Fighting Rages In Cyprus

Family Food Bill Rises 4%

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

Consumers got hit during July with the worst round of grocery price increases in more than a year, an Associated Press marketbasket survey shows. The bill went up an average of 4 percent.

The AP checked the prices of 15 food and nonfood items in 13 cities on March 1, 1973, and has rechecked at the start of every succeeding month. July was the first month since the beginning of the survey in which the marketbasket bill went up in every city checked.

During June, the AP marketbasket went down in nine cities and up in four. The U.S. Department of Agriculture marketbasket for June, the latest month available. showed the price for farm-produced foods declined .1 per cent.

The higher totals at the end of July were due in part to higher wholesale prices. The Agriculture Department's Crop Reporting Board said Wednesday that prices of raw farm products went up 6 percent from June 15 to July 15 after four months of decline.

There were higher prices for cattle, wheat, corn, soybeans and eggs and lower prices for milk, cotton, peaches and dry beans. The farm price levels were reflected in the marketbasket survey. The AP found higher prices for eggs, which had been steadily declining since last August; a new round of increases in the price of meat; and a slight drop in the cost of milk.

During June, the price of meat went down, largely because of special sales staged by supermarkets in response to government pleas. The prices received by farmers for their livestock had been declining, but because retail prices remained relatively high through the first half of this year, consumers rebelled and a backlog of meat was created.

The sales during June helped move the backlog onto the family dinner table and wholesale prices started rising again. Now retail prices are right back where they were before the sales and some items cost more now than they did on March 1, 1973.

The price of chopped chuck went up during July in nine of 13 cities checked, was unchanged in two and was down in one-Detroit. The average price on March 1, 1973, was $1.12. By Jan. 1, 1974, the average price was up to $1.23. It dropped back down to $1.12 on July 1, but at the time of the latest check was $1.27, a 13 per cent increase during the month.

The price of a dozen medium white eggs was up in every city during July, reflecting higher demand and shorter supply. The price remained below the record $1-a-dozen level of last August, however. At the time of the latest check the average price of eggs was 62 cents a dozen, up 19 per cent during the month from 52 cents a dozen on July 1. The average price on March 1, 1973, also was 62 cents. Farmers have been complaining that they lost money and were forced to cut back production when eggs were selling at bargain prices during the first half of this year.

Workers At Bell Vote To Strike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Telephone workers have given union leaders overwhelming approval to call a nationwide strike against the Bell System.

No date was set but indications are that a strike could come as early as Monday if negotiators fail to reach agreement on new contracts for 750,000 workers.

The Communications Workers of America called a news conference for 2 p.m. EDT today to announce official results of the strike authorization vote completed at midnight Wednesday.

In event of a strike, Bell said it expects to maintain service with management personnel. Most of the nation's telephone system is automated and a walkout would have little effect on daily service.

"We will continue to provide service with as little interruption as possible," said a spokesman for the Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Co. in Atlanta.

A survey by The Associated Press of major locals around the country showed rank-and-file workers voted lopsidedly in favor of a strike.

An official of San Francisco Local 9410 said voting in Northern California ran better than 80 per cent to authorize a walkout. In New York City, Local 1101 approved a strike, 7,760 to 418. Miami Local 3107 voted by a margin of 85 per cent for a strike and a spokesman said members were ready to man the picket lines.

Bell ordered its top negotiators back to Washington in preparation for weekend bargaining sessions and sources indicated the company was likely to offer a new proposal before a scheduled Sunday meeting of the CWA's executive council. The council has authority to set a strike date.

United Way Goal Set At $45,000

The Budget and Admissions Committee of the Scurry County United Way met in the City Hall yesterday morning to set the 1975 budget and allocations. A tentative goal, subject to approval of the Board of Directors, of $45,000 was established, which is an increase of $5,000 over this year's goal.

Members of the Budget and Admissions Committee are Ed Mlcak, chairman, Roger Mize, Hubert Cargile, Bill Gilliland, Haskell Beard and Bassett Keller, who is president of the Scurry County United Way. He was chosen by the Board of Directors to replace P.A. Nikias, who has transferred to New Orleans.

In its meeting the committee interviewed representatives of six of the thirteen agencies that participate in the Scurry County United Way. The other seven had submitted their applications by mail.

The committee reviewed all of the requests, and then set the following allocation percentages:

Boys Club, 33.75 percent; Boy Scouts, 18.25 percent; Girl Scouts, 10.50 percent; Mental Health, .88 percent; USO, .88 percent; Texas Rehabilitation, 1.25 percent; Cerebral Palsy, .75 percent; Red Cross, 9 percent; Salvation Army, 8.50 percent; Scurry County Day Care Center, 6 percent; Texas Medical Research, .75 percent; S.W. Diabetic FDN Center, .75 percent; Scurry County Commission on Alcoholism and Drug Abuse, 1.88 percent; Expense Fund, 6.86 percent.

Although next year's goal represents an increase, members of the committee are optimistic. Both Keller and Mlcak expressed confidence in the people of Scurry County, and believe that the goal can and will be reached. Some citizens have already volunteered their time, but others will be needed. Anyone wanting to help may contact Keller at 573-5486, or a member of the Board of Directors or of the Budget and Admissions committee.

Keller pointed out that the Scurry County United Way is not just one agency, but rather thirteen that are united in helping to make it more convenient for people to contribute to their aid by donating once, instead of being asked for 13 donations.

Keller has announced a Board of Directors meeting for 10 a.m. on Thursday, Aug. 8, in the Council Room of City Hall. He sincerely urges that all officers and directors be present.

Board officers are Bassett Keller, president; Ed Mlcak, first vice-president; George Stewart, second vice-president, and James Rosser, treasurer. Cloreece Zimmerman has been serving as temporary secretary.

Other board members are Jack Cummins, Wilma Dillard, Bill Gilliland, Ray Lunsford, Joe Williamson, Mrs. F.G. Sears, Dr. Ben Brock, Bentley Baize, Marlin Terrell and Ken Andress.

Despite The Cease-Fire

By The Associated Press

Fighting raged on today between Turkish soldiers and Greek Cypriot forces despite the cease-fire agreement that was supposed to have taken hold on Cyprus.

Observation flights to map the cease-fire lines on the Mediterranean island also were discontinued following the U.N. Security Council's failure to approve the Geneva accord because of a Soviet veto.

The fighting centered around the town of Lapithos, nine miles west of Kyrenia, and at the edge of an expanding Turkish bridgehead on the island's northern coast.

Shells were exploding constantly on the foothills above Lapithos.

Newsmen who reached the battle area said the Greek Cypriot national guard had retreated to the edge of Lapithos and that firing increased during the morning as Turkish forces moved down the slopes, apparently intending to occupy the town, which is the largest population center of Kyrenia district.

The Turkish attack on Lapithos and neighboring Kravas began Wednesday afternoon and continued during the night.

Greek national guard officers told newsmen that Cypriot commandos attacked the Turkish lines during the night and destroyed several tanks.

Newsmen saw one Turkish tank burning.

Greek Cypriot newspapers that appeared for the first time in two weeks predicted an imminent reshuffle of the cabinet of acting Cyprus President Glafcos Clerides.

The cabinet was inherited by Clerides, the constitutional successor of deposed President Makarios, when he took over the presidency from Nicos Sampson, the ex-guerrilla gunman who acted as president for five days after the bloody coup of July 15.

