Another Record Oil Allowable Ordered

By MAC ROY RASOR

AUSTIN, Sept. 19 (AP)—A record-smashing oil allowable of 3,268,813 barrels daily in October was ordered today by the Texas Railroad Commission.

This was up 4,344 barrels daily over the current peak allowable.

The record increase in permissive production was brought about by allowing general statewide production on 23 days of the 31-day month, and giving East Texas 18 producing days.

Currently, there are 22 days general statewide producing days for the 30-day month, with the big East Texas Field on 19 days.

Major purchasers of Texas crude voiced an October need ranging from 20 to 23 days at today's statewide proration hearing preceding the commission action.

Sinclair, Sun and Gulf Oil Companies all asked the highest figure. Magnolia, Stanolind and Humble wanted 22, but Humble added that it could use 23.

Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson told the hearing the commission did not want to be accused of creating a shortage with winter need for heating oils coming up. He also noted decreases in above ground stocks in recent weeks.

The big East Texas pool was cut back to 18 days after the weighted average bottomhole pressure dropped 2.84 pounds per square inch from Aug. 1 to Sept. 1. The September reading was 1,015.83 pounds.

H. P. Nichols, Tyler, told the commission the East Texas situation was not alarming but could become serious. He asked the cut to 18 days which he said represented a daily reduction of about 13,000 barrels.

Under the October order, Pantex and Hawkins fields will be on 16 days, 14 West Texas fields connected to the Phillips Goldsmith Gasoline Plant will be on 17 days, Picton Field will have 6 days and Ft. Chadbourne will remain shut down.

The next statewide oil hearing was set for Oct. 17 in Austin.

Large Quota Mexican Cows

MEXICO CITY, Sept 19 (AP)—A unexpectedly large quota of Mexican cattle — 200,000 head—can be exported to the U. S. during the balance of this year.

This quota announcement made yesterday by Mexico's agriculture department was the first since the foot and mouth quarantine was lifted Sept. 1. An outbreak of the disease closed the border six years ago.

Observers considered the quota expectedly large because Mexico's normal export of cattle to the U. S. prices might attract so many cattle that Mexico would be left only 400,000 to 500,000 annually.

Now about half of that may be sent in just the remaining quarter of this year.

The government press bureau, in releasing the quota announcement, gave no details of how many cattle each of Mexico's northern states may export.

Large-scale movement of cattle will be held up about 10 days while the Ministry of National Economy checks export applications from shippers.

Mexico's main concern in supervising exports was that high U. S. prices might attract so many cattle that Mexico would be left short.

But the government said yesterday it "will take steps to insure that the meat shall not become scarce in Mexico, that the price hall not rise, and that priority shall be given to fresh or canned meat" rather than live cattle.

During the quarantine 18 Mexican packing plants were built but they've had trouble selling their products abroad.

'$10 Million' Stolen, Prober Of Grain Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. George D. Aiken (R-VT) said today a Senate probe of shortages in government grains and farm products shows "about 10 million dollars that was stolen."

At the same time Chairman Allen Ellender (D-La) said in New Orleans that the Senate Agriculture Committee will meet here Tuesday to consider a report on an investigation of the shortages, conducted earlier this year.

"It's a pretty good report and the public is entitled to see it," Aiken said. "I would not change more than a dozen words in it and that would be only for clarification."

Aiken, who previously had complained of not being able to get a look at the report, said he received a copy this week marked "confidential" with a request by Chairman Ellender that the document not be made public or even shown to senators' office assistants.

Aiken said most of the losses were in government grain accumulated under farm price support program and stored by Agriculture Department agencies with private warehouse and elevator operators.

During the public hearings when grain shortages were estimated at about seven million dollars, Secretary of Agriculture Brannan testified that this was not the fault of his subordinates but of private warehouse and elevator operators.

He said the losses were relatively small in a program that involved some 10 billion dollars worth of farm commodities. He predicted recoveries would cut the net or actual loss to less than a million dollars.

Ellender said a review of the report would reflect "quite a bit was handled." He added:

"The rascality took place with those whom the CCC (commodity Credit Corporation) had dealt with. . . . "The private warehouse operators embezzled the grain and bulled the market hoping to sell it at top prices and then make restitution.

"The plan misfired and the warehouse operators were unable to make the grain good."

Drought Hangs On Over State

(By The Associated Press)

Texas' long drought hung on for most of the state Friday even as the storied hill country of Southwest Texas shook off its second siege of floods in little more than a week.

Thundershowers that raided widespread Texas communities like roaming commandoes did little more than cool the local atmosphere. They were—for the most part—not enough to even dent the two-year-old drought.

But they swept eastern, central and Southwestern portions of the state with quick, stingy rainfall. The flood waters closed U. S. Highway 281 north of Johnson City Wednesday night and also stopped traffic on State Highway 16 between Fredricksburg and Llano.

Juvenile Cases Bring Closure Of Pool Hall Just Off Square

A Snyder pool hall was padlocked yesterday afternoon after a temporary restraining order against the hall and its owner was issued by Ben Thorpe, district judge.

The order was issued commanding Buford Kennedy, owner of a pool hall in the basement of a building at 2500 Avenue R, to close his business until Sept. 27, when a Hearing will be held on the order.

Thorpe ordered the recreation club closed after Bob Davie, district attorney, presented him with a petition in behalf of the state asking that Kennedy be ordered to close the hall temporarily. The petition alledged that Kennedy "unlawfully operate and maintains a room in the basement of such building where he keeps and exhibits for hire pool tables on which to play with balls and cues a game called pool."

Davie further alledged in the petition that the premises constitutes a rendezvous for juveniles to plan car thefts and burglaries. The district attorney said he filed the petition at the request of the youth development council in connection with the recent arrest of 10 juveniles who were charged with several breakins, thefts, and robberies.

Sheriff's deputies said they served the order yesterday afternoon.

Investigation Of Starr County Fraud Charges

Lucas Was Defense Council In Case Taken From Caudle

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19 (AP)—T. Lamar Caudle testified today that Elmo N. Slack, a central figure in controversy over a St. Louis grand jury's investigation of tax scandals, was once sent to Nashville to get some tax indictments dismissed.

He said Slack also made a trip to Milwaukee on a big tax case in which ex-senator Scott Lucas of Illinois was the defense attorney. Lucas had taken up with then Attorney General J. Howard McGrath the question of getting a dismissal of an indictment against a client; Caudle said.

Caudle, fired by President Truman last November as an assistant attorney general, was in the witness chair for the second day before a House judiciary subcommittee investigatnig the Justice Department.

Among other things, the House group has been digging into the question of whether there was an effort by the Justice Department to block tax indictments last year by a St. Louis Grand Jury. It has developed that U. S. District Judge George Moore believed Slack was instrumental in getting the grand jury to make a partial report which one juror called a "whitewash."

Moore insisted on further investigation and a number of indictments eventually were returned.

Caudle told about Slack's visits to Nashville and Milwaukee after first saying there had been "too many runaway grand juries"—meaning juries which went further with indictments than the Justice Department considered proper.

The 48-year-old North Carolinian, who was summarily fired by President Truman last November for "outside activities," had a return engagement before a House judiciary subcommittee that has been investigating the Justice Department.

Highspots of Caudle's almost six hours of testimony yesterday included:

1. That groups of conscientious objectors to military service used a White House aide to obtain conferences with him which "caused me a lot of trouble."

2. That he was subjected to "a lot of pressure" over a tax evasion case involving prominent citizens of Mobile, Ala. and, eventually, the case was taken out of his hands.

3. That the Kansas City vote fraud case of 1946 was taken from his responsibility when he was chief of the criminal division.

4. That he was one of the officials who recommended against an all out FBI investigation of the Missouri vote fraud scandal before thieves blasted open a Courthouse safe and stole ballot boxes and other evidence impounded by a grand jury; and

5. That he felt it necessary to cut down on accepting invitations to capital cocktail parties because invariably they led to "influential" hosts attempting to color his decisions on official business.

Hung Jury In District Court

A mistrial was declared in district court yesterday afternoon when a jury of 12 men failed to agree on a verdict in the case of Richard H. Cline vs. Employers Liability Assurance Corp., a suit to set aside a compromise agreement.

The suit resulted from a compromise agreement between the parties in May, 1950, by which Cline was paid $150 for compensation because of an injury suffered in oil field employment.

Cline claimed he could neither read nor write and did not understand the agreement when he signed it. He also alleged fraud on the plaintiff's part at the time of its signing. He was represented in yesterday's suit by J. Ray Martin, Snyder attorney. The defendant corporation was represented by Wayland G. Holt, Snyder attorney, who said the jury disagreed 11 to one in favor of his client. Another trial is to be held in the case at a future date.

