Q—Will the booster club be holding a steak supper again this year? If so, when?

A—The All-Sports Booster Club will hold its steak supper on homecoming, Sept. 20 from 5:30-7:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria. Snyder entertains Littlefield in Tiger Stadium at 8 p.m.

In Brief

Find remains

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Rescue workers today found remains of six people near the fuselage of an American executive jet that crashed on Borneo island with 12 people on board, police said.

The Du Pont Corp. Grumman Gulfstream II carried five Conoco Inc. executives from Houston, four of their spouses and three crew members bound from Tokyo to Jakarta when the plane crashed last Wednesday while attempting to land for refueling. All those aboard are believed to have died.

The cause of the crash has not been determined.

MOVE houses

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The radical group MOVE, burned out of its home by a police bomb that killed 11 people in 1985, has used part of a $2.5 million settlement to buy twin row houses in west Philadelphia, it was reported today.

A MOVE member, Alberta Wicker Africa, said in today's editions of The Philadelphia Inquirer that the group bought both halves of the twin because it felt cramped in a smaller row house in southwest Philadelphia.

"All we are doing is living normal lives. We're not fortifying the house or nothing like that," the newspaper quoted another member, Alfonso Robbins Africa, as saying.

Council will consider redistricting proposal

Redistricting, the approval of new ordinances and an enterprise zone are among items facing Snyder City Council members as they convene at 6:30 p.m. today for their September meeting.

A letter from the Lubbock law firm handling redistricting, McWhorter, Cobb and Johnson, reveals that Districts 1 and 4 have lost population as 2 and 3 have increased. The letter also notes that of the 12,195 city residents, 68.1 percent Anglo; 4.1 percent Black; 27.81 percent Hispanic.

The letter recommends maintaining District 1, currently held by councilwoman Vernest Tippens, as the minority-dominated district. Council members could give the okay on designing a redistricting plan during today's meeting.

The city's current districting plan is the result of a court-order and any changes in district lines would require both Justice Department and court approval, according to city officials.

Also due for consideration will be a proposed enterprise zone. If the council adopts the zone, a public hearing on the issue will be scheduled.

In July, the council endorsed the defining of a zone within the city. The endorsement came at the recommendation of a council committee chaired by councilman Jackie Greene. At that time, committee members said the zone designation would assist in attracting hi-tech and manufacturing industries. The zone designation would also put social programs on a priority list for grant funding.

Adoption of a 39.23 cent tax rate and the city's $5.6 million budget, along with ordinances increasing water and sewage charges and permitting, inspection and users fees, will be considered as the they receive a second reading. The ordinances were passed unanimously on first reading during the council's August meeting.

Also to be considered on second reading is an ordinance doubling the local hotel/motel tax from three percent to six percent. The ordinance also includes adding two motels in the city's hotel/motel taxing jurisdiction. The ordinance will become effective Oct. 1.

A $5,000 request from Scurry County Museum for hotel/motel tax funds will be considered by the council as well as the renewal of a franchise agreement with Lone Star Gas and a new ordinance concerning abandoned cars.

Bank depository bids will be reviewed during tonight's meeting and under informational items, city staff will give a presentation of Texas Public Funds Investment Pool.

SISD enrollment up by over 35 students

Enrollment in Snyder public schools is up by more than 35 students, but more interesting is the fluctuation from campus to campus in comparing post Labor Day numbers this year to last year.

Snyder ISD had 3,585 students enrolled as of Sept. 7, 1990. After Labor Day this year, enrollment was listed at 3,624 — a gain of 39 students.

The students won't be found at Central Elementary, however, where enrollment dropped from 384 a year ago to 315 this year. West Elementary took a shorter slide in enrollment — from 479 in 1990 to 468 presently.

The elementary school gaining the most in enrollment was Stanfield, which has witnessed a hike in students from 363 to 403. Likewise, Snyder Junior High School picked up 50 students — from 495 a year ago to 545 this year.

Snyder High School's numbers are up from 924 in 1990 to 944.

Other school enrollments include North Elementary, up from 264 to 268; East Elementary, up from 328 to 330; and Northeast Elementary, down from 354 to 351.

There are 32 students within the Snyder district attending the Hobbs Alternative School this year.

'Open and fair' session pledged...

Thomas hearing underway

WASHINGTON (AP) — Clarence Thomas went before the Senate Judiciary Committee today and the panel's chairman said the confirmation hearings would dwell on whether the Supreme Court nominee favored a "radical change" in the direction of American law.

Thomas sat quietly in a packed committee room as Sen. Joseph Biden pledged "open and fair" hearings. But Biden, D-Del., wasted little time in getting to a topic expected to consume much of the hearings — Thomas' belief in "natural law," a legal theory that some individual rights are inherent and independent of all government authority.

Sen. Strom Thurmond, the panel's senior Republican, said Thomas' rulings as an appeals court judge were "within the mainstream of judicial" thought.

Thomas is a conservative, black federal judge and his nomination has triggered a political battle at a time when the Supreme Court is increasingly conservative.

Supporters are expected to stress his achievements after a childhood of poverty while opponents are expected to try and raise questions about his views on abortion and other important issues before the court.

Thomas smiled broadly as he shook hands with Biden and other members of the committee in advance of the opening gavel.

For the most part, he sat quietly at the witness table while members of the committee outlined their views on his nomination.

There was a moment of humor when Biden asked Thomas how old he was. Thomas, 43, replied, "well, I've aged over the last 10 weeks." That was a reference to the bruising political struggle that has surrounded his nomination by President Bush to replace retiring Justice Thurgood Marshall.

Biden himself is an advocate of natural law in some form, but he said Thomas apparently holds "a vision of natural law that we have moved beyond."

Some critics contend Thomas holds natural-law views that could lead to the conclusion that fetuses have a "right to life" requiring states to outlaw all abortions.

Medical fund established for local cancer patient

A medical fund has been established at Snyder financial institutions to assist with expenses in connection with the cancer treatment of Reba Erwin.

Mrs. Erwin, a school nurse with the Snyder Independent School District the past 13 years, is being treated for cancer and has recently found that future treatment is not covered by health insurance.

