7 Per Ton to Be Paid; Other Places to Be Announced

Arrangement with Johnnie Reed, owner of Johnnie's Wrecking Yard, where farmers and other places where scrap metal may be sold has been made by D. A. Coy, chairman of the Hall County USDA defense board. The board has agreed to pay $7 per ton for the scrap metal, according to W. B. Hooser said. Other places where the metal will be set up throughout the county as soon as possible, he said. The movement was made because of the appeal to the national scrap iron made recently by William S. Knudsen, director of the Office of Production Management. The factory operators and business men have been asked to make every effort to aid in the national salvage program, and officials and householders have been asked to assist in the "scrap metal for Victory" campaign. The larger cities, much scrap metal is expected to be available in the Panhandle area, particularly in the oil field areas, much metal is laying useless, and it is to be made to collect.

PREVENT GRASS FIRE—HOOSER

County Agent Declares Prevention and Control Of Fires Vital to Success

There will be no more definite news of men being examined for, or inducted into, the army under the Selective Service law, it was announced Tuesday by members of the local draft board at a called meeting. Orders have been received from army headquarters to stop releasing the number and names of draftees being inducted and those being examined prior to induction, Mack Wilson, John Sharp, and J. B. Smith, draft board members, explained. "As far as we know, the information which we might release would not help the enemy in any great way," Sharp said, "but army intelligence officers have requested that this information not be released." The release of such information, even though what might be published here is limited to Hall County, might be useful to the enemy in determining the number of men being called to service and the movement of troops, it was explained. "The people of the county will have to bear with us," Sharp said, "since we will be unable to divulge any information. If this information we might release (Continued on page 5)

Anderson Warns Citizens of Tire Thieves in Vicinity

Automobile owners should lock their vehicles in a garage at night to lessen the likelihood of having tires stolen, Sheriff W. C. Anderson warned this week. So far only one theft of tires has been reported to the local sheriff, but with the restriction on tire sales and the advance in price of tires, more thefts are expected. Auto owners should also list the serial numbers which are stamped on tires, so that they can be identified if stolen and found, Anderson said. If possible, each tire should be marked by the owner in some manner that identification could be made. Owners of old vehicles were warned of leaving keys in their cars. The thieves will drive off the old cars and strip them just for the tires, Anderson said.

Red Cross Helpers Do Clean-Up Work In Roll Call Drive

Total Now About $900, Far Below Quota; $238 Collected in Memphis

Clean-up work in the belated roll call drive of the American Red Cross in Hall County was being done this week, and the total amount turned in thus far was somewhere near the $900 mark, although definite figures were not available Wednesday afternoon. The drive was scheduled to end November 30, but up until the past week no campaign had been staged in the business district of Memphis. Four groups working this week turned in a total of $238.50, which left Memphis still far below its quota of 772 memberships. It is expected, however, that the drive will be discontinued after this week to allow workers to start collecting donations for the Red Cross emergency fund. The county's quota in the emergency drive has been set at $2,300, far above the 1,313 memberships sought in the roll call. About $15 was added to the small (Continued on page 5)

Defense Project For City Sought

Business men of Memphis met Monday night at the City Hall to discuss ways and means of obtaining a defense project of some nature for this area, and agreed to offer the facilities of the city for such a project. Various projects for the city were suggested, but no definite project will be sought, it was decided. A study is to be made of the type of projects which might be suitable for the city, and an effort will be made to obtain one or more of them. "Business men feel that it is one of the patriotic duties of the city to do our part in the defense program," Otis Jones, president of the chamber of commerce, said, "and we feel that our area should be suitable for a project of some nature."

People as a whole didn't realize the enormous business that has been done in tires in America until the sale of tires was stopped in the interest of National Defense. Judging from the number inquiring about the tire rationing board the past few days, it seems like half the car and truck owners have worn out tires. Before (Continued on page 10)

Cold Wave Strikes Panhandle As Temperature Drops to Low Of Zero in City of Memphis

