Bullock Retreats

AUSTIN (AP) — Comptroller Bob Bullock says he's changed his mind about challenging the 190,000-acre land swap between the University of Texas and a Big Bend ranch.

Bullock had asked Attorney General Mark White to investigate the legality of the House resolution approving the trade, because he said he was unsure whether he legally could pay Presidio County, where the ranch is, for the loss in taxes.

Bullock said Thursday he had withdrawn his request.

The deal negotiated by Gov. Bill Clements would trade land UT owns in Hudspeth County for the property in the spectacular Big Bend to form part of a proposed 300,000-acre public park. UT would get mineral rights to both tracts.

Memorial Day Traffic

CHICAGO (AP) — Between 450 and 550 motorists could be killed over the Memorial Day weekend, according to the National Safety Council.

Millions of Americans will take to the highways over the first warm-weather holiday weekend of the year, which will last between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Monday.

The council said 496 people could be expected to be killed in traffic. Last year there were 411 traffic deaths over Memorial Day weekend. The worst weekend for the holiday was in 1968, before the national 55 mph speed limit went into effect, when 629 people perished.

School Is Sprayed

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP) — After investigating complaints of headaches by students and teachers, school officials have discovered a banned pesticide accidently was sprayed inside a local school last week.

A maintenance worker mistakenly used chlordane, banned by the Environmental Protection Agency for above-ground use, to spray hallways, restrooms and possibly classrooms of the Alternative Education, said Eugene Schilhab, maintenance and operations officer for the Corpus Christi Independent School District.

Principal Jim Todd said some of the 300 students and 16 teachers reported headaches but no one felt ill enough to leave school.

Rabies Cases Decline

DALLAS (AP) — The number of confirmed rabies cases in Texas has dropped about a third this year, and a state health official speculates that a bill passed by the Texas Legislature could help squelch the spread of the deadly disease.

Experts have confirmed 299 cases through April 1981, compared to 435 during a similiar period in 1980, said Dr. William Bilderback of the Texas Department of Health in Austin.

"As we see it, a good number of diseased animals just aren't being reflected in those numbers," he said Thursday. "People are destroying them rather than spending the time or money to have them tested."

Bilderback noted that about five cases go unreported for every one that has been confirmed.

Keeping tab on our neighbors:

Now that summer athletic programs are getting underway, several newspapers finding their way into our office recently have called attention to some points which fans should remember when attending summer games as well as high school contests..

1. There is no such thing as a "right" to participate in athletics. Math, history, English and certain other courses are mandated by the state, and each has a "right" to be exposed to them, but as a participant in athletics, a youngster must follow rules or his "privilege" will be taken away.

2. Your team does not belong to the community. It belongs to the school, or the sponsoring organization, and they have agreed to abide by certain rules so that all athletes may compete under the same standards.

2. If these rules offend any certain group to the point where they cannot conduct themselves in a rational manner, then, by all means, these persons should direct their energies toward some other level of athletics, such as the professionals.

3. All young athletes make mistakes. They are not perfect, and they never will be. While these mistakes make their games unpredictable and interesting, is is sad to hear so-called fans boo youngsters at an athletic event.

4. The coach is also a teacher. In fact, especially in the case of school athletics, he is a teacher first and a coach second. When misguided people try to reverse this order, the athletic program is in the first stages of collapse.

5. Make an attempt to learn the rules of the game and leave the officials alone. The spectator who constantly criticizes game officials is ignorant of the rules under which the game is played. Psychologists have said that people with inferiority feelings tend to vent their frustrations on game officials.

6. Keep in mind that you are a guest at the games these youngsters play. While winning is certainly an admirable goal, victory is hollow if it comes at the expense of morals, ethics and just plain sense.

Craig Nieman of the Lamb County Leader-News says he overheard one of the high school seniors there trying to decide where to go to college..

"Instead of what fields of studies the colleges offered, he was seeing which had the highest percentage of coeds. We always did believe it makes a big difference if the student is interested in his work," said Nieman.

WTC Grads Told...

Compassion, Honesty Essential For Success

Congratulating Western Texas College graduates on their academic and technological achievements, Dr. James Stewart Jr. cautioned that they will need more to solve the world's problems.

Dr. Stewart, president of the University of Texas at Tyler, was guest speaker for the WTC commencement program, held Thursday night in the central courtyard on the campus.

He reminded that compassion for man and honesty are essential characteristics if a person is to make significant contributions to society.

