JOPLIN, Mo. — Nancy Cruzan's family gave her "the gift of freedom" by disconnecting her feeding tube and allowing her to die after nearly eight years in a vegetative state, her father said Friday at her funeral.

Ms. Cruzan, 33, died Wednesday at Missouri Rehabilitation Center in Mount Vernon, 12 days after her family won court permission to disconnect the feeding tube that kept her alive.

Workers' comp

AUSTIN (AP) — Court-ordered changes to the new workers' compensation system would trigger a premium surcharge to be paid by employers under action taken by the State Board of Insurance Friday.

The Insurance Board voted 3-0 to implement a "litigation surcharge" if the new workers' comp law is changed or struck down in court. In November, board members voted to freeze workers' comp rates for one year.

War in the air

DALLAS — American Airlines could be threatening passenger safety if pilots are discouraged from calling in sick or filing maintenance requests, union officials said Friday.

The Allied Pilots Association, which represents American's 8,000 pilots, has told members to obey a temporary restraining order against illegal tactics that management alleges have caused delays and flight cancellations.

But pilots said the injunction, granted Wednesday by U.S. District Judge John McBryde, could jeopardize passenger safety if it is used to inhibit pilots from filing necessary maintenance requests.

State indicts Lewis on ethics violations

Lewis

AUSTIN (AP) — House Speaker Gib Lewis was indicted Friday on two misdemeanor charges of violating state ethics laws for allegedly taking a gift from a high-powered law firm and failing to disclose it.

"Although these crimes are misdemeanors, they are among the most serious crimes a public official can be charged with," Travis County District Ronnie Earle said.

Lewis' attorneys denied any wrongdoing, and said the Fort Worth Democrat would plead innocent to both charges. They accused Earle of misusing the grand jury in an attempt to defeat Lewis' re-election bid as speaker.

"The speaker is anxious to have his day in court," attorney Allen Hill said and added Lewis was confident he would win an unprec-

HUD: Air conditioning not needed in Houston

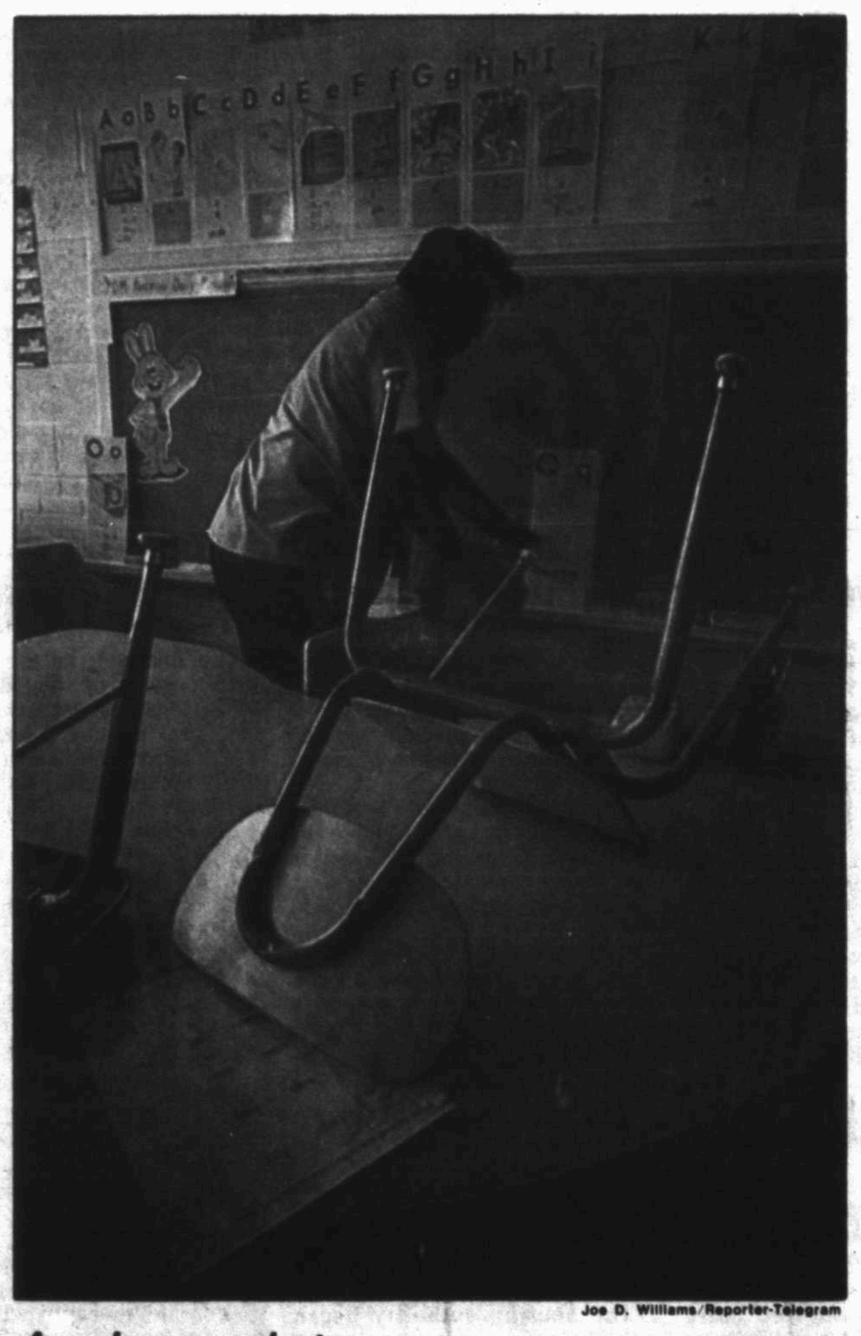

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston's muggy summers don't entitle residents of federally subsidized housing to live in air-conditioned homes, the federal government has told city housing officials.

"Air conditioning in public housing is just not considered a necessity. It's a national policy," said Eddie Violette, assistant housing manager for the branch of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Violette said the Houston Housing Authority is the only entity in his 35-county service area that has spent federal money subsidizing air conditioning.

HUD officials, who allocate money for heating during cold months, say Houston residents don't need air conditioning in the hot months.

Carrier-led armada sails for gulf duty

■ Naval reinforcements carry 16,000 Marines and sailors; germ warfare vaccinations set.

Associated Press

WASHINGTON — The Pentagon announced Friday it plans to vaccinate troops in the Persian Gulf against possible germ warfare attacks by Iraq, and a 17-ship carrier armada set sail to bring America's naval deployment in the region to a level unprecedented since the Vietnam war.

The naval reinforcements, scheduled to arrive in the gulf in about two weeks, are carrying 16,000 Marines and sailors and include the carriers USS America and Theodore Roosevelt, each with about 80 warplanes, from the Norfolk Naval Base in Virginia.

They will join three other carriers in the area — the USS Saratoga in the eastern Mediterranean, the USS Midway in the Arabian Sea and the USS Kennedy in the Red Sea.

The fresh troops will bring the United States closer to its goal of having about 430,000 in Saudi Arabia and nearby waters to confront Iraq if it refuses to withdraw from Kuwait by Jan. 15 — the deadline imposed by the United Nations.

Meanwhile, the Pentagon said it was preparing to inoculate troops against possible germ warfare by Iraq.

"We are committed to providing maximum protection for our troops, including protection against chemical and biological weapons," said a brief statement.

Economy's barometer signals protracted slump

■ November decline is the latest in a spate of gloomy news about economic conditions.

Associated Press

WASHINGTON — The government's chief economic forecasting gauge plunged in November, the fifth consecutive monthly drop, and analysts said it signaled increased joblessness and a slump extending until late next year.

"The basic message is there's no light down there in the tunnel that we can see," said economist Robert G. Dederick of Northern Trust Co. in Chicago. "The recession is clearly in place and clearly has further to go," he said.

Tucker gets 25 years for McDaniel murder

By David Morris
Staff Writer

A district court judge has sentenced Tony Tucker Jr. to 25 years in prison for the stabbing death last year of Orvel McDaniel, assistant District Attorney Ralph Petty said Friday.

Tucker, who pleaded guilty to first-degree murder Dec. 6, also received 25 years for burglary and 20 years apiece on four forgery charges to which he also pleaded guilty, court records show.

The sentences, assessed by 142nd District Court Judge Pat M. Baskin, will run concurrently.

Petty said the burglary and forgery convictions were unrelated to the McDaniel slaying.

He added that Tucker's admission of guilt was the result of a plea agreement.

"I believe that the punishment was appropriate considering the facts and circumstances of the case," Petty said.

Tucker, 20, was accused of stabbing McDaniel to death the morning of Dec. 12, 1989, at the Seafood Inn on Lee Street.

Investigators said McDaniel, 69, was staying overnight at the restaurant because he feared burglars at his apartment at 100 S. Mineola St.

McDaniel, whose body was found on a mattress inside the restaurant shortly after 1 a.m., had been stabbed twice in the back and once in the eye, investigators said.

Police found his empty wallet nearby, and signs of a struggle.

Tucker, who was on parole from state prison for possession of cocaine and burglary, was arrested eight hours after officers discovered McDaniel's body.

New York, Boston transit accidents kill one, injure 180

NEW YORK (AP) — Panicked subway passengers screamed "We're going to die!" when waves of smoke filled a New York subway tunnel Friday, killing one person and injuring more than 150 others.

In Boston, a trolley car rammed into another that was unloading passengers at an underground station, injuring 33 passengers in the second rail accident this month in the city's Back Bay section. The driver of the moving trolley tested positive for alcohol in his blood.

The New York fire — which occurred during the morning rush hour in a subway tunnel linking Manhattan and Brooklyn — apparently was triggered when melting snow caused an electrical short-circuit, according to fire and transit officials. The city got 7 inches of snow overnight.

"We really thought we were gone, that we wouldn't see New Year's," said Gertrude Hoyte, a 51-year-old Brooklyn resident who was on one of four trains trapped in the tunnel just after 9 a.m.

Passengers heard explosions and then saw smoke, first pouring into the tunnel and then into their trains.

Hoyte said some people began vomiting into their newspapers.

"People were screaming, 'We're going to die!'" while others prayed out loud, said 28-year-old Dana Sullivan.

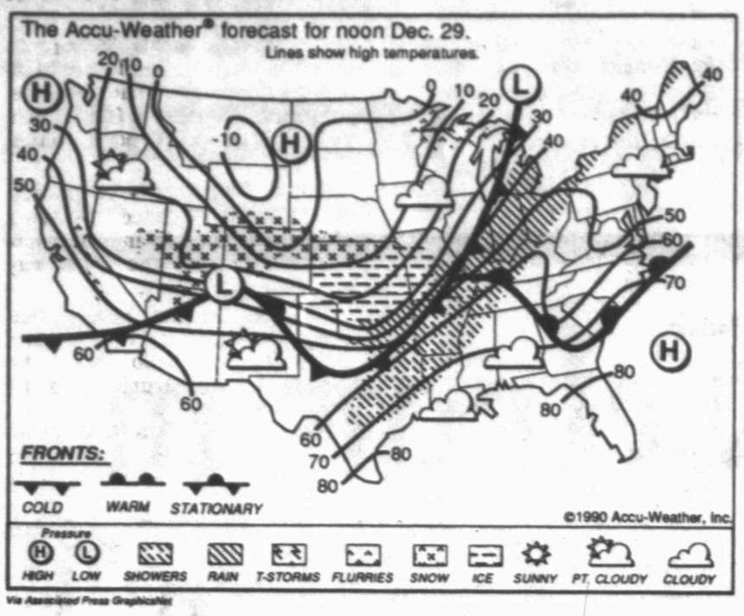

Andrew Rea, 29, said that as smoke began filling the train, it "got so bad you couldn't see halfway down the car."

"A lot of people passed out," said Naomi Smalls-Watson, 23.

Witnesses said some riders considered trying to open train doors but were disuaded by fel-

ARMADA: U.S., Britain gear up for possible war

(From 1A)

"We expect to begin a program of inoculations soon," it said, but did not provide further detail.

The New York Times, which first reported the plan, said the inoculations could begin "in a matter of weeks." It also said the United States doesn't yet have sufficient vaccines for all its troops in the gulf.

In London, the British Defense Ministry said British troops taking part in Operation Desert Shield also would receive inoculations. The ministry said it was issuing gas masks to about British 21,000 civilians in the area.

Britain is contributing about 21,000 troops to the anti-Iraq force.

In other developments Friday, Iraq test fired a surface-to-surface missile for the second time this week. The U.S. Central Command in Saudi Arabia reported that the missile was fired away from multinational forces, and that it landed within Iraq.

Military analysts also said that thousands of Iraqis have been trained for suicide attacks on the U.S.-led forces if war breaks out.

