Will Drill Wildcat Near Wilkinson

A. O. Phillips of Dallas and John B. Stephens of Mt. Pleasant, have staked location for a wildcat oil test one-fourth mile east of Wilkinson, ten miles east of Talco.

According to Mr. Stephens, the well will be located on the F. H. Anschutz tract in the M. Cartwright survey, on an 800-acre farm out from Sinclair Oil Company. It will be carried to the Paluxy zone, he said.

Spudding in operations were scheduled to begin this week. W. B. Hinton is the drilling contractor.

A test northwest of Wilkinson last year did not produce. There have been no dry holes drilled in the Hewitt Ranch area, seven miles southeast of Wilkinson, which now has about 25 producing wells.

Anthrax Order Partially Lifted

An order by the State Livestock Sanitary Commission, issued Sept. 11, partially releases the anthrax quarantine that has been in effect since Aug. 22 in northern Hopkins, Franklin and Titus counties.

All of Hopkins County and that portion of Franklin County west of Highway 37 have been released from the quarantine.

Other portions of the quarantine in northeast Franklin and northern Titus have been modified and cattle may now be moved by securing a permit.

There have been no new cases reported in some time, according to Felix Jones, Talco banker.

Clarence Blackburn Dies at Kerrville

Clarence Blackburn, native of Titus County, passed away at the Veterans Hospital in Kerrville Sept. 8. He was 40 years of age and saw service in the last war.

Recover Stolen Car at Wilkinson

Sheriff Coy Coker has reported the recovery Saturday of a 1950 Pontiac stolen from Mr. and Mrs. Olan McAuley from in front of the Presbyterian Church in Mt. Pleasant Wednesday night of last week. It was found in a deep barrow pit near Wilkinson badly wrecked and in about six feet of water.

Titus County officers were called to Winfield Friday night to investigate the burglary of two stores in that community. During the business session members voted to purchase an official scrap book for us by the historian; to have the backs for the year books printed and that a procedure course would be ordered and taught by those wanting to take it. Those wishing to secure a course and manual should notify Mrs. S. O. Loving, study course chairman. Mrs. Omer Cole was elected secretary, replacing Mrs. Floyd Parish.

Talco Trojans Scalp Avinger Indians 8 to 6

By CLAUDE PARR II

Talco Trojans slipped past Avinger's Indians 8-6 Friday night before an estimated 1,000 football fans.

The Trojans were completely overcome by rules infractions as they lost 80 valuable yards in 12 costly chances. The Trojans completely outplayed the Indians all over the gridiron, but somewhere the signals were mixed up and they were off sides on many plays. Some very bad penalties came to the Trojans for unnecessary roughness and clipping.

The Trojans were led in their attack by Robbie McCuller who gained 80 of the Trojans' ground yardage. Thomas "Stump" Jones played a beautiful game at his tackle position while Kelton "Fat" Smith and Charles Mauldin did beautiful defensive work as they stormed the Indian passer.

Early in the first quarter, after Talco had received and "Willie" Williams had placed a nice 50 yard punt to the Indians, they were about to punt, a bad center came to the kicker and in an effort to retrieve the ball, he was tackled over the goal line by Thomas Jones and this counted as a safety for the Trojans and gave them a 2-point edge.

Midway through the third stanza, a Trojan power drive carried to the 10 yard line, where Robbie McCuller stepped over for the tally; the conversion attempt was unsuccessful.

In the fourth stanza the Indians took their only 6 points as the result of an air attack which brought them to the 6 yard line. From there Gerald Faulkner raced over for the tally; their conversion attempt was unsuccessful.

The Trojans completely outweighted and outplayed the Braves all over the field, but were held to only a 2-point margin because of the penalties.

Jimmy "Willie" Williams is one of the best high school passers we have seen in many days, and also one of the best punters, but somehow the passes did not click Friday night; his punting was good, as he never kicked under 20 yards.

Over Six Inches Rain Falls in This Area

All farm work in this area has been at a stand-still for a week. Rains of the past week have done further damage to cotton and feed in fields. Insects are still plentiful and are taking a heavy toll of remaining crops. Farmers are in need of dry weather for the next few weeks.

