8 Musical Combos On Stage

Big Beat Battle Saturday

Teens call it music, big daddy.

You might have another name for it.

Regardless, it comes to Colorado City Saturday night in a big dose of its back-beat, booming sound.

Eight combos will engage in musical combat in a "Battle of the Bands" — all under auspices of Colorado City Jaycees, beginning at 7:30 p.m. in Colorado High Gym.

While the bands do battle, the customers will be leaving their shoes at the sidelines for dancing, sock-hop style.

The young musicians, armed with guitars, drums, electric organs — and, yes, sound amplifiers — will come from Colorado City, Lorraine and an area stretching from East-Central Texas to New Mexico border.

They'll compete for $150 in prize money — $100 for first and $50 for second.

There is a showmanship trophy, too, for the individual member of all the musical groups judged as best talent.

Here is the battle roster of combos:

From Colorado City

The Unknown Four and The Midnighters.

From Lorraine The

Chargers.

From Big Spring Just

us Four, with a C-City guitarist.

From Sweetwater Just

From Andrews The

Trade Marks and the Mark

Four.

From Burnet The Deacons.

Joe Birchum, Jaycee chairman for the event, said the combos will draw for battle positions — that is, the order of their 30 minute appearance.

Intermissions will be 10 minutes, just long enough to get the bands on and off the stage.

Judging committee, already selected, but not announced, will award the $100 and $50 prizes on basis of talent, showmanship, appearance and audience appeal.

Admission tab is $1.50 Jaycees, who will chaperone the big event, say there will be a house rule requiring another full admission charge for any person who leaves the gym and then returns.

Two Memorial Weekend Crashes

5 Highway Wrecks Claim Heavy Toll

A four-day traffic toll in five major wrecks on Colorado City highways counted up Wednesday to one person killed, two seriously injured and a rash of minor injuries.

Dead was Arthur Hall Jr.,

31, of Cottonwood, Ala., whose refrigerated truck tractor and semi-trailer hit a steel highway sign on Interstate 20 East Tuesday morning.

SEVERELY INJURED

when their small foreign car overturned south of Colorado City on State Highway 208 (Robert Lee) Monday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Winifred Elizondo of Corpus Christi.

Occupants of a car and pickup truck walked away from their separate wrecks Tuesday night.

THE MEMORIAL DAY weekend highway toll began Saturday afternoon with a two-car collision on Highway 208 inside the city limits with seven persons being treated and dismissed at Root Memorial Hospital.

Hall was killed instantly Tuesday at 8:20 a.m. when his big 1967 GMC truck-tractor smashed into a freeway exit sign east of Colorado City at Country Club Rd.

The Alabama trucker, moving a load of potatoes and lemons from California, was traveling east on the freeway.

IMPACT OF THE collision with the concrete based steel sign threw Hall thru the truck's front windshield into the truck's path. The truck ran over the driver and dragged him for a short distance before the truck and trailer overturned in the ditch between the freeway's east bound lane and south frontal road.

Force of the collision knocked the truck's rear axle and wheels from the vehicle.

JUSTICE OF PEACE Leonard Henderson, who investigated the accident with State Highway Patrolman Buddy Hertenberger, said the driver probably was killed by the collision's first impact, before hitting the ground.

Hall, father of three children, was driving for Hedstrom Union Trucking Company with headquarters in Dothan, Ala. His body was returned to Alabama by plane Wednesday.

MR. AND MRS. ELIZONDO were traveling north on State 208 toward Colorado City Monday at 8:30 p.m. when their Renault left the highway and overturned two and a half times, 10.7 miles south of the city.

