GUARDS FIRE UPON CONVICTS

HOME TOWN TALK

By Beddy

THE 21-mile dirt gap in Mitchell county, the only one on the Bankhead highway in West Texas, will be paved and ready for traffic by December 1, it is indicated by an announcement from Gibb Gilchrist, state highway engineer.

HE declares failure of the county to vote enough bonds to pay the usual portion of paving cost has delayed the construction. When finished, Mitchell county will have paid but one-fifth of the bill but an agreement is expected to be made whereby the county will reimburse the state labor, until it has paid one-third.

WHICH ONCE MORE brings squarely before Howard county the fact that it is sadly lacking in highway facilities. The county commissioners court has done an unusually excellent job of keeping the county roads, bridges and culverts in condition. But we need a real network of graveled or paved county roads all connecting with the two state-federal highways traversing the county.

The most discouraging thing about the local highway situation is the fact that residents of both the city and the county seem determined to go into the matter first and foremost on the same old "location" bone of contention that has retarded highway development

INCH MORE MOISTURE FALLS HERE

Rainfall Is General; Aspermont, Sinton Deluged

Big Spring received a total of 2.33 inches of rainfall during the week ending Tuesday morning. Precipitation of Monday afternoon and evening totaled .96 inch, according to Fred Keating, superintendent of the government experiment farm.

The entire Big Spring territory and neighboring sections of West Texas received rains sufficient to allow planting to begin at once, according to reports gathered Tuesday.

At Aspermont and territory reported the heaviest rainfall of any section of West Texas—eight inches in 24 hours ending Monday night. The near flood at Aspermont sent the city's water supply lake roaring over the dam and Monday night the waters had broken through, although 200 men had worked all day in an attempt to prevent such an occurrence. Reports were that the escaping water did no damage but it was not possible to determine how much water would be retained in the lake.

Sinton, Texas, was recovering from a countout, which sent 12.35 inches of water upon the city in 12 hours from noon to midnight Monday. The cloudburst caused water to rise as high as window sills and sent many persons scurrying to the court house for safety, said the Associated Press. Boats were being used Tuesday all over the town.

Sinton, St. Paul and Papatote were waterbound as the result of heavy rains throughout San Patricia county. Great damage was done to crops.

Approximately 100 vehicles, including many buses and trucks, were reported stalled in the affected area, and traffic in and out of Corpus Christi was held up, according to a dispatch from that city.

Tracks Out
The Southern Pacific track was washed out at Papatote and the Missouri Pacific track was washed out near the Aransas river at Refugio. All trains were running late and having to be re-routed to some places.

No accurate check on the amount of rain that fell was available but the fall was estimated between five and fifteen inches.
No loss of life had been reported. The Rev. K. C. Minter, Corpus Christi pastor, returning from a conference at Beville, carried his wife and another woman three-

Young Aviator, On Record Attempt, May Be Seen Here

ST. LOUIS, April 29 (AP)—Frank Goldsborough, 19, of Long Island, N. Y., attempting a junior transcontinental flight record of three days, took off from Lambert-St. Louis field here at 6 a. m. today to start the second day of his flight. He spent last night here and plans to reach El Paso, Tex., tonight, making a stop at Dallas, Texas, for fuel.

Attendants at the Big Spring airport were on the look-out Tuesday for Frank H. Goldsborough, 19 years old, who hopped off in his plane, "The American Boy," from Westfield, N. J., at 6:40 a. m. Monday in an attempt to set a new junior transcontinental record. Goldsborough, a son of Bryce Goldsborough, who disappeared with the "Dawn," Mrs. Frances Grayson's ill-fated transatlantic plane, expected to reach St. Louis Monday night and to stop Tuesday night in El Paso, after flying via Tulsa, Dallas, Fort Worth and points on the regular Fort Worth-El Paso lane.

Goldsborough expected to reach Los Angeles Wednesday. He planned to do no night flying. A return flight along the same route was planned.

TIME LIMIT NOT FIXED FOR RURAL CENSUS ENUMERATION; CLEAN-UP IN CITY CONTINUES

Workers Promise To Reach All In Few Days

Census enumerators in Howard county districts outside the city of Big Spring are having their worries, too.

They appealed to The Herald Tuesday to announce that no time limit has been placed on them and that all residents of the county outside the city will be enumerated just as rapidly as they can be reached.

It is understood Wednesday is time limit for counting the population of the city of Big Spring. This has no connection with taking of the census in the rural districts.

The rural district enumerators are Messrs. Lloyd, Dameron and Sewell. Dameron, in the south and southwestern part of the county, is understood to be almost finished with his work. Lloyd and Sewell have perhaps a week or more before them.

Although all official announcements must come from the district supervisor who has issued orders to all his workers not to make any predictions for publication, the rural census enumerators in this county all declare their tasks have proven heavier than they expected.

Gasoline Price Lower Nearby, Not So Here

Reductions in gasoline prices by eight major oil companies, which occurred in Abilene Monday had not affected the Big Spring market Tuesday. Inquiries among agents of several companies indicated.

The Magnolia's reduction of two cents per gallon had been followed in Abilene by Gulf, Humble, Cities Service, Continental, Texas, Simms, T. & P. and American.

Retail price in that city was reduced to 17 cents per gallon for white gasoline. The price here continued at 19 cents per gallon Tuesday.

The current wholesale price on gasoline as quoted by the American Petroleum Institute is 7 3/8 cents per gallon as first refinery cost, with tax plus freight rate added.

The freight rate over the Texas territory is $2.51 in tank cars. The major companies pay the freight bill, but the independents eliminate it by using their own trucks or selling direct at the refinery.

