The bodies of 300 political prisoners killed by the North Korean army lie awaiting identification by relatives and friends who view them outside Hamhung, North Korea. These men were killed by suffocation when the North Koreans forced them into caves and then sealed off the entrances.

South Korean Troops On Manchurian Border Now

Speeding South Koreans Save 50,000 Men From Death Trap

By STAN SWINTON
(Associated Press Staff)

WONSAN, Korea, Oct. 26. — A lightning ground advance by South Korean troops — faster than United Nations commanders dared expect —probably saved a 50,000-man amphibious operation from running into a death trap.

Today that 50,000-man force, spear-headed by the U. S. First Marine Division, began prosaic landings at Wonsan, more than 100 miles behind those still advancing South Koreans.

MIRACLE

It now can be revealed that only a military miracle prevented what might have been the blackest page in U. S. military history.

The Marines and 20,000 tough U. S. Seventh Infantry Division doughboys were to have stormed ashore on Oct. 20. The miracle happened when the South Korean Third Division, in a breath-taking advance which strategists believed impossible, captured Wonsan on Oct. 9.

Those troops immediately discovered that Wonsan was a death trap set by the Reds, who had anticipated landings from the sea.

An estimated 3,000 floating mines guarded the sea approaches. A shifting sandbar would have stranded the assault boats offshore. On the beaches was an elaborate network of trenches. In front of these were barbed wire fields.

DECIDE LANDING

Gen. MacArthur, Rear Adm. James H. Doyle, commander of the amphibious operation, and Vice Adm. Arthur D. Struble, U. S. Seventh Fleet commander, decided on the Wonsan invasion at a Tokyo conference. They realized it was a calculated risk.

But American officers now concede the landing place was selected on the basis of inadequate and incorrect intelligence. The task force was at sea before the full threat of the death trap could be appreciated.

And why did an estimated $6 million amphibious operation proceed with Wonsan already in South Korean hands on embarkation day?

"History got ahead of us," said Marine Maj. Gen. O. P. Smith.

Maj. Gen. Edward M. Almond, commander of the 10th Army Corps, gave a fuller explanation.

TOO LATE

He said it was too late to choose another landing place. The UN needed military might in Northeast Korea for strategic reasons. And mountain roads to Wonsan from the west made land movements impossible.

Gen. Smith agreed, saying "our amphibious equipment was not made for long overland trips" and that it was wiser tactically if not cheaper in dollars.

The First Marine Division made the Sept. 15 landing at Inchon which led to the liberation of Seoul and, crushing defeat of the North Korean Reds in South Korea.

The Marines were pulled out of combat on Oct. 7 and loaded at Inchon. The amphibious fleet then began the 830 mile trip around the peninsula to Wonsan.

It stopped at Pusan to pick up the Seventh Infantry Division.

That division had gone ashore at Inchon, then pushed south to link up with the U. S. First Cavalry

Russians Say Invasion Of Tibet Started

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, Oct. 26. — The Russians announced today that Chinese Communist forces had crossed Tibet's frontier early Tuesday.

"In the early morning hours of nese People's Army crossed the Tuesday, a formation of the Chi-Tibetan frontier," an announcement in Taegliche Rundschau, official newspaper of the Soviet control commission in Germany, said today.

It was the first word that the Red Chinese actually had entered Tibet.

ADVANCE ORDER

The Peiping radio yesterday announced that Chinese Communist forces in South China had been ordered to advance on Tibet. The Chinese Reds had been hinting at an invasion of Tibet for several months.

Taegliche Rundschau said:

"In the summer of 1949 reactionary authorities of Tibet under pressure from their English and American advisers had proclaimed their detachment from China. This was not the wish of the Tibetan people, but was designed to serve Washington in its efforts to convert Tibet into a military attack point against the democratic peoples of the Republic of China."

CHARGE CLEAR

The Soviet control commission's organ declared:

"The command to the Chinese People's Army is clear. Three million inhabitants of Tibet must be freed from imperialistic oppression and the national defenses on the western frontier of the Chinese

The second Chinese field army People's Republic must be which spearheaded the invasion strengthened."

ing the Tibetan population and "has the honorable task of liberat-blocking the imperialists from occupying part of the fatherland," the paper added.

First Bale In Third Trip To Auction Block

That much traded bale of cotton — Scurry's first bale — is now back on the market.

It was donated yesterday by the Lone Star Gas Co. to the Youth Center. Lone Star had bought the bale at the Oct. 14 Youth Center benefit auction for $1.30 a pound, and has now given it back to be sold on the open market.

The bale first found its way to the Snyder public when F. J. Murphree, farmer of the Cottonwood Flat community, brought it into town for ginning as the county's first bale.

Weighing in at 492 pounds, it was then taken to the courthouse square and auctioned Aug. 26 by Dr. John H. Hamblen, Snyder dentist, and sold to A. C. Alexander of the Snyder National Bank at $1.25 a pound.

The bank then gave the bale to the Youth Center, and it was again taken to the courthouse square for auction and sold to Lone Star for $1.30 a pound by auctioneer C. H. McCall.

Now it belongs to the Youth Center benefit again and will probably be sold this time on the open market.

Truman Says Only One Red Atomic Blast

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. (AP) — President Truman has no information that the Russians have ever produced more than one atomic explosion, he said today.

The President told a news conference that insofar as he knows, there has only been one atomic explosion in the Soviet nation. On Sept. 23 last year he reported that one.

Mr. Truman said there wasn't today during questioning about a news conference Tuesday in which Chairman Gordon Dean of the Atomic Energy Commission said that "the President hasn't seen fit to make any more announcements' and "I'll leave it to you to guess on that basis."

The President also took occasion to deny what he was told was an assertion by Writer John Gunther that Gen. Douglas MacArthur knew nothing whatsoever about the plan to drop atomic bombs on Japan just prior to the end of World War II.

Mr. Truman said there wasnt any truth to that report, and added that he (the President) gave the order to Gen. MacArthur and Gen. MacArthur in turn gave the order to the men who dropped the bombs.

How do you think those things are done militarily? He asked the inquiring reporter.

Some Reports Say Chinese Reds Attack

No Confirmation From U. S. Headquarters For These Reports

(By The Associated Press)

SEOUL, Oct. 26. — An allied spearhead reached Red China's Manchurian border tonight. South Korean patrols raced unopposed to the south bank of the Yalu River, in the center of the uneasy frontier between North Korea and Manchuria. They were the first UN troops to complete the long thrust up the mountainous peninsula.

Other elements of the same division — the Republic of Korea (ROK) Sixth—were reported under attack by Chinese Communists some 50 miles to the south. There was no high allied confirmation, however.