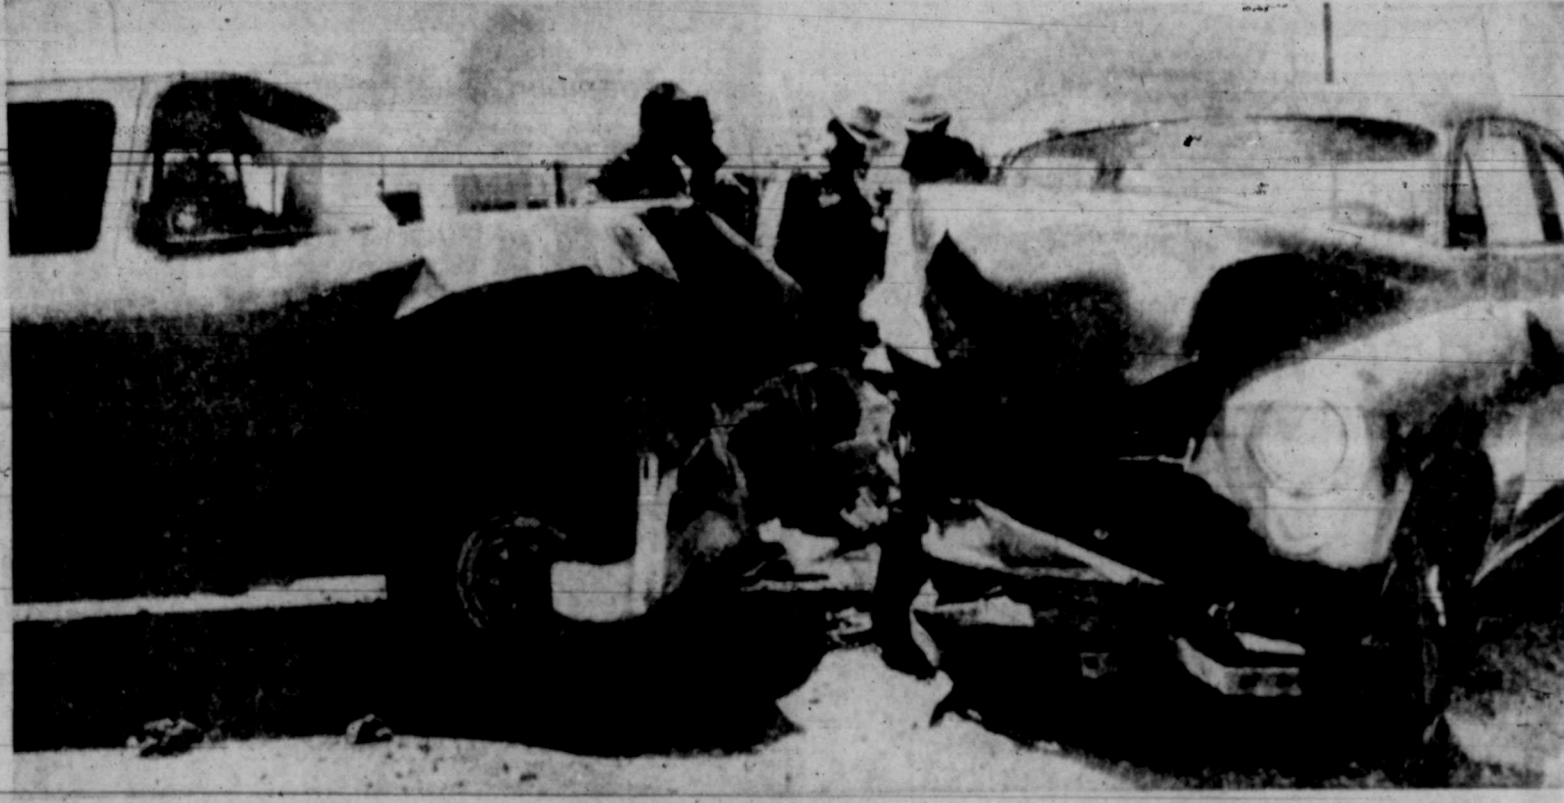

Mrs. Elizondo, 21, was thrown from the car into a barbed wire fence, receiving a severely cut arm and other injuries. Her husband, 25, was thrown from the car near where the auto stopped. He sustained hip and other injuries.

After emergency treatment at Root Memorial Hospital, the couple was moved to Hendrick Memorial Hospital in Abilene at 11:35 p.m. Monday night for surgery.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN William Everts of Route 3, Snyder, were in a 1962 Dodge that hit a cow at about 9:30 Tuesday night on Cherry Creek Road near Lake Colorado City. Neither required hospital treatment at the time.

Dewitt Myers of 926 East 16th Street escaped without injury also Tuesday night about 9:15 p.m. when the 1955 Chevrolet pickup he was driving overturned on State Highway 163 (to Sterling City).

The vehicle turned over on its side across a fence near Morgan Creek bridge.

New Manager Counts 'Em

Chamber Groups 'Busy' In 35 Major Projects

More than 35 major projects are on the work program of Colorado City Chamber of Commerce committees for this year.

That's the report Wednesday from Selton Pickens, new manager for the Chamber, as he totaled up the work projects for 13 committees.

Pickens took over the reigns of management last week and is beginning his first month in the post that has been vacant for several months.

RIGHT NOW he is busy with plans for a special membership round-up that is designed to gain new support for a renewed Chamber of Commerce program of community action.

The membership round-up is planned for a two-day period next week with scores of volunteer workers from Chamber membership.

"But before we begin this new membership project," Pickens said, "we want our community to understand that our Chamber of Commerce is already busy in behalf for the community as a whole... and this action program will increase."

THE WORK program ranges from art and music to highway markings and restaurant place mats, designating points of interest within the Colorado City area.

Place mats advertising local points of interest are one of the major projects for the tourist committee chairman by Jim Weddle.

Promotion of art and art appreciation, organization of a creative writing group and other programs are among the objectives of the cultural committee, chairmaned by Mrs. G. D. Foster. This group already has promoted a highly successful spring music event featuring Lubbock musicians.

ADEQUATELY AND properly marked approaches to Colorado City, especially as Interstate 20 Freeway approaches and bypasses the town, are one of the major objectives of the Chamber's highway committee, which has Gus Chesney as chairman.

