German Army might melt back into Germany.

Among the final details now being worked out are those dealing with exactly what German territory would come under control of the American and British and Soviet armies. Final determination naturally would be much influenced by where the armies are when the fighting ends.

OPA Validates B-4 Gasoline Coupons

"B"-4 gasoline coupons will be issued to fill future applications for "B" gasoline rations and will be valid immediately, the Lubbock Office of Price administration announced Saturday.

This early validation of "B"-4 coupons is due to the shortage of "B"-3 coupons in this region and gasoline dealers are being notified of the validity of these. The OPA pointed out that outstanding "B"-3 coupons are still valid.

New Invasion Weapon Shown To Churchill

LONDON, May 13. (AP)—A new and secret Allied invasion weapon capable of destroying certain enemy emplacements within less than five minutes was demonstrated yesterday to Prime Minister Churchill during an inspection of British troops somewhere in England.

Prime Minister W. L. McKenzie King of Canada and Jan Christiaan Smuts of the Union of South Africa accompanied Churchill.

All looked with the keenest interest as this weapon did its job with spectacular power and then shouting infantry went in to simulate a mopping up charge.

Partisan Stops 25 Bullets Of Firing Squad And Lives

AT A PARTISAN HOSPITAL in Italy, May 8. (Delayed) (AP) — Djuro Miljusevic, 31-year-old Yugoslav Partisan who faced a German firing squad and stopped 25 bullets including one through his face, can almost handle a rifle again.

Miljusevic, who was a farmer in Cordun, Croatia, before the war, went out on patrol with three other Partisan guerrillas last December and was cut off and captured. Two of the guerrillas escaped but Miljusevic said he and one companion were stood up before a firing squad of German machine-gunners.

Twenty-four machinegun slugs tore into Miljusevic's chest and shoulders and broke his left arm in three places, but he still lived. A German who saw him then fired a revolver bullet into his head.

The bullet entered near his left ear and emerged under his left eye, but after the Germans left he managed somehow to make his way to the home of friends. Later he was brought to a hospital here where he is now able to walk around and is regaining the use of his arm.

Slaton Pilot Killed In Accident In England

SLATON, May 13 (Special) — Mrs. Roswell Mayer of Slaton received a telegram this morning from the War department informing her that her husband, Flight Officer Roswell S. Mayer, was killed April 27, 1944, in an airplane accident in England. She received a letter several days ago from other members of his unit informing her of the accident.

The letter stated that the accident occurred as the plane was taking off on an afternoon mission. All ten members of the crew were killed.

A native of Orlando, Fla., F/O Mayer graduated from Lubbock Army Air field on June 26, 1943. He remained in the states until October, then was sent to England.

He was married July 6, 1943 to the former Miss Gertie Bee Waldrep, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Waldrep. She is residing at her parents' home in Slaton.

F/O Mayer was a pilot on a B-24 Liberator bomber. He had planned to come home sometime this month, upon completion of 30 missions. His parents are living in Vera Beach, Fla. He is survived also by a sister and a brother. His father is in California temporarily. Mayer would have been 21 years old May 5.

SPAAF Fete Is To Honor WACs

Soldiers personnel at South Plains Army Air field will pay tribute to the Women's Army corps Monday with a number of events which will honor the women soldiers on the second anniversary of the WAC as an important part of the nation's armed forces.

The day's ceremonies in honor of the Wacs will get under way at 5 o'clock Monday afternoon with soldiers standing in formal retreat and marching in review to the martial music of the SPAAF Band on the field's parade grounds.

Col. James A. DeMarco, commanding officer, will head the reviewing party, and in a formal letter commending the Wacs "for the unselfish effort you have made in serving along with the armed forces and materially aiding in shortening this global war," invited the WACS to be present for the review.

Awarding Of Medals

As a highlight of the ceremony, Col. Demarco will present Good Conduct medals to 41 members of the WACS at SPAAF in recognition of at least one year's meritorious service. The presentation will be made following the retreat.

A reception complete with a birthday cake will be conducted Monday night following the weekly radio program broadcast at the post theater over Station KFYO from 7:30 o'clock until 8 o'clock. The broadcast, the "Winged Commando Show," will present the WAC of the week at SPAAF and will give radio listeners an idea of the work the women are doing at AAF stations.

After the reception, which will be conducted in the Service club, a big dance has been planned for 8:30 o'clock with personnel of the field invited. The SPAAF dance orchestra will furnish music.

U.S. Airman Beats French To Draw In Blowing Up Train

LONDON, May 13 (U.P) — The latest French resistance sabotage story making the rounds:

An American Mustang pilot attacked a moving train in France and the explosion was so great that it damaged the American's plane and forced him to jump from his ship.

With his parachute still billowing about him, he was assailed by French railway workers who were screaming, "why did you do this?"

"You were a fair target, carrying German military supplies," the pilot replied.

"Oh, we don't care about being your target," they said, "but it wasn't necessary.

Fort Worth Market Record Is Smashed

FORT WORTH, May 13. (AP)—All records for a single week's marketing were smashed at Fort Worth livestock market in the sheep division during the first five days of this week.

Receipts totaling over 114,500 sheep and lambs arrived at the market during that period and the record for a single day's arrivals was broken Monday when 36,728 sheep and lambs were unloaded. Previous single day's record was 34,825 which arrived August 9, 1943.

Sweden Reports On Ballbearing Exports

STOCKHOLM, May 13. (AP) — Sweden's exports of ballbearings to Germany amounted to a maximum of three per cent of German production before the intensive Allied bombings began, but the percentage has now been increased, a foreign office statement said today.

The statement emphasized that the percentage increase was only by "an inconsiderable proportion."

Issued only to American correspondents, the statement declared that during the last two years "ballbearings have been exported from Sweden to Great Britain to very considerable values," mainly of high quality types. Because of difficulties of the transportation these exports were declared to be "less" than those to Germany.

With respect to airplane bearings, the foreign office said assertions that Germany was dependent on Sweden for 70 per cent of this type were "unreasonable."

Some Swedish bearings were used in German planes but, the statement said, those most essential for aircraft were "special types and have not been exported from Sweden to Germany."

Sergeant Is Dead, But His Mother Receives Gifts

MONT CLARE, Pa., May 13. (AP) Staff Sgt. John M. O'Stalfy, 22, couldn't make it in person, but he remembered his mother for Mother's day.

Mrs. Anna O'Stafly received a corsage from him today. On Wednesday she received two plants, and two weeks ago a bouquet of roses.

Mrs. O'Stafly learned last month that her son, an air force radio operator, had been killed in Sardinia in March. The orders were placed before his death.

Mexico's Railroad Strike Ends Friday

MEXICO CITY, May 3. (AP)—A "Wildcat" strike of railroad workers in the northeastern part of the country ended at midnight Friday night, the management of the government-operated railroads said today. The strike, by all employes except the trainmen boilermakers who recently withdrew from the general rail union, began Friday morning.

The national leadership of the union voted last night not to hold a general rail strike until after June 1.

South Plains Oil Development Activities . . . .

New Lower Permian Wildcats In Garza And Gaines Scheduled; Ownby Limits Extended

LOCATIONS for new lower Permian wildcats in northwest Garza county, and in west-central Gaines county; completion of a well extending producing limits of the Ownby field, in east Yoakum county, one mile north, and the showings of a new discovery in southeast Andrews, which evidence that the project will be a commercial producer, were the highlights of the petroleum development program for the North Permian Basin district during last week.

Honolulu Oil Corporation and Devonian Oil company No. 1 D. R. Payton, will be 660 feet from the south and 1,980 feet from the east-lines of section 1421, TTRR survey, in northwest Garza, less than one mile east of the Lynn county line.

Northwest Of Post

The new project is about 14 miles northwest of Post. It is to drill to at least 6,000 feet to explore through the lower Permian formation.

Bay Petroleum corporation No. 1 B. Cox, and others, 610 feet from the east and 660 feet from the south lines of section 468, block G. CCSD&RGNG survey, in west-central Gaines county.

The test will be on acreage farmed-out to Bay by Humble Oil & Refining company. Actual drilling was due to have started during the week.

More Testing In Andrews

Northwest Andrews county is due to get more testing of the lower Ordovician. Mid-Continent Petroleum corporation No. 1-7 University, 660 feet from the south and west lines of the southeast quarter of section 20, block 13, University survey, and southeast of the Fullerton field, is to be deepened from its present bottom of 7,500 feet, where it was dry in the Fullerton pay, to at least 11,000 feet, to test for the Ellenburger.

Several major companies, and independent operators are reported to have agreeded to support the deepening of the test. Actual work has not started, but is scheduled to in a short time.

Producers completed in North Permian Basin areas during the past week, include:

Great Western Producers, Inc. (George P. Livermore,) No. 1 Mary Hamilton, one mile north of the Ownby field, and 660 feet from the west and south lines of the northwest quarter of the west half of the northeast quarter of section 489, block D, John H. Gibson survey, in east Yoakum county, reported a pumping 24-hour potential of 200.08 barrels of oil, plus 6.3 per cent water, after treating with 3,000 and 10,000 gallons of acid, in the saturated section at 5,300-57 feet.

Tidewater Associated Oil company No. 4 Campbell & Posey, receivers, 990 feet from the south and west lines of section 897, block D. Gibson survey, on the southwest side of production in the Wasson field, in south Yoakum, injected 5,000 gallons of acid, and was completed for a flowing daily potential of 97.20 barrels, from pay section at 4,882-5,050 feet. Gas-oil ratio was 3,404-1.

More Slaughter Producers

The Texas company No. 19-F Mallett, 1,450 feet from the south and 1,337 feet from the east lines of labor 14, league 51, Scurry county school land, in the Slaughter area of Hockley county, has been completed for a daily potential of 746 barrels, after injecting 10,000 gallons of acid. The pay section was at 5,000-55 feet. Gas-oil ratio was 762-1.

Trinity Drilling company No. 5 Slaughter, acct. 2,400 feet from the west and 5,676 feet from the north lines of league 35, Zavalla county school land survey, and on the southeast side of the Slaughter field, in southwest Hockley county, made a daily potential of 507.84 barrels, after treating with a total of 10,000 gallons of acid. The pay was at 5,033-77 feet. Gas-oil ratio was 526-1.

Seek To Extend Limits

DeKalb Agricultural Association, Inc., Lubbock, No. 3 M. E. Jacobson, is an effort to extend the producing limits of the Slaughter field, by one location, in the northwest corner of Terry county.

Location for the project is 1,186 feet from the south and 440 feet from the east lines of the southeast quarter of section 6, block D-11, psl survey. It will drill to the Slaughter pay, around 5,100 feet.

Sunray Oil company No. 3 Gauvey, 660 feet from the north and west lines of labor 9, league 59, Martin county school land survey, an outpost to the northwest extension of the Slaughter field, in east Cochran county, has been completed for a 24-hour flowing potential of 508 barrels, after injecting 3,500 gallons of acid, by stages. The pay section was at 4,930-49 feet. Gas-oil ratio was 366-1.

Other Producers Made

Permian Oil corporation, Lubbock, No. 29-B Mallett, 510 feet from the north and east lines of labor 21, league 47, Edwards county school land survey, and in the Hockley county section of the Slaughter field, treated with a total of 10,000 gallons of acid, and made a flowing official 24-hour potential of 1,344.12 barrels, with gas-oil ratio of 847-1, from pay at 4,930-5,033 feet.

Standlind No. 3 Eugenia Collett, 1,988 from the north and 1,990 feet from the east lines of the lease in section 5, block C-30, psl survey, in the Cedar Lake district in northeast Gaines, was completed for a daily potential of 295 barrels, after shotting with 420 quarts. Pay was at 4,660-4,820 feet. Gas-oil ratio was 165-1.

Trinity Drilling company No. 7 Alex Slaughter estate, 1,230 feet from the west and north lines of league 35, Zazalla county school land survey, in south Hockley county, is a one location outpost from production on the southeast side of the Slaughter field.

Stanolind To Buy Leases

Stanolind Oil & Gas company, according to unconfirmed, but reliable sources, has contracted to buy three leases, with eight producers, in west Hockley county, and on the north side of the Slaughter field, from San Andres Production company.

No consideration has been announced. The properties involved are the Alewine lease with two wells, and an allowable for May of 1,608 barrels for the month; the Caddell lease with five wells, and 3,984 barrels allowable for May, and the Mary D. McRae, lease, with one well, and a May production allowable of 967 barrels.

Shell and Cities Service Oil company No. 4 E. F. King, 513 feet from the east and 1,980.6 feet, from the north lines of the southeast quarter of the northwest quarter of section 10, block A-42, psl survey, and a quarter of a mile northwest of the nearest production in the Mascho-Furhman field, in central Andrews, has been completed for a 24-hour flowing production of 1,000.52 barrels, with gas-oil ratio of 2,130 feet, from a pay section topped at 4,280 feet. The present bottom of the hole is at 4,454 feet, plugged back from 4,474 feet. The gauge was based on the production during six hours, when the well produced 260.58 barrels of oil and 10.45 barrels of water.

New Discovery Swabbed

Stanolind Oil & Gas company No. 1-F Midland Farms, new upper Permian discovery in southeast Andrews, and in section 1, block 42, G&MMB&A survey, T-2-N, about eight miles from the Mabee pool on the east and the same distance from the Emma field on the west, has swabbed for 200 barrels of oil per day, natural from a pay section between the casing seat at 4,756 feet, and the total depth at 4,888 feet.

The operator was continuing to test the project. No appreciable water has been reported and informed circles indicate that the wildcat has already shown enough to assure it being an oil well. It is 24 miles airline, northwest of Midland.

Limits Are Extended

Limits of the Union lower Permian field in northwest Andrews were extended one-half mile south during the week, with the completion of Union Oil company of California No. 4 J. D. Biles, for a 24-hour flowing potential of 815.61 barrels, after treating the pay section from 6,890-7,450 feet, with a total of 16,000 gallons of acid by stages. Gas-oil ratio was 544-1.

The new producer is 660 feet from the east and south lines of section 12, block A-31, psl survey, and one-half mile south of the nearest producer.

To Build New Plant

Union No. 5 Biles, in section 19, block A-31 psl survey, and another extension effort of for the Union field, had reached 7,160 feet, and was drilling ahead in lime.

Announcement released during the week that Shell Oil company, Inc., was preparing to build a new natural gasoline plant, in the Union area, to use gas from the wells in that pool, for making natural gasoline, indicates that the area is in for an intensive development program, since it requires a large number of wells to furnish enough gas to justify operation of a gasoline plant of the porportions Shell is reported to be planning to erect.

Another Plant Planned

In addition, the recent official announcement that Phillips Petroleum company will build a similiar plant in the Fullerton field, about four miles south of the location of the new Union plant, gives further substantiation to the prospects for a considerable number of new wells being drilled in that area.

Anderson-Prichard Oil Corporation No. 1 McCrea, section 1, block A-48, psl survey, and on the southwest side of the Fullerton field, is swabbing to kick-off an test, after treating with a second-stage shoot of 10,000 gallons of acid, to the total depth at 7,004 feet. The pay section started around 6,828 feet, where 5½-inch casing has been cemented.

Flows 750 Barrels

The extension project flowed 90.4 barrels in 11 hours, after being treated with the first-stage injection of 6,000 gallons of acid.

Frankel Brothers No. 4-A University, section 17, block 13, University survey, and another southwest flanker for the Fullerton, but southeast of the Anderson-Prichard test, flowed 750 barrels of pipe line oil in 11 hours, from a pay section at 6,804-7,036 feet, after 2,000 gallons and 6,000 gallons of acid.

The operators are planning to do more testing and cleaning before completion.

Frankel No. 2-A University, also in section 17, block 13, University, and another one location outpost to production, cemented 7-inch casing at 6,793 feet, on the total depth of 6,834 feet, after topping the pay at 6,831 feet, and is due to start testing early in the week.

Test Nears 12,000 Feet

Sun Oil company No. 1 F. E. Gardner, section 17, block A-35, psl survey, in north-central Andrews, and about three miles west of the Means pool, has spudded to 260 feet, and is preparing to cement surface pipe.

Humble Oil & Refining company No. 1 Carter, central Andrews Ellenburger exploration, in section 23, block A-46, psl survey, had progressed to 11,783 feet in lime.

Humble No. 1 Scarborough, section 7, block A-40, psl survey, west-central Andrews wildcat to the lower Ordovician, was boring ahead in shale, likely the Waddell section of the Simpson, middle Orrovician, below 10,463 feet.

Anchor Packer Stuck

An unofficial call on the top of the Simpson has been made at 9,840 feet. on a surface elevation of 3,337 feet.

Sinclair Prairie Oil company No. 1 Grisham-Hunter, southwest Andrews Ellenburger exploration, which has been delayed for several days, trying to mill out a 42-foot section of anchor packer, which had stuck at 11,193 feet, on the total depth of 11,236 feet, after calling top of the Ellenburger at 11,191 feet, with an elevation of 3,242 feet, was drilling by the obstruction, and at last report, had reached 11,207 feet, and was due to get the new hole bored out and be in shape to start trying to test the formation, in a few days.

Shell No. 1 G. M. Cox, section 5, block A-31, psl survey, four miles northwest of the Union pool, had penetrated to 9,818 feet, and and continuing.

Janes Test Plugged Back

Continental Oil company No. 1 A. E. H. Jones, northwest Gaines county deep exploration, had plugged-back to 11,783 feet, after testing between that level, and the total depth at 12,222 feet, and failing to develop anything other than water.

The zone at 10,750-820 feet, has been gun-perforated with 75 shots and the other is starting to swab to test, for oil. Location of the development is in section 22, block A-7, psl survey.

Shell No. 1 Jones, section 490, block G, CCSD&RGNG survey, three-quarters of a mile southwest of the Russell field, in northwest Gaines, was drilling ahead past 7,238 feet. This test has about 500 feet more to drill before it is expected to pick up the pay section in the Clear Fork, lower Permian.

Magnolia Petroleum company No. 1-491, Havemyer & Jenny, section 491, block G, CCSD&RGNG survey, one-half mile west extension effort for the Russell production, has reached 6,193 feet, in lime, and was continuing.

Making New Hole

Shell No. 1 Sparks, section 3, block A-13, psl survey, scheduled 8,000-foot wildcat in southwest Gaines, was making new hole under 4,153 feet in anhydrite and lime.

Humble No. 1 Doss, section 9, block A-24 psl survey, eight miles south and west of Seminole, in south-central Gaines, was drilling ahead below 4,258 feet, in lime.

Stanolind No. 1 Riley, 79, block H, D & W survey, in northeast Gaines, was digging past 4,093 feet in anhydrite and lime, after testing through a zone at 3,230-3,466 feet, where some gas was indicated. The volume of gas was not very large.

Fishing For Tools

Phillips Petroleum company No. 1 Bartley, section 1372, block 1, ELRR survey, in east Lynn county, had reached 3,797 feet, and was fishing for lost tools.

Phillips No. 1 Ellwood, north outpost to the one-well Smyer pool in east Hockley county, and in section 20, block A, R. M. Thompson survey, had progressed to 5,175 feet, and was drilling ahead. This project is due to encounter a saturated section around 5,850 feet, in the lower Permian lime.

Stanolind No. 1 DeLoache, labor 19, league 80, Reeves county school land survey, in northwest Hockley, eight miles southwest of the discovery well in the Yellowhouse field, had drilled below 4,625 feet, in lime, and was going ahead.

Progress In Other Ttests

Helmerich & Payne, Inc., No. 1 Wright, labor 19, league 97, Brewster county school land survey, 6,500-foot wildcat, three miles northwest of the nearest production in the Slaughter field, and in east-central Cochran county, was making hole below 2,790 feet.

San Andres Production company No. 1 M. B. Clouser, labor 18, league 62, Midland county school land survey, prospector three miles northwest of Whiteface, in east-central Cochran, had progressed under 3,568 feet in shale and anhydrite.

Humble No. 1 Jackson, section 119, block A, R. M. Thompson survey, in southeast Lamb county, was bottomed at 3,216 feet, in lime, and was scheduled to run a string of 9 5-8-inch casing to that level.

