

Bessie Rainer
30th District
Committee Woman

Miss Bessie Rainer was elected Democratic committeewoman from the 30th Senatorial District at the State Democratic Convention in Fort Worth Tuesday, September 11.

She was a member of the Collingsworth County delegation, chosen in the county convention Saturday, August 25. Other delegates attending from Collingsworth are District Judge Luther Gribble, County Judge R. L. Templeton, L. B. Bratten, Bess Owen and Tom Cunningham. Mrs. Cunningham went as a visitor.

The delegates voted under the unit rule.

Committeemen from this district is Joe Cowen of Dimmitt. The two were chosen in the caucus of the 30th District and they were approved without comment. Nominees of the 31st District were contested.

Miss Rainer, who is office manager of the Greenbelt Electric Co-operative Inc., is the first from this county to serve as a Democratic Committeewoman.

Kiwanis Hears
Weather Talk

Dan Trew, forecaster with the Amarillo Weather Bureau, was guest speaker at the Kiwanis Club Friday, September 7, discussing weather, but jokingly telling the group he could do nothing about it.

Trew explained to the group that to have weather reports broadcast by radio and television from Amarillo, it would be necessary to have a sponsoring group to pay the cost of telephone calls.

In later action by the Chamber of Commerce, this was approved and Charles Allen was named to report moisture to the Weather Bureau in Amarillo. These moisture reports already go regularly to Amarillo newspapers.

Trew told the Kiwanians and their guests of the jet stream, a river of high velocity air at high altitude, and how something of its nature and effect on weather is being learned. The jet stream has been known only since 1945, he reminded.

Explaining that rain in this area comes in a surge of moist air from the Gulf of Mexico, Trew told his listeners that for every 10 miles farther southeast a person is, is that much better off for moisture.

"We are beginning to pollute the air, just as we have polluted the rivers," Trew said, speaking of waste given off by industry. "England is already beginning to worry about this. This pollution is cutting off the radiation from the sun—and that is where the weather comes from."

Two Injured In Car Accident

Gerald Jackson and Joe Lindsey, both employees of Cicero Smith Lumber Company, were painfully hurt Sunday, September 9, when their car developed mechanical trouble and went out of control, striking the banister of a bridge near Snyder, Oklahoma.

Rupert Hughes, manager of the lumber company, said the young men were returning from near Lawton.

Jackson received three broken ribs and Lindsey an injured foot. They were examined and treated at a Snyder hospital then released.

The car, a 1951 Studebaker belonging to Lindsey, was reported demolished.

Rockets Meet Amarillo B
Team Here Friday Night

The Skyrockets will meet the Amarillo Yannis (Sandies B Team) Friday night, September 14, at Powell Field, and the first part of the game at least, will be a stab in the dark for the Wellington boys.

This is the first time the two teams have met. There is nothing to indicate the Yannis strength, but the team is presumed locally to be strong. The Amarillo boys open their season here, so the Wellington coaching staff has had no chance to scout their games.

"We assume they will be running the same formations as the Sandies," Coach John Hurley said of Coach Paul Alley's boys.

"They really left us in the dark," he continued. "We'll be going by feel out there for a while. Usually they have a very strong ball club. They were strong last year. They beat Springlake about 40-0, and Springlake, a class A team, went on to win their district championship."

DOUG DUNCAN
Texas Tech FullbackDuncan on Tech
First Team

Wellington's Doug Duncan has been named one of the starters for the Texas Tech Red Raiders this year, Coach DeWitt Weaver revealed this week.

Duncan, a former Skyrocket star, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Duncan of Wellington.

Experienced depth appears to be the parity's main problem. Tech's first team has been looking good in workouts, but the Red Raiders' strength falls off rapidly after the first eleven. Most of the reserves are sophomores.

Just the same, Coach DeWitt Weaver is highly pleased with the spirit of the Raiders, who open with Texas Western September 22. A starting lineup right now would

Rocket B Team Opens
Against Irish Thursday

The Skyrocket B football team opens its season Thursday, September 13, against the Shamrock Irish B team on Irish Field, Coach Harvey Millsap announced this week.

Game time is 7:30 p. m. "We hope a big crowd of football supporters will be on hand to cheer the boys on," Coach Millsap practice and you'll see plenty of scrappy playing."

No home games will be played until September 27, when the boys meet Memphis.

The season schedule includes: Thurs., Sept. 13, Shamrock there. Thurs., Sept. 20, Canadian there. Thurs., Sept. 27, Memphis there. Thurs., Oct. 4, Quanah there. Thurs., Oct. 11, Shamrock here. Thurs., Oct. 18, Memphis there. Thurs., Oct. 25, Childress here. Thurs., Nov. 1, Quanah here.

The starting lineup indicated by Coach Alley shows a weight average of 159 pounds — 154 in the backfield and 164 in the line. Only one lineman tops the 190 pound mark.

"We are boogered up," Coach Hurley commented after taking stock of the Rockets. "We look more like a hospital out there than a workout."

In addition to pre-season injuries that dogged the Rockets, De-Day Useton, Rocket end, received an injured left knee in the Panhandle game.

Counting off the others on his injured list, Hurley said R. W. Warren, tackle, probably will be out of the game again; Larry Johnson has a wrenched back; and Raymond Fike is still suffering from a bruised leg muscle.

Both Coach Hurley and backfield coach Frank Lindsey had high praises for the Rockets' teamwork.

"They work as a whole crew—a team and not as individuals. Last Friday night saw a great performance of every kid on the field, and we had some boys who played fine ball even though they were hampered by injuries," the coach said.

Except for the replacement of Useton, the Rocket starting lineup will be about like it was in the Panhandle game, Coach Hurley indicated.

Yannigan starters will include:

Comanche New Name
For Boy Scout District

The Comanche District is the new name selected for the old Southern District of the Adobe Walls Council, Boy Scouts of America, Sandy Parsons Jr., district chairman, announced following the meeting of the district committee Friday night, September 7.