The cabinet was composed entirely of extreme right-wing supporters of the anti-Makarios underground that favored union with Greece.

The junta has been overthrown in Greece as a result of Makarios' ouster and the Turkish invasion of Cyprus July 20.

In Athens, government sources said Greece's new civilian government is going to reinstate the 1952 constitution, but a referendum will be held to decide whether the country should again become a monarchy.

They said in the interim the republican form of government proclaimed by ousted military dictator George Papadopoulos will remain.

The cease-fire agreement for Cyprus has brought a feeling of letdown to many Turks.

"What kind of war was this?" an Ankara taxi driver asked angrily. "We should have fought a few more days and taken the whole island."

New Gap Disclosed In Tapes

By MARGARET GENTRY
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than five minutes are missing from White House tapes of a Watergate conversation between President Nixon and his two closest advisers at the time the cover-up was unraveling.

Nixon's chief attorney, James D. St. Clair, disclosed the new tape gap in papers submitted on Wednesday to U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica.

The gap occurred because a tape reel ran out midway through a 45-minute meeting between Nixon, H.R. Haldeman and John D. Ehrlichman on April 17, 1973. St. Clair wrote:

"Judging from the notations on the tape boxes, the tape ran out and was replaced in the midst of this conversation," St. Clair said. "A timing of the two segments indicates that approximately five minutes and 12 seconds of conversation were never recorded."

The disclosure was contained in an eight-page index and analysis of the tapes of 20 conversations delivered to Sirica Tuesday in partial compliance with a subpoena for recordings of 64 conversations. Tapes of another 13 sessions are due in court Friday and the others are to be turned over later.

House Vote To Impeach Seen

By JOHN BECKLER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—With House debate on the impeachment question due to start in two weeks, some leading congressmen representing both parties and various political philosophies say President Nixon's chances are poor.

Rep. John M. Ashbrook, R-Ohio, a leading House conservative who supports impeachment, said Wednesday he expects the House to vote to impeach Nixon by nearly a 3-1 margin.

House Republican Whip Leslie Arends, generally considered the Republican congressional leader closest to Nixon, said of Nixon's chances of avoiding impeachment: "I would not tell him it looks good."

House Democratic Leader Thomas P. O'Neill predicted more than 75 per cent of the House members will vote to impeach the President.

O'Neill said no firm counts have been taken but said his discussions with members indicate no more than 38 of the 248 House Democrats and fewer than 80 of the 187 Republicans will support the President on impeachment.

Rep. Joe D. Waggonner, D-La., a strong Nixon supporter, thinks even fewer than 38 Democrats will vote against impeachment, O'Neill said.

And the leader of the unsuccessful Nixon defense in the House Judiciary Committee, Rep. Charles Wiggins, R-Calif., said, "At the moment, I would have to say the odds are that the House would pass them (the articles of impeachment)."

The statements came as the House prepared for debate on the three impeachment articles approved by the Judiciary Committee.

A number of procedural matters have to be settled, such as the length of time for debate, whether the proceedings in the House chamber will be televised and whether the committee's articles will be open for amendment.

Meanwhile, there were these related developments:

—O'Neill, a close friend of Vice President Gerald R. Ford, said Ford is well aware of the possibility that Nixon will be removed from office. That step would require a two-thirds vote in the Senate after a majority vote in the House to impeach the President.

—White House aide Patrick J. Buchanan said the White House was keeping open the option of essentially giving up a fight in the House in order to expedite Senate action. However, a number of House members said this would amount to a cop-out.

—Two senators on a panel studying impeachment rules said they oppose a strict definition of what would be required to convict Nixon in a Senate trial. Sens. Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va., and James Allen, D-Ala., said each senator would make his own judgments by his own standards.

AMPI Fined For Illegal Donations

By BROOKS JACKSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—A federal judge today fined the nation's largest dairy cooperative $35,000 for making illegal corporate campaign donations. He declared "this kind of cavalier violation has got to be put to a stop."

The cooperative, Associated Milk Producers Inc., pleaded guilty before chief U.S. District Judge George L. Hart Jr. today, only one day after the co-op's former general manager, Harold S. Nelson, pleaded guilty to a conspiracy to bribe John B. Connally and to pay more than $300,000 in illegal political donations.

The milk producers' lawyer, Erwin C. Heininger, pleaded with Judge Hart to fine the corporation only $15,000, but the judge imposed the maximum fine on the six-count charge and gave the co-op 20 days to pay.

Heininger argued that Nelson and other officials responsible for making illegal donations no longer are employed by the co-op and that the fine "will have to come out of the pockets of people who are completely innocent"—the co-op's 38,000 dairy farmers.

Nelson admitted on Wednesday that he authorized a payment of $10,000 intended for Connally, a former Texas governor and later Treasury secretary during President Nixon's first term.

Connally, who was indicted on Monday for accepting the $10,000, has said he is innocent and that he will fight the charge.

Nelson, 56, of San Antonio, Tex., pleaded guilty before U.S. District Judge George L. Hart Jr. to charges drawn up by Watergate prosecutors. He faces a maximum penalty of five years in jail and a $10,000 fine.

Nelson admitted that as general manager of Associated Milk Producers Inc., the nation's largest dairy-farmer cooperative, he authorized payment of more than $300,000 to Democrats and Republicans in the elections of 1968, 1970 and 1972.

He also admitted that he had authorized the co-op's former lobbyist, Bob A. Lilly, to give $10,000 to lawyer Jake Jacobsen to pass on to Connally for the Cabinet officer's help in persuading President Nixon to raise federal milk price supports in March 1971. Jacobsen was indicted with Connally on a single bribery charge, and sources say he has agreed to plead guilty and to testify against Connally.

The corporate donations admitted by Nelson include:

—$63,500 to the Democratic National Committee during Hubert H. Humphrey's 1968 presidential campaign.

—$100,000 to repay money given in 1969 to Herbert W. Kalmbach, Nixon's personal lawyer and chief fund-raiser.

—$23,950 to Humphrey's 1970 Senate race.

—$10,000 to the 1970 campaign of former Rep. Page Belcher, R-Okla.

—$5,000 to the 1970 Senate campaign of Phillip Hoff, D-Vt.

—$8,400 to the 1970 Senate campaign of Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine.

8 Indictments By County Grand Jury

Eight criminal indictments were returned against five persons by a Scurry County grand jury yesterday afternoon.

Josie Martinez was indicted on four counts of forgery by passing.

Rush Oliver Gray, Jr. and Leonard C. Heath were indicted for driving while intoxicated second offense.

Johnny Don Claxton was indicted for aggravated assault upon a peace officer.

Frederick Luther Heaton was indicted for forgery by passing.

Briscoe Nixes Special Session

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas faces three pressing problems, says Gov. Dolph Briscoe, but the legislators are too tired for a special session and the regular session begins in less than six months, anyway.

Additional public school financing is needed; salaries need to be raised for state employes; and retirement benefits need to be increased for retired teachers and state employes, Briscoe said late Wednesday.

"I have concluded, however, that the most urgent of these problems can best be met by emergency action in the next regular session of the legislature," he said.

"I have further concluded, reluctantly, that a special session of the legislature at this time would not be practical. To call upon the members of the legislature to reconvene in special session after having met for an exhaustive seven months in a constitutional convention is unrealistic at best."