Heavy rains Saturday morning caused many streams to overflow their banks, doing considerable damage to low lands.

The government rain gauge at Deport showed 5.91 inches of rain fell in this section from Thursday of last week until Saturday afternoon. A downpour Tuesday at noon in Deport amounted to one-quarter of an inch, making a total of 6.16 inches in less than a week. Only a very light shower fell east and south of Deport on Tuesday.

The railroad Commission called a halt Tuesday to the 6-month rise in Texas oil production.

The commission continued the cutback for October, and kept other fields on the same schedule as September. This means twenty-two producing days for most fields and twenty-one for East Texas.

It dropped the average daily allowable by 125,162 barrels, compared to last Saturday's record high of 2,886,458 barrels. The Oct. 1 quota will be 2,761,296 barrels a day. The commission also expects the state to produce 281,379 barrels daily of natural gasoline and distillate.

Humble Employees Get Higher Wages

Humble Oil & Refining Company officials have announced a 12c hourly cost-of-living wage increase for most of its 18,000 employees.

The wage hike, approximating $80,000 per week, is 20 per cent greater than figures some unions representing Humble employees had sought, the company announcement said.

Pipeline employees had asked a 10c hourly boost, and refinery employees 15c.

The announcement said the new hike is based on the rise of living costs since last spring. The hike will apply to all employees except certain executives and key administrative personnel.

Humble has a big pay roll at Talco and the increase in pay of $4.80 a week for 40 hours will be very welcome to its hundreds of employees and will be reflected in better business conditions in this area.

Deposits in banks who are members of FDIC, insured in the past up to $5,000, will be increased to $10,000. They should be. The dollar is now worth less than half of its value when the law was passed in 1933. The law will not affect many people in this area.

Congratulations to our young deer-hunting companion, Alex Wetherbee Jr., of Paris, who established a world's record for speed boat racing in the BU class at White Rock lake at Dallas last Sunday. Wetherbee is just as good with a deer rifle as in the operation of a speed boat.

Texas Sheriffs Association went on record at its meeting in Galveston last week, urging four year terms for all county officials, and asking the governor to request it in his message to the legislature in January. No soap, boys. The people are not going to hire officials and be unable to fire them if they don't do good jobs at the end of two years.

WHEN GOVERNMENT RUNS A BUSINESS

The two giant enterprises in the communications field in this country are the Bell Telephone System and the United States Post Office Department. The privately owned Bell System paid $346,144,000 in taxes last year, while the Post Office Department, of course, paid none. The Bell System operated at a substantial profit, while the Postal Service incurred an operating loss of $577,471,000. The total value of all physical properties owned by the Bell System is reported at 9 1/2 billions. The Post Office Department has no idea whatever of the value of its vast property holdings.

EDITORIALLY SPEAKING

BURT LOCKHART
in Pittsburg Gazette

Failure to conduct a successful cold war may be largely responsible for the present hot one.

Labor unions, electric push buttons and pensions are making work very unpopular.

If it were not for prosperity in the country who could pay our enormous tax bill? Think that over.

Luxury has become such a necessity that it is now the principle item in the high cost of living.

Paper pellets and diplomatic eloquence may win the peace, but it takes guns and men to win wars.

What we need in our state and national capitals is men who not only talk economy but men who vote it.

They used to tell us that heaven helps those who help themselves. Now the government must do it.

If half the girls swim who pose in bathing suits, the seaside resorts must be doing a grand business this season.

There is hope for everybody except the man who believes that by working less and less he can produce more and more.

The thing that burns us up is to see the official spenders in Washington throwing away money that we helped to earn.

We could stand a lot of disappointment in chasing rainbows if only we could get time and a half pay while we do the chasing.

Another trouble with the times is that too many people try to get as much out of life in one week as their grandparents got in a year.

John L. Lewis says we have a right to strike, war or no war. Quite true, Mr. Lewis, and it might also be observed that we have a right to work, union or no union.

Old Timer up the street says when he was a youngster Santa Claus' address was the North Pole, but now, he says, forty million people address him at Washington, D. C.