"A a hot head and a cold heart cannot solve problems," he declared.

He cited the prominence that Americans have given to the legendary honesty of George Washington as one of the factors that has enhanced the moral fiber of this country.

Belief in God is the major difference between America and Russia, Dr. Stewart declared.

"We believe in a supreme being. Their supreme being is their government," he said.

Dr. Stewart, a former teacher and administrator in Snyder Public Schools, was introduced by Dr. Robert Hargrove, vice president of the WTC board of trustees.

The welcome was extended by William H. Wilson Jr., president of the board, and Dr. Don Newbury, WTC president, presented the candidates for degrees and certificates, which were awarded by Dr. Ben Brock, WTC vice president, and Dr. Gene McClurg, dean of occupational education and technology.

The Rev. Gary Dudder, minister of First Christian Church, gave the invocation, and Charlie Garner, minister of 37th St. Church of Christ, the benediction.

Phi Theta Kappa honor fraternity hosted a reception for the graduates in the student center following the commencement program. The processionl and recessional music was provided by Jane Womack on the Sears Carillon.

Tuition Hike Bill 'Tagged'

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Senate committee consideration of a bill that would let regents at state colleges raise tuition was held up for 48 hours today, lessening chances for passage this session.

Sen. Tati Santiesteban, D-El Paso, "tagged" the measure implementing the hike. Under Senate rules, any senator can delay committee consideration of a bill.

"I have always opposed any increase in the tuition charged at our state colleges and universities, and decided to act now to block the possible passage of this measure," Santiesteban said.

The bill may be brought up in the Senate Education Committee no earlier than Sunday. The legislative session adjourns in early June.

"The cost of a college education is already a too heavy burden for many students and their families, and raising tuition can only have the effect of forcing many students to either drop or delay their educational plans," he said.

The original plan had called for a 100 percent increase in undergraduate tuition, and a 900 percent hike at Texas medical schools. As amended, the bill now gives regents the power to raise tuition.

Nance Is President...

UW Officers Elected

Lewis Nance was elected president of the Scurry County United Way at the organization's board meeting Thursday at city hall.

Other officers elected at Thursday's meeting are JoAnn Nunley, second vice president, and Jerry Vestal, who was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

A committee was named to nominate campaign chairmen for the 1981 United Way drive for funds. It is composed of Rex Robinson, Frances Wiman, Rodger Sullenger, R. C. Patton, Mike Reed and Nance.

Also named at the meeting was a budget and allocations committee. Members of that committee include Nance, Mrs. Hedges, Mrs. Nunley, Vestal, Sullenger, Reed, L. E. Griffin, Hassie Sneed, Bob Clifton, Pat Rice, Fred Costillo, Jeanne Bullard, Lyle Deffebach and Elizabeth Potts.

Inflation Shows Signs Of Easing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gasoline and grocery prices fell in April, holding the nation's overall inflation increase to 0.4 percent — an annual rate of 5.1 percent and the best monthly performance since July, the government reported today.

Inflation is averaging about 8.4 percent this year, 4 percentage points under the 12.4 percent rate for all of last year.

The April figure, which follows a 0.6 percent increase in March, is the best since the 0.1 percent rise in July.

Overall food prices, which many economists expected to rise substantially this year, remained steady in April after gaining only slightly in the previous two months, according to today's consumer price index released by the Labor Department.

Prices for food and groceries actually fell 0.2 percent, but prices for restaurant meals and alcoholic beverages were slightly higher.

Gasoline prices declined 1.4 percent in April after rising 13.4 percent in the first three months of the year, the report said. And economists say the worldwide oil supply makes it unlikely there will be any big energy-cost increases in the next few months.

Transportation costs in general declined 0.1 percent in April, with the gasoline-price drop-off partly balanced by a 1.8 percent rise in new-car prices with the end of big rebate programs.

All of the figures are adjusted for seasonal variations.

The report said the unadjusted consumer price index rose to 266.8 in April, which means that goods and services that cost $10 in 1967 would have cost $26.68 last month.

The Labor Department also said real spendable earnings — after taxes and adjusting for inflation — dropped 0.1 percent in April for an average married wage-earner with three dependents.

Real spendable earnings were down 2.5 percent from April 1980, while the CPI was 10 percent higher for that 12-month period.