The Lakes and sports committee, chairman by Lundy Curlee, is continuing the making of weekly fishing reports from Lake Colorado City and Lake Champlain to area towns and news media as well as interested persons as far away as 400 miles.

This same committee also is aiming for a additional development in lake assets, plus a well-rounded sports program for the entire community.

DINK BRIS and his fair committee already are making plans for the entire community.

Community's Outstanding Young Educator

Educator Award to Baumann

Miss Carolyn Baumann, a native of Mitchell County, is Colorado City's Outstanding Young Educator for 1967.

The 27-year-old physical education teacher, who also instructs in public school art and social studies, is the first recipient of the honor which will become an annual award by Colorado City Jaycees.

Jaycees presented a plaque to Miss Baumann Saturday night at their annual installation and awards banquet in Civic House.

Identity of the Outstanding Young Educator had been kept secret and came as a surprise to Miss Baumann, who was attending the dinner with her fiancé, Jaycee Charles Walker.

Dr. Bill Bridgford, Jaycee president, announced the award for Miss Baumann and presented the plaque.

He emphasized that the Colorado City award will become a part of the United States Jaycees' Outstanding Young Educator awards program, which is for the purpose of creating a greater public interest and understanding for educators and their problems.

Although a Jaycee award, final selection was by a community-wide committee from representative organizations. Nominees were confined to those educators aged 21 to 35.

The award is based on three areas of qualification — professional background, teaching skills and contributions to profession, community, state and nation.

Miss Baumann, daughter of Rudolph Baumann and the late Mrs. Baumann of Lorraine, is a graduate of Lorraine High and McMurry College, Abilene, with graduate study at Southwest Texas State.

She was third-ranking student in her high school graduating class and in college, while working toward her bachelor of science degree in physical education — was admitted to Alpha Chi, which includes only the top 15 percent of a class, and Kappa Delta Pi, education society with entrance based on grades.

During the regular school term, Miss Baumann taught physical education and the first program of public school art at Colorado High. This summer she is teaching in Colorado High's summer session and handling the girls' division of Colorado High School's summer recreation program.

She is president of the local Brush & Palette Club, an

Miss Charlotte Rowland Bride Of Michael Garner

Miss Charlotte Elaine Rowland and Michael F. Garner were united in marriage Saturday evening at eight o'clock with vows exchanged in the home of the bride's maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey W. Cupp, 1015 Oak St.

Officiating for the double ring ceremony was Bob J. Barnes, minister of the 22nd and Austin St. Church of Christ.

The bride is only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan B. Rowland, 941 Elm St. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Willie F. Garner of 128 East 9th St.

Improvised altar for the home wedding was marked with an arch of greenery entered with an arrangement of white gladioluses, tied with white satin bows, flanked by tall candelabra holding white wedding tapers. Background was a pedestal holding white stock gladioluses and greenery.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an original suit of white dacron polyester, designed with a long bodice and A-line skirt. Her shoulder corsage was fashioned of white carnations and stock.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Margaret Ann Williams, wore a sheath dress of pink crepe with a corsage of pink gladioluses.

Father of the bridegroom attended him as best man.

Reception for wedding party and guests featured a refreshment table covered with a white linen embroidered cloth, appointed in silver and crystal, and centered with the three-tiered bride's cake. Mrs. Margaret Oyler cut and served the cake and Mrs. Leon Jenkins presided at the punch service.

After a honeymoon trip the bride and groom will live in Houston. They are both graduates of Colorado High School class of 1966. Mr. Garner attended Angelo State College in 1966-67. His bride has been employed in Sweetwater.

WCS Has Business & Social Meeting

WESTBROOK — The Woman's Society of Christian Service met at the Methodist Church for a business and social meeting Monday afternoon.

Mrs. John Hawkins used as devotional topic "Finding God Through Suffering."

Present were Meses Hawkins, L. R. Messinger, E. E. Gressett, O. T. Bird, Frank Oglesby and A. L. Young.

The next meeting of the Society will be Monday, July 3.

organization for local artists which also sponsors art shows and exhibits; is a member of Texas State Teachers Association, and Classroom Teachers Association and Kappa Phi Society.

In addition to regular teaching and organization duties, Miss Bauman has discussed her teaching assignments before various civic and club organizations, taught adult first aid and civil defense classes to other teachers as well as to groups outside the school system, taught Sunday School classes and worked with Colorado City Chamber of Commerce's cultural development committee.

Her associates say her classroom management and precise moves ahead with a planned, logical manner which recognizes student interest and develops a relaxed attitude for learning.

For her self, Miss Baumann sometimes thinks she is a bit "too kind hearted."

"If, in some way, I can help them to have higher ideals and higher standards, then I will have accomplished a great deal."

CONVERSATION CORNER

IT IS NOT given to many of us to realize the great, exciting magnificent, and glorious hour.