A U. S. Eighth Army spokesman said "there is no evidence of overt or open support of North Korea by the Chinese Communist Army." Two Chinese prisoners, he said, were in North Korean uniform.

The Eighth Army command was making an intensive investigation. One prisoner had reported that 20,000 Red Chinese troops had crossed into North Korea from Manchuria. The other had reported the Chinese were attacking.

The spokesman made it clear that all UN forces, including American, can operate anywhere in North Korea that strategy dictates. There had been reports that U. S. troops might be stopped short of the Manchurian border.

On the east coast, the U. S. Marine First Division spearheaded a 50,000-man landing force at captured Wonsan port.

The Korean Military Advisory Group (KMAG) reported that the honor of being the first UN force to reach the Manchurian boundary fell to the Seventh Regiment of the ROK Sixth Division.

The division, kicking off from Kojang 18 miles south of the border, entered Chosan at 5:50 p.m. (250 a. m. CST) and sent patrols three miles further north to the winding Yalu.

The report that Red Chinese troops had entered the fighting came from ROK army headquarters, which attributed it to a Chinese Communist prisoner.

A South Korean spokesman reported the Chinese prisoner said three Chinese Red battalions were striking elements of the South Korean Sixth Division east of Onjong, about 75 miles norht of Pyongyang, the United Nations captured Red Korean capital.

ALMOST SURROUNDED

The spokesman said a ROK field commander near Onjong had reported his unit was almost surrounded and called for reinforcements. The field commander did not specify the attackers were Chinese.

Informed sources at U. S. Eighth Army headquarters told AP Correspondent Leif Erickson the Chinese prisoner reports were being investigated.

Erickson said the Chinese captured by the ROK Sixth Division Thursday was the second reported taken in two days, adding:

One taken Wednesday by the ROK First Division in the Unsan area told interrogators 20,000 Chinese Reds had crossed into North Korea.

Onjong is 32 miles south of Kojang, captured earlier in the day by a spearhead of the South Korean Sixth Division. Evidently, the Red force attacking the unit near Onjong waited for the main body of South Koreans to drive north.

On the west coast an American infantry regiment plunged rapidly northward. It seemed unlikely the doughboys would stop at any line short of the boundary. A U. S. spokesman said their mission is "to clear Korea."

And the Far East Air Forces' bomb line was extended to the Manchurian border. Previously it had been 12 miles short.

To back up other forces forging northward on the Sea of Japan coast, U. S. and ROK Marines and U. S. infantrymen made the new landing at the port of Wonsan.

A remark by a spokesman at Gen. MacArthur's Tokyo headquarters raised a doubt as to whether an end of the four month United Nations campaign was in sight.

Crackdown Set For Building

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. (AP) —The National Production Authority today banned the building of any new structures for "amusement, recreational or entertainment purposes."

The order, effective at midnight tonight, was issued to conserve materials for armaments.

Covered by the ban are theatres of all kinds, amusement parks, race tracks, golf courses, night clubs, skating rinks and summer camps. In all, there are 44 forbidden types of structures.

The NPA administrator, William H. Harrison, said in a statement accompanying his action that the barred construction "is of a type which does not further the defense effort, either directly or indirectly, and does not increase the nation's productive capacity."

Persons who start other buildings which do not further the defense drive — even though not on the prohibited list — run the risk of being barred from completion of the building, Harrison said.

Such construction begun after midnight may be halted "even though its commencement at the present time is not forbidden by this order," the production chief specified.

The order applies to federal, state and city recreational projects as well as private buildings.

President May Call Congress Before Nov. 27

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. (AP) — President Truman said today he is considering calling Congress into special session in advance of Nov. 27.

Mr. Truman told a news conference that if he decides on a special call to Congress he will issue it when his decision is reached, regardless of whether it is before the election or after it.

TAKE RECESS

When Congress quit last September, it took a recess until Nov. 27.

Word that Mr. Truman might call it back sooner had circulated in Washington. Some Republicans took the view that any call issued before the election on Nov. 7 could only be regarded as a political move.

An Associated Press reporter got the report of a possible call from two different sources in a position to know about White House moves.

These sources, who stipulated that they not be named, said a tightening and extension of federal rent controls was the main item on an emergency program of legislation the President is working on.

PLANS TALKS

The President was understood to be planning talks with democratic congressional leaders before making such a move in the middle of a political campaign in which most Congress members are battling for re-election.

In addition to rent control, the President was reportedly considering asking Congress for new taxes —it has pledged enactment of an excess profits tax late this year or early in 1951—and possibly for some new military manpower legislation.

Man Accused Of Dynamiting 'Voice' Tower

EL PASO, Oct. 26. (AP) — An Ohio carpenter was accused today of the Sept. 17 dynamiting of a Voice of America radio transmitter at Mason, O.

D. K. Brown, in charge of the FBI office here, said Herman Floyd Kinner, 38, of Wilmington, O., admitted he "did the job."

He said Kinner also admitted opening a switch Oct. 1 on the main line tracks of the Pennsylvania railroad near Wilbergoree, O. No damage resulted because the open switch was found before a train was passed.

Kinner was formally charged in both cases. He was to be arraigned here later in the day before U. S. Commissioner Henry Clifton.

Agent Brown supplied details to newsmen here after FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover first announced the arrest in Washington.

Snyder Drugs Opens 5th Anniversary Sale At Store Tomorrow

Snyder Drugs will begin celebration of the firm's fifth anniversary tomorrow with the opening of a sale which will continue through Nov. 5.

The firm has operated on the west side of the square under the name of Snyder Drugs since October of 1945, when the store was purchased from the Stinson Drug Co. here by Estell Patterson.

Half interest in the business was sold to John Pratt in November, 1945, and Pratt and Patterson operated the store in partnership until January of this year, when Patterson bought back Pratt's interest.

Many modern improvements have been made in the store in recent months, and the firm has kept its place with the rest of Snyder in the boom and growth of the city.

Scurry Well Recovers Oil In Ellenburger

A small show of oil has been found in the top of the Ellenburger in Central-Northwest Scurry County at Magnolia Petroleum No. 1-F McDonnell Estate, on the northwest side of the Kelley-Snyder field.

This prospector, which missed pay in both the Canyon and Strawn zones of the Pennsylvanian, has been deepened to the Ellenburger as a wildcat exploration.

It topped the Ellenburger at 8,033 feet which gave it a datum of minus 5,121 feet on that marker. Operators deepened it to 8,042 feet and took a one hour and 50 minute drillstem test with the packer at 8,001 feet.

Gas came to the surface in 18½ minutes. No fluid came to the surface during the investigation. Recovery was 105 feet of free oil and 275 feet of slight to heavily mud-cut oil. There were no shows of formation water.