Having run with the Republicans, Democrats and Progressives, Henry Wallace says he is going to stay on the sidelines, a favorite stand for politicians who have missed the boat.

The American public has had to gulp down some nauseous medicine manufactured at Washington, but socialized medicine will prove the bitterest and most costly dose they ever swallowed.

1 Milk Cow Allowed In Richardson

Richardson.—You can keep one milk cow (only one) on your premises if you live in Richardson, but you'll have to take her calf out of town when it reaches the age of six months.

This provision is part of Richardson's new ordinance banning hogs, hog pens, cows (plural), bulls, heifers, calves and steers from the municipal site.

SURE WAY

Ted: "There was a tremendous crowd to watch the parade today, and only one policeman to keep order. At one point it looked as though he might be overpowered."

Ned: "How did he manage to hold his own?"

Ted: "He waited until he got pushed against the wall, and then took off his hat and asked for contributions to the policeman's ball. You should have seen that mob disperse."

WRONG BUSINESS

Colonel (reviewing troops): "Hang it all! What's the idea of parading all the big men in front of all the little men?"

Lieutenant: "It's the sergeant's fault, Sir. He used to run a fruit store."

"breathing through the mouth is said to be harmful." A high official in Washington can testify that talking through the mouth also has very serious results at times.

An economic boycott of Russia by all the nations that are seeking peace might bring her to her senses. The only way to touch the heart of some nations is to touch their purse strings. A boycott is hardly probable because the nations that should be interested in a boycott also have purse strings. They want to buy and sell, too.

Labor week-end holiday was a pronounced success. Everybody made a bee-line for the highways, beaches and aid—spent a lot of money—told business to take care of itself—375 got killed in traffic accidents—40 or more drowned—20 killed in planes—some got shot and some became disgusted and shot themselves. All in all, it was a typical week-end holiday.

What Individuals Should Eat Daily

The Texas Food Standard says, what is required in the individual's diet every day, includes the following:

One pint to a quart of milk a day; one egg daily; a serving of meat a day; one serving of potatoes; a serving daily of leafy vegetables; a serving of other vegetables; one serving of citrus; one serving daily of dried fruits or other fruits; enriched or whole grain cereal; butter or enriched oleo; a serving a day of sweets; eight glasses of water per day.

ONE CIVILIAN EMPLOYEE FOR TWO IN UNIFORM

Although Defense Secretary Johnson was successful in reducing civilian employment in the military establishment from 897,807 employees in May 1949 to 745,339 on May 31, 1950, there still remained one civilian employee to every two uniformed men in the services. Both the Byrd Committee and the Hoover Commission have criticized this ratio as too high.

When It's Gone, Then What?

A Dallas audience was told by Robert G. Dillard, executive secretary of the Texas Rural Roads Association, that "within a few years Texas will own no natural gas to burn because eastern industries are contracting for all of it. Texas gas is going to a region of coal and an abundance of water. Texas has neither."

Dillard's statement came a few days after Col. E. R. Needles, president of the American Road Builders Association, asserted that "Texas stands 30th among the 48 states in the matter of dollars needed to replace deficient highways at the current rate of expenditure."

The Texas Legislature can provide funds for catching up on essential highway construction by taxing the natural gas which is being piped to outside consumers. Why it has not been done seems to be one of the mysteries surrounding our lawmaking body.

Credit Fellers Don't Know What Trouble Is, Says Sligo Swiggins

(From The Expanding Circle)

Well, I just got a letter from one of my creditors who says that I don't pay him he's gonna make trouble for me. That's about the funniest thing I've heard since my Uncle Skinner got his whiskers hung in a clothes wringer. The letter goes on to say that the bill ought to been paid a long time ago and they can't understand the trouble.

