AS CAPONE STARTED FOR JAIL

Here is Al Capone, Chicago gang chieftain, leaving federal building in custody of United States marshals on the way to the Cook county jail after being sentenced to spend 11 years in prison and to pay a $50,000 fine for income tax law violations. Capone was ordered held in the county jail pending settlement of a legal dispute regarding his immediate imprisonment in the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth.

CUT IS TO BE EFFECTIVE THURSDAY

WOLTERS SAYS WELLS TO BE LIMITED TO 150 BARRELS

(By Associated Press)

HOUSTON, Oct. 27.—Brigadier General Jacob F. Wolters announced today production in the East Texas oil fields would be limited to 150 barrels daily per well, effective at 7 a. m. Thursday, October 29.

The general, who is in command of the field under martial law, made the announcement from his general headquarters here and simultaneously directed his staff in Kilgore, headquarters of the military district of East Texas, to issue the necessary general order for the change.

It will be the fourth reduction in allowable production since General Wolters took command. The first allowable was 225 barrels. It then was cut to 185 barrels, then to 165 barrels, where it stands currently.

"I am authorized by the governor to say that this allowable (the 150 barrel figure effective Thursday) will remain in effect pending consideration and working out of a plan whereby production will be held to a daily top allowable of 400,000 barrels per day (for the entire field) and through unit acreage plan," said the general.

The unit acreage plan of proration had been employed in Texas previously, under jurisdiction of the state railroad commission, but has not been in effect since the East Texas field went under martial law.

The plan General Wolters mentioned probably will not follow, in all respects, the old unit acreage schedule, but likely will be worked out with the advance concurrence of producers generally.

Production in the East Texas field of last Sunday, the last figure available here to the general, was 428,310 barrels. The total number of wells in the field as of 7 a. m. yesterday was 2,617.

DOCTORS OPEN CONFAB

Ship Delayed For Over Five Hours As Josee Dances With Mayor Jimmy

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—A queen of the sea waited five and a half hours today while the daughter of the premier of France danced with a yankee mayor at a millionaire's birthday party.

The Ile de France was to have sailed at five minutes past midnight with Premier Laval and his daughter, Josee, aboard. At that hour, however, the orchestra in the fashionable night club, the Central Park Casino, was playing "cupid on the birthday cake" and Mademoiselle Josee Laval was dancing with Mayor James J. Walker. Monsieur Laval was watching with an expansive smile and a group of socially important persons who were gathered to honor the natal day of Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney beamed their approval.

The boat waited. Finally, at 1:15 a. m. when Mayor Walker's car rolled up with Josee, the premier close behind, the captain decided to postpone sailing until a more advantageous tide rolled out at 5:30 a. m.

The mayor went aboard to wish the premier bon voyage and to say, formally, "best wishes to your country for what she is doing to benefit humanity." M. Laval replied with an expression of admiration for America.

Mademoiselle Laval declared her last five hours in New York were the happiest—they included the last act of "the vanities" and the night club.

The premier said goodbye. The mayor said goodbye. The five-day visit was ended.

TWO-DAY MEET STARTS THIS MORNING

PRESIDENT OF STATE ASSOCIATION HERE FOR SESSIONS

Fifty-three doctors of the Panhandle District Medical society had registered at the Hilton hotel late this morning for a semi-annual two-day convention. Others were expected through the afternoon.

The president of the state medical association, Dr. John O. McReynolds, of Dallas, after reading a paper on "The Cataract Problem In Relation to the General Medical Profession," this afternoon will perform a cataract operation at a clinic attended by delegates at the West Texas hospital.

DR. BALYEAT

Dr. G. T. Vineyard, president of the Panhandle society, of Amarillo, called the first session to order at about 10:30 a. m. Following an address of welcome by Mayor J. J. Clements, invocation by Dr. Jack M. Lewis of the First Presbyterian church, and reading of minutes by Dr. Richard Keys, society secretary, of Amarillo, presentation of the medical section of the scientific program began.

This morning, Doctor George M. Cultra, section chairman, of Amarillo, read a paper on "Management and Treatment of Pylorospasm and Hyper-trophic Pyloric Stenosis In Infants," and Dr. R. R.

BANKERS COME TO AID OF FARMERS

PLEDGES EXCEEDED IN MOVE TO HOLD SEVEN MILLION BALES

(By The Associated Press)

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 27.—Southern cotton planters saw a silver lining to their economic clouds today with reports of bankers that they had exceeded pledges to cooperate with the Federal Farm board to hold seven million bales off the market until after next July.

Cotton belt bankers yesterday reported pledges to finance an aggregate of more than 4,000,000 bales under the cotton holding program. The amount exceeded by 500,000 bales that agreed to at the New Orleans conference of bankers, farm board and American Cotton Cooperative association members two weeks ago.

The conference stipulated the farm board would arrange to hold approximately 3,500,000 bales off the market if southern bankers would finance the holding of a similar amount.

Unofficial reports last night said Texas bankers would finance the holding of 2,000,000, Arkansas 400,000, Tennessee 500,000, Georgia 302,622, Louisiana 186,675, Alabama, 186,000, Mississippi 350,000, Oklahoma 250,000, and South Carolina 210,000 bales.

In Dallas, Nathan Adams, chairman of the Bankers' group sponsoring the plan, said his reports indicated the holding plan would receive more than ample support for success.

TEXAS PLANNING TO WITHHOLD COTTON

DALLAS, Oct. 27. (AP)—Texas was well on its way today toward withholding between 30 and 40 per cent of its unsold 1931 cotton crop from the market.

J. W. Hoopes, president of the State's Bankers' association, yesterday expressed belief that bankers would pledge themselves to hold back 2,500,000 bales from the market until July 1, 1932.

Pledges received yesterday boosted the unofficial total 1266,000 bales. It became known yesterday that Oklahoma bankers probably would withhold 250,000 bales and Alabama 186,000.

Crowd Expected On Grid Special

BETWEEN 400 AND 500 EXPECTED TO ATTEND GAME AT PAMPA

Between four hundred and five hundred South Plains football rooters are expected to clamber aboard the Santa Fe special train bound for Pampa Saturday morning, all with the avowed intention of helping the Lubbock High school Westerners deal out a defeat to Pampa's Harvesters on the gridiron.

Santa Fe officials pointed out this morning that at least four hundred would board the big train, judging from inquiries already received. In addition to Lubbock fans, delegations from Slaton, Littlefield, Tahoka, Post, Ralls, Brownfield and Crosbyton, numbering between ten and twenty-five from each town, have indicated plans to make the trip.

A wire from railroad officials at Amarillo received here this morning stated that at least two hundred fans of that city desired to make the trip to Pampa and return on the Lubbock special. They will all be in the Lubbock stands at the game. When told of this, M. H. Duncan, superintendent of Lubbock schools, said it was "oke with him, the more the merrier and everybody welcome". Queries from persons residing in towns along the way, this side and the other side of Amarillo, have come to the local railroad offices in regard to the possible halting of the train to take on more passengers.

Tickets to the Lubbock-Pampa game are on sale at the Hotel Lubbock drug store, where they will remain through Thursday night. These tickets called for reserved seats in the Lubbock section near the fifty-yard line. They will be transferred to Lubbock and Pampa Friday morning. Approximately a thousand ducats will be placed on sale at Amarillo this weekend. It is suggested by those in charge of ticket sales that Lubbock fans purchase the pasteboards here, otherwise take a big chance after arriving in Pampa.

Vote Contested By Young Heflin

LEBANON, Tenn. Oct. 27 (AP)—Black eyes and bruises were distributed liberally among juniors at Cumberland university law school last night as class members argued out an election disagreement.

Police said they were told the fight started when a faction led by Thomas Heflin, jr., son of the former senator from Alabama, unsuccessfully contested election of Edwin D Davis of Fayette, Miss., as class president.

ALL QUIET IN BRIDGE WAR

GUARDSMEN REMOVED WHEN HEARING OF CASE DELAYED

(By The Associated Press)

DURANT, Okla., Oct. 27—All was quiet on the Red river "front" today.

Traffic rolled uninterrupted over the Durant-Denison free bridge, while owners of the parallel toll span fretted at the delay in hearing of their petition for a federal injunction to close the free bridge.

National guardsmen, called out before dawn yesterday by Governor W. H. Murray, just in case "something popped" at Muskogee, where Judge John C. Pollock was to hear the injunction petition, withdrew last night. Judge Pollock, due to a mixup in dates, did not appear. He tentatively set the hearing for next Monday in Kansas City.

The governor appeared briefly at the river side, said the free bridge would remain open and the guard would be withdrawn for the time being. He wouldn't say whether the soldiers would be back at the bridge next Monday.

He has contended the federal courts cannot enjoin a sovereign state, its governor, or his "military arm."

Grasshopper Raids Turn Out Blessings

PLAINFIELD, Wis., Oct. 27. (AP)—The grasshopper plague on farms near here last summer has turned out, in a measure, to be a blessing in disguise.

The pests invaded several oat fields, decimating crops. In their zeal to get food, the hoppers shook ripe oat kernels to the ground. After the harvest, farmers said, the kernels sprouted and now have reached a height of about four inches, furnishing good pasturage for cattle. As a result, the farmers said, they expect cream checks to increase.

Sandino Planning "Real Offensive"

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 27 (AP)—Emphatically denying reports he is sick, Augusto C. Sandino, Nicaraguan insurgent leader, today advised his representatives here that he has completed the reorganization of his army and is ready to begin a "real offensive."

He reported he has eight columns of men, well provisioned and equipped to launch the campaign, which he indicated would be conducted over a widespread territory in northern Nicaragua.

Mexican Scheduled To Die On Friday

AUSTIN, Oct. 27 (AP)—Victor Rodriguez and Nicandro Munoz, convicted in Hidalgo county for the slaying of Bert Ellison, United States customs officer, will be put to death in the electric chair in the state penitentiary early Friday morning unless Governor R. S. Sterling intervenes.

Ellison was ambushed by a party of four Mexicans, one of whom had sworn vengeance against all federal officers because his wife had been deported.

Executions of the condemned men had been postponed by Governor Sterling pending action by the court of criminal appeals on an application for a writ of habeas corpus based on contention of Rodriguez and Munoz that they had been represented by an attorney who had not been granted a license to practice law.

BRITAIN GOES TO POLLS

VICTORY PREDICTED FOR MACDONALD GOVERNMENT

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Oct. 27—Thirty million British voters, laborer collier, colkney, and squire, entered the election booths today and wrote on sheets of paper eight inches square their prescription for the land's financial ills.

As the tumult and shouting of an unprecedented campaign died, two leading newspapers, on each side of the issue, this morning rated the importance of the decision.

