

Countians Approve Veterans Land Bill Amendment

A four-to-one approval was given the veterans' land fund proposal by county voters in the special election held Thursday, November 7, although the total number voting was less than half those who voted in the general election two days earlier.

Approval was likewise given the measure by the state as a whole. The vote here was 222 to 53.

A complete report of the general election was made by the county clerk's office late last week, after muddy roads had prevented reports from some of the smaller boxes from reaching here in time for last week's Leader.

County voters approved the first and third proposed amendments, concerning the John Tarleton College appropriation and the road fund, as did voters of the entire state, whereas this county voted against the state employee pensions amendment, although it carried over the state by almost a two-to-one vote.

There was little interest stirred by the election in traditionally Democratic Texas, although the Republican party gained control of Congress.

A total of approximately 750 votes were cast in the general election in the county, with around 700 voting for Democratic candidates and 50 for Republican.

The county vote in the various races with the candidates listed Democratic and Republican respectively, follows:

Senator: Tom Connally, 677; Murray C. Sells, 70.

Governor: Beauford Jester, 694; Eugene Nolte Jr., 58.

Lieut. Governor: Allan Shivers, 681; John A. Donaldson, 59.

Attorney General: Price Daniel, 692; H. L. Ratliff, 52.

Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, Place 1: John L. Sharp, 691; Howell Ward, 50. Place 2: Graham B. Smedley, 691; S. D. Bennett, 52. Place 3: J. E. Hickman, 690; Andrew Longaker, 49.

Judge of the Court of Criminal Appeals: Tom L. Beauchamp, 693; H. L. McCune, 46.

Railroad Commissioner: Olin Culbertson, 689; Frank L. Blankenbuckler, 49.

Comptroller of Public Accounts: George H. Sheppard, 690; Tom V. Freeman, 48.

Coyotes Multiply as Trapping Falls Off In County Section

County farmers say the wolf is at the door, and he's very much alive!

Although the county maintains a state trapper, the number of coyotes, as well as other wild animals in the area, now exist in larger numbers than at any time in recent years.

Polly O'Neil, manager of the Hughes Estate, and a former game warden of this district, attributes the increase in numbers to the fact that there has been considerably less trapping on the part of individual farmers during the war years than previously.

Depredations on chicken and turkey flocks, and among young calves of farmers and ranchmen are to be expected if the number of coyotes remains large.

Baumgardner Will Speak at Vocational Ag Teachers Meet

Marion Baumgardner of Wellington, nationally known young member of the Future Farmers of America, will be one of the speakers at the convention of the South Texas Vocational Agriculture Teachers when it convenes in McAllen December 13 and 14. An attendance of 150 is expected.

Mr. Baumgardner, now a student in Texas Tech, recently completed his term of office as national vice-president of the FFA.

Quail Artist Sees Subjects in Everyday Farm Operations

Mrs. Walter Starr, Quail artist, can see subjects in the common place—a tractor plowing in a field, a cotton gin, or a stretch of road with native shrubs.

Her latest shows five driverless tractors plowing on the F. O. Masten farm. It is now on exhibit in the display window of the Sullivan and Son.

Mill Iron Bulls Are Chosen for North Carolina Improvement Plan

Rocket B Team To Hold Grid Spotlight Thurs.

The younger Rockets, who will make Class A football news next year and the year after, will hold the sports spotlight here this week since the Skyrockets have an open date this week.

The B team, backed by some of the reserve members of the A squad who have seen little action this season, will play the Quana Indian B team here Thursday night, November 14.

The game will begin at 7:30.

The two teams met earlier in the season, with the Papooses winning 36 to 6. It's a stronger and more experienced Wellington team, however, that is out to turn the tables this week, and Coach Bob Percival predicts that in addition to giving the football fans a chance to see their future Rockets in action, the boys will do some playing that will be a credit to the school.

The public is urged to attend, and the small admission charge will go to buy letters for the boys.

One more home game has been scheduled for the B team, with Estelline on Thursday, November 21. This is the town that has only 47 boys enrolled in high school and 36 of them are playing football. Prior to this year, Estelline played 6-man football rather than the regulation 11-man game.

Relative of City Woman Killed

Mrs. Marvin Smith of Lefors, step-mother of Mrs. Walter Hagler of Wellington, was fatally injured at 9:30 Thursday night, November 7, in a head-on collision about three and one-half miles northwest of Lefors.

In the other car involved in the accident were two former Wellington men, J. L. Anderson of Craig, Colo., and his brother-in-law, Bill Moseley, of Pampa.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith and his sister, Mrs. Ella Terry of Cee Vee, were returning to Lefors from Pampa where Mr. Smith was a lay delegate to the Northwest Texas Methodist Conference. Mr. Anderson and Mr. Moseley were traveling north en route to Pampa.

Mrs. Smith died on the way to a Pampa hospital from chest and other possible injuries. Mr. Smith received hospital treatment but was released, while Mrs. Terry was more seriously injured. Mr. (Continued on Page Eight)

Bulls from the fine Mill Iron registered Hereford herd will go a long way toward helping vocational agriculture boys of North Carolina improve their beef cattle, it was revealed by the Wellington office of the Hughes Estate following the delivery of 50 animals late last week.

The sale was made to Sears Roebuck and Co. and will be used in one of that company's programs to help farm youths of the country in improving their livestock.

This was not the largest single purchase of Mill Iron bulls made at the annual sale November 4, however, since 75 animals were delivered to the Diamond A Ranch at Artesia, N. M.

The remainder of the 181 animals went to commercial ranchers who operate on a smaller scale, the men whom Lafayette M. Hughes had in mind when he began his registered Hereford program that would enable him to sell truly outstanding individuals at a fraction of the price usually paid.

Section of the bulls for Sears, Roebuck and Co., was made by T. H. Stafford, Ashville, N. C., district supervisor of agricultural education in North Carolina; E. J. Whitmore, a vocational agriculture teacher in Franklin, N. C.; and W. C. Greenway of Atlanta, Ga., a representative of Sears Roebuck. The 50 young bulls have been shipped to Raleigh, N. C., where they will be groomed and fitted, and a special program will be held on the day they are distributed to various schools in that state to be used in the beef cattle improvement work.

Plans are now being made to bring these Mill Iron animals together again when they are shown at the North Carolina State Fair in the fall of 1947.

Although a beef cattle program has not been used in the county by Sears Roebuck, its work among the farm youth is already known, since vocational agriculture boys have received registered gilts under a hog improvement program, and other boys have attended Texas Technological College on scholarships offered by that company.

Quail Prospects Above Average

Quail hunters are oiling their guns and collecting shells for what promises to be the best hunting season most of them have enjoyed for the last five years.

The Quail season opens December 1 and will continue through January 16.

Lots of Quail have been reported over the county, although more birds were to be seen during the summer months than in recent weeks. It is generally regarded, however, that this season will be above average.

The state game laws provide that if a shot gun is used, it must not be larger than 10 gauge and must be permanently plugged so that it will hold no more than three shells.

The bag limit is 12 birds per day or 36 in one week, and the possession limit is 36 birds.

In addition to county hunters who find their Quail on their own and friend's farms, a number of visiting hunters are expected in Collingsworth during the season.