High Yesterday Was 96

The temperature reading this morning at 7:30 o'clock was 61 degrees, according to Mrs. D. P. Strayhorn, Snyder official weather observers. Yesterday's maximum temperature was 96 and the minimum last night was 61 degrees, Mrs. Strayhorn said.

Priest Going To Check On Airman's Story

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 19 (AP)—Father Angelo Elorz of San Antonio will conduct an investigation in Rome, Italy, concerning criminal charges filed by Italy against an alleged Sicilian bandit.

The accused man is Pasquale Sciortino, 28, jailed airman from Lackland Air Force Base. He won a 90-day stay on a final deportation hearing after a preliminary hearing Wednesday.

Sciortino told a story of being forced to marry a Sicilian bandit chieftain's sister, beatings and torture at the hands of Communist police in Italy, and his escape to the United States.

In the same hearing, the Italian charged local immigration officers held him incommunicado and denied him sacraments of the Catholic Church after he smuggled a newspaper interview out of the Bexar County jail.

Wanted in Italy for a variety of crimes he says are trumped up charges, he is being held here for illegally entering the United States. His charges against the Immigration officers yesterday brought a denial from another Catholic priest.

The Rev. Peter Cabeller said Sciortino was asked to postpone his confesion because of a mixup in his marriages. The priest added that he has visited Sciortino in the jail each Friday.

Sciortino told Fr. Elorz yesterday that he fled Italy because he ran into trouble while taking part in a movement to gain independence for Sicily from Italy.

Old Baldy Scene Renewed Battle On Korean Front Line

SEOUL, Korea, (AP) — Tank-supported U. N. soldiers fought grimly today to break a new Chinese Communist foothold on Old Baldy in one of four bloody flareups along the Korean battlefront.

The U. S. Eighth Army said a battalion of screaming Reds — about 800 men — stormed the crest of Old Baldy last night, signaling a long expected Communist attempt to recapture the Western Front hill.

"Nobody can claim all of Baldy," a frontline U. N. officer said after Allied and Chinese troops grappled through the night and morning. The crest, he said, was a "scene of confusion."

U. N. tanks hugging the south slope raked the crest with shells as Allied soldiers inched up the east and west slopes against withering fire from Red big guns. The remnants of the attacking battalion clung to the north face. Allied planes hit at the surrounding area to keep back Red reinforcements.

The hill west of Charwon changed hands four times in July and was captured Aug. 1 by the U. S. Second Division.

To the west, northwest of Yonchon, two Chinese companies "attacked from all sides" and overran an Allied outpost hill, the Eighth Army said.

U. N. soldiers called in air-bursting artillery over their own positions when the Chinese charged atop their bunkerfront.

At the same time as their assault on Old Baldy, the Communists staged a diversionary attack on Pork Chop Ridge, a few thousand yards to the west. Allied troops hurled the Reds back after four hours of bitter fighting. Red artillery and mortar fire raked both hills west of Chorwon.

On the Central Front, the Reds made two fierce but futile attempts to recapture South Korean positions on Finger Ridge. During the night, two Chinese companies were driven off after launching a 90-minute hand grenade and small arms assault. Later, two Red platoons fought for four hours but failed to scale the ridge seized early Thursday by the South Koreans.

More than 100 fighter bombers Thursday struck at Chinese troop and supply targets in the Finger Ridge-Capitol Hill area.

Twelve B29 Superforts from Okinawa and Japan bombed the 82-acre Hulliak supply center at Sunan, about 12 miles north of Pyongyang, capital of North Korea.

Melba Doris Basham, 21 (above) of Burleson, Tex., is held in Fort Worth, charged with cattle theft along with her brother and another couple. Melba was termed ringleader on the strength of a written statement given by her brother, Joseph Virgil Basham. She denied her brother's statement.

Polio Cases In State Decrease But Move North

(By The Associated Press)

Polio — still on the downward trend in Texas — spread northward within the state last week as the disease marched toward a record year over the nation.

Already, more than 3,400 Texans — a record number — have been stricken with the mysterious malady this year. Last week it struck down 151 new victims.

Across the nation, the toll is expected to reach 50,000 for the year, a new record.

Though the incidence is still high, it does not approach the midsummer peak of 284 cases in a seven-day period and compares favorably with the 195 cases of two weeks ago.

The State Health Department said Thursday that Potter County entered the highest peak of any county last week with 18 cases. That left hard-hit Harris County in second place with 15 new cases.

Six Texas counties had their first incidence of the year. Jack County with three cases; Camp, two; Hemphill, Schleicher, Sterling and Wheeler, one each.

Other reporting counties were Dallas and Tarrant, 11 each; Tom Green, 7; El Paso, 6; Swisher, 5; Ector, 4; Anderson, Hale, Lubbock, McLennan and Victoria, 3 each; Bexar, Comal, Dallam, Dawson, Galveston, Gregg, Hidalgo, Hockley, Midland, Montague, Van Zandt, and Wilbarger, 2 each.

These counties had one each: Brazoria, Cooke, Floyd, Freestone, Grayson, Grimes, Jefferson, Jim Wells, Jones, Kanres, Kaufman, Kleberg, Lampasas, Limestone, McCulloch, Moore, Motley, Nolan Nueces, Panola, Robertson, San Patricio, Smith, Taylor, Travis, Upshur and Young.

Price Daniel Promises To Co - operate

AUSTIN, Sept. 19 (AP)—Atty. Gen Price Daniel today promised his office would "co-operate fully" in investigation of alleged Starr County election frauds.

Two Starr County citizens yesterday asked him to investigate the July 26 Democratic primary in the South Texas county.

Daniel today advised District Attorney Homer Dean of Alice that his office would co-operate as required by the new Texas Election code.

Daniel assigned Assistant Atty. Gen. Willis Gresham to the case. Gresham said: "most of the evidence has already been developed in local election contests and the first action I will take will be to study the record."

An affidavit filed yesterday with Daniel alleged frauds within the county involving races for District judge and district attorney of the 79th Judicial District and for state representatives of the 70th District comprising Starr, Brooks, Jim Wells, Duval, and Jim Hogg counties.

Gresham said Dean had advised him a grand jury would be in session in Starr County beginning Monday.

Texas election law requires the attorney general to probe any allegation of fraud in a district or state election when requested by two or more reputable citizens.

Austin Attorney Gerald K. Weatherly filed the petition signed by Herman R. Garza and Ernesto Mendoza, identified in the document only as "reputable citizens of Starr County."

Among other things, the petition for investigation claimed:

1. That poll tax receipts were issued to fictitious persons or persons known to be dead and their names entered on absentee voting lists. One of the persons—Bacilio Garza Herrera—had been dead eight years.

2. Ballot boxes and stub boxes were opened and examined and votes were thrown out illegally.

3. Legal absentee ballots were not counted.

4. Qualified voters were barred from voting.

Italians Closed Baptist Church

ROME, Sept. 19 (AP)—The Baptists announced today that one of their churches in Catholic Italy was closed by police a month ago, before the September crackdown on the American-led Protestant Church of Christ.

Both the Baptist and Church of Christ are appealing the closures, ordered by the ministry of interior under a law dating back to Italy's Fascist era, which requires a church to have government recognition.

Cline R. Paden of Brownfield, Tex., head of the Church of Christ in Italy, today called upon U. S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker and asked his intercession in the interests of freedom of religion. An embassy spokesman said Bunker had assured Paden: "The matter has been taken up and will continue to be discussed with Italian authorities."

Navy Sees Robot Bomber As $300 Answer To Its Problems

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy today sees in its "pilotless suicide planes" a possible $300 answer to low-level bombing, a special problem that has been costly in lives in Korea.

That $300 is the approximate cost given by a Navy representative for converting a $60,000 obsolete plane—of which the Navy has thousands in mothballs—into a needed weapon in the mountainous terrain of Korea.

This, several Navy representatives said in interview, is the reason for Navy enthusiasm over the latest news in air warfare—Navy robot planes, equipped with television eyes and a 2,000 pound bomb, which dived onto North Korean targets.

But the Navy was cautious about making any claims. Rear Adm. John H. Sides, director of guided missiles, cautioned against talk about "the push-button age in warfare" being here.

And the Air Force said in reply to a query that expendable "warweary" B17s and B24s, loaded with 18,500 pounds of high explosives, were used as pilotless guided missiles on five combat missions during World War II.

Navy representatives explained that the type of fighting in the mountains of Korea means that planes have to fly low to find and strike enemy targets in the valleys. That brings the planes within close range of enemy anti-aircraft fire—and the Navy admits this has been effective.

Navy spokesmen now describe the converted Grumman Hellcat fighter, such as was catapulted Sept. 1 from the aircraft carrier Boxer, as so efficient that it can be directed into a railway tunnel. They said this was done with one of the pilotless craft.

The Hellcat used in the first combat test lambasted a target 150 miles from the carrier. But Navy representatives said its television-guided robots would have a range of about 900 miles—and need not be within sight of a remote control "mother" plane.