"They are called upon," said the Times, which supported Ramsay MacDonald's call for a "doctor's mandate" for the national government, "to make a decision which in a single day will preserve or destroy the value of British currency and the solidity of British credit."

"They are called upon," said the Daily Herald, opposition organ, "to declare that the budget shall be balanced, but not by plundering the poor, and that the currency shall to safeguarded, but not by groveling to bankers."

The consensus of political observers was that the national government would win with a majority of up to 200 in the house of commons, which would be ample to satisfy Prime Minister MacDonald's "doctor's mandate" request.

EIGHTH JUROR CHOSEN

HOUSTON, Oct. 27. (AP)—The eighth juror in the murder trial of F. Leon Bouknight, one of four persons indicted for the slaying of W. L. Edwards, was selected today.

MRS. JUDD TO BE RETURNED

ALLEGED SLAYER OF OF TWO WOMEN TO GO TO PHOENIX

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 27—Winnie Ruth Judd plans to start back to Phoenix, Ariz., tomorrow to stand trial for the murder of Miss Hedvig Samuelson and Mrs. Agnes Anne Le Roi, whose bodies she shipped to Los Angeles in trunks last week.

Attorneys for Mrs. Judd, who said she shot the women October 17 in self defense, announced today no fight would be made against her extradition to Phoenix, the scene of the double slaying.

Sheriff James R. McFadden of Phoenix was en route to Sacramento where he expected to obtain extradition papers from Governor James Rolph, jr.

Attorneys for Mrs. Judd intimated an application for dismissal of the habeas corpus writ issued shortly after Mrs. Judd was arrested here last Friday would be made as soon as extradition papers were granted so that she may be returned to Phoenix.

A warrant for the arrest of Dr. William C. Judd, husband of Mrs. Judd, was issued yesterday after a complaint charging him with practicing medicine in California without a license had been made by special agents of the state board of medical examiners. It alleged Dr. Judd illegally took charge of a sanitarium here during the absence of the medical director.

Adequate Navy Is Urged By Johnson

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27 (AP)—Arguing that the world had seen "three distinct, solemn tresties brutally scrapped" in the occupation of southern Manchuria by Japanese troops, Senator Hiram Johnson of California pleaded today for an adequate American navy and warned against relying on international agreements for security.

Addressing a navy day gathering here, the noted leader in the senate fight against American membership in the League of Nations asserted the league pact, the Washington nine power treaty and the Kellogg anti-war agreement had been overridden with impunity in the far eastern squabble.

Students Shave As Faculty Frowns On "Loyalty Beards"

GENEVA, N. Y., Oct. 27. (AP)—A faculty seemingly unsympathetic with the loyalty of several Hobart students who pledged themselves not to shave until their Alma Mater won a football game, was responsible for the entrance into classes today of faces clean shaven for the first time in nearly a month.

As a gesture of faith in their team, a select group of students after the Syracuse game vowed not to shave until Hobart broke a succession of 21 straight losses. Defeats by St. Lawrence, Union and Kenyon followed and a chapter of the House of David seemed imminent until some of the faculty, their aesthetic senses perhaps outraged, took the bearded students to one side and unofficially suggested that it wouldn't be a bad idea to show their confidence in the team in some other manner.

JAPAN DEFIES LEAGUE PLAN

JAPANESE GRIP MADE TIGHTER TODAY IN DISPUTED AREA

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO, Oct. 27.—With her grip extended from Manchuria into Mongolia, Japan explained today to the capitals of the world why she considers as not binding the League of Nations formula for settlement of the Sino-Japanese dispute calling for evacuation of Chinese territory by Japanese troops by Nov. 16.

"Japan feels the urgent need at the present moment is cooperation of the two countries," said a statement cabled to various nations, "and her willingness remains unaltered and unabated to open negotiations with the Chinese government."

The statement reiterated Japan's contention that the "whole Manchurian affair was occasioned solely by a violent and provocative attack by the Chinese army on the South Manchurian railway zone" which is under Japanese treaty control.

"Certain small contingents of Japanese soldiers still remaining outside that zone are insistently demanded by the danger to which a large population of Japanese in that region are exposed," the statement continued. "The presence of such a limited number of troops is quite incapable of being represented as a means of dictating to China Japan's terms for the settlement of the present difficulties."

Unclothed Body Of Girl Is Discovered

ANTIGO, Wis., Oct. 27 (AP)—The body of an unidentified girl, about 18 years old, was found last night in a field at Mattoon Shawano county village. The upper part of the unclothed body had been crammed into a gunny sack with the arms protruding through holes in the sack.

Coroner Harvey Steubenvall said he was unable to determine whether the girl were an Indian. Apparently the body had been in the field at least a week.

AL CAPONE IS JAIL INMATE

RULING ON REQUEST FOR BOND IS DUE THIS AFTERNOON

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Oct. 27—Al Capone has settled down for what may be a long stay in the county jail, and apparently much more content to remain there than to leave for a federal penitentiary.

A ruling on the scarfaced gang chief's request to be free on bond while his income tax conviction is appealed to the higher courts is due at 2 p. m., today from the circuit court of appeals. The court may either order him freed, sent to Leavenworth or held in his present quarters.

United States marshals were ready to leave with Capone tonight for Leavenworth, but they have been ready twice before, only to have their plans frustrated by court orders to hold him in Chicago. The first occasion was immediately after his sentence Saturday to 11 years imprisonment and $50,000 in fines; the second when the appeals court granted a 24-hour delay yesterday.

Defense attorneys argued before the appeals body that the indictment on which the gangster was convicted was faulty.

Ruth Nichols Ready To Resume Her Hop

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 27. (AP)—Eager to take to the air again in continuance of a flight in which she was believed to have set a woman's non-stop distance record, Miss Ruth Nichols, Rye, N. Y., aviatrix, spent today here awaiting the arrival from New York of Clarence Chamberlin, her advisor in her aeronautical exploits.

She spent considerable time watching experts work on her monoplane which was damaged by fire yesterday while she was preparing to hop off for New York in an attempt to set a new record between the two cities. The plane, which Miss Nichols valued at $25,000, was damaged approximately $10,000.

Amarillo Deaths Still Mysteries

AMARILLO, Oct. 27 (AP)—After a laboratory analysis of the viscera of Mrs. Mary E. Alspach had been completed today, physicians announced that the cause of the deaths of Mrs. Alspach a week ago and her husband, A. B. Alspach, two days later was still a mystery.

Physicians again expressed the belief that the strange poisoning from which the couple died was botulism, a rare form of food poisoning, generally resulting from improperly sterilized home canned foods. No trace of botulism was found, however, in the complete autopsy and the several tests that followed.

Seek To Prevent Copying Of Styles

PARIS, Oct. 27. (AP)—Copying Paris styles would be made a prison offense under the terms of a bill which is to be introduced at the next session of parliament by Deputy Jean Fabry.

The proposed bill is intended to protect fashion houses and shoe, furniture and decoration and decoration houses. It is aimed at employes particularly.

AGENTS STUDY WORK HERE

INDIVIDUAL SESSIONS FOLLOW GROUP MEET THIS MORNING

Group study of methods, plans and lines of work to emphasize next year, comprised the morning program of the district county agent's meeting today. A joint session of the men and women, with E. A. Lofgren, representing the Federal Farm board, giving a demonstration on egg selection was followed by individual gatherings.

Starting shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon at the McDonald Packing plant, Roy Snyder, meat specialist, was to kill five or six beeves to demonstrate to agents the latest and most approved methods of this work. Wednesday morning will be given over to a meat cutting demonstration with each agent having a quarter of beef to work on.

Plan Night Session

"We are going to have a night session to finish our program for 1932," Sterling C. Evans, district agent, said at noon. "It will be held in the Hotel Lubbock."

Miss Myrtle Murray, district leader of home demonstration agents, was in charge of the women's gathering. Miss Mildred Horton, state leader, Miss Zetha McInnis and Miss Lola Blair, specialists, were on the program.

Several of the agents discussed phases of work in their respective counties. The meetings will continue throughout the day.

O. B. Martin, state director of extension service, outlined plans for the year's work to the groups.

THREE GENERATIONS TO LOOK ON AS BRIDEGROOM, 82, BRIDE, 72, MARRY

(By The Associated Press)

ABILENE, Oct. 27.—With three generations of the bridegroom's family attending the ceremony, J. A. Syfrett, 81, and Mrs. J. B. O'Neal, 72, were to be married today at Mrs. O'Neal's farm home near Cottonwood, Callahan county. Syfrett left today for his tryst, accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. A. J. Botts of Abilene, with whom he has made his home; her children, Earl Stagner and Mrs. Lester Harris; and their children, Nina Nell Stagner and Carolyn Harris, aged five and two.

The aged bridegroom and his elderly bride met seven years ago in Roswell, New Mexico. When Syfrett, accompanied by a grandson, appeared at the county clerk's office here to get his marriage license, a deputy clerk protested, "Aren't you making a mistake?" as he wrote is his age when filing intentions to wed. The clerk was noting his hair—only moderately iron gray—his closely cropped mustache, and his alert manner.

FOURTEEN-ACT, THREE-IN-ONE DRAMA OF EUGENE O'NEILL IS MASTERPIECE

BY MARK BARRON

NEW YORK, Oct. 27 (AP)—Eugene O'Neill, like some Gutzon Borglum carving a giant drama from the cold stone of an ancient Greek tragedy, had created today in "Mourning Becomes Electra" what critics generally called his masterpiece.

The dramatist's 14-act, three-in-one opus was given its premier yesterday. The curtain rose on the first of the three consecutive dramas, "The Homecoming," at 4 p. m. At the conclusion of "The Homecoming" at 6 p. m. there was a dinner intermission following which the other dramas, "The Hunted" and "The Haunted," were played. The performance ran past 11 o'clock.

O'Neill has based the mood of this new drama on the Greek tragedy, "Electra," and one feels the unalterable doom of death throughout the performance.

Alice Brady, Alla Nazimova and Earle Larimore won long ovations from the first night

DR. MYERS

Doctor Myers' Daily Column On Child Welfare

BY GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D. Head Division Parental Education Cleveland College, Western Reserve University

TEACHING THE INFANT

THE CHILD from one to two years of age is more interested in destroying than in building. He can cause something to happen when he tears things apart or knocks them to pieces. To do so gives him a sense of power. Left alone with a few blocks he will, without teaching, learn to put them together for himself.

Parents, notably fathers, are inclined to build up things for the baby to knock down. Observing the joy the child gets in doing so, the parent is tempted to go on at this sort of amusement over a period of months, even years. But this is not good for the child. It is teaching him the very thing he should no learn. If the child is to acquire ability of self-amusement he must learn to find enjoyment at construction. If, therefore, the parent is going to help the child at all with blocks, he should not let the child knock down the things built for him.