Lubbock Test Shut Down

Smith-Griggs Oil company No. 1 Griggs, section 44, block P, EL & RR survey, in northwest Lubbock county, was on a total depth of 5,691 feet, in lime, and was reported shutdown for rig repairs.

Neville G. Penrose, Inc., No. 1 Moore, section 82, block T, D&W survey, in northeast Terry county, had made hole to 1,135 feet, and was temporarily shutdown, for repairs.

Seaboard Oil company of Delaware and Texas Pacific Coal & Oil company No. 1 Nairn, section 46, block A, Gibson survey, prospector one and one-half miles northwest of the one well in the Lubbock pool, in central Lubbock county, was drilling past 4,738 feet in lime. This test is expected to encounter oil show between 5,100 feet and 5,300 feet.

Casing Is Run

Schermerhorn Oil Corporation No. 1 Moss, section 606, block D, Gibson survey, central Yoakum county outpost to the one-well West pool, had run 8-inch casing to 3,290 feet, to hold a caving Yates section, and of preparing to drill ahead from that level.

Northern Ordnance, Inc., No. 1 Clayton & Johnson, section 32, block 31, TP survey, T-4-N, south Borden county exploration, was making hole under 6,281 feet, in lime. No commercial oil, and no oil signs, other than slight indications, have been developed.

Lion Oil Refining company No. 1 Everett Turner, section 17, block C-38, psl survey, in extreme northwest Dawson county, had reached 1,825 feet, in redbeds, and was drilling ahead.

Gulf Oil Corporation No. 1 Buck, section 104, block G, WT survey, in north Gaines county, had progressed to 2,415 feet.

Case, Pomeroy & company, Inc., No. 1 Kuehn, section 11, block C-44, psl survey, in southeast Gaines, was, going ahead under 3,680 feet, in anhydrite, topped at 2,240 feet, on an elevation of 3,236 feet.

SPAAF Winged Commandos In Daring Burma Flights

At least eleven and possibly several more Winged Commandos who received their training and wings at South Plains Army Air field are making a name for themselves in the daring airborne blows against the Japs in central Burma, it was announced at the big "school for invasion" Saturday.

Five of the eleven men who played important roles in the first wave of "ghost ships" which swept in to establish an air field 150 miles behind the Japs' lines were Texas men. All lived in the city at one time or another during the past year and with the exception of one received their wings at SPAAF.

The men who are definitely known to have taken part in the Burma invasion, described as "one of the most daring of all aerial operations in history," include Lt. Patrick Hadsell of Denton, Texas, Lt. Richard Kuenstler of San Antonio, Flight Officer Vernon Noland of Port Neches, Texas, Flight Officer Benjamin O. Cavender of Wichita Falls, Flight Officer Charles Turner of Palo Pinto, Lt. Steve T. Uminski of Malden, Mass., Lt. Vincent J. Rose of Kenosha, Wis., Lt. Neal J. Blush of Whitefish, Mont., Flight Officer Gene A. Kelly of Milwaukee, Wis., Flight Officer Jake Newland of Spokane, Wash., and Flight Officer James Bartlett of Lucas, Kans.

In one of the first complete eyewitness accounts of the Burma landings, Sgt. Ed Cunningham of "Yank," Army magazine, describes the operation which was conceived by Gen. H. H. Arnold, chief of Army Air forces, and under the direction of Col. Phil Cochran's command.

Two Pilots Planned Invasion

"The invasion planners were Col. Philip G. Cochran, 34-year-old Erie, Penn., pilot who is the real life Flip Corkin of Milton Caniff's comic strip, "Terry and the Pirates," and another famous combat pilot whose name may not be disclosed. Close friends since their flying school days, Cochran and the other airman were naturals for the jobs of CO and deputy of the new Air Commando force," Cunningham wrote.

"Cochran's Commandos hit the Japs just where they never expected to be hit—right in the middle of their own back yard. They did it with an integrated striking force that included seven types of aircraft, all regular components of the Air Commando force . . . ."

Coasted In By Moonlight

"The first two gliders encountered Jap ack-ack while being towed to their objective, a flight that took them across the 7,000-foot Chin hills and the Chindwin and Irrawaddy rivers. With only the moonlight to guide them, the gliders coasted in blind onto a strange field, obstructed by ruts, logs and a large tree in the very center. Each glider carried tough British assault troops as a defense against Jap ground attack.

"Maj. William H. Taylor of St. Louis, Mo., glider unit CO, piloted the first ship to land, with Tech Sgt. Perry L. Garten of Kansas City, Mo., line chief of the glider ground crews, as his co-pilot. The second glider was piloted by Lt. Neal Blush of Whitefish, Mont., (he received his wings at SPAAF on March 15, 1943), with Cpl. John Kinner of Iron River, Mich., as co-pilot. By the light of smudge pots carried in the gliders, they set up an electric lighting system to guide in other planes arriving later. Meanwhile British patrols pushed deep into the surrounding jungles on the lookout for hostile forces."

The story goes on to tell how 24 hours later with the aid of engineering equipment flown in by the gliders, the world's busiest air strip was ready for the first fleets of big cargo planes to sweep in with more material and reinforcements. Lt. Jackie Coogan, onetime child movie star, who received part of his training at Plainview, piloted the first glider to land at a second point in Burma. SPAAF graduates, also took part in this second landing operation, Flight Officer Vernon Noland of Port Neches, Texas, and a graduate of SPAAF last July 10, helping to bring in badly needed engineering equipment in gliders.

Landed Boats For British

In another glider operation British troops needed flat bottomed boats to cross a river. Cochran's Commandos landed their gliders on a sand bar at night, unloaded several motor powered boats and the British crossed.

Flight Officer Jake Newland of Spokane, Wash., who received his wings at SPAAF Feb. 18, 1943, piloted one of the gliders.

The glider, used by the Nazis in the Lowlands and in the conquest of Crete, and by the Allies in spearheading the invasion of Sicily has steadily been accepted as one of the more important innovations of the war.

Only last week in England, high invasion chiefs of the American and British forces watched the maneuvers of glider forces and Air Chief Marshal Tafford L. Leigh-Mallory, Allied air commander, told the Winged Commandos that "one of the greatest moments of history is in front of you."

Earlier, it had been announced that gliders, in addition to transporting airborne infantrymen and assault forces to hop over the walls of Hitler's Fortress Europe, would transport hospital units to areas where they were most needed by invasion forces.

News dispatches from London the past week have indicated that the glider may play one of the leading roles in the long awaited invasion from the west.

Aircraft Companies Have Big Dividends

WASHINGTON, May 12. (AP)—The Economic Outlook, publication of the Congress of Industrial organizations, declared today that the profits after taxes of the seven largest aircraft companies in 1942 were "$1.79 for each $1 of stockholders' adjusted investments."

The magazine said that the companies' dividends in 1942 were six and a half times larger than in 1937, but that the average weekly wages of employes had risen by only two-thirds in the same period.

Plainview Host At Lions Meet

PLAINVIEW, May 13. (Special)—Two hundred fifty representatives from the 60 Lions clubs in district 2-T are expected to attend a district conference here Sunday and Monday.

Registration will commerce at 2:20 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the Hilton hotel and the conference will be concluded Monday night with a dinner program there.

District President Jack Griffits of Panhandle and his cabinet of five deputy governors and nine zone chairmen will meet at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the first official session of the conference. Deputy governors are Boyd Meador of McLean; G. R. Whitworth of Matador; Dennis Lilly of Brownfield; Lee Johnson of Wink, and L. R. Harding of El Paso.

Three Candidates

There are three announced candidates for district governor: Johnson, John McLean of Hereford and Harding. All signs point toward hot election campaigns.

Special church services are scheduled at 8:30 p. m. Sunday at the First Methodist church with Rev. Jimmie Aiken, Hereford Presbyterian pastor, delivering the sermon. There will be a breakfast at 8:30 o'clock Monday morning honoring club presidents, secretaries and key members.

Bryan Hood, president of the Plainview Lions club, will call the first general session to order at 9 o'clock Monday morning at the Texas theater. Joe Don Scott, Plainview Chamber of Commerce president and a member of the host club, will make the address of welcome to which Ralph E. Randall of Panhandle, past district governor, will respond.

Memorial Service

Grady Wilson of Amarillo will have charge of the memorial service honoring Lions club members who have died in the past year. The services is scheduled at 10:45 a. m.

Among those to appear on the program are Howard R. Sisson, St. Louis, director of Lions International; Roy Keaton, Austin, secretary of the Texas district governors cabinet; Griffits, and others. E. O. Wedgeworth of Snyder is the conference song leader and Miss Juanita Heard, also of Snyder, is the official accompanist.

The district governor will be elected Monday afternoon in the session scheduled to commence at 3:30 o'clock. Results of the election and voting on site of the next conference will be announced at the banquet that night. Joe Pond of Big Spring, past district governor, will be master of ceremonies at the banquet. J. M. Willson of Floydada, a member at large of the Plainview club, will act as master of ceremonies at the noon luncheon.

The conference has adopted no definite theme, but all discussions will center on means of aiding the war effort and planning for post war activity, Lions President Bryan Hood said.

AT LEAST TWO PLAN TO ATTEND FROM HERE

President Ewell L. Hunt and Marshall Harvey, secretary, both of Lubbock, will attend all sessions of the district 2-T conference in Plainview, they said Saturday afternoon.

There had been no indication here as to which clubs would apply as host city for the 1946 conference.

Suit Of Clothes Made From First Bale Of Cotton Grown In County Given To Museum

* * *

A suit of clothes made from the first bale of cotton ever raised in Lubbock county is one of the most recent and interesting donations made to the West Texas Museum on the campus of Texas Technological college.

The suit of clothes was presented to the museum by Charles A. Pierce, pioneer Lubbock rancher and oilman.

Cotton in the suit was grown by the late J. W. Peeler in 1900 on the west line of Lubbock county, south and west of the present Hurlwood community. It was carried by freight wagon to Big Spring where it was ginned.

The cotton was purchased by H. A. Pierce of Waxahachie, fath e. of the Lubbock man, and was milled at the Waxahachie Cotton mills. It was made into 'duckin' and towels. The suit is made of the duck. It was tailored by John Wolcott of Big Spring, present Howard county tax assessor-collector, by Matthews brothers of Waxahachie.

The suit was given to Pierce by Wolcott in 1939.

Good Neighbor Policy Soundest Foundation

NEW YORK, May 13. (AP)—Assistant Secretary of State Adolf A. Berle declared today that the good neighbor policy must be the foundation of United States foreign policy throughout the world.

"So far as the United States is concerned," he said, "no policy can be sound unless it takes account of this basic reality."

Speaking before the Inter-American Development commission, Berle praised plans to industrialize Latin-America so that eventually "no country will be limited to agriculture or mining."

The United States has completely abandoned the idea of using American capital and technicians to exploit Latin-American farming countries, Berle said.

He also urged progressive employment security, health, education and housing programs as the joint responsibility of private enterprise and governments.

Germans Move On Along Croatian Front

LONDON, May 13. (AP)—German troops in fierce fighting along the entire Croatian front have penetrated into liberated territory, but in Slovonia Yugoslav troops have taken the initiative, Marshal Josip Broz (Tito) declared in a communique today.

The bulletin made no mention of a Naples announcement by Yugoslav authorities there that the Army of Liberation had opened an all-out offensive against the Germans, attacking the Vardar and Ibar valleys leading into Greece, where the Nazis were reported harrassed by Greek patriots.

Several thousand Germans were reported exerting powerful pressure on Partisan positions in western Bosnia, but there was no indication they were making much headway.

The enemy penetrated liberated territory at Lika, Tito's communique said, adding that heavy fighting raged there. The bulletin said that in the Pikuplije and Karlovac areas, "the enemy offensive is continuing."

Draft Situation Varied In Texas

(By The Associated Press)

Many Texas draft boards today were prepared to go to the bottom of their manpower barrels following a new Selective Service directive giving blanket deferment to men over 30 years of age who are in essential industries. Other boards indicated the supply would last through two or three more calls.

Most Texas boards still awaited the new directive from Washington, but were making preparation on the basis, as the Amarillo board put it, of what they had read in the papers. Some expressed desire for clarification of numerous orders, and, especially, a definition of "essential."

The two Lubbock draft boards reported a "nice backlog of reserves." The Potter county board's outlook was a different one—officials anticipate a hardship in filling future quotas.

Other boards indicating their manpower situation would be taxed in the near future by the directive included those at Sherman, Weslaco, Gainesville and San Antonio.

Protect Men Over 30

Harris county draft officials were preparing to protect men over 30, and at Fort Worth it was announced that Tarrant county boards have filled their May calls with men under 26.

Four local boards at Corpus Christi have cancelled orders of all men over 26. There will be no change in the situation at Laredo, where the board's chief clerk said earlier all men over 30 are now deferred, nor has any change of plans been decided by the Navarro county board at Corsicana. Hidalgo county officials have also announced there will be no change in the situation there.

The Mission board says it has enough men to meet the next calls, and the Travis county board at Austin is relying on men 26 and under and volunteers, officials said, to fill coming quotas.

Baptists To Convene In Atlanta May 16-18

ATLANTA, May 14. (AP)—In a streamlined meeting, approximately 3,000 messengers, other officials and guests are expected to attend the annual Southern Baptist convention here Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday (May 16-18), Dr. Louie D. Newton, chairman of the committee on local arrangements, announced today.

President Pat M. Neff, of Baylor university, Waco, Texas, and former governor of the Lone Star state, will preside.

Among the controversial questions are the proposed changes in teh constitution and by-laws of the convention offered last year. Among these is a rotating system of electing members of all boards, whereby no board member could serve more than two terms in succession.

Also recommended is that, instead of each board having a large local committee in the city where the board is located, there be only six board members from the state in which the board is located and that these constitute the executive committee of the boards.

Chief features of the first sessions Tuesday afternoon will be the presidential address by Neff and the convention sermon.

Canada has approximately 34,450 women employed in mining, logging, transportation, communications and building trades.

REQUISITION APPROVED

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 13. (AP)—Governor Dwikht H. Green Friday approved an Illinois requisition asking extradition of Soylo Villegos, 26, from Crystal City, Tex., to Chicago to face a charge of murdering his wife, Mrs. Louis Villegos, 26, whose body was shipped in a trunk from Chicago to Los Angeles.

FARMERS and DAIRYMEN
COTTON SEED HULLS
DRAFTED FOR OUR FIGHTING FORCES

Selective Service applies to essential war materials, as well as men. Men and matrials, both, must go to war when our Government says they are needed. Every American would have it this waq, for WINNING THE WAR IS THE MOST ESSENTIAL JOB WE ALL FACE TODAY. COTTONSEED HULLS are ESSENTIAL WAR MATERIAL, as well as important Livestock Feed for dairymen and other livestock producers.

THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT IS "DRAFTING" COTTONSEED HULLS FROM THIS OIL MILL NOW, FOR USE BY THE CHEMICAL PLANT AT MEMPHIS IN MAKING SYNTHETIC RUBBER AND OTHER WAR ESSENTIALS. This War Plant has a certificate which gives it priority in the purchase of cottonseed hulls or hull bran up to 100% of the output of any oil mill during the period May 6th, through July 30th.

We must, of course, comply with this Government order. It means a sacrifice for us and our regular customers—dairymen and others who need these hulls for livestock feed, BUT, OUR FIGHTING FORCES COME FIRST, AND WE KNOW THAT LIVESTOCK PRODUCERS WILL WILLINGLY MAKE THIS CONTRIBUTION TO WINNING THE WAR, JUST AS THEY HAVE PATRIOTICALLY MADE SO MANY OTHER CONTRIBUTIONS.

As soon as cottonseed from the new, 1944 Cotton Crop begins to come to our mill, we hope to be able to supply our regular livestock customers with cottonseed hulls, as usual. COTTON FARMERS CAN HELP TO SOLVE THIS PROBLEM FOR THEMSELVES AND OTHER LIVESTOCK PRODUCERS BY DOING EVERYTHING THEY CAN TO INCREASE COTTON PRODUCTION THIS YEAR.

The SPORTS EYE

By Mack Turner

THE Lubbock Westerners have closed spring football practice, and events of the last week of the spring camp certainly did nothing to raise them beyond the possible third place hopes for next fall, and perhaps put them in the role for fourth in the league standings.

In spite of the ideas advanced by our friend Putt Powell up in Amarillo a team can't lose possible All-State stars like Homer Lawson, a mighty good center prospect like Robert Haley, and a pair of seasoned backs like Roy Grimes and Bueron Lindsey, and still come up smiling.

But we have a hunch that the Westerners are going to win some ball games next year, even optimistic fans of the city will have to admit that the chances don't look so rosy.

There are going to be some good boys on the Westerners next season, and some that were there last year will be much better than they were a year ago. They know a little more about football than they did a year ago.

It is just tough luck that the Westerners will lose those boys that wiggled in on the graduation lists last week, but that is just one of those things. In these days when everything about the future is so uncertain, the boys can't be blamed for grabbing the chance to graduate. They are all good boys, and we join the rest of the Westerner fans and players in wishing them the best of luck in their future.

We hope that Putt Powell will reserve us a seat in the press box at Butler Field for the bi-district game with District 2-AA next December.

BARRING possible injuries next season, we hope to see three Westerners on the All-District team. That will be a pretty good order for a fourth place team in the district, but maybe those three will take care of that part and rate something just a little better.

We said last season that Johnny Davis was one of the smoothest runners that we have seen since we watched Dick Todd and Tolly McKown roam the football fields of North Texas. Johnny was not the sensational runner of those two boys, but we have always liked the way Johnny used the last thread of interference that was offered him, and with a little better blocking, Johnny would make a good ball carrier in any company.

There are few—if any—lines in high school football that are going to stop R. W. Moyers next fall. Moyers had a good year last season, but in spring practice this year he has been a wheel horse, and has shown drive and thunder that has made him an outstanding man in the camp. He has been just as much in evidence on the defense.

That third man of the squad that we are personally looking forward to watching next season is Johnny Pearson, last year's watch charm guard of the Westerners. Pearson was a good guard last year, but if he plays all through the season like he played in spring training, he will be a great guard. Last Friday we watched Pearson closely through the practice, standing back of the offensive team through most of the workout, and I saw plenty of Pearson in the offensive backfield when the rest of his team was on the defense.

A week ago, Lawson and Haley were on this list.

THIS brings up the question—what will the Westerners have?

There are some promising boys on the team, a few of them lettermen, but most of them off last season's Cowhands, and one or two from the Junior High school who may pass up the Cowhands and move on into play with the Westerners.

There are enough of those boys to give the Westerners a full squad, and a promising squad, but certainly not a championship squad. Boys like Noel Sikes, Johnny Gamble, Johnny Trout, Bobby Booker, Wayne Cobb, John Lanham, T. J. Price and a few others will give them some reserves in the backfield that have plenty of promise.

And one fan remarked Friday at Chapman Field, "They will have Noel Sikes," and in this he voiced an opinion of many who have liked the looks of the little "half pint" scat back both offensively and defensively, but the fact remains, Sikes is light, he hasn't had much experience, but he has got fight and hustle and will see plenty of action.

There are some good prospects in the line. Veterans Charles Pressley and O. C. Foster look good. Then there are the revamped ends, Clinton Benefield and Billy Bob Harris who have looked very good. But the rest of the line will have to prove it's merits next fall.

Pressley can take care of the center post, but it would have sure been nice to know that Haley was around to help out, and the coaches could have had two good boys to rest each other at this position.

Right now we would say the first string lineup next fall would find Harris and Benefield on ends; Foster and Giles at tackles; Pearson and Crawford at guards; Pressley at center; Lowrey or Cole at quarterback, Brewer and J. Davis at halves and Moyers at fullback.

But there are boys at just about every position that will be hard to keep out, and maybe the coaches have a far different idea from yours truly, but we were sure tempted to slip the name "Sikes" into that lineup someplace.

I'll be seeing you.

A's Knock Browns Off League Peak

PHILADELPHIA, May 13. (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics knocked the St. Louis Browns out of first place in the American League today when they pounded four Brownie pitchers for 17 hits and an 8-3 victory in the first game of their series before a crowd of 6,125.

The Browns took a 1-0 lead in the second inning, but the Mackmen tied it on Ford Garrison's home run in the third, and knocked Al Hollingsworth out of the box with two more runs in the third.