Amount of future treatments is expected to exceed $100,000. Donations should be made to the Reba Erwin Medical Fund at either West Texas State Bank, American State Bank or Snyder National Bank.

Charles Blakey, retired certified public accountant, has agreed to help administer the fund.

Mrs. Erwin is the wife of East Elementary school principal Jim Erwin who has been with the Snyder schools 33 years, 23 of those as principal.

Doctors have advised that Mrs. Erwin is a candidate for bone marrow transplant, and that the treatment is not covered by the school's stop-loss carrier.

Ray Courtney, principal at North Elementary, is working with teacher organizations within the school system to consider ways to raise funds to assist the Erwins.

Erwin is a member of the Men's Golf Association at WTC, and a benefit golf tournament is in the planning stages, according to Milton Ham, WTC athletic director and golf course manager.

Bullard wins grid contest

Thomas Bullard of Rt. 3 Box 66 missed only three of 20 picks to win top prize in the first Snyder Daily News Football Contest of the year.

Bullard will receive $50.

Second place and $25 went to Desmond Ayala of 705 4th St., Post, Texas, who missed four picks.

Eleven entrants had five misses each. Using the tie-breaker method, two of these missed the actual score by three points. Sharing the $15 third place money were Cheryl Coward of Rt. 1 Box 36, and John Hardin of 3111 Ave. X.

Checks will be mailed to the winners.

Another contest appears in today's issue.

Man receives prison term

A 32-year-old Snyder man was sentenced to 10 years in Texas Department of Criminal Justice by 132nd District Judge Gene Dulaney after pleading guilty to burglary of a building.

William Earl Jackson of 702 28th St. received the sentence in connection with the July 23 burglary of Ken's Place, 3413 Ave. M. Jackson was indicted for the offense in August.

Three other individuals received seven years probation for burglary offenses. Pleading guilty were 18-year-old Samuel Villa Ruiz Jr. of 413 33rd to an Aug. 9 incident of felony theft; 17-year-old Brian Dewayne Jackson of 1004 26th St. to the Aug. 19 burglary of Sparkle City Pawn; and 17-year-old Roderick Tramaine Boger of 34th St. and Ave. J, also to the Aug. 19 burglary of the pawn shop.

All three were fined $500 and ordered to pay restitution.

Goal is surpassed during blood drive

Snyder area citizens responded to Monday's emergency blood drive by doubling the quota, drive officials confirmed today.

"It was a tremendous success," said Teddie Hatcher, vice president of the Scurry County Advisory Council for United Blood Services. "We were thrilled."

Sixty-two units were drawn in response to the emergency call. Snyder's quota was 25 pints.

Responding to the request were 36 first-time donors.

The fact that Snyder surpassed its quota was made even more gratifying due to the fact that persons who gave blood at the August drive were not eligible to donate Monday, drive sponsors noted.

Receiving gallon pins were Texa Ball, three gallons; and Toni Callahan, one gallon.

United Blood Services issued the emergency appeal late last week due to a lack of donors before and after Labor Day. The effort was sponsored locally by Scurry County Advisory Council for UBS and Cogdell Memorial Hospital Auxiliary.

The SDN Column — By Roy McQueen

The feller on Deep Creek says, "What you wear isn't as important as how you wear."

Two women in the grocery store last week were exchanging stories about sending their kindergarten kids off to school for the first time.

One woman explained it was a mixed bag of feelings. She was proud, but had difficulty with the reality that her little boy was growing up.

The companion listened to the sad tale. "I know what you mean. There's so much to learn in such a short time. Before he went to school, Bubba always took care of programming the VCR."

Early next year, a new slogan will appear on vehicle license tags. After years of debate, tags will read "The Lone Star State."

"Friendship State" was once suggested, but authorities decided it was too whimpy for macho Texans. The highway department had sought citizen imput after the Friendship flap.

One of the most unique suggestions was a plate bearing the image of an armadillo. Other suggestions included Don't Mess With Texas, Don't Mess With Me State, Don't Litterdamit, Pinhead Legislature, The Bank Failure State, The Insolvent State, Yankee Go Home, Bluebonnet State, Getaway to New Mexico, and Gateway to Oklahoma.

We still like the idea of including the name of the county in which the vehicle is registered. Lone Star ain't bad, but State of West Texas would be better.

We're out of tune with most national polls, but we agree with a recent national business survey.

The most annoying phone response, according to 48 percent of those interviewed, was the response, "Please hold," followed by a click. The only thing worse, the survey reveals, is background music.

Groups kick-off anti-lottery campaign

AUSTIN (AP) — With polls showing that Texans favor a lottery, opponents concede they are short of time and money to convince voters otherwise.

But Weston Ware, of the Texas Baptist Life Commission, said Monday that their odds of defeating the proposed constitutional amendment Nov. 5 are "better than one in 20 million."

"It's not the role of government to skin its own citizens," said Ware.

Joining under the banner of Texans Who Care, religious, social service and consumer representatives, in addition to a conservative lawmaker, condemned the proposed lottery as a "sleazy" way to finance state government.

They said the game would teach children to gamble, entice the poor to waste money, and is an inefficient way to raise revenue.

John Hildreth of the southwest regional office of Consumers Union said much of the lottery profits would be eaten up by costs to operate the game.

"If the lottery were an automobile, it would be labeled a lemon and sent back to the manufacturer," he said.

A spokesman for Gov. Ann Richards, however, defended the game. Richards supports the proposed constitutional amendment to allow a lottery, and lobbied lawmakers to place the measure on the ballot.

"It is unlike any other revenue source that I know of in that it is completely optional," Bill Cryer said. "If people have a moral objection to the lottery, no one is going to require them to participate."

State officials have said a lottery would produce about $460 million in revenue for the current two-year budget period.

But Jude Filler, executive director of Texas Alliance for Human Needs, accused state leaders of "hypocrisy and cynicism" by advocating state-run gambling instead of tackling the need for a fairer tax system.

"I will be the first to admit that playing the lottery can be fun, just like wishing on a star or breaking a wishbone. But to fund government on such a basis is idiotic," she said.

Rep. Glenn Repp, R-Duncanville, said the game would simply take money from businesses, and accelerate state spending.