Rear Adm. Apollo Soucek said targets for that and subsequent robot strikes were picked from a normally assigned list. Soucek would not discuss specific targets but on Sept. 1, the day of the first attack, carrier-launched craft hit deep in Northeastern Korea — at Musan on the Manchurian border and Aoji on the Soviet Siberian border.

Soucek said one robot target was a hydroelectric plant and another was a bridge. If either was at Aoji, the explosive crash was within sight and sound of guards on the Soviet Siberian border.

At Pearl Harbor, the commander of the carrier task force which launched the first robot attack on North Korea hinted the explosion might have been seen in Soviet Russian territory.

Navy officials, meanwhile, were investigating the use of classified information in some dispatches about the initial robot strike in Korea. They said that, so far as they could determine, only one dispatch was submitted for censorship clearance either in Tokyo or Washington.

This was the eye-witness account by Associated Press Photographer Fred Waters, dated Sept. 1 aboard the carrier Boxer. Waters' story with deletions, was cleared by the Pentagon Wednesday night. The deletions were restored after the Navy reported another news story containing details censored out of Waters' account, was in circulation.

Joseph H. Short

White House Secretary Dies

WASHINGTON (AP)—White House Press Secretary Joseph H. Short, 48, died suddenly last night at his home in nearby Alexandria, Va.

No immediate cause of death was given. Mrs. Short, the former Beth Campbell, said she heard him fall upstairs, ran up and found his heart had stopped.

Short, a native of Vicksburg, Miss., had been President Truman's press secretary since Dec. 18, 1950. A newsman since 1925, he succeeded Charles G. Ross, who had collapsed and died at his desk.

The White House said Short became ill last Tuesday night and was hospitalized with a virus infection. He returned home Monday to recuperate.

"Joe Short's death," President Truman said in a statement, "is as shocking to me as if he had been a member of my own family.

"For he was more than a trusted and valued assistant. I know how unsparing of his health he was in his service to me and to his country. . . ."

Short, a graduate of Virginia Military Institute, began his newspaper career in 1925 as a reporter for the Jackson (Miss.) Daily News. He returned to that paper in 1927 after a year on the Vicksburg Post and Herald.

In 1928-29 he worked for the New Orleans Times-Picayune, leaving to join The Associated Press at Richmond, Va. During 1931-41 he served in The AP's Washington bureau, then shifted to the Chicago Sun's Washington staff, moving two years later to the Baltimore Sun.

Short was president of the National Press Club in 1948.

Survivors include Mrs. Short and three children.

Issue Warning To Drivers Who Are Under Age

Parents of youthful drivers were warned today by highway patrolmen that their youngsters must have drivers licenses if they are to operate motor vehicles on the streets and highways here.

All state driving laws apply to motor scooters and motorcycles as to automobiles, E. W. Green and Bill Zimmerman ,highway patrolmen for this district, said.

In Texas driving laws ban operation of any motor vehicles by children under the age of 14 years old.

In special cases where "cause why drivers licenses are needed" can be shown, children from 14 to 16 years of age may receive driver's licenses after they have passed the written and driving tests, Green said.

"However, written permission of the parents and of the county judge is required before persons in that age group can get licenses," Green added.

Written permission of the county judge and the parents is not required for driver's license for persons over 16 years old, Green said.

Theft Charges Prepared Here

Police arrested a man today and are preparing to file a charge of theft over $50 against him in connection with the theft of a man's wrist watch from the owner's arm while the pair were having coffee in a local drug store.

The 29-year-old man arrested is being held in city jail pending filing of the charge and arraignment in justice court later today.

Toy Gideon, police investigator, said the arrest was made outside the drug store at Twenty - sixth Street and Avenue S, and the watch was on the accused man's person.

This is the story told about the theft.

The owner of the watch was having coffee early this morning in the drug store when he was joined in the booth by the accused man.

After leaving the drug store the two men separated, and soon after the owner of the watch discovered that his wrist watch was missing from his wrist.

The complaint was signed by Toy Gideon, city policeman.

TALK OF THE TOWN

By SUE HOLMES

There's a new game circulating among members of the younger set. This game called "Come Over" is said to approach in popularity the "Knock - Knock" game of the mid-thirties. Vivian Brown, who writes a column for teens, says the game is played like this:

If the Pilgrims came over on the Mayflower, how did the midgets come over?

Answer:: On Shrimp boats.

Similarly, the doctors came over on blood vessels, the students on scholarships, the magicians (some say the teachers (on witchcrafts, the Olympic Games winners on championships.

The game would seem to test your knowledge of sailing craft. Here are some more starters:

Bartenders came over on schooners.

Southerners came over on Y'awls.

Fishermen came over on Shells.

Dopes came over on Junks.

Politicians came over on gravy boats.

Ballplayers came over on ketches.

Mothers-in-law came over on relationships.

Quakers came over on Friendships.

The game is conducted like a spelling bee, with the last man standing winning the prize. For more active enthusiasts, the game could be acted out with questions such as this: How did baby talkers get over? The answer, which is "canoe" — pronouced can-oo, of course, — can be illustrated with a paddling motion.

Mrs. Sanders Hostess For Cher Amies Club

For a breakfast on mornings when we're not so rushed, I found this method of preparing muffins from mix which would do for company. You add ½ cup nuts to the batter prepared from a package of muffin mix, then bake in tiny muffin pans. While they're piping hot, roll the muffins first in melted butter and then in cinnamon sugar. Seasoned Noodles are a good accompaniment to chops, frankfurters and sausages. Cook the noodles about 4 minutes, then drain and rinse. Add the noodles to ¼ cup melted fat. Bacon drippings would be fine. Add 1-4 cup of shredded American cheese, and season with salt and pepper. Heat thoroughly.

SOMERVILLE, Tex. (AP)—Somebody in Somerville saw a man parachute from a jet trainer plane near the town.

The resident called the telephone operator. She called Dr. G. V. Pazdral. He called the ambulance operator. They sighted the parachuting man in the sky and started out.

So when airman cadet Sigurd Jordan, 22, of New Alvin, Iowa, reached ground, Dr. Pazdral and the ambulance were waiting right there.

The cadet suffered multiple fractures of the left arm. The incident occurred Wednesday.

"It fractures me. It's the most marvelous thing that ever happened to me," said Lanza when told the MGM musical has been selected for the royal honor.

But Lanza added that his wife Betty is expecting a baby in December and therefore he may be unable to attend the London performance.

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind. (AP) — A baby girl was born Thursday to Mrs. James Lyons in the same hospital where her first baby—a son—disappeared last Oct. 13.

The baby is being kept in the same room with Mrs. Lyons instead of the St. Anthony Hospital nursery from which her infant son, Lawrence, vanished nearly a year ago. A nation-wide search revealed no trace of the boy.

Civilian Prisioners Are Injured In Fight

PUSAN, Korea (AP) — The Allied prisoner of war command today said 23 Communist civilian prisoners were injured, two seriously, when U. S. military police broke up a demonstration Wednesday at Pongam in South Korea.

The prisoners included some former inmates of the rebellious Compound 62 on Koje Island.

Already Has Many Tickets, Gets More

CHICAGO (AP)—Policeman Walter Philbin stopped Anthony Korchynski, 48, for driving on the wrong side of the street yesterday and proceeded to write out a ticket for traffic violation.

When Korchynski couldn't find his driver's license, Philbin suggested it might be in the rear trunk of his car. They couldn't find it but they did find 39 traffic tickets.

"Those are just some parking tickets", Korchynski said. "I'll get around to paying them one of these days."

Philbin gave him three more tickets—driving in wrong lane, no driver's license and no safety sticker.

Byrnes Stirs Up Storm In Some Circles

ATLANTA (AP) — Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina drew sharp criticism from many Southern Democrats by his decision to vote for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for president.

The 73-year-old Byrnes, a former secretary of state and associate justice of the Supreme Court, bolted the party he has supported for a lifetime yesterday with the assertion:

"I shall place loyalty to my country above loyalty to a political party."

Perhaps the strongest rebuke came from Byrnes' own state. At Columbia, S. C., state Democratic campaign headquarters declared the governor "has turned his back on and deserted" South Carolina Democrats.

"Democrats of South Carolina have gladly bestowed upon Gov. Byrnes many offices and honors, but they have not conferred upon him the right to dictate how they shall vote, and they never will."

Some leaders in both parties, however, praised the action and saw in it a great benefit for the GOP standard-bearer in the South.

Claude O. Vardaman, Alabama state Republican chairman, cheered Byrnes for "taking the high road."

John A. Pritchett, a Tennessee Republican leader, termed the Byrnes announcement "a certain indication that South Carolina will be found in the Eisenhower camp in November."