Briscoe noted the 1975 legislature will convene less than six months from now. He said he would make four recommendations to it:

—An increase of $40 per student in average daily attendance for the maintenance and operation of the public schools, distributed on the same basis that the school districts participate in the Foundation School Fund. Poorer school districts would receive the full $40, and wealthier districts would get less, based upon their taxable wealth.

—A 10 per cent increase in retirement benefits of state employes who retired prior to Aug. 31, 1974.

—A 10 per cent cost of living increase for all state employes, effective Feb. 1, 1975.

"In addition," Briscoe said, "I will present a plan for the comprehensive restructuring of the state system of school finance which will be a dramatic step forward in public education."

Farmer's Market Is Big Success

By WILLIAM C. WERTZ
Associated Press Writer

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Shoppers in this farm belt city are fighting the supermarket syndrome with something new to them, a farmer's market.

Crowds of shoppers swarm every Tuesday around trucks loaded with corn, tomatoes, squash, cucumbers and other produce, buying everything in sight.

"It's amazing," said Dick Myers, a bearded farmer from Middletown. "We can't sell it fast enough."

Springfield started its farmer's market three weeks ago in an effort to lure shoppers to the downtown area and away from the big supermarkets that ring the city.

"We sell sweet corn to the supermarkets, too," said Myers, who farms about 100 acres north of Springfield. "We get about 80 or 90 cents a dozen for corn. Here we sell it retail, about $1 to $1.25 a dozen. But the customer gets it fresh, picked this morning."

Some shoppers grumble about prices, saying they should be lower than in supermarkets. But most are more concerned with freshness and quality.

"The bargain is in the freshness," said Linda Adams of Virdon, who bought a bushel of string beans and sacks of corn and brussels sprouts. "This stuff lies in the stores for days and days. There's a real difference."

So far, there's been only one sour note about the market: The supply lags behind the demand. Some shoppers made special trips downtown, fought the crowd and then found what they wanted was sold out.

"I just wish they'd get some more farmers in here to take some of the pressure off," said Sam McCall, a farmer from Chatham. "Otherwise, this thing is great. We're making money and the people love it."

On the first Tuesday, both Myers and McCall sold out before the market was scheduled to open. Both came back with more produce the second week, but were mobbed by the crowd before they could get their trucks backed into position.

"We'll have more farmers down there in the weeks to come," said Denny Kelley of the Springfield Central Area Development Association.

Kelley said poor weather delayed many crops, but that the project would continue until October.

TV Film Is Set On Life Of Jesus

By HILMI TOROS
Associated Press Writer

ROME (AP) — The Italian and British television producers who are bringing Moses and William Shakespeare to American home screens are going to do the same for Jesus.

RAI, the Italian state television organization, and ITC-ATV, the British commercial production company, estimate they will spend $15 million on "The Life of Jesus," a six-part documentary to be filmed in Israel and North Africa.

The producers expect 200 million viewers in a host of nations. NBC will show the series in the United States in 1976, at Easter.

Franco Zeffirelli, the noted Italian director and designer, will direct. His last attempt at a religious subject, a film on the life of St. Francis of Assisi, flopped with both the critics and the public.

The script will be written by British novelist Anthony Burgess, author of "The Clockwork Orange" and also of the script for the six-part TV series "Moses the Lawgiver," which RAI and ITC-ATV have made with Burt Lancaster as Moses. CBS is to show it in the United States next season.

The third major American network, ABC, has bought the 10-part "Life and Times of William Shakespeare" from the same producers for the 1975-76 season. There is no word of an American buyer for "Mohammed the Messenger," another series now being filmed by the combine.

The cast for "The Life of Jesus" has not been chosen, but shooting is scheduled to start in six months.

"We will attempt to show what happened to Jesus as best we can," Zeffirelli told a news conference.

Burgess, a Roman Catholic who lives in Italy, said he would consult with a panel of religious experts of all faiths but would not be bound to go along with them.

"Ours will be an attempt to show on television the historical reality, the politics of the time, the sun, the sea, the bread, the wine, the fish, the flow of the blood; the reality of the nail and wood of the cross," he said.

Sir Lew Grade, the Jewish head of ITC-ATV, said the series would not have any "specific" leaning but would be aimed at "everybody whatever their creed."

Action On Nuclear Plant

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — A quintet of utilities in power-hungry South Texas has taken another step toward construction of a second nuclear power plant in the region.

City Public Service of San Antonio announced Wednesday it and four other utilities have signed a memorandum of agreement calling for site and feasibility studies for the second plant.

The agreement does not bind any of the utilities to participation in the final stages of the project, the City Public Service announcement said.

Besides City Public Service, the City of Austin, the Lower Colorado River Authority Central Power and Light of Corpus Christi and Houston Lighting and Power Co. signed the study agreement.

Already, City Public Service and the Corpus Christi Houston utilities are participating in the construction of a two-unit nuclear power plant to be completed near Bay City in 1980 for the first unit and 1982 for the second unit.

The proposed plant about which the five utilities have agreed to study would be located somewhere between Austin and San Antonio. Several sites for the second plant, also a two-unit facility, are reported available in either the Guadalupe or Colorado River basins.

City Public Service has agreed to handle the technical work for the second plant.

City Public Service's announcement said construction of the second plant could begin by 1977 and the first unit could be completed by 1988.

Minor Injuries In Auto Mishaps

Six persons received minor injuries in two separate motor vehicle mishaps here yesterday.

Taken to Cogdell Memorial Hospital by Galyean Ambulance Service were Mrs. Homer (Linda) Everton, 2400 Twenty-fifth Street; Nora Lynn Sanchez, 1906 Scott; Angel Rocha; 4, 1906 Scott; and Adela Sanchez, 21, 1906 Scott. In addition, Enrique Rocha, 39, 1906 Scott, was taken to the hospital by private vehicle.

Mrs. Everton was the only one admitted, and her condition is good. She was a passenger in a 1969 Model Ford, driven by her husband, that was involved in a collision with a 1970 Model Fury operated by Connie Ann Wiilliamson, Route 2, Snyder. The mishap occurred at Twenty-sixth Street and Avenue W at 1:05 p.m.

Enrique Rocha was driving a 1964 Model Mercury that was involved in a collision with a 1966 Model Ford pickup driven by Ed Turnley Garnett of Lamesa. The mishap occurred at Avenue E and the East Highway at 9:14 p.m. The other persons who received minor injuries in this mishap were passengers in Rocha's car.

Police also investigated two other mishaps yesterday.

The first one occurred on the parking lot at Munden's Discount Center at 7:16 p.m. Involved were the 1971 Model Ford of Russell Dale Mize, 4503 Galveston, and the parked 1971 Hornet of Connie May Rogers, 212 Elm.

The other one occurred in the 500 block of Twenty-eight Street at 10:57 p.m. Officers said the brakes slippped on the 1965 Model Ford of Isidro V. Rodriguez, 502 Twenty-eighth Street. The vehicle rolled into the 1968 Model Yamaha motorcycle of Bennie Brummett, 1401 Twentieth Street.

Sun Oil In Merger

DALLAS—Sun Oil Co. has announed that a definitive agreement of merger with Calvert Exploration Co. has been signed. The merger of Calvert into a wholly owned subsidiary, Sun Calvert Co., became effective at the close of business Wednesday, July 31.

