Junior High Teams Vie for District Title

Both the seventh and eighth grade teams vie for the District Title tonight as they take on the Calallen Wildcats at the Pirate Stadium. Both teams won last week in George West in a do-or-die contest with the seventh grade winning 26-0 and the eighth grade winning 16-8 in as fine a junior high football game as you would ever want to see.

Since this game is for the District Title, spirits will be running high on both teams, as well as the Calallen teams.

If both teams win, it will be the first time both the seventh and eighth grade teams have taken a district football championship the same year. This year the eighth grade team is also the defending district football champion from last year.

Game time is 5:30 for the seventh grade, with the eighth grade game to immediately follow. Admission for the games will be 50c for adults and 25c for students.

If you haven't seen these fine, dedicated young men play football this year, come out tonight and watch them work together in their final effort of the season.

11 WHOOPERS BRING TOTAL TO 55 BIRDS

The arrival of 11 more whooping cranes at Aransas National Wildlife Refuge had brought the count to 55. An aerial census of the birds was taken Tuesday.

The new arrivals include nine adults and two young birds, hatched at the cranes' summering grounds in Canada. Thus far 49 of the 56 birds that left the refuge last spring have returned, bringing with them six young. Birds with young usually are the last to arrive since the small ones cannot fly as fast as the adults.

Lions Aid Crippled Children

Members of Lions Clubs throughout Texas this month are pausing to pay recognition to their camp for crippled children which has given over 12 thousand handicapped youngsters a new dimension of freedom since it was opened in 1953.

The Camp, located at Kerrville in the Hill Country of Central Texas, is free to crippled, blind, deaf or mute children of Texas from the ages of seven through 16. The 17 permanent buildings and other improvements dotting the 504 hill-side acres represent an investment of more than $700,000.

At the Camp, these youngsters who have been denied a normal childhood through no fault of their own, learn to shed their shyness imposed by their handicaps. By mutual association with other handicapped children and by skillful and gentle counseling, these youngsters have found the freedom to grow, mentally and spiritually, into useful citizens of tomorrow.

STUDENT ABSENCES CONCERN SCHOOLS

Local school authorities are concerned about student absences, as explained in the following statement by Supt. of Schools J. D. Gray:

"Our record of attendance through the first two months of this school year is a matter of growing concern. We have had more absences than in previous years and this places an unnecessary burden on the student, the teacher and the school district.

"Each absence by a student causes him to miss some part of his educational opportunities. This can never be made up fully. Since we have larger classes than in past years, teachers have less time to try and help students who miss school to catch up. Unless a student is very strong, each absence hurts him educationally to some degree.

"Having students absent causes a very busy teacher to have to find time for helping absentees try and catch up. Each teacher does this to the best of his ability but is never able to cover all instruction given in class with those who have been absent.

"Since the money received from the state for support of your schools is based on our per day attendance, each absence by local students costs local taxpayers about three dollars. Thus a few unnecessary absences by each student could well cost local taxpayers several thousand dollars because of loss of state funds. The school is staffed on membership rather than average daily attendance.

"We realize that there are many valid reasons for a child to miss school. We do not want an ill child in school. However, visiting, shopping and other such matters can well be put off until days when school is not in session.

"Please consider the above and let us see if we can eliminate many of our absences."

See Historic Sea Voyage Film Here

A color motion picture story of the converted tanker Manhattan's trip across the top of the world last year by way of the Northeast Passage was shown at a luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club Wednesday at Corky's Restaurant.

The picture, produced for the Humble Oil Company, was presented by R. L. Eckman who formerly was associated with that firm.

The Manhattan's voyage was the first in history for a commercial vessel over a route which had challenged sailors for more than 100 years. The trip demonstrated the feasibility of a commercial sea route between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans. It was inspired by the need for transporting oil from the new North Slope field.

The Manhattan, accompanied by Canadian and U.S. icebreakers, steamed through 1,100 miles of ice fields to reach the oil field. During the trip a wide variety of scientific data on the sea, ice and animal life was gathered by a corps of scientists aboard the ship.

Miller, Austin, chief of public works, Economic Development Administration; Chuck Garrett, Austin, head of the area office project review, E.D.A.; and Dempsey J. Duprie, Corpus Christi, executive director, Coastal Bend Economic Development District.

At the conclusion of the meeting, Miller and Garrett indicated that they will recommend to the regional director and the project review board of E.D.A. that the project be approved.

If approval is given, the federal government would provide a $500,000 grant for the project. Matching funds would be raised locally by means of a $500,000 Navigation District bond issue which would be voted on by residents of Aransas County.