Methodist Pastors Are Returned to City Appointments

Rev. C. C. Armstrong was returned to the pastorate of the Wellington Methodist Church and Rev. C. D. Dameron to the Wellington circuit by the Northwest Texas Methodist Annual Conference which closed in Pampa Sunday afternoon, November 10. Both are beginning their second year here, although Rev. Dameron served as circuit pastor about 10 years ago.

The two other pastors of county churches, Rev. Hugh Blaylock and Rev. Vernon Willard, were transferred. Rev. Blaylock, pastor of the Dodson and Fresno churches since his release from the Chaplain's Corps of the Army earlier in the year, was sent to Earth. Rev. Willard goes to Tuscola in the Abilene District.

Rev. O. C. Evans will succeed Rev. Willard on the Shamrock circuit, while the Dodson church is yet to be supplied.

Appointed to serve as the superintendent of the Clarendon District was Rev. T. M. Johnson, pastor of the Wellington Methodist Church about 12 years ago. He succeeds Rev. E. D. Landreth, who was named superintendent of the Amarillo District.

Rev. Hubert Thomson, who preceded Rev. Armstrong here, was returned to the pastorate of the Canyon church, while his son, Carleton Thomson, just entering the ministry, will serve the Hereford Mission.

Among the other former Wellington pastors, Rev. E. E. Bowen, who has been pastor of the First Methodist Church in Pampa, was (Continued on Page Five)

Dodson School to Reopen Nov. 18

The Dodson School will reopen Monday morning, November 18, following the cotton picking vacation, Supt. T. E. Lennan has announced.

One new teacher, H. C. Yarbrough, has been employed by the system. He replaces Mrs. Cleo Newman, who resigned to accept a position in California.

Completely Adequate!

Home Specialist Praises Leader

Appreciated praise of The Wellington Leader, and particularly of the October 24 issue containing material on the opening of the locker plant of L. A. Gilmore, came late last week from Eudora Hawkins, director of home service for the West Texas Utilities Company. Miss Hawkins said:

"Belatedly I have looked through and then read the locker plant edition of The Wellington Leader. It is such a fine special edition for the locker plant, but such a fine paper besides. It is quite thrilling to me to find one of our weeklies so completely adequate. You have coverage of everything a paper is supposed to cover."

Road and City Beautification Program Planned for Wellington

Banquet Opens Work of City's Junior C of C

Activities of Wellington's newest civic organization, the Junior Chamber of Commerce, began Wednesday night, November 6, with the charter presentation banquet, held at the community building.

The president, Paul Thompson, who presided at the banquet, gave the introductory speech and then read letters of congratulation from the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Beryl Faulkner, vice-president, outlined the aims and work of the Jaycees, then conducted a round table discussion for those present.

"We are ready to go to work," Mr. Thompson declared. "We have several activities under discussion for our first project, and we will announce our choice within a short time."

The election of new officers has been set for Wednesday night, November 13, since Mr. Thompson, Mr. Faulkner, and Richard Bailey, secretary, were elected last spring to serve only until the charter was granted.

R. L. Templeton, state representative elect, is chairman of the new membership committee. Serving with him are Mr. Bailey, Myrrett Henry, J. B. Floyd and Bob Benge. H. E. Craig, O. D. Holton and James Sullivan are members of a committee which will pick the weekly meeting date.

Members and guests attending the presentation banquet were Mr. Bailey, Mr. Faulkner, Mr. Thompson, Odie Killingsworth, J. G. Bearden, H. L. Bearden, Quinton Brewer, Mr. Templeton, Harold Drummond, Clinton Epps, J. B. Floyd, Howard Holton, Eli Wolf, Frank W. Hatch, Harley W. Hatch, Wayne T. Cudd, Mr. Craig, Douglas Kidd, O. D. Holton Jr., Mr. Henry, Mr. Benge, J. M. Hurst and Mr. Sullivan.

Jaycee members unable to attend were E. C. Puryear, Ray Sisk, Ozro Bartlett, Herschel Tyler, Bill Mounts, Albert Thompson, Jack Ball, Allen L. Graves, C. V. Botkin, Dr. J. M. Orr, T. R. Savage, E. J. Cooper, W. L. Smith, J. C. Ward, and Don Fox.

Work Under Way On Dodson Road

Construction is under way on the Wellington-Dodson Farm Market Highway 338 with G. L. Strbeck as superintendent of construction for Wallace and Bowden of Dallas, contractors.

In spite of rain during last week, the right of way has been cleared and some of the culvert pipe installed. Moving the dirt had also started when the rainy weather began.

Altogether, 18 work days have been charged against the 150 allowed to complete the hard surfaced highway.

Memphis-Wellington VFW Posts to Meet in Turkey Day Game

Veterans who have a hankering to recall their football days will have a chance to do so Thanksgiving. The Glenn Moore Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars will meet the VFW Post at Memphis in a Turkey Day contest there, and at present the local post is trying to recruit players.

Bob Castleberry and Guy Bell will be in charge of the team, and any veteran wishing to play is urged to contact one of these men as early as possible, Hubert Leach, VFW commander, has announced.

VFW Committee To Have Charge of Wheel Chair, Crutches

Any person in the county needing the use of a wheel chair or crutches for a short period of time may secure these from the Glenn Moore Post of the VFW, Hubert Leach, commander, reminded this week.

The committee in charge of these is composed of Bill Hurd, at the Ritz Theatre; Eli Wolf at J. B. Floyd's; and John Shadid at The Fair Store, and any person wishing to make arrangements for a wheel chair or crutches should contact one of these men.

Bob Wills' Famous Name Band Plays Here November 20

Topping the fall entertainment season sponsored by the Glenn Moore Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars will be the appearance here of Bob Wills and his Texas Playboys, the first name band ever to play in Wellington. This dance will be held Wednesday night, November 20, at the community building, Russell Yates, who is in charge of arrangements, has announced.

Rated as the most popular band in the United States last year, Bob Wills and his 11 piece orchestra is already familiar to Collingsworth Countians through his radio broadcasts and recordings. The VFW believes that the opportunity to hear this popular band leader in person will be an entertainment treat for people of this and surrounding counties that will not be topped in this part of the Panhandle this year.

"Wellington is the only small town in the state to book Bob Wills and his Texas Playboys, and we were unusually lucky to do this," Mr. Yates declared.

"Bob Wills plays all types of music, from swing to sweet, and when you come to hear him Wednesday night, you're going to hear what you like."

Recognizing that there are many people of the county who will want to hear this orchestra but who do not care to dance, Mr. Yates is providing plenty of comfortable seats to care for this group.

No advance has been made in the admission price.

In addition to those from this county who will attend, the dance is being advertised in all adjoining counties and entertainment-seekers from the entire lower Panhandle are expected to be on hand.

In both radio and personal appearances, Bob Wills and his Texas Playboys have achieved unusual success, and his current tour is (Continued on Page Eight)

Crepe Myrtle Is Chosen for County Wide Planting

Plans for Collingsworth County's part in the state-wide roadside beautification program, which has also been extended to include a city-wide program as well, were outlined this week by Mrs. J. M. Strong, county chairman of the work.