CIA Director William Webster has said in recent weeks that Iraq has sizable stockpiles of biological weapons. Iraq denied the allegations.

Biological weapons are basically germs — viruses and bacteria — that cause diseases such as cholera, anthrax, typhoid, botulism. They can be delivered by warheads on missiles, by low-flying planes spreading the germs much like a crop duster, or by contamination of water supplies.

Unlike nuclear or even chemical arms, biological weapons are easy to make because they rely on the kind of agents and equipment used in manufacturing pharmaceuticals and are readily available on world markets.

The U.S. Commerce Department, for example, approved more than 20 shipments of biological agents to the Iraqi government, according to a congressional staffer investigating the sales. The U.S. company which sold the agents believed they would be used for vaccinations, said the official.

Defenses against germ warfare include protective clothing, masks, and vaccines.

Experts caution, however, that dozens of diseases can be converted into weapons — making it hard to know against which to inoculate.

Also, it could take one month or longer to develop immunity to some of the diseases after being vaccinated, said Dr. Sanford Kuvin, vice chairman of the National Foundation for Infectious Diseases.

One of the diseases Iraq is believed to have in its arsenal is anthrax, an easily transmittable and severely incapacitating illness.

The vaccine, however, is not commercially available because the only people who need it in this country are those handling imported raw hides and goat hair.

The vaccine is only made by Michigan's public health lab, which is having trouble keeping up with the demands for gulf troops, Newsweek reported.

Another disease Iraqi President Saddam Hussein is known to have in his arsenal is botulism, a form of stomach poisoning which is treatable with antibiotics but against which there is no vaccine.

East gets first snowfall; winter blasts Northwest

Associated Press

A double-barreled blast of winter Friday hit the Pacific Northwest and the East, knocking out power to thousands, disrupting flights, delaying or detouring commuters and bringing more worries to farmers.

Hundreds of fender-benders — and numerous traffic accidents — were reported in the East as motorists adjusted to snow for the first time this winter.

"The first storm is always a little confusing. It takes everyone a little bit of time to get acclimated," observed William F. Palmer, operations manager of the airport in Windsor Locks, Conn.

The storm led to one person's death in New York City when smoke filled a subway tunnel after melting snow shorted out electrical cables. About 150 subway passengers were injured when smoke spread through the East River tunnel connecting Manhattan and Brooklyn.

At least three deaths in Connecticut were described by authorities Friday as weather-related. Two men over age 60 suffered fatal heart attacks while shoveling snow, and a 17-year-old died when the car he was traveling in slid off the road and overturned.

In Ohio, a 7-year-old Springfield boy died Friday when a mound of snow fell on him as he played with a friend. In Washington state, a 47-year-old Vashon Island woman was killed when a tree fell on the car she was in.

Cold and stormy weather have been blamed for about 90 deaths nationwide since Dec. 18.

Seven inches of wet snow fell in New York City's Central Park just a few days after temperatures in the 60s made the record books.

In the Northwest, the brunt of the storm that arrived late Thursday for the most part bypassed Seattle and other major cities in western Washington. But chilling winds whipped the region from the Canadian border south to Puget Sound.

Utilities reported about 94,000 customers in Washington state were without power by late Friday after winds knocked trees and branches onto power lines.

In California, temperatures plunging into the teens and 20s have wiped out 80 percent of the navel orange crop for a loss of nearly $288 million in farming revenues, the state Department of Food and Agriculture reported. Navel oranges make up about half of the state's total orange crop.

low passengers that it would only make the smoke worse.

Transit Authority spokeswoman Caren Gardner said it was unclear exactly how snow set off the incident, but it was possible that it fell onto the electrified third rail and caused an electrical cable to short.

The dead man was identified by Transit Police spokesman Al O'Leary as Peter Hagen, 35, of Smithtown. A spokeswoman for Long Island College Hospital said he was brought in in full cardiac arrest but a medical examiner would have to determine the cause of death.

A 37-year-old woman who was thought to be dead was revived at the hospital, said hospital President Harold Light.

Authorities said 151 people were injured, including some police and firefighters. Injuries ranged from smoke inhalation to cuts and bruises.

It was unclear how many people were aboard the four trains, but Transit Police Capt. Michael Ansbro said 300 to 400 people were on the 10-car train that carried most of the injured.

Mayor David N. Dinkins, who visited the site later with fire and police officials, called it a "tragic circumstance."

Fire Commissioner Carlos M. Rivera, referring to the theory snow caused the electrical fire, said, "It's something that is beyond our control — nature does what nature wants to do."

The section of tunnel was reopened 7½ hours later.

The Boston accident occurred at 6:45 a.m. when a trolley letting off passengers was hit from behind by another trolley, said Thomas Glynn, Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority general manager. Each of the one-car trolleys had about 40 people aboard.

INDICTMENT: Probe continues, prosecutor says

edented fifth term as speaker.

State District Judge Bob Perkins set bond on each charge at $5,000 and said he would consider releasing Lewis on his personal recognizance.

Lewis, 54, was trying to fly to Austin, but was delayed by foggy weather, his spokesmen said.

The indictments stem from a Travis County grand jury investigation into the relationship between Lewis and the San Antonio law firm of Heard Goggan, Blair & Williams.

The first charge alleges Lewis asked for and received money from the law firm. Earle said the charge is based on the payment of part of a tax bill owed by Lewis. The Class A misdemeanor is punishable by a maximum sentence of one year in jail and a fine of $2,000 or both.

The second charge alleges Lewis failed to disclose the alleged gift on his public financial disclosure statement. That charge carries a maximum punishment of six months incarceration, a $1,000 fine or both.

"The speaker has not accepted a gift," Hill said, and added that Earle's timing of the indictments were politically motivated. "It appears to be a naked attempt to control a process that the district attorney's office is not a party," Hill said, referring to the speaker election.

Lewis has said in published reports that Heard Goggan paid part of the property taxes for a $10,433 delinquent tax bill owed by a company he partly owned. The taxes were owed by 801 W. Vickery Inc., which operates the Shooters' Palace Gun range near downtown Fort Worth.

Lewis has said the payment, which he said he has since reimbursed, represented a "business settlement" with Heard Goggan and did not need to be reported. But Friday, Lewis' attorneys said Heard Goggan did not pay the taxes, but they said they didn't know if the law firm paid penalties and interest for late payment.

Much of the attention has been focused on trips Lewis took with Heard Goggan partners, but they were not part of the indictments.

"The investigation is continuing," Earle said. "There are a number of allegations remaining under investigation concerning Mr. Lewis," he said.

The grand jury, whose session has been extended for another three-month term, is examining an April 1987 trip Lewis took to a resort on the Pacific coast of Mexico with four partners of Heard Goggan, an Austin lobbyist and six women, one of whom reportedly was a topless dancer named Chrissee.

Lewis denied any wrongdoing and said he doesn't remember a topless dancer or anyone named Chrissee on the trip.

ECONOMY: Gauge plunges 5th consecutive month

(From 1A)

merce Department's Index of Leading Indicators was the latest in a spate of gloomy news about economic conditions last month.

Unemployment jumped to a three-year high of 5.9 percent. New orders to factories for "big ticket" durable goods such as automobiles and appliances plunged 10.5 percent, matching the worst decline on record. Consumer spending and income growth was virtually flat, and construction of single-family homes fell to the lowest level since 1982.

Analysts said the latest drop in the leading index, designed to forecast economic activity six to nine months in advance, offered almost no hope that the economy will revive soon.

Less than three weeks ago, most private analysts believed the economy, having entered a recession in the fourth quarter of this year, would begin to grow again next spring.

The November decline in the leading index followed a 1.3 percent drop in October, the steepest since the month after the October 1987 stock market crash.

The decline left the index at 139.7 percent of its 1982 base of 100, down 4.4 percent from its 146.2 peak in June. It has been the worst multiple-month retreat by the index since 1981, at the start of the last recession.

"The November indicators leave no doubt that a serious and lengthy recession is under way," said economist William K. MacReynolds of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce. "... This is good evidence that the current recession will last at least through the third quarter of 1991 — longer than could have been foreseen just weeks ago."

"It means a continuous drop in jobs throughout most of next year and a rise in the unemployment rate to about 7.5 percent," he said. "That's a loss of more than a million jobs from where we are now."

Top administration officials, including President Bush, have been reluctant to label the slump as a recession. But on Thursday Rep. Lee Hamilton, D-Ind., chairman of the Joint Economic Committee, said, "We will, in fact, have a recession," and warned the unemployment rate could go as high as 8 percent.

COOLING: Board members threaten to sue HUD

(From 1A)

Attempts to reach Violette Friday for elaboration were unsuccessful.

The ruling has angered board members of the city's Housing Authority, who say the city is the victim of regional bias.

Board members threatened to sue HUD if the decision is not reversed.

"Air conditioning is just as important in Houston as fuel oil (for heat) is on the East Coast," said housing authority board member John Zipprich II.

The housing authority began subsidizing air conditioning in February, said Joy Fitzgerald, authority executive director. Since then, residents have received additional money as part of their monthly subsidy for utilities such as electricity, natural gas and water.

For the coming year, the housing authority has budgeted $3 million for subsidies for all utilities used by the more than 13,000 residents of low-income units, said authority spokesman Marco Milazzo.

The housing authority owns air conditioners in only about 500 of the 3,300 units being used, Fitzgerald said. But every unit-dweller has received an air-conditioning allowance because many have purchased their own air conditioners, she said.

In September, local HUD officials directed the housing authority to stop paying for air conditioning by Feb. 1.

Not only is Houston's heat a health problem, but homes are at a higher risk for burglaries when windows remain open, they said.

Armed robbery

Staff Reports

ODESSA — What began as a theft of a 12-pack of Budweiser at a convenience store Thursday turned into an armed robbery after a clerk tried to stop a man from walking out with the beer, police officials said.

According to reports, a man entered the 7-Eleven, 1512 N. Dixie Blvd., picked up the beer and began to leave without paying. When the clerk attempted to interfere, the man pulled what appeared to be a .25-caliber chrome automatic pistol and pointed it at the clerk, police said.

The suspect who fled the scene was described as a Hispanic male in his late teens, about 5-foot-6, weighing about 150 pounds with brown hair and brown eyes. He was wearing a black sweater and black baggy pants.

Drug seizure

ALPINE — Three Mexican nationals remained in the Brewster County Jail Friday after they were arrested by the U.S. Border patrol near Marfa Thursday evening for possession of 74 pounds of marijuana, a Border Patrol spokesman said.

The men were arrested following a routine stop of a 1982 Buick on State Highway 17 about a mile north of Marfa. Border Patrol agents found two burlap sacks of marijuana in the trunk of the car.

Arrested were Arturo Rocha-Gutierrez, 32, Pedro Subia-Melendez, 28, and Francisco Banegas-Gonzalez, 33.

All three were arraigned by U.S. Magistrate Katherine Baker in Alpine for possession of marijuana with intent to distribute.

More arrests may be forthcoming, the spokesman said.

Vandalism

Two teen-agers were arrested early Friday morning in connection with the theft and vandalism of a car, police reported.

The teens were apprehended about 2:30 a.m. and charged with unauthorized use of a motor vehicle and felony criminal michief.

The arrests came after police were alerted about a vehicle being driven recklessly in the Travis Baptist Church parking lot at 1000 E. Gist Ave. Witnesses told police that four young men broke out windows of the car and fled.

Two of the juveniles — ages 15 and 16 — were located and arrested.

The owner of the vehicle, a 1979 Chevrolet Monte Carlo, was unaware that it had been stolen.

Man sues over wreck stemming from police chase

By David Morris
Staff Writer

A man whose children were injured in a wreck stemming from a police chase has filed suit against the City of Midland, court records show.

Douglas Demaray of Austin, whose wife and three children were involved in the 1989 crash, filed the suit Dec. 10 in state district court in Midland, records show.

Also named as defendants in the crash are Midland Police Department Officer Bobby Welborn and Robert Steven Dudley.

Early on Oct. 28, 1989, Welborn was in a patrol car chasing the 17-year-old Dudley, who was driving pickup that had been reported stolen.

Michele Demaray, Demaray's wife, was driving a 1985 Chevrolet pickup down Garfield Street when the stolen truck, heading the wrong way on Michigan Avenue, smashed into her vehicle.

A fiery explosion resulted, and police had to pull Mrs. Demaray and her children from the burning wreckage.

Mrs. Demaray, 23, suffered brain damage and a broken pelvis in the crash. Her children, 6-year-old Jeremy, 4-year-old Brianna, and 18-month-old Jessica, also were injured.

