THIRD DEATH LIKELY

Special to The Record News.

OLNEY, Texas, Nov. 11.—R. M. Johnson of this city, representative of Armour & Co., was instantly killed about 9:30 o'clock Friday night in an automobile collision south of Olney. Five persons were hurt in the crash and one J. R. Duncan, a youth residing in the Olney oil field, was not expected to recover from a fractured skull.

Earl Williamson and Adney Stowe, both of Olney, suffered several fractured ribs and internal injuries. The Duncan youth was riding with Mr. and Mrs. Caig of a local oil lease, who suffered minor injuries.

The two machines crashed as the Craig car drove on the Fort Worth road. Johnson was driving north, returning from a football game at Fort Worth. Both automobiles were wrecked and the injured were brought to the Olney hospital by passing motorists.

Johnson had resided in Olney about three years. He is survived by his widow and a daughter, Mildred Johnson. The body was held at a local mortuary Friday night pending completion of funeral arrangements.

Johnson came to Olney from Wichita Falls, where he formerly resided.

The motorcycle crashed with the truck as the driver attempted to pass another truck. The machine figuring in the fatal crash was hauling sand for highway construction north of Childress. The truck carried the youth and the wreckage several yards down the highway before the machine was stopped.

A younger son of the Prentice family was fatally injured a year ago in an automobile accident near the same place on the Childress road leading to Community Center, 10 miles north of this city. Survivors are the parents, three brothers, Frank, Elbert and Monroe Prentice and three sisters, Mrs. Cora Bryant of Wellington, Mrs. Mollie Jones of New Mexico and Mrs. L. Jamieson of Childress. Smart, Fighting Football Gives Pack Honors In Loss To Sandies

By MACK TURNER

A fighting pack of Red and Black Coyote warriors from the Wichita Falls High school was no match for fast, smooth-working Amarillo Sandies and went down 31 to 6, but went down fighting in the big Armistice day game at Coyote stadium.

Even in defeat the Coyotes gained the honor of being the first football team this year to score from scrimmage off the vaunted Sandies when Cleo Creecy, flashy Coyote halfback, got away for a long 32-yard dash around a Sandie wing for the tally. Creecy was threatened at every step by would-be Sandie tacklers, but kicked back some of their own sand into their eyes and crossed the Sandie goal stripe for the first time this year from a scrimmage play, and the second score made off the powerful Sandies this year.

For that slashing, squirming thrust through the entire and reputedly invulnerable Sandie team little Creecy is due a world of applause, but hardly more than some of his mates are due for excellent but less spectacular performances.

Coyotes Learning

The Coyotes are learning some real football, as was attested by their ability on occasions to spill the entire running wall of interference presented by the Sandstorm. When an end was carried out by one member of the interference, as likely as not he would manage to topple two others and make it possible for another Coyote to make the tackle.

It probably was as gory a game as Wichita Falls fans have witnessed in several years, although no serious injuries were reported. Those Coyotes were battling as few high school teams battle in a non-championship game and more than one of them went to the bench with blood streaming from cuts and smashed noses occasioned by mixing it with the hard charging Sandies.

Enochs Scores

The Sandies filled the air with plenty of sand all during the afternoon, presenting a beautiful running game built around the great Chiggers Enochs, star halfback. Woodrow "Mite" Dunaway, captain, and Bust-em Bob Howes were also consistent ground gainers for the Sandies but never equaled the work of Enochs. Enochs scored four of the five touchdowns, twice plunging the line for 8 and 5-yard advancements for the scores and twice breaking loose for 43 and 46 yards to score. Enochs ripped off a grand total of 337 yards of the total 557 yards from scrimmage on running plays. Some great interference work by the Sandies helped them greatly on ripping off their long gains. Mann and Killion played important parts in these roles.

The Coyotes put up a brave fight against great odds in the first half and held the Sandies to two touchdowns. The great line work of Fletcher, Greenwood, Decker and Brandon stood out in the Coyote forward wall, while Powell, Creecy and J. McBride did their full share in the secondary defense. More than one threatening Sandie march was stopped deep in Coyote territory through the stellar work of this group. The charging Sandie line kept the Coyote threats in this session well tamed. The Sandie line brought out no individual stars, but played great football from tip to tip throughout the game.

Powell Gains

The game opened with Amarillo kicking off to the Coyotes. J. Z. Powell took the kick on his own 10-yard line and made a nice return to his own 31-yard line before he was stopped. Jasper McBride caught the Sandies flat-footed and heaved a pass to Randolph which gained 28 yards and carried the ball

ROOSEVELT HAS SLIGHT COLD

President-Elect Delays Hyde Park Trip

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 11. (AP)—Franklin D. Roosevelt spent today in bed recovering from a slight cold contracted on his last day of campaigning for the presidency.

The long automobile ride through the Hudson river valley last Monday chilled Mr. Roosevelt and left him with a cold. He made the entire ride through a cold mist and rain in an open car.

Slightly Feverish

A physician who examined the president-elect today found he was slightly feverish. Mrs. Roosevelt, who came to Albany last night from New York, said that she expected a few days of rest would restore her husband to his normal physical vigor.

Visitors will be barred for the next three days. He received none today. He had planned to spend the three days resting at Hyde Park but these arrangements were canceled today.

Mr. Roosevelt plans to devote his time for the next 10 days to state budgetary matters and to leave at the end of that time for Warm Springs to spend two weeks.

To Discuss Policies

At his cottage at Warm Springs he will have an opportunity to discuss with members of congress the policies and program of the Democrats during the short session opening in December. Prohibition, relief and various other points of the program he outlined in his campaign will figure in the discussions and out of the talks friends of the president-elect believe will come decisions that may chart the course of congress through the short session.

For the time being, Mr. Roosevelt is giving no thought to the appointments to cabinet and various other federal posts that he must fill. In a statement last night, he said it would be at least two months before he would take up these questions.

STROKE KILLS WAURIKA BOY

School Senior Collapses After Aiding Coach

Special to The Record News.

WAURIKA, Okla., Nov. 11.—Howard Weaver, 19, high school senior, died in a hospital here Friday morning, shortly after his collapse from a heart attack at school. The youth had been suffering with heart trouble for a number of years.

Young Weaver had accompanied the football coach to the high school gridiron and had aided in preparing the field for today's game with the Ryan Cowboys. Returning from the field to the school building, he was seen to stagger and fall as he passed down a hall, en route to resume his classes.

He was rushed immediately to a hospital, but lived only a short time.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Weaver. His father operates a restaurant here.

Funeral arrangements were incomplete Friday night, although services will be held at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Other arrangements will be made Saturday.

Surviving are the parents; a brother, Millard, and a sister, Mrs. Bill Ballew, all of Waurika.

Shocked by the death of their fellow student, members of the senior class postponed a celebration in connection with the selection of the high school footbadll queen.

Garner Takes Off on Big Squirrel Hunt

UVALDE, Texas, Nov. 11. (UP)—The next vice president of the United States was off at the crack of dawn today on another hunting trip. Speaker John Garner ate a hastily prepared breakfast, cooked by his wife, then, in company with Ross Brumfield, set out in search of squirrels.

Equally as confident over his fortune as a hunter as was he over his prospects of political victory, Garner announced before he left that at noon "I'm going to cook the squirrels just as I like them."

The two declared they would return to Uvalde late tonight.

1,700 DEAD IN CUBAN STORM

City of Santa Cruz May Never Be Rebuilt

CAMAGUEY, Cuba, Nov. 11. (UP)—Less than 10 per cent of the population of the city of Santa Cruz del Sur escaped death or injury in the hurricane which devastated the city and killed at least 1,700 persons, it was estimated by officials here tonight.

(By The Associated Press)

Trains of box cars crowded with refugees arrived in Camaguey, Cuba, yesterday from the south coast town of Santa Cruz del Sur where a hurricane and a 20-foot wave of water caused at least one thousand deaths and left not one building standing.

This was the scene of the greatest destruction caused by the tropical storm which has been wandering about the Caribbean since Nov. 2. Passing to the east of Nassau, the hurricane went out over the Atlantic.

The Cuban government rushed medical supplies and clothing to the storm sufferers by airplane, train and steamers.

Santa Cruz may never be rebuilt. The Cuban secretary of public works, after a personal inspection, said he would not recommend that any attempt be made to re-establish a community on the dangerous point of land that juts into the sea.

A new detail of the storm damage came from Grand Cayman, a reef-girdled island 200 miles northeast of Jamaica, where the Steamship Balboa, from Pensacola to Jamaica, was a total wreck.

Some damage was caused along the south coast of Haiti. Nassau escaped but a few of the nearby islands were not so fortunate.

Attorneys Seek $15,000 Fee From Mrs. Shouse

HUTCHINSON, Kan., Nov. 11. (UP)—Three attorneys today filed a district court suit seeking $15,000 in fees for obtaining a cash settlement for Mrs. Marion Edwards Shouse from her politically prominent husband, Jouett Shouse, upon their divorce.

The suit, filed by F. Dumont Smith, Eustace Smith and Claude Chalfant, claimed they had obtained a contract with the former head of the national Democratic party in which he agreed to pay his wife a total of $145,000 in three instalments.

Their fees, they said, were contingent upon the settlement inasmuch as Mrs. Shouse was without funds.

The case is to be completed tomorrow.

JURY DEBATES EVIDENCE IN DICKSON CASE

Attorneys End Arguments In Slaying Trial Of Seymour Man

WIDOW ATTENDS

Mother of Three Weeps As Death of Husand Is Recalled

Study of voluminous evidence presented during the past four days before Judge P. A. Martin in the 89th district court in the trial of Temple Dickson of Seymour, charged with murder, was begun shortly after 6 o'clock Friday evening by a jury which had listened all Friday afternoon to arguments by six attorneys in the case.

Members of the jury retired at the courthouse dormitory at 9:30 o'clock Friday night without making a report.

The state's case was reviewed by William Combest, Baylor county district attorney, District Attorney Sam B. Spence of Wichita county, and B. Y. Cummings, special prosecutor, in the order named. Alternating with the prosecution speeches, pleas for the defense were presented by Ross Bell of Childress, Bert King and John Davenport, the latter two of Wichita Falls.

Widow in Tears

Projected into the case by the defense last Tuesday when the indictment against Dickson was read, the mental condition of the defendant at the time of his having shot Sam Plunkett to death June 23 was the principal issue discussed by attorneys Friday. While Mr. Combest reviewed the testimony relative to the actual killing of Plunkett, the deceased's widow, accompanied by three children, sat near the jury box. During the narration of her husband's death, she burst into tears, and after some moments of audible sobbing, was quieted by Cummings.

State's attorneys contended that Dickson was guided by controlled intelligence when he obtained an automatic pistol and shot the Seymour freight truck operator last June, that he revealed in remarks made soon after the shooting a sense of responsibility for his act, and that the shooting was the result of malice nourished for several days prior to the killing.

LEGION CORPS HOLDS ITS OWN CEREMONIES

Secretary of War's Speech At Unknown Soldier's Grave Marred

SCENE IS DRAMATIC

Shabby Veterans Depart From Ampitheater as Address Starts

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11. (UP)—The tomb of the Unknown Soldier here was dedicated today with two groups of veterans who fought shoulder to shoulder in France when peace silenced their guns exactly 14 years ago, in bitter disagreement.

Ill feeling was brewed in and around the white amphitheater that tops the hills of Arlington national cemetery high above the Potomac, all during the ceremony.

The Victory post, local American Legion, refused to participate in the ceremonies sponsored by the national legion because Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley was the principal speaker.

Members of the Victory post's fife and drum corps held their own ceremony in front of the oblong block of white marble reared in honor of the nation's unknown war dead.

Sympathy for B. E. F.

The resentment of the Victory post grew out of their sympathy with members of the bonus army, who were evicted from the capital last July on orders of the secretary of war. Yesterday they threatened to walk out of the amphitheater when Hurley's speech began. Today they changed their plans and refused to participate in the national legion's program.

The crowd shivered in the amphitheater awaiting Hurley. Above the blare of the army band could be heard the shrilling and the rumble of the Victory post's fife and drum corps as it right-wheeled a half mile away and began its march up the hill to the amphitheater.

Just then Hurley entered. The ceremony proceeded and the band's tones, swelled by the microphones, rolled out across the crowd.

Drum Corps Appears

Outside, the Victory post's music grew louder as the corps, in blue and red uniforms and silver trench helmets, swung in front of the amphitheater and halted.

Every head in the enclosure was turned to see whether the corps would march in. It didn't. But Raymond Burke, commander of the corps, stepped two paces forward and announced:

"We are not going inside the amphitheater while Secretary Hurley is speaking or afterward. We will conduct our own ceremony at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier and at the graves of our comrades, William Hushka and Eric Carlson."

Hushka and Carlson, members of the bonus army, were killed by police in the rioting that preceded the eviction. They are buried in Arlington.

"Right by squads," barked the drum major of the Victory post.

Read Hoover's Message

The crowd inside settled back as Dr. George C. Havenner read a message from President Hoover:

"The nation will linger today in its annual tribute of reverent memory of the glorious youths who gave their lives to defend our heritage of liberty."

Hurley sat on the speaker's platform, looking sternly to the front. Louis A. Johnson, national commander of the American Legion, introduced him as "a man sent to us by President Hoover, Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley."