In specific categories in April:

—Housing costs rose 0.7 percent, with a 0.2 percent decrease in house prices outweighed by a 1.6 percent rise in mortgage interest costs and a 0.7 percent increase in home fuels and utility costs.

—Prices for clothing and upkeep rose 0.2 percent.

—Medical care rose 0.9 percent, the same as the previous two months.

The Reagan administration predicts an 11.1 percent rate for this year, but many economists say overall inflation may be lower.

Some analysts say the inflation rate probably won't heat up much until late summer — and maybe not even then.

"Single-digit inflation may be too optimistic a forecast for this year," said David Ernst, a vice president of Evans Economics here. But a rate just barely over 10 percent might be possible, he said.

Food prices are likely to rise a lot later in the year, he said, in light of droughts developing in some parts of the nation.

Israeli Planes Are Shot Down

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Syrian surface-to-air missiles downed two Israeli spy planes over eastern Lebanon's Bekaa Valley today, the Damascus command said. Israel admitted one pilotless craft downed by the missiles it demands be removed and which Syria refuses to budge.

The Syrian command in Damascus said the planes were brought down at 12:19 p.m. — 6:19 a.m. EDT — while they were on a "spying mission. One plane crashed near Kafraya and the second near Jib Jannin. We have collected the wreckage of both planes."

Kafraya and Jib Jannin are 12 miles southwest of Chtaura, the Bekaa city that houses the command of Syria's 22,000-man army in Lebanon.

The Israeli command in Tel Aviv said one pilotless drone was downed over eastern Lebanon. It was the second one shot down since May 14, two weeks after Syria deployed the missiles in the Bekaa Valley and following the downing of two Syrian helicopter gunships in the area by Israeli jets.

Artillery shells also exploded within the Beirut residence compound of U.S. Ambassador John Gunther Dean.

Anti-Abortion Bill Advances

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a major victory for foes of legalized abortion, Congress is moving toward final approval of the most stringent anti-abortion legislation ever endorsed by both houses.

The Senate voted 52-43 on Thursday to remove incest and rape as justification for abortions under the federal Medicaid program. That means that a low-income woman will qualify for federal funds to end a pregnancy only if her life is threatened.

Opponents of the change said only 5,000 to 10,000 women might be disqualified by the legislation.

But the vote provided a vivid demonstration of the strength conservatives are likely to have later this year on more general legislation seeking to reverse the 1973 Supreme Court decision legalizing abortions.

The abortion amendment, tacked onto a $13.3 billion appropriations measure needed to keep the government running until September, is similar to one already approved by the House, and so final approval would seem a mere formality.

The House also voted to eliminate financing for abortions for federal employees, and that difference will be worked out in a House-Senate conference committee when Congress returns from a 10-day Memorial Day recess which began Thurday.

Before Republicans took control of the Senate in January, it had resisted tougher abortion restrictions frequently voted by the House.

In Thursday's debate, the 47-member Democratic minority remained silent, letting Republican supporters of legalized abortion carry the losing fight.

Sen. Bob Packwood, R-Ore., said fundamentalist, conservatives were attempting to force their opposition to abortions through the Senate, even though most Americans do not object to permitting women to make their own decisions on whether to end a pregnancy.

"There is a growing force in this country fueled by a Cotton Mather mentality, that wishes to impose on this country a Cotton Mather morality," he said, referring to the Colonial era preacher with unyielding puritanical views.

Some senators, including Mark Hatfield, R-Ore., said that while they opposed legal abortions, they objected to the practice of tacking proposals changing public policy on legislation designed solely to appropriate money for the government.

But Sen. Jesse Helms, R-N.C., the principal foe of abortions in the Senate, said the question was a moral one, not a procedural question, and warned that those who voted against the restriction "will be attentively watched" by militant anti-abortion organizations who credited with helping defeat some liberal incumbent senators in the 1980 elections.

Bill Returns Land To Owners

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — A proposal that would allow the Texas land commissioner to issue titles to Leon County families who acquired land without knowing of a defect in the original seller's title cleared the Senate on Thursday.

The proposed constitutional amendment was introduced after Jesse Johnson's plight was publicized.

Johnson, 80, bought his East Texas farm in 1928 and has paid taxes on it since then, but the land was not legally transferred to Johnson because of a 140-year defect in the original title.

The amendment would allow the commissioner to issue titles to persons who acquired land without knowledge of defects and had claimed it in good faith, including the payment of taxes, for at least 50 years.

