The District 1-AA basketball tournament for both boys and girls teams will be held at the Perryton high school gymnasium this week, with five boys teams and four girl teams entered. Play begins Wednesday night at 7 p. m. when the Dalhart and Dumas girls open the tournament.

Grass Bathed by Monday Shower

Perryton's dry spell was relieved somewhat by a light rain which fell Monday afternoon and night, bringing .19 inch of moisture. While this did little more than wash the dust off the grass, it was welcome moisture to farmers and ranchers. The rain started falling about noon Monday and after the weather cleared off that afternoon, a light drizzle fell during the night to bring the total moisture to .19 inch.

Filing Deadline
For City Office
Two Weeks Off

City and school elections will be held the first week in April and the deadline for candidates to file for city office is only two weeks away.

Three aldermen for the city council will be elected at the city election to be held Tuesday, April 1 and the law requires that candidates must be a citizen, a resident of Perryton and must file for office with the city clerk at least 30 days prior to the election. This means that the deadline for filing for city office is Tuesday, March 1, just about two weeks away.

The terms of aldermen Drew Ellis, Clyde Cofer and Dean McCutcheon will expire this year. Under the city manager form of government, only the five aldermen are elected and they in turn elect a mayor. Dean McCutcheon of course, is the present mayor.

Holdover members of the city council are G. T. Leatherman and Jim Anderson.

On Saturday, April 5, all residents of the Perryton Independent School District who hold a poll tax receipt or exemption may vote on candidates for the

Top Club Calves and Herefords Sell
For Record Prices at Annual SalesHereford Bull
Brings $1,300;
$1.30 for Calf

The sixth Annual Registered Hereford Sale, held Tuesday at the county warehouse, set a new record for sales, establishing an average of $583 for the 54 animals and total sales receipts of $31,490. This compares with an average sale price of $569 per animal and total sales of $24,485 last year.

The top price of $1,300 for the grand champion bull was below the $1,385 figure established last year, however, and the average price of the bulls was $551 compared to $594 last year. The big increase was in the price of the cows, which averaged $669 this year compared to $522 last year.

Another record was set Monday afternoon when local businessmen paid $11,415.40 for the 26 calves exhibited by the 4-H Club and FFA boys. The Perryton Implement Co. outbid all others for the grand champion and paid $1.30 per pound for

Jaycees Vote Not to Sponsor
Celebration; Plan County Fair

The Perryton Junior Chamber of Commerce voted Wednesday to discontinue sponsorship of the annual Perryton Celebration and to promote instead a county fair this fall. The Jaycees have sponsored the annual celebration for the past six years, since the first post-war celebration in 1946.

There has been growing interest in a county fair, with most of the organizations in the county in favor of it. A meeting has been called for Tuesday night at the district courtroom to lay plans for a fair, and representatives of several organizations have been asked to attend.

Organizations asked to take part in this formation meeting are the Commissioners' Court, Ochiltree County Wheat Growers, Farm Bureau, North Plains Hereford Breeders Association, North Plains Aberdeen-Angus Association, Ochiltree Home Demonstration Club, Chamber of Commerce, Certified Grain Growers, 4-H and FFA clubs, the local schools, and any other organization or individual that is interested.

Most likely date for a county fair will be late in August, possibly the week preceding the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo, according to Harold Hudson, Jaycee president.

"This doesn't mean there will be no celebration," Hudson said. Maybe some other organization will want to sponsor it, but the Jaycees have checked out. We'll devote our time and energy toward a fair."

It has been pointed out that the county already puts in a lot of work toward agricultural exhibits, such as the Home Demonstration Achievement Day, the Better Livestock Day, and other events during the year. If all these events were put together, the county could put on a good fair, and have all the entertainment events commonly associated with a celebration.

John King Is
Candidate for Commissioner

John King, Ochiltree county farmer who lives 16 miles south of Farnsworth, has authorized the Herald to announce his candidacy for reelection as commissioner, precinct 3, subject to the action of the voters in the July Democratic Primary.

King is serving his first term as county commissioner, having been elected in 1950 in his first race for any public office.

He is the son of a pioneer couple and has lived practically all of his life in Ochiltree county, although he was born in Roberts county 53 years ago.

King has lived on his present farm since 1928.

In making his announcement, King said, "I feel that I am familiar with the needs and problems of my precinct and have experience enough to continue to serve the precinct if reelected."

Frank admitted embezzling more than $18,000 from the bank and making false entries in the bank's books.

He was indicted by the federal grand jury last Thursday.

According to the indictment, Frank took $18,838.45 from the bank and made three false entries in bank records.

ots, Criminals and Soldiers

This year of 1952 has been boomed as the biggest election year in a decade, with mounting interest on the part of the voters in all parts of Texas. Ochiltree county has a record number of poll taxes paid, and it appears that the common man going to take a bigger interest in politics and voting than at any time in recent history.

However, the man who is doing more than any of us to guarantee our right to vote and preserve our freedom—the soldier, sailor and marine—is himself deprived of this heritage in Texas. If a man is serving his country in uniform, he is classed with minors, idiots and lunatics, paupers, and convicts under the Texas Election Laws.

He is barred from voting in this state. How this provision got into the election laws seems a matter of mystery. Our casual mention of this to many local people has evoked only surprise. County judge Howard Slaughter was very much disturbed when he read this provision in the 1952 Texas Election Laws, and he thinks something ought to be done about it.