Roberto Estalella hit another homer in the fifth, with Garrison aboard, to make it 5-1, and in the sixth, after the Browns had scored twice, the A's drove Sigmund Jakucki off the mound with another pair of counters.

Don Black allowed only five St. Louis hits, and had excellent backing afield, with the A's running off four double plays.

Cardinals Keep Pace, Win 8-4

ST. LOUIS, May 13. (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals made it three out of four from the Brooklyn Dodgers by winning today's game 8-4, with a five-run rally in the fifth inning.

Rube Melton held the Cardinals scoreless until that fatal inning when he suddenly lost control and walked three batters in a row after Emil Verban had singled, to force in a run.

Calvin McLish, 18-year-old rookie, followed Melton to the slab and yielded two hits, the Cards scoring five times to wipe out a two-run Dodger lead.

Brooklyn had tallied twice in the fourth frame when Stan Bordagaray was safe on Marty Marion's error, Luis Olmo singled, Augie Galan walked and Owie Schultz singled.

The Cards tallied again in the sixth on Stan Musial's fourth straight walk, his steal of second, and Walker Cooper's single. Musial featured in the Redbirds' final two runs in the eighth when he triped in Debs Garms, who had singled, and scored on a bad throw by Schultz.

BRAVES BLAST BUCS

PITTSBURGH, May 13. (AP) — The Boston Braves hammered three Pittsburgh pitchers for 23 hits today as they won a four-game series with the Pirates, 3 to 1, by blasting out a 16-2 victory in their first Western invasion. It was the Braves' seventh victory in their last nine games and ran their total of hits in their three victories to 53.

Truckers Set Pace In Softball League

Timely hitting of the Truckers kept them ahead of the pack in the South Plains Army Air Field softball league at the end of the week.

In their only game of the week, the Truckers nosed out Section A (former 1099th) 7-6 with clutch hitting. They won their first two games of the season by close margins, downing the Section F Linesmen 14-12 and Section C (former C-60) 8-4.

Section A (former 370th) added another victory to their column by downing Section C (former C-60) 8-4. In other games of the week Section C (former Glider Maintenance) defeated Section C (A-25) 20-12 and Administrative Officers defeated the Linesmen 8-1 in a no-hit, no-run game pitched by Lieut. Donald K. Rains, his second consecutive perfect game.

OWEN PUT IN 1-A

ST. LOUIS, May 13. (AP)—Mickey Owen, catcher of the Brooklyn Dodgers, disclosed today he had been classified 1A in the draft but said he had not yet received notice to report for pre-induction physical examination.

THEY'RE BITING—This is the report that has come in from far and wide from fishermen—and fisherettes—who have been "wetting a hook in the lakes, rivers, ponds, tanks and creeks. Several fishermen in the Lubbock area have reported catches have been good. Most of the reports have been from private lakes, Buffalo Lake and Red Bluff. Travel restrictions have prevented any widespread invasion of the lairs of the finny tribe, but some have found means of getting to the water holes.

Pensive Strikes In Fast Finish To Cop First In Preakness

PIMLICO RACE COURSE, BALTIMORE, May 13. (AP)—Striking from behind in the stretch as he did a week ago in the Kentucky Derby, Pensive today won the 54th and richest Preakness to take a strange hold on the three-year-old championship.

Far back in the early running, the chestnut son of the English Derby winner, Hyperion, from Warren Wright's Calumet farm hit the wire at the end of the mile and three-sixteenths three-quarters of a length ahead of George D. Widener's Platter. Mrs. Payne Whitney's Stir Up, third in the derby, once again finished in the same spot, beaten two and one-half lengths after setting a burning pace through the first mile.

Claims Big Purse

In travelling the distance in 1:-59 1-5, two and one-fifth seconds off Alsab's stake record, Pensive earned $60,075 of the gross purse of $80,075 and ran his owner's earnings for the year to $250,840.

The sweltering crowd of 33,011 made Pensive the choice in a wagering spree that broke all records for the race. They poured $332,108 through the machines, compared to the previous high of $254,000 when Man O'War won in 1920.

With the fans beating out a steady tune on the machines, Pensive returned $5.30, $3.10 and $2.20 across the board. Platter, making his second start of the year, paid off at $4.10 to place and $2.70 to show while a $2 show ducat on Stir Up was worth $2.50.

Never In Doubt

"My horse never left me in doubt," said Conn McCreary after dismounting from Pensive and watching his boss and trainer Ben Jones receive the coveted Woodlawn vase.

Coming into the mile post in 1:39 3-4 at the top of the three-sixteenth of a mile homestretch, Platter caught the tiring Stir Up but by that time Pensive was in a position to give the Widener colt a battle. There was little to choose between the pair for the next eight as Stir Up faded but with the finish line only one-sixteenth of a mile away, Pensive stuck his head in front and there he stayed.

The three leaders were easily best of the field. Stir Up had four lengths to spare over Mrs. A. J. Abel's Gramps Image. Gay Bit from Robert Bruce Livie's Bobanet stable was fifth, Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs' Stymie sixth and A. C. Ernest's Alorter last. Alorter pulled up lame.

Rosenthal Presents Kids New Equipment

Prexy Sam Rosenthal, former head of the Lubbock Hubbers in the West Texas-New Mexico League, has a present for the kids of Lubbock who will be playing Junior Baseball here this summer.

On a recent buying trip to St. Louis, Rosenthal picked up mask, chest protectors and shin guards for the two Lubbock Leagues, and will turn then over to the leagues for use during play this summer. They are top grade, Major League equipment.

The catching equipment was bought for both the Senior and Junior Leagues, Rosenthal said.

More equipment, balls and bats are also on hand, left over from past years and owned by the city recreation department and will supply enough balls and bats to conduct the baseball school May 24-27 at Chapman Field.

Sam West, former Major League star and head instructor at the school, said Saturday that he had been working on a schedule for the school and would announce the complete school schedule before the end of the week.

It has also been reported that a number of the boys over town have been limbering up their arms and getting ready for the start of the baseball season, and will be ready when the first class is called at the school.

Semi-Pro Tournament Dates Are Announced

WICHITA, Kas., May 13. (AP)—Starting dates for 28 state semi-pro baseball tournaments were announced today by the National Baseball Congress.

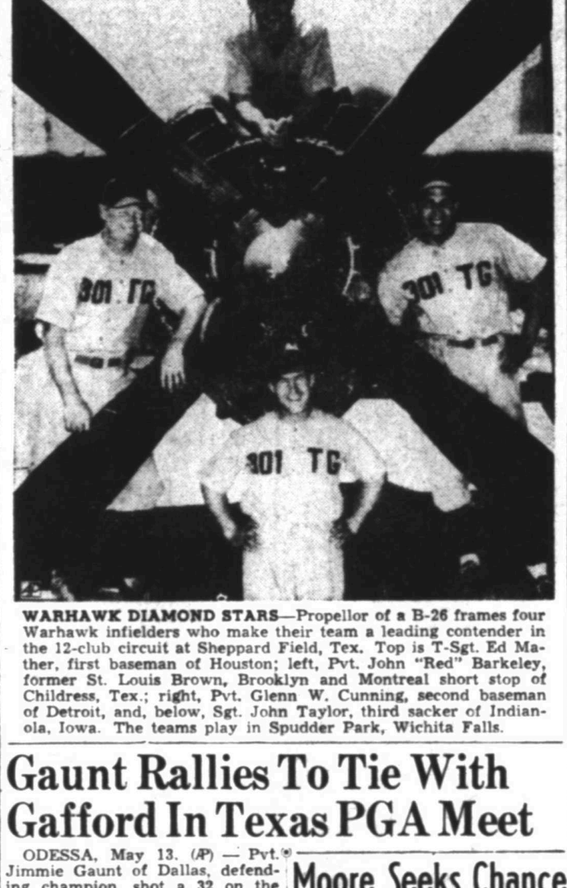

The first tourney — the New Mexico State finals which will include West Texas clubs—will open at El Paso, June 18.

South—Waco, Tex., July 23.

Sites and opening dates of other state tournaments will be designated by June 1, the Congress said. Winners will be eligible for further competition in the program to decide the 10th annual National title at Wichita, in August.

WARHAWK DIAMOND STARS—Propellor of a B-26 frames four Warhawk infielders who make their team a leading contender in the 12-club circuit at Sheppard Field, Tex. Top is T-Sgt. Ed Mather, first baseman of Houston; left, Pvt. John "Red" Barkeley, former St. Louis Brown, Brooklyn and Montreal short stop of Childress, Tex.; right, Pvt. Glenn W. Cunning, second baseman of Detroit, and, below, Sgt. John Taylor, third sacker of Indianola, Iowa. The teams play in Spudder Park, Wichita Falls.

Gaunt Rallies To Tie With Gafford In Texas PGA Meet

ODESSA, May 13. (AP) — Pvt. Jimmie Gaunt of Dallas, defending champion, shot a 32 on the last nine holes and picked up five strokes to tie Raymond Gafford, Ridgelea country club pro from Fort Worth, for the championship of the Texas PGA here today.

The medal score was 282 or six under par for the 72 holes. The title will be decided as the two play in the Texas Cup match here Sunday.

Gaunt was three down at the halfway mark with a 213, lost two more strokes on the next nine and came through with a brilliant game on the home stretch for his tie.

Playing with Gaunt and Gafford was Sam Schneider of Corpus Christi, third pro in the match with a 290.

Harry Todd of Dallas, was low amateur with 287 and Sgt. Lloyd Watkins, Midland Army Air Field, was next with 290, which took also top honors in the special service division.

Members of the Texas Cup teams to play here tomorrow in the windup of the tournament are pros Jimmy Gaunt, Capt. Sam Schneider, W. A. Stackhouse, Jimmy Gamewell, Graham Ross, Gene Root, Shorty Hornbuckle, George Aulbach, Morgan Hampton, Ralph Morgan, Irving King and Leroy Garrett. Amateurs will be Harry Todd, Capt. Dick Martin, Spec Goldman, Choc Broome, John Garrison, H. L. Montgomery, Bill Skeeters, Ernie Dowell, Lt. W. E. Doll, Major R. R. Ashley, Pfc. John E. Whitten, Master Sgt. L. C. Short, Cpl. Don Cherry, Sgt. J. T. Hammett and Blane McNutt.

The 13 pros and 15 amateurs will be rated by the team captains tomorrow morning with 12 each selected to play and the remainder to be alternates.

Moore Seeks Chance To Enter At Dallas

Burl Gene Moore, Lubbock lad who stepped over the 440 yard course at Austin in the state Interscholastic League meet recently, has been invited to attend the AAU meet at Dallas on Friday night, May 26.

The invitation was received from P. C. Cobb, director of athletics in the Dallas schools and head of the AAU meet. Winners of the meet will be sent by the AAU National meet in New York June 17 and 18.

Moore is anxious to enter the meet, but school will be out on that date, and the school can not send him to the meet as it's representative.

Moore and 'Coach Marlin R. "Shorty" Hayhurst are looking for a way to go to Dallas for the meet, and anyone going to Dallas on that date would be doing the pair a favor to get them to Dallas in time for the running.

At the AAU meet in Dallas, Moore would compete against high school and college runners from Southwest. A careful check of times made over the area, both college and high school, reveal that Moore's time of 49.5 at the state meet was better than that set yesterday at the Southwest Conference meet in the same events.

Moore's time at the state meet was .5 second off the state record for high school. The winning time in Saturday's Southwest Conference meet was 49.8 seconds after preliminary times Friday of 50 and 51.

Sirde Wins In Romp At Bay Meadow Race

SAN MATEO, Calif., May 13. (AP) — Sirde, outstanding Western two-year-old last year, made his debut as a three-year-old today at Bay Meadows track and whipped a class field of older horses in impressive fashion. The black colt's time of 1:11 flat was the fastest six furlongs clocked at the current spring meeting.

Ended, post time favorite, ran second and Gold Mike took third after setting the pace most of the way.

Southwest Schools Set Same Program

AUSTIN, May 13. (AP)—An athletic program on the same scale as last year is being planned by member schools of the Southwest Conference for 1944-45, it was reported today at the closing session of the annual spring meeting.

Baylor university, which had no football in 1943 and will not have this fall, hopes again to put a basketball team in the field, Athletic Director Ralph Wolf said.

Wolf said there was little to indicate that Baylor could return to football before the end of the war due to the small student body and the fact that trainees stationed at Waco school could not participate in the sport.

Full Grid Slate

The other six conference members—Texas, Texas A. & M., Rice, Arkansas, Southern Methodist and Texas Christian—will have football and basketball and Texas, Rice and A. and M. plan full spring sports programs with the exception of golf at Rice.

Arkansas plans track and S.H.U. saw some chance of having baseball but generally the sports program at all schools except Texas, Rice and A. and M. will be limited to possible participation in the conference meet only.

Change Ticket Price

The Faculty Committee, governing body of the conference, set minimum prices for conference football games of $2.50 for choice seats, $1.80 for other seats and 60 cents for service men, these all including the federal tax which will be 20 per cent instead of 10 per cent as of last year.

The committee told the business managers, coaches and athletic directors that the conference policy was that the federal tax be passed on to the fans but that the members could absorb it themselves provided they did not charge less than the minimum price. In other words, tickets which last year were $2.75 plus 10 per cent tax can be $2.08 plus 20 per cent this year.

Dr. Dolley said the committee had decided that boys who still had eligibility left at their respective schools could play in the collee all-star game at Chicago and the East-West game at San Francisco.

The conference voted to ask the Big Ten Conference and the National Collegiate Athletic Association to join in requesting the National Professional Football League to modify its rule regarding recruitment of college players so that it would not take boys who were out of school but had eligibility left although their classes had graduated.

Texas Romps To Easy Track Win

AUSTIN, May 13. (AP)—The University of Texas scored the largest total in Southwest Conference track and field history today to win the thirtieth annual meet with 89 3/14 for Texas A. & M., 25 4/7 for Rice and 3 for Southern Methodist.

Tall Ralph Ellsworth sang his swan-song as a Longhorn athlete by victories in the 100 and 220-yard dashes and laps on two victorious relay teams, finishing as high point man of the day with 12½.

Lanky Bob Umstattd was the only other double winner as Texas took ten first places and tied for another. Texas A. & M. had four first and one tie and Rice had one win and one tie.

The smashing total rolled up by the Longhorns today bettered the record of 78 scored by Oklahoma in winning the 1919 meet.

Steve King of A. & M. was second high point man with 11 4/7.

Belmont Track Sets New Betting Record

NEW YORK, May 13. (AP)—A new one-day betting record of $3,369,385 was set at Belmont Park today by a crowd of 39,293 as Mrs. Payne Whitney's favored Devil Diver won the $10,000 Metropolitan Handicap and Mrs. Albert Sabath's Alsab pulled up lame in his first 1944 start.

The new wagering market, including a world record of $235,252 on the steeplechase event, was hung up for eight races. This compares with the previous record of $3,176,553 bet by 41,412 on seven races at Jamaica on April 22.

Devil Diver ran the mile course in 1:35 4/5, only one second under Count Fleet's record, to finish a length and a half in front of A. C. Ernst's Alquest. Tommy Heard's Boyssy was third with Wait A Bit, the early leader, Porter's Cap, Pops Pick and Four Freedoms, running as any entry with Devil Diver, finishing in the order named.

Unbeaten this year, the St. Germans five-year-old previously had won the Paumonok and Toboggan Handicaps. He was ridden by Ted Atkinson and paid $3.00.

Alsab, one of the leading money winners of all time, finished fourth in the six furlong Voter Handicap. He was allowed to go wide all the way and pulled up lame.

William Woodward's Rossuet, a $6.20 second choice, got away fast and won under wraps by five lengths over Herbert Woolf's Adulator who headed Mrs. Whitney's favored Shutout for the place. Alsab was half a length further back.

Hard Luck Boy Now Major's Best Star

Max Lanier, the "Hard Luck Guy" of the 1943 World Series, today ranks as the top pitcher of the Major Leaues with a five-game winning streak for the front running St. Louis Cardinals.

Although Hank Borowy of the Yankees also is undefeated, the Cards' chunky southpaw from Denton, N. C. has won one more game than the New York ace and rates the top spot by allowing only six runs and 30 hits in 45 innings. His latest effort was a 7-2 decision Friday night over his old "cousins" from Brooklyn whom he has stopped 16 times in 23 tries during his career.

Things were different for Lanier last fall when his wild pitch "hid" from catcher Walker Cooper in plain sight of 68,000 Yankee Stadium fans to cost him the opening series game. He also failed to win his second series start.

All-Star Tilt Will Close Polo Tourney

MEXICO CITY, May 13. (AP)—Two International selections that will play a polo match here Sunday were announced today by the Mexican Polo Association.

The "White' selection includes: Stephen Sanford and Bill Barry, U. S.; Heriberto Duggan and Juan Rodriguez, Argentina, and Guillermo Cisneros, Mexico.

The "Red" team: Guillero Gracida and Alberto Ramos Sesma, Mexicans; Manuel Andrada and Ruben Fernandez Sarraraus, Argentines, and Cecil Smith, U. S.

The exhibition match will wind up a Pan-American tournament that was won by Mexico.

Arizona State Seeks Navy Grid Approval

EL PASO, May 13. (AP)—Three Border Conference colleges—New Mexico, Texas Tech and West Texas State Teachers — are preparing to field teams in this fall's gridiron campaign.

Arizona State at Flagstaff wants to compete if Navy permission is granted.

That picture of football prospects in the Sagebrush Country emerged from the annual spring meeting of Border Conference representatives last night. There was no indication of a general resumption by the other five member schools.

Cutting short a two-day session, representatives adjourned after minor rules changes and election of officers.

Transfer rules were modified to permit any student, military or civilian, to compete in conference contests upon enrollment. An interpretation of last year's competitive exemption extended to civilians—4F's and discharged veterans—permission to compete in sports for the duration without its counting against the regular three years of college eligibility.

Dr. L. W. Campbell, dean of Hardin-Simmons university, was named president of the conference and F. C. Osborn of Arizona State at Flagstaff, vice president. C. Z. Lesher of Arizona university was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Cubs Seek Anything To Break Bad Luck

CHICAGO, May 13. (AP)—Since it is considered a great accomplishment for the Chicago Cubs to win a ball game this season, maybe you'd like to know how the National League caboose club snapped its 13-game losing jinx.

It took more than just ball playing to beat the Philadelphia Blue Jays 5-3 last week—a rabbit's foot and a four-leaf clover came in for assistants.

Eddie Hanyzewski, the winning pitcher, had a four-leaf clover in his cap. An Army sergeant mailed it to the club.

Owner Phil K. Wrigley, who said he was looking for a string of rabbit's feet he collected when the Cubs were cruising through a 21-game winning streak to the pennant back in 1935, apparently found one of the good luch pieces and gave it a hard rub.

Bill Nicholson, 1943 league home run and runs-batted-in king, was thinking about changing his brand of chewing tobacco, but decided to shift his huge wad of "chaw" from the left to right side of his cheek. He hit his first homer of the season, and after the game promptly shaved off a three days growth of beard, which he had pledged to let sprout until he clouted a round-tripper.

Much Importance Attached To Offensive Launched In Italy

WASHINGTON, May 13. (AP) — The new offensive in Italy indicates that the American high command has swung definitely to the British view that the capture of Rome would be an achievement of great moment.

Disclosure that Lt. Gen. Mark Clark, Fifth Army commander, recently visited this country for secret conferences with President apparently signified that the Italian campaign is regarded as of much importance.

But before the Allies reach Rome they have formidable hurdles to clear.

Not Banking On Luck

Only amazing luck could produce a spectacular break-through, and the Allied command quite evidently is not banking on any such luck. On the contrary, the cautionary word from all sides is that the 5th and 8th armies in Italy are probing the German line, testing the enemy's strength.

Meantime, as information was accumulated showing how badly Germany and her central and southeastern European satellites had been shaken by the collapse of the Italian government, American political and military leaders began to swing more to the British view that the capture of Rome would have equally important repercussions.

Make Determined Stand

Apparently this view has become strong enough to permit agreement giving General Alexander, commanding in Italy, sufficient forces to make a determined and sustained effort to break through the Nazi lines.