At the same time she announced that the crepe myrtle has been selected as the shrub for planting throughout the county in the beautification program.

This was done in accordance with a concurrent resolution passed at the last session of the legislature requesting each county in Texas to adopt some particular flowering shrub or tree to stand as a "living honor" memorial to all citizens of that county who served in the armed forces during World War II, and asked that all property owners of the particular county plant the selected shrub or tree in their individual yards, as well as in public parks and around public buildings.

"The crepe myrtle was chosen for a number of reasons, but one of the most important was because it grows so well here. After it is once established, it thrives with little water or care and rewards its owner with beautiful, dainty rose-colored flowers for a long period of time," Mrs. Strong said. All clubs of the county, home demonstration, civic, study and social, are being asked to co-operate in the program.

Every family in the county is being urged to secure at least one of these plants for their yard. The State Highway Department is taking the lead in the beautification of the highways and roadside parks, and are asking the co-operation of all business and home owners along the highway to beautify their property. That body will make available to persons having property along a highway trees of various types to use as background plantings for the crepe myrtle. Including sycamore, American elm, Chinese elm, and others, they may be secured without cost.

The crepe myrtle, however, is to be bought by each individual, although the price per plant is (Continued on Page Eight)

Mr., Mrs. S. F. Hughes To Live at Aledo

Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Hughes, Wellington residents since 1937, have moved to Aledo, near Fort Worth, to make their home. They returned during the week end to attend to business and to visit their son, Buster Hughes and family.

A resident of this area for 44 years, Mr. Hughes came here with his family when he bought the City Bakery, which he operated until last year, when he sold the business to Glenn Brickey.

"I want to thank the people of Collingsworth County for the courtesies they have shown me during the time I have lived here, while I was in business and after I sold out. I want to thank, not one of you, but all of you, and to tell you I have truly enjoyed living here," Mr. Hughes said.

Mr. and Mrs. Hughes are retaining their home here, which has been rented to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Brewer.

Grave of County Boy Adopted in Europe

The grave of a Collingsworth County boy, Pvt. Bert L. Duke, has been "adopted" by a citizen of the city of Luxembourg and will be cared for by him. Pvt. Duke, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Duke of Route 3, Wellington, was killed in action February 17, 1945.

After requesting all available information from the War Department, Mr. and Mrs. Duke were told recently that his death occurred in the vicinity of Ferschweller, Germany, as the result of shell fragment wounds of the chest.

He was buried in a military cemetery in Luxembourg, along with 8,500 other American boys and their commander in chief, General George S. Patton.

A letter telling of the "adoption" of their son's grave came recently to Mr. and Mrs. Duke from John J. Ernster, president of the American Veterans League, Luxembourg. It follows:

"I have received a request from Mr. van de Vosse, Acting Director of the Holland Red Cross Service in S-Gravenhage, Holland, to find a reliable person willing to adopt the grave of your beloved son, Pvt. Bert L. Duke, buried in the American Cemetery at Hamm, near the city of Luxembourg, Grand Duchy of Luxembourg.

"It gives me great pleasure to inform you that this grave has been adopted by Mr. Leon Maroldt, Dierick Sol 50-58, Luxembourg, a director in the firm of Maroldt and Co. and a member of one of the most prominent Luxembourg (Continued on Page Five)

Mrs. Lee Smart Dies at Corpus

Mrs. Arthur Lee Smart of Corpus Christi, a former Wellington resident, died in a hospital in that city October 29, at the age of 36 years and 11 months. Mrs. Smart was the daughter of Mrs. Addie Nelson, sister of Mrs. Auburn Keller and sister-in-law of Mrs. S. L. Lindsey of Wellington.

Funeral services were held at Corpus Christi and burial was in the Seaside Memorial Park there.

Mrs. Smart, who was before her marriage Miss Mildred Inez Nelson, came to this county in early childhood and lived here until her marriage. She and her family had lived at Corpus Christi for the last seven years.

She is survived by her husband, Arthur Lee Smart, and two sons, Jackie Loyd and Earnest Floyd of Corpus Christi; her mother, Mrs. Nelson, one brother and five sisters, E. H. Nelson of Childress, Mrs. F. C. Moore of San Bernardino, Calif., Mrs. J. W. Feemster of Columbia, Miss. Mrs. F. M. Hanners of New Orleans, La., Mrs. C. W. Keesee of Roswell, N. M., and Mrs. Keller.

families. In addition the grave will be under the constant supervision of the American Veterans League and of Mrs. John J. Ernster, the wife of the undersigned. "It will probably be of some consolation for you to pay homage to his heroism. Day after day, hundreds of people make a pious pilgrimage to this cemetery where 8,500 American boys, including their Commander-in-Chief, General George S. Patton, Jr. have found their last resting place, to pay their silent tribute to these heroic dead.

"The thoughts of these visitors dwell not only with the dead, but also with the parents, wives, brothers and sisters of theirs in the United States, and while they silently pray and decorate the graves, they hope that their action may prove of some comfort to the boys' loved ones across the sea. For these visitors these boys are not strangers, as many of them knew some of them personally before they made the supreme sacrifice which enabled them to live and to regain their liberty. For these reasons you may rest assured that generation after generation of Luxembourg people will assume the obligation to honor these dead heroes, to keep their graves intact and cared for in the same way as you would do yourself."

On a San Gabriel River Farm

Circleville Farmer Meditates on Cotton Market Fluctuations

Editor's note: The Circleville grass farm on the San Gabriel River has asked a hard question to answer, which we pass along to anybody interested.

Dear Editor:

I seen in a copy of the Dallas News which I borrowed out of my neighbor's mail box Monday and will return when I get around to it without bein in no hurry as what has he ever gone out of his way for me for, where a University of Texas professor has discovered that the fall in the price of cotton has strengthened the cotton market, as he puts it.

American cotton is stronger now," the professor says.

I ain't in no position to argur with statistics, but if that professor thinks my position with a hundred-and-fifty-dollar bale is stronger than my position with a two-hundred-dollar bale, there ain't no wonder he's a professor and he blamed sure ain't holding no cotton of his own.

For a long time now, thirty years at least, I been meditatin on the cotton market and it's hour to hour fluctuations and I haevn't yet been able to figure out what makes the price of cotton worth more say at 10 o'clock in the morning than it is maybe at 11 o'clock, unless it is that us farmers just don't like to get in a rut which might occur if we knowed when we planted the stuff about what it would be worth when it was ginned, not to mention on what the price from day to day will be.

I have often wondered how many cotton pickers a farmer would keep if he paid em on the basis he himself is paid. If cotton pickers was gettin $2.50 a hundred at 8 a. m. and the price of pickin dropped to $2.31 at 10 o'clock and eased up to $2.38 by noon and dropped back down to $2.31 at 3 p. m. and fell off to $1.98 by nightfall, how many pickers you reckon he'd keep?

I ain't saying cotton pickers is smarter than cotton producers, but I come so close to it sweat breaks out on my brow.

How many grocery stores you figure could stay open if the owner come down every morning and asked his customers what they was paying today for lightbread and post toasties?