NEW YORK, April 29 (AP)—Matthew Maxon Jr., son of the Protestant Episcopal bishop of Tennessee, was held without bail for the grand jury today on a charge of first degree murder in connection with the death of David Paynter, 73, fatally beaten in a rooming house April 18.

Paving Contract To Close Mitchell County Gap Will Be Let Next June

Contract for paving the last stretch of dirt road in Mitchell county which is the only unpaved gap between Big Spring, Abilene, Fort Worth and Dallas will probably be let during the May or June session of the state highway commission, according to W. R. Ely, state highway commissioner, who gave the information in Abilene Monday.

Mr. Ely has written Charles C. Thompson, county judge of Mitchell county, that if any contracts are let in May, the 21-mile gap of unpaved highway will be included, but the probability is that the award will be made in June. The deal is contingent on the county and city of Colorado, either or both, providing for straightening out of the Hickman corner at the east city limits of Colorado, and meeting the highway pavement there with at least a 20-foot concrete slab.

Six miles of the 21-mile strip, at the eastern end, will be bituminous top laid on gravel or caliche base, similar to paving in the western portion of Nolan county and adjoining it. The balance of 15 miles will be concrete pavement of 18

Funeral services will be held in Lubbock Wednesday afternoon with burial there.

Eliza Minerva Harding was born in Washington county, Wisconsin, January 26, 1854. Her father, who fought with the union army, died during the Civil War. She was married in Jackson, Wis., March 21, 1879, to B. C. Rix.

As a young married couple Mr. and Mrs. Rix came to West Texas, residing a short time in Colorado

OHIO PEN CONFLICT CONTINUES

Governor Issues Ultimatum To Warden

COLUMBUS, O., April 29 (AP)—Revolting convicts in the White City or idle house, at Ohio penitentiary, scene of the disastrous fire, were fired upon today by prison guards when they made a concerted effort to escape from the cell blocks. The mutineers were driven back from doors leading to the main entrance by automatic rifle fire. Several convicts were wounded.

Repulsed
The convicts first attempted to gain entrance to the guard room, but bullets repulsed them. Then they held several guards as prisoners for a short time, but released them when national guard officers threatened to enter the white city and rescue the men.

RECAPTURED
COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 29 (AP)—Seven men condemned to death who were confined in the White City Death House of Ohio penitentiary, were freed from their cells last night by revolting convicts. It became known this afternoon. Three of those awaiting execution were recaptured today, after guards had fired into the White City. Four others were sought in the cell block.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 29 (AP)—Governor Myers Y. Cooper today issued an order to Warden Preston E. Thomas, in charge of the Ohio penitentiary, that order must be restored immediately.

and in small windows of the cell blocks was shattered by the convicts, who carried such weapons as clubs and bars of iron. Ordered by the warden to go back to their cells, the convicts continued their rush. They retreated at the first burst of firing, but a moment later remanned and made a second rush. Automatic rifles spat bullets upon them, and this time they fell back and took refuge in cells.

TANLAC ENDS ANOTHER CASE OF RHEUMATISM and Stomach Troubles—Hotel Man Benefits This Time

Ending the suffering of 10 years in just a few weeks is going some but that's just an example of how quickly Tanlac works in stubborn cases that never yield to other remedies.
No wonder so many local people are so enthusiastic about Tanlac—no wonder local druggists are loud in praise of this medicine. Read for instance what Mr. J. L. Kline says: "For 10 years have had stomach trouble, rheumatism also of morning, stiff and sore all over, mostly in back and shoulders. A good powerful medicine was needed to get me up and Tanlac proved to be all of that. From it I got relief from all troubles, stomach and rheumatism. My digestion now is just about 100% good. No more pain or distress, eat good, sleep as good as I eat, pain, stiffness, soreness all gone. Rheumatism in back and shoulders wiped out. I have tried out lots of medicines but Tanlac gave me results." That's the story of Tanlac in a nutshell—it gives results and gives them quick, for every herb, bark and root is a real medicine. Many "patent medicines" make glowing promises that may fool you into buying them, but remember Tanlac is a real medicine that backs its claims with a guarantee. At all druggists. Accept no substitute.

Just Went From One Pill to Another

J. S. SADLER

'I spent thousands of dollars in the past ten years trying to overcome chronic stomach trouble. My nights were misery on account of sleeplessness, and as far as constipation goes, my life the past few years has been 'just one pill after another.' I wouldn't take $1,000 for the good Sargon did me. I haven't the least stomach trouble of any kind now.

'Sargon Soft Mass Pills put an end to my constipation.'—J. S. Sadler, 1127 Ross St., St. Paul, Minn.

Sargon's aim is not mere temporary relief, but new and abundant health. Don't experiment—profit by the experience of others. Cunningham & Philips, Agents—Adv.

Tribute To The Birdie Bailey Missionary Society We come this April afternoon To honor and to praise The Birdie Bailey Missionary Band And wish it length of days.

Its birthday of one year ago Brought to our church great joy. A forward step of progress Its members to employ.

Our pastor's wife is honored In that it bears her name. She's happy in its rapid growth And glorifies in the same.

It's thirteen charter members Meet weekly unafraid; Now it's a group of fifty-two Results for which they prayed.

So many happy meetings From home to home each week; A kindlier assembly You must go far to seek.

For freely ye have given To families in need; Bound up the broken hearted, And proven friends indeed.

In fact, to speak of all your work I hardly can begin Since it would take too long a rhyme For one like me to spin.