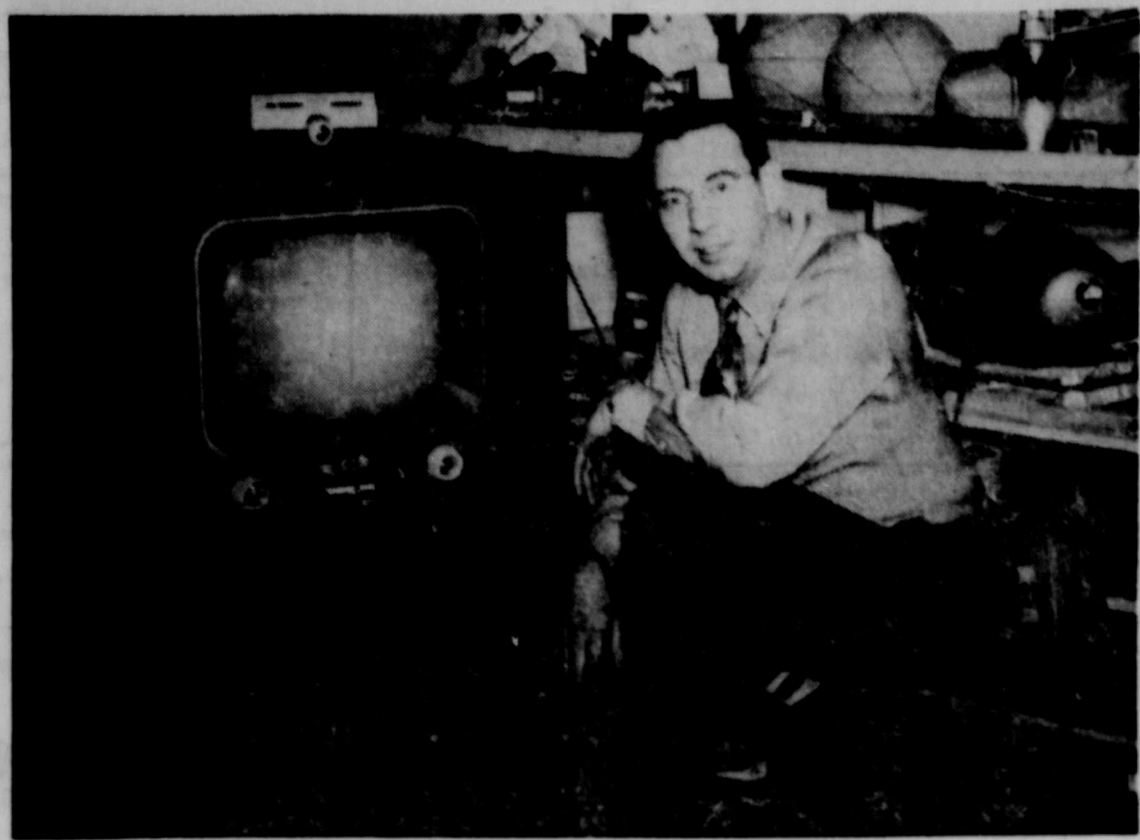

In fact, we can't see any justification for barring Ochiltree county servicemen from the polls. Perhaps the provision barring soldiers from the polls in Texas was to prevent "mass voting" in army camps, or perhaps to keep northern Republicans in uniform from voting in Texas. We don't know the reason why, but a man is 21 and is serving his country in uniform, there seems to be no reason at all for his not being able to vote.

The 1952 Texas Election Laws were changed in order to allow members of the Texas National Guard to vote, but nothing has been done to let members of the Army, Navy or Marines cast ballot. We fail to see the justice of this.

Some letters of protest to state senator Grady Hazelwood and state representative Bill Craig might help get this thing changed.

CHAMPION BULLS—Jake Bussard of Glazier, right, holds Domino Mixer 2d, grand champion bull at the Sixth Annual Registered Hereford Sale, and Harry Born of Follett, left, holds Texas Zato Heir 12th, reserve champion bull. The grand champion sold for $1,300 and the reserve champion for $1,140.

TELEVISION ENTHUSIAST—Troy Bolerjack of the White Auto Store is another Perryton television enthusiast, although he has been experimenting with his set only since December. He says he gets Oklahoma City pretty often and occasionally roams far afield, even to Alabama. Right now he's installing a different aerial to try and improve reception.

VANCOUVER, B. C.—A California businessman who went to northern British Columbia "to die with his boots on" is back in Vancouver with a recipe for health and happiness.

Last June, doctors gave 48-year-old Jim Porter of Santa Rosa three months to live because of a heart condition. So he sold his automobile business, got a specially-built trailer and with his wife, Carolyn, and pomeranian, "Alias Puddles" headed for British Columbia's northland.

"I wanted to die with my boots on," he said.

Now he says he believes he is alive because he has been living like an Eskimo. "Leave your cares behind. Go north as close to the good God as you can get. Fish in a lake. If that won't cure your ills, nothing else will."

was elected as state president last November.

Faculty members of Gruver, Booker, Waka and Spearman attended the meeting in the recreation room of the First Methodist Church.

Miss Hillyer told the group that "every teacher should assist the students to become better readers so that they might more readily understand the meaning of their lessons."

She pointed out that education now is better than it has ever been and credited improved reading programs with the progress.

The president of Texas' more than 50,000 classroom teachers declared that the existence of millions of new books in the last 20 years and believe-it-or-not "the comic books" have encouraged children to be better readers.

In her own school she told about the constant improvement of library facilities to encourage students to read more books, newspapers, magazines and even technical studies.

Miss Hillyer said that her reading education stemmed from experience as chief instructor of a one-teacher school near San Angelo. She remarked that she would like to apologize to her students at that school for her "reading" classes.

Objectives of the state group this year will be: superior qualifications before persons will be allowed to teach, a better salary scale and a constant fight to improve reading.

Miss Hillyer is full of fire and is best with an ambition to make an outstanding president for Texas Teachers. Perhaps it is best expressed by her answer when asked about the spelling of her name.

She replied "Ruth Hillyer, a classroom teacher on leave from San Angelo and it's 'Miss' not 'Mrs.'—by the grace of God and the negligence of man."

At a brief business meeting a nominating committee was elected to name officers for next year. They are: Kenneth Precise, J. D. Davis, Mrs. W. A. Reitz, Mrs. E. N. Flathers and Mrs. Raymond Powell.

This is the second year of active work for the Ochiltree County Teachers Association. James L. Wright serves as president and Mrs. Raymond Bowen is vice president of the unit.

GOVERNMENT TESTS PROVE WORMING HOGS MEANS MORE PROFIT

By Dr. D. H. LeGear

Tests made by the U. S. Department of Agriculture at the Beltsville Experiment Station proved that infestations of large round worms seriously affected the growth of pigs. In this experiment pigs were intentionally infected with worms and after four months of feeding they were butchered and examined. One pig found to be harboring 109 round worms actually weighed 83½ lbs. less at slaughter than it did four months earlier at the beginning of the feeding period. Its control mate, which was kept free of worms, had gained 96 lbs. during the same period. This shows that the badly worm infested pig actually represented a loss of 104¾ lbs. of pork. This is a pretty strong argument in favor of keeping your hogs free of worms by regular worming.

Now, that a one day herd treatment is available greater profits from your hogs are possible. And the new type hog worm powder can be fed in slop. Simply mix with feed or slop and the hogs worm themselves. You don't have to dose each hog separately. No fuss or extra work and the new hog worm powder does not affect the appetite of the hogs . . . they go right on eating and gaining without a set-back.

This new, safe and economical hog worm powder contains Phenothiazine and Oil of Chenopodium (American Worm Seed), combined with Area Nut. It is generally available.

Dry Roads, Sober Drivers But Speed Causes Most Accidents

If you do your driving in the Perryton area, you are most likely to have an accident between the hours of 5 p. m. and 7 p. m., the highway will be dry, your car in excellent condition, and you will be stone sober.

These facts were revealed by state highway patrolmen Jack Shields and Bob Loving after making a survey of the four-year accident record of their district, which includes Ochiltree, Hansford, Lipscomb and Hemphill counties.

The twilight hours are the most dangerous and the hours between 6 a. m. and noon are the least dangerous, the records show.

There were 220 accidents on dry roads and 93 on wet roads, proving that bad weather doesn't necessarily mean more wrecks. There were 163 accidents at night and 151 accidents in the daytime. Most of the fatal accidents occur at night, the patrolmen found.