Without punishment, but with gentle restraining and skilful suggestion the baby can be taught to desist from knocking down the structure, but instead to take the blocks down carefully, one by one. This is not a guess. I worked it out in great detail with my own children when they were very young. In consequence, they not only learned not to be destructive, but learned to find self-amusement for hours alone at a time, building and inventing with simple plain blocks.

The usual cubical blocks are not the best. There should be some oblongs, two or three times as long as square on the end. A few strips six inches or longer are also desirable. There should be several pieces of the same dimension. Parents or older children can, with a saw and plane, easily make the best kind of simple building material for the child under three or four.

Frail toys encourage destructiveness. As soon as a toy is broken, either remove it, or repair it at once. A few very substantial toys are better than many fragile ones.

When the child deliberately breaks a toy or dashes it to pieces, better punish him immediately, but be sure first that it was not an accident. Remember that "careful" may not mean the same to the child as it means to you. Merely to remove a toy from a child when he is rough with it may not teach him carefulness. Some children are so destructive with toys that they are given practically none. They must have toys to learn, and be taught to use them carefully.

• • •

Some parents desiring to encourage the child's curiosity, allow him to take toys apart. Some older children, accordingly, remove the wheels from their wagon or tricycle about as soon as they get it. To do so is not good for the child unless he can replace it intact. Rarely can anyone put sueh toys together well after dissembling them. The older children will profit from the use of construction sets that are not too hard for them, provided they are taught to take good care of the parts.

MATADOR CLUB MEETS HERE

PROGRAM OUTLINED AT ANNUAL DINNER OF GROUP MONDAY

To aid promotion of athletics at Texas Technological college, the Matador club of business and professional men in Lubbock met Monday night at an annual dinner in the Hilton hotel and outlined its program for the ensuing year.

Chairmen of committees to carry out the plans were named by Spencer A. Wells, president. The captains are: Carl Patton, Victor Bennett, Jack Parsons, C. A. Sheffield, George A. Simmons and Ben F. Condray.

Cawthon Speaks

Pete Cawthon, head of the Technological college's department of athletics, was the principal speaker. He outlined the work of the department and discussed the prospects for the future.

Other speakers were "Dutchy" Smith, assistant coach, J. A. Raley, jr., and Spencer Wells. Roscoe Wilson was toastmaster. About 25 members attended.

POSTERS USED IN RELIEF CAMPAIGN

Seven large lithographed posters, displayed here in a nation-wide campaign by President Hoover's organization on unemployment relief and committee on the mobilization of relief resources, are expected to lend impetus to the local Salvation Army's annual financial drive between November 1 and 10.

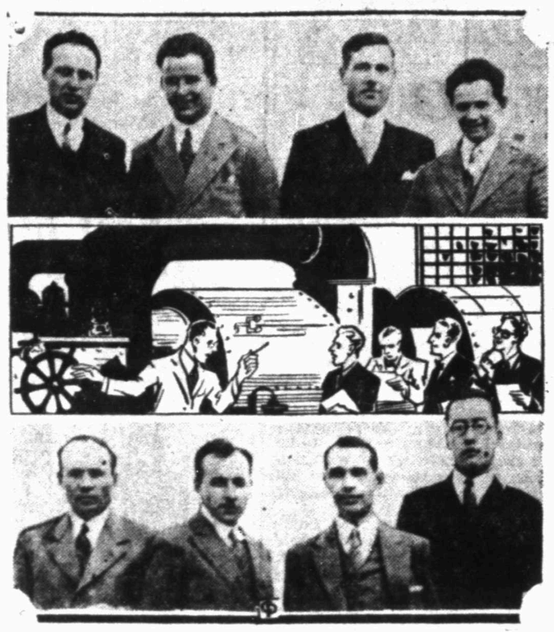

A workman stands in the design, gesticulating forcefully, and beside him is the message "Of course we can do it! Give to your local welfare and unemployment relief funds." The Salvation Army is the only Lubbock charity organization which will solicit funds this year. The United Welfare association, which absorbed United Charities, is tax-supported.

Propaganda forces are co-operating on a nation-wide scale to aid local campaigns of welfare organizations. Printing companies, outdoor advertising and other agencies are contributing to the campaign. The Lubbock Poster company erected the posters here and in several other South Plains towns free.

The Lubbock posters, one of which is illuminated, are at Avenue D and Twelfth street, Avenue H and Thirty second street, Avenue K and Fourteenth street, Avenue H and Thirteenth street, Avenue H and Eighth street, College avenue and Sixth street, and Avenue Q and Main street. The last posterboard is lighted.

The new commander of the American Legion in Texas, V. Earl Earp, Sweetwater, is a native West Texan, and said to be the first to head the organization.

SOVIET STUDENTS STUDYING ENGINEERING AT COLLEGES IN U. S. BUT HAVE ORDERS NOT TO DISCUSS COMMUNISM

By JOSEPH S. WARD, JR.
Central Press Correspondent

BOTON, Oct. 23—Soviet students at Harvard and Massachusettes Tech? Are two of America's "soundest" institutions allowing Red propagandists to slide surreptitiously into classrooms and dormitories?

The answer is "yes," not only at Harvard and Massachusetts Tech but also at Cornell, Columbia, Lehigh, Wisconsin, Purdue, Colorado School of Mines and Carnegie Institute where a group of young Russian engineers chosen in competitive examination, will study.

Reporters who sought strange looking Soviet students at Harvard and M. I. T. found instead 30 bareheaded youths with the air and attitude of any well-fed young men who might be entering college from any part of the United States.

Fear To Talk

That's the way they looked and the way they talked—that's another surprise. Instead of being eager for all comers to listen to the gospel of Communism, these students are almost afraid to open their mouths for fear something they may say will be interpreted as Soviet propaganda.

There were 53 Russian students in all shipped over here by the Soviet government to acquire the best that leading engineering schools of capialist America have to offer. They arrived in New York in care of the Amtorg Trading Corporation and within a few days, Cambridge had two-fifths of them.

The studies they are following at Harvard and Tech range from shipbuilding to railroading. Some will study electrical engineering, some will learn to build machines that the soviet now so expensively imports from industrial America.

Status Is Dangerous

They came to the United States on students' certificates which are revocable for any cause or for no cause at all by the American government. Their status is precarious and B. E. Skvirsky, representative in Washington of the Amtorg, was careful to impress Harvard and Tech officials that the boys should be protected from the exploitation of propagandists.

The officials remembered and the students themselves were as laden with instructions as a new secretary of embassy going to a foreign post. They were told to keep still, not to talk about Russia to anybody, to give no interviews and to have no talks with newspapermen. Opinions about the United States and Russia are not to be voiced. And to finish the instructions, they were reminded that it was safest to say nothing at all.

Who Said It's The Woman Who Pays And Pays And Pays

CHICAGO, Oct. 27 (AP)—Should the girl pay half the cost of the date? No—the reply coming en masse from the co-eds of the University of Chicago and of Northwestern university of Evanston, in reply to a suggestion made by President George Thomas of the University of Utah.

"Why should we?" asked June Mason, secretary of Northwestern university's junior class. "We never have, we never should, and we never will."

Five other co-eds asked the question at Northwestern and the University of Chicago gave, in effect, the same answers. Two of them added that their men friends want to pay the bill and wouldn't have it any other way.

And the cost, they agreed, is from $8 to $10 for the average date, including theater tickets, dining and dancing.

Serum Saves Life

As a result of the interest and perseverance of Dr. Frederick A. Hartman of Buffalo, above, in painstakingly preparing cortin, a serum obtained from the adrenal glands of cattle, Mrs. Andrew Nelson of Chicago, who is suffering from Addison's disease, is alive today. Dr. Hartman spent the better part of a day distilling the extract from the glands of 900 cattle. It then was rushed to Mrs. Nelson's bedside by airplane.

COTTON TRUCKS IN SECTION DELAYED

Failure of truck owners to obtain contract permits from the Texas railroad commission has resulted in delay in operations of several hundred cotton trucks on the South Plains between Plainview on the north and Midland and Big Spring on the south, J. H. Edwards, Tahoka field inspector, said.

"Most of these truck owners have applied for a permit to operate but there have been so many permits that the commission has not had time to hear the applications," Mr. Edwards said. "I think the trouble was so many waited until just the last minute before starting to haul cotton or cotton seed that the commission has not been able to handle the demand."

Until a short time ago, Mr. Edwards explained, the railroad commission was tied up with legal complications in the enforcement of new legislation governing truck operation. Under the law, farmers may operate their own trucks to haul their own cotton to a gin or to a compress or other place, but if they haul cotton for some one else, they have to have a permit, Mr. Edwards said. A good many truck owners have been doing a cooperative hauling business.

Truck owners holding state permits, either Class B or Class A, may haul cotton, as well as farmers who own trucks and who haul their own cotton or other products.

Twelve hundred or more permits are to be acted on at a meeting of the railroad commission in Austin beginning November 2, Mr. Edwards said. There will be a large number of applicants from this section before the commission then, he said.

City Hall At Big Spring Is Planned

A Lubbock firm of architects, Peters, Strange & Bradshaw, has sent final plans for a new city hall at Big Spring to the city commission there and November 17 tentatively has been fixed as the day on which bids will be opened.

The structure will consist of an auditorium, municipal office rooms, fire station, police headquarters and jail.

That's what you ought to use at home—every time you want throat comfort and protection from infection. Remember, every case of tonsilitis began with just a sore throat! Don't neglect any sore throat. Gargle with Bayer Aspirin at the first tickling felt. Take a couple of tablets for that headache that comes with a cold—for neuralgia, neuritis, or similar pain. # WESTERNERS, MATADORS PRACTICE FOR GAMES

SOUTHWEST CONFERENCE IS NEARING CLIMAX

LUBBOCK HIGH TO SEEK WIN BY PASSES

SECRET PRACTICE IS BEING CONDUCTED FOR PAMPA TILT

Lubbock's High school Westerners evidently plan to drop upon Pampa's Harvesters from above when the football teams come into contact at Pampa Saturday afternoon. Since the practice season started, Coach Chapman has been drilling his backs and ends on passes, long, shooting passes that, if completed, are good for gains of from 40 to 60 yards, for Gene Barnett can chunk 'em that far.

Against Odessa last Saturday afternoon those passes began to click for the first time this season. With that as a lead, the Westerners are working on them daily in practice this week with the probable intention of firing them at Pampa's Harvesters Saturday.

Workouts Secret

Beginning today, Coach Chapman will conduct secret workouts at the Fair Park field for the remainder of the week, or until Friday when the team will take its departure. No visitors are to be allowed on the field and Coach Chapman urges that cooperation be extended him by eager fans.