After the accident, Douglas Demaray — who previously had separated from his wife — assumed custody of the children. Demaray's lawyer, Robert E. White of Odessa, said his client is suing to recover medical expenses and other "undetermined" damages stemming from the crash.

"Police officers are allowed to pursue within reason, but what I understand of this is that there could have been some negligence involved," White said.

According to the suit, the city was negligent in its "failure to properly train . . . employees in instances of pursuit." The police department also lacks a formal policy regarding high-speed chases, the suit alleges.

Welborn was negligent, the suit says, because he failed "to keep a proper lookout for innocent motorists" and drove the wrong way on a one-way street.

The suit further alleges that Dudley, now serving time in state prison in connection with the truck theft, was drunk when the crash occurred.

Keith Stretcher, assistant city attorney, declined to comment on the suit.

Fort Worth taxi driver found fatally shot

FORT WORTH (AP) — Police on Friday made little headway investigating the death of a Fort Worth taxi driver, who was found slumped over in his seat with a bullet wound in the back of his head, a police spokesman said.

The driver, Lorain L. Dingman, 64, died at 8:02 p.m. Thursday, four hours after he was found by passersby, officials said. He was the victim of an apparent robbery, as his wallet, watch and car keys were taken, police reports said.

"Basically, we have nothing," Lt. Alvin Allcon said of the investigation.

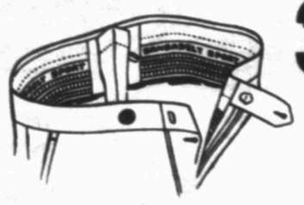

Dingman is the second Yellow Checker cabbie attacked in Tarrant County in the past three months.

More German firms said to aid Iraq's nuclear program

BONN, Germany (AP) — As world leaders debate Saddam Hussein's nuclear potential, the list of German companies alleged to have helped him advance Iraq's atomic technology grows.

At least 100 German companies are suspected of helping Iraq develop its unconventional weapons capability, sources say. German officials won't say how many of those are being investigated for suspected nuclear technology exports.

The news magazine Der Spiegel said this week that "several dozen" European companies were implicated and listed six German companies with some reported connection to Iraq's weapons program.

"I would not like to be George Bush and going to bed tonight" with the uncertainty over whether Iraq has a nuclear bomb, said Kenneth Timmerman, editor of the Paris-based Middle East Defense News.

Spiegel and the specialized McGraw-Hill publication, NuclearFuel, both alleged this week that German companies are suspected of supplying Iraq with sophisticated technology to make weapons-grade uranium.

The companies and individuals named in the reports deny any wrongdoing.

It is not clear how far along Iraq might be toward making a nuclear bomb.

The British newspaper, The Sunday Times, reported earlier this month that Iraq might be only a year away from the goal.

But a major source for its report, German engineer Bruno Stemmler, denied the paper's time frame in an interview Thursday. He said, based on a 1988 visit to Iraq, the country was at least five years from building a centrifuge that could make enriched uranium. It would then take several more years before a series of centrifuges, called cascades, could come on line.

At least 1,000 cascades are needed for bomb production.

WORLD

Spiegel predicted it would be eight to 10 years before Iraq could build a bomb.

"Iraq is acquiring enrichment technology," a German official said on condition of anonymity. "It's not believed that Iraq is now producing highly enriched uranium in significant quantities."

But he said, without elaborating: "You cannot exclude that they are doing something ... on an experimental level."

The official, with access to intelligence data, said Iraq could be from two to seven years away from an atomic weapon.

Timmerman, however, who chronicled Iraq's acquisition of poison gas in a book, said Friday that information he's received "is so disturbing and the extent of delivery to Iraq from Germany and other places would appear so great, that I would not feel safe saying that Iraq does not have a bomb today."

NuclearFuel has cited a secret government report it obtained last fall from the Economics Ministry, which monitors export regulations. The report says German centrifuge design may have been provided to Iraq by two engineers who formerly worked for a German centrifuge design company, MAN Technologien GmbH.

It quoted a source who attended a secret briefing on the report as saying Economics Minister Helmut Haussmann "told us that centrifuge equipment sent to Iraq was of German origin."

In addition, officials have confirmed that customs officers last summer intercepted a German shipment of centrifuge parts at Frankfurt airport bound for Iraq.

The International Atomic Energy Agency reviewed Iraq's declared nuclear facilities in November, under the terms of Nuclear Non-Proliferation Treaty, of which Iraq is one of 141 signatories. The agency said it found nothing unexpected.

So far, only one arrest has been reported in the scandal.

Italian television decides not to air Saddam interview

ROME (AP) — Italy's state-owned television decided Friday not to air an interview with Saddam Hussein, saying the broadcast might "disturb the efforts" for a peaceful solution to the Persian Gulf crisis.

The decision to squelch the broadcast indefinitely drew sharp protest from reporters. The journalist who conducted the interview, Bruno Vespa, threatened to resign.

The director-general of RAI television, Gianni Pasquarelli, announced the move in a letter to Vespa, the highly regarded director of the nightly TG-1 news broadcast.

"Italy is president of the European Community and we must avoid, in a moment of extreme delicacy, any act that could contribute to disturb the efforts that are being made to find a peaceful solution to the gulf crisis," said the letter, read on the evening broadcast.

It did not say how the interview might have affected peace efforts.

Vespa told viewers of Friday night's TG-1 program that he disagreed with the decision. "I expressed to the director-general my surprise and my complete dissent," he said.

A RAI spokesman said he did not know if the Italian government had asked the network to stop the broadcast. The government funds RAI and political parties have broad influence in its operation.

The Iraqi leader has given numerous interviews to Western television stations since his country invaded Kuwait on Aug. 2.

Vespa said that during the 1-hour, 40-minute interview conducted several days ago, Saddam had harshly criticized the United States and seemed to rule out negotiations.

He added that Saddam had "implicitly admitted" he would use chemical weapons in a war.

The editorial committee of the RAI said it supported Vespa in the dispute.

"The invitation (by Pasquarelli) to not transmit the interview appears like an act of self-censorship that the editorial staff of TG-1 can not consider acceptable in any way," the committee said in a statement.

Pasquarelli, who belongs to the dominant Christian Democrat Party, became director-general of RAI earlier this year after serving as managing director of the state highway corporation. He was previously a television journalist.

The Christian Democrats control appointments at RAI-1, the channel that broadcasts Vespa's program.

The second-biggest party in the government, the Socialists, have strong influence at RAI-2, another state-owned channel.

The Communists, Italy's biggest opposition party, condemned the decision not to show the interview.

WORLD IN BRIEF

Soviet lawmakers challenge election

MOSCOW (AP) — Reformist lawmakers Friday questioned the fairness of this week's parliamentary election of Vice President Gennady Yanayev, alleging that ballots were incorrectly counted.

The Interregional Group of Deputies, which represents 229 deputies in the Congress of People's Deputies, showed reporters what they said were seven ballots that were not submitted for tabulation at the Thursday session that elected Yanayev, Tass reported.

Parliament officials charged with counting the votes had reported that only five ballots were not put into ballot boxes during the vote, the official news agency said, raising questions about other possible discrepancies.

The group, founded by the late human rights activist Andrei D. Sakharov, also echoed accusations that approval of strong new presidential powers was dangerous.

2 rescued from barge

HELSINKI, Finland (AP) — Rescuers drilled a hole in the hull of a capsized barge off Finland and saved two crew members, but officials said Friday that although divers continued to search, eight more missing men were thought dead.

Olli Lommi, 36, first mate, and Jouko Kosonen, 41, chief engineer, were rescued late Thursday after being trapped for nine hours in an air pocket in the engine room of the upturned Finnish vessel Finn-Baltic.

Rescuers working in a snowstorm and heavy winds had redoubled their efforts after hearing tapping inside the barge.

The 550-foot, 15,000-ton barge, including a motorized "pusher" section, capsized in rough weather off the southwestern port of Hanko at about 1 p.m. Thursday.

Intruder seeks lost love

LONDON (AP) — Eugene Smith said Friday he had scaled the walls of Buckingham Palace to ask Queen Elizabeth II where he could find his lost love.

Smith, who had picked up a rock to smash his way into the palace if the doors and windows were closed, failed to make it.

Police arrested him Dec. 7 in the palace grounds and charged him with carrying a piece of masonry without lawful excuse with intent to destroy Crown property.

Peter Codner, Smith's attorney, told Bow Street magistrates' court that the 32-year-old jobless Irishman came to London from Dublin after becoming infatuated with a woman who claimed to be the queen's niece, and that his only desire was to find her.

He called Smith's actions "strange" but said that sometimes people do peculiar things.

Quayle cancels second round of golf at club with discriminatory policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Dan Quayle canceled a second round of golf at the all-white Cypress Point golf club in California Friday, saying he didn't know the facility was mired in a racial controversy when he played there a day earlier.

Quayle

Quayle's office said he was "unwilling to leave any impression that he condones any form of discrimination" so he left California and returned to Vail, Colo., where he had been on a skiing vacation.

Quayle, an avid golfer, is an honorary member who plays at the Burning Tree Club outside Washington, which has an all-male membership and bars women from playing.

In California, Quayle shot more than 18 holes Thursday at Cypress Point, which was ruled ineligible for its share of the 1991 AT&T Pebble Beach National Pro-Am tournament next month because it has no black members. The tournament traditionally has been played simultaneously at Pebble Beach, Cypress Point and Spyglass Hill, all near Monterey.

Cypress Point, one of the nation's most elite golf courses, refused to admit black members in time to conform to the Professional Golfers Association's new guidelines holding that no host tournament club can discriminate against blacks or women. Cypress point has admitted women.

According to club pro Jim Langley "We have no discrimination clauses in our bylaws, but we do not have black members. We have a waiting list of approved applicants of several years, and we couldn't bypass them."

Quayle's visit to the exclusive seaside golf course prompted criticism from Monterey County Supervisor Sam Karas, who said, "I have great concern about the vice president of the United States playing at Cypress Point and not being aware of the sensitivity of the issue that revolves around it."

American, pilots in war of words over court injunction

DALLAS (AP) — American Airlines could be threatening passenger safety if pilots are discouraged from calling in sick or filing maintenance requests, union officials said Friday, but the carrier called the statement "hogwash."

The Allied Pilots Association, which represents American's 8,000 pilots, has told members to obey a temporary restraining order against illegal tactics that management alleges have caused delays and flight cancellations.

But pilots said the injunction, granted Wednesday by U.S. District Judge John McBryde, could jeopardize passenger safety if it is used to inhibit pilots from filing necessary maintenance requests and staying home when they are sick.

The clash over the court ruling is the latest in an increasingly testy struggle between American and its pilots, who have been working without a contract for nearly a year. McBryde set a Jan. 3 hearing date to determine whether the temporary injunction should be made permanent.

"We pointed out to the court that there is a danger that the company may use the order in a way that will impair safe operations. We cannot permit that to happen," APA president Fred Vogel told pilots in a taped message on the union's telephone hotline.

The union has denied American's charges that pilots have been staging sickouts.

American spokeswoman Lise Olson said typically 300 pilots will call in sick on a given day, but since Dec. 21 more than 500 a day have been out sick.

Death called 'gift of freedom' at funeral

AP Laserphoto

Joe Cruzan, right, carries his daughter Nancy's body to its final resting place at Carterville Cemetery, in Carterville, Mo.

JOPLIN, Mo. (AP) — Nancy Cruzan's family gave her "the gift of freedom" by disconnecting her feeding tube and allowing her to die after nearly eight years in a vegetative state, her father said Friday at her funeral.

About 170 relatives and friends gathered at a chapel to bid Cruzan goodbye.

"Today, as the protester's sign says, we give Nancy the gift of death — an unconditional gift of love that sets her free from this twisted body that no longer serves her, a gift I know she will treasure above all the others, the gift of freedom," her father, Joe Cruzan, said in a statement read by the family minister.

'We give Nancy the gift of death — an unconditional gift of love that sets her free from this twisted body that no longer serves her...'

— Joe Cruzan, Nancy Cruzan's father

Ms. Cruzan, 33, died Wednesday at Missouri Rehabilitation Center in Mount Vernon, 12 days after her family won court permission to disconnect the feeding tube that kept her alive.

The family's legal efforts to end her life led to a landmark Supreme Court decision June 25 that patients like Ms. Cruzan could be allowed to die if there was "clear and convincing" evidence that was their wish.

Ms. Cruzan had been in a persistent vegetative state after suffering severe brain damage in a 1983 car accident. Former co-workers said it was her desire to die rather than live in such a state.

Ms. Cruzan's father said requests for living wills, which allow adults to decide whether they want to be kept alive by artificial means, increased 500-fold since her case got national attention.

"I believe that these facts alone speak to the legacy that Nancy left us," he said. "She did not die in vain."

