CHOIR SINGER LEFT HOME 8 YEARS AGO TO SING IN SHOW

Later Became Follies Actress and Bathing Beauty

MAKE U. S. DEBUT SOON

Was Hailed by Europeans As a Second Jeritza

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Mary Lewis, former former choir singer, follies actress and moving picture bathing beauty, who ran away from her home in Little Rock, Ark., eight years ago to join a musical comedy company, signed a contract today to appear with the Metropolitan Opera company.

Her debut will take place this winter and her repertory will include operas. She will be heard in the lyrical roles of "Faust," "Tales of Hoffman," "Le Boheme", and similar works.

Fled From Spankings.

Miss Lewis was a Sunday school choir teacher and organist in Little Rock when she left her foster parents to join a road show. She had been adopted at 15 when she ran away from a minister and his wife, her earlier foster parents, because, she said, the minister's wife spanked her almost daily.

In California the show was stranded and Miss Lewis became a bathing beauty in motion picture comedies. Five years ago she came to New York and obtained a job in aj Greenwich Village cabaret where the follies manager heard her sing and signed her as a principal. She was with the follies for two years.

Discovered By Kahn.

She was "discovered" several years ago by Otto H. Kahn, Metropolitan patron at a performance at the follies. He arranged an audience before Gatti-Casazza, manager of the Metropolitan, who immediately offered her a contract. She amazed everybody by refusing the contract, saying that she intended to go abroad to study.

Her operatic debut was made in Vienna where she was hailed as another Jeritza. Later she achieved success in London and Paris and during the latter part of last summer she appeared in Deauville and Monte Carlo. She returned to this country six weeks ago and several days ago appeared before Gatti-Casazza for another audition. This time she accepted the profferred contract.

LYRICS OF LIFE.
By Douglas Malloch.
The Passing Cloud.

A spot of shade amid the sun,
A cotton cloud among blue skies—
What man will think himself undone,
And think with that the summer dies?
I wonder men are not more wise
When trouble comes, if great or small,
When on the ground one shadow lies,
That is not all.
I had a trouble hard to bear.
Ah, yes, but that was yesterday!—
And no accumulated care
Shall hide my present joy away.
There are so many roses gay
I shall not weep for roses died;
For I shall find, when these decay
A rose as red.
Pass, sudden cloud, I well can wait:
I have seen clouds that came before;
The shadow of some sweep of fate,
Shall not forever shade me o'er.
I had a trouble that I bore
But yesterday, but that is done:
A tear, a smile, and one sigh more—
And then the sun!

Body of King Tut Himself Believed Discovered In Gold Ornamental Coffin

CAIRO, Egypt, Nov. 5.—(AP—The body of King Tut-Ankh-Amen is now believed definitely to have been discovered, a communique issued in Arabic by the ministry of works announced.

TOMB REOPENED OCT. 12.

Tut-Ankh-Men's tomb was reopened Oct. 12 in the presence of Egyptian officials. The lid of the first sarcophagus was lifted, revealing another, on which lay linen coverings and bouquets. These were removed, and, revealing a work of unexampled beauty. This second sarcophagus bore an effigy of the God Osiris, decorated from head to foot and embellished with multi-colored pieces of glass.

The sarcophagus itself was covered with a thin layer of gold on a marble ground and adorned with the wings of the serpent Goddess Buto and the vulture Goddess Nechbet. After this sarcophagus had been scientifically examined, it was removed from the first—an extremely delicate ornamentation might easily be injured by the slightest touch.

A HUMAN SHAPED COFFIN

By October 22, however, it was possible to remove the cover from the second sarcophagus, disclosing a human shaped coffin, covered with a linen shroud which adhered to it. Around the head and chest were a string of beads and flowers. The face was uncovered (or not covered, according to the various translations), and is believed to represent young King Tut himself. (This is thought to imply that the shroud around the coffin did not cover the painted face customarily depicted upon such encasements).

After photographs were taken, the shroud, beads and flowers were removed, revealing a superb coffin of most artistic design, covered with gold ornaments.

SPILLED EMBALMING FLUID.

Unfortunately a large part of the coffin was marred by a black deposit, apparently some glutinous liquid which must have been spilled over it at the time of burial.

The most important question now before the workers is how to remove the human shaped coffin from the second sarcophagus, which, in addition to fitting very closely, has adhered on account of this glutinous liquid.

California Would Have Put Lincoln and Jefferson In Jail, Says Upton Sinclair

PASADENA, Calif., Nov. 5.—(AP)—Abraham Lincoln and Thomas Jefferson made statements which would have resulted in their conviction under the present California criminal laws, Upton Sinclair, author and social worker, declared today in a letter to governor F. W. Richardson.

"I point out," he wrote, "that under this law Abraham Lincoln could be arrested for reading his first inaugural address in which he said 'this country belongs to the people who inhabit it. Whenever they shall grow weary of the existing government they can exercise their constitutional right of amending it or their revolutionary right to dismember or overthrow."

"Or consider what would happen to Thomas Jefferson for having written 'the tree of liberty must be refreshed from time to time with the blood of patriots and tyrants. It is its natural manure'."

DRY LEAGUE IN RENEWED FIGHT ON ROM TRADE

Anti-Saloon Men Seek to Make Law More Effective

"MARVEL OF AGE"

Progress of Prohibition Surprising, Bishop Reports

CHICAGO, Nov. 5—(AP)—A review of the progress of prohibition in the United States, and a survey of plans to make it more effective began tonight at the Chicago temple in the enforcement crisis convention of the Anti-Saloon league.

All aspects of the enforcement situation were to be covered by surveys from congressmen, federal and local officials and judges, religious leaders, editors and representatives of the Anti-Saloon league.

Hear Bishop's Report.

The opening session was devoted to the address of Bishop Thomas N. Cholson of Detroit, president of the league and Miss Anna Gordon, president of its sister organization, the W. C. T. U. and the report of F. Scott McBride, general superintendent of the league.

Tomorrow the convention pauses for a memorial to those killed in action in the war on alcohol, the prohibition officers and local officials killed in line of duty. The convention will also hear tomorrow the report of congressional committee, to be presented to congress this winter, on their investigation of the enforcement situation in the United States and the status of modification legislation, and conditions throughout Canada.

Need Public Support.

The progress of prohibition stands out as the marvel of the age, Mrs. McBride said in his report, for "prohibition is coming through in triumph."

"Our task now is to create, extend and mobilize public opinion and to reenfist the church. When we consider the entrenchment of the liquor traffic the progress of prohibition is seen to be surprising.

The saloon was in politics more than sixty years. Prohibition, its enemy, had no political profits.

Prohibition is not something that has been put over by some one or any two. Instead it stands out as a principle that has grown and expanded with sentiment and conviction until today it is the governmental policy of our country."

May Be New Civil War.

Bishop Nicholson declared that "we are now in the greatest struggle since the Civil war for the effectuation of democracy." While not personally advocating such a method, Bishop Nicholson said that if finally, to make prohibition effective, it should be necessary to call out the army and navy "to protect the integrity of the constitution, we would have precedent in the Civil war for such action. We would be doing only what Washington and Lincoln did under similar circumstances."

"There is in our day a great deal of laudation of personal liberty. There is an increasing criticism of the multiplication of laws. What is the end of government?

"We in America are between opposing theories. First, there is the theory of individualism that in its extreme form would lead to anarchy. Second, the other theory magnifies society at the expense of the individual and leads to socialism in various forms.

TEST OF CITY'S MEAT LAW TO BEGIN TODAY

Suit Seeks to Restrain Enforcement of Abattoir Ordinance

A hearing will be held at 9 o'clock Friday morning by Judge P. A. Martin of the eighty-ninth district court on the application of Mart Robertson and others to issue a permanent restraining order against enforcement by the city of Wichita Falls of its new abattoir ordinance. It is possible Judges H. R. Wilson of the thirtieth district court and Guy Rogers of the seventy-eighth may sit with Judgge Martin during the hearing.

The city's new ordinance is one designed to control the slaughter and marketing of meat products here and it is being attacked on grounds that it is unconstitutional and in restraint of trade in that it compels slaughtering of livestock and inspection of the animal on the hoof and after it is killed by a city inspector.

A temporary injunction was asked against the city a week ago, but municipal officials agreed that provisions of their new rules would not be enforced until a final hearing of the petitioner's complaint was held.

EXEMPTION IS INCREASED BY $1,000 UNDER NEW PROPOSAL

Normal Rate Reduced By Committee to 1½ Per Cent First $4,000

$200,000,000 SLICE

If Adopted by Congress Suggestions Will Mean Drastic Saving

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5. (AP)—Widespread reductions in income tax rates were voted today by the house ways and means committee.

The committee, which is drafting a revenue bill, decided to recommend reduction of the maximum surtax rate from 40 to 20 per cent. Personal exemptions were increased from $1,000 to $1,500 for single persons and from $2,500 to $3,500 for married persons.

The normal rates were reduced from 2 per cent to 1 1-2 per cent on the first $4000 of taxable income, from 4 per cent to 3 per cent on the next $4000 and from 6 to 5 per cent on taxable income in excess of $8000.

The committee also ovted to extend the $400 exemption for dependents to apply to children who are in school up to 21 years of age. The present limit is 18 years in all cases.

The increase in personal exemptions was estimated to remove more than 1,000,000 persons from the income tax rolls.

The total reduction approved in these rates was placed at $200,000,000 annually. Secretary Mellon had recommended a reduction of about $140,000,000 in the revenues from income taxes.

The 40 per cent maximum surtax rate now applies on incomes in excess of $200,00, but the 20 per cent maximum set by the committee would apply over $100,00. The graduated scale of surtax rates applying on incomes under this amount is yet to be worked out.

The committee also voted to retain the present 25 per cent reduction for earned incomes up to $10,000.

Moody Sues Road Company for $650,000

CONTRACT IN 18 COUNTIES UNDER FIRE

Would Cancel Firm's Permit To do Business In Texas

AUSTIN, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Charging constructive fraud against the state, Attorney General Dan Moody today filed suit against the American Road company of Dallas, seeking to recover $650,000, and seeking cancellation of the company's permit to do business in Texas.

The suit seeks cancellation of all highway contracts held by the American Road company with the state of Texas, and the petition charges that the company was organized only for the purpose of road work in connection with the Texas highway department. It prays for a temporary or permanent injunction restraining the state from paying the company and restraining the defendants from disposing of any money or property.

Attorney General Moody said he would ask for a hearing on the suit in the 53rd district court of Travis county, where it was filed, to be held as soon as possible.

Lanham Is Silent

Frank V. Lanham, chairman of the highway commission, was in conference with the attorney general today. Immediately as he left the attorney general's office, the suit was filed. Mr. Lanham declined to discuss the suit other than saying that he was interested in the maintenance and building of roads in Texas.

The suit charges excessive and exhorbitant prices. It is based on the allegation that between April 1, 1925, and October 1, 1925, the American Road company made a profit of $1,215,711.48, on a gross business with the state of $1,719,480.41, and the company spent only $603,768.93 in the execution of three kinds of contracts.

Counties Listed

Counties listed in the petition are Dallas, Tarrant, Parker, Angelina, Bell, Bosque, Bowie, Red River, Collin, Delta, Denton, Henderson, Hill, Hood, Johnson, McLennan, Milam, Somervell, Titus, Williamson and Wise.

One of the contracts was for resurfacing with asphaltic treatment highways in 18 counties, the others for rebuilding of highways in Parker county, and the maintenance of highways in Dallas and Tarrant counties.

It is alleged in the petition that the company received $59,957.66 for the maintenance of highways in Dallas county; that the cost to the company was $21,957.25, and that in the period of time, April 1, to October 1, the profit was $38,000.41.

City Profits

The defendant is alleged to have received $55,633.70 for maintenance in Tarrant county and to have spent $27,618.76, making a profit of $28,014.94; that on maintenance alone, there was a profit of $66,015.33 on a gross income from the state for maintenance of $115,591.36.

It is alleged that the company received $1,333,269.05 for re-surfacing which, it is claimed, cost the company $394,219.84, and on which work the company is alleged to have made a profit of $939,049.21, between April 1 and October 1.

For reconstruction of Parker county highways, the company is claimed to have received $270,020 on work which cost the company $159,973.08, showing a profit of $110,646.92.

The petition charges that the American Road company was formed in Delaware and it names the corporation and E. S. Heyser, W. K. McIlvar, W. Whitaker Brodnax, T. D. McGinnis, H. S. Cleaver, and Miss H. L. Johnson, collectively and individually as defendants.

Questions Lanham's Act

It charges that Frank V. Lanham, chairman of the highway commission, "did not have the legal capacity of the legal authority to so contract on behalf of the highway commission or on behalf of the state of Texas, and said proposals and attempted acceptances did not constitute or represent a legal obligation or a binding contract on the part of the state of Texas, because it is here shown that said highway commission alone could make a valid and binding contract between the state of Texas and others for the creation, improvement, construction or maintenance of public highways in this state, and did not have the legal authority to delegate the duty or responsibility of making such contracts to the chairman of said commission or any other person."

The petition goes into detail on the contracts of the road company with the highway department and states "your petitioner avers that each and all of the aforesaid proposals attempted acceptances and attempted contracts were a part of one transaction, which is inseparable, and was but pursuant to the purpose of the individual defendants above named in organizing the defendant American Road company, as a corporate fiction through which they would pursue the unlawful conduct hereinafter particularly alleged and thereby defraud the state of Texas of large sums of money.