COURSE DRAWS MANY INQUIRIES

Definite Arrangements Not Yet Announced for Red Cross First Aid Work

Numerous inquiries, most of them by women of the city and other parts of the county, have been made concerning the Red Cross first aid course to be given here, but as yet nothing definite as to the course has been announced, E. E. Roberts, Hall County Red Cross chapter chairman, said this week. The response to the announcement concerning the course has been good on the part of women who wish to learn first aid, although only a few men have signified their intentions of enrolling. Present plans call for separate courses for women and men, it was explained. The course for women will include some phases of nurse duties which the men's course will not include. It may be possible to conduct a mixed class for both men and women, however. Before either course can be (Continued on page 5)

SNOW FLURRIES HERE WITH COLD

Freezing Weather Starts Wednesday of Last Week; Sun Out This Morning

Memphis, Hall County, and all the rest of the Panhandle area got its coldest weather of the fall and winter season during the past week, with the low temperature in Memphis reaching the zero mark. The zero temperature came Sunday night, J. J. McMickin, local weather observer, reported, following the snow during the early Sunday morning hours. The cold wave started Wednesday of last week, and during that day, the temperature recorded by McMickin was 32 degrees. Wednesday night the thermometer dropped to 12 degrees. Thursday night of last week, a 9-degree low was recorded, and then Friday night the thermometer registered 5 degrees—the next to the low of the week. Wednesday night of this week, a low of 7 degrees was recorded, following slight flurries of snow during the day. This morning, however, the sun was shining. The cold wave was common (Continued on page 5)

Deposits in Banks Here Soar Near Two Million Mark

Figure More Than Doubles That of 1940; Is Highest Since Boom Days of 20's

Bank deposits in Memphis, for the first time since the boom days of the twenties, soared near the two-million-dollar mark, figures released by the two banks here last Saturday revealed. Total deposits for the two banks at the close of business December 31, 1941, were $1,885,545, the statements revealed. This figure by far surpasses any of the previous four years, when only two of the four years passed the one-million-dollar mark. In 1938, the deposits at the end of the year were $1,110,944, and at the end of 1937—when Hall County produced its largest crop in a number of years—the deposits were only $1,080,609. Deposits this year more than doubled that of last year, when the two banks had only $908,916 in deposits. In 1939, at the close of the year, the total deposits were $923,960. The Lakeview bank likewise (Continued on page 5)

A New Year's Resolution--For 1942

The American Way

I BELIEVE IN THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA AS A GOVERNMENT OF THE PEOPLE, BY THE PEOPLE, FOR THE PEOPLE; WHOSE JUST POWERS ARE DERIVED FROM THE CONSENT OF THE GOVERNED; A SOVEREIGN NATION OF MANY STATES; A PERFECT UNION OF ONE AND INSEPARABLE; ESTABLISHED UPON THOSE PRINCIPLES OF FREEDOM, EQUALITY, JUSTICE AND HUMANITY FOR WHICH AMERICAN PATRIOTS SACRIFICED THEIR LIVES AND FORTUNES... I THEREFORE BELIEVE IT IS MY DUTY TO MY COUNTRY TO OBEY ITS LAWS, TO RESPECT ITS FLAG, AND TO DEFEND IT AGAINST ALL ENEMIES.

Registration February 16

The day of February 16 has been set as the first of a series of registration dates at which an estimated 25,000,000 additional men are to be enrolled for possible military or other service in the war effort. Men between 21 and 44, inclusive, will register from 7 o'clock in the morning until 9 at night on that date. The order includes all men born on or after February 17, 1897, and on or before December 31, 1921. Registration date for the remaining groups, 18 to 20, and 45 to 64, was not set by the President. Details of the registration arrangement were announced Monday through the White House in connection with President Roosevelt's formal proclamation of the new registration date. Classification of the 17,500,000 men already registered is being speeded in the various offices of the local draft boards, to allow the boards to have more time for the new registrants. Selective Service officials said that existing machinery, expanded as needed by voluntary workers, would be used to enroll the additional men. Registration cards are to be unchanged, but a new questionnaire has been drafted for possible use to determine specifically individual qualifications. The first registration of men from 21 to 35 years of age in Hall County found slightly more than 1,500 men enrolling. Of these a large number of the men were 28 years of age or over, and were deferred when Congress approved a law to that effect. The second registration found 55 men 21 years old enrolling. The names of these 55 were injected in the old list in proportion to the total number. The expansion of the Selective Service law saw the 28-year-olds and more go out of the deferred classifications, and men from 20 to 44 will be liable for military service. Men from 18 to 20, and men from 44 to 64 will be liable for defense service of some nature, it was explained. During the past few weeks, a large number of men have been undergoing physical examinations in Memphis. No definite information is being released by the local draft board in Memphis, but it is believed that the physicals are being given to make way for the new registrants. Reclassification of the men already registered who have been given deferments will also be made in the near future. Whether this reclassification will be made before or after the new registration was not revealed.