So here's to Mrs. Watson, You president so true; To Mrs. Bailey, leader And to the rest of you.

May progress march the coming year May joy your steps attend And may God bless and keep you Hence forward to the end.

(Note: Because of lack of space the full poem was not quoted here, however, it may be procured from Mrs. J. E. Kuykendall in full).

Gifts were presented to Mrs. C. T. Watson and Mrs. W. G. Bailey by the class in token of its appreciation of the work done by these two members.

Those present were: Mesdames Calvin Boykin, H. S. Hart, S. T. McPeak, R. M. Ruffner, J. D. Luttrell, K. H. Estes, L. A. Hinch,

The Party Platform

THE PLATFORM of the Democratic party in Texas was scrapped, utterly disregarded, by members of the 41st legislature.

It has been natural, of course, that differences of opinion should arise within the legislature as to the best methods of effecting reforms, improvements and remedies in the state laws.

It is almost inconceivable, however, that there could have been such a great amount of hickering, swapping and utter stubbornness concentrated in one legislature.

OPINIONS OF OTHERS

Archaic Prisons

TULSA WORLD: MODERN efficiency has, somehow, failed to score in prison management. The element of human fallibility and the terrible persistence of evil men, occasionally units to cause tragedies such as that in Ohio.

There was over 4,000 people in that prison, with comparatively few and poorly paid guards. Prisoners themselves undoubtedly set the fire in two places. It was an emergency not accounted for in prison routine.

In general, it was possibly figured that a wholesale prison break would be induced. Efficiency showed in its proper form, for by the liberal use of state troops, the horrible disaster of turning a lot of wolves loose upon a helpless population was averted.

There will be, it is anticipated, the usual outcries about brutality and the futility of imprisoning men. Presumably there are moralists who hold all punishment is wrong.

It is certain, in the light of this fire and recent prison outbreaks that our penal system is somewhat obsolete; that we need more prisons, greater efficiency in management and less politics in control.

A movement very definitely pointing to local self-government for cities and prevention of conflict between county and city governments in the same territory is in progress in St. Louis.

The national government is doing its bit to keep the oil industry moving. There are twenty-two bidders for the job of furnishing fuel oil for the navy for the fiscal year.

HOW'S your HEALTH

A Problem "I had a young woman in my office," the doctor said, "and I assure she grieved me deeply and left me terribly saddened."

"She came when I wasn't in and waited for me more than an hour. She refused to tell my secretary what she wanted, beyond saying in a tearful voice that she would wait until I returned."

Hollywood Sights

BY ROBBIN COONS HOLLYWOOD—The chances of the little "home town girl" invading Hollywood for movie fame would seem to be getting slimmer.

FRANCES MCCOY The recent acquisition by Fox of a flock of 25 or so Broadway stars and starlets, increasing the studio's already large list of stage-trained actors, indicates the screen's growing tendency to favor the movie aspirant who has been weighed and found not wanting in the metropolitan which is the show world's greatest market place.

GOOD BETS

The new recruits, already on the Hollywood scene, are by no means all stars, nor is their selection as movie possibilities any certain indication that they will all be with the company a year from now.

A few, like the comedian, Ted Healy and Irene Day, a prima donna on Broadway, are regarded as surefire bets, but others, like 18-year-old Frances McCoy and Lucille Brown, mere youngsters who have shown definite promise through actual accomplishment, are obviously on trial.

But it is significant that the casting director who went out in search of new talent hid himself direct to New York. It may not be reasonable to suppose that all ambitious theatrical talent not already in Hollywood or New York is going to one place or the other, but it is certainly practical.

CHANCES

It is doubtful, of course, that all the newcomers will score movie impressions to be retained. But if even a few, say two or three, develop into real screen assets the studio may consider itself amply justified, for it is building for the future, and at least will not have to depend on the uncertain prospect that the extra ranks will send up another Janet Gaynor or Clara Bow.

In 1929 Fox imported from the stage an entire constellation of talent, but of the lot only a few, notably Marjorie White, El Brendel and Fifi Dorsay, remain today as established box-office values. Still who would doubt that the wholesale signing was worth while?

Continental Test Drilled To 2,486 Feet And Not 4000

Continental Oil Company's No. 1 Miller, northern Glasscock county oil test, is being plugged with a total depth of 2,486 feet and not from below 4,000 as was erroneously printed in Monday's issue of The Herald. A typographical error caused the discrepancy.

JACQUELINE ON HER OWN

BY RICHARD STAR

SYNOPSIS: From a rather disappointing time mingling with "those who sit about," Jacqueline Grey retires to humble quarters in Gray's Inn Road.

"I told you that Naughty Boy would win, and Naughty Boy did win. Well, I put four pounds of your money on Prinkipo, and one pound on Naughty Boy. Of course, if Prinkipo had won I should have been in a sort of a hole. Naughty Boy won at 1 to 1. That makes nine pounds for you, which you have there."

HARD PHILOSOPHY

Nine o'clock in the evening found Jacqueline wandering among dark and dreary streets, without the slightest knowledge of where she was or what she intended to do. She was so weakened by lack of food and her illness that she was dazed, and hardly knew what she was doing. In sheer weariness she leaned against a railing, and caught at it with one hand for support.

"What's the matter, missy? Feeling queer?" He flashed the light of his lantern on her face.

"Bless me!" he exclaimed. "If it isn't Miss Jacqueline Grey. Well, if this isn't a bit of luck! You come with me. You are just about all in by the look of you. I'm Rogers. You remember Rogers, missy?" Jacqueline shook her head dully. She did not remember Rogers.

