TO SCRIMMAGE TUESDAY

Wolf Daily Workouts Attract 65 Prospects

Sixty-five football prospects for Colorado High began twice-daily workouts here Monday at 6:30 o'clock.

Turman Nix, head coach and athletic director, said Wednesday that at least 10 others are expected to report when school actually starts next week. Several are on vacation, Nix said, and others are still working at summer jobs.

"We are just real pleased with what we've seen so far," added Coach Nix. "Boys who are reporting for the first week of practice are really working. They're in far better physical shape than we expected, able to do more work—and they are really working."

Nix praised the "attitude" of the players now trying out. They want to play football, he said. "I've never seen any team anywhere top their first day of enthusiasm," Nix moved here from Wink, April 1.

Sixteen lettermen returned this season for the 6:30 a. m. and 7 p. m. workouts. They are Corky McAdams, end; Don Latimer, end; Stanley Hardcastle, tackle; Dee Dearen, guard; Reg Noble, guard; Mike Munday, guard; Skip Warren, center; David McKay, quarterback; Larrie Currie, quarterback; Donnie Lindsey, halfback; David Way, fullback; Roger Procter, fullback; John Tiller, tackle; Sam Moser, guard; Robert Stewart, guard.

Tricaptains this season, chosen last term, are Paul Yeager, out most of last season with an injury; Dearen and Munday.

The 65 boys trying for berths include all hopefuls from the sophomore class, a junior class and senior class. Twelve on the turn-out roster are seniors.

Also on the good prospect list are four brand new students, enrolled in the sophomore class, from Silver. Don Higginbotham, halfback, has a good chance at the varsity said Coach Nix. Robert Mathers is trying out for center. Bubba Kennedy, half, and Larry Paul, end.

Beginning next week practice sessions will be shifted to later in the morning and earlier in the afternoon, though much depends on the weather, the coach said.

First scrimmage of the season is set for next Tuesday night, August 25, at 7:30 in Wolf Stadium. Both A & B teams will scrimmage against A & B teams of Coahoma High School.

Admission is free and all Wolf fans are invited to come "look 'em over."

Coaching staff assisting Nix are Ray Morgan, varsity line coach; Howell Vineyard and Caddo Matthews, B team coaches; Dell Riley, freshman coach; Doug Chitsey, 8th and Donnie Benham, 7th grade coach.

All coaches are helping with the workouts for A & B Wolf squads this week. Rules forbid practice for players from among the lower classmen until school officially opens.

Another new feature of this season will be several games scheduled for soph teams. Two games against Haskell's soph team and two against Coahoma have been tentatively scheduled. A total of five or six games is planned for the sophomore prospects "who have to work out and should therefore get to play some games on their own," said Nix.

Wolf team faces Phillips in a game at Phillips Friday night, Sept. 3. After that, they play each Friday night with no open dates. They face Eck-or, here, Sept. 11; Monahans here, Sept. 18, Merkel, there, Sept. 25.

Conference tilts will begin with a game in Haskell Oct. 3, followed by a game with Anson here; Winters, there, Stamford, there, Hamlin, Oct. 30 and Ballinger, Nov. 6, will wind off the regular season. Last two games will be played in Colorado City.

City Wolves will tackle teams in the 2-AA district for the first time in a number of seasons. Both this year and next Colorado High will play in 2-AA instead of district 3-AAA.

All-B team games, 9th grade games, 8th and 7th grade games will be played Thursday evenings.

Those new soph battles will be arranged for Saturday mornings, the coach said.

TWC Sets Hearing On Dam Proposal

Colorado River Municipal water District has been granted a hearing by Texas Water Commission in Austin, on the proposed building of a Colorado River dam in Coke County.

Time of the hearing granted CRMWD has been set for 10 a. m., Monday, Oct. 19. Texas Water Commission set the hearing after a preliminary review of CRMWD's application to amend the permit for the construction of the dam and impounding of a mammoth lake for use of the water district.

First permit, granted by TWC in 1960, put the dam site in Mitchell County, 18 miles south of Colorado City. That permit is still in effect until, unless, Texas Water Commission grants the amended proposal moving the dam and lake to Coke County.

Mitchell County leaders, with a water steering committee at work, have strongly protested the amended petition.

Another meeting of the steering committee here, with Charles C. Thompson as chairman, is planned for the very near future, said Thompson Wednesday.

"Our plan is to file a formal brief, again protesting the moving of the dam," Thompson said, "and we will be present at the Texas Water Commission hearing Oct. 19. We have until Oct. 15 to file the brief stating our position in the position in the switching of sites."