NATION in brief

Judge quashes anti-hate law

DETROIT (AP) — Christopher Justice was accused of two crimes by a prosecutor: setting fire to a house and using a racial slur to describe the inhabitants.

District Judge Thomas Shea agreed there was enough evidence to order Justice to stand trial on the arson charge. But he said the U.S. Constitution protected Justice's right to say whatever he wanted about his neighbors, contrary to Michigan's law prohibiting ethnic intimidation.

The law, which took effect April 1, 1989, makes it a crime to threaten or harm persons or their property because of their race, religion or ethnic background. Conviction carries a maximum penalty of two years in prison and allows a jury to award triple damages to a plaintiff.

At least 30 other states have similar laws.

Shea's Nov. 28 quashing of the law applies only to his five-township jurisdiction about 20 miles west of Detroit. But Prosecutor William Delhey said he's afraid that eastern Washtenaw County could become a haven of hatred.

Indians arrive at site

KYLE, S.D. (AP) — Hundreds of American Indians on horseback arrived Friday at the site of the 1890 Wounded Knee massacre on the eve of its centennial.

Religious ceremonies and other observations were planned for today at the site of the final bloody chapter in the 19th century U.S.-Indian wars.

Fifty riders set out Dec. 15 from Standing Rock Indian Reservation in north-central South Dakota. Others joined along the way. About 300 riders arrived at Wounded Knee at the conclusion of the 220-mile trip.

The event they are commemorating occurred Dec. 29, 1890, when U.S. calvary troops killed hundreds of Sioux men, women and children at Wounded Knee. The exact number is a point of contention. The federal government says about 150 died; the Sioux say as many as 400.

Flag burner sentenced

CLEVELAND (AP) — A woman convicted of inciting violence after she burned an American flag to protest the military buildup in the Persian Gulf was sentenced Friday to one year in prison.

Cheryl Lessin of Cleveland was taken to jail immediately after a judge imposed the sentence.

Several of Lessin's supporters chanted "Stop the U.S. war machine no matter what it takes" as they left the Justice Center.

Her lawyers said they will ask that Lessin be freed pending appeal.

FSU's Amp Lee (42) goes over the top of the Penn State line.

Associated Press

MIAMI — Amp Lee scored two touchdowns and Casey Weldon scored one Friday night as sixth-ranked Florida State ended seventh-ranked Penn State's nine-game winning streak with a 24-17 victory in the inaugural Blockbuster Bowl.

Florida State (10-2) held off a fourth-quarter charge sparked by backup quarterback Tom Bill to snap Penn State's winning streak, the longest among major colleges.

Penn State (9-3) pulled within 24-17 with 6:27 left when Bill hit Terry Smith with a 37-yard touchdown pass.

The Nittany Lions had two more chances, but couldn't get into the end zone. Penn State got his final opportunity at the Florida State 31 with 3:17 left, but John Davis' interception at the 1 snuffed out the Lions' last hope.

Florida State hasn't been beaten in a bowl game in nine years, winning six straight since a 17-17 tie with Georgia in 1984.

It also marked the first victory for Florida State coach Bobby Bowden over Penn State's Joe Paterno in seven tries. Bowden, who was 0-6 against Penn State when coach at West Virginia, improved his bowl record to 10-3-1, and his percentage of 75.0 is the best among coaches with 10 or more postseason games.

The Seminoles jumped to a 10-0 lead in the opening 6 minutes, 40 seconds and then answered Penn State's first two scores to build a 24-10 advantage. The 24 points was the most given up this season by Penn State.

Ags' past bodes ill for BYU

■ After shutting down the likes of Bo, Andre, and Brown, the Aggies have invented a new tradition for themselves: Beating up on Heisman Trophy winners.

Associated Press

SAN DIEGO — Texas A&M has a history of success against Heisman Trophy winners. Just ask Bo Jackson, Tim Brown or Andre Ware.

The Aggies (8-3-1) will be looking to extend that track record Saturday, when they play in the Holiday Bowl against No. 13 Brigham Young and Ty Detmer, the 1990 Heisman winner.

Detmer is the fifth winner of the award in six years to cross paths with the Aggies, 3-1 vs. Heisman winners since 1985, including 2-0 in bowl games.

In the 1986 Cotton Bowl, the Aggies beat Auburn and Jackson, 36-16. Two years later, the Aggies ruined the Dallas homecoming of '87 Heisman winner Tim Brown, defeating Notre Dame 35-10 in the Cotton Bowl. In a Southwest Conference game on Oct. 14, 1989, the Aggies held Houston and eventual Heisman winner Ware to a season low 247 passing yards in a 17-13 win.

The lone loss to a recent Heisman winner came in a Sept. 24, 1988, game, when Barry Sanders gained 157 yards in a 52-15 Oklahoma State victory.

While Detmer's numbers are imposing — he passed for an NCAA-record 5,188 and 41 touchdowns while completing passes at a 64.2 percent clip — the Aggies say their pressure defense can keep the nation's second-ranked offense from taking off.

"I don't think they'll run up and down the field on us," Aggies cornerback Kevin Smith said.

The Aggies have said they plan to blitz extensively to try to sack Detmer or force him into mistakes to keep the lid on a BYU offense that's averaged 42.5 points per game.

Smith, a junior, has already tied a SWC

Loboes thwart Greenwood

By Bill Grimes
Staff Writer

GREENWOOD — Brownfield. Seminole. Monahans (twice).

With a shot here and a break there, wins over the aforementioned schools could be notches in the Greenwood Rangers' collective gun.

Instead, narrow losses to these and others are nails in the coffin to a heretofore disappointing season for the usually-powerful Rangers, who were knocked out of championship contention in their own tournament with a cold-shooting 38-35 loss to Monahans here Friday.

Monahans, 11-3, will face District 4-4A rival Fort Stockton in the championship game at 5:30 p.m. today. Greenwood, 4-11, will face Clint in what could be a bi-district playoff preview in the 4 p.m third-place game. Clint is highly-regarded in District 5-3A, while Greenwood always seems to be in the hunt in 6-3A.

In consolation semifinals, Bronte rocked McCamey 73-52, while Lubbock Roosevelt blasted Kermit 76-61. McCamey faces Kermit in the seventh-place game at 1 p.m., while Bronte and Roosevelt go at it in the consolation title game at 2:30.

After jumping out to a 9-2 lead, Greenwood suffered through several lengthy stretches without a basket to enable Monahans to get back in the game.

But the Loboes couldn't take charge, either. Both teams shot less than 35 percent from the field, scoring nine points between them in a sloppy third quarter.

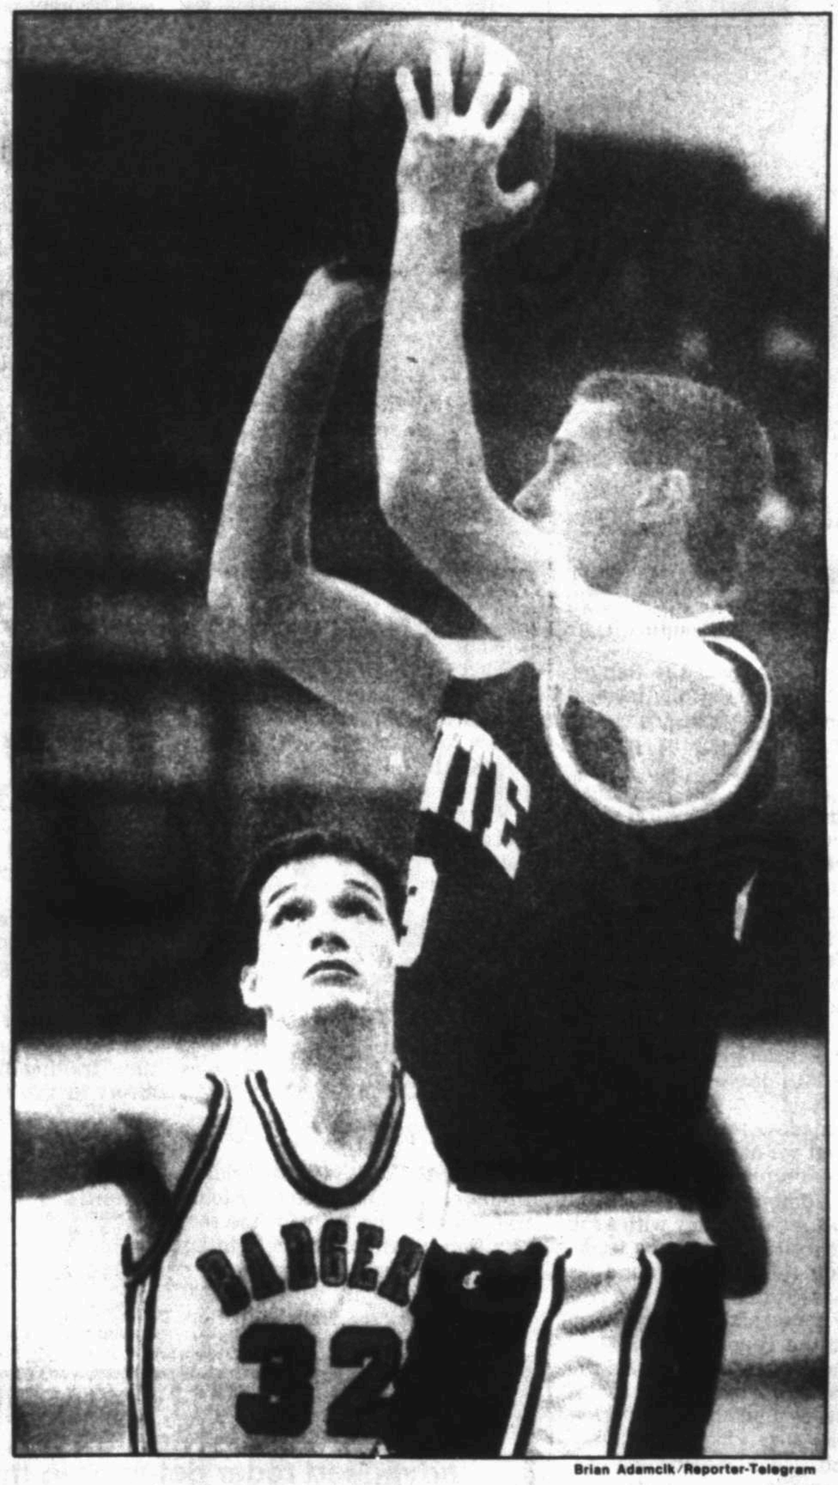

Monahans never led by more than four points, despite the Loboes' ability to work the back-door play at times. At other times, Greenwood post Chuck Boecking was dominant, blocking several shots outright and getting a hand in the face on other occasions.

Monahans coach Gary Abercrombie said the hosts did a good job of forcing the Loboes out of their game plan.

"We prefer to play a little faster-paced game," Abercrombie said. "But they did a real good job of spreading us out."

Greenwood led 27-22 after Cody Mebane sank a baseline jumper with 1:38 left in the third period, but that would be the Rangers' last basket until Mebane made a turn-around

Cotton Bowl most anticipated since '78

■ Cotton Bowl official Jim Brock says he could've sold more than 100,000 tickets for Tuesday's game between Texas and Miami; now he just hopes the weather holds up and TV ratings are sky high.

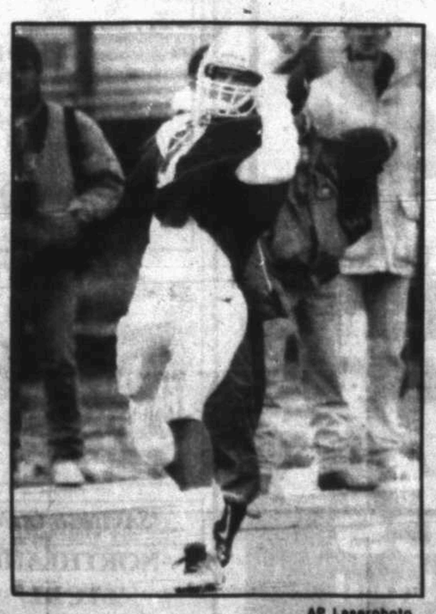

Associated Press

DALLAS — Not since the 1978 Notre Dame-Texas game has there been such excitement during Cotton Bowl week.

The matchup between No. 3 Texas (10-1) and No. 4 Miami (9-2), with the winner holding an outside shot at the national title, has drawn more fan and media interest than the 55-year-old bowl has seen in over a decade.

"Hoss, we could have sold, and I'm being conservative, over 100,000 tickets," said Cotton Bowl executive vice president Jim Brock. "We haven't had this

DALLAS — Craig Erickson wants to go out with a game that will make Quarterback U. proud of him.