The biggest single cause of accidents is excessive speed, with over 90 per cent of the accidents in this territory being laid to that cause. In practically every case where there is a head-on collision, the car goes off the road and turns over, or the car hits some obstacle, the driver nearly always says, "I didn't see it in time to stop," meaning he was going too fast, Shields remarked.

In only one fatal accident was defective equipment on a vehicle blamed, the patrolmen say. Few of the accidents were caused by drunken drivers.

During these four years there were 177 injured and 18 killed in this territory. This does not include the accident figures from Canadian, which would bring the total to approximately 400 wrecks and 200 injured, Shields said.

The first American paper mill was erected at Germantown, Pennsylvania, in 1690, the same year that the first American newspaper was attempted.

Balko Defeats Hardesty Teams

BALKO—Balko defeated Hardesty basketball teams in a double header here Tuesday evening but only after a thrilling girls game that was decided from the free throw line.

After the regular playing period the two girls teams were tied at 30 each and an extra period was played in which both teams scored freely and wound up in another deadlock. It was then decided to decide the contest by each member of each team tossing one free throw. By toss of coin it was decided that Balko would throw first and with the local team dropping three out of the six shots a great deal of pressure fell upon the visiting sextet.

Coming through in veteran fashion Hardesty dropped three of their six and the score was again tied. The procedure was repeated and the Balko lassies again made three of their free shots while Hardesty was scoring two of theirs. Final count stood at 41-40 for Balko.

Balko boys scored an easy 55-23 victory over the young Hardesty team while Coach Tom Palmer kept his mainstring on the bench most of the second half. Sophomores Ralph Cramer, Dean Zimmerman, and Raymond Thomason teamed with juniors Tommy Schlotz and Darrell Morris to play the Hardesty team on even terms.

Benny and Darrell Kerns were high scorers for Balko with 14 and 13 points while McCleneghen was high for Hardesty with 9 points. In the girls game Crawford looped 21 points for Hardesty while Ollenberger and Pearson were each scoring 16 for the home team.

By Mrs. Aldeen Rodgers

We received a very severe wind and dust storm with a few intermittent showers last Tuesday but have had much nicer weather lately.

There have been numerous cases of flu and several students have been absent in the Turpin school recently.

Mei Klassen of Turpin, who is basketball coach, took a group of boys to the 35th Annual Central State College Basketball Tournaments at Edmond, Okla., last Thursday. The boys won the first game they played but lost the next one to Lambert with a score of 48-41. They then went sightseeing in Oklahoma City and also drove to Stillwater and visited the campus of Oklahoma A & M College before returning home Saturday.

Mrs. Marilyn Rowbotham was a guest Thursday night of Leota Sherrill and both girls attended the Youth Fellowship Valentine party at the Bethel Church of God, northeast of Turpin.

Several musical numbers were presented before the speaker of the evening, Rev. Joe Herrington of Liberal, gave a talk.

Forty-nine young people of the Turpin and Forgan vicinities attended.

John Beck and Helen of Beaver visited Sunday at Aldeen Rodgers.

Ray Hayden has been hauling hay from Howard, Kansas lately.

Glen and Lee Schollenbarger of Beaver visited at John Winters Thursday.

Some of those in Perryton Saturday were Wes Jones, Mr. and Mrs. John Winter and Aldeen

A NEW GRANULAR PAY-U MINERAL DEVELOPED EXCLUSIVELY FOR RANGE USE

Waste from washing and blowing practically eliminated when you feed this New Granular Pay-U Mineral—for range animals

SCORES of stockmen who really know their business—both in sheep country and on cattle ranches—are discovering the new way of feeding the proper minerals. It's the improved granular form now put out by Pay-U Laboratories. Feeding this way has everywhere proven more satisfactory, and a good sight easier to handle.

Wind and water have little effect on this new granular form—it actually "stays put" right where you want it, and right where your animals can easily get it. Livestock consume this new granular form better, because it's more palatable than powder. And of course that means better results.

Try it. See for yourself how clean and easy it is to handle—economical and palatable in the feeding. Your Pay-U Dealer has it. Get some today.

IN THE HOUSE

by DAVID G. BAREUTHER, AP Real Estate Editor

A joke all you want to be a plumber—he's usually figured enough to call it a joke—but you have your hat off to him when he does the most plumbing jobs in the house.

For a few minor chores, fixing a dripping faucet, a clogged trap, or positioning the mechanism of a wash tank, it doesn't pay a householder to go to a handy-man plumber. The required cost so much jobs arise so seldom that it is smarter to pay the extra you stick to your own monkey wrench, good screw and a pair of pliers will get through minor plumbing. If you are fully equipped to do all plumbing you can use chain vises, pipe cutters, pipe stock and set of dies, or threading inside pipe reamers, hacksaws, joint blow-torches, calking flaring tools, bending and anything else you want from Santa Claus.

However, every member of your household should know something about the plumbing. In case of a leak or overflow considerable damage can be avoided by everyone knowing where and how to shut the water off. It's a fine idea to label important valves with baggage tags, which you can get at any stationery store.

"This shuts off all water," can mark the main valve near the meter where the supply line enters the basement, or the house. "This shuts off hot water." "Cold water shut-off for bathroom." "Hot water shut-off for kitchen," etc. Then if you're away, anyone can meet an emergency.

You really ought to take your family on a little tour of the plumbing system for a demonstration. Show each one how to turn off the gas for a hot water heater, or, if you have an electric water heater, which fuse plugs to loosen or remove to stop it from heating in an emergency. Most hot water storage tanks have a drain cock to which the garden hose can be connected for draining the tank. Show how this should be done if necessary, after turning off the heat.

One of the funniest, even though messiest, boners in any household is forgetting to turn off the water supply before starting to dismantle a faucet. It can happen to anybody, but usually only once in a lifetime. The shower you get is a wonderful teacher.

Most faucets nowadays are the compression type. They may have fancy handles in modern bathrooms, but they all work on the same general principle. When they start to leak around the handle it's a sign that the cap nut is loose, or the packing washer under it needs replacing. When a faucet develops a drip it needs a new disk washer.

Failure to turn off faucets with moderate firmness tends to cause dripping. This not only wastes water, makes rust stains on enamel, but also can drag you out of bed in the middle of the night if your wife has good ears.

Replacing washers is a simple chore. Keep a supply of good quality composition washers on hand—the better they are the longer they last. The most common sizes are 3/8, 1/2 and 5/8-inch. Hardware stores sell assortments in those sizes. If you have a faucet caving for a specially shaped washer, remove the old one and get it matched.

NEW DeSOTO—Frank Holdeman of the Holdeman Motor Co. is shown with a new DeSoto featuring the 160-horsepower V-8 motor. The new car goes on display Friday. Besides the new, powerful motor, the DeSoto features several exterior and interior refinements. This model is equipped with automatic drive and power steering.