Open flowing bottom hole pressure was between 43 pounds and 50 pounds. Shut-in bottom hole pressure after 15 minutes was 450 pounds.

A string of five and one-half-inch casing is to be cemented at the top of the Ellenburger at 8,033 feet, and after the plug cures it will be drilled out and a production test will be run from the open hole at 8,033-8,042 feet.

Location is 660 feet from the south and east lines of the northeast quarter of section 341, block 97, H&TC survey. It is seven miles northwest of Snyder.

Magnolia No. 1-F McDonnell topped the Ellenburger 70 feet high to the top of the same formation in Humble Oil & Refining Co. No. 1 Moore, the discovery well and up to now the only producer in the Dermott field.

The Humble discovery is a small producer located slightly more than five miles due north of the Magnolia wildcat.

DAWSON WILDCAT

Four and one-quarter miles northwest of Dan Ault and V. A. Brill No. 1 C. B. Grissom, wildcat in Southeast Dawson County, Sunray Oil Corp. has spotted its No. 1 Robert Brown.

It will be drilled as a 10,000-foot rotary wildcat 660 feet from the north and east lines of the southeast quarter of section 3, block

Attempted Holdup Of A Mail Truck Last Night Called Hoax

DENVER, Oct. 26. (AP) —Chief Postal Inspector R. B. Dunbar said today a reported attempt to rob a U. S. mail truck on Monarch Pass last night was a hoax.

Dunbar said the truck driver, Eugene Coatney, 25, a veteran of the South Pacific war, has admitted firing pistol shots into his truck and making up a story that gunmen in an automobile tried to stop him.

Coatney had told officers three men in a "big Cadillac" pulled alongside his truck, threatened him with guns and ordered him to stop.

THE STORY

He sped up, according to his story, and his pursuers fired two shots. Coatney claimed he returned their fire with his .45-calibre automatic pistol and the men, after firing a couple of more shots at his truck, drove away.

The driver also told officers he estimated the truck's mail contained at least $18,000 in currency, but Dunbar said this was not the case.

Two postal investigators, T. B. Stavely of Pueblo and Joseph E. Murphy of Colorado Springs, were at Alamosa at the time Coatney reported the attempted robbery.

GUN DISCHARGES

At Salida, Sheriff Emmitt Shewalter said Coatney told him and the inspectors he had laid his automatic on the truck seat and it was accidentally discharged, driving a bullet through the truck.

Coatney said he feared trouble with the truck owner, C. J. Helmericks of Montrose, so he fired another shot into the truck and one through a mail bag to back up his story that robbers tried to stop him.

Shewalter said after questioning, Coatney was released and returned to Montrose with Helmericks. The truck owner was instructed to put a new driver on the run today.

Three Persons Die In Wreck

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 26. (AP) — Three persons were killed in the wreckage of two trucks at the underpass on Highway 181 nine miles south of Kenedy, state highway officers reported here today.

A Phoenix Refining Co. of San Antonio gasoline truck and a truck oil separator tanks crashed and burned at the underpass.

Dead were:

Ralph L. Grimes, 31, San Antonio, driver of the gasoline truck.

S-Sgt. James Jones, 26, Brooks Air Force Base, riding with Grimes.

M. F. Redick, Jenks, Okla., driving a truck owned by E. L. Powell and Sons, Tulsa, Okla.

Highway patrolmen reported the Oklahoma truck turned over as it entered the underpass from the south at 10 o'clock last night. Redick was pinned in the cab.

The gasoline truck, going south, ploughed into the overturned truck, spilling gasoline over both vehicles.

The gasoline burst into flames and the bodies of all three men were burned beyond recognition, officers said.

Lie, Stalin Quarrel Revealed In Lake Success Controversy

By STANLEY JOHNSON
(By The Associated Press)

LAKE SUCCESS, Oct. 26 (AP)-United Nations headquarters today buzzed with reports that a quarrel in the Kremlin between Prime Minister Stalin and Trygve Lie led to Russia's vetoing of the bluff Norwegian as UN secretary-general.

Lie spent a week in Moscow last May, during a swing around the world's great capitals trying to sell a 10-point peace plan designed to solve east-west differences.

His trip was widely denounced in the United States as toadying to the Russians.

Exactly what happened when Lie met Stalin in the vastness of the Kremlin?

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Jacob A. Malik let some of it out last night.

He told a closed meeting of the Security Council, gathered to try and agree on a new secretary general, that Lie had declined to adopt some amendments, suggested by Stalin and Deputy Premier V. M. Molotov, to the peace plan.

Malik said the Soviet leader wanted the changes to weaken what he called the "pro-American bias" of the plan. He did not explain how the plan showed such a western orientation nor what the amendment were. Key point of the proposal was for periodic high-level discussions to settle outstanding differences.

NO COMMENT

Lie declined to comment on the revelation. He was reported to feel that Malik's remarks were made in a supposedly private meeting and were not intended for public disrtibution.

Another high UN official pointed out, however, that Lie had sent Stalin a copy of his proposals long in advance of the Moscow trip. The Soviet leader gave no indication they displeased him, this official said, but issued the official invitation for the journey.

State Employment Field Men Make Survey of County Needs

Completing their three-day study of business in Snyder and its trade territory, J. H. Lewis and R. C. Burleson left yesterday to report to the main offices of the Texas Employment Commission in Austin.

The employment commission representatives came here at the request of the Chamber of Commerce, and they will report their findings to the state board which is considering setting up an employment office here.

The specialists sought to determine the hiring practices, labor turnover, and employment outlook for the future months, as well as the number, size, and industrial distribution of employing firms in the area.

The matter now rests with the commission's board, which must decide whether Snyder is entitled to an employment office or not. In any event, none will be established before Jan. 1.

Announcing figures of their findings, Lewis and Burleson declared that these figures are purely estimates for the commission to study.

Week-end Influx of Mexicans Adds Spice to Snyder Scene

The sights and sounds and smells of Old Mexico are to be found just a few blocks off the square.

Snyder's "Tortilla Flat," a colorful little village, springs up each week end during the cotton harvest in the 2300 block on Avenue R and on Twenty-fourth Street where the City Tabernacle once stood.

Here Latin-Americans and Mexicans nationals engaged in cotton picking converge every Saturday and when they meet, the ancient community life of a Mexican village takes form.

NATIVE FOODS

Pungent odors of tangy Mexican food draw hundreds of itinerants to the Caballo Blanco on Avenue R, and directly across the street, a vendor, Simon Ceballos of Del Rio, Tex., has set out his little market filled with the wares that are to be found in all Mexican markets on both sides of the Rio Grande.