Hurley clapped a pince-nez on his nose and strode to the speakers' stand.

"Again we stand," he began, "at the sacred tomb . . . "

Twenty File Out

Far over to the right edge of the amphitheater a shabbily dressed man climbed over the knees of spectators and walked out. A minute later another, this time on the right side, left the enclosure. Then a third and a fourth at one minute intervals until 20 persons had departed.

Hurley ignored them.

"It was in this spirit," he continued, "that the soldiers of America on the battlefields and the sailors on the dreary, treacherous seas raised their eyes and pledged their lives to uphold democracy."

The men who had walked out, gathered outside in a whispering group. They refused to identify themselves. One of them said: "We're not interested in anything Hurley says."

Taps Sounded

From the other side of the amphitheater came the rolling sound of "taps" as the Victory post concluded its ceremony at the tomb and marched away to honor Hushka and Carlson by placing wreaths on their graves.

Hurley finished, a baritone sang and the army band played the "Star-Spangled Banner." As Hurley filed out for the formal dedication of the tomb he was asked if he had any comment to make on the Victory post's action. His answer was short and sharp.

"I don't know anything about the Victory post. You'll have to get all your comment from them. I don't know what they're doing. Maybe they do."

EXTRA SESSION NEARS CLOSE

Houses Must Agree on Oil Proration Bill

AUSTIN, Nov. 11. (AP)—The Texas legislature rested today after both houses had passed bills increasing powers of the state railroad commission in administering laws designed to conserve oil and gas. The two branches still needed to compose minor differences, however.

Those who have had charge of legislation designed to give the state absolute control of oil production and permit it to limit the output to prevent economic as well as physical waste, were hopeful a bill agreeable to both houses could be perfected and the session adjourned tomorrow night.

There were no major differences between the senate and house over the bill and it was possible one or the other would accept one of the drafts without the necessity of sending the legislation to free conference for adjustments.

If a conference could be avoided it was likely the special session, convened nine days ago by Gov. R. S. Sterling for the sole purpose of considering the proposed bill, could finish its work and go home. Should concurrence be withheld by either house it was probable the session would extend into next week.

Nathan Adams Resigns Home Loan Bank Helm

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11. (AP)—Nathan Adams of Dallas, banker, has resigned as a director of the home loan bank system. He left for Texas last night.

It was said at the commerce department that an official statement would probably be made from the White House upon President Hoover's return, as Adams' resignation had been tendered to the president but as yet was unaccepted.

It was also explained that Mr. Adams offered his services to the bank system with the provision that he be relieved of his duties after 90 days.

Ma's Lead Stands At 155,570 Votes In Final Count

DALLAS, Nov. 11. (AP)—In what Texas election bureau announced would be its last report on tabulation of votes in Tuesday's general election, concluded at 8:45 p. m. tonight, Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, governor-elect, had a lead of 155,570 votes over Orville Bullington, Republican, with 620,020 counted thus far. George W. Armstrong, independent, had 696 votes.

The returns were from 209 out of 254 counties, including 95 complete. The bureau said it would not have the complete returns until next week and for the time being, would suspend tabulation.

The same report showed Franklin D. Roosevelt with 523,000, compared to 69,478 for President Hoover.

Out of the 620,020 votes tabulated Mrs. Fergguson had received 62.49 per cent, Bullington 37.39 per cent and Armstrong 00.12 per cent.

German Student Breaks Under Strain at Okla. U.

NORMAN, Okla., Nov. 11. (UP)—A German youth, Joachim Kynrim of Frankfort, came to this country in high spirits. He had won a scientific scholarship to an American school, the University of Oklahoma.

Today he purchased a ticket for New York, where he will board a steamer for home.

A strange nerve malady had stricken his senses soon after he arrived here. Physicians said the sudden change in environment and the strangeness of American college customs had been too great a strain on his nervous system.

Medical authorities discovered that in his excitement, he had lost his knowledge of the American language and could talk only incoherently in his native tongue.

HURT IN CRASH

Colorado's Absentee Ballots Will Decide Majority In Present Senate

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 11. (AP)—Those all important absentee ballots which will decide whether Karl C. Schuyler, Republican, or Walter Walker, Democrat, will represent Colorado in the United States senate in the short session probably will not all be counted before the end of next week.

A final tabulation by the Associated Press tonight gave Schuyler a lead of 154 votes. The count: Schuyler 200,802; Walker 200,648

The mail ballots which will be counted in all counties starting next week when all have been returned will not only decide who will serve the unexpired term of the late Senator Charles W. Waterman but also will determine whether the Democrats or Republicans will have numerical control of the United States senate in the lame duck session. The present lineup is 47 Republicans; 47 Democrats and one Farmer-Labor.

Headquarters of both parties in Denver estimated 6,000 mail ballots had been sent out by the several county clerks. How many of these would be returned was problematical.

Shrine And Legion Lead City In Colorful Armistice Observance

Wichitans braved an icy north breeze Friday to enjoy a holiday program celebrating the 14th anniversary of Armistice day. The city offered a patriotic atmosphere as parading units of the American Legion and Maskat temple marched through the business district at 11 o'clock in the morning. A blast on a deep-toned whistle in the industrial district marked the hour for cessation of regular routines in the business world.

Flag-lined streets added to the patriotic air and recalled cessation of hostilities 14 years ago. The noise and celebration of the first armistice was absent, but thoughts of thankfulness of 14 years of peace were in the minds of thousands.

Activities of the day were launched by a legion program at the chamber of commerce business council breakfast at the Kemp hotel. The fall ceremonial program of Maskat temple opened with registration of novices at the auditorium atop the City National

HASKELL PLANS POULTRY SHOW

Keen Interest Shown In Event Set for Dec. 15-17

Special to The Record News.

HASKELL, Texas, Nov. 11.—The annual Haskell county poultry show, held under the auspices of the Haskell chapter of Future Farmers of America, a local organization of students of vocational agriculture, is to be held Dec. 15-17.

Plans are being made to take care of the largest poultry show ever to be hel din Haskell county. A number of breeds are to be exhibited that have not been shown here in previous shows. Last year's show aroused the interest of a large number of breeders in this section and a number of new fanciers are to exhibit this year, since ordering stock and eggs from some of the best breeders of the United States.

Poultry this year will greatly exceed in quality that seen at the show last year. Besides the new stock and eggs bought by Haskell county breeders a number of people who did not order have given attention to selection and breeding of the home flock. A much larger number of people than ever before are giving attention to the breeding pen as a means to improve the home flock.

While it is a little early to speculate as to the number of entries that will be received, early inquiries indicate that a large show may be expected. Several requests have been received from outside the county for information about the show. Those wishing information about the show should communicate with H. K. Henry, teacher of vocational agriculture at Haskell.

Mr. Bentley later was stationed at San Angelo for three months as a state patrol officer before going to Tyler two years ago.

Mr. Bentley is married.

Okla. Bandits Rest as Banks Observe Holiday

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 11. (UP)—Bandits who prey on Oklahoma banks observed an armistice today.

There were no bank robberies.

The banks were closed for the holiday—which may or may not explain the absence of the raiders.

Five banks have been plundered in Oklahoma this week and gun battles followed three of the holdups. Charles A. (Pretty Boy) Floyd was suspected in one robbery.

Farmers Double Output Of Barley In View Of Beer's Return

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11. (INS)—The nation's farmers, displaying uncanny knowledge of impending events, produced 313,000,000 bushels of barley this year, as compared with 198,000,000 bushels last year and 219,000,000 bushels for the five-year period 1924-1928.

This grain, a foundation stock for beer, is again being traded on the Chicago board of trade after a nine-year exile.

Dickson Case Goes To Jury

Testimony Completed

The introduction of evidence was concluded about 10 a. m. Friday, six rebuttal witnesses having been presented by the state after the defense had rested its case at the opening of court for the day.

Three residents of Baylor county told of the defendant's apparent sanity when he solicited their votes in his race for election as county attorney a few days before the homicide.

Sheriff Arch Holmes of Baylor county testified that during Dickson's incarceration in the jail at Seymour after Plunkett was killed, the defendant evinced no symptoms of insanity. The officer stated that from his conversation with Dickson immediately after arrest on June 23, he believed the defendant did not know what he was doing at the time of the killing.

J. C. Dowie, Baylor county jailer, testified that he saw no evidence of insanity while Dickson was confined in the jail there from June 23 to Sept. 13.

Frank Watkins, Wichita county jailer, in whose custody the defendant has been held since Sept. 13, said that despite Dickson's high-strung and nervous temperament, his speech and conduct during that period indicated sanity.

The defense closed its case without presentation of rebuttal testimony.

Plunkett died as a result of six gunshot wounds received on the evening of Thursday, June 23. On Sunday evening prior to that date, Dickson had figured in a collision of two automobiles near Plunkett's home. Plunkett detained Dickson until the arrival of Sheriff Holmes. The defendant withdrew subsequently from the race for election as county attorney.

building at 9 o'clock, followed by a business meeting.

Sports activity opened at 10:30 o'clock with a negro football game at the Washington school field between the Leopards and the Greenville, Texas, high school. Public schools were closed for the day as were banks, county and municipal offices. Law enforcement divisions of the two governments continued to function as did the fire department. Members of the Retail Merchants association closed their places of business at 11 o'clock for a two-hour period honoring memories of the first armistice.

Motorcycle officers of the city led the parade through the business district followed by the legion color bearers, escorts, drum and bugle corps, decorated truck of the legion auxiliary, 40 and 8 volture truck, Red Cross nurses, Spanish war veterans, Maskat temple divan, patrol, band and degree team, DeMolay patrol, a Salvation Army truck, Paul Seeds' Los Caballeros band, high school band and pep squad and Junior college student vehicles, commercial decorated trucks and automobiles, fire department units, Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, Girl Reserves, junior cowboys and national guard units.

Wichitans adjourned to the new athletic stadium Friday afternoon for a football game between the Coyotes and Amarillo Sandies. Other activity offered the Camel Herders of the Shrine in an open house and initiation program at the Holt hotel.

Three sections of the Shrine ceremonial followed a depression dinner at Maskat temple and a short entertainment program. Ladies of the Shrine awaited their escorts at the Wichita club where out-of-town women were entertained at a dinner preceding a ceremonial ball at 9 o'clock. The legion Armistice dance opened at the same hour at the Golden Dragon night club.

Dr. Selecman Tells Ministers Youth of Today High in Morals

AMARILLO, Texas, Nov. 11. (AP)—Ministers and churchmen of the Northwest Texas Methodist conference assembling in their second day's session here this afternoon, heard Dr. C. C. Selecman, president of Southern Methodist university, Dallas, declare that "The youth of today is equal in morals and religion with those of 50 to 100 years ago."

Doctor Selecman, the principal speaker of the Friday program, explained the growth of S. M. U. and told the delegates that the institution is enjoying good financial health. The educator in a plea for the youth of America pointed to the stability of the college student in his efforts to work for his education.

Resolutions commending Doctor Selecman, Dr. J. W. Hunt, president of McMurry college, Abilene, and Rev. Tom B. Brabham, president of Texas Woman's college, Fort Worth for their "stand for civic righteousness and Christian ideals in student life" were adopted.

A sabbatical year of rest was granted Dr. John C. Granbery, former head of the history department of Texas Technological college, Lubbock, whose contract was not renewed this year. The removal, Doctor Granberry claimed at the time, came after a group of Lubbock citizens disapproved of his teachings. The former professor is in South America.

The names of N. A. Phillips, H. L. Wheeler, Zora B. Pirtle and W. J. Mayhew were referred to the committee on superanute relations. Ten young ministers, who have ended a two-year trial period, were elected to full church connection.

Churches of the conference showed gains in memberships but decreases in contributions to salaries and conference benevolences during the year, according to pastorate reports.

St. Mary's Defeats California U., 14-7

OLYMPIC STADIUM, LOS ANGELES, Nov. 11. (UP)—The Galloping Gaels of St. Mary's defeated the University of California at Los Angeles, 14 to 7, in an Armistice day football game before 65,000 fans here today.

The victory avenged the Gael's defeat, 12 to 0, a year ago, and balanced their loss to the Fordham Rams last week by the same score. It left the Southern California Trojans the only undefeated Pacific Coast football team.

Before the largest crowd ever to see them play, the Bruins fell before a terrific attack that could have netted St. Mary's two more touchdowns.

Abilene Christian Goes Down, 25-0, to T. C. A. I.

KINGSVILLE, Texas, Nov. 11. (AP)—The Texas College of Arts and Industries defeated Abilene Christian college 25 to 0 today.

The Kingsville team scored three times in the fourth period and once in the third.

In the third, Abilene Christian got the ball to the 10-yard line and tried for a field goal but missed.

Sul Ross Loboes Whip Fort Bliss Army, 53-0

ALPINE, Texas, Nov. 11. (AP)—The Sul Ross college Loboes scored almost at will today in running up a 53 to 0 score on a football team from Fort Bliss at El Paso.

Porter, Acker and Conally were the Lobo stars as were Farmer and Moir for the Soldiers.

One Crowd Watches Grid Game, Another Sees School Burn

BROWNWOOD, Texas, Nov. 11. (UP)—While football fans today watched a comparatively unexciting game in which McMurry college defeated Daniel Baker 13 to 0, a more spectacular event was holding the interest of crowds a block away.