Race May Be Jumbled

Yesterday, as everyone knows, saw the inauguration of the final week of practice before two of District 1's big three teams have at each other in a contest that may mean much to the future of high school football in these and other parts. A Harvester victory will cinch the district flag for Pampa; should Lubbock win, Pampa will still be in the race until, perhaps after, Thanksgiving Day when Lubbock and Amarillo meet at Amarillo.

Aside from being the outstanding game in District 1 this week, the Pampa-Lubbock go will be one of the most important in the entire state. The eyes of Texas Interscholastic League football will be turned on Pampa, the winner of the game there sure to emerge as a strong candidate for state honors.

Prepare For Worst

By way of preparation, the Westerners are undergoing rigid workouts on the Fair Park field this week, shooting passes far and near as offensive practice and doing a big lot of blocking and tackling as defensive measures. Pampa possesses one of the swiftest backfields in the state, this being an important factor in the Harvesters' win over Amarillo. Lubbock's backs will stack up well in weight only, the Harvesters having had more experience and being blessed with faster legs.

CIRCUIT WILL BE INTACT

OKLAHOMA CITY AND TULSA ARE BARRED FROM TEXAS LOOP

WICHITA FALLS, Oct. 27 (AP)—J. Alvin Gardner, president of the Texas league, revealed yesterday Texas league club owners recently voted to bar Oklahoma City and Tulsa from membership in the Texas circuit.

Gardner explained balloting was performed in executive session with no attending publicity as requested by E. J. Humphries, secretary of the Oklahoma City club.

Affiliation Sanctioned

Humphries, according to the report, appeared before the league with a letter in which Western league club owners sanctioned the move of either Oklahoma City or Tulsa becoming affiliated with the Texas league.

Humphries, upon his return to Oklahoma City, was quoted as saying Texas league club owners "didn't even show me the courtesy of acting as if they were really interested in our proposition."

The interview added Humphries "figuratively had to force his way into the Texas league meeting, but finally got the floor."

"He was accorded every attention. After he had finished his talk and started from the room, I called him back to answer questions club owners might put to him and he sat with us to discuss the matter at length," Gardner said.

Gives Reasons

"His proposal was rejected because the Texas league feels it has a compact circuit composed of towns just as willing and able to support baseball as cities in Oklahoma. In addition, inclusion of Oklahoma towns would involve considerable transportation expense. Further, not including bargain day crowds, Oklahoma City last year drew an attendance of only 28,000," Gardner explained.

Gardner said the future of the Wichita Falls franchise was not discussed at the meeting. He denied reports that the Shreveport club lost "a young fortune in 1931 and positively would not operate in 1932."

"Shreveport didn't lose a nickel in 1931, and positively will operate next year," he said.

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY COLLIER PARRIS

Pinkey Lowrey, diminutive but thoroughly efficient business manager and general flunky for Lubbock High school, desires us to make it plain that reserved seat tickets for the Lubbock-Pampa game will be on sale at the Hotel Lubbock drug store until Friday morning and that after Thursday night they will be removed to Pampa.

• • •

It is suggested that you who anticipate making the trip to Pampa Saturday, whether by special train, automobile, airplane or horseback, buy your tickets before the window is closed. We are told that scalpers are more than likely to buy up all reserved seat tickets available and hold them for high price. Pampa is due to serve host to another large crowd of out of town fans Saturday. Amarillo fans may be even more common than Lubbock rooters, and there's a big gang going from here.

• • •

This column begs pardon for announcing last week that Slaton and Amarillo were to play a District 1 championship game at Amarillo. We were only going by the schedule released some several weeks ago in the Amarillo paper. We would like to know when the teams play.

• • •

They're getting ready out at Tech to make an invasion of Waco this week-end. The team and coaches leave Thursday afternoon, will work out at Abilene Friday morning, continue to Hillsboro Friday, spend the night there and sweep on into Waco Saturday morning. Making the trip in three jumps will eliminate part of the unpleasantness usually resulting from such a long hop.

• • •

Baylor's ball club was thoroughly scouted Saturday by Coach Cawthon, Dutchey Smith and Weir Washam, who are today and tomorrow running the varsity against the freshmen and reserves in heavy practice. "They have a powerful club down at Baylor, and don't let anybody tell you they haven't," Coach Cawthon said. "For the first half they whipped the Aggies' ears down something pitiful; outplayed them in every department of the game, but Bell kept sending in substitutes, making whole team substitutions in the last half until Baylor was just played out."

• • •

Baylor's entire varsity squad numbers 27 men. The first team is about as good as anybody's, Cawthon believes, but reserve power is nil. The Aggies overwhelmed the Bears with super power, squelching Baylor's aerial attack after it had worked wonders in the first half. At that, the Bears completed 14 out of 24 attempts. Three were intercepted.

• • •

Several days ago we were on the receiving end of a letter from a Lamesa fan in which we were berated right roundly for our apparent but unpurposeful neglect of the Lamesa Tornadoes. We advised him through this column that we would be glad to receive first hand information concerning the activities of the Lamesa team and thereby dubbed him as unofficial operative for this department. Now comes a second letter, one which gladdens the heart of one who desires nothing more than to give complete and accurate service. The report is four days late but none the less interesting. Part of it follows:

• • •

"Confidential report of secret operative No. X45833R After a belated arrival, the Andrews High school football team held the local squad to a comparatively close score of 45 to 0 here Friday. It was more or less a set up and at times was not even interesting.

"We hope that the Brownfield scouts got an eye full. The Lamesa pep squad sure gave them a big hand.

"Brownfield and Lamesa clash next Friday in what promises to be the Class B classic in this district. The game is scheduled to be played here. "Bonny Boy" Treadway, Red "Chile" Moore and Johnie Marr seem to be outstanding players in the Lamesa lineup. . . . Say, boss, please send me a pass to all football games, picture shows, et cetra."

• • •

Old man, if you'll send your name and address in the next report, we will mail you a card that should gain you admittance to any football game in your section. And any time you are in Lubbock, come around and we'll treat you to a press box seat. Note to all operatives in Brownfield, Idalou, Slaton, Littlefield, Ropes, Ralls, Amarillo, Roanoke and Bugscuffle, etc.: You've gotta show us something hot before the same offer is open to you.

• • •

Note to M. G. R.: There was no World Series in 1904. The New York Giants, who won the National league pennant, refused to play the Boston Red Sox, winners of the American League rag. To J. P. Step Lightly, with Keogh up, won the Belmont Futurity in 1920, navigating the 7 furlongs in 1:12 1-5.

PASS DEFENSE IS STRESSED FOR TECH

CAWTHON COHORTS TO MEET BAYLOR AT WACO SATURDAY

With two days left on the practice schedule before they embark on another long trip, the Texas Tech Matadors are centering attentions this week upon a pass defense which is hoped will put a stop to the Baylor University Bears' offense when the teams meet in Waco Saturday afternoon.

The game Saturday will mark the second invasion of Central Texas by the Matadors. In 1929 they went to Waco and were repulsed by a 34 to 0 count. Baylor has never played here, but according to the contract under which the teams play this year, Baylor comes to Lubbock next fall.

The game with Baylor is the second of two highly outstanding contests on the Tech schedule this season, and by winning it the Matadors may be rated as on an equal with the average Southwest Conference team. Baylor, anything but a favorite to win the conference championship this season, is nevertheless strong. Weak only in reserves, the first string of Bears has established itself as practically as powerful as any other in the loop.

But Tech's coaches saw plenty at College Station Saturday and they're back to tell the Matadors that it will take lots of "if" to uphold their noble standards at Waco this week. The game is the first on the last half of Tech's schedule. The first half saw Tech win four and lose one, already a better average than any Tech team in the past few years.

Tackles Moved Up

In practice yesterday, Bennie McWilliams and Truett Owens, demoted to the shock troops after a none-too-good showing against Haskell's Indians, were again running as tackles with the first lineup. Harold Crites, by his fine work against the Colorado College of Mines Friday night, was promoted to first string fullback position. Murray Nichols exchanged places with Crites, though Nichols, too, looked good against the Orediggers.

Following his previous examples, Coach Cawthon plans to start the shock troops against Baylor Saturday, sending the first line and backfield into the game as the second quarter rolls around.

Carnera-Levinsky Bout To Be Sought

CHICAGO, Oct. 27 (AP)—The Chicago stadium today opened negotiations for a 10-round bout November 17, between Primo Carnera and King Levinsky, the wild-swinging Jewish heavyweight from Chicago's west side.

The big hitch appears in the fact the Illinois State Athletic commission has refused to approve Carnera until he straightens out some trouble with the Italian Boxing union, the rulings of which are recognized by the National Boxing association. Carnera is said to have failed to fulfill a contract in Italy, and cannot be reinstated until he makes financial restitution to the promoters.

DEMPSEY GETS RING OFFER

MAY BATTLE CARNERA OR CAMPOLO IN GO AT MIAMI, FLA.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27 (AP)—If he's really serious about that comeback attempt, Jack Dempsey can have 40 per cent of the gate receipts for a match in Miami Fla., next February against either Victorio Campolo or Primo Carnera.

James J. Johnston, Madison Square Garden promoter, said he had been informed the old Manassa mauler was prepared to come east to discuss the proposition if necessary. Dempsey, preparing for a come-back with an extensive barnstorming tour of the far west, now is on a hunting trip in Nevada.

Observers here considered it unlikely Dempsey would accept the terms Johnston has offered, pointing out that the one-time heavyweight champion almost invariably in the past demanded and was given a guarantee. He probably would want half a million for a match against Carnera or Campolo who clash here Nov. 27.

Nevertheless, the Garden definitely is committed to a boxing show at Miami next winter. Johnston has been working for some time with a view toward getting Max Schmeling to defend his heavyweight title against Mickey Walker.

ARMY GRID STAR, KILLED IN YALE GAME, TO BE BURIED AT WEST POINT

WEST POINT, N. Y., Oct. 27 (AP)—Back to West Point today came Richard Brinsley Sheridan, jr., to find a last resting place with some of America's most distinguished soldiers.

The 21-year-old Army football star and honor student died in New Haven hospital late yesterday of a broken neck suffered late in the Yale game Saturday.

Services Tomorrow

Funeral services will be held in the Catholic chapel tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. Interment will follow in the West Point military cemetery where are buried General Winfield Scott, General George Custer, General Robert C. Anderson who was in command of Fort Sumter in '61, General George W. Goethals, builder of the Panama canal, and many another famous military figure of the past.

At the request of Sheridan's mother, services both at the chapel and cemetery will be private. The corps of cadets and officers of the post will attend.

In the general grief felt at the academy over Sheridan's death among cadets and officers alike, there was no disposition to talk, or even think, of what course the Army would pursue in regard to the games remaining on its 1931 football schedule.