Gov. Robert Kennon of Louisiana, who has already bolted to Eisenhower, declared the announcement "means that South Carolina along with Texas and Louisiana, can be considered probable Eisenhower states."

Jonathan Daniels, editor of the Raleigh (N.C.) News and Observer, was sharply critical. Daniels, formerly press secretary and adviser to Presidents Roosevelt and Truman, asserted:

"There is no end to the bitterness of Jimmy Byrnes against Roosevelt, Truman and the party they served. If he couldn't be a Democratic president, he's ready to help make a Republican president."

A reluctant Stevenson supporter, Gov. Herman Talmadge of Georgia, said, "I expect to vote for the Stevenson slate of electors. But I must admit that because of the platform and Stevenson's constant swing to the left, I shall do so without undue enthusiasm."

Mike Haught Marks Birthday With Party

Mike Haught was honored with a fourth birthday party given by his mother, Mrs. K. L. Haught, 3234 Austin.

Ballons, bubble gum and suckers were favors. Cake and ice cream cones were served.

Marilyn Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Johnson, 707 Sixteenth Street, will report to Clovis, N.M., Monday to start work with Western Union. She has just completed a Western Union course in Oklahoma City.

SITTING PICTURES FOR SMALL BABIES

Wolfe Studio & Camera Shop, 1710 Twenty-fifth Street, now uses a specially made bench with a back support which enables the studio t sohoot portraits of small babies in a sitting position—giving a much wider varety of poses than is possible in most studios, Charlie Wolfe, owner, said. Mrs. Cecil H. Middleton, left above, is shown helping to strap her five-month-old daughter, Rhonda June Middleton, into the Seat. Mrs. Wolfe is at right.

Special Bench Enables Small Children To Pose For Pictures

Common belief is that a child has to be old enough to sit up good before a really good picture can be made. This old line of thinking is no longer true at Wolfe Studio & Camera Shop, 1710 Twenty-fifth Street.

With the addition of a remarkable new posing bench, babies which can barely hold their heads up are photographed with the ease of a year old child, Charlie Wolfe, owner, said.

Wolfe states that as far as they know theirs is the only studio in the country now using the new type bench, which was built to their specifications.

An ingenious strap and support enables the small baby to be placed in a sitting position and held comfortably there while the picture is being made. One of the first to use the new bench was three-months-old Debbie Rodgers. The resulting picture of Debbie will be on display in the studio's window all this week.

Mrs. Wolfe is very enthusiastic when talking about making childrens portraits.

She says, "I guess being the mother of two small children myself gives me an "in" with the kiddies. Many women tell harrowing tales of trying to get their child's picture made, only to fail, and then are pleasantly surprised when a sitting at Wolfe Studio turns out to be a completely tearless one."

The studio in the past several weeks has had several new dealerships for photographic equipment added. These include, Revere, Polaroid, Argus, and others.

"Right now a lot of people are planning their Christmas gifts around a movie outfit or fine still camera. A good percentage are buying on the lay-away plan or easy payment plan. A small deposit holds the equipment until Christmas." Wolfe said.

Boy's Search For Father Ends With Death Report

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Sgt. Kenneth E. Micken searched for his father for 10 years and found him a day late—dead in a traffic accident.

The father, 61-year-old Matthew Micken, had been a commercial fisherman in Tampa for 20 years. Sgt. Micken, stationed at MacDill Air Force Base here since February, said he was an ardent sports fisherman and probably had been near his father many times without realizing it.

Micken was killed Friday night. The son read about it the next morning in a newspaper, checked with authorities and found the dead man was the father who left his family in Superior, Wis., more than 25 years ago.

More War Casualties

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department today identified 87 Korean War casualties in a new list (No. 649) that reported 16 killed, 46 wounded, two missing and three injured.

Hold Negro In Murder, Rape

ELIZABETHTOWN, N. C. (AP) — Sheriff John B. Allen says a former Negro carnival worker has confessed to the rape and murder of a white woman.

The sheriff said the confession was made yesterday by Douglas Grission, a 25-year-old negro from Virginia, who was fired as a carnival laborer last Friday.

Murder and rape each carries the death penalty in this state.

Solicitor Malcolm Seawel said he would present bills of indictment to the Bladen County grand jury. The action was expected today.

Mrs. Thad White, 20, was found dead in a cornfield near her house Saturday. She was battered almost beyond recognition. The kitchen of the house was blood-spattered, as was an iron found on a table. Alongside her almost nude body was a bloody piece of timber.

Grisson has been kept at an undisclosed location since he was taken into custody.

The attack apparently took place Saturday morning while her husband was at work.

Koreans Bear Brunt Of Fight

NEAR CAPITOL HILL, Korea, Sept. 15 (AP)—South Korean infantrymen are bearing the brunt of Allied fighting for Capitol Hill but American artillerymen are backing them up with thunderous barrages around the clock.

And it's not a one-way proposition. Chinese Reds are countering with some of their heaviest biggun bombardments of the war.

Two sergeants recalled a narrow escape. James L. Spurlock, Port Arthur, Tex., and Louis R. Bates, Apison, Tenn., volunteered to take badly-needed small arms ammunition up to South Korean soldiers attacking on Capitol Hill. After delivering their cargo, the two sergeants started down the hill in the midst of an enemy artillery and mortar barrage. Their weapons carrier broke down. The heavy vehicle would not move.

"It couldn't have happened in a more inconvenient place," said Spurlock. "It was right in the middle of that holocaust."

The two soldiers spent the rest of the night dodging Chinese shells. An American half-track from their battery finally broke through and rescued the sergeants.

GOP Victory Would Mean 'Budget Cut'

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Republican victory, says Sen. Karl E. Mundt of South Dakota, would bring a 20-billion-dollar cut in the national budget based on economies in military and foreign aid spending as well as in the domestic field.

Mundt, co-chairman of the Republican Speakers Bureau, opposed his Democratic party counterpart, Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney of Oklahoma, in an NBC radio-television debate last night.

Speaking on "American Forum of the Air," Mundt cited statements by Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, GOP presidential nominee, that Republicans would cut 20 billions off the budget, now about 85 billions.

"We are going to do that," Mundt said," in the first place by reducing sharply our military expenditures through substituting efficiency for waste. . . .

"In the second place, by substituting for a policy of containment of communism abroad a positive, forward-moving program. . . designed to get our friends to help themselves rather than trying to put the burdens of 44 foreign countries on the taxpayers' shoulders in America. . . .

"We are going to do it on the domestic front by cutting corruption out of government."

Monroney said he doubted Eisenhower's "attitude on cutting down the military will correspond with Sen. Mundt's branch of the Republican party's ideas of what can be done.

History Made In Cincinnati

By RICHARD S. CHILDS
Chairman of the Council, National Municipal League

Cincinnati is the largest city with the Council-Manager form of municipal government (pop. 455,000). It has called itself "the best governed city in America" since it adopted the plan in 1926.

Before then it led all competitors for the title of worst governed city. Taxes were way out of proportion to the miserable service rendered. Debt was high and still rising. Nearly half of all taxes went for debt. Payrolls were loaded with incompetents.

The political boss ruled the city by long distance telephone from New York, where he ran a string of burlesque houses. The voters were so disgusted they refused to approve bond issues for needed improvements, even though the streets were full of holes and deterioration of the city's entire plant was obvious.

Expenses Cut, Services Improved

The new administration did not spend more money. In its first two years it saved more than $1,500,000 yet greatly increased and improved its services. Cincinnati has now become a yardstick for the economy of good government as against bad.

Col. C. O. Sherrill was the first manager. At the end of his first two years public accountants concluded he had saved the city enough money to pay his own salary of $25,000 for 73 years. Not that he had a $1,825,000 surplus, but he had given the service provided by the old political government at that saving. The money was used to provide better service, to reduce the debt and reduce the taxes.

During the years 1933-1938, a period of depression when most other cities were going heavily in to debt, the gross bonded debt of Cincinnati was reduced by more than $14,000,000, in spite of a disastrous flood which made heavy calls on the city's resources. In refunding operations in 1934, Cincinnati bonds were sold to yield an average of 2.55 percent, a record low for that period.

Electricity Bills Reduced

In 1934 Cincinnati obtained an electric rate settlement refunding more than $1,200,000 to consumers on bills already paid, and providing reductions amounting to nearly $9,000,000 from 1934 to 1938.

In ten years of politics Cincinnati built 54 miles of streets. In five years under a manager, 107 miles were built for the same amount of money.

Thomas H. Reed and Doris D. Reed, appraising Cincinnati's record under the manager plan for the consultant service of the National Municipal League, wrote in 1944:

"The council of 1924, with its 31 Republicans and one submissive Democrat, was only a rubber - stamp for the Hynicka machine. There are various opinions in Cincinnati concerning the present council but no one disputes its great superiority over that of 1924. It has refrained from interfering with the manager's job and has given him the backing essential to successful administration.