"Upon information and belief, it is alleged that in the attempted acceptance of said proposals, and in the attempted making of said contract, by John H. Bickett, Sr., member of the said comission, did not act but that eleven of said acts on the part of the said highway commission were the acts of Frank V. Lanham, chairman and Joe Burkett, member of the highway commission of Texas."

McALLEN MAN KILLED.

McALLEN, Nov. 5.—Salbador Gutirres was accidentally killed at his home in McAllen Tuesday night when a pistol under his pillow was discharged.

When Alice Calhoun was a little girl she used to go to see motion pictures in a little neighborhood theater in Cleveland, O., her birthplace. Tom Mix shared with Maurice Costello the principal place in her childish affections.

"When I grow up," Alice often said to her self, "I'm going to act. I'm going to play with big, handsome men like Tom Mix and Maurice Costello."

Her prediction, so far as Mix was concerned, came true recently when she was cast opposite the William Fox western star in "The Everlasting Whisper," which is playing a three-day engagement at the Strand theater. This is Miss Calhoun's first picture with Mix.

Now, back in Cleveland, at the little theater where Alice used to go, her name is displayed in electric lights.

Others in the cast of "The Everlasting Whisper," which is adapted from Jackson Gregory's novel, are Robert Cain, George Berrell, Virginia Maadison and Karl Dane.

STALEY BRIDGE OVER RED WILL BE READY SOON

Frederick-Vernon Span Rapidly Nears Completion

FREDERICK, Nov. 5.—Completion of the Frederick-Vernon bridge across Red river south of Davidson will be accomplished within a few days, according to statements coming from J. A. Staley, owner, of Wichita Falls, Falls. Rapid progress has been made on the span, considering flood conditions, and other things which have stood in the way of construction work.

Staley stated today that he was undecided as to when the bridge would be opened for traffic, but declared that he thought it would be best to wait until Tillman county had completed the Oklahoma approach to the structure. The Texas road has been graded but Tillman county's side is a mass of sand hills.

This will give a new outlet to travel in southwestern Oklahoma. The bridge is on the path of the Lee highway, which has also been designated as a national arterial road.

(Pete) Alexander, a young man of Corsicana, while Alexander was under indictment for criminal assault upon Butler's daughter, Mary, student nurse at Corsicana. Butler pleaded guilty when brought to trial this morning and asked for a suspended term.

The Blooming Grove farmer declared upon the witness stand, that he shot Alexander because he could not stand for his daughter to again go through the ordeal of gruelling examinations she had been subjected to in the case of Lester Paulk. The Paulk case was parallel to that of Alexander, Paulk also a Corsicana youth, was given 99 years in the penitentiary upon conviction in district court here recently for criminal assault. He and Alexander were alleged to have taken Miss Butler and Miss Bess Hilderbrand to a lonely spot near Corsicana and assaulted them. Miss Butler testified in both cases. During her examination today she wept bitterly.

When the verdict was returned and the judge had passed sentence, Butler immediately accepted and then shook hands with the jurymen, thanking all of them and the judge.

The trial drew a large attendance from Navarro and Ellis counties.

Rub It On At Bed-Time

For Deep Chest Colds

All colds should be treated with vapors, for vapors alone can carry the medication DIRECTLY to the air passages and lungs.

Vick's is a "vapor" treatment in salve form. For deep chest colds you first apply hot wet towels over throat and chest to open the pores, then massage briskly with Vicks for 5 minutes, spread on thickly and cover with a flannel cloth.

Vicks not only penetrates like a poultice or plaster, but the ingredients, vaporized by the body heat, are inhaled all night long.

This double action usually checks the most stubborn cold over night.

Say Tax Threatens Home Owners

AVERAGE MAN TO BE UNABLE TO OWN HOME

Tendency to Increase Tax Rate May Prove Disastrous

AUSTIN, Nov. 5—(AP)—If taxes continue to increase the average individual, especially salaried people, will be unable to own their own homes, Frank D. Scotten, Jr., of El Paso, president of the Tax Assessors' Association of Texas, declared in his annual address before the twentieth annual convention opened here today for a two-day session.

"There has been a gradual increase in the burden of taxation in Texas for the past several years which, if continued, will prevent individual owners of homes in future generations," President Scotten said. He pointed out that the present taxation system is ineffective, unequal and insufficient, and advocated a general revision of the system. There should be an increase from the $13 per capita apportionment for scholastics in the schools he said.

City Jail Guests Slower With Spade Than With a Fork

Maybe they don't cost so much, but unwilling guests at the city jail haven't turned out to be very effective workmen when it comes to swinging picks and shovels.

When Mayor Shephard insisted last Monday night that some work be found for prisoners laying out fines in the city jail, commissioners under whose direction big forces of men are employed had to do some long thinking.

A chain gang was accordingly started, but a report last night from a sector where eight vags and drunks were digging a pipe ditch indicated "progress slow." The gang, it was said, had already been engaged on this particular project for two days, whereas three or four regular workmen of the department would have done it in less than one.

Probe Of Wichita Girl's Death Halted

It was learned Thursday that official investigation into the sudden death last Sunday night of Mercedes Morgan had come to a virtual halt. The stomach of the girl, who died under circumstances indicating she had been poisoned, is still in a local laboratory, notwithstanding reports that it had been sent to Austin for further examination by state chemists.

No results have been obtained in a search for a man against whom criminal complaints were lodged after the girl's death.

New Pump Is Being Installed By City

Working crews of the city water department are busy installing a new 10,000,000 gallon pump at the pumping station and hope to have it in working shape by next summer.

With the new machine in operation the city will have a battery of three pumps, two of 10,000,000 gallon capacity each, and one of 5,000,000 gallon capacity.

Daily requirements now are running slightly in excess of 3,000,000 gallons.

HIGH POINTS OF NOVEMBER BALLOTING.

Politics is an interesting game. Some of the time it is a sordid game. Most of the time it is an exhilerating game. November elections have taken place in several states and many important cities. Now the echoes are coming in. Now the political writers will analyze the returns, and the victories and defeats.

New York comes first. New York City elected State Senator James J. Walker by more than 400,000 majority and Walker carried to victory every democrat who was a candidate for office in all the five boroughs of the greatest city. Gov. Alfred E. Smith was the backer of Walker and the slogan was "a vote for Jimmie is a vote for Al."

Those who are familiar with political conditions know that the real victory that Governor Smith won was in putting over three important amendments to the constitution of his state. One to float a bond issue of $100,000,000.00 to do away with what is known as "Death Rail Crossings." This had the opposition of Elihu Root, Charles Evans Hughes, Senator James W. Wadsworth and all the lesser leaders and bosses of the republican party. Smith won. Death crossings are to be abolished in the great state of New York.

A second amendment was won authorizing the legislature to consolidate under one head many departments of the state government and for the people to elect instead of the governor appoint certain heads of departments. Smith won. Another amendment was one providing for the short ballot. Only the machine leaders of the republican party fought this reform measure.

It was some big victory for the democrats of the city of New York and the state of New York. Across the river lies New Jersey. New Jersey gave Calvin Coolidge 350,000 majority a year ago. This year A. Harry Moore, democrat, was elected governor by 40,000 majority and carried his state ticket with him. He ran as the candidate of the democrats and the wets.

His rival, Senator Arthur Whitney, had the backing of both factions of the republican party. Whitney ran as a dry, and the anti-saloon league backed him to the last ditch. This should serve to introduce to the public Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City, the most powerful of all the so-called democratic bosses of the east. Arthur Brisbane has said that Mayor Hague is the cleverest and ablest political strategist in the higher councils of the democratic party. Now Jersey republican leaders had a slogan, "a vote for Whitney is a vote for the policies of the administration. It is Coolidgism vs. Hagueism." President Coolidge was dragged into the fight. He didn't walk in. If slogans count, then it was a triumph for Hagueism and a bit of a knock-out for the republican leaders who invented the slogan.

New York and New Jersey are democratic states on local issues. Some say they may be democratic states on national issues. Another election which became of national significance centered around John Smith of Detroit. Mayor Smith is a republican, and his church affiliation is Catholic. Charles Bowles ran as the candidate of the moral up-lifters, the ku klux klan and many church people who insisted that their city is the wettest and rottenest in the world. It was the nastiest campaign of the year, with religious and racial issues uppermost, and the political wires crossed in every direction.

Henry Ford is the first citizen of Detroit. He is the first citizen of Michigan. In the closing hours of the campaign he let loose a bugle blast. He said that the ku klux klan, the Knights of Columbus, the Masons and the labor organizations were very much out of place in this republic, that they were responsible for the world war and unless checked in their progress, they would be responsible for another war. He closed by denouncing all attempts at fomenting religious animosity in political elections and governmental affairs and declared his preference for John Smith for mayor.

John Smith won. It was a mixed victory in many ways and it will be a long time before the politicians of Detroit and the voters get the bad taste out of their mouth. Henry Ford made history in a local contest involving the election of municipal servants. He had his say and his message will be quoted for years to come in the political contests of the future.

Boston democratic leaders cut their own throats and let in a republican for the first time since 1905 and yet Boston has a normal democratic majority of 40,000. All these elections were for state or municipal control. Republicans almost made a clean sweep of Indiana cities, while in Virginia and Kentucky the democrats held their own and appeared to be satisfied.

National issues were not involved, except in New Jersey, where the republican politicians had their fingers burned and in New York where the cry went down the republican line "Beat Al Smith by beating the amendments."

When it comes to local politics, democrats are wonders; when it comes to national elections, there appears to be, at least in recent years, five or six million American voters who cast their ballots for the national candidates of the republican party and the platform demands and policies of this same party of the elephants.

YALE AND ITS WEALTH.

Yale college is not in a starving condition. Its total resources have been revealed as $44,245,224.00. The endowments increased approximately $2,000,000 over 1924 and now stand at $41,646,983.00. This is an increase of $16,500,000 in five years, and is over $25,000,000 greater than the funds on June 30, 1915.

Texas university may rank ahead of Yale college some day in resources. Oil royalties continue to pour in. Before the end of the year these royalties may go beyond the $2,000,000 mark. There are oil magnates who say that the Reagan field bids fair to become one of the most productive under southwestern skies, and that a billion barrels of oil may be taken from the university lands in that section of the state.

Oil geologists and oil scouts are very wise men, but not all-wise. They are satisfied that the university lands in time will pay into the treasury of the university many millions of dollars.

If this should happen, the pride of Texas will be one of the richest state educational institutions under American skies, but why permit the university to starve while the royalty wealth is rolling in?

Uncommon Sense

WHAT IS LIFE WORTH?

A few weeks ago the steamship President Harding, responding to an SOS call found an Italian vessel floundered and sinking.

The wind was blowing more than 50 miles an hour.

Giant seas made it almost impossible to launch a life-boat.

But there was just a chance.

The captain of the President Harding took it. He called for volunteers to go into a boat if one could be launched.

There were more than enough responses. The men knew that they would risk their lives in the attempted rescue.

They were not sure that the rescue could be brought about.

Most of them had spent many years on the sea, and knew how helpless is a little boat in a gale.

But when the boat was over the side and afloat on the water, which had been smeared with oil to keep the great billows from breaking, she had a full crew, and many men who had wanted to go remained disappointed on the deck.

The rescue was made, although with difficulty.

The men on the Italian vessel wre told to jump free of their vessel. They did so and were picked up.

Then the little life-boat was brought back to the President Harding and after much maneuvering all on board were saved.

This is a kind of heroism which can be found every day, and the world around.

We regard, in ordinary times, life as our most valuable possessions.

The instinct of self preservation moves us to try to save it at any cost.

But it is never worth as much to decent men as is the life of a fellow man when that life can be saved.

Through the war cases of heroism were so numerous that few of them could be recorded.

Men were constantly risking their lives to save those of their comrades—often men they had not seen until the day the opportunity for heroism came.

Heroism like that shown by the crew of the Harding is shown every day in industry, in every day's events.

The policeman walks his beat amid districts infested with criminals who would not hesitate to kill him to get him out of their way; but he never wavers.

A recently recorded case tells how one officer went into a dark room where he knew five bandits were hidden—all of them armed.

He arrested them all, but not till he had been shot twice through the body and once through the neck.

He knew he might never come out, but his job was to get the bandits, so he got them.

Life may be worth everything to the coward, but the brave man would rather lose his than fail in his duty to other men.

It cannot be such a wicked world as the alarmists would have us think, when not a day passes that we do not read of feats of valor as notable as any done in any war.

PUBLIC FUNERAL OF NEGRO.

A public funeral was held a few days since for John W. Underhill, the only negro resident of Maysland, New Jersey. He had bequeathed an estate valued at $100,000 to Hamilton township, New Jersey for the building of play grounds and a gymnasium for the school. Very elaborate was the ceremony. Clergymen of three denominations, Methodist, Presbyterian and Roman Catholic joined in officiating and the combined choirs of the three churches played a very prominent part.

This is not all. A lot in the burial ground of the oldest and most aristrocratic families in New Jersey is the resting place of the negro and a fitting memorial over the grave will be erected by his bereaved townsmen.

Remarkable as it may seem, Underhill's two sisters living in Nebraska received bequests of $500 each. He had lived many years at Maysland. He was the only negro in the community. He kept a general store. He was a great favorite with the children of the community.

He created a fortune at Mayslanding, and when he made his will, he ignored his sisters and decreed that his estate should be used for the building and play grounds and a gymnasium for the white children he had loved so well.

Of course, all the people of Mayslanding had flowers for the dead. Did they hand the negro bunches of posies while he was in the land of the living. After he had passed on, they agreed that it is possible for a man having a black skin to be the owner of a white soul or else three ministers and three choirs of the community would not have been called in to officiate, and a resting place would not have been given him in the cemetery where generations of white aristocrats are sleeping their last sleep.