The project would include improving harbor facilities at Fulton Harbor, Rockport Harbor and Cove Harbor, just south of Rockport, plus deepening the channels from the three harbors to the Intra-coastal Canal.

It was pointed out by community leaders attending the conference that such a project would greatly aid the local economy and growth by creating an estimated 600 jobs, benefiting the shrimp industry, offshore drilling service industry, and aiding businesses.

Bringing 600 new families to the Rockport area also would benefit real estate firms, building contractors, local stores and other types of businesses.

In addition to the E.D.A. officials, local men attending the conference included James H. Sorenson, Jr., banker; Delo Caspari, offshore drilling service; N. F. Jackson, commercial fishing; Jerre Ledbetter, real estate; Paul Johnson, motel management; Emory M. Spencer, oil operator; Matt Scott, Dick Fox, David Maguglin and Ellis Clark of the Navigation District.

Delmar R. Hiller, mayor and savings and loan business; L. E. Casterline, commercial fishing; Dick Simpson and W. W. Stubbs, Jr., shrimp boat manufacturing; Keith Leith, marina operation; Jim Barnett, engineer for Navigation District.

The E.D.A. representatives said the federal government has designated approximately $45 million to be spent in this part of the country on major projects that would help individual communities and create jobs.

MENTAL HEALTH MATTERS

Stanley F. Yoles, M.D.
Director
National Institute of Mental Health

Modern Treatment

Modern treatment of mental illness has developed along three major avenues: psychotherapy, rehabilitative therapy, and chemical methods.

The first involves treatment by psychological means. Thus, psychotherapy, brought to the patient as an individual or group member, helps him to discover for himself underlying causes of his emotional difficulties.

Bringing causes to the surface and discovering ways to overcome these obstacles to his mental health, the patient is aided in finding or regaining an adequate role for himself in his family group, and community.

Various rehabilitative therapies help the mentally ill by restoring a sense of usefulness and self-assurance.

Among these methods are occupational, recreational, and social activities. They have been found not only to benefit these patients who are about ready to return to society, but also to provide a creative outlet for many of those who are severely disturbed.

But the most dramatic chapter in the modern treatment of mental illness has been written through chemical methods: the advent and use of psychoactive—mind-affecting—drugs.

Introduced into the United States in the mid-1950's, the psychoactive drugs have opened a new era in the treatment of the millions of mentally disturbed.

They have been the main factor in an achievement that many people are still unaware of: the progressive and still-continuing reduction in the once vast numbers of resident patients in our mental hospitals.

Drugs do not cure mental illness. But they can relieve its symptoms in many cases so that other methods, such as psychotherapy, can be applied. Some can calm an agitated, hostile patient to the extent that physical restraints and seclusion are rarely needed. Other drugs can lift the patients' mood or increase his awareness.

Psychoactive drugs have many benefits, if properly administered. They can have their best results when they are appropriately used as part of the total program of treatment.

Moreover, biochemical research is opening still more new doors. Although treatment of the mentally ill today is the best in history, it will continue to improve even more in the future than in the past.

12 Agencies Share In United Campaign

For the information of potential contributors to the current Aransas County United Fund, following is a brief description of the activities of the 12 agencies which will share in the $10,400 goal of the campaign:

BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA—Helps boys to be prepared for manhood by teaching the value of teamwork as well as individual effort. The Scouting program encourages maturity in boys, aged 9-18 by helping them relate to their natural environment and to the other Boy Scout troops, and one Explorer Post in Aransas county.

GONZALES WARM SPRINGS FOUNDATION—A public foundation which operates a hospital and school for those disabled by accident or disease. The foundation provides one of the most complete rehabilitation hospitals in the United States. Automobile accidents cause the greatest number of disability patients in the hospital.

GIRL SCOUTS—Helps girls to be prepared for womanhood by teaching the value of teamwork of individual initiative. The Girl Scout program fosters maturity in girls, aged 7-18, by helping them relate to their surroundings, their homes and other girls and adults in the program. In Aransas county there are five units: one Brownie Troop; two Junior Troops; one Cadet Troop; and one Senior Scout Troop.

ARANSAS COUNTY YOUTH COUNCIL—Established to support Scouting and to own and operate the Boy Scout Hut which is used by three Troops and one Pack. The Council holds a long-term lease on the property upon which the Scout Hut is located and provides maintenance for the building and equipment for the Troops. It also distributes funds to benefit the local activities of both Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts.