The old terminology was used as a matter of convenience, Parsons said, but recommendations had been made by various unit leaders, and in the last Scout Roundtable meeting these were taken up, then presented to the District Committee.

"There is a historical factor in choosing this name," Parsons explained. "This is virtually the heart of the old Comanche nation. Several Indian tribes had their summer homes in Palo Duro Canyon, and along Buck Creek and Red River. In naming ours the Comanche District we are carrying on a historical tradition of the lower Panhandle."

In other business of the evening Parsons announced members of two standing committees and the committees and the selection of chairmen for two other committees.

Members of the leadership training committee, of which John Glasscock of Wellington is chairman are L. B. Bratten, Maxey McKnight, Ed Miller, Bennett Goodloe, Henry Sullivan and John Ben Castleberry of Wellington; D. J. Johnson of Wheeler; Willard Edgett of Shamrock and Organization and extension committee members named to assist Carl W. Morris of Hedley were the Rev. Carlton Thomas of Wheeler, Rayburn L. Smith of Clarendon, the Rev. Conrad Ryan of Clarendon, Kelly Pigg and J. W. Wells of Wellington.

Gene Craig of Memphis was named chairman of the camping and activities committee and he is recruiting his committee.

W. A. Legion of Memphis was named assistant district commissioner, to work with District Commissioner Virgil Jameson of Wheeler.

Ocie Scott
Named City
Police Judge

The City Council in a recent meeting named Ocie Scott as police judge for the City of Wellington. He succeeds G. N. Scruggs, who resigned recently due to ill health.

Mr. Scruggs had served in this capacity since August 1, 1949.

Mr. Scott also serves as deputy city tax collector. He will hold police court in the City Hall, since his tax work is out of there, Mayor J. B. Castleberry said in announcing his appointment.

Powers of the police judge are limited in that a felony charge cannot be tried before them. In regard to the enforcement of city ordinances, the power of a police judge corresponds to that of a justice of the peace in county government, Mr. Castleberry explained.

Youth Hurt As
Bullet Explodes

Bill Spillman, 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Spillman, was painfully hurt Saturday, September 8, when a .45 bullet which he and a young friend, Gary Judd, had in their possession exploded.

Mr. Spillman said the boys had the shell in the alley behind the Spillman home, when they decided they ought to dispose of it and put it in a heavy paper bag and into a barrel of burning trash. They then decided this was unwise and removed it, but the sack was already blazing, and the bullet exploded moments later.

Bill received flesh wounds in the chest, right arm and hand. He was able to return to school Monday.

Gary escaped without injury, and with only holes burned in his shirt, Mr. Spillman said.

Organize Scouts
At Dodson Thurs.

A meeting will be held at the Dodson high school Thursday night September 13, to organize a Boy Scout troop, Bill Eller, district Scout Executive, has announced. Supt. T. E. Lennon and Ed Crowder are handling contact work.

The meeting will be held at 7:30 p. m., at the school and all boys in the Dodson area from 11 through 13 years are invited to become members.

Mrs. E. W. Moss
Dies; Funeral
Here Thursday

Mrs. E. W. Moss, one of the area's best loved women and wife of Dr. Moss, who served this county for many years, died about 5:20 p. m. Tuesday, September 11, in Anderson Foundation Hospital and Tumor Clinic in Houston. She had been a patient there for a number of months.

Funeral services will be held Thursday, Sept. 13, at 3 p. m. at the Church of Christ in Wellington. Minister James Reynolds, a former minister here now living in Pueblo, Colorado, will officiate.

Burial will be in the family plot in West Wellington cemetery, under the direction of Kelso Funeral Home.

Her body was to arrive here at 1:30 p. m. Wednesday and will lie in state at the Kelso chapel until the time of the service.

Mrs. Moss was closely identified with her husband in his work as a family doctor as long as he remained in active practice. She went with him into the home of those in all stations of life to help him in administering to the sick.

Her interest in the welfare of those who were his patients continued, even after she had moved from Wellington.

Mrs. Moss, the former Bess Carpenter, came here from Paris. She was a teacher and also worked in a Wellington bank for some years before she and Dr. Moss were married March 9, 1921.

Ill health caused Dr. Moss to retire from the practice of medicine and they moved to Mission, in the Rio Grande Valley in 1944. He passed away December 7, 1946.

Mrs. Moss then moved to Dallas, where she was an office assistant to a group of doctors, thereby continuing her active interest in and work for the medical profession. Last year it was learned she was suffering with cancer. She underwent treatment here, and later at the Anderson Foundation Hospital in Houston.

Mrs. Moss is survived by her step-mother, Mrs. Lola Carpenter of Shamrock; a sister and two brothers, Marcellus Carpenter of Houston; John Mead Carpenter of Lubbock; and Mrs. Bedford Harrison of Shamrock.

Allen Graves
County Farm
Labor Worker

Allen Graves has been named farm labor supervisor for the Texas Employment Commission in Collingsworth County during the cotton season. He began work Monday, September 10.

Graves will maintain offices in his jewelry store and photo shop on the south side of the square.

Transient harvest workers coming into the county will be directed to him for locations.

Likewise, farmers needing pullers are urged to contact Graves, either at his office or by phoning 164-J.

When making a request for pullers, the owner should furnish Graves with information regarding available living quarters, the number and type of workers needed, when they are needed, wages offered, whether or not transportation will be furnished, and the number of acres of cotton he has to pull.

"Quite a few pullers are already in here, and there have been a number of requests for hands also," Graves said.

Methodists to Honor Teachers

Members of the First Methodist Church will hold a covered dish supper Tuesday evening, September 18, to honor new members of the church, teachers and board members of the Wellington schools and their families.

The supper will be given in the basement of the church, beginning at 7 p. m. Members of the church are asked to bring a covered dish. An entertainment program is being planned.