A series of meetings has sparked discussion of the proposed new dam since CRMWD made public their decision to build the lake in Coke County. Mitchell County leaders met with Charles Perry of Odessa, CRMWD, to talk things over. E. V. Spence, manager of CRMWD, to take things over but met no success in asking that the Mitchell County site be kept as originally planned.

Charges Are Filed Against Crop-Duster

A crop-dusting pilot working for a Roby dusting outfit in Colorado City is charged here with conversion by bailie.

Charges were filed in precinct 1 justice court by County Attorney Frank Ginzle, Tuesday. Named in the charges was H. L. Stone, present whereabouts unknown.

Stone was registered here in Colorado City in a motel and had been employed by Terry Brothers, Fisher County crop-dusting company. Stone had been crop-dusting in this area using Colorado City Municipal Airport for his take-off and landing operations.

Saturday night, after 10 p. m., the accused man crashed the light crop-dusting plane on a River Oaks parking lot in Abilene after having glided off the top of a department store building. He was uninjured and told witnesses that he was hunting a safe place to land after having run out of gas three miles short of the Abilene airport.

Terry Brothers, who told officers and the county attorney here that their plane is now a total loss, came to Colorado City to file the conversion by bailie charges.

WEST TEXAS BOYS' RANCH

Dee Bassham Boss Of Round-up Here

That popular old song, "When It's Roundup Time in Texas," has become the theme song of a group of stockmen already in the saddle in preparation for the annual West Texas Boys' Ranch Roundup. These men, called "Wagon Bosses," represent all sections of the 66-county area served by the Ranch. They assist in collection and assembly of livestock donations from ranchers who want to help in the Ranch's biggest fund drive of the year. D. B. Bassham is serving as Wagon Boss for this area. He's gearing his activities toward the week of August 28-29, at which time the maximum effort will be made to obtain gifts of sheep, cattle, goats, horses and swine. The livestock will be sold at auctions which levy no charges for handling or selling the animals — all proceeds of the sale go directly to the Ranch. Contribution of handling expenses is simply another way West Texans have of helping the Ranch. Annual Roundup was begun five years ago and has become a main source of income for the Ranch. John

Carline of San Angelo is general chairman of the drive this year. "The Ranch needs help to provide for some 80 boys the year around," Carline says. "I realize, if this year's Roundup is to be a real western-type success I will need a lot of help. I would like to ask you to pitch in and help by making a donation of livestock, farm products or cash." Carline pointed out that the gift of a single cow can outfit two boys in school, eleven sheep can furnish one of the smaller boys with school material for a year, and as many goats can provide work allowance for 14 boys a month. Three pigs will furnish funds for 134 quarts of milk. Naturally, the Ranch appreciates and needs donations any time of the year. But this annual Roundup, with its concentrated effort to obtain donations, comes at a time when a great many ranchers are working stock and can conveniently sort out animals they feel able to contribute to a cause whose worthiness nobody doubts. Ranchmen of this area are invited to contact B. D. Bassham for information and assistance in making their contributions. And of course any donor can find abundant reward in knowing he has helped some boy, or perhaps several boys, who are growing into healthy, responsible citizens only because a strong man took notice of his need and gave him a boost at the right time. West Texas Boys Ranch is financed entirely through free-will contributions. Morris Craig, executive director, says most boys at the Ranch are from broken home or non-existent homes. At the Ranch, they get the necessities of a wholesome, self-reliant personality from personal affection and religious training to the schooling which enable them to make a good mark in the world. "Wagon Boss" Bassham said Saturday that "critters or cash will be most welcome." Bassham's telephone number is RA 8-3521. Nearby auction companies who participate are Colorado City Auction, West Texas in Sweetwater, Big Spring Livestock Auction, and Midwest Feed Yards, San Angelo. "Critters" may include gifts to the Roundup of sheep, goats, horses, cattle. Cash may be any amount. Colorado City has had three boys who lived for a while at West Texas Boys Ranch.

IN CALIFORNIA RITES

Resident's Grandson Weds Midland Girl

Friends in Colorado City learned this week of the July 12 marriage of Charles Robert Cox to Miss Shirley Darlene Cox in Norwalk, California. Cox is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Cox of Lakewood, Calif. and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Cox, former residents, also of Lakewood. His maternal grandmother, Mrs. Ed S. Jones, Sr., local resident, attended the ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Cox, Jr. of Midland. The double ring vows were read by the Rev. Vance Curuth at the Capilla del Amor in Norwalk. Chapel decorations were with floral arrangements in large basket flanking a center arrangement of candelabra. White satin bows marked family pews.