Sun Oil Co. will issue approximately 347,500 shares of its common stock in exchange for all of the outstanding common stock of Calvert, giving Calvert shareholders one share of Sun common for each 6.47 shares of Calvert common. Sun shares are listed on the New York Stock Exchange and Calvert shares are on the American Stock Exchange.

The shareholders of Calvert approved the merger at a special meeting held in Tulsa on July 19.

Calvert is engaged primarily in the exploration for oil and gas in Oklahoma, Texas and other areas of the lower 48 states. It also engages in contract drilling.

The shares of Sun common stock to be issued were registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission. The Internal Revenue Service has given a ruling that the merger will not result in the recognition of gain or loss for federal income tax purposes to Calvert shareholders except insofar as cash is received by them for fractional shares.

Gold Bill To White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill permitting Americans to buy and sell gold has been sent to the White House by Congress.

The measure, given final approval by the House, would allow the buying and selling of gold as of Dec. 31 if the President finds the transactions would not disrupt the U.S. international monetary position.

This would be the first time since the 1930s that private citizens could conduct gold transactions.

The military command said on Wednesday that Adan, 48, will assume the post this weekend.

During the October fighting, Adan led his tanks into Egypt.

We would especially like to thank the sponsors of the teams who were: West Texas State Bank, Snyder Savings & Loan, Snyder National Bank, R.S. & P., Ezell-Key Feed & Seed Co., Consolidated Tool & Supply Inc., Kiwanis Club, The Western Co., Fluid Transports Inc., Snyder Motor Co., Von Roeder Seed Farms, Tot-2-Teen, Dryden's Shoes, and Payne's Draperies.

We would also like to thank our boosters who were: McAlister Transfer & Storage, Cummins' Dairy Queens, Ken Babcock Co., & Halliburton Services.

We would like to thank KSNY, Snyder Daily News, Snyder Athletic Center, and Scurry County Park Department for their cooperation. The park department, under the direction of Mr. Dyess, kept our field in excellent condition.

We appreciate the success the girls had with the sale of candy. This would not have been possible without cooperation of many generous Snyder people and especially the various merchants who allowed the girls to sell candy at their places of business.

There were approximately 190 girls, ages 8-15, involved in the Miss Softball America program this year. Miss Softball America is a wonderful program for girls, but it is an expensive program, and each year its success will depend, in part, on the continued support of the people of Snyder. We would like to see the program continue to grow and involve more girls each year. The Board of Directors, Miss Softball America, Snyder League, feel this is possible if we receive the same support each year.

Sincerely,
Board of Directors, Miss Softball America
Snyder League

P.S.

The Minor League All Stars would like to say "thanks" to each one who helped support them by attending the State Tournament games and to the people of Abilene who worked so hard making the State Tournament a success.

FRA Closes 67-Miles Of Track

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Railroad Administration, saying track conditions were responsible for two recent Amtrak passenger-train accidents, today ordered 67 miles of Penn Central track closed as unsafe by 8 a.m. Saturday.

The closing of the track, which is scattered along Penn Central's 419-mile main line between Chicago and Louisville, Ky., will mean that two Amtrak trains—the James Whitcomb Riley, which runs between Washington and Chicago, and the Floridian, which runs between Chicago and Florida—will have to be detoured.

It also will mean that several towns, including Indianapolis, will lose all or part of their passenger-train and freight-train service until the track is brought up to federal standards.

The FRA said the track was ordered closed to all passenger and freight trains because an inspection of the roadbed showed 1,329 separate defects.

Missing Girl's Clothes Found

FORT STOCKTON, Tex. (AP) — Pecos County authorities searched today for a 7-year old Fort Stockton girl whose clothes were found five miles south of here Wednesday. The girl, Dessie Holt, has been missing for 14 days.

Deputy Sheriff Mike Hill said the garments were found by a Texas Highway Department field survey crew. They were neatly stacked under a bush and covered with a white towel.

The plaid dress, green shorts, underclothing and blue purse were identified by her parents as those worn by the girl the night of July 19 when she left her house to walk to her sister's home in the same neighborhood.

Hill said the clothes were not torn and there were no signs of blood.

Woman rescues dogs living in "sin"

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1974 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: Now I've heard everything. Some woman out in California was so appalled by animals living in "sin" that she has founded The First Religion For Animals. She recently "married" two poodles, so now I suppose she can sleep better knowing that whatever these dogs do is legal, and therefore respectable.

Abby, do you actually believe that dogs are ashamed of anything they do, and that it makes a difference to them if they are "married" or not?

PUZZLED IN PITTSBURGH

DEAR PUZZLED: A "marriage ceremony" won't mean a thing to a couple of poodles, because dogs are not ashamed of their natural biological urges, which is more than I can say for the lady in California. Her "marrying" the dogs will help HER—not them.

DEAR ABBY: As the mother of two and grandmother of none (so far), may I jump into the "to-have-or-not-to-have-children" issue?

When anyone asks my daughter (who's been married for four years) whether she plans to have any children, she says: "We're not ready for children yet. Children are great, but one you have them, if you find out that motherhood isn't all it's cracked up to be, you can't send 'em back."

I think her attitude is far more realistic than the girls who get all dewy-eyed over tiny babies—until they spit up, wet their diapers and cry all night.

I know. My children were no picnic to raise, and I admire my daughter and others in her generation who are wise enough to do their growing up before they have children of their own to bring up.

MRS. S. IN VA.

DEAR MRS. S.: Right on! Nothing is sadder than seeing children trying to bring up children.

DEAR ABBY: My son is being married. His mother and I have been divorced for two years, after 26 years of marriage. She still hasn't married the loverboy who broke up our home.

I have had no contact with my "ex" since our divorce, and although I've forgiven her, I don't care if I never see her again.

I am informed that Loverboy will be at the wedding. I don't wish to shake hands with either him or her.

Wouldn't it simplify matters if I just stayed away? Any suggestions?

MIDWESTERNITE

DEAR MID: If you want to go to your son's wedding, why let Loverboy keep you away? You needn't shake hands with anyone. Keep a comfortable distance, and if you meet head-on, give them a polite nod, and keep walking.

CONFIDENTIAL TO THOSE READERS WHO CHARGED ME WITH CONSULTING A DOZEN EXPERTS INSTEAD OF A DICTIONARY TO LEARN THE DEFINITION OF THE WORD "NESCIENCE:"

When I came upon the word, whose meaning I did not know, I immediately got out my hernia edition of Webster's New International Dictionary, and looked it up.

I then telephoned a dozen erudite friends, NOT TO LEARN WHAT THE WORD MEANT, BUT TO ASK IF THEY HAD EVER HEARD OF IT.

All were nescient! But after admitting their nescience, each one reached for his dictionary, and looked up the word while still on the telephone.

Am I vindicated?

The Weeders Guide

By EARL ARONSON
AP Newsfeatures

If you were going to plant gourds you should have done so earlier. If you haven't, this, we hope, will lure you to raise a few next year for the pleasure they give.

Because the seeds are large and easy to handle, they make a good crop for youngsters as well as adults. Put the seeds directly into the garden after frost danger is past. The seeds germinate rapidly and the plants grow quickly.

While gourds need considerable space because they grow on vines, they can be raised on a chain-link fence, chicken wire or trellis to save space. Of course, if you live where the seasons are shorter, start plants indoors in April and transplant outdoors in May or June.

You should have a sunny spot and well-drained soil to which some compost has been added. If the soil is too rich you may get much vine and little fruit.

