Washington Teams Rate Third, Fourth in TIL

The Booker T. Washington Pantherettes placed third and the Panthers fourth in the state Interscholastic League meet held Friday and Saturday, April 23 and 24 at Prairie View.

With this distinction, the school's athletic teams end their careers, as they will be a part of the Wellington high school system next year.

In individual ratings, Mary Ingram was second in the 50 yard dash, but so close was the event that the winner could be determined only after pictures of the event were studied, according to Miss Francine Childs, coach. A girl from Snyder received first place.

"Our group put up a good fight and we think they did quite well," Miss Childs said.

Moisture Up To .45 Inch Falls Over County

Rain, which varied from a trace to .45 inch, fell over the county in a series of showers from Sunday night through Monday night, April 25 and 26.

Wellington came in with the heaviest fall reported, .45 at the Weather Bureau gauge at the Highway Department.

Around Dodson, the moisture varied from .30 to .40. This was enough, however, to help carry the wheat, growers in that area report. Some had been hurting before the first rains started.

A little cotton has been planted in that area, and a considerable acreage of sudan is being planted also.

Moisture also measured about .40 inch in the Quail vicinity and this was reported as general through the west part of the county.

The section of the county from Lutie north and east received from a trace to around a quarter of an inch.

VFW Sponsors Loyalty Day on May First

May I is National Loyalty Day, and the Glynn Moore Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars is asking all business houses in Collingsworth County to display the United States flag.

The request was made jointly by VFW Commander Herbert Bearden and Louis Berg, 13th District Deputy Inspector.

"Loyalty Day was inaugurated by the Veterans of Foreign Wars as the occasion upon which to counteract devisive, un-Americanisms and to show positive Americanism in action," Berg declared.

Positive Americanism he defined as "Love of God, flag and country; also our enthusiastic pride in American Citizenship."

Loyalty Day, May 1, was designated by an Act of Congress in 1958.

Berg and Bearden not only urged business firms to display the United States flag, but requested that those homes having one to display it also.

Tri-City Golfers to Hold Tourney Here

Abilene to Shamrock

Bus Company Seeks Route Through City

Bus service for Wellington is again a possibility, to be determined following a hearing before the Railroad Commission, Tuesday, May 18.

Jessie Glaze of Abilene, who operates the Texas Bus Co., has made application for a franchise to extend his line from Childress through Wellington to Shamrock, offering daily service.

The Railroad Commission hearing will be held in Lubbock, and both the City of Wellington and the Chamber of Commerce will be represented.

N. M. Higdon, Chamber of Commerce manager, has been working with Glaze and has furnished Texas Bus Co., with the needed information on Wellington.

"I have asked him to let us know what we can do to help secure this line, and when he lets us know, we will call on the people of Wellington if their help is needed," Higdon said.

The line originates at Abilene and runs to Childress. Its extension to Shamrock would enable a driver to make the Abilene-Shamrock trip and return in 10 hours, the time a driver may be on duty under present regulations, Higdon explained.

The newer compact-type buses are used. If the line is put in operation, it will also carry small parcels, providing quick service from Amarillo, Wichita Falls, Oklahoma City and other

Two Rodeo Performances Slated by FFA This Year

Wellington will become a "horse town" Friday and Saturday, April 30 and May 1 as Future Farmers again stage their annual Western Day and Rodeo.

High school students will wear western clothes on Friday as a prelude to the rodeo and big parade Saturday. Some will come to school horseback.

This year there will be two rodeo performances, one each night. Both will be at the Wellington Rodeo arena, starting at 7:30 p.m.

The big western parade will enter the square at 10 a.m. Saturday.

The parade will form at the high school and come down East Avenue to the business section, go around the square and return to the high school along West Avenue.

This is the first time a Friday night rodeo performance has been held. The same events will be featured both nights, and include steer riding, sack race, calf scramble, girls barrel racing, team roping, tie-down calf roping, a trailer race, and other traditional rodeo events.

These will be open to all high school age boys of the Wellington area, as well as adjacent counties, Danny Garcia, vocational ag instructor, said.

"No prizes will be given in the rodeo events as many of the boys compete in Interscholastic League sports, but first, second and third places will be designated," Garcia said.

Suspect Held in California

Ricardo Robles, about 22, wanted by local officers in connection with the series of burglaries at Wellington and in the Dodson area, is being held in Santa Clara County jail, San Jose, Calif., Deputy Sheriff Troy Marsh said this week.