Goodpasture Announces Candidacy For Re-Election as County Judge

M. O. Goodpasture has authorized The Democrat to announce his candidacy for re-election to the office of County Judge of Hall County, subject to the Democratic primaries next summer.

M. O. GOODPASTURE

In announcing, Judge Goodpasture made the following statement: "The future is so uncertain I cannot tell what may happen, nor what to promise or to say; except to do all in my power to uphold the public interest faithfully, if retained in public service."

Judge Goodpasture, resident of Hall County since 1904, came here from Montague County, where he had been engaged in teaching school. He lived first in the Quail community, and taught school there until 1907, when he quit teaching and farmed.

For a short time in 1912, Goodpasture lived in Fort Worth, but returned to Hall County before the end of the year. For a period of two or three years he was in the real estate business, then served as a bookkeeper in a dry goods store in Memphis.

From 1914 to 1918, he was deputy county clerk of Hall County, and from 1918 to 1922, he served as county clerk. From 1922 to 1926, Goodpasture was secretary of the Retail Merchants Association in Memphis. His health forced him to quit this work, and for the next ten years, he worked at odd jobs as his health would permit. In 1936 he was elected county judge, and has been in that position since that time.

Weather

Freezing weather held sway in this vicinity throughout most of last week with the lowest temperature being recorded Monday morning of 2 degrees below zero. Snow began falling early Sunday morning and continued most of the day, and began falling again Monday morning with no immediate relief in sight.

Correction of Car Accident

An inaccurate account of the Davis car accident was given in this column last week. The correct version of the accident was that the car driven by Miss Bonnie Davis started to pass a truck and was bumped into by a car driven by Joe Perez. The car was pushed at such a fast rate of speed that as Miss Davis pulled to the right side of the road she lost control of her car and the car overturned in the ditch, badly damaging the car and injuring the occupants. The Perez car was not damaged.

Pack of Dogs Kill Sheep

A pack of stray dogs last week attacked and killed ten sheep on the Bill Kesterson ranch three miles north of here. The sheep were in a pen near the house when the dogs killed them. The barking of the dogs aroused Kesterson but the damage was done before he could do anything. They also attacked a 6-month-old calf of Jim Berryman who lives near. The calf was almost killed before Berryman arrived. The hind-quarters of the calf were chewed and mangled until he could not walk. Farmers are asked to be on the lookout for these dogs and shoot to kill.

Profit in Eggs and Cream

From a small flock of 250 White Leghorn hens and a herd of 5 or 6 cows, a farmer in this vicinity made a total of $935 in the past 12 months. From the chickens alone, he took in over $500 and the feed for the flock amounted to $145, making a profit of over $350—almost $1 per day average. A large majority of farmers are profiting from their hens and cows and make more year in and year out than from their farm products.

Red Cross Asks Return of Sewing Work Completed

All citizens who have any sewing work completed for the American Red Cross were requested this week by Mrs. C. L. Hamrick, who is in charge of the work, to return the finished products to the sewing room at once, since the country's quota for the past six months is now being sent to the national headquarters.

More material is arriving daily for the 1942 quota, Mrs. Hamrick said, as she invited all women to help in the work. The sewing room will be open each afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock.

Supervisors for each afternoon are as follows: Monday, Mrs. E. N. Hudgins; Tuesday, Mrs. L. M. Hicks; Wednesday, Mrs. Bill Bragg; Thursday, Mrs. David Myers; Friday, Mrs. E. E. Roberts.

Instructions to the Red Cross were recently typed by Miss Audrey Boggs, and Mrs. C. C. Cunningham, chairman at Plaska, has led her group in the work, Mrs. Hamrick reported. The Plaska women made all shirts for the layette, and have made over 100 other garments, she said. In addition, they have knitted several sweaters, socks, and scarf pieces.

Eli and Brice women have also made several sweaters and have made 50 or more garments, Mrs. Hamrick said.