"Never mind. You will presently when my wife has given you a cup of tea and fussed you a bit. I'm going home now off duty, and you are coming with me! I've been looking for you for two weeks. My house is only about 200 yards from here. Ain't that luck, now? Do you think you can walk so far, or shall I carry you? You ain't much to carry."

"I can walk," murmured Jacqueline. "And—thank you very much." She hardly remembered anything more until she found herself in a cozy little room, warming herself before a bright fire.

A bright-faced young woman, who was a delight to look at, mothered her with welcome attentions, and P. C. Rogers beamed on them both. When Jacqueline had drunk a cup of tea and eaten some toast her brain began to function again. She tried to thank the kind, pleasant-faced young woman, and then, looking at P. C. Rogers, suddenly recognized him.

"Why—why, you are the kind policeman who helped me to get into Byrams late one night! It seems years ago." "Well, it's not so very many weeks ago," said Rogers with a beam. "Do you remember anything else?"

"It was you who put five pounds on Prinkipo for me." "Ah, that's better," said Rogers, rubbing his hands. "Now we're getting on all right. I've been looking for you ever since. I got into Byrams—that's where I got your name from. But they told me you had left, and they didn't seem to know where you had gone."

"But why have you been looking for me, Mr. Rogers?" "I'll tell you," replied Rogers mysteriously. He went to a cupboard and produced from a box a sealed envelope.

kept this only because she presumed it was not saleable.

The landlady seized her suitcase with the six shillings, and Jacqueline was promptly turned out with the promise that she could return and redeem her suitcase when she had the necessary money. She felt that she had been treated rather as if she was a thief.

"The world has no pity for you if you are unlucky, my child," Jacqueline said to herself. "You may be wicked, but you mustn't be unlucky."

Thus far had Jacqueline, at the age of 19, progressed in worldly philosophy.

So on a cold and dreary morning, with a penetrating rain falling, she found herself in the streets without a home and without a penny in her purse.

She had obtained one situation as a sewing hand in a small dressmaking establishment, but after being there a week had fallen ill again and had been dismissed. It seemed also that you mustn't be ill.

Now it was clear that fate was against her. It was useless to struggle against it any longer. She had made a good fight so far against bad luck and most inopportune illness. But she was beaten and it was no good going on.

Her little tender mouth became hard and rather sullen. The old bright and hopeful light had gone out of her eyes weeks ago.

"What does it matter?" she said to herself sullenly. "Who cares what becomes of me? Teddy is the only one—and, perhaps he has forgotten me long before this. I asked him to wonder whether he would be sorry if he knew what a time I am having."

She knew, and she had known all along, that there was one place where she could get a job for the asking. She could have her old position at Byrams, but she would have to ask Mr. Keswick Dell.

Majestic she had told herself that she would sooner starve than go back to Byrams, knowing what that entailed.

But when it came to the process of starving, she found that it was easier to talk about than to endure. Besides, having lost Teddy, what did it matter?

After all, Keswick Dell offered her security, comfort, a home of comparative ease and luxury. It would be a rather dreadful business, perhaps, but it could not be any worse than life with the flinty-hearted landlady.

Early Birds Ask Washington Ball Club For Tickets

WASHINGTON, April 29. (AP)—The fans who take no chances are rapping at the Washington ball club's door for World Series reservations already.

More than 200 requests had been received today, with Walter Johnson's lads having won seven straight.

The club officials don't know what to do about it.

Victim Tells Of Attack

DUNCAN, Ohio, April 29. (AP)—Leota Bosley, young school teacher at Loco, identified E. S. and A. Y. Hombree, Grady county farmers, from the witness stand here today as the two men who attacked and shot her on a lonely highway near Loco on the night of March 9.

Miss Bosley first picked the two men out of a crowd of 15 prisoners and later pointed the Hembree boys out in the court room.

The Hembrees, Indians, were being given preliminary trial on a statutory charge.

Miss Bosley recounted events on the night when she and her companion, Chad Thurman, Nocona, Tex., printer, were kidnaped near Loco and taken into a pasture where she was attacked and Thurman robbed. She testified that E. S. Hembree, the elder of the two, attempted to shoot Thurman also.

The young teacher was in a critical condition in a Gainesville, Texas, hospital for several days after the attack.

Waco Theater Bandits Leave Police No Clues

WACO, Tex., April 29. (AP)—Solution of a strange kidnaping and robbery without a single clue to work upon was the task before police today as they sought the men who escaped with Saturday and Sunday receipts from the Orpheum Theater here, totalling nearly $1,100.

Maurice Rosenfield, manager of the theater, said that two bandits came to his home, forced him to go to his assistant manager's home for keys to the theater, open the doors for them and obtain the money and then thrust him from their car in a residence section late Sunday night after first taking his clothes.

Rosenfield said when they released him he ran about ten yards and then fell flat, fearing they planned to shoot him. There he was found, and his clothes, in the middle of the road, nearby.

Melvin Cruise, the assistant manager, verified the part of Rosenfield's story regarding the keys.

SPORTS ON PARADE

By STANLEY NORMAN

PICKING UP

One game played and one protest filed. Things are picking up in the city league. We had visions of a drab, dull baseball season minus the little quarrels and squabbles that go to make up baseball, but such foresight needs spectators.

In paragraph 8, article 10, of by-laws and rules adopted by team managers, the following statement is made: "Employees of any company having a team in the association shall not be eligible to play on any other team than the one representing their company, except by written permission to the board of governors, from the manager of the team where player is employed."