Serapes go for $12. Religious charms, jack knives, fans, baskets, rough rock for grinding corn, pottery, canes, red peppers, sombreros — they're all for sale in the portable market which Ceballos takes throughout Texas each year following the harvest.

Among these decorations are other wares and commodities, such as baskets of garlic, books and magazines in Spanish, vases, shaving mugs, aprons, straw hats, rugs, pictures, and purses.

All these are hand made either in Mexico or in South Texas near the border.

Ceballos, who is here for the first time, picks cotton during the week and sets up his market on the week ends. It's a good happy life, he says, and he enjoys both the cotton and his market.

TRAVEL IN TRUCKS

All around the week-end colony are the monstrous, wheezy trucks which carry the cotton pickers. Usually of ancient vintage, the trucks frequently are gaily decked with streamers and painted, like bombers in World War II, with girl's names. A giant old Chevrolet with a canvas top is "Carmencita." Another non-descript vehicle, packed with bedding, pots and pans, and innumerable little faces peering over the tail-gate, is named "Chula."

The itinerants say that each truck or group of trucks has a boss, who is to his people like a manager is to a traveling entertainment troupe. They depend upon him, and he is trusted to draw the best wages for them and to dole out their week's pay. They also hint that he settles many problems and quarrels outside the realm of his normal business. Usually he is quite a physical specimen.

USUAL WAGE

Cotton picking, or boll pulling as we know it here, brings $1.50 a hundred pounds in most communities, and the ire of the farmers whose price is upped by another farmer is strong.

Lovers of gay color, the Mexicans who promenade around the square on Saturday night add an interesting flavor to the local scene, not usually encountered north of the Rio Grande valley.

Massachusetts To Vote On Initiation Of State Lottery

By CORNELIUS F. HURLEY

BOSTON, Oct. 26. — Massachusetts voters ballot next month on the question of going into the gambling business with a state lottery.

The question comes up by initiative petition for a lottery to help finance Old Age Assistance (OAA). If it passes, Massachusetts would be the only state in the union with an official state lottery.

The initiative—filed under a constitutional provision which gives the people the right to initiate laws—was sponsored by the Massachusetts Society for Old Age Pensions.

SECOND ACTION

The society has a second initiative on the same Nov. 7 ballot—to fix minimum OAA payments at $75 a month, to make aliens eligible and to relieve children of legal responsibility to support their parents. It also would reduce the eligible age from 65 to 63.

If the lottery law passes—and only a handful of the dozens of initiatives which have been voted on in the last 30 years have been defeated—the state will be reaching back more than 100 years.

It was in 1811 that the last public lottery was authorized—to raise $16,000 for public improvements in the town of Plymouth.

That lottery ran nine years.

It paid out $986,439.75 in prizes.

And it raised $9,876.17 for the improvements.

VOTED OUT

Massachusetts voted lotteries out in 1833. Pennsylvania banned them the same year, and New York banned them the following year.

Louisiana ran them as late as 1892.

The question is so touchy that the Massachusetts legislature ducked a vote on the issue in its last session.

The state constitution requires both house and senate to vote on initiatives by the first Wednesday in June.

The house let the date go by without calling the two questions up for a vote.

U. S. Dist. Attv. John Brown said Bob Garza Rivers, 26, of Brownsville waived preliminary hearing yesterday with the statement he wanted "to get it over with."

Brown said Rivers was accused of transporting the "wetbacks" to Osceola, Ark., after supervising their swim across the Rio Grande near Hidalgo, Tex., Saturday.

Building Owner Charged After Gaming Devices Confiscated in Raid

C. E. Helms, 2111 Avenue S, was released on an appearance bond of $750 Tuesday afternoon, shortly after his arrest on a charge filed Monday in justice court, accusing him of permitting a building which he owned to be used for gambling purposes.

Helms is accused in the complaint of renting a building on the Colorado City highway to a night club, formerly the Catalina Club. The complaint states the building was rented to Robert McKinney, 31; Robert C. Allen, 42; and Mayo Davis, 31, for gambling purposes.

In a raid made on the club Friday night, officers of the sheriff's department confiscated five slot machines and 1,980 cans of beer.

McKinney, Allen, and Davis were charged jointly in justice court with a felony offense of operating gambling devices and were also charged jointly in county court with unlawful possession of beer, a misdemeanor charge.

Appearance bonds of $750 each, were fixed for McKinney, Allen, and Davis, as well as for Helms, after each had waived an examining trial in justice court. All cases are bound over for action of the grand jury Nov. 20.

New Marine Landings Looked On As Biggest Joke Of War

(By The Associated Press)

WONAN, Korea, Oct. 26. (AP)—Baffled and disgusted U. S. Marines ambled ashore here today in "Operation What-the-Hell."

That was their private description of the maneuver which sent them ashore in driblets on an east coast beach where the situation was already well in hand.

COMMENTS

Growled Lt. Raymond J. Elledge, San Gabriel, Calif.:

"Nobody likes to get shot at going ashore, but this isn't the way the Marine Corps works. This is more like an Army job."

Said Lt. Earl R. DeJong of Norfolk, Va., and Philadelphia:

"It's kind of a disappointment. You know you get all keyed up to do something then there is this let down."

When this operation was planned it was to have been a slam bang affair on Oct. 20 against a well fortified peninsula sticking northward across the mouth of this important port, one of the best in Korea.

By the time the Marines arrived, however, Republic of Korea (ROK) troops had swept through the town convoy carrying troops and supplies sailed up and down the Japanese Sea, cruising at eight knots.

The Marines asked ironically:

"Is this trip necessary?"

POOLS SET UP

Pools were made up aboard ship each night as to what the order would be passed to reverse course by (180) degrees. Before the actual landing the whole thing had become a huge joke.

The Marines just couldn't see landing to seize an airfield, their initial objective, which already was in operation by the First Marine Air Wing.

En route to their anchorage for the dawn landing the Marines lightened the otherwise dull operation by shouting insults at the Battleship Missouri.

HURL INSULTS

As their ship, the Happy, USS Pickaway passed astern of the battleship, the Marines yelled:

"Where's Harry?

"How do you people like shore duty?"

"Hey, mudbank, how'd you get out here. That's deep water."

The Marines was cheerful enough as they landed. But they doubted profoundly and profanely the ancestry of whoever it was that ordered the operation carried out against a peaceful shore.

Doctors Testify In Sinton Murder Trial Of 18-Year-Old Youth

SINTON, Oct. 26. (AP) — Two doctors yesterday gave medical testimony in the murder trial of Jack Kenneth Nixon, 18, charged in the fatal beating of the Rev. Leonard Potrykus.

Dr. John Tunnell of Taft said the Catholic priest died last Feb. 21 of multiple injuries to the head and face and contusions and concussion of the brain.