"You remember the first time you put on the orange and green and the last time and I want it to be a big game," Erickson said on Friday.

Fourth-ranked Miami hopes to keep its hopes alive for another national title by defeating No. 3 Texas in the Cotton Bowl on New Year's Day.

Erickson hasn't had the blockbuster season he had wanted but led the Hurricanes to five consecutive victories after a 4-2 start.

"I'm proud of the way we came back after losing to Brigham Young and Notre Dame," he said. He completed 225 of 393 passes for 3,363 yards, with 22 touchdowns and seven interceptions.

UConn holds on for narrow win over Lafayette

Associated Press

Scott Burrell scored 16 points and No. 13 Connecticut held on to beat Lafayette 59-57 and advance to the finals of the Connecticut Mutual Classic.

The Huskies (7-1) made just five of 12 foul shots in the last 62 seconds, but held off the Leopards.

Connecticut will play Rhode Island (4-2) in the title game on Saturday night. The Leopards (2-6) will play William & Mary in the consolation game.

Jeff Antolick and Craig White hit consecutive 3-pointers midway through the second half to close Connecticut's lead to 46-40.

The Huskies lead stayed about six points until Steve Pikiell made two free throws and Rod Sellers scored on a dunk with 4:22 left to give the Huskies a 52-42 lead.

But the Leopards came back as Tom Kresge hit a free throw and White and Antolick hit from the outside again to close to 52-47.

Lafayette had two 3-pointers in the final 19 seconds, one at the buzzer by Bruce Stankavage.

No. 5 Indiana 102, Ohio U. 64

Calbert Cheaney and Eric Anderson each scored 21 points and No. 5 Indiana routed Ohio University to win the Hoosier Classic.

Pat Graham added 16 points and Chris Lawson 14 for Indiana (12-1), which won its 10th straight game.

Dan Aloi led Ohio (6-4) with 20 points, while Lewis Geter added 14 and Steve Barnes 11.

Cheaney was named most valuable player and was joined on the all-tournament team by Anderson, Graham, Aloi and John Taft of Marshall, the third-place team. Cheaney hit was 8-for-12 from the field, 3-for-5 on 3-pointers, and scored 48 points in the tournament.

No. 6 Ohio St. 85, Miami, Ohio 67

Ohio State's fast break and full-court press took a toll on Miami, Ohio down the stretch and the sixth-ranked Buckeyes won the Palm Beach Classic.

The Buckeyes, one of four unbeaten ranked teams, improved to 10-0 going into their Big Ten opener Jan. 3 at home against Iowa. Miami, Ohio fell to 6-5.

No. 14 Oklahoma 112, Illinois St. 69

Kermit Holmes had 24 points and 14 rebounds in leading No. 14 Oklahoma over winless Illinois State in the first round of the All-College Tournament.

The Sooners (9-2) tied a school record with 14 blocked shots, seven by Martin Keane. Oklahoma will play in Saturday night's championship game against the winner of Friday night's late game between Tulsa and Alabama-Birmingham.

No. 21 S. Mississippi 89, Holy Cross 86

Darrin Chancellor scored 24 points, including the game-winning 3-pointer, to lead No. 21 Southern Mississippi over Holy Cross in the opening round of the Cowboy Shootout.

Chancellor's shot capped a run that saw Southern Mississippi erase an eight-point deficit with just over 2½ minutes to play.

The Golden Eagles (4-1) will play in Saturday night's championship game against the winner of the Wyoming-Northern Arizona game. Holy Cross (4-4) will face the loser in the consolation game.

No. 22 Nebraska 85, Idaho 65

Rich King scored 12 points and keyed a run to end the first half that lifted No. 22 Nebraska over Idaho.

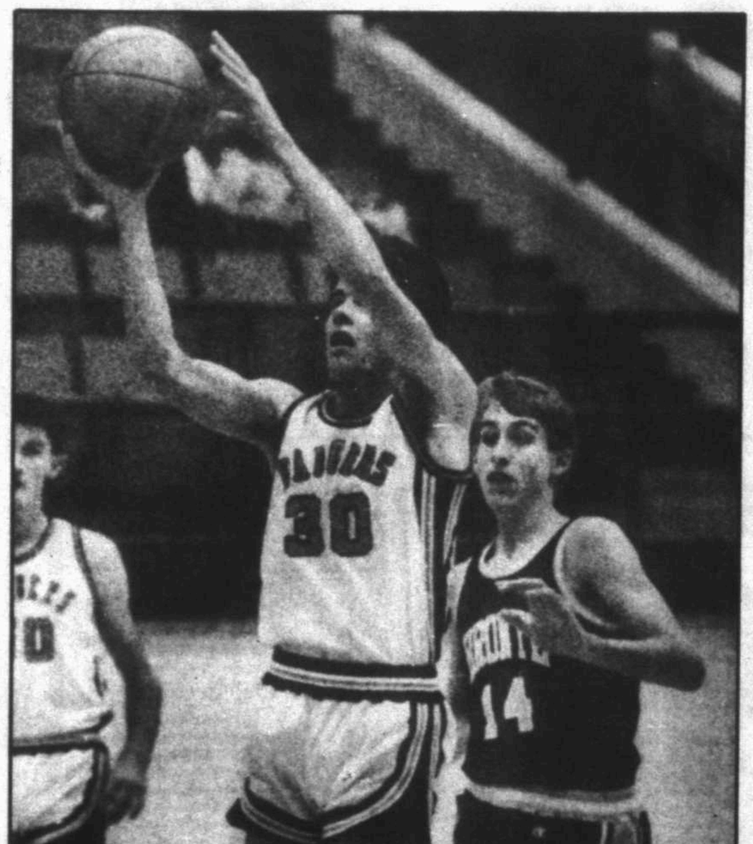

The Huskers (11-1) used an early 9-0 run to take a 13-5 lead with 14:21 left in the first half, but then went cold from the field and the Vandals (5-5) battled back to take the lead at 22-20 on a steal and layup by Calvin Ward with 7:07 left.

Nebraska coach Danny Nee then inserted the 7-foot-2 King and 6-9 Tony Farmer into the lineup and the Huskers went on an 18-5 run to close out the half.

No. 25 Michigan St. 97, George Mason 72

Steve Smith scored 25 points and No. 25 Michigan State beat George Mason in the first round of the Cutlass Classic.

Michigan State (6-3), the host school for the tournament, will face Louisiana Tech in Saturday night's championship game. George Mason (2-8) will take on Coastal Carolina in the consolation game.

jumper with 5:58 left in the game.

In turn, that was the Rangers' last bucket until Eric Clutter made a three-pointer with 1:21 left to put the Rangers within one at 34-33.

Not that the Rangers didn't have their chances. Several Greenwood players missed chances from point-blank range in the second half, while a box-and-one on Monahans star Craig Abercrombie backfired into several easy back-door plays for the Loboes.

Greenwood coach Robert Chaney hoped his team learned from Friday's loss.

"...when the opportunity arrives for us, we have to convert," Chaney said.

"We made a few defensive mistakes, but we had five or six shots that just didn't get in."

Abercrombie found Fabien Butler on a back-door play with a minute left to boost the Lobo lead to 36-33. But the Rangers found new life when Butler missed the front end of a one-and-one and Boecking got the rebound.

Chaney immediately called time out to set up a play, but it took 25 precious seconds before Boecking was able to cash in on an offensive rebound.

Greenwood again called time to set up a man-to-man full-court press, but Monahans's Leland Day was able to dribble through the pressure for five seconds before the Rangers' Mark Burfeind was able to reach in with six seconds left.

Day made both ends of the one-and-one to all but seal the win. Burfeind drove the length of the court, but his pass to Jason Swopes was not in time for the latter's three-point attempt to count.

Ft. Stockton 64, Clint 55

Clint led 21-17 after one quarter, but Fort Stockton forged a 40-30 halftime lead to leave the Lions clawing for air.

Gabe Espino led Fort Stockton with 21 points, while Scott Sloan added 14 and Jason Nance 10.

Tommy Tope led Clint with 12 points, while teammate Brooks Vandivort added 10.

Bronte 73, McCamey 52

Bronte opened up a 21-13 first quarter lead, but the Longhorns really didn't put the game away until the fourth quarter.

Justin Phillips led a balanced Bronte attack with 17 points, while Bill Windham added 16 and Billy Magness 14.

Jimmy Salinas and Sid Lundy scored 12 points each for McCamey, while Craig Watson added 11.

Roosevelt 76, Kermit 61

Kermit held a slim 23-19 lead after one quarter, but Roosevelt's Keith Black proved to be too much for the Yellowjackets.

The 6-4 Roosevelt senior led the Eagles with 25 points, while teammates Josh Smith, Joe Ed Harmon and Keith Hill added 14, 11 and 10 points, respectively.

Kermit sophomore Brandon Heiser led all scorers with 26 points.

Dumars fined $1,000

NEW YORK (AP) — On Friday, Dumars, of the Detroit Pistons, was fined by the NBA for the second time this month for fighting one of the Grant twins.

Dumars was hit with a $1,000 fine for starting a fight with Horace Grant on Christmas Day.

A&M: Containing Detmer the obvious key for Aggies mark with 18 career interceptions and teammate William Thomas has 13 sacks from his linebacking position. Opposing quarterbacks have completed just 51.4 percent of their passes for seven touchdowns against the Aggies defense.

From 1B

"I don't think they'll score 30 or 40 or even 50 points. If they do, I'll have to eat that paper," Smith said, pointing to a reporter's notebook. "We see it as a challenge. When a guy is throwing the ball 50 or 60 times, it gives us more of a chance to intercept passes and make plays.

"In all fairness, he is the Heisman Trophy winner but we don't want to look at him as an ultra super athlete that you can't contain."

But facing a pressure-style defense is nothing new to BYU (10-2). Plenty of teams have tried it and plenty have been burned.

"We've had success over the years. There are times when we haven't been able to get it down but for the most part we have. I think we'll be ready for it," BYU coach LaVell Edwards said.

Indeed, BYU's highest point output this season came in a 62-34 win over San Diego State, which employed an all-out defensive rush.

"San Diego State tried it and we had a field day," said BYU receiver Andy Boyce, who caught seven passes for 143 yards and three touchdowns against San Diego State en route to leading the team in receptions (79) and receiving yards (1,241).

Detmer said it likely will boil down to BYU's ability to slow the Aggies' defensive charge.

"If we're able to pick up the blitz, we'll be successful," he said.

Texas A&M coach R.C. Slocum said he knows there is some risk associated with the Aggies' defensive style, especially considering Detmer's knack for dodging trouble and finding the open receiver.

"I think he's got a little magic to him," Slocum said.

As Western Athletic Conference champion, BYU is making its ninth appearance in the 13-year-old Holiday Bowl, while Texas A&M is making its first appearance. Each school will receive a $1.2 million payout from the bowl.

MCS blows out Westbrook; runs season record to 10-4

Staff Report

Midland Christian's boys basketball team made its season record 10-4 Friday night with a 95-67 blasting of Westbrook at the MCS gymnasium.

Westbrook, which competes in UIL Class A, was within eight points of the Mustangs after the first quarter, trailing 24-16 as the second began. But the MCS crew turned up the heat in the second period, outscoring Westbrook 26-12 in the stanza and taking a commanding 50-28 edge at half time.

The Mustangs coasted in the second half, but managed 20 points in the third quarter and 25 in the fourth.

Tim Adams of MCS was the game's high scorer with 26 points. Other Mustangs in double figures were Andy Bayley and Allen Weaver with 15 points, David Minihan with 11 and Sammy Cox with 10.

MCS will be back in action Thursday at the Grandfalls tournament, where the Mustangs play Rankin in the opening round.

NFL Tiebreakers

NEW YORK (AP) — The 1990 National Football League procedures to break ties in standings and determine playoff sites:

DIVISION TIES

If, at the end of the regular season, two or more clubs in the same division finish with identical best won-lost-tied percentage, the following steps will be taken until a champion is determined. The same steps are used to determine the sites of postseason games.

Two Clubs

1. Head-to-head (best won-lost-tied percentage in games between the clubs).
2. Best won-lost-tied percentage in games played within the division.
3. Best won-lost-tied percentage in games played within the conference.
4. Best won-lost-tied percentage in common games, if applicable.
5. Best net points in division games.
6. Best net points in all games.
7. Strength of schedule.
8. Best net touchdowns in all games.
9. Coin toss.

Three or More Clubs

1. Head-to-head (best won-lost-tied percentage in games among the clubs).
2. Best won-lost-tied percentage in games played within the division.
3. Best won-lost-tied percentage in games played within the conference.
4. Best won-lost-tied percentage in common games.
5. Best net points in division games.
6. Best net points in all games.
7. Strength of schedule.
8. Best net touchdowns in all games.
9. Coin toss.