What to Do— IN CASE OF RAID FROM THE AIR

From the United States Office of Civilian Defense

1. Above all, keep cool. Don't lose your head.
2. Do not crowd the streets; avoid chaos; prevent disorder and havoc.
3. Don't believe rumors—spreading false rumors is part of the enemy's technique.
4. Air raid warning signals generally are short blasts of rising and falling pitch, or whistles or horns. The all-clear is a steady tone for two minutes.
5. If an incendiary bomb falls, cover it with sand, or spray it with a garden hose (never a splash or stream!). Switch to a stream to put out any fire started by the bomb. Switch back to a spray for the bomb. A jet, splash, stream, or bucket of water will make the bomb explode.
6. Under raid conditions, keep a bathtub and buckets full of water for the use of the fire department in case water mains are broken.
7. If you have a soda-and-acid extinguisher (the kind you turn upside down), use it with your finger over the nozzle to make a spray. Don't use the chemical kind (small cylinders of liquid) on bombs. It is all right for ordinary fires.
8. Should gas be used, go at once to the most "inside" room in your house (fewest doors and windows). Paste paper over glass. Stuff rags in window cracks and under doors.
9. Choose one member of the family to be the home air raid warden, who will remember all the rules and what to do.
10. Whether or not a blackout is ordered during a raid, put out all lights at once.
11. If a light inside the home is necessary, use rugs, blankets, portiere, overdrapes, or curtains arranged in double thickness over your windows. Don't crowd or stampede stores for special material. Be ingenious—improvise.
12. During a raid, remember to shut off gas stoves, gas furnaces, and gas pilot lights.
13. If bombs start to fall near you, lie down; you will feel the blast least that way, escape fragments and splinters. The safest place is under a good stout table—the stronger the legs the better.
14. Above all, keep calm. Stay home. Put out lights. Lie down. Stay away from windows.

—Remember Post War—

Keep Moisture in Ground of Garden

Don't burn leaves and straw, for when decayed they form humus. And, says M. K. Thornton, Extension agricultural chemist for A. and M. College, humus in the garden helps keep moisture in the ground, and in turn helps to prevent dry weather injury.

If you are fortunate enough still to have leaves around, save them. They help to build the garden soil. Break them when they are wet into small, flat-topped piles in a remote corner of the garden and allow them to decay. If raked dry, wet them as they are piled. The leaves may require a year to decay properly.

To hasten the decaying process, add to 20 pounds of dry leaves, or 40 pounds of wet, one and one-half pounds of a mixture of five pounds of ammonium sulphate, four pounds of ground limestone and four pounds of superphosphate. As an alternative choice, use one and one-half pounds of a mixture of four pounds of cyanamide and four pounds of superphosphate. But do not mix either preparation until ready to use it.

Later, woodashes may be sprinkled over the pile at the rate of a half pound to 20 pounds of the original dry leaves.

Increase in Food Preservation During 1942 Anticipated by Texas Specialist

With this nation going all-out in its victory effort, a big increase during 1942 in community food preservation centers in Texas and the nation as a whole is anticipated by Grace I. Neely, food preservation specialist of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.

She explains that community food preservation centers are local clearing houses for small food surpluses which are not moved about the county in carload lots. It takes in the produce that the grower cannot find a market for, any not-quite-perfect fruits and vegetables in sound condition left after the picking for commercial canning. Some community centers also process meat.

During 1942 local defense councils, county land-use planning committees, USDA defense boards, county and municipal food and nutrition committees, county home demonstration councils and county units of home economists likely will consider the need for community food preservation centers. Setting up such centers will require volunteers from lay organizations, and supervision can be given the projects by professional workers, usually home economists trained for the job.

Many home demonstration club women and other community leaders, as well as county home demonstration agents, have assisted in community food preservation centers operated for the benefit of school lunch projects, and this experience will prove valuable. Miss Neely says. Community-minded leaders who are interested in setting up centers may consult their county home demonstration agents.

Home accidents are the eighth most important cause of deaths in the United States and are responsible for about 32,000 deaths and 4,700,000 disabling injuries each year.