This background of the Italian campaign points up Clark's recent visit to the United States. He went to Mr. Roosevelt's vacation hideaway in South Carolina for secret conferences, talked with Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff, and conferred with other officials.

Glider Class To Finish Monday

Graduation ceremonies for the second record-sized group in succession to receive wings as glider pilots and appointments as flight officers or commissions as second lieutenants will be conducted at 10 o'clock Monday morning in the post theater at South Plains Army Air field.

Major Richard R. Shoop of Corry, Pa., director of flying, will present the wings to the group which represents almost every state and section of the nation.

Capt. John F. McKenna, Catholic chaplin, will give the invocation and benediction. The SPAAF Band will furnish the music, and there will be no principal speaker.

Presentation Of Wings

Highlight of the ceremony will be the presentation of specially engraved glider pilots wings to two oustanding soldiers in the group and bronze trophies to the two best athletes in the group. Col. James A. DeMarco, commanding officer, will make the presentations.

Eighteen Texans in the group include Flight Officers Dewie Wilson Birdwell and Earl H. Sturdivant, both of Odessa, Jack L. Cooke and Richard Roscoe Ellison, jr., both of El Paso, Raymond N. Hoskins and William E. Eastman, both of Fort Worth, John D. Milburn of Royse City, Joseph J. Bonner of Crane, Claude K. Bond, Maurice K. Sparkman and John Edward Fox, all of San Marcos, Franklin Horace Douglas, jr., of Tyler, Cyrus J. Terry of Brownwood, George P. Robertson of Stanton, Edward Gaynel Gregory of Albany, Joseph H. Gallimore of Aqua Dulce, George T. Avery of Sherman, and Jack W. Riley of Beaumont.

The tongue of the giraffe is about 18 inches long.

News Briefs

The South Plains is expected to to be represented Monday through Tuesday in El Paso by approximately 14 Lubbock, 40 South Plains candidates for Scottish Rite degrees, when El Paso Consistory No. 3 conducts its spring reunion. Degrees, fourth through thirty-second, will be awarded. The delegation, based on advanced information, said that Tom May of Brownfield would share with John Dalrymple of Lubbock the honor of heading the South Plains delegation of candidates. Both are 33rd degree masons.

The cases of Robert Johnson, 33, a negro charged with murder Dec. 19 of Cliss Spears; L. C. Brooks, 30, a negro charged with assault with intent to rape, and Noble Burns, 19, charged with burglary, will be called Monday, in 72nd district court. A jury will report to Judge Dan Blair at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

One suggestion for the "dream airplane" answer of the future will be shown today at the Clent Breedlove Aerial service field southeast of Lubbock when R. S. Johnson of Fort Worth, designer of the sleek little Culver Cadet and of the Swift, and earlier associated with Walter Beach ,manufacturer of the famous Beechcraft airplanes, lands his "Rocket" at the port. It is powered with a 125 hp Lycoming engine, cruises at 160 miles an hour, has retracting landing gear and, it is claimed, will perform like the future expects." A twin-engine answer to what the public "probably will like" soon will be built, Johnson has told friends.

Muleshoe Plans For Vegetable Movement

MULESHOE, May 13. (Special) —A meeting will be held in the Bailey county courthouse Thursday, May 25, at 2:30 p. m., at which a committee will be elected to aid in the transportation of fresh vegetables to market. The meeting has been called by the Bailey county farm transportation committee, of which Lonnie Arnold in chairman.

The transportation of perishible vegetables is of major importance in the Black Water section, Arnold said, and all producers, processers and dealers are invited to participate in the selection of the committee. Each of these three groups will have representatives on the committee.

Arnold added this is in keeping with the Office of Defense transportation plan for peak moving of perishible crops.

Changes In Officer Personnel Announced

Three changes in officer duty assignments, affecting the position of assistant adjutant of the post and assistant to the commandant of glider pilot students, were announced at South Plains Army Air field Saturday.

Warrant Officer Ernest W. Reinke of Meridian, Texas, formerly assistant adjutant at the field, has been transferred to another station. He is a veteran at the field, having been stationed at SPAAF for more than a year and having earned his appointment as a warrant officer at the field. He is a graduate of Meridian High school.

Lt. Dwight M. Toedter of Toledo, Ohio, another veteran officer at SPAAF, wil ltake charge as assistant adjutant. Lieut. Toedter has been a supply officer of the glider pilot student section at the field. He is a graduate of Whitmer High school in Toledo, and was a student at Bowling Green.

A new arrival on the field, Capt. John M. Marston of Cleveland, has assumed duties as assistant to the commandant of glider pilot students. Major Fred Carson of Danville, Ill., is commandant of the students.

Stevenson Cool To Demo Post

AUSTIN, May 13. (AP) — Gov. Coke R. Stevenson said today he was not inclined to accept any invitation to be keynoted and temporary chairman of the May 23 state Democratic convention.

"I appreciate the suggestion and am considering the matter, but I hope they can select another man agreeable to all factions as keynoter," Stevenson said at his press conference.

Stevenson conferred until late last night with Chairman George Butler and co-chairman Mrs. H. H. Weinert of thestate Democratic executive committee; with Myron Blalock, national committeeman from Texas; and with Mayor Tom Miller of Austin.

He still has not given a definite answer to Butler and Mrs. Weinert, who sounded him out on the subject, not representing the committee, but a group of the committee.

Other Names Mentioned

Several other names have been mentioned as possible keynoters and temporary chairman, including Former Governors James V. Allred, Pat M. Neff and Dan Moody.

Stevenson said he believed it would be possible to find a keynoter—not now an office holder—who would be acceptable to all factions and who could preside with fairness.

"We all agree that there should not be any steamroller tactics, and that the roll should be called on every issue," the governor said.

FDR's Nomination Seen

Blalock said in an interview that it was his understanding that President Roosevelt would "by the end of this week have enough votes to assure him of renomination" and that whether the Texas delegation was instructed or not instructed would have no real effects so far as the nomination is concerned.

"I do not mean anything our convention does would be an idle gesture, because it would be a part of the Democratic process," he added. He said it was his opinion that opposition to Vice President Wallace was as strong in Texas now as it was four years ago, when the Texas delegation refused to cast its vote at the convention for him.

Ace's Wife Reaches Gotham For Reunion

NEW YORK, May 13. (AP) — Pretty, unassuming Barbara Johnson, 21-year-old wife of Captain Robert S. Johnson, America's leading ace in the European war theater, arrived here today from Lawton, Okla., for a reunion with her fighter pilot husband.

Taken aback by the attention she received as she stepped off the train, red-headed Barbara seemed shy. She wore a purple orchid on her black spring coat.

Army officials have said Captain Johnson, who downed 27 Nazi planes, was "on his way" home, but have not indicated the exact time of his arrival.

Storm Destroys Ship, About 60 Men Lost

WASHINGTON, May 13. (AP) — Destruction of the Liberty ship William M. Welch by a storm off the coast of Scotland a few weeks ago with the loss of about 60 men was reported today by the War Shipping administration.

The ship had delivered her war cargo and was on her way to join a home-bound convoy, the WSA said, when a fierce storm drove her aground in the early morning. Rescue attempts by British vessels were defeated by the heavy seas and raging blizzard.

"Soon the waves reared higher, the pilot house was smashed, and all hands were washed off the ship as she was being dashed to pieces on the rocky shore. Some were drowned and others were hurled to their deaths against the cliff over which the waves broke. Others flung ashore died of exposure and wounds.

The WSA did not disclose the exact number of men lost but said five members of the crew and seven navy gunners were "the only survivors in the vessel's complement of more than 60."

CIO Challenged To Vote Fight

WASHINGTON, May 13. (AP) — Southern legislators rallied today behind a challenge by some of their Senate colleagues to the Congress of Industrial organizations for a battle at the polls over their votes on labor and poll tax issues.

With the assertion that he was "proud to be listed in such distinguished company," Senator Eastland (D-Miss) denounced a booklet issued by the CIO's united automobile workers union which called for the defeat of senators and house members opposed to the pending bill to ban the collection of state poll taxes as a prerequisite to voting in federal elections.

Thousands Said Disfranchised

Contending that 10,000,000 southern workers are disfranchised by the poll tax, the booklet said that "the anti-labor (senator) George of Georgia "received only 66,987 votes in his 1938 election, although there were 997,000 workers of voting age in his state.

"Note that the bitterly reactionary class of Virginia, (senators) 'Cotton Ed' Smith of South Carolina and Eastland of Mississippi received the vote of only 2 to 3 per cent of their people," the booklet said, "yet adult labor outnumbers the votes in those states by from 550,000 to 760,000."

The booklet listed the votes cast for all of the senators of the poll tax states, including Connally and O'Daniel of Texas.

FOOT ITCH
ATHLETE'S FOOT

RELIEF GUARANTEED OR MONEY BACK

At least 50% of the adult population of the United States are being attacked by the disease known as Athlete's Foot.

Usually the disease starts between the toes. Little watery blisters form, and the skin cracks and peels. After a while, the itching becomes intense, and you feel as though you would like to scratch off all the skin.

Beware of it Spreading

Often the disease unveils all over the bottom of the feet. The soles of your feet become red and swollen. The skin also cracks and peels, and the itching becomes worse and worse.

Get relief from this disease as quickly as possible because it is both contagious and infectious and it may go to your hands or even to the under arm or crotch of the legs.

Why Take Chances?

The germ that causes the disease is known as Tinea Trichophyton. It buries itself deep in the tissues of the skin and is very hard to kill. A test made shows it takes 15 minutes of boiling to destroy the germ, whereas, upon contact, laboratory tests show that H. F. will kill the germ Tinea Trichophyton within 15 seconds.

H. F. was developed solely for the purpose of relieving Athlete's Foot. It is a liquid that penetrates and dries quickly. You just paint the affected parts. H. F. gently peels the skin, which enables it to get to parasites existing under the outer cuticle.

Itching Often Relieved Quickly

As soon as you apply H. F. you may find that the itching is relieved. You should paint the infected parts with H. F. night and morning until your feet are better. Usually this takes from three to ten days.

H. F. should leave the skin soft and smooth. You may marvel at the quick way it brings you relief.

Don't wait for Athlete's Foot to become serious. Get H. F. today.

SEA POWER...

Unites the United Nations. makes them strong

Look at your world map. Without the power to move freely over the face of the seas, what could the United Nations accomplish? They would be isolated—and destroyed one by one—because they could not help one another.

SEA POWER

STRENGTHENS FEEDS, TOO!

Consider feeds for poultry and livestock. Grains alone, without the help of quality PROTEINS, VITAMINS and FOOD MINERALS, are not "strong," meaning simply that rations of grain alone will not produce the maximum amounts of meat, milk and eggs per pound of feed. You waste time and money when you feed "weak" feeds. The sea is our richest potential source of the very proteins, vitamins and food minerals needed to balance up the grain and mill feeds produced on land, to help them give best feeding results.

STANTON'S FEEDS

CONTAIN MANAMAR

The ManAmar contained in Stanton's Feeds, produced by Philip R. Park, Inc., San Pedro, Calif. This research organization specializes in "sea farming" . . . gathering, concentrating and blending always-healthy ocean fish (and their by-products) and "Sea Alfalfa" or Kelp. The fish are rich in proteins and also in health- and- growth-promoting vitamins. Kelp supplies food minerals which may be lacking in land feeds.

Try Stanton's feeds, enriched with ManAmar, and increase your production schedule and profit. Get all the facts, today.

Dear Lou:
Must tell you about the lovely modern 5-room home for sale and located in Green Acres addition. This is the newest and nicest addition to Lubbock.

It is a well built pretty home and close to Roscoe Wilson school and on the pavement. The neighbors are all people whom you would like.

Confidentially, this home can be bought for $2300.00 down payment and the balance only $34.59 per month (much less than rent). There is a large fenced back yard, all landscaped and a nice garden already growing.

If not sold before you get here, go immediately and see—

$30,000 BLACK LAND FARM AND GRAIN CROP
MAY 27TH AT 2 P. M. SHARP
Consisting of 344 acres, 300.5 cultivation. Good improvements, and in good repair. This farm has 200 acres sowed to oats and seldom a better crop ever grown in the black land of Texas.

Location 35 miles south of Fort Worth, forty miles southwest of Dallas, 12 miles east of Cleburne, just out of the city limits of Alvarado, Johnson county, and in the heart of the black lands of Texas. No washed-away land and a good producer and in an excellent state of cultivation. I have a good man in charge of this place. Would be glad to carry on with the buyer. Plenty of good equipment available for the harvesting of grain crop. This is a good investment, and a good place for a home, if you have been looking for a good farm. Be sure and visit this sale. This farm is not a forced sale, but an outright bonifide sale. There positively will not be buy bidders or boosters at this sale.

I will be on the place from the 20th to the date of sale to tell and show you more about it. You have several days before date of sale to inspect and I insist you come out and look it over.

TERMS: $10,311, outstanding note at 5% running 18 years on or before. All above this, cash. Buyer must have bank guarantee or forfeit to be placed in the Citizens National Bank of Cleburne, Texas.

COLORADO stock ranches, of 39,000 acres, 5760 acres, 20,000 acres and 4000 acres, improved with some irrigation. W. J. Zabel, Box 663, Pueblo, Colo.

ALFALFA AND VEGETABLE LAND LOCATED NEAR UVALDE

200 acres located 20 miles southeast of Uvalde on a real good paved highway, where there is plenty of water to irrigate 70 ft. under ground. Every acre of this soil is 15 to 20 feet deep. Second river bottom land that does not overflow. Known as Alluvial soil. Some of the richest land in the United States. When put into cultivation and properly cultivated and irrigated, will produce an average of 8 to 10 tons of alfalfa hay per acre, per year, and three hundred to five hundred bushels of onions, and other crops in proportion. Mr. Murl O'Keefe has averaged over $200.00 per acre net for seven years, raising vegetables, in the winter, and corn in the summer. He made this year over $500.00 per acre net, raising onions, and big money raising sex plant, spinach, bell peppers last fall and winter. This land is located in one of the best climates, and most desirable place to live in the United States. A fisherman and hunterman's paradise. 100 miles from the beautiful city of San Antonio, and when the new highway is finished, which is assured after the war, it will be within 75 miles of the city of San Antonio. Based on the past four years, from what other lands near this has produced, the average crop rent these lands would have been over $40.00 per acre. After this land is put into cultivation and under irrigation, and the necessary improvements, it can be rented from $15.00 to $20.00 cash rent. I will guarantee $15.00 per acre for three years.

I will sell you the land and put it in a good state of cultivation and under irrigation for $100.00 per acre. And according to the land values on the Plains of Texas, it would be worth over $300.00 per acre.

Write for 64 page booklet, which will furnish you plenty of proof. Come see me.

an extra month's salary if such payments can legally be made.

In March, Dr. Walton threatened legal action against the board of directors which dismissed him after 18 years' service, because the growing school, the board declared, had "outraced and outreached him."

Dr. Walton, in his March statement, said he had resigned the presidency last fall only after the board had failed to re-elect him and had then offered him the position of president emeritus without any college duties to perform, at a salary of $12,000 the first year and half that amount the second.

Ruled Unauthorized

The attorney general ruled last February 1 that the board had exceeded its authority in authorizing such payments, which had been stopped in November, 1943, by the board prior to the request of a ruling.

The board's statement today was made by T. D. Dunlap, secretary of the board, through the college's department of information.

The statement said the board voted unanimously that "the recommendation of Prewit be approved that inasmuch as the time of Mr. C. Hohn is fully occupied in state farm labor work that he be relieved of his duties and title as assistant state agent and be given the title of state farm labor supervisor at an unchanged salary.

Changes Completed

"The board has been working for 10 months regarding certain changes in the extension service and their work is completed in that particular," the statement said.

The directors stated that "the status of E. R. Eudaly as the nominee of the board as director of the extension service last fall remains unchanged and the board hopes that his nomination will eventually be confirmed by national extension service officials in Washington."

Earlier, the board advised a student group which presented grievances regarding student regulations to ask the faculty executive and disciplinary committees for a decision on their problems.

MISS HORTON TOLD HER WORK WAS SATISFACTORY

BRYAN, May 13. (AP) — Miss Mildred Horton, who was dismissed as vice director of the Texas A. and M. extension service and as state home demonstration agent, said tonight she had been assured only today by John D. Prewit, acting director of the extension service, that her services had been satisfactory.

Miss Horton, who had been with the extension service 25 years, said she had received notice of her dismissal late today in a letter from the board of directors, written and delivered by T. W. Dunlap, secretary of the board.

No Hearing On Case

"I had no hearing previous to this dismissal since December 11, 1943," she said in an interview. "At that time I was assured by the board that my position was secure if I cooperated with E. R. Eudaly as director of the extension service. Mr. Eudaly had not functioned as director of the extension service, but only this morning I was assured by J. D. Prewit, acting director of the extension service, that my services had been satisfactory."

For the past nine years Miss Horton had been, as vice director, in charge of womens work in the extension service.

Way Open For Strike Of Foremen To End

WASHINGTON, May 13. (AP) — The way was opened tolay for the return to work Monday of 3,500 striking foremen of six Detroit companies when the War Labor board was advised the companies would restore the strikers to their jobs.

William H. Davis, board chairman, telegraphed the principals involved in the dispute that the WLB "has been informed that various of the companies have sent individual telegrams to their striking foremen intended to assure them that they will not be discharged or otherwise discriminated against because of their participation in the strike."

This is in accord with the established policy of the WLB that workers who return to work under the board's orders will not be discriminated against, Davis said, and the board "will expect all companies to act accordingly."

"The board therefore expects the strike to be terminated forthwith and all employes to return to work by the first shift of Monday, May 15," he added.

fighter-bombers of Lt. Gen. Lewis H. Brereton's Ninth U. S. Air force attacked railway yards at Namur and Tournai in Belgium, and rail bridges leading into Herenthals, east of Antwerp.

Returning airmen said German fighters were up in strength over northern Germany, but most of them failed to break through the tremendous escort.

"The only fighters we saw were over the target and they hit a group behind us," said Lt. John W. Curtis of O'Donnell, Tex., Fortress pilot.

Canyon Area North Of Slaton Gets Rain

Rain fell in the Slaton and Buffalo Lakes vicinities late Saturday afternoon.

Slaton reported a "good shower" and farmers of the Yellowhouse canyon section north of Slaton said they received heavy precipitation. A heavy shower fell at Buffalo Lakes.

More rain is in prospect today. The weather forecast was for scattered showers and thundershowers in the South Plains and Panhandle.

BOARD MEETING SET

DALLAS, May 13. (AP)—R. L. Thomas, president of the board of regents of state teachers colleges, said today the annual joint meeting of the board and of the presidents of the teachers colleges would be held in Austin May 15 and 16.

STORE CLASSIFYING

WASHINGTON, May 3. (AP)—In an effort to lower some retail food prices the Office of Price administration will require all retail food stores to redeterraine by June 15 their proper group classification for price schedules.

CONFERS WITH ADOLF

Progress In Italy

strangle' in the Allied aid powers' plan to destroy supply lines through which Hitler feeds the forces resisting the new offensive of the Fifth and Eighth armies."

Fighting Is Grim

Grim fighting developed at every point where the Allies made penetrations into the formidable defenses, and the Germans lashed out in a series of determined, but costly counter attacks.

Allied headquarters officially announced gains of a mile-and-a-half, and front dispatches later told of advances of two to three miles at some points.

Capture of three villages and more than half a dozen strategic heights was announced by headquarters, and the first prisoners began filing into the Allied lines on various sectors of the roaring 25-mile front from Cassino to the sea.

Nazis Report Reserves

(A German broadcast, asserting that the Allies were holding five fully-equipped divisions in reserve in Italy, said the present drive probably would prove "only a diversionary operation" and predicted that new landings "in all probability" would be made on the Italian west coast. Suggesting Nazi fears that such a blow might come from Corsica, Berlin said the German bombers heavily raided airfields on that island last night.)

(A German broadcast said a powerful Allied tank thrust had driven a wedge a mile and a quarter deep in the German line at Sant'Angelo on the Cassino front and added that counter attacks were now in progress "against this breach."