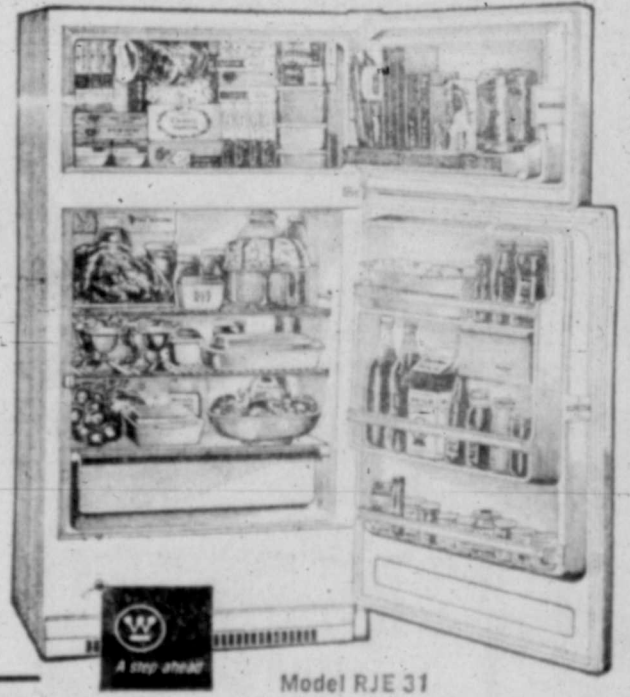

For her wedding the bride chose a white gown of silk taffeta and Alencon lace. The bouffant skirt was topped by a fitted bodice with long sleeves and Sabrina neckline trimmed in re-embroidered lace scallops. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was caught to a crown of Alencon lace and pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of lilies of the valley centered with a gardenia. She was given in marriage by her father. Bridal attendants were Patricia Phelps of Phoenix, Arizona, maid of honor, Pebble Page of San Francisco and Sara McLarty of San Gabriel, bridesmaids. They wore pale pink formal sheath gowns fashioned with empire waists and butterfly sleeves. Headpieces were small veiled hats. They carried Colonial nosegays of white daisies and streamers. Groom's attendants included Bob Tuttle of Los Angeles, best man; Dick Ackerman of Lakewood and Bob Whiteley of Menlo Park, groomsmen; and Randy Cox, brother of the bride, and David Cox, brother of the groom, ushers. Reception followed at the Lakewood Country Club. A graduate of Midland (Texas) High School, the bride attended Washington University in St. Louis, Mo., and is presently a student of dress design at Chouinard College in Los Angeles. She is employed in the design department of Catalina in Los Angeles. Cox is a graduate of Bellflower High School and Stanford University. He is a member of Beta Phi fraternity and has received a scholarship to the law school of his choice. He is presently employed by Disney Enterprises in Anaheim. O. L. Simpsons Mark 50th Year

Monday, August 10, marked the 50th Wedding Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. "Doc" Simpson, who received informal calls from friends Sunday afternoon.

The Simpsons were married August 10, 1914 in Colorado City by the late Mitchell County Judge Coe, father of Mrs. Sam L. Majors, Sr.