In charge of arrangements are members of the board of stewards and members of the Women's Society of Christian Service.

$80,000 Approved for Soil Bank Program

The ASC county office has received the agreement forms to be used in signing up for the 1957 Wheat Acreage Reserve Soil Bank Program, Millard Brown, secretary, announced this week. Collingsworth County has been allotted $80,000 for the 1957 program, and the final date for signing is September 21, 1956.

Farmers who wish to participate must make a definite designation of the acreage being placed in the acreage reserve at the time the agreement forms are signed, Mr. Brown explained. Therefore, farmers should definitely decide what fields will be covered by the agreement before coming to the office to sign up.

"The program will be operated on a 'first come, first served basis,' and if farmers will cooperate by having this information available when they come in to sign up, much time will be saved both on the part of the farmer and the ASC office," Mr. Brown continued.

A meeting has been called for Tuesday, September 18, at 8 p. m. when an explanation of the Soil Bank as it pertains to 1957 wheat acreage reserve and the conservation reserve program. It will be in the county court room.

In charge will be Millard Brown, ASC secretary, County Agent Lefty Thomas and Fred Squires of the SCS.

Films pertaining to this subject also will be shown.

"Where landlords and tenants are involved, they should have an understanding concerning the agreement before attempting to sign the Soil Bank agreement. Agreements for landlords and landowners will not be approved by the committee if it is determined by the committee that a reduction in the number of tenants on the farm has been made," he said.

There will be no termination of an agreement after it has been approved by the committee. Failure to comply with the terms of the agreement will cause the producer to be subject to the civil penalty provision of the regulations.

The county acreage rate of payment is $10.80 per acre. This is based on a 9-bushel county average at $1.20 per bushel.

The community committees have established an average yield for each wheat farm in the county.

Agreements on the conservation reserve are not being signed up at this time, as instructions have not been received, Mr. Brown said.

Norwood School
Enrollment Shows
Only Small Drop

Enrollment of the Samnorwood school this year is approximately 285, it was announced this week. This is a drop of about 15 under last year's enrollment.

Eight new teachers are on the faculty, according to Orville Cunningham, superintendent. Four of these are county resident; one formerly taught in the system and two have been substitute teachers.

New high school principal is Thomas Lawrence, who came to Samnorwood from Salina, Kansas, where he was pastor of the First Baptist Church. He replaced J. H. Spires, who became superintendent of a school near Childress.

Mr. Lawrence also heads the science and math department at Samnorwood. Both he and Mrs. Lawrence are graduates of Hardin Simmons University. At Avoca, where they lived before going to Salina, he served both as a teacher and pastor. They have three children, Mike, Julia and Kim, all of pre-school age.

New also in the system are Coach and Mrs. Don Ward, whose election was announced earlier in the year, as was that of Daylen Johnson of Lela. Mr. and Mrs. Ward came from Arnett School, near Hollis. They have two small daughters. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson have two young sons.

Mrs. Dan Henard of Wellington is teaching second grade. Before her marriage, she was a member of the Wellington elementary school faculty.

The remaining three teachers live in the Samnorwood area. Mrs. Barney Walker, who is teaching third grade, and Mrs. Jack Lowry, fourth grade teacher, have served as substitute teachers in the system for several years.

Mrs. J. M. Morgan Jr. is sixth

Highlights and Sidelights FROM Your State CAPITOL

AUSTIN, Tex. — Conservative and Liberal Democrats are battling each other. Republicans are active. But the Constitution Party of Texas now is in the spotlight.

A their Austin meeting the Constitution Party grabbed headlines by naming, as their nominees, prominent Democrats who have been active in recent campaigns. Their choice included W. Lee O'Daniel for Governor; J. Evetts Haley for Lt. Governor; Reuben Senterfitt for Attorney General; Warren G. Harding for State Treasurer, and Ross Carlton for the Court of Criminal Appeals.

Congressional candidates will be chosen later. Secretary of State Tom Reavley challenged the Constitution Party's right to nominate any candidate who had been defeated for the same office in the recent primaries.

Joseph M. Rummel of Houston is state chairman of the Constitution Party. Their presidential nominee is Democrat T. Coleman Andrews, former Internal Revenue Commissioner of Richmond, Va. Former Republican Congressman Thomas Werdel of California is their vice-presidential choice.

Major plank in the party's platform is elimination of federal income taxes.

ARTIFICIAL RAIN
Possibility of moistening droughty Texas by artificial rainmaking may be debated in the next Legislature.

After hearing state and federal weather experts at an Austin meeting, the Texas Water Resources Committee voted to dig deeper into the subject. If findings are favorable, the committee indicated it would recommend legislation and appropriations for a long-range, statewide project.

Scientists were cautious in their claims before the committee. Much is yet to be learned about what makes rain, they said, and previous experiments have not yet been thoroughly evaluated. But they agreed prospects were promising enough to merit further research.

"SOAKER" WANTED
Scattered showers have helped, but most Texas farmers still are scanning the skies for a "fall soaker".

U. S. Dept. of Agriculture's latest crop report reflected increasingly critical conditions. Examples: cattle, "forced to market"; peanuts, "past redemption"; "dry-land cotton, "extremely short"; vegetable planting, "limited." Only irrigated cotton was reported

"fruiting heavily."

GI LOAN PAYMENTS UP
Delinquencies on veterans land loans have dropped 19 per cent since 1954, said Land Commr. Earl Rudder.

Payment failures ran 20 per cent on loans made under his predecessor, Bascom Giles, said Rudder. Under the new administration they have dropped to one per cent.

Some 13,000 requests from veterans for loans now are pending before the land board. Present funds will stretch over only about 1,000. More money will be available if voters approve a constitutional amendment for a new $100,000,000 bond issue at the general election.

RAIL SUIT RULING
Smithville, an old railroad town, lost another round in its prolonged attempts to retain offices of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas line.