Robles refused to waive extradition, and District Attorney John Gillham will begin extradition proceedings within the near future, Marsh said.

Robles is wanted by both Collingsworth and Childress County officers.

He is the ninth man charged in connection with the burglary series. Six were charged here, one in Childress county and another youth is being held in Webb County jail, Laredo, where he also faces an armed robbery charge.

Boys and girls who ride their horses to town during the two-day Wellington FFA Western Day and Rodeo have been warned to keep them out of yards and parks and off of sidewalks, and to observe the rules of safety on the streets, according to Danny Garcia, vocational ag instructor.

"We want this to be a pleasant occasion for both the boys and girls and the townspeople," he added.

"Bye Bye Birdie"

Casting Finished for Senior Musical Hit

Wellington's seniors will present the Broadway hit, "Bye, Bye Birdie," Tuesday night, May 18, with almost the entire class of 63 participating. This is by far the most difficult production a high school class has presented here in recent years.

As part of their preparation, approximately 20 of the cast will attend the production of the same musical staged Friday night, April 30 by Wichita Falls high school, Mrs. Bob McAlister, director, said.

Ray Floyd will have the part of Conrad Birdie, a rock and roll singer about to enter the army, a character similar to the popular, but erroneous conception of Elvis Pressley.

As a publicity stunt, Conrad is to compose a song to a girl and kiss her goodbye as he enters the Army. This is Kim McAfee, a part sung by Connie Null. Karen Richardson and Freddy Peters are her parents, Skippy Duncan the little brother, Randolph, and Gary White the boy friend, Hugh Peabody.

The chorus is directed by James Larson, and all of the production's most popular songs will be heard: "Put On a Happy Face," "A Lot of Living to Do," and "One Last Kiss."

Fall Vacation Cut at Norwood

Samnorwood school board members, in a recent meeting, voted to not have cotton harvest vacation this fall, Supt. Robert Dwight announced this week.

During the re-organization of the school board, Jim Ray was re-elected president, Billy Waters vice president and Marvin Knoll secretary-treasurer.

The board also passed a resolution making it mandatory that teachers in the school system retire at the age of 65, Dwight said.

New Terracing Techniques Up-Date Conservation Work

By Lynn J. Courtney

New terracing techniques are being introduced to farmers in the Texas Panhandle. Many farmers who need to terrace their land because of erosion or water loss will be interested in some new terrace layout and construction methods offered by technicians of the Soil Conservation Service.

A system of terraces run parallel to each other is fast gaining popularity among farmers who have seen them in operation. While these parallel terraces are fairly new to the Texas Panhandle they have been thoroughly tried and proven in other parts of the state.

In general, when parallel terraces are installed, a waterway must be provided in all significant depressions along the slope. This provides for excess water disposal at points where water would normally collect and break across the rows. In some cases farmers have gone to the expense of eliminating some minor depressions by filling them in before the terraces are laid out. In most extreme cases they have gone so far as to level land between parallel terraces. Often this expense is well justified. Leveling between terraces on land with .5 to 2.0 per cent slopes greatly improves moisture distribution and penetration. More timely tillage practices are possible and crop growth is more uniform as a result of uniform field drying.

Where leveling is too expensive, some improvement in the moisture distribution can be made by constructing terraces from the lower side. In this case the fill material for the terraces should be taken from a thin layer as much as one-third to one-half the distance downslope to the next terrace. This will give some leveling of slopes between terraces.

Not all fields can be terraced parallel. Some fields have slopes which break in several directions, or even have several isolated little knolls within the field. It can readily be seen that parallel terraces could not be made on these fields. Even so, there may be cases where a portion of the terraces could be made parallel, and the rest of the field terraced with conventional terraces.

Each field needing terraces will have to be individually evaluated as to its suitability for parallel terraces. For more information on parallel terracing, farmers can contact the office of the local Soil Conservation Service.

Salt Fork Soil Conservation District cooperators who have built parallel terraces recently are Bob Copeland, Henry Rogers, A. V. Atkinson, William O'Rear, Tiffin Young, F. J. Murry, Truman Estes and Worth Shields.

Report Certain Events to SS

Women social security beneficiaries, 62 years of age and older, who receive checks as wives and widows, have been asking Hal Geldon, social security district manager in Amarillo, about what and when they are required to report to the Social Security Administration.

Geldon pointed out that when an individual files an application for social security benefits, he agrees to report certain events to the Administration. A woman who receives wife's benefits is responsible for reporting changes in her marital status such as divorce, annulment, or the death of her husband. Individuals receiving widow's benefits must give notification when they remarry.

