Neutrals Seek Solution To Berlin Crisis

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER
Associated Press Staff Writer

PARIS, Oct. 14.—The Security Council's neutral nations tonight pushed last-minute efforts to uncover a solution to the Berlin crisis acceptable to the East and West.

Council President Juan A. Bramuglia told newsmen he still thinks there is a chance the six neutrals he speaks for will find a solution of their own "just and acceptable" to Russia and the western powers.

Western delegates met for hours in secret session on the eve of renewed council debate on Berlin. Authoritative sources said they still were waiting for the neutrals to come through with a plan. The Russians also were reported to be showing keen interest in off-the-floor maneuvering.

Cards On Table

The council meets tomorrow at 3 p. m. (8 a. m. CST).

Bramuglia, Argentine foreign minister, admitted the Berlin question was right back where it started in the council with both sides maintaining "their known positions." But he insisted that with all the cards on the table, the neutrals—Argentina, Belgium, Canada, China, Syria and Colombia—now may come up with an answer.

Informed sources said the neutrals were expected to ask a series of questions at the council meeting in efforts to clear up some points in the western case. The answers they get may cement a resolution.

The United States, Britain and France have charged Russia with threatening world peace by the Berlin blockade and want the council to end it. Russia insists there is no blockade and the whole German problem should go before the four-power council of foreign ministers.

Arms Slashing Studied

Andrei Y. Vishinsky, fiery Soviet deputy foreign minister, is boycotting council discussions but he attends the meetings and is expected to veto any resolution which goes against the Soviet point of view.

While the corridor talks were under way, these developments took place on the floor:

LONDON, Oct. 14—British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin accused the Russians today of Czarist imperialism and demanded that they stay on their own side "of the garden wall."

In an address before the National Union of Manufacturers, Bevin branded the Russians as "expansionists" and said they "are the last of the imperial races—as imperialist as the czar ever was."

Russians Warned

Referring to the western powers' joint-move in sending the Berlin blockade issue to the United Nations Security Council, Bevin declared:

"The aggressive attitude (of Russia) which had become more pronounced still went on and we had to arrest it in our own defense."

In sounding a warning to the Soviet Union against aggression, Bevin said that Britain has "no desire to upset their system, but we must resist any attempt on their part to destroy our liberties."

He added:

"If we cannot fix an agreement with our neighbors, at least let them keep over on their side of the garden wall. I do not advocate any interference, but equally if they seek to disturb us then they must not be annoyed if we are upset at their intervention and defend ourselves."

Peace Possibilities Discussed

Bevin dealt with the question of whether the Soviet eastern sphere and the western bloc can live together in peace, declaring:

"The issue that has to be settled is: 'Can we live together?' What areas do they want to live in? What is the extent of their ambition? Where do they want to go?"

The British leader in stressing that Britain has "ceased to be an imperialistic race," outlined the new role of the British commonwealth in world affairs. He said:

"We occupy a great balancing factor between East and West... It may provide the correct equipoise and the correct equilibrium for the maintenance of peace and prosperity of the world.

"The key to whether we shall have peace for a hundred years lies in the great problem of the Indian ocean—the Middle East, Pakistan, India and Ceylon."

Clay Believes Stand In Berlin Will Break Soviet Domination

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, Oct. 14—Gen Lucius D. Clay was reported tonight to have said in a private talk recently that a firm stand by the western powers in Berlin can lead to the breakup of Soviet domination in eastern Europe.

A responsible source close to the American commander in Germany made public a speech in which Clay gave his views on the future of the Berlin crisis.

The talk was delivered privately to delegates of the British parliamentary conference who visited Berlin Sept. 28.

Sought To Buy Food

Clay disclosed then that the western powers tried to buy food from Poland and Czechoslovakia for the besieged German capital, but this was blocked by Russia.

Clay expressed belief lasting peace in Europe could be reached if the western powers refused to yield to the Soviet Union.

"Soviet expansion will not only be halted," he said, "it will recede."

He brought up the Soviet

$1,000,000 Program Planned For City

By H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche Staff Writer

PLANS looking toward more than $1,000,000 worth of additional public improvements in Lubbock were set in motion at the semi-monthly meeting of the city commission in the city hall Thursday afternoon.

The projects include approximately 45 additional blocks of street paving intended for completion next summer; additional sewage lines estimated to cost about $169,000, and an extension of Nineteenth street from Texas avenue to the intersection with East Broadway, a distance about one and one-half miles.

$466,000 Is Allocated

The State Highway department has allocated $466,000 for the Nineteenth street project, the commission was advised by S. C. McCarty, district engineer. But the city and county must provide the necessary right-of-way.

Officials said there is no way to estimate what the right-of-way cost may be, but Mayor W. H. Rodgers expressed confidence that the job will be done. He and Commissioners John Spikes and Clarence Whiteside directed City Manager Marlin R. Smith, jr., to start the wheels in motion. Commissioners E. K. Hufstedler, jr., and W. B. Price were not present at the meeting.

Streets Okayed For Paving

The additional streets which were approved for paving on the recommendation of City Engineer R. L. Oldham are:

First from U to Uvalde; Second from Vernon to College; Third from U to Vernon; Twenty-sixth from Monroe to Polk; Thirty-first from Adams to Jefferson, from Sunshine addition to U. S. 87 and from Monroe to Van Buren; Thirty-second from P to Q; C from Fourth to Main; L from Fourth to Seventh; O from Fourth to Sixth; Jackson from Twenty-sixth to Twenty-eighth; Jefferson from College View addition to Thirty-second; Main from A to C; Monroe from Twenty-ninth to Thirty-third; and Waco from Sanders to Fourth.

The paving, which is to be done by the city, is in addition to the 70 blocks let under private contract recently, and also scheduled for completion next summer.

115 Blocks To Be Paved

The aggregate of 115 blocks, or more than 10 miles, will be the largest paving project, officials were advised, ever to be undertaken in any city in West Texas.

The sewage lines, for which the city engineer was authorized to prepare detailed specifications, will serve areas of Lubbock west and south of Fourteenth street. Existing lines in those areas have been heavily overloaded, especially during the past summer.

Members of the commission agreed there is need for a fire

1948 Fair May Show Profit Of $10,000

The Panhandle-South Plains fair this year will wind up with a profit of approximately $10,000, A. B. Davis, manager, told directors of the association in a meeting held Thursday afternoon.

All fair profits are "plowed back" into the exhibition and hopes are that this year's profits and last year's will be sufficient to assure construction of at least one new building before the 1949 fair opens next Fall.

Exact profit will not be known until all bills are in and paid, Davis said, and until a certified public accountant completes the annual audit.

The directors ordered Manager Davis to employ C. J. Brasher, a certified public accountant, to make the annual audit. Davis said he would ask Brasher to do the auditing at his earliest convenience, probably beginning sometime next week.

The board congratulated the manager and staff on the fair, which generally was characterized by fair week patrons and exhibitors as "the best-rounded fair in the 31-year history of the event."

Present at the meeting were Directors Neil H. Wright, jr., S. C. Wilson, Joe Baldridge, C. E. Maedgen, sr., and Chas. A. Guy. Absent were Walker Stanton, Lennis Baker, Chas. L. Adams, sr., and Homer D. Grant.

Cotton Conference Visitors Honored

ASSERTING that industry has found the South magnificently endowed for industrial pursuits, and the South therefore can anticipate industrial expansion, Frank Ahlgren, editor of the Memphis (Tenn.) Commercial Appeal, told the approximately 400 attending the mechanization conference banquet last night that "the time is now for leadership to assert itself, to regain for the South the place of emminence that is its heritage."

Speaking to industrial and agricultural leaders from all parts of the nation, but directing his remarks mainly to many leaders in the South who are attending the conference, Ahlgren set out that "if we falter now, in the face of great opportunity and conversely, the threat that agricultural displacement poses, then well may we be damned by the succeeding generations whose birthright we will have forfeited through lack of courage and vision."

Crowd Overflows Ballroom

Speaking to a crowd that overflowed the East ballroom of the Hotel Lubbock and almost filled the North ballroom, Ahlgren's address climaxed a crowded program on the opening day of the three-day conference that brought out views of a dozen or more of the nation's leading industrialists and agricultural educators.

After a morning spent in discussion of the future of cotton and progress of rapidly increasing mechanization of cotton production, the group spent the afternoon at the agricultural experiment station east of the city where mechanical tools with which farmers in this area work to produce record high crops comparable to other areas of similar proportions.

The demonstrations, conducted by Don L. Jones, station superintendent, and his staff, brought to the visitors a picture of farm ingenuity, which in some cases had led to local shop building of needed equipment that was specifically adapted to this area of large farm units.

Equipment Demonstrated

These pieces of equipment included:

A tractor-powered combine, used in harvesting grain sorghums and cutting and threshing 15 to 20 acres per day, compared with one to two acres maximum per man by the horse and wagon hand method.

A tractor-drawn rolling stalk cutter, a much-used tool made in this area where four- and five-row units are more popular. The farmer can cover 40 to 70 acres a day, depending on tractor speed.

A chisel plow, first used in small grain areas to stir soil without turning it, affording deep

U. S. Defense In Pacific Set

(By International News Service)

TOKYO, Aug. 15. (Friday)—American defense plans for Alaska and the far flung stretches of the Pacific were brought up to date today following a three-day, top-secret conference between General MacArthur and other top Pacific theater staff planners.

While a spokesman close to General MacArthur's headquarters said that "no particular significance" should be attached to the three-day meeting, which he described as "routine," it was the consensus of military observers that the prime object of the conference was to prevent any possibility of another Pearl Harbor surprise attack.

Attending the conference were Air Force Lt. Gen. Nathan F. Twining, commander of Alaskan defenses; Vice Adm. John L. McCrea, deputy commander of the Pacific fleet, and other high military officers.

No announcement of details of the strategy discussed at the Tokyo meeting was made.

A spokesman pointed out that such conferences are held from time to time for the purpose of coordinating and unifying military defensive measures.

Reports Made In Chest Campaign

Contributions to the Lubbock Community Chest totaled $4,268.59 last night, Earl Kerr, Community Chest manager reported.

"The total is somewhat lower than we expected," Kerr said, "but it is due to our not getting reports from some teams because of the amount of territory they have to cover rather than a slowdown in contributions," he added.

"Indications are that contributions are keeping pace with previous years," the general manager of the campaign said.

It is too early to analyze progress toward the goal of $97,500 set for the campaign, the amount needed to cover budgets for 1949, it was indicated earlier Thursday.

Up to noon yesterday, reports appeared to indicate contributions were a little higher than during the corresponding period last year. Most of the women were finishing first calls in their assigned territories or were making re-

Johnson Plans Several Talks

(By The Associated Press)

LYNDON JOHNSON, Texas' Democratic senatorial nominee, said Thursday that he has some "non-political" speeches scheduled for next week but no definite program yet after that.

His Republican opponent, Jack Porter of Houston, was out on a campaigning speaking tour. Porter was in Marshall last night for an address to citizens from eight East Texas counties. Tonight he will be in Amarillo on a program featuring a speech of Harold E. Stassen for the Dewey-Warren presidential slate.

Morris Endorsed

Another senatorial nominee, Sam Morris, candidate of the Prohibition party, received the endorsement yesterday of 14 San Antonio Baptist ministers. Morris was to speak before a Baptist association meeting in Corpus Christi at noon today.

Johnson, who has been in Washington, flew back to Houston yesterday.

"No comment," was his answer when asked if he believed Porter was a strong rival.

He planned to go to Austin last night where he will spend a couple of days "cleaning up stuff that has accumulated."

To Visit Over State

Monday Johnson will make a non-political speech to Rural Electrification administration directors in Austin. Tuesday he will leave for New York to appear on the New York Herald Tribune forum Wednesday night. He will return to Texas Friday to address a reserve officers meeting in Dallas.

Further than that, Johnson said "I hope to get around to all parts of the state between now and January and visit with agricultural, industrial and civic leaders so I can better understand their problems and make the best senator possible."

In a statement issued from his campaign headquarters in Dallas, Porter said that "when Coke Stevenson endorsed my candidacy for the United States Senate, he endorsed clean elections."

Porter Opposes FEPC

Porter predicted Wednesday night that the outcome of the general election Nov. 2 "might be close, or I might win by a landslide."

In a speech delivered today at Marshall he repeated his opposition to the enactment by Congress of a law creating a national fair employment practices commission and his promise to fight for state ownership of oil bearing tidelands.

The Republican candidate charged that in 1944 Johnson was the

Italy Is Threatened With General Strike

ROME, Oct. 14. (AP) — Italy's Communist labor chief, Giuseppi Di Vittorio, today threatened the nation with a 7,000,000-man general strike unless the government satisfies demands of striking state workers.

More than 1,000,000 government employes, considered a center or right-of-center white collar class, were called out today for one to nine hours to support their demands for higher wages and other benefits.

In Rome, however, where a large part of the government employes work, all but the ministry of posts and telegraphs reported a majority of their people stayed on the job. The ministry of interior said that in the provinces, too, most government offices were well staffed.

Cash Corn Tumbles To New Low Price On Chicago Board

CHICAGO, Oct. 14. (AP)—Cash corn tumbled to a new low price for more than a year on the board of trade today. Losses ranged from around 3 to 10 cents a bushel and followed similar declines earlier this week.

At the same time, country elevators and farmers started to unload the record-breaking new crop here. Cash dealers said they bought more than 300,000 bushels of new crop corn today. This grain will be delivered at some future date.

Until yesterday, purchases of new crop corn had been running around 15,000 to 25,000 bushels a day.

Truman Says U. S. Has No Other Choice

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 14.—President Truman said tonight he favors "public control" of atomic development for the "benefit of all the people," while Thomas E. Dewey "implies" there ought to be "private exploitation."

Eventually, Mr. Truman said, there must be international control of atomic energy. There has been "no change" in that position, he said, but he put Russia on notice that:

"Until the right kind of international control is assured we have no choice but to proceed with the development of atomic weapons."

To Fight "Exploitation"

In an address to an audience in the Milwaukee baseball park, the President said Dewey showed "a dangerous lack of understanding" of atomic energy and had "blundered" into the subject.

Dewey spoke on the topic in Phoenix, Ariz., Sept. 23.

"It is clear from the comments of the Republican candidate," Mr. Truman said, "that powerful selfish groups within the Republican party are determined to exploit the atom for private profit.

"I shall fight this effort will all my strength."

Dewey had said atomic secrets and military developments must remain a government monopoly at all costs but beyond this security precaution, he said, atomic progress can not continue to be left exclusively under "the dead hand of government."

Election Eve Talk Set

Mr. Truman got into his atomic speech after his day of campaigning through southern Minnesota and Wisconsin farming country—and hitting Dewey on other issues—

Furthermore, he finished plans for a nine-speech big city windup of a campaign he says is one of the most momentous in the country's history.

He will broadcast over all networks from his Independence, Mo., home on election eve, Nov. 1. His aides said it will be a "get out and vote" appeal and that Senator Alben W. Barkley, the Democratic vice-presidential nominee, will join him from Paducah, Ky.

In his Milwaukee speech, Mr.

Demos Claimed Tired, Confused

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 14. (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, campaigning in President Truman's home state, said tonight the Democratic administration is "tired, confused" and "coming apart at the seams."

The Republican candidate for president poked and jabbed repeatedly at his Missouri opponent in a major address in municipal auditorium and for national broadcast.

Dewey picked "good government" as his theme—something he said is lacking under Mr. Truman.

"We know the kind of government we have now," the New York governor said.

Raps Pendergast Group

"It is tired. It is confused. It scolds and complains.

"It runs off in a dozen different directions at once. It tries to frighten people. It divides them. It is coming apart at the seams."

Making his second trip into President Truman's home state in two weeks in another bid for Missouri's 15 electoral votes, Dewey took an indirect crack at the Kansas City Pendergast organization. It was that organization which backed Mr. Truman for the U. S. Senate and put him on a springboard to the presidency. In an obvious allusion to the Democratic organization of the late Tom Pendergast, Dewey said: "It seems particularly appropriate to talk about good government here in Kansas City. You have known how bad a government can be.

"You rose up and threw it out and you know how good a good

W. O. Sheely Dies Of Heart Attack

W. O. Sheely, 73, of 2105 Twenty-seventh street, a resident of Lubbock county for the past 32 years, died of a heart attack about 4:30 p. m. Thursday while driving his car at Broadway and Avenue F.

He had apparently stopped the car at a red light prior to the attack, and no collision of consequence with other vehicles was reported. He was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Mary's hospital where he was taken by McDonald ambulance.

Operated Two Stores

Born at Sheely Springs, Alabama, on October 19, 1874, he moved to Lubbock county in 1916. He was engaged in farming in the Shallowater community, about eight and a half miles northwest of Lubbock, for a period of about 10 years.

In 1926, he moved to Lubbock where he entered the clothing business. He operated men's clothing stores in two different locations, one in 800-block of Main street and the other in 900-block of Broadway.

About 10 years ago, he quit private business to enter the city tax office, where he handled business in connection with city paving projects, a position which he

Hundreds Of Mexican Farm Hands Make Dramatic Dash Across Rio Grande To Waiting Employers

(By The Associated Press)

EL PASO, Oct. 14—Hundreds of Mexican laborers made a dramatic rush across the Rio Grande here last night, jumping the gun on negotiations between U. S. and Mexican officials for their entry into this country as harvest hands.

The dash apparently was well planned. The Herald-Post said it was started by a signal from a group of farmer employers waiting in El Paso.

The Mexicans waded the Rio Grande by hundreds, swarmed across the two railroad bridges linking El Paso and Juarez, Mexico. They filtered through U. S. Immigration Service border patrol lines, avoiding searchlights, and made their way to concentration points on this side of the river designated by the employers.

The immigration service said about 400 were caught and sent back to Mexico. But many more got through to be loaded into trucks, trains, automobiles and trailer trucks and sped to beet and cotton fields in Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona and West Texas.

The workers had been assembling in Juarez for days expecting to be hired for U. S. farm jobs. It had been announced more than a week ago that an American - Mexican team would begin recruiting the workers this week.

Today, however, Don Larin, head of the U. S. Employment Service farm placement division, said Mexico had increased its wage demands and that American farmers had refused to offer more money.

The Mexican Intersecretarial commission notified employers, meanwhile, that the workers must receive $3 a hundred pounds for the first cotton picking. $4

German Nazis Make Comeback, Take Key Posts Is Charge

FRANKFURT, Oct. 14. (U.P.)—Germany's Nazi survivors are staging a whirlwind comeback and have grabbed off thousands of key government posts in the American zone, Weekend Magazine charges.

Weekend, a privately-owned American magazine circulated in U.S.-occupied Europe, cited these statistics, culled from official reports:

In Hesse, one-half the top civil servants are former Nazi party men.

In Bavaria, 60 per cent of the judges, 70 per cent of the prosecutors and the same proportion of educators had to face trial in denazification courts. Eighty-five per cent of job-holders who were fired for Nazi connections have been reinstated.

Detailed Summary Given

The detailed summary of the Hitlerite comeback was contained in a leading article "Are the Nazis Returning to Power?", by Russell Jones, an editor of the magazine.

In answering the title question "Yes" the article said:

"Now, every survey, every intelligence report shows higher and higher percentages of Nazis who have returned to high government and business positions."

Germans who worked on the American-sponsored denazification program find themselves "ostracized and discriminated against" by the rest of the population, the article claimed.

In documented cases, denazification court employes have asked military government for protection and have been turned down by solidly Nazi civil service boards when applying for jobs, according to Weekend.

All German political parties, nominally anti-Nazi, have sponsored ex-Nazi candidates for public office, the magazine added.

American officials attribute the comeback to a variety of reasons. Among them are the wooing of Germans to an anti-Communist policy by American military government, a policy enthusiastically seconded by the old Hitler followers.

One German report explained it this way: the American "missionaries who were going to reform Germany have been replaced by persons more interested in collecting watches and jewelry."

Sound Seen As Clue To Virus Infection

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 14 (U.P.)—Musical researchers at the University of Pennsylvania have used sound to disintegrate viruses responsible for several infectious human diseases.

In experiments conducted at the Johnson Foundation for Medical Physics, the viruses were subjected to shattering vibrations of sound. When examined afterward under an electron microscope, they were found to have been broken up into their component parts and made inactive.

Researchers said breaking up of the viruses was a necessary step in studying the causes of such diseases as poliomyelitis and influenza, and possibly cancer and the common cold.

By resolving virus particles into their component parts, scientists can investigate the functions of the various parts and their respective roles in virus multiplication.

The researchers used a sound generator similar to one used by the U. S. Navy during the war for the detection of enemy submarines. It produces sound waves vibrating at a frequency of 9,000 times per second.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14. (A.P.)—The government created a committe today to study the problem of organizing scientific resources in event of a national emergency.

The committee is under the research and development board which in turn is part of the national defense establishment.

The new committee is headed by Dr. Irvin Stewart, president of West Virginia university.

Cigarette Smoking Is On Increase, USDA Reports

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14. (U.P.)—Cigarette smoking is on the increase, the Agriculture department reported today.

People are taking more slowly to pipe and cigar smoking; use of chewing tobacco is on a slight downgrade; and snuff taking remains the same.

In its periodic report on the tobacco situation, the department said total cigarette output next year will probably aproach 385,000,000,000.

This is 25,000,000,000 more than for 1947.

Arthur G. Conover, statistician for the Bureau of Agricultural economics, gave four reasons for the uptrend:

1. Women are still entering the ranks of smokers.
2. People start smoking at an earlier age.
3. Cigarettes are "a good buy" as prices go in this inflation period.
4. War tensions accustomed people to smoking a lot.

Gen. Eisenhower's Painting Brings $2,600 At Auction

NEW YORK, Oct. 14. (A.P.)—A painting by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower was sold for $2,600 at a benefit auction last night.

The picture, which Eisenhower did for the Urban League, a group to aid negroes, brought by far the highest price as paintings by 100 celebrities went under the hammer.

Eisenhower's painting is of an Indian, and on the reverse side is a landscape, the general's first attempt at painting for fun.

VA Chief Delays Policy Decisions

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14. (U.P.)—Veterans Administrator Carl R. Gray was reported by his aides today to have put off until early next year decision on most big policy questions in the bulging veterans agency.

One spokesman said Gray's moratorium had nothing to do with the presidential election or with a possible change in administrations. However, some pending questions obviously are touchy in a campaign year.

One hot issue is whether to abandon, or modify, the "decentralized" branch office system set up by Gray's predecessor, Gen. Omar N. Bradley. The system has been attacked by members of the House Veterans and Appropriations committees.

Sets Out On Tour

Gray, former railroad executive, left last night on the final leg of a tour that is taking him to each of about 300 VA regional and branch offices, hospitals, and even building sites. He returns on Jan. 18.

"Gray said he is reserving his decision on major policy questions until he has seen for himself what is going on, and what the problems are, in every VA office and hospital," a spokesman reported.

Best guess among VA officials was that Gray will not junk the 13 branch offices created by Bradley to erase the jam that plauged the central office here when the World War II Army was demobilized. He may change their functions, however.

Some veterans groups, as well as House members, have demanded that the offices be closed, so extra workers can be put into direct service to veterans. The branches handle most GI insurance work and death claims. They also supervise local operations.

'Man Without Fingerprints' Is Jailed In North Carolina

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Oct. 14. (U.P.)—Robert James Pitts, 34, the "man without fingerprints," was back in jail today in connection with the theft or $200 from a local cleaning plant where he had been working.

Pitts gained a measure of fame in 1941 when he almost succeeded in losing his identity by having his fingerprints removed surgically.

When he was arrested by Texas state police that year, he refused to give his name and the "man without identity" became a national mystery.

The FBI ruined Pitts' plot to lose his name. Federal agents cracked the case in Washington by comparing ridges on Pitts' lower finger joints with records in the FBI crime laboratory.

Pitts' last prison sentence was for burglary in North Wilkesboro, N. C., several years ago.

Officers said he was arrested yesterday hiding in a closet.

Texan Seeks Injunction To Build West Coast Cement Plant

PALM SPRINGS, Calif., Oct. 14 (A.P.)—Samuel Guiberson should find out in two weeks whether he can build a cement plant near this desert resort.

The Texas oil millionaire was stymied when Riverside county declared Palm Springs a recreational area at the request of local residents.

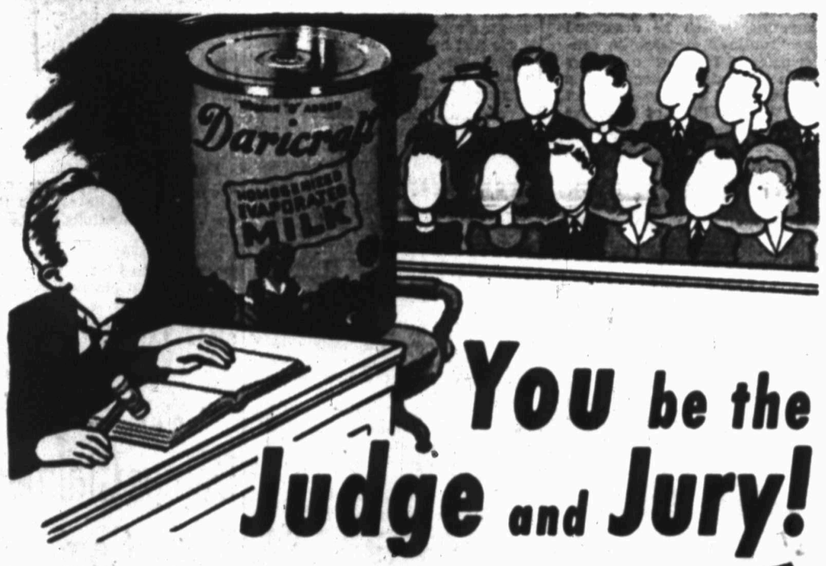

Guiberson countered by filing a plea for an injunction against the county's action.

PUT DARICRAFT on Trial IN YOUR HOME

Judge the evidence . . . on FACTS, not hearsay or prejudice. MAKE THIS 3-CAN TEST.

"A" Make this CREAM PITCHER Test

Just pour a can of chilled DARICRAFT into your cream pitcher. Place on table. Let everyone have all they want on CEREALS, on FRUITS, on DESSERTS, in COFFEE—or in any way they like to enjoy pure, wholesome milk and cream from inspected herds of healthy cows. Note particularly the smooth consistency, and the pleasing, satisfying flavor.

"B" Make this WHIPPING Test

Thoroughly chill a can of DARICRAFT by placing against ice or freezing unit, or by pouring into freezing tray. When ice cold, pour into chilled whipping bowl and whip with hand beater or electric mixer. Note that DARICRAFT will whip in 60 seconds, that it will multiply four times in volume when whipped . . . that it whips stiff WITHOUT "turning to butter" . . . that it can be added to and re-whipped later as desired.

"C" Make this TASTE Test

Completely chill DARICRAFT the same as you do bottled milk. Warm milk of any kind does not have its natural true milk flavor. When thoroughly cold, dilute in a glass half and half with ice water to replace the 50% of water originally removed from the fresh whole milk when evaporated. Or add chocolate or other flavor if desired. Note especially how, whether plain or mixed, DARICRAFT has an IMPROVED FLAVOR that is thoroughly delicious.

As a result of the above trials, you will probably gladly sentence DARICRAFT to a lifetime of service in your home.

Communist Strength Seen Waning In Some Small European States

By WALTER KOLARZ
United Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Oct. 14 — Communism is on the retreat in the small countries of western and northern Europe and there is a clear trend towards the center evreywhere.

Political experts draw that conclusion from an analysis of returns of parliamentary and municipal elections held during the last eleven months in Scandinavia and the Low Countries.

In three countries where parliamentary elections were held—Denmark (Oct. 27, 1947), Holland (July 7, 1948) and Sweden (Sept. 19, 1948), Communists lost more than 250,000 votes and 17 parliamentary seats. Communist parliamentary representation in the three countries aggregated 43 seats before the elections against 26 seats now.

Finland Wavers

The Communist defeat is even more impressive if the returns of the July elections in Finland are taken into account. There the Communists are hidden under the name of Popular Democratic League. Together with left-wing Socialists, the Finnish Communists lost 11 seats.

Political experts stressed that all the Communist defeats occurred after the foundation of the Cominform which meant the starting point of increased Communist propaganda activities the world over.

Apart from Communist losses, gains of liberal parties are a trend common to all recent elections in northern and western Europe. The liberal gains are slight in most countries except in Sweden, where the September elections brought a liberal landslide.

Otherwise, however, there are considerable discrepancies in European voting trends. Thus the conservatives lost heavily both in Sweden and Denmark and had slight gains in the Netherlands and Finland.

Socialists Uncertain

The Socialists had slight losses in Sweden and the Netherlands, they had slight gains in Finland and made considerable headway in Denmark.

In Norway, no parliamentary elections took place during the last year but the municipal elections of October, 1947, confirmed the trend conspicuous in other countries, since the Communists lost about 100 municipal council seats.

Little Luxembourg, the smallest country of western Europe and the only one with a right-wing government, showed a slight exception to the rule. The partial parliamentary elections of June, 1948, brought no loss in seats to the Communists, while the Socialists gained at the expense of the Catholic Party.