Few enough of us there are who reach the peak of all ambition... the majestic mountaintop... which sometimes turns out to be a very lonely place.

But all, everyone of us, can know... and have known... the little, touching, and cherished moments.

If we live at all, we can hold in our hearts many small lovely things to remember... sweet to recall.

And a bouquet of tiny colorful blossoms, massed in the mind, may be even more satisfying than the more elegant arrangement arriving as tribute for one stupendous accomplishment, recognized by the world-at-large.

MASSLED in the mind as you go on living are the serene and subtle fragrances of little things... mixed with weeds or wild flowers marking mistakes we've all made.

There are these... the small of cape jasmines, tubs of them, which outlined the stage on graduation night... the sight of your mother dressed up for church... or a father meeting the train you're on.

Red roses... low bowls of masteriums picked in the cool of the day... breakfast-cooked on an outdoor grill after the first swain of the season... lavender in bloom.

The delightful feel of wiggling the toes after an evening's concert spent wearing high heels.

THESE, too... the first angry cry of a justborn baby the first smile, first step and first day at school of your children.

The first evening dress worn by you... first formal for a daughter... letters from a lad overseas... a book, a jug of milk and nobody.

Eating a ripe fig from the tree... report card day when the grandchildren have excelled... transistor music from the picnic table on the back lawn... a message from a favorite far-away friend.

Playing old piano-tunes in the semi-dark... deciding to dash down the highway to visit some loved ones... the safe sound of an expected car, overdue in the driveway.

A line of clean-smelling, newly-washed clothes in the sun... fruit blossoms... and rain like a lullaby at night.

Color photos of the out-of-state granddaughters... long distance calls of the happy voices... vacation plans in the making... clean closets and a house set to order.

THESE... these and a million more memories make up the fabric of life... to find a beloved one has passed the crisis of an illness... to awake, free from pain. Wasn't it Arthur Godfrey who used to remind his listeners so often, "If you wake up and nothing hurts you, you've no right to complain about anything else."

Then... there is lying late abed on a holiday... or just any old day... a bubble bath when you're feeling luxurious... mistake in the bank balance in your favor.

Of course, if you care to stay uncomfortable all your life, there are disappointments and embarrassments to remember, shortcomings and errors.

Wise people learn to weed them out before the seed spread and warp the whole outlook on the "great big beautiful, wonderful world" we all inhabit for now.

IN DALLAS CHURCH

Miss Connie Ann Dearen
Wed To Wayne Williams

Rev. and Mrs. Gene B. Louder are moving Thursday (today) from the St. Luke pastor's home, 1446 Oak St. to New Home, 14 miles southwest of Lubbock.

Rev. Louder was reassigned as pastor of the Methodist church at New Home during the recent Northwest Texas Conference. He had been pastor of the St. Luke Methodist Church here, and the Don Chapel Methodist Church for the past year.

Mrs. Louder taught a first grade room in Primary School during the 1966-67 term.

Moving to the St. Luke pastorate Thursday afternoon will be Rev. and Mrs. Carl Oglesby. Rev. Oglesby has been pastor of the Park View Methodist Church in El Paso. He and Mrs. Oglesby are parents of four sons. Rev. Oglesby will assume his duties and preach his first sermon for St. Luke members, Sunday, June 4.

St. Luke Methodist Church was recently presented two plaques as winners of the Town & Country Award for Big Spring District.

Rev. Louder received his plaque as pastor May 23 in Abilene. He presented the church's plaque for the award Sunday, May 28, his last day here as St. Luke pastor.

Church vows in Dallas, Saturday evening, May 27, at seven in the evening, made Miss Connie Ann Dearen, the bride of Wayne Williams, of 2617 Springvale, Dallas.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Toby Dearen, 1439 Pine St., Colorado City, and the Rev. and Mrs. Howard Williams, Dallas.

Father of the bridegroom, Rev. Williams, performed the double ring ceremony in Liberty Pentecostal Church of God where the altar was decorated with giant baskets of white chrysanthemums and twin seven-branched candelabra holding white candles.

Escorted by her father, Mr. Dearen, the bride chose a street-length dress of white peau de soie with an overlay of lace and sheer, bell-shaped lace sleeves. Her small coil was peau covered in lace and held the forehead veil, beaded with clusters of pearls.

Miss Marilyn Roberts of Midland, roommate of the bride in Dallas, was maid of honor. Her pastel pink dress of crepe was street-length, accented with a rose-pink collar. Her matching pillbox was trimmed with netting, her slippers were rose pink.

Flower girl was Dolores Jean Starnes of Irving, niece of the bridegroom. Candles

Mrs. Wayne Williams... Before Marriage Miss Connie Dearen

were lighted by Larry Dearen, brother of the bride and Alex Major, of New York City.

John Williams was best man for his brother the groom. Ushers were Dee Dearen of Austin College, brother of the bride, and Gary Springer of Dallas.