ON FILE

Based upon the above paragraph, the Couden Oilers have filed a protest with secretary of the city league alleging that N. H. Payne, an employee of the T & P Railroad has not received permission from his team's manager to play with another organization. Payne pitched the Union Barbers to a victory in the opening game Sunday afternoon.

UP TO BOARD

The protest will be submitted to the board of governors, and their decision in the matter will be considered final. J. A. Eode, manager of the Couden Oilers, adds a remark on his written protest that it is being filed in the interest of clean playing in the municipal loop.

Validity of the protest will be left entirely in hands of the governing board. However, we can not refrain from making the observation that, if a rule has been violated, the proper time to correct such an error is immediately and let the judgment rendered by the governors set a precedent for other such occurrences that may develop during a 193 game season.

BIFF GAME

Some healthy biffing will take place Wednesday evening in the high school gymnasium when the Big Brothers Club stages another of its periodical ring and mat carnivals.

There will be a touch of feminine beauty and the smell of sweet perfumes mingling with the smack of leather and the grunts of mat artists if promoters of the show have their way. Special invitations have been issued to women of Big Spring to visit the gymnasium and to see just how clean and wholesome some are the shows. Those behind the Big Brothers organization hope mothers will visit the show and see for themselves that their boys are not being mistreated and that the manly art of self defense is not so distasteful as some would have you believe.

NO PARK

Allen Holder who staged a match roping contest with Hugh Bennett at Midland last weekend, was in to see us Monday afternoon and proposed staging a similar match in Big Spring next Sunday. He said that he and Bennett had met twice and that each man claims one victory. Bennett defeated Holder at Midland last week-end on 30 calves.

Everything was moving along in fine shape until the question of a place to stage the battle arose and then plans suddenly hit the rocks. It was feared by park owners that roping inside the board walls would damage the baseball playing field.

A ZOO

After a conference Monday afternoon with J. E. Bristow, the big bandit man, we returned to the office and found we had inherited a zoo. At first we thought the furry animal neatly packed in a shoe box was one of Bill Bissett's so-called jack rabbits that Irright Cross is always talking about, but on close examination we changed our mind. The ears grow longer on the Concho species than those on our present. Our next inspiration was to mail the wayward jack rabbit to Irright Cross for positive identification, but on second thought we feared old Irright and brother Bill Bissett would dig out a football suit for the animal and present him to Oil Belt grid circles next season.

After discarding all other theories on proper disposal of our unwelcome visitor, we finally decided to have a feast and promptly went to the meat market and purchased some pork chops. Anyway, we wish to take this opportunity of thanking our unknown benefactor and only hope that his next meat offering is carved from the carcass of a fattened calf.

SHOPS AND RICHCO TO HAVE BOUT

Coahoma Men Playing With Refinery Ball Nine

With continued sunshine and rain as was indicated Tuesday morning, the second city league baseball game of the season will be played between the T & P Shops and Richco this afternoon at 5:30 o'clock.

Tuesday morning, the diamond was too wet for use, but was drying rapidly and those who inspected the East Third Street lot agreed that play will be possible Tuesday evening if the weather man sees fit to continue favors.

Not only will the diamond be ready, but it is in the best shape of any time this season following the gentle downpour that packed all loose material and covered the surface with a fine silt.

The Richco nine is composed of men employed at the Richardson Refinery and residents of Coahoma who have cast their lot with the refiners this season. T & P Shops has one of the snappiest outfits in the league and boasts a left handed flinger in the person of Will Woods that has baffled numerous clubs in practice season battles.

I. C. C. Allows New Rail Line

WASHINGTON, April 29 (AP)—Construction by the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railway of its proposed new line between Vega in Oldham county, Texas, and Forrest, in Quay county, New Mexico, a distance of 76 miles, was approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The Chicago, Rock Island and Gulf Railway will construct the proposed line from Vega to a point on the Texas-New Mexico line near the southwest corner of Deaf Smith county, and from there to Forrest, 26 miles, the parent road will carry on the construction.

Cy Beats Century Record But Course Found To Be Short

FORT WORTH, April 29 (AP)—Cy Leland, T. C. U. flash, almost ran the 100 yard dash in the phenomenal record breaking time of 9 1-10 seconds yesterday—almost but not quite.

Three stop watches caught him in that time, but the officials, unable to believe their watches, taped the course. It was 95 yards long. The time was in a T. C. U.-Denton dual meet which Denton won.

HARD COURSE BRINGS HIGH GAME SCORES

Miss Emily Wadley Leads In Medal Round Monday

TEXARKANA, Texas, April 29 (AP)—Wise to the treachery hidden behind the beauty of the Texarkana Country Club course, forty-two contenders for feminine golf honors prepared today to tee off in the championship flight of the annual Texas Women's Golf Association tournament today.

The hazards of the course were best described by the scores of the qualifiers, a score of 90 being sufficient to qualify for the first flight.

A dark horse led the field, Miss Emily Wadley, Texarkana, an easy-smiling blonde, having unexpectedly taken first place with a 44 and a 42. Miss Kathryn Allen of Clarksville, equally unaccounted for in the predictions, scored 58, and Mrs. L. W. McGruder of Waco, last year's medalist, was third with one stroke under 90.

RAIN HELPS EXPORTERS HOLD PEAK

Two Southern Clubs Down Northern Opponents

with Fort Worth, Dallas, Wichita Falls and Shreveport again the hosts. In the first three cities, the southern invasion continued after a day when at least two of the games had to be chalked up as vindication of the much-maligned southern teams. Even Waco won.