Brownfield 'Princess' To Get Sun Bowl Trip

BROWNFIELD, Oct. 14. (Special)—A special award to the runner-up in the Harvest Queen race, almost as attractive as the first place prize, has been announced by the Harvest Festival committee of the Brownfield Rotary club, sponsors of the Harvest Holiday and Merchants Jubilee to be held here Oct. 20.

The second-place winner will be Brownfield's "Princess" and represent the city at the Sun Carnival and Sun Bowl football game at El Paso on Jan. 1. The committee's decision to award this additional prize was endorsed at a recent meeting of the Rotary club.

Local fans plan to charter a bus to the Sun Bowl game, and plans are also being discussed to send the Brownfield High school band to El Paso for the carnival and football game.

First prize in the queen contest will include a two-week all-expense tour of Mexico.

The queen candidates are: Nelda Brown, Daina Ruth McIlroy, Cynthia Ann Black, Frances Rambo and Jane Wier.

Unwanted Two-Cent Stamps Embarrassing For Postoffice

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 14. (U.P.)—The local postoffice is stuck with 2,000,000 stamps and no takers.

The stamps are of the two-cent variety which were made orphans in March, 1944, when the postal rate for first class mail was raised a cent. No one seems to want to buy them.

"We manage to get rid of some of them every Christmas," said Postmaster John M. Keys. "The postoffice and sub-stations set up tables for helping people post holiday packages and quite a few two centers are used. The public would be doing us a big favor if they bought these stamps and combined them with the one-cent combination."

Texas Wildflowers Probed As Source Of Chewing Gum

DALLAS, Oct. 14 (INS)—One of these days gum lovers might be chewing Texas wildflowers.

Scientists of the Texas Research Foundation today are investigating the possibility of turning common Texas wildflowers and plants into chewing gum.

So far, the non-profit organization has narrowed its studies to some ten plants such as mildweed, wild lettuce and the Texas blue star flower.

The chewing gum industries, remembering how the last war virtually halted the manufacture of their product, is determined to find a domestic source of gum.

The foundation believes it won't be long until American jaws are champing on Texas-grown gum.

Census Bureau Says 95 Million May Be Eligible To Vote

WASHINGTON, Oct. (AP)—The United States will have about 95,000,000 men and women of voting age by election day, November 2, the Census Bureau estimated tonight.

Many of them will be ineligible to vote for various reasons and many who will be eligible won't actually vote. The Census bureau made no attempt to predict the vote final, but its data worked out to this:

The vote will be 53,580,000 if ballots are cast at the 1944 (Roosevelt-Dewey) rate, or 56,525,000 if at the heavier 1940 (Roosevelt-Willkie) rate.

Many election analysts have forecast a light vote in this year's presidential election — possibly less than in 1940 despite a big growth in the population since then.

The 95,000,000 estimate for the voting age population on Nov. 2 allowed for a population increase of about 250,000 a month over the bureau's last previous estimate on July 1.

The figure included all civilians and military service personnel—including those overseas—over 21 years old.

The census bureau came up with provisional estimates on voting age population by states through last July 1, including Texas, 4,360,000; Oklahoma 1,445,000; New Mexico 301,000.

Seymour Minister Accepts Pastorate At Brownfield

BROWNFIELD, Oct. 14. (Special)—Rev. William J. Spreen, pastor of the First Christian church at Seymour the past four years, has accepted the pastorate of the First Christian church in Brownfield. He and Mrs. Spreen arrived this week.

Rev. Spreen, a graduate of Texas Christian University, has held pastorates at Huntsville and San Antonio, and educational and physical director's posts in churches at Wichita Falls and Houston. Mrs. Spreen is also a TCU graduate.

The local church has been without a full-time pastor since the resignation a few months ago of Dr. P. C. McCord, who is now pastor of a church at Abilene.

Red Press Gives Prominent Play To Wallace's Speeches

MOSCOW, Oct. 14. (AP)—With the exception of Henry Wallace's speeches the presidential campaign in the United States is getting scant notice in the Soviet press.

Wallace's remarks nearly always receive wide attention and are often published prominently, but there is little editorial comment on them.

JUPITER AND THE SYMBOL

THE origin of that familiar drug store symbol goes back 3,000 years when physicians of ancient Rome would invoke Jupiter's aid by placing the "Jupiter sign" on their prescriptions. This sign looked roughly like a numeral four, and is distinguishable in the modern pharmacy symbol coupled with an "R," standing for the Latin word recipio. This means "I take"—or, more to the point, the modern word "recipe." The latter word is accurately descriptive, for that is what your doctor does when he writes a prescription.

Painstaking, scientific accuracy has supplanted appealing to Jupiter. Our, modern methods of compounding prescriptions leave nothing to chance . . . every detail is up to rigid, high standards.

CAT POISONERS

A RESIDENT on Twenty-fourth street called Thursday afternoon to say that the person who has been poisoning animals in her vicinity is responsible for the death of a fine cat that left a family of kittens.

"We are afraid that some of our small children may get the poison from a pet that has eaten something that has been dosed," she added.

DEAR MISS TURNER:

In your column in regard to insufficient clothes for children, I wish we would live what we try to teach, also preach, to other nations and people and not be little and make people feel like they are on charity by sending some bigoted person, full of self pride and ego, to give relief to some self respectable family.

Why don't we do these things as they should be done by being a good neighbor, helping her to sew or plan so she will not feel bad. The children could be given gifts or an entire suit or a family could be "adopted" and Sunday school classes select a woman to see to her neighbor, alternating week by week. Why can't things be done on a common sense level, with less oratorical speeches and more simplicity? Then there will be no embarrassment. Americans want a chance to work and live, without charity. Why doesn't Congress do something constructive for a change, instead of touring far away countries?

There is plenty to do here with emphasis on high prices; then people could have a decent place to live and a few clothes to wear.

Respectively,

DEAR MRS. R. T. W.: We aren't sure we understand what you are suggesting as to Lubbock charity. It seems to us that we are fortunate in having as residents some fine people who give of their time, their wardrobes and their finances to helping others who are down on their luck and they have a humble spirit about doing their deeds.

In writing of the activities of several hundred Sunday school classes, we have been impressed from time to time with their reports of neighborly acts and several of them have "adopted" families and are doing the things you suggest.

WE CAN truthfully say we have never known a place where people were more generous when a need is brought to their attention. For instance, Mrs. Nancy Green tells us that the notice in our Tuesday column brought a generous response and a number of donations of clothing. Most people feel that it is better that representatives from agencies, such as the Salvation Army or the City County Welfare office, distribute the clothing because they know whether or not the need is actually there.

You say that "Americans want a chance to work and to live, without charity." Well, fortunately, many of them do but anyone who has done social welfare can tell you there are those who are not interested in a job at all, if they can get by without working.

Thanks for your letter.

Wedding Performed At Lamesa Church

LAMESA, Oct. 14.—The marriage of Miss Mary Louise Pearson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Pearson of the Hancock community and E. Daulton (Bo) Adcock, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Adcock, sr., of Lamesa, was performed recently in the parlor of the First Methodist church here with Rev. Woodrow Adcock of Hale Center, uncle of the bridegroom, officiating. Tall baskets of picardy gladioli and greenery and tall pink tapers decorated the altar space.

Miss Cynthia Pearson, cousin of the bride, pianist, and Miss June Wright, vocalist, offered wedding selections.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white sheer wool suit with pink and brown accessories. Her bouquet was of pink rosebuds and her featured piece of jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom.

Miss Virginia Vandivere, maid of honor, wore a blue wool suit with black and white accessories and a corsage of white carnations. D. L. Adcock, jr., served as his brother's best man.

Following a wedding trip to the Ozarks, the couple will be at home in the Woody community where Mr. Adcock farms. He is a graduate of Lamesa High school. Mrs. Adcock is a graduate of O'Donnell High school and Draughon's Business college in Lubbock.

A wedding reception was given in the home of the groom's parents.

Hallowe'en Theme Is Used At Party

The Hallowe'en motif was used in decorations and in contests at a meeting of Energetic club held Thursday afternoon with Mesdames C. Murphrey and J. B. Walker as hostesses in the home of the former at 2608 Twenty-first.

At the party were Mesdames Roxie Crausbay, Minnie Doak, Exa Ewing, R. C. Hopping, J. S. Hilliard, Joseph Knight, Flora Nutt, Frances Van Dyke and Tom Arnett.

Programs Are Presented By Guests Of Parent-Teacher Units Thursday Afternoon

A doctor, a pastor, a nurse and district officers were guest speakers at Thursday meetings of six units of the Parent-Teacher association.

OVERTON OFFICERS ARE INSTALLED

A coffee followed by an officer installation and business session was held by Overton P-TA Thursday morning in the cafeteria of Roscoe Wilson school. Mrs. T. F. Wiesen, president of City Parent-Teacher council, performed the installation ceremony.

Mrs. E. S. Smith of Lorenzo, president of the P-TA 14th district, spoke briefly and welcomed the Overton organization into the district. Another guest was Mrs. M. E. West, a district vice president.

Yearbooks were distributed to the 75 members attending.

WORK OF P-TA IS DISCUSSED

The afternoon meeting of George M. Hunt P-TA was opened with a prayer by the school principal, P. E. Davis. The speaker, Mrs. J. E. Hartley, spoke on "Work and Objects of the P-TA." Other program numbers included songs by the fifth and sixth grade choir directed by Mrs. Lloyd Jenkins and a health skit and songs by the second grade of Mrs. Rex Greer.

Mrs. J. V. Shropshire presided for a business session during which a Hallowe'en carnival for Oct. 22 at 7:30 p. m. at the school was planned.

The membership chairman reported that there are 180 paid members in the unit. Announcement was made, also, that the P-TA has received a grade A rating for the past three years from the state P-TA council.

Approximately 90 persons attended the meeting with room count going to Mrs. Greer's room.

PARTY PLANNED FOR CHILDREN

The P-TA of Special School had as its guest speaker, Miss Esther Snell, nurse and director of the local Cerebral Palsy Treatment center. Nine members met at Dupre school.

Children of the school will be entertained at a Hallowe'en party to be given Oct. 29 at the school by the P-TA.

EAST BROADWAY MEETS FOR TALK

Seventy-eight members of East Broadway P-TA met at the school for a talk, "The Home, Pattern for Building Sound Character and Moral Values," presented by Rev. E. H. Crandall, assistant pastor of the First Methodist church.

The group planned a Hallowe'en carnival to be held Oct. 29 at 8 p. m. at the school. Members of the food committee for the entertainment are to meet Oct. 21 at 9 a. m. at the school.

DISTRICT PRESIDENT MEETS WITH GROUP

"Principals of the P-TA Organization" were discussed by Mrs. E. S. Smith of Lorenzo, 14th district president for Thirty-Sixth Street P-TA Thursday.

Members voted to send Mrs. Bates Witt, unit president, to the State P-TA convention in El Paso in November.

ADDRESS IS ON HEALTH OF FAMILY

For McWhorter P-TA Thursday afternoon, Dr. Dale Douglas gave an address, "The Home in the Light of the Health of the Family."

Approximately 80 members attended the meeting.

Mrs. Fenton Hardin who resigned as treasurer was replaced by Mrs. Bill Rodgers. The business session was presided over by Mrs. Paul Seay, president.

On Friday, Nov. 5, at 7:30 p. m., the P-TA will sponsor a fun night at the school.

Coffee Is Served For Bar Auxiliary In Vickers' Patio

The home of Mrs. John E. Vickers, sr., on the Plainview highway was the scene of a Thursday morning seated coffee given for the Auxiliary to the Lubbock County Bar Association.

Guests were served in the Vickers' enclosed patio which was warmed by an open fire. A huge copper coffee urn which was feature of the refreshment table decoration was surrounded by all copper appointments. Mrs. Robert J. Allen presided at the coffee service.

During a brief business session conducted by Mrs. John E. Vickers, jr., plans for Christmas dinner honoring husbands were discussed. The event was scheduled for the first week in December.

Forty auxiliary members made up the guest list.

States' Righters In Georgia Meet

AUGUSTA, Ga., Oct. 14 (AP) — Georgia's States Rights Democrats founded their own political party here and began work today to swing this state's support to Gov. J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina.

It marked Georgia's first split with the national Democratic party in many years. More than 300 delegates, many of them allied with Democratic governor-nominate Herman Talmadge, attended yesterday's founding convention.

Candidate Filed

States Rights presidential elector candidates were filed with the secretary of state in Atlanta, taking their place beside those of the Democrats, Republicans, Progressives and Prohibitionists.

Followers of Talmadge were named to direct the Georgia States Rights party. Ed L. Willingham of Augusta, a Talmadge partisan, was named chairman.

Willingham told reporters that "the Talmadge organization is behind us 100 per cent," but Talmadge himself would not comment. He has been reluctant to join any move which might resemble bolting the national party.

In a telegram to the convention, Thurmond urged Georgia to repudiate "the trickery and treachery of the Truman leadership of the Democratic party."

Patient's Emotional Background Studied By Experts In Allergy

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14 (U.P.) —A study made at the University of California medical school shows that knowledge of a person's emotional background is important in treating sufferers from allergies.

In a paper on the survey, Dr. Paul A. Gliebe and Dr. William J. Kerr wrote that there was a definite relation between when the patient first becomes aware of his allergy and his emotional and environmental situation at that time.

The Hills are chairmen of the entertainment. Dinner is to be served at 8 preceding the ball.

NLRB Seeks To Clear Up Confusion Created By Court Action On 'Merit Raise' Question

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Can an employer grant a merit raise to an employe without consent of the union representing his workers?

There may be confusion over that question because of action on it by the U. S. Supreme court this week.

This will explain what can and can't be done. The information here is from the National Labor Relations board (NLRB). To understand it, go back a bit.

A company in Tennessee had been signing a contract every year with a union of its employes. The contract covered rates of pay.

Bargain Rights Demanded

But the company—in addition to the regular, agreed-upon pay rate given all the employes—gave some of them higher pay in the form of merit raises. The union claimed the right to bargain on merit raises. The supreme court, in effect, ruled that the company must bargain on merit raises.

But other questions arise. This is a roundup of questions and answers, with the answers given by the NLRB.

Q. Can an employer now continue to grant merit increases to his employes if he doesn't have anything about that in his union contract?

A. Yes. Unless an employer has a contract covering merit raises or unless the union wants to bargain about them, he can continue to grant merit increases.

(This is important to remember since some employers may think because of the NLRB ruling in the case above, that they no longer can grant merit increases under any circumstances).

Raises May Be Granted

Q. But what of a case where an employer bargains with a union over merit raises and the bargaining breaks down? Can he then, with the bargaining suspended, go ahead and grant merit increases?

A. Yes, provided he doesn't do it to try to smash the union by winning workers away from it. Of course, if he did grant merit raises after bargainng broke down, the union might complain to the NLRB that he was doing it to break the union.

Q. Suppose a union represents only a majority of the employes in a place, say only 51 out of 100. Can an employer give the non-union workers merit raises?

A. Yes, just as he's free to give his union workers raises—provided he has no union contract covering merit raises. But once he signs such a contract, anything in that contract that applies to his union workers applies to his non-union workers, too. Why?

Because when a union represents only a majority of workers in a plant, its bargaining covers all the employes.

Q. But suppose there's no contract covering merit raises and the boss hands out some. Can the union ask him for a list of those who got the merit raises?

A. Yes. The NLRB says the boss must supply such a list, even though he has done no bargaining and has no contract covering merit raises.

Victims Of Alamogordo Auto Accident Brought To Lubbock

Patients in Lubbock Memorial hospital are Mr. and Mrs. Fred D. Cochran of El Paso, who were brought by ambulance from Albuquerque, N. M., Thursday for treatment of injuries suffered when their automobile overturned near Alamogordo, N. M.

They had previously been hospitalized in St. Joseph's hospital in Albuquerque. Cochran suffered a back injury, but neither was considered serious in condition, hospital authorities said.

Mrs. Cochran is the daughter of Dr. R. L. Alexander of Spur. A Chandler Funeral home ambulance from Spur went to Albuquerque and brought the couple to Lubbock.

Eastern Firm Starts Output Of Light, Strong Titanium

WILMINGTON, Del., Oct. 14 (U.P.)—The manufacture of titanium metal, a light, strong material comparable to stainless steel, has been begun by the DuPont Co.

The metal, silver white and highly resistant to corrosion, is being produced on a small scale at the company's pigments department plant at Newport, Del.

It is less than twice as heavy as aluminum, but several times as strong. Most likely it will be used in manufacturing high speed planes and industrial machinery, such as printing presses and textile equipment.

Van Mook Resigns Post As Indonesia Governor General

BATAVIA, Java, Oct. 14 (AP) — Dutch officials announced today the resignation of Hubertus J. Van Mook as governor general of Indonesia, effective Nov. 1.

The officials said acceptance of the resignation had not yet been received from the Hague.

(Government sources at the Hague said last night Van Mook's resignation had been accepted by the cabinet. The name of his successor was not announced.

Beel May Get Post

(It is generally expected that former prime minister Dr. Louis J. M. Beel will become high commissioner to Indonesia when the interim government is set up around the end of November. It is considered possible he might serve out the last weeks of the governor generalship.)

Reliable sources here said Van Mook had resigned chiefly because he had been bypassed and not informed of Dutch government actions in regard to Indonesia during the past two weeks.

Right Swing Indicated

Republican spokesmen said the resignation indicated a Dutch swing to the right. They said that although they were concerned with policies rather than individuals, it was assumed the United States was supporting Van Mook's policies rather than those of rightist elements in the Hague.

The spokesmen said peaceful settlement of the Indonesian question will be more difficult with Van Mook out of the picture.

Plenty Of Cranberries Seen For Thanksgiving Turkeys

BOSTON, Oct. 14. (INS)—There'll be plenty of cranberries this year to team up with those Thanksgiving turkeys.

In fact, the New England crop reporting service predicted today the country's cranberry crop this year will set an all-time record—899,000 barrels, or 22,000 more than the previous record, set in 1937.

Massachusetts leads the cranberry states with a 540,000-barrel crop. Wisconsin is second with 225,000 barrels.

CAB Approves Non-Stop Flights Between Chicago And Houston

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14. (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics board today authorized two airlines to make non-stop flights between Chicago and Houston.

The board:

1. Dropped a requirement that Chicago and Southern airlines must stop at Memphis on flights between Chicago and Houston.

2. Dropped a requirement that Braniff airways must stop at Dallas on its flights between Chicago and Houston, and between Kansas City and Houston. The board said Braniff may designate some other intermediate points for a stop between Kansas City and Houston.

CAB said the action was justified in view of the large number of air services available in and out of Dallas.

"TRY THIS EASY WAY TO BETTER CAKES

says Aunt Jenny

"HERE'S a brand-new cake recipe to try, ladies, and it's a dandy! Brown sugar in both cake and frosting give a lovely mellow color and flavor. A touch of lemon juice livens up the raisin-date-nut filling. And the cake itself is so light, fine-grained, delicious. The minute you taste it you'll see how right I am in saying Spry gives better cakes!

But remember, no other type shortening has Spry's special Cake-Improver ingredient. Be smart—change to Spry for all your cakes—all your baking. Fry with Spry for crisp, delicate-tasting, easy-to-digest fried foods."

"Now try my Sunny Vineyard Cake . . . delicious!"

2 cups sifted cake flour
1½ cups sifted brown sugar, firmly packed
2½ teaspoons baking powder (or 4 teaspoons tartrate baking powder)
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup Spry
1 cup less 2 tablespoons milk
1½ teaspoons vanilla
2 eggs, unbeaten

SIFT flour, brown sugar, baking powder and salt into mixing bowl . . . Drop in Spry . . . Add ⅔ of milk, then vanilla, and beat 200 strokes (2 minutes by hand or on mixer at low speed) . . . Scrape bowl and spoon or mixer . . . Add remaining milk and eggs and beat 200 strokes (2 minutes by hand or on mixer at low speed)...Bake in two deep 8-inch Spry-coated layer pans in moderately hot oven (375° F.) 25–35 minutes. Spread Vineyard Fruit Filling between layers and frost with 7-Minute Frosting made with brown sugar. Decorate top with small pieces of dates, raisins and nuts.

Vineyard Fruit Filling—Chop or grind fine ½ cup raisins and ½ cup dates and place in saucepan. Add ¼ cup nuts, chopped fine, ½ cup water, ¼ cup sugar and ¼ teaspoon salt. Cook 3–5 minutes, or until thick, stirring frequently. Add 1 teaspoon lemon juice. Cool and spread between layers.

FABulous FAB Pushes out Dirt from Extra Dirty Clothes!

FAB WITH SUPER-WETTING ACTION

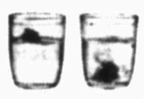

DEMONSTRATION shows FAB gives FABULOUS SUDS, even in hardest water! Two washing machines were filled with hardest water. One cup of FAB was put into one washer—one cup of soap into the other. Both washers ran 7 minutes. Result! A washer full of hard-working suds from FAB. Almost no suds from soap!

washes everything FASTER, CLEANER, WHITER, BRIGHTER than any soap...in hardest water!

The tougher your wash, the more you'll love this fabulous washday discovery by Colgate-Palmolive-Peet! Gets even dirtiest overalls cleaner faster!

What is Super-Wetting Action?

To see, drop a little ball of cotton sewing thread into a glass of water. It floats. Now drop another little ball of thread into a glass of water and FAB. It sinks at once. This shows how FAB penetrates materials faster and more thoroughly.

YOU'LL hardly believe it...the first time you see how much cleaner FAB with Super-Wetting Action gets even grimiest overalls and play clothes! And how much faster you can do your whole wash!

New ingredient . . . another *fab*ulous miracle, gets white wash whiter . . . and colors brighter.

No soap scum . . . even in hardest water! Even grimiest overalls and play clothes — everything that's extra-dirty —get cleaner faster with FAB. White wash gets whiter.

NEW INGREDIENT GETS WHITE WASH WHITER ...COLORS BRIGHTER!

FAB with Super-Wetting Action contains a *fab*ulous, new ingredient that gets white wash whiter, colors brighter. And there is no soap scum to "yellow" white wash or to dull colors when you wash with FAB. Furthermore, FAB removes soap scum left in clothes by previous soap washings.

FAB WASHES CLOTHES CLEANER THAN ANY SOAP!

See the miraculous way FAB with Super-Wetting Action gets out the toughest dirt in your family wash! FAB instantly penetrates materials; pushes dirt out! FAB washes even grimiest overalls and play clothes cleaner faster than soap! Makes tough dirt, like the "line" on shirt collars, disappear like magic! No "graying" soap scum. Wash is whiter, cleaner!

FAB WASHES CHEAPER ...IN HARDEST WATER!

Laboratory tests prove that, cup for cup, in hard water, FAB washes up to twice as much family wash as soap. You see, in hard water, part of any soap you use is always wasted in soap scum. But all of FAB washes ... nothing is wasted in soap scum, even in hardest water!

Faster And Better for all family wash and Dishes

South Urged To Accept Latest Challenge Of Industrial World

cultivation and breaking up hard pans and plow soles.

Tractor-drawn power-lift lister, common to this area. Normally three bottoms are used in seeded preparation, but four in planting, and the implement can prepare 30 to 50 acres of seedbed per day and plant 40 to 60 acres.

Weeder and crust-breaking attachments, one of which is the rotary hoe, and the other called a crust breaker. The rotary hoe operates with a picker action and can cover some 60 acres or more per day, depending on number of rows and hours operated. The crust breaker, built especially for use in lister furrows, and attached to a go-devil, does an excellent job.

Lister cultivator, or go-devil, a simple implement made locally and widely used. A four-row unit covers from three and a half to six acres per hour. It slices into lister beds, cutting weed growth.

A stripper type cotton harvester, which evolved from the sled-type stripper built on the farm by many farmers some years ago. It is in two types, the roller and the finger, which Jones said do the same, but the roller type is preferred because of its primary ability of being better adapted to taller plants.

Other demonstrations were of cotton defoliant, and cotton breeding.

Ginning Demonstration Set

Today's program includes a demonstration showing the difference between ginning machine-stripped and hand-snapped cotton, to be given at the Fortenberry gin at Monroe from 3:30 to 5:30 p. m. The demonstrations are to be followed by a barbecue on the gin grounds as a courtesy of W. O. Fortenberry, ginner and farmer, and president of the Plains Ginners association.

At last night's banquet Harold A. Young, president of the National Cotton council, sponsor of the conference, presided and introduced the speaker.

Hosts at the banquet were a group of cotton oil mills in West Texas. These were Sweetwater Cotton Oil Co., Sweetwater; Rule-Jayton Cotton Oil Co., Stamford; Quanah Cotton Oil Co., Quanah; Plains Co-operative Oil mill, Lubbock; Lamesa Cotton Oil Co., Lamesa; West Texas Cotton Oil Co., with plants at Littlefield, Plainview, Slaton, and Brownfield; and the Lubbock Cotton Oil Co.

Pointing to the theme of the conference "A Challenge — the Mechanization of Cotton and Related Crops," Ahlgren sought to explain consequences of mechanization in the nation's overall economy.

He believes that the South is confronted with a situation that, adequately administered," can bring her to the forefront in our western civilization," and that "if we do not rise to the challenge we can be prepared to resume the role of what amounted to that of captive province economically and politically."

He pointed to the war-imposed decentralization program which revealed to industry vast natural resources of oil, minerals, chemicals, wood and fibre.

"The South then" he said "can anticipate industrial expansion. And in that expansion perhaps it can find the solution to a growing problem the displacement of farm labor through mechanization."

He pointed to Bureau of Agricultural Economics records showing that there were 4,400,000 farm families in the South last year; that ten years from now there will be only 2,800,000 families on farms, a drop of 37 per cent. That means, he said, that 1,600,000 prolific farm families will have to find other means of livelihood.

Ahlgren fears much of the displacement will come in extensive cotton portions of the South where farms have been least mechanized. He said that in 1945 more than 30 per cent of the nation's farms had tractors, but that the South as a whole was far behind.

Texas and Oklahoma lead in the cotton states in number of tractors, with 29.1 and 30.3 per cent of farms, respectively. Mississippi had only four per cent, Arkansas six, and Tennessee only a fraction more. Eight cotton states, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas, Texas and Oklahoma averaged 13.2 per cent as an area.

He said "it would be folly indeed to continue to compete against mechanized farming with hand labor," and attributes the disparity of incomes between farm and industrial workers to the lack of adequate machinery.

Ahlgren said banks in the South have shown heavy deposit increases far in excess of the national average. Between 1936 and 1945, he said, banks of the nation had increases of more than 200 per cent, but those in the South jumped more than 300 per cent.

He cited vast natural resources, including more than 200 different minerals. Production in the South is about half the coal and electricity in the nation, 63 per cent of the petroleum, 90 per cent of the natural gas, almost all the cotton, 90 per cent of the tobacco, half of the lumber, and one-third of the lime, and the fruits of the nation.

He insisted that our natural resources must not be squandered, but should be protected by severance taxes and regulations by which to finance institutions for the people and prevent prodigality.

He recounted that "for all too long, now, the rest of the nation has looked down their noses at the South's educational facilities."

He admitted that "our teachers are underpaid, by comparison with other sections, and our buildings and equipment, for the most part, are in the lower brackets."

But he cautioned that "it is not sufficient . . . to talk of injustices and wish for assistance from other sources. It is time we turned to and re-established a flourishing educational system second to none."

The southern editor could not resist a shot at "those misguided and not always well-intentioned persons from other sections who seem to be ever ready with a glib answer for the South's problems," who "arouse our antagonism with their outcries against what they call 'white supremacy in the South.'"

He rejoined with "well might we rebuke them with Whittier's lines 'search thine own heart; what paineth thee in others in thyself may be!"

Asserting that he was not arguing the superiority of one color over another, the editor believes that "undoubtedly the time will come when the majority of our colored brethren will have achieved that status where both races can dwell side by side with equality of opportunity and responsibility, but that time will arrive only when education has made it possible."

"And," he added, "the South must have courageous, competent leadership."

Johnnie Lue Wilson Named Levelland's Miss Jaycee Of '48

LEVELLAND, Oct. 14. (Special)—Miss Johnnie Lue Wilson, high school student and daughter of J. H. Wilson, was named Miss Jaycee of 1948 at the annual Jaycee Follies of 1948 staged in the junior high school auditorium tonight before more than 800 persons.

Betty Griffice was second, and Alma Phea Deere was third in the contest judged by a committee of six from the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce organization.

Other entries were Florea Hill, Jackie Lowry, Jean Tabor, Maurene Nunley, Barbara Cunningham, Joy Hamill, Helen Starr, Peggy Lowry, and Lena Hill. The 12 entries took parts in the Follies.

A "womanless wedding" presented by members of the Levelland Jaycee group, was the feature of the Follies program. A number of special acts, including tap dancing and singing acts, were presented.

Broadway Church Of Christ To Open Eight-Day Meeting

An eight-day gospel meeting is to start at the Broadway Church of Christ Sunday, with Burton Coffman, minister of the Central Church of Christ at Houston as the speaker, it was announced by Dr. M. Norvel Young, minister of the church here.

Horace Coffman, brother of the Houston minister, is to lead singing for the meeting. Sunday services are to be held at 8:30 and 10:45 a. m., and 7:30 p. m., and weekday services are at 10 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. The public was invited to attend.