"In 1924 Cincinnati was a sick city. In 1944 it is a strong and healty city. It has solved the basic problem of a decent, honest and representative government."

Loraine Youth DrownsSunday

A Loraine High School junior, Delwin Scarborough drowned yesterday afternoon in Champion Creek about 20 miles south of Colorado City.

The 17-year-old boy drowned after a log to which he and six other Loraine boys were holding slipped away, and he became entanged in brush on the creek bottom. Two of his companions told investigating officers they made efforts to free the victim but were unable to do so.

The fire department from Colorado City accompanied by Sheriff Dick Gregory went to the creek on Bob Fee's ranch. Gregroy found the body in eight feet of water about five feet from the shore. Dr. Kenneth Cowan stated death was caused by drowning.

The body is at a Colorado City funeral home pending the arrival of his mother, Mrs. D. R. Van Cleve of Wichita Falls.

Drowned Man And Son Found

PALESTINE, Sept. 15 (AP)—The bodies of a young father and his 7-year-old son were recovered today from the waters of Lake Frankston where they had been fishing.

The two were drowned yesterday when a boat carrying five persons aboard overturned. It was believed to have been waterlogged by a passing motorboat. Three women were saved.

The victims are Cecil Allen Campbell, 26, of Palestine, a fireman for the Missouri-Pacific Railroad, and Anthony (Tony) Allen Campbell, 7, a second grade student.

Campbell's wife, an English war bride, clung to the boat and screamed for help. Rescuers saved her and two other women, Mrs. Agnes Scroggins, 52, Campbell's mother, of Palestine, and Mrs. Ethel Holoway, 52, of Marquez, a sister-in-law of Mrs. Scroggins.

New Dyes Make Fabrics More Water Repellent In Process

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Reporter

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — A laboratory "accident" has led to the development of new, double-duty dyes that make fabrics both water-repellent and colorful in one process, the American Chemical Society was told today.

Dr. Clyde C. DeWitt of Michigan State College said the accidental spilling of a chemical compound designed for quite another use had paved the way for making dyes that increase the water-repellency of wool by 60 times and of cotton by 12 times—without any change in the texture or composition of the materials.

He told the chemical society's 122nd national meeting that in methods commonly used today waterproofing is applied after the fabric is dyed, and that most have a shorter lasting waterproof effect than the new dyes.

DeWitt declared the dyes are not yet available for commercial use, but would probably have first application in awnings, tents and umbrellas. He said they should have application for treating clothing fabrics — with potentialities for increasing their durability — but he declared it may be necessary to modify the composition of present dry cleaning materials in order to clean fabrics colored by these dyes.

Explaining the "accidental" discovery, the chemical engineer told this story:

Five years ago, he and one of his graduate students were working on the refining of copper ore by a so-called "flotation" process in which particles of copper are caused to "float" on the top of a complex chemical mix.

They devised a compound that would produce an oily film around the copper particles and at the same time color them so they could be seen readily.

Some of the special compound spilled on the labratory floor. It was mopped up with a cloth, coloring it in spots. Later, when the same cloth was used to wipe up some water, it was found that the colored portions of the fabric resisted wetting.

DeWitt said the water-repellant qualities of the new compounds will remain in the material as long as the dye — an improvement, he said, over the most current waterproofing agents. He said the latter have to be re-applied each time the fabric is cleaned.

Wanger Out Of Jail, Joan Bennett In Town

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Film producer Walter Wanger is out of jail, his actress wife Joan Bennett is back in town and there is a hint of reconciliation in the air.

Miss Bennett arrived by plane from Portland, Ore., and went to her Holmby Hills residence yesterday, where she was met by Wanger.

A butler told a reporter yesterday: "They have left strict orders that they are not to be disturbed by callers or by telephone."

It was the first meeting of the couple since Wanger was sent to the county jail on his conviction of assault with a deadly weapon in the shooting of Miss Bennett's agent, Jennings Lang. Wanger was released Saturday.

Tigers Go Down To Northside In 39-0 Defeat Last Night

A determined and rough Northside eleven took size, speed, and luck, and combined them last night into a winning score of 39-0 over the Snyder Tigers, before a crowd of 2,500.

The winning score belonged to the 4A squad from the beginning as Kenneth Hogan, speedy back for the Fort Worth school took Tiger Jack Spikes' opening kickoff in Farrington Field and raced 60 yards down the right sideline for a touchdown.

Similar first minute scoring caused a loss for Snyder two years ago, when a Colorado City back took a kickoff in the first of the game and sped to paydirt.

Jack Webb, 200-pound fullback who gave the Tigers the most trouble during the game, kicked the extra point for the first score.

After Snyder recovered a Northside fumble on the Tiger 10 yard line a little later in the game, they drove through two first downs to their own 38, then punted on a fourth down. The play following the punt return took Quarterback Richard Finney on another swing around right end for a 67-yard run for touchdown. Point try failed, and score was 13-0.

THIRD TOUCHDOWN

Snyder's hard linebucking failed to net enough yards to do any good after the next kickoff, and Northside, squatting on the Tiger 41-yard line, handed the ball to Hogan again, who sailed the entire 41 yards for a third touchdown, this time slipping through the right side of Snyder's line. A kick by Back Pat McBee was good to more the score to 20-0 at the end of the first period.

Snyder's first nearness to scoring came as the second quarter opened. Driving from the 50, Dan Burns, Alan Snead, backs, alternated carrying the ball and blazed their way to the Northside 18. From there, Hagin swept around end headed for the end zone, but the hard tackle thrown into him caused him to fumble, and the Steers recovered on their own eight and galloped over for another score. His try for an extra point failed in the late second quarter.

The Tigers, returning the kickoff to their own 26, tried a pass from hands of Hagin, which was intercepted by Northside Center Donald Crew on the Tiger 30. Finney then flung a long pass to End Wayne Ryon, who was nailed on the Tiger eight after the pass and run had netted the Steers 22 yards. Webb again took over to score, and kicked a good point to make the halftime score 33-0.

THREAT TURNED

Northside threatened to score again early in the third stanza but they hit a brick wall in the Snyder line after they reached the Tiger six and lost the ball on downs. The Tigers also lost their offensive on downs after driving to their own 25 and being penalized back to their 10. From there, McBee tossed a shot pass to Back yard line from where they punted out.

A later fumble by Back Gerald Crawford was recovered by the Steers on the Snyder 27. Northside's huge Webb waited until they had earned their way to the 20 then he turned and twisted through the right side of the Tiger line Millard Runnals, who transported it over for the final score seven minutes deep in the third quarter. Webb's point try was bad.

Snyder recovered a Steer fumble on the Northside 20 deep in the fourth period, and Burns quickly drove to the eight yard line for a first down. The Tigers made their final threat then, in a pass from Hagin to End Ned Underwood, completed in the end zone, but it was called back on an offside ruling. After the Tigers finished one more play, which gained them nothing, the game ended.

Nine fumbles during the game kept the Tigers from holding their offense, which was going full blast several times during the game. The Tigers, proving they did not let their offense fall when Northside took the immediate lead, earned 11 first downs the hard way, while six of the Steers' 12 first downs were chalked up from their touchdowns.

GOOD AVERAGE

A larger percentage of passes were completed in the game than were in the Tigers' 21-0 win over Thomas Jefferson of El Paso last week. Of the 19 attempts made, nine were completed for a total gain of 94 yards. Hagins completed five for a total yardage of 38 yards, Joe Baxter, a freshman, had three for 26, and Burns tossed one 30-yard pass, completing to End Reagan White. White received two during the night, while Underwood, the chief receiver, gathered up six. Burns caught one.

Northside, which did not get a chance to pass much last week in its 13-0 loss to Weatherford, began to warm up on the pass attack during last night's game after they had a large score on the board. They completed six out of 14 tries for a total of 64 yards. Thirteen of the attempts and five of the completions came during the last half. All but one pass completed were tossed by McBee, whose total gain from passes was 42 yards, while Finney completed one for 22. Receivers were End Wayne Ryon on three, Runnells on two, and End Gruman Reaves on one.

Many times during the game, the Tiger line seemed unpenetrable. After the Tigers had seen Webb, the largest boy on the team, take the ball a few times, they could stop him before he reached the line of scrimmage. The Tiger line took Northside for 14 yards loss during the game.

Burns, who was leading ground gainer for the Tigers last week, also led this week with 51 yards, followed by Hagin with 25, Crawford with 22, and Jackie Grimmett with 17.

On the line, Centers Robert Hagin and Bill Boyd both showed outstanding defensive play while in the game, as did Guards Royce Pierce and Steven Blair.

At least four of the boys, Jackie and Norman Grimmett, Crawford, and Snead, suffered bad bruises during the tilt.