Perkins Seeks Office of Local Justice of Peace

President of Memphis for 16 Years; Operator of Cafe Here at Present

G. Perkins has authorized Democrat to announce his candidacy for the office of Justice of Peace of Precinct No. 1, to the Democratic primary next summer.

Perkins has lived in Memphis for the past 16 years, and is well known in this area. He has been operating a cafe in Memphis for the past year.

Perkins has announced that he feels he is qualified for the office, and if elected will do the utmost to attend to the duties of the office with conscientious effort to dispense with fairness to both the accused and the citizens. He also has a rigid investigation of his own and a public citizen. Careful consideration of my candidacy is invited, and your support and influence will be appreciated," Perkins said.

should help the enemy, then the cost might be the life of an American soldier. For this reason, we will not be able to give out definite information."

Several more men left this week for induction under a call made early in December, although the number and names were not revealed. Another group will undergo their army physical examinations this week-end, but how many or where the exams will be taken was not given out by the board.

Rotary Club Adds Three Members

R. A. Massey, Orville Goodpasture, and Rev. E. L. Yeats were introduced as new members of the Memphis Rotary Club last Tuesday at the noon luncheon.

Mrs. R. L. Guthrie and assistants of the WPA recreational project put on a marionette show for the entertainment of the Rotarians. The presentation depicted the life of Robinson Crusoe while stranded on an island.

Coleman, McDaniel New Owners of C. and F. Grocery

Announcement was made this week of the purchase of the C. and F. Grocery at 15th and Noel streets on the Lakeview Highway by Roy L. Coleman and Ira McDaniel.

The grocery was formerly owned by H. H. Flowers and Ray Childers. Flowers will continue to operate the filling station which was formerly run in connection with the grocery. Childers left last week for enlistment in the U. S. Army Air Corps.

The new firm will be run under the name of the C. and M. Grocery, the new owners said this week. A complete line of groceries and fresh meats will be handled, and top prices will be paid for cream and eggs. A delivery service for the city will be maintained, it was explained.

Coleman for the past year has been business manager of the Odum-Goodall Hospital. Prior to that he was manager of the Farmers Union grocery store for six years, and worked with the Waples-Platter Wholesale grocery firm for 11 years before starting his work at the Farmers Union.

McDaniel has been farming for the past year, but was connected with the Foster Bros. store at Pliska for a number of years. He has had several years of experience in the grocery work, it was learned. McDaniel has been making his home in Pliska, but moved to Memphis this week.

The new owners took over management of the store last Friday.

Amarillo had sub-zero weather, as did many of the other sections. Bus travel was halted from Wichita Falls to Fort Worth a part of Wednesday due to ice on the roads, but travel was being resumed today.

Temperatures for the week, as recorded by McMickin, were as follows:

Wednesday high 24, low (Wednesday night) 7; Tuesday, 22-10; Monday, 22-11; Sunday, 14-0; Saturday, 14-10; Friday, 12-5; Thursday, 22-9; Wednesday, 32-12.

Bombs Drop— STORY FROM HONOLULU PAPER

showed a large increase in deposits, with a total of $185,084 at the close of the year. This is in comparison with the $79,262 at the close of 1940, and with the $107,473 in 1938 when the Memphis banks' high of the past decade was reached.

The high deposits in general reflect the business of the county this fall. After beginning of the cotton ginning season, most merchants reported the heaviest business since the twenties. Business following the Christmas holidays, however, has fallen sharply, merchants report.

amount collected so far in this campaign.

Donations for the emergency fund may be left at The Democrat office, the J. C. Woodruff Lumber Company office, or the chamber of commerce.

The roll call and the emergency war fund drive are entirely different, E. E. Roberts, county chapter chairman, emphasized this week. The nation is seeking a total of $50,000,000 in the emergency fund drive, with the county's share $2,300. The money is needed now, Roberts said, as he urged all countians to give freely to the fund.

given, however, a sufficient number must sign up and determine definitely whether they will take the course, Roberts explained.

The time of the meetings, which will probably be one or two nights each week, will be announced by the instructor. The meetings will necessarily have to be at a time when he will be able to be present, it was emphasized.

The instructor will in all probability be Riley Dunson of Estelina, state highway maintenance engineer, who is a certified first aid instructor, Roberts said.