Geldon further stated that wives and widows under 72 must report when they have earnings from work or self-employment in excess of $1200 a year.

He also emphasized that failure to report changes in marital status may have an adverse monetary effect on the monthly payments. It could result in an overpayment of benefits, which would have to be repaid or withheld from future benefits. If annual earnings in excess of $1200 are not properly reported, loss of months of benefits, in addition to regular deductions, could result.

Youthful Musicians Present Club Program of Songs Tuesday Evening

On Tuesday, April 20, the Wellington Music Club met in a late afternoon session with Mrs. John Harper as hostess.

Mrs. Jess Peters gave commentary on "The Art Song," and then presented a "Kaleidoscope of Brilliant Color"—an array of talented young musicians.

Adele Burquist's flute solo was ,'Minuet" by Bach, with Mrs. Sam Thompson at the piano. Adele, a sixth grader, is the daughter of Mrs. Oleta Burquist.

Mrs. Thompson presented the Bobbettes of Quail high school as the Junior Musicians of the Month. Seven senior girls compose this ensemble — Sue Saunders Breedlove, Nancy Emmert Harris, Lonetta Neeley, Dianne Moseley, Rosie Baker, Shirley Horton and Patricia Kimbro, pianist.

The Bobbettes have been organized for five years. In 1961 they won a blue ribbon while representing this district at the State 4-H Round-Up at College Station. They have also performed for the TFMC meetings in Hereford, Waco and Dalhart. A bevy of honors and accomplishments have been merited by this group as individuals, too.

The Bobbettes sang two numbers from the required NFMC list which they gave at the First District Junior Festival in Borger. Superior ratings were awarded each presentation: the English folk song, "The Happy Heart" and the American folk song, "The Deaf Old Woman." Mrs. L. W. Wells is their director.

In the business session conducted by Mrs. Mack Bush, president, plans for the rest of the club year were discussed.

National Music Week chairman, Mrs. Hiram Cudd, announced committees for the Mary Jane Cummings concert. This piano concert will be the club's only music week endeavor this year for the public.

Yearbook chairman, Mrs. Thompson, reported some of her potential plans for the 1965-66 season.

In a report on the TFMC state convention, Mrs. B. M. Sims noted that Mrs. Peters' entry in the adult composers contest was twenty-first in a field of sixty-four. Cheryl Wilson, a student of Mrs. Peters, placed third in competition for the Inspiration Point Opera Workshop scholarship offered by the TFMC. Other awards to Wellington at the state convention were second place for senior club yearbook and first place for junior club yearbook.

Next meeting of the Wellington Music Club is to be the club attendance at the high school production of "Bye, Bye Birdie."

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Allen and children, Vickie, Charlotte, Tommy and Jerry Paul, were Easter guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Starr. Vickie and Tommie came the preceding Friday for a longer visit.

A group of Bluebirds, sponsored by Mrs. Eugene Morrow and Mrs. C. T. Shumate, visited The Wellington Leader during their regular meeting hour Monday, April 26.

The children saw how cuts are made from which pictures are printed and then watched type set on the Linotype machines, as well as other operations in the newspaper.

The group included Pamela Black, Della Shumate, Geney Morrow, Luanne Berg, Shonoro Neill, Vicki Dement, Toni Gayle Taylor, Jeanie Reynolds, Janie Reynolds, Jean Ann Owens, Nancy Shumate, Pamela Shumate, and a visitor, Lesley Hedger. Mrs. Shumate and Mrs. Morrow accompanied the group.

Week end visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Kiker were their daughter, Rev. and Mrs. Kenneth Wyatt, Mary and Jill, of Paducah.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Squyres of Riverside, Calif., were the Sunday guests in the home of his sister, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gollihugh of Quail.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bawcom and two children of Boys Ranch visited Monday and Tuesday of this week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Bawcom.

May 1 Deadline for Destroying Excess Wheat

May 1 is the final date for destroying excess wheat.

Wheat farmers are reminded that any wheat acreage that is not completely destroyed by the above date will be classed as wheat acreage for the 1965 crop year, according to Millard Brown, ASCS office manager.

Those who have an acreage of wheat in excess of that permitted on their wheat agreement or in excess of the acreage planned to be harvested, where the substitution provision is being used under the wheat and feed grain programs, should be sure that the excess is destroyed and reported to the ASCS office and pay the recheck fee not later than May 1.