NOTE: If two clubs remain tied after a third club is eliminated during any step, the tie-breaker reverts to Step 1 of the two-club format.

WILD CARD TIES

If necessary to break ties to determine the two Wild Card clubs from each conference and the site of their playoff game, the following steps will be taken:

1. If the tied clubs are from the same division, apply division tiebreaker.
2. If the tied clubs are from different divisions, apply the following steps.

Two Clubs

1. Head-to-head, if applicable.
2. Best won-lost-tied percentage in games played within the conference.
3. Best won-lost-tied percentage in common games, minimum of four.
4. Best average net points in conference games.
5. Best net points in all games.
6. Strength of schedule.
7. Best net touchdowns in all games.
8. Coin toss.

Three or More Clubs

1. Head-to-head sweep (Applicable only if one club has defeated each of the others, or if one club has lost to each of the others).
2. Best won-lost-tied percentage in games played within the conference.
3. Best won-lost-tied percentage in games played within the division.
4. Best average net points in conference games.
5. Best net points in all games.
6. Strength of schedule.
7. Best net touchdowns in all games.
8. Coin toss.

Wolfpack defense preserves win

Associated Press

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — Terry Jordan ran for one score and passed for another and Greg Manior ran 41 yards for a late touchdown, but it took a late defensive stand to assure North Carolina State's 31-27 victory over Southern Mississippi in the All American Bowl on Friday night.

Jordan scored on a 10-yard run and passed 12 yards to Bobby Jurgens as N.C. State (7-5) ruined the coaching debut of Jeff Bower, who took over at Southern Mississippi (8-4) when Curley Hallman left after the regular season to accept the Louisiana State job.

N.C. State was leading 24-21 when linebacker David Merritt intercepted a Southern Mississippi pass with just over six minutes left. Manior scored on the next play to make it 31-21.

Southern Miss quarterback Jordan, who took over the starting quarterback job in the Wolfpack's sixth game and finished with 1,221 yards, completed 15 of 25 passes for 166 yards and a touchdown Friday night.

All-American Bowl

Brett Favre, who passed for 341 yards in his final game, drove the Golden Eagles 86 yards for a final touchdown, throwing five yards to Michael Welch to cut the N.C. State lead to four points. Southern Mississippi had two chances at a 2-point conversion, getting a second shot after an N.C. State penalty, but failed on each one.

It proved to be a crucial failing when, with time running down, Favre drove the Golden Eagles to the N.C. State 20. With Southern Mississippi forced because of the failed conversion to try for a touchdown instead of a field goal, Favre was sacked by N.C. State's Mark Thomas as time expired.

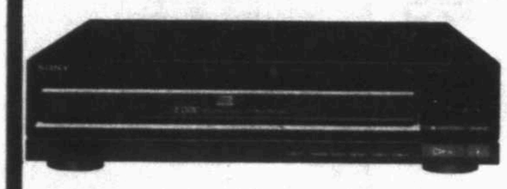

Favre, who threw for 7,695 yards during his career, completed 28 of 39 passes, throwing for two TDs with one interception.

Robinson All-World (again) in Spurs' win

Associated Press

David Robinson had 27 points, 13 rebounds and 11 blocked shots as San Antonio handed Sacramen to its fifth consecutive loss, 104-88.

NBA

Terry Cummings added 18 points and rookie Dwayne Schintzius scored a career-high 16 as the Spurs won for the 10th time in their last 11 games.

Sacramento, whose last five losses have been by at least 10 points, was led by Travis Mays with 19 points. The Kings fell to 1-12 on the road.

The Spurs, who scored 18 of the game's first 20 points, led by as many as 29 points in the third quarter. A 14-1 run, keyed by six points from Robinson, gave San Antonio an 81-52 lead with 2:12 left in the period.

Robinson, who had five blocks in the first period, now has four career triple-doubles.

Hawks 131, Celtics 114

Doc Rivers scored 36 points, one below his career high, and Dominique Wilkins had 31 as the Atlanta Hawks snapped Boston's eight-game winning streak.

The loss was only the Celtics' fifth in 28 games this season, while Atlanta has won 10 of 13 outings after a 4-10 start. It was also the Hawks' fifth straight victory at home as they surpassed their previous high point total this season by three points.

Rivers was 4-for-5 and Wilkins 3-for-3 from 3-point distance as the Hawks made nine of 13 from that range in the game.

The Hawks led 102-80 going into the final period and eventually stretched the margin to 121-92.

Kevin McHale led the Celtics with 17 points.

Pistons 97, Timberwolves 85

Isiah Thomas keyed a third-quarter rally and Joe Dumars scored all 21 of his points in the second half as Detroit handed Minnesota its seventh consecutive loss.

Thomas finished with 16 points and 13 assists and Bill Laimbeer added 17 points as the Pistons won for only the second time in 10 road games this month. They are 5-9 after a team-record 13-2 start.

Minnesota got 26 points from Tony Campbell, who was held under double figures in the previous three games.

Detroit used a 17-8 run in the middle of the third quarter to take a 57-49 lead. Thomas started the spurt with two free throws that gave the Pistons their first lead of the game, 42-41, with 8:51 left. Thomas then capped the rally with an 18-footer from the baseline.

Rockets 101, Nets 99

Otis Thorpe scored 21 points and had two free throws and a rebound in the final 26 seconds as Houston withstood a late rally by New Jersey.

The Rockets appeared to have a safe lead at 90-75 with 8:50 remaining and weres still ahead 98-89 with 1:34 to go before the Nets scored 10 of the final 13 points.

Thorpe hit one of two free throws with 26 seconds left to give the Rockets a 100-96 lead and added an another free throw with 3.4 seconds remaining to make it 101-98.

However, Chris Dudley grabbed Thorpe's missed second foul shot for his 21st rebound of the game, and the Nets called timeout. Reggie Theus tried to put up a 3-point shot, but he was fouled with five-tenths of a second to play.

Theus, who earlier scored his 18,000th NBA point, made the first free throw and deliberately missed the second. But Thorpe grabbed the rebound as the buzzer sounded.

The Rockets snapped a 62-62 deadlock and took the lead for good when Akeem Olajuwon hit as turnaround jumper to ignite an 11-2 spurt with 6:12 left in the third period. The Nets closed to 76-73 late in the period, but Houston reeled off 14 of the next 16 points to open its 90-75 advantage.

Buck Johnson had 20 points and Kenny Smith 18 for Houston, while Olajuwon finished with 14 points and 16 rebounds.

Theus and Mookie Blaylock each had 17 for New Jersey.

Suns 115, 76ers 96

Kevin Johnson scored 21 points and rookie Cedric Ceballos came off the bench to spark a fourth-period spurt as the Phoenix Suns beat the Philadelphia 76ers.

Charles Barkley had a season-high 45 points, two under his career high, for the 76ers, who had their three-game winning streak snapped. Hersey Hawkins added 20 points for Philadelphia.

Xavier McDaniel scored 17 points, Dan Majerle 16 and Tom Chambers 15 for the Suns, who beat Philadelphia at home for the fifth straight time. McDaniel and Mark West also grabbed 10 rebounds apiece.

The 76ers, who trailed 59-51 at halftime and 82-74 after the third period, closed to 82-78 on Manute Bol's steal and layup with 11:04 remaining.

Ceballos then had two layups during a 9-0 spurt, with Majerle sinking a 3-pointer and Chambers a dunk for a 91-78 lead with 8:01 to play.

Philadelphia got no closer than nine from there.

Hicks leads Rebs, 60-46

Staff Report

CLOVIS, N.M. — Eugene Hicks scored a season-high 28 points to lead the Midland Lee boys basketball team to a 60-46 win over Perryton in a consolation semifinal of the Clovis Tournament here Friday.

The Rebels, 7-10, face the El Paso Riverside-El Paso Bowie winner in the consolation championship game at 3:30 p.m. today.

Hicks, who has scored 67 points in his last three games, was helped by 10 points from sophomore Martin Lattibeaudiere.

on first-half runs of one and seven yards. He finished with 86 yards on 21 carries and caught five receptions for 32 yards.

Weldon scored his first touchdown of the year on a 5-yard run that gave Florida State a 24-10 lead late in the third quarter.

Penn State pulled to within 17-10 with 7:32 left in the third period on Craig Fayak's 32-yard field goal. The score followed an 11-play, 67-yard drive set up by Leonard Humphries' interception at the Penn State 18.

As it did in the first half, Florida State countered the Penn State score, this time with Weldon's touchdown.

Weldon passed for 52 yards on the 58-yard scoring drive, including three completions to All-American Lawrence Dawsey for 27 yards and a 25-yard throw to fullback Edgar Bennett. Dawsey caught eight passes for 107 yards.

Florida State took the opening kickoff 59 yards to Penn State's 24 before bogging down and settling for Richie Andrews' 41-yard field goal to give the Seminoles a 3-0 lead four minutes into the game.

The Seminoles capitalized on Terrell Buckley's 39-yard punt return to score the game's first touchdown 2½ minutes later.

After fielding the punt at his own 46, Buckley reversed field nearly 20 yards before heading up his right sideline to the Penn State 15 before being knocked out of bounds by Derek Bochna.

BROCK: Warm weather may be a problem

From 1B

much national focus on our game since 1978. We had our best presale in history. "

The media response has been such that more than 100 credentials have been issued for seats in the stands.

"Needless to say CBS is ecstatic about the matchup," Brock said. "It's good for both of us to get such a big game with national implications."

The Texas-Miami matchup comes at an ideal time for the Cotton Bowl, which is negotiating a new contract with CBS that Brock hopes will carry the game into the mid-1990s.

"We've got a handshake deal with 'em right now," Brock said. "I think we'll get things worked out. We'd like to have a contract that carries us into the mid-90s."

Brock said the game which begins at 12:30 p.m. CST on New Year's Day could be a ratings blockbuster.

"There's just a ring about our game having Texas back for the first time in seven years, and, of course, the great Miami team, the defending national champions," Brock said. "It's got everybody fired up."

Brock said the Cotton Bowl didn't have to do much courting to get Miami to visit the bowl for the first time in history.

"I'd rather be lucky than good," Brock said. "When it became obvious Notre Dame was going to play Colorado in the Orange Bowl, then things just fell our way."

Texas bought over 20,000 tickets and Miami purchased some 10,000.

"Everything will be just great if we can get this bad weather cleared out," Brock said. "I promised UCLA I would take care of it two years ago and it was 70 degrees at kickoff. I may not make that promise this year. Looks like it could be a little nippy."

Long range forecasts call for near freezing weather.

Arctic weather expected in Big D

Associated Press

DALLAS — It may be a game of inches, but for many Texas players and their fans, the deciding factor in the Cotton Bowl may be degrees — or lack thereof.

Weather forecasters say that by New Years Day an arctic front will have swept deep into Texas, dropping the game time temperature in Dallas a couple degrees below freezing. Add a 15-mph north wind and the chill factor would be about 9 degrees.

For thousands of Longhorn fans who will forsake television and trek to Dallas for the Texas-Miami game, the questions are, what to do, what to wear?

Julie Bushmaker, who's in charge of preventive health care at St. James Hospital in Butte, Mont., says to take warm clothes and common sense to the game.

Mike Royko, the Chicago Tribune columnist and Chicago Bears football fan, says, "If it's cold enough where you can freeze to death, stay home."

Both of those people should know what they're talking about. It was about the same temperature in Chicago and Butte on Thursday as is forecast for Dallas on Tuesday.

CRAIG: TD record within reach

From 1B

Miami with a school record offense of 6,081 yards.

"It's been a good career but I'm a perfectionist," Erickson said. "It could have been better but it's been very successful."

Erickson, who finished eighth in the Heisman Trophy balloting and won the Johnny Unitas Golden Arm award, lived up to the expectations of past Miami quarterback greats.

"When you follow quarterbacks like Bernie Kosar, Vinny Testaverde, and Steve Walsh a lot is expected of you and there's a lot of pressure," Erickson said. "I think I reached the point where I disciplined myself well. I think I've developed a field presence."

Erickson said the Miami system has been good for him.

"I'm the kind of quarterback who needs the other 10 guys to be clicking," he said. "I'm not a Major Harris type player who can do it all himself."

Erickson said he hopes he pick apart Texas' aggressive man-to-man secondary in his final collegiate game.

"The last game is very special and it would be something to go out with a great game against a team like Texas which has the best secondary in the country," he said. "I haven't seen the 'man' defense that much this year but you can have big plays against it if you hit. Texas will make you earn everything"

Erickson admitted there was a "small chance" Miami could repeat as national champions if it beat Texas.