VELVET FOR SOFT COAL MINERS.

There is a large army of hard coal miners on strike in the anthracite regions. They have been on strike since early September. There is demand for soft coal, and the demand is being met. In one week the soft coal mines east of the Rocky mountains scored a production of more than 12,000,000 tons, making a new high record.

Hard coal barons of Pennsylvania say they never will yield to the demands of the strikers. President John L. Lewis, who is the big voice of the miner's organization, swears that they will never resume work until their demands have been met.

It is a game of freeze out with the kings of the soft coal industry taking down the velvet and the users of coal in New England cities and elsewhere turning from hard to soft fuel.

President Lewis may sing a different song "when winter comes." Since the strike began, the miners have lost millions in wages, the hard coal barons have lost millions in profit, and the buyers of coal, hard or soft, have been compelled to pay the prices fixed by the operators.

In a strike, which side wins? In a strike, isn't it the public that carries the load as well as pays the price?

The World At Its Worst. By GLUYAS WILLIAMS

WHAT TODAY MEANS TO YOU

By MARY BLAKE

Scorpio

Today's planetary aspects are, until the late afternoon, quite adverse. At sundown they change, and become benign, although not actively favorable. As the prevailing influences during the day will engender pessimism and doubt, as well as create misunderstanding and differences, it would be futile, under such auspices, to do anything but routinne work. If you keep your mind on this, and crary out your usual daily obligations to the best of your ability, you will succeed in avoiding the temptations that will assail you to be come either querulous or downcast. In the evening, the signs denote that mental rest and contentment can be found in the social or family circle, and the happiness then enjoyed will fully compensate for the worrying influences of the day.

Children born today will be subject, in their infancy, to many rather serious ailments, but are assured of physical normalcy later on, if proper care, especially in regard to nutrition, be given them. Temperamentally, a boy will be very different from a girl. The former will be lusty and frank. One who, by his openness, can be easily understood, and just as easily managed; never destined to become a genius, but who will get out of life a great deal of enjoyment. A girl, however, will be quiet and reserved. One, who by her reticence, will be hard to understand, and difficult to manage; inherently intellectual and only destined to be happy if she can find a mate to love and to serve.

If today is your birthday, your optimism, combined with your inherent belief in your own destiny, has saved you, and still saves you, from despair or disappointment. No matter what your circumstances may be, regardless of the conditions that surround you, the future has something good in store for you, so, why worry? Yours is a happy disposition, and even though your dreams may not come true, you will have derived greater pleasure from life than those who fail to see its roseate hues.

You are not selfishly ambitious, but are anxious to do all that you can for those who are near and dear to you. Your home life is very happy, as the trifling incidents that worry others, are dismissed from your mind as of no significance.

POEMS THAT LIVE

Aladdin.

When I was a beggarly boy,
And lived in a cellar damp,
I had not a friend nor a toy,
But I had Aladdin's lamp;
When I could not sleep for the cold,
I had fire enough in my brain,
And builded with roofs of gold
My beautiful castles in Spain!

Since then I have toiled day and night,
I have money and power good store,
But I'd give all my lamps of silver bright
For the one that is mine no more;
Take, Fortune, whatever you choose—
You gave and may snatch again;
I have nothing 'twould pain me to lose,
For I own no more castles in Spain!

Dustless sweeping, so I'm told, knocks the doctor out of gold.

HOW IT STARTED

CALLING IT "PHAETON"

In this day of modern ascendency, it is surprising to many of us to reflect that well within the memory of the present generation city streets and country lanes were lined with "buggies" and the swain going a'courting traveled not in a sport touring but most probably in the phaeton.

A four-wheeled carriage with no side pieces at the seats, the phaeton was one of the most popular horse-drawn vehicles and one which is usually seen today on speedways and roads where lovers of the horse and rein foregather. And the origin of its name reveals a most illustrious descent. Its ancestry, in name at least, takes us to a character in Greek mythology and a vehicle of the gods. For "Phaeton" was the son of Phoebus, the sun god, who insisted, to his misfortune, on driving the charit of the sun. It is through the story of his experience on this extraordinary drive that he is familiar to readers of mythology and because, we are told, of the similarity in shape of the modern vehicle with the golden chariot which was his for a day, that the little carriage we know was given his name.

SUB ROSA BY MIMI

NO USE "RUSHING" HIM

Let me warn you, girls—there is absolutely no percentage in "rushing" the man you want to attract.

Various deluded maidens are using that method of approach today and perhaps one in a hundred is getting away with it.

The rest of the poor souls have finally given up in despair and acknowledged themselves beaten or else go on making fools of themselves.

Its so easy to rush a man nowalays and most girls belong to some kind of club or sorority or social oragnization of some sort, and as they're continually giving dances, its the simplest thing in the world to ask the elusive male to be your escort.

He will probably accept—most men don't refuse an invitation to an inexpensive good time—and he may enjoy himself thoroughly, thanking you very politely indeed as he bids you goodnight.

Then you hang around waiting for the phone to ring and after two weeks of fruitless waiting you decide to have another try.

This time you ask him to an informal house party to which you've been asked to bring a man.

Again he enjoys himself, again he thanks you profusely—and there you are.

Of course, if he knows what's what, he'll take you somewhere—do something for you, just to return the courtesy.

And of course, you may get to be very good friends, but you're not likely to be sweethearts.

Men are, after all, the old conventional males who want to do the rushing. When a girl pursues a man with phone calls, invitations to dances, charming little notes, etc., the mere man may be flattered but he says to himself, "Now why in time should she be rushing me? Must be pretty hard up for someone if she's got to keep inviting a comparative stranger."

Which, of course, is exactly the wrong impression for any girl to make on the object of her affections.

So many wealthy girls let themselves in for a good deal of disappointment and ridicule by using their wealth as bait for the boys they like.

You see the young heiress putting her car at Mr. Right's disposal—calling on him when she just happens to be in the neighborhood of his business—buying theatre tickets and asking him to use them.

And she seldom wins out—unless the man be a confirmed fortune hunter.

Girls in poorer circumstances have less opportunity for offering a man material advantages in return for his affections—but still the practice of rushing Prince Charming is prevalent everywhere and its a poor game.

By all means use every trick in your repertoire to ensnare a man if you want him, but don't think you can win his heart with a flood of invitations and attentions. Its much better to use methods artful enough to make him aware that you're on his trail.

Always use the stealthy approach rather than the headlong rush.

SYNOPSIS

Connemara Moore was to announce her engagement tonight at Aunt Celimena's Connecticut home but, instead, she garbed herself as a nun and disappeared. Hailing David Lacy, who was passing, they drove to the Sound and crossed it together. After driving to the other shore of Long Island, they find themselves aboard a yacht with Pooch, Doc, McTish and Sweetie, all strangers to them. There is much talk of bootleggers and pursuits by revenue officers.

CHAPTER IX—Continued

Connemara was obedient, and watched Sweetie, fascinated, as the girl shook out the ample breadths of the nun's robe. "Lot's of stuff here, even if it is kinda ragged out. Listen—I'm going to cut you a new dress, a one-piece slip, and sew it together so you'll look human. You can't go round here with all this mess flapping round your feet, specially when you got such good looking feet. Lemme hold this up to you. Gee, you certainly got swell underclo'es."

She held the stuff against Connemara, and then hacked away at it boldly. She seized the needle and thread, and made stitches so swift that Connemara's eyes could not follow them. She was fiercely concentrated and did not speak, except once, to murmur, "Gee, this brings back the days at Madame's."

Connemara, watching her, realized that Sweetie was really a very pretty girl, and that with her bold bandit manner laid aside she was rather a nice one with considerable strength of character in her features.

"Flashes from the masthead!"

It took Sweetie hardly half an hour to do her work. She stood up and slipped the garment she had made over Connemara's head. She tore off a long strip of the stuff that was left and tied it deftly about her waist. "'Course I haven't hemmed it, but fringe around the bottom of the skirt is good enough style. And it ain't got sleeves, but that's style too. And believe me, girlie, the sewing ain't any worse than lots I've seen in French models. Say, you look swell; honest you do. I always was the one to get good lines, if I do say it myself."

Connemara craned her neck at her reflection in the little mirror. The dress in the essentials was exactly like many others hung in her wardrobe at home, a sleeveless one-piece slip, with a simple tie belt. "Pretty nifty, eh?" said Sweetie, "I'll tell the world it is. Say, you and me—we look like a high-class boating party now. This shingle bob of mine goes grand with my pants."

Shingle bob! At the words Connemara turned and looked at her companion, her eyes distended—it might have been with fear, or perhaps merely excitement. Her hair—it must be hidden. But how? Sudden decision seized her. She stooped and gathered up the remains of her nun's costume, and tore another strip off it.

"I need a hat to go with my dress," she said briefly. "Look—a woman in Paris showed me how to make a turban right on your head. She used tulle, but this will do." Deftly and carefully she folded the strip of white stuff. Deftly and carefully she bound it round her head with a clever twist over in the front that gave it character and shape. "It's on the same principle that the Hindus wind their turbans," she explained, not remembering that Sweetie's knowledge of Hindus and their turbans was probably nil. The little box that had held the sewing materials yielded several big pins, regular man's size spikes of pins. Connemara tucked the ends of the strip under at the side and secured them with two of these pins. A pin on the other side, and one in front held the rest of the turban perfectly taut and trim.

"There," she said to Sweetie, "what do you think of it?"

Sweetie was moved to genuine admiration. "Kid, you're there!" she exclaimed. "If you didn't get into a strong light, anybody's say you looked like a million dollars. That's the niftiest bonnet I've seen in a thousand years. Show me how to do that trick sometime, will you?"

"I certainly will," said Connemara. "The best of this is it hides my hair completely, and that's what I want. There's a reason, Sweetie, and though it seems remote now, during a night like this I feel that I must prepare for any contingency. But I haven't thanked you for making my dress. It's a wonderful dress, Sweetie, and you're the cleverest girl I ever met. And oh, how different I feel with it on!"

"To say nothing of how wonderful you look," added Sweetie. "Say, take a piece of the left-over goods and use it for a scarf. A scarf's all you need to make you right up to the minute and a couple seconds beyond."

She rummaged through the wreckage of the nun's costume once more. "There musta been twenty yards of goods in this rig," she exclaimed. "Lucky there was too. Here, how's this?" She brought out a long piece and laid it over Connemara's shoulders. "Throw it round your neck sort of swell and careless. That's the idea. Well, come on, let's go and see what the babies on deck are up to. I'll bet their eyes will pop when they see us. Pants do give you such a good free feeling—I wisht women never wore skirts."

They came out of the bunk room into the dimness of the deck, and as they did so David Lacy came forward.

"I've missed your sweet society, dear ladies, very much," he started to say, and then his voice sharpened to amazement. He was staring at Connemara, metamorphosed from a nun into a modern girl, white frock, white turban, white scarf. "Why," he exclaimed breathlessly, "why—you are—you are—I did see you at Auteuil—I could swear—but no, it's too fantastic——"

He broke off, aware that the girl was staring past him with puzzled eyes.

"What's the matter with that little light on the mast?" she asked. "It's been giving the queerest flashes for the last two minutes—long and short ones like somebody signaling."

CHAPTER X

Robert Gordon Anderson

By Robert Gordon Anderson

"Flashes from the masthead!" Lacy's words were half startled ejaculation, half question, his glance following the direction of hers.

Sure enough, the lantern winked once, then relapsed into its usual fixed white stare. The signaling, if signaling it was, had ceased.

Perplexed, for he had never rigged up any such outfit on his boat, he looked around for the cause. McTish was again bending over his engine; Pooch and Doc were still lying hog-tied, forward. But no! Doc had moved from his position—undoubtedly by rolling—several widths of him, aft to the heel of the mast.

"Didn't I tell you to stay where you were put?" Lacy demanded of the recumbent Doc, and tried to prod him away. Doc, however, proved stubborn, and the young man drew back his leg in that arc which Charley O'Hearn—and the reporters—so gracefully describe, when he tries for goal in the Yale Bowl. But apparently the beauty of that line from heel to hip had no charms for Doc. Under its threat he moved reluctantly, and Lacy, bending over, discovered a button sunk a little below the level of the deck so that no passing heel could depress it.

At 2,805 with a hole full of water, the well topped a sand with a showing of oil and gas. It is understood that a string of five and three-sixteenths will be run in the hole in an effort to shut off the water. Benedum-Tres took the well which was originally drilled by Sigler, at a depth somewhere below 2,600 feet.

Location of the well is in the northeast quarter of section 184, block H, Waco and Northwestern Railway company survey.

ISSUE PLEA TO VOTERS TO PAY POLL TAX NOW

Only 268 Have Made The Trip so Far, Is Report

Two hundred and sixty-eight poll taxes have been paid in Wichita county thus far, it was reported Thursday by deputy tax collectors who profess to see in this slim number a forerunner of the last minute crush that will bring thousands clamoring for tax office attention late next January. About 19,000 poll taxes will be paid here this year, it is estimated, and like the last minute Christmas shoppers, 90 per cent will wait until the final three or four days. Then they will throng the tax office, jam it to the bursting point, force tired and overworked deputies to stay on the job 18 hours a day—and growl because they have to stand in line an hour or so.

On the last day in January of this years, 3,200 poll tax receipts were issued by the tax office between 6 o'clock in the morning when it opened and midnight when it closed. In addition, of course, the office handled other thousands of receipts for current tax payments made on property holdings; it issued hundreds of auto license tags and attended to a myriad other details.