At the latter place the Daniel Baker science building was being destroyed by flames which, for a time, also threatened the administration building. Damage is estimated at $18,000.

PONIES MEET HOGS TODAY

S. M. U. and Arkansas Have Stage to Selves

DALLAS, Nov. 11. (AP)—Turning into the home stretch of the Southwest conference race, the Southern Methodist university Mustangs and the University of Arkansas Razorbacks will have the stage all to themselves tomorrow afternoon when they meet here at Ownby stadium. It is the only conference engagement on the day's schedule, the other teams having disposed of their week's assignments on an Armistice day program.

While both teams are having an off-season and are out of the championship running, their meeting promises its share of thrills since both employ daring passing attacks and appear about evenly matched.

S. M. U. will be seeking its first conference victory, after being beaten by Texas and Rice and being held to a scoreless tie by the Texas A. & M. Farmers. The Porkers have beaten Baylor and lost to Texas Christian and Rice.

Coach Fred Thomsen brought his Porkers to Dallas today from Fayetteville and reported all men in good condition excepting Tom Murphy, quarterback, who has an injured ankle and will not start. They took a light workout this afternoon under the supervision of Line Coach Chuck Bassett, while Thomsen went to Fort Worth for the T. C. U.-Texas game to scout the Longhorns, the next opponents on his schedule.

Lubbock Takes Pampa With Score of 6 to 0

PAMPA, Texas, Nov. 11. (AP)—Slashing off-tackle and spinner plays which the Lubbock Westerners used to score at the opening of the game today thereafter were smothered by the Pampa line, which held the visitors to a 6 to 0 score. Hutson made the only touchdown. With this victory, Lubbock took a mathematical lead in district one high school football. Lubbock was outplayed by Pampa in the second and third periods but threatened again the closing period. Lubbock made eight first downs and Pampa, seven.

FIVE KILLED IN PLANE CRASH

Private Ship Loses Way In Night Rain

KEMPVILLE, Tenn., Nov. (AP)—Losing their way in the darkness and rain on a flight from Chicago to Florida, where they planned to spend the winter, five persons in a private plane piloted by Joseph F. Hirt, industrial engineer, feel to their deaths in a hillside woods on the fringe of Kempville.

Hirt, 40 years old, president of the Forest Products Engineering company, Chicagoan was accompanied by his wife, Inez, 38, their friend, Mrs. Elizabeth Hunter, 38, a widow of Henry, Ill., and Mrs. Hunter's two children, Robert, 4, and Inez, 2.

All were dead except the baby girl when a searching party found the demolished plane last midnight after a three-hour search. The child, suffering concussion of the brain, was unconscious until her death at 7 a. m. today.

The plane had circled over Kempville for some time before the accident, presumably in search of a place in the hilly country to land in a strong wind and heavy rain. Dr. C. W. Robinson said the motor could be heard distinctly at times and then would be silent, as if coasting. The crash followed and Robinson and several neighbors found the plane smashed to bits and the victims lying nearby, their bodies badly crushed.

The Hirt party left Chicago Thursday morning, arriving late in the afternoon at Sky Harbor, near Nashville. They left about 5:15 p. m. for Atlanta. The scene of the accident was between 200 and 300 miles off the charted course.

TURKEY PICKERS NEEDED

An appeal for 300 turkey pickers was issued by Armour creameries, 504 Tenth, Friday night with 20,000 turkeys on hand for picking by early next week. "We have the work but are finding it difficult to secure laborers," Manager R. C. West said. Pickers receive 5 cents per bird and a speedy worker can earn as high as $4 daily.

"B. C." Relieves Your Headache In 3 Minutes

Realizing that no one drug can relieve all headaches, as they come from so many causes, a North Carolina pharmacist has developed a combination of several ingredients, so blended and proportioned as to relieve almost any headache in a few minutes. You can get this formula wherever drugs are sold under the name "B. C." 10c and 25c packages, and when you have one of those violent, nerve-racking headaches, from inorganic causes, "B. C." will give you soothing relief in three minutes. "B. C." should also be used for the relief of muscular aches and pains, common colds and neuralgia, reducing fever, and for quieting a distressed nervous system without opiates, narcotics or such habit forming drugs.—Adv.

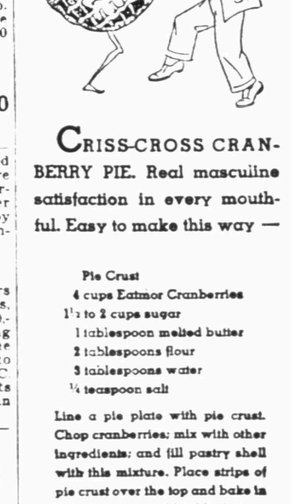

Fort Worth Hopes To Win Office Of Federal Marshal

DALLAS, Nov. 11. (UP)—That the Democratic victory may result in shifting of the U. S. marshal's office in Texas from Dallas to Fort Worth loomed as a prospect here today.

Political observers pointed out that loss of the office for Dallas may result from this city's comparative failure to contribute substantially to the national party campaign.

It was pointed out that, whereas Dallas contributed only about $2,000 to the Democratic fund, the wealthy Waggoner family in Fort Worth gave, alone, about $25,000. And the Waggoners, it is understood, want the marshal's office for Fort Worth, which already is headquarters for the U. S. district attorney's office.

At present there are seven employes in the marshal's office here, in addition to the marshal himself.

MRS. F. D. TELLS OF CHILDHOOD

Next 'First Lady' Devoted Time to War Work

Editor's Note: Wife of the president-elect, Mrs. Roosevelt plans to give up school teaching, but to hold on to her job as magazine editor. Yesterday, Lorena Hickok wrote of the future, Mrs. Roosevelt's plans and misgivings as mistress of the White House. Today come glimpses of the past, Mrs. Roosevelt talking of her childhood, the war and her husband's illness.

By LORENA HICKOK
(Copy't, 1932, by The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Eleanor Roosevelt gazed out of a Pullman car window at the Hudson river, slate grey in the slanting rain.

"The war," she said, "was my emancipation and my education."

She was silent for a moment, then continued:

"I had an odd sort of childhood, really. My mother died when I was 8 and my father when I was 10. My brother and I were brought up by our grandmother—our mother's mother.

Sent to England

"She was strict and extremely conventional. And yet, when I was 15 I was sent to school in England, where I was given more liberty than I would ever have dreamed of giving my own daughter, Anna.

"The head of the school was an elderly Frenchwoman who believed that the English and Americans in her school should have much more freedom than she granted to the French girls.

"During the holidays she used to take me traveling with her and would let me go and do pretty much as I pleased. When I was 16 another girl and I went on Christmas eve to the rag market in Rome, all by ourselves.

"Nothing ever happened to me. I don't suppose I was ever really in any danger. I was a very plain child.

"That was my first taste of freedom. Not that I was at all rebellious. As a matter of fact I never questioned my grandmother's ideas. They were of my time and my environment. But it did arouse my interest. I wanted to know people—all kinds of people.

"The next glimpse came the winter before I was married. I had made my debut, acquiring a lasting distaste for formal society. Somebody told me about a settlement house down on Rivington street. I used to go down there and amuse the children and teach them calisthenics.

War Work

"Then I was married, and for the next 10 years it never occurred to me to do anything outside my own home. My children were born—six in 10 years. I had the same trained nurse with them all, and from her I learned that work could be fun.

"Then we went into the war. Instead of making calls, I found myself spending three days a week in a canteen down in the railroad yards, one afternoon a week distributing free wool for the navy league, two days a week visiting the naval hospital, and contributing whatever time I had left to the navy Red Cross and the navy relief society.

"I loved it. I simply ate it up. When Franklin went over on the destroyer in 1918, I sent the children to their grandmother in Hyde park and spent the summer in Washington, living alone in the house with one servant and going every day to the canteen.

"After that—well, you can see what would happen, can't you? When we first came back to New York in 1921, I was pretty restless. I just had to do something. I studied cooking and I went to business school—I can't do much on a typewriter, but I do use all my fingers.

"Franklin's illness came along. I dropped things for a time. He was in a hospital that first winter, and I used to go there every day and take care of him while the nurse took her afternoon off. He was grand about his illness, you know. In fact, never once have I heard him say that what happened to him was hard or disagreeable, or out of the ordinary.

F. D. Improves

"I found other things to do—things that I loved. The two youngest boys had not yet learned to swim. It looked as though their father might never be able to teach them. So I went to the Y. W. C. A. and learned to swim so I could teach them. And I loved it.

"Presently he began to get better, and I had more free time. I got into the League of Women Voters—I, who had never really had any convictions at all when woman suffrage was an issue. And when I became interested in politics—the rest I think you know."

The wife of the present-elect of the United States smiled and picked up a book.

"I think I had better get to work on next Monday's history," she said. "If the teacher is not well prepared, you know, the children very quickly catch on."

Roosevelt's Fondness For Sea Is Despite Early Near-Tragedy

President-Elect Showed Early Interest in Naval Life Inspired Fine Collection of Marine Lore

Editor's Note—A 10-pound blue-eyed boy was born Jan. 30, 1882, in Hyde Park, N. Y., descendant of early Dutch settlers, distant cousin of a man whose career he was destined to follow into the White House. The life story of President-elect Roosevelt continues, in its second installment, with a picture of Roosevelt the boy and Roosevelt the student.

By GARDNER BRIDGE
(Copyright, 1932, by The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—"Save my jumping Jack," cried 3-year-old Franklin D. Roosevelt as the liner Germanic rolled helplessly in a towering sea which had come up and threatened to engulf it on the second night out from Liverpool. Half the boilers and nearly all the cabins were flooded, a deckhand and all the lifeboats had been swept away, but the captain managed to swing the crippled ship about and maneuver it back slowly to Queenstown.

Despite the near-tragic aspects of that adventure, Roosevelt in later life become so fond of the sea that he seriously considered following it as a career. When 12 years old he began exhibiting a marked interest in naval history and spent whole days in the library at Hyde Park. Today he owns one of the country's finest private collections of navy literature.

Chose Harvard

When the time came for him to choose definitely between Harvard and Annapolis, however, young Roosevelt accepted his father's counsel and went to Harvard that he might prepare to take over the latter's business interests. His father, a wealthy man by inheritance, was a vice president of the Delaware and Hudson railroad and a director of several corporations.

As a boy, Roosevelt was healthy, active and possessed of unlimited curiosity. He often would disappear for a whole day and return in such bedraggled condition that his mother would ask in alarm:

"Where have you been?"

"Oh, out in the woods," he would reply.

"What doing?"

"Climbing trees."

The boy was extremely fond of trees. Much as he admired his illustrious cousin, "T. R.," he never could understand the latter's propensity for cutting them down.

"I like to plant trees," he said darkly, "not cut them down."

Started Bird Collection

At the age of 11 he astonished his parents by asking for a gun. He wanted to shoot birds, he explained, so he could mount them. His collection of stuffed birds can be seen at Hyde Park.

Recognizing young Roosevelt's interest in ornithology, his grandfather, Delano Roosevelt, presented him with a life membership in the Natural History museum in New York. When he was 14, a biographer, Ernest K. Lindley, relates, he and his tutor set out to inspect the birds in the South Kensington museum in London. On arriving there they found the Prince of Wales, later Edward VII, was opening a new wing, and admittance was by card only.

Roosevelt remembered his certificate of membership in the Natural History museum, but felt too young to pose as its owner and handed it to his tutor, who presented it at the gate. The liveried doormen studied it a bit, then bowed, bade them enter and accorded them "all the courtesies due distinguished scientists."

Roosevelt's earliest teachers were his parents and tutors. French was spoken freely in the household and Roosevelt studied German, Italian and Spanish as well. When he entered Groton at the age of 14, he was placed immediately in the third form.

Went Out for Sports

He went out for all sports, added his tenor to the glee club, and since he early had developed into a proficient talker, excelled at debating. "T. R.," then governor of New York, was a frequent visitor at the school.

Four years later he entered Harvard, a tall slender youth who quickly won many enduring friendships. His first year at the university was saddened by his father's death.

Probably the most widely circulated story of his college years is how, as editor of the crimson, he waged a vigorous campaign for the installation of fire escapes on the dormitories. His fight won, he commented editorially:

"Truly, the university will be an ideal place when it is finished."

Although he completed his undergraduate work in three years, Roosevelt elected to return for a fourth year, specializing in government, politics and sociology.

"T. R." at Wedding

After graduation, his engagement to Anna Eleanor Roosevelt, a cousin six times removed and the niece of "T. R." was announced.

The wedding took place on St. Patrick's day, March 17, 1905, in New York City, and President Theodore Roosevelt himself gave the bride away. After the ceremony he remarked:

"Well, Franklin, there's nothing like keeping the name in the family."

It was not long after he was graduated from college until Roosevelt became a "freshman" in politics. He was spoiling for a fight and he soon got it, as the next article will tell.

Mrs. Charles Coppock sang a solo, with Mrs. Chester Zink playing the accompaniment.

Attempt To Bomb Newspaper Aired

LORAIN, Ohio, Nov. 11. (AP)—A mysterious attempt to bomb the plant of the Lorain Journal, afternoon newspaper, was under investigation today.

Four sticks of dynamite, one with a fuse attached, were found last night in a small leather bag in a doorway of the Journal building.