Wedding music was by Dwayne Temple, soloist for "One Hand, One Heart," "I Love You Truly," and "The Wedding Prayer."

Reception was held in the church parsonage with Mrs. Jean Starnes, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Gary Springer assisting in entertaining.

For travel on a honeymoon trip the bride wore a two-piece suit of white linen and the white orchid from her bridal bouquet as corsage.

The couple will live at Villa IV apartments, Apt. 227, Community Drive, Dallas.

The groom, who attended R. L. Turner High School and served in the Army, is employed by Arthur Incorporated. The bride, employed by United American Insurance Company, Dallas, is a graduate of Colorado High School, attended Howard County Junior College, University of Dallas, and St. Paul School of Nursing.

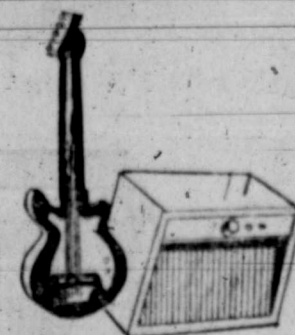

Guests attended the wedding and reception from Colorado City, Midland, Ft. Worth, Farmer Branch, Lewisville, and New York City.

Good Reminder -

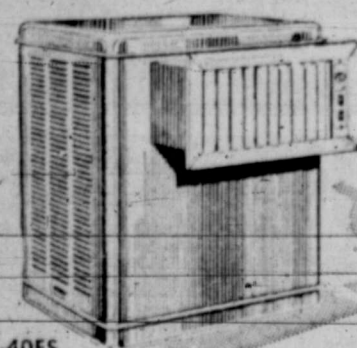

We've always contended there are more young citizens in communities like ours than most of us realize. Dr. Bill Bridgford backed us up during the Jaycee hunt for our community's Outstanding Young Educator for 1967.

About one-third of our entire public school teaching staff is between 21 and 35 years of age, he reports.

In other words, here is another example of our town attracting outstanding young career-minded citizens.

Congratulations to the Jaycees for reminding us of this fact — and, for paying tribute to our young educators with the 1967 award to Carolyn Baumann. She and all these educators deserve our every special appreciation.

Cotton Producers Have Stake In Easy Care Fabric Success

Dollar-A-Bale Program Sparks New Research

Cotton has an excellent opportunity to share in the expanding market for easy care fabrics, according to a National Cotton Council study just released.

The report, "Easy Care Cottons," indicates that 9.4 billion yards of cotton and competing materials were consumed in 1966 in outlets representing potentials for easy care fabrics.

This potential lends urgency to research financed by the Cotton Producers Institute and slated for expansion under the dollar-a-bale program approved by growers and which incidentally were heavily backed in Mitchell County Cotton Referendum.

Twelve separate projects in seven different research facilities, therefore, are concentrated on various aspects of improving easy care fabrics.

Improvements in easy care qualities are important, the Council report points up to:

- (1) Enable cotton to compete in the 2.3 million bale market currently held by easy care synthetics;

- (2) Enable cotton to maintain its position in the 1.4 million bale market held by easy care cottons; and

- (3) Prevent synthetics from taking the 2.8 million bale market representing the expansion potential for all easy care fabrics and currently held almost entirely by regular finish cottons.

In apparel and household uses — where consumers have a strong voice in fiber selection and easy care properties influence their choice — total demand for textiles is increasing.

Further favoring easy care are such factors as larger families, more women working, informal living, scarcity of household help, more emphasis on neat appearance, better home laundry equipment, and less time for washing and ironing.

Many housewives, too, are willing to launder items at home so the money saved thereby, can be applied to the purchase of other things.

The survey devotes a chapter to durable press — a new technology in easy care — and a term for products which can be "worn or used innumerable times without losing shape-holding properties."

The Council drew attention to the potentials of durable press as far back as 1955 when it submitted two proposals to the Southern Regional Research Laboratory. The cotton industry worked for several years to focus more research on it before the process became available in trousers in 1964.

"But the real impetus for an almost phenomenal promotion of durable press arose from the reduced abrasion resistance and strength of the early all-cotton durable press products," notes the report.

"Producers of polyester fibers quickly recognized an opportunity to invade some of cotton's biggest markets by promoting blends of their fibers with cotton for durable press products."

The remarkable reception given durable press by consumers is attributed by the Council to the massive promotional effort which followed.

Although cotton has suffered reverses since 1961, the trend was turned around last year and it now accounts for more than half the broad woven fabrics finished for easy care. Output in 1966, estimated at 1.7 billion linear yards, was up from 1.6 billion in 1965.

Random Look At Session Highlights

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

State Legislators wound up their 60th session here on schedule, despite a hectic flurry of last-minute assignments, and left behind a far-reaching record of achievement in many areas.

No one can deny that there were some notable failures. But the accomplishments were impressive.