But first shut off the water on the line leading to the faulty fixture! Put a cloth around the cap nut to keep the wrench from marring its finish. When the cap nut is loose, the spindle of the faucet will unscrew and come out.

The ground seat in the faucet, into which the washer fits, should be examined carefully. If it is roughed or corroded it can be reground with a faucet seat dressing tool—inexpensive and easy to use.

Use care in removing the brass screw that holds the washer on the end of the spindle. A dull screwdriver, or one of the wrong size, can damage the screw head and require replacement. If the screw won't budge a little kerosene and a few sharp taps should loosen it.

Never tighten a cap nut to a point where the faucet binds. If moderate tightening will not stop a leak around a stem, new packing is called for. A little cotton string can be wound around the stem under the nut temporarily, but packing washers are the only permanent solution.

FIGHTING SPIRIT

— "Texas won the tidelands by fighting against great odds at San Jacinto. With the same kind of fighting spirit Texans can keep federal officials from stealing these lands from our public school fund," says Texas Attorney General Price Daniel. "The four to three Supreme Court decision denied us the right to introduce evidence and ignored our solemn contract of annexation in which these lands were retained by Texas. The court decision should not be accepted as final. Congress has the authority to restore our property and will do so if we let the true facts be known. Every Texan can help by joining the Tidelands Crusade with dollar contributions, to let the other states know the facts and the ultimate threat to their state and private lands."

HEALTH FOR ALL

More About Noses

The nose not only is a useful tool in the process of breathing, it also has an esthetic duty, delivering odors to the nerve system to create the sense of smell.

Up at the top of each nostril is a small bulb which is the beginning of the olfactory nerve, the number one nerve of the head. This bulb is one end of a tube on each side of the underbrain, a tube that twists upward with all those other convolutions of the brain and comes out on top of the brain.

As odors pass through this tube, they cross other nerves, which either accept or reject different kinds of odors. More than likely, an acceptance of odors would be an expansion of the nerves which are tied in with the olfactory nerve and a rejection would be a tightening of those nerves. When you smell something good, you take deeper breaths to get more of the good smell into your nose and thus through your body, and when you smell something bad, you sorta snort and tighten up your nose—often even to holding your nose, of course.

This psychology of smells is a multi-million dollar business on which the French perfumers seem to have a corner. Anyone who doubts what odors can do need only glance at the perfume ads and see strong husky men swooning because some lady has dabbed on some scent. Perfume ads are all geared to the possibility of leading a man around by the nose. If the perfume is so powerful as to overcome the male, however, it is to be wondered at how the lady of the weaker sex can withstand her own powerful scent. Maybe the answer is that men have more sensitive olfactory nerves than women.

Scents are derived from oils. When a rose fragrance is desired, the roses are squashed and the oil extracted and the scent is supposed to come out rosy. Exactly what happens when that oil is extracted, consigned by John Sallee, sold to Randolph Gill, Miami, $280.

Domino Mischief 2d, consigned by John Sallee, sold to Ralph Rupprecht, Follett, $255.

Dandy Doctor 3d, consigned by Wayne Maddox, Miami, sold to Frank Chambers, Canadian $600.

evaporated rose scent hits the olfactory bulb of your nose isn't known. But when those olfactory bulbs fail to respond to the oils of scent or when no oils of scent are present in the air, somewhere on down the line it has a bearing on your sense of taste.

When you don't smell with your nose so good, you don't taste with your mouth so good.

Injuries to the wet lining of the nose, to those olfactory bulbs there by the bridge of the nose, or to the bulbs that lead to the top of the brain may cause a loss or a decrease in the sense of smell. Too much smelling causes a temporary decrease in the sense of smell. You can smell only about 4 strong odors, such as perfume, in a short period of time and then your sense of smell goes "blank." After a rest, you can smell some more but there seems to be a saturation point to your sense of smell.

Inflammation of any of those parts connected with smelling may also cause a temporary "blanking" of the sense of smell. If smelling causes swelling, then those organs already swollen from inflammation don't swell anymore. A cold in the nose, which is nearly always accompanied by inflammation in the nasal passages, certainly cuts down on the ability to detect odors and usually interferes with the taste of food, too.

Structurally, the whole process of smelling may be linked to an atomizer. When the oils of a scent hit that olfactory bulb in the nose, the bulb absorbs the oil and shoots it into the tubes of the brain from where the spray is dispersed.

Much literature and poetry have been written about the odoriferous business of smelling, but maybe Kipling sized it up best when he said,

"Smells are surer than sounds or sights"

To make your heart-strings "crack."

John Deere Day Is Scheduled For February 27

Six brand-new movies are on the program for the annual John Deere Day show to be held for farmers and their families on Wednesday, February 27, according to officials of the Perryton Implement Co., local John Deere dealers.

The picture shows will be held at the Ellis Theatre at 1 p. m. Wednesday, and there will be a free lunch at the company show-room at 11:30 a. m. that day.

The feature picture, "Gallagher Jones," features Richard Crane and the story centers around a farmer's son, recently graduated from law school, who thwarts the efforts of a big-time crook to profit from his political connections.

Other films are "The Big Pay-off," featuring Tom Gordon, and four more pictures that offer something new and different in dealing with subjects close to the hearts of today's farmers.

Jerry Pearson's Angus calf, setting a new high. Last year the top was $1.25.

The Perryton Implement also set a new high in paying $1 per pound for Duane Apple's reserve champion Hereford calf.

The calves averaged 52 cents per pound this year, compared with an average of 50 cents a year ago.

Top price of the day in the Hereford sale was paid by M. A. Smith and Son, of Gem, buyers of the grand champion bull consigned by Bussard and Son of Glazier. The reserve champion bull, consigned by Alex Born and Sons of Follett, sold for $1,140 to the Big Bull Ranch of Canadian.

The grand champion female, shown and consigned by J. P. Callihan of Conway, was sold to the Parker Ranch of Chelsea, Okla., for $1,075. A higher price, $1,160, was paid for the reserve champion female, consigned by Alex Born and Sons of Follett, by H. S. Flenner of Sayre, Okla.

The only other animal bringing $1,000 was a junior yearling bull sold by C. J. Frantz and Son to Paul Harland of Texhoma for $1,000.

Buyers were present from Oklahoma, Kansas, New Mexico and Texas. A complete list of calf buyers and also buyers of the registered Herefords will be found in other stories in this issue of the Herald.

In both boys and girls divisions. All tournament teams will be chosen and gold basketballs given to the all-star teams at the close of the tournament.

On the basis of season record, the Phillips boys and Dalhart girls are the favorites to win the coveted first place trophies. The Dalhart girls, sparked by all-state Joyce Davis, have conquered all of their district foes with comparative ease.

Phillips has not played any of the district 1-AA opponents, but have amassed a 20-8 record for the season while meeting such powerful teams as Amarillo, Pampa, Canyon, Spearman and Gruver.