Male and female flowers grow on the same plant. The females may be identified by the immature baby gourd at the base of each flower. When pollinated by an insect carrying pollen from the male flower, the baby gourd will grow quite rapidly.

In late summer and fall the vines produce hard-shelled, odd-shaped gourds, some resembling oranges, pears, bottles and eggs, some with warts and stripes, long-lasting when dried.

If you plant directly into the garden, we suggest hills with about five seeds in each, thinning to three as they grow. Retain plants with different leaves to insure a variety of fruit. Water gourds until they take root, then let nature take its course, unless there is a drought.

Gourds (cucurbitaceae) may be cut at 10 feet to permit plants to produce more fruit-bearing branches. Pruning insures a larger crop.

Enemies include the cucumber beetle and aphids, which may be controlled by dusting or spraying with Rotenone after rainfall. Stop spraying after flowers have formed on vines but you may spread a bit of Rotenone around the plant base. You can prevent decay of gourds by putting a flat board between the ground and gourd.

You can personalize gourds by scratching names or initials on them with a nail when they are young and the skin has not hardened. Where the skin is scratched, the gourd will form a scab and as it grows the name will beome "engraved," growing bigger as the gourd grows. We used to do this with pumpkins so that at Halloween each of our children had a personalized pumpkin. We did this also with Blue Hubbard and other winter-keeping squash.

Arthritis strikes one out of every ten Americans, and one out of four families.

Women 'Resort' To Classics

FORGOTTEN—Fashion for the woman who isn't attracted to fads updates the classic look for the full, womanly figure. Understated but chic is the theme for clothing manufactured in Europe but designed in the United States. For resort wear—and into spring and summer—the packable polyester knit skirt in greens touched with purple on a black ground shows Oriental influence. The softly draped top, left, is color-keyed in green. Looking neat without being contrived starts with cuffed polyester doubleknit slacks, worn with a long-sleeved turtleneck topped by a navy and white check man-tailored shirt jacket, second from left. Shipboard evenings are brighter in a Delft blue evening skirt with a blue and white long sleeved uneven-dot print, second from right. A dressed-up look for the busy woman is classic and casual in pleated polyester knit shirt topped by a white turtleneck and sea-going blazer to match the skirt. All fashions are from Hooper Associates.

The Rebels posted a respectable 9-1 record during regular season play.

"Real Headway" Made In Grid Strike Talks

By TOM SEPPY
AP Sports Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Negotiations toward ending the 32-day-old National Football League player strike made their first real headway Wednesday, as chief federal mediator W.J. Usery supervised nearly 14 hours of discussions.

The talks, which began at 10 a.m., EDT, and paused only for a two-hour lunch break, were recessed at 1:50 a.m., EDT, today.

"There comes a point when it's best to break it off, and I thought it was the best time now," a tired Usery said.

The groups were to return to the bargaining table at 2 p.m., EDT, this afternoon.

Usery would not elaborate on progress made in the session, during which he had met separately with representatives of the NFL Players Association and NFL Management Council. The groups held face-to-face discussions for only one hour and 45 minutes.

"We have been talking on all the issues—we've been talking long and hard," said Usery. "The logic is that now that we've got them talking, there's a chance to consummate an agreement.

"We had suggestions back and forth. When you go back and forth, you don't know where you stand."

But apparent progress had not been made. Usery later told newsmen that "substantive issues had been discussed."

The statement apparently referred to the "freedom issues" which created the bargaining stalemate and led to the player strike that started July 1.

Today's talks marked the third consecutive day of negotiaions, which were resumed after nine days of silence. Sources predicted today's session might go around the clock in an effort to reach an agreement.

Neither group would comment on Wednesday's meetings.

It was understood that the NFLPA had not presented a counterproposal to the freedom demands, a condition considered necessary for serious bargaining. A source close to the strike talks said Usery's goal was to persuade each side to consider proposals that would neither be totally accepted nor rejected outright.

Reportedly, the joint sessions centered on revised economic conditions made by the players, who were accompanied by an actuary.

Meanwhile, the striking players received a boost from their working brothers on the baseball field.

Marvin Miller, executive director of the Major League Baseball Players Association, voiced his support for the football union and charged NFL owners with a failure to bargain in good faith.

But the NFL players' picket line continues to display gaps.

Nearly 270 veterans, including 75 starters, have crossed the line. The latest dissenters from the position taken by the 1,200-member union were kicker Garo Yepremian, linebacker Mike Kolen and defensive back Tim Foley of Miami; safety Jack Mildren and linebacker Bob Geddes of New England; defensive tackle John Little of the New York Jets, and linebacker Don Rives of Chicago.

In another development, veteran tackle Steve Chomyszak was traded by the Cincinnati Bengals to the Buffalo Bills in exchange for a late round draft choice.

Houston Defeats Blazers, 7-6

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer

Jim Corcoran re-established himself as King of the Hill.

Matthew Reed made another successful appearance as a pretender to the throne.

And Jefferson Davis very nearly became a knight in shining armor.

"King" Corcoran passed for a pair of touchdowns to lead the Philadelphia Bell to a 25-7 swamping of Portland.

Reed once again took over for injured quarterback George Mira and swept into the end zone with about two minutes to play, giving Birmingham a 21-18 victory over Detroit.

And Davis, a reserve running back, rushed into the breach when Jacksonville's two quarterbacks were knocked out of action—but couldn't quite pull off a miracle and the New York Stars held on for a 24-16 victory over the Sharks.

In Wednesday night's other World Football League game, Houston's offense finally scored a touchdown of its very own—barely—and the Texans eked out a 7-6 victory over Florida, handing the Blazers their first setback. In tonight's nationally televised game, the Southern California Sun plays the Southmen in Memphis.

Corcoran, who heaved two touchdowns in the Bell's 33-8 romp over the Storm three weeks ago, flipped two this time to rookie tight end LeVell Hill, a three-yarder midway in the second period and an 11-yarder early in the final quarter.

John Land's 31-yard run and Richard Szaro's 40-yard field goal, both late in the first half, put the game away for the Bell.

Americans 21, Wheels 18

Reed, a rookie who had taken over a week ago for Mira and thrown two touchdown passes in Birmingham's 58-33 rout of Memphis, became the Americans' starter against Detroit. And he scored on a nine-yard sweep with 2:12 remaining night to keep them unbeaten and the Wheels winless.

Stars 24, Sharks 16

Kay Stephenson, Jacksonville's starting quarterback, and No. 2 passer Kim Hammond were knocked out of commission within two plays just as the fourth period began, Stephenson with torn knee cartilege and Hammond with a concussion.

As Coach Bud Asher was mulling over his dilemma, Davis, a reserve running back, asked to be put in. He nearly did the job. He marched the Sharks to the New York eight-yard line with about two minutes to play.

On third down, he fired a perfect pass to wide receiver Tony Lomax on the goal line. But the official ruled Lomax had stepped out of bounds. His next pass was intercepted.

Texans 7, Blazers 6

Until Wednesday night, Houston's offense hadn't come close to scoring a touchdown. The defense came within one yard of keeping that dubious record intact.

Daryl Johnson had provided the Texans with their only touchdown of the season with a 57-yard interception run.

Against Florida, John Mallory ran 59 yards with an interception in the opening minutes. On the next play, Jim Nance swept around left end for the touchdown. The defense held the Eastern Division-leading Blazers to two field goals.