Here is a random look at some of the session's highlights:

- BUDGET — Lawmakers agreed on $2,400,000,000 in spending ($146,800,000 from general revenues) for 1968, without passing a tax bill. They will come back next year to budget for 1969. Funds provide for substantial increases in all areas of state government, including education, health, general administration and welfare.

- SCHOOL TEACHERS — After requesting a $68,000,000 salary increase program and being offered $55,500,000 by the Senate, teachers finally got $51,000,000.

- STATE EMPLOYEES — These workers came up with their most substantial salary benefits in history. Raises averaged about 14 per cent and ranged up to 30 per cent and more in some salaries.

- MEDICAID — Title 19 hospitalization and medical aid to the needy — most dramatic step in public welfare since launching of social security — was implemented for Texas by passage of a special act and appropriation of nearly $25,000,000.

- EDUCATION — Money was made available for 2,300,000 public school pupils and a 26 per cent increase in higher education spending. Junior college appropriations were increased from $13,600,000 to $24,400,000.

- CITY SALES TAX — Cites got the authority they sought to supplement their property tax income by levying one per cent sales taxes on vote of their citizens after next August.

- LABOR — Although defeated on minimum wage legislation and workmen's compensation law revision, labor came to terms with management on a compromise industrial safety act and an increase in unemployment compensation benefits from a maximum of 37 to $45 a week.

- CONSUMER CREDIT — State's first consumer credit code, regulates lending at all levels. Rates of up to 240 per cent on very small loans stirred controversy, but the bill passed by big margins.

- TRAFFIC SAFETY — Major part of Gov. John Connally's recommended highway safety program was approved. It included a new drivers' license act, an auto inspection bill and establishment of a traffic program to be administered by the Governor.

- OPEN MEETINGS — Another Texas legislative first, an act to require open meetings of governmental agencies at all levels was signed into law by the Governor who termed it "a great step forward to provide a means whereby the public can be more informed on governmental and public affairs."

- REAPPORTIONMENT — Legislators agreed on both congressional and state House of Representatives redistricting. However, they could not get together on judicial reapportionment.

- WATER — Texas Water Development Board received $1,200,000 more for its operations and completion of a statewide master plan. Texas Water Rights Commission got a boost of $484,422 to aid in administering the new water rights adjudication act which also is a product of the 60th session.

- POLLUTION — Strengthened Water Pollution Control Board got $13,100,000 for its 1968 operations. An air pollution control measure also became law.

- SUNDAY CLOSING — Lawmakers tightened Sunday closing laws by repealing the "emergency purchase" provisions of the old law.

Key recommendations of Governor Connally which failed to clear the Legislature were proposals for sweeping revision of the state constitution by a 450-member convention and legalized sale of liquor by the drink.

Bill to legalize parimutuel wagering on horse races never came to a showdown vote, but a referendum on the issue was approved for inclusion on next May's Democratic and Republican primary election ballots.

- CONNALLY VETOS — Most of the bills passed by the Legislature are signed into law. But once in awhile the governor vetoes a measure. One he vetoed would have allowed cigarette distributors to make payment for cigarette stamps purchased from the state within 15 days after the purchase rather than when the purchase is made.

Connally said he vetoed the bill because, although it would have required the distributors buying on credit to put up a bond, "this surety bond does not change the constitutionality of pledging the state's credit."

In addition, the Governor said the state comptroller has informed him that "the general revenue fund in the treasury would lose approximately $5,500,000 during this current fiscal year because of the delay in payments for cigarette stamps."

- LEGISLATORS' PAY — Both Houses approved — and the people will get a chance to vote on — the proposed constitutional amendment which would raise the salaries of legislators from the current $4,800 to a maximum of $8,400.

Measure, authored by Rep. Alonzo Jamison of Denton, will be placed on the ballot in the next general election to let the voters decide whether they want to raise the salaries of their representatives and senators.

- EDUCATION FUNDS — Governor Connally has approved an expenditure of more than $1,080,000 requested by the Texas Education Agency under Title III of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act for educational planning in a variety of fields.

Some $67,590 will go to schools in Edinburg, Corpus Christi, Victoria, Orange, Killeen, Mount Pleasant, Wichita Falls, Dallas, Waco, Abilene, San Angelo, Lubbock, Midland, El Paso and San Antonio. Bryan and A & M school districts each will receive $22,508.

Money can go for salaries, consultant fees and travel. Grants soon will be transferred to the board of directors for the Education Service Center in each geographic region of the state.

- COURTS SPEAK — Supreme Court will hear arguments used in interstate trade case arose from Fort Worth's taxing 277 Greyhound buses.

Third Court of Civil Appeals refused to subscribe to "doctrine of recent origin" which would increase by $100,000 damages awarded the heirs of four men killed in a Colorado plane crash. Heirs had sued Mustang Aviation, Inc. of Dallas.