A determined effort is to be made this year to impress on the taxpaying public the great saving in labor that can be effected at the tax office by making settlements now. Tax Collector Raley and his aides know, however, that when the last day of January rolls around it will be another case of frenzied mobs clamoring for attention they could have received without hesitation earlier.

Through a Woman's Eyes

"Things Might Go Better."

The other day a tall man, elegantly dressed, swung himself upon the platform of a street car in Bordeaux and took out a cigarette. His lighter failed to work, whereupon a fellow-passenger, evidently a workman, politely gave him a light from his own cigarette. Then the two men entered into conversation on the perennial topic, the high cost of living.

"I suppose you are a manufacturer?" said the workman.

"No, I have no business," replied the other. "I havean old house which descends from father to son."

"Things are going well " asked the workman.

"Why, they might go better," replied his vis-a-vis.

The tall man says the "Cri de Paris," one of the leading periodicals of Paris, was Alfonson, King of Spain.

And he said "things might go better"—the man, in the eyes of the workman the most favored of all persons on earth—a king, with his palace and his court and his retinue of servants and retainers and his leisure to do as he wills and all the luxuries and pleasure in the world at his beck and call!

"What a strange world!" would doubtless be the workman's comment if he learned the identity of his friend of the street car, "when a king refers to his palace as an 'old house' and says 'things might go better!"

For that workman probably lives under the misapprehension of those who have little of the world's goods, as to their value in bringing happiness to those who have them as a matter of course. To his mind, doubtless, possession of that "old house" would make further happiness and contentment impossible. How could "things go better," when one has everything?

Little does he know, however, the problems which confront the crowned head and other him perhaps the mental freedom and rest from care that is enjoyed by the workman when his day's work is done. Little thought does he give to the responsibility involved by the possession of great wealth, to the great restrictions and frictions in the more complicated existence. Little does he realize, in the security of his labor or his trade, how uncertain that may be of the tenure of his job.

To rich and poor alike life is inexorable task master. To those to whom a sufficiency of the world's goods comes as a matter of course and who are therefore not occupied with the struggle for existence, this gives place to others no less trying and no less severe which even great possessions are powerless to facilitate or to lighten. To all of us alike, come the problems of health and sickness, of character and disposition of love and content and happiness. The man or woman who returns from the day's hard work to a happy family circle has more joy of life than the million aire with a dishonest son or the queen with a faithless husband, or the master of men who has within himself a weakness which he cannot control.

Like the fixtures or a room which the occupants scarcely notice because they take them for granted wealth and position to those who have them, may have very little relation with happiness or what they get out of life. In the instances where these are an element of conscious appreciation and happiness it is usually because they represent achievement, success, the triumph over obstacles, in other words, the reward of the self made.

Though it may seem inconceivable to the workman, nothing would have no difficulty in understanding another monarch's complaint that "things might go better."

TINNEY STILL COURTS TALL BLONDE, CLAIM

Divorce Proceedings Begun Against Ex-Broadway Star

NEW YORK, Nov. 5—(AP)—Divorce suit of Mrs. Frank Tinney, wife of the former Broadway comedian whose escapades with Imogene (Bubbles) Wilson recently startled the Rialto was began today before Supreme Court Justice Riegelman in Mineola. Counsel for Tinney announced he would not contest the suit as far as custody of his son, Frank, 7, was concerned but that the comedian would fight bitterly the claim for $750 monthly alimony asked by his wife.

One of the witnesses today testified that Tinney was living in a hotel at New Castle-On-Tyne, England, with a tall blonde known as "Bubbles." The witness testified Tinney and "Bubbles" were registered as man and wife.

"At no time during our conversations," testified George A. Hopkins, Tinney's counsel, "was Tinney sober." He fixed Tinney's income as about $500 a week. Another witness said Tinney made $1,500 a week from one booking in England and from $1,000 to $1,500 additional by appearing at night clubs.

TODAY, TEA TO MUSICIANS CLUB

Visiting Artist Will Be Engaged For Informal Affair

By PEGGY PIEDMONT

NOT only are members of the Musician's club and their escorts invited to the informal tea to be given at the home of the president, Mrs. A. H. Britain this afternoon and evening, but the club is extending a warm welcome to all who are anxious to ally themselves with the music of the city. The active membership counts amongst its list the best musical talent in the city, and the club is anxious to have all music lovers who are not instrumentalists, but who are anxious to join the club as associate members. Those who come in as associate members will be privileged to enjoy the elaborate programs planned by the club for the forthcoming year at both the study and evening meetings.

IN addition to these programs, visiting artists are also to be engaged. And all who are not associate members of the club are invited to attend this tea and enroll themselves. The entertainment both afternoon and evening is announced to be most informal, and an air of mystery surrounds an original program planned for the entertainment of the guests.

* * *

And then there is the music department of the Junior high school. Probably in no other schol in the city, is this art receiving more attention. Under the supervision of Mrs. Hermione Stewart Vaghn, herself a talented artist, interest and being awakened in every child in the school, and for this purpose, there is given unison singing in large groups twice a week.

FOR the more musical child, is offered the girls chorus and the boys chorus, twice a week. And then from these large choruses are selected the best voices and talent for part singing to compose the Girls Glee club and the Boys Glee club—then there is a girls vocal trio composed of Evelyn Brown, soprano; Rosalyn Joseph, second soprano, and Lura Arbuckle, alto. These three girls with Irene Goff, also comprise the girls quartette.

And much is being displayed in the orchestra, and according to their teacher, they are doing fine work. In this orchestra is a saxaphone trio composed of Edward Napier, Ralph Anderson and Harry Lewis, and the other orchestra members are: First violins, Mabel Hutson, Aaron Kruger, Thelma Newell, Dorothy Allison, Beulah Nell Ray, Allan Nash, Dorwood Park and Loren Walker. Second violins, Paul Cain, Ruby Spivey, George Boyes and T. H. Blanton; saxaphones, Ralph Anderson and Harry Lewis; clarinet, Rav Young; piano, Marie Albritton; harp, Ann Evarts, and drums, Loren Walker.

AN interesting feature in the music department of the Junior high this harp solos played by Ann Evarts Maryear, according to Mrs. Vaughn, is the tin, who has recently moved here from Los Angeles, Calif. Miss Martin is said to play the harp remarkably well for one of her age, and her instrument is a beautiful expensive gold Italian one.

Seventy-five people of the Junior high will be seen next month in the operetta "Windmills of Holland" when the costuming and scenery will be unusually beautiful.

So from all this we gather that it is useless for school children to sit around and dry up. There is surely plenty for them to do. All that is necessary is to just let people know what you can do. The teachers may be looking for boys and girls just like you, but did not know where to find them.

IT has been said that the study of books is not all of a college course. Books act more as an excuse for staying there and paying your board and tuition. The greater lessons are after all what we learn by association with other students and other people and through the social activities of the school.

In Vanity Revue

Mrs. Hermione Stewart Vaughn, supervisor of music in the Junior high school, is one of Wichita Falls' most talented soloists. She will sing a leading role in the Vanitay Fair Revue which is the annual production offered by the Business and Professional Women's club on Monday and Tuesday nights at the Majestic theatre. Mrs. Vaughn will take the part of Mimi from La Boheme.

BRIDGE DEATH MYSTERY HERE BAFFLES COPS

Quest for Slayer of August Hansen Appears Hopeless

While the body of August Hansen was enroute Thursday to his family in Cleburne, Texas, local peace officials continued what seems to be a hopeless quest for the slayers of the veteran mechanic. The city police department and district attorney's office kept steadily at their respective investigations, but it was admitted at the end of a long, hard day, that practically no purogress had been made.

Body Found Under Bridge

The second day of the case passed without bringing any essential change in the theory that Hansen, while on his way home from the business district late Tuesday night, was struck over the head, robbed by his assailants and his body hurled from the railroad bridge crossing the Wichita river north of town. The body was found Wednesday morning by a Katy train crew. A large bruise was on the forehead and a small puncture of the skull was found at the same place. The pockets had been rfiled of all cash.

Subsequent investigation revealed that Hansen, who worked in the Contractors Machine and Supply company shops in the 1300 block North Ninth street, had received a $100 pay check Tuesday afternoon; that he came to town, cashed it and sent $76 worth of money orders to his family in Cleburne. The balance he is supposed to have had in his pockets.

Man Followed Him

Hansen and two friends played dominoes in an uptown parlor until nearly midnight and then he started for hiss leeping quarters in the shop where he worked. A man who saw him leave the Ohio avenue domino parlor and to whom he is believed to have spoken, was said to have followed him down Ohio toward the river.

The Week's New Victor Records

SONG AND DANCE SPECIALTIES.

Aileen Stanley and Billy Murray stage a flapper act on their latest Victor Record in which one of the genus is urged by her mother to "Keep Your Skirts Down, Mary Ann." The philologian who may chance to run across this record a thousand years hence will be puzzled to decipher any sense from such specimens of flapper verbiage as "applesauce." This is an amusing and lively record with which is joined one in sentimental vein, "If I Had a Girl Like You."

OUT OF THE AIR—ONTO THE RECORDS.

From the radio to the more permanent form of Victor Records comes the famous Goodrich Silvertown Cord orchestra this week. It makes two fox trots in keeping with its reputation, including vocal refrains by its mysterious "masked tenor." "Brown Eyes, Why Are You Blue?" and "A Kiss in the Moonlight," are "zizzy" fox trots, curt and swift, the second including a bit of sentiment.

Paul Whiteman's orchestra makes a clever fox trot arrangement of Tobani's "Hearts and Flowers." With it is coupled a cheerful fox trot, "Peaceful Valley" both being played with splendid spirit and with scrupulous attention to detail.

"Collegiate's" kid brother, "Freshie" matriculates this week on a new Victor record by Waring's Pennsylvanians. Its vocal refrain is even funnier, 'twould seem, than that of the original. "Mighty Blue" of a different type, is catchy and mellow.

MAY BE TEXAS CONVICT

BEAUMONT, Nov. 5.—(AP)— A man who refuses to disclose his identity, but whose finger prints indicate he is Richard Charles Beall, convicted Houston forger, clever jail breaker from Fort Worth, and escaped Huntsville penitentiary convict, was arrested on a Southern Pacific passenger train here last night while attempting to steal a ride.

The lost article is easily found by a litle want ad in the Record News.

Starlit Nights Of Peace Came With Violin Back in '17

It was in the war years, about 1917.

On the bloody east front.

Where on one wing Hindenburg was winning his first and greatest victory.

On the right wing were his allies, the Hungarians.

In front of them the enemy—Russians, Cossacks.

The trench warfare stage had been reached.

Day after day, night after night—

Immovable bodies against irresistible forces.

Came nights under clear skies.

On the Hungarian front a violin,

Wonderful masters in the air.

A Russian Polka, perhaps; then a Russian love song.

War was forgotten, and in the Russian camp

The campaign tired peasants could hear.

When the music ceased they crawled out

And under the starry, fateful starlit, night

Crept toward the enemy's trenches

As the music ceased, they would loudly whisper

"More, more, more."

Again the strains of the Russian love songs.

Then the Russians crept back into their trenches.

Perhaps there was a shot or two, maybe a volley.

But i n the point of the sector where played the violin.

A silence, and nightly, starlit peace.

Generals, rulers, ordained slaughter, but

Just for that moment in the starlight night

The violin declared peace.

The player—just a youngster, seventeen,

Patriotism in his heart, he had run away

To fight for Franz Joseph, and age limits

Yet held him from the draft.

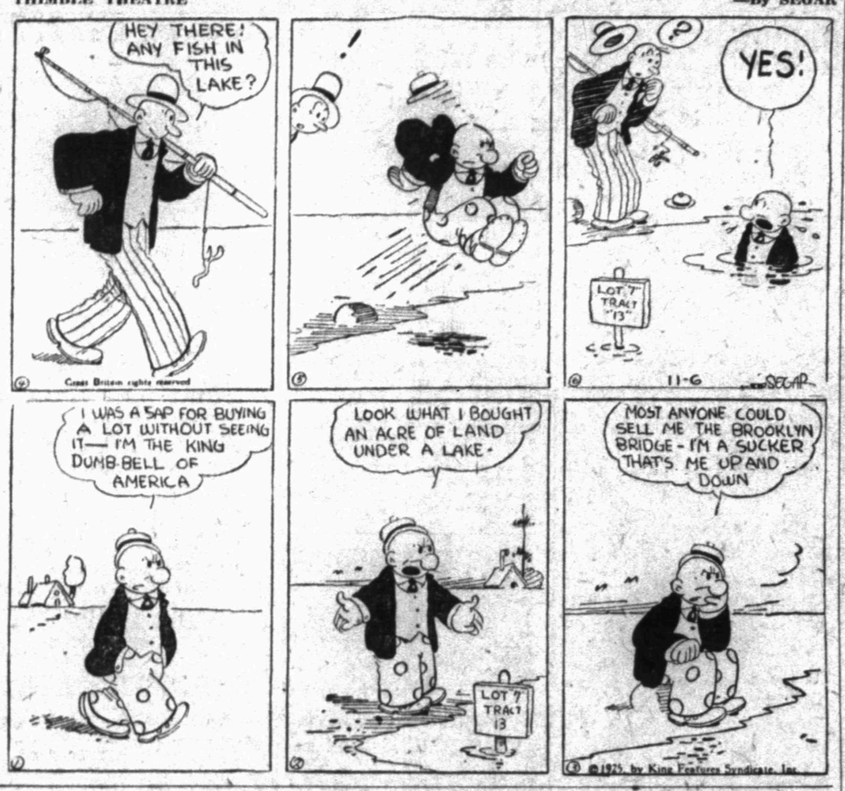

He was Duci de Kerekjarto

On this week's Majestic bill, a violinist

Superb. That was eight years ago.