UNITED SERVICE ORGANIZATIONS—The USO was established in 1941 for the entertainment of military troops overseas. Since that time it has sent traveling shows wherever U.S. troops are stationed anywhere in the world.

COASTAL BEND ASSOCIATION FOR MENTAL HEALTH—Services the mentally ill, from prevention to rehabilitation, in a five-county area around Corpus Christi. Most of its work is done on the psychiatric floors of Memorial Hospital by volunteers who are trained to aid the mentally ill. A program of re-adjustment to help recovering patients find work and a program to educate the general public to the probability of complete cure are two other services provided by the association.

COASTAL BEND COUNCIL ON ALCOHOLISM—Conducts a program to help the alcoholic and his family during his frequent emergencies, to consult with the trained workers in industry and other agencies to help known alcoholics and to promote health education to prevent alcoholism in schools, churches, unions and clubs. The council also conducts an annual institute on alcoholism, which educates over 200 doctors, nurses, teachers, counselors, social workers, students and other interested persons.

FAMILY COUNSELING SERVICE—The purposes of this agency are to promote healthy personality developments. To contribute to harmonious family inter-relationship. To strengthen the positive values of family life, to promote the satisfactory social functions of various family members and to prevent family breakdown. Agency services include individual and family counseling, family life education and consultation to other professions in the area of family-life.

TEXAS UNITED COMMUNITY SERVICES—The "mother" agency for all United Funds in Texas. This agency provides professional advertising services, materials and campaign help for local United Funds and also represents other welfare agencies before the Texas Legislature.

ARANSAS COUNTY EMERGENCY CORPS—This local agency provides emergency aid whenever and wherever needed. The Corps operates an emergency car equipped with oxygen, resuscitator, first aid supplies and water rescue gear on a 24 hour basis.

The car is radio equipped and trained personnel ride with it at all times.

AMERICAN RED CROSS—The largest "immediate help" welfare agency in the nation. Provides supplies and funds anywhere a disaster may occur. Professional staff persons are made available to help people recover from an emergency such as Hurricane Celia.

SALVATION ARMY—This agency provides immediate welfare aid for individuals and families whenever requested. Services include overnight housing, food, transportation or fuel, help in paying for pressing medical needs, clothing and shoes for the needy, and help for unwed mothers. The eight Salvation Army mobile canteens in Texas are dispatched to provide food for rescue and emergency workers whenever needed.

Powder-Puff Football Game

The Future Homemakers of Rockport-Fulton High School will hold their second annual powder-puff football game in Pirate Stadium Nov. 24 at 7:30 p.m.

Price of admission is 25 cents for students and 50 cents for adults.

Debbie Haigood, FHA Reporter.

Cub Scouts

Den 2, Pack 49

Den No. 2, Pack 49 met at the home of den mother Mrs. Reininger. Carl Ray DeForest conducted the flag ceremony and the song, "We are the Cub Scouts." We then discussed how cub scouts should conduct themselves while playing games. Lawrence Miculka planned and was in charge of the outside games consisting of toss games, dodge ball and hand skill.

Randy Reininger was denner of the day. Refreshments were served by Danny Kelley. After refreshments we all went in the house to make cartoon strips and prepared to make papier-mache masks. It was time to end with a reminder to always do your best in everything you do.

Presbyterian Circle Holds Meeting

Circle 3, Women of the Presbyterian Church, met at the home of Mrs. Cecil Lang, Jr., on Monday. Fourteen members answered the roll call with a Bible verse. The meeting was opened with prayer followed by a business meeting conducted by the chairman, Mrs. H. H. Dick.

It was announced that Barclay's "The Letters to the Romans" was purchased as an aid to the lessons in the workbook. Moderators and hostesses were named through the month of May. There were 36 visits made and 68 cards sent by the members since last meeting.

Besides visiting shut-ins, assisting when called on to help with church functions, studying the Bible and trying to keep in close touch with members who cannot attend, the circle plans to have a Sunday school room for an additional project this year. The members hope to add to the appearance and to supply needed material for the room.

Mrs. Robert Harrell read a prayer written by Maria Weigle from Germany while the Least Coin offering was received. Mrs. Dick moderated the lesson on "Sin" with circle members participating in the discussion. The meeting was closed with a prayer circle and the Mizpah benediction. Mrs. Lang served refreshments during the social hour.

The meeting next month will be at the home of Mrs. Volney Cavitt on Dec. 14 at 7:30 p.m.

Good Neighbor Club Meets

The Good Neighbor Club met at the IOOF Hall Oct. 28, with 16 members and three visitors present. Mrs. Frye of Corpus Christi made a talk entitled "Magic Suit Case" showing how many things are made from oil and gas. Mrs. McMillan won the door prize.