"Also, those who have a wheat cover on diverted acreage are reminded that this must be plowed under by the deadline date. We will have a reporter checking on disposition of wheat and volunteer wheat shortly after May 1," Brown said.

Group High at Regional Meet

Wellington high school participants ranked high in the regional interscholastic league meet, although none captured the coveted first place to qualify for state participation.

Karen Childress placed second in poetry interpretation and is an alternate to the state contest. A contestant from Sonora placed first.

In athletic events, Olan Moore was third in the 880 yard run with time of 1:58.3. First place went to Mike Lloyd of Petersburg, last year's state winner, with a 1:56.2 record. Although Moore did not win, he, as well as the first and second place men, broke the standing regional record of 1:58.7.

Two Receive Broken Ankles

Two men, Jimmy Scott of Childress and A. J. Fires, received broken ankles in unrelated falls Friday, April 23.

Scott fell approximately 35 feet from a power line pole, apparently slipping as he was on his way down.

He landed on his left foot and received a badly broken ankle. After being given emergency treatment at St. Joseph's Hospital, he was transferred to Amarillo, an attending doctor said.

The accident occurred a short distance south of town.

Fires received a broken right ankle in a fall while mounting a horse. Friends said the horse lunged, and the reins, which Fires was holding, broke and allowed him to fall on his right foot.

Mr. and Mrs. Evon Gollihugh and Jeana of Midland spent last week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gollihugh of Quail.

Texas Traffic Fatalities Top 3,000 in 1964

AUSTIN.—Traffic fatalities in Texas exceeded the 3,000 mark for the first time in history during the 1964 calendar year.

Col. Homer Garrison, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety reported that the traffic death book for 1964 was closed at noon Monday, March 15, with a ttoal of 3,006 fatalities on the streets and highways of Texas.

"The total for last year represents a 10 percent increase over the 2,729 lives lost in the year 1963," Garrison said. "Coupled with this tragic loss of life is the staggering economic loss of almost $487 million."

Garrison reported that the DPS Statistical Services estimated that traffic accidents increased from 399,917 in 1963 to 454,762 during 1964. The number of miles driven in the state increased from 52.3 billion in 1963 to slightly over 55.6 billion last year.

The death rate (the number of fatalities for each 100 million miles of travel) was 5.4 during 1964, compared to 5.2 in 1963. The 1964 figure was the highest death rate since 1957, when it reached 6.0.

"Each month throughout the year," Garrison stated, "more than 200 fatalities were reported to the DPS. For six of the months, the total exceeded 250 deaths per month.

"We are well into the 1965 driving year, and statistics indicate that fatalities are far ahead of last year's tragic record. Unless each driver accepts the responsibility of operating a motor vehicle properly, we can only look forward to an even greater total of death and suffering in the present year."

Men Enter Home Economics Field

Men students are finding career opportunities in home economics, too. Approximately 700 male students are currently enrolled as undergraduate home economics majors in 65 United States colleges and universities, according to a recent survey made by the American Home Economics Association.

The men are most likely to choose food service management as their area of specialization, which leads to careers with hospitals, hotels and restaurant chains.

Applied art is the second choice in the home economics field, leading to futures in interior design and housing. Institutional administration is the third most popular area of specialization, the survey showed.

Asia is the largest continent.

A Controversial Amendment Coming up Next August

Although it is deadlocked between the House and the Senate it appears that a constitutional amendment giving longer terms to representatives and senators will be submitted to the people of Texas

There are as many reasons for granting a four year term to a member of the House of Representatives as there were in increasing the terms of the county officials from two to four years; but many of the voters have not been too happy with the four year term for county officials. They would like an opportunity to vote on their qualifications and performance in office more often than every four years.

For this reason the constitutional amendment to increase the length of the terms of the state representatives may not meet with such easy sailing as the amendment concerning county officials which slid by without any organized opposition. There seems to me just cause for raising the pay of the representatives; but if this is tacked on to the longer term issue, the amendment is liable to be in for rough sledding.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:
My fact-deprived neighbor is having trouble with his over-developed curiosity gland, and blames it on news management.

Says the papers and TV have managed to keep him from finding out what that four-letter word is which the California college students wanted freedom to use.

He has been trying to figure it out for himself by a process of deduction and elimination, but hasn't got very far. Only offensive four-letter word he's sure that type of "student" wouldn't be wanting to use is w-o-r-k.

Considerable crying is heard around about how taxes to run Medicare will go up and up, as free reinvigorment keeps more and more of us elderly around to enjoy federal medication.