Call 15 For QUALITY JOB PRINTING

Editor's Note: The following article was published in the Honolulu Daily Times following the attack on Pearl Harbor. It was sent to Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Frisbie of Memphis by their son Paul, who is stationed in Hawaii. Paul Frisbie was reported to be unhurt in the attack.

By EUGENE BURNS
Associated Press Correspondent

Without pomp and ceremony, unstung, 2,500 of America's finest have been buried during the past eight days with simplest of honors.

Day after day with the setting sun a tight lipped group of six foot marines, clad in olive drab dress uniforms, have raised their rifles and fired three volleys over the dead lying in trenches while the buglers have sounded taps—"Lights out!—All quiet! Night has come!"

A quiet black robed Catholic priest blesses the ground each evening with holy water and a Protestant chaplain quietly says the committal ceremony.

But there is no note of defeat—not a whimper!

Since Monday, December 8, men have been laid to rest—laid to rest so that others could live and be free!

Fleet Chaplain (Captain) William A. Maguire, whose temples are greying, said that each grave would be marked and carefully identified for shipment to the mainland "after this war is fought and won!" to the cemeteries of their hometowns where these bronzed men once were cradled, played marbles, bought their first ice cream cones, attended high school and dated their first sweethearts.

Last Sunday, many of Honolulu's gardens were stripped of their flaming red poinsettias, golden asters and many lured hibiscus flowers. Each grave had a small bouquet—Honolulu's tribute to the dead.

The first naval dead were taken to Nuanu cemetery which overlooks the sea from which the treacherous attack came, on a quiet Sabbath morning.

When all available space was taken up at Nuanu, the dead were placed into trenches at Red Hill—the hill which overlooks Pearl Harbor where the attack knifed into.

Chaplain Maguire said: "I was in the thickest of the attack.

"Our 130,000,000 Americans would glow if they could have seen how our boys died.

"It was glorious!

"Not a whimper.

"They were manning their guns until the decks buckled under them with the heat!"

He added: "Don't say we buried our dead with sorrow. We buried them with the conviction that our dead died manfully; They were buried manfully. And we will wipe out the treachery come what may!"

At present the officers' bodies, in spotless white uniforms and gold braid, are embalmed and retained by local undertaking parlors for shipment to the mainland where they will be buried in national cemeteries.

Chaplain Maguire said: "I knew many of the men who were laid to rest but they are not dead. Their spirit lives on. I can feel it with the remainder of the men!"

"Ah lad," he told me, "how game!"

"At the marine barracks where the wounded lay Sunday on tables, if a worse wounded man was brought in on a stretcher, a man with a leg missing or an arm missing, he would say: 'For God's sake, I'm all right. Put him on the table and take me out of here.'"

Chaplain Maguire added: "And while this heroism was going on all about me, those japs were still machinegunning, strait—do you get the picture I'm telling you, lad?"

"Men about me without clothes and badly burned, wrapped in blankets, begged me: 'I want to get back to my ship, I want to get back to my gun!'"

Chaplain Maguire said that by nightfall, Sunday, the 7th, all the injured were removed to hospitals and bedded down.

"Women were as brave as men. The only women I saw huddling were women with babes whom they were trying to protect from the machinegun strafing."

He added: "Ah lad, if every American saw how quietly, yet gallantly they died, how courageously they thought of the man next to him, they'd glory in the dead and resolve that it would never happen again."

"They'd know too, that our frontline will never give, although we may have lost the first round like a boxer who offers to shake hands before the fight and takes a blow from his treacherous adversary!"

Refresher Course For U. S. Air Corps To Be at Childress

An opportunity for young men of Memphis who cannot meet educational requirements for enlistment in the U. S. Army Air Corps as flying cadets to prepare themselves for the entrance examination will be presented in Childress during the next few months.

A "refresher course" on subjects included in the air corps entrance examination will be offered to all eligible young men of this area at Childress high school during the first part of the year.

The air corps required that flying cadet enlistees be between 20 and 26 years of age, inclusive, be able to pass a rigid physical examination and either have two years of college work to their credit or be able to pass the entrance examination. A recent ruling permits married men, otherwise qualified, whose dependents can support themselves, to enlist.

The refresher course in Childress will be taught by members of the Childress high school faculty, and classes will be at night in the high school building. Total cost will be about $20 for each student. As soon as the course is completed, the students may take the air corps examination.