"We've got two losses and that could hurt," Erickson said.

Forecasts call for below freezing weather for the game, and that worries Erickson.

"I've never played in that kind of cold weather and it will be an adjustment," Erickson said. "I guess it becomes a mind game then. I guess you have to just shut it out."

Millionaire recluse dies in fire, leaves $1 million to charity

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A reclusive millionaire killed when fire gutted his cluttered home left more than $1 million to charity, his attorney said.

Nathan Rounds, 76, had no close relatives, showed little interest in money or taxes and rarely went anywhere in the past decade, said attorney Joseph T. Thompson.

"He wasn't unpleasant," Thompson said. "He just liked to keep to himself and wasn't a sociable person. He was acquainted with Howard Hughes at one time and he was a recluse."

The attorney said Rounds left an estate worth more than $1 million and directed in his will that the money be donated to charity. The will does not specify how the money should be spent.

A New Year... A New Life

Strains of "Auld Lang Syne" fade into the dawn of yet another New Year's Day. As we discard paper hats and streamers, we resolve to discard unwanted habits and negative attitudes.

Ahead of us are 365 opportunities to improve the quality of our body, mind, and spirit. A brand new year is about to begin! Yet, it may be difficult to alter those negative characteristics which have been so long a part of us.

There is one resolution, however, which will surely aid in reaching our desired goals. That is the practice of attending our chosen house of worship each Sabbath.

Through prayer and meditation, God will provide the strength needed to make positive changes in your life. Each week as you worship, your outlook will be refreshed and hope renewed.

Ex-cheerleader turns talent to praising God

Deidre McClain, left, and Sayuri Yamada warm up at the Marrs-McLean gym on the campus of Baylor University in Waco.

AP Laserphoto

WACO (AP) — Dancing comes naturally for Deirdre McClain — like a gift from God.

"I have been dancing for 20 years," said the Baylor University senior.

Ms. McClain's gift for dance led her to a stint with the Dallas Cowboy Cheerleaders. After a year of waving pompons and wearing boots, however, McClain gave up dancing as a career and became a secretary.

"I stopped dancing for about 10 years," she said. "Then about a year ago, God showed me how I could use my gift for dancing for him."

That inspiration led Ms. McClain to form a Christian dance company, The Messiah Dance Company. The company gave its premier performance at 7 p.m. Dec. 15 at Central Presbyterian Church.

Admission to the performance was free, but the company will accept donations.

Although it is primarily a dance company, Ms. McClain's group also includes a vocalist, a violinist, a sign language interpreter and several narrators.

"The objectives of the company are to teach area youth, ages 11 to 17, to worship God with all their hearts, minds, souls and strength through song, dance, music and Bible study," she said. "Another thing is that the girls in the company come from underprivileged homes."

Ms. McClain said she volunteers her time to work with the youth, who take part in the group free of charge.

Although dance is not always seen as a form of worship, she said, there is a reference to it in the Bible.

"In Psalm 150, it says to praise God with dancing," she said. "That's what we are trying to do with this company."

The company uses ballet, jazz and interpretive dance techniques with gospel, classical and modern Christian music. The company does individual pieces as well as productions of Bible stories.

Starting with very little money, Ms. McClain said she has had to depend on people's charity and God's will.

"I have to believe that if this is what God wants that he will provide the answers," she said. "God has provided us with many things already."

Ms. McClain credits God with having the Baylor administration provide a practice facility for the company and guiding Central Presbyterian to allow them to perform at the church.

"Baylor didn't have to do what they did," she said. "It does cost the school money when they let us use their facilities. And George and Trish Holland over at Central Presbyterian have been really great. I mean they gave us a key so that we could go into the church to practice and set up."

The Hollands are co-pastors at Central Presbyterian.

Ms. McClain said God also intervened by allowing her to meet Sayuri Yamada, her assistant.

"We had taken a class together, but we really didn't know that much about each other," Yamada said. "Then one day Deirdre asked me if I was interested in dance and told me about her idea for the company."

What Ms. McClain didn't know at the time was that Yamada had been dancing for 11 years and was trained in ballet, jazz and tap.

"Sayuri has been teaching the girls about ballet," she said. "In fact she has taught me about it, too. It's been really great."

'In Psalm 150, it says to praise God with dancing.'

RELIGION IN BRIEF

Adventist float's theme is peace

"Playing In Peace" is the theme of the Seventh-day Adventist entry in the Rose Parade, held annually at Pasadena, Calif., on New Year's Day.

The church's float in the Tournament of Roses will feature children of all races as Hummel-like characters, created by a Disney artist, standing 15 feet tall on a display 25 feet high, 55 feet long and 18 feet wide.

The Adventist academy and college students, working under the direction of a professional Rose Parade floral designer, will decorate the exhibition with 50,000 roses.

One child from each of the nine Unions in the North American Division will ride in the parade. Jeremy Jensen, an 11-year-old Texan, will be representing the local churches.

Pathfinders (youths aged 10-15) of the Midland Seventh-day Adventist Church and all across the nation are working with enthusiasm to raise funds to help pay for this fantastic float and they are inviting their neighbors and friends to watch for float number 47 on New Years Day.

This is a rare privilege to be represented in this event called the most-photographed event in the world.

Singles party scheduled

To get the New Year off to a great start and meet people with a purpose, Midland Singles Community Bible Study, a multi-denominational group, invites everyone to attend a party in order to find out what the group is all about.

The party is scheduled for Friday from 7-9 p.m. at 1403 Country Club. Snacks, games, prizes and information about Community Bible Study will be part of the festivities.

Couples are welcome to attend the party, as well as meetings, which begin Jan. 8 from 7 to 8:30 p.m. and each Tuesday thereafter at Midland Bible Church, 2800 North A Street.

For more information call 689-8421.

Churches set meditation

The Permian Church of Religious Science (PCRS) in Midland and the Unity Church in Odessa will both host an hour-long meditation Monday.

The meditation services will be held in conjunction with World Peace Meditation Day, an international event. The 6 a.m. meditation will coincide with noon Greenwich Mean Time when millions of people worldwide will pray or meditate for world peace.

This is the fifth annual world peace event, was organized by the Austin-based Planetary Commission for Global Healing.

John Randolf Price, commission founder, said the event is designed to "unite in prayer to ask for an end to hostilities, hunger, poverty and the subjugation of individual freedom."

He said the event is intended to "break down the walls of separation and move us closer to lasting peace on earth."

"People can pray from their homes," said the Rev. Paul Nichols, PCRS minister.

Aside from the hour-long meditation, PCRS will host a prayer vigil beginning 6 p.m. Sunday until 7 a.m. Monday. Persons interested in participating in the prayer vigil may call 684-4230.

PCRS is located at 2311 Elizabeth, adjacent to Dennis the Menace Park. The Unity Church in Odessa is located at 210 E. 12th St., the corner of Texas and 12th St.

Witnesses in Odessa

ODESSA — The public is cordially invited to attend the Spanish Circuit Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses to be held today and Sunday.

The assembly, titled "Stay awake and keep your senses" from 1 Thessalonians 5:6, will be held at Ector Junior High auditorium, corner of Crane and Clements streets beginning at 9:55 a.m.

Sunday's public address will be given by Ruben Salazar, a traveling district overseer who represents the Watchtower Bible & Tract Society of Jehovah's Witnesses.

Church host to singing

Ranchland Heights Baptist Church will host their "Fifth Sunday Singing" at 7 p.m. Sunday. The hour will feature congregational singing, soloists and various groups in the presentation of gospel music throughout the service. Billy Hall, music director, will be the leader of the service.

It will be followed by the church's monthly fellowship. Hostesses for the evening are Genia Wilson, assisted by other members of the Hospitality Committee. This monthly event of fellowship is to honor new members of the church and special guests.

The annual Watch Night Service, a time of fellowship and games, is at 10 p.m. Monday, followed by a special candlelight Lord's Supper Service.

Pastor Lucian Rudd, on behalf of the entire congregation, invites the public to these services of worship and fellowship. For more information, please call 683-1947 or 697-4471.

Bible study resumes

The Downtown Bible Study will resume its regular teaching schedule Wednesday.

Paula Ramsey will begin Part 2 of The Promise Study, "The Place of Blessing," and Bunny Becker will begin a teaching entitled "Our Relationship to God's Character and Attributes."

Each meeting begins at 11:30 a.m. at 312 E. Illinois and is structured to accommodate an 11:30 a.m. or noon lunch hour. For information call 682-3415.

Census likely to aid minorities' clout in Congress

By Lori Rodriguez
Hearst News Service

HOUSTON — Minority growth made Sun Belt states the big winners in the census sweepstakes this week, and those minorities should wind up being rewarded with considerably more congressional clout.

"There's almost a certainty of increased minority seats in California and Texas, a shot at others in Florida, North Carolina and Virginia, and long shots in Alabama, Georgia and Chicago," said William O'Hare with the Population Reference Bureau in Washington.

"Both blacks and Hispanics should walk away from the redistricting in much better shape."

While California, Florida and Texas have been Republican strongholds through the 1980s, huge Hispanic growth along with black political pressure could mean as many as half of the 19 seats shifting nationwide will be minority.

"I don't buy the idea that the census was a Republican windfall," said Curtis Gans, director of the non-partisan Committee for the Study of the American Electorate.

While the biggest winners in the decennial redistricting are traditionally conservative states where Republicans have done well, they have all had continuing influxes of minorities throughout the decade.

"One assumes that politicians in those states, being what they are, have learned how to carefully split the difference," said Stephen Hess, political analyst at the Brookings Institution, a Washington-based research center.

In Texas, where the Dallas-Fort Worth area has a hammerlock on one of the three new state seats, there will be tremendous pressure to carve out a new black seat taking sections from the districts of Democratic Reps. John Bryant and Martin Frost.

"But that's not going to be a pretty sight," warns University of Houston political scientist Richard Murray.

"Conservative Republicans will also be pushing hard for some sort of gain in that area, maybe by dismembering (Republican) Rep. Joe Barton's unwieldy district that now runs from the Dallas suburbs all the way to Montgomery County.

"They would make that district all Dallas and all Republican."

Hispanic Texans have two shots at new seats, one somewhere in the South Texas-San Antonio corridor and a slimmer possibility in the Houston and Harris County areas.

"The easiest way to get another Hispanic district in Texas would be to draw a border district all the way from West Texas down the border through Laredo, Del Rio and the Rio Grande Valley," Murray said.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

By Jeane Dixon

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 29, 1990

HAPPY BIRTHDAY! IN THE NEXT YEAR OF YOUR LIFE: Interesting changes lie just ahead. A partnership flourishes in February 1991 but could require your moving to another city. Revamping your lifestyle and image sends your self-confidence soaring. Do those things you never dared to try before. A late-summer vacation gives you the perfect opportunity to broaden your social and cultural horizons. You see a friend in a new light. Take a chance on romance next fall.

CELEBRITIES BORN ON THIS DATE: actors Jon Voight and Ted Danson, singer Marianne Faithfull, actress Mary Tyler Moore.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Work on an alliance that needs strengthening. Compromise could bring you together. A period of reflection proves enlightening. Enjoy a quiet evening at home with friends or family.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): After-Christmas sales give you a chance to stock up on small luxuries. An unexpected visitor motivates you to throw an impromptu party. Romance is favored tonight.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): A risky financial move could cause regrets. Sit tight. Handle important personal matters yourself. An older person offers unsolicited advice. Stick up for your own way of doing things.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): A good day to buy items for yourself or your home. You will have to act quickly to get the best deals. Do you need a special favor? Ask for it this afternoon.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): An affair of the heart could put a real dent in your savings account. Does your mate have extravagant tastes? Be kind but firm. Tuck away your money and relax at home tonight.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): You are at the controls today and can move much closer to your goals. You will establish a real support system if you join forces with someone who shares your interests.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Be on guard against those who might try underhanded business maneuvers. Do not betray a trust. Spend a sociable evening with friends and family. Compose New Year's resolutions!

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): You need to be more perceptive about people. Sift your true friends from acquaintances who are only out for themselves. The social scene will amuse you tonight. A telephone call brings welcome news.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Short of barricading the front door, there is no way to refuse to shoulder new responsibilities. Overcome your fears. Loved ones can be a valuable source of comfort. Accept their help.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Although an influential person will probably lend you financial support, there could be strings attached. Display more interest in family projects. Entertaining at home is appealing.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): A friendly climate exists for your projects. Group activities provide both pleasure and valuable information. You enjoy visiting familiar places and seeing old friends. Reassess a romance.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Those who have accumulated substantial resources dislike the risks inherent in making changes. Avoid going to extremes. Good service will be recognized this evening. Attend group social functions.