John W. Graham, business manager, who made the discovery, said he was unable to account for the plot. Had the dynamite exploded at the time it was found, he said, several advertising men at work in the office probably would have been killed and the building badly damaged.

The fuse attached to the dynamite had been ignited, Graham said, but had gone out before he found it.

The Lorain Journal is owned by the same company as the Mansfield Journal which was bombed with serious damage in 1931. The Mansfield paper, at that time, was in the midst of an editorial crusade against crime. However, no such crusade has been in progress recently in the Lorain paper.

Crowds Scream as Woman Leaps to Death

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 11. (INS)—Miss Mary McCarthy, 55, a religious worker, today leaped to her death from a tower atop a five-story building as thousands of spectators screamed in horror and several women fainted.

Miss McCarthy, according to police, jumped from the seventh floor fire escape of the hotel where she resided to the top of an adjoining building, then jumped to the roof of a theater and climbed a 50-foot water tower.

CHARGE BOMBING

ASUNCION, Paraguay, Nov. 11. (AP)—The ministry of war issued a bulletin today in which it accused Bolivian airplanes of bombarding a hospital in the Gran Chaco battle area.

Answers to Questions

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

Of the vast number of questions answered by this department, only a few can be published in this column. The ones that are printed must be of general interest and not personal in their nature. Do not, therefore, merely sign your initials to your letter and ask that the answer be published. Give your full name and address so that you may receive a personal letter in reply. Enclose three cents for return postage. Direct your letter to The Record News Information bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, director, Washington, D. C.

Q.—Is Vancouver island connected with the mainland by bridge or tunnel?—C. R.

A.—It is not. Communication is by steamer.

Q.—Which of the large cities in the United States have a population composed of more women than men?—B. M.

A.—Some of those in which women outnumber men are: Birmingham, Atlanta, Dallas, Denver, Indianapolis, Memphis, New Orleans and Washington, D. C.

Q.—In what American school is Professor Einstein to teach?—F. T.

A.—He has accepted a life appointment as head of the school of mathematics of the new institute for advanced study opening next fall at Princeton, New Jersey. He has been appointed professor of mathematics and theoretical physics.

Q.—Is pure alcohol considered industrial alcohol?—C. R.

A.—Industrial alcohol under government control includes ethyl alcohol in its pure state as well as many formulas of denatured alcohol used in lawful manufacturing or other legitimate uses in science, the arts and industries.

Q.—Is topaz a precious stone?—L. M.

A.—There is a true or precious topaz and also a quartz topaz. True topaz is a complex silicate of aluminum with a high fluorine content, while quartz topaz is silicon dioxide with an admixture of metals which give it color. True topaz may be light yellow, light blue, green, orange, pink or wine-colored.

Q.—What amount of candle power would be necessary to produce light equal to daylight, or in other words, what candle power is daylight?—O. C. L.

A.—The bureau of standards says that "daylight" is a very variable concept. The intensity of daylight illumination may vary from less than 100 foot candles on a very dark day, over-cast in the dark clouds near sunset, to about 10,000 foot candles in clear bright direct sunlight.

Q.—At what time of year is it most advisable to visit the Philippines?—S. L. D.

A.—November, December, January and February are the temperate months in the Philippine Islands. April, May and June are the hot months. There are two seasons in the islands, the rainy and the dry. The rains are heaviest in July, August and September, and lightest in February and March. Therefore, it would seem that the most pleasant time to visit the islands would be during February.

Q.—Are there bamboo trees in the United States?—L. L.

A.—Bamboos are mild-climate plants. None is found native in the colder temperature regions. The United States has only two native species. These occur in the southern states south of Virginia and westward to southern Missouri. They constitute our so-called canebrakes, once more or less common but now becoming rare. Central America and South America are much richer in these beautiful plants, of which nearly 150 native species have been reported, mostly from the tropical regions. Asia, and especially China, is the richest of all regions in bamboo species. In fact, Asia may be regarded as the home of most of the valuable economic species now scattered over the earth. Nearly 500 species of bamboos have been described, and more than two-thirds of these are from Asia and adjacent islands.

Senatorial Faces in New Picture

THERE are many new faces in the senatorial picture of the new congress. Democrats elected their nominees and defeated Republican contenders in Indiana, Illinois, New Hampshire, Connecticut, New Jersey, Wisconsin, Utah, California, and Iowa. Iowa landed in the Democratic column of states. It declared for Louis Murphy, Democratic senatorial nominee, and gave the Democrats a majority from top to bottom. They elected Percy F. Stewart in New Jersey; Fred H. Brown in New Hampshire; F. Ryan Duffy in Wisconsin; Dr. Elbert B. Thomas in Utah; William Gibbs McAdoo in California. Wisconsin cast its electoral vote for Roosevelt by a huge majority. All the followers of Senator LaFollette and Governor LaFollette invaded the Democratic reservation and voted the straight Dmocratic ticket. Republican newspapers and magazines, after the Republican primary results in Wisconsin, declared that "LaFolletteism was buried forever in the Badger state." Well, the Democrats and followers of that "Fighting" LaFollette who is dead joined hands and they placed the Badger state in the Democratic column and elected F. Bryan Duffy, Democrat, to a seat in the American senate. Col. Frank Hague, according to Arthur Brisbane "the most astute politician in America," led the Democrats and progressives in New Jersey to a hurricane victory. Colonel Hague is a marvelous strategist and organizer. However, the most astute political strategist and national campaign manager in America is Col. James A. Farley of New York. He is not only the best salesman and political prognosticator of all but he is the most dramatic showman that has directed a campaign in the nation since the close of the war between the states.

The Idaho Prophet

SENATOR WILLIAM E. BORAH of Idaho cast an absentee ballot, caught a train from Boise and turned his face toward the city on the banks of the Potomac river. Before his departure he had proclaimed to the world "that the speeches of Alfred E. Smith were the ablest and best delivered for Herbert Hoover and his cause." His train touched Chicago on election day. He was informed by press representatives that an unusually heavy vote was being cast over the nation. It was then that the Lone Eagle made his final prediction: "That looks good for Hoover. Every vote means the women are going to the polls and 75 per cent of the women in the country are for Hoover." Well, the returns are in. Herbert Hoover and William Howard Taft in the history of presidential elections are linked together as two important personages who are counted among "the also rans." Taft, one of the most loveable and one of the best men the republic has known, came out of the grave and served until his death as chief justice of the supreme court of the United States. Resurrection may come to Herbert Hoover. There is no telling what will happen in future years in "the land of the free" when the growers of things and the millions of "forgotten men" run amuck on election day.

That Radical Problem, Again

ACTION of city officials at Lorain, Ohio, in breaking up a Socialist mass meeting by a group of Oberlin college students in the fag-end of the presidential campaign is interesting solely because it shows how utterly silly a group of city officials can be when they set their mind to it.

The chief crime of the students seems to have been the fact that they read certain excerpts from federal and state constitutions. But even if they had torn their hair and demanded the burning of the national capitol, the Lorain police would have been well advised to let them strictly alone.

For in any affair of this kind, the big thing to remember is that an attempt at suppression only serves as a sounding board. No one outside of Lorain, and few people in Lorain, would have heard of this meeting if the police had had business elsewhere at the time. Because of what they did, the police made the collegiate radicals front-page news all over the country.

Hitlerism Starts to Slip

ADOLF HITLER seems to have passed the crest of the hill and to have started the trek along the downward slope. His party's vote in the recent German election represents a sharp falling away in popular support, which is even more significant than the numerical totals might indicae.

What it proves pretty clearly is that Hitler's program is no longer appealing to the people of Germany as a sure-fire cure-all. The Von Papen government, for one thing, has stolen a good deal of his thunder; for another thing, the man's essential shallowness seems to be demonstrating itself a little more clearly every month.

Meanwhile, the Von Papen government is still a minority government—and the Communist vote is larger than ever before. Germany is not yet out of the woods, and her statesmen will need to exercise all of the intelligence and foresight they are capable of in the coming winer.

Filipinos Demand Independence

AND now comes the Filipino legislature with a demand for independence and this too without delay. These "little brown brothers" of the Pacific islands discussed the topic or subject five months. Then they made their declaration. Perhaps they will make Gov. Gen. Teddy Roosevelt the first president of the Filipino republic.

SO THEY SAY!

Our object at Geneva will not be to take some dramatic step which would focus attention on our initiative or leadership. Our aim will be not to have a separate policy of our own, but to unite with the other powers in finding a single policy which might fairly be described as the policy of the league as a whole.—Viscount Hailsham, Britain's secretary of state for war.

A part of our task will be to see to it that modification is adopted in such a form as to pass review by the courts and to see to it that beer is not so heavily taxed as to make modification in part meaningless. It should provide a tremendous revenue, but it should not be taxed so heavily that home brew will drive it out of the market.—Matpartment expenses.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

THE LAST STAND—When the momentous call to "cease firing" terminated 1,560 days of carnage, known as the world war, on Nov. 11, 1918, the scene of the actual last stand was a shellhole half way up the hill in the direction of the Bois de Wavrille, between Beaumont and Montmedy. I secured a picture of this historical shellhole and the exact measurements of its position during my sojourn in eastern France last year.

A MILITARY GABRIEL—Caporal-Clairon Pierre Sellier twice sounded the most important call in human history. The first time when he sounded "Halte-la, cessez le feu," on the momentous night when the German delegation, suing for peace, crossed the French line for the first time. And the second time when the armistice went into effect at 11 a. m. on the eleventh of November 14 years ago, when he launched into the morning air the notes of his "general cease firing."

PITTMAN WILL RULE SENATE

Nevadan Finally to Win Coveted Post

By F. G. VOSBURGH
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—For slender, good-natured Senator Key Pittman of Nevada, the Democratic sweep which gave his party one-sided control of the new senate probably means the attainment of an ambition to be president pro tem after 13 years of unsuccessful trying.

Ever since the 66th congress—in 1919—the popular Nevadan has been standing up as the Democratic choice for the job and regularly getting pushed over by the Republican candidate under a dominant G. O. P. majority.

Now with the Democrats assured of control of the chamber in the 73rd congress by nearly 2 to 1, his fellow senators expect to see him nominated again as a matter of course and this time elected to become the first Democratic president pro tem since Willard Saulsbury of Delaware in 1916-19.

Always Steam Rollered

First it was Albert B. Cummings of Iowa and then it was George H. Moses of New Hampshire who ascended the senate rostrum as president pro tem in Pittman's stead.

Every two years when a new congress met, the Republican steam roller would trundle over Pittman.

The only exception was in the 71st congress when it happened that Pittman was not available and the G. O. P. machine rolled over another Democrat instead.

In the organization of the present congress he came surprisingly close.

In that "Moses marathon" of recent memory, he challenged the rule of the sharp-tongued Republican senator from New Hampshire in a race which went on for weeks and weeks.

With a group of the western independent Republicans refusing to support the sarcastic Moses, Pittman for the first time succeeded in making a real fight for the honor.

Silent Battle

Smiles faded and a tinge of grimness overspread the senate as the struggle wore on through ballot after ballot without a word of debate but with the Republican independents voting resolutely against the man who once referred to them as "sons of the wild jackass."

But while they refused to vote for Moses they declined to bolt their party outright by supporting the Democratic nominee, Pittman. Instead they gave their ballots to first one Republican and then another.

Nobody actually won the strange contest, which wound up in a stalemate, but Moses retained his seat under a rule that the president pro tem shall serve until his successor is elected.

Moses, a "lame duck," probably will continue to function as president pro tem in the "short session" beginning next month, although there is a chance the Democrats might be able to put Pittman into the office at that session.

To do so they would have to win the short term seat for which the lone Farmer-Labor member, Shipstead of Minnesota, who usually votes with the Republicans.

But in the new congress the Democrats are certain to have their say in organization matters and one of the first things they expect to do is to make Pittman president pro tem.

In that prized but somewhat uninfluential post the Nevada senator—who incidentally was close to President-elect Roosevelt throughout his campaign—will wield the gavel whenever Vice President Garner happens to be absent.

COUNTY HEALTH WORK PLANNED

Association Asks Support For Activities

DALLAS, Nov. 11. (AP)—Appeals for cooperation of the state health department in getting public health work started in "every county in Texas" were made by speakers at a business session of the Texas Public Health association today.

A resolution urging that appropriations for public health work not be reduced to "the danger point" was prepared, meanwhile, by the resolutions committee of the association, for introduction at the final session this afternoon which was to close the 10th annual meeting.

Dr. P. W. Covington of the national health board of the Rockefeller foundation emphasized the need for state appropriations to assist counties in getting "setups" started.

Dr. K. E. Miller of Austin declared that once local boards were set up, they would proceed under their own power.

PINEVILLE, Ky., Nov. 11. (AP)—Kentucky's death toll from election day shootings rose to seven today with the death of Paul Miller. Miller, an election officer, was one of four men who were shot and wounded Tuesday in a general gun fight at a polling place in Bell county. Andrew Miller died of wounds the next day. The others were Huey Rice and Matt Shelton.

Robinson Urges Fixed Policy On War Debt Problem

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Nov. 11. (AP)—Senator Joe T. Robinson, senate Democratic leader, declared in an Armistice day address here today in favor of this government announcing a fixed policy for collection of the war debts.

He also said the printing of more money for immediate cash payment of the soldiers bonus would "threaten the national credit and result in much more harm than good."