"A lottery produces revenue for a government to spend that is already spending too much money," he said.

Sue Cox, campaign manager for Texans Who Care, said the group would try to educate voters about problems with a lottery, but would spend much less than the $500,000 used in its unsuccessful attempt to defeat parimutuel wagering in 1987.

Other groups opposed to the lottery are Texas IMPACT, an inter-religious public policy organization, and the Texas Eagle Forum.

Henry Lee Lucas now faces one less charge of murder

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — A Kingfisher County prosecutor has dropped a seven-year-old murder charge against Henry Lee Lucas, asking for a new look at one of more than 300 killings Lucas once claimed and now generally disavows.

The daughter of 1977 stabbing victim Mary Eulola Harrison said Monday the Texas death row inmate's claim of guilt in her mother's death never really convinced her.

"Anybody who's a sensationalist and any time you're in jail, what else are you going to do?" Marjorie Harrison of Kingfisher asked.

Prosecutors believe Lucas claimed to be a serial killer to stall his execution for killing a hitchhiker in 1979. He since has recanted most of his purported confessions.

Kingfisher County prosecutors had taken no legal action in the killing of the elder Ms. Harrison, 63, since charging Lucas in 1984.

Assistant District Attorney E.A. Gates dropped the charge last week, saying his decision came in the course of a normal review of old cases.

Gates cited insufficient evidence for the charge.

"We need to treat it like any other case," Gates said. "It needs to be investigated. But the older a case is, the harder it is to prove.'

He wrote the Oklahoma State Bureau of Investigation to ask it to reopen its investigation of Ms. Harrison's fatal stabbing Jan. 8, 1977, at her rural home northwest of Kingfisher.

The OSBI investigation had never been closed, just placed on "open inactive" status like other unsolved murders, OSBI spokesman Paul Renfrow said.

Lucas' string of confessions started in 1982 after he was arrested on a weapons complaint in Texas.

Former Kingfisher County Sheriff Coye Barker first talked to Lucas two years later, but Lucas said then he didn't know whether he had been in Kingfisher at the time of Ms. Harrison's killing.

Your Birthday

Sept. 10, 1991

Several dynamic individuals might have a hand in providing you with new opportunities in the year ahead. They will also participate in these involvements, but in roles a bit larger than yours.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Goings-on behind the scenes tend to favor you today, especially where your financial interests are concerned. There are strong possibilities for profitable developments. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Astro-Graph Matchmaker instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail $2 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) The best of your charismatic qualities will be prevalent today. Those you'll be involved with will find these attributes appealing and help you fulfill your expectations.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Timing is extremely critical today, and you'll innately know when to do things that will help you achieve your most important objectives.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) You could be luckier than usual today in significant involvements that include close, personal friends. Your rabbit's foot will work for them as well.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Something extremely beneficial could develop for you today, but not necessarily along the lines you've been anticipating. A change that transpires may even be better.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) The best way to resolve a delicate matter today is by listening. The individual who is the cause of the problem could provide you with the solution.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Continue to look for new channels today that could provide you with a second source of income. You're much closer to finding them than you may realize.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You have a secret admirer who, up until now, hasn't been bold enough to express feelings for you. However, there's a possibility this may all change today.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Because your creativity is so prominent today, even mundane tasks will seem like play. Try to find time to work on a project that will beautify your surroundings.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Sometimes unstructured, spontaneous events are the ones that turn out to be the most fun. This could be true today, so don't confine yourself to an inflexible schedule that limits your mobility.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) This is one of those unusual days when you could do more receiving than giving. Several individuals are looking for ways to repay the kindness you've shown them in the past.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Endeavors you devote your personal attention to have excellent chances of producing the types of end results you desire. Don't delegate key assignments to others.

More about signals

For today's deal, put on your defender's cap and then cover the East and South cards.

Sitting West, you make a weak jump overcall of three clubs over South's one-heart opening. It isn't an ideal bid: the suit is fine, but the hand is playable in three suits, not just the one your partner will assume. However, experience has shown that it pays to make life tough for the opponents.

North has one of the worst 10-point hands you will ever see, but he must bid something over three clubs, and he does have four-card heart support.

Against four hearts, you lead the club king: four, six, ace. Declarer draws four rounds of trumps ending in hand, partner following throughout, and then leads a club toward dummy's jack. You rise with the queen, partner following with the two. What do you do now?

It seems to be a guess between spades and diamonds. Because your spades were shorter than your diamonds, you probably decided to switch to a spade. But in today's deal, it isn't the winning play. Declarer discards one diamond loser on the club jack and claims.

How could you know? Only if your partner knows how to put those "useless" trumps to work. If he wants a spade switch, he plays his trumps in descending order: seven, six, five, four. Here, though, he wants a diamond switch, so he follows in ascending order: four, five, six, seven. With no preference, he plays his cards in some random sequence.

Experts often make suit-preference signals with low trumps. They work well — if you play with a partner who watches your cards.

Recipe Box

STIR-FRIED VEGETABLES IN GARLIC SAUCE

Peanut oil, as needed, for stir-frying
2 tablespoons minced garlic
1 tablespoon minced ginger
½ bunch scallions, cut into thin strips
½ pound snow peas, ends trimmed
½ pound shiitake mushrooms, cleaned and sliced
One 15-ounce can baby corn, drained
One 8-ounce can straw mushrooms, drained
½ cup chicken broth
2 tablespoons cornstarch mixed with 2 tablespoons cold water
Salt and pepper to taste
1 tablespoon sesame oil

Heat oil in wok until nearly smoking. Add garlic, ginger and scallions. Stir-fry about 20 seconds. Add snow peas and mushrooms. Cook until peas turn bright green and are heated through. Add baby corn and straw mushrooms; stir-fry until heated through. Add broth and bring to a boil. Add dissolved cornstarch and cook, stirring, until sauce is thickened. Season with salt, pepper and sesame oil. Makes 6 servings.

Scurry ABWA meets at the woman's club

The Scurry Charter Chapter of American Business Women Association met at the Martha Ann Woman's Club recently for their regular monthly meeting.

Barbara Williamson was hostess to 18 members.