Panick Hurls Three-Hitter

By The Associated Press

Righthander Frank Panick pitched a three-hitter as the El Paso Diablos defeated Amarillo 5-1 in a Texas League game Wednesday night.

In other games Midland rolled over San Antonio 15-9, Alexandria beat Shreveport 4-1 and Arkansas squeezed past Victoria 2-1.

Panick struck out six and walked two. He lost a shutout in the seventh inning when Mike Minster hit his 20th homer of the season. Mike Miley blasted a three-run homer in the fifth inning, when El Paso scored all its runs. The victory stretched the Diablos' lead in the Western Division to nine games.

Arkansas stayed close to Victoria in the Eastern Division with its victory narrowing the gap to 3½ games. The winning run came in the eighth inning when Tom Zimmer singled home Larry Herndon.

Midland collected 17 hits, including a grand slam homer by Ken Pape in the second inning as it demolished San Antonio in a Western Division game. Don Schroeder, now 8-7, was the winning pitcher.. Wayne Allen hurled a three-hitter for Alexandria as the Aces defeated Shreveport. Mike Ivie had a solo homer for the winners in the fourth inning.

Tonight Amarillo is at Midland, El Paso at San Antonio, Alexandria at Victoria and Arkansas at Shreveport.

North All-Stars Beat South 85-77

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ
AP Sports Writer

HOUSTON (AP) — The South was about to rise in the Texas High School Coaches Association (THSCA) all-star basketball game Wednesday night when Gary Goodner and Larry Harris led a cavalry charge that turned back the Rebels.

Goodner scored nine points in the last 4:30 of the fourth quarter and Harris, hobbled most of the game by three fouls, scored six points in an overtime to lead the taller and favored North to an 85-77 victory.

"We had six or eight workouts to get it together and we did," said Goodner, a University of Texas-bound star from Denton, who finished with a game-high 22 points and shared the most valuable player award with two others.

"They (South players) started getting second and third shots and moving our big men outside. But we just made up our minds that we were going to turn it around and we did," Goodner added.

It was the South that turned it around first, after trailing virtually the entire game until Arthur Edwards' tip-in gave the South the lead 59-58 for the first time with 6:30 left.

Goodner, who helped Denton advance to the Class 4A semi-finals last season, scored nine of the North's last 13 points in regulation play, including a bucket with nine seconds to go for a 73-71 lead.

The South quickly worked the ball down court and Edwards pushed in a basket at the buzzer to force only the second overtime game in the all-star classic's history.

Harris, who led Dallas South Oak Cliff last season to the Class 4A finals where it lost to Houston Kashmere, drew three fouls in the first three minutes of the game. He also got into early foul trouble in the state title game.

"The first thing I thought about was 'This is the state championship game all over again,'" Harris said. "However, Coach (Jim) Cagle told me not to let it bother me and I made up my mind that when I got back in I would play like I had no fouls on me."

Harris' philosophy paid off in the overtime. He scored the first North basket and, after Goodner put the Yanks ahead for good at 3:26, Harris scored two more baskets to ice it.

Goodner, teammate Fred Mitchell of Amarillo Palo Duro and the South's David Buchanan of Clear Lake shared the most valuable player award.

Mitchell scored 17 points and got 11 rebounds, and Harris finished with 16 points for the South. Buchanan was the South's leading scorer with 15 points and Dennis Tealer of Gonzales added 14.

A crowd of 8,500 attended the game in the University of Houston's Hofheinz Pavilion.

WTC Gets Woman Cage Star

Another outstanding area player has been signed for the fledging women's basketball program at Western Texas College, Dr. Sid Simpson, athletic director and women's basketball coach, announced today.

Marilyn Payton, star forward for Cooper High School of Lubbock, has signed a schoiarship agreement with the Snyder college.

Miss Payton brings some impressive credentials with her. She was all-district for four years and made all-regional in 1971-72. She scored 2,735 career points while shooting at a rate of 57 per cent from the field. Her best single season was 1972-73 when she scored 876 points. Her most outstanding single game output was 53 points. She collected 372 career rebounds and 364 assists.

Marilyn played on a district championship team in 1970-71 and in 1971-72 Cooper also won district and bi-district titles.

"We are very glad to have Marilyn become a member of our first team in WTC's history. She is a fine young woman and a gifted athlete. I am sure she will make a great contribution to WTC both as a student and an athlete," Dr. Simpson commented.

Marilyn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Zack Payton of Route 6, Lubbock. She is undecided on a major course of study at the present and plans to pursue the standard Liberal Arts curriculum while deciding her future course.

"WTC has now signed eight outstanding women and has commitments from several others," Dr. Simpson says. "I am just waiting to receive photos and career statistics before releasing stories on them. We have several players who played in the all-star game at Brownwood plus some outstanding area players."

McCafferty Was Players' Coach

TIMONIUM, Md. (AP) — Don McCafferty's low-key approach in a rough and tough sport won him respect and admiration as a "players' coach."

The tremendous outpouring of past and present football players at McCafferty's funeral Wednesday was a clear indication of how they felt about the man once described as "The Easy Rider."

That was the tag hung on McCafferty when, in his rookie season as a National Football League coach in 1970, he guided the Baltimore Colts to the Super Bowl championship.

Many of those same players were outspoken when McCafferty was fired two years later. They were shocked then, and they were shocked Sunday when a heart attack took McCafferty's life at 53.

McCafferty, who spent 14 years with the Colts, was preparing for his second season as head coach of the Detroit Lions when he was stricken in Birmingham, Mich.

He was buried Wednesday at Dulaney Valley Memorial Gardens, not far from where he lived during his stint with the Colts.

Dick Bielski, a McCafferty assistant in Baltimore, held back tears as he attended memorial services at Timonium Methodist Church and then at the gravesite. He was not alone.

Among the several hundred persons on hand were NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle, owner Art Rooney of the Pittsburgh Steelers and owner Carroll Rosenbloom of the Los Angeles Rams—who gave McCafferty the head coaching job with the Colts.

Rick Forzano, named to take over the Lions, and the remainder of McCafferty's staff at Detroit served as pallbearers.

Corporate Management Not Accepting Blame

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Corporate management is becoming less and less willing to accept blame from shareholders and others about the depressed price of most shares in American industry.

The latest to speak out was the chairman of Sperry Rand Corp., J. Paul Lyet, who blamed the declining price of his stock on economic mishandling by the federal government.

Earlier critics have blamed what they consider unfairly high capital gains taxes that discourage trading, investment advisers who concentrate on only a handful of stocks and ignore the rest, and the big investment institutions.

Lyet told shareholders at the annual meeting this week that the depression in securities prices is merely the extension of an economic malaise resulting from governmental acts of omission or commission.

Moreover, he suggested that powerful as they are financially, corporations lack political clout in Washington because of their inability to deliver votes.

In recent annual meetings, most of which are now concluded, corporate officers bore the brunt of shareholder criticism of share prices, the majority of which are at or just above book value.

While many of them could show solid profits, improving growth prospects and other indications of progress, they had to concede their inability to promote the image and aura that encourages investors.

To a great extent the problem appears to lie in high interest rates, which not only draw money away from equities and into debt securities, such as bonds, but which add greatly to the cost of doing business.

Some businessmen also detect a sense of fear or a lack of interest on the part of investors in making long-range plans, an attitude they tend to associate with a Watergate-induced malaise.