How long could Frank Janak operate his restaurant if he went ahead and cooked a lot of hot plate lunches and then asked his patrons around noon time what they could give for it?

How long could Joe and Johnnie function in the garage business if they fixed your car or tractor and then had to wait on the car-fixin market report to find out whether he got $24 or $45 for the job?

I tell you, raisin cotton ain't no business. It's a adventure.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

GOOD NEWS! To Our Dealer Friends:

Even Though the O.P.A. has Removed the Price Ceiling on Soft Drinks -- Our Wholesale Price to the Trade, for the Present, Has Not Been Raised

You Can Still Retail Dr. Pepper

At the Same Old Price of 5¢ With the Same % of Gross Profit

All during the war, in spite of higher costs, Dr. Pepper Company has sold us syrup, and we have sold you bottled Dr. Pepper at the pre-war price. We have always resisted and will continue to resist every influence which may threaten the traditional privilege of the American people to enjoy Dr. Pepper for a nickel. Every dealer who values consumer good will should strive to preserve this American tradition.

While the ceiling on soft drinks is off, the ceiling on sugar remains. To remove the ceiling on sugar will not make available sugar that does not exist or replace sugar that is being diverted to foreign lands. Our sugar ration is still limited to 60 per cent of 1941 usage.

Since we have not and will not use inferior substitute ingredients, the shortage of Dr. Pepper will continue until sugar is plentiful again.

In these uncertain times manufacturing costs are subject to drastic change but we do not feel that the present situation justifies increase in our whole-sale price at this time.

Editorial

"At this time when the matter of training the citizens of tomorrow to live in an atomic age, it is a well-recognized fact that the money being spent for schools is wholly inadequate to secure the results desired. For instance, the average teacher's salary in the United States is $32 per week. At the same time, the average coal miner's weekly wages is more than $70. Salaries in Texas are far below the national average.

"During the political campaign the past summer, a great deal was promised toward increasing teachers' salaries. It is possible something will be accomplished along this line. Very likely, however, this increase will be in the form of an increased appropriation for state aid schools.

"State aid schools are those who do not have sufficient funds from taxation to provide a satisfactory school for the required length of term. Each year that the legislature meets it makes an appropriation to provide funds to insure that these poorer schools will be aided to the extent that they can maintain their educational program. The number of teachers is determined by the number of scholars on the census rolls. Twenty-one students will insure a one-teacher school; thirty-seven, a two teacher school, and one additional teacher will be employed for each thirty children on the rolls.

"This arrangement works well in densely populated sections of the country. In the Texas Panhandle and many sections of West Texas, very few schools can qualify for this assistance. These schools, for the most part, must provide by means of taxation on real estate and personal property what their more numerous scholastic population. The state makes some provision for helping these schools in the form of high school and elementary tuition. This, however, is wholly inadequate. The only way that an independent district can secure this assistance is to agree to open its doors to students from nearby rural schools, whose district can qualify for state aid. After all of the smaller district's funds have been applied toward the teaching costs of operating the school, the state agrees to pay whatever balance is due. The trouble is that the tuition rate is set out by the state aid law is so much lower than the actual expenditures required that very poor salaries can be paid by the receiving school. The state aid law provides that the receiving school shall receive not to exceed $5.00 per month, or $45.00 per year for elementary students and not to exceed $9.00 per month or $81.00 per year for high school students. The actual cost in most schools is in excess of $125 for elementary and high school students. This means that the local district must somehow raise the difference between what they actually receive and what is the real cost of teaching. This work a very great hardship on these schools, yet they are forced to carry this burden in order to have sufficient numbers of students to provide a satisfactory school.

"When the legislature voted the last appropriation in 1945 for the biennium students and only a $2.00 raise for high school students. This same legislature provided a $300 per year bonus for teachers in the rural aid schools, but made no provisions whatever for raising salaries in the tuition schools. It has already been promised that state aid schools will receive a $300 to $400 bonus this year, but nothing has been promised for the tuition schools. Most of the tuition schools are unable to pay higher salaries than the state aid schools, and this will result in their losing their teachers to the state aid schools, since they will be in position to provide better salaries. This type of school has fewer people looking out for its interests. They the usually in sparsely populated sections where the voting strength is not important, so they usually get the leavings when the members of the legislature are looking out for their own best interests."—T. E. Johnson in Amarillo Times.

The immigration authorities haven't yet figured what to do with those 48 Estonians who sailed to our shores in a small boat to escape Russian domination. So far these modern Pilgrims don't know whether they are at home or just spending the season in Miami.

Maybe Stalin was right when he said Churchill was one of the "incendiaries" of a third world war. Churchill certainly seemed burnt up.

November Is Busy Time for Farmer And his Wife

November can be one of the busiest months on the farm, working at current jobs and getting ready for next year. This month is the time for the farmer to:

1. Select next year's turkey breeding stock.
2. Fumigate the stored wheat to keep down insect damage, especially in the mild winter parts of the state.
3. Plant small grains to provide a vitamin-protein lift for the poultry flock.
4. Check farm water pipes to see that no water-carrying pipe is exposed to freezing.
5. Pull some of the wheat straw around to the north side of the hen house to help the chickens conserve their feed and that goes for some of the other livestock, too.
6. Save some more growing things for livestock feed this winter. Every stack of fodder, head of grain, or other feed will help that much.
7. Cull the poultry flock so that only producers are fed the dwindling feed supply.
8. Lay in a good supply of fuel where possible.
9. Make plans and carry them out to provide adequate protection for all livestock this winter.
10. Better clean up the farm barnyard now before the slushy, cold weather begins.
11. Patch up things around the farm home and inspect the flues before time to build roaring fires.
12. Store summer flower bulbs with special care if they are to do their best next spring.
13. Plow the garden for best results next spring.
14. Get the rest of the feed out of the fields and into those hogs and steers.
15. Check the granaries for possible insect pests.
16. Fix up the farmstead with a few hardwood shrubs placed properly around the house.
17. Insure success with future hog litters by winterproofing the farrowing pens.
18. Declare an all-out war on those rats.
19. House all farm machinery.
20. Be sure about the anti-freeze supply.
21. Keep an eye out for hog-butcher weather.
22. Have the saws set, sharpened and used on that dead timber.
23. Treat chickens for colds.
24. Prepare spring flower beds.

It is also time for the farm wife to:

1. Plan now for next spring's garden.
2. Haul out the family's red flannels.
3. Make some sausage.
4. Try canning some pumpkin for next spring's use.
5. Invest in some special gloves for hanging-out-clothes use.
6. Plant bulbs for next spring's flowers.
7. Can up some of that fall-butchered meat.

8. Do something constructive about the fall apples.
9. Remake last year's furs into many new accessories.
10. Take extra precautions to cut the number of colds in the family.

Americans Urged to Buy Bonds to Protect Future

WASHINGTON, D. C.,—The period between two memorable dates in American history, Armistice Day and Pearl Harbor Day, will this year be devoted to a nation-wide publicity campaign by the Treasury Department—a campaign which will urge Americans to continue the regular purchase of United States Savings Bonds; to buy extra bonds whenever possible.