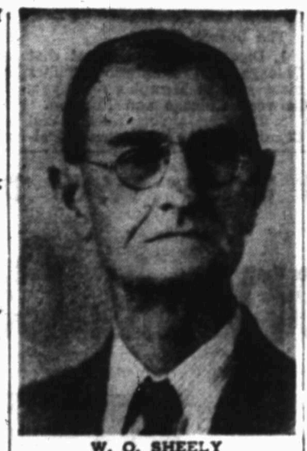

The Houston congregation headed by the visiting minister has recently completed a new $250,000 building that seats about 1,000 persons. Coffman, graduate of Abilene Christian college, was former minister at Wichita Falls and Sherman.

Anton Man Arrested After Reported Assault Attempt

A 21-year-old Anton man was held by city police last night for investigation of assault with a deadly weapon, after a young married woman said he had threatened to shoot her if "she did not yield to him."

He was arrested in his car in 400-block Ave. H after the woman had called police from a nearby drugstore. Arresting officers found a .38 caliber revolver in the man's possession. The case will be transferred to county officials for further investigation.

Burglary of a 205 Hub Homes residence was reported to police late last night. Entrance to the house was gained by taking a screw off the hasp and removing the lock on the door. A camera and a hammer were reported missing.

held until his death.

An active church worker, Mr. Sheely was a member of First Methodist church here and was the organizer of Sunday schools in both Shallowater and Grovesville. He had also served on the Lubbock county school board during most of his residence in the county, giving up that position just a few years ago.

Survivors include his wife; one son, W. R. Sheely of Lubbock; one daughter, Mary Beth Dunn, Lubbock; a sister, Miss India Sheely of Commerce; and two grandchildren.

No funeral services had been scheduled last night at Bryan McDonald Son funeral home where the body was taken.

Dewey Raps Demos

government can be."

Dewey built his speech around five essentials of good government. He promised to incorporate all of them in his administration if he wins the November election.

The essentials: People who wholeheartedly believe in the American system of freedom, teamwork, integrity, competence, simple courage.

Elaborating on competence, Dewey left no doubt he feels the Truman administration doesn't have it.

With the other candidates:

Henry A. Wallace, the progressive party nominee, arranged to broadcast his views an hour ahead of Mr. Truman's speech in Milwaukee, and slated two other speeches for good measure.

States' Righters Hurt

Governor J. Strom Thurmond wound up a three-day tour of Kentucky in the interest of his States' Rights candidacy with a speech at Covington. The South Carolina governor continued to predict he would get at least 100 of the 531 electoral votes and —maybe—throw the election of the next president into the House of Representatives.

Organization of his party in Georgia was fully under way today, but the States' Righters suffered a reverse in Maryland, where Governor William Preston Lane, jr., refused to call a special session of the legislature to change the election laws. Persons who want to vote the Thurmond-Wright ticket apparently will have to write in the names of all the electors, or use printed stickers on their ballots.

Dewey had hardly got out of Oklahoma, where he made a dozen speeches yesterday, before Senator Alben W. Barkley, the Democratic vice presidential nominee, moved in.

Warren Continues Tour

Both national candidates bore down hard on the Oklahoma senatorial contest, where the Democrats are pushing former Governor Robert Kerr against a Republican congressman, Ross Rizley. E. H. Moore, the Republican incumbent, is retiring at the end of this Congress. The Democrats are counting strongly on capturing Moore's seat in their drive to upset the six-vote Republican majority in the Senate.

Travel-weary Earl Warren, the Republican's No. 2 man, chose Tacoma, Wash., for the next to the last major speech on his transcontinental campaign tour which has kept him busy more than a month. When he gets back to his office in Sacramento, Calif., he won't stay long. He has accepted an invitation to address the American Legion's national convention at Miami, Fla., Oct. 20. President Truman will speak to the veterans two days before then.

a hundred for the second and $5 a hundred for the third.

Employers said the prevailing wage in New Mexico is $2.50 a hundred pounds regardless of when it is picked. In the El Paso valley, the wage ranges from $1.50 to $2 a hundred.

The Herald-Post said that after the employers heard of the new wage demands, a number of them gathered in El Paso and invited the workers to come over.

C. V. Maddux of the Great Western Sugar Co., of Denver said he shipped 475 Mexican laborers to Colorado last night and today. Southern Pacific trains reportedly have carried 225 to Arizona. Another 250 reportedly left today for Colorado by trailers, and Pecos Valley cotton growers have taken an estimated 100 in trucks.

Charges Filed In Burglary Probe

Three burglary charges were filed here Thursday against Henry Neal McKay, 30, who allegedly burglarized three places here and two in Tahoka Tuesday night.

The charges, prepared by A. W. Salyars, assistant district attorney, on the complaints of Captain of Detectives Pat Davidson, were filed with D. W. Robertson, justice of the peace, for grand jury investigation.

The defendant, held in Lynn county, had not appeared for examining trial to ask bond.

The man was arrested by Dep. Sheriff Dee Sanders of Lynn county early Wednesday after he had wrecked his car five miles south of Tahoka. In the car, Sheriff Sam Floyd reported to Lubbock officials, were tires, radios, "hot" checks, postage stamps and coins which subsequently were identified, "tentatively or absolutely," from three business establishments here and one at Tahoka.

Tahoka Charge Filed

The man, married and the father of two children, 5 and 2, lived at a tourist court on South Ave. H, he said. He had been employed by a food store here approximately two months, as a meat cutter.

A charge of burglary of the Lynn County News office, where one radio was taken, was filed Wednesday afternoon in the court of P. D. Server, justice of peace at Tahoka, for grand jury investigation there Nov. 6. Nothing was believed taken in a breaking and entering of Woodworth Barber shop there.

Some Property Identified

Davidson and Chief Dep. Sheriff George Eubank of Lubbock went to Tahoka Wednesday afternoon in connection with the investigation. They said that Tony Gilson, owner of Gilson Service station at 2800-block Texas Ave., Olen Lee, who has a used car lot in 2700-block Texas Ave., and a clerk of McIlhaney Dairy products, at 2403 Ave. H identified some of the property found in the suspect's automobile as belonging here.

The defendant denied guilt, and said he had not engaged in other burglaries. His car, he said, was bought at an Abilene used car lot.

Dep. Sheriff Earl Horton transferred Donald Newton Hull, 28, of Olden, Texas, from Odessa to Lubbock, it was announced, to face a 99th court indictment charging forgery Aug. 2 of a $24.50 check passed to C. E. Vieregge.

R. I. Gray of near Levelland informed the sheriff's department that a new western suit, two gabardine shirts and another shirt had been stolen from his residence, and that two neighbors also had been victimized by clothing thiefs.

A 49-year-old man, who gave his address as Lubbock route 3, will face drunk driving charges after his arrest in 900-block Ave. M yesterday evening.

A 62-year-old Lubbock man, who was released from city jail Thursday morning after paying a fine for drunkenness, was back in jail Thursday night, charged with drunkenness, indecent exposure and use of abusive language.

Garnell Bledsoe of Lubbock route 6 reported theft of a $35 bike from the vicinity of the Lubbock Boys' club.

The sheriff's department was informed by Link and Adams gin at Shallowater that a trailer left by H. M. Boozier of Shallowater overnight at the gin yard had been stolen. It was described as a two-bale, four-wheel unpainted trailer. License number was not immediately available.

Tech Meat Judgers Leave For Contest

A meats judging team composed of four boys from the Agriculture division at Texas Technological college leave today for Kansas City, Mo., where they will represent the college in intercollegiate judging competition at the American Royal Livestock show.

Meats judging, according to Stanley E. Anderson, assistant professor of animal husbandry, who is to accompany the team as coach, will be on Tuesday. The team will return Oct. 21.

Members of the team are Woodrow Allen of Lubbock, Robert Mendenhall of Wichita Falls, Curtis Kemp of Lubbock, and Glenn Quattlebaum of Amarillo.

Frenship School District To Vote On $150,000 Bond Issue

Voters in Frenship (Wolfforth) school district are to go to the polls Saturday to cast ballots on whether or not the district may issue $150,000 in bonds for construction of a new elementary school building.

A recent vote on the same issue resulted in a negative decision, but school officials believe that patrons realize the need for the building to the extent they now will favor it, an announcement yesterday said.

Plans call for construction of a 10-room grade school building, an auditorium and cafeteria, to replace other temporary buildings now in use, and which school authorities have called unsanitary, poorly heated, overcrowded and otherwise inadequate.

It was pointed out that the bond issue will not mean higher taxes. The rate at present is $1.50, maximum provided under state law Voting is to be done at the high school building, with the polls open from 8 a. m. to 7 p. m. Saturday.

AT MIAMI

Texan Boomed For Legion Commander

AUSTIN, Oct. 14. (AP)—A big delegation of Texas American Legion members today boomed Perry Brown of Beaumont for national commander.

A Brown-for-commander headquarters has already been set up in Miami, Fla., where the Legion's national convention opens Monday.

Gov. Beauford H. Jester will fly to Miami Wednesday to be on hand for the election Thursday.

Mother Of Lubbock Woman Death Victim

Friends here learned that Mrs. T. J. White, 91, mother of Mrs. C. M. Ballenger of 1723-B Thirteenth and long-time prominent Thursday morning at her home in Coleman.

Mrs. White's father was Henry Lee Graves, was said to be the first president of Baylor-Belton college, now Mary Hardin-Baylor college, and that college conferred an honorary bachelor of arts degree on her when she was 75 years old.

Mrs. White had been historian of the sixth district, Texas Federation of Women's clubs, 20 years. She attended a meeting of the national federation one year in Atlantic City, N. J.

She also was active in the Daughters of the American Revolution and a few years ago attended a national meeting of the organization in Washington, D. C.

She was a pioneer member of the Shakespeare club in Coleman. She was active in the Baptist church.

Funeral services will be conducted at 10 o'clock this morning in Coleman.

Survivors, in addition to Mrs. Ballenger, include two grandsons, Dr. Felix Ballenger, who is a surgeon at a naval hospital in Jacksonville, Fla., and Dr. Murray Ballenger of Virginia Beach, Va., who now is in the Mediterranean on the aircraft carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt, and two great-grandchildren. The grandsons will be unable to attend services.

Berlin Stand Favored

blockade of Berlin and said:

"While this was alleged to be a safeguard to the currency, our willingness to buy food from Poland and Czechoslovakia, which we were willing to do, was made impossible. This was a definite indication the blockade was placed into effect as a starvation measure . . . to drive the Allies out of Berlin."

Clay added:

"During the past year we have seen the rise of democratic forces throughout western Europe—in Italy, France, Finland and Germany . . . There is a growing consciousness of the value of rights and freedoms of the individual.

"As that increases, as the ability of western Europe to develop itself increases, with the consequent pressure in the satellite countries to return to the way of political freedom, as that comes about, Soviet expansion will not only be halted, it will recede.

"Various pressures that are inherent in the wishes of the people of Europe will become so great they cannot be resisted.

"This means that we must be firm . . . By continuing this air lift indefinitely and maintaining our position in Berlin we will have assured the people who do want freedom they will not be abandoned."

Clay will fly to Frankfurt tomorrow to talk with John Foster Dulles of the U. S. United Nations delegation. Dulles too arrived in Frankfurt tonight from Paris. Clay, accompanied by Robert Murphy, his political advisor, also will meet with German bizone officials.

Dulles may also talk with Sir Brian Robertson, the British military governor, who is scheduled to meet with German leaders. Dulles was expected to get a first-hand report from Clay on western Germany's economic and political reconstruction.

The British and American military governments today ordered German authorities to do everything possible to tighten the counter-blockade of Soviet occupied Germany.

Eleven new regulations to plug holes in the blockade included authority to seize all goods arriving at the borders without papers, to prosecute the shippers, and return goods arriving with papers.

Dams Planned In West Texas Area

BIG SPRING, Oct. 14 (AP)—Four West Texas cities moved ahead today with new plans to build two giant dams at a cost of $12,500,000 that would supply them with 30,000,000 gallons of water daily.

The cities are Big Spring, Colorado City, Midland and Odessa.

The dams, more than a mile and a half in length, would be built across the Colorado river and across Bull Creek.

An executive committee was named today at a meeting of the Colorado River Municipal Water association. Its purpose is to make concrete recommendations, including legal, finance and engineering.

Members are R. T. Piner and G. W. Dabney, both of Big Spring; John D. Mitchell and A. P. Brown, both of Odessa; Fred Hogan and R. H. Gifford, both of Midland, and C. C. Thompson and Newby Pratt, both of Colorado City.

Two Dams Planned

Original plans called for one dam four and a half miles northwest of Colorado City. Present plans call for two dams further upstream. The dam sites were changed because of a salt water problem.

Simon Freese, Fort Worth hydraulic engineer, said an 8,500-foot diversion channel would impound 200,000 acre feet of water from a 960-square-mile drainage area.

The central dam on Colorado river would be 85 feet high, he said, impounding 5,000 feet of surface area in a lake averaging 60 feet in depth.

The other dam would be constructed across Bull creek in southwest Scurry county. It would divert water into the Colorado above the segment of saltation.

Freese & Nichols of Fort Worth were provisionally retained as engineers and Parkhurst & McCall of Dallas as counsel.

M. H. Ulmer of Midland, president of the CMWA, urged unity among the four cities until a final report is submitted by the committee so that "an intelligent vote can and will be cast by the cities."

The revised location of the project is 32 miles northeast of here.

Congratulations To:

Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Decker of 1514 Fifteenth street on birth of a son weighing 7 pounds 1 ounce at 4 p. m. Thursday in West Texas hospital. The father is a salesman.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Ashburn of Ropesville on birth of a son weighing 8 pounds 1½ ounces at 6:34 a.m. Thurs. in Lubbock Memorial hospital. The father is a farmer.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Medlock of 1107 Ave. K on birth of a son weighing 6 pounds in West Texas hospital at 8:27 a.m. Thursday. The father operates the Waffle Shop.

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Clark of 710-A Fourth on birth of a son weighing 5 pounds 4 ounces at 4:53 p. m. Wednesday in Porter-Bistrand clinic. The father is employed at City Body shop.

prevention ordinance and invited representatives of types of businesses which would be affected by such regulations to submit recommendations. City Attorney Vaughn Wilson will draft the ordinance.

Crossing Protection Approved

Residents of the area bounded Nineteenth, Twenty-sixth, Tyler and Pierce who would like to be included in the city limits were advised to submit a detailed platting of the territory which would provide for conformity with existing streets and alleys.

An ordinance was approved providing for the installation, maintenance and operation of grade crossing protection over the Fort Worth & Denver City railway tracks on Highway 84.

The commission bluntly rejected the Fort Worth & Denver request to close a portion of Avenue A from Twenty-sixth street for a distance of about 700 feet southward. Approval of the action would have meant the closing of two grade crossings, officials explained.

West Texas Gas co. was authorized to build a regulator station at the rear of 2828 Walnut street.

Fifteen-minute loading zones were granted to Davis & Humphries, operators of Piggly Wiggly stores, on the east side of Avenue E between Broadway and Thirteenth and to Powell's Modern Hatters at 1408 Nineteenth.

Berlin now has a diamond black market.

New Routings For Buses On Carver Heights Run Planned

New routings for buses serving Carver Heights will be put into effect today with the approval of city officials, according to the announcement last night of J. A. Fortenberry, operator of Lubbock Bus co.

The change, he said, will remove six buses hourly from Broadway and will eliminate much of the congregation which has been occurring at stops on Broadway at Avenue J.

The routes to Carver Heights will not be changed, Fortenberry said. Buses leaving the bus station will travel east to Avenue G and thence south on G. The return, however, will be from G west on Thirteenth to K, north of K to Main and thence east to the bus station. In the past, returning buses have been routed on Broadway to K.

U. S. To Continue Making A-Bombs

Truman hit these points:

1. "The fearful power of atomic weapons must be placed beyond the reach of any irresponsible government or any power-mad dictator."

2. "This country has stood ready to sacrifice some of its sovereignty so that "the most terrible and devastating weapon ever contrived" does not get out of hand—but there will be no "onesided sacrifice."

3. He can assure the people the Atomic Energy commission has kept American leadership in atomic weapons in spite of what Dewey calls "the dead hand."

Belongs To People

4. The force of fission, in which a pound of uranium releases as much energy as 3,000,000 pounds of burning coal, can not be handled on a "business as usual basis."

5. Atomic energy cannot and must not be "another Teapot Dome" for private exploitation.

6. Business concerns have had and will continue to have an important part in atomic development; there must be "team work, but we must not put profit making above the national welfare."

The great atomic discovery, the President said, belongs to the people and must be used for the people.

Issues Not "Hopeless"

The President said we must continue to follow a national policy of public control as long as safety and the peoples' interest require.

There has been no more vital issue, he said, adding:

"The existence of civilization itself depends upon the wisdom and prudence of the American people in choosing the course we are to follow.

"I pray that your decision may be the right one."

Mr. Truman said the issues which have blocked international agreement on control of atomic power are serious but not "hopeless."

"Even now in Paris," he said, "discussions are underway in the is our hope that the Soviet Union United Nations on this subject. It and all members of the United Nations will see the wisdom, logic supported by the United Nations and necessity for adopting the plan of control so overwhelmingly supported by the United Nations commission."

Printers Union Held In Contempt For Evading Federal Injunction

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 14. (AP)—Federal Judge Luther M. Swygert held the International Typographical union in contempt of court today and ordered the union not to ask contracts which discriminate against hiring non-union printers.

He ruled the union had evaded his injunction against violating the Taft-Hartley law and was trying illegally to maintain a closed shop.

The judge told the ITU and its top four officers to be in court within 10 days to show that they are following his instructions given out today.

Form Contract Is Issue

There was no penalty, other than court costs, for contempt.

Counsel for the National Labor Relations board, which had asked the original injunction, had also asked for the contempt citation and had not requested a penalty.

Today's citation centered on a document sent out by the ITU to its locals.

It was headed "contract provisions which may be proposed in collective bargaining during pendency of federal court decree" and was called a "form contract."

This document was sent out after Judge Swygert had handed down his injunction on March 27. It provides, among other things, that only journeymen printers may be employed.

The decision notes that the "form contract" provides for a test for non-union men to determine whether they are competent, but there is no test for union men nor are they required to be trained or experienced as printers.

The proposed contract is "thus discriminatory in regard to hire on the basis of membership in the union," and is in volation of the Taft-Hartley law, the judge ruled. He ordered the union to tell its members not to use the "form contract" any further.

Commenting on the good faith of the union, the judge wrote:

"But despite the respondents' protestations of good faith efforts to comply with the decree, a consideration of all the evidence convinces the court that the respondents have deliberately attempted since the issuance of the injunction to accomplish the objective against which the injunction was directed, namely, the continuance of closed-shop conditions in the newspaper industry."

To Appeal Ruling

The union also claimed a victory on some points in today's decision, which it said it would appeal.

Henry Kaiser, an ITU attorney in Washington, pointed out that the court had not granted a request by NLRB counsel that the ITU be ordered to quit making strike benefit payments to printers in Chicago who have been out for 11 months.

Kaiser said the NLRB general counsel had failed in a "shameful attempt to break the Chicago strike." He said he would ask Judge Swygert at a conference Monday in South Bend, Ind., to withhold enforcement of the latest decree until the case could be appealed.

The ITU case on which today's ruling was based was filed last January by Robert N. Denham, NLRB general counsel. Lengthy hearings resulted in the injunction, violation of which led to today's contempt citation.

The eventual ruling will affect labor negotiations between the printers and 800 newspapers. There was no immediate reaction from the publisher groups, pending study of the citation text.

Forty six ITU strikes are now in progress against newspapers—38 in the United States, seven in Canada and one in Alaska.

Buying Fish Proves To Be Cheaper Than Catching Them

RACINE, Wis., Oct. 14 (U.P.)—A Racine wife who prefers that her name not be used tells the story.

Her husband was ready to go fishing and stood amidst his gear.

His equipment included an outboard motor, $150; rods, reels, lines, hooks, plugs, bait bags, fishing clothes, boots, tackle and accessories, $140; license, $1; total value, $291.

Still to be figured was the cost of gasoline for the trip, boat rental and live bait.

His wife went to the telephone and called a number.

"Hello, how much is your pike?" she asked.

"H'mmmmm, no, I don't want any delivered, thanks."

The fisherman's wife did some calculating. The cost of the trip: about $325. The last time the angler came home he had only 12 fish.

It cost only 60 cents a pound at the fish market.

Military Training Started For Many Turkish Women

ISTANBUL, Oct. 14 (U.P.) — Turkish women are taking military training and learning how to shoot guns for the first time in the country's modern history.

The program began last year with simple nurse training under military supervision.

It is a war-time measure, but Turkish officials are thinking in terms of preparedness. They saw how America and England made good use of women in their armies during the war and decided it was time for Turkish women to learn how to defend their country.

Using last year's nursing course as a beginning, officials this year designed courses which now include anti-aircraft operation, radar operation, communications, transport and supply.

Berlin's Spies Peddle Atomic, Other Military Secrets For Cartons Of American Cigarettes

By JACK MEEHAN
United Press Staff Writer

BERLIN, Oct. 14—Like to build your own atomic bomb?

Well, grab a few cartons of cigarettes and stroll along Kurfuerstendamm, fabulous street of ruins, the Park Avenue of pre-war Berlin.

There you can shop around among the shadowy figures which lurk in rubbled back alleys and slither between the dim lights filtering through the curtained windows of the swank black market pleasure palaces.

If you can't get a plan reputedly outlining each step in making atom bombs, the chances are you can pick up blueprints of a purported top-secret British battleship or a chart mapping alleged Russian plans to invade Romania.

Anything For Sale

There's anything for sale in Kurfuerstendamm, and the street is overrun with spies.

Although many sensational phonies are peddled by the aspiring agents, Kurfuerstendamm's illicit traffic in "secrets" has not gone unnoticed by the legitimate agents of Germany's four squabbling occupiers.

Agents occasionally have struck pay dirt in the street's lush champagne salons and bomb-wrecked back alleys.

A business man just back from the Russian zone can tip the western powers on new types of Russian tanks spotted around Leipzig. A German prisoner of war from Russia passes along a morsel about Russian atom experiments beyond the Urals.

Cigarettes For Currency

All the information, of course, has a price and cigarettes still are negotiable in this divided city with two official currencies and most monies of the world circulating illegally.

Kurfuerstendamm trades in sin for a living. There are black market meals of delicacies from both sides of the iron curtain, gambling, luxurious Paris fabrics smuggled across 100 miles of Russian jerritory, and gaudy palaces of pleasure houses as naturals for spying.

Sources which can't be named still talk in hushed tones of a glamorous unnamed woman who enlisted beauties from three or four nations to ply Russian officers for secrets during intimate moments.

She's A Mystery

There are pictures circulating today showing leering Russians passionately embracing beauteous, thinly-clad women, reputedly agents in the unnamed woman's employ.

This woman is said still to be operating in Berlin. Whether or not some other power has bid higher for her talents, no one is prepared to say.

It is said, however, that she is a dangerous woman, her loyalty available for gold, who learned to trade beauty for secrets long before the last war while working in an Egyptian house of assignation.

Woman Hopes To Collect Fee For Use Of Reserved Peephole

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 14 (INS)—Cut into the board wall surrounding a San Antonio building site is a keyhole-shaped peephole bearing the sign "Reserved for Mrs. Hayden L. Smith."

Mrs. Smith, a petite five-footer, recently explained to the contractor she couldn't see the work going on in constructing the new Central Christian church. Why couldn't she have a special peephole, she asked?

Since she can't spend all her time at the vantage point, Mrs. Smith, a member of the church for 44 years, is trying to collect $1 each from others who use the peephole. She plans to turn the money over to the church.

Book Claimed To Be That Of Columbus'

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 14 (U.P.)—Historians here are studying a 22-page document purporting to be Christopher Columbus' personal log book, kept on the voyage that led to the discovery of America.

Charles P. Smith said he found the book in the library of his deceased brother in Devonshire, England. He said it had gathered dust there since its reported discovery in a lead-lined cask off the Welsh coast 58 years ago.

Smith made no claim for the authenticity of the book, but forged or genuine, he said it is not for sale.

Language and history experts at the University of British Columbia either say the document is a hoax or cautiously withhold opinion pending further study.

One authority who doubts the validity of the book said the idiom and sentence structure were not in use in 1492.

Smith reported the document contains a letter supposedly written to Columbus by Queen Isabella. Penned in Spanish, the letter makes the famous discoverer viceroy-admiral and governor-general of all land west of the Azores.

The journal bears the inscription, "My Secrete Log Boke."

NEW STEP FOR ARMY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14. (AP)—Army troops in Japan and other parts of the Far East command will soon be getting liquid milk in bottles instead of the powdered kind out of a can. The Army said today the milk still will leave this country in powdered form but seven plants—five in Japan and one each in Guam and Okinawa—will change the powder into liquid.

Police Clamp Down On Grid Gambling At Michigan State

EAST LANSING, Mich. Oct. 14. (AP)—Michigan State college campus police clamped down today on what they termed student gambling on professionally operated football pools.

Detective Charles Becker said campus police detained three students whom they believed to be "contact men" for a gambling syndicate and seized a quantity of tickets for a weekend pool on collegiate football games, plus a list of student customers.

Richfield Oil Corporation To Sell Texas Oil Leases

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 14. (AP)—The Richfield Oil Corp. announced today that it is selling to highest cash bidders all its oil and gas leases in Texas, totaling 66,000 acres of undeveloped land.

The leases are concentrated principally in prospective drilling blocks in the Permian basin of West Texas. Sealed bids will be opened at Richfield's Midland office Dec. 1.

Chinese Film History Made In New Historical Movie

HONGHONG, Oct. 14 (U.P.) — Chinese film history was made when "The Soul of China," one of the few Chinese films ever to be released for general distribution abroad, had its world premiere.

Filmed originally in Mandarin, English dialogue is now being dubbed in for exhibition in the United States and Europe.

The historical movie, which cost more than U. S. $250,000 and took some 13 months to make, is a far cry from the usual "quickies" which Chinese film studios generally grind out. Its cast includes many of the leading screen stars of China, and scenes were filmed all the way from Pieping to Canton.

The story is that of Wen Tien Hsiang, noted scholar and statesman, who in the 13th century fought fruitlessly to prevent the overthrow of the decadent Sung Dynasty by the great Kublai Khan. It was Wen's unmovable faith in his country in the face of bribery, threats and ultimate execution that gives the picture its theme.

Westerners Open District 1-AA Grid Race Tonight Against Borger

10,000 Expected To See Bulldogs Battle Lubbock At Jones Stadium

By EARL SCUDDAY
Avalanche Sports Writer

Lubbock High's speedy Westerners, a "second division" team in the District 1-AA grid championship races for the last several years, will open the 1948 loop title competition at 8 o'clock tonight at Jones stadium against the veteran Borger Bulldogs.

The Bulldogs, like most of the other district teams, have found the Westerners easy victims during the last three years—chalking up three consecutive triumphs over the Hub city elevens. But the Lubbock schoolboys, under a new coaching setup headed by wily C. R. (Pat) Pattison, will open the conference chase tonight with a creditable record against five non-title foes and their best opportunity in several years to make a determined bid for a top position in the district.

Both teams enter the crucial clash tonight with a record of two wins and two defeats in the first half of the slate, although the Westerners have also been tied by Odessa, 7-7. The Lubbock gridders have chalked up victories over North Side of Fort Worth and Childress, while losing settos with San Angelo and Austin.

Borger has been defeated by Capitol Hill of Oklahoma City and Austin High of El Paso, but has rolled to impressive wins over Childress and Albuquerque, N. M.

Both Evenly Matched

Both teams appear to be evenly matched in the tussle, with Borger holding a definite advantage in experience and the Westerners boasting a decided weight advantage in the forward wall. The Borger and Lubbock backfields weigh out at the same level, but the Westerner secondary is considered slightly faster.

A wide-open offensive battle is predicted for the conference encounter, since both elevens feature high-geared attacks and erratic defenses. The Westerners have averaged approximately 200 yards rushing in each of five games this season, and the Bulldogs have tallied big scores against several tough foes. Borger defeated Childress by a two-touchdown margin, while the Lubbock gridders eked out a seven-point edge over the Bobcats, giving the Bulldogs a slight advantage on the basis of comparative scores.

Heading the Lubbock attack will be a trio of hard-running backs—Bobby Brown, Malcolm Young and Donald Decker. Brown has been one of the top backfield performers in West Texas this season, tallying 30 points and averaging six yards every time he has carried the ball. Young, stocky fullback, has been a consistent ground-gainer and has averaged more than 40 yards per punt in five full games. Decker, letterman captain, has been a constant threat on weak-side plays and has sparked many of the Westerner drives.

Dalton Heads Offensive

Powerful R. C. Dalton, letterman tailback, will head the Bulldog offensive. Dalton has churned across the double stripe four times this season and his battering line smashes have been the chief reason for Borger's success. He is aided in the secondary by Jerry Chitwood, stellar blocking back, and driving Jerry Glass, 160-pound fullback.

Both teams operate from a modified single wing offense, but both elevens use numerous variations. Borger reportedly has used the double wing and short punt in some games.