Now he's 23.

More Truth Than Poetry

HEALTH AND BEAUTY

The doctor said to Myrtle,
"If you will wear those clothes—
You'll soon get stys on both your eyes,
And have a red, red nose,
For everything that ails you
The fashions are to blame."
She murmured, "Yes, that's true I guess,"
And wore them just the same.

The modiste said to Myrtle,
And smiled a scornful smile,
"Two months ago, as you should know,
That frock went out of style.
If people see you in it,
My goodness how they'll scoff—
What you've got on ain't real bon ton"
And Myrtle took it off.

The doctor said to Dolly,
"If you wear shoes like these
You'll fall a prey, day after day,
To every known disease,
Tight shoes give rise to illness,
Don't wear 'em, I repeat."
She said, "That's right, they are too tight,"
And kept 'em on her feet.

The shoe clerk said to Dolly,
"You know in gay Paree
The kind of shoes the ladies use
Are loose as they can be,
They make them dames walk easy,
Which gives 'em quite an air."
And Dolly said: "Well, go ahead
And fit a looser pair!"

ONCE UPON A TIME — THE THREE LITTLE ELVES—V.

by W. J. ENRIGHT.

THE STORY UP TO NOW

ONE WINTER DAY A CRUEL STEP-MOTHER SENT A LITTLE GIRL OUT TO FIND SOME STRAWBERRIES. THREE LITTLE ELVES PAID HER FOR HER KINDNESS TO THEM BY WISHING THAT EVERY TIME SHE SPOKE GOLD SHOULD DROP FROM HER LIPS, THAT SHE SHOULD GROW MORE BEAUTIFUL AND THAT A KING SHOULD MARRY HER. WHEN SHE SWEPT THE SNOW FROM THEIR STEP SHE FOUND THE STRAWBERRIES SHE WAS LOOKING FOR. SHE THANKED THE LITTLE MEN AND WENT HOME. HER STEP-SISTER, WISHING TO SHARE HER GOOD LUCK, STARTED OUT TO VISIT THE LITTLE ELVES.

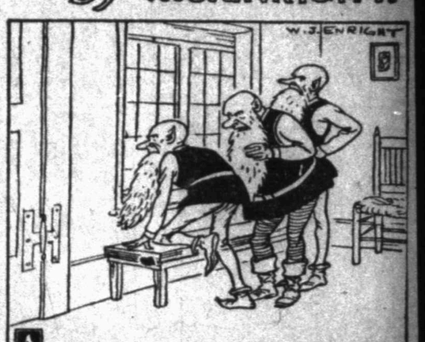

THE STEP-SISTER SET OUT FOR THE WOOD AND PRESENTLY CAME IN SIGHT OF THE LITTLE HOUSE. THE THREE LITTLE MEN WERE PEEKING OUT.

BUT WITHOUT EVEN KNOCKING SHE BOUNCED INTO THE ROOM, SAT DOWN UPON THE BENCH AND BEGAN EATING HER BREAD AND CAKES. "GIVE US SOME," SAID THE LITTLE MEN. "I HAVE SCARCELY ENOUGH FOR MYSELF," SHE SAID, "SO HOW CAN I GIVE YOU ANY?"

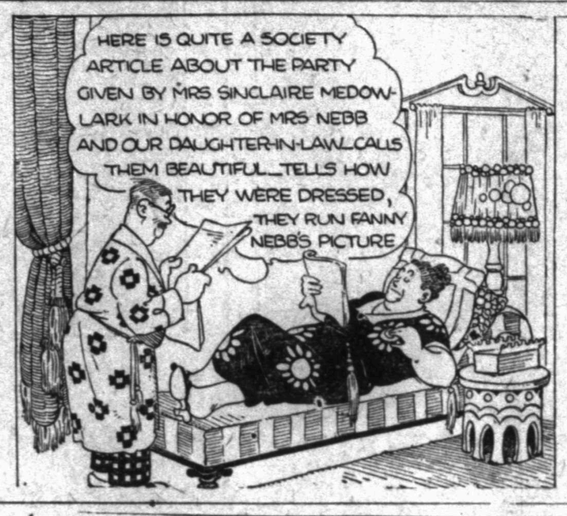

WHEN SHE HAD FINISHED EATING THEY SAID: "HERE IS A BROOM. GO AND SWEEP AWAY THE SNOW FROM OUR BACK DOOR." BUT SHE ANSWERED RUDELY: "DO IT YOURSELVES. I'M NOT YOUR MAID-SERVANT!" THEN AS THEY OFFERED HER NOTHING SHE GOT UP AND BOUNCED OUT. © McClure Newspaper Syndicate

AFTER SHE HAD GONE THE FIRST LITTLE MAN SAID: "MY GIFT TO THAT BAD-TEMPERED, GREEDY GIRL IS THAT SHE BECOMES UGLIER EVERY DAY." THE SECOND SAID: "WHENEVER SHE SPEAKS A TOAD WILL HOP OUT OF HER MOUTH." THE THIRD SAID: "SHE SHALL COME TO A BAD END."

Huge Golf Tourney Slated for Country Club Wednesday

BETWEEN 60 AND 75 MEN TO COMPETE

Scotch Foursome Play, Also Billed—Informal Dance In Evening

Wichita Falls golfers after quite a lapse in tournament play plan to swing into the biggest one-day meet of the year Wednesday on the Country club links, it was announced by Bill Strachan, club professional Thursday.

Between 60 and 75 linksmen are expected to compete in a mammoth combination medal play and two-team tourney Wednesday afternoon. A heavy turn-out is expected for a Scotch foursome (mixed foursome) tourney Wednesday morning.

Four prizes will be awarded in the Scotch foursome competition, two to the man and woman winning the tournament and two to the runners-up. Trophies will be given the medalist and runner-up in the afternoon tourney, and the losing team pays the costs of dinner at the club for the winners, said Strachan.

The day is to be climaxed by a large informal dance following the dinner.

Strachan and Jack Coates, club manager, are working together on plans for the day.

The two tournament teams will be captained by J. H. S. bonner and G. F. Reppy. A tournament committee of five is working on the competition plans. Lineups of the teams will be announced over the week-end. This committee is composed of S. L. McDowell, chairman; Carter MacGregor, J. E. Gill, Dr. M. R. Garrison, Walter Robbins.

Baylor Expects To Turn Back Mighty Steers

Green and Gold Warriors Slated to Be in Best Of Shape

WACO, Nov. 5.—With their injured players nearing complete recovery, the Baylor Bears should swing into top shape by Friday for the crucial game with the Texas Longhorns in Austin Saturday. Although Sisco is out permanently, Howard Hartzog has recovered and is back in his old position as a tackle. Hartzog played a brilliant game against the Farmers last week but was injured. Sam Coates also is just about recovered and should be in fair shape for the game against the Steers. Hill Foreman, veteran end who was injured in the early part of the season, has recovered and is back out in practice. It is possible that he will get in part of the game against Texas Saturday.

Crave Steer Meat.

Although the present football season has been somewhat disasterous for the Bears up to the present moment, the warriors of the green and gold are undaunted and hope to get some measure of success out of the season by turning back the Longhorns. Certainly a victory over the Steers will mean nearly as successful a season for the Bears as if they won the conference championship. Of the games on the Baylor schedule, all the Bears would rather win that one from Texas and when they march into the memorial stadium at Austin Saturday, the Bears will be primed to their highest pitch of the season.

Fans Accompany Team.

The Bears knew well that the Longhorns will be out with blood in their eyes, thirsting for revenge and if the green and gold does come through the carnage victorious or even with a tie it will be only after thrusting back a team much more powerful. Bridges will start his best team against the Steers with orders to cut loose and win but the Bears are going against a mighty team.

Hundreds of fans will accompany the Bears from Waco to see the game, a special train carrying the largest contingent including the Baylor student body, who probably will stage the famous Bear Prance down Congress Avenue as they did last year. The Baylor football squad will leave in motor busses on Friday afternoon and spend that night in Austin.

BASEBALL POT BOILS; SWAP RUMORS BREAK

Pipp and Ward Named In Deal for Charley Jamieson

NEW YORK, Nov. 5—(AP)—Baseball rumors today carried Wally Pipp and Aaron Ward, first and second baseman of the New York Yankees, to Cleveland in a deal which may bring about Charley Jamieson's presence in New York, in spite of Tris Speaker's recently expressed determination to make no trades.

"Peewee" Wanninger, who succeeded Everett Scott at shortstop early last summer, is slated to go elsewhere, according to reports. Confirmation here, if such is to be obtained, must await the return to this city on Monday of Ed Barrow, business manager of the club and a huntsman of parts. He has been seeking big game, but not baseball players.

The rumors, however, hold water for Tony Lazerre is destined to appear in the short field another year with Mark Koenig at second base, while Lou Gehrig, former Columbia university star, who played with Hartford in the eastern league for two seasons, undoubtedly will return to first base, where he made an exceptionally impression in the Yankee debacle which has just become history.

Emory Rigney of Detroit, shortstop, known to be on the market, is said to be under the eyes of Yankee officials with prospects that he will fill a utility role. Rigney's hitting this season fell under .250 but it is believed that a change of climate will help him immensely.

INDIAN PREXY DENIES STORY

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Nov. 5—(AP)—Reports in New York that Wally Pipp and Aaron Ward of the Yankees may come to Cleveland for Outfielder Charley Jamieson were called "absolutely ridiculous" by E. H. Barnard, president of the Indians, tonight.

The Indians have made no offer to New York for Pipp and Ward and "don't expect to," Barnard said. He denied that Jamieson is trading material.

Wichita Convict Asks Habeas Corpus

AUSTIN, Nov. 5—(AP)—An application for writ of habeas corpus was filed in the court of criminal appeals today by Street McCarty in which he claims he is being illegally confined in the penitentiary on a void judgment. He was given a term of five years on conviction of robbery in Wichita county, and now alleges that judgment of the trial court is void because it failed to provide for an inter-terminate sentence of two to five years as he claims is required by law.

Porkers Off For Dallas Today

FAYETTVILLE, Ark., Nov. 5.—The Razorbacks, accompanied by Coaches Schmidt and Barnes leave Fayettville Friday morning for Dallas where the team will engage southern Methodist University Mustangs Saturday in the conference game of the season. A large delegation of rooters will accompany the team, but the bulk of the fans and band will leave Friday night, arriving in Dallas Saturday morning and will parade there. The team was "doped up" tonight with a monster pep meeting in the university auditorium.

The personnel of the team going to Dallas are:

Captain Scott, Harrison, McGill and Wilkins, guards; Japp and Rose, tackles; Parker, Coleman, Rosson and cowger, ends; Bozeman and Hamilton, centers; Cole and D'Honau, quarterbacks; Chipman, Ayres, Donothan and Rucker, halfbacks; Smith and Secrest, fullbacks.

BEARS STRONGER IN FORWARD DEFENSE THAN VARSITY, BUT SCRAP SCHEDULED AT CENTER

AUSTIN, Nov. 5.—The mid-term examinations have dealt heavily with Bill James Longhorn line, a regular at end having fallen victims. Unless Ike Sewell and Basil Penney are reinstated before Saturday, the Baylor Bears should have a wide margin of line strength over the Longhorns in the big "blood clash" here Saturday.

Comparing the two teams at the guards and center with Sewell out, the Bears stand out the stronger, especially at guards, although they are pretty evenly matched at the center position.

The Bears have to offer at guards Jack Sisco, Jack Taylor, Maynard Porter and Al Reilly, all players who weigh well above the 180-pound mark, and in the case of Taylor and Porter the Bears have a pair of 200 pounders. Sisco and Porter are veterans and although both have played little this year because of injuries received in Baylor's game with Notre Dame, reports from Waco state that both will be ready to go against Texas here Saturday.

Coach Bridges has been using Jack Taylor, a tall giant from Cameron and considered by many as all-conference timber, and Al Reilly, another heavyweight, at guards. Both are coming stars. Taylor is powerful on the defense and so is Reilly.

Texas has to offer at guards Bob Homan, Pottie McCullough and Murray Moore. Homan was classed as a substitute prior to Matt Newell's injury, which forced Penney to end, but since being used regularly he has shown great form, especially on the defense. He was an outstanding star in the game with the Mustangs.

If Sewell does not start against Baylor, then Pottie McCullough will get his chance, and we are of the belief that the former Waco high star will come through in great style. McCullough was an all-state star in his high school days. McCullough is not flashy and does not make a show as some players do, but he is always best under pressure. If Pottie plays in the Baylor game we will venture to say that James and Stewart will make no more changes at the position.

Baylor, however, has stronger regulars and far stronger substitutes than Texas can offer. Murray Moore is the best James has as a utility man, but Moore hasn't found himself yet this season.

The real battle of Saturday's game will be seen between the opposing centers, Captain Bear Walker of Baylor and Line Captain Heinie Pfannkuche of the Longhorns. Walker has been an all-conference star for two seasons and is said to be just as great this year. Waco scribes state that he was the only man Baylor had who was not outplayed in the Notre Dame contest.

Heinie Pfannekuche has bested every opposing center he has been up against this season. Heinie weighs 185, about 10 pounds heavier than Walker. The Steer ace is a fighter through and through and is always best under fire, while he is a great man on the defense and his passing is perfect. He more than held his own with "Heavy" Underwood, the Rice captain. Walker is a player of the Bull Johnson type, always breaking through to make tackles behindd the line and often beats the ends down on punts. He is uncanny in slashing through the line. Both players, however, are weak in dropping back with the secondary to break up the passing game.