Following the invocation by Vern Beasley, members told about their vacations.

Mrs. Beasley, vocational chairperson, introduced Deborah Rodgers, a five-year employee at Keaton Kolor who works helping customers and in the darkroom. Using a computer to develop film, she makes adjustments for better pictures. The business processes most film sizes, she said. Mrs. Rodgers concluded by giving the group tips on how to take better pictures and said that Keaton Kolor has a two-hour service except on disk type film, on holidays, and on Mondays.

Leona Wiggins, ways and means chairman, announced White Buffalo Day was set for Oct. 12.

Presentation of a special book was presented to Carol Young, past president, and Inez Teaff received her eight-year perfect attendance charm.

The September meeting will be the annual Fall Tea. Reservations should be made by calling Mae Cole at 573-8628 or Ruby Neves at 573-5992.

Members having birthdays during the month were Mrs. Beasley and Louise Rice.

U.S. Commodore Matthew C. Perry made his second landing in Japan in 1854, and within a month he concluded a treaty with the Japanese.

'Skins nudge Cowboys, 33-31

IRVING, Texas (AP) — The Washington Redskins used fake punt sorcery to exorcise their Monday Night Football demon.

The wildest scoring game between Washington and Dallas in 29 years turned on a gamble that's in every playbook from junior high school to the NFL.

It fooled the Cowboys, and the Redskins cashed the gambit into a 33-31 victory that ended a string of pratfalls on MNF. The last time Washington had earned a MNF victory was in 1987 against Dallas, also in Texas Stadium.

Washington coach Joe Gibbs was thankful to get the MNF monkey off his back.

"I'm thrilled to death to get over that Monday Night thing," he said. "Now we can quit worrying and talking about it."

It was the most total points scored between the two teams since a 35-35 tie in 1970, and the victory snapped a six-game Washington MNF losing streak. The Redskins were just a loss away from tying the New York Jets record of seven straight MNF losses.

Washington is 18-16 on MNF and Gibbs now has a winning record against Dallas, 11-10.

The fake punt was the talk of both locker rooms after the game.

"We worked on that fake punt all week," said Gibbs. "We felt it would work but, of course, you know what happens if you miss. If it backfired, it could set them off.

"You have to give (special teams coach) Wayne Sevier credit. He yelled at me and told me it looked good, and I said if we got the right situation to go with it. It was a heckuva play." Brian Mitchell took a short snap on fourth and one from the Washington 48 and gained three yards.

Four plays later, Gerald Riggs scored from a yard out to give the Redskins a 30-24 lead with 12:58 to play over demoralized Dallas.

Chip Lohmiller later kicked his fourth field goal to put the game out of reach for the 'Skins, now 19-17 on MNF. It was the first MNF game for Dallas in the regular season since 1988.

Mitchell said he read the Dallas defense and made an automatic call.

"Actually the Dallas defense made the call for us because they overloaded on one side," he said. "I got a great, quick snap and I knew I had it."

Dallas defensive end Jim Jeffcoat said: "We weren't totally surprised, but it was a good play on their part. We just self-destructed out there."

Dallas coach Jimmy Johnson said a lost fumbled punt and the fake punt killed the Cowboys off.

Mark Rypien of Washington and Troy Aikman of Dallas traded touchdown-for-touchdown pass.

Rypien hit 14 of 26 passes for 203 yards and two touchdowns, and Aikman hit 27 of 42 passes for 234 yards and three touchdowns.

Netters meet S'water today

Snyder's high school tennis team will host Sweetwater at 4 p.m. today in its final non-district tuneup before loop competition begins.

The defending District 2-4A Tigers will take on Lamesa, last fall's runner-up, beginning at 10 a.m. on the Tornadoes' courts Saturday when league play commences.

Today, the SHS net squad will try to come back after last Saturday's 18-5 loss in Andrews.

Kevin McMillan, a 7-6, 6-0 winner over the Mustangs' Martin Sandoval, led the boys' singles crew which notched three wins on Saturday.

Also posting victories for SHS were Michael Hess, a 6-2, 1-6, 6-1 winner over Lamar Kello, and Jason Warren, who defeated Andrews' Kenny Rogers, 7-5, 6-4.

Snyder's other two match wins came in boys' doubles where Marcus Best teamed up with McMillan for a nail-biting 7-5, 7-6 (7-5) win over the Ponies' top team, Matt Quick and Brent Henagar and Rene Aguirre and Chris Gayle took a three-set decision from Heath Kamp and Trenton Carnes of AHS, 6-2, 0-6, 7-5.

Coach Jerry Tucker's Tigers are 1-1 on the campaign.

Lady Tigers host non-district match

The Snyder Lady Tigers will attempt to get back on a winning track today when they host Colorado City in their second home volleyball match of the young season.

Snyder currently boasts a 3-2 mark having beaten Brownfield, Levelland and Andrews in the first week of play and losing to Big Spring and Pecos since.

The Lady Tigers were eliminated in last Friday's round of the Seminole Tournament after splitting a two game pool-play match with Denver City and being swept by Big Spring and Lubbock Coronado.

Pool play matches do not count in a team's won-lost record.

Today's action begins with the freshman tilt at 5 p.m. followed at approximately 6:15 p.m. by the JV contest and at about 7:30 p.m. by the varsity battle.

District 2-4A competition begins for Snyder Saturday, Sept. 28, when the spikers host Lubbock Dunbar.

SJHS takes three wins over C-C spike squads

Snyder's junior high volleyball squads snatched three wins over Colorado City Monday night as seventh grade Black won, 15-10, 15-10, eighth grade Black took a 15-4, 15-12 decision and eighth grade Gold was victorious, 15-7, 15-6. Seventh grade gold fell to the C-City crew, 1-15, 13-15.

"The girls demonstrated outstanding skills," said Snyder coach Amanda Hererra, "And they worked together well as a team."

Dietra Jackson served seven points in the seventh grade Black win. The game's Most Valuable Player, Lisha Leatherwood, fired six, followed by Kelly Gonzales and Sha Marricle with three each, two apiece by Brandy Roberge, Claudia Hinojos and Darla Blackwell and a point each from Nicole Lyons, Mollie Wilson, Christy Whitney, Marcy Avila and Sarah Knowles.