What would have happened at Wichita Falls had it not rained, is another story, however, and the Beaumont Exporters, clinging tenaciously to first place in the league standings, had good reason for singing in the rain.

When the downpour interrupted the session shortly after the first round, the score stood 4-0, all in favor of the Spudders. Waco's was a grudge win of 4 to 3 over the Fort Worth Cats, at whose hands they suffered defeat the previous day. The last innings were played in darkness and rain, and the game was halted in the seventh.

Senators Surprise American Loop Fans By Unexpected Winning Race

BY HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

In the face of expert opinion that said they would be lucky to finish higher than seventh place, Walter Johnson's Washington Senators continue to lead the American League.

No one can say, of course, where the Senators will finish, but the fact remains that they are playing heads-up baseball, taking advantage of every break and winning consistently. The club has been fielding brilliantly and hitting opportunely, and Johnson has shown rare judgment in juggling his pitchers with Lloyd Brown, Irving Hadley, Firpo Marberry and Gerald Braxton as a big four.

Yesterday's 6-5 victory over the New York Yankees was the Senators' ninth in eleven games and their seventh in a row. Washington took an early lead, thanks to spectacular hitting by Shortstop Joe Cronin, and then held on to it in face of a Yankee rally in the latter frames. Cronin drove in three runs with a home run, triple and double.

The Chicago White Sox moved into second place with a 9-7 triumph over Detroit. Cary Reynolds hit a home run, triple and single, his homer with Lyons on base in the seventh, really deciding the contest.

The St. Louis Browns could get only five hits off the offerings of Pete Jablonowski, American Association recruit, and Cleveland won, 3 to 1.

Wildness on the part of MacFadden and Morris and fielding errors by O. Miller and Regan enabled the Philadelphia Athletics to score four runs in the ninth inning without a hit and beat Boston, 5-4.

In the National League, the New York Giants lost their first game of the season, bowing to Brooklyn 6 to 4 when Harvey Hendrick doubled with the bases filled, in the ninth. The defeat broke Bill Walker's string of 11 straight victories run up during the latter part of 1929 and this season.

Four home runs, two by Gabby Hartnett and others by Charley Root and Cliff Heathcote, enabled Chicago's Cubs to beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 7-4. Root was touched for 11 hits, but fanned nine men.

The St. Louis Cardinals took advantage of eight bases on balls and whipped Cincinnati.

The Phillies concentrated their hitting in the fifth, sixth and seventh innings to beat the Boston Braves, 7 to 4.

HOUSTON, Tex., April 28 (AP)—The jury to try Sheriff H. Wyatt Collins of Fort Bend county and three negroes on liquor charges was completed in federal court this afternoon only a few minutes after the actual selection of its members had begun.

Due to the fact that the session was late in starting, the noon recess was postponed until shortly before 1 p. m.

Plans For Game Preserve Made

Plans for a giant game preserve were outlined here recently by U. E. Melton, a former resident of Big Spring, who had charge of a mammoth ranch in Culberson county.

Mr. Melton plans to sell 28 club memberships at the $300 each. Money will be used for construction of a dam to impound water for a lake a half or three-quarters of a mile in diameter.

State game preserves are located on two sides of the tract Mr. Melton proposes to include in the club plan and he believes by planting adequate and proper feed in the private preserve that considerable game will concentrate within its limits.

There will be wild rice planted to entice ducks to the lake and there will be desirable and abundant feed provided for dove, quail, deer and other game.

The dam site has already been located by a railroad company survey. The dam proposed will impound water from approximately 275 square miles of water shed and even a light rainfall will be sufficient to more than fill the lake. Mr. Melton proposes.

A $300 membership in the club entitles its holder to full rights during his natural life. Friends may accompany members, if the plan succeeds, Mr. Melton said.

Melton, who is now located at the Elks Club in El Paso, was a former resident of Big Spring. He attended school here and still has numerous friends in this section, he said. It is for benefit of those friends who may be interested in the game preserve plan that Mr. Melton made announcement of his plans here.

Lubbock Man Is Emphatic In Statement

MR. JAMES E. RIDDLE AYERS
ARGOTANE GREATEST REMEDY IN HIS EXPERIENCE

"I am telling you the truth when I say that if I knew that Argotane was not going to be sold any more, I would buy every bottle on that counter over there," said Mr. James E. Riddle, in a conversation at Bowen's Drug Store, Lubbock, Texas, recently. Mr. Riddle is a well known brick mason and stone cutter, residing at 1920 Fifteenth street, Lubbock, Texas.

"Before I began taking Argotane, I felt that I was at my row's end, after suffering for about thirty-five years with an mean case of indigestion as a man ever had. During all these years I have been bothered by a disordered stomach that grew steadily worse. Indigestion attacks caused me to swell up like a mule with colic, and I would become very weak and nervous. My breath was short and my pulse weak. I tell you, I was flirting with the grave, and I guess I would be in it by this time if it had not been for Argotane.

"But look at me now. I am as strong and as well as I have ever been in my life, and can do as big a day's work as any man. Argotane did this for me, and you can't tell me that it is not a wonderful medicine. I can recommend it unreservedly.

Genuine Argotane may be bought in Big Spring at the Cunningham & Phillips Drug Store.—Adv.