There will be five boys games and two girls games on Thursday, beginning at 9 a. m. On Friday, there will be two games in the morning and the finals that night, beginning at 7:30 p. m.

claims to have received some wonderful programs, along with "snow" which is those white flakes of nothing on the screen, most of the time. Troy Bolerjack at the White Auto Store is another enthusiast, and right now he's working on a different antenna to help his reception.

Henshaw, who this week installed a new antenna tower on top of the Jim Anderson service station where he works, says that theoretically you need a tower about 28,483 feet high in order to get television from Oklahoma City. Since no tower can be built that high, the boys around here depend upon a smaller one and get results.

Henshaw says he can get a television program about 50 per cent of the time, and under ideal conditions the picture image is as good as they receive right near the station.

The last two weeks in December and the month of January were good times to get television programs, they all say. In fact, local television sets have received programs from as far away as Chicago, Montgomery, Ala., and Dallas.

All of the local sets have boosters to amplify the sound and picture reception and each one spends hours fooling around with his set, trying to get a program.

Henshaw explains this television business by comparing it with the early days of radio, when people sat up half the night with their earphones clamped on, straining to pick up a program from far afield, and considering it well worth the effort when they did hear a voice come over the air.

Channel 4, which is Oklahoma City here, is the most clear. It is not up in the ultra high frequency range, however, which the new stations will have. If they put Oklahoma City's station into the ultra high frequency, it will cut out any possibility of receiving television here. Then the only possibility of getting television will be from a close station.

For that reason, the sale of television sets is not booming, although there have been several sold lately.

Another reason that might discourage television enthusiasts is the amount of electricity consumed. Bolerjack said that the electricity bill at the store the month following installation of the television set was about double that of the previous month.

To a real "snow" expert, however, this is nothing. On with the show!

The musk ox is not really an ox at all, but a member of the sheep family. It is known also as an ovibos and polar ox.

Yeast Bread Is Study Topic

"Even though baking day is not the household institution that it was years ago, it is still important to know how to make good bread and rolls. J. Frantz, Jr.

It is the result of good ingredients, used in accurate proportions, carefully handled, and with a joy of the task in the heart of the home maker," further stated Mrs. Groves as she gave the demonstration on yeast rolls and attractive ways to shape the dough.

Wonderful Training

Don Good of Kansas State College, who judged the club calves and the registered Herefords at the annual shows this week, made some significant remarks to the 4-H Club and FFA youngsters at their banquet Monday night.

Addressing his remarks to the boys, he said that they should be very thankful that they (1) live in this county (2) live in a rural area (3) that they are learning how to work on a farm.

Good, a farm boy himself, pointed out that the farm training of hard work fits a man for later life as nothing else can do, and that a large per cent of successful Americans owe their success to this kind of training on a farm.

Even though modern farming has a wide variety of machines to take out some of the back-breaking labor, farming is still hard work, he pointed out. And working is nothing to be ashamed of, even if there is a modern trend toward shorter hours, less work and more pay.

He pointed out that life in a rural area is more wholesome, life is richer and more enjoyable when persons are thrown into closer contact with nature.

His praise of farming life and its advantages hold special significance in view of the modern trend toward larger farms and a dwindling of our farm population. Maybe the advantages of city life have been oversold.

Notice where spring football practice is getting underway at the University of Texas, and the major problem confronting coach Ed Price is that of finding a T-formation quarterback. This rings faintly familiar, since the University has been faced with this same problem ever since 1948, after Bobby Layne graduated. With about 90 per cent of the high schools in Texas operating from the T, it does look like a university with TU's resources could find a qualified quarterback.

While looking through a magazine the other night, we were startled to see a picture of a lady dressed in hat, gloves, skirt, etc., but with nothing between the waist and shoulders but a brassiere. Title of the ad was "I dreamed I stopped traffic with my Maiden-Form Bra." We can personally guarantee that a lady dressed like this will stop traffic with her Maiden-Form bra, or any other kind of bra, or even with no bra at all. We guarantee it.

Milton Morris, a former Perryton lad, now living at Canyon, has been entered in the race for Lions Club district governor. Milton was quite a basketball player in PHS in 1931 and was on championship teams at West Texas State College, where he graduated in 1934. He coached basketball for a couple of years at Friona, having two district championship teams, then moved to Canyon, where he coached basketball another couple of years, winning two more district titles. Then, wisely, he quit coaching and got into school administration.

Every manufacturer we hear about over the radio uses only the very choice ingredients, so there must be a terrible waste of ingredients that are only fair in quality. The firm that cans prunes goes over the crop selecting only the plump, round ones, and the tobacco companies select only the ripe, the mild, the naturally finer tobacco. What becomes of the culls? We poor folks might be interested in some of this stuff that isn't so choice, especially if the price is right.

We know it was a coincidence, but the rainfall Monday afternoon and night, although of modest quantity, did wonders to perk up the spirits of buyers at the calf show and Hereford sale. Really, this was excellent timing, and we are sure that the moisture added considerably to the sale price of the cattle.

The Perryton Implement Co., which bought the grand champion calf for the first time last year, went all out and bought both the grand champion and reserve champion this year, setting new record prices for both animals. Roy Stinson had to make a business trip to Amarillo Monday afternoon, but stuck around the sale long enough to put in his bids on the top animals.