Well, just to enlighten him as well as a lot of other fellers I owe, I think I can clear up a little of the mystery. In the first place, I bought a threshing machine, a sawmill, two ponies, and a bottle-capper on the installment plan. In 1945 the sawmill burned down and a wind-storm tore the threshing machine to pieces. Then I loaned one of the ponies to a no-good pipeline who let it starve to death, and the other one got bit by a rattlesnake. About that time my young niece, who was staying with me, run off with a snuff salesman and I had to send her $88 to get back from Louisville, Kentucky. Then I went fishing with two of my cousins and the boat turned over and drowned them both and I lost the biggest catfish I ever saw in my life and had to swim four miles to land and walk through two miles of the muddiest swamp this side of South Louisiana. I caught the flu and stayed in bed four months with a fever so high it knocked the mercury out of ever thermometer they put in my mouth. About the time I got well, my king bee died and the queen bee went to running around with a doodie-bug and spoiled 500 pounds of honey.

Then the chicken thieves got to raiding my hen house and I went to bed with a double-barreled shotgun under the covers. One night I thought I heard them and when I turned loose with both barrels out the window I dislocated my hip and killed my best milk cow.

Finally I went to making and drinking moonshine, thinking I could work my debts off with a bottle-capper. But I liked the stuff I made so much that I guzzled all the profit and finally wound up with a Waterbury watch and kidney trouble. The next year I spent winding that watch and taking medicine.

Right now I got one doctor working on my teeth and another one trying to cure a nervous itch and by the time I get my paycheck with all the deducts there ain't enough take-home pay left to interest a hungry panhandler. So all I can say about anybody making trouble for me is that they are wasting time. Course I want my creditors to be happy, and being as I ain't likely to live long enough to pay them all, I think it ain't nothing but right that they ought to be my pall-bearers. They been carrying me all my life. They might as well bear with me to the end.

But I ain't lost hope yet. I keep thinking someday opportunity is gonna knock on my door. So far it ain't been nothing but relatives.

Last week Uncle Jupiter come knocking on my door and wanted me to go rabbit hunting with him and my cousin Hannibal. Well, I was kinda short on meat at the house so I went. He took us out to the woods and went to claiming to be the best shot in the country. So ever time we come to a field he would tell us to scatter out and scare up the rabbits. Well sir, ever time a cotton-tail would jump up, he would blaze away and holler that he had crippled the rabbit and for us to catch it. I run so much that my tongue hung down my shirt front and looked like a bilious necktie. We caught danged near every rabbit we jumped and Uncle Jupiter banged away at all of them. But when I cooked and eat my two there wasn't a single shot in 'em. That's the last rabbit hunt I'm taking with J. P. Swiggins. If I gotta flush my game and run it down too, I'm gonna train myself as a bird-dog.

Music Enriches Lives of Children

It has been said that "Life's greatest moments are made richer by Music." Today, your children are with you and you can provide them with the things that will serve them best in the years to come. The youngster's enjoyment of school music increases his appreciation of all school studies. It has been authoritatively proven by music educators that the study of music will develop mental ability, breath control and better all-around character.

Music develops character, and take its place in character-building of your child. Do not wait, each passing day is precious. Take advantage of the time that you have now.

A great majority of youngsters are naturally attracted to music and, as the children are exposed, they eagerly explore the possibilities of this new world. Talco school offers a full instrumental music program, and youngsters are encouraged to participate in the organized instrumental music program of this school which is the band. Our school band needs many new members this year and it is not yet too late to enroll your child in band.

Music is the voice of the soul—the one art that makes of all the world one great family. Tired little eyes find rest to mother's lullaby. Hearts of stone soften to its spell. Dead ambitions take new life. But only those who can really play know all of its wonderments. They choose the songs that fit their mood and speak their feelings with a burden-lifting

High-Priced Adv. Scheme at Bogata Fails to Work

The following article appeared in last week's Bogata News. Statements of policy and the resale of advertising also apply to this newspaper.

Members of the Bogata Lions Club are embarrassed over the turn of events in connection with a proposed home-talent play that was to have been presented in Bogata next week. A contract had been signed with a Kansas City agency to supply a director for the play and she arrived last week.

This representative called upon the Bogata News and ordered several lines of large type printed at the bottom of a large window circular, give, time, place and admission charge for the play, and was told to charge it to the Lions Club. She also inquired the price of a page ad to advertise the play.

The next thing members of the Lions Club knew she was out peddling small spaces on a page ad and quoting a price just TWENTY times greater than regular advertising rates in The Bogata News. Only one Bogata merchant agreed to buy space at such an outrageous price. It would have cost 60 cents if bought from the publisher, but her price was $12.