More German Reports

(Another Nazi broadcast, admitting breakthroughs at several points in the Liri valley below Cassino, said the Allies had nowhere reached the "actual German defense system," despite high losses in men and equipment. A London broadcast to the Blue network said Eighth Army casualties were lighter than expected.)

Despite poor visibility, the Allied airforces unleashed nearly 3,000 sorties yesterday in support of the huge ground offensive. Scarcely a German plane rose to challenge the raiders during the dawn-to-dusk shellacking, which included heavy bomber raids as far north as Genoa and Ferrara. Anti-aircraft fire was heavy and eighteen Allied planes failed to return.

FUNDS BILL SIGNED

WASHINGTON, May 13. (AP)—President Roosevelt has signed a bill appropriating $6,700,000 for grants to states for medical and hospital care for wives and infants of enlisted men in the armed forces. The money will supplement state funds.

Congratulations To:

Capt. and Mrs. Harley W. Ladd of 1313 Twenty-sixth street on birth at 10:35 o'clock Friday night of a 9-pound 8½-ounce son, at Lubbock Army Air field's maternity ward.

Mr. and Mrs. N. G. Terry, 1901 Thirteenth street, on birth of a son weighing 7 pounds 3 ounces at 4:52 a. m. Saturday at the West Texas hospital. The father is employed by the Southwestern Associated Telephone company.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Crealoy of St. Louis on birth of a son born at 4:10 a. m. Saturday at the West Texas hospital. The baby weighed 7 pounds 11 ounces. Mrs. Cearley was brought to the hospital from the home of her parents in Levelland.

Savings totaling $300 of Odie Harmon, a negro woman who works at one of the Lubbock air fields, was stolen sometime Friday or early Saturday from a suitcase in her home at 203 Nineteenth street, she reported to the sheriff's office. The thief left untouched a war bond also kept in the luggage.

Officers failed to apprehend a couple of known Slaton negro bootleggers but they put a crimp in the blacks' "assets." One hundred and eight cases of empty beer barrels were taken from a chicken house in a raid Saturday by liquor board officer Frank Mitchell, Deputy Sheriff Raymond Land and Texas Ranger Levi Duncan. At and in the vicinity of two cafes in the Slaton negro district the officers discovered about four cases of beer. The negroes, who reportedly operate the eating places, fled when they recognized the officers' car.

BABY IN SHOE BOX

RUSK, May 13. (AP)—A two-day-old boy was found in a shoe box today on the Reklaw highway about three miles from Rusk. Sheriff Frank Brunts took charge of the infant, sending him to the Jacksonville hospital.

TODAY'S MOTHERS
FIGHT FOR PEACE

The gallant mothers of America . . . every generation of them . . . aren't a bit warlike by nature. They're the same gentle, understanding women that sent you off to school that first day . . . that bandaged your mock hurts . . . heard your young prayers . . . and were so proud of your school diplomas. Now, in addition, they take their place in every kind of war work and patriotic drive. They work with fighting spirit to bring their sons and husbands in the service home soon. They fight to end regimes where little Chinese children are beaten and tortured . . . where little Greek children cry in the streets for food . . . where small Austrians learn the catechism of the Nazis . . . the catechism of hate. They fight to keep a way of life reflecting the love and security of democracy and peace. Show them how much you appreciate the job they do by remembering them with special care this Mother's Day.

Week-End Offers Somber Portents For Nazi Europe

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

The mid-May weekend arrives with somber portents for Germany and her satellite or Quisling regimes in Europe. The crisis is at hand for them. The first blow has been struck in Italy of the concerted United Nation's campaign to destroy Hitlerism utterly.

SIMPSON

That was the message sounded jointly by Washington, London and Moscow in the warning to the peoples of Finland, Hungary, Bulgaria and Romania that the time for escape from their ill-omened war partnership with the Nazis is running short.

Rumbling guns of the Allied armies in Italy accent the grim ultimatum. The ever-increasing thunder of Allied bombs falling day and night upon critical enemy targets from the English Channel to the Danube delta on the Black Sea leaves small doubt that the main Russian-Allied power strokes against Hitler's Fortress Europe are close, perhaps only hours away.

Which Attack First?

Which of the main attacks will come first and just where they will fall in the west or the east is yet to be revealed.

It seems clear, nevertheless, that the crunching combined attack in Italy is designed primarily to pin a score of German divisions on that front. It is only in Italy and on the Balkan pensinsula that the Nazi high command could find considerable reserves to meet acute danger in the East or West.

The timing of the blunt warning to Nazi satellite states to get out of the war now or take the consequences implies that the next major break in the ground stalemate in Europe is to be expected in the east.

Plane Missing Since March 3 Is Found

WALLA WALLA, Wash., May 13. (U.P.)—A B-24 Liberator bomber, missing on a combat training mission since March 3 from the Blythe, Calif., Army Air base has been found five miles northeast of San Bernardino, Calif., Col. David Wade, station commandant of the Walla Walla Air base, announced today.

All four occupants of the plane were killed including Sgt. Robert H. Kird, 19, of Houston.

Billy Edwards, Dupre School, Wins Grand Prize In Art Event

Billy Edwards of the Lubbock Dupre school was awarded a grand prize for the best work of art of the sixth annual children's art exhibition now in progress at the West Texas Museum building, Lubbock, F. A. Kleinschmidt, director of the Texas Technological college art institute, announced Saturday.

The exhibition is sponsored by the art institute and is open to any school child in this region. The show, which opened May 7 and will close May 22, contains 25 paintings and drawings of Lubbock and Crosbyton schools, Kleinschmidt said.

The grand prize was awarded to Billy Edwards, of the fourth grade, on his work of art called "Clouds." His art teacher is Miss Ninetta Parker.

Court Rules Employer May Discuss Unions

PHILADELPHIA, May 13. (AP)—The Third U. S. circuit court of appeals held in effect today that an employer may discuss labor unions with his employes without violating the Wagner labor relations act.

The court rejected a National Labor Relations board petition to declare the Edward G. Budd Manufacturing company and its president, Edward G. Budd, guilty of contempt of court because of letters regarding labor unions which the company sent out to 15,000 employes.

The court said there is nothing in the Wagner act that deprives an employer of the right of free speech. If there were, the unanimous decision added, that section of the act would be invalid.

A. Norman Somers, an attorney representing the NLRB, had described the suit as a "test case," saying the practice of sending out letters to employes was becoming prevalent. Unless the practice was stopped by the courts, he said, the board was "about ready to throw up the sponge" because the letters interferred with enforcement of court decrees against employers.

Listing Of Labor Needs Is Urged

Letters were mailed to several hundred Lubbock employers from the chamber of commerce Saturday urging them to list their employment needs with the U. S. Employment service regularly as a means of discouraging outside labor recruiting in this city.

The letter was the outgrowth, officials explained, of conferences during the week attended by chamber of commerce officials, representative employers and officials of the Employment service.

In making the appeal, officials of the chamber emphasized especially that employers should list their employment needs, even though they do not expect that their requirements can be filled through the Employment service.

"Outside" Recruiting Cited

The decision to mail the letter, it was explained, results from the fact that employer representatives from out-of-town firms frequently are sent to Lubbock to seek labor for their plants.

They come here, it was explained, because the records of the employment service in the past have shown that a surplus of labor is available in Lubbock.

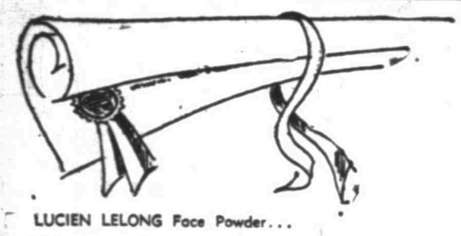

The records indicating a surplus of labor result from the fact that a great many local employers do not list their labor needs with the Employment service. Their reason apparently is, officials said, that they are convinced the Employment service can't help them, so many employers do not take the trouble to make their needs known.

The result is, the report continued, that the records of the Employment service are likely to list most of the applications for jobs. But they do not show the labor that actually could be used in this city.

Consequently, it was declared further at the meetings, the records indicate a labor surplus when actually there is a labor shortage. But this true condition cannot be shown officially, it was declared, unless the Employment service is advised by employers of their needs.

Therefore, all employers are asked in the letter, which will reach most of them Monday, to call the Employment service at least once each month, and before the 20th of the month, to list the labor they could use. The telephone number is 4661.

If this is done, officials believe, the official records then will show the true labor situation in Lubbock. It will discourage, if not put a stop, to the sending of labor recruiters here. And, officials believe further, the employer is likely to discover that on many occasions the Employment service can help him more than he imagines.

SCATTERINGS

WHEN the late orchestra leader Herbie Kay appeared here several years ago he attempted to place a call to the West Coast where Dorothy Lamour, who was his wife at the time, was making a picture. He had a difficult time because he could not convince telephone operators he was on the level . . . Business and professional men, who resent their wives trying to interfere in their affairs or offer unsolicited advice, must have echoed the advice Mrs. Mark Clark said her husband gave in a recent letter: "You turn your lamb chops over on the stove and I'll run the Army." . . . We read that the New York State Council of Churches is pushing a drive to eliminate wine and beer advertising from the radio.

We can't remember a time when so many women wore slacks down town and walked along the sidewalk puffing at cigarettes.

POOR LADY — The biggest laugh we got last week was in reading of the woman who complained by letter to General Marshall that she has been losing sleep and wants his immediate attention in the matter. It seems that soldiers are quartered in her hotel and are so inconsiderate as to slam their doors on arising, thus disturbing her two hours before she wants to get up . . . There's nothing more disconcerting to a gardener than to have someone with seven league boots bolt across the garden or yard after you have spent hours setting out plants or planting . . . It's definitely old school to say "double" when you are spelling a word. The correct way is to repeat the letter. For example: h-i-l-l, instead of h-i-double l. The youngsters have known this for a long time.

SCREEN singer Bing Crosby and screen lover Charles Boyer and screen dancer Fred Astaire wear toupees and women who see them are glad because somehow one doesn't associate baldness with love songs and love scenes and ballroom dancing. But how many sweethearts and wives want the men of their choice to cover thinning hairlines with transformations? . . . You are not too anxious for the arrival of invasion day in Europe if somewhere in the line is a brother, a husband or a father who may figure in the show . . . It's amazing to realize there are so many women who can give you their service sons and husbands' addresses from memory, quoting Army serial numbers and APO or fleet post office addresses without batting an eyelash . . . No matter what matrons think, spinsters do not like to go down a receiving line or to be introduced anywhere as "Mrs." Many people who have passable manners otherwise, are lax in proper introductions, naming the man's name before the woman's, mumbling so you don't catch the name or failing to make the introduction at all.

CAMPAIGN METHODS — Even if political candidates are able to get gasoline enough to cover the territory where their prospective voters live, many of them will not want to put too much mileage on their tires. On the other hand, will the voters use tires and gasoline (which will come out of their A allotments) to travel to political gatherings? Some of the candidates may take to sky writing or scattering leaflets that will fall in victory gardens or on greening fields . . . There must be candidates who are glad that sugar rationing will do away with the pie suppers that have always seemed a necessary part of an election year in this section.

Parties Honor Brides-Elect

Miss Mary Magee, bride-elect of Sgt. Joe Cobb, is being honored with a series of parties.

Mrs. Joe Nislar, 2319 Seventeenth street, was luncheon hostess Saturday. She presented the honoree with a gift of china.

Guests were Miss Magee's mother, Mrs. H. L. Magee, Pecos; her sister, Mrs. J. E. Hartley; Sgt. Cobb's mother, Mrs. Ann Cobb; his sisters, Mesdames Edna Smith, Long Beach and C. E. Morse, Plainview; Mrs. J. Neuel Bryan; and Misses Dorothy Lomax, Grace Padley, Claudia Neelley, Aline McCarty, Mary Lou Roberson.

Three Give Luncheon

The luncheon table reflected a bridal theme when Mesdames Clark M. Mullican, Roy Riddel and Walter S. Posey entertained in Miss Magee's honor Wednesday at Mrs. Tucker's tea room. She was presented with a place setting in china.

Guests were Mesdames Cobb, Smith, Magee, Hartley, Avery Fix, Jeff D. Watson, C. C. Files, Nislar, John Wherry, Misses Padley and Lomax.

Misses Betty McDonald, Elizabeth Schmidt, Jean Goodloe and Barbara Bedford entertained with a dinner in the Alex McDonald home, 2221 Eighteenth street, honoring Miss Mary Langford, bride-elect, Thursday night.

Others present were Misses Norma Croxton, Elizabeth Robinson, Marjorie Harrison and Jean Chappelle.

Mrs. O'Neal Is Party Hostess For Needlers

Howdy People:

We wish for all mothers on this day a happy day. Those boys and girls who are away from home are thinking of you today and hoping that your day may be filled with happy thoughts.

It is the time of the year that you need to be thinking about those barbecues and yard parties that you will be giving this summer. The Decorators Studio has the things that will make your parties the talk and envy of all your friends. There is a set of long handled forks and spatulas on stand that is ideal for your outdoor barbecues. If you have had difficulty in finding a long knife and fork for carving there is a set in good steel with wooden handles. Tin trays, goblets, plates, pitchers and trays are smart for outdoor entertaining. Stands equipped with glasses are handy in serving your drinks.

For your cocktail parties there is a table set on a colorful organdy cloth. The center is a lazy susan equipped with green glass bowls. The decanter is crystal in a silver coaster circled with crystal glasses. There is a tray in snow glass holding green smaller trays and the plates are rectangular shape in white glass.

The straw boss of the Studio is celebrating her fourth birthday this week—the seventeenth. You know, of course, who the straw boss is. In case you don't, it is Kaye Lockhart. She is planning on a big day and I'm wishing this young lady a Happy Birthday.

People are still getting married and the Studio is always ready to help the brides make selections in china, silver, crystal and pottery. If you are contemplating such a step, you will be wise to pay a visit to the Studio and ask for expert advise on table settings.

So long,

Grandpa Nosey

"Cover Girl" Entries Will Be Chosen By Soldiers Overseas

A novel turn in the "Cover Girl" contest being sponsored here by Hub Cine club was announced Saturday when it was decided to let soldiers in New Guinea, where many ex-Lubbockites are serving, have a part in the selection of Lubbock's magazine model.

Following final registration, the entries will be limited to sixty individual photographs to be combined in a page lay-out in the Avalanche-Journal which will be sent to the service squadron in which Sgt. Julius I. Chandler is serving. Sgt. Chandler is a former Hub Cine club member. A motion picture he took of "Life in New Guinea" has been sent to the club for showing here.

The soldiers in New Guines will choose four of the pictures in the lay-out and send them back to the club. The winning girls will be photographed in color and the pictures will be sent to motion picture executives in Hollywood who will make the final selection of Lubbock's "Cover Girl."

The registrations will continue this week. Girls are asked to bring a picture or the picture may be submitted by a friend any afternoon between 1 and 6 p.m. at Reeves.

Announcement Tea Is Given In Post

POST, May 13 — Mesdames Skeeter Slaughter, Madge Mathis and B. M. Robinson honored Miss Erma Lee Cass, bride-elect of Capt. Euell Harrison, with an announcement tea in the home of Mrs. Slaughter Wednesday afternoon.

In the receiving line were the hostesses, the honoree and her mother, Mrs. E. E. Cass. They wore floor length dresses and corsages of pink rosebuds.

Spring flowers were used for decorations. The tea table was covered with a lace cloth and centered with pink snapdragons in a gold bowl. Miniature gold wedding bells attached to small white cards bore the inscription, "Erma Lee and Capt. Harrison, May 17."

Miss Margaret Stone invited guests into the dining room. Mesdames Belle Fairbanks and James Minor poured. Others in the house party were Misses Peggy Sue Robinson, and Kitty Farries. Miss Mattie Evelyn Stone and Mrs. Slaughter furnished music during the tea.

Miss Cass is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Cass of Post and Capt. Harrison, an instructor at Midland Army Air field, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Harrison of Jayton.

Mr. and Mrs. Earle Reagan Howell, jr., Glendale, Calif., are guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Howell, 2510 Twenty-first street. Mr. Howell is to leave for the Navy this week.

Church Is Setting For Wedding Vows

The First Christian church was the setting for a lovely informal wedding Wednesday morning when Miss Frances Golla, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Golla of Pittsburgh, Pa., and A. Wayne Jones of Beaumont, formerly of Lubbock, were united in marriage in a single ring service read by Rev. H. I. Robinson, pastor of the First Methodist church.

The altar was decorated with baskets of white carnations and stock against a background of palms and white tapers burned in golden candalabra.

Mrs. John C. Oldham played the marches and rendered "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly" during the ceremony.

The bride was attired in an ice blue soft wool suit with white accessories and she carried a white prayer book topped with a corsage of gardenias. She was given in marriage by Mrs. C. L. Snell who wore a black sheer dress with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Cousin Is Attendant

Miss Wilma Gene Armstrong of Vernon, the bridegroom's cousin, was maid of honor. She wore a beige suit with black accessories and a corsage of dusty rose carnations.

Prof. L. H. Jackson was best man.

The couple left for a wedding trip to Carlsbad caverns and other points of interest in New Mexico; the bride wearing an almond green tailored suit with alligator accessories for traveling. They will be at home at La Salle hotel in Beaumont after May 21.

Mrs. Jones is a graduate of George Washington High school in Pittsburgh and has studied music with Nicholas Parillo and played under direction of Vladimir Bakabinakoff.

Mr. Jones, son of Mrs. C. L. Snell, is a graduate in electrical engineering at Texas Technological college and is at present field engineer for Westinghouse Electric in Beaumont and Orange shipyards.

'D Day' Prayer Service Planned

Dr. H. I. Robinson, president of the Lubbock Ministers alliance, announced Saturday that members of the executive committee had drawn up a tentative program for the special D-Day prayer in the auditorium of the First Methodist church, which will begin as soon after the invasion as large enough crowd arrives. It will be a continuous service of songs and prayers.

Ministers will preside in the order of their arrival to the church. The first minister to arrive will conduct the opening of the service. All ministers and choir members of their churches will be asked to be seated in the pulpit or in the choir loft, Dr. Robinson said.

Organ Music Planned

While awaiting the arrival of the people at the church an organist will provide organ music. Also an interlude of organ music will be given every 15 minutes to allow those who must, an opportunity to leave. The service will continue for approximately one and one-half hours.

At the close of the service at the First Methodist church all churches in Lubbock will be opened for meditation and prayer.

During each hymn each presiding minister will invite people to the altar to pray audibly or silently. Following each hymn three volunteer prayers will be offered.

Included among the songs to be sung are the following: "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God," "Faith of Our Fathers," "My Faith Looks Up to Thee," "I Need Thee Every Hour," Rock Of Ages," and "Take Time To Be Holy."

Catholic Church Plans Mother's Day Services

Mother's Day will be commemorated in St. Elizabeth's Catholic church with the reception of First Holy Communion by the children of the parish at the 8 o'clock mass. The mass will be celebrated by the Rev. Wm. F. Blakeslee, pastor. Music for the occasion will be furnished by a choral group from the parish.

At 7:30 o'clock this evening, May devotions in honor of the Mother of Jesus will be held. One of the interesting phases of the devotions will be the ceremony of crowning of the Blessed Mother which this year will be conducted on the lawn of the church grounds. The sermon for this service will be by the Rev. Peter Hoey.

Nazi Secret Weapon Idea Tried By U. S.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, May 13 (AP) — American Army ordnance experts last night pronounced Hitler's recently unveiled secret weapon—the "goliath radio-controlled explosive-laden tank—to be only a poor imitation of a weapon the U. S. tried and discarded nine years ago.

Lt. Col. H. L. McGrath, executive officer of the armament section of the Allied forces headquarters, said the idea had been developed and tried out by the U. S. Army ordnance department as early as 1935.

Church Notes

A Mother's day program has been arranged for the regular second Sunday community sing in Central Baptist church, 1311 Eighteenth street, from 2 until 4 o'clock this afternoon, according to Rev. Jeff D. Welch, pastor. Many visiting singers are expected, he said. The public is invited to attend, the pastor added.