Gladys Mullan, Bessie Daws and Olga McLester were appointed to the nominating committee. Neva Sorenson and Mrs. Hoover were hostesses.

The next meeting will be on Nov. 18, instead of Nov. 25. A man who was a golfing bug married a woman who loved to attend auction sales. And both of them talked in their sleep. One night the husband yelled: "Fore!"

And the wife promptly shouted: "Four twenty-five!" Midland (Ont.) Free Press

Ever Wonder Where TV Gets Its Statistics?

We often wonder about the 30-million, 40-million 50-million viewer statistics thrown around so carelessly by television networks and quoted as fact in our newspapers. When President Nixon made his important speech on October 7, we came up with these statistics to prove that no one watched his speech.

25,000,000 people were in their cars traveling somewhere (thousands going to the corner drug store to buy a paper).

25,000,000 people were in their cars traveling somewhere transportation with no TV sets (thousands reading their evening papers).

20,000,000 teen agers were listening to stereos and doing their home work (thousands clipping current events from their newspapers).

30,000,000 were at work in restaurants, stores open evenings, police and fire stations, etc. (thousands waiting on shoppers with newspapers in their hands containing specials and coupons).

40,000,000 were in their bedrooms, bathrooms, dining rooms or other rooms where there were no TV sets (reading afternoon newspaper accounts of what the President was going to say, or reading the local news, ads, sports news or Dear Abby).

15,000,000 were in movie theatres, hockey games, and other special events (after they had checked the time and location in their newspapers).

10,000,000 kids under 9 years of age were already in bed (threatened with a newspaper).

10,000,000 kids over 70 years of age were in bed (some asleep, some reading newspapers).

10,000,000 were at PTA meetings, prayer meetings and other meetings (announced that day in their newspaper).

5,000,000 partisan Democrats still refuse to watch President Nixon.

5,000,000 partisan Republicans were attending Republican rallies, working in campaign headquarters.

5,000,000 were in restaurants and taverns in the west coast time zones having dinner.

3,000,000 (counting the Armed Forces) were overseas.

4,000,000 forgot he was on TV and didn't have the set turned on.

100,000 were in jail.

20,000 were hunting, fishing, playing night golf, tennis, etc.

10,000 were working nights getting out the Thursday morning newspaper.

TOTAL: 202,130,000 U. S. Citizens who did not watch television Wednesday night, October 7. **

* If we left out anyone, send in your statistics, and we might prove twice that many.

 Oh yes! We forgot to include the 10,000,000 U. S. citizens who do not have television sets—or those in Alaska and Hawaii who do not get live TV.

Freshmen, JV Lose Games

By Bob Crawford

Last week the Freshmen and Junior Varsity suffered defeats at the hands of different opponents. While the Freshmen were on the losing end of a 50-8 score in the game with the Gregory-Portland team, the JV was falling to George West 26-12.

The Freshmen were pounded by a strong GP team, which featured a quick striking offense and lightning fast backs. The Freshmen were again without top ground-gainer Ricky McLeister, but halfback Vidal Herrera took up much of the slack with 85 yards in 19 carries.

The only scoring plays for the Pirates came with a few minutes remaining in the last quarter. Fullback Danny Cox plunged over from the one-yard line to give the Pirates a TD, and this was followed by a two-point conversion. Mike Bass and Peden Rogers passed the defense.

Meanwhile, the JV Pirates spotted the Longhorns two first half scores, only to come back and tie the game in the third period.

George West sported a rushing offense which gained 291 yards on the ground, with the majority (239 yards in 59 carries) being picked up by D. Holleman, the tailback.

The Pirates struck back on the opening kickoff of the last half, as Freeman Lamar took the ball on the Pirate 13-yard line and raced the length of the field to the TD. The point after was good.

With just four seconds remaining in the third period, the Longhorns punted, and again it was Lamar who did the damage for the Pirates as he went for 35 yards and another score. For the second time, the Pirates failed to convert the point affair.

George West added two other scores before the night was over. The Pirates, playing without key linebacker Paul Kuehn, were unable to stop Holleman, as time and time again he went for the yardage necessary for the first down.

Defensively, noseman Dean Richard, who doubled as a line-backer, led the Pirates, getting in on 26 assists on tackles, besides making seven tackles individually. Drew Carlin, Brad Little, Paul Mauer, Wally Sanford, and Robert Schendel followed Richard with a high number of tackles.