In both the World Wars that these anniversaries mark, the road to victory was shortened by the people's liberal investment in Treasury bonds. But the fighting days were over fifteen months ago. The extra money to cover military expenditures is not needed. On a cash basis, the Federal Budget is better than balanced. A question naturally forms in the mind—why is the Treasury again asking the people to buy extra bonds? The answer comes easily.

The fight against inflation has not been won. The Treasury wants income earners to save their surplus dollars, instead of using them to push prices higher on a highly-competitive market. This new campaign is a counter-offensive in the battle against inflation, inaugurated by the Treasury savings bond campaign in the spring of 1941 when the Nation shifted to a war economy, consumer goods became scarce and income payments rose to record highs.

At least $40,000,000,000 of the $46,000,000,000 in savings bonds outstanding are held by individuals; a lot of money in any man's language but it is not enough. Estimates indicate that income payments to individuals will this year soar to the all-time high of $167,000,000,000. At present price levels, consumer goods on which to spend this fabulous income will fall short by $20,000,000,000. The expenditure of any part of the surplus would only spread the germ of inflation.

To encourage the building up of reserves by the average citizen, the Treasury pays a substantial premium on E bond savings. One of the long-range purposes of the current drive is to insure the future financial security of this important segment of the American family, the keystone of the arch that upholds our national economic structure.

Now consider the purely national aspects of this renewed savings bond campaign. Since the public debt is the obligation of every citizen, its wide distribution among them will create a keen and healthy aspect of this renewed savings campaign by the Treasury Department. A bondholder in America, Incorporated, not only enjoys the interest accruing to his investment—in addition, he becomes an active, helpful partner to those officials who seek to manage wisely the fiscal affairs of his Government.

The Treasury's effort to transfer public debt securities to the hands of individuals is meeting with success. The cash balance created by over-subscription of the Victory Loan last December has made possible the paying off of some $19,000,000,000 worth of maturing obligations, most of which were held in the form of short-term securities, by banks.

The cash balance made available for the retirement of maturing debt has been augmented by Savings Bond sales during the current calendar year, which have exceeded

LADY NEARLY CHOKED WHILE LYING IN BED—DUE TO STOMACH GAS

One lady said a few days ago that she used to be afraid to go to bed at night. She was swollen with stomach gas, which always got worse when she went to bed, and the gas would rise up in her throat after she lay down and would nearly choke her. She couldn't lie flat. Had to prop herself up on pillows. Recently this lady got INNER-AID and now says gas is gone, stomach feels fine, bowels are regular and she can go to bed and sleep soundly.

INNER-AID contains 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get INNER-AID. Sold by all drug stores here in Collingsworth County. (adv)

Gary Cooper in "Different" Role

Warner Bros.' "Cloak and Dagger," the United States Pictures production starting at the Ritz Theatre, prevue Saturday night thru Monday, affords Gary Cooper fans the opportunity of seeing their favorite star in a role radically different from any of his recent characterizations.

In his newest screen portrayal, Cooper appears in the role of Alvah Jesper, professor at a small Eastern university, whose entire life has been spent in a mild-mannered pursuit of knowledge. When circumstances arise which, overnight, project him into a maelstrom of risk, danger and sudden death, Jesper reacts in a manner which speaks well for a man of deep courage and valor both of which traits were necessarily obscured for many years by the daily details of his even-tempered existence.

Featured in other important roles in the film are Robert Alda, as Pinkie, who lends Cooper unexpected and thoroughly appreciated assistance; and an exciting new screen personality, lovely Lilli Palmer, noted British actress, who is introduced to American audiences in the role of Gina, whose romance with Cooper will unquestionably win a prominent place among the handful of memorable film romances. A competent supporting cast includes Vladimir Sokoloff, as an important man held prisoner by Cooper's foe; Dan Seymour, as Marsoli, a helpful friend; J. Edward Bromberg, a kind of super-detective who works with Cooper; and many others.

redemptions and maturities of these bonds by a billion dollars.

The Treasury's policy on debt management has the wholehearted endorsement of the banks of the Nation, who urge their depositors to buy extra Savings Bonds. They are in full accord with the Treasury belief that we are not just selling securities to the people, but SECURITY for the future.

Some women tag after their offspring so much it's a wonder that they don't accompany them on the piano.

Crow Talk
Crows can sometimes be taught to talk. Contrary to popular opinion the tongue need not be split. Slitting the tongue is unnecessary cruelty. Birds produce vocal sounds within the body from the syrinx.

He's Got the Big Head
Wildlife research is bringing out some startling facts these days. At a deer station, experiments partly concerned with antler growth have caused a yearling buck to grow a heavy set of antlers with nine points. The theory is that periodic shots in the legs with hormones might do the work. Next year this youngster may need a derrick to hold his head up. But game and fish officials can hardly be expected to chase down all bucks in the wild just to give them antler growing hypo shots! But who knows, some day in the near future a way may be found to treat soil so that deer, browsing upon growth that carries the chemical, will grow rocking chair antlers with comparative ease. Could be...

Without Refueling Even, Eh?
Most birds do not make nonstop flights in migration. They make the trip in a leisurely fashion, stopping often for food and water. Some birds, however, fly long distances without stopping. A Golden Plover, for example, is known to have flown from Nova Scotia to South America, a distance of 2400 miles, without stopping. It called for about 48 hours continuous flight.

Seal, Lapin, Sealine, Squirrellette, Squirrelene. Wonder what they call beaver, seal and squirrel skins?

Snake Facts
Rattlesnakes and Copperheads are viviparous. That is, they DO NOT lay eggs but bear living young. The eggs remain in the mother's body until hatched. Rattlesnakes usually bear from six to 12 young. Copperheads give birth to from 4 to 9 young.

Catfish Bait
More and more fishermen are using prepared bait for catfish. The following is a favorite among many. Use a whole or half of a marshmallow to a hook. Put one drop of oil of anise on each bait and lower away. Oil of spearmint is good, too. You'll catch a cat if one is nosing about in the vicinity.

Guide For Hunters
J. Frank Dobie, famous author, naturalist and outdoorsman, wrote a whole book in one sentence when he summarized the deer hunting problem in an article recently: "Deer," he said "may be found in two places. One is where they are likely to be. The other is where they are not likely to be!"

How to Handle a Fortune

Some months ago I reported in the Clarion how Mel Bate's uncle died up north, and left him with a tidy fortune.

Naturally, our town was curious to see how Mel would spend it: Traveling around the world... getting a new house or car... wearing fancy clothes... or dining on cold pheasant and champagne...?

We can now report, Mel hasn't changed a bit! Drop in on him any night, and you'll find him in his shirt sleeves by the fire, chatting with the Missus, sharing a mellow glass of beer with friends.

From where I sit, Mel has learned the art of handling money—as well as handling people. You don't let cash-in-the-bank push you around any more than you let people push you around. If you like the simple, homey life; companionship and quiet ways; a glass of beer and friendly talk—that's worth a fortune, after all!

Mrs. Mary F. Davis Dies Monday at The Age of 83

Mrs. Mary Francine Davis, 83, the mother of Mrs. Tom Parker of Wellington, died at the Parker home at 12:25 a. m. Monday morning, November 11. She had lived in Wellington with her daughter for the last five years, coming here from Hedley.