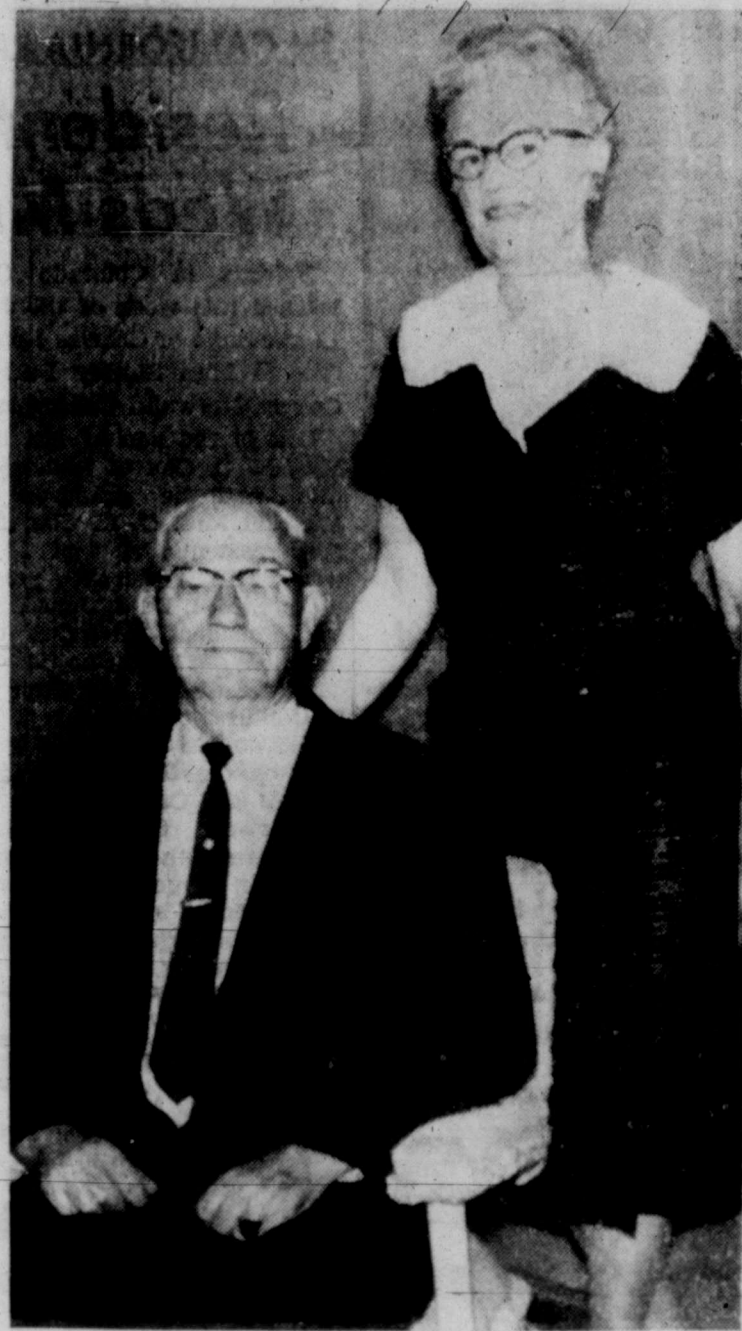

Simpson, born in Arkansas, came to Colorado City in 1908 for a visit with cousins, the J. M. Strain family. He says it took him so long to make enough money to leave, that he just decided to stay. He entered the farming and ranching business, and followed that occupation until his retirement in 1962.

Mrs. Simpson, the former Miss Bertha Goodwin, is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Goodwin, pioneer couple who homesteaded east of Cuthbert in the Fairview Community.

The couple were parents of one son, Goodwin Simpson, who was killed in an airplane crash near Monterrey, Mexico, in 1958. They have two grandchildren, Sherry and Ken, who live in Wichita, Kansas.

Mr. and Mrs. Simpson are active members of the First Christian Church. Mrs. Simpson is also active in home demonstration club work and Federated study club activities.

When asked for their formula for 50 years of happy marriage, the Simpsons answered, "first of all, good health, for a person can't be happy when he, or she, doesn't feel well." Next they listed, "try to be agreeable and settle differences without serious arguments."

"We always enjoyed our home life and our child," Mrs. Simpson said, as a final word of advice for a happy married life.

Tourists Praise C-City Courtesies

A letter from Clinton, Miss., praising the hospitality of Colorado City, Texas, has just reached Gus D. Chesney, president of the Chamber of Commerce here.

The letter of appreciation was one from a family who stopped here with car trouble when enroute home from the West Coast. The letter follows:

"Dear Sir: Recently while enroute home from the West Coast our family car ran hot resulting in burst engine head. This happened just outside Colorado City.

"While we waited a day and a half for repairs your town-people were so gracious we remember our delay now as apart of our vacation. We were especially impressed by two young men who went out of their way to get us going.

"A service man, Mr. Jimmy Wood, took us to a motel, helped my husband find a mechanic, then drove us to our motel during our stay there. When he wasn't around he referred us to your friendly police department and generally sounded like a proud member of your Chamber of Commerce.

"My husband is president of our Chamber here and we were delighted to meet a young fellow who is such a credit to your town. We would also like to say thank you to Mr. Ted Hughes who worked on our car until 1:30 in the morning. The remainder of our trip was trouble free.

"Thank you for your hospitality and these accomodating young men. Also we appreciate the young man with the broken-down Volkswagon who waited while our car was repaired.

Sincerely,
Mrs. H. C. McGee

CONVERSATION CORNER

THERE used to be a familiar advertisement trying to sell people quickie-lessons in playing the piano.

"They laughed when I sat down at the piano," it always read. Then in smaller type the ad told how the piano-player turned out to be the life of the party just overnight. And how he got to be an artist much in demand. So all his friends had to do what people used to call "laugh on the other side of the face."

WHAT this country needs is a good quickie-course in column-writing so people can laugh when you sit down at the typewriter — specially on National Election years.

There's far too little laughter like it is. Too much tension, too much strain and not enough looking on the light and bright side.

What with politics, lunatics, in-fighting, out-and-out fighting and death in the daily headlines it isn't always possible to come up with instant laughter.

THERE are, of course, various stocks in trade for any business. Pat Bullock used to tickle us to pieces with this facetious remark, made often while he kept a straight face: "You can always quote me as being against sin and demon rum," he'd say, "I'm for everything else." He was, you remember, a State Senator, then.