But my old-math neighbor figures that in the long run the cost of this program will go down.

He says taxing young folks to pay for after-65 medical treatment will keep them strapped, so they can't pay their own doctor and hospital bills, and fewer and fewer of them will make it to this magic age where Washington starts to really care if they get sick.

Scientific fellow says he experimented and found that radishes will grow one-third bigger when exposed to continuous sound vibrations while they are growing.

My futurephobe neighbor says this news ought to be taken heed of, while there's still time to save some of our uprising generation from a fate worse than debt.

Says if noise aggravates growth, all of these TV sets, juke boxes, and people-attached radios could cause our kids to grow eight feet tall, and not fit for anything but painting ceilings or playing basketball.

Mighty encouraging report in the papers the other day. It says it's been discovered that us humans are worth more than the scientific appraisers used to think.

By counting in the market value of nucleic acids, enzymes and stuff, that pre-enlightened era bodies maybe didn't even contain, it's now computed that a man's salvage value is $800 instead of the measly 99 cents it used to be.

My re-priced neighbor says he aims to see his banker about borrowing some more money, now that his valuation has gone up so maybe he is worth taking a mortgage on.

GRASSED WATERWAY
This is a properly shaped waterway on the Gilroy Rummel farm that has been established in Caucasian Bluestem grass. Rummel worked with Salt Fork Soil Conservation District in putting in this waterway.

SALT FORK SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

GRASSED WATERWAYS

By Doug Lowe, SCS

A grassed waterway is either a natural draw or depression or a constructed channel that has been properly vegetated to protect the soil from erosion and to carry excess water from a field, diversion terrace, or system of terraces.

In many instances in the Salt Fork Soil Conservation District roadside ditches and natural drains have been used to carry excess water from fields or terrace systems and severe erosion has resulted. This erosion occurs for two reasons: (1) the areas are not protected by good permanent vegetation, and (2) the ditches or drains are not of the proper size and grade to safely carry the run-off water without erosion.

Run-off water must be carried in wide, flat waterways with the proper vegetation if orosion is to be prevented. In most instances, where parallel terraces are to be constructed, it is necessary to first install and establish vegetation in a waterway. When a good, safe place is provided by a grassed waterway on which to deposit the excess water, a more workable system of terraces can be installed.

Soil Conservation Service personnel assisting the Salt Fork Conservation District are available to provide technical assistance in the design and establishment of grassed waterways.

Draft Board to Call 41 Doctors

AUSTIN.—State draft boards have been called on to furnish 41 physicians for the armed forces, Col. Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director said Tuesday.

The quota is the Texas share of a national call for 950 doctors, to be assigned to the Army, Navy and Air Force.

The draft call is necessary, Col. Schwartz said, because insufficient numbers of 1964 medical school graduates volunteered for active duty immediately following their internships.

Those called will enter on active duty in the summer, and the majority will serve as general duty medical officers. Specialists are provided in the armed forces by volunteers commissioned for specialty training and by physicians completing military residencies.

Local boards are issuing orders to report for induction to available physicians with an effective date of July 1.

The state director of Selective Service said he has been authorized to postpone the induction of any physician ordered under this call who presents evidence of application for a commission.

If a physician classified as available for armed forces service who is not currently an intern should be found to be in residency training, research, teaching, or private practice, his classification will be reopened for local board consideration.

Police Chief Reports Wrecks

Two vehicle accidents were reported this week by Police Shief Donald Nunnelley.

The first occurred Friday in front of the City Grocery, as Amy Winter Seale was backing her 1960 Chevrolet from the curb and collided with a 1963 Chevrolet pickup driven by Ray Uselton, Nunnelley reported.

He estimated the total damage at about $250.

Sunday about 12:30 p.m. the 1962 Ford driven by Reed Souder, 17, and the 1964 Thunderbird driven by Paul Bell sideswiped at a point about 75 feet south of the 13th and Bowie Street intersections, the police chief reported.

Cars were parked on both sides of the street, according to Nunnelley. It was in attempting to get around these that the Souder and Bell cars collided. Damage was estimated at about $200.

Dale Morris Gets Four-Year WT Scholarship

Dale Morris, Quail's high scoring, high jumping guard, has received a four year basketball scholarship to West Texas State University, Coach Don Lacy announced this week.

Morris will sign his letter of intent with WT as soon as he completes the baseball season. He it pitching his team straight toward the District 9-B championship.

And his scholastic record is in the same high bracket as his athletic record for he has almost all As on his transcript.