Borger's squad is in top shape for the conference battle, according to the mentors, but the Westerner forward wall has been weakened by illness and injuries. Most of the Lubbock gridders will be in uniform tonight, but three of the tackles will probably not see much action.

A crowd of more than 10,000 persons is expected at Tech's new Jones stadium at kickoff time, and there is a definite possibility that attendance may be boosted to 12,000. Borger will be well-represented, with the high school band and eight bus-loads of students definitely scheduled to make the trip to Lubbock. Approximately 500 Borger fans are also expected to see the tilt.

Special Skeet Shoot Slated Sunday By Lubbock Gun Club

A special skeet shoot, the last to be held in the old location, will be staged by the Lubbock Gun club, Sunday afternoon, starting at 2 o'clock, Si Gooden, club manager, announced Thursday.

Prizes will be offered for all events in classes A, B, C, and D, Gooden said. All club members are invited to attend, Gooden added.

Irish, Wildcat Series To End

By DAVIS J. WALSH
INS Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The Notre Dame-Northwestern football series, which has flourished practically unbroken since the golden day of Rockne and the Four Horsemen, will come to an abrupt end with this year's game in South Bend, Ind.

Full details of the break were not immediately available, but this much could be said today with assurance:

As was the case when the Army-Notre Dame relationship ended with last year's game, the severance came unwillingly on Notre Dame's part. And, if various semi-official versions can be taken literally—not too willingly on Northwestern's part, either.

It is hinted, in fact, that Northwestern's gesture might well be the outgrowth of unfriendly influences, bent upon a campaign of "isolation" for the all-too-successful institution of Notre Dame football.

It's understood that no stated attempt will be made to replace Northwestern on the Irish schedule for 1949. But by 1950 the Irish propose to do even better than that.

Briefly, they seem currently to have more than a little reason to believe they'll be playing Columbia at Baker Bowl in New York by that time.

Official notice that the Notre Dame-Northwestern contract was unlikely to be renewed after 1948 was said to have been placed before the Notre Dame authorities some time ago. But not until recently was the true situation disclosed.

Onslow Says White Sox Will Be Better

CHICAGO, Oct. 14. (INS)—Jack Onslow, 59 years old with eyes like an unsuccessful hunting dog, came into town and started talking about the White Sox.

Nobody has a better right to talk about the White Sox than Onslow, who recently became their new manager. He was preceded by a horde of Jack Onslow stories, most notable of which was the tale of the time he went on the radio as a guest speaker and began, with deep charm:

"Hello, Jack Onslow, this is everybody speaking."

In the flesh, Onslow, who managed the White Sox farm team at Memphis during the past season, is pudgy, bespectacled, and somewhat becalmed. He also has several good ideas about improving the White Sox, who, as he pointed out, do not figure to get any worse in 1949 than they were in 1948. In 1948, they lost 101 American league games.

Onslow's two-year contract as White Sox manager was accompanied by carte blanche from the front office. White Sox officials, Onslow says, are going to stay where they belong. He didn't say it exactly that way, but that is what he meant.

Plainview Junior High Eleven Swamps Brownfield, 33 To 7

BROWNFIELD, Oct. 14 (Special) — Plainview's surging junior high eleven swamped the Brownfield juniors, 33-7, in a South Plains league conference tilt here tonight.

The Plainview junior "B" eleven drubbed the Cub juniors, 34-13, in the second tilt of the double bill.

AA Title Tilts Start Today

(By The Associated Press)

Forty-eight games Friday and Saturday nights will bring conference play to all except five of the 18 districts of City Conference and Class AA schoolboy football in Texas.

It is the real start of the championship campaign. Conference games now are more important and carry more interest than those in which the state's undefeated, untied teams battle to maintain their records.

Only one of the 11 clubs with perfect records appears in any great danger while two of them do not even have games this week.

Austin (El Paso), one of eight unbeaten, untied teams in Class AA, plays a tough one, meeting Waite High of Toledo, O.

Have Easy Games

In the City Conference unbeaten, untied Arlington Heights (Fort Worth) and Milby and John Reagan of Houston have what appear to be fairly easy games. Arlington Heights plays Amon Carter-Riverside (Fort Worth), Milby meets Jeff Davis (Houston) and Reagan takes on Sam Houston (Houston).

In Class AA Amarillo plays thrice-beaten Woodrow Wilson at Dallas, Sweetwater journeys to Plainview, Henderson tackles Longview, Waco engages Waxahachie and Alice takes on Brownsville. Stephenville and Port Arthur have an off week.

Alamo Heights and San Antonio Tech hook up in an important game in District 4 of the City Conference. They are two of three teams unbeaten in Conference play. Brackenridge, the other, rests this week.

In Class AA Abilene plays at Odessa in the feature of District 3. They are two of the top contenders for the title.

Gladewater goes to Marshall in a major conference test for District 8 and Waco plays at Waxahachie in the headliner of District 9. Down in District 13 Kerrville will be at Corpus Christi in an important conference tilt.

The schedule for Friday and Saturday in the state:

Friday — Highland Park (Dallas) vs. Crozier Tech (Dallas), Sunset (Dallas) at Weatherford, Adamson (Dallas) at Oronge, Poly (Fort Worth) vs. North Side (Fort Worth), Milby (Houston) vs. Jeff Davis (Houston), Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio) vs. Lanier (San Antonio), San Antonio Tech vs. Alamo Heights (San Antonio) Burbank (San Antonio) vs. Harlandale (San Antonio), Borger at Lubbock, Sweetwater at Plainview, Big Spring at Brownfield, Childress at Graham, Vernon at Quanah, Electra at Wichita Falls, Abilene at Odessa, Lamesa at San Angelo, Austin (El Paso) at Waite (Toledo, O.), Bowie (El Paso) at Phoenix, Ariz., Greenville at Gainesville, Denton at Sherman, Bonham at Grand Prairie, Cleburne at McKinney, Midland at Brownwood, Longview at Henderson, Gladewater at Marshall, Tyler at Texarkana, Temple at Ennis, Waco at Waxahachie, Hillsboro at Corsicana, Kilgore at Nacogdoches, Van at Jacksonville, Galveston at South Park (Beaumont), Texas City at Mirwin (Galveston), Beaumont at Baytown, Port Neches at Galena Park, Kerrville at Corpus Christi, Bryan at Austin, South San Antonio at Laredo, Freeport at Victoria, Robstown at McAllen, Edinburg at Harlingen, Brownsville at Alice, San Benito at Kingsville.

Saturday — Amarillo at Woodrow Wilson (Dallas), Arlington Heights (Fort Worth) vs. Amon Carter-Riverside (Fort Worth), Sam Houston (Houston) vs. Reagan (Houston), Ysleta at El Paso High.

Denver City Junior Squad Beats Andrews

DENVER CITY, Oct. 14. (Special)—Backs Damon Brock and Bob Moore paced the Denver City junior grid team to a 20-0 triumph over Andrews in an important north half District 5-A junior loop tussle here tonight.

Brock tallied in the first period on a 30-yard sprint to give the Denver City eleven a 6-0 halftime lead, then Moore smashed 20 yards for a third quarter touchdown. Moore scored again in the final period on a 20-yard gallop.

Guard Clarence Reed sparked the Denver City forward wall, while Backs Jobe and Hamilton topped the Andrews secondary.

The victory boosted Denver City into the top position in the 5-A junior circuit, with a record of three wins, one tie and no defeats.

Jones Sparks Fourth Quarter Rally

Thompson Defeats O. L. Slaton, 14-6

Carroll Thompson Junior High's determined gridders, sparked by the brilliant running and passing of Fullback Don Jones, tallied 14 points in the fourth quarter to defeat a battling O. L. Slaton eleven, 14-6, in a crucial South Plains Junior High grid loop tilt Thursday night at Chapman field.

An overflow crowd of approximately 1,500 fans watched the smooth-working O. L. Slaton Redskins punch across the double stripe in the second quarter, with Quarterback Charles Brewer tossing a 35-yard aerial to End Jimmy Crawford for the touchdown. But the Thompson Cowboys picked up steam in the second half to score two touchdowns and a safety and take the top position in the area junior football circuit.

The Cowboys staged two long drives in the third period, but the Redskins protected their slender six-point lead with tough goal-line offenses. Late in the quarter the Thompson crew rolled down to the O. L. Slaton five-yard marker, only to lose the ball again on a fumble by the hard-driving Jones. The Redskins tried an end sweep on the first play and Back Duane Rampy was downed back of his own goal line for a safety.

Jones Stars

Carroll Thompson tallied again a minute later when, following the Redskins' kick from their own 20, Jones tossed a long pass to Halfback Charles Hodges. Hodges was far out in the clear and crossed the double stripe untouched. Jones plunge for extra point was no good, but Thompson led, 8-6.

The O. L. Slaton youngsters opened up a tricky passing attack in an effort to regain the lead, but lost the ball at mid-field. After two end sweeps by Jones, Hodges cut through center and raced 40 yards for the final tally.

Jones and Hodges were aided by a hard-charging forward wall that was paced by End Tommy Yelvington and Tackle Travis Locke. Brewer, Rampy and Johnny Tatum were standouts in the Redskin secondary, with Guard Bob Newell bulwarking the line.

In the battle of seventh and eighth graders of the two schools that preceded the main setto, the O. L. Slaton Warriors and the Thompson Calfropers fought to a 7-7 deadlock. Billy Biggs tallied the Calfropers' touchdown in the second quarter on a 40-yard gallop, with Richard Lindsey scoring for the Warriors in the third period on a 15-yard smash.

Post Juniors Chalk Up 37-0 Win Over J. T. Hutchinson

POST, Oct. 14. (Spl.)—Fullback Billy Glenn Jones romped for four touchdowns here tonight as the Post Juniors trounced the J. T. Hutchinson Junior High Ranchers of Lubbock, 37-0.

In the opening encounter of the double bill, the J. T. Hutchinson "B" squad chalked up a 12-0 victory over the home eleven.

LEVELLAND JUNIORS BEAT SEMINOLE ELEVEN, 14-0

SEMINOLE, Oct. 14 (Special)—Levelland's powerful junior gridders capitalized on a crushing ground attack to defeat the Seminole Juniors, 14-0, in a South Plains loop tilt here tonight. In the "B" tilt, Seminole rolled to a 12-0 victory over the visitors.

LAMESA JUNIORS WIN

LITTLEFIELD, Oct. 14 (Special —Lamesa's junior high football team chalked up a victory in a South Plains grid league clash with the Littlefield juniors here tonight, 21-6.

Idalou Downs Frenship, 28-7

IDALOU, Oct. 14 (Special)—Idalou High school's powerful Wildcats chalked up another District 4-B conference victory tonight, rolling over an outclassed Frenship eleven 28-7, with second string players on the field much of the time.

Don Seale passed to Lloyd Allen for a 35-yard touchdown on the third play after Idalou had the ball in the first quarter and passed to Harold Rogers for the extra point. After that there was no question of the eventual outcome.

Frenship fought back and made one scoring threat, when a long pass midway through the last quarter went for a score against Wildcat reserves. The rest of the time the Frenship eleven was unable to move offensively.

Seale completed all four extra points tonight on forward passes, hitting Travis Castlebury once and Allen twice.

Capt. Leon Jarrett, the Wildcat quarterback, was the other big gun in the Idalou offensive tonight, breaking loose for touchdown jaunts of 65 and 85 yards. His first run came midway through the second quarter and helped lead the Wildcats to a 21-0 lead at the half. And his second run, of 85 yards, came in the fourth quarter to put the game away.

The second Idalou touchdown was scored by Seale, who broke into the clear and ran 30 yards for a score in the first quarter.

Dunbar Defeats Chickasha, 13-6

The Dunbar High school Panthers got their home football season underway yesterday afternoon with a 13-6 victory over the Chickasha, Okla., Tigers before a slim local crowd.

Arthur Jones put the home town negro eleven in front early in the second quarter, when he took a pass from Fred Wright and crossed into pay dirt. The conversion attempt was blocked, but the Panthers never were headed after that.

In the third quarter the Panthers scored again, this time on a 15-yard reverse, with Lawrence Robinson carrying over. A short forward pass, from Wright to Jones, tallied the extra point.

Chickasha began to move late in the game, recovering a Panther fumble in midfield and marching on a sustained drive down the field, climaxed by the only Oklahoma touchdown. The extra point from placement was blocked.

Coach Damon Hill's Panthers held the upperhand throughout the game, dazzling the Chickasha players with a sleight of hand offense that kept the Lubbock eleven rolling.

RAIDERS 20 POINTS UNDERDOGS

Tech Squad Leaves For Waco After Finishing Light Drill

The Red Raiders, on the short end of at least 20 points against Baylor, wound up their practice sessions yesterday afternoon and were ready for a 7:45 departure by bus this morning for Waco.

The Raiders, 37 strong, will spin their wheels for a while in Brownwood, where they will eat lunch, and will have a light workout tonight under the lights in Municipal Stadium.

Yesterday's practcie session was restricted to light contact work, with emphasis on offensive and defensive drills. Two sets of players worked at different ends of the practice field, one set going against Baylor plays, the other polishing offensive formations to use against the Bears.

The offensive group outshone the defensive, a combination of freshmen and reserves scoring four touchdowns in five minutes against the varsity. Coach Tipp Mooney, using Bear scoring plays, directed the reserves to the scores in jig time.

Offensively, Tech plans to open up more than in any other game this year, if they get the opportunity. Raider supporters probably will see more forward passing, more short passes and more power through the center of the line.

Team In Condition

Physically the team is in better condition for this game than they have been since the Texas Aggie clash. Guard Milburn Haydon is out, but Fullback Bud Conley has recovered and will be ready to go. Dan Pursel, Bud Henderson, Zac Henderson and Glenn Lewis are well once more, while Bill White recovered from a head blow received in scrimmage this week.

The travelling squad includes centers, Bobby Williams, J. B. Mahler, Bud Henderson, Bob Hix; guards, Pursel, Bill Stalling, Ted Cummings, Don Orr, Dorrell McCurry, Bobby Garner, Walter Edrington; tackles, Don Williams, Marshall Gettys, John Andrews, Wayne Guynn, Doug McSwane, Ted DeFord; ends, Luke Thompson, J. L. Gulley, Frank Ottmers, Bill Kelley, Elbert Johnson, Dingy Davis; and backs, Cal Steveson, Walter Maloney, Ike Stuver, Zac Henderson, Ernest Hawkins, Shaff DeGaish, Lewis, Tim Hatch, Charley Reynolds, White, Bill Lyman, J. W. Thompson, Earl Jackson, Conley.

Girls Basketball League To Meet

Election of officers and the organization of District 18 of the Girls Basketball League of Texas will feature the annual fall meeting of the district Monday night at 7 in the Lubbock County courthouse.

Toby Waggoner, acting chairman of the district, has called the meeting for all member schools and prospective member schools. Waggoner said that there would be two principal movements discussed, breaking up the district into smaller divisions and of getting all members to pay their dues.

District 18 probably is the largest district in Texas, with an area including 13 counties and 48 schools. Last year Cotton Center, then coached by Waggoner, won the tourney and went to the state meet.

Waggoner said that all members should pay their dues not later than Nov. 1, which is the deadline, in order to keep their eligibility. Dues may be paid by check or money order to Mr. McCamey, state director, whose new address is Gatesville, Tex.

The meeting Monday night will be held in the office across the hall from Roy Boyd in the courthouse.

RAZORBACKS ON WAY

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Oct. 14 (AP)—The University of Arkansas tonight sent 43 players to Austin for the Razorbacks football game with the University of Texas Saturday. The squad left tonight by train and will arrive in Austin shortly after noon tomorrow.

U.C.L.A., 27; Stanford 26—Indians could upset.

San Diego State, 20; Pepperdine, 6—Waves fired six regulars for beer-drinking.

Sports Study

By Earl Scudday

Although Monahans and Seminole have been ranked as the top favorites in the District 5-A title race, it is more apparent each weekend that Andrews is the "dark horse" team in the district and deserves a place in the top bracket. The unheralded Andrews eleven has quietly chalked up five impressive wins, while the spotlight was on other teams and other games, and now looms as a real threat to the Indians and the Green Wave.

Of course, Monahans still holds the edge on both Seminole and Andrews in weight and experience. And Gordon Wood's Indians do not have their usual backfield speed. But, on the basis of early season games, it is certain that both Seminole and Andrews will be capable of knocking off Monahans if they get just a few breaks. We know they'll be shooting for upset victories over the powerful Wave, and it wouldn't surprise us to see them come through.

Here's the season records of the 5-A leaders:

MONAHANS

Monahans 20, Rotan 7.
Monahans 40, McCamey 0.
Monahans 27, Fort Stockton 6.
Monahans 32, Wink 7.

SEMINOLE

Seminole 6, Lamesa 0.
Seminole 21, McCamey 13.
Seminole 14, Pecos 0.
Seminole 0, Littlefield 0.
Seminole 21, Fort Stockton 6.

ANDREWS

Andrews 26, Sudan 0.
Andrews 26, Pecos 0.
Andrews 21, Wink 14.
Andrews 43, Merkel 20.
Andrews 20, Denver City 12.

On the basis of comparative scores, Andrews should be ranked a little higher than Seminole. Andrews beat Pecos 26-0, while Seminole bested the same team by a 14-0 margin. But this week's game between Seminole and Wink should be more revealing. Andrews was held to a 21-14 victory by the strong Wink eleven. Wink's record, just to keep the books straight:

Wink 13, Fort Stockton 0.
Wink 7, Denver City 18.
Wink 14, Andrews 21.
Wink 27, Jal, N. M., 6.
Wink 7, Monahans 32.

In case South Plains sports fans wish to attend the important games that will probably determine the District 5-A winner, here are the game dates and sites:

Oct. 22—Monahans at Andrews
Nov. 5—Seminole at Monahans
Nov. 19—Seminole at Andrews.

Veeck Says Indians At Peak Of Power

CLEVELAND, Oct. 14 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians won't need much overhauling for defense of their world championship, President Bill Veeck said today.

"Of course, that doesn't mean we'll repeat but we'll be up there with the best of them," Bill hastened to add.

Veech conceded that "We can't stand pat completely. No team should adopt that attitude. But I don't think many changes will be necessary.

"We have a pitching staff that is good for five more years," Veeck said. "Our outfield is one of the best and there isn't a better catcher in the league than Jim Hegan.

"With the exception of (Eddie) Robinson at first, our field is past the 30 mark, but I'm looking for another good year from (Lou) Boudreau, (Ken) Keltner and (Joe) Gordon. Some people will tell you those three are slowing up but they played some great baseball this year."

"Our pitching looks awfully good to me," Bill remarked. "Gene Bearden and Bob Lemon both won 20 games and this was the first full season on the mound for both of them.

"Bob Feller will come back. In fact, he did come back this year in spite of the fact he lost two series games. A lot of people overlook the fact that he helped us tremendously in the stretch drive.

Riley Advances In Women's Texas Open

FORT WORTH, Oct. 14 (AP) — Polly Riley of Fort Worth ousted Patty Berg, Minneapolis, professional, 2-1, to lead the way into the semi-finals of the Women's Texas Open here today.

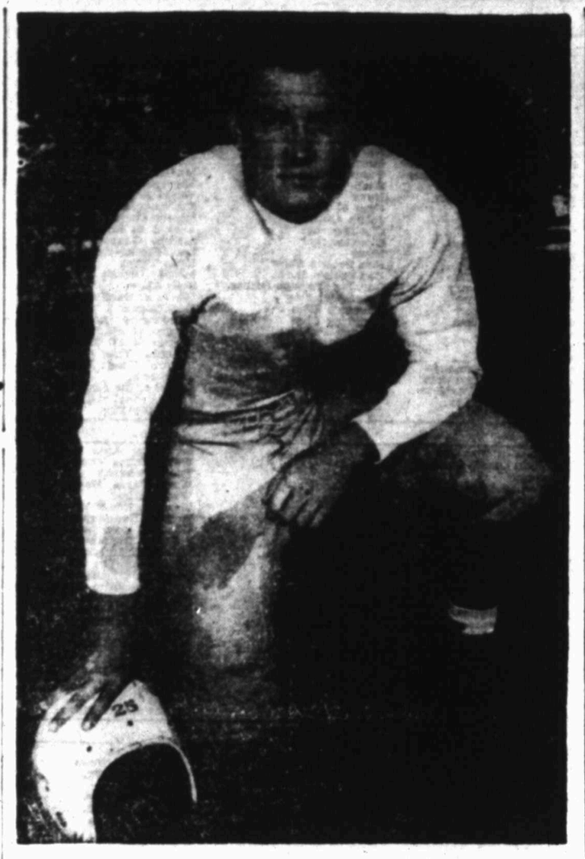

She was joined in the round of four by Mrs. George (Babe Didrickson Zaharias, Denver; Helen Dettweiler, Dallas, and Mary Agnes Wall, Menominee, Mich.

Mrs. Zaharias defeated Betsey Rawls, Austin, 3-2, Miss Wall bested Mrs. H. T. Williford, Sherman, 3-2, and Miss Dettweiler eliminated Mrs. Gordon Perrin, El Dorado, Ark.

Both Miss Wall and Miss Dettweiler collected four-up leads on the front side and coasted in.

The Babe, though not so sensational as in her past record-breaking performances, played steadily to stop the battling Austin youngster, who was only one down on the front nine.

Championship flight pairings—Polly Riley vs. Mary Agnes Wall. Mrs. George Zaharias vs. Helen Dettweiler.

TEXAN MAKES GOOD—Kenneth Willis of Morton has found himself a home in Portales, N. M., where he has been somewhat of a star for the Eastern New Mexico college Greyhounds. The former District 4-A back is doing the signal-calling for the Greyhounds and also is a better than average passer. In addition, he is co-captain of the New Mexico eleven. The chunky quarterback also has carried the ball well and his presence is doing a lot to make the Greyhounds respected.

Shallowater High Cage Squad Meets New Home Five Tonight

The Shallowater high school basketball squad will be seeking their fourth consecutive win of the season tonight when they tangle basketball skill and "know-how" with the New Home five at 7:30 in the Shallowater gymnasium.

Considerable speed and good ball handling have enabled the Shallowater boys to defeat the Cotton Center basketeers twice, and the Lubbock Westerner B-team once this season.

DRUMMOND WINS SET

EL PASO, Oct. 14 (AP)—Left-handed Ken Drummond of Arizona university beat Phil O'Connell of Los Angeles 6-4, 6-3 today to score the first major upset of the Southwestern Sectional Tennis Tournament.

TCU IS FAVORED OVER AGGIES

SMU Begins SWC Title Defense Saturday Against Rice Eleven

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

Southern Methodist begins defense of its Southwest Conference championship Saturday night at Houston against a team that has a score to settle.

It was SMU that put the skids under Rice last year after the Owls had been rated overwhelming favorites to win the championship.

This season Rice has no such handicap as being picked most likely to succeed and can concentrate on beating Southern Methodist just to show all those guys.

The Southern Methodist-Rice game headlines a card that includes two other struggles counting in the title standings.

Texas Christian and Arkansas will be fighting for survival in the race when they play Texas A. & M. and Texas respectively Saturday. Each has lost a conference test and another will eliminate.

The Christians, the Conference's only team to win an intersectional game last week, will be top favorites over the win-less Aggies at College Station, but not before a lusty battle.

Arkansas, deflated by Baylor last week, is a decided underdog against Texas at Austin although the Razorback record is better for the season than that of the Longhorns. Texas, however, has been facing much stronger opposition.

Both A. and M. and Texas will be making their start in Conference competition.

Baylor, the only undefeated team in the circuit for the season, and right now leading the Conference race with one victory and no defeats, plays Texas Tech at Waco Saturday night. The Baylors are heavy selections over the Techsans but Coach Bob Woodruff fears a let-down after having his boys high for the last two games.

BOWLING SCORES

Three of four teams in the Women's City Bowling League won clean sweeps in their bowling matches last night, with the fourth set of keglers winning two out of three.

Hub Laundry and Mission Orange kept pace, the former sweeping their set with Hemphill-Wells and the latter trimming Lubbock National Bank. KCBD moved out of the cellar with a sweep over Bell's Ice Cream and State Drug moved into a third place tie by taking two of three from Lubbock Packing company.

Individual team high scorers were Ann Oliver, Mission Orange, 198-439; Paola Patton, Lubbock National Bank, 197-471; Gypsie Hansen, Hemphill-Wells, 163-469; Norma Crossland, Hub Laundry, 189-513; Marguerite Harris, KCBD, 166-462; and Josephine Johnston, Bell's Ice Cream, 141-399.

Mangrum Takes Lead In Glendale Tourney

GLENDALE, Cal., Oct. 14 (INS)—Lloyd Mangrum, Chicago professional, found Oakmont country club very much to his liking today as he fired a six-under-par 66 to take the first-round lead in the $15,000 Glendale Open golf tournament.

Johnny Bulla of Phoenix, Ariz., fired a 68 for second place.

Tournament favorite Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., posted a 69. So did Zell Eaton, Montebello, Cal., and Ed Oliver, Seattle.

Trailing these leaders with scores of 70 for the par-72 course were Skip Alexander of Lexington, N. C., and Fred Hawkins of Antioch, Ill.

Mangrum, who is second to Hogan in golf earnings for 1948, came back in sensational fashion with a 30 on the back nine after going out in even par 36.

Coming up to the last hole, Mangrum was four strokes under par. His tee shot on the difficult 465-yard 18th hole split the fairway about 250 yards down. His next shot landed on the green, 12 feet from the pin and a perfect putt gave him an eagle for his 66.

Bulla got identical rounds of 34-34 for his 68. He birdied two holes on the first nine and two more on the back, but a pair of bogies kept him from tying Mangrum.

European Aid Program Allocates $35 Million For New Projects

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14. (INS)—The Economic Cooperation Administration announced tonight that 35 million dollars have been earmarked to pay for activities in Marshall Plan countries now bearing approval.

The money would go to industrialists, newspaper publishers and motion picture producers. It is the first effort by ECA to make use of 300 million dollars which Congress provided to stimulate private American investments in Europe.

Wayne Taylor, assistant to ECA Administrator Hoffman, told a news conference that 32 such projects are now in various stages of consideration looking toward approval.

Insurance Policy

Under the plan, ECA guarantees up to 100 percent convertibility the dollar investment of American businessmen in approved projects in ECA countries.

This is conditioned, however, by the law which states that foreign funds acquired by private business can be converted back into American dollars only to the extent that such dollars were spent for the activity. Profits from such enterprises cannot be converted back into American dollars by use of ECA funds.

Taylor said the program is merely an "insurance policy against non convertibility" of foreign funds into American dollars.

Projects Are Set

Taylor said the ECA is planning 19 informational and 13 industrial projects among the 16 ERP countries. He declined to give specific details of the projects but he estimated that "if approved, they would all amount to about 35 million dollars."

The ECA official said that six industrial projects are slated for Britain, totalling about four million dollars. He said that one of these, involving about one million dollars, is at a "definite" stage of approval.

France is slated to receive three other industrial projects amounting to about four million dollars while The Netherlands has been designated for two totalling about 12 million dollars.

In addition, two other projects are under consideration for Italy but no figures are available on their value.

Informational projects include 11 for Austria and Western Germany and one each for Holland, Norway, The Netherland East Indies and France. Four others are planned for all ERP countries.

Taylor said that the 19 informational projects would cost about two million, 500 thousand dollars.

Louis F. Hart, Texas Newspaperman, Dies

LONGVIEW, Oct. 14. (AP)—Louis F. Hart, 51, publisher of the Hallsville Review and a veteran Texas newspaperman, died in a Longview hospital today after a month's illness.

Death was attributed to complications following a heart attack in September.

During his newspaper career he was associated with a number of Texas newspapers, including The Houston Chronicle, The Houston Post, The Corpus Christi Caller-Times, The Waco News-Tribune, The Fort Worth Star-Telegram and others.

Prior to his purchase of The Hallsville paper, he was editor of The Longview Daily News and Longview Morning Journal nearly 15 years.

At one time he was night editor of the Dallas bureau of The Associated Press and served with the AP in New York, Chicago and Louisville.

He was editor of the Monterrey (Mexico) Times and oil editor of The Tampico (Mexico) Tribune.

Hart came to East Texas from Tampico and entered the service of Publisher Carl Estes as oil editor and later managing editor of the Tyler newspapers.

Funeral services are scheduled to be held at 4 p. m. here tomorrow.

When Estes acquired The Longview News and Journal, Hart came to Longview with him as oil editor and associate editor of East Texas Oil (now The Texas Oil Journal), an Estes publication.

Hart bought the Hallsville Review more than two years ago.

He was born at Warrensburg, Mo., in 1897 and came to Texas three years later when his family moved to Hillsboro, where he was graduated from high school.

Miss Annie Campbell, of Letterkenny Technical School, "the best domestic economy teacher in Erie," according to her pupils, has one ambition—to remove the slur cast on Irish girls, that they are the world's worst cooks.

RED PAPER BACKS HIGH PAY

PRAGUE (AP)— Even a Communist-run state is troubled by complaints about high salaries paid to top industrial executives. But the Prague trade union daily, "Prace," says that such complaints about "privileged persons" are the work of "reactionary instigators."

Accused Traitor Is Denied Bail

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14. (INS)—San Francisco Federal Judge Louis E. Goodman today denied release on bail to Mrs. Iva Toguri D'Aquino, accused of treason for "Tokyo Rose" radio broadcasts.