Tracing the history of the war debts due the United States, Senator Robinson said "there is no equity in the appeal for cancellation."

"It seems the part of prudence he said, "to declare a fixed policy on the part of this government to collect the debts and end the agitation which is certain to gather volume in the early future in favor of cancellation.

"If the president should let it be known that the settlements now in force are final and will not be reviewed or opened up for further consideration, such decisive action would promise the stabilization of conditions throughout the world."

MIGHTY T. C. U. GRID MACHINE SMOTHERS LONGHORNS 14-0

STEER BACKS STOPPED COLD

Frog Forwards Surge Over To Smear Texas

By BILL PARKER
Associated Press Staff Writer

FORT WORTH Nov. 11.—The mighty Texas Christian university football warriors sailed over the top with a two-touchdown barrage to smother the University of Texas Longhorns in a smashing Armistice day gridiron war today, 14 to 0.

The powerful charging of a senior Texas Christian line that averaged 200 pounds to the man, the smashing drives of a senior Christian seconcary completely demolished the Longhorn defense, riddled their offense and ducked them into the mire of a thoroughly beaten team—one that waged a stout battle against overwhelming odds; for what Texas was short on, the Christians had—a mere matter of two touchdowns, made possible by Blanard Spearman's long runs and Richard Oliver's ability to cross the Texas goal line. Otho Tiner, reserve back, was the star of the extra points. He rushed in to kick both placements after touchdowns, and on the final, received one of the grandest ovations ever accorded a player in the Texas Christian stadium.

Hilliard Stopped

The Texas backfield of Bohn Hilliard, Harrison Stafford, Ernest Koy and Hank Clewis, that drubbed Missouri, Oklahoma, Rice, Southern Methodist and Baylor in consecutive games, was stopped cold by the big, smart, alert Texas Christian forward wall that was inspired by the playing of Capt. Johnny Vaught at guard and the redoubtable work of Madison Pruitt at end, who had the task of stopping the elusive Bohn Hilliard, and made a thorough job of it. Hilliard gained 20 yards from scrimmage and lost 18. That is a fair idea of how the entire Texas Christian team played.

Only once did the Longhorns chill the Frogs with a touchdown threat. It occurred in the second period when Koy tossed a 45-yard pass to Stafford to put the ball on the Christian's 3-yard line. Texas drew a five-yard penalty for extra time out, and then Oliver intercepted Koy's pass as the gun ended the scoring threat. It was Texas' best chance and it failed.

No one man beat Texas today, it was a job for every man in purple and white uniform and each accomplished all Coach Francis Schmidt required of him, but the long off-tackle runs by Blanard Spearman with Brannon and Dennis contributing interference, and the fierce tackling of Captain Vaught and Pruitt stuck out like a sore thumb.

Longhorn Line Shattered

The first touchdown occurred in the initial period when Blanard Spearman tore around end and cut back for 27 yards to put the ball on the three-yard line. On the first down Oliver plunged over. Previous to this, Texas had held the Frogs on the goal line. Tiner kicked goal and the Frogs had a 7 to 0 lead.

The final touchdown came in the fourth period when Oliver whirled through the Texas line and was downed on the Longhorns' 11-yard line. On the second down, Oliver crashed through for the touchdown and Tiner went in and kicked goal. It was in this series of plays that Madison Pruitt was injured to the extent that he had to leave the game. The crowd of 21,000 people stood and cheered for a man who played an all-American game.

As the game terminated, Texas had the ball inside the Christians' five-yard line, but were failing to gain with Koy and Hilliard lugging the leather.

It was the fourth conference victory for the Christians and left them at the pinnacle with Texas second. The Christians gained 237 yards and Texas gained 186 yards from scrimmage, counting passes completed.

Coach Littlefield of Texas, in an after game statement, said:

"The best club won. They had too much power for us. I believe the Frogs will beat Rice and win the conference championship."

Scoring by periods:

University of Texas 0 0 0 0—0
Texas Christian U. 7 0 0 7—14

Texas Christian scoring: Touchdowns, Oliver 2. Points after touchdowns, Tiner, 2.

Vernon Makes Breaks Count To Remove Quanah From Race, 6-0

LIONS CLINCH CHAMPIONSHIP

Indians Fight but Unable To Cope With Foes

By FRED THOMPSON
Record News Sports Editor

QUANAH, Texas, Nov. 11.—Coach Heinie Weir's Maroon and Gray clad Vernon Lions virtually clinched the championship of district No. 5, class A, here today with a 6 to 0 victory over Dan Stallworth's Quanah Indians, 1931 defending champions.

Vernon's victory may be accurately summed up as the story of a hustling bunch of Weirmen able to profit by the breaks, as compared to a charging offensive Quanah unit that for the most part outplayed the Lions, but could never get past the Lion goal line defense, either because of the stubborn resistance the Vernon forwards offered or because of fumbles.

Garner Scores

The Lions converted the first real break to come their way into a touchdown. The opening was offered late in the second quarter, when Wheat, Quanah left half, fumbled the ball, Tarleton Jones, elongated Vernon tackle recovering on Quanah's 33-yard line. Here the Lions brought an expert passing game into action and it took only two plays to score the game's lone touchdown. Watson, Lion quarterback, shot a 15-yard pass to Thompson and followed it up with a beautiful 20 yard pass to Garner, who caught the ball over the goal line. Hopson's placement attempt for the extra point failed.

The game was played before about 3,000 people, fully half the number being Vernon boosters. The giant crowd braved a veritable gale to watch the contest. The cold wind swept down from the north and made punting a hazard for the team in the face of it. Despite the gale, however, the game was featured by a bristling punting duel between Barnett of Quanah and Grogan of Vernon, each kicking beautifully in the face of the wind, and getting off 50 to 70 yard punts with regularity when its force was at their backs.

Indians Miss Chance

The Indians made several threats to score but the most impressive bids were made in the fourth quarter, when the Tribe missed tying the score and possibly annexing a victory, by the slenderest of margins.

The Indians came the closest to scoring in the opening minutes of the closing period, after a sensational 33-yard pass, Wheat to Hall, had given the Tribe a first down on Vernon's 11-yard line near the close of the third quarter. Hall of Quanah bucked through for 5 yards, giving Quanah the pigskin on Vernon's 5½-yard line just as the third period ended.

But Quanah was never to make those remaining few yards. On three attempts Hall of the Indians could gain only 2 yards and Vernon, taking the ball on downs on their 3-yard line, promptly booted out of danger.

They Keep on Fighting

This heart-breaking blow, however, did not dampen the ardor of the Indians, who twice thereafter made sensational drives in the direction of the Vernon goal-posts.

The first drive, which was good for 38 yards, started on Quanah's 20-yard line after Grogan had delivered a punt over the goal line. Wheat, Harper and Hall on successive knifes at the line carried the ball to Vernon's 44-yard line, but there Hall fumbled and Vernon recovered on their own 43-yard line, Grogan immediately punting out of danger. After another exchange of punts, Quanah found itself in possession of the ball on their own 16-yard line and from this point the Indians lugged the mail straight down the field to Vernon's 16-yard line, a distance of 68 yards, and even then failed to score.

The last minute dash was given a good start by a 22-yard sprint by Wheat through the Vernon right tackle. A varied attack, featuring Hall, Willis and Wheat in running and passing roles, and three five-yard penalties against Vernon took the ball to Vernon's 23-yard mark. Hall and Willis there, however, met a stubborn Lion wall and could gain but seven yards on three bucks. On fourth down Wheat dropped back and passed to Mitchell, who had run down over the goal. Mitchell got the ball—but dropped it.

Indians Out

That was the crowning blow. Vernon took the ball on their own 20-yard line and Thompson picked up four yards on two tries before the final gun sounded the shot that escorted Quanah's Indians out of the championship picture and hailed the arrival of a new football leader in this district.

The Lions, expecting to meet a great Quanah forward wall, were not disappointed in the least. But they relied upon their passing attack very little. The two passes that won the game for them were all the team completed out of five attempts. Quanah tried eight passes, five of which were incomplete.

Quanah made 13 first downs to six for Vernon.

Barnett and Grogan were about equally matched in punting. Grogan kicked for Vernon 15 times for an average of 33 yards. Barnett punted 16 times for an average of 32 yards.

Quanah Fumbles

The Vernon ends completely smothered the Quanah punt returners. The Indians were able to return only two of Grogan's punts, for a total gain of nine yards, while the Vernon receivers of Barnett's kicks returned eight times for a total distance of 86 yards.

The Quanah fumbling record was all too impressive. The Indians were guilty of miscues six times. On four of the occasions Vernon recovered the fumbles, while Quanah recovered its own fumbles two times. Vernon fumbled twice, only once losing the ball.

Individual stars were all over the field. They are too numerous to mention in this brief summary, but a glance at the play-by-play account of the game which is given on this page should give an idea of how well the boys played.

The starting lineups:

VERNON (6)	Pos.	QUANAH (0)

Vernon's Victory Play By Play

First Quarter

Quanah won the toss and elected to receive, with a howling north wind at their backs. Hopson of Vernon kicked into the gale, Jones returning 5 yards to Quanah's 35-yard line.

Wheat went off his right tackle for 3 yards, Willis grabbed 4 on a spinner through the middle, and Jones bucked center for a first down. Jones slashed off his left tackle for 5 yards but on the next play Hall of Quanah fumbled, Galloway of Vernon recovering on his 45-yard line.

Miller of Vernon was heaved for a 4-yard loss by Bolton, Quanah's left tackle. Thompson of the Lions was hurled for a 5-yard loss by Blue, Quanah's left guard. Barnett, Quanah center, tore through and slammed Thompson of Vernon for a 4-yard loss. After these disastrous attempts to penetrate the Quanah line Grogan of Vernon punted, the ball being killed on Quanah's 46-yard line.

Hall was stopped for no gain. Wheat and Jones made only 3 yards on two bucks and Barnett punted over the Vernon goal line, Vernon taking the sphere on its own 20-yard line.

Grogan was stopped for no gain, but Quanah drew a 5-yard offside penalty. Thompson squeezed through center for 3 yards. Bolton stopped Miller for no gain, and Richardson hurled Thompson for a 7-yard loss. Grogan then punted against the wind to his own 30-yard line.

Jones of Quanah followed his left tackle for a 5-yard gain and on the next play picked up 4 more. Willis on a spinner crashed through for a first down on Vernon's 21-yard line. It was Quanah's first opportunity to score.

Wheat on first down failed to gain. Watson of Vernon hurled Jones for a 2-yard loss. Hall's pass to Mitchell failed, the latter dropping the ball. Jones on the fourth down could gain but 3 yards, and Vernon took the ball on downs on their own 20-yard line.

Miller gained 5 yards on two bucks over his right tackle, but Thompson failed to gain on third down and Grogan, again punting into the wind, kicked the ball out of bounds on his own 30-yard line.

Wheat made a small gain but the play was called back and Quanah assessed a 5-yard penalty. Willis failed to get going. Hall's pass was knocked down by Watson of Vernon and Barnett punted out of bounds on Vernon's 25-yard line.

Watson hit the middle for 2 yards and Thompson annexed 9 yards on a spinner through center for a first down. Miller and Watson each lost a yard. Maney made a bad pass from center, Thompson recovering for a 2-yard loss. Page of Quanah downed him. Grogan then punted to Willis of Quanah, who was downed on his 32-yard line.

Hall lost a yard. Garner for Miller, Vernon. Jones hit the middle for 6 yards and Hall spun through center for 4 yards and a first down on Quanah's 42-yard line. Wheat's pass was knocked down by Thompson of Vernon. Barnett then punted to Garner, who made a fine 20-yard return to Vernon's 34-yard line as the period ended, neither side having scored.

Second Quarter

The teams exchanged positions on the field and Vernon now had the advantage of the wind.

Thompson lost a yard on a reverse and Grogan immediately punted out of bounds on Quanah's 24-yard line. It was a hefty boot.

Hall split through left tackle for 6 yards and Jones picked up 1 over his right tackle. Barnett then got off a beautiful kick against the wind, Garner being downed with it on Vernon's 33-yard line.

Grogan punted on first down, and the ball sailed over the Quanah goal line. Quanah put the ball in play on their own 20-yard line.

Wheat was thrown for a yard loss by Tarleton Jones of Vernon. Jones of Quanah failed to gain. Barnett went back to punt but was rushed; Vernon, however, was offside and the ball was called back. Barnett again stepped back to punt and was rushed again. Vernon was offside on this play also but the officials failed to call it and Barnett was nailed. On fourth down Barnett at last got off his punt, Garner of Vernon returning it 15 yards to Quanah's 45-yard line.

Grogan took it out of bounds for no gain. Garner went around his right end for 9 yards. Grogan couldn't get the other yard necessary for a first down. Watson's pass was knocked down by Willis and Jones of Quanah, and Quanah took the ball on its own 30-yard line.

Wheat failed to gain through his right tackle. Jones hit the same spot for a yard. Barnett then punted out of bounds on Vernon's 47-yard line, Garner making the catch.

Then followed an exchange of punts. Grogan booted the ball out of bounds on Quanah's 4-yard line, and Barnett immediately returned it, Garner being downed with the kick on Quanah's 30-yard line. Garner and Watson gained 4 yards but Thompson was thrown for a loss of the same distance by Jones of Quanah on the third play, and after Grogan had failed to gain Quanah took the ball on its own 29-yard line.