In order to assure all students who take the course that they can meet physical qualifications, an army air corps recruiting party and medical examiner will be in Childress January 8, 9, and 10 to give physical examinations to all youths interested in taking the course. The group will be at the city hall for the three days and will be equipped to give complete physical exams.

Youths who enroll in the refresher course may be deferred by their draft boards until they complete the course and take the air corps examination.

After passing the entrance examinations in the air corps, the youths will be enrolled as flying cadets and receive $75 per month, plus keep, while they receive 30 weeks of primary, basic and advanced training. When they successfully complete the training, they will be commissioned second lieutenants in the army air corps and will be available for active duty in the armed forces.

Complete information regarding the refresher course and opportunities in the air corps may be secured from the chamber of commerce at Childress. Interested youths are requested to write the chamber of commerce and make arrangements to take the physical examination, without cost, when the recruiting party is there January 8, 9, and 10.

Childress, Pampa, Borger, Plainview, and Amarillo have been designated area "Refresher Course" points.

Rural Families Can Save by Making Home-Made Soap

With the fats and oil situation giving this country considerable worry, rural families with cooking fats available can save by making home-made soap.

Here are some tips from M. K. Thornton, agricultural chemist for the A. and M. College Extension Service. He says emulsified or granite ware is suitable for small batches of soap, but for larger batches an iron kettle is recommended. A large granite or wooden spoon is best for stirring.

The four ingredients of soap are lye, water, fat and perfume. Lye should be pure and uniform, and if possible soft water should be used since it will improve the quality of soap.

Fat used should be clean and light-colored, Mr. Thornton says, and it should be clarified as it accumulates. Clean tin cans, well covered, are best for storing the fat until a sufficient amount has been collected for soap making. Both fats and oils must be washed free from salt. Rancid greases may be purified by boiling with a solution of one part of vinegar and five parts of water.

Scents such as oil of citronella, bergamot, oil of lavender, geranium or saffrafras may be added to perfume the soap. This will help destroy the odor of the fat.

Regardless of what recipe is used, some general precautions should be taken, the extension chemist says. He warns that excess lye forms a hard, crumbly soap, while greasy soap indicates lack of lye.

Housewives Should Get Rid of Moths

Remember Pearl Harbor

Homemakers who haven't taken precautions against moths will profit by giving all woollens and furs frequent brushing, cleaning, sunning and airing, even in winter, to get rid of all moth eggs.

Cameron Siddall, Extension Service entomologist, explains that the moth knows no season. It goes by temperature. Warm houses give moth eggs a chance to develop, so the best prevention is to clean out cracks and corners of closets and storage places often. Unused articles should be packed in moth-proof containers.

Remember Pearl Harbor

We wish to take this means of expressing our sincere appreciation for the kind assistance and words of sympathy during the illness and death of our loved one. We also wish to thank everyone for the floral offerings. May God be as kind to each of you during your hour of sorrow.

YOUR HELP IS NEEDED

LAST WEEK the first defense meeting since the war started was held in Memphis, and only a small crowd was present—despite the advance announcement which was made.

At the time of the meeting, one man remarked that it would take "more than a bombing to awaken the town to the present emergency."

That fact has almost been proved, although we have been fortunate enough to feel only remotely the effects of the war—and certainly not any bombings. No bombings yet, at least.

The people of Memphis slept through the annual roll call of the American Red Cross, and fell far behind the city's quota. Late work on this may eventually raise the roll call quota, but, mind you, it was late.

It's true we failed in that, despite all that the Red Cross has done for this area in the past, and despite all that the Red Cross will do for us in the future in case of an emergency.

We have no particular military objectives within the city limits, but the present war and its bombings are not limited to military objectives.

For this reason we must be prepared to meet any emergency which might arise from the war. And we certainly cannot be prepared by sitting down on the work of preparing. It can't be done.

To prepare ourselves, we must have men and women trained to do specific jobs, and plenty of them in case something happens to the first one who begins aiding in the emergency. That is the sole purpose of the various defense units which have been organized in the city.

Some of the organizations are lacking in spirit and work. New blood needs to be injected. And nothing could do more good than for a large number of civilians to volunteer to do their part.

It's not a one-man job, or a job for a small group. Everyone must help.