Judge Goodman then ordered the United States marshal's office to provide her with suitable quarters in which to prepare her defense with her attorney, Wayne Collins.

He made the ruling after Marshal George Vice informed the court he had no place to keep Mrs. D'Aquino except in the San Francisco county jail. Judge Goodman replied:

"Well, the government can spend thousands of dollars bringing witnesses back and forth and preparing evidence in this case That is proper. Then they can also spend the necessary funds to be sure that this girl's rights are protected."

Illegal Arrest Claimed

Collins, in arguing for her release on bail, said that the accused 32-year-old Los Angeles-born Nisei could not properly cooperate with him in preparation of her case while she was in jail.

He also contended that she was illegally arrested and that her marriage to a Portuguese proof reader in Tokyo made her a Portuguese national.

Bail was opposed by Tom De Wolfe, special assistant to the U. S. attorney general. He said no one accused of treason in the U. S. had ever been admitted to bail.

De Wolfe further argued that treason is not an extradictable offense and that she could not be returned if she fled the country.

Judge Goodman asked today why the government waited until so long after the war before bringing charges against her. He was told that the Department of Justice lacked adequate facilities in Japan to make a proper investigation in the case until some time after the war.

Capt. Colin Kelly, War Hero Of Pacific, Is Returned Home

By BOB CONSIDINE
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Oct. 14 — It was only a single paragraph in the paper I read. It said that the body of Capt. Colin Kelly, brought back from the Pacific to lie in state at the county courthouse at Madison, Fla., had been burried.

Kelly, of course, was one of the first to go. And out of his death came many things: An amazing lift in the nation's morale, the re-designing of the B-17 bomber, the just reputation of Douglas MacArthur as one who could get lilting words into bleak communiques, an Army-Navy squabble, a re-examination of the relative merits of high and low-level bombing, and much else.

It was a mixed one, his story, mixed and cruelly maligned. He never had a chance to tell it himself, for he tried to get his Flying Fortress back to what was left of Clark field—after apparently ordering some of his men to hit the silk—and rode it until it killed him. He knew how few there were of these planes, and he took the long chance.

Plane Was Blasted

The survivors said that they had hit and sunk a Japanese battleship of the Kongo class, sent to protect the Jap landings in the north of Luzon. They said that two of their bombs bracketed the ugly black monster and the other fell more or less down one of the stacks. When they got another look, they said, there was no battleship. They estimated their bombing height at around 20,000 feet.

On the way back to base the Kelly plane was attacked by several Zeros. Whence they came has never been told, but the assumption is that the Japs might have had a light cruiser in the region, or ships capable of catapulting planes of their span and weight.

Whatever the source, they shot Kelly's plane full of holes with a minimum of danger to themselves. They came up from the unprotected rear and riddled it . . . And after that the B-17's were built in such a way as to include a tail gunner with a couple of 50 calibers to use. It was a change which cost taxpayers millions in machine tools, blue-prints and the like. But it saved lives . . . and B-17's.

Gave Nation Hope

The papers ran pictures of the Jap battleship, and reading the story and looking at the picture made millions of Americans whose spirits had been slugged by Pearl Harbor and the Japanese sweep to the south feel that we were at last in the fight. And fighting well, and with a chance to win.

Gen. MacArthur's communique, from which the stories sprang, was not a long one. In fact, it left a shade of doubt (ignored) that the battleship had gone to the bottom. But it also packed some of the vivid writing which meant so much in those days and the "we're-not-licked-yet" spirit which means a lot to people at any time. Some of us were a little vague about the man MacArthur—and what he was doing out there before the Kelly story hit the front pages. From then on there was no doubt. He was running a defense against appalling odds (which, of course, got even worse) and running it well. He and his men, like the martyr Kelly, were throwing punches.

Dispute Also Raged

Just as the saga of Colin Kelly was fully believed it was kicked in the head by a few Navy men who still believed that their prime foes were the United States Army and the Army Air Force. One heard the scoffs first in Washington; then they got in print, and Adm. Hart, who had pulled out of wrecked Cavite on orders at the start of the thing, later wished out loud in magazine print that the Air Force knew what it was talking about.

There was a war on, Bud, but the services became ensnarled in a battle over whether bombs should be dropped from a height. The Army said yes and spoke of Billy Mitchell. The Navy said bunk and spoke of the Japs' sinking of the Prince of Wales and that other one by aerial torpedoes. Then there was a direct story from Navy department stating that the battleship Kelly—after his death—was credited with sinking was still afloat, and it seemed to a lot of us that it would have been better not to knock the story down.

As we said, Kelly never had a chance to talk. He was too busy giving away his life to a country he loved very much and wanted to help with the aid of the pitiable tools at hand. This can be of small comfort to his family, but it is nice to read that, at last, he is at rest in a land that meant so much to him and his gallant kind.

POWs Unconvinced By Red Teachings

VIENNA, Austria, Oct. 14. (AP)—Russian attempts to convert Austrian and German war prisoners to Communism are "failing miserably" repatriated prisoners said here today.

A cross section of 300 repartiates who arrived here yesterday told newsmen they all had been forced to attend lectures on Marxism which pictured capitalism as declining.

They said the lectures were so contrary to what they saw around them they were left unconvinced.

Most of the repatriates said they were well treated in Russia, after the first hectic months in the immediate post-war period. Their worst treatment, they said, was at the hands of fellow prisoners who made a quick and profitable jump from Nazism to Communism.

Lazzer R., Viennese Carpenter, said Russia is still years behind the west in developing an industrial potential.

Lazzer said the Russians depend primarily on antiquated equipment and asserted that the average Russian worker is inferior to his western countepart in almost every trade.

Production of rubber articles in 16 factories under the jurisdiction of Rumania's Industrial Office for Rubber has more than doubled in the last six months.

Challenges To Various Phases Of Cotton Industry Seen In Mechanization Study At Meeting Here

Challenges to a number of phases of the cotton industry in the mechanization of cotton and related crops, the theme of the National Cotton council's second annual Beltwide Cotton Mechanization conference, were discussed at the Thursday morning session of the first day of the three-day session underway here.

Covered Thursday morning were challenges to the plant breeder, to the agronomist, to the agricultural extension service, to vocational agriculture, and to the farm equipment dealer.

Mechanical Types Described

Challenges to the plant breeder were presented by Dr. J. W. Neely, plant breeder with the Stoneville (Miss.) Pedigreed Seed company, who asserted that if cotton production is to continue to be a profitable enterprise, and if the American cotton industry is to survive the competition of synthetic fibers and foreign growths, it will be necessary, among other things, to produce cotton more efficiently and with improved qualities.

Dr. Neely listed a number of characteristics of a cotton type adapted to mechanical production.

These included seed characterized by sparse fuzz, and of a size, shape and specific gravity suitable for precision planting; adaptation to flame control of weeds, and stems resistant to torch heat; medium-tall plants with medium spaced bolls, minimum number of vegetative branches and lower limbs high above ground, adaptation to control of weeds with chemicals; medium-light foliage, adaptation to chemical defoliation, medium-early maturity; medium-size, well fluffed "straight-burr" bolls with at least a fair amount of fiber fraction or cohesion, and type of fiber to which trash does not adhere excessively in the field.

Insect Control Mandatory

Dr. J. E. Adams, head of the agronomy department of Texas A. and M. college, discussing the challenges to the agronomist, believes the main problem to that phase of the industry will be breeding of a cotton of high quality, with characteristics required by manufacturers, in volume sufficient to allow efficient processing, and at a price equal to or lower than competitive materials.

Dr. Adams said high yields are necessary for profit, on cotton as well as any other crop, but "is more important in mechanized harvesting than in hand harvesting. Insect control would be mandatory, he said.

He listed water as the first limiting factor for production in any area, since fertilizers cannot be expected to pay off fully when rainfall drops below 30 inches per year. But, he added, "it is quite possible for a crop to suffer from lack of moisture when the total amount and distribution of rainfall is ordinarily considered adequate."

Cotton Acreage Cut

He named defoliation as probably one of the greatest challenges to the agronomy fraternity, but he pointed up "the necessity for cooperation of all workers who can contribute to the problem (the whole industry), because "tne survival of the cotton industry depends on this."

P. O. Davis, director of the Alabama Extension service, believes that the challenge to the extension service demands "application of wisdom as the No. 1 need of the industry from planting seed until the finished product is sold to satisfied customers."

He cited a total acreage in 1948 that is only 50.6 per cent of the 1926 crop, the only major crop in the U. S. for which acreage has been reduced substantially during this century.

This reduced acreage, he said, provides the main income for more farmers than any other one crop in the nation, and also provides the chief raw material for more workers in industry than any other crop.

Despite the more than 50 per cent reduction in acreage, however, the 1948 crop is the seventh largest ever produced, he said, due in part to the fact that "more improvements were made during the last 20 years than that of any other major American crop."

Mechanization Is Goal

But he warned that "cotton is confronted with major problems," and "a beginning of wisdom, we're told, is a willingness to cooperate with the inevitable."

Among these inevitables he cited were that cotton production must either be mechanized or those who produce it must accept a small income per person and a low income for all who depend primarily on cotton production.

Concerning the "viewers with alarm" who wonder what will happen to "displaced persons" in cotton mechanization, Davis pointed out that the standard of living of every nation, or every individual engaged in production, has always been determined by the amount of power and equipment available, and the efficiency with which it was used.

Mechanization, he said, does not wreck human beings. Instead, he continued, "it enables them to lift themselves from drudgery and poverty into abundant living with greater safety and more security."

West Texas Has Space

Among definite challenges to the extension service he listed the necessity to be real leaders in thought and action, to cooperate with other agencies in development of cotton types and improved implements, to develop culture of livestock, poultry and other crops in a balanced combination; to do effective educational work, and to be a real and genuine friend of cotton for what it is, what it has done, and what it can do through sound leaders with courage and ability.

Concerning mechanization and vocational agriculture, Ray L. Chappelle, head of the Agricultural Education department of Texas Tech college, pointed up progress in that field, and cited "the added interest in mechanization in the High Plains of West Texas, "where most of the land can be cultivated with mechanical power."

He said that in 12 southern states, there are approximately 50 per cent of all the vocational agriculture teachers in the United States, and that this region has nearly 60 per cent, 350,000, of all vocational ag students in the nation. Texas has about 800 vocational ag teachers, with about 50,000 students in 1947.

Pledging teachers to keep up with what is new in all phases of the farm production picture, Chappelle urged cooperation from all sources to help the teacher keep informed.

Polish Immigrant Makes Good As Blueberry 'King' In East

BLANDFORD, Mass., Oct. 14 (U.P.)—A Polish immigrant boy who came to this rural town 26 years ago to regain his health ruined in factory work is now "king" of the hybrid blueberry growers in this area.

Joseph Kaneski harvested 10,000 pints of berries this year from 3,000 plants. He has another 3,000 plants on some 400 acres which are developing and by 1950 plans to have 10,000 bushels in his production line.

After six unsuccessful years of trying to make the hybrid plants grow according to accepted methods, Kaneski "threw away the book and relied on my horse sense." Shortly he was harvesting big, juicy berries from plants which the experts warned would never grow in Blandford's uplands.

Newsprint Manufactured From Wheat Straw Claimed Cheaper

HOLYOKE, Mass., Oct. 14. (U.P.)—Newsprint has been manufactured from 100 per cent wheat straw.

Four tons of the new paper were produced for the Kinsley Chemical Co. of Cleveland at the Holyoke plant of the Chemical Paper Manufacturing Co.

If tests prove the new paper can be used successfully, it can be marketed for $65 to $72 a ton. Wood pulp newsprint costs approximately $100 a ton.

Orangutan Dies As Fast Train Trip To Chicago Ends

CHICAGO, Oct. 14. (INS)—Director Robert Bean of the Brookfield zoo and two traveling companions arrived in Chicago from New York today after a night aboard the crack Pennsylvania limited.

The traveling companions were a pair of young orangutans and Bean served as their baby sitter during the trip. The three occupied a pullman compartment on the train.

Despite expert and solicitous care by Bean, one of the apes, the male, couldn't stand the rigors of train travel. It died shortly after arriving in Chicago.

Efforts were made to revive the orangutan by a Chicago fire station inhalator squad. The firemen worked half an hour before the animal was pronounced dead.

The 16-month-old female made the journey in fine shape. Regularly during the night Bean had heated and fed milk to the pair.

Bean obtained the animals from a New York dealer for immediate exhibition at the Brookfield zoo.

New York City Firms Pledge To Hire Disabled Veterans

NEW YORK, Oct. 14. (INS) — More than 500 New York city firms pledged themselves today, in a signed scroll handed to Mayor William O'Dwyer, to hire at least one disabled veteran in the next year.

The pledges were a result of a campaign conducted during "national employ the physically handicapped week," which ended Saturday.

Candy Which May Compete With Meat, Potatoes Is Introduced

CHICAGO, Oct. 14 (U.P.)—A new vitamin-fortified candy which some day may compete on the dinner table with meat and potatoes was introduced today by the government and the nation's candy makers.

The candy, developed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture in cooperation with the national confectioners association, was exhibited at the national chemical exposition.

The USDA chemist said the candy contains proteins from agricultural products and will furnish a "balanced diet." It is being made on an experimental scale at the Agriculture department's laboratory at New Orleans.

The chemist cautioned that parents shouldn't allow children to eat candy and no other food, but added that some day they might tell their children "don't eat so much meat and potatoes; eat your candy, too."

Two-Year College Study Urged For 'White Collar' Students

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 14. (U.P.)—President James B. Conant of Harvard university recommended today the creation of special two-year-college courses with a special degree for those students seeking white-collar work in business or a semi-professional career.

Under his plan, only those headed for the professions would attend the regular four-year colleges and universities. Graduates of the two-year colleges would be a degree of B.G.S.—bachelor of general studies.

He outlined his recommendations in a book "Education in a Dividend World" published today, and also suggested the possibility of filling military needs by enrolling every boy of physical fitness in a national militia for a period of ten years. The training, to be obtained in the local units of the National Guard, would start when the boy reaches 18 or graduates from high school.

Two Boys Buried Under Load Of Okra When Vehicles Crash

HOUSTON Oct. 14. (U.P.)—Houston streets were cleaned today of debris from an acident yesterday that buried two Pearland, Texas, youngsters under an avalanche of Okra.

Safe at home, but still slightly sticky, were Tony Martinez, 7, and his brother, Daniel, 4. They were dumped on the pavement when the pick-up truck they rode in with their father collided with another car.

Howard Hughes Makes Deal With Selznick For Use Of Robert Mitchum In New Movie

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 14. — So sure is Howard Hughes that Robert Mitchum is going to survive his present crisis, he has just made a deal with David Selznick for the next Mitchum picture.

RKO and David Selznick share Mitchum's contract fifty-fifty. Up until the time of all the trouble, Robert was supposed to make his next picture for Selznick.

You may remember David was asking $175,000 to lend him out. As it stands now, Hughes has Mitchum for two pictures in succession. What he paid, I don't know, since I was unable to reach the new RKO boss by telephone. But I have a pretty good guess that it wasn't anywhere near $175,000.

New Movie Story

This is the kind of Hollywood story I enjoy writing. An ambitious young group at RKO, including secretaries, cutters and other "small fry" selected the subject of volunteer women workers at Sawtelle, the veterans' hospital, for a movie. They believed they might encourage others to help disabled war veterans. The result is "Dear Ma," a creditable one-reeler playing at the Esquire.

The group had no money, but all the faith in the world, Elmo Williams, a cutter, is the producer, and his wife wrote the screenplay. Jose Mathias, director Nick Ray's secretary, is associate producer, and cutters Robert Belcher and Robert Ford are director and photographer.

The actors were the actual patients and women workers at the hospital, with the exception of Fleta Preston, head of RKO personnel, and Avah Gene Porter.

Oh, yes! Nick Ray lent his convertible for the camera car.

Unknown Gets Chance

Pretty Helen Westcott is proof the chance for unknowns is greater than ever today in Hollywood, and that all the studios are searching both for new faces and latent ability that can be developed.

Helen, who is the daughter of the late Gordon Westcott, has just been signed to a long-term contract at 20th where she will be given a big chance. Heretofore she's only had small parts in two Warner pictures. I saw her in one of them, "Don Juan," and I thought she was good . . .

Only a few weeks ago David Brian, completely unknown, was put opposite Joan Crawford in "Flamingo Road."

I am sorry for Andre De Toth, who is completely baffled over the attitude of Veronica Lake's mother. Veronica, who is expecting a baby any minute, knew nothing about her mother's demands for money until the newspapers telephoned her for a statement.

Said Andre, "I've never even met my mother-in-law, and she's never seen her grandchildren. I'm sure if my wife owed her mother any money, she'd pay it. It's incredible for her to worry Ronnie now when she's expecting our baby, with ridiculous demands for $17,000 and $500 a month."

I used to wonder how a mother could hold such bitterness in her heart as Mrs. Keane seemed to have against Veronica. I agree with Andre that this law suit seems strange at a time when any girl needs her mother's love and attention.

ASHBURN NAMED TO POST

AUSTIN, Oct. 14. (AP)—Appointment of Col. Ike Ashburn of Austin as a member of the merit system council was announced today by Gov. Beauford H. Jester. Ashburn will fill the vacancy created by the resignation of M. J. Sorrell of Dallas.

Tulsa Promoters Claim Cattle Ban Hurts Bullfighting

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 14 (U.P.) — Hoof and mouth disease, which prevents imports of Mexican animals into this country, is depriving Americans of the true thrills of the bullfight, promoters of Tulsa's mock bull fight said today.

They said Americans should be allowed to watch "real Mexican fighting bulls," instead of the tamer ones raised in the United States.

"It isn't necessary to kill the bull to provide thrills," said Alberto Gonzales. "We kill them in Mexican bull fights only because we know that the second time out, after they have had a chance to get wise, they will kill the matador."

"The cape won't fool them the second time," said Gonzales, who owns a large bull ranch in Juarez, Mexico.

He said the only difference between the shows put on here and those in the Mexican ring are that the bulls here are less ferocious and are not killed.

Nevertheless, promoters of the Tulsa exhibitions were hopeful that interest in bullfighting will spread in America. They plan programs in several other towns in the near future.

They even hope that some day, if and when the hoof and mouth disease is stamped out in Mexico, they will be able to stage a real show in an arena the size of Madison Square garden.

Attendance dropped slightly at last night's performance in a fair grounds pavilion, but the crowd gave a tremendous ovation to the three matadors who sidestepped the charges of the bulls.

The animals used for the local fights, which began Tuesday night, were picked from ranches all over the country. The promoters said they inspect the bulls and put them through tests in an arena. If they are fierce enough, they are bought.

After the performance the animals are put on the auction block.

A shortage of matadors, however, threatens the future of the present bullfighting exhibition. The three who have been dodging the bulls here are on visas from Mexico, and the visas expire within the next few days.

Oldster's 'Tooth Hold' Helps Defeat Young Man In Fight

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 14 (U.P.)—John Fanando is 67 years old but there's nothing the matter with his teeth.

He said he got into a fight with 23-year-old James Mitchell in front of a tavern after Mitchell had insulted him.

"I'm too old to fight a young man," Fanando said. "So I got hold of his ear and hung on."

It was a tooth-hold, police explained when they exhibited one-third of the ear to surgeons, who said they couldn't sew the piece back on.

Former Treasury Official Urges New Reduction In Federal Taxes

NEW YORK, Oct. 14. (INS)—John W. Hanes, former Undersecretary of the Treasury, called tonight for a reduction in taxes to increase the amount of risk capital available for investment.

The widely known financial executive backed up this plea with a prediction that the United States will have a surplus in the fiscal year ending next June.

Hanes addressed the annual meeting of the Investment Counsel Association of America.

He aserted that instead of "encouraging more and more production, governmental fiscal policies and high tax rates are drying up the sources of venture capital and stand in the way of the creation of new risk capital."

Hanes recalled that after World War I, "business was so stimulated by a series of tax reductions that federal revenues were not adversely affected." He said, "I am convinced that the same favorable reaction will follow our most recent tax revision."

He predicted that the incoming Congress again will consider tax revision when it convenes next January, and suggested a number of changes to help generate more capital for business enterprise.

Hanes expresed belief that a Republican President will be elected in November.

He said that under a Republican chief executive, "The Treasury will assume again its rightful place as the leader in establishing the financial policy to be followed by the administration."

The former government official concluded on an optimistic note, saying:

"There are more bullish factors apparent at present than at any time in our recent history. But an inept administration, plus the fear of war, have caused us to hesitate and therefore all these favorable factors have been pushed into the background.

"The cost of living is too high, but industrial activity is at its highest point; corporate profits in most industries are at very satisfactory levels and we may expect further favorable devident action. The crop outlook is very bright." He added:

"The federal government collected a near-record 47 billion, 700 million dollars; and all signs point to the election of a President who will seek to govern us by some rule of reason.

"His will be a government by law, and an orderly government through subordinates of character as well as common sense."

'Golden Rule' Foundation To Push Character Education Work

TEXARKANA, Oct. 14. (AP)—The Palmer foundation, endowed with $100,000 by publisher C. E. Palmer to promote the principle of the golden rule, will endeavor to enlist the aid of teachers colleges in developing courses of character education for public schools.

Dr. H. L. Smith of Bloomington, Ind., director of research for the foundation, reported his findings at the annual meeting of the board of directors here Tuesday. He recommended the development of character building education through teachers colleges.

His survey on character education programs has been submitted to 175 educators throughout the nation and many favorable reports on it have been received.

New members added to the board of directors included Lucille Holland of the Texarkana Gazette and Daily News.

Those re-elected to the board included Dr. A. W. Birdwell, president emeritus of Stephen F. Austin college, Nacogdoches; Dr. A. C. Ellis of the University of Texas; Mrs. P. D. Vincent of Texarkana. Mr. Palmer and H. W. Stilwell, president of the foundation.

Southwest Feed Markets Show Some Recovery From Losses

DALLAS, Oct. 14. (U.P.)—Southwest feed markets showed some recovery this week from recent losses, the Production and Marketing administration of the U. S. Department of Agriculture reported today.

Wheat bran advanced $3 a ton to sell around $45 at north Texas mills. Gray shorts gained $1 to bring $55. Cottonseed meal for prompt shipment sold $5 a ton higher. North Texas crushers quoted the product containing 41 per cent protein at $70 per ton.

The agency attributed strength in the feed markets partly to the sharp recovery in corn prices in the past few days. The market also continued to feel the effect of the prolonged shutdown of the large Minneapolis flour mills as well as the reduced output on the west coast.

New Game Preserves Designated In State

AUSTIN, Oct. 14. (U.P.)—Three new game preserves, totaling more than 90,000 acres, were designated today by the State Game, Fish and Oyster commission.

The members also heard protests on a proposal to turn 30,000 acres of Camp Swift into a public hunting ground.

However, the board, with only three of its six members present, postponed any action on the plea by delegates from Bastrop, Smithville and Elgin that the lands should be returned to their former owners rather than the state.

Of some 50,000 acres originally embraced in the Camp Swift area, the federal government has offered to make available some 30,000 acres to the state.

The action is being protested on the ground that the original owners want their land returned, and the county needs the land on the tax rolls.

Those in the protesting delegation included Bowen Crider, Bastrop county agent; William Moore, Bryan, state senator-elect; Harry Whitworth, Smithville, state representative; H. E. Wassell, representing the Federal Land bank, and J. V. Ash, Bastrop, chairman of the state parks board.

The game preserves included 35,100 acres on the ranch Jax M. Cowden, jr., in Culberson county; Silver Lake ranches, Inc., 41,452 acres in LaSalle and Dimmitt counties, and H. R. Wardlow, jr., 13,500 acres in Tom Green and Iron counties.

Over 1,000,000 bicycles and 44,000 motorcycles exported by Britain this year have earned over 3,500,000 dollars from the United States and Canada alone.

Scripps-Howard Newspapers Endorse Dewey For President

NEW YORK, Oct. 14. (U.P.)—The Scripps-Howard newspapers today endorsed Governor Dewey for president.

In an editorial captioned "Dewey and Warren" the papers said:

"In less than three weeks the American people will elect their next president. We hope their choice will be Thomas E. Dewey.

"In saying this, we make no partisan appeal for Dewey votes. The Scripps-Howard newspapers are neither Republican nor Democratic. They are independent.

"In past campaigns we have supported Democratic candidates at times, Republican candidates at other times; in 1924, when Robert M. La Follette was the honest candidate of an honestly American Progressive party, we supported him. However, we have never given blank-check support to any candidate, and will not do so in the campaign. We reserve the right to criticize both candidates and parties.

"We are not presuming to tell anyone how to vote. Between now and Nov. 2 we shall explain why we believe the election of Thomas E. Dewey and Earl Warren will best serve the interests of this country and all its people."

The editorial said President Truman "is a good man, a good American" but "not good enough for the next four years."

12 VESSELS OUT OF ARMADA STILL AFLOAT

Navy Destroys Most Of 76-Ship Fleet Used In Bikini A-Bomb Tests Because Of Radioactivity

By FELIX COTTEN
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14. (INS)—The Navy revealed for the first time today that radioactivity had forced destruction of practically the entire 76-ship fleet used in the Bikini underwater bomb test two years ago.

Only four small vessels of the original 76, the Navy said, have been returned to service, and only 12 now remain afloat. Of the 12, three are still radioactive and two are scheduled for sinking in the near future.

Bomb's Menace Shown

This is the first summation, officials said, which disclose the full effect of the underwater bomb. It was made clear that most of the ships had to be sunk because of deadly radioactivity, which is capable of adhering to an object for thousands of years."

When the bomb, previously planted underwater, went off on July 25, 1946, only nine ships sank or capsized and were subsequently sunk.

This caused at the time some disparagement of the power of the bomb, two of which forced the surrender of Japan in 1945. The Navy's latest figures, however, point up with stark reality the menace of the bomb as a destroyer of life.

The four vessels returned to service are part of nine which the Navy says have been "decontaminated." They are the submarines Dentuda and Parche and the landing craft infantry 549 and 615.

Two Ships To Be Sunk

The other five are all attack transports which were lightly contaminated by radioactivity in the first place. They are being disposed of, the Navy said, in the surplus program.

Of the three other ships still afloat but radioactive, the heavy cruiser Pensacola is to be sunk Nov. 10 and the destroyer Hughes at an unspecified date.

The last ship, the aircraft carrier Independence, is at San Francisco, where it is being used as a guinea pig for testing decontamination methods and is a training ground for radiological safety methods.

The Navy said the additional sinking would be during maneuvers and in accordance with the policy of either using for targets or scuttling those ships which cost more than their scrap value to decontaminate.

Fifty-five of the vessels used in the Bikini underwater test have already been blasted into watery graves. Many were sunk in the vicinity of the Kwajalein lagoon, where the test was conducted, because in the months that followed they deteriorated to such an extent that they were unseaworthy.

Those previosuly sunk consist of three battleships, two cruisers, 10 destroyers, three submarines, 12 transports, six LST's, four LCT's, one concrete floating dock and one tug.

When the bomb exploded, the following ships sank or were capsized: The carrier Saratoga, the U. S. battleship Arkansas, the Japanese battleship Nagato, the submarines Apogon, Pilotfish and Skipjack, the yard oiler 160, the landing ship medium 60, and the landing craft tank 1114.

Roads Group Urges Tax On Resources

AUSTIN, Oct. 14 (U.P.)—A natural resources tax to finance a rural roads program has been recommended to the Texas Rural Roads association, it was announced today.

The association, if it approves the recommendation of its legislative committee, would ask the 51st legislature for passage of the tax.

The revenue from the proposed natural resources tax, said association President Jim Cantrell, would be placed in a rural roads fund to be handled by the Texas Highway commission.

The association's legislative committee also went on record opposing any increase in gasoline taxes. And it took the stand that no change should be made in the present law providing for refund of taxes on gasoline used in farm tractors.

Police Didn't Have Much Trouble Finding This Car

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 14 (U.P.)—Here's one stolen car that didn't need a license number to identify it.

The call over the St. Paul police radio described the car as follows:

1939 Ford convertible; bright red color; three yellow hub caps one red one; blue tail light; yellow grill work; three radio aerials, two with flags and one with streamer.

Patrolman Robert Highberg spotted the car 20 minutes later. It had been stolen from George Hilsuk and abandoned on a downtown street.

State Agency Plans To Help Local Areas Get Hospital Aid

AUSTIN, Oct. 14 (INS)—A state plan for assisting local areas in getting hospital aid is now underway in Texas, according to the Texas State Department of Health.

The State Health department plans to emphasize the vital need for adequate office space and equipment for all health units. Steps are now being taken to survey all existing health unit facilities and from the date accumulated a plan will be suggested to assist local areas in securing adequate facilities and equipment.

In order to secure aid under the hospital construction act and in the construction of public health center buildings, the following steps are necessary on the part of local governmental agencies:

A health unit organization approved by the Texas State Department of Health must be operating in the local community concerned.

The local community must have two-thirds of the cost of construction and equipment for the facility, the state supplying one third.

Grand Coulee Dam Nearing Height Of Power Output

COULEE DAM, Wash., Oct. 14. (U.P.)—The bureau of reclamation opens bids Sept. 29 on the final three of 18 giant generators which will make Grand Coulee Dam the world's biggest producer of hydro-electric power.