Funeral services were held at the Kelso Funeral chapel Tuesday morning at 10:00 a. m. with Rev. C. C. Armstrong, pastor of the Methodist Church in Wellington, and Rev. Elmer Crabtree of Happy in charge.

Pall bearers were Riley Dunson, John Forbis, Bob Bowen, Darrel Nored, Jack Harper and Bert Starkey. Hymns included "Asleep in Jesus," "The Old Rugged Cross," and "In The Garden." Burial was in the family lot of the Plainview cemetery under the direction of the Kelso Funeral Home.

Mrs. Davis was before her marriage Mary Francine Martin, the daughter of William and Matilda Sam. Mrs. Davis was born in Collin County August 29, 1863, and at the time of her death she was 83 years, two months and 12 days of age.

Mrs. Davis lived at Hedley for 18 years before coming here, and prior to that time, at Happy and Vigo Park.

She became a member of the Methodist Church in early childhood and was active in its work until her hearing failed. Despite this, she remained cheerful and alert and ever interested in the welfare of those about her. Due to it, however, she had been unable to take an active part in community life since coming here, but had attracted a close group of friends who loved and cherished her friendship.

Surviving are two sons and two daughters, James Lawrence Davis of San Diego, Calif., G. E. Davis of Rule, Mrs. W. A. Wood of Happy, and Mrs. Parker; one brother, W. W. Martin of Dublin, eleven grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Mr. Davis preceded her in death in 1924.

McDowell Given High FFA Degree

John McDowell, son of Mr. and Mrs. D'Arcy McDowell of the Ramsdell community in Wheeler County, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. D. D. McDowell of Wellington, has received the coveted American Farmer Degree from the Future Farmers of America.

He was one of 18 other young farmers of Texas to receive the degree from an organization that has a membership throughout the United States of more than 200,000. The presentation was made at the Future Farmers of America National Youth Convention in Kansas City recently.

McDowell, 20 years old, graduated from Shamrock High School in 1943, but continued the vocational agriculture work he had begun while a student. He served the Shamrock chapter as an officer and received the Lone Star Farmer degree, highest given in Texas, in 1943.

After graduating, McDowell remained on the farm part of one year, then went into military service. Immediately upon receiving his discharge, he returned to his father's farm and ranch.

expected to be only from 50 to 75 cents, Mrs. Strong said. The plants should be set out in February. The trees may be planted any time from now through February.

"Our plan gives every home and every citizen an opportunity that should be considered a privilege—that of planting one or more shrubs in their front yards as a gesture of respect and appreciation to our men and women who served in the armed forces. This token of respect is also a gesture of self-respect, for by carrying out the plan as a state-wide project, a unified improvement and beautification will be achieved that will exceed our best expectations for years to come," Mrs. Strong declared.

Preliminary plans for the program were laid in a meeting of county chairmen at Childress recently, attended by Mrs. Strong.

Shrub and tree selections of other counties in this district include: Childress, redbud and crepe myrtle; Dickens, purple lilac; Knox, crepe myrtle; Hall, Paul Scarlet rose; Wheeler, red leaf plum and butterfly bush; and Hardeman, purple lilac.

FUTURE ROCKETS WORK OUT

The Rocket B football team, coached by Bob Percival, is getting the younger athletes of Wellington High School ready to take the places of those boys who now lead District 3-A. Although they will not play until next year or the year after that, these youngsters already have the spirit that has made the Rockets one of the top Class A football teams of West Texas. In the front row from left to right are: Joe Lynn Moore, manager, J. C. Nelson, Earl Nipper, Stanley Hennard, Bob McCutcheon, Donald Hite, Donald Joe Terry, Wilbur Earl Smith, E. L. Lockhart and Leland Finley. Middle row: Lynn Wright, Walter Lee O'Neil, Elmon McBroome, Cameron Beam Jr., Choice Harris, Bill Hodges, Bill Plank, Keith Cunningham, and Jimmie Roberson. Back row: George Shoff, Johnny Cooper, Glenn Young, Jimmy Stricklin, Howard Ball, Rogers Melton, Johnny Clark, Joe Bob Warrick and Rube McLain. Top, Mr. Percival.

Crawley Watershed Group Plans Conservation Work for 6 Months

The Crawley Watershed Group

of farmers, cooperating with the Hall Soil Conservation District, held their fall meeting recently at the home of R. R. Crawley. The meeting was called by R. H. Lacey. The group discussed the soil conservation work to be done the next six months and made plans for securing the assistance of the Hall Soil Conservation Service technicians in doing this work. The discussion brought out the fact that this group of farmers has been very active in soil conservation work the past year.

Sam Lemley and Forrest Lemley reported that they had planted sixteen acres of alfalfa this fall.

During the past summer, they planted one acre of guar, a summer legume, on a trial basis in a field of grain sorghum. This guar was plowed under as a green manure in the late summer. Next year grain sorghum will be planted on this acre of ground and on land adjoining on all sides for the purpose of seeing whether or not an increased yield can be obtained in grain sorghum as a result of growing the legume the previous year.

Mr. Lacey planted one acre to crotalaria, another summer legume, on a trial basis in a grain sorghum field and plowed it under as green manure this fall. Lacey is also going to see if he can detect an increased gain in grain sorghum on clinched the title to District 3A Friday by besting the Shamrock Irish here last Friday in as thrilling a game as has ever been played on the Wellington field. The Rockets were never behind throughout the 24 to 12 contest; but the spirited play of the Irish gave the Rocket fans no chance to relax until the very closing minutes of the game when Kenneth Strickland intercepted a Shamrock pass in mid-field and ran it back to the Irish 10 yard line to halt the last Irish threat.

Rockets Win District Title by Defeating Shamrock 24 to 12

The Wellington Skyrockets

It was one of those games that reflect great credit on both teams and both coaches. Al Duncan and Scott McCall had primed their boys for this traditional game in which old records are laid aside and the boys play for this one game alone. For ten years the annual clash between the Red and Green has been the outstanding conference game in District 3A; but the one last Friday was probably the greatest contest of all from a disinterested spectator's standpoint. In winning it Wellington won the district championship and Shamrock lost the chance to win or tie for the championship; but that was not what the boys were playing for. Wellington was out to best Shamrock and the Irish were out to upset the Rockets. The game was clean and hard fought from the start to finish.

Wellington's first touchdown came in the latter part of the first quarter after the ball had changed hands two times between the hard battling teams. At this point Shamrock gained possession of the ball on their own 34 yard line after passes to Strickland and Copeland had gone incomplete. On the first play Close sliced off tackle for 7 yards; but on the next play Jackie McPherson, who played as if he had ants in his pants all evening, ripped through the Irish line to pin Ramsey for a six yard loss putting the ball back to the 35.

Shamrock punted from their own 36 to the Wellington 32 where Tim Hatch took the ball and ran it back to the Wellington 49 yard line. Then behind the finest blocking the Wellington team has turned in all season the backfield started to drive. On the first play Russell went from his own 49 to the Irish 36 for 15 yards and a first down. Hatch circled end for 17 yards and another first down to put the ball on the Shamrock 19 yard line. Hatch found a big hole and went to the 10. Russell hit the center of the line; but the fighting Irish line closed up before he could pick up much gain. Then on the next play Strickland went nine yards for the touchdown.