The House-approved proposal was sent back to the House on a 31-0 vote with one amendment. Voters would consider the measure at the November 1982 general election instead of November 1981.

"Commissioner (Bob) Armstrong has made it clear he's not going to evict anyone," said Sen. Kent Caperton, D-Bryan. He said it would be cheaper to include the proposal on the 1982 ballot.

Man Arrested On Theft Warrant

Lt. Steve Warren arrested a 25 year-old man at Western Co. Thursday afternoon on theft and city warrants issued in Big Spring. The subject was taken to the sheriff's office to await extradition to Big Spring.

Three minor accidents were reported Thursday afternoon. The first, at 37th and College, was worked by officer Don Whittenburg. Involved was a 1970 Dodge driven by Jeffery Riedel, and a 1980 Ford driven by Jay W. Hammond.

At 3:39 p.m., a 1980 Oldsmobile driven by Bonnie Timora and a 1969 Chevrolet driven by Michael W. Irwin, were involved in a minor mishap at 37th and College. Taking the report was officer Richard McCulley.

Another minor accident occurred at 30th and College at 7:48 p.m. and was worked by officer Whittenburg. Involved in that was a 1980 Pontiac driven by Gary Ray Cain and a 1970 Oldsmobile driven by Keith W. Baize. No wrecker was needed for any of the incidents.

A criminal mischief was reported to officer Whittenburg at 8:30 p.m. Kent Campbell said someone had walked by his car and kicked the wheel covers while it was parked at 13th and College. He estimated the damage at $50.

At 8:57 p.m., officer McCulley picked up two men at 1500 College for possession of marijuana, less than two ounces.

HEALTH
Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Exercise the mind at any age

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — My husband, age 77, had a mild stroke. His speech is slightly slurred when he is very tired. The problem I notice most is his memory loss. He can't remember where he put something yesterday. He's afraid to drive, afraid he will get lost. I feel the stroke has affected his brain. Will this ever improve?

I read an article regarding senility that said much of older people's problems wasn't senility but could be lack of proper diet, medication, etc., and that many older people were put away when they could be treated. My husband had a brilliant mind and has a Ph.D. but his mind has slowed so. He realizes his problem and is very distressed. Do you have any idea regarding this?

DEAR READER — Unfortunately this is a very common problem. I don't think our society has come to grips with it yet. It is true that as many as one in five people who have symptoms we attribute to senility have a medical problem. In point of fact, your letter indicates your husband has a medical problem — the changes in circulation to his brain that caused the stroke. In some instances these medical problems can be corrected, such as those rare instances of chemical imbalance or a case of vitamin B-12 deficiency, but many others cannot.

The damage in your husband's brain cannot be corrected. But he may learn new ways to use other parts of his brain that may help him.

A summary of the different causes of symptoms we attribute to senility is included in The Health Letter number 14-2, The Aging Mind, which I am sending you. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019. It also provides more details on what you can do to help.

Many older people with brains that don't function as well as they once did can be helped. They tend to forget more easily just as young children forget. Learning is slower. If we could only provide ways to give them more time to learn and stimulate their learning many would be able to cope.

I would recommend memory training, even though it may be difficult. The more you exercise the mind, the better it works at almost any age.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Some time ago you mentioned a new drug, relatively safe to use for menopause flashes. I lost the article and need a copy for my doctor. I suffer a great deal from this. My doctor said he knew nothing new except estrogen which I do not want to take. He would appreciate any suggestions and so would I.

DEAR READER — You probably have reference to studies by Drs. David R. Meldrum and Howard L. Judd of UCLA Medical Center. They have been studying the ability of progesterone to prevent hot flashes. Women have two main types of female hormones, estrogen and progesterone. Both inhibit the pituitary action on the ovaries. It is worth trying. Progesterone has different actions from estrogens and has not been linked to any increased risk of cancer.

Other doctors have been trying Inderal because of its anti-adrenaline effects.

Vitamin E has been cited as useful but careful studies leave its value for hot flashes very much in doubt. At least it is relatively harmless if you should decide to try it.

Wiretap Bill Aims At Drugs

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Texas needs a wiretap bill to keep dangerous drugs out of the hands of "kiddos" who have no protection against dope pushers, a lawmaker says.

Sen. Bob Glasgow, D-Stephenville, is a strong supporter of the measure, already passed by the House and approved Thursday by the Senate Jurisprudence Committee.