Nine 180,000-kilowatt units, each capable of lighting all the homes in a city the size of Chicago, are now in production in the dam's west powerhouse.

The first three units in the east powerhouse are scheduled for completion next year. The second three are due to go into service in 1950 and the final three in 1951.

When all 18 are "on the line," Grand Coulee Dam will have a peak capacity of about 2,300,000 kilowatts, equivalent to 3,000,000 horsepower.

Wink's Third Annual Air Carnival Is Slated Sunday

WINK, Oct. 14. (Special)—Wink's third annual Air Carnival will be staged here Sunday with an all-day program of events at Wink Municipal airport, carnival officials announced Thursday.

Several thousand spectators are expected to attend the event, which is sponsored by the Wink Lions club.

The Air Carnival will be launched with a breakfast flight at 7 a. m., at which time pilots and planes from all over West Texas will gather. A breakfast for all pilots and their passengers will be given. W. L. Stoddard, operator of the local airport, is chairman of the arrangements committee.

A number of flight contests will be staged beginning at 10 a. m. Contests will include spot-landing and short take-off events.

A barbecue is scheduled for 1 p. m.

The air show proper will be staged during the afternoon, to be highlighted by aerial exhibits. Civilian pilots, along with a squadron of planes from Goodfellow Field, San Angelo, will participate. Events include formation flying, acrobatics, and precision flying.

Northern Ireland is trying to stop the export of shoddy textile goods.

How Would You Make the BEST CORN BREAD?

First, Wouldn't You Use the BEST CORN MEAL?

How can you be sure which is the best? To know this—know how it's milled and packed! Quaker Corn Meal, for instance, is milled from only selected plump white corn. This corn is washed again and again in sparkling clean water for utmost purity, then milled "spoil-proof." Last, Quaker Corn Meal is protected by stay-fresh packages. No wonder it's so pure, white and fresh!

Use Quaker Corn Meal for your next batch of corn bread—and see if you aren't delightfully convinced!

New Zealand Doctor Says Polio Virus May Be Carried In Dust

By FRANK HODGE
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUCKLAND, New Zealand, Oct. 12. — A New Zealand physician thinks he has found a new line of attack on infantile paralysis.

He believes poliomyelitis virus may be carried in dust and that personal cleanliness may be the best safeguard.

Dr. A. W. Thompson, Auckland city medical officer of health, presented his findings in a report to parliament. He based them on studies made in the first nine months of a polio epidemic in the north island of New Zealand.

Parties Called Dangerous

Dr. Thompson suggests the disease may be spread by dust-borne infection in the same way as the eggs of the threadworm.

Dr. Thompson said in his report: "That the threadworm itself might be intimately concerned in the life history of the infantile parolysis virus may seem a fantastic suggestion, but it cannot be excluded on the ground of speculation."

The doctor says that if his theory is correct, then—

Mode of life and personal habits may be more important in preventing infection than immunity gained in a previous epidemic;

Day schools and children's parties may be much more dangerous than casual contact in streetcars, shops or streets.

The Auckland epidemic of 1947-48 was preceded and accompanied by many cases of minor illness. The overall ratio of suspect illnesses to positive polio cases was about 300 to one, making a total epidemic of about 40,000 cases in nine months.

The report says the disease in Auckland had a peculiar age and sex incidence. The accent was on male children.

Pondering this, the medical officer thought of another infection of children—threadworms—which behaves in a similar manner. He investigated, and found the similarity applied in other directions too.

This, in turn, recalled an aspect of the spread of threadworms, only recently recognized. Where threadworm infection is common, the eggs can be recovered in large numbers from the dust in schools and houses.

Thompson says infantile paralysis virus may spread in the same manner—possibly at the same time. This, he said, could occur through contamination of the ova with virus, or through particles of infected dry faeces.

Car Industry To Set New Production Mark

DETROIT, Oct. 14. (AP)—The nation's car industry will set a new postwar production mark this week, Automotive News reported today.

The trade paper estimated the week's assemblies of 117,847 units, consisting of 93,066 cars and 24,781 trucks.

The previous high mark for a post war week was 117,258 units build during the week ended Feb. 28, this year.

Fisherman Finds Relic Of War Of 1812 In Lake Erie

FORT ERIE, Ont. Oct. 14. (U.P.)—An old anchor chair believed to have come from an American ship sunk by the British in the war of 1812 was recovered from Lake Erie by Harry G. Ekdahl.

Ekdahl hooked onto the chain while fishing off Waverly Beach. He dropped a buoy and returned later with several men and hoisting equipment. Because of the anchor, it was impossible to pull it over the side of the boat so the chain was severed from it with a hacksaw.

Now Ekdahl is building a special rigging for his boat so he can lift the 600-pound anchor from the lake.

Yoshida Named Japan Premier

TOKYO, Oct. 14. (INS)—Shigzru Yoshida, a former premier and leader of the Democratic-Liberal (Rightist) party, was chosen new premier of Japan by the diet (parliament) tonight.

Two hundred and thirteen other members of other parties in the house of representatives abstained from voting, allowing Yoshida to win with only 185 votes.

Yoshida's election was assured when Takeshi Yamazaki resigned from the diet. Yamazaki, secretary-general of the Democratic-Liberal party had been boomed for the premiership by Hitoshi Ashida who resigned the premiership last Thursday.

The new premier announced plans for a "crackdown" on labor unions to halt strikes. He also said he will support laws exempting American investors from income taxes, labor laws and anti-trust acts in a move to attract U. S. capital.

Leaders of the opposition parties, however, warned the Democratic-Liberals that trouble was ahead for the new government.

Ashida, head of the Democratic (conservative) party, obtained a pledge of support from his political bloc for Yamazaki as against Yoshida. But the move, instead of eliminating Yoshida from the race, made his election certain when Yamazaki resigned.

Ashida's maneuvers also brought a split in his own party. The party's secretary general, Gizo Tomabechi, and assistant secretary general, Shigeru Hori, left the Ashida organization because they said Ashida's "clumsy maneuvers" had hurt the party's prestige.

It raised Yamazaki's prestige, putting him in the honored position of a man who sacrificed himself for his party leaders.

Auto Racer's 'Number 1' Not To Be Issued By AAA In 1949

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14. (AP)—Ted Horn's "Number 1" will be missing from automobile race tracks next year.

The American Automobile association said today the number, assigned annually to the country's leading driver, will not be issued in 1949.

Buenos Aires Children Clamor For American Bubble Gum

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 14 (U.P.)—American bubble gum is one of the few products to break the dollar shortage barrier with relative ease. Every child in the city wants bubble gum, according to the Buenos Aires Herald.

Harrod Ltd., the famous British department store, told the children that bubble gum was on the way. When the great day arrived the entire stock disappeared the same morning.

Five tiny pieces were sold for two pesos (about 50 cents) at Harrods but by the weekend, irate teachers reported schoolboys were blackmarketing it for five pesos the piece.

The Herald added that airmail letters to relatives in the United States resulted in bulging pockets of every airline passenger and official. At least one business man ordered a supply by cable for his clamoring clan.

Farm Congress Plans Complete Survey Of Texas Agriculture

AUSTIN, Oct. 14 (INS) — When the Texas Dirt Farmers Congress completes its ambitious survey of Texas Agriculture, it will have the most complete picture of Texas farming ever assembled.

In its recent board of directors meeting at Austin the congress prepared a standard procedure to be used by local committees for a county-by-county inventory of Texas agricultural and allied industries.

The purpose of the project is: (1) to instigate further study of conditions and opportunities by local people; (2) to give information needs in district and state planning; and (3) to serve as a yardstick to measure progress.

This will be the first time in Texas that a complete appraisal of all phases of agriculture has been made at the county level and recorded in a single survey.

The inventory plan lists subdivisions relative to agriculture, and has a score card summary for local inventory committees to grade and indicate the agricultural rating of a county.

Sub Topics Listed

Sub-topics in the inventory will be: people, land, production, livestock, crops, poultry, game, fish and fur, soil conservation, water and irrigation, rural progress, supplies, equipment and labor, farm finance, markets and marketing, research and chemurgy, processors and supply manufacturers, non-agricultural income received by farmers, natural resources, farm organizations, farm problems and opportunities.

Attending the conference that drafted the plan were: Dr. J. W. Barger, Department of Agricultural Economics, Texas A&M College; P. G. Haines, Extension Service, College Station; Everett F. Evans, Texas Forest service, College Station; H. H. Marshall, U. S. D. A. Production and Marketing Administration; John E. Babcock, Lower Colorado River Authority, Austin; John A. Sands, State Conservation Board, Karnes City; and a five-member sub-committee of the Texas Dirt Farmers Congress.

Trends To Be Indicated

Sponsors of the inventory project hope to have arrangements completed and the project started in a dozen representative counties over the state within the next 60 days.

The survey will indicate trends in many items during the past 28-year period, using the years 1948, 1940, 1930 and 1920 as base years. A number of items in the inventory will be trail-blazing features, one of which will be to set a production standard to be used in classifying profitable dairy cows and estimating the percent of Texas dairy cows that are "scrub" stock.

Many of the figures called for in the survey will be rough appraisals, and on many items the local committees will have to pass judgment on their fellow farmers as to their stewardship of the farm lands of the county.

The inventory will assess conditions on the basis of information available as there is no official agency, and never has been, authorized to compile agricultural statistics on the county level.

Standard Oil Official Sees New Gas Giving More Mileage

LINDEN, N. J., Oct. 14. (AP)—Better gasolines to give automobiles more miles per gallon were forecast today by E. V. Murphree, president of the Standard Oil Development Co.

Speaking at the opening of a new Esso research center here, Murphree explained that such gasolines will be needed for improved engines—with higher compression ratio—now being planned by automobile makers. They could average about 30 per cent more miles per gallon than present models using present gasolines.

The higher compression engines, he continued, probably will need 97 or higher octane gasoline compared with the present 84 octane regular gasoline.

"Petroleum research has developed the basic processes for producing gasoline of such a high octane number in large volume," said Murphree.

But he said that time and great expense would be required to equip the industry to change its automobile gasoline output to the higher octane type. And there's also the problem of holding down the cost so the saving from increased mileage isn't offset by higher price.

'Old Rescue' Keeps Its Record Intact

CHESTER, Pa., Oct. 14 (U.P.) — Towing a disabled tanker 6,100 miles to Chester is nothing new for the Zwarte-Zee, a 793-ton seagoing tugboat, known the world 'round as "Old Rescue."

During the war, the sturdy Dutch tug saved hundreds of sailors, 52 ships which were torpedoed or mined, and thousands of tons of valuable cargo.

"Old Rescue" also marked up at least one Nazi ship to her war record, a submarine which inadvertently surfaced after sending several torpedoes into a freighter she was towing to port. A few well aimed depth bombs did the job.

Since the war, the tug has pulled eight ships into port. But her crew hasn't seen Holland since August, 1947, when "Old Rescue" hauled a dredger 8,700 miles from Rotterdam to the Dutch East Indies. They were heading back home last February when the disabled tanker turned up.

HELP YOURSELF

Vote November 2!

DISREGARDING all other factors which add interest and importance to the general election on November 2, West Texans have a special reason for the greatest outpouring of voters on that day this area ever has seen.

That reason is the State Constitutional amendment which would insure equal representation for West Texas, and all of Texas, in the legislature. It will appear as Amendment No. 2 on the ballot which will list eight proposed changes in the Texas Constitution.

Few memories require refreshing as to the disgraceful situation which long has existed as to legislative representation in Texas. The Constitution commands the Legislature to readjust the boundaries of senatorial and representative districts after each federal census, so as to maintain equitable representation in the State's law-making bodies.

Lesislatures, on the whole, respected this mandate of democracy prior to 1921. The state was re-districted in 1921 to conform with the population changes shown by the federal census of 1920.

Since then, the legislature consistently has refused to do anything about redistricting. Federal censuses of 1930 and 1940 showed drastic population readjustments. The Legislature, ignoring its constitutional duty, has done nothing. Even more extraordinary population changes will be shown by the 1950 census. There is nothing to encourage hope that the Legislature will do anything about those changes unless Amendment No. 2 is approved.

LEGISLATIVE representation today is based on the census taken nearly 29 years ago. Since then West Texas as a whole has developed much more rapidly in every way, including population, than East Texas, considered as a whole. Today there are East, North, Southeast and Central Texas areas with 10 times more representation in the Legislature than West Texas. They have refused voluntarily to surrender that undemocratic advantage.

Amendment No. 2, if approved, will correct that condition. It is the primary responsibility of West Texans to do everything they can to insure the approval. They can do that best by going to the polls on November 2 and voting for the amendment.

Their own interests demand every endeavor to pile up a majority for the amendment so huge in West Texas that it will offset the opposition which inevitably will come from several sources. Residents of districts which would have less representation under the amendment naturally will be inclined to vote against it. A substantial opposition vote can be expected from those who vote against all constitutional changes.

But West Texans probably can put this amendment over if they will turn out and vote for it in sufficient numbers. This does not minimize the importance of exercising the right of ballot on the other personalities and issues involved.

But amendment No. 2 is of major, if not chief, importance to West Texans. Right now is none too soon for each to resolve that he and she will go to the polls on November 2, will vote for the amendment, and will endeavor to persuade as many others as possible to do likewise.

Tryst

(THE STORY: Hilary Shenstone, British secret agent, recalls lying wounded in the Indian desert beside a crashed plane, after completing a dangerous mission. He remembers feeling a desperate need to return to England and Nuns Farthing, his family's country house. (He doesn't know that the house has been let and that dreamy, 17-year-old Sabrina, whom he has never met, has adopted his old room and eagerly awaits his return.) Next thing Hilary is aware of, he is back in London dropping in at his club. But no one seems conscious of his presence. Hilary learns that his brother George has been cutting in with Alice, Hilary's fiancee. At first, he thinks it's all a dream. Then with dismay he overhears a report of his own death. Shocked at first, he later decides to enjoy the situation. Next day he visits his mother's town house. George and his mother are awaiting Alice for lunch. They, too, are unaware of his presence. His mother tells George that she has had another letter from the people at Nuns Farthing. "What people" asks Hilary.)

XIV

"YOU needn't look so innocent, George, you weren't born yesterday!" said his mother, and both her sons regarded her with amazement and no little respect, from their separate viewpoints. "I don't believe Hilary cares tuppence about Alice anyway," she remarked defiantly.

"She thinks he does," said George. "It amounts to the same thing."

"No—it doesn't," she contradicted. "Besides, she wouldn't be happy with him. I mean—" she added quickly, and then hesitated. "—that is—I don't think she would," she finished lamely.

"Why?" demanded Hilary.

She went to drawing little meaningless things on a fresh sheet of note-paper.

"What makes you say I couldn't have made her happy?" Hilary pressed her.

"I wasn't—very happy," said his mother just above a whisper, watching the busy point of her pen. "And Hilary's exactly like his father."

That jerked George out into the open.

"Oh, here, I say—! I always thought you and the guvnor hit it off together fairly well—" he exclaimed, shocked.

HIS mother bit her lip, and drew a row of little circles on the paper and then went along the line putting dots in the center of each one, tidily. George was staring at her, ice-tongs in hand.

"I shouldn't have said anything," she murmured at last, very low. "I was only trying to help you, George."

"But of course, mum—say anything you like! Only—" George put down the ice-tongs, poured out half a glass of the White Lady, and drank it up.

"It's me you're trying to help," Hilary told her a bit grimly. "You remember me, don't you, mother—I'm the younger one."

"—only it was a bit of a shock!" said George, setting down the glass.

"Yes, I suppose it was," she admitted, connecting the rows of circles with little rows of dots. "Of course we never—never quarreled, you know. And he never—never threw things at me!" The corners of her mouth deepened in her still girlish smile. "But"—

"But what?" insisted Hilary.

She gave a guilty sort of glance over her shoulder, as though to make sure that only George was in the room, and her voice dropped still lower.

"I'm—saying whatever comes into my head this morning, George, because I love you, and I want you to be happy. And I'd like to see Alice have what I never had—security, and a settled feeling. You see, George, you're not strictly a Shenstone. You're my own son, I always think, from the McAndrews side. You'd make Alice a good husband and father to her children, which is more than I can say for Hilary, and that's the truth. It wouldn't be the wretched, one-sided sort of thing I had to put up with all my life—while your father was alive—" Her voice broke suddenly, and she rested her head on her left hand, shielding her face.

I—I don't know quite what's come over me this morning. I know I shouldn't be saying these dreadful things out loud. But it's not fair, George, it's not fair to Alice that I love like my own daughter, not to warn her! I don't want her to live as I had to live, always in deadly fear that her man won't come back—and the rest of the time hoping, praying that he won't go away again! And always knowing that it's no use, that he's bound to be off again soon—so soon—"

"But, mum, good heavens, you had the War," George reminded her futilely.

"It wasn't just during the War, George. Even before that started, he was always doing something for the Home Office that nobody else dared to do. Once he went to Russia about spies. Once he was down in Limehouse for six days and nights without sending me one word. Once they sent him to Egypt, and I didn't hear for two months—like Hilary now, out there on the Border. It's no marriage, it's no life for a woman—to love people like Hilary! Don't let her, George," she entreated him hysterically. "Don't let Hilary have Alice!"

"I see," said Hilary.

"Mater, for heaven's sake—!" George was genuinely horrified. "You really must pull yourself together!"

"Hullo, am I late or anything?" said Alice from the doorway. She saw Mrs. Shenstone's tears then, and halted with a child's embarrassed impulse to back out of the room, followed by a quick anxiety. "Ah, sorry—Hinton said—. What is it? Have you had bad news?"

"No, of course not—no news at all." Mrs. Shenstone recovered quickly, and wiped her eyes. "Come in, dear—you're not a bit late. George is going to make some cocktails. Luncheon will be ready in a minute. I must just go and see about the flowers—"

She hurried away, blowing her nose briskly as she went.

Looking At Life - - By Erich Brandeis

JUST one more paragraph (or maybe two) about my moles. After that I promise you won't hear another word about them.

But this one is too good to keep.

It comes from Mrs. J. B. Paige, of Belton, Texas.

"Have you ever tried fish heads in your mole hills?" she asks. "I remember we always had a cask of mackerel or some other kind of fish.

"And I remember Pappy saying to Ma, 'Celia, be sure and save the fish heads. I see the moles are back.' He stuck them down in the runways. Pappy would be 116 years old were he living, and those were Maryland moles. Some were burr-nosed and none had eyes, nice playthings when Grim, the dog, dug them out.

"Your New York brand may be different and you may have to use atomic bombs instead of fish heads."

Don't you think that's a nice little note, even if Mrs. Paige wrongfully accuses my moles of being New York moles?

Not that I have anything against New York, but my moles are New England moles—and you may ask any New Englander whether he would want to be called a New Yorker.

There is another thing I liked about Mrs. Paige's note.

It came all the way from Texas. But she started it "From one Neighbor to another."

Without realizing it—or perhaps because she did realize it—she really struck the keynote of this wonderful country of ours.

Secretary Marshall tried to make that point so clear at the United Nations meeting in Paris the other day.

We Americans fight like the dickens among ourselves, particularly now that the elections are coming on.

But, under the skin, we are all neighbors, no matter how far apart we may live.

And that is where other nations, ill-willing nations, make such a colossal mistake.

They think that all this palaver of which I talked a couple of days ago proves that we are disunited and therefore easy prey for anyone who wants to start something with us.

OUR quarrels are family quarrels.

We want to enjoy our quarrels our own way—and we do enjoy them.

It is something like a Brooklyn baseball game.

"Moider de bum" may sound very vicious and ferocious to outsiders who know nothing about baseball or about America.

They don't realize that "moider de bum" is really an endearing term, that down in our hearts we love our "bums" and wouldn't let a hair of their heads be hurt.

"From one neighbor to another," writes Mrs. Paige—and

WITH DEWEY IN OFFICE

No Party Feuds Seen

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

ALBANY—Governor Thomas E. Dewey's political friends do not anticipate that he will encounter any unusual difficulty in getting along with the next Congress, especially if he achieves his aim of helping to elect a Republican majority in both House and Senate by routing his campaign tours through their districts and states.

The Democrats have tried to make political capital by insisting that what President Truman calls the "second worst Congress in history" will be scrapping with Mr. Dewey, assuming his election, within a few months after he enters the White House. In this way they seek to place the blame for lack of cooperation between Mr. Truman and the legislators on the bad men at the east end of Pennsylvania Avenue.

TUCKER

Mr. Dewey's aides admit that he is considerably more "liberal" than the convention which nominated him or the Republican chieftains on Capitol Hill.

Although not so far leftish as Franklin D. Roosevelt, they locate the Republican presidential nominee "slightly left of center." They also know that many of the G.O.P. leaders on "the hill"—Messrs. Halleck and Taber in the House, Messrs. Wherry and Taft in the Senate—may not agree in every detail with the "next President" on economic and social questions.

HAZE: Governor Dewey, however, faced almost the same political and ideological problem when he arrived at Albany as Governor in 1943. And they maintain that he licked it!

To a smaller degree, New York State politics and politicians exhibit almost the same pattern as national politics and politicians. Downstate people, including both Republicans and Democrats, are far more liberal and socially minded than their brethren in the rural, upstate areas.

The long list of New [illegible]reat Governors—Sulzer, Whitman, Hughes, Smith, F.D.R.—were more advanced thinkers than their legislative collaborators. In fact, the "Black Cavalry" Republicans staged a merry, celebratory carnival at the ancient Ten Eyck Hotel when they unloaded Theodore Roosevelt and Charles Evans Hughes on Washington. Both were too, liberal and idealistic for the local, political stomachs.

Mr. Dewey walked into the same sort of situation when he came here. The political boys from Saugerties, Schoharie, Salamanca, Cattaraugus and Potsdam were extremely suspicious of the young, cocky man who had built such a reputation on his achievements as a racket-buster. They planned to haze him and "give him the works."

CAUCUS: Governor Dewey immediately installed a system of weekly or bi-weekly conferences with the bosses of the legislature. These include the Lieutenant Governor, who presides over the Senate, the Speaker of the House, the chairman of committees on taxation and appropriations and the head of the specific department whose problems or legislation thereto were under consideration—health, agriculture, finances etc.

Unlike Presidents Roosevelt and Truman, who called in Congresional leaders for a feverish and unsatisfactory huddle on Monday morning, Governor Dewey usually holds these sessions at the mansion of a Sunday evening.

It is an unwritten rule that there must be unanimous agreement on the question under discussion before the meeting ends. It is a sort of binding caucus.

But the principals never leave without knowing their legislative and political objective, and the strategy by which they hope to attain it. Then they go out and round up the needed votes in the legislature.

There is no squabbling in the headlines among top executives, as there has been at Washington since 1933. F.D.R. loved excitement and liked this method of settling questions. Mr. Truman apparently cannot control his political family, with the result that it is full of feuds.

Mr. Dewey does not like discord, as his speeches in the campaign demonstrate. He is all for unity, even if he has to fight for it.

LICKINGS: Republican presidential nominee's establishment of this family caucus system has provoked hostile charges that he is a dictator, an autocrat and an executive who insists upon "yes men" around him.

His friends say "no."

They report that he gets his "ears pinned back" in these mansion conferences quite as roughly and frequently as the other members of his official and unofficial cabinet. And, contrary to the public impression, they say that he takes these lickings with a smile. But they do proclaim that he enters these get-togethers with so many facts and figures under his control, that it takes mighty powerful arguments to argue him down.

HOPING: Incidentally, Governor Dewey has explained the operation of this system to all the Republican leaders of House and Senate. He means to export it from Albany to Washington in the event of his election. And not a single G.O.P. boss on Capitol Hill, including men he defeated for the presidential nomination, find fault with it. In fact, they like it.

Mr. Dewey knows that no honeymoon, political or otherwise, lasts forever.

But he expects to get the legislation he wants during his first term, when relations between the executive and legislative branch should be completely cordial.

Then, if the Republicans are smart, and, as they will want to stay in power for twelve, sixteen or twenty years, he believes that he and they will manage to get along better than any President in modern times.

And there is no law against hoping, even if the man who hopes is a prospective President of the United States.

STORY: The Dewey camp is so confident of November victory that, in good political humor, they are trying to plan for President Truman's economic future after he leaves the White House next January. The favorite story on the campaign train and at Albany is this:

It seems that the man who partnered Mr. Truman in the haberdashery business after World War I got a call from the White House secretariat. Asked the secretary:

"Mr. ———, did you have a sign with Mr. Truman's name on it when you and he were in business together?"

"Yes," was the reply. "It's down in the cellar somewhere."

"Well," said the White House voice, "get it out, repaint it and put it up again!"

A college for tobacco auctioneers has been opened. We imagine the commencement oration will sound like a bunch of static.

An old timer can remember when the chaperone didn't need a chaperone.

We wish the Joneses would economize so it wouldn't be so hard to keep up with them.

ALLOCATION SETUP STUDIED

Steel Industry Poses Problem

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON. — A development here in the last few days serves to throw light anew on problems connected with steel, our great basic commodity, as measured in terms of increased and conflicting demands for essential domestic needs, for national defense and for the European Recovery program.

It poses the question as to whether the leaders of this industry have been short-sighted again, as in the early days of our defense program before we entered the war, as to the potentials of our post-war economy. Likewise it raises the question as to whether the present voluntary allocation system provided by Congress in an act that expires February 28, next year, may have to be supplanted by a mandatory law, as President Truman originally recommended, rather than by mere extension of the present voluntary system, in view of shortages and the problems that creates.

STOKES

Most Plans Rejected

The development here that focused attention on the whole complicated problem was the action of the Steel Products Advisory committee, representing the industry, in accepting only one of nine new voluntary allocation agreements proposed by the Office of Industry cooperation representing various government agencies that was set up by Congress to deal with allocations as part of the anti-inflation program.

Four proposals involving additional allocations for housing were rejected flatly, while decision on four others affecting additional steel for the oil and mining industry was postponed pending further study. The only one accepted authorized 10,000 tons of steel monthly during January and February for shipbuilding.

Hitherto the steel industry had been cooperative in acceptance of ten voluntary agreements covering generally the fields of housing, transportation, petroleum and national defense and security, including atomic energy. These agreements provide for allocation of nearly 500,000 tons of finished steel and steel products a month, which is about nine percent of total production.

The industry took the position that the proposed allocations which it rejected or postponed might cause further dislocations in view of the needs for national defense which can not presumably be accurately foretold. At the meeting its representatives agreed to give priority to national defense requirements. They gave Secretary of Commerce Sawyer and the OIC assurances that, even if the law were not extended, they would continue after March 1 on an individual basis for six months any agreements affecting military needs, atomic energy and the national advisory committee on aeronautics made with OIC and approved by the attorney general as provided by law.

Action By Congress Seen

It is manifest, because of the near date for expiration of the law and because of technical production problems, that the situation now is in a sort of hiatus until Congress acts one way or another. This problem, it would seem, will require the very early attention of Congress when it returns in January. Congress will be confronted with an immediate request for extension, at least, of the voluntary system which secretary Sawyer tried in vain to get toward the end of the last Congress.

It would seem fair to ask, in view of all circumstances, whether somebody hasn't guessed wrong again on steel, as before, whether the steel industry is on the bearish side on the nation's future. It is true, of course, that continuing military needs due to the tense international situation, and requirements for ERP, are perhaps to a degree added factors that could not properly be assessed, though astute planners could have made certain allowance in those areas.

It is true also that there has been some expansion in steel producing facilities and that steel production this year will reach an all-time peak estimated between 65,000,000 and 66,000,000 tons of finished steel products. That compares with a previous high during the war of slightly over 64,000,000 tons in 1944. Last year production was 63,000,000 tons.

But it was known that America's industrial plant was badly run down by the war, requiring all sorts of replacements, and also that the needs of our people call for expansion of housing, transportation and natural resource facilities, among others, on a long-range basis for a long time to come, at least to anyone who anticipates an expanding and dynamic, rather than a static, nation.

We should have learned by now the lesson of "too little too late."

Reds Give Official Recognition To Government Of North Korea

SEOUL, Oct. 14 (INS)—Russian recognition of the Soviet-sponsored North Korean government and its agreement to exchange ambassadors was announced by the Pyongyang radio today.

Dr. Syngman Rhee, president of the United Nations-sponsored South Korean republic, immediately called the Russian move an "unfriendly act." He added that the Soviet action violates the U. N. resolution regarding Korea.

Stalin Letter Cited

The Pyongyang broadcast, stating that Russia has agreed to establish diplomatic relations quoted a letter from Generalissimo Stalin. It said:

"The Soviet government welcomes the establishment of the (North) Korean Democratic people's republic and agrees to your proposal that we set up a diplomatic relationship, exchange ambassadors and formulate ensuing economic agreements."

Dr. Rhee said:

"Russia must know that we have a government representing the entire nation and based on a majority of the population.

"If they deliberately set up a puppet government and recognize it in opposition to the Korean nation, we cannot help but feel that this is an unfriendly act.

"It is definitely not a peace program."

South Korean Foreign Minister Chang Taik Sang said Russia has no right to consider "the group of gangsters in North Korea as a government."

American officials, commenting on the Russian action, pointed out it was "just another effort to duplicate American moves."