But there was a distinct feeling that the team would "carry on" and play out a schedule that calls for games against Colorado college, Louisiana State, Pittsburgh, Ursinus, Notre Dame and Navy. It was pointed out that Army has contract obligations with these schools that hardly can be disregarded. In addition to the inconveniences done opponents, cancellation would involve about $1,000,000 in receipts. Final decision as to what course will be pursued rests in the hands of Major General William R. Smith, superintendent of the academy.

Twenty-two years ago the Army cancelled its schedule after the death in the Harvard game of 1909 of Cadet Ben Byrne.

MUSTANGS AND LONGHORNS TO MEET

PONIES ARE POINTING TO GAME WITH TEXAS STEERS SATURDAY

(By The Associated Press)

Southwest conference football will reach a climax at Dallas Saturday where the Southern Methodist Mustangs and Texas University Longhorns battle. Anticipating one of the hardest fought games in history of the conference, Coach Ray Morrison of Southern Methodist fired his boys through scrimmage yesterday following a talk from Russell McIntosh, line coach.

McIntosh, in part, said:

"There is not a man on this squad who hasn't got at least one good reason for wanting to beat Texas. I mean beat Texas bad. If there is a man without a substantial reason, I will give him, two. The first will be for our head coach who, from the very start, has pointed you for one game and one game only—the Texas Longhorns. Every play he has given you this season has been for Texas. The second reason is this. Texas made us look pitiful last year with a 25 to 7 victory. Remember, our game of games is next Saturday against Texas. Now if you want to put your everlasting determination to win into this game, let's see you really work in today's practice."

Longhorns Return

And that's how the Mustangs opened their practice yesterday in preparations for the Longhorns who were due to arrive in Austin today from Cambridge where they lost a 35 to 7 game Saturday to Harvard.

Worried by injuries to Foster Howell and Lon Evans, Coach Schmidt started yesterday driving his Texas Christians for their game Saturday at Fayetteville against the University of Arkansas. The Frogs, although defeated by Tulsa university in a non-conference game, are tied with Southern Methodist for the conference lead with one victory and no loss.

Texas Christian rules a heavy favorite. Boasting one of the biggest and best front walls in the conference, and a backfield that has revealed promise, the Frog strength is expected to beat down the Arkansas boys who have lost conference games to Southern Methodist and Baylor.

The Texas A. & M. Aggies and Baylor university Bears started practice yesterday for their non-conference games Saturday against Centenary and Texas Tech, respectively.

BIG TEN LOSES INTERSECTIONAL GRID CONTESTS

CHICAGO, Oct. 27 (AP) — The Western conference will be looking to Michigan and Iowa Saturday to pull it up even with the rest of the country in intersectional football.

In nine intersectional contests this season, Big Ten teams have lost five decisions, have won three and tied one. Iowa which has suffered two of the five defeats, appears about ready to win a game this week, with George Washington university of Washington, D. C., as its opponent, while Michigan, which seems to have recovered from its disappointing start, will be a long favorite over Princeton's Tigers.

Iowa has been beaten by Pittsburgh and Texas A. & M., Ohio dropped a hair-raiser to Vanderbilt, Yale crushed Chicago, and Pennsylvania upset calculations by trouncing Wisconsin last week. Wisconsin previously had earned a 7-7 draw with Alabama Poly.

On the other side of the ledger, Minnesota defeated Oklahoma Aggies, Northwestern walloped the University of California's southern branch eleven, and Purdue outpointed Carnegie Tech last Saturday.

Flyweight Champ Is Shorn Of Crown

PARIS, Oct. 27 (AP) — Frankie Genaro, New York veteran who for years has been recognized by the American National Boxing association as flyweight champion, has been shorn of his crown by a newcomer from Tunis, Young Perez.

Perez knocked out the American veteran in the second round of a 15-round title bout here last night and, barring complications now unforseen, will be recognized by the N. B. A. as champion. The N. B. A., although organized and operative in the United States, has working agreements with most of the organizations controlling boxing in Europe.

SMELLING TALK

LONDON—Besides presenting interesting sales arguments, future direct-mail promotion may exude pleasant odors calculated to place the prospect in a receptive mood. Scented ink is being experimented with in England with this view in mind, and if experiments prove successful it may be used extensively in the future for business and personal purposes.

COMISKEY RITES SET

CHICAGO, Oct. 27 (AP)—Funeral services for Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the Chicago White Sox, who died at Eagle River, Wis., Monday, will be held Thursday morning at 10 o'clock, from the Comiskey residence. Mass will be said at St. Thomas, the Apostle church.

Rather Be Man

CHICAGO—If you take it from Mary Garden, she would rather be a man than a woman. "Being a woman is fascinating but men have the better time," says the opera singer.

Laval Diplomatic

WASHINGTON — Premier Laval is a diplomat. An interviewer asked him, "what is your opinion of ice water as a cure. Mister Premier?" M. Laval shrugged his shoulders and laughed.

Pastor Feted

ITHACA, N. Y.—All the town's churches set Sunday aside to celebrate the 37th anniversary of the Congregational pastorate of the Rev. Frank B. Tobey of Danby, known as the "marrying pastor." ### Natives Behind

NEW YORK—New York's native white population is outnumbered 4 to 1 by white persons of foreign born parentage, the city census bureau reveals. The figures are 5,082,025 to 1,505,200. The Catholic population is estimated at 34.1 per cent and the Jewish at 27.1 per cent.

What A Game!

HAZLETON, Pa.—Jim Murray was refereeing the football game between Cranberry and Hazelton. A player gave him a punch. Murray let that pass. A little later another player gave him another punch which knocked Murray unconscious. When he came to he discovered the game had been awarded to Hazleton, 1-0, by the umpire.

Save Millinery

NAMPA, Ida.—Colonel and Mrs. Charles Lindbergh took several persons under their wings yesterday. Rain threatened the bonnets and frocks of women who had hurried out to greet the fliers who dropped in on their way eastward from Vancouver, B. C. The colonel invited them to avail themselves of the shelter of his plane's wings, and the day was saved for their millinery.

Represent Charity

CHICAGO — "We represent the charities," said one of two men, poking a pistol into the surprised ribs of J. A. Fish, finance corporation manager. "Give until it hurts." Fah contributed $287.

Some Baggage!

WASHINGTON. — When a premier of France comes for a brief call on the president of the United States he requires 12 trunks, 23 suitcases and a half a dozen hat boxes. So much luggage requires a "chef de baggage." When the luggage was delivered by truck, the chef de baggage sat atop it. He wore striped trousers and a formal morning coat.

Idea Popular

Renounces Title

DETROIT. — Mrs. Tamara Rybakoff has decided it is better to be just a plain, everday American citizen than a Russian princess—particularly now that there no longer are any practicing princesses in Russia. She is a princess of the house of Kropatkin, her first husband dying fighting the Bolsheviki. A son, Igor Prince Kropatkin, must wait until he's 21 before he can renounce his nobility.

DENVER REPLY TO EXCEPTIONS FILED

The Fort Worth & Denver City and Fort Worth & Denver South Plains railways' reply to exceptions of the Texas & Pacific and Texas & Pacific Northern lines, to a report by Examiner Weede of the interstate commerce commission on proposed construction of the T. & P. Northern road, was filed with the commission last week.

The Texas and Pacific Northern made application to build 333 miles of railroad from Big Spring north to Vega, with lines to Lubbock and Amarillo and touching a dozen towns. The hearing was held here last December and consumed nearly two weeks, with several hundred interested residents of this area here for the giving of testimony. Nearly 200 witnesses were heard.

In its reply the Fort Worth and Denver points out that the proposed expenditure of $13,000,000 to build the T. P. N. is not justified by the business which would accrue to that line. The proposed railroad would parallel existing lines and would take business away from them, the F. W. D. C. further argued. The T. P. N. would touch the Fort Worth and Denver South Plains at both Lubbock and Dimmitt.

CITY REVENUE IS HIGHER

MORE THAN EXPECTED FIRST SIX MONTHS RECEIVED HERE

A margin of $9,405.60 more than was expected in the first six months of the fiscal year beginning April 1 was designated in the city of Lubbock revenues total of $209,905.60 for the period as reported in a compilation by D. D. Martin, city auditor.

All funds available during the first half of the year, which ended September 30, totaled $252,067.26 including $42,775.68 cash balance at the beginning of the period.

Electric Plant Leads

The electric plant, with gross revenues of $97,139.98, lead the list of the city's income producers. The waterworks were second with a total revenue of $84,126.61. Last year, during the corresponding period the revenues were $92,500 and $77,500, respectively. A decrease of $2,684.24 in the amount of taxes collected during the first half of the fiscal year, in comparison with the same period of 1930, was shown. Total revenue from general taxes this year was $4,815.76.

Total expenditures during the period was $214,420.69, or $10,520.69 more than proposed. The expenditures were $155,120.84 for general expenditures, including maintenance expenses of the light plant and water works system and all city departments; $50,747.48 for capital outlay, and $8,466 miscellaneous, which included payment of notes and tax refunds.

A balance of $37,646.57 unappropriated was revealed in the report. This amount, city officials explained, represented a net saving to the city.

More oaks are planted along streets and roadsides of the U. S. than any other variety of tree. Maples rank second.

ADVERTISING PAYS

WAPELLA, Ill.—Jesse Coppenbarger believes in advertising. The day after all his chickens were stolen he placed an ad in the local newspaper stating that if the thieves returned they could also have the chicken coop. The next night the coop was stolen.

WOMEN who find themselves in a painful condition due to a run-down state of health should give Cardui a fair trial, for a reasonable length of time, as did Mrs. E. G. My mother told me she thought I should try Cardui. Soon after I began taking it I noticed an improvement, so I kept on until I had taken three bottles. By this time I was feeling so much better, the pain and soreness were gone."

TASTES SO GOOD • COSTS SO LITTLE!

ON GREENS

When the salad is served between the main course and the dessert, it should be appetizing, light and tart. It should not be too heavy. The fresh simple flavors of greens are most appropriate. Lettuce, endive, cucumbers; or cold vegetables, such as asparagus, Brussels sprouts or string-beans. These salads suggest a tart, stimulating dressing . . . Bachelor Club Dressing, Vinaigrette Dressing, or French Dressing.

To make French Dressing: Six tablespoons of Wesson Oil, one teaspoon of salt, one-fourth teaspoon of pepper, two tablespoons of lemon juice, a dash of paprika, and season to your taste.

ON FRUITS

Fruits, fresh or canned, have a more pronounced flavor than the simple greens. They call for a dressing less sharp, with perhaps a dash of sweetness or the tang of cheese, to encourage them to give us back their sunshine and full fresh flavor.