It costs the University of Pennsylvania $22,000 to outfit each football player in the field.

GRIFFIN SMEARS IT ON AVERY IN TEN-ROUNDER

By BLONDY CROSS

Dandy Dick Griffin, Fort Worth feather, fighting Lew Avery of New York, plastered a heavier opponent almost at will through nine stanzas of a ten-round main event on the American Legion's weekly fistic program Thursday night in the new fight quarters at 812 1-2 Scott.

Following a tame first frame, and a Charleston act second couplet, Griffin bored in, jabbed and hooked with a left to the head and crossed with a right to the body to grab the laurels by a wide margin.

It began to appear in the fifth frame that Griffin was either holding back or had damaged a digit on the starboard hook. In the sixth he could have put Avery away had he followed a number of punishing southpaw jabs and hooks with a right cross. But Griffin contented himself whenever he brought that right above the mid-section to clouting the opposition on the cauliflower, and that none too heavily.

"Sumpin'" Wrong

At any stage the remainder of the route, had Dandy Dick crossed his right to the map the bout would have all been over with exception of turning out the lights and pulling up the sheets.

Avery was slapped goofy with hooks coming from the port side, and was snapped into perfect position by a myriad of left jabs to be on the receiving end of a right cross. But the blow never came. Not more than three times throughout the mill did Griffin cross that right above the shoulders and on each occasion he seemed pulling his punches.

Something was abnormally wrong with that starboard mitten or else Griffin just didn't want to put Avery away.

Avery, coming out strong in the final canto although his countenance had connected with more leather than a bull frog has croaks, was all but beaten into submission by a flock of lefts to the eyebrow, cheek bone and larnyx, followed with a few stray rights to the equator.

Monte Earned It.

That feud between Wildcat Monte and Young Murdock, Wichita Falls featherweight knuckle pitchers, failed to reach a decision in six rounds. This pair of youngsters whaled away furiously practically the entire route, but at the end of festivities Referee Mickey Savage raised both hands on high designating the embroglio rated an even-Stephen verdict.

Both boys are favorites of ours, and it makes us no dif who wins. Monte should have had the decision. He outslugged Murdock in the opening stanza. Wildkitten was very much the aggressor and carried the fight to his opponent in the second, but deserved only a draw with possibly a shade going to Murdock. Monte had the better of the third and fifth, landing often while Murdock was missing. A possible shade went to Murdock in the fourth. The sixth was a toss-up. Give it to either. Give it to Monte. Or what have you!

Jack Frost battled hard with Battling Loncho, Mexican scrapper, through four rounds, but a knockdown in the early rounds proved to be enough for Loncho to take the decision.

Kid Norford, local dusky, battled Kid Mitchell, from Electra, to a fast four-round draw. Both of the negroes slapped it out freely.

Roughhouse Smith and Fighting Jack, fleaweights, scrapped through a four-round slugging match to a draw verdict.

WEEK'S BIG GAMES

Princeton-Harvard, at Princeton, N. J.
Penn. State-Notre Dame, at State College, Pa.

LaFayette-Rutgers, at Easton, Pa.

Chicago-Illinois, at Chicago.
Georgia Tech-Vanderbilt, at Nashville.

West Virginia-Boston college, at Boston.

THE DOPE

Princeton beats Harvard.
Notre Dame defeats Penn State.
Dartmouth beats Cornell.
Pittsburgh defeats Washington and Jefferson.
Rutgers beats LaFayette.
Columbia defeats New York.
Illinois downs Chicago.
Georgia Tech. wins over Vanderbilt.
Michigan defeats Northwestern.
West Virginia beats Boston college.
Texas beats Baylor.
Aggies defeat T. C. U.
S. M. U. beats Arkansas.

There is little to choose between Harvard and Princeton. Both are comparatively weak as the upper crust of eastern football goes. The game in reality is a toss up. Either may win.

* * *

Knute Rockne, the crushing Army defeat notwithstanding, seems well on the road to building a team which in performances will rank with that of the immortal "Four Horsemen," now gone by the way. The Micks should down Penn State.

* * *

The big green mountain aggregation of Dartmouth has the edge on Gil Doble's Cornell eleven.

* * *

Pittsburgh has it on W. and J., but LaFayette may upset Rutgers. The Columbia-New York affair may prove a reverse to the dope.

RED VS. MAROON

If the mighty iceman has really hit his stride as apparently seems the case after looking over returns of that Illinois-Pennsylvania game the past week-end, then Grange and his Illini topple the gray-haired Alonzo Stagg's Chicago Maroons.

* * *

Tech has it on Vandy, and Michigan is far and away better than Northwestern. West Virginia deserves to beat Boston college.

TEXAS BETTER

Texas, though performing poorly against S. M. U. last Saturday, really stacks up as a two-touchdown stronger club than Baylor. These words are written in direct contradiction, however, of Austin and Waco scribes.

* * *

The Aggies should beat T. C. U. by a wide margin, but probably won't. S. M. U. has it on Arkansas.

ONE TILT IN SOUTHWEST

But one game of the three Southwest conference tiffs billed this week-end is of much importance. That's the Baylor-Texas affair. The Longhorns, undefeated, record marred by a tie contest, has an outside chance at the conference championship. The Farmers, apparently potential conference winners, are expected to stop T. C. U., an outside in the title running, hands down. Baylor, a few of the dopesters aver, stands a chance of halting Steward's brigade. On this tilt lies the possibility of the only other contender being slapped from the race, leaving A. & M. a free drive to the championship. Baylor, Arkansas, and S. M. U. are out of it.

Should the Bears topple Texas, even though the Steers managed to down A. & M., something which at present appears impossible, at College Station Thanksgiving day, Dana's Maroon horde still would be conference champs. That, of course, is taking in consideration the Aggies beat T. C. U. tomorrow and Rice next week, their other remaining conference games. Neither the Frogs nor Owls are rated any chance of beating Bible.

* * *

Rice, by the way, plays Louisiana State tomorrow at Baton Rouge in a non-conference affair. The Owls should win handily.

INDIAN-PLOWBOY ENCOUNTER TODAY ONLY IMPORTANT GAME FROM WICHITA FALLS ANGLE

Pups Play Olney Saturday—Burkburnett, Seymour, Vernon and Electra Teams Idle

Football of this section falls into somewhat of a lull over the week-end, comparatively speaking, for there will not be the usual run of games. The outstanding contest of the week from a Wichita Falls angle will be played in Stephenville this afternoon when Mosley's Junior college Indians clash with John Tarleton. Wichita Falls Junior plays Olney at Spudder park Saturday. The senior high school eleven is scheduled to invade Quanah tomorrow, but it is said there lies a possibility of the game being called off. Vernon and Electra are idle. The Lions, pending outcome of league investigation of ineligibility claims made against Vernon by Wichita Falls and Electra, are scheduled with Plainview Wednesday. Electra plays at Amarillo Wednesday.

The Seymour-Burkburnett game originally scheduled for this afternoon at Spudder park has been postponed to Wednesday, it was announced out of Burkburnett yesterday. Seymour, because of player injuries, asked that the game be held up several days.

The Indians have booked a stiff opponent in John Tarleton, rated by many dopesters as potential Texas Junior college conference champs. It may be in order to remark here the Fort Worth Star Telegram rates Tarleton and North Texas Aggies of Arlington, "the only undefeated elevens in the conference," as the two strongest contenders. The Arlington school, however, was defeated the past week-end by Wichita Falls' Indians disproving any argument as to its title abilities.

The Wichita Falls squad departed Wichita Falls Thursday morning. Mosley took but 17 players with him. Mike Caskel, team manager, also made the trip.

Steve West and Doyle Stephenson, hard hitting halfback, were unable to go with the club, Stephenson remained home because of sickness. West injured an arm recently in practice. Yesterday it was announced a small bone in his wrist had been crocked.

This leaves Thurman, Deems, Rawls, Beaty and Datson in the backfield to carry the Maroon and Gold over the goal line.

Those taking the trip are: Captain John Clary, Ray Hirschi, Willie Saunders, Paul Karns, O. H. Box, J. W. Whitelaw, Roscoe Burks, Charles Weeth, Tally Timmons, Evan Harris, Skyscrapper Crites. James Gonce, Jack Thurman, Dummy Deems, Riley Rawls, Curtis Beaty, Fred Datson, and Mike Caskey.

Coach Mosley announced no lineup for this afternoon, but from the way the boys have been looking in the practice session the probable starters will be Harris and Crites, ends; Weeth and Burks, tackles; Karns and Hirschi, guards: Captain Clary, center; Thurman, quarterback: Rawls and Datson, halves, and Beaty, fullback.

The club is expected to return from the game Saturday and leave again Tuesday for their game Wednesday at Abilene with McMurray college.

Coyotes and Pups Both Hard At It

The Coyotes worked out Thursday afternoon very lightly for their coming battle with the Quanah Indians. Only a few first stringers will see action in this game. Most of the second string men will be used. Bud McCallum, Coyote coach, stated that he would not take any chances with the regulars.

Wilka Dobson, injured tackle, said he would be back in uniform this afternoon. Zeke Taylor was back in the moleskins and seems rounding into shape fast.

The club put through the afternoon blocking and tackling the dummy, sprinting and going down on the punts. On the latter Ed. Powell made a great showing at blocking the defensive end as they broke after the safety man.

Through the general mixup in this district Coach McCallum is on the waiting side of the game, ready for anything to happen, and doesn't care to take the chance on crippling up any more of his regular men than he will have to.

Rowdy Curtin is still working out with the club, but not in his uniform. Curtin has been making the best of the conditions and with but little hope of getting in any games soon, he has continued his training.

This player was declared ineligible by the league just before the Vernon game last Saturday.

The Coyote Pups took a long workout which was wound up with a hard scrimmage. For the first time in several days Captain "Hunky" Farris was in the scrimmage session for a short while. The Pups big captain and fullback has been out for the last few days with a bad shoulder received some time back in practice.

During the scrimmage session Pete Powell showed up nicely with several hard tackles on end runs. Powell has been a hard working little fellow all year, and with plenty of sand. Even in scrimmage he leaves his feet on tackles.

Roy Brackett, halfback, was showing up well as a ground gainer for the first string men, while Clyde Fly played him a close second. Fly snapped to life on his passing and punting work.

Fat Tandy and Ben Mix were both showing up well in the line with several nice tackles.

After the practice Coach Montgomery called the linesmen to one side and told them of how he depended on them to hold off the Olney club in next Saturday's game, and re-told them of the importance they were in the game.

Hawks Play Tiger Pups Wednesday

Coach Jim Reese sent the Electra Tigers through another lengthy workout Wednesday afternoon but scrimmage again failed to get the call. Both the first and second string men worked until well after dark on signal practice. The Tiger mentors made several new changes in the lineup. Willis Carnahan was placed at Trammil's fullback position as the latter failed to show up for the daily workout. Carnahan made a great showing at this position in the signal practice. Carnahan is a good passer, and his ability to heave the oval would be a great asset to the club in case he should be used in the backfield. Bob More failed to show up for the practice and his halfback job was taken care of by John Louie Wright and Lendon Smith, who alternated at the position during the signal drill.

Mike Brown has been made eligible for all non-conference games, and will be ready to go Nov. 11 in the Amarillo contest. He was back at his old post at right end in the afternoon frolic. Captain Pug Sanderlin was out in uniform for the first time since the Vernon-Electra go. Tiger hopes have been given a big raise with the return of the captain who is expected to get back in his old position at end for the Amarillo game. He replaced Ralph Turner at a wing. Turner took Avens' place at tackle. Aen, Buzz Smith and Toots Gilger alternated at guards with Roy Cooledge at center and Dell Coolege at right tackle. Lewis Kent was at half, and Johnnie Lebus at quarter.

While the Tiger first stringers are preparing for their game on Armistice day the second string team is working as hard for their game with the Iowa Park Hawks, who have been chosen for their opponents on that date. The club realizes that Coach Brewster has developed a scrappy little team at the park and will be lucky to come out with the heavy end of the game.

admission to the game Saturday could be reduced to $1.50, thereby helping to carry out the low rates granted here this year on football games.

New Longhorn Line to Face Baylor Bears

AUSTIN, Nov. 5.—(AP)—As a result of three men being ineligible for the Baylor University game here Saturday, a new Texas university Longhorn lineup will face the Bears.

Leo Baldwin and Ed Olle will be on the flanks, with Thorlief Thompson and Ox Higgins bulwarks at tackle, and Murry Moore and Bob Homan ranking along side Harry Pfanneluhe at center. Johnny Estes will be given a chance at halfback with Maurice Stallter and Mack Saxon there to back him up in either right or left position. Rufus King will enter the game as fullback and Captain Stud Wright will be the skyper and engineer at quarter.

Practice today was in a drizzle, none too warm. It was slow going in the slimy mud. There was little chance for a workout. However, the Longhorns did the best possible, under the circumstances. They did conserve as much energy as possible, to be expended in the clash with Baylor Bears.

Coach Bridges today informed Theo Belmont, director of the Athletics' at the university, that the price of

The Passing Hour

THE AIR IS BONNIE DUNDEE

(Zuppke starves the Illinois players and gives them tea to get results—news item)

To the Illinois squad, it was Zuppke that spoke—
"There are teams to be met—there is pride to be broke—
To let each star son of the old Illini
Go light on the beefstakes and strong on the tea!"

"Come fill-up the tea-pot—come fill up the cup—
You will play all the better if you drink it all up—
You can skirt Pennsy's ends or Chicago's roam free,
On a plate full of wafers, a cup full of tea!