This week the JV and Freshmen travel to Calallen for the games that will end the year for both squads.

George West Beats Pirates 20 to 8

By Bob Crawford

Throwing a terrific scare into the state's number 9 ranked Class AA school, the Pirates fought back from a 20-0 score at the half to nearly pull off the upset of the year over George West.

Late in the third quarter, the Pirates rose up to hold the Longhorns on the Pirate 10-yard line. From that point, the men in green began looking like the old Mean Green, and marched 90 yards for the TD. The drive covered the 90 yards with Robert Brooks and Richard Schendel carrying the ball all the way. On one of the key moves in the drive, quarterback Craig Thornton rolled out on the option and carried downfield six yards before pitching to Brooks who went an additional seven yards to the Longhorn one-yard line. On the next play Schendel pounded across for the TD. Brooks darted through the line for the two points and the Pirates trailed 20-8.

In the next series of plays, defensive back Mark Wright swiped a Longhorn pass and returned it to the George West 30. As the Pirates moved to the Longhorn 12, the Horns rose to the occasion and took the ball on downs.

The Pirates continued to put pressure on the Horns for the remainder of the game, barely allowing the bunch from George West to escape with their undefeated (once tied) season.

The first half was mostly George West. All-State candidate back Oliff Hoskins was held to considerably less than he is accustomed to, as statistics go—he carried 31 times for only 123 yards, and scored only one TD, much lower than his usual 3 or 4 a game.

The most damaging performance by a Longhorn against the Pirates was by fullback Ronnie Wilson who gained 148 yards in 15 attempts, including one 69 yard burst.

Offensively, Brooks paced the Pirates with 107 yards in 21 carries, aided by Schendel's 55 yards in 20 attempts. Thornton passed for 69 yards, one 61-yard toss to Clay Gillis, one step away from going all the way for the score in the first half.

On defense, Brooks, Wright, Gillis, and a host of others paced the Pirates.

Lang recommended the draft plan as a convenient and relatively painless method of giving. He said he and Mrs. Lang were using this method again this year.

In addition to home solicitation, there will be special campaigns in school, city, county and state offices, as well as direct solicitation of business firms. Contributors may, if they wish, restrict their gift to one agency or may exclude one or more agencies.

Lang stresses the advantages of united giving for both contributors and participating agencies from a money saving standpoint. It also relieves the giver of the bother of 12 separate solicitations from 12 separate agencies.

Agencies which will participate are Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation, Aransas County Youth Council, United Service Organizations, Coastal Bend Association for Mental Health, Coastal Bend Council on Alcoholism, Family Counseling Service, Texas United Community Services, Aransas County Emergency Corps, Red Cross and Salvation Army.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q) I do a lot of traveling on my new job. What kind of records should I keep on my food and lodging costs?

A) A cancelled check together with a bill stamped paid can be used to establish the amount of your lodging and the date. A diary or similar record of your meal costs is acceptable if entries are made when the costs are incurred.

Rules on travel expenses are detailed in Publication 463, Travel, Entertainment and Gift Expenses. For a free copy write your District Director.

Q) There have been some changes in my tax situation since I filled out my estimated return in April. Can I change it now?

A) Yes, recompute your estimated tax on the worksheet included in your 1040ES package before you make your third installment payment in September. The amended tax figure and the new payment amount should be shown on the voucher you send in with your payment.

Q) I just got a letter saying my 1968 return is being examined. How far can you go back?

A) IRS generally has three years from the date a return is due to assess additional taxes. However, under special circumstances the general rule may not apply. For example, in fraud cases there is no time limit.

Rustle Up a Redfish

AUSTIN — Redfish could easily suffer from mistaken identity on the display case since the color it is named fades shortly after the fish is caught.

So the housewife unfamiliar with this species might select the red snapper instead, an excellent choice in its own right. The redfish can be distinguished by the black spot at the base of the tail.

Redfish, one of the most popular of Gulf species, are marketed in two to 25 pound sizes and can be prepared whole or in fillets or steaks.

For baking whole, a three or four-pound fish is best when basted with butter oil to prevent drying and stuffed with flavorful dressing.

Redfish fillets and steaks lend themselves to broiling or baking with an endless variety of sauces and spices.

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department's Seafood Marketing Division offers still another way to enjoy redfish — in a salad which weight watchers will appreciate since it is low in calories.

SEA SLAW

1½ lbs. redfish fillets or other fish fillets, fresh or frozen
1 quart boiling water
1 teaspoon salt
¼ cup low calorie salad dressing (mayonnaise type)
2 teaspoons chopped onion
2 tablespoons sweet pickle relish

1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup shredded green cabbage
6 lettuce cups

The Kinsey Report

Ever play the car game in which you start with A and go through the alphabet, naming a car for each letter?