Junior Editors' Quiz on JUDAS TREES

QUESTION: Where does the Judas Tree come from?

* * *

ANSWER: Redbud or Judas Tree is the common name for Cercis, a type of deciduous trees and shrubs belonging to the pea family. There are various species native to Asia, Europe and to the United States. According to tradition, an Old World species of redbud was the tree on which Judas hanged himself.

Judas Trees grow wild in the forest and are also cultivated as ornamentals around the home. In the early spring, they are covered with purple-red flowers. They put on a brilliant show of flowers before the leaves appear. The flowers spring out from twigs, main branches and sometimes from the trunk. The leaves are thin, heart-shaped and turn bright yellow in the fall. The fruit is a pale green bean-like pod that becomes rose-colored in the late summer. The wood of the tree has a beautiful black-veined design. In the eastern United States, the Judas Tree blooms about the same time as dogwood. At a distance, it may be mistaken for a peach tree in bloom.

TV Games Schedule Unchanged

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The three TV networks, electronic eyes steady and microphones ready, say their annual pro football blitz will start on schedule this month, even if some of the best-known players don't.

The 32-day-old NFL players' strike still is under way and less than 2½ weeks remain before the start of preseason play, a Cincinnati Bengals-Atlanta Falcons joust NBC will televise on Aug. 17.

Even if the strike isn't over by then, ABC, NBC and CBS officials say, there still are no current plans to drop any games from the three-network schedule of 196 games, from preseason to Pro Bowl.

The only uncertain note is sounded by a spokesman for ABC Sports President Roone Arledge, whose network has 18 pro games—including the Jan. 20 Pro Bowl in Miami—coming up this season.

Asked if ABC might not televise several of the early games if the strike doesn't end, the spokesman replied: "That's a hard question, because we've talked about that and really haven't made a decision."

But he emphasized that as of now, ABC's schedule remains unchanged.

As if ABC doesn't have enough to worry about, its "NFL Monday Night Football" opener on Aug. 19 will, for the first time in its history, be competing against NBC's "Monday Night Baseball" game.

At CBS, and NBC, each facing an 89-game schedule, the official word is that no games will be dropped, even if the strike continues.

The year's pro football package is costing the networks in excess of $52 million.

Industry sources say ABC, whose games are in costly prime evening time, is charging national advertisers an average of $100,000 per minute for its preseason and regular season games.

The preseason tab at CBS and NBC is $60,000 and $49,000 a minute, respectively, sources say. The networks, which decline to say what prices they're charging, each plan to air three preseason games.

Inflation Hits Commissary Too

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — The Army's Ft. Sam Houston commissary building is pre-World War II vintage, the canned goods on the shelves are still in delivery cartons and the lines are often long at the check-out counters.

But to military personnel, their dependents and retired veterans, the price is right at the commissary.

An Associated Press survey in this military community shows inflation is no stranger to the commissary. Prices on a 10-item shoppers' list have increased in the past year at the military grocery just slightly less than they have at a civilian supermarket.

Officials at Ft. Sam Houston's commissary, which handles between 65,000 and 90,000 transactions monthly, said they have noticed an increase in business which may be attributed to the fight against inflation. But they cannot positively say the increase means some marginal customers are surrendering the convenience of the civilian stores for the low prices at the commissary.

The AP surveyed prices at the Ft. Sam Houston Commissary and a store in the Handy Andy chain, avoiding advertised specials and using name brands.

In 1973, the 10 items cost $6.54 at the commissary, including the three per cent Army surcharge figured in at the check-out stand. Handy Andy's total price in 1973 for the same items was $7.46, about 14 per cent higher, according to a Handy Andy spokesman's figures.

The same items now cost $8.36 at the commissary and $9.73 at Handy Andy. In a year's time, the commissary's prices have risen 28 per cent and Handy Angy's 30 per cent. Now, the commissary's prices are about 16 per cent lower than Handy Andy's.

The 10 items checked were ground beef, eggs, milk, butter, bread, canned peas, sugar, mayonnaise, Coca-Cola, and coffee.

Rep. Bond May Enter Several

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — State Rep. Julian Bond said Tuesday he may enter several Democratic presidential primaries in 1976.

"It's presently an idea and just that," Bond said.

The Atlanta Constitution quoted sources as saying Bond hopes to win enough support in the primaries to gain bargaining strength at the 1976 Democratic National Convention.

PAUL NEWMAN who seemed to have successfully combined his superstar image with that of a good family man, was reportedly fit to be tied when his 23-year-old son, Scott, got in trouble with the law recently to the tune of a $1000 fine and a two-year sentence (later suspended) for kicking a policeman who was attempting to arrest him for drunkeness. In addition, Newman's son had to pay out another $1000 to the cop he assaulted.

During his struggling-young-actor days, JASON ROBARDS once worked for a "people stretcher" in New York. He describes it as a torture chamber where men came to be put on a table and stretched with wheel and crank to come out an inch or two taller. In a few days they were back down to normal height but they had so many repeat customers Jason began to wonder if some were there to get stretched or because they enjoyed the pain. The city finally closed the place down and Jason went on to a more dignified job. He worked in the sewers under Manhattan.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q. I'll probably sell my home at a profit and have to report it as a capital gain. Is there any way I can reduce the amount subject to tax by having the buyer pay me in installments?

A. Yes. The installment method may be used for reporting profits on the sale of real estate when the buyer agrees to make two or more payments in two or more of the sellers's tax years. The installment method may not be used if the collections, if any, in the year of sale exceed 30 percent of the selling price. However, a sale may be reported on the installment method even though no payments are made in the year of sale.

For more information, see IRS Publication 537, "Installment and Deferred-Payment Sales." It's available free from your IRS office.

Q. On my doctor's advice, I installed an air-conditioner in my room to relieve difficulty in breathing due to an allergy. Is the cost of the air-conditioner a deductible medical expense?

A. Yes. The cost of the air-conditioner plus operating expenses less any resale or salvage value constitute a medical expense provided that the need for it is substantiated by proof that the air-conditioner is used primarily for the alleviation of a person's illness, it does not become a permanent part of the dwelling and it may be removed to other quarters.

Q. Would it make any difference for purposes of claiming my son as a dependent whether I paid his college tuition or he did?

A. Yes. Tuition payments are included in total support for determining whether or not you furnished more than half and are thus entitled to claim your son as a dependent. If your son pays the tuition, it is included in the amount of total support furnished by him; if you pay it, the tuition payments are included in total support furnished by you.

Q. Is it true that a student can be exempt from income tax withholding?

A. Yes Students and other individuals are exempt from withholding if they did not owe tax last year, expect to owe none in 1974, and have filed a Withholding Exemption Certificate (Form W-4E) with their employer.

However, if tax has already been withheld this year, the taxpayer must file a return next year to have it refunded.

Wallace Comments On Proceedings

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)— Gov. George C. Wallace says "it would be a traumatic experience for the nation to have a president impeached."

But Wallace added, in his first public comment on the impeachment proceedings, he doesn't mean to imply that he thinks the impeachment process should be abandoned.

"I just wish the things they are charging President Nixon with had never happened," he said.

Convention Spent And Saved

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Constitutional Convention spent $3.2 million and is returning $150,000 to the general revenue fund, says Price Daniel Jr., convention president.

Part of the saving cames from printing only 500 sets of the transcript of debate on the convention floor. Had the convention agreed upon a document, 1,500 to 2,000 sets would have been printed.