Only 5 feet 9 inches tall and weighing 155 pounds, Morris is one of the few boys in the state under six feet to receive a college basketball scholarship yet he was one of the first men chosen when WT coach Jimmy Viramonts started recruiting, Coach Lacy said.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Morris.

During his four years of basketball, Morris ran up a total of 2,585 points. He averaged more than 24 points per game for the last three years. As a senior, his average was 27 points for 35 games, a total of 945.

Morris was picked for the all-district teams as a junior and senior.

"While there are no records of early teams, we believe that Morris has scored more points than any player in the history of Quail basketball, which goes back nearly 30 years and includes a state championship team," Lacy said.

He is almost equally strong as a pitcher for the Quail high school baseball team, for he has never lost a game. He led the team to district championships last year and the year before, and is leading District 9-B this year.

Morris won the high jump in district Interscholastic League track competition last year but injured himself and did not go to regional.

Betty Courtney Has Scholarship to Wayland

Betty Courtney, the Wellington Rockettes' top basketball scorer, has received a basketball scholarship from Wayland College, Plainview, and an opportunity to try for the internationally known Flying Queens basketball team.

The scholarships to high school seniors are for one year and if the girl qualifies for the Flying Queens, the scholarship is extended for the remaining three years, Coach James Stavenhagen explained.

Betty has scored a total of 1961 points for the Rockettes during her four years of high school basketball. During the 1964-65 season, Betty averaged more than 25 points per game for a total of 671.

Earlier this spring she was selected to play in the all-state girls basketball game at Waco in July.

Cotton Classing Offices Under New USDA Agency

The Secretary of Agriculture, Orville L. Freeman, announced that a new agency, the Consumer and Marketing Service, will become effective immediately and perform all the present functions of the Agricultural Marketing Service, plus related operating programs in other USDA agencies.

Among the agencies affected will be the Cotton Division Classing Office in Altus, Okla., and the seasonal sub-office at Memphis, Texas, according to C. E. Cox, officer in charge at Altus.

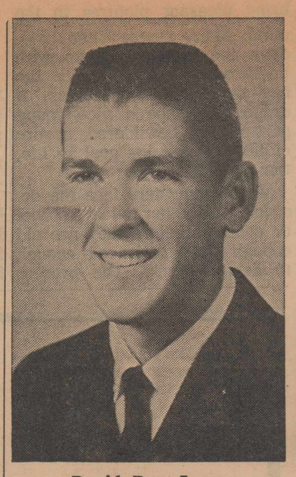

The Altus classing office began operations in 1939 with five counties in Southwest Oklahoma. This area was expanded during World War II until the territory covered most of 20 counties in Oklahoma and Texas. The Altus office has classed nearly seven million bales of cotton during its 25 year existence. The annual average for the past 20 years has been better than 300,000 bales a year —for the past 10 years better than 325,000 bales a year.

The Memphis seasonal suboffice was opened in 1959 with an expanded territory made up of nine Texas counties from the Altus area and nine counties from the Lubbock territory. During the past six years the Memphis office has classed an average of more than 200,000 bales per year, for a total of a little over 1,200,000 bales.

Cerebral Palsy Can Occur at Any Age

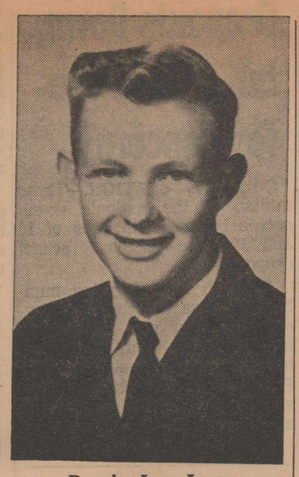

Cerebral palsy, most frequently occurring before or during birth, can also occur in childhood or adult life as a result of accident, illness or infection, according to the Texas Society for Crippled Children and Adults, the Easter Seal society, which reports that nationwide, 10 percent of the caseload of some 250,000 patients are so handicapped.

Telephone Co. Cites Progress During 1964

SAN ANGELO—Progress was the keynote of 1964 for General Telephone Company of the Southwest, according to the company's annual report currently being mailed to shareowners in all 50 states and several foreign countries and to employees in the five states.

Evidence of progress, according to E. H. Danner, president, was reflected in improved service, growth and new concepts in communications.

In his letter summarizing activities, he listed as examples of improved service, the addition of 9,600 telephones and six exchanges to the Direct Distance Dialing network; replacement of central office equipment in nine exchanges and providing customers in 11 exchanges with Extended Area Service.