Close ran the kickoff back to his own 36 yard line as the first quarter ended. Close was stopped by Fulton and McClendon for a one yard gain. On the next play Shamrock was penalized 15 yards and set back to their own 21 yard line. "Dog" McPherson broke through to smear the next play for a two yard loss setting the ball back to the 19. Shamrock punted out to the 40 yard stripe. The Rockets carried it down to the Irish 12 from which point Hatch carried over for a potential touchdown only to have the ball called back on a penalty for backfield in motion and after one play the ball went over to the Irish in this ding dong battle on about their own 20. Fulton stopped Close for no gain and on the next play the Irish quick-kicked. Hatch allowed the ball to roll and it finally came to rest on the Wellington 15 yard line. Wellington kicked out to midfield. On running plays the Irish advanced up to the 10 yard line where the Wellington line made a magnificent stand to hold them and take over on downs. Russell made four yards and then passed to Strickland to get the ball near midfield as the half ended. From the opening whistle to the half the game had risen in intensity every minute; but there was a lot more to come.

At the opening of the second half Russell kicked deep to Close who ran the ball back from his own 10 yard stripe to the 35. On the first Irish play Sam Raburn smashed through from his guard position and the Irish fumbled and it was recovered by Kenneth Winter on the Shamrock 35 yard line. Russell made 6 and Hatch 4 for a first down a little past the 25 yard marker. Russell made 3 and Hatch 5 to put the ball on the 17 yard marker. Russell shot a pass to Fulton who took it neatly and plowed on down to the two yard line before he was swarmed under. From this point Hatch ran it over to bring the score up to 12 to 0 in favor of Wellington. The try for conversion was no good. In fact there was not a single one good on either side although six touchdowns were made. One Shamrock try was blocked by Wellington and one Wellington try was blocked by Shamrock.

They say that the breaks go to the best team. Well the next break went right square into the hands of the Rockets. Russell kicked over the goal line. Shamrock attempted to punt out, but Russell broke through and blocked the punt and McClendon recovered to give the red and white the ball on the Irish 13 yard line.

The rest of this particular touchdown could be written very simply if you wanted to know what Rocket backfield man made so many yards per try. Hatch made 3 and then again 2, Russell made 7 and Hatch made 4 and Russell ran it over for 2 yards; but that gives no idea of the fine play of the Wellington line that turned its best blocking of the season or the gallant stand

Gospel Of Christ

(Rom. 1:16)

WHITHER, AMERICA?

I do not believe we live in the darkest days of the world's history. I believe there have been many times when the dismal drapery of corruption shrouded the righteous with shades as gloomy as we now grope in. But I do see symptoms that Paul said would mark "perilous times." "Men shall be lovers of their own selves, disobedient to parents, unthankful, unholy, truce breakers, false accusers, despisers of those that are good, traitors, heady, highminded, lovers of pleasures more than lovers of God." 2 Tim. 3:1-4.

In view of waning morality, decline of decency and failing fidelity, I think of the five reasons the great historian Gibbon gave for the fall of the Roman Empire, and wonder, WHITHER, AMERICA?

Here are the reasons:

"1. Rapid increase of divorce, with the undermining of the sanctity of the home, which is the basis of society.

"2. Higher and higher taxes; the spending of public money for bread and celebrations.

"3. The mad craze for pleasure; sports becoming every year more exciting and more brutal.

"4. The building of gigantic armaments, when the real enemy was within; the decadence of the people.

"5. The decay of religion; faith fading into mere form, (losing touch with life, and becoming impotent to guide it)."

Leader Department Store Wellington, Texas

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

Ladies the Crocus and Tulip Bulbs are here, nice ones from Holland. I wish those that want them would get them this week.

People have been asking me what would happen to prices now that OPA controls have been lifted on everything except rents, sugar and rice. My guess is that some will go up for a time, others will level off and others will go down, which is a diplomatic way of saying that I do not know.

Meat is already getting lower at the counter in most places and that is where it matters to the consumer. If the dry goods ads that have been running in the paper for the past few weeks are any criterion, ready to wear, especially ladies ready to wear, are due for a reduction. This week and for two weeks past local stores have been having real fall sales with noticeable price reductions for the first time in four years.

Wheat and corn and other grains have gone down recently and you know what happened to cotton although it has started back up. But advice I receive indicate that these prices will stay up at a satisfactory level. In fact some observers believe that protein feeds are simply leveling off to the extent that dairymen, poultrymen, hog raisers and those who feed beef cattle can do so on a profitable basis.

There is still a tremendous shortage of fats and oils. Farmers who have saved a few brood sows and have feed and pasture may find themselves in a very satisfactory position. No longer is the price of protein feed out of proportion to what they receive for pork, dairy products and poultry.

One noted economist writing in a large newspaper says that the price of old city homes of the $10,000 class and up reached the peak last August; but he also says that the price of farm land will advance well into 1947. My notion on this is the same that it was three years ago. If you can pay all cash for a good piece of land, go ahead and buy it and get the ants out of your pants and just forget what you paid for it. But if you can pay only a part down, think several times before expanding too much.

The general thought is that there will be a recession in many commodity prices in 1947; but that it will be of moderate severity. It will compare somewhat to 1920 some believe, and after that will come several years not of more inflation but of steady prosperity, so they say.

Any experienced or well read person can cite the general rules for business procedure. What they don't know anymore than the so-called dumb ones is just when to move. The timing is the important thing just as it is in football.

So let's discuss football. J. K. Porter tells me that Spur has a very fine football team although it has not been decided as to whether Spur or Floydada will emerge as the champions of District 4A. But if the Rockets get by the bi-district, they may not meet Phillips at all. The White-faces at Hereford have been throwing their weight around since the start of the season and it will be no upset if they defeat Phillips.

Bud Manzer is thinking of running a special train to Lefors for that game. This sure would suit me fine. Perhaps there are a lot of other fans who have pretty old cars and a deep dislike of driving in heavy traffic at night. Why don't some of the rest of you talk this up. The tickets will cost $4 per person. What do you think and what do you say? There is not much time left to make arrangements.

Bura Handley has bought a machine to do some work at the two graveyards in Wellington. The one west of town, although on a hill, is a natural home for evergreens. All those that have been planted are thriving. Evergreens alone could make it look much better than it does.

Frank Ford's experience with the second porcupine ever found in this county caused me to look up something that I have been intending to look up for 20 years. I was curious about the births of porcupines. I had heard that the young have quills at the time of birth and I couldn't understand it. The answer is that the quills are soft like gelatine at the time of the birth. In a short time the quills harden and the little baby porcupine has quills that are just as good as his mama's.

Have any of you people been reading the "Outdoor Notes" that have been running in this paper in recent weeks. I don't want to pay out money for this if you are not reading it. It is on page seven this week. It says you can catch catfish with marshmallows and tells the women that they are buying rabbit skin coats when they buy any of a whole long list of so-called fur coats.