Roberge, Blackwell, Lyons and Wilson were recognized for outstanding defensive play.

The eighth grade Black win was paced by Adrienne Bailey's 10 points and seven by Tami Tucker.

Heather Ward added five, Katy Potts slammed four, Kelly Kallemeyn slapped a pair and Amy Raines got one.

The entire team was honored with MVP status by SJHS coaches.

Most Valuable Player Mandy Baker punched up nine service points to lead eighth grade Gold to victory. Mendy Winter was credited with four points, Edwina Brooks ripped three, Michelle Spencer, Jodi White, Denisha Ollison, Cammella Sosa and Lindsey Griffin each managed two and Sterling Cave served for one.

Other MVPs in the contest were Jami Brown, Griffin and Kayla Drain. Drawing defensive recognition were Ollison and Gina Miller.

The junior high spikers return to the courts Monday when they host Sweetwater.

Eighth grade action begins at 5 p.m. at Snyder Junior High while Travis Gym is the site for the seventh grade games, set to begin at the same time.

Padres blank Houston, 3-0

HOUSTON — The Padres' Andy Benes pitched five-hit ball over 7 1-3 innings to win his eighth straight decision as San Diego beat Houston 3-0 at the Astrodome for its sixth straight victory. Craig Lefferts struck out three in 1 2-3 innings for his 20th save.

Tyson indicted on rape charges

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Mike Tyson's career and his shot at regaining the heavyweight title haye been thrown into jeopardy by his indictment on charges he raped a Miss Black America contestant.

The 25-year-boxer was charged Monday with rape, deviate conduct and confinement — the most serious in a string of allegations over the years that he has fondled or roughed up women. The charges carry up to 63 years in prison.

The pageant contestant accused Tyson of attacking her July 19 in his room at an Indianapolis hotel. Tyson, who has denied the allegation, was in town at the time to make promotional appearances for the Indiana Black Expo and the beauty pageant.

Navratilova testifies in palimony suit

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — Martina Navratilova said after six hours of testimony in a palimony suit with a former companion that a courtroom clearly "is not my arena" and "not a joyride in the park."

Ms. Navratilova, 34, played in the finals of the U.S. Open tennis tournament on Saturday, but she appeared shaken in court and wept several times Monday at a preliminary hearing concerning her soured relationship with Judy Nelson, 45, of Fort Worth.

The hearing was expected to conclude today before State District Judge Harry Hopkins. Ms. Nelson sued Ms. Navratilova in June, alleging that the nine-time Wimbledon champion reneged on a 1986 "non-marital cohabitation agreement" that she says entitles her to half of the property and money the two acquired during their seven years together.

Montana may need elbow surgery

SANTA CLARA, Calif. (AP) — Joe Montana was told he may need surgery to repair a torn elbow tendon, but the San Francisco 49ers quarterback said he plans to resume throwing at the end of next week if pain allows.

Montana, who has quarterbacked four Super Bowl champions and was named the league's MVP the last two season, has been on injured reserve since the start of the season.

Team doctor Michael Dillingham said he told the 35-year-old Montana that "the program at this point is rehabilitation and if that rehabilitation ceases to make progress ... to seriously consider a surgical approach."

Lance Parrish downs Rangers with two HRs

ANAHEIM, Cal. (AP) — Lance Parrish hit two solo home runs and Dave Winfield had his 24th homer, helping Mark Langston get his 17th victory as the California Angels held off Texas, 4-2.

California, coming off consecutive 1-0 victories for the first time in its history, won its fourth straight game.

Langston (17-7) allowed five hits and struck out seven in seven innings. Bryan Harvey got his 38th save, striking out Jack Daugherty and retiring Jeff Huson on a grounder with the bases loaded to end it.

The Angels had hit only one home run in 12 games since Buck Rodgers replaced Doug Rader as manager before Parrish homered in the fifth against Oil Can Boyd (1-5) for a 2-1 lead.

Parrish, who also doubled, hit his 17th home run in the seventh. Parrish had not homered in more than three weeks, and had not connected at home since July 1.

Soviets want to safeguard democracy

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviets now say they want world human rights standards to take precedence over national laws as a bulwark against future coups, a principle the Kremlin had called interference during more than 70 years of Communist rule.

Foreign Minister Boris Pankin's statement Monday came as Moscow was preparing to act as host to its first major human rights conference, which opens today.

It was an idea for safeguarding democracy that would have been laughed at here even a month ago.

The Conference on Security and Cooperation in Europe, or CSCE, gives Secretary of State James A. Baker III and the foreign ministers of 34 other member nations their first chance to assess the Soviet Union after last month's failed hard-line coup.

As the conference's first order of business, Lithuania, Latvia and Estonia were to be admitted as members, joining every European nation plus the United States and Canada, Soviet officials said.

While the spotlight is on the Soviet breakup, human rights will be reviewed in all CSCE countries. Jeri Laber, executive director of U.S. Helsinki Watch, said "horrible things are going on right now in Turkey and Yugoslavia.

"There are really gross violations of human rights in Yugoslavia, in Croatia. People are being taken as hostages and used as human shields," Ms. Laber said Monday.

"In Turkey, human rights activists are being killed — disappearing Latin-American style that we've never seen before, by people who are clearly death squads."

Helsinki Watch asked the U.S. delegation to raise the Yugoslav and Turkish issues.

Ms. Laber said of the conference, "Everything's changed. Now the heads of half the East European delegations are friends from the human rights struggle. ... and the co-chairman of the Soviet delegation is Sergei Kovalev, a former political prisoner."

Human rights activists said problems remain in the Soviet Union and the republics.

The Helsinki Federation president, Bjorn Elmqvist, estimated there are still between 80 and 100 political prisoners as well as people in psychiatric clinics run by the KGB.

Suspended fraternity may return

AUSTIN (AP) — A fraternity, suspended in 1987 for involvement in a pledge's alcohol poisoning death, has been approved for reinstatement at the University of Texas.

Glenn Maloney, assistant dean of students, said Monday that Phi Kappa Psi's return is probationary through the fall of 1993 and depends upon compliance with nine regulations laid down by university officials.