TODAY'S CHILDREN are quiet in the classroom but real live wires on the playground. Count on them to run circles around their many pals. Hard-working and modest, these Capricorns are likely to be on the clean-up committee at the school dances and do other unglamorous chores. Never expect these children to air their hurts; they prefer to keep them deeply buried. They are peaceable unless provoked, then watch out! They make formidable opponents.

Vanna White picks up marriage license in Aspen

ASPEN, Colo. — Vanna White bought a marriage license in this celebrity-filled ski resort, but she didn't provide a clue about when she'll say "I DO."

With a scarf wrapped tightly around her head, the 33-year-old "Wheel of Fortune" letter-turner and her boyfriend, Brooklyn native George Santo Pietro, 44, picked up the $20 license Thursday at the Pitkin County Courthouse.

White

No one recognized White, even after she provided her driver's license for identification.

"I didn't even know who it was," said Deputy County Clerk Kim Schultz, who helped the couple fill out their marriage license forms.

Santo Pietro's mother, Catherine Santo Pietro of Plainview, N.Y., said she was "delighted, very delighted" that White will become part of her family.

Mrs. Santo Pietro said she had been told of the wedding plans, but didn't know when it would be. The marriage license is good anywhere in Colorado for 30 days.

White was the second celebrity this week to get into the marriage game at a Colorado ski resort. On Christmas Eve, film star Tom Cruise and Australian actress Nicole Kidman married in a secret wedding in Telluride.

DALLAS — Actor Martin Sheen knows how to get his name in a newspaper. Just show up in a newsroom with a camera.

Sheen filmed scenes at The Dallas Morning News on Thursday for his new movie, "Touch and Die."

In the film, Sheen plays a reporter in Europe who discovers stolen plutonium is being sold to finance a presidential campaign in the United States.

Sheen, the father of actors Charlie Sheen and Emilio Estevez, is known for his activism on behalf of environmental causes and the homeless.

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — Tammy Wynette says a new generation of performers has helped popularize country music all over again.

"The abundance of great new talent . . . is changing the demographics of the listening and buying audience," she said in comments published in the Country Music Association's "Close-Up" magazine.

"Because of their impact, the audiences are younger and the consumer dollars at both the record and concert levels have greatly increased," she said in the publication's January issue.

She cited Mary-Chapin Carpenter, Joe Diffie, Randy Travis, Ricky Van Shelton, Clint Black, Patty Loveless and Garth Brooks as among those making an impact.

Wynette, the first lady of country music, has had such hits as "Stand by Your Man" and "D-I-V-O-R-C-E."

LONDON, Ohio — Johnny Paycheck, who achieved stardom in 1978 with the worker's anthem "Take This Job and Shove It," is singing the blues to Gov. Richard Celeste in hopes of getting out of prison.

Paycheck

Paycheck, whose real name is Donald Eugene Lytle, is serving a seven-to-9½-year prison term for a shooting in a bar in 1985.

The singer is asking Celeste to grant him clemency before the governor leaves office Jan. 15.

A spokesman for Celeste declined to comment, except to say that the governor has an "extremely conservative record in granting clemency."

Paycheck, 51, has served 10 months for aggravated assault, tampering with evidence and using a handgun. He was convicted for shooting a fellow bar patron in the head in 1985, injuring him.

He won't be eligible for parole for five years.

Art Buchwald was vacationing with his family in West Virginia when he got the news of his latest victory in the fight for a share of the profits from a hit movie. But he has made no calculation yet of what it might mean financially.

Last Friday, Judge Harvey Schneider ruled in Los Angeles that Paramount Pictures, which produced "Coming to America," should pay Buchwald and his co-plaintiff, Alain Bernheim, damages.

The judge had ruled earlier that the film, which has earned more than $300 million, was based on a treatment the two writers had done for the studio.

"Now, having decided how unfair the contract was, the judge will look into the books to decide the money question," Buchwald said in an interview. Paramount's lawyers have said they will appeal the decision.

Since Buchwald and Bernheim filed their breach-of-contract suit against the studio in 1988, "the money has stopped being meaningful," Buchwald said.

"The meaning," he said, "is blowing up the whole system that is so unfair to writers."

STATE in brief

MHMR panel to review sex policies

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas mental health commissioner, responding to a report on pregnancies of retarded women at the Lubbock State School, said Friday he will appoint a task force to make sure policies are in place to prevent sexual activity.

Commissioner Dennis Jones of the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation set a March 31 deadline for the task force to review rules on client abuse, reporting of unusual incidents and client sexuality.

Jones said, however, "questions still remain" as to reporting procedures at the Lubbock State School, following pregnancies in 1988 and 1989 and other possible client abuse cases.

He said he had ordered Jaylon Fincannon, deputy commissioner for mental retardation, to review reports, interviews and other information and to make recommendations for the school by Jan. 11.

Man threatens officer

AMARILLO (AP) — A man charged with aggravated assault of a police officer after claiming to have AIDS and then spitting on the officer could face stiffer charges if the suspect tests positive for the deadly disease, authorities said.

"If the guy tests HIV positive, the lawyers could file a deadly assault on a police officer," said Capt. Gary Butler, of the Potter County Correction Center.

Sammy Ray Popplewell, who was arraigned Dec. 21 in the court of State District Judge Patrick Pirtle, is being held at the Potter County Correction Center in lieu of $50,000 bond.

"Somebody is going to have to determine if he has the HIV virus," Butler said. "Either the prosecution or the defense will have to request the tests. We will wait until we get something from the court."

If convicted of aggravated assault of a police officer, Popplewell faces from two to 10 years in prison, Butler said.

Classrooms damaged

PANHANDLE (AP) — Kindergarten and first-grade students at Panhandle Elementary School will have a longer-than-expected Christmas break due to cleanup of classrooms damaged by fire.

"We lost three classrooms — two kindergarten and one first grade — and two others were smoke and water-damaged pretty good," Panhandle Superintendent Ronnie Teichelman said.

No one was injured in the Thursday morning blaze.

Teichelman mailed letters to kindergarten and first-grade students Thursday, instructing them to report for classes on Jan. 7 instead of their scheduled return on Jan. 2.

Firm settles over blast

PAMPA (AP) — Hoechst Celanese Chemical Group and several families of workers killed or injured in a 1987 explosion at the chemical company's plant here have reached a settlement of claims stemming from the blast, both sides said Friday.

Lawyers for the plaintiffs and Hoechst Celanese officials agreed not to disclose terms of the agreement. The settlement was approved by state District Judge Eugene Chambers of Houston.

Insurance board adopts workers' comp surcharge

■ With challenges to the law still in the courts, a plan is needed to increase rates if the system is changed.

AUSTIN (AP) — Court-ordered changes to the new workers' compensation system would trigger a premium surcharge to be paid by employers under action taken by the State Board of Insurance Friday.

The board voted 3-0 to implement a "litigation surcharge" if the new workers' comp law is changed or struck down in court. In November, board members voted to freeze workers' comp rates for one year, because they said the new law would reduce medical and litigation costs in the system.

A state district court judge in Eagle Pass on Dec. 21 issued an order blocking implementation of major parts of the law, but the state attorney general's office appealed the ruling, which officials say allows the new system to take effect on schedule Tuesday.

Insurance Board Chairman James Saxton Jr. said that since the law is still under attack on appeal, the board needs a plan to increase rates in case the system is ultimately changed in the courts.

"This would at least give us some time" Saxton said.

But Joe Gunn, president of the Texas AFL-CIO which is challenging the new system, criticized the board's action.

"They're trying to intimidate the judicial system by talking about rates going up," he said.

The labor organization claims the new law would deny workers basic rights and reduce benefits to most injured employees.

The board's action also angered insurance companies who wanted the panel to adopt a 19 percent workers' comp premium increase that would be held in escrow pending outcome of the lawsuit.

Richard Geiger, a Dallas attorney representing workers' comp insurance companies, said the surcharge would be nearly impossible to collect.

"You are saddling us with a substantial collection risk," he said.

But board member Jo Ann Howard said a 19 percent increase would cause many businesses to drop the insurance, leaving thousands of workers unprotected.

Workers' comp insurance has increased about 200 percent over the last five years.

The Legislature adopted a workers' comp overhaul last year in a bruising political battle that pitted business interests against labor and lawyers who represent injured workers in disputed benefits cases.

U.S. magistrate denies bail for ex-owner of failed S&L

DALLAS (AP) — Former Vernon Savings Association owner Don R. Dixon, convicted of using thrift funds to pay prostitutes, will remain in jail until his February sentencing, a magistrate ruled Friday.

Dixon has been jailed without bond since his conviction Dec. 20 on 23 charges of fraud and misapplication of funds.

A jury convicted Dixon of authorizing employees to pay prostitutes $10,000 to entertain the thrift's board of directors at a beach house party.

Attorneys asked U.S. Magistrate John Tolle to release Dixon until sentencing Feb. 19.

Eighteen witnesses testified on Dixon's behalf, including his wife and former minister. But Tolle said the testimony did not refute government evidence that Dixon was likely to flee.

After Dixon's conviction, prosecutors asked that he be jailed without bail because investigators suspect he stashed money in foreign bank accounts and might flee.

In court papers, Dixon said he is "not, under any circumstances, likely to flee."

Among the paperwork submitted on his behalf were 81 letters from relatives, friends and business associates.

One letter was from his 6-year-old granddaughter. Written in her first-grade scrawl, it reads: "Dear Judge. Can Big Daddy get out of jail. He will not leave town. Love, Candice."

Vernon Savings failed in 1987. Its bailout is expected to cost taxpayers more than $1.2 billion.

Dixon and his wife, Dana, declared personal bankruptcy in 1987 and Dixon said he has no money or other financial resources of any consequence.

He has supported his wife, three of his eight children and his mother-in-law for the past two years, he said, with about $9,000 a month that he has borrowed from relatives and other sources and earned as an independent financial consultant.

We can't take all the credit for the big savings at the Texas Ford Dealers' Year-End Sale.

The tax collector is giving us a hand.

Once a year your Texas Ford Dealers have to pay inventory taxes on every car and truck in stock. So to get a break on our tax bill, we're giving you some big deductions. You'll find hundreds of Ford cars and trucks marked with each dealer's absolute lowest selling prices—many priced under $10,000.* Plus you can also get cash back or special low financing.

The fewer cars we have left on our lots, the less taxes we pay. So if you're tired of giving money to the tax collector, now's your chance to take some back. Come save at your Texas Ford Dealers' giant Year-End Sell-Off, between now and Dec. 31.

TEXAS - NEW MEXICO PIPE LINE COMPANY

AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER

PART-TIME INCOME AVAILABLE

The Midland Reporter-Telegram has several routes which need to be filled with qualified, responsible individuals. Now is one of the best times ever to obtain a route in your area!

Often asked questions:

Is it worthwhile for adults also?

Yes! Our current carrier force is already 65% adult and 35% youth. Morning newspaper routes are attractive for:
- ADULTS who have full-time jobs, yet want to supplement their income with a steady part-time job.
- MOTHERS who can't justify a small job and daycare, because as a carrier, you do not need daycare!
- COLLEGE STUDENTS needing a part-time job which will work with classes!
- YOUTHS who are involved in afternoon school functions, but want to work!
- SENIOR CITIZENS wanting regular exercise, added income, or just want to work with people, neighbors, and friends.

How much money can I make as a carrier?

Depending on the size of the route(s) from $200 to $600 monthly! Some motor routes make even more. Although no motor routes are expected to be available, depending on your service record, you may qualify to move up to a motor route later!

How long does it take?

The actual delivery takes 1 - 2 hours Monday - Saturday, and 2 - 3 hours on Sunday, again depending on the size of the route(s). Also, a few hours a month are needed to collect from subscribers. Many carriers choose to handle some of this by putting envelopes in subscribers' papers. Collecting in person will be necessary though!

When do papers have to be delivered by?

6 AM Monday - Friday
and 7 AM on Saturday and Sunday

Do I ever get a day off?

The job requires a 7-day a week commitment. However, carriers do take days off by finding a friend or family member to substitute for them!

RESERVE YOUR ROUTE NOW!

Toys For Life

Help us share the true meaning of Christmas with the children at Midland Memorial Hospital. We are asking for your participation by helping us help the less fortunate to have a brighter Holiday Season.

Drop a new, unwrapped toy with a value of ten dollars by Windtree, Wydewood, Wildflower or Polo Park Apartments and register to win three months free rent on a six month lease.

All toys will be donated to the Midland Memorial Hospital Cancer Treatment Center for children.

Please bring toys suitable for children between the ages of two and eight years.

Let's remember the true spirit of Christmas by opening up our hearts and giving these children a Christmas they will always remember.

Sincerely,
Hall Financial Group, Inc.