The next time you have a fruit salad, try this Cheese Dressing: Cream a three-ounce package of cream cheese with two tablespoons of Wesson Oil. Blend teaspoon of salt, one-fourth teaspoon each of white pepper and granulated sugar, two tablespoons Wesson Oil and two of lemon juice. Beat into the cheese until it becomes light and fluffy. Then dust with paprika.

FOR SEAFOOD

When salad is the main dish at a meal, as at luncheon let us say, and boasts the full flavor of lobster, crabmeat, or shrimp, the finished salad should be garnished with Lemonaise or Tartar Sauce, but the fish should first have been marinated.

*To marinate: Mix six tablespoons Wesson Oil and two tablespoons of vinegar. Add a teaspoon of salt, one-eighth teaspoon of pepper. Pour this over seafood and set aside in the refrigerator for several hours. Serve with Lemonaise.

Sauce for the Goose is... not always Sauce for the Gander

SOME things go well together—like cranberry with turkey, jelly with duck, mint with lamb. And some things do not. Nowadays when we make so many different kinds of salad no one salad dressing will suit every salad.

mix a dressing appropriate to the salad

For instance on crisp, cool greens, a tart dressing such as Vinaigrette Dressing. On fruit, try a sweet dressing such as Bar-le-Duc. Shrimp or fish, on the other hand, should always be marinated* in French Dressing and served with Lemonaise or Tartar Sauce.

WE WOULD like to send you with our compliments, a little book by Mary B. Murray on appropriate salad dressings—a book that not only suggests what dressings go with what salads, but which offers many helpful suggestions to the hostess as to correct salad service. Send your name and address to The Wesson Oil People, 210 Baronne St., New Orleans, La.

Thought For Today

But the very hairs of your head are all numbered.—Matthew 10:30.

* * *

To Dickens

One of the unexpected by-products of the business depression seems to be a revival of interest in the novels of Dickens.

Just why it should work out this way may not be clear, at first glance; but C. B. Roden, in charge of the Chicago Public Library, believes that the reading public, having troubles enough of its own, has turned its back on modern realism and is looking for release in the world of fantasy created by writers of a former generation.

Whether or not this may mean the downfall of the hard-boiled school of present-day writers, it is an interesting sidelight on the attitude with which the ordinary mortal turns to a piece of fiction.

When we read a novel we are, in effect, looking at the work through someone else's eyes. We suspend our own faculties while the novelist says to us, "This is the world as I see it. The people in it are like this, and things happen thus and so, and the meaning of it all is somewhat as follows."

If the novelist chances to be purblind and biased we close the book halfway through; but if he is a better and wiser man than we—as he should be, if he is going to thrust a novel on us—we take the world, for the moment, on his appraisal, and are glad to have the experience.

But in the last decade or so we have had a generation of writers who have refused to transmute the world for us. The world they have shown us is very much the world as we can see it for ourselves. We have finished their books little wiser than we began them. The surprising thing is that we have had to wait for the jar of a business depression to turn back to the old-timers like Dickens.

For Dickens, say what you will about him, saw a great many things in the world that most of us cannot see unaided. If he saw meanness and fraud and chicanery and rascality—as he did, in full measure—he also saw bravery and decency and idealism and faith; and he was able to believe that these latter qualities are, on the whole, more widespread and more important in the history of the face than the former.

It may be that we feel the need of that sort of optimism more now than we did a few years ago. And if we do it is only natural. For the world, in the long run, is apt to remember its optimists a little more gratefully than it remembers its pessimists.

Cock Robin

A writer in an influential business magazine complains that politics has revealed its utter incapacity for handling the problems raised by the depression. Indeed, he finds politics "one of the chief obstacles to an early recovery," because the business world is trembling with uncertainty over the relief measures which Congress will consider this winter.

All of this may be very true; but it would be quite possible to make out a good case for the exact opposite of this charge. No one can say that the political world has not given business a free hand in the last 12 months or so. The business leaders who have distinguished themselves by showing ability to bring back prosperity to the nation are not exactly too numerous to mention. If the approaching Congress does consider ill-advised remedial legislation, it will only be because the business world has had almost nothing in the way of a solution of its own to offer the public.

The Plainsman Says:

That Girl on Broadway says marriages may be made in Heaven but most of the arrangements are made in automobiles.

* * *

A Tech co-ed steered her car into the garage, narrowly missing the door corner and pulled to a stop.

"S'matter, miss", a sympathetic mechanic inquired.

"My dad says I've got a short circuit. Do you reckon you can do anything to lengthen it?"

* * *

DON'T be surprised if this column is filled up with a bunch of latin jawbreakers tomorrow because The Plainsman, notebook and pencil in hand, is going to get an earful of them tonight.

To make a long story short, he's been invited to the banquet and dance honoring the visiting members of the Physicians and Surgeons union, Northwest Texas division, and aims to be there with bells on and lard in his hair.

* * *

But all kidding to one side with the left hand, Lubbock ought to be proud to entertain the doctors of Northwest Texas, together with their distinguished speakers from Dallas, Oklahoma City and other seaport cities, because even if they do talk to us patients in an unknown tongue, they make up a pretty fine cross-section of our modern life after all.

The Plainsman doesn't believe there is a class or a profession under the shining sun (with the possible exception of newspapermen) who try any harder to do the right thing by humanity in general than these same doctors.

* * *

IT so happens that The Plainsman has several pretty good friends among the medicos in Lubbock and he has always noticed this:

No matter how late, how cold or how rainy it is, it's never too late or too nasty for them to rush to the aid of some ailing fellow—even when they know before hand that there's not a lousy dime to be collected from the call. That's the truth, if this column ever told it.

We kid the doctors in Lubbock about their prosperity—and there's little doubt but that as a whole they're the most prosperous group in town. But doggone it, they earn everything they get and a lot they don't get.

* * *

When your doctor friends are seen riding in their spanking new cars or pulling up before their spacious homes—as a letter writer to this column complained not so long ago—don't forget the worry, the work and the loss of sleep that went along with them, day in and day out, while they were waiting to collect the money to buy those cars and homes.

And don't forget that they'll drive those snappy cars on as many charity calls as they will on those caring for the 'cash customers'.

* * *

WE get pink at the doctors occasionally because they've got sense enough to do what only the bankers and the lawyers have sense enough to do—that is form a union so darned strong that you can't cut in on it with a pickaxe. We may cuss 'em for marching in lock-step; we howl to high heaven because of some of their time-honored, if not antiquated ethics that to the layman are so much fol-de-rol.

But gosh, how glad we are to see 'em when we're sick as a horse, or when little Willie falls off'n the front porch and breaks his arm! They look plumb perfect to us then because they're the fellows who can fix things up, even when everything's in a mess and it looks like "curtains."

* * *

Distinguished, scientific citizens, most of them are—good citizens in every way. And most of them have their eyes on the stars, hoping to benefit humanity by their administrations, rather than on the dollar sign like the rest of us.

Lubbock ought to be, and as far as The Plainsman knows, really is proud to play host to the 'sawbones'. Let's make 'em happy while they're here!

* * *

That Man on Avenue Q says it's a fine idea to stay on the gold standard if you've got anything to base the standard on.

* * *

HERE'S a new wrinkle. Here's a new wrinkle. It combines the teasing challenge of peewee gawf and a taste of the exercise to be derived from polo. They call it 'polo golf' and it has been invented by H. W. Wester, a Lubbock man transplanted from the mountings of Noo Mexico.

Over on the Lon Mullican property, surrounded by Avenues T and S and 4th and 5th streets, the first 'polo golf' links in the world has been laid out. The game is played from the hurricane deck of a cowpony with a polo ball and a mallet and all the gimcracks of a peewee gawf course have been arranged, such as bunkers, hazards, stovepipes and what-have-you. The 'holes' are mounds surrounding an automobile tire and there are nine of 'em. Par—which incidentally has yet to be equaled—is 26.

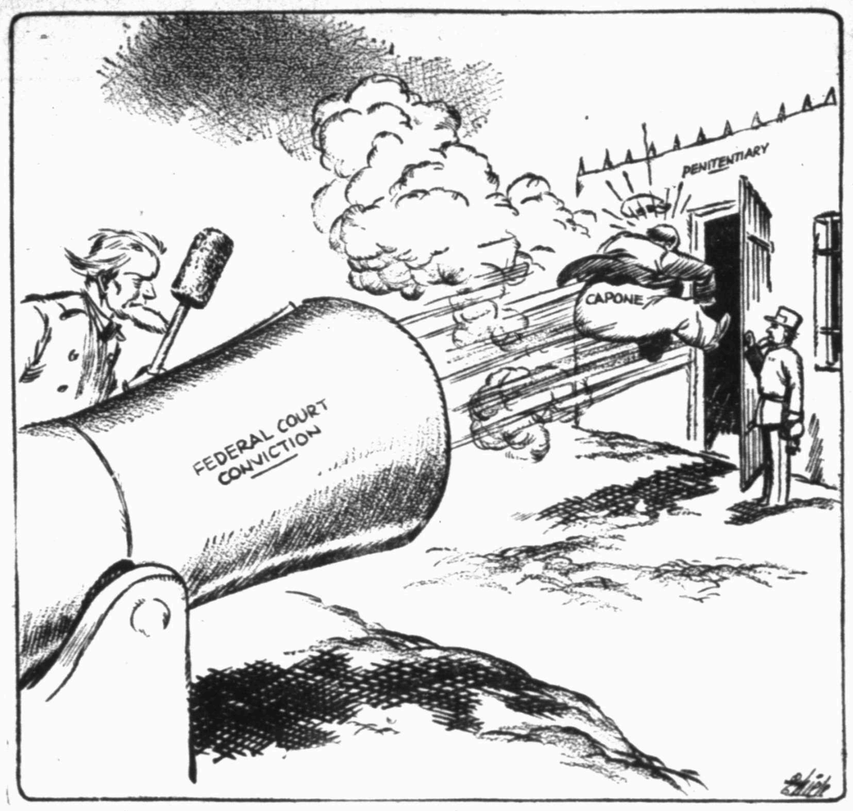

* * *

The Plainsman tried the game Sunday afternoon (but don't tell any of his favorite pastors) and found it great fun and exercise, especially for tired business men, like The Plainsman and Homer Grant, who have rapidly expanding middle-aged muscles.

This column's guess is that the game will wax popular throughout the rest of the warm weather and will blossom into real popularity next spring.

It's something different and 'something different' always appeals to a jaded, present-day citizenry.

Facts And Figures On Almost Everything From 2-Pants Suits To Goldfish Available In Department Of Commerce

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Some years ago it began to be observed that pants wear out quicker than coats and today two-thirds of the suits sold are two-pants suits.

Authority for that: The Department of Commerce.