The fraternity and 10 former members agreed recently to a $1.9 million settlement with the parents of Mark Seeberger, an 18-year-old Dallas freshman who died Sept. 18, 1986.

Seeberger took part in a fraternity "ride," during which he and two other pledges drank alcohol while handcuffed in a student's van. He later died in his off-campus dorm room after consuming 16 to 20 ounces of rum. Phi Kappa Psi was suspended from UT for four years and was criticized by a grand jury for trying to hide evidence and suppress cooperation by witnesses.

Joan Seeberger, mother of the pledge who died, issued a statement after learning of the fraternity's reinstatement:

"Phi Kappa Psi has paid a high price financially and emotionally for having broken rules of both hazing and alcohol abuse. I would like to challenge the newly reinstated fraternity to become an example of positive leadership on campus for other fraternities to emulate ... and to treat each other with respect."

Liftoff slated tonight...

Astronauts arriving in dark for 'night-owl' mission

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Discovery's astronauts, accustomed by now to the dark, arrived tovernight at Kennedy Space Center's floodlit landing strip for a five-day shuttle mission with night owl hours.

The countdown for Thursday's launch began Monday, and the five-member crew flew in from Johnson Space Center in Houston. During the mission the crew will release a satellite to study the upper atmosphere, including the ozone layer.

Liftoff is scheduled for 6:57 p.m. The astronauts' workdays will begin in the afternoon, when they awake, and end the next morning to accommodate the carefully timed release of the satellite.

Discovery's planned 1:55 a.m. return to Earth would be the first shuttle land ng in darkness at Kennedy.

Mission commander John Creighton sa d the crew has put in so much training at night — at least 90 percent of it — that "we wouldn't recognize the place in the daytime any more."

He said he and pilot Kenneth Reightler Jr. "feel as comfortable as we can ever feel landing the shuttle at night."

Test director Eric Redding said today that managers have spotted no problems with Discovery so far in the countdown. NASA had concluded earlier that a leak in the system used to steer in orbit was too small to be of concern.

The weather outlook for Thursday was good. Forecasters put the odds of favorable conditions at up to 80 percent.

The astronauts' main job is to release the biggest and most expensive atmospheric research satellite ever launched. It weighs 14,500 pounds and costs $740 million, including operating expenses and data analysis.

The satellite will collect data on the damaged ozone layer and measure atmospheric wind, temperature and chemical composition for at least 1½ years.

Croatia imposes curfew; fighting continues anyway

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — Croatians slept under their first curfew since World War II, but the clampdown in the secessionist republic early today did little to quell ethnic fighting between Croats and Serbs.

Fourteen people reportedly died in violence overnight, including two federal army officers killed by a car bomb.

The important Croat stronghold of Osijek in northeastern Croatia was shelled heavily, and fighting continued over an important highway and at several Croat-held towns in eastern areas.

Elsewhere, Macedonians awaited the official results of a Sunday referendum on independence, which was expected to pass overwhelmingly. Preliminary returns announced Monday in Skopje, Macedonia's capital, said 74 percent of the vote supported secession by Yugoslavia's poorest republic.

Although prepared to declare independence, Macedonia's leaders said they want to retain some links with other Yugoslav republics as part of a loose confederation rather than make the complete break sought by Croatia and Slovenia.

Croatia's Interior Ministry announced late Monday that an 11 p.m.-5 a.m. curfew was being imposed in 29 municipalities in the war-torn eastern areas of the republic bordering rival Serbia.

The curfew apparently is an attempt to deal with attacks by militant Serbs who oppose secession. The rebels have won control of about a quarter of Croatia's territory in the fighting that began after Croatia declared independence June 25, along with neighboring Slovenia.

Ethnic Serbs say they do not want to be part of an independent Croatia because they fear mistreatment. Croatian authorities say Serbia, the largest Yugoslav republic, instigated the rebellion in an effort to grab Croatian territory.

It's 'Dead Again' at the box office

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Apart from "Dead Again," the nation's box office showed little life in the first week of the fall season.

"Dead Again," the reincarnation thriller from director-star Kenneth Branagh, sold $4.4 million in tickets. It was the movie's second week at No. 1.

Other movies performed weakly, with several of the top 10 films holdovers from early summer, Exhibitor Relations Co. reported Monday.

In second place was Arnold Schwarzenegger's "Terminator 2: Judgment Day," with $3.1 million. Third was "Child's Play III," a slasher film about a deranged doll. It sold $3 million in tickets.

Here are the top movie ticket sales Friday through Sunday according to Exhibitor Relations, with distributor, weekend gross, number of theater screens, average per screen, total gross and number of weeks in release.

Figures are based on a combination of actual box-office receipts and studio projections where actual figures are not immediately available.

1. "Dead Again," Paramount, $4.4 million, 789 screens, $5,534 per screen, $17.3 million, three weeks.

2. "Terminator 2: Judgment Day," TriStar, $3.1 million, 1,800 screens, $1,726 per screen, $187.3 million, nine weeks.

3. "Child's Play III," Universal, $3 million, 2,130 screens, $1,410 per screen, $9.7 million, two weeks.

4. "Hot Shots!," 20th Century Fox, $2.72 million, 1,891 screens, $1,437 per screen, $58.7 million, six weeks.

5. "Doc Hollywood," Warner Bros., $2.68 million, 1,664 screens, $1,613 per screen, $43.3 million, six weeks.

6. "The Doctor," Disney, $2.3 million, 926 screens, $2,487 per screen, $28.6 million, seven weeks.

7. "Robin Hood: Prince of Thieves," Warner Bros., $2.1 million, 1,506 screens, $1,397 per screen, $153.1 million, 13 weeks.

8. "Double Impact," Columbia, $1.6 million, 1,430 screens, $1,086 per screen, $25.7 million, five weeks.

9. "City Slickers," Columbia, $1.5 million, 1,215 screens, $1,216 per screen, $114.4 million, 14 weeks.

10. "Boyz N the Hood," Columbia, $1.3 million, 926 screens, $1,374 per screen, $51 million, nine weeks.