Red Grange is a terror—he rides through the fray
Like the tempest that shrikes strewing death in its way—
The bold tackles shudder ano from him they flee,
When they see he is stoked up on Bob Zuppke's tea!

There are hearts in the west that are staunch to attack—
They have met Illinois—they have turned that team back;
The reason is hidden—but say can it be
They get something stronger than diet and tea?

RESULTS in the southwest conference reviewed in this column indicate, as was pointed out yesterday, that today the Aggies have the best chance of copping the title, the Longhorns an outside opportunity. But here are the queer possibilities of the remaining schedule:

Texas plays only Baylor and A. and M. Victories over both would assure the championship, as the Longhorns would have the only unbeaten team. Yet, if Texas should lose to Baylor and then unexpectedly beat A and M, there would be a conference muddle on which the only justifiable dictum would be "no championship." There might be a percentage leadership, since some teams play five games, but in the shortened state of a conference grid route list it would be extremely foolish on the part of the authorities to award a championship.

If Texas and the Aggies should reach Thanksgiving undefeated and A. and M. without a tie against its record, and should the turkey day thriller result in a tie, the championship would certainly, under the present rules, be awarded to the Aggies. One loss for both Texas and the Aggies, with no other defeats, should result in another co-championship verdict.

The gridiron hopes we set our hearts upon
May mean so much this season. Yet anon
A new year rolls around with newer teams
And the memory of last year is through and gone.

No Reason.

DISPATCHES from the effete east last week indicate that the best thought of the modern gridiron is directed towards eliminating the tie game. In the name of common sense—why!

There are few gridiron championships achieved under recognized rules—actual conference titles like the Southwest, Western and a few state," whatever that is worth. There is no possibility, under present intercollegiate desire of the advertising to be gained from intersectional games and unwillingness to go at once into a conference campaign, of arranging a really representative championship in any section.

Conferences which award titles by vote make a mistake, for the real duty of such organizations is to establish and maintain rules of conduct and discipline, and the only reason that can be advanced for title awards is that of throwing a sop to the public that pays the turnstiles.

The elimination of the tie can only be to adduce a definite result for a game. Definite results can only be necessary to please the betting public, which conferences are cerainly not inclined or supposed to accommodate.

Let the hard fought tie stick. Who is it hurting!

English committee declares dainty ankle thing of the past. Whose past!

Precedent.

THE death of Marvin Goodwin, according to the Houston Post-Dispatch, precipitates an unusual question for Commissioner Landis to decide as to whether the Cincinnati club must complete payment to the Houston club for the contract purchase of the pitcher. The Reds paid $2,500 and were to pay $5,000 more if they retained Goodwin after April 1. But Marvin is dead.

You can not dope out the mental processes of commissioners and such. But herewith it hazarded a guess that the judges will hold that the Buffs were lucky to get the $2500 and that death terminated the contract.

For in mind is the fact that in the winter of 1919 the Dallas club traded Ed Mateson to Salt Lake for Jean Dale, and that in the winter of 1920 Salt Lake sold Matteson for $1000 and the commissioner kicked Dale out of baseball for transactions alleged to have taken place when he was with Salt Lake.

Dallas had neither Matteson nor Dale. The club claimed either Matteson or the $1000, and the commissioner ruled against the claim.

MIDDLE WEST AGAIN STANDS AHEAD OF EAST IN FOOTBALL CONTRARY TO EXPECTATION

Series Even, But Pigskin Testimonials Grange and Friedman Prove Big Ten's Class

The west again stands ahead of the east in footb
When Red Grange ran wild on the ooze of a Ph
delphia gridiron the other day against Pennsylvania,
Benny Friedman led Michigan to a stunning victory the Navy team, the triumphs stood out so much as i vidual achievements for Grange and Friedman or Illinois and Michigan as additional testimonials to the supremacy of football as played in the west against that displayed on the Atlantic seaboard and in nearby states.

Today we have the following results of intersectional games.

Michigan 54, Navy 0.
Illinois 24, Pennsylvania 2.
Ohio State 9, Columbia 0.
Syracuse 14, Indiana 0.
Pennsylvania 7, Chicago 0.
Army 27, Notre Dame 0.

These are the scores of the east-west games of importance.

As victories stand the series is even up.

But Consider the Teams.

However, the three western victories overbalance decisively the triumphs the east eked out.

Consider Illinois' victory over Penn as against the defeat handed Chicago by the eastern eleven.

Chicago had been held to a 3 to 3 tie by Ohio State and had nosed out a victory over Northwestern by two field goals when the Penn game was staged. Penn scored but one touchdown on the westerners.

Illinois ran rough shod over Penn. Red Grange alone accounting for three touchdowns and Britton the other.

The Army, an experienced eleven, met Notre Dame when Knute Rockne's team, a green one, was in a formative stage. The 27 to 0 victory, based on Notre Dame's great reputation, sounded sweet to the east's ears. Then came the Army-Yale game. The Bulldog had been nosed out by Pennsylvania, 16 to 13. When the smoke cleared away in the Army-Yale game the soldier lads had been buried in their own trenches 28 to 7.

This automatically put the Army team out of the running as a powerful eleven and nullified the early victory over Notre Dame. And by the same token it made Pennsylvania's feat in beating Yale stand out.

But all this is wiped out by the 24 to 2 victory of the Illini over Penn.

Now As to Michigan.

On top of this comes the sinking of the Navy by Michigan.

Now Michigan had beaten Indiana 63 to 0—the same team against which Syracuse, when it emerged from the Penn State game, had not had its goal line crossed. Which means that it has one of the greatest defensive teams in the east as well as a great offensive team. Indiana held the easterners to two touchdowns. Michigan ran wild through Indiana. Now then, does the offensive strength of the Syracuse and Wolverine teams stack up? No question there.

A Check-Up on Cornell.

Ohio State hasn't won a Western conference game to date. The Buckeye team, however, held Chicago to a 3 to 3 tie before the Staggmen to Philadelphia. But Columbia, eling west, found State unbea and took a 9 to 0 trimming. this same Columbia team foug out with Cornell the other day, ally losing by the close score to 14. Cornell is considered o the greatest teams in the east.

So there you are.

The west leads again—and have the edge when the selecti all-American teams is begun. can't get away from that either.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 5.—(AP)—The cotton market was quite active during the greater part of today's session and although following an early improvement of 9 to 13 points the market turned easier on realizing and liquidation in advance of the bureau, prices easing off 22 to 27 points from the early highs. The market advanced 62 to 68 points from the lows during the afternoon on reports that large areas of cotton country were under water in Louisiana and Arkansas owing to the rains of the past three days. The market kept on the upgrade to the end, the close showing net gains for the day of 42 to 51 points. The early decline was due to a renewal of fears that the government report due next Monday will provide another bearish crop estimate.

This apprehension was increased by the issue of two private reports during the morning, one making the crop 14,941,000 bales and the ginnings to November 1, 214,000 bales, while the other made the crop 15,100,000 bales and the ginnings 11,150,000 bales.

At the start, as Liverpool was a little better than due and the weather map was unfavorable, first trades showed gains of 4 to 12 points. December soon traded up to 19.30, January to 19.35 and March to 19.30 or gains of 2 to 12 points over yesterday's close. The subsequent reaction carried December down to 19.03, January 19.13 and March 19.03, representing a drop from the early highs of 22 to 27 points.

The lower level attracted some trade buying which caused a moderate rally and during the afternoon prices shot up rapidly on reports of floods in Louisiana and Arkansas. The highs were made in the final trading with December at 19.76, January at 19.77 and March at 19.65 or 68 points up on December from the lows of the morning.

Exports for the day totaled 18,493 bales.

NEW YORK COTTON.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—(AP)—A further advance of approximately half a cent a pound occurred in the cotton market today owing to continued covering or rebuying. January sold up to 19.90 or 55 points above yesterday's closing quotations and 179 points above the low level last Saturday. That position closed at 19.83, the general market closing steady at net gains of 35 to 54 points.

The market showed signs of hesitation in early trading. An opening advance of 8 to 20 points in response to relatively firm Liverpool cables and reports of continued rains in the south, appeared to meet southern selling and considerable realizing by recent buyers. The demand slackened as if the smaller short interest had been fairly well covered since the beginning of the week, which was followed by mid-day reactions of 25 or 30 points. December sold off to 19.84 and March to 19.41 net declines of about 10 to 17 points, but selling tapered off at these figures, and the market turned upward again on private reports of rain damage in the southwest and claims that increased discounts were stimulating demand for low grade cotton in the south.

Early sellers were among the buyers on the late advance and covering for Wall Street and southern account became active in late trading when December sold up to 20.50 and March to 20.10, or 49 to 56 points net higher on the general list and 147 to 149 points above recent lows. The close was slightly off from the best under realizing.

Two more private reports were issued, one estimating the ginning to November 1, at 11,214,000 bales and the indicated crop at 14,941,000. The other was more in line with bearish views as it placed the indicated yield at 15,100,000 bales, but local brokers attributed a good part of the day's covering to growing doubt as to whether the approaching government report would confirm recently increased estimates of yield.

Exports today 18,493 bales, making 2,619,360 so far this season.

Port receipts 59,000. U. S. port stocks 1,817,138 bales.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Stock prices finally succumbed to selling pressure today despite repeated attempts of speculators for the advance to maintain bullish enthusiasm by bidding up recent favorites. Closing quotations disclosed a larger number of losses ranging from one to six points, intercepted with a smaller number of more moderate gains. Trading started off at a terrific pace but slowed up during the afternoon, the day's sales falling just short of 2,800,00 shares, making it the 18th consecutive two million share full session. There was nothing in the day's news to account for the reaction, which was widely interpreted as a natural correction of a weakened technical condition resulting from recent speculative excesses in many stocks.

French francs broke over 15 points to the lowest level since March 1924, on selling inspired by the French political crisis but this was not seriously regarded as a stock market factor.

Credit conditions continued favorable, the renewal rate on call money being lowered to 4¾ per cent which rate was maintained all day. The New York federal reserved bank announced after the market closed that the rediscount rate was unchanged at 3½ per cent. Two favorable dividend announcements also were made after the close, the Brooklyn Union Gas company declaring an extra cash dividend of $7 and the Vacuum Oil company announcing an extra payment of $1.50 instead of the usual 50 cents extra.

Opening prices displayed a strong tone as a result of a large accumulation of overnight buying orders, apparently attracted, in part, by the widespread publicity given to yesterday's record breaking session.

U. S. Steel common touched the highest prices in eight years at 134⅛ but later sold off to 133; and then rallied to 132½, off 1⅝ on the day.

Prices movement in the motors were particularly confused. General Motors broke through its old high of 143½ before the end of the first half hour, then sank to 141½ during the late morning reaction, bounded up to another new record top at 145⅛ in the afternoon and finally eased to 144⅜ for a net gain of 2¾ points. Hudson opened at 135, dropped to 126½ and rallied to 131¾, off 4¼. Chrysler slowed five points lower at 24, after being sold as low as 237. White dropper over two points and Mack Trucks one.

Coppers moved upward under the leadership of American Smelting and Anaconda, each of which advanced over two points to new 1925 high records at 124 and 51¾ respectively. Federal Mining and Smelting common jumped 12 points to a new high at 52 and the preferred closed over four points higher at 85¼. Cerro De Pasco, Magma, Utah and Kennecott also reached new high grounds.

Brooklyn Union Gas crossed 100 to a new high record for a net gain of over two points in apparent anticipation of the extra dividend. Among the many other issues to attain new peak prices were Crucible and Gulf States, Hupp Motors, Dupont, Schulte Stores, United Cigar Stores, Philadelphia company and International Combustion Engineering.

Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged. Acute weakness in French francs, which broke to a new 1925 low around 3.90 cents, was the feature o fthe irregular foreign exchange market. Demand sterling ruled slightly higher around $4.84¼ and Japanese yen duplicated the year's high at 42 cents.

Grain

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—Wheat prices took a sharp upturn today as a result of sudden active buying on the part of traders who previously had been on the selling side. Reports of prevalence of Hessian fly in Kansas, Illinois and Nebraska tended to strengthen the market, and so too did word of a renewal of snow storms in Canada. Wheat closed strong at ⅞ to 2⅛ cents net advance, new style, December $1.50⅜ and May $1.47¼ to $1.47½, with corn half to one cent down, oats unchanged to ⅜ cent lower and provisions five cent to 10 cents up.

Larger receipts, together with a forecast of cold, clear weather, led to lower prices for corn. Oats were steadied by smallness of arrivals. Provisions advanced in line with the hog market.

Market Gossip

R. E. Flowerree and Co., Brokers, basement Staley Bldg., today received the following market comment from Fenner and Beane of New York, New Orleans and Chicago:

COTTON.

Cotton slipped about one dollar a bale during the early trading on profit taking by recent buyers and fresh short sales but had a sharp upturn in the afternoon when shorts tried to cover. On the rally prices sold 60 to 68 points above the low and closed within a few points of the best.

Reports that large areas of unpicked cotton in northeast Louisiana, southeast Arkansas and northwest Mississippi, the heaviest producing section in the belt, were under water as result of nearly a week of almost continuous rains and absence of hedging operations of consequence caused the late upturn.

Northwest Texas and Western Oklahomt also sent in reports indicating heavy damage and that much cotton might not be picked on account of low prices received for damage grades.

The early selling was based on big crop estimates.

The trade appears to have become apprehensive over the outlook in view of contiuated bad weather, forecast of more and possibility of a material reduction in its forecast by the government, a further advance is expected before the covering runs its course.