Great Allied Assault To Upset Hitler's "Fishing" For Peace

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

The great Allied assault on Hitler's Festung Europa at last is underway to determine how much wisdom there has been in his strategy of fighting a defensive war of attrition in hope that his enemies would grow weary and give him favorable peace terms.

The fuehrer does at times exhibit unusual perspicacity in gauging the reactions of the humanity which he once hoped to enslave. So it has been with his gamble that some fortuitous circumstance might give him a break. He has, of course, long been fishing for peace, but the unconditional surrender demanded by the Allies was more than he could take. So he rolled the dice.

Sure enough, advocates that unconditional surrender be abandoned are cropping up in this and other Allied countries. Thus the Nazi dictator's much advertised intuition again has been right—up to a point—to just what point remains to be seen.

No Change In Policy

Secretary of State Hull said earlier this week that, despite inquiries from nearly every continent, he had heard of no change in the United States policy of adhering to the unconditional surrender formula. There has been no indication either that the other Allies have changed their minds.

It's true that America, Britain and Russia long ago told the Axis satellites in almost so many words that terms would be made easier for them if they abandoned Hitler. And yesterday the Big Three came out flatly with a pre-invasion ultimatum to Finland, Romania, Bulgaria and Hungary that they must abandon Germany now or suffer "disastrous consequences."

I think a good deal of confusion has grown out of a misinterpretation of the term "unconditional surrender." It sounds tough, but it doesn't in itself carry any horrible penalties. It merely means that the victors will decide on the peace terms and are not prepared to bargain. The terms imposed may be very lenient or very harsh, but it is the victors and not the vanquished who say which it shall be.

The combined wheat crops of Australia and Argentina are estimated at 388,000,000 bushels for 1944.

Lemon Juice Recipe Checks Rheumatic Pain Quickly

If you suffer from rheumatic, arthritis or neuritis pain, try this simple inexpensive home recipe that thousands are using. Get a package of Ru-Ex Compound, a two-week supply, today. Mix it with a quart of water, add the juice of 4 lemons. It's easy. No trouble at all and pleasant. You need only 3 tablespoonfuls two times a day. Often within 48 hours — sometimes overnight — splendid results are obtained. If the pains do not quickly leave and if you do not feel better, return the empty package and Ru-Ex will cost you nothing to try as it is sold by your druggist under an absolute money-back guarantee. Ru-Ex Compound is for sale and recommended by Mark Halsey and drug stores everywhere. Adv.

Texas Wheat Crop Forecast Increased

AUSTIN, May 13 (AP) — A 1944 Texas wheat crop of 52,949,000 bushels based on conditions as of May 1 was forecast today by the United States Department of Agriculture.

This was 35 per cent greater than the forecast for a month earlier, reflecting improvement in conditions, but the need for additional moisture was still apparent, the USDA's crop reporting board found.

Other crop conditions reported:

Oats — Heading in north central counties; prospects somewhat better than average.

From Lou To Louella

DEAR LOUELLA: Handsome Cadet Jimmie Tinie from Chicago and Maxine McMillan are going together . . . Barbara Justice has said "yes" to Lt. Dick Eichrolz. He's from Minnesota and stationed at SPAAF. . . . Catharine Knight couldn't understand the lieutenant from New York with whom she went a couple of times. . . . And speaking of lieutenants, last week-end 120 of them came to Lubbock from Hobbs, N. M. . . . A/S Fred Stubbs left Tuesday for Altus, Okla., after being home a couple of days . . . L. D. Grady, Marine flier, left Saturday for Cherry Point, N. C. . . . Gone, also, is Sarah Jane Strange who is spending the week-end with friends in Oklahoma City.

Coming home soon from school are Dorothy Bogart who will come from San Marcos academy May 25; Peggy Badley, who'll be here 'round June 1 from Texas State College for Women, and Betty Cross who will graduate from Baylor university May 29. . . . Cpl. Aldine Swepston of Lubbock was pictured in last Sunday's edition of an Oklahoma City paper with another WAC and a couple of soldiers. They were shown preparing supper at the USO there. . . . Betty Jo Graham and Pfc. Eviton Conwell are making plans for his homecoming. He has been in the South Pacific for 15 months.

IN THE MAIL

Dear Lou: Kemas got together here the last week-end in April, but we were few in number.

I'm at the Navy supply corps school at Harvard and George Hay came to see me on his leave. We celebrated liberally for all the Kemas everywhere. We knew they'd want it that way!

Jack's and Jackie's names were chosen as the first to be put on a citizenship award plaque at high school. Two names will be added each year.

Mary Nell Earnest hears often from a sailor who will probably get to come home in the summer. Before he got in the Navy, he came to Tech on week-ends to see her. . . . Don Davenport went with a Tech girl this week for the first time this year. He wasn't going to forget his girl back home. . . . Kenneth Davidson is going to see his brother in Pennsylvania before he goes on the college geology trip to New Mexico this summer. . . . Jackie Young goes with Lt. Bob Williams, instructor at LAAF, almost every night. He's a good pianist, too.

Girls invited to the Wrangler reunion in Amarillo next week-end are Bettie White, Hope Cade, Betty Cope, Doris Cornelius, Jonnie Belsher, Jackie Wilkison, LaVerne "Pete" Allen, Hallie Crum, Jerry Shaw, Francine Young Jeanne Roco, Mary Maloney, Charlene Fisher, Anita Hale, Alyce Ned McCleskey and Betty Hallmark. More Tech girls and more Wranglers will attend this reunion than ever before.

Young War Veteran In Governor's Office

AUSTIN, May 13 (U.P.)—A 23-year-old World war II veteran with 13 major Pacific engagements to his credit is the newest employe in Gov. Coke R. Stevenson's office.

He is Bobby Hamilton, son of Mrs. Josephine Hamilton of Austin. He was wounded in action when his ship was sunk by a torpedo, and he spent three days at sea in a raft before being rescued. Hamilton has a medical discharge from the Navy.

With two rows of ribbon service decorations over his left shirt pocket, Hamilton is a mail clerk in the governor's office. He once was a page in the state house of representatives.

Few Man-Hours Lost In Three-State Area

DALLAS, May 13 (U.P.) — Man-hours lost through strikes and lockouts in Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana during the past 16 months represent only 23 ten thousandths of one per cent of the total man hours worked, the disputes division of the Eighth Regional War Labor board reported today.

Of the 1,777,209 workers in the three-state area subject to the jurisdiction of the WLB, only 7,630 have been involved in 34 work stoppages in the 16 month period, the report revealed.

One of the work stoppages lasted as long as a week. One lasted six days; four, four days; six, three days; 12, two days; and ten were of one day or less.

News From The Boys Serving In The Armed Forces Of Uncle Sam

Cpl. Charles C. Partin, 21, writing his mother from "Somewhere in England," where he is stationed with a semi-mobile evacuation hospital unit, "kids" his way through definitions of what the war is like to him. "We are not griping," he wrote, "but if filth, soot, dehydrated foods, hay beds, cold water and nowhere to go are a young fellow's idea of what it's about, tell the boys back home we're having a big time." He said there had come to be realized that, "the fellows who deserve whatever credit has been merited on our side are those in Italy and the far Pacific, or those in hospitals or in scattered graves." Partin is company clerk, assistant to the first sergeant, secretary, filing clerk and typist for his unit, "but none of us hurt ourselves at anything."A former student two years in the agricultural division of Texas Technological college, Partin transferred to Oklahoma A. & M. college for his last two years before graduation as a poultry specialist, and was employed by Wilson & Co., Inc., in Lubbock when inducted last August.

PARTIN

Calvin C. Adams, yeomen third class of the Navy, is back home visiting his mother, Mrs. Nona Adams, 1407 Twenty-fourth street, after spending a year in the Southwest Pacific area. Before entering the Navy Dec. 29, 1942, Adams was employed by the First National bank in Lubbock. Upon leaving here Wednesday he will go to Asbury Park, N. J., where he is to attend school.

Jack T. Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Martin of Southland, has been promoted from first lieutenant to captain in the U. S. Army Air forces somewhere in England where is a pilot of a B-24 Liberator bomber. Capt. Martin was a member of the 131st field artillery of the Texas National guard stationed here which was mobilized in November 1940 at the Panhandle-South Plains Fair grounds. He was a student in Texas Technological college at that time. He trained for a year at Camp Bowie and then transferred to the Air Corps early in 1942. He received his primary flight training at Nashville, Tenn.; his basic at Macon, Ga., and advanced at Smyrna, Tenn. He took transition and operation and operational training at Clovis, N. M., and Denver, Colo., and went overseas in November, 1943. His wife, the former Bera Maud Edwards of Southland, and his 15-months-old daughter, are residing at 2203 Seventeenth street while Capt. Martin is overseas.

MARTIN

Elbert W. Lavendar, who has been manager of Luby's cafeteria here the past three years, is now receiving special training in the United States Marine corps at Quantico, Va. He has been commissioned a second lieutenant in the Marines and was recently sworn in at Dallas. Lt. Lavendar was born and reared in Fort Worth, where he graduated from TCU with a bachelor of arts degree, majoring in business administration. His wife and two children, Cynthia Darden, 8, and Margaret Anne, 2, are residing at the family residence, 2101 Twenty-eighth street, during Lt. Lavendar's absence.

Mrs. R. L. Stone, 1711 Eighteenth street, has received word from the War department that her husband, Capt. R. L. Stone, pilot of a B-24 Liberator bomber was reported missing in action in a flight over Romania, April 5. Capt. Stone, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Stone of Celina, Tenn., was formerly an instructor at Lubbock Army Air field. He was stationed at Tarrant field near Fort Worth and Boise, Idaho, after leaving here and had been overseas about six months. He was a student prior to entering the Air Corps in 1940. Mrs. Stone was the former Miss Hazel Durham. She is residing with her foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Daniell of Lubbock.

STONE

PITTSBURG, Kas. — Howard Calvin Lanford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert H. Lanford of Dalhart route 3 and formerly of Lubbock, is now enrolled in basic training at the Navy V-12 unit at Kansas State Teachers college here. He played football and basketball while attending Lubbock Senior High school, and took freshman studies at Texas Technological college.

Through an error, the name of John Willis Hill, jr., in last Sunday's edition read "John Willis, jr." The sailor son of Mr. and Mrs. John Willis Hill, sr., 214 Hub Homes, is serving in the U. S. Navy somewhere in the Pacific. A seaman, second class, Willis enlisted in the Navy Feb. 7, 1944 and received his boot camp training at San Diego, Calif. After boot camp, he was stationed at Treasure island, San Francisco, and then sent to sea. He attended Lubbock schools and sold newspapers and was an Avalanche-Journal carrier boy prior to being employed by Ben E. Keith company. He left this company for the Navy.

HILL

BOYD

LOYD

Boyd and Loyd Mackey are twins and are now serving somewhere in England, they have informed their parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Mackey, 1618 Fourth street. The 22-year-old twins enlisted in the Army together, trained together at Lubbock Army Air field back in October, 1942; were transferred to Bryan Army Air field together, later to New Orleans, La., and Mobile, Ala., and have been overseas since last October. They are both privates, first class. Both attended Lubbock public schools. Prior to enlisting in the Army Air corps, Loyd was employed at Borden company and Boyd at Standard Milling company.

Cpl. Tollie L. Stephenson, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Stephenson of Ropesville, is now serving with the Army Engineers somewhere in England. He was inducted into the Army on Jan. 16, 1943 and received his basic training at Camp Swift. A former student of the Ropesville schools, Cpl. Stephenson was a radio singer and musician in this area and later worked for Consolidated Aircraft corporation at San Diego before going into service. His wife, the former Miss Jackie McKee of Ropesville, and their son, Roger, are now living at Fullerton, Calif. Cpl. Stephenson has been overseas eight months.

STEPHENSON

Lubbock friends have been advised of the promotion of Ernest Winter, USNR, a bomber pilot last reported in the Atlantic theater, from the rank of ensign to lieutenant, junior grade. He is a graduate of Senior High school and of Texas Technological college, where he was a pre-medical student. His mother, Mrs. Norman LeGrand, moved from Lubbock about eight years ago and now resides in South Gate, Calif.

Lt. Milton G. Scarbrough, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Scarbrough, 1612 Sixteenth street, has been reported by the War department to be missing in action over Germany on April 24. Lt. Scarbrough was pilot of a P-51 Mustang fighter plane and was in the same squadron with Capt. Don S. Gentile, who has destroyed 23 enemy aircraft aloft and seven aground. Lt. Scarbrough, a graduate of Lubbock High school, had attended Texas Tech a year and a half before going into the Army Air forces in November, 1942. He trained at San Antonio, Tulsa, Independence, Kas., and received his wings and commission at Moore field in October, 1943. He went overseas in February of this year. Mr. and Mrs. Scarbrough received the last letter from their son on April 20. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower had visited Lt. Scarbrough's base prior to the Lubbock man's being reported missing in action.

SCARBROUGH

Pvt. Willard L. Taylor, wife of Mrs. Willie May Taylor, 2635 Walnut street, recently was made an expert on the machine gun, scoring among the best shots in his company at the Armored Replacement Training center at Fort Knox, Ky. Pvt. Taylor, 36, is in his basic training now at Fort Knox. He was inducted into the Army last January 20. Upon completion of training at Fort Knox, he will be ready for duty with an armored unit in Uncle Sam's combat forces.

TAYLOR

Memorial services for 1st Lt. T. P. Aycock, son of Mrs. Eleanora Aycock of Crosbyton, are to be held today at 3 o'clock in the Methodist church, at Rosebud. Mrs. Aycock recently received a telegram from the War department that Lt. Aycock was killed in action over Germany on March 18, 1944. He was bombardier on a Flying Fortress and was on his 23rd mission. He had been overseas since September, 1943. Lt. Aycock finished Childress Bombardier school with the first graduating class in May, 1943. From there he was sent to Walla Walla, Wash., for further training before going overseas. He lived in Lubbock in 1930 to June, 1932 where he was enrolled in Lubbock Junior High school. He was a member of the Cowboy football team. Lt. Aycock was the only brother of Mrs. Don Leach and Mrs. Cary Lodal, both of Crosbyton.

1st. Lt. J. E. McAllister, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. McAllister of Tahoka, has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross for meritorious action against the enemy in the Mediterranean area, according to word received here. Lt. McAllister, a graduate of Lamesa High school and former student at Texas Technological college, has been in the Air Corps more than two years. He trained at various fields throughout the country and left for overseas duty last December, landing in North Africa from where he was transferred to Italy. Lt. McAllister has completed more than half of his 50 missions required for a return leave home. He is a nephew of Mrs. Kate Morgan, 1715 Twenty-fourth street.

McALLISTER

George L. Bradford, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Bradford of Idalou, has been appointed a flight officer in the U. S. Army Air forces upon completion of the officer's candidate unit course at the base of the 20th Ferrying group, ferrying division, Air Transport command, Nashville, Tenn. As a ferry pilot, he will help maintain a steady flow of combat aircraft from American factories to fighting fronts. Ferry pilots fly more than a hundred different types of military planes, in all climates and all weathers, to every corner of the earth.

Pfc. Billy J. Luck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Luck, 2109 Ninth street, was a member of another large class of aerial gunners to graduate last week from the AAF Training Command aerial gunnery school at Harlingen Army Air field. He received a pair of gunner's wings and a promotion in grade and will soon be ready to join an aerial combat team for transitional training. A comprehensive seven-weeks course in every phase of aerial gunnery warfare prepared him for his place in America's stepped-up air offensive. Besides learning to fire every type of weapon from camera guns to deadlier .50 Brownings, he studied turret manipulation, aircraft recognition and was required to tear down and assemble weapons while blindfolded. He climaxed the course by firing on towed targets from Liberator bombers under simulated combat conditions.

County Clerk Has Details On Voting By Service Personnel

Detailed information on absentee voting by Texas men and women in the armed services and men and women in related organizations, has been received in the office of Ed D. Allen, county clerk, and will be explained there to any who do not understand such procedure.

Public law 277, the information shows, gives precedence to the statutes of the various states governing absentee voting by members of the armed forces and related organizations, but provides a supplemental federal ballot to be used under certain circumstances, if the service man is unable to vote under state law.

Eligible Groups Listed

Members of the armed forces, Merchant Marine and of the American Red Cross, the Society of Friends, the Women's Auxiliary Service Pilots and the United Service Organizations are entitled to vote under Texas state law upon the same basis as civilians and are subject to the same qualifications, which are:

Twenty-one years of age; sound mind; not convicted of a felony; poll tax paid before Feb. 1 (voters who have become 21 after Jan. 1 of the year preceding and before the date of election may vote without a poll tax, provided they have obtained any necessary exemption certificate on or before Jan. 31 of election year; a citizen of the state at least 12 months and a citizen of the county at least six months preceding the election).

Absentee ballots may be voted under state law at both the July 22 and Aug. 26 primaries, and the general election of Nov. 7, and application for an absentee ballot may be made at any time to the county clerk of the county of residence of the voter, accompanied by the poll tax receipt, exemption certificate or affidavit of its loss. If the service man does not have his poll tax receipt in his possession it may be presented to the clerk by the wife or authorized agent of the service man, and need not be enclosed with the application for a ballot. One application will suffice for all three of such elections, provided it is stated in the application that a ballot is desired for all three.

Get Ballot From Clerk

Such ballot, together with voting instructions, will be furnished by the county clerk as soon as available and will contain the names of precinct, county, district, state and federal candidates. It should be returned direct to the clerk and must be received by him not later than the third day preceding the election.

Affidavits of acknowledgments required with reference to the ballot must be taken before a notary public or other authorized civil officer if the service man is located within the United States; but men in foreign service may make such affidavits or acknowledgments before any commissioned officer of the Armed forces, any auxiliary thereto, or of the armed force reserve.

The supplemental federal ballot provided for in public law 277 may be voted by members of the armed forces and others listed above under the following conditions:

Federal Ballot Limited

The federal ballot is available only to those in foreign service, except that members of the regular Army and Navy, maintained during time of peace as well as of war, may vote the federal ballot even though situated within the United States. (The foregoing rule is applicable to Texas men, but may vary as to other states).

Affidavit must be made that a state ballot was applied for prior to Sept. 1 and had not been received by Oct. 1 preceding the general election.

The federal ballot will include only candidates for president, vice president, United States senators, and representatives in Congress, and may be voted in the general election only. No poll tax is required for voting the federal ballot.

Vote Only One Ballot

One who has voted the state absentee ballot cannot under any circumstance vote the federal ballot, and vice versa.

The federal ballot will be furnished by the War and Navy departments and the War Shipping administration without the necessity of a request from the voter.

All affidavits required in connection with voting the federal ballot may be made before any commissioned officer, non-commissioned officer, not below the rank of sergeant, petty officer or any member of the Merchant marine, designated by the administrator of the War Shipping administration.

Such ballots, after being voted, must be delivered to the person designated in the instructions, who in turn will transmit them to the secretary of state of the State of Texas.

Such ballots, to be counted, must be in the hands of the local election officials not later than the hour for the closing of the polls on election day.

Dies Committee Is On Way Out

WASHINGTON, May 13 (AP)—Martin Dies' announcement of his decision to give up his seat in Congress was interpreted generally today on capitol hill as the swan song of his House committee on un-American activties.

The Texas Democrat's announcement that a throat illness would preclude his making a strenuous campaign to hold the House place he has occupied for 13 years and which his father once held, left only one of the seven original Dies committee members in the running for re-election.

Regardless of which political party controls the next House of Representatives, the fate of the Dies committee apparently was sealed by the decision of its chairman.

Created In 1938

Created in 1938 and continued six times since then, with total appropriations of approximately $625,000, the committee probably will cease to exist when the present session of Congress ends. Not once have as many as 100 votes been cast against its continuance, but Dies himself hinted strongly recently that its work was nearing an end and Chairman Cochran (D-Mo) of the accounts committee served notice he believed it and other special committees should be curbed in the future.

Associates of Dies said they were convinced that his decision to leave Congress was prompted solely by illness, despite the fact he faced a strenuous fight for re-election.

Delegates to the CIO United Steelworkers of America convention in Cleveland cheered announcement of Dies' withdrawal and UMW President Philip Murray observed:

"I think it is the greatest single contribution he has made to the welfare of the country since he entered public life."