The Tigers will travel out of town [illegible] next Friday to meet Class 2A Levelland.

Leading Football Teams Will Tumble In Season Starters

NEW YORK (AP) — Southern California and Washington State, two West Coast powers with open Rose Bowl ambitions, collide in Los Angeles tonight to set off a burst of activity officially launching the college football season.

Before the week end is spent, four of the top 10 teams in The Associated Press' pre-season poll — Maryland, Georgia Tech, California and Texas Christian — will have tested their biceps against respected opposition.

Most of the topflight action is centered in the Pacific Coast, Southwest and Deep South areas, with the Los Angeles conflict an unusually strong lid-raiser.

Southern California's Trojans, with a 7-4 record last year that almost landed them in the Rose Bowl, return a veteran squad with a newly - adopted single wing attack built around tailbacks Jimmy Sears and Al Carmichael.

Coast observers admit they threaten to be a major factor in the race for conference honors, ranking perhaps with California and UCLA.

Washington State, with Al Kircher moving up to the head coaching job, is said to boast the best material since the Rose Bowl team of 20 years ago. The Cougar attack is built around an ace battery consisting of passer Bob Buchart and receiver Ed Barker.

Other football activity tonight is a bit on the light side with Alabama playing host to Mississippi Southern and Mississippi engaging Memphis State. Alabama and Ole Miss are heavily favored.

The boys get really serious tomorrow with nearly half a hundred games involving major teams from coast to coast.

The headliner is the intersectional battle between Texas Christian, a hot favorite for the Southwest championship rated ninth in the pre-season poll, and Kansas, a strong contender to upset Oklahoma's dynasty in the Missouri Valley.

The game at Lawrence, Kan. will be the first of the season to be televised on a national hookup under the NCAA restricted TV program. The battle will be beamed across the country by NBC, starting at 2 p.m. (EST).

Maryland, the Southern Conference sleuthlit which was suspended a year after accepting the Sugar Bowl bid, tries its No. 2 pre-season rating fighting Michigan State; ninist Missouri at Columbia, Georgia Tech, No. 7, is host to The Citadel. California, No. 8, entertains a strong West Coast independent, College of the Pacific.

Championship Play In WT-NM League Starts

(By The Associated Press)

Borger and Amarillo, a couple of clubs that are just now playing better than .500 ball, Friday night jump right into the series that decides which is champion of the West Texas-New Mexico League.

Both completed the season tied for third place on 70-70 records and it took the play-offs' first round for them to get ahead.

Borger Thursday night entered the finals after a six-game series with Albuquerque. Borger won the final one, 9-2.

Amarillo earlier had erased the straightaway champion Clovis nine in five games.

Tie In Texas League Playoff

(By The Associated Press)

The Oklahoma City Indians and Shreveport Sports, who can carry a bitter fight a long way, take their Texas League championship playoff to the Sooner State capitol Friday night all tied at one game each.

At Shreveport Thursday night, the issue went 14 innings before Oklahoma City won it, 8-4.

It was a frustrating loss for the Sports, who won the opener Tuesday, 8-4. They got 15 hits, like Oklahoma City, but also had 13 bases on balls and 22 stranded runners aboard.

Oklahoma City wrapped up the game as Al Gerheasure greeted the third Shreveport pitcher, Joe Budny, with a walk in the 14th. After a force-out and another pass, Indian second baseman Joe Damato doubled to break the four-all tie. A wild pitch and Danny Baich's two-run single continued to drive the score to 8-4.

Neither of the starting pitchers survived, Jim Willis of Shreveport nor Bill Greason for the Indians.

Coaches Afraid Press Is Going To Hear They Are Literate

ALBUQUERQUE (AP) — Picture if you will, a football game anytime after next January.

Before the game, the coach meets his rival, shakes hands warmly and exchanges pleasantries about the weather, the kids and the missus.

The whistle blows, and the coach sits demurely on the bench, his hands folded in repose.

Occasionally, he turns to one of the players on the bench and requests:

"Malinkowski be so good as to go in there and tell the right guard he just doesn't seem to be feeling up to snuff today and to come sit down for a while."

There's a fumble and the official awards the ball to the other club and adds a 20 yard penalty on the coach's team.

"Tsk, tsk," says the coach taking a few notes.

Coaches might have to act along those lines under a new code of ethics drawn up by seven of the nation's top football coaches.

Dudley DeGroot, head coach at the University of New Mexico, has released terms of the code which will be presented to the American football Coaches Association at it's January meeting. It is expected to be approved.

DeGroot is chairman of a committee appointed by the Board of Trustees of the AFCA to draw up a code governing coaches' conduct.

It calls for:

No crying towel statements to the press on how many players have been lost through injuries or scholastic shortcomings.

No participation in football polls, game of the week guessing contests or rating systems.

No squabbling in the public press with the school administration, the athletic council or the officials.

On the positive side, coaches would have to be courteous to the officials ,rival coaches and players on the bench.

If there are any gripes about the officiating, there's to be no public display or mention in the newspapers. A letter should be written to the group which assigned the official whose judgment is challenged.

The dressing room doors would be locked to the press for 15 minutes following each game to allow the coach time to cool off and to prevent the "we were robbed" comments which regularly crop up.

Any infraction of the code could ring suspension or expulsion from the coaches' association.

Hard Schedules For Top Teams In Last Days Of '52 Season

(By The Associated Press)

Two one-time door mats of the major leagues, each fortified by one of baseball's top hurlers, and two teams which definitely are not going anyplace in this year's flag race, will play an important role in the selection of world series opponents.

It wasn't so many years ago that the Phillies and Athletics were considered easy pickings but today they both are fighting for third place berths and a slice of the world series payoffs.

And one needs to go back only to last year when the Detroit Tigers, current doghouse tenant of the American League were far from a push-over. The Boston Braves, fourth of the quartet, can't do anything for themselves financially with sixth place the best possible finish but like the other three they are in the spot to cause trouble.

As the pennant contenders entered the lists today for the final tilts after a day of rest, the schedule for the remainder of the season calls for the potent Phillies to meet the pace-setting Brooklyn Dodgers three times and clash with the challenging New York Giants on six occasions. Three games separate the Brooks and Giants. Each has nine to play.

It is just the reverse for the Braves. They meet the Dodgers six times and the Giants three.

At the same time in the American League, the World Champion New York Yankees' chance for their fourth straight pennant depends largely on their ability to whip Jimmy Dykes' dangerous Athletics. They meet six times. The Yanks other three games are with the Red Sox, also hoping for a first division berth, at Boston.

The Cleveland Indians, trailing by 2½ games, tangle with the Tigers in a six-game set and meet the Chicago White Sox in the other two of their eight remaining games.

Today's lineup calls for the Phillies to play host under the lights to the Giants in the first of a three-game series at Shibe Park. It'll be Sal Maglie against young Curt Simmons.

Before the Shibe Park lights are turned on, the Brooks will know their fate against the Braves in the first of a three-setter at Boston. Manager Chuck Dressen has nominated Preacher Roe to oppose Max Surkont.

Although today's results naturally important, the most important role is expected to be played by Philadelphia's Robin Roberts, baseball's winningest pitcher with 25 victories. He figures to face the Dodgers at least once and the Giants twice. Against the Dodgers the Michigan State alumnus has a five for five record this season. But he hasn't been so fortunate against the Giants, who have beaten him three out of four and 11 out of 16 since he came up the big leagues in 1948.

The Yankees jinx could well be Bobby Shantz The Athletics' little southpaw has won 20 games but has a 3-3 split with the Yanks. He'll be on the mound against Vic Raschi when the lights are turned on at the Yankee Stadium tonight.

At Cleveland, also at night, the Indians will turn their pennant hopes over to Early Wynn, one of their 20-game winners with a 21 and 12 record. Against him will be the hard working Ted Gray, who has won 12 while dropping 13 this season.

Other games in the National League send the St. Louis Cards, battling to ward off the Phil's third place drive, against the Cubs at Chicago and the Cincinnati Reds against the Pirates at Pittsburgh in a night affair.

Boston will play the Senators a night game at Washington in the only other American League contest.

Junior High Loses First Try By 12-0

Snyder junior high gridders lost their first try on the field last night to Hamlin by a score of 12-0.

The Hamlin juniors employed the statue of liberty play in the second quarter and sent one of their halfbacks 20 yards for a touchdown. Their second score was made in the third quarter on a 60 yard run by another halfback.

Coach Gene Gibson said R. L. Snyder, a 125 - pound end for Snyder, played the best defensive ball, while Back Bud Blackwell was leading ground gainer.

The juniors will meet Big Spring here next Saturday night.

Tomorrow night, Coach Jack Dillon will take his B team on the field at 8 o'clock to meet the Abilene B squad.

Ira Plays Tonight

Coach Eddie Redwine's Ira footballers will play their first district game at 8 o'clock tonight when Robert Lee comes to the Ira field.