The Senate then voted 21-6 to debate the bill at 10 a.m. Saturday, although some Democratic senators claimed there had been "earlier indications" the Senate would not meet Saturday.

During the two days of committee hearings on the measure, Glasgow referred several times to the problem of drug abuse among Texas teen-agers.

"It's not just an urban problem," he said, because rural youths "who don't know what they're getting into" also use dangerous drugs.

The bill, part of Gov. Bill Clements' "War on Drugs" package, would allow Department of Public Safety agents investigating drug cases to secretly enter buildings, install bugs, and tap telephone lines after receiving judicial permission. The bill would expire on Sept. 1, 1985.

If the surveillance produces information about crimes not related to illegal drugs, officers could turn it over to appropriate authorities.

Supporters say the bill is designed to catch the "kingpins" and "master criminals" of the illegal drug trade, whose wealth and sophistication let them operate in relative safety, compared to the small-time street pusher most often arrested.

Critics say the bill brings Texas close to the "Big Brother Is Watching You" world created by George Orwell in his horrific anti-utopian novel, "1984."

"'1984' is coming three years early," said Frank Maloney, an Austin lawyer representing the Texas Criminal Defense Lawyers.

Maloney detailed a number of abuses, including electronic eavesdropping on political dissidents and completely innocent people, that he said the bill would encourage.

Glasgow conceded there probably would be abuses by officers who are "crooks," "over-zealous," or just ignorant of the law, but said keeping drugs out of schools was worth the risk.

"There's just drugs out there everywhere," he said. "We're seeing kiddos out there who're ruining their lives."

"My question is this: There may be some abuses, but don't you think it's worth it?" said Glasgow. "Where's your risk? A defendant, who has these built-in protections of a public trial and an attorney and all of that, or those kids who have no protection?"

On Thursday, Maloney quietly replied that the bill would not protect teenagers, and wasn't designed to. In earlier testimony, criminal defense attorney Roy Minton lost his temper when Glasgow brought up the subject of young drug abusers.

"You embarrass me, the way you always say, 'Is it better' to have a child murdered than to pass this bill?' " Minton said sharply. "That is not the question."

REMINISCING—Jack Gorman, left, assistant superintendent of Snyder Public Schools, and Dr. James Stewart Jr., right, president of the University of Texas at Tyler, talked over some "old times" prior to the Western Texas College graduation program Thursday night. Gorman and Stewart worked together as junior high administrators in the local school system several years ago. With them is Stewart's elder son, Bryan, a student at Tarleton State University, who made the trip here with his father, who was speaker at the WTC graduate rites.

Ohio Model Is Pageant Queen

BILOXI, Miss. (AP) — As Miss New York sat in the audience, "depressed" by her disqualification for padding her swimsuit top, a 20-year-old modeling instructor representing Ohio was crowned Miss USA.

The winner, Kim Seelbrede, gave no indication that her victory was marred by the padding controversy.

"Pageants are stigmatized as being a lot of hard work with tough competition and cut-throat girls. But it's really not like that," said Miss Seelbrede, who was Miss Ohio. "I've gotten to meet a lot of super girls. They're all very nice. They're not cut-throats like I had anticipated."

Miss New York, Deborah Fountain, was a paying spectator in the pageant audience Thursday night, and no substitute was allowed to represent New York State in her place.

"I'm very depressed," she said as she walked from her hotel to the Mississippi Coast Coliseum, where the pageant was held.

Miss Fountain had filed suit to force pageant officials to readmit her, but the suit was dismissed Thursday afternoon by a New York Supreme Court Justice who ruled there was not enough first-hand information to support such an order.

The 25-year-old Bronx resident vowed to continue her legal battle, however, to "let them know I haven't been treated fairly."

The absence of a Miss New York was not explained to the national television audience but Miss Fountain was shown briefly with other contestants modeling swimsuits in a portion of the program taped before she was ejected.

Miss Fountain said she padded her swimsuit top because the garment was ill-fitting and the pageant staff had refused her requests to alter it. She contends a pageant official took her into a restroom and pulled down the front of her swimsuit after an unidentified contestant had complained.

Miss Fountain also charged Wednesday that at least five other contestants had silicone implants in their breasts to improve their figures and as many as 20 had padded their swimsuits.

A statement prepared by the contestants Thursday said they were "incensed and outraged by the self-serving charges of widespread padding and infractions by Miss USA contestants...and we categorically deny them."