Jones of Quanah then shot through the middle of the Vernon line for the longest gain the game had produced to this stage of the battle. It was good for 19 yards and gave Quanah a first down on its own 48-yard line. Garner, Vernon safety and the only Vernon player left in the Quanah star's path, made the tackle that probably kept the Indians from scoring.

The three succeeding plays were fruitless and Barnett punted, Garner returning about 4 yards to Vernon's 33-yard line.

Garner sailed around right end for 5 yards and Grogan followed it up by punting out of bounds on Quanah's 30-yard line.

On the first down Wheat of Quanah fumbled the ball, Tarleton Jones of Vernon recovering on Quanah's 33-yard line. Watson of Vernon then dropped back and shot a 15-yard pass to Thompson. He followed it up with a 20-yard pass to Garner, who was over the goal line to receive the ball and register a touchdown. Hopson's place kick for extra point failed. Score—Vernon 6, Quanah 0.

Thompson of Vernon kicked off to Willis of Quanah, who returned 15 yards to Quanah's 32-yard line.

Wheat lost 3 yards. Hall went through center for 1 yard. Barnett then punted, Garner of Vernon being downed with the ball on Vernon's 47-yard line.

Watson and Garner picked up only 6 yards on two attempts, a pass, Watson to Garner, failed and Grogan then punted over Quanah's goal line. Quanah brought the ball out to their 20-yard line and put it in play.

On the first play Jones skipped through his right tackle for another splendid run of 19 yards. Thompson of Vernon stopped his march. Page on an end-around gained 9 yards. Jones of Quanah was stopped for no gain by Tarleton Jones of Vernon. Hall got off a 6-yard pass to Willis but the play was called back and Quanah drew a 5-yard penalty. Barnett then punted out of bounds on Vernon's 33-yard line.

Thompson was thrown for a 3-yard loss. Garner made them up around his right end. Just as the ball was snapped for the next play, which was a punt, the gun ending the half sounded, but the punt and an additional play were allowed, according to the rules. Grogan's punt sailed out of bounds on Quanah's 28-yard line.

On the last play of the half Jones of Quanah picked up three yards, bringing the ball to his own 31-yard line.

Third Quarter

Miller for Garner, Vernon. Hopson of Vernon kicked off to Wheat, who grabbed but failed to hold the ball. Thompson of Vernon recovered it on Quanah's 36-yard line.

Watson bucked the middle for 3 yards, Miller on a reverse picked up 6 and Grogan smashed through for a first down on Quanah's 25-yard line, but Thompson, Miller and Watson on the next three plays failed to crush the Quanah wall and Grogan punted, the ball going out of bounds on Quanah's 16-yard line.

Jones picked up 2 and Wheat failed to gain. Barnett then punted to Miller of Vernon, who returned 18 yards to the 42-yard stripe.

Watson and Thompson on three line plays failed to gain, and Grogan returned the punt, Willis of Quanah receiving the kick on his 7-yard line.

Barnett again brought his toe into action and Miller made a 20-yard return of the Quanah center's punt, but Vernon was offside on the play and it was called back. Barnett punted again, and Miller of Vernon was downed with the ball on Quanah's 49-yard line.

Thompson of Vernon on the next play bounced over Quanah's left guard, Blue, for a 15-yard gain, the longest gain from scrimmage made by a Vernon back until that time. On the next play Watson was thrown for a small loss but the play was called back and Quanah penalized 5 yards for offside. Watson bucked through for 7 yards and a first down on Quanah's 26-yard line.

Miller gained 5 yards and Watson 2 on line plays. Maney made a bad pass from center which Grogan of Vernon covered on Quanah's 24-yard line. L. Gregory for Jones, Quanah. Grogan on the next down punted out of bounds on Quanah's 12-yard line.

Wheat of Quanah picked up 3 through the middle. Gregory fumbled for a 6-yard loss but recovered. Barnett then punted, the ball rolling down to Vernon's 35 yard line where Miller of Vernon covered it.

Watson split his left tackle for 3 yards. Miller failed to gain. Watson recovered his own fumble for a 5-yard loss and Grogan punted to Willis of Quanah, who was downed on Quanah's 26-yard line.

Wheat took it out of bounds on the first play. Hall failed to gain through his left tackle. Barnett, back to punt, got a bad pass from center but ran with the ball, turning a potential 7-yard loss into one of only 2 yards. On the next play Barnett punted out of bounds on Vernon's 39-yard line.

Thompson and Watson got 5 yards between them, but on third down Thompson fumbled and Bolton of Quanah recovered on Vernon's 44-yard line.

Wheat passed to Hall for a 33-yard gain and a first down on Vernon's 11-yard line. Harper for L. Gregory, Quanah. Hill hit the middle for 5 yards, taking the ball to Vernon's 5½-yard line as the quarter ended.

Fourth Quarter

Garner for Miller, Vernon.

Quanah called on Hall three times to make the remaining 5½ yards to the goal, and three times the Lion forwards repulsed his drive. The first two attempts he made, he failed to gain an inch. On the next try he gained only two yards, and Vernon took the ball on downs.

Grogan immediately got off a punt of about 60 yards, Willis receiving for Quanah in midfield.

A pass, Wheat to Harper, failed. Hall made six yards on two plays, and Barnett punted out of bounds on Vernon's 32-yard line.

Grogan returned the punt, booting the ball about 65 yards over the Quanah goal line. Quanah brought the leather out to their 20-yard line and put it in play.

Wheat split the middle for 12 yards and a first down on Quanah's 32-yard line. Wheat, Harper and Hall on three tries made another first down on their own 45-yard line.

Wheat bucked off right tackle for 9 yards and Hall made the remaining yard for another first down, this time on Vernon's 44-yard line.

Hall and Harper made five yards between them, but on the next play the march stopped when Hall fumbled and Hopson of Vernon recover on Vernon's 43-yard line.

Grogan immediately punted out of bounds on Quanah's 26-yard line.

Hall and Harper failed to get places on two attempts and Barnett punted to Garner of Vernon, who fumbled. Reed of Vernon recovering on Quanah's 47-yard line.

Garner failed to gain over a yard on two plays and his pass to Grogan was incomplete. Grogan then punted out of bounds on Quanah's 16-yard line.

Quanah's last desperate drive then began. Wheat smashed through his left tackle for a 22-yard gain and a first down on his own 37-yard line. R. Jones for Caldwell, Vernon. Vernon drew a five-yard penalty for too much time out. A Quanah pass failed. Hall went over his right tackle for four yards. Vernon again drew a five-yard penalty for too much time out, giving Quanah a first down on Vernon's 48-yard line.

Hall picked up a yard and then passed to Willis for a gain of about seven yards. Hall smashed off his right tackle for seven yards and a first down on Vernon's 33-yard line. Wheat picked up three over left tackle. Hall duplicated the gain but Vernon was offside and took a five-yard penalty, pushing the Lions back to their 26-yard line. Wheat gained three yards over his right tackle for a first down on Vernon's 23-yard line. Stewart for R. Jones, Vernon.

Hall smashed over right tackle for three yards and Willis got three more through the middle. Hall picked up another yard to take the ball to Vernon's 16-yard line. On fourth down, Wheat shot a pass right into the arms of Mitchell, who was over the Vernon goal line, but Mitchell dropped the ball, and Quanah's great drive was over. Vernon took the ball on its own 20-yard line to put it in play, with but a few seconds remaining in which to play.

Thompson made two small gains through the line, putting the ball on his own 24-yard line, as the game ended. Final score—Vernon 6, Quanah 0.

BILL WALLACE GAME'S STAR

Rice Eliminated From Title Chase by Loss

By WILLIAM S. WHITE
Associated Press Staff Writer

COLLEGE STATION, Texas, Nov. 11.—The Texas A. & M. college eleven won its first Southwest conference football victory of the season here today, in an upset 14-7 victory over Rice institute, living up to an old tradition that any Aggie team is hard to handle here on the home field. The defeat left Rice definitely out of the running for conference honors.

Since Texas Christian defeated the University of Texas today, the institute, which meets the Christians next Saturday, might have hoped for a victory then and the possibility of a three-way tie had it downed the Aggies, with Texas and Texas Christian for the championship.

Victory on One Play

The quick mind of Ted Spencer, fullback, had something to do with providing the margin of victory for the Cadets. Mentally he was partly responsible for the first Aggie touchdown.

It occurred in this manner. A 20-yard pass had left the ball on the Rice 30-yard line late in the second period. Spencer called for time out just as the play was completed. Realizing that otherwise the period would have ended before another play could be completed. The field judge, unaware that time-out had been called, fired his pistol, but the referee quickly called the teams back and Barfield took a 30-yard pass for the touchdown.

Graves added the point from placement. The outstanding star of the game was Bill Wallace, the Rice sophomore back. In the fourth period he somehow got away on a reverse play, and raced through practically the entire Cadet defense for a touchdown. Vic Driscoll kicked goal from placement. It was the longest and most spectacular of the day, but it was only one of a number of brilliant runs by Wallace. John McCauley, another sophomore, ably seconded him in yardage gains for the institute. The second Aggie touchdown came through a blocked Rice punt in the fourth period. Willis Nolan, the Cadet center, smashed down the ball at the institute 12-yard stripe, and John Crow, a big guard who occasionally does a bit of backfield work on his own, picked it up and went over. Graves kicked both Cadet goals from placement.

Owl Offense Falters

Rice opened up at the start of the game with a heavy offensive that carried the ball down the field steadily to the Aggies' 10-yard line. A fumble by Hammett there ended the threat. In the second period, the institute was offensively weaker. In the third, Thrasher and Hammett got going well, smashing the Cadet line repeatedly for material gains. Both teams had unusual difficulty in holding the ball late in the period, perhaps due to the high wind from the north, and there were four fumbles at critical points. The Owls opened up with a vigorous air attack late in the game, and Knight once caught a pass over the Cadet goal line but the play was called back. The measure of the institute's offensive power was seen in the fact that the Owls gained 268 yards from scrimmage to 139 for the Aggies.

Corsicana Comes From Behind to Whip Temple

TEMPLE, Texas, Nov. 11. (AP)—The Corsicana Tigers twice came from behind to defeat a fighting Temple High school team 14-12 here today, in a district 11 game.

Temple clearly outplayed the highly-favored Tigers in the first half, scoring early in the second period. Late in the second, Corsicana intercepted a pass on Temple's 35-yard line and passed the ball down the field for a score. Corsicana converted for a 7-6 lead.

Temple again took the lead early in the third, two passes putting the Wildcats in scoring position. A 33-yard pass in the fourth put Corsicana back in the lead and the Tigers managed to stop two Temple drives in the final minutes of play.

Olney Cubs Tramp On To District Title By Whipping Archer City 46-6

OLNEY, Texas, Nov. 11.—The Olney Cubs hurdled the Archer City Wildcats 46 to 6 Friday afternoon in a chase for their fifth annual district football title. The Wildcats were outweighed and Coach Albert Acker took the opportunity to give his second team backs and linesmen a workout under fire. The second string backs started the game and scored seven points. Archer City failed to start an offensive early in the first quarter and in kicking out the punt was blocked by the Cub line. The ball fell into the arms of Hennig, left tackle, who plunged forward to the 6-yard line. Greer plunged over for the score and Mercer kicked goal.

Hidden End Gay

Graves plunged over twice in the second period and Gilmore kicked goal after the first counter. Graves, Rue and Greer made touchdowns in the third period and Gilmore kicked goal after Graves' and Rue's counters. Greer scored the final touchdown in the last quarter. Hennig again took a blocked punt in paving the way for Rue's touchdown.

The Wildcats worked the veteran hidden end stunt for their only touchdown in the fourth quarter. Larkin remained near the sidelines without detection and Burney's 25-yard pass fell into his waiting arms. He raced ahead of the field for 20 yards and the score.

St. Edward's Defeats Schreiner Institute, 12-0

KERRVILLE, Texas, Nov. 11. (AP)—Long end runs by Dillon and Garrett gave St. Edward's university of Austin a 12 to 0 victory today over the Schreiner Institute Mountaineers.

Garrett scored in the third and fourth periods, each time on an end run. Schreiner threatened aggressively throughout the first half, Beard gaining slightly over Stone in punting and Duncan and Baze pushing the line consistently with power drives. Once in the first period, Dillon gained 40 yards in a series of drives but lost the ball on a fumble.

STEERS CRUSH BOWIE BUNNIES

Graham Machine Runs Up 99 Points on Rabbits

Special to The Record News.

GRAHAM, Texas, Nov. 11.—The Graham Steers, in a rampant mood, ran wild over the Bowie Jackrabbits on the gridiron here Friday afternoon, smothering the visitors under an avalanche of touchdowns and rolling up a score of 99 to 0.

The invading eleven was fighting as hard at the final gun as at the starting shot, but was hopelessly outclassed, registering but two first downs during the day. Graham put the game definitely on ice in the first few minutes of play, and by the first intermission had a total of 40 points on the board.

Wheeler Stars

Jack Wheeler was the mainspring of the Steer attack while he was in the game. After Bowie had received the opening kickoff, the ball promptly changed hands when a punt was blocked. On the first Graham play, Wheeler stepped 40 yards for a touchdown. Butler, Kimbrough, C. Hamer, Repass and again Kimbrough followed in quick succession in the parade over the Bowie goal.