Dr. John F. Pilcher, Corpus Christi pathologist, testified to the results of an atopsy he performed on the body. He said the condition of the priest's face could best be described as "pulp."

Dr. Pilcher said he doubted a natural fall against a bath tub, bed post or other article of furniture would have had the necessary force to cause a "hinged type" wound be found back of the priest's head.

Deputy Sheriff M. I. Rader earlier in the trial of the Aransas Pass youth testified the priest was so badly beaten "you couldn't tell if there was a face there or not."

TV Blamed In College Game

NEW YORK, Oct. 26. (AP)— College football attendance is off about 2 per cent and television is catching most of the blame.

An Associated Press survey of 262 games played by 105 schools shows average 1950 crowds of 22,867 as compared to 23,275 a year ago. Last fall a similar check in mid-season reflected a 4 per cent increase.

Both the Southwest and South show an increase. The big drop is in the Far West and East. Midwest attendance is only slightly off.

"Television is too big for us," said a Louisville University spokesman. "We don't know the answer but something must be done."

Yale's business manager, William Perkins, is apprehensive although Yale has played to 124,000 in four home dates. Last year at this time they had 74,000 for two, a much better average.

"Were going to be substantially off," said Perkins. "And television is to blame more than anything else."

Apparently there is no TV problem in the Southwest where the attendance shows a sharp 21 per cent increase. The South also is doing better business by some 7 per cent.

SWC officials have ruled that no TV broadcasts may be made of games on the day they are played until all tickets are sold.

The Far West decline is 11 per cent, the east 8 per cent and the midwest only 1 per cent.

The total attendance to date of the 105 schools, perhaps one fourth of those playing football is 5,991,034. Probably at least 9,000,000 saw college games at all schools to date.

Michigan shows the way with 255,513 for three home games, followed by Rice's 190,000 for three. Ohio State, always among the leaders, expects to better last year's record with a late season rush. Ohio had played to 153,809 in only two home games.

Others up near the top are Tulane with 166,666 for four, California with 151,000 for three, Southern Methodist with 130,847 for two. Some 20 schools already are over the 100,000 mark.

Conservatives Win Commons Seat Back

GLASGOW, Scotland, Oct. 26. (AP)—Britain's conservatives won yesterday in a special election regarded as a trend indicator, but it won't shift the balance in the house of commons. The winner fills the vacancy caused by the death of another conservative.

The Tory candidate, J. R. Hutchinson won a seat in commons for Scotstoun District in Glasgow by a 1,319-vote margin over his labor party candidate.

The final results: Hutchinson, 18,494; William Bargh (Labor), 17,175, and David Gibson (Independent Labor), 680.

The vacancy was caused by the death of Sir Arthur Young, who won the seat for the conservatives in the general elections last February by a margin of only 239 votes.

Ira School Reconvenes

The Ira schools reconvened Monday morning after a recess of 10 days for cotton picking, according to Houston E. Stevens.

The Ira district, instituted an afternoon class for children under 16 engaged in agriculture, which will meet at the school daily from 4:30 o'clock until 8:30.

The special class makes it legal for children to work in agriculture during the hours of regular school, but illegal for them to pick cotton during the hours of the special late-afternoon class.

Without the special class, it would be unlawful to employ children under 16 for farm work during any part of the regular public school hours.

The Ira schools recessed Oct. 11.

At Hermleigh schools still are recessed, and if the plan adopted earlier is not changed, they will not reconvene until two weeks from today. However, the football schedule is being [illegible] tice is being held daily. Hermleigh will play Robert Lee Thursday night in Robert Lee.

Tigers Come Back With 40-0 Victory Over The Roby Lions

Back on the upward climb in district standing, shining Snyder Tigers proved to be more than the Roby Lions could stop Friday night by winning 40-0.

The first few minutes of the game saw the first scoring when Roby received the kickoff and punted out from the 26. A drive to just a foot from paydirt by Quarterback Max Coffee gave a heavy-blocking line and Halfback Franklin Woods the chance for the touchdown. End Lowell Bearden's kick was good and the score was 7-0.

A senstational 35 yard pass from Coffee to Bearden, who nabbed it on the 20 yard line was good for another score. Bearden's point was again good and 14-0.

Soon after the second quarter began, Halfback Clifford Green took the ball from the 9 yard line over. Another good Bearden point made the tally 21-0.

Receiving the Lion kickoff at the half on the Tiger 10, Coffee, Green, and Woods ran behind a line of good offensive blockers to the Lion 6, when Woods took it around left end to another touchdown and score of 27-0.

Minutes after the Lions again punted soon after they received the kickoff and the Tigers took the ball from the Roby 39 back to the 10, where Coffee swung around right end for pay, making the score 33-0.

The last scoring came in mid fourth quarter when Coffee drove through center 39 yards to touchdown. Bearden's kick was good this time for the final score of 40-0.

Lacking defense, the Lions ran a good offense all through the game breaking for several long runs and for several passes and long drives. Halfback Sonny Etheredge, Center Franklin Waddell, and Tackle Buddy Nail showed up on the Roby defense. Etheredge is the fastest man on the Roby team.

While Coffee, Woods, and Green were outstanding in the Tiger backfield, those who kept up a good line were tackles Don Keller and R. W. Thornton and end Lowell Bearden.

Tackle W. G. Birt took the offensive center in place of Grant Teaff, who has an injured hand but took center on defense.

Municipal Taxes Cut One-Third; Ramsey Will Manage City

The city tax rate was set Monday night at $1 on the $100 valuation, a reduction of one-third from the former rate of $1.50.

The action of the city council was taken on the recommendation of the board of equalization, consisting of W. J. Ely, Giles Bowers, and J. B. Turner.

"We can operate the city on the reduced tax rate if we get the cooperation of every taxpayer," Forest G. Sears, mayor, said today. "The council has attempted to help property owners by reducing taxes to the lowest point at which the city can operate efficiently, and we expect the co-operation of taxpayers by the prompt payment of their taxes."

REBATE DUE

Persons who have already paid their taxes for next year will receive a one-third rebate to bring their payments into line with the reduced rate.

The mayor estimated that the $1 tax rate would bring in about $80,000, approximately half of which will go to debt retirement and interest on bonded indebtedness.

Last year, the $1.50 rate brought in about $42,000. The increased valuations in the city account for the upward trend in tax receipts despite the reduced rate.

In reducing the tax rate the city is following the lead of the county, which a few weeks ago reduced the tax rate from $1.22 on the $100 valuation to 85 cents. The Snyder school district taxes have remained the same, $1 last year and $1 this year.

APPOINT RAMSEY

The council Monday night also to promote W. J. Ramsey from superintendent of the water department to general superintendent of city government activities.