Stock in trade for a regular column includes first, last and always, the weather. Weather is one of the few non-controversial subjects left. And even the weather hasn't been one bit funny through this long hot summer; has it?

WEATHER is always a nice, safe topic, however. Okay. Weren't the weekend showers delightful?

Poets and people a little "touched" in the head usually like to walk in the rain, did you know that?

Next to the sight and sound of rain comes the feel and the delicious smell of rain. It always smells promising and fresh — and should be sniffed to be fully appreciated. Like homemade bread in the oven.

WHAT is your favorite smell? Ever sample any of these? Grapes bubbling into jelly . . . petunia beds getting watered at dusk . . . fresh starched curtains in the breeze . . . new linoleum . . . a fresh just-bathed and powdered baby? And does cigar smoke make you remember your father?

How about blackberry cobbler? New magazines? New shoes? Coffee percolating on Sunday morning . . . bacon crisping in the pan . . . mint leaves . . . tomatoe vines . . . the different aroma chrysanthemums have.

FOR that matter, how about sheets, clean and smooth? Shaving lotion on that most familiar face?

Sun-flowers down a country lane . . . a fuzzy ripe peach plucked right from a tree . . . plum blossoms on the bough and spicy bubble bath?

The world is so full of fragrances: But if we could choose just one for a favorite it would have to be the sweet smell of summer rain splashing down. That's absolutely tops!

FAMILIAR FACES, various places have been those of Nadine Gordon (Mrs. Gerald) with generous press tickets to the Playhouse show, "These Doggone Elections," and Shana

We can't keep from being impressed by the reports how Coach Truman Nix and his staff are personally handling Colorado High's football candidates.

Bruises, skinned heads and sore muscles on the kids emphasize that our new coaching staff isn't hesitant about getting down to the serious aspects of football.

But the main thing is that we like their style of coaching which, apparently, breeds respect and enthusiasm while channeling confidence into the players with plenty of personal attention.

Good Send-Off for Playhouse Productions

Colorado City's first stage venture in the development of a community playhouse program comes before the footlights tonight (Thursday) at 8 o'clock.

Two one-act comedies are to be presented in this first presentation of Colorado City Playhouse this summer through the sponsorship of Chamber of Commerce.

As the organization gains experience and support, more ambitious projects naturally will be planned and produced for our community.

This is an enterprising program that will benefit the character, culture and entertainment within our entire community. This is a program, too, that draws active participants in many phases of the Playhouse program — costuming, make-up, stage direction, lighting, stage construction, financing, ticket sales and promotion, not just aspiring actors and actresses.

Therefore, there is opportunity for a wide range of talents in Colorado City Playhouse to be channeled to the benefit of our community.

And, we all will be giving a good send-off to this program by attending the initial productions tonight.

Poor Teaching For Teens' Money Brains

If it is any news to you, many Texas teenagers don't know how to use money wisely. And many parents fail to provide an opportunity for young people to learn money management.

This revealing financial information comes from recent research conducted in the Blackland area of the state that shows a "lack of perspective or understanding on the part of parents concerning money as a training instrument." What training occurred was often incidental and not planned, says Patsy Reynolds, extension specialist in family life education at Texas A&M University.

Dr. Bardin Nelson, who presently is on leave from the A&M Agricultural Economics and Sociology Department to assist with the establishment of an agricultural university in Syria, conducted the research.

Three-fourths of the parents of 15 and 16-year-olds studied by Dr. Nelson followed a system of dials or dictated method of providing their children with money. Even "with limited allowances, parents should provide the child with a bit more money than is absolutely necessary, so there is an opportunity to make choices about spending money, points out Miss Reynolds.

Many parents supervise their children's use of money closely in order to prevent mistakes. However, people learn from mistakes, and a misspent dime may teach a lesson which may prevent a misspent dollar, the Extension specialist says.

Just as a child must have planned systematic training to learn to read or write, he should have planned opportunities to learn to use money wisely. Boys enter military service at 17, and both boys and girls go away to school or to work at this age. Young people need to learn money management before they are "on their own," Miss Reynolds emphasizes.

We agree positively. But after you've taught our youngsters how to handle money wisely — how about a course for their parents? They need it most of all along with, lasting instructions on how to accumulate money, in the first place.

And, on second thought, the Extension Service could use a tip or two while handling the taxpayers' cash.

Efficiency Needed In Industry, Too

For a long, long time American business has found it easy and ear-appealing to sound off about the inefficiencies and waste in government.

Few government agencies have been missed in this pot-shot game of criticism.

And anybody who has observed democratic government on any level knows that the tendency for waste and inefficiency grows with bigness of governmental agencies.