Sparks Is Named Head Of Kiwanis

The Kiwanis club named Fred Sparks as president to take office in January, along with a full slate of new officers, then heard a brief outline of plans for operations in this area by the Standolind Oil and Gas Co., at the club's luncheon, held Thursday, in Hilton hotel in place of Hotel Lubbock, regular club meeting place. The change was made because of the Cotton Mechanization conference at Hotel Lubbock.

Roy Bass and O. Larry Byrd were named vice presidents, and nine directors, not including L. E. (Jack) Davis, ex-officio member, were named to the board of directors.

Directors Named

New directors are Robt. J. Allen, James Atcheson, Homer L. Cain, Fred H. Childress, Walter G. Clayton, J. D. Hassell, jr., Louie F. Moore, O. J. (Bo) Sexton, C. W. (Bill) Tatum.

Stanolind's plans were discussed by Sam Sayers, of the pipeline division of the company, who said that opening of the regional executive offices here would bring about 25 families at first, and others would be added as the need arises.

A building to house the offices is now nearing completion in the 1600 block of Nineteenth street, just west of the Veterans administration building. It will house executive offices of both the production and pipeline divisions.

Oil Lines Added

Sayers said the company operates 400 miles of 16-inch trunk lines in this area, and is adding more. Gathering lines are not included, he said. This handles 105,000 barrels of crude daily, and plans provide for stepping this up to 156,000 barrels in 1949. Two loading racks are operated, one at Post and one at Wink, handling about 10,000 barrels daily at both places.

The speaker was introduced by J. D. Hassell, jr., program chairman.

William Ducker, of the Tech college staff, was introduced as a new member. Club President L. E. Davis was in the chair, with invocation by Cong. Geo. Mahon.

Truman, Dewey Urged To Drink Milk To Combat Raspy Throats

CHICAGO, Oct. 14. (INS)—President Truman and Gov. Dewey were offered some advice today on how to combat a raspy throat.

Dr. Christian P. Segard, medical director of the Wisconsin alumni research foundation, said the rigors of the current speaking campaigns can be offset by drinking milk.

Rites Set Today At Big Spring For Former Lubbock Resident

Funeral services are to be conducted at 3 p. m. today at the Nalley Funeral home in Big Spring for Mrs. Ella Nora McClanahan, 75, wife of John A. McClanahan, who lived here until they moved to Big Spring and later to Odessa about 13 years ago. Mrs. McClanahan died at her home in Odessa Wednesday afternoon.

Rev. Alsie H. Carlton, former pastor of St. John's Methodist church here, and now pastor of First Methodist church in Big Spring, will officiate.

Born in Alabama, Mrs. McClanahan came to Texas 56 years ago. The family lived a number of years, and had visited here frequently since they moved away.

Survivors include the husband; one son, Murphy McClanahan of Lubbock; five daughters, Mrs. Sam Thurman, Mrs. D. F. Bigony and Mrs. Edgar Johnson, all of Big Spring, Mrs. Deroy Lederett of Coleman, and Mrs. Ira Manning of Van Buren, Ark.; 16 grandchildren, and seven great-grandchildren, one brother, Willis Slaton of Portales, N. M., and two sisters, Mrs. Mollie Blankenship of Birmingham, Ala., and Mrs. John Scoggin of Pecan Gap.

THE OLD AND THE NEW—The two pictures above demonstrate the progress made in the past 15 years in the stripper-type cotton harvester. They were among 14 various types of cotton harvesters demonstrated at the Texas Experiment sub-station east of Lubbock Thursday afternoon. In the top picture is shown the old-fashioned sled-type stripper which pioneered machine harvesting of cotton in this area. Used extensively when labor was unobtainable back in the early 1930's, the old sled-type unit demonstrated the possibilities of machine harvesting. The bottom picture shows one of the newer stripper-type machines now used extensively by farmers over a wide area of the South Plains. (Staff Photos).

Cotton Industry Problems Are Discussed In City

Effective Use Of Labor Urged

The progress and indicated future of cotton mechanization, its meaning to agriculture, and its relation to the economic picture were discussed at the opening day's sessions of the second annual Beltwide Cotton mechanization conference here yesterday.

Speakers yesterday included Ransom E. Aldrich, chairman of the production and marketing committee of the cotton council, and president of the Mississippi Farm Bureau federation; E. D. White, chief of the cotton division of the Economic Cooperation administration, Washington; Claude L. Welch, director of the division of Cotton Production and Marketing, of the cotton council; and Edward A. O'Neal, past president of the American Farm Bureau federation.

Aldrich, speaking on "Cotton Looks Ahead," told the group that "cotton is in a far better position to advance than ever before."

Proving Their Worth

He attributed a major part of this to progress in mechanized cotton farming, and emphasized that greater efficiencies in other phases of production and sounder farming practices are steadily proving their worth.

Aldrich considers it literally astounding "that more than 15 million bales of cotton will be produced in 1948 on 23,600,000 acres," and was proud that "we are producing 313 pounds of cotton per acre, which means that out total production will equal that of 1930 when 42 million acres were planted in cotton."

He attributed a part of the improvement in cotton's position to a shift in production to areas more economically adapted to coton farming, citing great increases since 1930 in the Delta areas of Mississippi, the High Plains of Texas, and the far western states of California, Arizona, New Mexico, and parts of southwest Texas.

Expansion Is Rapid

He said that for the first time in history more cotton was produced west of the Mississippi river than east of the river, and asserted that mechanization has expanded rapidly in the areas.

Aldrich warned, however, that despite progress, greater efficiency is necessary if cotton is to meet the challenges of competition, adding that a sound approach would be for the small farms to combine into more economically sound units.

Increased production and consumption of synthetic fibers were cited as a distinct challenge to cotton.

Four principal factors he believes will, over the long-run

Author Speaks At Club Meeting

By ROGER SOUTHALL
Avalanche Staff Writer

Members of Knife and Fork club, meeting Thursday night in the Hilton hotel, heard Dr. Will Durant, historian, philosopher, author, and lecturer, speak on "What Are the Lessons of History?" The gathering was the first of the club's Fall season.

The invocation was given by Rev. A. W. Hall. Following the dinner, Dr. Truman Camp, of the Texas Technological college English department was introduced. He in turn introduced Dr. Durant, after first reviewing briefly the high points of his background and career.

In beginning his talk, Dr. Durant pointed out that Americans probably are the best informed people on earth with regard to recent happenings, but added that it was doubtful if they were as well informed on history as some other people have been in times past, and others are at present.

History Is Discussed

He pointed out also that it was his intention to view 6,000 or more years of history not with the idea of giving a history lesson within the boundaries of one hour or slightly more, but to highlight some trends in history that are repeated in present times and study their implications.

History, Dr. Durant said, may be looked at in several separate and distinct ways, including the following viewpoints: Biologically, geographically, economically, and politically, as well as from the standpoint of religion.

Taking each of these concepts separately, beginning with the biological, Dr. Durant declared that neither nature nor history has use for a species, genus, or nation that cannot breed abundantly.

History records that as the centuries of the Greek civilization passed, the Greek birthrate decreased, until finally the Greeks were not strong enough to defend themselves from their enemies, and were conquered. Their conquerers, the Romans, were overrun because their birthrate, too, finally decreased to the point that their manpower was impoverished.

Similarly, France lost the sec-

Thurmond Backing Also Causes Two Other Close Contests

Dixiecrats Lead In Four States

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 14.—The breaking up of the traditional political pattern of the South this year is dramatically shown in the latest Institute poll findings covering the 13 Southern states.

Three states which Democrats have been able to count as "absolutely safe" in most past elections have moved out of the Democratic column and are today under the banner of the anti-Truman States' Rights Party. They are Mississippi, South Carolina and Alabama, and they have a total of 28 electoral votes. As of today President Truman is not even on the ballot in Alabama.

GALLUP

In a fourth state, Louisiana, Governor J. Strom Thurmond, States' Rights nominee, also leads today but by a smaller margin. At the time interviews for this survey were taken Louisiana had not determined which presidential candidates would be on the ballot.

In two other traditionally Democratic states, Florida and Virginia, the Thurmond support is sufficiently strong to turn the presidential election into a nip-and-tuck race between President Truman and Governor Thomas E. Dewey. The Dixiecrat rebellion gives the Republicans a fighting chance of "cracking" the solid South by making Florida and Virginia real G.O.P. battlegrounds for the first time since 1928.

In short, whereas the Democrats in the past four elections were able to count on more than 140 electoral votes—backbone of Democratic strength — from the 13 Southern states, today the Democrats hold a clearcut majority in only seven of the 13 with a total of 91 electoral votes.

The last presidential election in which the Republicans succesfully challenged the Democratic hold on the South was the Hoover-Smith race in 1928. Herbert Hoover captured Florida and Virginia plus Kentucky, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Tennessee and Texas.

As of the early part of October, this is the picture of political sentiment in the 13 Southern states:

SOLID SOUTH HIT—Breaking up of traditional Southern voting patterns under impact of States' Rights Party, is dramatically shown in latest Gallup Poll. Whereas Democrats usually count on more than 140 Southern electoral votes in the South, today President Truman holds a clear-cut majority in only seven states with total of 91 electoral votes.

Mechanization Needs Discussed

Claude L. Welch of Memphis, Tenn., production and marketing director of the National Cotton council, declared Thursday at the second annual Beltwide Cotton Mechanization conference that the length of future strides in mechanization in the South will depend largely on the farm equipment industry itself.

There is, he said, an existing market for more machinery on cotton belt farms, but how farm mechanization will go will be governed by improvements in equipment, wider range in size of equipment, reduced cost, and adaptability of machines for dual purposes.

Small Tractors Planned

Reviewing progress made in mechanization of cotton and related crops during the past year, Welch told conferees who packed the Lubbock hotel ballroom that in 1948 farm equipment manufacturers would produce approximately 100,000 small tractors suited to smaller farming operation.

"This achievement will make it possible for the small farmer to enter into a mechanization program," Welch said. "Pick-up balers and forage harvesters, cotton pickers, strippers, corn pickers, combines, and cultivators have made possible full-time utilization of the tractor."

Among the greatest bottlenecks standing in the way of full cotton mechanization was named by the cotton council speaker as the problem of developing adequate equipment for cleaning mechanically harvested cotton at the gin.

Cleaning Methods Studied

"Every effort should be made to find a satisfactory way of cleaning cotton at the gin—just as close to the producer as possible," he declared. "The National Cotton council is supporting strongly the position that a very substantial part of the celaning of mechanically harvested cotton should be done at the gin. This intensified research program to develop new principles and methods of cleaning. Efforts are now being made to get the cleaning research program that is needed."

Progress has been made during the past year in mechanical harvesting of cotton, Welch said. He estimated that about 5 per cent of the 1948 crop would be mechanically harvested, an overall increase of 2 per cent in mechanical harvesting since 1947.

"It has been estimated that about 80 per cent of the 1948 cotton crop in southwest Oklahoma and West Texas will go all the way from seed bed preparation to gin without the customary hand

Two Bailey 4-H Club Youths Win Honors

Two Bailey county 4-H club boys came back from the State Fair of Texas with blue ribbons and cash in their pockets as the result of having exhibited prize animals in the swine department, Bailey County Agent J. K. Adams reported here Thursday.

Robert Giles, Muleshoe 4-H club boy, showed the champion pen of Poland-China fat barrows. Jack Hale, also a Muleshoe 4-H boy, won the reserve championship in Poland-Chinas, the reserve championship in spotted Poland-Chinas and the best pen of spotted Poland-Chinas in addition to a first prize in the Hampshire division.

Three out of the four Bailey county boys, who showed 22 animals in the show, came home with more than $300 in cash in addition to the $111 in prize moneys they won.

TYSON TO SPEAK

DALLAS, Oct. 14. (AP)—Tom Tyson of Corsicana, who has been asked to take the post of Secretary of the State Democratic committee, is scheduled to speak here tomorrow to Dallas county Democratic women. He has been asked by State Democratic Chairman John C. Calhoun to succeed Vann M. Kennedy, who resigned.

Government Warns Farmers That 1949 Incomes May Be Slashed

By JOHN BOOTH
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—The government cautioned farmers today to expect lower net incomes in 1949 in the wake of mounting production costs already the highest on record.

The Agriculture department forecast larger outlays next year for virtually everything the farmer buys—labor, machinery, fertilizer and other supplies.

The one major exception is livestock and poultry feed of which a plentiful supply already has induced substantial price declines.

Incomes Also Boosted

Up to this time net farm incomes have risen more rapidly than cost because farmers have increased their pre-war production by more than 30 per cent and prices of farm commodities have spiraled rapidly. The department said:

"With costs for items other than feeds moving upwards, and with somewhat lower prices for products sold in 1949, net farm income will be lower for the country as a whole."

The report gave this picture of the farm cost situation:

Wages—now 5 to 10 per cent higher than a year ago likely to remain high through the balance of 1948 and 1949. Industry is competing for labor.

Other Costs Up

Machinery—June prices 59 per cent higher than pre-war and 15 per cent higher than June, 1947. Prices of machinery, and motor fuel as well, expected to remain high in 1949, although a continued high level of production is in prospect.

Seeds—Higher costs in prospect for remainder of 1948 and next spring than a year earlier because of small 1948 production. It will pay farmers to save seed wherever possible.

Fertilizer—40 per cent higher last spring than in 1940, and up still more since then with average higher prices in prospect for 1949.

Feed—Prices in September well below a year ago and likely to decline still further in view of huge crop prospects.

Land values— Increased seven per cent during the 12 months ended last July 1 and now two per cent above the inflationary peak of 1920. Gross rents for leased land have doubled since 1941.

Body Of Second Victim Of Lake Tragedy Is Recovered

FORT WORTH, Oct. 14. (U.P.)—The body of the second victim of a fishing outing drowning was found in Possum Kingdom Lake, 14 miles south of here, today.

He was Herschel Mayes, 52, of Graham. The body of his companion, E. F. Goldston, 56, also of Graham, was found Wednesday.

The two oil field employes had been missing since they went out on the lake Saturday afternoon. After Mrs. Mayes became alarmed when they did not return Sunday, police located their overturned boat. Both bodies were found in the area around the boat.

Justice of the Peace J. K. Richman was making an inquest into the deaths today.

Chicago Judge To Put Parents On Trial With Wayward Children

CHICAGO, Oct. 14 (U.P.)—A family court which will try the parents of juvenile offenders along with the offender himself is planned for Chicago.

Judge Robert J. Dunne, juvenile court judge, said the adult court which tries the parents of young lawbreakers cannot see the whole picture. He said a family court will put more homes together instead of widening the breach as now.

Dunne wants a receiving home placed under the court's direction, where children can live until their cases are decided.

University Of Texas Engineers Develop New Building Tile

AUSTIN, Oct. 14 (INS)—Two University of Texas civil engineers have developed a type of building tile which has been termed one of the most revolutionary products in the structural tile field.

Experts laud "joistile," the brainchild of J. Neils Thompson and W. D. Ramey, as a definite boost to low cost housing. The two men, of the university's materials testing laboratory, worked out the tile with the aid of a $15,000 U. S. Department of Commerce research grant.

Joistile is reported to be cheaper to make than either wood or concrete. It is especially useful for floors and roofs.

More than 25 projects in Austin are already employing the tile. Thompson will explain its aspects to national tile and brick manufacturers at the annual meeting of the Structural Clay products institute in French Lick, Ind., Oct. 15.

The Commerce department's industrial and research development division, interested in the tile's possibilities for low-cost housing, called on the university to develop the design procedure for that type of construction. For several years the university performed extensive tests in its materials laboratory before the final design was determined.

"Joistile," is not the same type colorful tile used for bathroom and kitchen walls. It is of heavy yellow or red tile in sectioned blocks that fit together like pieces of a jig saw puzzle.

The contractor prefabricates a beam by laying tile blocks in a row and pouring concrete mortar in the center, containing reinforcing steel. These beams are fitted together with spacer tile between them and then concrete is poured over them in a layer several inches thick. No concrete forms are necessary and the contractor and the buyer save time and money.

Thompson says the tile is suitable for use in any part of the country although the plan originated in Texas.

Six-State Meeting To Plan March Of Dimes Campaign

FORT WORTH, Oct. 14. (U.P.)—A six-state pre-campaign meeting to complete plans for the 1949 March of Dimes will be held here next Monday at the Blackstone hotel, it was announced today.

Warren D. Coss, national fund-raising director for the March of Dimes, will preside at the meeting. It will be attended by state campaign chairmen, county campaign directors, national foundation for infantile paralysis state representatives and advisors on women's activities from Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Arkansas and Missouri.

Coss said the meeting was being called because of this year's severe epidemics. He added that the national epidemic aid fund of the foundation would show a deficit of $1,250,000.

Michigan Veterinarian Warns Cattle Tuberculosis Increasing

DENVER, Oct. 14. (AP)—Tuberculosis in cattle has flared to a serious stage in some sections of the United States according to Dr. C. F. Clark, state veterinarian for Michigan.

He told delegates attending the U. S. Livestock Sanitary association convention here yesterday that the "situation has become serious."

A tuberculosis committee, headed by Clark, recommended revision of current rules and methods for tuberculin testing of cattle.

Meanwhile the eradication of foot and mouth disease in Mexico also came in for discussion.

F. L. Schneider of Albuquerque, N. M., chairman of the association's committee on the disease, renewed demands for a 1,900-mile fence along the Mexican border.

The committee recommended the association continue to favor the construction of a fence.

The recommendations will be discussed later on the convention floor.

Boys Admit Tossing Tomatoes At Dewey For 'Fun Of It'

MT. VERNON, Ill., Oct. 14 (AP)—Four teen-aged youngsters threw those tomatoes at Gov. Thomas E. Dewey for the "fun of it" and each said "I'm sorry," police reported today.

The Republican presidential nominee was splattered by ripe tomatoes during a rear platform talk here Wednesday night.

Chief of Police Verner L. Pigg and Capt. R. C. Winder of the Illinois state police said today the four boys, ranging in ages from 14 to 16, each signed the same statement in which they called their act a prank.

The boys were released on their pledges that they would not do it again.

Take Off Ugly Fat With Grape Fruit Juice Recipe

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy — no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of Liquid Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears — how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

Americans Warned Sharp Drop In Food Prices Is Unlikely

(By The Associated Press)

Don't get too hopeful that your food bill will drop sharply.

Some prices are lower than they were a month ago. Chain stores in New York and the New England states this week announced further reductions of 2 to 20 cents a pound on many cuts of meat. Farm prices generally have dropped below a year ago—and wholesale food indexes are headed downward.

No Sharp Breaks Seen

But there has been no sharp break—and there is not likely to be because of government price supports.

Food industry experts also point to the high level of consumer spending at present prices. They contend that prices are not out of line with income.

Victor T. Norton, president of American Home Foods, Inc., told a food and beverage controllers meeting in New York that the same quantity of the same food that took 23 per cent of personal income after taxes in 1935-1939, took only 21 per cent of income in the second quarter of this year.

The Institute of Food Distribution pointed out that butter, which already is returning producers less than 90 per cent of parity, soon will be supported indirectly by the government.

Farm Prices Supported

"Return of strength in markets responsible for most of the present panicky ideas will change trade judgments about food prices generally if consumer buying from retail grocery stores continues as large as justified by spending power," the institute added.

Besides that, CCC support of farm prices will prevent corn, wheat, rice dry beans eggs dairy products and other foods from dropping appreciably below bottoms the government is obligated to maintain through 1949.

Lakeland Fla., reported that the first government estimate of citrus crops indicates consumers will get more oranges and less grapefruit this season. The outlook is for 2,000,000 less boxes of grapefruit than a year ago, and an increase of about 5,800,000 boxes of oranges.

Bad weather in California, Indiana, Pennsylvania, Maryland and Virginia is expected to result in a scarcity of canned tomatoes, catsup and chili sauce. Packs in those states are said to be from 20 to 50 per cent lower than a year ago.

Jack Bateman, from Tientsin, China, a ministerial student in Jacksonville Baptist College, will speak at Central Baptist Church Saturday at 8 p. m. His subject will be, "China, the Land of Opportunity." Rev. Bateman will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Crooks, 2602-28th, while in Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson R. West of Idalou route 1, are in Dallas with their seven-year-old daughter, Carolyn, whose illness was diagnosed here Sunday as polio. Relatives and friends here were informed Thursday that the child, who is in Parkland hospital, has shown progressive improvement since admittance there.

Public Health Service Is Found Below Par Over Nation

CHICAGO, Oct. 14 (U.P.)—Only four per cent of the American people live in areas where the "minimum essentials" of good public health practice are available, according to a public health authority.

Dr. Henry Vaughn, head of the public health school of the university of Michigan, made the statement at a workshop conducted by Northwestern University and the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

"There are 41,000,000 Americans in 43 states who reside in areas in which there are no full-time local health units," he said.

Vaughn said providing the nation with minimum local public health needs would involve more than 54,300 trained physicians, nurses, engineers, statisticians and health educators.

Jet Planes To Be Shifted From Roswell To Massachusetts

FORT WORTH, Oct. 14. (U.P.)—The jet-equipped 33rd Fighter wing at Walker Air Force base near Roswell, N. M., is being transferred to Otis Air Force base at Salmouth, Mass., Eighth Air Force headquarters announced here today.

The Massachusetts field will be shared by the Navy and the fighter wing. The wing will continue to be an Eighth Air Force unit.

An advance party has already gone to the base to prepare for arrival of F-84 Thunderjet planes from the New Mexico field. The transfer is to be completed next month.

Trieste In Sharp Contrast To Battered German, British Cities

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

TRIESTE—Trieste, lying in the bottom of a cup created by sharp-rising green mountains and facing the Adriatic, is one of the most beautifully located cities I have ever seen.

At night the harbor is quiet under its pinpoints of ship lights and buoys. Families and young couples stroll along the broad seawall. Little groups form to strain their ears watching the movie on the fantail of an American cruiser.

Rowdiness Noticed

There is none of the boisterousness which usually accompanies the presence of foreign occupation troops far from home. American and British soldiers are conspicuous by their absence. A few move between the numerous saloons in good cheer, happy but well-behaved. At 10 p. m. one group takes a look into the showcase of a bakeshop, finds it too late, and moves on with a goodnatured shrug, he's practically out of business."

You can get quite a slug of gin, cognac or, sometimes, whiskey in Trieste for 20 to 30 cents. But either the soldiers and sailors here are different or their officers are more strict than the army and navy [illegible] most of us oldsters are used to.

After the show aboard ship, five young ensigns drop into the lounge of the army officers mess. Over their drinks they begin to hum songs that might have been taught them by their fathers. No roaring of sea chanties here. Just a little quietly-pitched harmonizing. Nothing to disturb the next tables.

It is rather refreshing to one who has just come out of England and Germany, where one-legged, one-eyed and one-armed men run the elevators and do most of the stationary jobs of that type; where the walls of once-solid buildings make jagged frescoes against the sky; where people struggle to rake a little food out of the garbage of war.

Texan Uses French Harp To Lure Coons Into un Range

CLEVELAND, Tex., Oct 14 (INS) — Bill Knight of near Cleveland is a modern Pied Piper with a French Harp for a lure.

But he's after coons, instead of kids. Knight has witnesses to the fact that on a recent coon hunt, he had a coon treed but was unable to see his eyes shining in the dark. He pulled out his harp and played, the coon became curious, looked out, bang went the gun, and down came the coon.

Fourth Man Is Charged With Molesting Graves In Oklahoma

MADILL, Okla., Oct. 14. (AP)—County Attorney O. C. Barnes said today he had filed a charge of molesting of a grave against a fourth man in connection with the search for gold purportedly lining the coffin of an Indian woman.

A preliminary hearing for three men arrested on the same charge will be held tomorrow before Justice of the Peace Charles Gridder.

They are J. B. Wright, Sid Hall and Gene Jackson, all of Sherman, Texas.

The fourth man was listed on the charge as Dad White. He has not been apprehended yet. He is an old age pensioner from Sherman.

The charge alleges the four molested at least two graves during a 13 month search for a coffin believed to contain thousands of dollars of gold.

Jackson told Barnes he actually saw a gold lined vault.

PREFERS HUBBY

Heiress To Lose Share In Fortune

NEW YORK, Oct. 14 (AP)—Pretty, blonde Mrs. Danise Weiskopf Reid would rather lose her third share of her father's $2,500,000 estate than divorce her husband, her attorney said today.

The attorney, Samson Selig, said that "under no circumstances" would Mrs. Reid meet the provision of her father's will that she divorce Robert H. Reid to be eligible for an annual income estimated at $30,000.

The will of Daniel K. Weiskopf, a distillery executive who died last March 22 at the age of 74, directed that she be cut off with only $2,500 a year unless she divorces her husband.

Efforts To Build Up U. S. Merchant Marine Boosted

AUSTIN, Oct. 14. (INS)—Governor Beauford Jester has added his support to building up the U. S. Merchant Marine.

Gov. Jester has called attention to the fact that semi-annual entrance examinations for the Merchant Marine's Cadet Corps will be given Nov. 29.

R. R. McNulty, Cadet Corps superviser, pointed out that the Texas quota for Cadet Midshipmen is not filled, thus giving young Texans "an excellent chance to secure appointments".

High school graduates and seniors who will graduate next January are eligible, McNulty said.

Fort Worth Man Named Head Of Southwestern Claim Group

SHREVEPORT, La., Oct. 14 (AP)—F. H. Comisky of Fort Worth, freight claim agent for Fort Worth and Denver City railway, was elected chairman of the Southwestern Claim conference today as freight representatives from railroads in six states prepared to close out a two-day meeting.

He succeeds A. A. Prats of the Southern Pacific lines, Houston, as conference chairman.

Other officers named by the group were Carl Kirk, assistant freight claim agent for the Gulf Coast lines, Palestine, named vice chairman, and T. D. Pace, traveling freight claim agent for the Rock Island, El Reno, Okla., re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Police Dog Plays Traitor, Nips Cop Chasing Suspect

MILWAUKEEE, Oct. 14, (U.P.)—A local police dog didn't live up to the reputation of his breed.

Although he wasn't a member of the force, the dog went into action when he saw a policeman chase a suspect.

He nipped the wrong man. The suspect went his way and the policeman went to the hospital.

Oklahoma Solon Sued By Widow Of Man Slain In His Office

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 14 (AP)—A $100,000 damage suit was filed against State Representative Purman Wilson today by the widow of a man slain in Wilson's Purcell, Okla., law office March 25.

The widow, Mrs. Jake Miller, Blanchard, seeks $50,000 actual and $50,000 punitive damages.

Miller was felled by a shotgun blast in Wilson's office when he went there to discuss his marital difficulties with the legislator and Mrs. Miller.

Failure To Obtain Guarantees On Corridor Blamed For Crisis

By WES GALLAGHER
Associated Press Staff Writer

BERLIN, Oct. 14 — This rubble heap city of three million has become the world's No. 1 headache through too much goodwill in 1944 and too little in 1948.

The United States and Britain had too much good-will and trust in future international relations in 1944.

The Soviet Union's lack of goodwill in carrying out international agreements brings a crisis over Berlin in 1948.

How did it happen?

Background Is Given

It began around a conference table in London in 1944. At the table was the European advisory commission set up by Russia, the United States and Great Britain. Victory was in the air. Soviet armies were advancing on Germany from the east. The western powers had smashed into France and stood on the German borders. Allied air bombs shook the Reich from end to end. Berlin was not the least of the targets.

Russia, the United States and Britain were united with a common aim — to smash Germany. The watchword was cooperation.

The men around the table set up lines for the occupation in Germany without too much trouble.

Then it became a question of which city should be the seat of government for the victorious powers. The Russians wanted Berlin — which was deep in their assigned zone.

The Americans were opposed. First, they felt centering of German activity around the traditional capital would revive German nationalism. Second, they felt a border city which required no special corridors would be better.

West Gave In

The Russians insisted on their choice. It seemed not too important at the time, when all stress was on cooperation. So, the West gave in.

Berlin was set as the Allied capital.

U. S. State department realists said specific and iron-clad agreements should be drawn up, providing means of getting in and out of the city through the Soviet-occupied zone.

The American representative, Ambassador John Winant, demurred. He said it was more important to show good-will to the Soviets than haggle over specific agreements.

The right of the western powers to be in Berlin as occupying powers was clearly established by the London agreements. The getting in and out was left to the good-will of the Russians.

Dispute Takes Spotlight

Meanwhile, the era of good-will was running out. The Allies were at odds on what kind of a post-war Germany should be created. Other East-West conflicts cropped up around the world.

Meanwhile, divided western Germany was falling to pieces. Inflation killed the incentive to work.

The Soviets immediately (in June) closed the rail line with the excuse of "technical difficulties." The large line developed "technical difficulties." The highway was shut by new controls, on the excuse the western powers would use it to smuggle marks into the Soviet zone.

With the land routes closed the western powers resorted to the arm that won them the war — air power. Vast fleets of air transports — mostly American — roared over Berlin. This time they brought food, medicine and coal to more than 2,000,000 western Berliners.

The Russians have protested the air lift. Their pilots have buzzed the western transports. Their flak guns have created nuisances in the corridors. But the lift has gone on.

In the air the Russians are at the same disadvantage as the West was on the ground. They may commit the overt act which might bring war. On the ground the West would have to push its armed convoys across the Soviet border. In the air, the Russians must shoot a British or American plane down to stop it. There is no other way.