In the area of growth, Danner pointed out that 20,600 telephones were gained in 263 exchanges served in five states, bringing the total telephones to 399,955 at the end of 1964. Fifty employees were gained during 1964 to bring the total employees to 3,302.

In 1964, total operating revenues grew from $41,957,494 in 1963 to $45,304,065 in 1964, while investment in telephone plant increased from $160,228,948 to $172,278,787.

Greater emphasis was placed on special services for business and industrial customers in the area of data transmission, private line teletypewriter service, private switching networks and full utilization of present equipment and devices to provide complete communications, according to the president's letter to shareowners.

Danner also stated that expanded emphasis was placed on planning for future needs, with a long range planning task force named to project the scope of communications requirements in 1984.

A review of the Ten Year Record of Progress included in the report shows that total operating revenues increased 154 percent from $17,830,000 to $45,304,000; while the investment in telephone plant reached an all-time high of $172,278,700, an increase of 222 percent over the plant investment figure ten years earlier.

Operating expenses, not including taxes, increased 95 percent to $18,774,900 during the ten year period ending in 1964.

General taxes and federal income taxes moved upward 148 percent to $8,431,500 during the ten years reflected in the record of progress.

Wages and related benefits paid to employees increased 101 percent during the ten year period and totaled $17,587,000 at the end of 1964.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

We should be very proud and very grateful for the moisture we have been receiving in the early months of the year here below the caprock. It is not as much as we would like; but it is sufficient to keep the wheat growing without pause and is adequate for early planting of row crops throughout the Wellington area.

Our moisture is in sharp contrast to the drought right next to us to the west and the raging floods roaring down the Mississippi not too distant in the northeast. For three years the region west and northwest of us has suffered under an alarming deficiency of rainfall. This dry area covers the Panhandle to the Caprock, eastern New Mexico, eastern Colorado, Nebraska and western Kansas. It is an area something like 300 miles wide and 700 miles long. Farmers in eastern Colorado expect to harvest only 15% of an average crop of wheat and most of the cattle have been moved out of eastern New Mexico due to a lack of grass. While this has been happening our area below the Caprock has been harvesting comparatively good crops; but every grower knows that we got by on a very thin margin.

Even more startling and disastrous are the raging floods pouring down the Mississippi valley that have left thousands homeless and the damage is now measured in the billions. Those of us who have lived on the Plains have no conception of the extent of the disasters such floods cause, according to those who have lived in regions where they occur almost every year.

The danger of the flood on the Father of Waters is expected to lessen when it reaches the wider expanse of the river downstream. This may not hold true if heavy rains fall on the southern tributaries in the next three weeks. If spring rains swell the Arkansas and the Red Rivers to the west and the Cumberland, Tennessee, Yazoo to the east as well as the countless smaller streams it could result in the worst overall flood in sixty-five years.

We may not get all the rain we would like to have and all our weather may not be perfect every day of the year; but take it on the whole and you find that we have about the best climate in the entire United States.

The Skyrocket, the annual of Wellington High School, is off the press and is being distributed this week. It is one of the better annuals of a long list of excellent annuals compiled by the students and faculty of WHS. The motif this year observes the Diamond Jubilee of Collingsworth County and seeks to contrast the WHS of yesterday with the school of today—an endeavor that is achieved with brilliance and distinction.

The 1965 edition is dedicated to Louis Graham who secured many of the old time pictures for the annual. The faculty sponsor is Mrs. Dee Coleman, and Aleta Owens is the editor. Other members of the staff are Laraine Porter, Jan Lindsey, Nell Tarver, Jan Glenn, Beverly Singley, Mark Fires and Joe Wood. Congratulations to all of you. Your work in photography and editing was and is superlative.

This reminds me: a young student of East Teyas State University is writing a paper on the names of places in Collingsworth County. He wants to know why certain places were given their names. He needs information on the source of the names of: Buck Creek or Spiller Creek, Fresno, Willow Creek, Sand Creek, House Log Draw, Dozier Creek, Wolf Creek, and also of such places as Marella, Lone Mound, and Trimmina. Can you help him on any of these? We have answered many of his questions; but we need help on the above.

Wes Izzard wrote a highly interesting column on the celebration the people of Vernon will hold at Doan's Crossing on May 1. Among other things he recounts:

It should be recorded here in passing, as it will be in Saturday night's pageant, that the grave of a cowboy shot at Doan's Crossing inspired the ballad, "Bury Me Not on the Lone Prairie."