An Austin district court upheld the Railroad Commission order permitting consolidation of Smithville and Waco offices.

Unique aspect of the case was the "all-star" legal line-up. A former Supreme Court Justice, James P. Hart, represented Smithville. Former governor Dan Moody represented the railroad.

INSURANCE CODE IN FULL EFFECT
Texas' new "model insurance code" now is in full force and effect.

Last measure to be activated requires companies to have a minimum of 100 policyholders and $200,000 insurance in force.

An Insurance Commission spokesman called the requirements "actually very easy to meet" and predicted almost 100 per cent compliance.

Target of the law are companies which, for tax purposes, have operated other type businesses under the guise of insurance firms.

Both Governor Shivers and Commission Chairman Byron Saunders have praised the state's insurance laws in recent statements. Saunders said Texas does not need "any additional reform measures," only "minor changes."

LOSE ACCREDITATION
Eight Texas schools have been removed from the accredited list by the State Board of Education.

In addition, the board warned all other schools they must improve their standards.

Stripped for accreditation were Bexar County School for Boys, Carey (Childress County), Douglassville (Cass County), Houston Christian School, New Hope (Wood County), Scranton (Eastland County), Strong (Shelby County) and Sacred Heart (Cooke County).

These schools are ineligible to receive state money for vocational programs and superintendent pay. Their graduates must take entrance exams to enter college or another school.

NEW COURT ASKED
Texas lawyers have been asked to help persuade the 55th Legislature to allot Travis County a fourth district court.

Dist. Judge J. Harris Gardner pointed out that he and the other two judges face hopelessly jammed dockets.

In addition to local cases, Travis courts get almost all suits brought by and against state agencies.

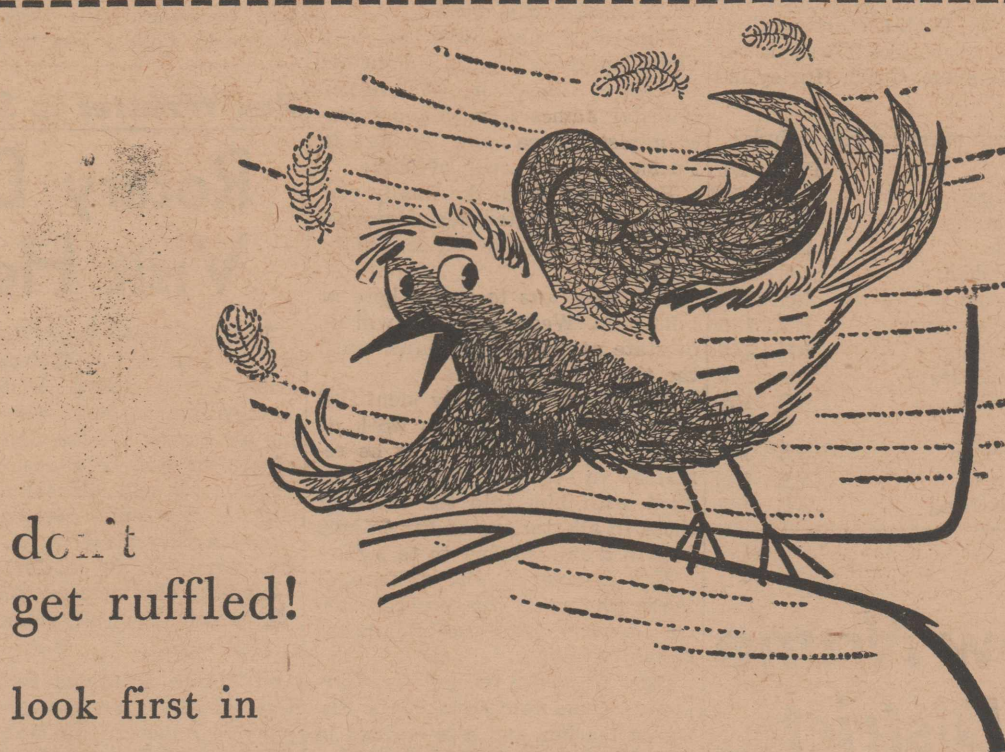

SHORT SNORTS

William H. Wood of Midland has been appointed by Gov. Allen Shivers to the State Board of Pharmacy. Wood succeeds Shine Phillips of Big Spring. Eight more Texas counties have been designated drought disaster areas by the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture.

They are Cass, Delta, Fannin, Greg, Harrison, Marion, Smith and Upshur. Furniture manufacturing is one of the fastest growing industries in Texas, expanding 10 times as fast as population. University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported the state's furniture output increased from $23,000,000 in 1939 to $98,000,000 in 1955. Texas will have 1954 new lawyers after next Monday when the Supreme Court will officially license those passing the most recent bar exam. A $16,000,000 increase in Texas farm income for 1957 has been predicted by the Texas Agricultural Stabilization Conservation Committee. This unofficial estimate was based on the belief that large numbers of farmers will take advantage of the new federal soil bank law.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Kesler visited with her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Stansell at Olton recently. They also visited his brother, Mr. and Mrs. John Oat Kesler.

Bible Comment

One is impressed with the way in which the early Christians went about solving problems of administration of their religion.

Perhaps the most notable thing is that they went so directly to first principles and to the basic experience of the Gospel.

Many converts had not been brought up in the Jewish way. They did not understand the significance or the need of rites to which the Jews had been accustomed, which were deeply imbedded in their religious practice and which the Jewish Christians continued to practice along with what they deemed their newer and larger experience.

Should these practices be enjoined on the Gentile Christians? The wise leaders among the Jews said that they should not.

In brief, the requirement became that the Gentiles should practice the Christian way, that they should not give offense to their Jewish brethren by obtrusive regard of Jewish customs, but that neither should they be under obligation to adopt these customs except as their own consciences should direct.