Third-string Steers took the field in the second quarter, and assisted Prideaux in pushing over the lone touchdown scored in that quarter. In each of the third and fourth quarters, the Graham machine put on more steam, and scored 26 points in each period. During the third period, Jack Wheeler contributed dashes of 23 yards and 59 yards for touchdowns, and in the fourth quarter he wound up his field day with a 55-yard trip across after receiving a punt.

Graham remains the one undefeated team in class B, district 5. The Steers meet the Nocona Indians next Friday at Nocona.

CROWELL TRIMS SEYMOUR, 32—0

Middleton and Allee Shine For Victors

Special to The Record News.

CROWELL, Texas, Nov. 11.—The Crowell Wildcats defeated the Seymour Panthers 32 to 0 Friday afternoon in an Armistice day title football game. Middleton and Allee carried the Crowell attack with Dunn and Gibson furnishing strong defense talent in the line which kept the Panthers outside of the Wildcat 30-yard line.

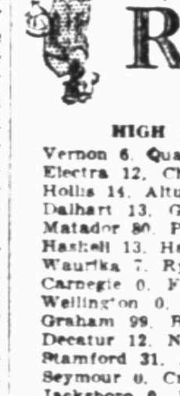

Middleton opened the scoring with two touchdowns in the first quarter. A pass from Captain Todd to Allee was good for 15 yards and Allee raced 15 yards to the 8-yard line before he was stopped. Middleton went off tackle for the touchdown and Todd plunged the line for the extra point. The second counter came when Middleton circled the Crowell left end for 20 yards and then plunged three yards over the goal.

Allee scored in the second period when he took a 20-yard pass from Todd and then dashed 20 yards through the Panthers for the score.

Seymour made their only serious scoring bid as the second quarter drew to a close on a passing attack that carried them 35 yards on two successful completions. The offense was controlled by the Wildcats at their 30-yard line.

A determined Panther defense led by Hurd and Coy held the Wildcats scoreless in the third period.

Captain Todd scored the fourth touchdown in the fourth quarter when he took a 15-yard pass from Allee and ran 10 yards. Shortly afterward L. Carter intercepted a Panther pass and ran 15 yards before he was stopped. Todd and Middleton carried the ball to the 7-yard line and Joy plunged it over for the final touchdown. Todd plunged the line for the extra point.

TOUTED BEARS MEET BETTERS

Matadors Pass and Plunge To Victory

LUBBOCK, Nov. 11. (AP)—Baylor university's great gridiron line met its superior here this afternoon and Texas Tech's two backfields heavily outclassed the Bruin backs as the Matadors trudged and passed their way to a 14 to 2 victory.

An estimated home-coming day crowd of 6,500 fans witnessed the game, one of the most exciting played here this season.

Coach Pete cawthorn sent in a complete team, the regulars, after the Matador shock troops had played for most of the first quarter without scoring, and early in the second period Tech started an 80-yard drive for a touchdown. Several appreciable dents were made in the Baylor line as Lefty Sollis, D. M. McElroy and Harold Crites crashed thorugh. Then McElroy was off for a 15-yard run to place the ball in midfield. Baylor's line tightened, the highly touted Frank James smothering two Tech plays at the line.

Scored on Pass

Sollis, southpaw flash from Sherman, then broke away from his interference, crashed over left end and was gone for a 41-yard ramble. McElroy passed to Sollis on the next play for the touchdown.

Lester Tribble, another Sherman boy, intercepted one of Pearce's many passes late in the fourth quarter and ran 30 yards to cross the goal line untouched. Aubrey Butts of Waco went in and kicked both Tech goals.

Harold Clem, Baylor's sturdy right guard, played a great game to smear Tech for losses and stop Yancy Price behind the latter's goal line for the safety, Baylor's only score.

The backfield play of Pearce and Reeves was outstanding for Baylor. James played a brilliant game at end and his punts were far and wide. The passing combination of Pearce to Petty was Baylor's chief offensive threat. The Bears could not gain through Tech's two lines.

Tech's passing worked well, too, the Matadors gaining 132 yards by the aerial route. The winners punished Baylor's line and ends for 326 yards, against 97 yards on running plays by Baylor. First downs stood 22 to 7, favoring Texas Tech.

Decatur Measures Newcastle, 12 To 0

Special to The Record News.

DECATUR, Texas, Nov. 11.—Decatur High school overcame a disadvantage of about 10 pounds per man in weight Friday afternoon to defeat the Newcastle High eleven by 12 to 0 in the Armistice day game played on the local gridiron.

With the strong north wind to aid them, the invaders almost scored in the first quarter. They were stopped just short of the Decatur goal, however, and with the change of goals in the second quarter things began to happen from a Decatur point of view. Workman and Lillard combined efforts on a lateral pass which sent the latter over for the first six points. Try for extra point was missed. A little later in the same period, Riddle hurled a pass into the arms of workman, who scored from the 20-yard stripe.

While the third quarter was a dull exhibition, mostly in mid-field, Newcastle revived to put plenty of action into the closing stanza. They were stopped near the locals' line just before the game ended.

The Booker T. Washington negro high school Leopards continued to romp along their winning ways by swamping the Greenville negro high school, 66 to 0, in an Armistice day battle at Leopard field. The smooth running of Bush, Jackson and King for the Wichitans on both interference and ball carrying thrilled the some 400 fans who witnessed the game. The Leopards displayed one of the greatest running attacks ever unleashed on a local gridiron and the outcome of the game was never in doubt after the first few minutes of play. Johnson and Jones were outstanding ground gainers for Greenville.

The football used in the game was dropped from the air by Fulcher Armstrong from a cabin plane over the field. Armstrong's aim was perfect and the ball fell on the 10-yard line at the south end of the field in spite of the high wind which blew crosswise of the field.

Waurika Eagles Win From Cowboys, 7-0

Special to The Record News.

WAURIKA, Okla., Nov. 11.—The Waurika Eagles won their first conference victory here this afternoon, downing the Ryan Cowboys 7 to 0. A concerted drive in the third period against the Cowboy defense placed the ball in scoring position. Tillie Roach, star back for the Waurikans, plunged across for the marker. Hill's kick accounted for the extra point.

The game lacked much of being an exhibition of even good football. Players on both teams time and again fumbled. Both defensive and offensive tactics of each were open for criticism.

Captain Keller of the Cowboys, playing center, easily was the outstanding man of both teams. He contributed commendable work for his team.

The Eagles will play its final game here next Friday when the Walters eleven pays Waurika a visit.

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., Nov. 11.—Before a large Armistice day crowd which shivered in a chilling north wind, the Frederick High eleven stopped the invaders from Carnegie High school here Friday afternoon by a count of 13-0.

McConnell, Taylor and Roe divided chores in bringing the ball to the 2-yard line, from which point McConnell ran it over. A penalty aided Frederick in scoring the second touchdown. After a 40-yard trip around end had advanced the ball to Carnegie's 10-yard line, the visitors took a 5-yard penalty. From the 5-yard stripe, Steinbock bucked it over. Billingsley kicked the extra point.

Benward, Carnegie quarterback, distinguished himself constantly with his passing, running and defensive brilliance. Grandfield Battles Walters To 6-6 Tie

Special to The Record News.

GRANDFIELD, Okla., Nov. 11.—The Grandfield Bearcats and Walters Bluedevils battled to a 6 to 6 draw here this afternoon in a thrilling conference battle. The two teams battled on even terms through the first half with Walters making the only threat toward a score in this session. Upchurch got through the Grandfield line for 35 yards for a first down on the 7-yard line, but was checked.

Grandfield scored in the third quarter when Creighton passed to Due on the Walters 17-yard line and Due ran out of bounds. Walters was given a 15-yard penalty for tackling out of bounds placing the ball on the 2-yard line for a first down. After Creighton had been checked by a fighting Bluedevil line, Beavers smashed through the line to score.

Walters scored their touchdown in the fourth quarter. Upchurch passed 25 yards to Carter. A 12-yard line play gave Walters a first down again on the Grandfield 7-yard line. After three attempts to score from here had failed, Carter skirted right end for a touchdown.

Grandfield scored 11 first downs to six for Walters and gained 286 yards from scrimmage to 152 yards for Walters. Carter and Upchurch were outstanding for Walters while Creighton, Due and Beavers were the Grandfield stars.

COYOTES FALL TO AMARILLO

Creecy's Fleetness Gives Wichitans Touchdown

to the Sandie 41-yard line. But here a Coyote threat was checked and after two line bucks failed, a pass was incomplete and Hill had to kick.

The Sandies started their march down the field from this kick to the first touchdown. Taking the ball on their 23-yard line they marched 77 yards to the score. Enochs ripped off 11 yards off tackle. Howes got out into the open for a moment, but was stopped for a 22-yard gain when Randolph made a great one-foot tackle of the flying Sandie. Here the Coyote wall braced and showed their teeth in the face of the gale and forced the Sandies to kick. McBride fumbled the kick and Amarillo recovered on the Coyote 21-yard line. After Howes had gained 9 yards through the line, the Sandies drew a 15-yard penalty. Enoch ripped off another 10-yard advance, then Byrd lugged the ball to the 8-yard line for a first down. Enoch then smashed his way through the line for the first score of the game. Mann's kick for the extra point hit the crossbar and was no good, leaving the Sandies leading 6 to 0. The two battled on about even terms for the rest of the quarter.

Sandies Score Again

About midway of the second quarter, the Sandies counted again. Jasper McBride dropped back to pass and was rushed by the Sandie line. Corbitt made the tackle which was fierce enough to make McBride fumble and Amarillo recovered on the Wichita Falls 43-yard line.

Chiggers Enoch broke loose from here for one of many great runs and galloped 43 yards around the Coyote left end for a touchdown. The Sandies attempted to pass for the extra point, but it failed.

Coyote fans got a great thrill late in the second quarter when Cleve Pierson took a Sandie kick on his own 45-yard line and "snake hipped" his way through almost the entire Sandie team to the Amarillo 16-yard line. It was just one of many great runs featuring Pierson this year. From here they carried the ball to the 11-yard line where the fighting Sandie line checked their advance.

Little Cleve Pierson paved the way for the Coyote score early in the third quarter with another beautiful return of about 30 yards of a Sandie punt, to put the ball on the Sandie 45-yard line. After Pierson had put the ball in Sandie territory Hill kicked and the Coyotes recovered the fumbled punt on the Sandie 31-yard line. After Hill had lost a yard at the line, Creecy romped down the east sideline for the touchdown.

Enochs Scores.

A few minutes later, the Sandies took a kick on their own 33-yard line and marched down the field to another touchdown. As per usual, Enochs started the march with a great 30-yard dash through the Coyote defense before Powell dropped him on the Coyote 27-yard line with another of his many brilliant tackles. With Howes and Dunaway bucking the line, the Sandies made a first down on the Coyote 14-yard line. Enochs and Dunaway carried the ball through the line for another first down on the 3-yard line from where Howes smashed through center on second down to score. Brandon blocked Mann's kick for the extra point.

Early in the final quarter, Amarillo scored again through the great work of Enochs. Hill kicked from behind his own goal line, Enochs fumbled and the Coyotes had a break and recovered on their own 21-yard line, but soon had to kick again. Hill this time kicked out on the Sandie 29-yard line from where they started the victory march. Dunaway and Enochs picked up 3 yards each through the line, then Muhuron gained 7 for a first down. Howes then gained 4 yards to place the ball in exactly midfield. Another buck by Dunaway placed the ball on the Coyote 46-yard line. Enochs hit the line, and when every one thought he was down he came out into a clear field still running and raced to the goal line to score his third touchdown of the day. Mann's kick was wide.

Final Drive

The final Sandie drive down the field started from their own 14-yard line when Enochs was downed in his tracks after a great punt from Hill's toe. Cleghorn ripped off 9 yards through the line. Enochs picked up 17 yards before Cleo Creecy stopped him. The Sandies were penalized 5 yards, but Cleghorn gained it back on the next play. Enochs ripped off another 22-yard advancement before Jasper McBride stopped him. Cleghorn picked up 5 yards, but on the next play the Sandies drew a 15-yard penalty. Enochs again proved to be the truck horse and came back with another 20-yard dash through the Coyotes. Another Sandie penalty put the ball back on the Coyote 18-yard line. Cleghorn gained 3 yards, then the Coyotes drew a 5-yard penalty. Dunaway made it a first down on the 5-yard line with a 5-yard plunge through center, then the very busy Enochs rounded out his day by plunging over for the fourth touchdown he had made during the day. The try for the extra point was made good when Dunaway passed to Killion for the extra point. Armistice was then signed.

Amarillo scored a grand total of 27 first downs to 10 for the Coyotes. Enochs gave the Wichita Falls fans one of the greatest one-man exhibitions of ground gaining yet seen in the new Coyote stadium and one of the greatest total yardage figures ever amassed in Northwest Texas. The fans also saw a great Coyote team that went down fighting to the very last and one which drew great praise for their fighting spirit against the great odds they faced, a heavier team which ranks as one of the outstanding threats toward the state championship.

Although the Bulldogs put up a tougher fight than was anticipated, the Hollis team had the situation in fair control throughout.