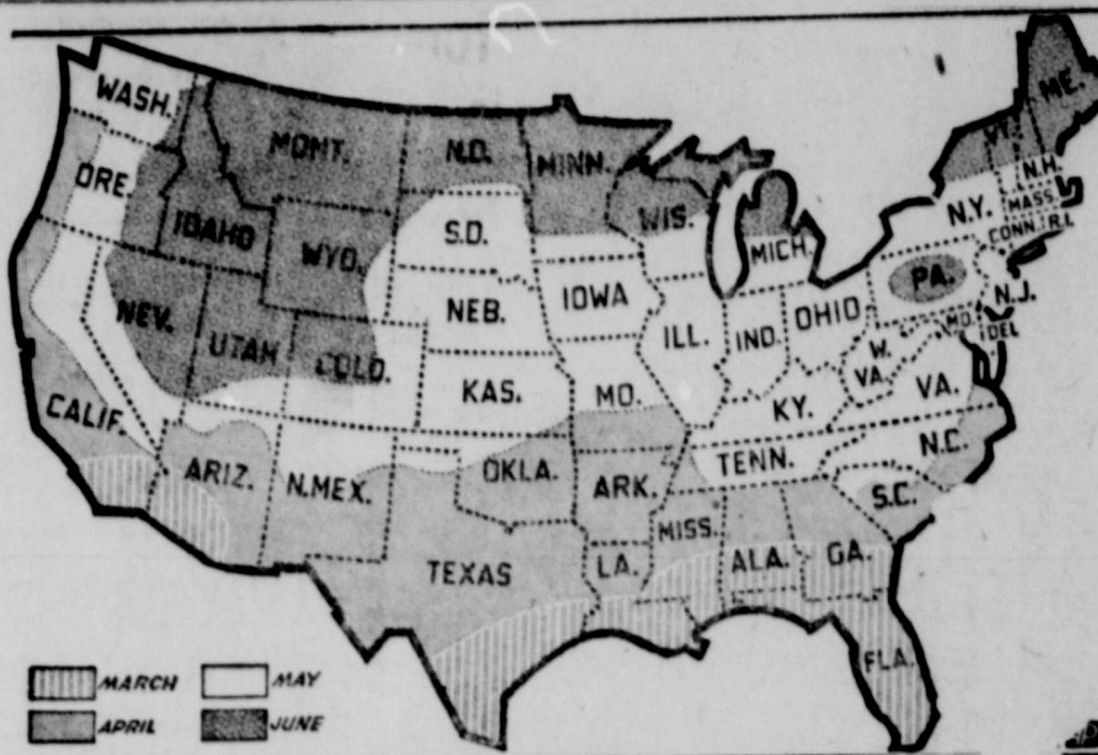

Everyone was quite pleased over the results of the calf sale. The average price of the calves was higher than the sales at Pampa and Guymon, held recently, and was well above last year's figure, even though the cattle market is not quite as high.

Duane Byars, the personable assistant Ranger coach, still needs some room accommodations for visiting boys and girls at the district basketball tournament which opens here next Wednesday night. There will be about 70 youngsters here for the tournament and most of them will have to stay overnight. Anyone having a spare bedroom is asked to contact Byars at the high school and let him know how many boys or girls can be accommodated. It would be nice if the youngsters could be fed breakfast, but this is not necessary, Byars said.

While we're on the subject of the tournament, we would like to point out that this is the biggest basketball treat of the season. Perryton will be host to a lot of visitors from Dalhart, Dumas, Phillips, and Shamrock, here for the event, and it appears that the tournament will be exceptionally well-matched.

The Rangers stand at least an even chance in the tournament, having split games with every team but Phillips. The Blackhaws haven't played any of their district 1-AA opponents this season, as coach Joe Hayes doesn't believe in that sort of thing. He plays good teams, though, including Amarillo, Canyon and Pampa, and the Hawks have a 20-8 record this season, which should stamp them as favorites.

The Rangerettes will prob-

THE FROST MAP, showing the month in which the average last killing frost may occur in the spring. There are few places in the U. S. completely frost-free, among them Key West and the Imperial Valley in California. Growing weather travels northward at about 15 miles a day, beginning at the southern tip of Florida and the Gulf coast early in March. There is roughly a month's difference between the last killing frost dates from the southern to the northern edges of each zone shown on the map. Allowance also must be made for mountainous elevations. Gardeners usually wait a week or two after the last killing frost date for the ground to warm before setting out tender plants.

Wolf Creek Philosopher Asks Inspection Of Legislators

(Ed. note: The Wolf Creek Philosopher has an odd idea this week, but we always let him have his say, regardless of where it takes him.)

Dear Editor:

I've been talking to a few people about the Texas car inspection law and judge from the complaints I've listened to the law ain't so popular, even if it has changed now to pass any car that will run.

As I understand it, it costs a dollar to have your car inspected and anywhere from there on up to have it brought up to specifications, on the theory I suppose that a car that's in good shape doesn't have accidents, which is true if you've got it parked in your garage with the door shut and you take your keys with you and your wife has lost hers, although I could have sworn most cars I've seen wrecked on the highways the past few years were nearly brand new.

But I've been thinkin', the law doesn't go far enough. In addition to having all cars inspected twice a year, what we need is a law requirin' the inspection of the Legislators' who passed the car inspection law.

I don't know whether twice a year would be often enough or

It looks like a "POWER YEAR"

New Horsepower — new Brake Power — and new Power Steering blossom on Buick's ROADMASTER for 1952

MAYBE you've heard—horsepower has hit a new high on the ROADMASTER.

Brake power has done the same.

But today, we'd like to concentrate on the third member of the power trio—Buick's own version of Power Steering, available on ROADMASTERS at a moderate extra cost.

What is this Power Steering like? It's something like a helping hand, something like a "hydraulic slave"—that relieves you of all steering strain, but lets you keep command.

What we mean is this:

Power Steering is handled by a special hydraulic unit—and engineers can design this unit to take over any amount of steering effort—even to a point where the wheel seems to float in your hand.

But in that case, you'd surrender all control to that hydraulic unit—get no steering "feel" from the wheel.

Now suppose you're telling two agile tons of automobile what to do in traffic. We think you'd like to have it know that you're in command.

And—out on the straightaway—we believe that a part of the joy you get from owning a Buick is the sensation of having something alive and eagerly willing beneath your hands.

So we're glad to announce that Buick engineers didn't spoil this thrill. They've kept the fun of driving, and simply eased the effort.

When you're rolling along smooth and straight, it takes almost no effort to keep any Buick on course. It almost steers itself, as every Buick owner knows.

But—when you want to get away from a curb —back into a parking spot—make a turn—Buick's Power Steering comes into action, saves four-fifths of the effort required with ordinary steering. Power Steering does the extra work.

And—in case you wonder what happens if Power Steering gets out of kilter, the answer is nothing. Your Buick steers just as it always has.

That's why we've been saying, "This is Power Steering as it ought to be."

Come in. Try it out. We think you'll agree.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

Sure is true for '52

Wish Perryton Had a Public Weigher Job

O'BRIEN, Texas — (A) There's a precinct political job here in the corner of Haskell County which pays off better than being governor.

The net take has been running around $20,000 a year. The work is done in the four months of the cotton ginning season.

The job is that of public weigher.

Cotton is about all he weighs, but that's plenty. First, he gets 60 cents per bale for handling and weighing. Second, he gets to pick up the loose cotton. And that's adding up to more than 100 bales even in this poor cotton year.

The job is good enough to draw five candidates by the middle of January. Another half-dozen are on the verge of announcing.

The present weigher, Ayres A. Cox, 39, has another season to go on his second-two year term. He isn't expected to make the race again although he hasn't ruled himself out.

But, five fellows have made up their minds for sure. Three of them are kin to Cox: Sam Johnston, his nephew; Billy Gene Johnston and C. B. Banner, his son-in-law. Also in the running are S. J. Reeves, Jr., and R. H. Duncan.

Poll tax payments are booming in the O'Brien precinct. There are about 250 potential voters in the precinct. To complicate matters, there are a lot of kinfolk in O'Brien. About 70 of them are in the Johnston family and its relatives.

And a big question is: Who will get the 40 of 45 Latin-American votes?

The cotton setup at O'Brien makes the public weigher's job unusually profitable. The village is home for the big Northern among the most modern and bustling anywhere, always take the lead in ginning reports in this part of the state. Totals run up to 20,000 bales in a good year.

This droughty year the gins will process about 14,500 bales. Nearby Rochester with, four gins won't reach half that mark.