Officers of the Lions Club held a meeting and paid her railroad fare from Kansas City to Bogata and return and are in hopes that will settle the matter.

The booking agency may have other ideas. Depoit's Volunteer Fire Department signed a contract with a Kansas City booking agency. The deal did not go through, and upon the advice of an attorney they paid the agency $50 to cancel the contract.

The Bogata News wants to assure any merchant whom this agent called upon to sell this high-priced advertising that it had no hand in the matter, and that she was not authorized to solicit advertising to appear in The News. Advertising solicitors for The News are well known to most advertisers and when a new one is employed it will be announced in these columns.

It might also be well to announce that The News does not sell advertising to be resold by anyone at any price.

Local merchants are imposed upon repeatedly by various organizations with a multitude of plans and schemes for raising money. Some outsider is usually the promoter and takes the lion's share of the receipts. The local merchant could make a donation of half the amount asked for in the name of the local sponsor and both would be better off, rather than buy something from a professional promoter in the name of the local organization.

If local merchants would flat-footedly refuse to further patronize these so-called advertising schemes the promoters would have to get into other lines of business. Many crimes are committed in the name of advertising by these promoters and The

Two Escape Serious Injury Monday As Tractor Overturns

T. E. Kincaid of Depoit received a broken right arm and John, 10 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Finis Gifford of Depoit, escaped serious injury when a tractor plunged backward about 12 feet into a ditch from a bridge Monday afternoon. It was reported the tractor was being driven by young Gifford and noticing he had lost control, Mr. Kincaid attempted to stop the moving vehicle. The accident occurred near the Gifford home east of Depoit.

The child was pinned under the tractor when it turned over. He was bruised about the body but not seriously hurt. Thurman Franks, Dale Gray, Walter Gifford, Finis Gifford and Mr. Kincaid were able to lift the tractor off the child.

Cotton Seed Soars To $100 Per Ton

Cotton seed advanced $10 per ton Monday, sending the price to $100 per ton, the highest market in two years. Seed were $65 per ton at the opening of the cotton harvest season and have gone up each week to reach the $100 mark.

The short cotton crop, due to insects, weather and acreage reduction, has made good seed scarce in this section. Seed price last year at this time was $38 per ton, but most of them went into the government loan at $46.50 per ton.

HIS HANDIANITY—NO

On the witness stand, the old man was as cool as a cucumber and as close as a clam. The prosecuting attorney was beside himself with anger.

"Sir," hissed the lawyer, "do you swear upon your solemn oath that this is not your signature?"

"Sho do," replied the witness.

"It is not your handwriting?"

"Nope," said the witness.

"Does it resemble your handwriting?"

"Nope."

"Do you swear that it does not resemble your handwriting?"

"Yes."

"How can you be certain?" demanded the lawyer.

"Can't write."

PAID FOR WALKING

Mike: "What made you join the police force?"

Ike: "My doctor told me I should get more exercise."

Mike: "What has getting more exercise got to do with being a policeman?"

Ike: "Why should I walk on my own time when I can be a policeman and get paid for it?"

News is not going to be a party to any of them.

This newspaper has legitimate advertising to sell at a regular established price, which is a fair one. It has no advertising for resale to anyone at any price.

WHO AM I? WHAT AM I?

(From the Kaufman Herald)

I am the foundation of all prosperity. I am the fount from which all blessings flow. Everything that is of value in this world springs from me. I am the salt that gives life its savor.

I am the sole support of the poor, and the rich who think they can do without me live futile lives and fill premature graves.

I have made America. I have built her matchless industries, held her incomparable railroads, created her cities and reared her skyscrapers.

I am the friend of every worthy youth. If he makes my acquaintance when he is young and keeps me by his side throughout his life, I can do more for him than the richest parent.

I keep bodies lean and fit, minds alert, and when neglected, both bodies and minds grow fat and sluggish. I am even the parent of genius itself.

I am represented in every paper that flies from the press, in every loaf of bread that springs from the oven, in every train that crosses the continent, and every ship that steams the ocean.