Auto Inspection Bill Advances

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Annual auto inspections would be out if a bare majority of the Texas House has its way.

By a 74-66 vote, representatives approved Thursday a bill to repeal the motor vehicle inspection act and at the same time raise drivers' license fees to finance more highway patrols.

A final House vote is needed before the measure goes to the Senate.

"This will save Texans $50 million a year," claimed Rep. Jim Horn, R-Denton. "We will be able to transfer 118 Department of Public Safety officers from clerical duties and put them out on the highways ... We kill people on the highways by speeding and drunk driving."

"What you have here is a tax bill," shouted Rep. Betty Denton, D-Waco. "You are going to put the burden on the people and take money from their pockets."

Horn's bill would wipe out a state law that since 1953 has required automobile and truck owners to have their vehicles inspected for safety each year. The inspection fee currently is $5

Effective this Sept. 1 the regular drivers' license fee would be increased from $7 to $13 for four years. Commercial operators licenses, good for two years, would go from $10 to $19 and a chauffeur's license from $13 to $22.

"All the statistics indicate that not a single life has been saved by this inspection program, when you compare our figures with other states," said Horn.

Rep. Clint Hackney, D-Houston, said DPS figures showed that more than 2 million Texas cars failed inspections last year.

"When we get these extra DPS officers out on the highways they will be checking for these vehicle defects all the time, not relying on the once-a-year inspections," Horn replied.

Army Tents New Home For 80 Texas Inmates

HUNTSVILLE, Texas (AP) — Prison officials who say they are trying to comply with a federal court order to relieve overcrowding ordered the first 80 inmates to move into temporary housing today — U.S. Army tents draped over wooden frames.

Prison spokesman Rick Hartley said that by June 1, the Texas Department of Corrections hopes to have 165 of the eight-man shelters erected within the prison's 16 all-male units.

"We've got 3,000 people sleeping on the floor. As you can see, these tents provide a lot more liveable conditions," Hartley said Thursday as he showed a group of reporters several of a dozen shelters set up at the Diagnostic Unit a mile north of Huntsville.

Tents borrowed from the Texas National Guard serve as ceilings over the plywood-walled and -floored shelters, and the sides of the tents can be unrolled to cover screened windows in case of rain.

Hartley said the 16-foot by 32-foot shelters would give each man inside 64 square feet of living space.

The TDC is under federal court order to stop housing three men to a cell by Aug. 1, and the state corrections system must put only one inmate per 45 square-foot cell by August 1983.

There are more than 31,000 inmates in the Texas prison system, Hartley said.

Twelve shelters were ordered pressed into service today — 10 as dormitories and two, equipped with plumbing, as washrooms.

Hartley said concertina wire was added to the top of one of two 12-foot fences around the prison unit to discourage escape attempts, since technically, the prisoners in tents will not be behind bars.

Shelters were being erected at three other units, and Hartley said they would later be put into several other compounds.

The pine structures, resembling shelters at a summer camp, were built by inmate labor, but of half a dozen convicts involved in the project, none said he wanted to live in the tents.

Hartley described the tents as "open and roomy" and said "many of our men in the armed services never had living conditions anywhere near this."

But he said he knew of no prisoner who had volunteered to sleep in the tents.

Steven Anthony, 30, of Beaumont, who was convicted of stabbing a man to death, said he would not volunteer to sleep in the tents.

"They are just gonna be too hot in the summer time, and the bugs are going to be bad — the mosquitoes are already bad."

Hartley said summer heat would be no more a problem in the shelter than it is in the cells.

Red Cross Gets Senate Honors

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — The Texas Senate on Thursday congratulated the American Red Cross — an "unequaled humanitarian society" — on the 100th anniversary of its founding by Clara Barton, a former school teacher.

Sen. Carlos Truan, D-Corpus Christi, said, "We along the coast benefit greatly from this fine organization."

He said the Red Cross spent $10.8 million after Hurricane Celia, with about 75 percent going to the Corpus Christi area, and $4.2 million after Hurricane Allen.

"It's a comfort to know the Red Cross is there if you do have a natural disaster in the form of a hurricane," said Sen. James "Buster" Brown, R-Lake Jackson.

Truan's resolution expressing "deepest gratitude" to the Red Cross was adopted on voice vote.

"If you want to get the most for your car insurance dollar... see me."