"In What Way Are A Fly And A Tree The Same Or Alike?"

By H. W. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Editor

NEW YORK, May 13.—A moron under examination at the Great Lakes Naval Training station, just north of Chicago, was asked: "In what way are a fly and a tree the same or alike?"

"They both," he replied, "leave a spot where they were."

And this was the brightest answer of all given to an hour's questioning by about 150 morons examined at the training station. The record of the 150 is told by Daniel H. Harris in the medical journal, Hygeia.

"You can't," he declares, "spot a moron just by looking at him. Most morons look, dress and act like anyone else, at first glance. But inside their heads is a great loss of ordinary information."

Presidential Ticklers

The question, "Who was the last president before Franklin D. Roosevelt?" brings quite commonly the answer, Abraham Lincoln. George Washington also rates fairly high. Booker T. Washington and Huey P. Long draw a listing and Willkie gets several mentions.

The inventor of the airplane is likely to be Henry Ford, Lindbergh or Roosevelt. Occasionally Adm. Byrd gets the nod. One man said "The Wrong Brothers."

Will Rogers and Longfellow are likely to be named respectively as authors of Huckleberry Finn and Hamlet.

Foggy About London

"It may be hard to believe," Mr. Harris writes, "but it is a fact that in the United States there are people who have volunteered to join the U. S. Navy—and have never heard of London."

One boy said it was in New York, another in France and a third said it was a place awarded to the city of Germany.

Not one of the 150 knew where Brazil is.

Distances puzzled the morons. One said from Paris to New York was 12 miles. Answers between 200 and 500 miles were frequent.

Again in population of the United States there was much moronic conservatism. One figure was 500, and quite a few guesses were under 100,000.

Daze In The Woods

"If you were lost in the woods in the daytime, how would you go about finding your way out?"

Answer—"Go back the way I came or ask a policeman."

"What should you do if you were sitting in the movies and were the first person to discover a fire?"

Answer—"Holler fire," or "run out."

Mr. Harris does not tell the specific disposition of the classified morons but says:

"With all due respect to their patriotism, it is a relief to know that not one of them is now cluttering up a battleship, a destroyer or any other Naval vessel or establishment."

Kraus Assumes New Randolph Command

General Kraus succeeds Maj. Gen. Gerald C. Brandt.

God's Masterpiece

God was choosing His ingredients
With greatest care.
The angels, looking on, were breathless,
And, as the Master deliberately
They wondered what masterpiece our Father was making ready
To prepare.

First, He took a great portion
Of matchless love.
To this, He added equal portions of Loving care, understanding, sympathy,
Compassion, character, and, above
All else, He added a fierce devotion which,
Before the greatest force, refused
To move.

From this He made a being, and since, has Never made another—
The perfect person, and the one most loved
Be every man this wide world over. And God,
It's futile to ever bother.
For even You, God, could not improve
Our Mother .....

Hollywood On The Loose...

Embarrassment Is Truly Registered By Hedy Lamarr

by ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, May 13—Behind The Screen: The script of "Give Me This Woman" said that Hedy Lamarr should express "flustered embarrassment" for a scene with Paul Henreid. But Hedy, seductive in a filmy white gown, wasn't quite up to the script.

Hedy Lamarr

They tried it several times and director Jean Negulesco just shrugged his shoulders. "But let's try it again," he said in apparent resignation. "And this will be it."

Hedy stepped forward but before director Negulesco ordered camera, Henreid whispered something into her ear. Hedy's flustered embarrassment, immediately caught by the camera, was genuine. At the director's suggestion, Henreid had whispered:

"My dear, Hedy. That light behind you . . . you're quite nude!"

VFW Receives Many Letters Expressing Thanks For Cigarets

Results of that dime or more you gave to buy cigaretts for the men in the armed forces last September during a campaign sponsored by Lubbock Post 2466, Veterans of Foreign Wars, is now being shown by the many letters being received by the VFW from soldiers and sailors the world over, expressing their appreciation for this courtesy.

During the campaign, contributions were mailed in and many were taken to radio station KFYO, which cooperated with the VFW on the drive. Enough money was raised to send the servicemen 480,000 cigarets.

Many of the acknowledgements are on a printed card, which was included in the carton of cigarettes given to each serviceman. Others are letters, and some are V-mail.

Mail From Many Areas

Mail to Post No. 2466 has come from servicemen stationed in all parts of the Pacific theatre, from Africa, India, England, Alaska, Italy, on Atlantic and Pacific waters, and other places unknown due to censorship.

One serviceman, Lee O'Geady Chaney—now at a U. S. Naval hospital in Oakland, Calif., who has just returned from the Pacific war zone—sent five pictures, showing various scenes there. He wrote "I take great pleasure in acknowledgment of having received cigarets while in the war zone on Guadalcanal, New Caledonia and in Fiji Islands with the same greeting card in the bottom of each carton. Remember, I am thanking you for my battalion of over a thousand men as well as my lonesome. I am a Missourian and I take my hat off to Texas—I like her history."

Letter From Texan

One V-mail letter from C. R. Matheny stated, "We received your cigarets where I am and we really do appreciate them. It lets us feel that the people back in the States are still thinking of us and are in there pitching. I am from Texas myself only I left San Antonio in 1938 to join the Navy. I haven't been in Texas since I left there for service but I intend to come back on my first leave which I look for in about two years. Lot to look forward to."

Three of the men were so impressed by the service, that they wrote a letter to the VFW, asking if and how they could become a member of the organization.

CLEAN CANNISTERS

Cannister sets should have an occasional washing on the inside to prevent odors from developing. Wash them in warm soapy water, using a mop or cloth to get into all the edges. When thoroughly rinsed, towel dry, and let stand open in the sun for several hours before returning the contents.

High School Commencement Exercises Set For May 22

A post-war theme, "The Challenge of Tomorrow's World," will be emphasized at commencement exercises of Lubbock Senior High school Monday, 8 p. m., May 22, at the school auditorium when approximately 290-mid-term, May and summer school seniors are recognized or receive diplomas.

Commencement sermon is scheduled for next Sunday at 2:30 p. m. at the school auditorium when Dr. G. C. Brewer, former pastor of the Broadway Church of Christ, gives the main address.

Westerner Band To Play

The Westerner band, directed by C. S. Eskridge, is to give 15 minute concerts preceding each exercise. The concerts will begin at 2:15 p. m. and 7:45 p. m.

For commencement sermon the band will play "Thou Be Near" (Bach and a Prelude (Massenet). Promptly at 2:30 o'clock the processional will begin with the band playing "Grand Triumphal March" (Guilmant).

Rev. John A. Winslow, pastor of St. Paul's Episcopal church, will give the invocation and benediction will be by Rev. A. H. Carleton, pastor of St. John's Methodist church. A string trio is to play "Liebestraum" (Franz Liszt). Members of the trio are Roger Hall, George Zournas and Winston Redwine. The program will be closed by the Westerners playing "Huldigungsmarch," a selection from "Sigurd Jorsalfar Suite" (Grieg).

All-Student Program

Commencement exercises will feature an all-student program and there will not be a guest speaker. The annual arts class directed by Miss Claudia Neelley is preparing a large map to be used as a backdrop on the stage. Floyd Honey, principal of high school, will present honors to outstanding students, R. W. Matthews, superintendent, is to present members of the class, and presentation of diplomas will be made by Dr. J. T. Hutchinson, president of the Lubbock School board.

Band concert numbers will be Berceuse from "Jocelyn" (Godard) and Bridal Song from Rural Wedding Symphony (Goldsmith). Sam Henly will give the invocation followed by a senior chorus singing "I Hear America Singing" (Mitchell Parish).

Six Speeches Scheduled

The six speeches scheduled and seniors to give them are as follows: A Challenge to All, Ted Forsythe, president of class; Political Problems of Post-War Era, Billy Masters; Vocations in Post-War Picture, Jack Cooper; The Challenge of Science in Tomorrow's World, Irene Crim; Christianity in a World-Wide Reconstruction, Jackie Lewis; Education for Peace, Mike Sellen. Ted Forsythe is to have charge of the program and announce the numbers.

The senior chorus will sing "United Nations on March" arranged by Harold J. Rome and a girl ensemble will be heard in "The Lord's Prayer" (Malotte). Members of the ensemble are Mary Ann Dykes, Marilyn Claiborne, Lenora Lowe, Peggy Ann Johnson, Nora McMurry, Frances Groce, Lottie Margaret Atkinson and Earnestine Snider.

Billy Medley will play the piano selection, "Stars and Stripes Forever" (Sousa). The program will close with the class singing the Westerner sing.

Sundown Schools Plan Graduation Events

SUNDOWN, May 13 (Special)—Rev. A. A. Brian, Brownfield Baptist minister, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon for seniors of Sundown High school at 11 a. m. Sunday at the school auditorium. Main speaker for commencement exercises Thursday evening at 8:30 o'clock will be Lee Johnson, Wink superintendent of schools.

Graduates will be Darrell Benson, Joe Buck, Muriel Gray, Wilda Dempsey, Joanna Drake, Lanetta Dresslar, Juanita Ferguson, Bob Giddens, Patti Hines, Helen Jackson, Mildred James, Iona Lee, Lamar Mason, Onetta Richards, Doris Roundtree, Mary Smith, Olen Ray Sterling, Donald Teague and Jack Lambert.

Grade school commencement will be held Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the school auditorium.

Meat Sales Not Booming Here

The bonanza of ration free meats except beef steak and roasts has not been all it appeared to be when OPA officials announced the new plan last week, a survey of local packing companies and wholesalers revealed here Saturday.

Lubbock packing companies report a slight increase in the sale of pork and veal, but they indicated that sales have not boomed as the packing industry had hoped for in the beginning.

One packing official said they had sold probably 25 per cent more veal and pork this week, but that beef sales had not increased any, in spite of the fact that hamburger and stew meats are now ration free. Another company spokesman said they had noticed a slight increase in pork and maybe veal and he explained the slow movement of beef by saying that even though beef cuts, other than steaks and roasts, can be bought without points, a butcher still has to sell so many T-bones and so on before he has any ration free meat available. A beef has just so much stew and hamburger.

No Boom In Beef Sales

The packing companies said their beef sales are not expected to go up because red points must now last twice as long as in the past.

Neither have Lubbock housewives stormed the grocery stores for ready-to-eat canned meats and canned fish this week, local stores report. One food store manager said he had noticed a slight increase in sales but nothing to compare with what you might expect. He said a lot of customers this week aparently didn't know about the new ration free ruling because they attempted to give points for various canned meat items.

Another grocery merchant said he had the best all-around business last Saturday since the first of 1944, but he hesitated to say that it was caused by the OPA easing up on points.

Big Force Of German E-Boats Scattered

LONDON, May 13 (AP)—A strong force of German E-boats concentrated in the English channel about 25 miles southeast of the Isle of Weight was scattered by the French destroyer La Combattante early today after an engagement in which one E-boat was sunk and another damaged, the Admiralty announced.

The announcement said that the destroyer, which suffered neither damage nor casualties, picked up a number of survivors.

Bossy Has Turned Out To Be Spectacular Worker In Nation's Production For War

By ROBERT GEIGER
AP Features Writer

DENVER, May 13. (AP)—Cattle, turning grass, sunlight and water into such stuff as soldier morale and nitroglycerine, are performing miracles of war production.

Scientists call it "miraculous" because they can't explain how the cow does it.

Much Beef Produced

In the first three months of 1944 the American meat industry produced 1,675,000,000 pounds of beef for approximately 11,300,000 men and women in our armed forces and to 128,000,000 on the home front. Millions of pounds went to Allied nations under Lend Lease.

Before 1870 practically all of the beef carcass that wasn't edible meat was discarded as waste. Now virtually every pound of the carcass is utilized. Hundreds of war articles are manufactured from packing house by-products.

Fats Go Into Glycerine

Fats are needed for manufacture of glycerine, which is used in explosives and a dozen other war products, such as a special soap necessary to the manufacture of synthetic rubber, for metal working and in the manufacture of alkyd resins for paints, used on battleships.

Milk may be going into Aralac, a fabric that substitutes for wool; or into a synthetic silk for parachutes.

Milk Into Plastics

Casein, which comes from milk, is used in plastics for buttons, buckles, fountain pens, manicuring sets and sizing for airplane cloth.

Spectacular uses have been found for cattle in medicine. The liver, once thrown away as inedible, was found to be effective in treating secondary anemia. Now a process has been developed for making a liquid extract of beef liver to treat pernicious anemia.

Suprarenalin, a powerful heart stimulant and astringent, is manufactured from glands. A pound of suprarenalin is worth $5,000 and takes the glands of 25,000 cattle.

Glue extracted from cattle goes into making paper, books, leather goods, oilcloth, musical instruments, trunks, corks, matches, carpets, cameras, pencils, silks, whips and sandpaper.

Can't Be Done Artificially

"The cow takes in green plants, composed of minerals, water, protein, fat and carbohydrates," say scientists of Colorado State College veterinary school.

"These are the building blocks out of which it constructs living tissue, meat, hide and bone. The cow shuffles the building blocks in a way that only a living plant can. Man can't do it artificially.

"But the chemist shuffles the deck once more, converting the elaborated materials into lastics, paint, lubricating oils and all the other wonderful products it takes to win a war."

"V FOR VICTORY"

NEW YORK, May 13 (AP)—The statue of liberty, greatest of all symbols of American freedom, will flash a V-for victory signal when news is received that invasion of fortress Europe has begun.

Shell Pieces Strike Train, Injuring Two

SANTA MARIA, Calif., May 13 (AP)—Thirty fragments of a mortar shell pierced the steel sides of the dining car of the, speedy Southern Pacific daylight limited as it passed near an Army camp yesterday, seriously wounding two kitchen employes.

Verti B. Logan, Los Angeles, making her first run as a dishwasher on the train, suffered such severe wounds to her arm that doctors found it necessary to amputate. Mrs. Alice Jones, also a railroad employe, suffered facial and other injuries.

An Army provost marshal at San Luis Obispo conducted a preliminary examination while the train stopped there.

In San Francisco, where the train arrived only 10 minutes behind schedule, Army investigators of the central security district, took over the examination and will report to the Ninth Service command headquarters in Salt Lake City, Utah.

There's No Dim-Out Of One Beacon; Rival Political Camps Prepare For Battle

Mother Love Still Shines

War's Separations Are Bridged

MERE words never become more totally futile than when attempt is made to describe the feelings that are symbolized by such an occasion as the observance of Mother's Day.

There simply are some things in life for which there are no words. Motherhood is foremost among them. No one can describe the feelings inspired by the word, Mother. These are emotions locked in the very depths of the soul which can only be felt.

Happily, the feeling is telepathic. Words aren't necessary, though any mother might like to hear the feeble best that language might do. But, if the feeling is there, Mother knows it. It reaches her, regardless what the distance of momentary separation may be.

Because there are so many separations, the appreciation of the symbolism of this Mother's Day undoubtedly will be deeper than on any that has gone before. Because of absences, it will intensify consciousness of the fact that, in a world and time of suffering and sorrow, one beacon still shines with a brilliance that is magnified by the surrounding darkness. It is the eternal beacon of Mother and Mother Love.

Give 'em The Bums Rush!

If professional night club entertainers ever had any public support in their fight against the present 30 per cent federal tax on night club receipts, they should lose it because of the ultimatum declared for them by their drum-beater - in - chief, Columnist Walter Winchell.

Through Walter, the union of these alleged entertainers served this notice upon Congress, upon the government and upon the American people:

"Either reduce the night club tax or we will refuse to appear in any more War bond rallies."

In other words, they are willing to help in the war effort only if the Congress of the United States does as they demand.

If any statement more stupid in behalf of any selfish group has been made since the war started, it does not come to mind. A logical mind is not capable of imagining what these "entertainers" might hope to gain through such a flagrantly unpatriotic declaration.

Surely they can't imagine that anyone would be frightened by their threat to withdraw their aid to the war effort. Whatever help they have given hasn't been essential to the success of any bond campaign. As a matter of fact, night clubs probably have done a great deal more harm than good to War bond sales. True, a few bonds may have been sold by these entertainers. But think how many bonds could have been bought with the millions upon millions of dollars which have been utterly wasted in night clubs.

Nor does it appear that any sympathy will be aroused for the entertainers by Walter's repeated complaints that the federal tax is reducing night club receipts to a point where many employed by them may lose their jobs.

So they may lose their jobs as entertainers? So what? Surely no one would pretend they are engaged in an essential occupation. If they do lose their jobs, is there anything except themselves to keep them from working in war industries where, according to the administration and according to the mighty Walter, the man power shortage is critical? If they really want to help in the victory effort, this is the way they can do it.

The ultimatum is so completely stupid that many people might wonder how Walter Winchell, blinded though he is by self-admiration, would declare it. The explanation is readily apparent. Winchell himself was a ham - and - egg vaudeville actor during his younger days. Thus he has an entirely natural fraternal feeling for others of that kind. Nor can the fact be overlooked that it is in the night clubs where Walter finds a goodly portion of the items with which his columns are filled.

To the "entertainers" who say they won't help in the war effort unless their demands are met, most Americans will reply, in disgust:

"Splendid! It will be good riddance of bad rubbish!"

A recently discovered star weighs 9,000 tons to the cubic inch," asserts an astronomer. This star must be almost as dense as that moron who has been doing all those foolish things.

The One Minute Sermon

Thou shalt also consider in thine heart, that, as a man chasteneth his son, so the Lord thy God chasteneth thee.

Therefore thou shalt keep the commandments of the Lord thy God, to walk in his ways, and to fear him.—Deuteronomy 8:5 and 6.

OUR PLEDGE

WE pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States, and to the Republic for which it stands, One Nation, indivisible, with Liberty and Justice for all.

Marking Time, Too

Our "GI Correspondent" Enjoys Visit With Albuquerque Pal

"Alphabet-itis" Plagues England, Too

By ERNIE PYLE
War Correspondent

LONDON, May 13. (By Wireless)—The American contingent in London has many new terms since I left here in 1942. The newest and most frequently heard is "SHAEF." This is the initials of Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force. It is SHAEF that is planning and will direct the invasion. General Eisenhower is head man of SHAEF. I mention it only to show how initials grow into words over here just as they do back in Washington.

ERNIE PYLE

The word ETOUSA still exists. That stands for European Theater of Operation United States Army. That is, headquarters of the American Army as distinct from Allied Headquarters. It is two years old now and still functioning.

When we were here in 1942 ETOUSA was always pronounced "eetoosa." For some unexplainable reason the pronunciation has now changed to "eetowza." Being old-fashioned and set in my ways, I like the first one best.

Boys Get Bad Break

I had a quick V-letter the other day from the Mediterranean. It was from one of the "frozen" boys in Casablanca that I wrote about—the American-bound soldiers who had hit a dead-end street and had been hung up in Casa for six weeks when I ran into them.

Well, they got a decision on their fate. But it was the wrong one. Their schooling program was called off, their transfer home was cancelled, and they were ordered back to their original outfits. The letter says:

"It was a great dream while it lasted, but it's over now. We have been riding the Forty-and-Eights and hitting the replacement depots—and you know what that means.

"The only thing that really hurts is that we didn't catch the many boats we might have caught if we had seen 'somebody' sooner. But enough of this crying in your Scotch, Ernie. We will see you again some day. And again, thanks a million from all of us."

• • •

IT was a cruel and disappointing thing, but that is the way real soldiers take it. The Army is so big that things like that are bound to happen. But they shouldn't happen too often.

Such a thing had happened to one of those boys four times in two years. Even the best soldier can't have too much discouragement and disillusionment heaped upon him.

Visits Old Friend

The other day I took a trip up to mid-England to see a man from Albuquerque. He is in fact the man who built our little white house out there on the mesa, and who subsequently became one of our best friends.

His name is Arthur McCollum. He was a lieutenant in the last war and he is a captain in this one. He spent 20 years regretting that he never got overseas the other time, and he is very happy that he made it this time. He is attached to a big general hospital out in the country.

In January Captain McCullum had a reunion with his son, Lt. Ross McCollum. Ross was chief pilot of a Flying Fortress. Father and son had two wonderful week-ends together. And then on his second mission over Germany Ross didn't come back. Nothing has been heard from him since. That was nearly four months ago.