Knowing that I have not been smoking for the last few days some of my readers want to know when I intend to write a column on cigareetes. I do not know. I am still too deep in the tobacco jungle to make any rash statements at this early stage of the battle.

I have been receiving a lot of encouragement, some dubious and some genuine. Bernice Welch was giving some healthy encouragement when T. Wyrick spoke up and said he quit for eight months and that he wanted to smoke just as urgently the eighth month as he did the first week and Claude McKinney nodded assent by blowing out great clouds of smoke in the tiny newsstand. Incidentally, the smell of tobacco smoke or the sight of someone smoking does not bother me in the least; so, if you are a smoker, do not feel self-conscious in my presence. Later when I acquire more confidence I may start telling you some of the things that have been giving my nerves conniption fits.

Finances Discussed

Norwood Patrons Hear of School Operation

Samnorwood school patrons heard an explanation of the financial operation of their school Monday night, April 26 when Supt. Robert Dwight was speaker at the Parent-Teacher Association meeting.

During the meeting, Louis Berg, quartermaster of the Glynn Moore Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, presented the school with a flag as part of the post's Loyalty Day (May 1) observance. Dwight received the flag.

Bill Rushing, Shamrock police chief, explained the Kidlettes summer baseball program, backed by a group of that town's clubs.

PTA members voted to sponsor Leatrice Adams, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Austin O'Neil, as a candidate to the Attorney General's Youth Conference in August.

Dwight outlined in detail how the Samnorwood school district gets its money and how it is spent.

Local revenue accounts for $46,517, state funds for $64,694 and a balance amounted to $8,649 to give total revenue of $120,757, he explained. This does not include federal funds set up to operate the cafeteria, for vocational instruction and the work study program.

On the other side, expenditures for teacher salaries and instruction amounted to $81,377. Health services accounted for $2,072, transportation $23,056, plant operation $8,245, maintenance $4,413, insurance $977 and student activities $480.

Dwight then reviewed improvements to the building in the last year and outlined needs for the coming year, which include an additional teacher, improvement to the building, and physical education equipment.

He closed by citing the per capita cost of operating the school in comparison to others in this area of similar size. These are 1963 figures quoted by Supt. Dwight: Samnorwood, $508 per child; Allison, $805; Quail, $561; Channing, $824; Lakeview $591; and Briscoe, $723.

Dropouts Down, but Still Cause for Concern

COLLEGE STATION.—Three million of the nation's young people between the ages of 16 and 19 have become school dropouts.

Although this alarming number is cause for concern, nevertheless, the rate of dropout has decreased from 41 percent to 30 percent since 1950, says Patsy Reynolds, Extension service specialist in family life education.

The term dropout doesn't bring pleasant pictures to the mind. Many people often associate the colloquial term with juvenile delinquents. Yet the boy or girl who becomes a dropout may be a nice young person—just bewildered, unsure of himself and his goal in life, the specialist says.

Many youngsters face the decision of whether to leave school or continue before they are old enough or experienced enough to decide wisely. The process which leads to a student leaving school is a long one—and it is effected by the student, his family and his school.

"Youngsters need guidance and encouragement from their families and school officials. Many people must share the blame for the school dropout. We have made much progress in reducing the dropout rate—but 30 percent is still far too high," Miss Reynolds says.

While money to stay in school will help curb dropouts in some instances, yet people who care what happens to a youngster can help even more, the Texas A&M University specialist says.

Janie Cummings

eration of Music Clubs.

Janie Cummings has a special place in Wellington's heart. This was "home town" to both her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Logan Cummings. Janie was born at McLean, however, where they were teaching. She was 17 on April 1.

The family returned to Wellington when Janie was small, but after a few years they moved to Ralls, where Cummings was superintendent of schools.

When the time came for Janie to start to school, the family, which includes an older sister, Carol, now Mrs. Roger Hooper of Dallas, moved to Austin and Janie entered the State School for the Blind.

She is now a junior there, and upon graduating, she plans to enroll in The University of Texas.

Janie does almost everything a girl with normal vision can do—and this includes making a dress that fits her perfectly and putting a zipper in it. She rides a bicycle, swims and water skis.

Cummings, no longer in the teaching profession, is in the office of the Travis County Tax assessor-collector in Austin, and Mrs. Cummings teaches in one of the Austin schools.

The family returns one or more times a year to visit Cummings' sister and brother, Mrs. W. W. Neeley and Palo Cummings. They were here last at Christmas.