Graveside rites have been set for 2:30 p. m. Saturday in Hillside Memorial Gardens, with the Rev. Buck Hatfield, pastor of Faith Baptist Church, to officiate. Bell-Seale Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

A native of Childress, he was married on May 6, 1930, in Canyon to Willie Vay Markham. She survives.

Cardinals Pop Astros, Ryan In 3-1 Victory

ST. LOUIS (AP) - Leave it to the skulduggery of Whitey Herzog to come up with a solution when his St. Louis Cardinals are in need.

Such an occasion arose Thursday against the Houston Astros. And St. Louis, instead of being blown down by the fastballs of Nolan Ryan, found itself riding the deliveries of rookie John Martin to a 3-1 triumph.

If Martin's four-hitter in only his sixth major league start surprised anyone but Houston, the Cards' manager guarded it closley as a secret.

"He had more complete games than anyone in our organization," Herzog said from his repose in the St. Louis clubhouse. "His chances of pitching a complete game were good because we didn't have (Bruce) Sutter, we didn't have (Jim) Kaat and we had a tired bullpen."

Martin, recalled from the minors by the Cards on May 11, was serving as a spot starter in the absence of another rookie hurler, injured right-hander Andy Rincon.

At home plate, the St. Louis left-hander could do no more than become part of a six-strikeout performance by Ryan, 3-2, who pitched 6 1-3 innings.

But on the mound, he was nearly flawless. He walked two, fanned one and lost his bid for a shutout when Dave Roberts drilled a one-out home run in the seventh.

Honors State's Top Athletes...

Texas Hall Opens Saturday

GRAND PRAIRIE (AP) - A lasting shrine to Texas' sports heroes becomes more than just a 32-year dream Saturday with a pennant-snipping which officially opens the doors of a unique $4.5 million facility.

Located just off the old turnpike (Interstate 30) in Grand Prairie midway between Dallas and Fort Worth, the Texas Sports Hall of Fame houses memorabilia from the lives of most of the 122 enshrinees.

The idea for a Texas Sports Hall of Fame was born in 1949 at the Texas High School Coaches Summer convention in Beaumont when Thad Johnson, then the sports editor of the Beaumont Enterprise, suggested it would be a good way to honor the state's athletic giants.

In 1951, baseball's Tris Speaker became the first inductee.

Some of the memorabilia in the building includes a photograph of Speaker with the 1920 World Champion Cleveland Indians, the golf clubs of the late Babe Didrikson, the riding gear of Willie Shoemaker, etc.

Race driver A.J. Foyt has donated the car in which he captured an Indianapolis 500 and Lee Trevino's homemade golf clubs from his first U.S. Open victory are on display along with all of footballer Bobby Layne's old trophies among other items in the two-story building.

There are four theaters for baseball, football, nostalgia and sports in general. Former Dallas Cowboy Don Meredith, an enshrinee himself, does the narration on one of the football films.

More than 100 persons can be seated on realistic football-style bleachers in the theater.

More than half of the 29,000 square feet of floor space is dedicated to displays and exhibits.

One exhibit for example, is a soccer ball and a goalie. If someone kicks the soccer ball and the mechanical goalie stops it, boos ring out. If the kicker makes the goal, he hears cheers.

Other displays include such items as a Texas sports trivia quiz, a high jump landing bag spectators can flop into, and an eye-hand coordination test.

The hall has electronic games incorporated throughout the building along with a dining facility, meeting rooms, a gift and book shop.

There is a large parking area for buses and campers as well as the automobiles of the visitors.

Admission is $3 for adults and $1.50 for children ages 4-12. Children under 4 are admitted free.

Proceeds go to retire revenue bonds issued to finance the non-profit facility. Excess profits will be donated to create athletic scholarships for needy Texans.

Central Foes Tangle Today

AUSTIN (AP) Southwest Conference champ Texas and Western Athletic Conference winner Brigham Young will match iron-men pitchers tonight as they begin a weekend of play that leads to a berth in the college baseball world series in Omaha.

The double-elimination NCAA Central Regionals opened today with hard-hitting Stanford, 40-20 and Pac-10 runnerup, playing Southland Conference champ Lamar, 53-24.

BYU Coach Gary Pullins said Peter Kendrick, 16-2, should be ready to go against the No. 5 Longhorns. Kendrick was the winner in both ends of a Monday doubleheader win over Hawaii for the WAC title.

"It should be exciting to see him against Tony Arnold," said Gilligan, adding that Kendrick would pitch only if he is "100 percent."