Hermleigh, a member of the same district, is idle tonight.

Tyler Beats Texas Lutheran

(By The Associated Press)

Tyler's mighty Apaches rolled over Texas Lutheran, 42-0, while Henderson County beat Paris, 25-7, in junior college football games in Texas Thursday night.

Tyler, powerhouse of the Big Six Conference, was smashing a senior college. The Apaches rolled up a 21-0 lead at halftime with the aid of a couple of pass interceptions and with a 78-yard drive sparked by Jimmy Dickey and Jim Weaver.

Nash Ambassador

"The Finest Shock-Proof Ride In the World Today!" says Tom McCahill

THIS IS THE VERDICT OF THE NATION'S LEADING IMPARTIAL MOTOR CAR EXPERT AS REPORTED IN MECHANIX ILLUSTRATED MAGAZINE, SEPTEMBER, 1952, ISSUE

NEVER has an automobile received a finer tribute than that accorded the Nash Ambassador by MECHANIX ILLUSTRATED Magazine's Tom McCahill, outstanding car expert.

Tom McCahill tests all makes of cars—200 different models in the past six years. He puts them through back-breaking grinds, testing performance and handling. His impartial findings prove the outstanding value of Nash. He writes:

"The finest shock-proof ride in the world today . . . best bump-leveler."

The extra strength and safety of Airflyte Construction, the balance of Airflex Suspension, all contribute to this unmatched Nash riding comfort.

"Acre-per-dollar bargain."

Here are the widest seats of any car. Even plenty of space for big Twin Beds and Airliner Reclining Seats.

"Among the best performing cars."

In the "Grand Prix d'Endurance" at Le Mans, France, the Nash Super Jetfire engine powered the Nash entry to the top spot of all American cars.

"Hill-climbing, second to none."

The Ambassador was the only overdrive-equipped car to take McCahill's "test hill" in high—proof of Super Jetfire power.

"By far the best Nash has ever offered, and that's saying a lot."

Nash Airflytes are the first American cars styled by Pinin Farina, whom McCahill calls the "Rembrandt of automobile design."

Visit your Nash dealer and get your free reprint copy of Tom McCahill's informative article. And see all three great Nash Airflytes—the Ambassador, Statesman and Rambler—the world's most beautiful cars. One ride and you will agree with Tom McCahill.

Man Dies Who Tied Up Ships For His Living

BALTIMORE (AP) — Pietro Antonio Cataneo, businessman, died yesterday. He was 64.

His death won't cause any particular stir in Chamber of Commerce circles, nor will an appraisal of his holdings be necessary. But news of his death will be lamented around the world.

Cataneo, Tony to everyone, was in the ship tying business. That's all. Just tying up ships when they docked on the Baltimore waterfront. But he was known well by steamship agents on both coasts and by skippers and crews that frequented this port.

Tony immigrated here from his native Foggia, Italy, in 1906. He was a stevedore until he opened a tiny lunch shack in the early '20s opposite Pier 8 in the lower Canton section.

By 1927 he was all but bankrupt. He owed 50 months ground rent ($750) for the land where his rundown lunch shack stood.

Then came the break. It happened so naturally he almost missed it.

He was standing in front of his shack when he heard a ship's officer yell: "Will somebody please take a line?"

Tony grabbed the heaving line when it was thrown over and pulled the hawser to the pier. He got $3 for the helping hand.

Then the officer promised him $2 more if he would throw off the line when the ship sailed. Tony did.

That started him thinking. One ship . . . $5. Lotsa ships. . . lotsa dollars.

He started making calls to the steamship lines and found his services were welcomed. Soon he and his son were busy enough meeting ships to give the lunch shack up.

Tony, talking about it recently, made it sound so simple.

"I laugh at myself when I think how I didn't catch on in all those years. I had to be down and out, sitting in my lunchroom with nothing to do but look at ships. Then I see the same thing — nobody to take lines. Something give me a push. I went out to take the lines. Now my Mike and I have built up the profession of line catching."

Mike takes over the business, with 20-odd employes.

All from a $5 idea.

Campaign Has Progressed Far Along Highway Of Harshness

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Looked for a while like this campaign might be unusual: high-level. Not now. Still six weeks to go and it's getting rough. Ought to be a beaut before it's over.

Quiet start. Gen. Eisenhower and Gov. Stevenson not over-heating themselves. Getting hot now. So is President Truman. Sen. Taft, too. And now Sen. McCarthy wants in on the act. Says he's ready to speak anywhere.

And the Democrats just asked Sen. Nixon, Republican vice presidential candidate to quit because he accepted $16,000 from fellow-Californians. He says he used it for expenses he didn't want to charge to the government.

"Morally wrong," the Democrats say. "Political smear," Nixon says. This Nixon business came to light yesterday. We'll be hearing about it for the Democrats, anyway.

Eisenhower has kept his promise not to use personal names. The effect is the same as if he had. When he slugs the administration, almost a hobby with him now, he's socking Truman. Truman's getting sore.

Slow starting, Eisenhower sprinted when even his own friends said he was "running like a dry creek." Heading South, he made a series of speeches on corruption. Summed up, they said: "Throw the bums out."

An unknown like Stevenson might have crabbed his own act if he had started clobbering a war hero like Eisenhower right from the start. Instead, he was extremely respectful. He worked his way up to where he is now:

He began with little jibes. Not rough. The once-over-lightly kind. Cracks about Eisenhower's knowledge of things, or lack of it. Even a suggestion Eisenhower not only didn't write his own speeches but didn't read them before delivering them.

When this week the general was publicly indignant at humor in the campaign, it may have seemed to Stevenson his humorous needle was making Eisenhower yell "ouch." Stevenson's tone grew harsher after Eisenhower and Taft became buddies in New York last week.

He derided Eisenhower, accusing him of surrendering to the man he had defeated for the nomination. And last night in a speech at Hartford, Conn., Stevenson was ready to go further against Eisenhower than ever before. At the last minute he toned down his attack.

In the prepared text of his talk he said Eisenhower's blanket endorsements of all Republican candidates amounts to "pursuit of power at any cost" and is "distasteful to any honorable man."

But he backed up when it came time to say it. All he said was that the general's blanket endorsement of his party's candidates is a dangerous policy. The fact that he had prepared to make the statement on honor shows how far this campaign has progressed along the road of harshness.

Board Ponders Cotton Futures

NEW YORK, Sept. 19 (AP)—New York Cotton Exchange members will vote Monday on whether to make high density cotton deliverable on futures contracts.

The proposal is favored by exporters but criticized by American textile manufacturers.

Cotton squeezed by extra pressure into rock-hard bales is called higher density cotton.

Exporters like the idea because they can ship more tightly compressed bales in the limited spaces of ship cargo holds.

But the textile manufacturers say that after such cotton arrives at American mills they must use special machinery to fluff out the fiber so it can be cleaned and spun.

The American Cotton Manufacturers Institute, whose membership includes a large segment of the textile industry, has taken the lead in opposing high density cotton.

The plan has been endorsed by the exchange's board of managers. The proposal would compel any mill buying cotton for future delivery to accept high density bales.

ARE YOU STARVING YOUR SOUL?

Jesus of Nazareth taught his followers to pray: Give us this day our daily bread.

But he also reminded the world that: Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God.

It is possible, then, for the body to be well-fed while the soul is starving to death!

That is why churches are as essential to the well-being of a community as farms and factories.

And the people who understand this Christian truth will be as conscientious about worshipping in Church as they are about their ploughing or their employment.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Byrnes Says Adlai Can't Clean Up Mess, Gives Ike Support

COLUMBIA, S. C. (AP) — Gov. James F. Byrnes has cast away Democratic party affiliations reaching back for more than half a century and announced he will support Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for president.

The governor, who served in all three branches of the federal government, made his dramatic announcement at a news conference yesterday.

He said the most important factor in his decision to vote Republican was that he believes Eisenhower the man best qualified to "clean up the mess in Washington" and keep the country out of another world war.

"I shall place loyalty to my country above loyalty to a political party," he declared. "And I shall vote for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower."

State Democratic campaign headquarters here promptly charged that Byrnes "has turned his back on and deserted" South Carolina Democrats.

The announcement was expected to carry considerable weight with South Carolina voters who gave Byrnes a record endorsement in his 1950 campaign for governor.

But in other quarters it was greeted with reproach. Jonathan Daniels and Averell Harriman—both high-ranking Democrats — blamed Byrnes desertion of the party on what they called his personal bitterness.

Harriman, foreign aid chief, said "the President let him (Byrnes) go" as secretary of state "and he's been bitter ever since. He's now taking it out on Gov. Stevenson (Gov. Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic nominee)."