The 190 chairs and desks made especially for the convention will be divided two-thirds to the House and one-third to the Senate.

The House will use some of its chairs to furnish a hearing room. The Senate does not know what it will do with its chairs.

Neither has a decision been made on what to do with surplus covers that were intended for a convention brochure. Delegates used some of these to collect signatures of fellow delegates, school-yearbook style.

Also left over are copies of an over-simplified booklet explaining the convention to elementary school children. These were dubbed "coloring books" by Rep. Billy Williamson, D-Tyler.

The PermaLife paper donated by a Virginia paper company was almost entirely used up Tuesday in printing the five resolutions considered most likely to win approval.

Convention secretary Charles Schnable said he might take this paper home and make coloring books from it.

Rep. Ben Grant, D-Marshall, who rode a horse to the convention in January to dramatize the need to replace the 1876 "horse and buggy" constitution, had different plans for his return home.

"I feel like crawling back on my hands and knees to show my penance for belonging to this thing," he said. Then he said he would drive home in his car "and cry a lot."

Strauss Defends Connally

WASHINGTON (AP) — National Democratic party chairman Robert Strauss says he is still a close friend of indicted former Secretary of the Treasury John Connally and has never known him to do anything dishonorable.

Strauss made the remark Wednesday, saying he had received numerous queries about his relationship with the former Texas governor who bolted the Democratic party last year.

Connally was indicted Monday on charges of perjury, accepting a bribe and obstructing justice in the milk scandal case.

Strauss and Connally are both Texans whose political roots grew out of that state's Democratic policies.

"So the record may be absolutely clear," Strauss said, "I would like to say that John Connally and I are close personal friends, our wives and children have a similar relationship and it has been this way through all our years.

"Until recently John and I were close political associates.

"During our entire relationship I have never known him to do a dishonorable deed. I have always had great pride in our relationship and I trust he feels the same."

In the 1972 presidential campaign, Connally bolted the party to head the Democrats for Nixon organization and competed with Strauss, who was raising funds for Democratic candidates. After President Nixon's re-election, Connally formally switched to the Republican party.

Connally's indictment earlier this week stemmed from contributions by major milk producer groups to the Nixon campaign and increases in the government support price for milk.

Food Naturalist Explains Ulcer

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Euell T. Gibbons, author of "Stalking the Wild Asparagus" and one of the nation's best-known advocates of natural foods, has an ulcer.

It's not that he's been eating too many dandelion greens or drinking too much sassafras tea, the 63-year-old Gibbons hastened to explain after disclosing his ailment on Tuesday.

Farm Prices Rise In July

By DON KENDALL
AP Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Grain and meat animal prices on the farm jumped sharply during the month ended July 15 and are once again putting pressure on consumer food costs.

Over-all, the Agriculture Department said Wednesday, prices farmers get for raw products averaged 6 per cent higher than they did a month before on June 15.

Although corn prices soared to a new peak and wheat climbed again, the high-livestock prices could be felt soonest in the consumer market. Grains, basically, take longer to be converted into supermarket foods.

Cattle prices, which had slumped for month, averaged $35 per 100 pounds of live weight at mid-month. Although up $2.70 from June 15, the average was still far below the record of $51.70 last August.

Hog prices jumped the most during the month, rising $11 to $34.50 per hundredweight in mid-July. Last summer hogs hit a peak of $56.50 at the farm.

Despite declines for sheep and lambs, the department's price index for all meat animals was up 16 per cent from mid-June. However, it was 21 per cent below the July 15 level last year. Meat accounts for nearly one-third of family food spending.

Corn prices, prompted by severe dry weather and prospects for a reduced harvest next fall, soared to a record $2.91 per bushel at the farm, up from $2.57 in June and the previous high of $2.76 per bushel last February. Wheat rose to an average farm price nationally of $4.04 per bushel from $3.57 in June. The record was set at $5.52 per bushel last February.

In another report Wednesday USDA said the wheat price outlook is uncertain.

"Normally, a bountiful crop depresses prices at harvest but that has not happened so far this season," the department's Outlook and Situation Board said.

"Farmers have not marketed as much of the early harvest as usual and with market supplies tight and prospects declining for feed grains early season buying has pushed prices up sharply," the board said.

The over-all farm price increase from June 15 to July 15 was the first since last February. The index then declined for four consecutive months. But despite the higher level on July 15 the index was only 1 per cent above its mark on the same date last year, the department said.

Not all commodities showed increases from June to July. Prices for milk, cotton, peaches and dry beans led those which declined, the report said. The dairy price index, for example, dropped five per cent during the month, while the fruit price index declined 12 per cent from mid-June.

Tiger Has Cataract Surgery

CHICAGO (AP) — A 10-month-old Siberian tiger has undergone cataract surgery, just like humans, more or less.

The 169-pound animal was strapped on his back to a table on Wednesday, draped with gray surgical sheets and thoroughly anesthetized—very thoroughly anesthetized.

The tiger lives at Lincoln Park Zoo and is one of a few hundred of the endangered species remaining in the wild and in captivity.

After being sedated, he was taken—like his brother in January—to the University of Illinois medical center, where a team of doctors and nurses awaited him.

Surgery was delayed more than an hour because the medical team had trouble finding a vein in which to inject the anesthetic.

After that, everything went smoothly, with the tiger only occasionally twitching a paw or breathing heavily.

Dr. Edward Cotlier, professor of ophthamology at the university, operated first on the left eye. Then Dr. Samuel J. Vainisi, a Green Bay, Wis., veterinarian, operated on the right eye.

All the while, Dr. Barbara Stein, also a veterinarian, listened to the tiger's heart through her stethoscope and felt his pulse while anesthetic dripped into a vein in the right hind leg.

Vainisi explained the operation, which could be seen on a television screen as it proceeded.

The doctors looked through magnifying lenses as they did their work, first making a tiny incision in the eye, then injecting an instrument to remove the cataract.

The actual removal took only about six minutes for each eye.

The unnamed tiger will be fitted with a big projecting collar so he cannot scratch his eyes while they are healing. His keepers will have to put drops in his eyes three or four times a day for several weeks to aid in the healing.

Dr. Erich R. Maschgan, a Lincoln Park Zoo veterinarian, said the animal had lost 90 per cent of his vision before surgery and had difficulty even finding his food.

Showers Tease Texas

By The Associated Press

Teasing showers again spattered parts of Texas during the night and early today, but moisture amounts were distressingly slight.

There were even a few thunderstorms, mostly in the north edge of the Texas Panhandle, and a tornado spun down about five miles southwest of Alice in extreme South Texas late Wednesday. the twister was blamed for minor property damage but no injuries occurred.

By this morning the showers were confined largely to areas in the Panhandle-Plains sector, farther around Junction and San Angelo, and from around Galveston eastward over the Gulf of Mexico. Occasional fog hung low around Houston, Beaumont and Port Arthur.

Temperatures near dawn ranged from 64 degrees at Dahlart and 66 at Amarillo in the Panhandle up to 79 at Del Rio on the mexican border and 80 at Galveston on the coast.

Top marks Wednesday afternoon went as high as 101 at Laredo. The coolest stations with a maximum of 85 were Lubbock and Texarkana.

Partly cloudy and rather warm weather were forecast for all parts of the state along with more scattered thundershowers by evening.