In his new position Ramsey will be superintendent of all city departments except police and fire. He will hire and dismiss city workers, will regularly participate in meetings of the city council, and will execute the orders of the council.

His salary in the new job will be set at $400 a month.

"By co-ordinating the operation of the city, we will undoubtedly get a more efficient government, and probably will save money," Sears stated.

TOWLE PLACE

The city entered into a contract with Towle Place Development Co. to reimburse the developers for the installation of water and sewer lines in the addition.

The contract, similar to others signed with Highland Park and Noble Heights, gives to the development company all tap fees and 60 per cent of water and sewer revenues, until the company has been reimbursed for the laying of water and sewer lines.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Q. Greenfield, 2400 Avenue J, have announced the marriage Friday night of their daughter, Miss Verna Greenfield, to Guy Love. Mr. Love is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy E. Love of Mansfield, La. The Rev. W. W. Adcock performed the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Love were married in the home of the bride's parents. Attending the bride was Miss Celeta Pherigo. Ray Fleeman was best man.

Mrs. Love wore a white wool jersey dress with black accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations arranged on a white Bible. Her attendant, Miss Pherigo, chose a blue wool jersey dress, with which she wore black accessories and a shoulder corsage of pink carnations.

The couple were honored with a small reception following the ceremony, after which they left for a brief wedding trip to Carlsbad, N. M.

Mrs. Love graduated from Snyder High School in 1948 and has since been employed as an operator for the telephone company. Mr. Love has been in Snyder eight months as an employee with the Mid-Continent Supply Co. The couple will live at 2400 Avenue J.

Upon their return Sunday night from Carlsbad, N. M., Mr. and Mrs. Greenfield feted them with a supper party. Present were Dr. and Mrs. B. J. Weaver, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Maples, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Faver, Miss Charlotte Faver, Dick Chapman of Waco, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Roddy, Milton Jones of Camp Hood, Tex., Mr. and Mrs. Barney Greenfield, Miss Winnie McClammey, and Miss Celeta Pherigo.

Before You Decide—

Take an Airflyte Ride—In the World's Most Modern Car

The Distinguished 1951 Nash Ambassador. Hydra-Matic Drive available in Ambassador and Statesman Series.

ONLY IN AIRFLYTE DO YOU GET THESE GREAT DEVELOPMENTS

★ Come in today and ride and drive a car that's years ahead of the field.

We want you to drive a car that combines [illegible] performance with a bird-size appetite for gas. Settle back in the reclining seat. See what real car comfort is like. Close all the windows and breathe Weather Eye Conditioned Air that's clean, fresh and warmed to the temperature you desire.

Discover how Airflyte Construction means lasting quiet, comfort and safety.

Today—slip behind the wheel of a 1951 Nash Airflyte equipped with Hydra-Matic Drive. Enjoy a new kind of driving experience in a new kind of car. Yes—before you decide, take an Airflyte ride—in the world's most modern car.

You'll see America's best aerodynamic design—swift and clean as a jet fighter. Amazingly hushes wind roar, boosts economy and performance.

You'll touch a lever and the Airliner Reclining Seat will ease back to the position you like best. Both seats can become Twin Beds at night!

You'll breathe the freshest air—filtered by the Weather Eye—warmed automatically, pressurized like a skyliner's cabin. No drafts or window-fogging.

You'll travel in new safety, protected by double-rigid Airflyte Construction. Body and frame are welded into one single, safer unit that's rattleproof.

Power! Recently a Nash Ambassador averaged 95.3 m.p.h. for 712 miles. The Statesman gets over 25 miles a gallon at average highway speed.

You can measure the extra room. 28½ cu. ft. of luggage space in the trunk compartment. And more passenger room than you ever thought possible!

Both Parties Claim Victory

Political weathermen holding their fingers in the wind reported they found it blowing in opposite directions today and gave out predictions in accord with their observations.

With the elections less than two weeks away, there was a swelling of the flood of customary conflicting forecasts from Republicans and Democrats of what will happen.

BREWSTER HAPPY

Sen. Brewster of Maine, who heads the GOP senatorial campaign committee, told newsmen the Republicans have "excellent prospects" of picking up the seven net seats they need to win control of the Senate. Chairman William Boyle, Jr., of the Democratic National Committee said the Democrats will make Senate gains. So did Vice President Barkley.

In the House, rival claims from congressional campaign committees shaped up like this:

Republicans—The GOP is bound to take at least 30 House seats from Democrats, and stands a good chance to pick up 55 to 60 seats and take control of that legislative body.

Democrats—It's more likely to be the other way, with President Truman's party upsetting the usual off-year election trends to take away some of the seats that Republicans now hold.

LINE UP

The House line-up now is 259 Democrats, 169 Republicans, 1 American-Labor member, and 6 vacancies due to death.

The Republicans need a net gain of 49 seats to win control.

The GOP claim came in a statement issued last night by Rep. Leonard W. Hall of New York, chairman of the Republican congressional campaign committee. Acknowledging that the election figures to be the closest in 10 years, Hall said the Republicans expect to gain at least 30 House seats.

Hall's opposite number, Rep. Kirwan of Ohio, told reporters prospects are that the Democrats will pick up some seats from the Republicans instead of losing any.

Satire Amuses The Victims

NEW YORK, Oct. 26. (AP) — Mrs. Harry S. Truman, Miss Margaret Truman and Mrs. Perle Mesta enjoyed a number of personal chuckled together at yesterday's matinee of the musical "Call Me Madam."

Mrs. Mesta is American minister to the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg. The show's star, Ethel Merman, cavorts as the American woman ambassador to the mythical Duchy of Lichtenberg.

There's a singing line in the show that runs "Harry won't get out—he's got squatters' rights."

Mrs. Truman's shoulders shook with laughter.

Talking on the phone to "Harry," Miss Merman remarked she had "Wonderful news—Margaret got a notice."

Miss Truman, a singer, laughed out loud.

As for Mrs. Mesta, the play bears quite some resemblance to her real-life diplomatic role.

"She's a wonderful actress," was Mrs. Mesta's only comment at intermission.

Earlier Arrival Of Morning Mail Here Is Proposed in New Plan

A plan for speeding the mail delivery to Snyder is under consideration by postal inspectors in Fort Worth, it was learned last week.

An appeal has been made, and was reiterated last week to a postal inspector visiting in the Snyder office, that the mail be brought to Snyder from Sweetwater by truck instead of by the morning Santa Fe passenger train.

This would get the mail into the local office at about 4:30 o'clock in the morning, instead of about 7 o'clock when it now arrives on ee train. This three - hour advantage would enable mail sorters to handle the morning mail by 10 o'clock in the morning, and would greatly improve service here.