But business and industry are not all simon pure in this regard as a visit to any small or large firm will surely reveal.

This point was emphasized recently in the testimony by J. Fred Westons, Professor of Business Economic and Finance at the University of California, Los Angeles, given before a Senate subcommittee hearing on economic concentration. And he buttressed this view with an impressive amount of evidence of record.

The tendency in resurgent European countries is toward the development of large firms which will be able to spread their costs over a great volume of operations and compete more effectively the world over. That is the competition which American industry must be able to meet if it is to hold and expand its world markets — markets which are vital to our prosperity and to our global influence and power.

As Mr. Weston sees the problem, "if United States industry is to compete effectively in foreign markets it must be efficient in the world is undergoing a change in the scope of markets comparable to the great change of the turn of the twentieth century we went from local and regional markets to national markets. We are now moving to world markets. The concern of economic policy in the United States should not be preoccupation with narrow measurements of concentration, but with the recognition of the positive need for efficient American industry."

Governor Urges Quick Action on Water Plan

BY VERN SANFORD

Texas Press Association

All available money and manpower of the Texas Water Commission is being dedicated to a long-range state master plan.

Gov. John Connally authorized the agency to transfer money already appropriated by the Legislature for other purposes. Existing state plans, in Connally's opinion, "fall short of satisfying the water needs for all of Texas."

In 1961, the Commission produced a plan for meeting Texas water needs to the year 1980.

Both the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation and the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, are coming up with their own long-range plans covering parts of Texas. They propose diversion of water from surplus areas like the Sabine to water-shy areas like the Nueces.

Connally said the federal government is considering a water pollution control bill which would supplant state authority in the field.

He urged the Commission to explore "all reasonable alternatives," including those contained in preliminary reports of U. S. Agencies.

The Governor indicated he will authorize other state agencies to cooperate in the crash program. He also pledged his help in any way possible and to recommend to the Legislature "necessary funds to fulfill this important responsibility."

GUN LAW — Pressure from prosecuting attorneys is beginning to sift through to legislative candidates who are being urged to pass a gun registration law during the 1965 session in an attempt to reduce the crime rate and help police solve crimes.

Latest of the recommendations along this line comes from Dallas District Attorney Henry Wade. Gun registration is on the list of the most-controversial issues a legislature can tackle and proposals on the subject frequently are skirted.

TEXTBOOK PROTESTS — About 500 individual letters and 39 petitions bearing some 3,398 signatures concerning three high school biology books have been received by Governor Connally, Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar, and the State Board of Education.

And more are arriving every day.

Most protestors claim three of the eight biology books being considered for public school adoption by the State Textbooks Committee have "an excessive amount of evolution in them."

All letters and petitions are being filed for the State Textbooks Committee to review since Connally, Edgar and the State Board have no say on textbook selection.

The 15-member committee has the task of picking five books each in 18 subjects from the 226 books under consideration. Public then will have an opportunity to make formal complaints about the biology texts, as well as any others which are considered "objectionable" before the committee's selection list is submitted to individual school districts.

DROUGE AID — Sen. Ralph Yarborough announced here that 23 counties will qualify for drought aid under two federal programs.

Eligible for emergency loans through the Farmers Home Administration are Brazoria, Dallas, Dawson, Falls, Gonzales, Hardin, Jefferson, Lavaca, Navarro, Wharton and Wilson counties.

Eligible for hay and grazing privileges until October 31 under a U. S. Agricultural Department program are Collin, Dallas, Donley, Eastland, Freestone, Jones, Rockwall, Rusk, San Augustine, Seurry and Taylor counties.

SALES TAX — A Texas State Teachers Association spokesman last week suggested the Legislature raise additional funds for education through increasing the sales tax rate or removing present exemptions.

ACCENT ON HEALTH

Dangerous Trend In Glue Sniffing

State Commissioner of Health Anyone who is under the impression that glue sniffing gives a fellow a few harmless kicks is sadly mistaken.

Serious damage may be caused by the solvents in glues. Exactly how serious or extensive the damage can be is not yet known.

But it is a fact that nine recent deaths are attributed to this practice. Six of these involved glue sniffing while the victim's head was covered with a plastic bag.

Some of the "sniffing" symptoms reported to poison control centers ranged from headache, dizziness and breathlessness to intoxication, unconsciousness, blurred vision and paleness.

Apart from the physical injury produced by the inhalation of the solvents from glues, incalculable harm can be done while youngsters are under its influence.

One youngster described his sensations: "I saw two of everything, and everything far away looked real near. I had noise in my ears like a firecracker going off, and then I blacked-out."