• • •

CAPTAIN MAC and Ross were real companions—they played together and dreamed and planned together. After the war they were going to fish a lot and then start an airplane sales agency together.

Captain Mac says he kind of went to the bottom of the barrel over Ross. For two months he was so low he felt he couldn't take it. And then he said to himself, "Look here, you damn fool. You can't do this. Get yourself together." And having given himself that abrupt command, he carried it out. And today he is all right.

I found him the same kind of life-loving, gay friend I had known in Albuquerque. We rode bicycles around the countryside, celebrated her and there, made fools of ourselves and had a wonderful time.

Captain Mac talked a lot about Ross, and felt better for the talking, but he didn't do any crying on my shoulder. He feels firmly that Ross will come back, but he knows now that if he never does he can take it.

Even though he is an intimate friend of mine, I consider him one of the finest examples I know of what people can and must do when the tragedy of war falls fully upon them.

Looking At Life - - - - - - By Erich Brandeis

"Oh, Mr. Brandeis, I wish I knew as much as you do. But I guess it takes years and years of experience and study."

For a moment I felt very important and all puffed up.

But then I said:

"My dear child, the thing that takes so long to learn is not what you finally know but to know what you don't know."

Well, don't you remember when you were very young how you knew everything?

Everybody was dumb but you. There was nothing that your great 14 and 16 and 18 year old mind didn't master.

Your elders were outmoded old fogies, traditions and customs were mid-Victorian or worse.

If your mother or your teacher corrected you, you looked at them with a pitying smile and said to yourself:

"The poor goof! Too bad old age has overcome her."

• • •

Then you had your first disappointment. Maybe it was your first love affair gone wrong. Maybe you got fired from your first job.

That was lesson number one in knowing what you don't know.

And then year after year the course went on until today you are a much more ignorant and a much wiser person.

Sometimes I wish I could go back to the wisdom of ignorance, but you can have that only in youth—or in failure.

• • •

OR are they really failures? There is a fellow who brings us our newspapers and magazines. Tough work it is to cart the heavy loads around, and very little money is in it.

But he wouldn't change with us for all the money in the world.

He has four kids, Ike, Mike, Jake and Sammy.

"You fellows are the suckers," he said. "My wife and I and the four kids, we go out on Sunday and for 60 cents apiece eat ourselves so full that we can't walk.

"You guys have to go somewhere where you get gypped with a big cover charge and the 30% tax.

"And you may not know it, but you pay my rent. I live in a government project that's kept up out of your taxes. I even have a bathroom with green titles."

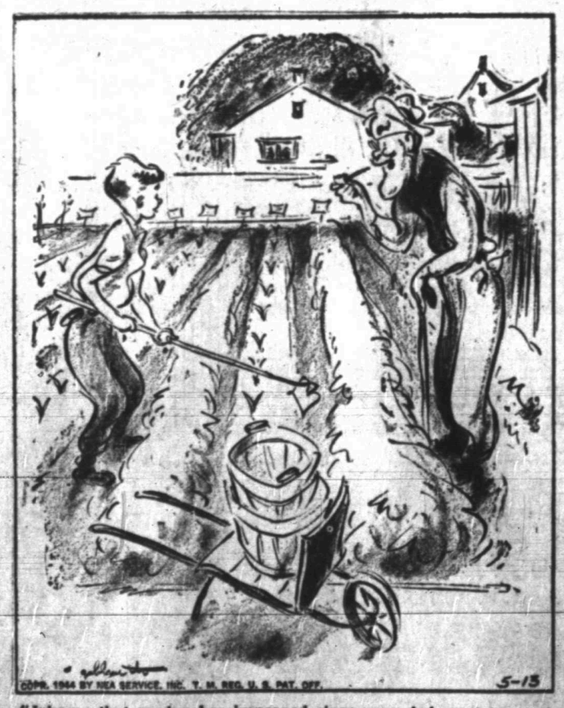

That's Moe, the newspaper fellow.

It has taken me 20 years to find out by the trial and error method how little I know. But Moe never went beyond the third grade, never reads (he brags about it) and gets, in his way, more out of life than many of us.

What is the answer? You tell me!

Fighter pilots obtain brief surges of extra power for combat by pushing a button which injects water into their air-cooled engines, cooling the cylinders, cutting down detonation and permitting leaner gas mixtures.

Demos, GOP Drawing Lines

(The National Whirligig)

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

THE seepage of information on 1944 campaign plans between Democratic and Republican National headquarters here is one of the wonders of present-day politics. Sometimes the data flow directly from one main office to the other, but usually the exchanges are the result of informal talks between Congressmen in Capitol Hill cloakrooms.

This intra-party underground has furnished the GOP with a fairly accurate preview of the four principal arguments which administration orators will level against their opponents. Here they are:

1. Mr. Roosevelt, through his experience and contacts abroad, can hasten the struggle to a successful conclusion more quickly and effectively than could a stranger to Washington, London and Moscow.

2. The President foresaw American participation in the war from the start, while the Republicans adopted a narrow, nationalistic viewpoint which prevented him from rearming the United States. More specifically, the Democrats will charge that the seeds of the current conflict were sown during the Harding, Coolidge and Hoover regimes, long before the present crowd took over the Government.

3. The "outs" will pursue a non-cooperative and isolationistic policy in the postbellum era. Such a program, the Rooseveltians will contend, will ensure one more period of world strife in another 25 years.

4. The congressional minority has espoused ideas which will produce serious inflation of prices and other values. This attack will be based on the GOP's opposition to subsidies and OPA. Republicans recently decided to abandon their antagonism to federal support of the price structure.

• • •

INDICTMENT: GOP Chairman Harrison Spangler concedes that his side must win this debate if it hopes to land its candidate in the White House. But his researchers have dug up evidence which, in his opinion, will destroy every opponent contention for a fourth vote of confidence.

Basic answers to the claimed need for re-electing Mr. Roosevelt in order to win the war are: 1. A Republican President will leave military management to the present commanders (Marshall, Eisenhower, MacArthur, King, Lahey, Halsey) and not interfere with their arrangements. 2. Taking the offensive, the GOP will maintain that Mr. Roosevelt's intervention has hurt rather than helped the armed forces.

The Republicans will paint the Chief Executive as the "arch isolationist" of American history. They will recall that he scrapped the idea of the League of Nations and the system of international conferences inaugurated by Harding in 1922 and carried on by Coolidge when he sponsored the Kellog-Briand pact. They will note that FDR "scuttled" the 1933 economic powwow inspired by Herbert Hoover.

The GOP-ers will charge that, although Mr. Roosevelt made our eventual participation in a world, war a certainty with his 1937 demand to "quarantine the aggressors," he did not take steps to prepare the nation's defenses. Even the Navy, which he did strengthen, was wholly inadequate at the time of Pearl Harbor, according to the Spangler theory.

As to the indictment that it feeds the fires of inflation, the GOP will retort that the party has been the historic advocate of a sound money and economy and of conservation of natural resources. It might add that the West has frequently assailed the Republicans because, in previous economic crisis, they seemed to favor deflationary processes as the best means to recovery.

• • •

SHACKLES: The writer, in a facetious mood, suggested in a recent column that the Republicans' most effective piece of campaign propaganda would be a placard reproducing the scene in which two soldiers forcibly carried Sewell Avery out of Montgomery Ward's building. The GOP has accepted the idea and gone one better.

A circular now in preparation bears the caption: "It Can't Happen Here", with the "Can't" lined out and the word "Did" printed over it. Beneath are two pictures.

The first portrays the Chicago expulsion, and carries the following outline: "American soldiers, in the Army to fight Japs and Nazis, ordered to eject businessman from his plant without benefit of court procedure guaranteed by the Constitution. Are these soldiers entitled to an apology from civilian officials who gave them this un-American job to do at Montgomery Ward?"

The second picture shows storm troopers driving push cart peddlers off the streets of Berlin. Says the caption: "With orderly government gone and courts ignored, this small businessman is just as defenseless against his overpowerful government as is the larger businessman, the farmer or the citizen in his home."

Then follows a Rooseveltian statement which drew heavy fire at the time it was deliverred: "In 34 months we have built up new instruments of public power. In the hands of a people's government this power is wholesome and proper. In the hands of political puppets of an economic autocracy such power would provide shackles for the liberties of the people."

NOTE: Washington understands that Montgomery Ward will reproduce the Avery ouster photograph in its new catalogues with the following sardonic announcement: "We take orders from everybody!"

WINNING THE WAR
By Albert Loman

OFFICIALDOM cannot admit it publicly, but plans for the invasion are further complicated by the latest doings of de Gaulle.

The gallantry of this popular hero and the slights to which he has been subjected by Washington and London have been previously described in this space. Unfortunately, it is necessary for Americans to be made aware of the other side of the picture.

General Eisenhower has 1,001 headaches connected with the coming amphibious movement, yet his energies must now be diverted to mollify a strong-willed associate who, unlike the Dutch, Norwegian and other de jure governments, will not play ball unless his messages are sent in his own private code.

At the moment when millions from the democracies are about to brave death to liberate Europe, our temperamental friend in Algiers throws a monkey wrench into the affairs of state by urging a permanent postwar alliance between France and the Communists.

It can be said here on highest military authority that uncertainty about what General de Gaulle may do presents a security problem of the first water. Elaboration will give an inkling of its seriousness.

• • •

PETAIN: Our GHQ must be prepared for any rabbit Hitler may pull out of his hat. De Fuehrer realizes that if the coming offensives are successful, Germany may be defeated before Christmas. If he can achieve a stalemate through the winter, he can hope for a split among the United Nations. He must gamble for time.

Disruptive military moves could be made on Sweden, Turkey, Spain or possibly, an air-borne invasion of Corsica or Iceland might be undertaken. Little advantage would be gained and new enemies would be mobilized. Instead, he may choose a daring diplomatic coup—the kind of thing in which he is past master.

He may offer immediate peace to Petain, pledging to restore the complete sovereignty of France and to remove his troops as fast as possible.

"Balkan Journey" Is Story Of Greece's Fall

Laird Archcer Tells What He Heard And Saw On Invasion

IT is November, 1940, and the people of Greece are beginning the fight against the Italian armies. Everywhere, men lay down their work tools and go off to meet the enemy. In the Epirus mountains, women help to drag the Greek guns and carry ammunition. In Athens, women of the elite scrub floors in buildings hastily taken over to house the wounded.

LAIRD ARCHER

A woman of seventy comes haltingly on a cane to a place collecting wool for soldiers' blankets. She carries her mattress on her back. "Take the wool out of this," she says. "I'm not too old yet to sleep on the boards." A boy bootblack pulls off his sweater at the same place as his contribution. A soldier with one leg begs Princess Fredericka, when she visits his hospital, to use her influence to get him back on the front. "I can still shoot, your Highness," he says.

Laird Archer, who was foreign director of the Near East Foundation, was in the Balkan countries in the critical years before the war, and in Greece, through her war up until the end of the first eight weeks of German occupation. His book, "Balkan Journey," tells what he saw and heard.

The introduction to "Balkan Journey" is written by Harry Scherman, president of the Book-of-the-Month club, who says of this author: "Far more thoroughly than any newspaper correspondent, he came to see and know everybody—from King George and King Zog and all the diplomats and striped trousers down to the lowliest peasants and tradesmen."

Even after the Island of Cephalonia was occupied by the Italians, the Greeks retained their prankish spirit, says Archer. There, the population was fined ten drachmas a head for mussing up huge black and white posters of Il Duce in his favorite pose of shoving out his bulldog jaw. But many of the people paid twenty drachmas voluntarily. "What's the extra ten for?" inquired the puzzled Italian judge. "Oh, that's for tomorrow," was the significant reply.

MURDER AND MURIEL

Any lad who hasn't already married a lass named Muriel will think twice before doing so after reading Jerome Odlum's "The Morgue Is Always Open" (Scribners). Not that she isn't a pip. Sam Booker, rough-and-ready private dick, and his partner, Jimmy Webb, agreed wholeheartedly on that point—but they found Muriel a most dangerous and deceptive number.

First they had to find Muriel, however. She was the wife of a worried little guy who was willing to pay plenty to locate her, and Jimmy and Sam, who had reached the bottom of the barrel, were glad to take what seemed to be a routine job of work.

But murder came. Then another murder. And then yet another. The two detectives were kept hopping, and managed to work in a flying trip to the Middle West while they were about it. Grim and gay, as full of action as a box full of wildcats, and altogether a well-turned-out detective novel.

SPIES ON THE HIGH SEAS

A thriller handled with a light touch is Marjorie Fischer's "Embarrassment of Riches" (Random House). Prof. Hal Johnson runs into something he hadn't counted on when he boards a boat for Mexico; in fact, two somethings—first is Jane Blake, who winds up being an unwilling passenger on the same boat; second is a Nazi spy ring.

Jane, in attempting to deliver a letter to Johnson on the boat, is held in Johnson's cabin while the boat pulls away from the dock because Johnson spies someone outside his cabin with a gun pointed at him. The letter informs him that he is inheriting a couple of million dollars, most of which is to be turned over to the Free French cause. And that letter, together with Jane, gets him into a lot of hot water.

The girl's situation of being on board without even a toothbrush calls for a lot of funny incidents. And her constant association with Johnson ripens into love that results in the usual book ending—after the spies are apprehended in San Salvador, they clinch and live happily ever after. You'll like the Rosenberg character that bounces through the book doing good deeds for everyone.

PRIZE WINNING WAR BOND MESSAGE

This advertisement presents the second prize winning editorial in a nationwide contest among high school and college publications, conducted by the Education Section of the War Finance Division in cooperation with the Columbia Scholastic Press Association, as part of the Treasury Department's Schools-at-War program. It was written by Loren Spademan, Highland Park Senior High School, Highland Park, Michigan, for the SPECTATOR and was selected from thousands of editorials which were submitted.

In the dark off New Britain the davits creak as another landing boat goes over the side. At Walter Reed Hospital in Washington, a surgeon raises his scalpel to begin a delicate brain operation. Somewhere in England an American airman gives a final tug at his parachute straps and climbs aboard for Hamburg and points East.

This is your doing. For one-thirtieth of a second the $75 you put out for a $100 war bond is paying for the war. It's paying the salaries of all the generals and all the admirals and all the buck privates. It's paying the wife of the sergeant in the German prison camp.

Your money is buying all the gasoline and oil, all the bread and milk, the penicillin, oranges, ammunition, hot coffee, the lima beans, peanuts, shoe leather, and elbow grease used by our army in all the 40 odd countries where it is stationed.

You're paying Sinebaldo Lelli* out at Chrysler's, Bob Mestach* over at Excello, the janitor at Willow Run, and Dean George Altenburg, who has left the halls of our Junior College to train fliers out Mount Clemens way.

For one-thirtieth of a second the war is your responsibility. It rests entirely on your shoulders. Snap your fingers and think of all the things going on all over the world while sound is in your ears.

It's an extremely short time, to be sure, but it's the thirtieths of seconds and hundredths of seconds that are turning Berlin under and chasing the Japs from New Britain.

German Attack On Convoy Is Repulsed

ALGIERS, May 13 (U.P.)—Only a few hours before the Allies began their general Italian offensive, German torpedo planes attacked a convoy off the North African coast and lost five aircraft without damaging the ships, it was revealed today.

British Beaufighters and Mosquitoes and French Aerocobras shared the victories.

Between 25 and 30 German planes made the attack in two waves, flying near water level.

Dewey Or Stassen, If Victor, Youngest Of U. S. Presidents

Harold Stassen

W. J. Bryan

Teddy Roosevelt

Thomas Dewey

WASHINGTON, May 13—If the Republicans nominate New York's Gov. Thomas E. Dewey or Minnesota's former governor, Harold E. Stassen, they will have the youngest presidential candidate in the history of the party. Should either be elected president, he would be the nation's youngest chief executive.

Dewey would be 42 years, 9 months and 24 days old when inaugurated—25 days younger than Theodore Roosevelt when he first took office. Stassen would be only 37, beating Teddy's record by more than five years.

The first Roosevelt stepped up to the presidency from the vice presidency on Sept. 14, 1901, the day McKinley died from an assassin's bullet in Buffalo, N. Y. Before Roosevelt, the youngest president was Ulysses S. Grant, inaugurated at 46. All the presidents since Teddy have been in their 50s when taking office.

The oldest man ever elected president, William Henry Harrison, was 68 at his inauguration in 1841. The old warrior of Tippecanoe, hatless and without an overcoat, stood in a raw wind for more than an hour, delivering his inaugural address. He contracted pneumonia and died exactly one month after his inauguration.

Besides Harrison, two presidents were older when they took office than Franklin Roosevelt will be next inauguration day, January 20. Mr. Roosevelt will be 10 days under 63. James Buchanan was 65 and Zachary Taylor 64 at their inaugurations.

The youngest presidential nominee in the history of the two major parties was William Jennings Bryan, "The boy orator of the Platte." He was 36 when his Cross of Gold speech won him the Democratic nomination.

The constitution requires that a person be 35 years old, a natural-born citizen and 14 years a resident within the United States in order to be eligible for the presidency.

The number of women employed in Canadian war plants has increased to 419,000 from 144,000 in 1939.

Swimming Beaches Available For Yanks In Italy

BY SID FEDER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WITH THE 5TH ARMY IN ITALY, May 10 (Delayed) (AP)—Whenever any of our soldiers can wangle a few hours away from fighting a war they're swimming off a slick sandy beach in the blue waters of the Tyrrhenian sea, while the big guns tear up the middle of Italy with artillery fire and the front line troops are at each others' throats.

"The Lido" is a brand new beach the Army's special service section unveiled for officers this week. The enlisted men's "swimming hole" was opened weeks ago and Joes were in there cooling off recently when who should pop up as the "inventor" but your old pal Ray Novotny, who used to carry the mail in the backfield for Ohio university and the Brooklyn Dodgers. He's Lt. Col. Novotny now on special services. This is second beach building job; the first was at Saida ,when the boys were romping around Africa.

Certain Areas Restricted

With signs warning you not to play in certain areas because mines don't make nice playboys; an ack-ack emplacement nearby that isn't there for local color, and the rubble of what's left of a beach front villa that forgot to duck, this can't be mistaken for Jones beach, Atlantic City or a summer spot on Lake Michigan, but it's the real thing as far as surf bathing is concerned. It is completely equipped with sand breakers and a parking lot for jeeps. Basket parties are welcome if you can talk your mess sergeant into producing the basket.

There even are three lifeguard GI's who volunteered for the job. They used to do the same thing before putting on soldier suits. They even have the job of going after fair damsels in distress, for this beach is open to Army nurses and WACS as well as soldiers.

International Air Base In Bermuda Expected

WASHINGTON, May 13 (AP)—Diplomatic officials here expect that the great American-built air base at Bermuda eventually will be made available for international civil aviation despite the fact that such use now is prohibited by the 99-year lease under which Britain made the area available to this country.

Similar internationalization also may be applied to other strategically located units in the chain of eight 99-year bases. The whole question probably will be settled as part of the aviation conferences, scheduled to be held here later this year.

The subject was brought to the fore by Lord Beaverbrook, the lord privy seal, who told Commons two days ago that the leases by which Britain granted the bases to this country in 1940 prohibit their use for civil purposes—notably aviation—after the war.

However, Lord Beaverbrook has agreed generally that American-built bases in the British empire will be internationalized in so far as commercial aviation is concerned. This specifically did not apply to the special case of the eight leased bases because they were not then at issue—but it can be applied to them.

CAPITAL STOCK Standard protection FIRE INSURANCE

CAN YOU GET 3 OUT OF 3 ON THIS QUIZ?

1. Do you believe that fire insurance rates during the past 30 years have: (Increased) (Decreased) (Remained fairly steady)?
2. What percent of the fire insurance premium that you pay represents the average profit of insurance companies?
3. What important financial security is back of your policy if it is with an old line (stock) company?

ANSWERS

1. Decreased. Now average 40% lower than thirty years ago.
2. 2 2/3%—and this profit strengthens the ability of insurance companies to meet unusually heavy losses which may occur in the future.
3. It is backed by both a paid-in capital and surplus. You are never liable for assessment.