Mrs. R. L. Tenison was admitted to St. Joseph's Hospital for surgery August 28. She was dismissed September 3.

Wet or Dry Plan For Winter Pasture Trew Says

College Station—Prospects right now are slim for winter pastures, but, says E. M. Trew, extension pasture specialist, plans, seed and fertilizer should be ready if and when it rains.

The need for winter forage is critical in most areas of the state and winter pastures, if conditions become favorable, can be used to cut wintering costs for livestock and up the output of meat and milk from the farm.

When planting time comes, Trew advises dusting in oats and barley if there is subsoil moisture. Dry planted crops will be up and growing before planting could be done after a rain and the result is much earlier grazing. Don't fail to use fertilizer, emphasizes Trew. If it doesn't rain, the plant food will not be lost for it can be used by a succeeding crop.

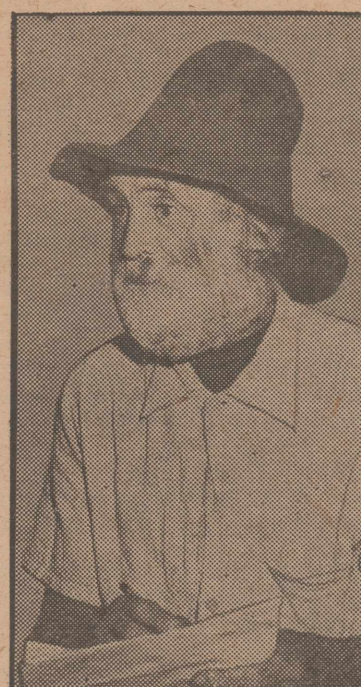

The specialist says if possible plant a legume with the grass. The combination often gives greater yields; the forage is higher in protein and minerals and the grazing season is extended. For early grazing, Trew suggests using an upright type of barley or oats such as Goliad or Alamo in areas where these varieties are adapted. Upright types will give grazing weeks ahead of the prostrate types but don't hold up for mid-winter grazing. The specialist suggests planting about 20 per cent of the acreage to the upright types and 80 percent to intermediate types in order to get maximum winter grazing.

Generally, the small grains, oats, barley and rye and in some areas wheat, are the best bet for winter grazing. Italian ryegrass does well in east Texas, the Gulf Coast region and in the Blacklands and Grand Prairie areas, Vetch, crimson clover, Hubam and Madrid sweetclover are among the legumes which can be grown in combination with the grasses.

For detailed information on varieties and seeding rates for different areas, Trew suggests that the local county agent be contacted. When the visit is made, ask for a copy of L-258, Winter Temporary Pastures.

Belt On This Personal Air Conditioning Outfit

BY EDNA MILES

PROBABLY the first thing you do when you reach home on a warm summer evening is to peel off the belt that's been clinging to you all day.

Warm weather is just ahead. And the warmest part of it is the sticky feeling from a wide belt, one that gathers fabric at the waistline and looks chic but feels hot.

There's a brand-new solution for this old problem. One manufacturer has brought out a straw belt (looks just like an ordinary belt) that gives you your own private air-conditioning. It uses no chemicals and there's no water-drip, the maker claims.

In ordinary summer weather, you wear it as you would any other belt. But when it turns really warm, trickle water over the right side of the belt. The color-fast straw absorbs the water and the aluminum belt lining cools the belt and keeps it cool until the straw dries out again. This takes several hours, says the manufacturer. Then, simply dampen the belt again.

The belt comes in summer pastels and darker colors, too. There's also a gold finish. None of the colors will smudge.

Cool idea for a summer fashion accessory is this straw belt with aluminum lining. When straw is dampened, evaporation keeps aluminum liner cool. Manufacturer says the belt won't drip.

'Cook-It-Yourself' Routine Adds to Barbecue-Time Fun

BY DOROTHY MADDOX

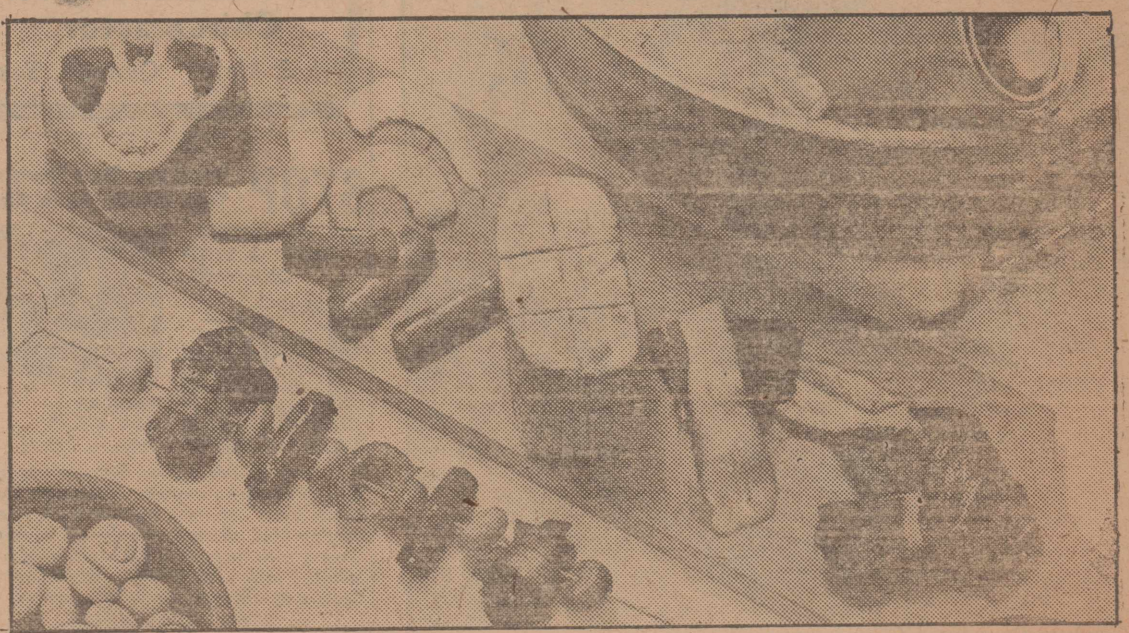

SKEWER cookery is big summer news. Ideal for family or company outdoor meals, a "cook-it-yourself" barbecue is a fine way to give everyone a chance to use his imagination and ingenuity as well as act as his own chef.