- ATTORNEY GENERAL — Galveston County Memorial Hospital employees and other public workers have the right to be represented by a labor union if the union does not claim the right to strike or bargain collectively, Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin has held.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:

- Board of Vocational Nurses Examiners may use the test pool examination of the National League for Nursing as its licensure examination as long as it proves adequate to meet state statutory requirements.
- Water control and improvement districts and fresh water supply districts do not have the authority to acquire and maintain firefighting facilities and equipment.

- SHORT SHORTS — Mrs. Hilda Weinert of Sequin, for 16 years national Democratic committee woman from Texas and also former vice chairman of the State Democratic Committee, was honored in ceremonies during the closing week of the legislative session and her portrait was placed in the state senate reception room.

House of Representatives recessed Friday to attend funeral services for Rep. Ira Kohler of Houston.

Texas retail sales dropped eight per cent in April, according to U.P.'s Bureau of Business Research.

Cold War Act Gains 'Catching Up' For Vietnam Veterans

By RALPH YARBOROUGH
U. S. Senator

The Cold War GI Amendment package, which in my opinion is one of the most important items before this 90th Congress, took a big step forward toward enactment a few days ago.

The Senate Committee on Labor and Public Welfare gave that proposal which I introduced in January as my Senate Bill 9, its unanimous approval and sent it to the Senate floor for final action.

Most of you know what the Cold War Act is, and what it means. I have been talking about it and urging its passage for eight years now. Last year, climaxing a long fight, the Congress approved that Act, and President Johnson signed it into law. As law it gives veterans of the Cold War — those young men who have interrupted their studies, their work, or their family lives — to serve their country since February 1, 1955, a chance to go back to school or learn a trade. The Federal government helps them financially.

The GI Bill was approved by President Lyndon Johnson in March 1966, but the House of Representatives limited the benefits so that veterans of today's "hot war" in Vietnam would not receive the same opportunities afforded men who served in Korea.

My new bill is designed to fill in these gaps, allowing today's veterans to make use of the federal allowances to get on-the-job, on-the-farm, and flight training.

No veteran can finance his whole education under this Act. To go to school, he or his wife will probably still have to work or have some money in the bank. But this GI Bill will mean that young men who make two or three years off, leave home, and serve their country will still have a chance to catch up.

This means a great deal for Texas because right now there are 25,000 young Texans fighting in Vietnam. That is not really a cold war in Vietnam; in many ways it is the cruelest, hardest conflict this Nation has ever known. Over 10,000 young Americans have lost their lives in that undeclared war, including over 500 Texans and another 50,000 wounded Texans.

There are over 5 million discharged veterans over the nation entitled to this training offered under my bill. In Texas there are over 300,000 discharged eligible veterans, but only about 50,000 Texans are in school under the Cold War GI Bill.

The Defense Department says that the average age for these men is just a little over 23 years old. That is an age at which, in calmer times, a young man would be finishing college, getting married, or starting in the competitive adult world.

Instead, right now there are about 450,000 American troops in Vietnam. Many of those who return home will find that they have been passed by. Their skills have become rusty; their friends are all married; and they have to start all over.

That is what the Cold War GI Bill is all about. We need to give these young men who served their country a chance to get back into normal, civilian life as quickly as possible. The estimated cost of this assistance for the first five years — about $113 million — is less than the cost of two days of combat in Vietnam today.

The Cold War GI Bill now has 54 co-sponsors. Senators of both parties and from a broad political spectrum. It is my hope that the Senate will give this important bill final approval within a very few weeks and that the House of Representatives will follow through quickly.

DROPS REPORTED, TOO

Consumer prices climbed markedly in April as wholesale prices showed a sharp decline, the Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics has reported.

"The Consumer Price Index (CPI) moved up by three-tenths of one percent to 115.3 of its 1957-59 average and the Wholesale Price Index (WPI) fell four-tenths of one percent to 105.3.

However, preliminary data on wholesale prices for May indicate a five-tenths-of-one-percent advance, resulting primarily from a sharp upturn in prices of farm products and foods.

In April, lower prices of food in grocery stores, new cars, and appliances were balanced by increases for apparel, house furnishings, gasoline and furniture. Prices for houses, used cars, restaurant meals, newspapers and gasoline also advanced during the month.

Despite a drop at wholesale, gasoline prices rose one and a half percent at retail. They were up by five percent at retail and nearly four percent at wholesale over the year.

A continued decline in retail food prices reflected reductions at wholesale since last September. It resulted mainly from lower prices of meats, most fresh vegetables and eggs.

The sharp rise in charges for a wide range of consumer services that began proved that Act, and President Johnson signed it into law. As law it gives veterans of the Cold War — those young men who have interrupted their studies, their work, or their family lives — to serve their country since February 1, 1955, a chance to go back to school or learn a trade. The Federal government helps them financially.

Sermon Of The Week

God Speaks Through The Bible

REV. BILLY WILKINSON
Pastor, First Methodist Church

The American Bible Society has made the following report:

"An uneducated Indian of Southern Mexico went directly to the Missionaries thatched hut after two days on the trail.