43-Yard Sprint

McCullough lead a spirited drive down the field in the second quarter which netted five first downs, and then plunged across the goal from the four-inch line. Abernathy gave the fans a thrill for their gate fee when he accounted for the second touchdown with a pretty 43-yard sprint across the Altus goal line, five minutes before the game ended. Chapman, brilliant Hollis tackle and prospect for Oklahoma's all-state eleven, converted two kicks into as many extra points.

Altus had several opportunities to score, penetrating the Hollis 20-yard zone four times. However, fumbles and lack of punch cheated them of points.

Baucum Line Power

In the Hollis backfield, Abernathy, at half, and McCullough, at full, played commendable football, while Chapman, at tackle, and Burkett, at end, took the lion's share in the line.

Howard, fullback, was the bulkwark of the Bulldog defense, his deadly tackling stopping many a would-be long trip of a Hollis ball toter. Kimble, at half, was a consistent ground gainer. Baucum, diminutive 115-pound Altus center and a contender for all-state honors, was a power in the line.

TRIBUTE PAID TO RED CROSS

Shrine Luncheon Club Hears Address by Agne

Work of the American Red Cross in meeting emergency relief needs of the nation was pictured by Royal Clyde Agne of Huron, S. D. in an address at the Shrine Luncheon club program Friday at the Wichita club. Mr. Agne, who is president of Huron college, is in Wichita Falls for conference with county Red Cross leaders relative to the annual roll call, Nov. 15-24.

The Shrine luncheon was a feature of armistice day activities in the city and the fall ceremonial program. Shriners and their ladies from throughout the Wichita area attended the luncheon.

Every community of the nation is served by the Red Cross with 3,600 chapters and 10,000 branches, Mr. Agne stated. The speaker outlined federal relief work through the national organization in assisting 4,250,000 families through flour furnished by the government. He said 80,000,000 bushels of wheat were available and that 50,000,000 bushels had already been ground into flour and the supply is expected to last until next spring. Mr. Agne added that 500,000 bales of cotton were available for making cloth for the use of 3,250,000 families.

Entertainment for the luncheon was in charge of S. H. Fagadau and included vocal selections by Miss Eloise Watford of Electra, accompanied by Mrs. A. H. Mahaffey; a humorous dialog by Mrs. Harry Fuller and Mrs. Ella Merle Mathis Bristol; a violin solo by Arthur Davis, accompanied by Eithel Allen Nelson; and a cowhand act in charge of Lorene Tucker.

Science Winner Of Nobel Prize Started In At 7

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Nov. 11. (AP)—Dr. Irvin Langmuir, associate director of general electric research laboratory, who was awarded the Nobel prize in chemistry yesterday, has been a student of chemistry since he was 7 years old.

Under the tutelage of his brother, A. C. Langmuir, he began to study chemistry almost before he learned to read. When he was 11 years old, he had his own laboratory, and by the time he was ready to enter high school he knew more chemistry than the school course offered.

From that time on he was in close touch with laboratory, first in the public schools, then in France, later back in Brooklyn at Pratt institute, then a Columbia and Gottengen, Germany, and finally as an instructor at Stevens Institute of Technology. He joined the research staff of the General Electric company in 1909.

Honors are not a new thing for this modest scientist, who received word of the Nobel award yesterday as he sat quietly at his home here with his wife and two children.

He holds the William H. Nichols gold medal of the American Chemical society and is winner of the popular science monthly $10,000 award and other honors.

His associates also point with pride to his accomplishments as a mountain climber and his participation in winter sports, particularly skiing and ice skating. He has climbed the Swiss Alps and the Canadian Rockies and has explored all the interesting points in the Adirondacks and the Catskills.

Fire Destroys Part of College Science Building

BROWNWOOD, Texas, Nov. 11.—Fire of unknown origin caused damage estimated at between $12,000 and $15,000 to the science building of the Daniel Baker campus this afternoon. The fire apparently started on the second floor of the building where men students had their rooms. Clothing was burned but part of the science equipment was saved. Quick work by the fire department kept the blaze from spreading to other buildings on the campus.

A strong, north wind fanned the fire.

HEATER STARTS BLAZE

A blaze igniting from a hot water pipe resulted in damage of $200 to the roof of L. A. Peterson's home, 410 Bluff, at 11 o'clock Friday morning. The house is owned by C. A. Peterson. The fire department used 500 feet of hose in controlling the flames.

Police Radio Cars Prove Powerful Weapons In Checking Crime Here

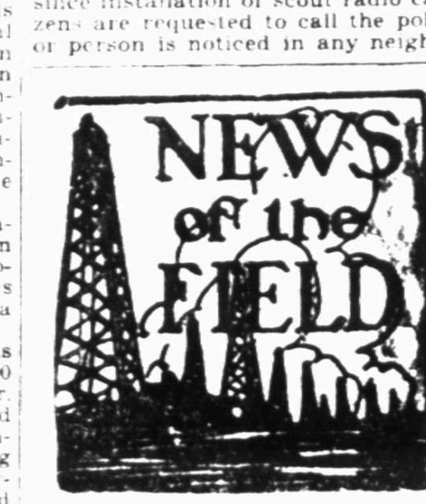

Police Chief Morris Asks Public to Aid Department by Making Prompt Reports

The public must speed up cooperation with crime prevention efforts of city police to keep pace with the increased department equipment since installation of scout radio cars, Chief Dick Morris said Friday. Citizens are requested to call the police station every time a suspicious car or person is noticed in any neighborhood.

Reports of prowling in the residential district have been cut about 75 per cent since the radio patrol has been in use, a review of police records reveals, but in order to cope with the current menace of hijacking citizens and operators of filling stations, outlying drug stores and others in residential business centers must notify officers when a suspicious person is first noticed. The best way to stop the bandit is to catch him before he acts, Chief Morris declared.

Instances bearing out the chief's statements are recalled in recent crime activity. A filling station operator who was hijacked told police he was suspicious of two men who were walking back and forth near the station before the raid. Another Wichitan ran a prowler away from his car this week, but instead of calling officers and securing a scout car in the vicinity at once, he drove to headquarters to report the case.

Average time for patrol cars to arrive at a given point following a telephone message to headquarters is three minutes. A loss of a minute gives the suspect time to cover much distance in leaving the neighborhood. Prompt notice given to radio patrolmen cuts the distance which a suspect may travel and increases the opportunity for elimination of the criminal—for a time at least.

Advice To Investors

By Charles W. Storm—Editor of the "News Service of Wall Street"

C. L. M.—I understand that Reading company will go into a big railroad merger. Is the common stock attractive at present prices?

Answer—Reading company common at recent levels around 37 appears high priced in relation to earnings, $4.04 per share in 1930, 37 cents per share in 1931 and about $1 per share indicated for the current year. Nor is the stock particularly well situated in point of working capital, current assets, including $1,272,000 cash, having amounted to $11,177,000 on Aug. 31, 1932, compared with current liabilities of $8,377,000. Working capital was, thus, $2,800,000, not a very large amount in relation to annual fixed charges of about $9,600,000. An additional adverse feature is that the company has been making very drastic reductions in maintenance charges. Reading company common stock is accorded so-called "merger possibilities." It is to be doubted, however, that these deserve particular consideration at this time. The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad company owns over 40 per cent of the shares outstanding and New York Central Railroad company about 25 per cent. There is, thus, no reason to expect that either of the proprietary companies will make purchases of Reading company stock in the open market. Furthermore, Baltimore and Ohio Railroad company and New York Central Railroad company occupy weak positions, both having large working capital deficits with the earnings of both well below requirements for fixed charges, which would seem to preclude important merger developments in the near future, certainly any that would greatly benefit the status of minority holders of Reading company common stock. The issue pays currently $1 per share annually and is considered speculative.

R. C.—Please let me know something about Lehigh Valley Railroad company common stock.

Answer—Operating from Buffalo to New York, this company serves the important anthracite coal fields in Northeastern Pennsylvania. Control of the road now rests with the Pennsylvania railroad, but this will pass to "Nickel Plate"—Chesapeake and Ohio system if the consolidation plan is finally affected. Lehigh Valley's earnings directly dependent upon industrial activity. Deficit after charges in 1931 amounted to about $2,200,000. Deficit of $5,000,000 indicated for 1932. Company has poor cash position. The common stock pays no dividends and is a speculation.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Nov. 11. (AP)—A further advance of some 20 to 25 points in cotton day was attributed to a more active and general demand which was evidently promoted by reports of comparatively small offerings from the South and firmness in the stock market.

December contracts sold up to 6.60 or 24 points above yesterday's close and 69 points above the low of Wednesday, and closed within 3 points of the best. The market generally was 17 to 23 points net higher.

Futures worked about 5 to 13 points net lower during the first few minutes under liquidation and scattered selling on disappointing Liverpool cables. Offerings were readily ascribed by trade buying or covering at the decline, however, and the market soon firmed.

The advance extended to 6.87 for May, making net gains of about 20 to 25 points on active positions and while the demand slackened somewhat, realizing was absorbed on slight reactions. The late buying was probably encouraged by the week-end figures showing a falling off in the into-sight movement for the second week in succession.

Liverpool cables did not fully meet the local advance of yesterday but reported a renewal of speculative buying and covering with the tone of the market healthier, although they said the cloth turnover was disappointing with buyers cautious.

Exports today 37,030 making 2,478,029 so far this season. Port receipts 95,939. U. S. port stocks 4,467,152.

The market was strong both locally and in the East with the New York quotations advancing one cent. The top local market continued at 11 cents for No. 1 birds.

Stocks, Bonds And Cotton Rally To Add To Post-Election Gains

By JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—Stocks, bonds and cotton rallied today, thus giving a little more depth to "post-election" advances.

In shares, net gains were somewhat smaller than Thursday's but the market was distinctly reluctant to decline and trading subsided appreciably whenever even mild pressure was applied. Up to noon professional shorts appeared to be fighting the rise, for gains were moderate despite the active trading. Toward the close, however, opposition seemed to die down and final dealings witnessed a flourish of strength.

Turnover of 2,632,180 shares was the largest since Oct. 5.

Strength in rails gave a favorable signal to traders working on the long side and the advance again played no favorites. There was somewhat less enthusiasm for the "wet" stocks, some of which eased moderately; otherwise the market was in a bullish mood. Cotton jumped $1.25 a bale, partly on the strength of shares, partly because of better reports from the cotton goods trade. Bonds were willing followers of upward trends elsewhere. Wheat had a holiday.

American Telephone and Union Pacific, each up more than 4 points, set good examples. Sponsors of the former issue appear confident that its dividend rate will not be disturbed at next Wednesday's meeting while Union Pacific's board has jsut ordered another regular payment. Allied Chemical, Western Union, Santa Fe, American Tobacco "B," Harvester and Westinghouse improved 2 to 3. Oils were distinctly firm.

Sterling exchange indulged in a flighty rally based, no doubt, on England's debt note to Washington, although there was no intimation as to how the communication had been received at the capital. The contentious debt question seems to be brewing in several European kettles and many in Wall street think the steam issuing therefrom will be visible for some time.

For its trade news the market had to depend largely on the weekly mercantile reviews, which sounded a cheerful note. Dun's thought conclusion of the political campaign would enable a gradual trade expansion for several months to proceed with fewer interruptions. "Steadiness of retail business," it said, "is an indication of strength, and a broadening of the seasonal revival doubtless will be manifest right up to the close of the year."

Bradstreet's said that notwithstanding pre-election suspense volume of production and distribution had held up and that progress of "a more positive character" had been indicated in reports from several cities, geographically scattered.

To what extent railroads profited by the October spurt in traffic will soon be apparent. St. Paul's preliminary figures show an estimated net operating income in excess of last year and also at virtually the level of this September. Meanwhile, the normal trend for loadings continued to be downward for some time.

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK REVIEW

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 11. (AP)—(U.S.D.A.)—The limited number of fed steer and yearling offerings on sale today found a generally steady outlet with a few sales recorded in a spread of $5.25@7.25. Several loads and odd lots of choice fed heifers and mixed yearlings brought $7.00@7.75. This week's trade has shown a definite reversal of demand from medium weight and heavy steers to light steers and yearlings, kinds scaling under 1,000 pounds getting the most preference. The situation was so changed that offerings scaling above 1,100 pounds were difficult to move unless at reduced prices. The waning popularity of medium and heavy steers was noticeable on early days of the week and the situation became more evident as successive trading sessions passed by. Light steers and yearlings, together with fed heifers and mixed yearlings, have been in rather limited supply on most days and this fact coupled with a more urgent demand produced higher selling prices which were considered anywhere from steady to 50c higher. Chicago listed choice 1,515-pound steers up to $8.60 on Monday, but on the close this market reported that comparable beeves would likely sell around $8.00. Several loads of choice light weight fed heifers and mixed yearlings at various markets were included in a spread of $7.00@8.00. Stockers and feeders were in limited supply and values were on a steady to strong basis. Most replacement steers sell at $3.50@5.50 while better grade yearling stockers bring $5.75@6.00. Choice stock steer calves moved upward to $6.25 or above.

Today's trade in hogs resulted in a steady to 15c lower trend in prices. Chicago recording a top of $3.95 on choice 160-pound weights.

Lambs were mostly steady with spots 25c higher in a range of $5.50@6.50 taking the majority of better grade fed kinds. Chicago secured $5.25 for around 95-pound yearling wethers.