The public weigher's business has fallen off to a dribble in most West Texas towns because gins and compresses have started doing their own weighing and sampling.

But, in O'Brien, the gins are all owned by a farmers cooperative and they have kept the weighing duties in the hands of an elected official.

Not only does O'Brien gin a lot of cotton—it's good cotton, too. It runs an inch staple or better, thanks largely to the big experimental farms.

Work doesn't last more than about four months, but there's plenty of work then, Cox says. It takes up to 11 employees and many 18-hour days to handle the $2 million worth of cotton in the usual crop.

The loose cotton, which makes the job so profitable, is loosened in the process of taking samples which are sent to government graders. When the tightly-packed bale is cut, cotton blossoms out. Railroads and insurance companies frown on these free fluffs of cotton because they invite fire. So, the cottonyard worker pulls them loose, smoothing the side of the bale.

That cotton goes to the weigher.

The O'Brien gins bale the local weigher's cotton for him, throwing in the bagging and ties for free. Cox said his patched-up bales have brought him from 28 to 35 cents a pound this year.

The only "overhead" for the weigher is the cottonyard help he hires, and the cost of being bonded as a weigher and sampler.

The campaign costs also are not high. Cox figures it will cost a man about $50 to make the race.

Love Calls for Priority

MEMBERS OF the Parliament claim that telephone operators devote more time to love calls than to subscribers' calls.

One MP said idly-inclined operators resorted to the trick of telling subscribers the required number was "engaged." Actually they were attempting to become "engaged" themselves.

Postal employees came in for their share of wrath as well. Dishonesty and slackness were charged. MPs said letters from abroad were misappropriated while parcels "never reached addresses."

Woodpeckers Have Company

DALLAS, Texas (A) — Texas woodpeckers are finding there is no privacy atop power line poles.

One of the duties of Ed Slover is to look for woodpecker holes in poles as he flies 2,600 miles of Texas Power and Light Co. high tension lines in his single engined plane. As he risks his life almost daily at an altitude of 48 feet or less, he also looks for broken insulators, sagging wires and other indications of trouble.

Slover uses a recording device to report trouble as he flies. When he lands, the record is turned over to maintenance crews.

Wild Bears

DENVER (A) — The Denver Bears played more than three months of their Western league baseball season this year before one of their pitchers hurled a nine-inning game without allowing a base on balls. Right-hander Jack Taylor finally did it on Aug. 3.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Killion of Houston visited last week end in the Claude Allen home. Mrs. Killion and Mrs. Allen are cousins.

Rev. R. Martin To Help 'Family Life' Survey

Rev. R. Martin, pastor of the Bethlehem Lutheran church, has been asked to take part in a nation-wide survey on "family life" to be conducted during the month of February.

The first of its kind to be attempted by any church today, the Lutheran Family Life survey will cover 10,000 homes in the U. S. and Canada and is part of a $25,000 family research project of the Board for Parish Education of The Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod.

By means of a group-administered questionnaire, the survey will attempt to discover what influence Lutheran beliefs and practices have on the stability and happiness of family life in America.

Annual Angus Sale Feb. 28 Set at Buffalo

The three-state membership of the OK&T Aberdeen Angus Breeders association will hold its 11th annual consignment sale at the fairgrounds pavilion, Buffalo, Okla., on Thursday, February 28, Dale Engler, Hutchinson, Kansas, secretary, has announced.

By far the largest Aberdeen Angus sale ever held by the association, the 1952 event will feature 149 head of cattle, more than double the previous high of 70 head sold last year. Included in the consignment will be 88 bulls and 61 females.

Show time will be 9 a. m. on sale day, W. E. Bland, Buffalo, sale manager, reported and the auction will get under way at 12 o'clock noon. The annual banquet, co-sponsored by the Buffalo Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture, will be held the evening before the sale at 7:30 o'clock at the fairgrounds administration building.

Twenty-two of the consignors for the gigantic auction will come from Oklahoma, 21 breeders will hail from Kansas and five will come from Texas.

Sale average for the 1951 auction was $694 for the 70 head, Engler recalls.

Chester L. Bare, Protection, Kans., is president of the association and Kenneth Arthur, Capron, is vice president. Officers and directors met recently in Buffalo to file incorporation papers for the association.

Christian Science Services 11 a. m. each Sunday Public Cordially Invited

The cultivation of spiritual sense gives man dominion over all evil, according to the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Soul" to be read in all Christian Science churches next Sunday. Understanding God as Soul, the source of real happiness, the Golden Text is made clear: "My soul shall be joyful in the Lord: it shall rejoice in his salvation" (Psalms 35:9).

This Bible admonition is included in the Lesson-Sermon: "Set your affection on things above, not on things on the earth" (Colossians 3:2). The theme is developed in these words by Mary Baker Eddy from her textbook: "We cannot deny that Life is self-sustained, and we should never deny the everlasting harmony of Soul, simply because, to the mortal senses, there is seeming discord. It is our ignorance of God, the divine Principle, which produces apparent discord, and the right understanding of Him restores harmony. Truth will at length compel us all to exchange the pleasures and pains of sense for the joys of Soul" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, p. 390).

Blessed Is The Man

. . . that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful. But his delight is in the law of the LORD; and in his law doth he meditate day and night . . . For the Lord knoweth the way of the righteous: but the way of the ungodly shall perish. Psalm 1.

'Finders Keepers' Is Clever Comedy

"Finders Keepers," which comes to the PerTex on Sunday-Tuesday, combines laughter with suspense in a cleverly written story about a youngster who finds a fortune in stolen money.

Tom Ewell, last seen on the screen as "Willie" in Bill Mauldin's "Up Front," is starred in the new comedy hit with Julia Adams and Evelyn Varden.

"Dutty" Henley, 2½, makes his screen debut in the picture.

The H. I. Hudsons of Dumas were Sunday guests of their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hudson and Jimmy.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Anderson and Linda of Clovis, New Mexico were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Precise last week end.

The U. S. Marines reported that no patrol employing dogs was ambushed in the Pacific war.

Drama Is Based On Fortuneteller

An exposure of swindlers engaged in the fortune-telling racket is dramatized in "Bunco Squad," which stars Robert Sterling, Joan Dixon and Ricardo Cortez. The picture comes to the PerTex on Wednesday and Thursday.

Sterling, of the police bunco squad, discovers a cult devoted to mysticism has been expressly organized to defraud a wealthy widow of her fortune. She is to be influenced into willing her wealth to the cult by fake messages, and then she is to meet an accidental death.

Excitement rides high as the police bunco squad closes in and brings the gang to justice. Interesting highlights of the picture include the methods used by the crooks in creating the illusion of communication with, and materialization of, spirits at the seances.

Teen-Age Girl Has Problems

The problems of a teen-age girl whose parents ignore her are dramatized in "On the Loose," starring Joan Evans, Melvyn Douglas and Lynn Bari. The picture comes to the Ellis Theatre on Sunday and Monday.