GRAINS.

Wheat: Independent firmness in Winnipeg stimulated our market for a short time, but thereafter values dragged because of general dullness rather than any particular item of news. The May delivery in Liverpool was quoted lower as a result of good crop news from Argentine.

It is noted that seaboard again was of a very disappointing character, and it was further reported that France resold a small amount Durums cheaper than cost.

Nothing new on wheat to form idea of market actions.

These coarse grain markets have received no attention whatever from those who are friendly, while others who expect sufficient movement of the new crop to build up stocks in Chicago were rather active.

Prices are too far below feeding value to make the selling safe feasible.

STOCKS.

Trading was again heavy, showing a tendency of seeking a lower level. Price movements were early of a considerably mixed nature as selling was urgent as the buying in many sections. Pressure was principally directed against the motors in which group Hudson Motors had to bear the brunt of the selling.

International Engineering Combustion experienced a very heavy turnover, which advanced the stock to a new high. The coppers were strong with American Smelting and Anaconda leading the advance. Selling extended also to the oil groups, and the rails. New York Central southern, and Frisco sowing reactionary tendencies.

Offerings, however, were evidently going into strong hands and the setback was most beneficial to the market, so that beginning of the last hour trading witnessed a sharp recovery, among those stocks which have experienced the heaviest selling.

LIVESTOCK REVIEW.

FORT WORTH, Nov. 5.—Dullness settled like a pall over the she stock at the start of the market, but this lifted later when a packer began buying cows in carlots, taking six cars at $4.00 and others at $3.75 to $4.75, until ten full loads had been absorbed. It was the most voluminous array of she stock delivered in straight loads seen here in a month of Sundays. These especials were hardly subject to the current opinion that the cow market was a quarter lower. However, this opinion held concerning the bulk of the scattered sales. Canners were around 10c lower, few selling early, and none getting better than $2. Cutters in early carlots cleared at $2.50.

Beef cattle were scarce and the market was steady. The top of the day stood at $7 with a weighty car of steers selling at $6.50 and a few common grassers at $5.

Bulls found a strong market and filled it with weighty bulls at $4 to $4.75, bolognas taking the usual spread of $2.25 to $3.50.

Calves sold slow and lower, particularly the heavy weight. Off these quarter was taken. Light veals were unmolested in price selling up to $8.50. The four car supply of hogs made the scales early, a surprising thing in hog market annals. Everybody agreed that the market was 15 to 20c higher. City butchers made the top at $11.75 and packers paid $11.65. There was no bulk. Light hogs sold at $11.50, packing sows $10.50 to $11.00, and pigs from $10.50 to $11.25. Five hundred hogs arrived.

The 350 sheep coming to market for the third trade sold steady and at very reasonable hours. Wethers made $8.10 and feeder yearlings bought in the country took $10.50. A small bunch of feeder buck lambs sold at $10.00 and choice lambs made $14.

Quality Shirts for the man, in broadcloth, French percale and madras, collar attached. Good assortment of colorings, $1.65, $1.85 and $2.45. Wright's Clothes Shop, 616 Eighth street, Phone 3091.—Adv.

Frederick Works For Textile Mill

FREDERICK, Nov. 5—The Frederick chamber of commerce plans to begin immediately on instigation of plans for bringing a cotton mill to Frederick, according to the report of a committee of business men who visited the Worth Mills in Fort Worth, Texas, this week.

Several propositions have been submitted for building textile mills here, but none have been far gone into yet. The latest is the offer of the Worth interests, who say that they will furnish machinery for a mill, to be paid with stock in a local company.

New Record Is Set In Postal Receipts

Postal receipts, like other gauges of civil advancement in Wichita Falls, are hitting the high spots on the crest of an amazing boom.

A report on October activities at the postoffice, compiled and released Thursday by Postmaster O. P. Mc-Cle, revealed that last month set a new high record for all time in the matter of receipts at the local office. Business amounting to $29,043.35 was handled against a total of $12,412.00 for October 1924.

October's business brought the record for the first ten months of this year to $226,452.75, which is cited as against $180,548.12 for the first ten months of 1924. The increase is $45,904.63.

IRRIGATION

Comparative Cost of Water.

It will probably be of interest to many and especially to those who own land under the proposed Holliday lateral to compare the cost of irrigation water from Lake Kemp with the cost of water on some recently authorized or proposed government projects.

Our cost is $35 per acre payable in 34 years at the rate of $2.45 per acre per year. This $2.45 covers both principal and interest.

Up in the state of Washington the United States reclamation service is seriously contemplating the construction of the Kittitas project which will really be an extension of the Yakima. The estimated cost of this water is $148.75 per acre, or about four times our cost of $35.

In Oregon a project known as the Vale is under consideration by the government. The cost is $126.50 per acre or not quite four times our cost.

On the Owyhee project which will be partly in Idahoma and partly in Oregon the farmers will have to pay back to the government $135 per acre for the water furnished them. This is almost exactly four times the cost of our water.

The Spanish Spring project which is a part of the Truckee project, in Nevada will cost $122 per acre or about three and a half times our cost.

Any land owner who signs up for irrigation water from Lake Kemp can be assured that he is getting just about the cheapest water to be found any where in the United States today on any new project.

No land owner can afford to pass up a chance to get such cheap water. It will not last forever.

Texas Girl Drugged Posse Seeks M

AMARILLO, Texas, Nov. (AP)—Scores of McLean and county citizens last night searched wide territory, extending as far Erick, Okla., in a vain effort to cate a man who bound, gagged apparently drugged Omalie Abbott, year-old McLean school girl, and her in a semi-conscious condition the prairie about six miles from Lean last night.

A salesman for a barber house arrested in Amarillo early today when faced by Miss Abbott this ing in the police station here was clared "not" to be the man.

NOTICE OF ELECTION.
Ordinance No. 629.

An ordinance providing for the holding of an election in the city of Wichita Falls, Texas, for the purpose of submitting to the qualified voters of said city who are property tax payers therein a proposition for the issuance of bonds of said city in the amount of seventy-five thousands ($75,000) dollars for the purpose of raising funds to pay the cost of construction of public buildings for housing fire apparatus in said city, and levying a tax on all taxable property in said city to pay the principal and interest of said bonds.

Whereas the board of aldermen of the city of Wichita Falls deems it necessary and expedient to borrow money on the credit of the city in the sum of seventy-five thousand ($75,000) dollars and to secure the payment thereof by the issuance of bonds of said city in that amount for the purpose of raising funds to pay the cost of constructing public buildings for housing fire apparatus in and for said city.

Now therefore, be it ordained by the board of aldermen of the city of Wichita Falls, Texas:

1—That an election be held in said city on the tenth day of November, 1925, at which election the following proposition shall be submitted:

Shall the board of aldermen of the city of Wichita Falls be authorized to issue the bonds of the city of Wichita Falls in the sum of seventy-five thousand ($75,000) dollars to mature serially in from one to thirty years from the date thereof, bearing interest at the rate of four and three-quarters per centum per annum, payable semi-annually, for the purpose of providing funds for the construction of public buildings for housing fire apparatus in and for said city and to levy a tax sufficient to pay the interest on said bonds as it accrues and the principal thereof at maturity?

2—The said election shall be held at the city hall and in Wichita county court house in the City of Wichita Falls and shall be conducted by the following named persons:

Nat L. Inge, presiding judge, city hall box; R. E. Mashburn, clerk, court house box; Robert McCulloch, clerk, court house box; Walter Robbins, clerk, court house box.

Voters living east of Lamar street and northeast of the Wichita river and southeast of the Wichita Valley railway track in said city shall vote at the city hall box, all voters living west of Lamar street in said city shall vote at the court house box.

5. Notice of said election shall be given by the mayor by publishing a copy of this ordinance with the words "Notice of Election" prefixed thereto ten days next preceding the date of said election in the Wichita Falls Record News, a newspaper published in said city.

Last Performance of P. B. M. Fashion Promenade To Be Held Friday Afternoon

Attractive Three-Day Event Comes to Close Today

THE closing performances of P. B. M. company's midseason fashion promenade will be presented Friday afternoon in the second floor salons of the store at 2:30 o'clock. The style showing has been a three day event, with large crowds in attendance Wednesday and Thursday afternoons.

The newest midseason apparel, including wraps, frocks, coats, hats, shoes and all accessories is displayed on living models under the direction of Mrs. James Lomax, head of the ready-to-wear department of the store, the Misses Jonnie Sadler, Bonni Gillham, Theo Aston and Francis Lomax from the sales force acting as models.

Reception Room.

Guests are received in the beautifully decorated salons where an autumn scheme of yellow and pink is carried out. Pink rosebuds, huge chrysanthemums and other cut flowers are arranged in tall vases and yellow wistaria blossoms veil the lights. Misses Ray Walker and Vera Long, gowned as Japanese maidens in colorful kimonos, wearing chrysanthemums in their hair, preside at a daintily appointed tea table where the guests are served at the close of the showing.

Music is furnished by the recently introduced Orthophonic Victrola, courtesy of the Nunn Electric company, for the promenade of the models, and again for a social hour at the close of the presentations.

Discuss Costumes.

Draped curtains of yellow velvet, under a golden archway form the entrance for the models, who promenade along the rectangular runway about the salon, and chat informally with the guests about their respective costumes. Thursday's showing introduced five new frocks beside the more attractive of Wednesday's presentation.

Miss Bonni Gillham was charming in a two-piece frock with snakeskin blouse and a jaunty full skirt of black chiffon velvet. She introduced also in Thursday's review a crepe romain dress of Premet rose. Miss Frances Lomax wore a black satin tea dress with tiny tight fitting high waist and a complete circular skirt, a dainty feature of which was the vestee and lower sleeves of finest lace posed over flesh satin. A Charleston hat of black satin was worn with it.

Miss Jonnie Sadler introduced in Thursday's showing a lovely romain frock of Russian red richly embroidered in gold. Miss Theo Aston revealed a stunning two-piece model of jade romain and silver cloth, the metallic blouse featuring new sleeve and neck treatments after Chanel. Parisian influences are noticeable throughout the showings.

Froelich's Offering.

Black and white tweed formed an unusual frock by Monroe Froelich, worn by Miss Gillham. Miss Jonnie Sadler then modeled a Peggy Paige street dress, followed by Miss Theo Aston in a leaf brown crepe morrocain with antelope trim, a coat of genuine Swansdown with beaver fur, and a smart velours hat of matching shade. Miss Frances Lomax entered in a striking costume of red satin and black velveteen, with which she wore a coat of grenat needlepoint with fitch fur trimmings.

Miss Gillham modeled a rose red velveteen frock from O. F. Grab, the pockets and tall cuffs of gold lace. Miss Sadler then appeared in a black crepe satin from Hellman and Blotta followed by Miss Aston wearing a pencil blue costume of velveteen and jersey appliqued with silver by Joseph A. Morris. Her coat was an Aaron Goldstein model of gracklehead fortuna with natural squirrel in rich bandings.

An unusual costume of gay gypsy effect was worn by Miss Lomax, of multi-colored velveteen and crepe, from Weinmann, Wilkes and Schwartz. Miss Aston wore a two-piece frock with gold metallic blouse and Miss Lomax reappeared in a bewitching dance frock of nile green, deep silver lace and brilliants.

Two Pretty Costumes.

Two costumes attracted unusual comment from the spectators, one modeled by Miss Sadler, a dinner frock in two-piece effect of silver cloth and white crepe with which she wore a gorgeous fur coat of genuine ermine, cocoa dyed, with dyed fox bandings and a luxurious lining of chiffon cut-velvet. The others, modeled by Miss Gillham was a dinner dress of chiffon velvet and silver cloth designed by Lanvin. Her coat was an Aaron Goldstein model of silky black needlepoint richly furred with natural lynx.

The promenade closed with an appearance by Miss Gillham in an alluring gown from Yolande, an exquisite boudoir cap of satin and lace, and a panne velvet Frances lounging robe of coral edged in fluttering coral feathers, black tipped.

Accessories Feature.

Special stress was laid on accessories during the showing. They were very new, and they illustrated the result of color harmony or colder contrast in the costume, according to the wearer's desire. Hats were from such well known makers as Patricia, Cupid, Empress, Laurel, Knox and Belart. Footwear included hose from Artcraft and Propper and shoes from Morris Dapidus, J. Albert, Unity and Algiers.

Frocks, hats, wraps and negligee from prominent makers are displayed beautifully all through the sale. Several collections are grouped in one color scheme and may be seen at any time during the day.

Well trained models a group of beautiful merchandise, and the "atmosphere" of a social event are factors which are making this showing a successful one. The store management is extending a cordial invitation to all Wichita Falls women to attend the closing presentation.

Better Than Whiskey For Colds and Flu

The sensation of the drug trade is Aspironal, the two-minute cold and cough reliever, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories; tested, approved and most enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the people as ten times as quick and effective as whiskey, rock and rye, or any other cold and cough remedy they have ever tried.

All drug stores are supplied with the wonderful elixir, so all you have to do is to step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk half a dollar for a bottle of Aspironal and tell him to serve you two teaspoonsful. With your watch in your hand, take the drink at one swallow and wait for your money back in two minutes if you cannot feel the distressing symptoms of your cold fading away like a dream, within the time limit. Don't be bashful, for all druggists invite you and expect you to try it. Everybody's doing it.

Take the remainder of the bottle home for your wife and children, for Aspironal is by far the safest and most effective, the easiest to take and the most agreeable cold and cough remedy for children as well as adults. Quickest relief for catarrhal croup and children's choking up at night.—Adv.