Gov. Robert Kennon of Louisiana, who with Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas already has announced his support of Eisenhower, said he felt sure the announcement means "South Carolina, along with Texas and Louisiana can be considered probable Eisenhower states."

Although Byrnes' announcement had been expected for several days, it still came as a surprise to many party faithful.

Byrnes told the state Democratic convention here Aug. 6 that if he had to vote then it would be for Stevenson.

Reading from a 1,500-word prepared text yesterday, Byrnes said Stevenson had shifted his position on what he considered three major campaign issues, all of which had figured in his decision to support Eisenhower.

He said Stevenson first announced he opposed repeal of the Taft-Hartley law, then "on Labor Day changed his position and joined the President in advocating repeal."

Stevenson formerly believed that fair employment practices legislation was a matter for states instead of the federal government, Byrnes said, adding:

"Now candidate Stevenson says . . he favors compulsory federal legislation" to take effect if a state fails to enforce "an adequate state law. . . .

"No Southern state would enact an FEPC law. Therefore, Mr. Stevenson's compulsory federal law would apply to every Southern state."

The governor also scored Stevenson's recent statement that as president he would use his influence to "encourage Congress" to end unlimited debate in the Senate.

Byrnes said he had hoped Stevenson "would disassociate himself from the policies of the present adminsitration" but "he has not done so."

Gov. Stevenson would not condone corruption. But no matter how honest or ethical he is, he could never clean up what he has called 'the mess in Washington.' He will be under too great an obligation to those responsible for 'the mess.' It will take a man like Eisenhower who is under no political obligation to the President or any other official of the administration. . . ."

"I think Gen. Eisenhower could do more than any living American to bring about an end to the war in Korea and prevent our stumbling into another world war," Byrnes said.

Byrnes left the U. S. Supreme Court to become President Roosevet's director of economic stabilization and later director of war mobilization and reconversion. At Roosevelt's request, he did not seek the Democratic vice presidential nomination in 1944, when Truman was selected.

Truman appointed Byrnes secretary of state, and he served there from June, 1945, to January,1947, resigning for reasons of health.

New Casualty List Out

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department today identified 162 battle casualties in Korea. A new list (No. 652) reported 34 killed, 121 wounded, four missing and three injured.

Living Costs Report Is Due

WASHINGTON (AP) — New government figures due today may report that living costs reached a record high in mid-August for a third straight month.

Retail food costs advanced slightly between mid-July and mid-August and this seemed sure to edge the living cost barometer a bit higher to a new peak.

At least 1½ million workers are likely to get pay increases on the basis of the new index. Living costs had risen sufficiently in June and July to assure this unless they took a surprise dip in August.

The index prepared by the government's Bureau of Labor Statistics topped all previous marks in mid-June at 189.6, with the 1935-39 period used as a base. Another record was chalked up in mid-July at 190.8.

Many labor union contracts are keyed to the government index and provide that pay rates rise and fall with living cost changes. Several million workers are thus affected. but the quarterly reckoning for a different group of them comes every month.

Living costs this summer have been abouut 3 per cent above last year and 12 per cent higher than before the Korean War started in June, 1950.

Democrats Putting Out Phamplets For Votes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pamphlets and leaflets, dealing with the Democratic party's record and presidential election candidates are on their way today to voters throughout the country.

The Democratic National Committee said the campaign material, to be distributed by party headquarters in each state, includes:

A pamphlet, in five colors, listing the achievements of Illinois' Gov. Adlai Stevenson and Sen. John Sparkman of Alabama, nominees for president and vice president, respectively..

Five leaflets which attack the Republicans' voting record in Congress, list the work of Democratic administrations and discuss farm, labor and business issues.

To the Daily News:

The real tragedy in our town and all over America today, in my opinion, is not high taxes, local or national government corruption, polio, wars or their rumors, or even communism, I believe our greatest tragedy is alcoholism in Snyder, Tex. More people are killed, their homes destroyed, or their lives permanently, spiritually or physically crippled by alcohol than all other man-made causes put together.

Hundreds of thousands of dollars have been paid in Snyder and Scurry County in fines for liquor offenses. A legislative crime committee is undertaking an investigation of West Texas liquor business including sales in Snyder. This paper stated only Wednesday that 17 bootleg offenses were filed here in one day this week. How much was sold and not filed? How much beer and liquor were brought into Snyder from Big Spring, San Angelo and Wichita Falls and consumed in Snyder?

Last week a father was charged with driving while drunk as a repeated offense. This week his son is charged with juvenile delinquency.

Yesterday a once highly competent workman lost his job for drinking and went to another town to hunt work. His wife and children appeal today to local charities to stop the hunger in their stomachs. This happens every week in Snyder. More than dozens, hundreds of times, in the criminal and divorce courts of Snyder, this statement is made: "If I had not been drinking, this wouldn't have happened."

The church men of our community hide behind the holiness of the church, and the prohibition law in Scurry County, while a group of anonymous men stoop down to do the hard and courageous work every week to free those caught in octopus tentacles of alcoholism.

This horrible beast, the intoxicating beverage, stalks behind the heels of cars driven every day on our public streets, killing and crippling in car wrecks. He walks into homes on every block, causing parents to hate each other and often breaking their homes by divorce. Sometimes he is content to take only money and leave the home with a few headaches and quarrels. Often he even robs the home of absolute necessities such as food, clothing or medical attention.

What can be done to drive this beast from our homes and our community? Shutting our eyes and saying he's not here won't do it. Telling the cop to drive him out won't do it. Passing a law to make the beast a trespasser is not enough to keep him out, although renewing the old padlock law against bootleggers might help.

The preachers can condemn him from the pulpit. The policeman can testify against the beast in court, and charities, doctors and organized groups can treat the wounds the beast leaves, but I sincerely believe there is one death dealing blow to the alcoholic beast above the policeman, social worker, judge, or even a preacher.

That blow is struck when one person pledges eternally inside himself, with God's help, never to invite the beast into his home, his business or social group; to do his utmost, not by mere words but by a quiet example to his neighbors, to kill the beast.

In other words, if I can, in honest humility and not holy hypocrisy, say, "I never drink," then I cannot take that drink which causes my home to be ruined, my mind destroyed or causes me to destroy the life of my fellowmen on the highways of this community; and perhaps I have helped someone else.

Short Charter Saves Money For Saginaw

By RICHARD S. CHILDS
Chairman of the Council,
National Municipal League

Saginaw, Michigan, (pop. 82,794) adopted in 1935 the shortest municipal charter in the country—less then 7,000 words long — providing for the Council - Manager plan of government. But it said enough to permit plenty of changes. Four small city garages were centralized into one big one with bulk storage for gasoline that saved 2 cents a gallon. The new administration whittled down a $200,000 total in delinquent water bills.

A stranger watching a serious fire in Saginaw was amazed to see extra firemen arrive in taxis. But careful study had shown this was the quickest and cheapest way of mobilizing manpower.

Saginaw has won first place in the National Safety Council contest as the city in its population group which made the greatest reduction in traffic deaths and injuries. The city's record for a while was so good under the manager plan that Manager L. P. Cookingham was promoted to the job of managing Kansas City , Missouri.

Kalamazoo Burned a Bond

In Kalamazoo, Michigan, (pop. 54,097) on November 1, 1937, Mayor Paul H. Todd held a $59,000 bond while Mayor-elect Arthur L. Blankeslee touched a match to it. Kalamazoo was out of hock, the first debt-free city of more than 50,000 population in the United States.

Prior to the advent of a city manager in 1918 the tax rate had been kept down by borrowing. The new commission set an honest tax rate and adopted a pay-as-you-go plan. A new city hall was built, parks and recreation facilities were expanded and fatalities at school crossings were stopped.

Teaneck, New Jersey, (pop. 25,275) is a model community its municipal services are topnotch. Its training school for firemen is so good that many other New Jersey communities send their fire officials to it. Its police force has held crime so low that a national magazine ran an article headed, "There Is No Crime in Teaneck."

Teaneck Remembers When

Things were not always so ideal. In 1930 debt and taxes were out of sight and services were deplorable. Then the Council - Manager plan was adopted. Ten years later the population had increased 52 per cent but the cost of government was down from $800,000 to slightly more than $700,000.

The debt had been decreased from $5,000,000 to $2,600,000 The tax rate was down 31 per cent. But parks had been added, traffic accidents had been reduced 41 per cent, and honors in health had been won. The per capita cost of good government was $2 compared with $36 for bad government.

Hazard, Kentucky, (pop. 7,397) saved $1,000 a month, or one-fourth of its $47,000 annual budget, in its first year of the manager plan.

EL DORADO MAKES A RECORD

El Dorado, Kansas, (pop. 10,045) announced a reduction in taxes the same year that many manager-instituted improvements were completed. These included storm sewers, park beautification and a filtation and water softening plant which saved comsumers $12,000 a year in soap. El Dorado had had the plan since 1917.