For the homemaker, it's a matter of having all the items handy and ready to broil, a set of metal skewers, and, of course, a charcoal fire that's at glowing heat.

Many suitable foods for skewer cookery are available in cans, such as the firm, tender mushroom buttons, the tiny sausages and the handy loaves of luncheon meat. The loaves you'll cut in bite-size chunks. These items are all ready to be speared, brushed with butter or oil and browned over the coals.

Charcoal-broiled shrimp, or chicken livers wrapped in bacon, lend themselves beautifully to kabob preparation.

Sirloin steak is a "natural" for a barbecue. If you alternate it on the skewer with button mushrooms, slices of green pepper and perhaps some small onions, you need only rolls and butter, a tossed salad, dessert and beverage to complete the meal.

The secret ingredients of the barbecue shown above are the imaginations of the diners. Assemble canned mushroom buttons, peppers, shrimp, sausages and luncheon meats. Provide a hot charcoal fire and let the company skewer their own meals to their particular fancy.

To serve six, you'll need the following ingredients for a "cook-it-yourself" barbecue:

Two 4-ounce cans button mushrooms, drained; 1 small can sausages, 1 can luncheon meat, 1 pound fresh or frozen medium-small shrimp, 1/2 pound bacon, 1/2 pound fresh chicken livers, 1 1/2 pounds sirloin steak, 3 green peppers cut in chunks, 12 small onions, melted butter, margarine or salad oil, 6 metal skewers (10 or 12-inch).

Light the fire and let burn until the coals glow red. Meanwhile, arrange all the ingredients on a table and let everyone assemble his own kabob.

Brush all ingredients with butter, margarine or oil and place on grill over fire.

Turn when brown on one side and serve when kabobs are well browned.

Crossroads Report

Dear Editor:
I see where the Federal Reserve Board quit juggling interest rates here the other day long enough to take a survey, and found out US citizens are spending more money on food than ever before.

And for some reason they seem to take this as a sign that property is rampant in the land.

My fat neighbor says it may work out this way for bankers and grocers, but personally speaking, the more he has to spend for groceries, the more non-prosperous he gets.

I see where some scientists have been experimenting with a chemical which they inject into a male rat and it makes him act like a female.

One shot of this stuff and he starts re-arranging the nest furniture, tending to the baby rats, and reading the society columns.

But my prespicacious neighbor says it would be risky to use this feminizing dope on human males. What if, say, a wife gave the old man a dose of it just to get the dishes washed, and it didn't wear off quick enough to keep him from getting out on the streets in bull-fighter britches.

I see where some dry towns are figuring on voting in liquor, in the hope it will bring in more business and keep so many people from going out of town to buy their whiskey.

My small-business neighbor says this sounds like a logical argument, and such a move might save some small towns from being ghosted by their city competitors.

Also would be a convenience to citizens deciding that if they can't get rich, they can at least get drunk.

From what I hear and read, I guess churches all over are having about the same trouble. Lots of names on their membership rolls, but a shortage of noses to pass the plate under.

My part-time Christian neighbor says he don't go to church any more because he don't like the preacher.

Which is maybe a better excuse than some folks have, but he is not consistent about, on account of he didn't quit drinking when he fell out with his bootlegger.

Well, I have been waiting for the experts to explain this matter of how the difference between family economics and political economics.

But nobody has, and so, along with three or four other things, it is still a puzzle to me.

In family economics, for instance, you make $1, spend $1, and you are broke. But in political economics, seems you can take in, say, $20,000 in wages for public service, pay off $100,000 of old campaign expenses, and have $1 million left.

I note that a good deal of high-level argufying is going on about the Federal Reserve Board raising interest rates up to 3 per cent.

Now this may be a very serious matter, and some say it will hamstring business, but nobody around here got anywhere near as upset over it as they did when the price of coffee went up.

My installment-addict neighbor says anyhow he is paying 20 per cent on what he owes for his car and TV set, so he can't seem to get his sympathy glands overheated in behalf of people who only have to pay 3 per cent for renting money.

Bible Comment:

Peace of Soul Is Reward for Righteous Life

THERE is much in life that seems to contradict declarations concerning the morbid results of sin and evil-doing. Paul, in his letter to the Galatians, referred to this when he said that he had seen the wicked flourishing and "spreading himself like a green bay tree." Perhaps it was because some of these early Christians, suffering for conscience's sake and seeing others apparently in ease and contentment, may have been tempted to think that righteous living did not pay after all, that led Paul to be so specific about it. He warned them not to be deceived, that God is not mocked, that whatever men sow they reap.

It is true that we live in a world where the innocent suffer with the guilty. Jesus never promised His disciples a calm or easy way. He did promise them rest and peace. It is this that constitutes the difference between those who suffer for righteousness' sake or as innocent victims of the wrongdoing of others or from some innocent cause, and those who suffer because of their evil-doings.

The records of sin and penalty are innumerable. Not long ago, a self-made millionaire in England killed himself. He had chosen the way of evil living, and the note he left behind expressed the view that all men were greedy vultures.

How different is the way of the righteous, and how well this way is expressed in the contrast between darkness and light in John's first epistle. The way of darkness is the way of lying and destruction, but the way of light is the way of cleanness and honor and good fellowship. John reminds us that we are never entirely free of evil, that if we say we have no sin, we deceive ourselves. But he does not say that even with our sinful tendencies, it is possible for human beings like us to walk in the light and to have fellowship one with another, as we seek the companionship and help of Him who is the light of the world.