Fools hate me; wise men LOVE ME. The man who keeps his hand in mine through life never dies—because that which he has created with my help lives on after he is gone. The man who shirks me and scorns my aid, never lives — NEVER REALLY LIVES, even though he may continue to breathe.

Who am I? What am I?

I AM WORK!

Written history is at least 6,000 years old.

SURE CURE

A tobacco loving and garulous gentleman, who was suffering miserably from an attack of laryngitis his family physician wasn't able to cope with, went the other day to a specialist he had met a couple of times socially.

This doctor recommended that he spend two or more hours a day in one of the reading rooms of the public library—any reading, he said; it didn't make any difference. Obedient but puzzled, the patient headed for the library, and enlightenment came the moment he entered a reading room. He found it heavily adorned with signs of two kinds: "No smoking" and "Silence."

Cover Crops Will Protect Land

Will you be farming the same land next year? Winter erosion in this area "skims off the cream" of the farm and leaves the less productive sub-soil. Cover crops are the answer to the problem. Farmers who protect their land with a good cover crop not only can farm the same soil year after year but the soil is in a better condition to grow crops.

Such cover crops as Austrian winter peas or hairy vetch not only protects the land during the period of heavy winter rains but when turned under in the spring add organic matter to the soil. Fertilizers taken up by the cover crops are again available for the succeeding crop. If the land is not protected, plant foods are leached out of the soils during the winter and are lost.

Farmers who are planning to use winter cover crops should make preparation now for the needed seeds and phosphate. P. M. A. offices will issue prior approvals and purchase orders for Austrian winter peas, hairy vetch and 20% superphosphate.

Austrian winter peas should be planted at the rate of not less than 40 pounds per acre and at least 20 pounds of hairy vetch per acre should be used. At least 200 pounds of 20% superphosphate must be used per acre. Seed should be inoculated and seeded at a depth of three or four inches.

She is Sue Watts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie M. Watts who live near Harleton.

"Why, yes, I believe I did," she answered brightly. "And did you come?"

Alcorn Amazed to Learn Experts Are As Confused About War As He Is

Editor's note: Achin Alcorn, philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Sulphur, is only adding to the confusion in his letter this week, which is fairly typical.

Dear Editor: I went to a lot of trouble yesterday to get a newspaper, had to miss my nap to stay awake watchin my neighbor in order to time my trip to his mail box, ain't nothin worse than a squabble with a unreasonable neighbor who can't see that a paper's just as good after somebody else has read it as it was to start with, it ain't readin it first that makes it sorry, that happened earlier up the line, if you get what I mean and I imagine you do, and after I got it and went down to the pasture and read it, I doubt if it was worth the trouble.

I read where a group of Congressional experts had viewed the world situation and announced a world-wide atomic war is possible in the next two years, with the major American cities gettin bombed. "Of course," they added, "we could be wrong, it might happen sooner, it might happen later, maybe not at all." As I understand this, that's a lot of latitude and them experts don't know anything more definite about the world situation than I do, what's gonna happen or when, and while I've always figured the world can manage to get along with me as ignorant as I am, I hadn't realized it might get along too with the rest of the folks in the same boat. This throws a entirely different light on the situation and I feel a lot better. If don't nobody know what's gonna happen, from the experts down to me, this gives everybody a even start.

Another thing that's been botherin me is this: on several different occasions lately I've read where the U. S. generals in Korea have announced that the Communist forces has shot their bolt, but I notice they keep comin back with new attacks and we have to back up a little more and what I'd like to know is who's furnishin 'em with all them bolts?

Yours faithfully, A. A.

Sugar Applied to Wound Saves Boy

Sugar applied by a father to the pierced jugular vein of his injured son saved the boy's life.

Flying glass cut Larry Don Chestnut, son of D. L. Chestnut of Monahans, when the father's car collided recently with another near Royalty.

Chestnut took the lad to Royalty, found sugar and quickly applied it to the wound. The boy was taken to a Monahans hospital where he is reported recovering.

An exchange report the following:

He: "Why do you weep and snuffle at a picture show over the imaginary woes of people you never met?"

She: "Same reason why you scream and yell when a man you don't know slides into second base."