DUTCHER

You can find out almost anything over there, thanks to the great fact-finding organization built up by Mr. Hoover when he was a cabinet member. Get curious about the popularity of the two-pants suit, for instance, and they will cite you a survey showing that last season 67 per cent of suits sold were two-panted, and that 47 per cent of all suit buyers ask specifically for such suits.

Besides its own statistical and factual research, the department culls facts and figures from all the trade associations, many commercial organizations and the other government bureaus.

People eat more green vegetables than formerly, but how much more? Well, consumption of green foods has doubled in the last seven years. Consumption of stored root vegetables—potatoes, turnips adn things like that—has declined proportionately.

Why do drug stores offer an increasingly varied line of merchandise? One reason is that the average drug store is visited by far more customers per day than any other type of store. The National Drug Store Survey in St. Louis indicates that five times as many people visit a drug store daily as enter the average food store. Only a very few drug stores in the country can get along by filling prescriptions. "Most druggists," says Wroe Alderson, director of the survey "will be forced to become merchants to an increasing degree."

This probably isn't frightfully important, but the raising of goldfish for the market has now become a million-dollar-a-year industry.

Research experts of the restaurant industry—a $2,600,000,000-a-year business—report that:

One of every four city inhabitants eats at least one restaurant meal a day.

Restaurants get six per cent of every consumer's dollar and 18 per cent of every out-of-town visitor's dollar.

There's a restaurant for every 859 persons in the "urban United States."

Restaurants buy $1,165,000,000 worth of food products a year.

Of every dollar you pay the restaurant man he spends 45 cents for food.

The annual replacements rate for restaurant china is 48 per cent and the annual glassware replacement is 250 per cent.

The commerce experts all stress the fact that American business is now giving more respectful, earnest attention to the consumer than ever before. They cite, as indicating present-day consumer reactions, statements of Paul H. Nystrom, Columbia University's professor of marketing, which may be summarized as follows:

American consumers are demonstrating growing sensitiveness and unrest toward retail stores, prices charged, qualities and styles offered and service rendered.

Hand-to-mouth buying seems to be increasing.

Consumers object to high-pressure selling.

Advertising appeals offering aids to youthful appearance, beauty and health still get across.

Diet and Health

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D., Author of "THE HUMAN BODY"

EDITOR'S NOTE: Six pamphlets and six articles by Dr. Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin for each pamphlet and 2 cents in coin for each article, with a self-addressed, stamped envelope, to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper, or Central Press Association, 1434 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are "Reducing and Gaining," "Feminine Hygiene," "Indigestion and Constipation," "The Care of the Hair and Skin," "Infant Feeding" and "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes." The articles are "Normal Diet," "List of Books for Mothers," "Bed Wetting," "Diet of the Expectant Mother," "Ear Troubles" and "Tuberculosis."

BLOOD COUNT

MUCH OF THE mystery which seems to exist in patients' minds concerning the pronouncements of their physicians would probably be dispelled if they understood exactly how the results were obtained.

Dr. Clendening

Take, for instance, the question of blood counting. The physician has his laboratory assistant stick your finger or your ear with a needle and obtain a drop of blood. This is sucked up into a peculiar looking tube, which the assistant carries into the laboratory, and in the course of time the physician says:

"Your red cells are four million and your white cells five thousand."

What does this mean? It helps some that the doctor says that is "about normal." But you sometimes wonder how accurate such statements can be, how much dependence can be put on them. What maneuvers does the assistant go through to obtain this knowledge?

The procedure is quite simple and extremely accurate. The principle depends on the fact that a drop of undiluted blood is so crowded with cells that it would be impossible to count them under the microscope. The method then is to dilute (or separate) the cells until you can count them and then multiply by the number of times you have diluted them to get the actual number of cells in an actual drop.

The little tubes into which the blood is sucked for making this test are very accurately calibrated so that an extremely minute amount of blood can be measured off. After the blood is drawn up into the tube it is diluted very accurately with another solution. As there are two kinds of blood cells—the red and the white—two different solutions are used to dilute the two different blood specimens obtained.

The first solution used for counting the red cells is simply salt solution. A one to two hundred dilution is usually made. Then a small drop of the diluted blood is put on a microscopic slide. This slide is especially made for the purpose and is the most delicate part of the apparatus. It is ruled off in squares so small that the lines cannot be seen with the naked eye, but very evenly and exactly just the same. When placed on this slide the blood cells are enclosed in a chamber of definite though microscopic dimensions, and the individual cells are distinct and far apart and can be counted very readily under the microscope.

By counting the blood of many thousand—indeed many million—human beings in this way, it has been found that the number of red blood cells in health is remarkably constant. It varies slightly from infancy to old age and between men and women. But in general there are about five million per cubic milimeter. If there is any wide variation from this standard it means some kind of disease.

The solution used for diluting the white cells is acetic acid, the virtue of which, for this purpose, is that it dissolves all the red cells, leaving only the white. As the red cells are far more numerous than the white, their presence would entirely obscure the latter, so the advantages of a solution which will dissolve them is obvious. The same general methods are followed in counting the white cells after dilution as in counting the red.

Just as by counting many thousands of healthy people, the constant number of red cells was found, in the same way the number of white cells has been found very regularly to be five thousand per unit of one common measurement. Any great deviation from that means some abnormality in the body.

Local Architects Plan Sanitorium

Construction of a two-story dormitory at the state tuberculosis sanitorium, 12 miles north and west of San Angelo, is anticipated in plans and specifications sent the state board of control by Peters, Strange & Bradshaw, Lubbock architects, for approval.

The building will cost about $90,000 it is said. It is to be used for those persons who are making progress in recovery. There will be 60 rooms in the structure and it will be modern in every respect.

IN NEW YORK with Gilbert Swan

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Famous folk, it would seem, are not quite as well known as they thought they were.

In New York, for instance, there are groups ranging from actors to writers who are catalogued as celebrities; yet half the people of the metropolis never heard of them. And outside of New York—well, they don't even count.

One of the most amusing commentaries on fame I have stumbled over in some time may be found in statistics based on a questionnaire sent out by Variety, the theatrical publication. With its tongue in its cheek and its sense of the ironic in its intent, this periodical made up a selected list of actors, authors, statesmen, radio folk, movie queens, gangsters, pugs and poets. This list was sent to several hundred dwellers in Chicago. The recipients of the list were stenos, insurance agents, doctors, chambermaids, chorines, school teachers and kindred folk who can be said to represent the rank and file of any population.

And you'd be surprised! In fact, you will be surprised!

* * *

Of course, you may have expected the movie figures to be best known of all—and many of them were. Joan Crawford, John Barrymore, Billy Dove, Ruth Chatterton et al. were well at the head of the list. And since the poll was taken in Chicago, you might expect Al Capone and Jake Lingle to be pretty well known!

But there is something funny about Legs Diamond and Patty Arbuckle being known to more people than Gandhi, Sinclair Lewis or Bernard Shaw.

And Floyd Gibbons, who was advertised as such a demon radio spieler! His name appears well down toward the end of the list!

About 50 per cent of the voters didn't know who he was. Arthur Brisbane may well get a start at noting that while 164 persons voted, only 8 knew about him and 76 didn't.

Vincent Astor, with all his millions, was known to but 44 out of 176. And just to show you that polo can't be such a much in Chicago, only 14 people had seemed to know that Devereaux Milburn was alive.

On the other hand, Bill Hart, although out of the picture for many a day, runs even with Bobby Jones and Mussolini and well ahead of Aimee McPherson Hutton, Bill Tilden and Benny Leonard.

* * *

Not the least interesting aspect of this poll was the relatively slight acquaintance of the voters with prominent radio folk. To be sure, Amos and Andy were not on the list. But Clara, Lu and Em were, and so were the sponsors of several big programs. And they ran well under the movie favorites.

Almost everyone seemed acquainted with Buddy Rogers, Marlene Dietrich the Ringling Brothers, Ina Claire, Bill Powell, Lupe Velez, Ann Harding and other filmdom figures.

But Charles Schwab, whose name was presumed to shine so brightly in the business world, has somehow failed to reach the attention of most icemen, clerks, secretaries and such.

Still, I was told by an attache of Variety, that many lawyers, shopkeepers, bank clerks and dentists gave the most amazing replies. Six people thought Brisbane was an English statesman attached to Parliament. And Einstein was guessed as a film director and a musician. Robert Edeson was confused by many with Thomas Edison, and Charles Evans Hughes was dismissed by one as a "guy with a beard." By the way, it sounds like a good game—why not try it on your own home town?

THE PLAINSMAN GETS SOME MAIL

SUBJECT OF 'MAD STONES' BOBS UP AGAIN

Dear Plainsman: "So in closing this incident of the 'mad stone' The Plainsman admits his ignorance and yet is happy over having learned something".

Now "ain't" that just so sweet? The Plainsman has learned something. Oh, yeah! He has learned that anything that he can kick up a fuss about is plenty good for the circulation of the Avalanche-Journal publications. The Plainsman is far too shrewd to be misled in regard to "mad stones", "gall stones" or any other kind of stones, including those that produce a musical, clinking sound when dropped into his capacious pocket.

I would like to have a picture of The Plainsman hotfooting it in search of a "mad stone" in the event that he should ever engage in combat with a hydrophobia cat, if indeed such an animal is in existence.

It is indeed surprising, the number of ignorant or uninformed people living in this so-called enlightened age, "Mad stones", Ho! Ho! and a couple of Ha, Ha's!

The Plainsman is to be censored for preying on the superstitions of these good people, who are not to be blamed for their benighted ignorance.

Instead of agitating and spreading such ridiculous propaganda, The Plainsman should give scientific facts, and not what somebody's great uncle's aunt (who heard her grandfather tell about the "mad stone") has to say in regard to the matter.

More power to The Plainsman! But let him use it to promote science and truth and not ignorance and superstition.

Yours very truly,
I. M. Skeptical,
Lamesa.

(Dear Skep: As a matter of fact, it is true that had never before heard of a 'mad stone' but even if I had been 'pulling a fast one' don't lose sight of the fact that it is my business to promote interest in the Avalanche and Journal. As far as the 'scientific facts, are concerned, I'll print them if you send them in in 500 words or less. And when you characterize all people who believe in 'mad stones' as 'ignorant'—boy, you don't know how much territory you're covering and how much real horse sense is included in that same territory. But write me again sometime. I enjoyed your letter. The Plainsman.)

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 27 (AP) — Cotton had rather an easier opening today, notwithstanding that Liverpool cables were better than due. First trades here showed losses of four points and prices continued to ease after the start, due to a continued reactionary feeling attributed to the continued good weather in the belt, the heavy ginnings and fears that the government might further raise its estimate of the crop.