DEAR DR. GOTT: What precautions should be taken (other than sexual) to prevent becoming infected with the AIDS virus? If a dentist can transmit the disease, are there other hazardous conditions in the work field we should consider?

DEAR READER: AIDS is spread during unprotected sex, both homosexual and heterosexual. Recent reports indicate that a substantial proportion of adolescents with AIDS contracted the disease through normal heterosexual relations.

AIDS is also spread by contaminated blood and blood products, such as transfusions, unsterilized needles and other methods. For example, hemophiliacs (patients with congenital clotting deficiencies) are prone to AIDS because they require regular transfusions of clotting proteins that are obtained from pooled blood supplies, which have — in the past — been contaminated with the human immunodeficiency virus. Also, people unwise enough to share needles for injecting illicit drugs are at risk for AIDS.

Finally, any profession, such as dentistry and medicine, that deals with human blood is at risk for HIV infection. Thus, such professionals routinely adopt protective techniques (rubber gloves and the like) to prevent the spread of AIDS to or from patients.

Although I cannot answer your question in more specific terms, I can say that adequate protection should be mandatory in any situation marked by the potential spread of human blood from one individual to another.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my health Report "Blood — AIDS." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Please provide information concerning thermal burns to the muscles of the spine and back.

DEAR READER: This question is too vague to allow anything more than a general answer. For example, thermal burns usually affect only the skin, not the muscles. If the muscles and deep tissue are burned, the injury is always serious and should be managed by specialists in a hospital burn center.

The usual skin burns to the back involve one or more layers of skin and, depending on the depth of the injury, can be treated with anti-microbial ointment, such as 1% silver sulfadiazine, for moderately severe burns or by ordinary topical therapy, such as washing and anesthetic creams, for mild burns.

I should mention that extensive burns usually require intravenous fluids, antibiotics, a tetanus shot, close monitoring of vital body functions, analgesics, surgery (to remove dead or damaged tissue), and physical therapy (to return the patient to normal independence). Therefore, the extent of the burn must be assessed before appropriate therapy can be instituted.

Fear of Household Pets Is Often Disguised as Dislike

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1991 Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I frequently entertain at home. We have a dog and a cat that we love like members of our family. When we have guests, we always confine our pets in another area before our guests arrive. Many of our friends have told us that they appreciate this because they have a fear of dogs, or cats or both!

Our veterinarian told us that when some people say they "dislike" animals, they actually fear them. For example, if a person who is not used to having pets around entered someone's house and was greeted at the door by a hostile dog barking angrily or a cat that curled around his leg, he could have an anxiety attack!

I happen to have a terrible fear of snakes. I know that not all snakes are poisonous, but just the sight of a snake terrifies me. Yet some people have snakes as pets — but I cannot imagine a host or hostess allowing a pet snake to slither freely among the guests. Well, the fear of dogs and cats is every bit as terrifying to some people as the fear of snakes is to me.

Our animal-loving friends didn't believe us when we brought this up in conversation. They thought it was an exaggeration, but after questioning others whom they thought merely "disliked" animals, they finally admitted that they were actually afraid of them.

What do you and your readers think?

ANIMAL LOVERS

DEAR ANIMAL LOVERS: I consulted my animal expert, Dr. Erwin David. He said: "The analogy concerning the snake is a good one. People tend to fear that which they distrust — and dislike that which they fear."

* * *

DEAR ABBY: My friends and I have a problem with which we need help. We wear hearing aids, which makes it difficult to hear people talking on some of the television programs, as the background music and special sound effects are so overpowering, they drown out the voices.

For example, in "Jake and the Fatman," the roar of the ocean is so loud it's impossible to understand what the people are saying. It doesn't help to turn the volume up, and we can't do as President Bush suggests: "Read my lips."

I love music, but loud background music is unnecessary on dramatic shows.

Commercials are a problem, too. They are so loud, they blast the hearing aids out of our ears. (Have you ever tried turning a hearing aid down with barbecue sauce on your fingers?)

The advertisers think they are getting our attention with the extra-loud commercial messages, but most people have remote-control sets, and they just shut the sound off until the program comes on again.

Are many of your readers experiencing the same problems? And who can we contact in the television industry to correct this?

CORA LAIRD,
FORT DODGE, IOWA

DEAR CORA LAIRD: The television sponsors have been dodging these complaints for years. Address your grievances to the sponsors of the programs you watch. And while you're at it, write to the Federal Communications Commission, 1919 M St. N.W., Washington, D.C. 20554.

* * *

People are eating them up! For Abby's favorite recipes, send a long, business-size, self-addressed envelope, plus check or money order for $3.95 ($4.50 in Canada) to: Dear Abby, Cookbooklet, P.O. Box 447, Mount Morris, Ill. 61054. (Postage is included.)

Quiet day for police

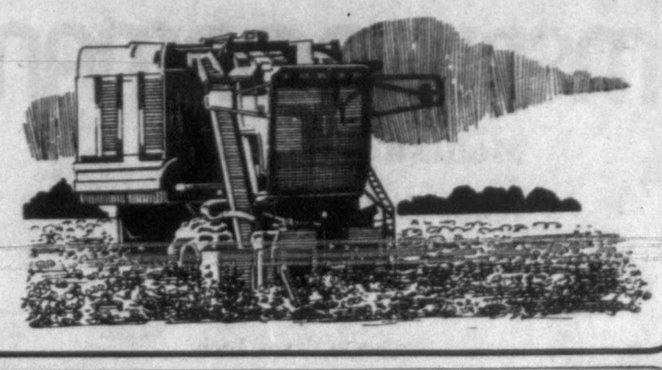

After making 22 arrests over the weekend, Snyder police enjoyed a quiet day Monday.

Officers handled seven calls involving motorists who had locked their keys in their automobiles, and responded to several minor complaints. They also advised complaintants of steps to take to settle their grievances.

No arrests were made.

Scurry County Country

SCS Notes

By Michael Squires
Range Conservationist

The Upper Colorado Soil and Water Conservation District (SWCD), serving both Borden and Scurry counties, works through the local USDA Soil Conservation Service to apply quality conservation measures on the ground. The district has over 1200 cooperators who are largely responsible for the success that we have had in trying to protect our natural resources.