He had come on a mission. It was to tell the missionary that none of the lay evangelist had visited his village the week before and they were afraid that none would come the following week and he said to the missionary, we want to know what God wants to say to us this week."

It so happens that 10 years previous some missionaries had told them of the redeeming love of God in Christ. Not much headway had been made in their religion until the "Good News" had been partially translated into their language.

"Then little congregations began to spring up among the Indians. They had become so thrilled and dedicated with their insight to the Gospel that they wanted to know what God had to say to them."

God has been speaking to his children from the beginning in various ways. In the beginning, when God breathed into man the breath of life and he became a living soul he spoke to man through the created universe.

The way in which God spoke did not always come clear, but man was aroused to wonderment and the desire to hear that "Power" outside of himself; to understand or comprehend what that "Power" was like or how it could be defined.

Imbedded within the soul of man is the compulsion to cry out, "Who are you? What do you expect of me?"

God has always answered sufficiently for the man who responded in faith. The darkness was never such that the committed person was unable to live in relationship with God. For God spoke in various ways to all generations.

He is still speaking today in various ways. One of the clearest is from the Bible. God's revelation of himself to mankind has been concealed in the Holy Scriptures of the Christian Faith in such manner that it becomes one of the greatest sources of God to speak to us.

Almost every home, if not every individual in the family, has a Bible and at will can pick it up daily and hear what God has to say to him that day. This is a privilege that we should all be very grateful for and humbly make use of frequently.

AIMED AT SAFETY

Tougher Law For Drivers

The Texas Legislature has given Lone Star motorists a set of traffic laws designed to help check the state's escalating traffic accident rate.

Strengthened driver license provisions, more complete vehicle inspection requirements plus statewide expansion of the driver education program and study of the medical aspects of traffic safety are all a part of the newly enacted legislation.

Introduced by Representatives David Crews, Conroe; Ralph Wayne, Plainview and Senator H. J. Blanchard, Lubbock the bills creating these new laws were a major portion of Gov. John Connally's 1967 highway safety program. Citizen support for these measures was led by Texans For Traffic Safety.

The new drivers license law provides for the issuance of licenses at age 16 to teenagers who have completed approved driver education courses, or who present a certificate from their superintendent of schools showing that driver education is not taught in their school. This exception will apply only until June 1, 1969 and is designed to permit schools to gear up for a vastly expanded driver education program.

The minimum age for teens without driver education will be 18, however operators of motorcycles or motorcycles with 5 horsepower or less may be licensed at age 15. The minimum age for chauffeur and commercial licenses will be 17.

For the first time in Texas all motorcycle operators will be required to have a drivers license and all persons will be required to pass a driving test in the type of vehicle for which they will be licensed to operate. This provision includes trucks, tractor-trailers and motorcycles.

Penalties for driving while a license is suspended are increased by the new driver license law. Persons convicted of driving while their license is suspended or revoked will be faced with a mandatory jail sentence of not less than 72 hours nor more

VEHICLE INSPECTION STEPPED-UP

The present vehicle inspection law has been amended to provide for the inspection of a vehicle's steering system, seat belts, wheels and rims. The inspection fee is raised to $1.75 to cover this addition to the list of items inspected.

Expansion of the driver education program in high schools was assured with the appropriation of $2 million. When this expansion is completed, all Texas teenagers should be able to take driver education prior to graduation from high school and qualify for licensing at age 16 instead of 18. The bill accomplishing this also designated the Governor as the one person responsible for preparing and administering a state-wide traffic safety program designed to reduce traffic accidents.

The Governor is also authorized to, cooperate with the Federal Government and with all political subdivisions of the state to receive and disburse on behalf of the state, Federal funds to be made available under the Highway Safety Act.

LEGISLATURE COMMENDED

"The action of the 60th Legislature in passing these badly needed traffic safety laws can result in the saving of thousands of lives," Robert F. Miller, president, Texans For Traffic Safety stated in commenting on the action taken by the legislature.

"Traffic safety efforts in Texas have been hampered by inadequate laws. After September 1, this condition will no longer exist. If these laws are obeyed and if they are rigidly enforced, then our traffic accident rate will go down. When this happens, Texans will save a lot of money and many Texans will keep on living," Mr. Miller said.

The Church For All All For The Church

THREE CHEERS

Here comes the winner! Can he hold that first place position, or will he fail? In the eyes of these youngsters, victory is the most important thing in the world. Everything hinges on the outcome of this contest!

Enthusiasm is part of successful living, stimulating the imagination, and inspiring the mind. It is contagious, too, and can affect co-workers, friends, families. It is essential to organizations as well as to individuals.

Through the centuries a rich spiritual enthusiasm has been handed down by the Church, one of the greatest institutions on earth. Its members, working together, fired by the enthusiasm of faith, can give you renewed inspiration, and strength.

Why not attend church next Sunday? Become a part of this great fellowship of believers! You, too, can be a winner.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