When I use to play this game with our son, he'd often complain when I'd name some car no longer made.

Let's play a game and see how we go. A, Apperson Jack-rabbit; B, Buick; C, Cadillac; D, Datsun; E, Essex; F, Ford; G, Goliath; H, Hudson; I, Isota Frachini (spelling?); J, Jordan; K, Kissel; L, Locomobile; M, Marmon; N, Nash; O, Opel; P, Packard; Q, (damfino); R, Rambler; S, Studebaker; T, Triumph; U, Union; V, Velie; W, Winton; X, beats me; Y, you got me; Z, ain't no Zebra car.

Obviously, the oldsters have the edge on young people in this game if cars no longer made can be used.

THOUGHTS FOR THE DAY:

Nov. 12: Courage is not the absence of fear; it is the conquest of it.

Nov. 13: The only rival of the man who knows is the one willing to learn.

Nov. 14: Kindness is one thing you can't give away; it always comes back.

Nov. 15: If this generation had more respect for divine guidance, it might have less need for guided missiles.

Nov. 16: Whenever the going seems easy, best make sure you're not going downhill.

Nov. 17: The lowest ebb is the turn of the tide.

Nov. 18: The recipe for perpetual ignorance is: Be satisfied with your opinions and content with your knowledge.

—Elbert Hubbard.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to thank everyone for the cards, flowers, visits and phone calls during my stay in the hospital and while at home.

Letter to the Editor

Most any day now, you are going to hear your doorbell ring or a knock on your door. The person doing the knocking or ringing is going to be a neighbor or maybe a friend of yours.

He is going to do his best to give you a good sales talk on giving to the United Fund. Now a good many of us are not professional in this line of business and do not have a polished speech to make. Some of us may be timid and just hand you something to read, and then stand mute.

But whatever our approach is, I would like for you to know that we all have the same thing on our mind and that is to help those who need help when they need it most.

I am a firm believer in the saying, "What you will do for children, you will do for your soul." I also believe that when you help your fellow man, you will be helping yourself the most.

So I ask you to think about this and when you are called on, give all you can because your help is truly needed.

Now, a little story: Once upon a time there was a little fellow who was so tiny that it was hard for big people to see him. He was so small that one grain of rice would make him a big dinner.

After so long a time, he grew weary of being so small, so he got on his knees and prayed to the Lord to make him big and strong like most other people. At the end of his prayer he heard a voice asking him why he wanted to be so big and strong.

He answered, "So I may carry heavy loads for those who have no arms to carry with, that I may run errands for those who have no legs to run with, that I may read stories for those who have no eyes to read with, so I may visit and comfort others."

Then the little fellow heard the voice ask him what would he be willing to do while he was still too small to do those things he wanted to do if he was big and strong.

He answered quickly, "I will pray to you and ask you to do those things for me until I can do them for myself."

With those words, that made the tiny fellow a giant. I don't know how big he got, but with those words he grew. Now the moral of the story seems to be that when we help those who cannot help themselves, you will grow.

You may not be any bigger in size or richer in money, but you will surely grow.

So again I ask you to give to the United Fund. Help those who need your help.

Truett (Papa) Craven

Watch Out For Winter Ticks
San Patricio and Aransas County farmers and ranchers should begin watching their cattle for winter tick population build-ups, advised County Agent D. P. Pawlik. These blood-sucking parasites can cause tremendous losses to cattle through loss of blood, weakened condition, reduced feed conversion efficiency and increased susceptibility to diseases and nutritional disorders, he says. Many of the troublesome ticks attack primarily during the winter months when the animals are in their poorest nutritional state creating an extra burden on the animal's defenses, Pawlik adds.
Effective tick control can be accomplished economically through the use of modern spray and dip materials. Thorough coverage with the insecticidal material is necessary for best control. Dipping assures thorough coverage, but sprays can be effectively used if careful attention is given to thoroughly wetting the hair coat to the skin.
Pawlik advises that he has a complete listing of recommended tick control materials in his office and will be happy to furnish these recommendations upon request.
Before purchasing and applying livestock insecticides, carefully read the label and pay particular attention to precautions and restrictions listed. Observe strictly the slaughter intervals as clearly stated on the label.

No Generation Gap In Scuba Diving

AUSTIN—There's no generation gap in SCUBA diving, say officials of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department's Water Safety Services. This is because divers young and old must conform to approved safety standards to be able to enjoy the sport.