One boy in his early teens was so exhilarated by glue sniffing that he assumed a fighting stance before an oncoming freight train, narrowly escaping death.

A 12-year-old who had never been known to steal, robbed a florist shop while under the influence of glue. Another young glue-sniffer jumped off a low building, convinced he could fly.

Inevitably, the question must be asked: What can be done? Some local jurisdictions have passed legislation aimed at combating the problem. Researchers are searching for a method of eliminating toxic vapors and thereby eliminating the glue sniffing practice.

Unfortunately, there seems to be no single, simple answer.

Recommendations from the National Clearinghouse for Poison Control Centers include advising parents of children as to the potential risk of sniffing; making glue and related substances less available in self-service stores; and substituting less toxic ingredients in glue products.

It is important not to consider glue sniffing as amusing nonsense. A little sniffing may cause serious consequences.

WITHOUT TEXAS LICENSES

Third of Hunters Are 'On the Cuff'

Generosity of Texas hunting regulations is reflected in statistics showing that almost one out of every three residents hunt without buying a license, according to J. Weldon Watson, executive director of the Parks and Wildlife Department.

The last complete figure shows that 749,000 Texans were officially licensed to hunt but that 230,000 of these got exempt licenses without cost to them.

In other words, said Watson, approximately three quarters of a million dollars a year in license fees "is put on the cuff." The regular hunting license costs $3.15.

The exempt list includes persons 65 years of age and older, persons under seven years of age, and persons who can show that they are hunting on their land where they maintain their actual residence.

Beautifying Abilene State Park, with grounds and beach improvements, is underway.

A 100 by 10 foot strip of beach is being sanded and brush cut from the creek that runs through the area. A nursery is planned to grow trees and shrubbery for the park.

AIRPORT FUNDS — Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr advised the Texas Aeronautics Commission director, Frank W. Raymond Jr., that the Legislature could amend the State law to authorize the State to appropriate funds to incorporated cities for construction of airports and navigational facilities without violating the constitution.

Commission is expected to seek a legislative sponsor for this type of bill.

Dry weather set the stage for an incipient grass fire at the east end of Possum Kingdom State Park. Touch-off by lightning, at mid-afternoon, the blaze swept along Caddo Creek and covered about 100 acres before it was checked close to the main entrance.

The Breckenridge City Fire Department controlled the fire after about four hours.

Wildlife personnel in West

Texas reported finding another baby desert bighorn sheep in the Black Gap Wildlife Management Area sheep pasture. So far this year three young have been found increasing the total population to 23 head.

In 1957-59 a handful of Wild desert bighorn sheep were trapped in Arizona and released in a 427-acre enclosure on the Black Gap Wildlife Management Area in southeast Brewster County. Since then a bighorn herd has steadily increased and now totals six adults, rams, eight adult ewes, six yearlings and three lambs.

Releasing some of these sheep from the fenced pasture in 1967 or 1968 on surrounding Black Gap Management Area terrain will be the next experimental step toward establishing a Texas desert bighorn herd.

Hard Facts It is best to use hard water when watering house plants. Continued use of artificially softened water can hurt plant growth.

SUN-SCORCHED PROBLEM

Stock Feeding Up As Grass Suffers

Sun-scorched pastures are providing scant grazing and increasing the need for emergency livestock feeding, reports Uel D. Thompson, Extension animal husbandman, Texas A&M University.

If pastures are depleted, the obvious first step is to reduce livestock numbers. Calves should be weaned and sold as early as possible, says Thompson, and replacements should also be marketed if necessary. Low producers should naturally be headed down the market trail.

After reducing the herd, confine it to a trap or dry lot and begin feeding, advises Thompson. Thus, stock conserve energy through not having to travel for feed and water.

Since total feed intake has to be supplied under these conditions, probably the cheapest method is to limit this intake with salt and supply energy by feeding sorghum grain, says the husbandman.

Roughage is high in cost and low in energy, yet some is necessary for ruminant digestion. It may be fed by limiting the amounts daily, explains Thompson. Rice hulls may be fed as a roughage but must be ground to prevent intestinal irritations to stock.

Thompson suggests the following self-feed mixture for emergency feeding: 34 percent ground sorghum grain, 33 percent protein supplement (41 percent) 31 percent salt and 2 percent trace mineralized salt. Cattle will consume daily about five pounds of the mixture depending upon the quantity and quality of roughage.

This feed mixture will be deficient of Vitamin A, Thompson points out, and therefore the synthetic form may be fed, placed in controlled drinking water or injected. It may also be given in large quantities at one time. Adding synthetic Vitamin A to mineral mixtures or high salt feed mixtures and leaving it exposed to sunlight, air and heat is not advisable, says Thompson.