These considerations caused further liquidation by recent buyers. December traded down to 6.52, January to 6.62, and March to 6.75, or 6 to 8 points below yesterday's close.

Near the end of the first hour, the market showed a slight tendency to rally and recovered 2 to 3 points from the lows.

The market ruled quiet all morning, there being a great dearth of outside orders. Prices fluctuated narrowly although at one time they rallied on a little buying that came into the market, December advancing to 6.62, January to 6.70 and March to 6.84, up 8 to 10 points from the early lows and 2 points above yesterday's close.

The demand was soon supplied however and prices eased again, losing 6 points from the highs by noon.

Traders seemed to be still impressed with a belief that the next government estimate will show a further increase in the crop.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 27. (AP)—Cotton opened barely steady today at a decline of 6 to 8 points under Liverpool, due to southern and continental selling which was promoted by favorable weather and prospects for increased receipts. December sold off to 6.51 and March to 6.74, or about 8 to 10 points net lower.

Offerings were taken by covering and trade buying while the decline seemed to attract some commission house buying. The selling tapered off after the first few minutes and prices stiffened up within 2 or 3 points of yesterday's closing quotations by the end of the first half hour.

Livverpool cables said hedging had been absorbed by trade calling and covering in that market and reported a fair business in cotton yarns and cloths for both the home trade and export.

The market held generally steady later in the morning. Liverpool was reported a good buyer here on the differences and after the close of the English market prices sagged off a few points, but offerings were light and the list soon stiffened up again on covering and trade buying. At midday December was selling around 6.59 and March 6.84, or about net unchanged to 2 points lower.

NEW ORLEANS OPEN

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 27 (AP) — Cotton futures opened barely steady Dec. 6.56; Jan. 6.64; March 6.77; May 6.98; July 7.16.

NEW YORK OPEN

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 27. (AP)—Rails lead another decline in the stock market today. Trading was still quiet but a little more active than yesterday.

Illinois Central, whose directors met for dividend action, sagged more than 2 points to a record new low. Baltimore and Ohio, Norfolk & Western and New York Central lost about 3 and most carriers were down at least a point. Utilities and chemicals also showed group heaviness, American Telephone losing nearly 3 and Allied Chemical and Air Reduction more than 2. U. S. Steel, American Can, National Biscuit, International Harvester, Westinghouse and American Tobacco "B" were off 1 to nearly 2.

Call money renewed at 2 1-2 per cent.

Grain Market

CHICAGO PRICES

CHICAGO, Oct. 27. (AP)—Grain prices underwent early setbacks today. The chief apparent factor was a letup in recent aggressive buying. Opening at 3-8 cent decline to 1-8 advance, wheat afterward sagged all around. Corn started unchanged to 1-2 off and subsequently showed a general drop.

SUPPORTS AMARILLO

AMARILLO, Oct. 27. (AP)—Frank A. Seiberling, tire manufacturer, Monday pledged his support to Amarillo's campaign to have the proposed ZRS-5, sister ship of the navy's dirigible Akron, named "The Amarillo." ## Former Dry Agent Given Three Years

HOUSTON, Oct. 27. (AP)—Former federal prohibition Agent George H. Wilkins was sentenced Monday to three years in federal prison at Atlanta for extortion and bribery.

He was convicted in United States court by a jury Friday. Judge T. M. Kennerly imposed three year sentences on each of three counts upon which Wilkins was convicted, but decided the sentences would be concurrent.

Wilkins, who acted as an agent here in 1926, is wanted in Tombstone, Arizona, on a swindling charge, the United States marshal's office said.

Prosecution testimony in the trial was to the effect Wilkins used his authority to "shake-down" local bootleggers. Wilkins claimed he was "framed."

Haymes, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, will officiate. Burial will be in Lubbock cemetery.

Monoxide Cocktail Is Latest Drink

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27 (AP)—Discovery that gas can be used for something besides light and heat was made by police Monday.

Officers started to arrest a man for being drunk, and he chided them gently.

"No liquor on breath," he said. It was true.

"Well how come you're all twisted around a lamp-post like this?" the officers asked.

"Jush a little monoxide cocktail," the drunk explained. "Take a glass of water, hose on the gas tap, and turn on gas, which runs through the water. Then drink the water and it knocks you cuckoo, cuckoo."

Officers agreed it did.

Violence Feared In Disappearance

JACKSON, Ga., Oct. 27. (AP)—The strange disappearance of four men who started across Ocmulgee river lake in an outboard motorboat Sunday has led officers to believe violence may have played a part in the mystery.

Sheriff W. D. Pope of Butts county said he had been unable to discover a motive for violence but he was convinced the boat of the men had not overturned and he suspected foul play.

The missing are Bernard Gaston, 26, East Point, Ga., C. C. Smith, Atlanta, and Lucien Grimes and Willie Willis, both negroes.

School Teachers At Chicago To Get Pay

CHICAGO, Oct. 27. (AP)—Cash for part of the salaries due the 12,000 Chicago school teachers, payless since April, was on its way to the city treasury today.

Officers of the Chicago Surface lines voted to buy $2,250,000 worth of the tax anticipation warrants.

The money, expected by city officials to be available within a few days, will be split between the city treasury and the school board. At least $562,000 will go into the delayed pay envelopes for teachers.

audience for their performances. Miss Brady is the only member of the cast who appears in every act of the play. All critics praised her performance as the greatest in her long career.

The scene of "Mourning Becomes Electra" is placed in a New England seacoast village. The Mannon family overshadows the town, and itself is overshadowed by death.

The play is marked by the morbid, introspective characterizations seen in most O'Neill works. The revealing scapel of his pen exposes so many abhorent and depressing human traits that the audience was stunned into several moments' silence at the final curtain before it began an ovation that lasted for fully ten minutes.

Former Deacon Is Tried In Slaying

COLORADO SPRINGS, Oct. 27. (AP)—Roy G. King, former church deacon, and Glenda King, his daughter, have denied from the witness stand responsibility for the death of Lewis J. Palmer, 19, and directed attention again to an unidentified hobo.

King, on trial for murder, testified yesterday he was at home in bed at the time Palmer was shot as he sat with Glenda in a motor car parked on the shore of Prospect lake the night of July 20.

Rare Coffees from Central America

Twice the Richness . . . Twice the Flavor

(WIDE WORLD)
From Lofty Mountain Plantations Mules Carry These Coffees to Town.

(COLLIER PHOTO)
A Folger Coffee buyer tries on a Native costume. One huge leaf makes a top coat.

Coffees That Experts Concede Are Not Duplicated Anywhere Else in the World

HAVE you tasted it yet? This rare flavor in coffee that people everywhere are talking about.

It comes from tiny mountain districts along the West Coast of Central America. A region where Nature produces coffees that, experts concede, are not duplicated anywhere else in the world. Coffees with a rare tang and mellow, rich body that spoils your taste for ordinary kinds. Coffees that are never "flat," or thin, or bitter. Coffees from which Nature leaves out the "rough", offensive oils.

Introduced by Folger

Years ago this coffee was first served in the famous Bohemian restaurants of San Francisco where it was introduced by Folger. Travelers tasting it there were captivated by its unusual flavor. Flavor produced by a peculiar combination of rich volcanic soil, altitude, sun's rays and tropic rainfall—that is found nowhere else in the world.

The Folger Test

Would you like to see for yourself just how different these coffees are—in richness and in flavor? Here's a test that is as simple as it is fair.

Tomorrow morning drink Folger's. The next morning drink the coffee you have been using. The third morning drink Folger's again. In a morning or two you will decidedly favor one or the other; the best coffee wins. That's fair, isn't it?

A delayed hearing before City commission on a proposed ordinance which would reduce the natural gas rate here will begin at 1:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon at City hall, counsel for the City and the West Texas Gas company have agreed, City Attorney E. L. Klett said Monday night.

Attorneys C. C. Crenshaw and George Dupree will represent the gas company at the hearing. The meeting was deferred until a later date last Thursday due to the absence of Mr. Klett from the city.

The proposed ordinance would set a maximum rate of 55 cents a thousand cubic feet within the city limits, compared to the present rate of 67 1-2 cents per thousand for the first 6,000 cubic feet and 57 1-2 cents a thousand cubic feet for all gas consumed over that amount up to 50,000 cubic feet.

Pastor and Wife Reconciled

Ending a divorce suit which had attracted national attention because of the prominence of her husband and the unusual nature of the charges, attorneys for Mrs. Ellen M. Noe announced unexpectedly in court that she had effected a reconciliation with her husband, Dean Israel H. Noe of St. Mary's Cathedral, Episcopal, at Memphis, Tenn. Mrs. Noe, who charged her husband had neglected his home life because of his zeal for religion, is shown here with Dean Noe as they appeared together for the first time in eight months.

WELFARE FUND IS ORDERED

APPROPRIATIONS ARE MADE BY CITY AND COUNTY DADS

County Commissioners court and City commission met jointly Monday afternoon and the county group appropriated $1,000 and the city $500 for operation of the United Welfare association, formerly the County-City Welfare association.

The fund will be used to meet bills for October and following months. County Judge E. L. Pitts said no special budget had been set for the association and that appropriations would be made from time to time to meet the organization's expenses.

Only a few applications for aid were filed with Miss Evelyn Richter, secretary, during the month of October, the county judge said, indicating virtually all of the able-bodied workers had some kind of employment.

Accounts of the association will be closely audited and will be open to public inspection at all times, the county judge said.

At its regular meeting Monday, the commissioners' court agreed to allow the towns of Slaton and Idalou to use steel, taken from the old county jail, for construction of cells in the two municipalities.

Eaton Advises On Treating Of Wheat

Responding to inquiries about the best method of treating wheat seed for smut, D. F. Eaton, Lubbock county farm agent, said directions for types of treatment were available at his office in the courthouse.

"Every farmer who expects to plant wheat should treat his seed for smut," Mr. Eaton said. "It only costs a few cents a bushel to do it, but the farmer will lose several times that amount on each bushel he harvests, if smut gets into the seed next harvest."

MUSTN'T READ

NOBLESVILLE, Ind.—Should a mother of 16 children have time to read books? That's the question the local library board is considering. Ralph Roudebush, farmer, asked the board not to issue books to his wife or any other member of his family. "A woman who has 16 children to care for has no time for books," Roudebush explains.

Soft water keeps clothes white

HARD water always leaves clothes gray, no matter how much you wash and rinse. Hard water has something in it with which the soap combines. Scum forms at once. This scum gets into clothes. You never can rinse it all out.

Soften hard water with Mel'o and you have a very fine cleaner, with or without soap. Scum doesn't form in this water. Clothes washed in it are as white as snow. Mel'o gives soap more effect on clothes. Get a can of Mel'o today at your grocer's.