Arnold went 14 innings last Friday night against Rice in the SWC tournament. He shut out the Owls over the last 11, and Texas tied the game with two outs in the ninth. The Horns won the rain-delayed game 7-6 in the 20th inning on Saturday.

"There's no soreness and I'm well rested," said Arnold, 15-0.

The Cougars are sparked by an aggressive hitting attack, keyed by leadoff hitter Steve Campbell who hit seven game-opening home runs this year.

Texas has featured solid hitting from catcher Burk Goldthorn, who played every game and has hit .373 in the last 15 games.

Sports In Brief

ISLANDERS WIN STANLEY CUP

UNIONDALE, N.Y. (AP) - Butch Goring, the Islanders' catalyst throughout the NHL playoffs, scored two first-period goals to propel New York to its second consecutive Stanley Cup with a 5-1 victory over the Minnesota North Stars in the fifth game of the finals.

The nine-year-old Islanders, who lost only three of 18 postseason games this spring, jumped to a 3-1 lead after one period on Goring's two goals and one by Wayne Merrick. They stretched it to 4-1 on Bob Bourne's goal just 39 seconds from the end of the second session and iced the victory on Mike McEwen's tally late in the third period.

HAYES LEADS AT MEMORIAL

DUBLIN, Ohio (AP) - Mark Hayes birdied the last hole for a 5-under-par 67 and took the first round lead in the Memorial Golf Tournament.

Bobby Clampett, Tom Purtzer, D.A. Weibring and Lanny Wadkins shared the second spot at 68.

SHEEDAN FRONTS CLASSIC FIELD

CORNING, N.Y. (AP) - Patty Sheehan tied a women's Corning Country Club course record with a 6-under-par 66 to take a two-stroke lead after the first day of the $125,000 Corning Classic.

Cathy Morse was in second place at 68. Nancy Lopez-Melton, Debbie Austin and Lenore Muraoka were two strokes behind at 69.

'Poke Safety To Report Despite Knee Problems

DALLAS (AP) - Dallas Cowboys strong safety Charlie Waters says he'll report to training camp again this year despite a twice-repaired right knee that threatens to ruin his dream of making a comeback.

"Some people are telling me I'm a fool. Believe me, I don't want to be a cripple," Waters said. "But I admire professional athletes who make a comeback. And I want to make a comeback, too."

The 10-year veteran played most of the 1980 season with a torn ligament - an injury club doctors didn't discover until the final game - and underwent knee surgery during the off season for the second time in 15 months.

"If it collapses again in camp, I'm quitting. That's it," said Waters. "I want to produce like I did last year. But I'm not going through what I had to put up with most of last year."

Waters said in an interview in Thursday's Dallas Times Herald that he has put off his contemplated retirement at least another year and will report to the team's training camp in July.

"It's safe to say that I'm going ahead to get ready for the season. I've still got to go through the rigors of training camp. There's no guarantee that I'll make it all the way through training camp. But I have to approach this thing like I'm planning to play," said Waters.

The 32-year-old former Pro Bowler has wrestled since February with the decision of whether to retire.

Waters has spent the past two months in a rehabilitation program at the club's practice field. He said the knee is feeling better.

He met with Coach Tom Landry earlier this month to discuss his progress.

"Charlie has given me every indication that he plans to be with us," said Landry. "I've seen nothing negative, no swelling at all. And he doesn't seem to be bothered by it at all."

Figures show that only about one-third of the players in the National Basketball Association stay with one team for their full careers.

Odessa Tough At Juco Meet

SAN ANGELO (AP) - Sprinter William Davis and hurdler Glen Fink led favored Odessa College's qualifying effort Thursday during first-day action at the National Junior College Athletic Association Track and Field Meet at Angelo State University.

Fink topped all qualifiers in the 110-meter high hurdles and the 400-meter intermediate hurdles, and Davis turned in the fastest times in the 100- and 200-meter dash preliminaries.

Phil Killinger of Linn-Benton Community College, Oregon, won the only men's final Thursday, taking the hammer throw with a toss of 168-0.

Leisha Lass of Lane Community College, also in Oregon, won the discus to pace Lane to the first-day women's division lead after two events.

This evening's matches pit Morris Sewell against Laddie McMillan at 6, Randy Rodgers against Mike Dennis at 7, John Tom Thompson against Ron Watson and Phil Fortune against Gary Scarber at 8, and David Holt against Ray Grimmett at 9.