IN FIRST BAPTIST

Afternoon Church Vows Unite Miss Dulin-Bill Perkison

Miss Patricia Dulin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bedford Dulin, and William Kennedy Perkison, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Perkison of Daingerfield, were united in marriage Sunday August 9, at half past two o'clock in the First Baptist Church.

Officiating for the double ring vows was Dr. Billy Smith from Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene.

The couple stood before an arch entwined with greenery and decorated with Shasta daisies. Baskets of white gillyflowers and yellow-centered Shasta daisies flanked the arch. Family pews were marked with white ribbon bows.

Mrs. Leon Dulin, sister-in-law of the bride from Arlington, sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a floor-length gown of white tulle with a sleeveless bodice and softly belled skirt. The bodice was covered with a jacket of French lace featuring a high neckline and elbow-length sleeves. Her wedding ensemble was made by her mother. She wore a circular veil of illusion caught to a spray of lily-of-the-valley, belonging to Mrs. Don Karr, as something borrowed. Something old was a handkerchief made by her great-grandmother. She wore pearl earrings, gift of the groom, and carried a bouquet of white roses and gladioli on a white ribbon.

Miss Mary Simmons, college roommate of the bride from Smithfield, was maid of honor. She wore a street-length dress of mize peau de soie fashioned after that of the bride. Her headpiece was a circlet of maize tulle trimmed with handmade roses of matching peau de soie, handwork of the groom's mother. She carried a nosegay of Shasta daisies.

Miss Karan Burton from Burk Burnett, former roommate of the bride, was bridesmaid. Her ensemble was identical to that of the maid of honor.

Miss Julie Dulin, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She was attired in a short dress of yellow organdy and carried a white basket of yellow flower petals. Ringbearer was Don Dulin Jr., nephew of the bride. Harry McCain of Daingerfield attended the groom as best man. Groomsman was Ronnie Thomas, also of Daingerfield. Ushers were Don Edwards of Denton and Richard Hicks of Dallas.

Parlor of the church was scene of the reception which followed the ceremony. Bride's table was covered in white lace over yellow and decorated with bouquets of the bride and her attendants. The three-tiered wedding cake rested on a silver pedestal stand. The pedestal punch bowl was of cut glass.

Houseparty members included Miss Betty Perkison of Daingerfield, sister of the groom at the guest register, and Mrs. Don Karr and Mrs. Don Dulin, sister-in-law of the bride, at the refreshment table.

For a honeymoon trip to a guest ranch near Mineral Wells, the new Mrs. Perkison chose a three-piece suit of olive green accented with beige accessories. She wore a corsage of white roses from her bridal bouquet. The couple are temporarily making their home in Dallas.

The bride is a graduate of high school in Burk Burnett

Colorado City Record, Thursday, Aug. 20, 1964, Page 3 and will be a student at North High School. He was graduated from North Texas State University in Denton this fall. Her husband in June with a degree in dentistry is a graduate of Daingerfield.

Ceramics Instruction

Mrs. Frank W. Conrad, left, and Mrs. Owen Wistrand, right, are shown working on a ceramic piece. The term used for the first stage of a ceramic piece, when it is first fired, is very fragile and extreme care must be exercised in handling it. Mrs. Conrad is a new member of the adult ceramic class which is being conducted by Mrs. Wistrand at the Community Center. Mrs. Wistrand is an instructor for the ceramics class. All interested persons may call her at the center for further information on the subject.

AT COMMUNITY CENTER CLASS

Many Local Women Enjoy Hobby Of Making Ceramics

Facilities at the City Community Center, 400 South 1st St., and Mitchell County Community Center are not just for the young. They are also for the benefit of the town's adult population. One of the newest members of the center is a ceramics class. The class is held on Tuesday evenings from 6:30 until 8 o'clock. Mrs. Owen Wistrand, city recreation coordinator, is instructor for the class. "It depends completely upon the individual," Mrs. Wistrand answered when asked if a hobby of ceramics was expensive. "One can spend as much, or as little, as one wishes, depending upon the article to be made," she added. Members pay an initial fee upon joining the group of $5, with monthly dues set at $1.

Summer cooking make your kitchen "like an oven?"

Change to cool flameless electric cooking!

Women who cook electrically will tell you that electric cooking makes a big difference in kitchen comfort during hot weather. That's because flameless electric surface cooking units transfer heat by direct metal-to-metal contact with utensil bottoms. They send their heat through the utensils and into the food, not into the kitchen air. Electric oven cooking is cooler, too. There's no flame, so no intake and exhaust of air is needed to support combustion. The oven is insulated all around, including the bottom, to keep heat inside where it belongs. See your electric range dealer soon and start cooking the cool, flameless electric way!