Thus far the Russians have shown no inclination to shoot.

But Berlin has become such an international issue it is believed the Soviets would risk war in the event force was tried. The stakes have become too great for a retreat without some face-saving compromise.

Crude Oil Output Hits Record High

NEW YORK, Oct. 14. (AP) — Crude oil production in the United States reached a record daily average gross of 5,534,800 barrels in the week ended Oct. 9, the American Petroleum Institute reported today. This was an increase of 82,000 barrels over the preceding week and compared with 5,245,300 a year ago.

Reports from refineries indicated the industry operated at 91.3 per cent of potential in running to stills 5,551,000 barrels of crude daily. Daily runs in the like 1947 period were 5,296,000.

Total production of heavy fuel oil in the latest week was estimated at 8,798,000 barrels and light fuel oil at 7,234,000. Gas, oil and distillate fuel stocks were placed at 77,879,000 barrels and residual fuel oil stocks at 78,166,000.

Estimated gasoline production amounted to 17,045,000 barrels, with finished and unfinished gasoline stocks totaling 91,411,000 barrels against 82,202,000 a year ago.

Comparisons with the preceding week were generally unavailable because of the California refinery strike.

Chinese Pheasant Turns Up Walking Down Store Aisles

SPOKANE, Wash., Oct. 14. (AP) —A Chinese pheasant was found today strolling down the aisles of a department store in the heart of downtown Spokane.

Nobody knew how it got there. Employes turned it over to the humane society.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

COMPANY SEEKS WATER

AUSTIN, Oct. 14. (AP) — The E. I. Du Pont De Nemours and company has asked the state for appropriation of 198,000 acre feet of water annually from the Guadalupe river at Victoria for "mining, milling and manufacturing processes." The Du Pont application did not state the nature of the product to be manufactured.

Herd Of Cattle Near New Mexico Atom Bomb Blast Still Show Effects Of Radioactive Rays

(By The Associated Press)

OAK RIDGE, Tenn., Oct. 14. —A herd of cattle which was near the first atomic bomb explosion in New Mexico in July, 1945, still shows visible effects of the blast's radioactive rays.

The cattle, white face Herefords, now numbering 58, are here at Oak Ridge on a 3,000-acre farm for atomic studies. The project is jointly conducted by the University of Tennessee agricultural and experiment station and the U. S. Atomic Energy commission.

What happened to the cattle is an object less for human beings. Men can avoid what befell the animals. But only if they know what to do.

This heard was overlooked when the Almagordo area known as Trinity was cleared before the July 16 bomb. The cattle were miles away where hills protected them from the flash of heat, the blast and the radioactive rays of the explosion.

But desert dust, blasted up by the bomb, rose with the atomic column and floated with the atomic cloud. This dust was radioactive. The cloud drifted over the herd and a light rain fell, peppering them with dust and probably other radioactive particles.

The cattle were discovered by an airplane two days later and placed under observation. After a few days, the hair on their backs turned white in long bands of varying widths. Afterward most of this hair fell out. Later the hair grew again on some, but not all of the animals. When new hair came in, it was not the original red color, but mostly gray.

On some there were permanent bald streaks, and other developed sores on their backs. After healing, some developed thick, deep scars.

The radioactive rays that cause these injuries can also cause cancer. No malignancies have appeared, but the cattle will be watched, because cancers due to radioactivity may take years to develop.

There was one bull in the herd, and he has sired offspring from the atomic cows. No hereditary effects have appeared.

The atomic cattle seem more susceptible to skin troubles than other animals of their kind.

The herd was bought by the Manhattan district soon after the New Mexico bomb. One or two animals were slaughtered for examination. No radioactivity was found in their meat. The meat will be studied here later on for possible effects on edibility.

The warning for human beings is to beware dust and rain in the vicinity of an atomic bomb.

Former WPB Official Urges U. S. To Fight Reds With Democracy

By FREDERIC TUTTLE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—The ex-spokesman of the old War Production board urged the United States today to use the "irresistible weapon of Democracy" to fight Communism instead of "words, dollars and guns."

Former WPB information chief Bruce Catton declared that the United States now finds itself the world's "strongest and most nervous nation" because it failed to make an all-out effort to invigorate Democracy in World War II.

Victory Is Problem

Catton, close associate of WPB Chairman Donald Nelson during the years from Pearl Harbor to VE-day, set forth his views in a new book dealing with that period—"The War Lords of Washington."

The former WPB official said that "America did the most colossal job in history and came out" of the war "with an inferiority complex and a deep sense of fear." Catton, interpreting the lessons of the war into present significance, asserted:

"We won an overwhelming victory and we have not the least notion what to do with it.

"We are afraid of Communism, and with right good reason, but we are also afraid to use the irresistible weapon of Democracy which lies ready to our hands.

"Instead we are relying on words, dollars and guns, and none of them will turn the trick for us.

"Communism is a revolutionary force. So is Democracy—an older, greater, stronger force, if it is once recognized for what it is and practiced that way."

Catton contended that the U. S. "retreated during the war" from giving Democracy vitality and new meaning "because of the fear of change that kept our war from being a people's war."

Change Was Feared

The ex-war aide said America's wartime defense leaders were patriotic, honest businessmen.

He added, however, that they fought the conflict for limited military objectives and preservation of the economic status quo. Catton wrote:

". . . The possible postwar effect of a genuinely all-out effort—that was upsetting people just then . . .

"America's all-out war effort was in the hands of the WPB, most of whose big-wigs could face practically anything except the prospect of a postwar change."

Catton called upon his readers to "look back, once more, at the chances that were missed." He said:

"The full energies of the small business system were not expanded . . . labor was not moved up to partnership with ownership in the great war industries . . . the dollar-a-year system was not replaced . . .

"The base for closely knit control of the American economy was not shifted by a new system to handle patent rights and to direct wartime scientific and technological research into new channels."

Catton declared that "adequate preparation for reconversion was not made . . . and through it all, the people were not trusted with the facts . . ."

TRANSPORTATION TO BE FURNISHED—Cars will transport Texas Technological college students from college dormitories to breakfast at 6:45 a. m. each morning next week during a city wide youth revival sponsored by Baptist churches of the city. New Fumigants May Eliminate Cotton Damage From Root Knot

An end to cotton damage from root knot may result from recent development of new soil fumigants and application machinery, the National Cotton council announced in Lubbock Thursday.

Announcement of more effective methods of dealing with the nematode, a tiny eel-like worm that enters the root of cotton plants, was made by council spokesmen at the second annual Beltwide Cotton Mechanization conference in session here.

When the nematode enters the root of the cotton plant, it multiplies rapidly and causes large galls and swelling. Plants attacked by the pest are usually dwarfed and are a pale yellow-green in color. They have a tendency to wilt more quickly in hot, dry weather, and even when sufficient moisture is available, than do normal plants.

Farmers planning to use soil fumigants to combat the nematode are warned by the cotton council to contact their county agents, vocational agriculture instructors, or state experiment stations for exact instructions on handling and application. One reason for this is fact that some soil fumigants are toxic to warm-blooded animals.

Alert Wisconsin Police Rookie Uses Taxi Radio To Trap Thief

RHINELANDER, Wis., Oct. 14 (U.P.)—Patrolman Frantz Heise was off duty when he saw a car answering the description of one stolen the week before.

Heise, on the force only two months, hailed a cab and told the driver to follow the car. He used the taxi's short wave radio to have the cab station relay messages to police headquarters.

Police followed Heise's directions, stopped the car and arrested the driver, William Garrow, Bangor, Mich., was booked on an auto theft charge.

German War Bride Who Left Will, Disappeared, Sought

CHICAGO, Oct. 14. (INS)—Chicago authorities today were looking for a German war bride who left a "last will and testament" before she disappeared from her Chicago home yesterday.

The woman, Mrs. Anne Hrapowicz, 26, was reported missing by her husband, Henry, 26-year-old machinist and Navy veteran.

Hrapowicz told police he feared his wife may have killed herself.

However, he added that his wife had been writing to a man in Ypsilanti, Mich., and that she has relatives in Los Angeles and in Germany.

The husband said they had been quarreling for the past two days over his wife's attendance at late parties and that an unidentified man had telephoned her yesterday.

Hrapowicz told police his wife was not home when he returned from work last night. He said he found the will written in German.

The couple was married in Breman, Germany, in 1946. Hrapowicz, who was driving for an admiral in the port city, said his wife had owned two fur shops and was "well to do" when he married her.

'Killer' Autos Are Sent To Fiery Doom Near Chicago

CHICAGO, Oct. 14 (U.P.)—Fifty to 75 "killers" were executed here at one time, by burning.

The accused, all old jalopies judged to be unsafe for driving, were paraded through the Loop, each bearing a sign telling how it killed or maimed someone. Then they were heaped into one huge bonfire.

The old cars were gathered by an auto dealers' association as part of a safety program. Money from the sale of scrap metal left from the fire was donated to the city to aid in stepped-up traffic enforcement.

Uproar Follows CIO Probe Of Left Wing New York City Group

By ALLAN J. FUNCH
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14. — An investigation of the left-wing New York City CIO council began today at CIO headquarters with a "sit-down strike" and an attempted forcible ejection.

More than a score of New York unionists appeared at the hearing, refused to obey an order to leave, and announced that they would remain until given permission to testify.

L. S. Buckmaster, head of the rubber workers and chairman of the investigating board, ruled the hearing would be limited to officers of the council and the right-wing union leaders who filed charges against the group.

The board subsequently retired to a private office to conduct its hearings on the complaint that the council violated the CIO policy of opposing Henry Wallace and supporting the Marshall plan.

An uproar followed as presentation of evidence started in the glass-encased office of Allan Haywood, CIO vice president and director of organization.

Newsmen, listening to the fracas outside, got the details from Ewart Guinier, vice president of the New York council.

Guinier said that Patrick McGrath, of the utility workers and a member of the right-wing group, was testifying when he was interrupted by a question from council vice president Sam Burt. Guinier said:

"Martin Wagner (a member of the inquiry board) said McGrath shouldn't answer the question and chairman Buckmaster ordered him not to answer. The chairman called George Weaver (CIO headquarters official) to throw Burt out.

"He couldn't do it and McGrath called in 20 utility workers who were outside. They tried to throw out Burt and Ruth Young (CIO vice president) and Janames Durkin (council president.)

"The chairman finally agreed to put the goons out and continue the hearing."

The right-wing group of CIO officers has requested revocation of the New York council.

Proceedings Explained

Buckmaster's ruling that only officers of the council would be allowed to testify touched off the fireworks.

After the hearing adjourned Buckmaster gave an account of the proceedings.

He said the 20 council adherents "probably wouldn't have been excluded, if they had conducted themselves properly," he said, adding:

"But they began jumping up all over the room, protesting and raising points of order. A half dozen were shouting at the same time. It became so violent we had to recess the meeting."

Buckmaster said that at the afternoon session Burt, "created the greatest disturbance." Buckmaster said:

"He came more and more violent. I asked an usher to escort him from the room. Then the fracas occurred and the scuffling about the room."

Soldier Sentenced In Slaying Of New Mexico Negro Soldier

DENVER, Oct. 14. (INS)—An 18-year-old Air Force private was sentenced in Denver federal court today to 15 years in prison for the machinegun slaying of Earl J. Jones of Brooklyn, N. M.

Pvt. Jones, a 19-year-old negro soldier, was killed instantly last July 27 by nine .45 caliber slugs from a sub-machinegun fired at point-blank range.

He was a prisoner in the Lowry Air base guardhouse near Denver and had been assigned to a work detail guarded by Pvt. Gary E. Tuttle of Alexandria, Minn.

At first Tuttle contended he shot Jones to prevent an attempted escape, but the case was turned over to the civil authorities for prosecution after a military investigation.

Tuttle later retracted his story after other prisoners testified he had a grudge against Jones and he threatened to "get him."

He was sentenced by U. S. District Judge J. Foster Symes after pleading guilty to a charge of second degree murder.

ACTOR INJURED IN WRECK

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 14. (INS)—Film Actor Louis Hayward received non-serious chest injuries in a traffic accident in which he narrowly escaped death early today. His car crumpled like an accordian when he struck a street lamp standard headon in swerving to avoid a car that ignored a stop light.

A Quart of Medicine For One Dollar

Mertox goes to work quickly to overcome the torturing pains of rheumatism. It tones the bowels into a more rhythmic action. Expels waste matter that may have been in your system over a long period of time, causing many days, weeks and months of misery.

Gas and bloat, indigestion, sour stomach are quickly relieved.

Kidney and bladder troubles are helped so that the annoying broken rest from having to get up frequently at night is lessened.

Dizziness and run-down feeling is overcome quickly so that you feel, look and act like a different person. Mertox helps to build rich, red blood—creates a better appetite, so that you have a real zest for food.

Mertox may be taken by every member of the family. It contains no narcotics, opiates or calomel and will not make you sick, gripe, or nauseate you in the slightest degree.

Ask any druggist in Texas for a package of the new Mertox. Add to a quart of water and you have an excellent tonic medicine which will save you approximately $4.00.

NEW CROP FOR AREA?—M. H. Sylvester, above, is standing beside a strange new plant grown on the South Plains. What is it? Tobacco. And from the looks of the single stalk in the picture, the crop ought to do right well in this area. Sylvester, who was visiting in Kentucky last spring, brought back one of the tobacco shoots and planted it on land belonging to his father-in-law, S. S. Allcorn, who lives in the vicinity of Fiftieth and Ave. U. Sylvester is five feet, ten inches high and see how much taller the plant has grown above his head. Now Sylvester's problem is to properly cure the tobacco so he can roll it into smokes. (Staff Photo).

Education Instructor Urges Home, School Unity In Teaching

CHICAGO, Oct. 14 (U.P.)—Schools and parents should team up to educate children instead of teaching them in shifts.

So says Viola Theman, associate professor of education at Northwestern University.

Parents should give teachers the information on their children, she said, so that the "whole boy or girl" is educated. Otherwise, she said, the child is "pulled in opposite directions."

"Teachers have virtually no way of knowing what influences govern a child when he is in the home," she said, "and parents do not have sufficient knowledge of all the factors affecting the youngster during his hours in the schoolroom."

labor," he said.

Though the spindle type cotton picker has improved in efficiency, the Council authority said that the machine still reduces the quality of cotton by an average of one grade. Better grades of machine-picked cotton will come, he said, through better gin cleaning, development of a smooth leaf cotton plant which will not catch as much trash as commercial varieties, and increased use of defoliants.

"In the mechanization of row crops, hoe labor is the only high peak that has not been materially reduced," he continued. "Although a great reduction has been made by the flame cultivator, weather is a limiting factor in controlling weeds by this method. Further reductions are desired and the potential use of chemical weed killers may exert a major force in this direction, and possibly eliminate hoe labor."

Welch emphasized that there is no indication that the force of mechanization is exhausting itself.

"Consumers are receiving higher salaries and are buying more farm products than ever before. Farmers are increasing their production to meet the demand of shortage of farm labor, caused by the shift of population, to industry, there is no alternative for the farmer but extended mechanization.

"The ability of engineers to adapt machines to different regions, states, and counties may hold a potential solution to our southern farming problems. How far we go and the degree of expansion will depend largely on men like we have at this conference—men who are interested in developing our resources and fitting mchanization into balanced farming."

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 14 (AP)—Cotton futures moved narrowly in fairly active dealings. Trade buying partly credited to covering against sales of cotton to France accounted for slight early gains. The market later eased on hedge selling and profit taking. There was considerable evening up in nearby October futures prior to expiration of trading in that contract tomorrow.

Cotton closed barely steady.

Grain

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Oct. 14 (AP)—New crop corn poured out of the country into the hands of cash dealers on the board of trade today. Despite the spurt in offerings of the cash grain, corn futures held close to their previous closing prices. But cash corn fell to a new low for the year.

Wheat held fairly steady most of the day, aided by an Army request for flour and lack of moisture in the western plains area.

Cash dealers reported that 310,000 bushels of new crop and 25,000 bushels of old crop corn were bought on a to-arrive basis.

In the spot, corn market prices fell around 3 to 10 cents a bushel from yesterday's best quotation. No. 1 old crop yellow sold at $1.57 ½, a new low since February 2 of last year. No. 3 new crop corn brought $1.48 ½ to $1.53. Spot corn is grain which arrived here today.

Wheat closed ⅛ to ½ higher, December $2.25 ¼-½, corn was ⅛-⅜ lower, December $1.39-1.39 ⅛, oats were unchanged to ⅛ lower, December 75 ⅜.

Cotton Industry

period, promote a better economy for the cotton farmer, are growth in population of the United States, which is increasing at the rate of one million a year; increased mechanization which will increase productivity and income of individual workers; the steady increase in world population; and the fact that there are no wide new areas of land for cultivation in sight for foreign countries.

Returns From Tour

White, speaking on "The Economics of Mechanization," believes that the only way American growers can compete with foreign cotton produced with cheap labor is "to use our labor as effectively as humanly possible."

White, assistant secretary of agriculture in the President's cabinet in addition to his ECA duties, recently returned from a tour of cotton growing areas in Asia and Africa and the major cotton consuming countries of Europe.

Farm wages in America are 12 times as high as in Egypt, he said, and an acre of cotton can be planted by hand in Egypt as cheaply "as we can here with the best of mechanized equipment."

"You may ask how American cotton growers compete with foreign cotton growers under such conditions," he continued. "The answer is—we cannot if we produce cotton by hand. That seems to be certain. There is no class of people in America that I know of that will be willing in the future to live as they would have to live in order to produce cotton by hand at a price necessary to compete with cotton grown by the cheap labor in foreign lands.

Life Of Drudgery

"It would not only be a life of drudgery but also one of hard times. So there seems to be only one way out. That is, to use our labor as efficiently as humanly possible. This means fewer hands on the hoe handles and fewer backs weighted down with pick sacks.

"It is true that much progress has been made in cotton mechanization since the advent of the saw gin and the Georgia stock plow. But much remains to be done. Particularly is this true with respect to hoeing and picking. Requirements for hand labor in these two operations are still tremendous. The solution constitutes a great challenge to the ingenuity of our best engineers, chemists and plant breeders.

"Upon my return through Europe this spring," White said, "I found all the countries concerned about being able to continue to import cotton they need. Cotton plays a vital role in the rehabilitation of Europe. It not only furnished clothing for working people, articles of necessity for the households and hospitals, essential fabrics for industrial uses, but it creates a vast amount of employment in its manufacture and distribution, and earns large amounts of foreign exchange through sales of cotton manufactures for export. In this it helps to relieve distress, helps dissipate unrest, helps stabilize wages and helps combat inflation.

"People in Europe are poor today. They need help. Our answer is the so-called Marshall plan. Without help they cannot buy what they want and need for the simple reason that they are too poor. Too much of their country has been destroyed. Too many factories have been bombed out—too many homes have been burned and too many people yet do not have enough strength to do a good day's work. And prosperity will not return quickly. It will be a slow process. It may take years to rebuild Europe to where they will once again be a free and independent people able to live decently by their own efforts and enjoy the good things of life.

"What does all this mean for cotton?" White asked. "It means this. It means that cotton's customers in foreign lands are so poor that they are forced to buy the best bargains obtainable. It means that they must buy cotton wherever they can get it the cheapest. Irrespective of any patriotic feeling they may have toward America they cannot afford the luxury of buying higher priced products than needed. Of necessity they must trade at the bargain counters. For us this is important. We must continue to bear in mind that if we are to hold the markets that have been traditionally American, markets that have been regained since the close of the war, we must be able to serve our customers and in part this means we must be able to compete effectively pricewise."

White also cited the inroads made on cotton markets by synthetics from the price standpoint.

White also cited the fact that improvement in mechanization is vitally important to cotton ginning and in cotton manufacturing.

"To my way of thinking, this whole problem and many others offer a tremendous and exciting challenge to the whole cotton industry," White said.

This afternoon, from 2:30 to 5 o'clock was to be spent by the group witnessing a demonstration at the experiment station of mechanical equipment currently in use in this area, with Don Jones, station superintendent, in charge.

The demonstrations will take a cotton crop from removal of residue from the previous crop through cultivation stages, and on through the harvest mechanically. A following ginning demonstration will be given Friday at Monroe.

Southern Demos

dates will be on the election ballots in many Southern states was confused. In addition, there is uncertainty as to just how the individual candidates will be designated on the ballots in some states.

For instance, in Alabama when the survey was made it had not been definitely determined whether President Truman was on the ballot or not. In Oklahoma, Henry Wallace and Governor Thurmond were not listed and it appeared unlikely that they would be put on the ballot subsequently.

In Louisiana all candidates will be on the ballot, but the traditional rooster ballot symbol of the Democratic Party there is being given to Governor Thurmond, while President Truman apparently will be designated by a new symbol unfamiliar to Louisiana voters.

These standings in the South, therefore, must be interpreted in the light of the unsettled state of affairs in the South and which may have a marked effect on the vote on Election Day. The poll percentages would apply only if all the candidates are on the ballots in the states covered and only if all have equal treatment on the ballots. To the extent that conditions are not met, today's figures will not reflect the actual situation.

It should be noted also that presidential standings reported by the Institute for Tennessee give the views of representative voters there before Edward H. Crump, long-time leader of the powerful Memphis machine, came out in favor of Governor Thurmond. Later polls will show any changes brought about by the Crump statement and by Senator Kenneth McKellar's declaration supporting President Truman.

Author Speaks

ond world war for reasons dating back into the 18th century. At that time, the government instituted a law requiring that a father must leave his property in equal portions to his sons. Foresighted Frenchmen, aghast that their holdings be divided, raised only small families, which in passing years, led to even smaller ones, until in the last two or three decades, French manpower was woefully depleted.

In summation, he said that a nation of high fertility has the best chance of survival.

A second lesson, he said, is that life is competition. The old individualism of the United States and its people of the 19th century now is gone, and cooperation has replaced it because cooperation is competition's strongest weapon.

World Rule One Solution

As a corollary lesson, he pointed out that war is natural, that it is the ultimate form of group competition and survival. It would be dishonest, he added, if he said that history indicates peace in a permanent form. The only form of unity possible, he believes, is for one nation to conquer the whole world.

Another lesson of history is that life is selection—some succeed and some fail. Inequality grows through life, and also through civilization, and, he said, the higher the civilization, the higher the inequality.

Taking up the geographical concept, Dr. Durant suggested that his listeners sometime stick a pin on each city on a map where the greatest civilizations have risen and ask, "Why (and how) did they rise thus?"

With regard to the political concept, Dr. Durant said that it is difficult to determine which political systems have fared best in history, since all have had good times as well as bad times.

The last concept, religion, he traced from its earliest stages, the earliest of which was the hunting stage. During this stage, Dr. Durant said, what now are vices were virtues; virtues because they were essential to survival.

The schools, however, placed too much emphasis on intellect and too little on character, and because of this the church and religion became an important check factor. Religion gave man the most important thing in the world: hope.

The question of greatest moment in our time, he said, is not Communism or possible war. It is, will the moral code of the western civilization survive the religious decline?

And in connection with this, Dr. Durant gave his last lesson of history, namely that man is tough enough and strong enough to survive.

Industry in other countries is making increasing use of German technical experience and several contracts have been signed recently for German design drawings of industrial plants or products.

COMMUNISTS ARE BLAMED

West Coast Walkout Assailed As Blockade Against Ports

By BEN SCHECHTER
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—F. P. Foisie, president of the Waterfront Employers association of California, declared today that Communist control of the Pacific waterfront has made San Francisco a "little Berlin."

The shipping executive said that the present Pacific coast strike confronts shipowners with a battle for "survival." He stated:

"It is to be either shipping or Communism. Further appeasement is impossible, and to compromise with Communists is just a soft way of yielding to implacable purpose.

Speaks At Club

"It is as true with us in our small segment of the domestic front as it is in Berlin and in the United Nations on the international front.

"There is a clear party-line connection between the two fronts; between Berlin and little Berlin—San Francisco."

Foisie spoke at the 22nd convention of the Propeller club and the American Merchant Marine conference in New York, which today honored 12 newspapermen for their fight to build a strong and progressive American Merchant Marine.

He said the strike, which he described as inevitable because the party line required it, was the sixth major labor stoppage in Pacific coast shipping in the past 14 years. He added:

"This also was interspersed with 1400 stoppages, on a shop, against a company, shutting down a port as a whole, or against a trade such as coastwise (shipping).

Shipping In Deadlock

"We've had enough. There is no way known to us to do business with Communist-controlled unions for theirs is the program of calculated destruction of shipping—so declared publicly."

The dozen winners of the American newspaper contest came from California, Minnesota, Ohio, Illinois, Michigan, Massachusetts, Florida and New York.

The newspapermen, who were given cash awards, a plaque and an all expense-trip to New York, were Clint Mosher, San Francisco Examiner, for news articles on the shipping situation as reflected in the trade of the port of San Francisco; Walter Hamsher, New York Herald-Tribune, for a news article on "U. S. shipping called weak defense force;" Julian Griffin, Cleveland Press, for news articles on Great Lakes' shipping.

Also John Bunker of The Christian Science Monitor; Allan Keller, New York World-Telegram and Miss Dorothy Warren, St. Paul (Minn.) Dispatch, for feature articles.

Editorial winners were Arthur Griffith, Miami (Fla.) Herald; Miss Dorothy Worrell, Patriot Press, Hyannis, Mass., and Darsie L. Darsie, Los Angeles Evening Herald Express.

Photography awards went to Bert Emanuel of The Detroit Free Press; George Place, San Francisco News, and John Puslis, Chicago Daily News.

Tucker Is Accused Of Dissipating Funds

CHICAGO, Oct. 14. (INS)—Preston Tucker, president of the Tucker Corp., was charged today with dissipating $5,500,000 in a suit seeking to place the Chicago automobile firm in receivership.

The suit was filed in federal court by Luis Kutner, a Chicago attorney, who also accused Tucker of appropriation for his own use $100,000 of the firm's funds.

Kutner asked for an accounting and the appointment of a receiver for the automobile firm.

The attorney's petition specifically charged Tucker and his officers with "mismanagement, misconduct and the syphoning of assets."

Kutner charged that Tucker dissipated the $5,500,000 in November and December, 1946, and also failed to account for another $100,000.

The complaint asserted that the Tucker engine, advertised as "revolutionary," merely is a torn down version of the 1942 Oldsmobile engine.

Judge Michael L. Igoe, who is hearing the case, was informed that the Tucker corporation ceased operations last June and that $75,000,000 would be needed to renew production at the Chicago-Dodge plant.

Tucker branded the suit as "utterly ridiculous," adding that Kutner's accusations were the same as those in a bill previously dismissed by Judge Igoe.

Fire Causes $30,000 Loss To Cotton Gin At Palermo

BRYAN, Oct. 14. (AP)—Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the Palermo gin early today. Loss was estimated at $30,000.

The building and machinery, some of which was added this year, were totally lost. The gin had been closed since Saturday when the last cotton on hand was ginned, so there was no cotton loss. Owners are Luke Palermo and Mrs. Charles Palermo.

Patricia Schmidt Arrives In Chicago, Seeks Roles

CHICAGO, Oct. 14. (INS)—Patricia "Satira" Schmidt arrived in Chicago today from Toledo, O., for a medical checkup and to discuss future plans with Attorney Milton H. Raynor.

The 22-year-old exotic dancer was recently pardoned by the president of Cuba of a sentence for the slaying of John Lester Mee, Chicago lawyer. She had served 18 months of a 15-year sentence.

"Satira" said she was hopeful of obtaining roles in the legitimate theater. She declared she would dance only in the better grade night clubs of Florida and New York.

Sharp Drop In U.S. Traffic Deaths Noted In Two Years

NEW YORK, Oct. 14. (INS)—The International Association of Chiefs of Police was told today that traffic fatalities in the U. S. have been reduced almost 50 per cent in the past two years.

The report was made by Maj. Gen. Philip B. Fleming, general chairman of President Truman's highway safety conference.

Gen. Fleming credited the increased number of traffic officers employed in some states with bringing down the national toll.

He told the police chiefs that at the time of their first conference in 1946 traffic deaths were "above 12" for every 100 million vehicle-miles. The figure now is seven, he said.

Education Is Needed

Paul Blaisdell, director of the National Committee for Traffic safety, urged a realistic approach to the problem of drinking drivers.

He noted that legislation has been provided for flagrant cases, but he added:

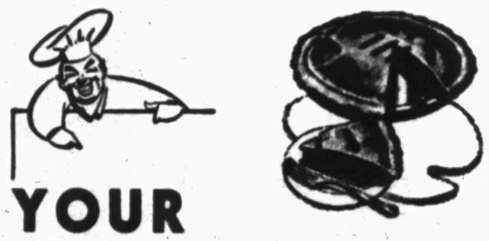

"For each such driver there are a hundred reputable citizens, men and women, who had had two or three cocktails and feel certain of their ability to drive an automobile.

"Theirs is a case for education, for public opinion forcing appreciation of responsibility to use extra caution, or to stay off the highway until all possibility of the influence of alcohol has passed."

Lee C. Richardson, of Lansing, Mich., chairman of the State Officials' National Highway Safety committee, stressed the need for uniform traffic laws throughout the country.