Statistics show that fatalities among SCUBA divers in Texas almost invariably are a result of either faulty equipment or violation of safety rules.

Safety rule violations, in many cases, result from a lack of proper diving instruction, according to George Cook, director of Water Safety Services. "You cannot just borrow or buy equipment and be ready to go diving," he said. "SCUBA equipment must fit you and be chosen for the type of diving you plan to do. You must have a diving flag and it should be respected by both divers and boatmen."

A good SCUBA course should include dry land, pool and open water instruction. A written examination should be followed by an open water check-out before a diver is certified. Most shops which rent diving gear or fill air tanks require proof of certification before filling tanks or renting gear.

Most of the good diving schools are certified either by the National Association of Skin Diving Schools, the YMCA, Los Angeles County instructors program, National Association of Underwater Instructors or SCUBA Schools International.

High-Low Bridge

Mrs. R. E. Eckman was hostess to the High-Low Bridge Club at her home Nov. 4. Those attending were Mrs. Arthur Bracht, Mrs. H. F. Elliot, Mrs. Chester Johnson, Mrs. Tom Smallwood, Mrs. Virginia Miller, Mrs. J. H. Mills, Mrs. Frank O'Kelley and Mrs. Lois Rozzell. Mrs. Chester Johnson was high scorer and Mrs. Mills was low.

CARD OF THANKS

Many thanks to all my friends in Rockport for your thoughtfulness during my recent stay in the hospital. The many cards and prayers I received were deeply appreciated. A special thanks to all my fifth grade catechism class who wrote such letters. Again, thank you.

Tropical Trail

AUSTIN—A 113-mile strip of sand off south Texas coast has no busy highways, no tall buildings and no oil derricks. Yet it may be the richest parcel of real estate on the Southwest.

Legendary tales of fabulous hidden treasure on Padre Island are as old as the island itself. Rare coins and other objects are still found occasionally by dedicated beachcombers.

But the lure of hidden wealth is not the only attraction of this Texas beachhead. A sun that never seems to set and the relentless pounding surf from the Gulf of Mexico bring thousands of visitors to Padre Island National Seashore and its northern gateway city, Corpus Christi.

It is natural that Padre Island, sunny south Texas and the Lower Rio Grande Valley be represented on Texas' Travel Trails system.

The estimated 509-mile semi-tropical trek is the shortest of the 10 Trails.

Counties through which it passes include Aransas, Brooks, Cameron, Hidalgo, Kennedy, Kleberg, Nueces, Refugio, San Patricio, Starr, Webb, Willacy and Zapata.

Padre's lost treasure stories grow from the fact that many Spanish galleons were sunk off the coast by fierce Gulf hurricanes and storms. Pirate Jean Lafitte also supposedly buried part of his loot somewhere on the island.

Most of the island remains undeveloped—and some of it unexplored. It is accessible via the John F. Kennedy Causeway at Corpus Christi, ferry from Port Aransas and Queen Isabella Causeway at Port Isabel. All are now toll-free.

Corpus Christi was a favorite vacation spot long before the designation of Padre Island as a national seashore. Its mild climate, fine beaches, deep-sea fishing, hotel and motel facilities and recreational centers keep visitors coming back year after year.

Kingsville is the first major stop on the Tropical Trail as it leads the traveler south toward the Lower Rio Grande Valley. This is headquarters for the King Ranch where the Santa Gertrudis, only breed of cattle developed in the United States, had its genesis. The ranch entrance is west of the city limits on State Highway 141. Texas A&I College is located in Kingsville, the only state-supported senior college in the area.

U.S. 77 guides Tropical Trail visitors into the Valley through Raymondville, Sebastian, Harlingen, and finally Los Fresnos and Port Isabel via State Route 100. The Port Isabel lighthouse is now preserved as a state park. It was built in 1853 and served as a beacon for mariners until 1905.

Farm Road 1792 takes the traveler from Port Isabel into Brownsville, the southernmost incorporated city in the United States. Fishing, hunting, swimming, boating, dancing, golfing, fiestas and night clubbing here and in old Mexico provide visitors a wide range of entertainment. Brownsville's most famous celebrations are the February Charro Days and the Mr. Amigo fiesta in October. Both blend parades, costume balls and carnivals into a festival of color. Harlingen and Brownsville have become favorite retirement sites for those who wish to escape the cold winters.

The valley trail continues out of Brownsville on U.S. 91 and heads for McAllen, another palm-dotted city that enjoys the distinction of being a year-round summer playground.