Mrs. Strong says that this is the time to take up your dahlias bulbs and store them in sand in the dugout. Be sure the sand is dry. Next spring about two weeks before planting time wet the sand and bring it out and set it in the sun so the bulbs will begin to sprout. The eye or sprout must be planted upward.

O. B. Harvey, who lives just north of my mother-in-law and who is an uncle of Virginia Rogers of Wellington does not believe in so much football and school turning out for games etc. His idea is that if they just have to get these band parades, etc. out of their system, then let them set aside a whole month at the beginning of school for nothing but games, parades and circuses. After that let them study 8 months without interruption. So says Mr. Harvey.

The House That 'Jack' Built

The Interscholastic League says that there is too much emphasis on football in Texas. They have ruled that there will be no spring training next year. The time will be given to encouraging such sports as baseball, track and tennis. This appears to be a sound decision; but many a football coach will regret it.

Here is a bit of information that will be interesting to all Wellington firms that have veterans working under the "On the job" training plan. It concerns the new forms that were sent out, namely V. A. form 7-1962 and R-65-5. It will not be necessary for you to complete these forms on veterans now in training with your firm; however, they should be used on all future enrollments.

SHAMROCK, TEXAS

WORLD'S BIGGEST DIPPER

World's largest dipper, shown in operation on Hanna Coal Co. property near Cadiz, O., at one bite can pick up enough earth to fill a 12x10x9 room, move it two-thirds of a city block, and drop it atop a seven-story building. The dipper eats through banks ranging up to 80 feet, baring veins of coal which are scooped up later by smaller dippers. Arrow points to workman.

Texas blacklands need legumes, and legumes in Texas blacklands need phosphate fertilizer, the experiment station scientists tell us. Furthermore, the legumes do better when the phosphate is placed in the soil in contact with the inoculated legume seed.

One of the fastest growing livestock breeds in the United States is milking shorthorn cattle. The Southwestern Milking Shorthorn Association completed its fourth annual show and sale in Fort Worth last week. Top bull sold for $735; top female for $625. Show entries came from Illinois, Wisconsin and Indiana, in addition to southwestern states.

New officers of the Southwestern Shorthorn Association are H. L. Jennings, Grand Prairie, President, R. E. Gracey, Roscoe, Vice-President, and Kenneth George, Seymour, Secretary and Treasurer.

The outbreak of anthrax in Texas is subsiding, but cattle owners might profitably remember that this disease is one that is soil-borne and is likely to recur next year in the same location. Also, the virus may be transplanted to other areas by flood waters, soil washing, movement of cattle, carion-eating creatures, and blood-sucking insects.

A shortage of sudan grass seed in Texas may result from the curtailed production this year, as revealed by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics office at Austin. A crop of 2,200,000 pounds this year is the smallest production since 1929.

The official evolution of the Farm Security Administration and the Emergency crop feed and seed loan agency into the new Farmers' Home Administration, took place on November 1. Regional offices of the old FSA have been abolished, except for certain clerical functions.

Livestock health in Texas now is generally good, Dr. T. O. Boothe, state veterinarian, reports. A few outbreaks of disease have been dealt with in East Texas. An increasing number of cases of anaplasmosis, a cattle disease for which there is yet no control or no effective treatment, has been reported in southwestern States. It is a blood disease, which was thought to be tick fever, until Texas rid itself of ticks.

Rockets Win -

of the Irish. Leather was cracking and helmets were flying as that touchdown was made. In fact the Irish were so upset that they just plain busted through and blocked the kick for point after touchdown.

There is something about these Irish-Rocket football games that does not appear in other conference games. The Shamrock lads didn't seem to realize that they were behind 18 to 0. They came back with a shamrock, a shilalee or whatever it is that the Irish use against the red coated English and they were in the game in less time than it takes to read this.

Close ran Russell's kickoff back from his ten to the Shamrock 33. A pass to Morgan was incomplete. A pass to Ramsey was almost intercepted by Moore, but the very agile Ramsey leaped up as it was deflected, snared it, and then ran around end and through a lot of red shirted boys to go to pay dirt. Shamrock couldn't make their conversion either; for it was blocked too. But the score was 18 to 6.

Then the Redcoats decided they could be stubborn fighters too. Shamrock kicked off to Wellington and Russell took the ball on his own goal line and ran it back to the Rocket 48 before he was finally brought down. Russell made 6, Hatch lost 2 and then on the second try made 6 to pick up a first down on the Irish 24 yard line. On the next play Hatch passed to Strickland for 24 yards and the touchdown. Again the try for point was not good.

The Irish came right back. From their own 25 they started moving down the field. Close passed to Morgan to put the ball on the 50 yard line. Russell intercepted the next pass but it was nullified when Wellington was declared offside, and the Rockets were penalized 5 yards. Another pass to Morgan was good to the 22 yard line, and then Shamrock used the old Statue of Liberty play, still old and still good, to score their last touchdown to bring the score up to 24 to 12.

There was a lot more battling after that; but it did not affect the score. The Irish were on another drive in the closing minutes of the game when tremendous line play by Raburn, Johnson, Fulton, McPherson et al caused the Irish to take to the air again. Shamrock had slashed up to the Wellington 46 yard line on running plays and passes. A this point Walter Johnson broke through to nail the Irish back for a 15 yard loss; but still the determined Irish tried to pass. The next was intercepted by Strickland who ran on down to his own ten yard line. Hatch made one yard and then Russell threw a touchdown pass right at Gerald Copeland who apparently took it in the midst of a bunch of Irish backs; but the ball slipped from his fingers and the whistle blew before the Rockets could get another chance to change the 24 to 12 score.

Wellington made 14 first downs and the Irish made 7.

this ground another year as a result of this planting. Lacey reports that he has a stand of alfalfa on fifteen acres planted this fall.

Fred Cox has planted twenty-five acres to alfalfa this fall and plans to add approximately twenty-five more acres next year. Cox has also completed about fifteen miles of terraces this year and has been very active in carrying out a complete soil conservation program on his farm. In addition to the terracer which Cox owns, that fits on his farm tractor, he also has a hydraulic bulldozer which fits on his farm tractor. This bulldozer has been very useful this fall in making fills on terraces.

Earl Alexander points out that rye planted on sandy ground has been very useful in giving protection during the winter months. Alexander has tried approximately all of the small grain crops and he reports that rye gives by far the best protection against blowing sandy land. Rye is also a very good grazing crop for cattle during the fall and winter months. He also reports that he has planted ten acres to alfalfa this fall.

Mr. Crawley reported that some blue panic grass planted on his farm in 1944 has proved to be very drouth resistant and hardy. His planting did not obtain a very good stand; however, the plants that did appear have stood adverse weather conditions very well.

Raymond Scott, a Hall Soil Conservation District Supervisor, reported that he had planted thirty-five acres to alfalfa this fall. Scott also explained to the group about his experience in maintaining terraces with a one-way. According to Scott, by going over the terraces way has been used, the terraces can with a tandem disk after the one left in a well rounded shape with no peak.

On the C. A. Williams farm, operated by E. D. Crawley, about thirty acres of alfalfa have been planted. A good soil conservation program is being carried out on this farm.

Tom Campbell has done good conservation work this fall on his place by building a diversion terrace to check gully erosion.