The plan, which was first proposed to the post office department six months ago, would be to send a truck to Sweetwater to pick up the mail as soon as it arrives there on the Texas & Pacific. Under the present system, the mail is taken off the Texas & Pacific and held for a few hours waiting on the westbound Santa Fe which brings it from Sweetwater to Snyder.

Inside Work Is Started At Youth Center

Finish work on the Youth Center building is now underway, and is expected to be finished by Saturday, the Rev. Charles Mathes, finance chairman, announced yesterday.

Sixteen light fixtures will hang from the Celotex ceiling in the large ballroom, Mathes said. Four fixtures will be placed in the anteroom. Walls of the ballroom and anteroom will be varnished knotty pine, trimmed in natural coloring. Outside trim will be green on the white building. Veneer doors will be put at the front and back. Rest rooms will have knotty pine and tile walls, the tile running half way up the walls, colored pink in the girls' room and green in the boys' room.

A Wurlitzer juke box, valued at about $1,000, was donated this week for the ballroom by a Chicago manufacturing concern connected with the Wurlitzer company. Redwood tables and benches were donated for the patio.

Leveling of dirt has begun around the building, and grass will be planted all around and all the way down the bank of the creek.

Still hoping to have Bob Hope here to perform for the opening, Mathes said the ceremony will be televised by the National Broadcasting Company.

With less than $100 on hand, Mathes reported the fund still in need of $4,255. Several money-raising plans are in the beginning to build up the fund.

"Right now I would like to express appreciation to several people who have given much help to the Youth Center program," Mathes added. "They are Frank Stevenson, Mrs. Ethel Nowlin, Harold Bennett, Mrs. Ophelia Blackard, Ed Harte, the Lions Club, Kiwanis Club, Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion, Altrurian Daughters, Business and Professional Women's Club and radio station KSNY. They have all played a big part in developing the Youth Center, and I would like to thank them."

35, T-4-N, T&P survey, and nine miles southeast of Lamesa.

The projected destination might take the explorer to the Ellenburger.

NEAR ROTAN

Woodley Petroleum Co. and Kirby Petroleum Co. No. 1-A Mrs Lena M. Green is to be a 6,000-foot wildcat to explore the Pennsylvanian lime reef in Central-North Fisher County, eight miles northeast of Rotan.

The prospector will be 330 feet from the south and 660 feet from the east lines of section 179, block 2, H&TC survey. Drilling is to start soon.

It is a short distance northeast of the old Howard field.

TO TEST

Stanolind Oil and Gas Co. No. 1 C. W. Burton Northwest Howard County wildcat, 10 miles northwest of Big Spring, is preparing to take a drillstem test at total depth of 8,945 feet in Pennsylvanian lime. The prospector had slight shows of oil in samples while drilling from 8,904-8,945 feet.

On a one-hour drillstem test at 8,200-8,904, the wildcat recovered a 1,000-foot water blanket which was cut with gas, and 6,000 feet of heavily-gas-cut drilling mud. There were no indications of oil or formation water.

Top of the Pennsylvanina lime was picked at 8,866 feet. Elevation is 2,360 feet.

Location is 660 feet from north and west lines of the southeast quarter of section 27, block 33, T&P survey, T-2-N.

BORDEN FAILURE

British American Oil Producing Co. No. 1 Shockley, extreme Northwest Borden County wildcat, is preparing to plug and abandon at total depth of 9,052 feet in Pennsylvanian lime.

A drillstem test was taken by the project at 9,000-9,052 feet. Tool was open 50 minutes. Recovery was 7,900 feet of salt water with no shows of oil or gas. Top of the Pennsylvanian lime is at 8,746 feet. Elevation is 2,972 feet.

Exact location of the failure is 1,363 feet from the north and 660 feet from the east lines of section 5, block 1, E. A. Gleghorn survey.

OFFSET TO DISCOVERY

A 3,750-foot southeast offset to Cabot Carbon Co. No. 1 Bessie Clay, discovery of the Cobb 6700 field, has been staked for immediate drilling by the same operator.

Location is 1,980 feet from east and north lines of section 11, block D, J. H. Gibson survey.

The project is scheduled to be drilled to an estimated 6,750-foot depth. Drillsite is five miles northwest of Tokio.

Honolulu Oil Corp. No 1 Towns is the only producer, other than the discovery, in the Cobb 6700 field. It is one mile west and one location south of No. 1 Bessie Clay.

Cabot Carbon's No. 1-A Walser, wildcat seven miles north of the Cobb 6700 field, is swabbing about one and one-half barrels of oil per hour after hole was treated with 10,000 gallons of acid. The oil is still cut with acid residue, but amount of recovery is increasing.

The No. 1-A Walser is bottomed in San Andres lime at 5,345 feet. Operator is testing open hole from bottom of five and one-half feet. Operator is testing open hole from bottom of five and one-half inch casing cemented at 5,300 feet.

Location of the No. 1-A Walser is 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 317, block D, J. H. Gibson survey.

TERRY LOCATION

Magnolia Petroleum Co. has staked a one-location south offset to its No. 1 Harmon Scales, the second producer in the Wellman field of Southwest Terry County.

The new project is Magnolia No. 2 Harmon Scales and is located 660 feet from west and 1,980 feet from north lines of section 12, block C-36, psl survey and 10 miles southwest of Brownfield.

Rotary tools will be used to drill to 9,900 feet beginning in the near future.

No. 2 Scales is one location due east of Anderson-Prichard Oil Corp. No. 3 Bevers which is now in process of completing as the third producer from the reef lime in the Wellman field.

Stanolind Oil & Gas Co. has topped the reef lime at 9,735 feet by samples on its No. 1 Allie Scales, wildcat five miles west of the Adair field and nine miles southwest of Brownfield in Southwest Terry County.

Operator is now drilling below 9,749 feet in lime. No elevation has been reported.

Location is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 14, block DD, John H. Gibson survey.

GARZA TEST

Tobe Foster and associates No. 1 Justice heirs, Southeast Garza County wildcat, one and three-quarter miles southeast of Justiceburg, and 660 feet from south and west lines of section 19, block 6, H&GN survey, is attempting to test the section at 7,425-45 feet in the Strawn lime of the lower Pennsylvanian.

The project had tested the zone at 7,390-7,410 feet, after it had been treated with 4,000 gallons of acid, and swabbed 56 barrels of new oil in 18 hours, after the load and residue from the injection had been recovered.

This prospector had previously flowed 150 barrels of new oil and 250 barrels of salt water in 24 hours from the zone at 7,452-56 feet. That section had also been acidized.

After that flow those perforations were squeezed off and the sections at 7,390-7,410 feet and at 7,425-45 feet were perforated.