W. V. Coursey at the City Hall has blanks which Memphians may fill out. Signify on them what you can do in case of an emergency, or what you would like to learn to do to help. Go by the City Hall now, and let's get things organized.

TAKE AN INVENTORY OF YOURSELF

BUSINESS institutions throughout the nation have taken inventory of their stock since the first of the year to determine the amount of merchandise on hand, but have you taken inventory of yourself and your behavior during the past years?

Have you looked back through your life during the past 12 months to see what you have done, both for better or for worse?

Have you determined what you have done for your nation in 1941 to make this country the stronghold of democracy and the bulwark of freedom?

Have you determined what you have done for yourself and your family to make life worth more?

Have you determined what you have done for Memphis or for Hall County to make it a better place in which to live?

Have you determined how many hours, days, weeks, or months you wasted doing nothing or useless things during 1941?

Have you determined what the city, the county, the state, and the nation have done for you during the past 12 months?

Have you determined what those people about you, your family and your friends, have done for you?

But foremost of all, have you determined what you will do for your family, your friends, your city, your county, your state, and your nation during this new year—1942? Now, not tomorrow or the next day or the next, is the time to make up your mind as to how you can be a benefit, not a liability, during 1942.

This will be a hard year for all Americans, one which will not be forgotten for many years to come. But we as Americans must take inventory of ourselves and of what we are going to make of ourselves and our nation during 1942. This nation must remain the bulwark of freedom, and it can only remain so through the actions of its people. It is our duty to accept the challenge of the trouble of today, overcome all obstacles which might impede our progress toward even more secure living, and keep our America the free nation which we all love. In this duty we cannot fail, and we will not fail.

The Star Man overheard her and he said, "I'll gladly lend a hand. Whatever work I have to do, I'll do it. You can help me, too."

Just then the moon began to shout, "Hey, spread some bright stars all about. When there are no stars in the sky, it always makes me want to sigh."

"Okay! I'll do it, Mister Moon. You'll see some bright stars pretty soon. A cannon I will get," said he. "Come on, you Totties, follow me."

"A cannon? Mercy! What's that for?" Asked Dotty, "Is it going to roar?" "Don't worry," said the Star Man. "It won't frighten you a little bit."

And then he dragged his cannon out. He pulled a string and gave a shout. Bright little stars came thick and fast. And shot into the air at last.

The Memphis Cyclone Cagers dropped their first game in the tournament held in Childress last week-end to the Thalia five, but came back in the consolation matches to win first and come home with a trophy.

The local basketball team, however, will have a chance to get revenge from Thalia, when the two teams meet here next Monday night at 7:30 o'clock.

After dropping the close one 33 to 29 to the Thalia team, the Cyclone cagers blasted the Childress B team 56 to 26 in the first consolation game, downed Shamrock 46 to 22 in the second round, and then beat Dickinson 50 to 13 in the finals to take first place in the consolation bracket.

Louie Grimes and J. W. Harrison were placed on the all-tournament team.

Tuesday night, the Cyclone won a district game from Shamrock, 44 to 25, in a game here. Grimes led the scoring with 14 points, and Royce Frisbie and Harrison made 9 each.

The Shamrock game was the second district game to be played by the Memphians, the other having been dropped to Lakeview early in December.

KEEP 'EM ROLLING

DO YOU UNDERSTAND THE PRESENT RUBBER SITUATION?

Firestone Explains and Counsels

You've heard of the rubber shortage and sighed over the possibility of walking instead of riding, but are you really familiar with the facts behind the motto for the duration of the war that "Every Ounce of Rubber Is a Sacred Trust"? Harvey S. Firestone Jr., president of the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company offers a thumb nail explanation. Our Government was aware that we might at any time be cut off from our rubber supply in the Far East and began more than two years ago to store up a reserve supply. After Pearl Harbor it became necessary to take drastic steps to protect this precious store of rubber and on December 11 our Government issued an order prohibiting the sale of tires and tubes to anyone not having a priority rating of A-3 or better. These were superseded by new regulations on January 5. In the laboratories of FIRESTONE the VICTORY TIRE from reclaimed rubber has been designed and manufactured... new tractor tire designed for long wear... and a re-treading service to surpass all others. All this is done in an all-out effort for ultimate victory! Keep 'em rolling!