(Continued from Page One) quarters of a mile through waist deep water to safety. E. B. Spiller, manager of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association said that the rains would restore the confidence of the cattle raisers of West Texas. Towns reporting precipitation Monday and Monday night included: Colorado, Lubbock, Crosbyton, Sudan, Jayton, Lockney, Paris, Fort Worth, Dallas, San Marcos, Edinburg, Wichita Falls, Abilene, Plainview, Jacksboro, Bowie, Midland, Haskell, Pampa, Merkel, Sweetwater, Del Rio, Lamesa, Stamford, Haskell, Throckmorton, McCamey, Ballinger, Clyde, Albany, Olney, Munday, Vernon, Quanah, Paducah, Sagerton, Weinert, Rotan, Hamlin, Cotulla, Jayton, Girard, Rochester and Stanton.

General Although some small portions of Howard, Midland, Glascock, Mitchell, Nolan and Dawson counties had not received any appreciable amount of moisture until Monday, reports indicated that all territory had been moistened Tuesday morning.

A rain and wind storm with more rain than wind struck San Antonio Monday night, late dispatches said.

Paving

(Continued from Page One) feet width, extending through Colorado westward to a junction at Westbrook. Concrete pavement across Iatan flat, a distance of ten miles, has been in use for several months.

"Mitchell county voted $2,000,000 in bonds about three years ago," Judge Ely said, "of which it had a balance remaining of about $108,000. The entire project will cost approximately $1,000,000. Mitchell county having a one-fifth investment in the road through the county. The matter of paving has been held up by the highway department in the hope that the county would come in on the usual basis of West Texas counties, but contracts will be let with the understanding that in the future, when it is necessary to construct a north and south road through Mitchell county, the county will be charged with the extra amount advanced by the department on highway No. 1.

"All other counties in this vicinity, with the exception of Callahan and Shackelford, have contributed their full share of 50 per cent on state roads and one-third on federal. However, in many localities of Texas the state has contributed 100 per cent to fill Mitchell county gap may be termed an important one in the great trans-continental highway, and since the traveling public is demanding its construction from one end of the state to the other, the commission felt that it was its duty to let the contract."

Bristow

(Continued from Page One) doors by the rain. Dr. Bristow told and retold the story of his capture, his life with the Mexican bandits and how he eventually gained his freedom. Dr. Bristow returned to Big Spring minus nothing except the ransom money paid for his release and 30 pounds of flesh. While held hostage by Mexican bandits, the most sumptuous meal consisted of bread and beans. For five consecutive days, Dr. Bristow existed on bread and water, but he received the same rations as those dished out to the bandits, he told his audience.

Not To Return? Asked about news dispatches saying that he planned to return to Old Mexico, Dr. Bristow laughed in his disarming manner and said that whoever wrote that story evidently failed to hear the last of his remark in which he said he intended to go back, but not without taking a couple of American regiments as body guards.

At one time during the mad chase through the wildest country in Old Mexico, the bandits considered releasing their captive, but on reading from a book containing rules and by-laws of their organization, it was clearly stated that all captives must either be ransomed or killed. Up until that point, Dr. Bristow had entertained hopes of freedom, but thereafter, things looked dark, he told friends. He was not aware of the fact that efforts were being made to gain his freedom until delivered to his son, Gordon (Obie) Bristow.

Narrow Escape In relating various incidents of his experience while held by bandits, Dr. Bristow told how Mexican government troops came within 200 or 300 yards of the camp. At that time he found two sheltering rocks and hid between them as the figured troops were surrounding the camp located in the mouth of what was once a crater.

Just before his release was arranged, Dr. Bristow reenacted his actions of hiding between the boulders which greatly amused the Mexicans. Old time friends of Dr. Bristow were noticeably happy to see him again. Several expressed the opinion that his freedom seemed impossible at two or three stages of the chase through Mexico.

Poses Seek Crazy Slayer Of Three

MODESTO, Calif., April 29. (AP)—Armed posses today were seeking an apparently crazed slayer who shot and killed three men yesterday.

The killer was believed to be an itinerant named Jack Crowley. His victims, all ranch hands, were identified as Jack Murphy alias Jacques Fornier, 40; Deloico C. Fultz, 35, and Joseph Barton, 45.

Barton's body was found in the doorway of his shack 300 yards from a cabin where the bodies of Murphy and Fultz were discovered in their bunks. The shooting occurred yesterday.

Ohio Pen

Shooting The shooting followed a night and morning of comparative quiet within the walls. A half hour after the guards had sent bullets streaming into the idle house through small windows and peep holes, the convicts had quieted down, the prison officials ordered guards into the cell blocks to make an inspection.

The effort to escape came shortly after national guardsmen had started erection of a barbed wire stockade in the prison yard, in which it was proposed to hold the convicts until hundreds of cell blocks had been repaired. The mutineers heretofore had confined their activities to "passive resistance" against the wardenship of Preston E. Thomas. They had been in revolt since the fire, when 320 convicts were killed by fire and smoke Monday night a week ago.

Covered by a machine gun, Colonel Robert Haubrich, Ohio national guard, went to the idle house doorway and conversed with three convicts. They reported that practically all the prisoners had taken refuge in their cells, and that all was quiet within the block.

Columbus police reserves, summoned when the disorder started, cleared all the streets in the vicinity of the penitentiary. Wounded Two of the wounded convicts, were George Tonoff and Jewell Joffa. The former was shot in the right lung and Joffa received a bullet in the right leg. Tonoff was serving from three to 15 years for burglary and Joffa three to seven years on the same charge.

All prison guards in the guard room were ordered removed and were replaced with national guardsmen, armed with machine guns, automatic rifles, sidearms and tear gas bombs.

National guard officers said martial law had not been declared, but that guardsmen would take charge of the situation, in accordance with Governor Cooper's orders to put down the revolt and restore order. Warden Thomas said Col. R. S. Haubrich, Ohio national guard, was in command within the walls.