Mrs. C. E. Crosnoe of Hollis was admitted to St. Joseph's Hospital Monday morning for treatment.

PUT ANOTHER TWOPENCE IN—It's the world's oldest jukebox with a built-in brass section. Ann Dunn holds a king-sized record for the "polyphon," made in Leipzig, Germany, over 120 years ago. The polyphon still produces music for patrons in a London, England, restaurant. Then a coin is deposited in the side of the machine, the brass disc rotates, striking keys in music-box fashion.

News of Men in Service

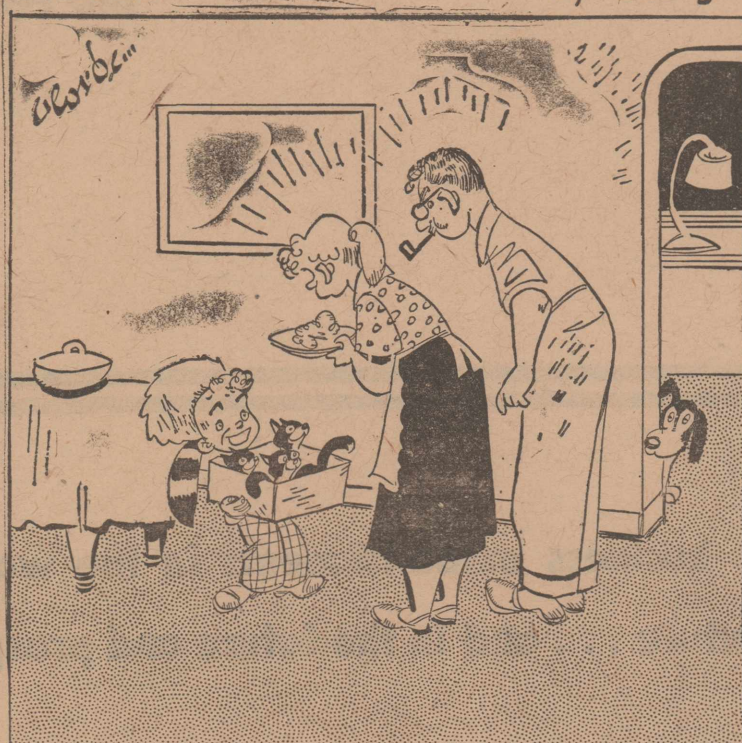

Seaman Eugene Brown, stationed with the US Navy at Long Beach, Calif., left Saturday after 16-days leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Millard P. Brown, and his brothers, Millard W. Brown and family of Wellington and N. L. Brown and family of Amarillo.

Brown does general office work in the personnel department at his installation.

He enlisted in the Navy November 3, 1955.

Kenneth Hudson of Dodson entered St. Joseph's Hospital Monday morning, September 10, for treatment.

Ticklers By George

"We have the nicest neighbors! Look! They gave me a box full of cats."

Sidelines

Wellington fans were both pleased and a little bit surprised at the show of strength put on by the 1956 edition of the Rockets. The squad was considered crippled before the game started, what with its veteran tackle R. W. Warren definitely out for a period of at least three weeks and Mike Glenn and Denzil Lacy out for the season due to more serious injuries.

Other boys turned up to take the places of the injured lads and they did it with a spirit that reminded the spectators of the fighting red Rockets of other days.

The picture looked even darker when the Panthers managed to take the very able DeRay Uselton out of the game in the opening minutes of play. The versatile Jerry Elbert was the offensive star of the game with his neat passing and his long stride running. Wellington played conservative, hard working, keep ball during the last half of the game; but it was the superlative defensive play that enabled them to rise above a series of fumbles and come from behind to turn the score from 7 to 0 in the first quarter to 13 to 7 at the end of the half.

The first half was as interesting football as you will ever see in high school or college. In the last half the Rockets were obviously superior both on offense and defense.

The Panthers never gave up even though they were outplayed.

In the person of Jones Hedrick they had a back who could and did go the distance once they shook him loose. He ran 78 yards for Panhandle's first and only touchdown. They shook him loose again in the second half on two occasions. He seemed to be gone for another Panther touchdown, but the fast Farris Wood closed in at an angle and made a desperate ankle tackle. The unsuspecting Hedrick fell heavily and the ball spurted into the air and was recovered by Wellington to set up another touchdown march.

The Panthers shook Hedrick loose again a few plays later and again he was stopped by Wood; but this was not such a clear cut get away for there were three other Rockets near the scene who might have been able to make the tackle on the speedy Hedrick.

Jim Forrester, "the tank" was the sturdiest boy in the Wellington line all evening. He outplayed his helmet throwing opponent practically throughout the game. He had a frog in his leg just as other Rockets had injuries and bruises. Once Sidelines saw him coming down after a kickoff, poking along favoring his hurting leg. Then the play broke and a Panther took off for the sidelines. Jim caught what could have been a disastrous block if he had not been watching. But he was watching. Bracing his sturdy legs he used a short thrust of his good stout arms and set the potential blocker back on his buttock. Then he set off like a scared buffalo and knocked the play out of bounds. Without Tank's play it could have been a Panther touchdown.

The play of Larry Johnson, Cloyce Scarberry, Harry White, Wesley Savage, Eulan Branch, Randal Raburn and Glen Warrick was something above what the folks expected. The linesmen won the game.

All players can't be mentioned in one single football game. Sidelines would like to point out one who seemed to turn the tide of the game. This was the wiry Richard Carter. He is not so big, but he seems to be built of steel wire and rubber. When he was sent in, he played a fine game in the line just as did Charlie Welch in the backfield.

Pat Wilkins called a heady game, faking the ball skillfully. His deception was such that once or twice it even fooled the officials. They did not know where the ball was.