Joan Evans is the teen-ager and Robert Arthur is her boy friend.

The two parents, interested only in their own social activities, have little time for their daughter, who in her resentment, sets out to live her own life, with highly dramatic results.

Western Star In Role of Ranger

Johnny Mack Brown has the role of a Ranger in "Texas Lawmen," which comes to the PerTex on Friday and Saturday. Jimmy Ellison is the co-starring spot as a young and inexperienced sheriff.

The story tells how Johnny solves a murder mystery, breaks up an outlaw band and secures a pardon for a man with an undeserved criminal record.

Supporting roles are played by Stanford Jolley, Lee Roberts, Terry Frost and Marshall Reed.

Traffic in skins for fur-conscious Europe was an important commercial factor in settling the entire North American wilderness from Labrador to Mexico.

"TWO TICKETS TO BROADWAY" — Technicolor

with Tony Martin, Janet Leigh, Gloria DeHaven

LONE STAR—Ava Gardner and Clark Gable have the leads in "Lone Star," the new picture about Texas which comes to the Ellis Theatre on Tuesday-Thursday. The plot concerns the days when Texas was deciding whether to stay a republic or join the Union.

More Fiction Than Fact, But Clark and Ava Boost Texas

A setting in Texas during the middle 1800's, when Texas was about to join the United States, forms the background for "Lone Star," starring Clark Gable and Ava Gardner. The picture comes to the Ellis Theatre on Tuesday-Thursday.

This is an outdoor picture, with more fiction than fact about Texas history, but there is plenty of hard riding, gun battles, Indians on the rampage, and romance between Clark and Ava.

Miss Gardner is cast as a small town newspaper publisher, which fact alone should stand as a new event in casting, since newspaper publishers usually don't have the curves that Ava has. Clark is a soldier of fortune, gentle with the women but rough when it comes to a fist fight or gun battle.

Gable is a Texan, but his loyalty is strictly to money. He makes a deal with Andrew Jackson, who sends him on a mission to find Sam Houston and tell him to support the annexation policy against a force led by Broderick Crawford, a power-mad political opportunist.

No mention is made of the treaty by which Texas entered the Union, and kept the tide-lands, which the U. S. took away some 100 years later.

Anyway, Miss Gardner is against annexation until her mind is changed by Mr. Gable, whose romantic charms, although dulled by age, are still enough to send any sensible girl swooning.

It all winds up by Texas entering the union, Gable getting the girl, and the principals stand looking hopefully into the sunset, thinking of the bright future for the Lone Star state.

"Finders Keepers," which comes to the PerTex on Sunday-Tuesday, combines laughter with suspense in a cleverly written story about a youngster who finds a fortune in stolen money.

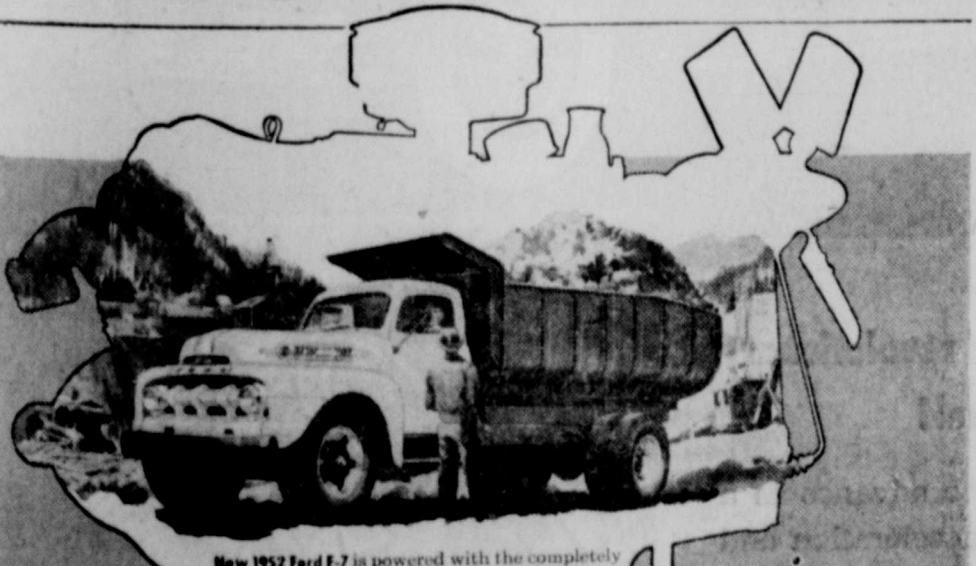

Tom Ewell, last seen on the screen as "Willie" in Bill Mauldin's "Up Front," is starred in the new comedy hit with Julia Adams and Evelyn Varden.

It's not all one-sided however, for while the students perfect their English the professor is learning a few foreign words in exchange. Students claim he can now say "pop quiz" in Japanese, Siamese, Swedish and Portuguese.

Chickenpox Is Not Too Serious But Smallpox Is

AUSTIN — Chickenpox cases are most numerous in winter and spring says Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. Ordinarily, people do not consider it a serious disease. But probably the most serious factor is that light cases of smallpox and the symptoms of chickenpox are similar. Only a physician can tell the difference. At the first sign of skin eruptions, you should put the patient in bed and call the family doctor.

As in any other illness, chickenpox lowers body resistance to other disease germs. Thus, complications such as pneumonia, inflammation of the kidneys, erysipelas, and gangrene of the skin may occur, resulting in a serious illness.

Chickenpox is highly contagious. It usually develops two or three weeks after exposure. After one attack, the patient is immune to the disease. Although chickenpox occurs most frequently among children less than fifteen years of age, adults, too, can get the disease if they did not have it when they were children.

Amarillo Daily News

Mrs. Linda Manross, Agent

PHONE 7141

The chickenpox germ gains entrance to the body through the mouth and nose. Skin eruptions of a sick person contain the germs. The disease spreads rapidly through families and schools as an infected person can spread his germs widely by careless coughing, using a common drinking cup, towel, or washcloth. For his own welfare and to protect others the patient should stay in bed and apart from susceptible members of the household until all danger of spreading the disease is passed.

Control of chickenpox is important because the disease is so highly infectious that it attacks large numbers of children. This interferes greatly with school attendance. The control of chickenpox and all other communicable diseases depends on cooperation of parents, family physicians, and health authorities.

HAMMOND, Wis. (AP)—Paul Ford, a resident of bob-cat conscious Hammond, posted an armed sentry at his woodpile the other day when he glimpsed a gray marauder skulking into it. Then he went out and recruited a posse of 15 men with all manner of ordnance and hustled back to the woodpile.

A hose was run into the pile and attached to an out's exhaust. When the ferocious feline finally gave up and made a break for freedom, the posse mowed it down.

That's really the end of the story, except maybe that a certain Hammond farmer may still be wondering why his gray tom cat hasn't come home.