Others Hurt Col. Haubrich then announced, "we are going to run things here. We intend to take the convicts out to eat shortly, and then they will return to their cells."

Tonoff, doctors said, was probably fatally wounded. Dr. George W. Kyle, penitentiary physician, ordered him removed from the prison to a Columbus hospital. He was taken out under prison guards.

The effective putting down of the revolt was demonstrated at the noonday meal time, less than two hours after the shooting, when the mutinous convicts were lined up between state troops and forced to march in orderly fashion to the mess halls.

A machine gun mounted on the chapel building, where Col. Haubrich established national guard headquarters, surveyed the marching prisoners and kept them in line.

Plans To Name Colonels Ready

Plans for designating Big Spring's first crop of "Colonels" at Wednesday's session of the Business Men's luncheon club have been completed, according to Shine Phillips, president.

All members of the organization are urged to attend Wednesday's meeting and assist in what the president termed, "the most outstanding event staged by a service group in Big Spring."

Although a secret committee has worked out details and selected the honorees, rumors purported to have originated in the committee, are to the effect that "Colonels" before moving to Big Spring about 42 years ago. Their first home here was located directly across Runnels street from present location of the Rix Furniture & Hardware Company's store. Two years later they built a large dwelling at 605 Main street and resided there 20 years, until they went to Lubbock in June, 1926, to make their home.

Mrs. Rix was a devoted member of the Episcopal church and had been one of the leading members of the local congregation since its organization. Her friends, numbered by the thousands, always spoke of her intense love of flowers. Her yard always was a medley of gay blossoms and her home one of the community's most hospitable social centers.

Mrs. Rix is survived by her husband; a daughter, Miss Ruth Rix of Lubbock; three sons, Harvey L. of Big Spring, Wallace W. and Jed A. of Lubbock. A daughter, Amelia Theresa, died September 16, 1916, and is buried here. Mrs. B. C. Rix's mother, Mrs. Amelia Harding, who died several years ago at the age of 92, also is buried here.

Surviving grand children are Ralph, Lewis and Paul Rix, Mrs. Maywood Pickle, Lucille and Eleanor Rix of Big Spring and Alice Rix of Lubbock.

The Rix family has been actively identified with the commercial and civic life of Big Spring for two decades. The sons and father have been in the furniture, hardware and undertaking business for 23 years. Several years ago the firm, entered Lubbock and its business has grown into one of the foremost ones in the Panhandle.

INDIGESTION SPELLS

Man Says He Took Black-Draught After Each Meal and Soon Got Relief. North Charlotte, N. C.—In telling how he was benefited by Theodor's Black-Draught, Mr. John M. Crepe, of 902 Charles Avenue, this city, writes:

"I had three spells of indigestion, one after another. I suffered a lot of pain. My back ached and I had pains in my stomach frequently. It felt like my breath was cut off in my chest."

"I was bothered this way for about a year. A friend whom I told about my condition asked me to try Black-Draught."

"I began by taking a pinch of Black-Draught after each meal and found that I soon got relief."

"I have been taking Black-Draught for fourteen years, and I find that it prevents headaches and constipation. We keep it in the house all the time. I have told a lot of people about it, and gladly recommend it to others."

Many people have written that they found relief from pains after eating by taking Black-Draught in the manner described above. Composed of selected medicinal herbs and roots, finely powdered, accurately combined and packaged in a thoroughly modern, scientific way. Price 25c. NC-227

Dallas Tailor Shoots Home Town— Wife And Then Self

DALLAS, April 29. (AP)—Louis Platnich, 50, tailor, shot his former wife, Mrs. Anna McKim, through the legs at her home here today and then ran into the street and shot himself through the breast. He ran several blocks before falling dead.

Mrs. McKim told officers Platnich had called at her home last night, but she had gone to the home of a neighbor to avoid trouble with him.

AS OFTENTIMES stated in this column, it is cheaper to begin with and cheaper through the years to build a highway as straight as good engineering will allow. John Jones, if he lives in the middle of Howard county, now is located many miles from a paved road. Even if it did not run down his own property line, or on the next section line.

To go into the highway matter waving a red flag in front of state highway officials—that red flag being that same old "location" cry, means that you're knocking your chances of speed and action on a road program into a cocked hat right off the reel.

UNDER EXISTING statutes the only way to get roads and get them quickly is to say to the highway commission, "here we're voting bonds to pay off the bill. You and the federal government are putting up two-thirds of the cost. Go ahead and build the roads. We can use them and the quicker the better."

HERE'S something we couldn't resist reprinting: One of the most perplexing problems confronting newspaper editors is not what to print but what to leave out. M. E. Foster, editor of the Houston Press, pointed out recently in his page one column "Why?"

He told of the many new angles that have come up during the past three decades in Houston, and how each has required the establishment of a newspaper department for the required coverage. He listed shipping, the automobile, the oil industry, radio broadcasting, and aviation, as the innovations requiring ample space in the papers and then said:

"Try to count on your fingers the things we see and do today that were not recorded 10, 20 or 30 years ago. Think of our progress in science, surgery, commerce and industry, and if you can't find all the news in one paper in one day remember that there are more on earth and in the skies than were even in man's imagination a century ago."

"The telegraph wires, the cables, the telephone, the wireless, and the radio bring us news from the center and the end of the world and from all the seas. "We can't print it all. Something must be omitted. "So you see the problem of an editorial staff today is to decide what to print. That's why we sometimes laugh like maniacs when someone brings us something just "to help fill the paper." We can't kill him. We must laugh, sigh or cry."