Hardest tacklers on the Rocket squad were Larry Johnson, Don Hood and Charles Gibson. This Gibson is a boy who may take a lot of pressure off of Elbert and Tarver. Don Hood hits harder than any lad on the 1956 team.

Incidentally, Floyd Hood and Douglas Duncan are rated very high at Texas Tech this year. See you at Powell Field this Friday.

Towns . . . sometimes called Community Economies . . . like this one which puts sustenance in easier reach of all of us around here . . . are not natural resources either.

Somebody has to build them . . . and somebody has to keep them nourished with Trade Volume.

And, same as the care and feeding of a Mama Hog regulates how fat the pigs get, our individual and collective prosperity depends on the vigor of the Local Economy which furnishes us with jobs, business, stable property values, convenient markets, and a handy source of emergency supplies and service.

At the same time, our social well-being also depends on a robust Local Economy to provide us with community facilities, such as good schools and churches, police protection, near-at-hand doctors and hospital service, and neighbors we can talk over politics with.

But if it's going to keep all of these things on tap for us . . . this old Community Economy will sure have to be fed . . . with Trade Volume.

Buying out-of-town . . . cutting the ration of Trade Volume by $3 or $4 every time $1 is taken out of local circulation . . . is a good way to dry up the our community.

Watch Out for Children NEAR SCHOOLS

As the big parade back to school begins, it's time for you, as a responsible driver, to go "on the alert."
Especially near schools, drive so that you can "stop on a dime" . . . and make sure that your brakes are in shape to let you do just that! Keep a sharp eye out for children crossing streets, riding bikes, chasing balls into traffic, at play 'most anywhere. Wisely count a minute gained as trifling when weighed in the balance of a young life lost. Drive always as if every child on the streets were your own.

... then drive on

Rockets Down Panthers 25 to 7 in Opener Fri.

By Lyndon Crelia

In the seasons opener at Powell Field Friday night before an estimated crowd of 1,000 people, the Wellington Skyrockets romped to a 25 to 7 victory over the Panhandle Panthers in a grand showing of passing and running ability. Despite a late start the Rockets began rolling in the second quarter and started a drive that carried them to victory with two touchdowns in that quarter and followed by one in the third and another in the fourth quarter.

Hoot Gibson accounted for two Pocket tallies and Jerry Elbert ran one across and passed to Tarver for another.

In the first quarter with two minutes gone in the game Panhandle's Jones Hedrick found a gap around right end for a 78 yard run and touchdown. The extra point was good, making the score 7 to 0, favor Panhandle.

In the second quarter, after the Rockets driving to the Panhandle 40 yard line, Jerry Elbert plowed through the line for a 60 yard run and touchdown. Later in the quarter after gaining the ball on Panhandle's failure to make a first down, Elbert threw a long pass which was caught in the end zone by Maxie Tarver. Tarver made the conversion attempt, which was good, and the score stood 13 to 7 at half time.

In the third quarter Wellington almost scored on another drive but had the hard luck to lose the ball on the two yard line after a fumble. They retaliated later with Hoot Gibson running one across from the five yard line to close out the third quarter with the score standing 19 to 7, after the attempt for extra point failed.

The final score came with two minutes and twenty-five seconds left in the game after Wellington's drive to the one yard line and Gibson again going over for the TD. Again the extra point attempt was no good.

Elbert was the leading ground gainer for the game, chalking up 144 yards in 13 tries. Outstanding Rocket defense men were Faris Wood, Don Hood and Tank Forrester.

J. R. W. Brewer, 94, First Justice of Peace, Dies

J. R. W. Brewer, who served as first justice of the peace of Precinct One, died at the age of 94 in a Plainview Hospital Friday, August 31. He had lived for many years in the Lakeview community near Abernathy.

To the end of his life, Mr. Brewer remained active and alert, and continued to drive his own car.

One of the real pioneers of this area, Mr. Brewer arrived in 1889, before the organization of the county. He was named justice of the peace in the election of September 30, 1890 — the first held in the county — in which only 88 persons voted. It was in this election that Wellington was chosen the county seat over Pearl, by a vote of 56 to 32.

Mr. Brewer was born June 31, 1862, in Myrtle, Missouri. He grew up in that state and was married there to Miss Laura Hall on November 18, 1886. It was less than three years later that they reached Wellington.

They remained here until 1919, when they moved to Abernathy, where Mr. Brewer farmed until his retirement.

He was a member of the Baptist Church.

Funeral services were held at the Lakeview Baptist Church Sunday, September 2, and burial was in Strip Cemetery.

Mr. Brewer is survived by 10 children: A. O. Brewer and Mrs. T. E. Young of Abernathy; Mrs. Mittie Hembree of Plainview; Mrs. Dora Sahton of Artesia, N. M.; Charlie Brewer of Abernathy; W. H. Brewer of Silver City, N. M.; Luther Brewer of Hale Center; George Brewer of Austin, and Mrs. Mack Riddles of Modesto, Calif.

Calif.

Other survivors are a brother and sister, John Brewer of Newkirk, Oklahoma and Mrs. Philba Bowen of Muleshoe; also 46 grandchildren; 73 great grandchildren; and 5 great-great grandchildren.

of the free world.

Where Rotary Clubs are located, President Wells asserted in discussing the Governor's visit, their activities are similar to those of the Rotary Club of Wellington, because they are based on the same general objectives — developing better understanding and fellowship among business and professional men, promoting community betterment undertakings, raising the standards of business and professions, and fostering the advancement of good will, understanding and peace among all the people of the world.

Each year, this world-wide service organization continues to grow in numbers and in strength, President Wells added. During the past fiscal year, 351 new Rotary Clubs were organized in 48 countries of North, South and Central America, Europe, Asia, Africa and the Islands of the Pacific, and seven countries were added to Rotary's roster, Angola, Iran, Iraq, Jordan, Netherlands, New Guinea, Ruanda-Urundi and Swaziland.