Operators attempted to acidize the 7,425-45 foot section, and it would not take the chemical. The 4,000 gallon shot was then injected in the perforations at 7,390-7,410 feet, and the 56 barrel of oil swabbing in 18 hours resulted.

Operators then went back and reperforated the 7,425-45 foot interval. That section is to be again subjected to an acid injection, and that will be followedbyswabbing that will be followed by swabbing to test

PECOS WILDCAT

P. L. Crandell of Rankin has filed application with the Railroad Commission of Texas to drill his No. 1 Iowa Realty Trust as a 2,500-foot cable tool wildcat in North Pecos County.

The prospector will be in section 9, block 10, H&GN survey and 990 feet from southeast and 330 feet from southwest lines of the lease.

Drillsite will be 20 miles northeast of Ft. Stockton. Operators are to commence at once.

TO TAKE TEST

Hubbard S. Russell No. 1 Wrage-Hendrickson; Central-West Glasscock wildcat discovery from the Spraberry sand of the lower Permian, has shot the pay section at 6,890-7,175 feet with 248 quarts of nitro glycerin, and as soon as the hole is cleaned out operator plans to take potential test and complete.

This prospector, located two and eight-tenths of a mile southeast of the Tex-Harvey field in Central-East Midland County, and about 20 miles southeast of the city of Midland, indicated that it would make a commercial oil well and an extension to the Tex-Harvey field.

That indication came in a drillstem test at 6,980-7,175 feet. During the 12 hours the tool was open on that investigation the drill pipe fill up with oil.

No fluid flowed out at the top while the tester was open. However, when the first stand of the pipe was broken down oil started unloading and it continued to unload all the rest of the way out.

There was no water. The shows made on the drillstem test show that the project should be completed as a well. It is located 2,030 feet from west and 663 feet from north lines of section 20, block 36, T&P survey, T-3-S.

EAST VEALMOOR

Two new 7,500-foot, rotary explorations have been spotted in the East Vealmoor field of East-Central-North Howard County. These two tests will begin drilling immediately.

Standard Oil Co. of Texas No. 1 Annie Thomas is 550 feet from west and 660 feet from south lines of north half of section 18, block 27, H&TC survey and five miles west of Vincent.

Sunray Oil Corp spotted its No. 7 Wilson eight miles west of Vincent and 467 feet from south and 1,654 feet from east lines of section 16, block 27, H&TC survey.

P. W. CLOUD

Sunray Oil Corp. has staked its No. 8 P. W. Cloud as a new project in the Kelley-Snyder field of Scurry County.

Drillsite is 467 feet from south and 1,213 feet from east lines of the north half of section 159, block 3, H&GN survey.

Rotary tools will be used in drilling to projected depth of 7,000 feet. Operations will begin at once.

The project is six and one-half miles north of Snyder.

NO SIGNS

Ashland Oil & Refining Co. No. 1 Tant Lindsay, Southwest Martin County wildcat, 12 miles north and slightly east of Midland, and 12 miles west of Stanton, failed to develop any signs of oil in a drillstem test at 7,635-75 feet.

The test covered the top section of the Spraberry sand. The tool was open two and one half hours. Recovery was 1,440 feet of slightly gas cut drilling mud.

There were no signs of oil or formation water. The prospector probably will drill deeper.

American Exports To Red China Increased

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. (AP) — American exports to Communist China, currently under investigation by a Senate commerce subcommittee, almost tripled in August.

A Commerce Department report yesterday showed that shipments to China during the second full month of the Korean war climbed to $8,900,000 from $3,000,000 in July. In addition, $2,700,000 in American goods went to Manchuria.

The report did not say what the goods were.

Koreans Will Police Border In The North

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. (AP)—President Truman said today it is his understanding that only South Korean troops will occupy the north frontier of Korea in the final drive to victory.

He told his news conference first htat he understands Korean divisions occupy the Korean border on the Korean side.

Under further questioning, he said that would apply to the whole northern border. It is his understanding, he said, that American troops will not go to the border.

Korean Casualties Run More Than 26,000

Division from the old Pusan perimeter. That link-up broke the back of Red resistance in South Korea.

The Seventh continued south by road to Pusan. Twice on that trip by-passed North Korean units attempted ambushes and the troops had to fight.

SIX-DAY WAIT

For six days the flotilla of the United States, British, French, Canadian, New Zealand, Australian and South Korean ships waited at sea while minesweepers cut a channel through the mine field.

When Adm. Doyle gave the go ahead today, some of the troop-crammed landing ships were almost out of food. There were 450 acute dysentery cases aboard the transport, Marine Phoenix.

Maj. Gen. C. Ruffner, 10th Corps deputy commander, said the Marines would move up to Hamhung to back up South Koreans fighting north of there. Later they will be followed by Maj. Gen. David Barr's Seventh Division infantrymen. There is speculation the infantrymen may go ashore at a UN-held port further north.

At sea before the landing tension increased as the news of Wonsan's minefields grew worse day by day. Landing planes were reshuffled repeatedly.

The assault force had been scheduled to move between the offshore islands of Reito and Sindo toward Wonsan's inner harbor.

Then Adm. Doyle announced "we have discovered over 1,000 mines in that single area three miles long and 15 miles wide."

The commander decided to put American fighting men ashore to the sandy beaches by Wonsan airfield through a 3,000 foot wide minesweept channel.

MODERN TYPE

On Oct. 19 the most modern type of Soviet Russian mines were discovered in that exact area. One of those mines going off under a troop ship might have killed 1,000 men.

The same day, the last tactical reason for the invasion ended.

With Wonsan liberated, the Tenth Corps mission had been, Gen. Almond told newsmen, "to advance to the west, threaten the enemy, and aid the U. S. Eighth Army in capturing Pyongyang."

But the U. S. First Cavalry Division burst into the Soviet satellite capital 24 hours before the scheduled landing.

It was then that Gen. MacArthur ordered the debarkation postponed until it could be made without loss of life.

But it was only the South Korean's swift advance up the east coast which prevented an American military debacle at Wonsan. Almost everyone in the invasion fleet agrees to that.

"If the tactical situation ashore had demanded a calculated risk (in landing at Wonsan) we would have taken it," Doyle said.

"We knew when we started sweeping if the mines proved very heavy we could not get them all. We just did not have the time or the minesweepers we had during the last war."

Rear Adm. Allen T. Smith of Detroit, commander of UN blockade and escort forces, said the Wonsan mine field actually was the most intensive in military history —made of Soviet Russian mines brilliantly laid with Russian equipment.

A slender channel was cleared into the invasion beaches. But nearly 80 per cent of the estimated 3,000 mines still menace navigation.