There are several different programs being administered in our district says Charlie Henderson, chairman of the board of the Upper Colorado SWCD. The one that is probably most well known is the Conservation Reserve Program (CRP). CRP has accounted for over 45,000 acres of highly erodible land in Scurry and Borden counties. These acres are scheduled, or have already been, planted to permanent grass. Approximately 10,000 acres remain to be seeded in the near furture. This program is very specific in that it is directed at seeding permanent grass on the more fragile soils. There are approximately 300 active CRP contracts in the Snyder field office. As of last September 125 contracts were released to the ASCS office for follow up management which will continue until the 10 year contract period expires. Although various other conservation measures both vegetative and engineering are used in CRP, there are other programs designed to serve those needs.

Some of the other programs offered are the Great Plains Conservation Program (GPCP), Mini Long-Term Agreements (LTA), and Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP). This year the SCS office completed an LTA with Joe Cannon and Arland Youngblood in Borden County and an LTA contract with Rodger Blackard in Scurry County. These contracts and others that are still active accounted for 55 separate cost shared practices to be applied just this year. Some of the practices employed were diversions, several thousand feet of terrace systems, livestock ponds, brush management, and waterways. Besides the benefit that the terrace systems, brush management and other cost shared items offer directly to the land many indirect benefits such as increased water quality and water quantity are recognized also.

At the alarming rate that our natural resources are being depleted it is of crucial importance that we all practice sound conservation measures. Your local conservation district is an excellent source of assistance and information when it comes to soil and water conservation needs. The Upper Colorado SWCD and Soil Conservation Service personnel are available to assist you in your needs throughout the year. If you have any questions call 573-6317 and we will be happy to assist you.

All information given herein is for educational purposes only. Education programs conducted by the ASCS, SCS and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, handicap or national origin.

ASCS Report

By Joe Hefner
County Executive Director

Acreage reports have been filed by farm operators for 859 farms in Scurry County and producers on 536 farms are eligible for 1991 program benefits, according to final acreage reporting results as of August 30, 1991.

Total acreage reports included 62,552.9 acres of cotton, 1,951.4 acres of wheat, and 1,292.7 acres of feed grains. Participating farms accounted for 60,687.0 acres of cotton, 1,088.3 acres of wheat, and 691.7 acres of feed grains. Also reported was 17,064.8 acres of diverted cropland for payment and 6,568.0 acres of acreage conservation reserve (ACR).

The acreage reporting process on participating farms means that those producers who are in compliance with provisions of the 1991 programs are eligible for price support loans and target prices.

Price support loans will be available to program participants at .5085 per pound for cotton, $1.99 per bushel for wheat, $2.88 per hundred weight for sorghum, and $.86 per bushel for oats. Farmers are also eligible for target price protection at $0.729 per pound for upland cotton, $4.00 per bushel for wheat, $2.61 for sorghum, and $1.45 for oats.

To be eligible for these benefits, it was necessary for farmers to have enrolled in the program during sign up, but benefits are based on reported or measured acreage instead of intentions.

The acreage reduction programs are designed to maintain a level of stocks in line with market demand.

WHEAT SUBSTITUTIONS IN RECIPES

One cup of wheat flour may be substituted in standard recipes by the following:
1 cup corn flour
¾ cup cornmeal (coarse)
1 cup cornmeal (fine)
5/8 cup or 10 tablespoons potato starch flour
7/8 cup rice flour
1 cup soy flour plus ¾ cup potato starch flour

Because there are some problems in the use of substitutes for wheat flour, quick breads rather than yeast breads are recommended. The following suggestions will improve the eating quality of the final product:

1. Rice flour and cornmeal tend to have a grainy texture. A smoother texture may be obtained by mixing the rice flour or cornmeal with the liquid specified in the recipe, bringing this mixture to a boil and then cooling before adding to the other ingredients.

2. Soy flour must always be used in combination with another flour. If used alone, the product will not have the same baking characteristics as a gluten-containing flour.

3. When using other that wheat flour in baking, longer and slower baking is required. This is particularly necessary when the product is made without milk and eggs.

4. When using coarse meals and flours in place of wheat flour, the amount of leavening must be increased. For each cup of coarse flour, use 2½ teaspoons of baking powder.

5. Muffins or biscuits, when made with other than wheat flour, are of better texture if baked in small sizes.

6. Dryness is a common characteristic of cakes made with flours other than wheat. Moisture may be preserved by (a) frosting or (b) storing in closed containers.

7. Coarse meals and flours require more leavening than wheat flour. 2½ teaspoons of baking powder are recommended for each cup of coarse flour.

8. The use of buttermilk in place of milk will often result in a lighter, finer textured product.

9. Muffins and biscuits made of flours other than wheat often have a better texture when made in small sizes.

10. Baked products made with flour other than wheat require long and slow baking, particularly when made without milk and eggs.

11. Cakes made with flours other than wheat are apt to be dry. Frosting and storing in a closed container tend to preserve moisture.

In each advertisement on this page you will find the contestants in a prominent football game being played around the country this weekend. On the entry blank at the bottom of the page, fill in your selection of the WINNING TEAM only...opposite the name of the business firm on the entry blank. Then clip out the entry blank and send it to FOOTBALL CONTEST EDITOR, Snyder Daily News, Box 949, or bring it by the news office at 3600 College Ave. Entries must be in the hands of the editor by 5:00 p.m. Friday. Games ending in a tie must be specified as a tie or else it will be considered a miss.

To avoid splitting the prize money a TIE-BREAKER slot will be provided on each entry blank. Pick the total points of the score for that game and in case of a tie the one who picks the winner and the nearest number of total points will receive the prize money. The same formula will apply to second and third place winners. In the case of a perfect score, the formula would apply for that cash prize.

There will be fun for the entire family. Only one entry blank will be permitted for any one person. More than one will disqualify all that person's entries. Entries must be on the official entry blank (No Copies Please). Scores listed on the entry blank will have no bearing except in the case of the tie-breaker. Sign your entry blank and list your address and phone number and watch for the winner's story in next Tuesday's SDN. Employees of the SDN and their families are not eligible to enter.