McAllen's economy is based upon the visitor industry, citrus and garden vegetables, oil and gas. Its border counterpart is Reynosa, Mexico, about six miles to the south. Nearby also in Santa Ana National Wildlife Refuge, located 14 miles southeast of McAllen. This 2,000-acre preserve was established in 1943 and is home for many species of bird-life found nowhere else in the United States.

Nearby sprawls Falcon Dam and Reservoir, one of the state's largest with 78,000 surface acres of water. Farm Road 2098 leads to the state recreation park featuring camping, fishing and boating.

Next stop is Laredo, founded in 1755 and the leading port of entry on the entire U.S.-Mexican border. Laredo abounds in attractions like the International Bridge, connecting with Nuevo Laredo; historic San Augustine Church, built in 1767; and Fort McIntosh, established in 1848 and now used by the Laredo Junior College and the Texas border patrol. Laredo's Washington's Birthday celebration has achieved national recognition as one of the state's outstanding festivals.

At Sinton, travelers can visit the Welder Wildlife Refuge. Robert Welder willed these 7,800 acres of virtually untouched grazing land for the preservation of game animals and birdlife. Now a lead-student research center, the preserve contains 1,300 different forms of plant life, 140 different species of grass, 55 different mammals and over 400 species of birds. The refuge is located eight miles northeast of Sinton on U.S. 77.

At the valley's Aransas National Wildlife Refuge the famed whooping cranes winter after leaving their Canadian breeding grounds. Visitors are welcome to tour the preserve.

The trail continues down State Highway 35 to Aransas Pass, going through Rockport—a coastal fishing spot and nationally-noted mecca for bird watchers. Over 400 species of birds have been recorded at Rockport. From Port Aransas, the trail proceeds along Mustang Island via two new additions to the state highway system which are park roads.

Woman's Club Tourist Party

The second tourist party of the season sponsored by the Woman's Club of Aransas County and was held Monday at the Woman's Club building.

There were 11 tables of bridge and five tables of canasta. Bridge winners were: first, Mrs. Bill Campbell of Pampa, Texas; second, Mrs. Willard Young, Rockport. Canasta winners were Mrs. Hugh Stump, Washoo, Neb., first place, and Mrs. Chris Kofod of Fulton, second. The finale prize went to Mrs. Glen Johnson of Coon Rapids, Iowa.

Hostesses were Mrs. R. E. House, Mrs. Max Gardner and Mrs. Alex Scott. Presiding over the coffee service was Mrs. C. M. Kile of Dallas. These parties are held every Monday in the Woman's Club building at 2 p.m.

Girl Scout News

Girl Scout troop 469 met Nov. 4 to work on the community safety badge. Fish patrol had the opening ceremony. Each patrol was assigned a separate part of the badge work. After the patrols discussed the parts assigned to them, they regrouped and discussed the parts together. Cindy Schendel, scribe.

Eco-Talk

By EDDIE BRADLEY

I noticed in the Corpus paper the other day that the mayor's growth - planning committee had reiterated several items of old business they say will help Corpus Christi to grow. Among these items were: a new convention center, another dam, and (get this) a high bridge to Padre Island. All of the suggestions are aimed at bringing more people into Corpus.

The main idea in the mind of these city planners, and I dare say, of most city planners anywhere, is that a city must get physically bigger and have more and more people or it isn't flourishing. The general populace usually accepts these ideas without much question. Well I, for one, have a couple of questions.

First, does a town or city really need to get physically larger? Does this actually serve a good purpose? I would have to answer these questions, yes, up to a point. There are many more facilities and opportunities available to individuals in a larger city than in a smaller one. Hospitals, theatres, sports and entertainment facilities, clubs and civic organizations are all and environmental problems—more readily available to citizens of larger cities and surrounding small towns. However, just as there comes a time when the human body stops growing physically, the corporeal growth of our cities must also be retarded. Our genetic makeup prevents us from all becoming jolly green giants, but what will prevent our country from becoming a wall-to-wall New York City?

This brings me to another question. Why, when we speak in terms of cities or anything else, does the word "growth" always seem to represent more, rather than better? More people, not a better way of dealing with the ones we have. More garbage, not a better disposal system. More roads, not a better method of transportation. The whole idea seems to be, "We're stuck with what we have, so let's have more of it!"

Personally, I don't think a town or city should seriously consider any effort to encourage increased population until it is able to adequately plan for the impact of this increase on the individuals within its jurisdiction, and upon the environment of the area. Any growth-planning committee should include persons knowledgeable in ecological and environmental problems—
