NEGRO ATTACKS GIRL IN HOME

New York Has Another "Black Hand" Mystery

VISIT FOLLOWS THREAT

Victim Found Unconscious in Hallway After Assailant Had Escaped

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Irene Grossman, a girl 16 years of age, was found clubbed into insensibility in the hallway of her home at 542 West One Hundred and Forty-second street early today. The attack was the culmination of a series of nightly entries in the Grossman private residence, which were intended to enforce, by "black hand" methods, payments of money for immunity from attack.

Beginning Friday night a negro visited the house nightly, appearing only to Miss Grossman and escaping when frightened by her screams. Despite the lookout set for him by the family, he had a chance to give his warnings. The girl's brother told the police his sister had started for an early morning walk when she was attacked. He heard her scream and ran into the hallway where he found her unconscious but saw nothing of the man.

Immediately after the clubbing the police found two pictures in the Grossman home with their faces turned to the wall and notes demanding money written on the backs. On the back of the photograph of Mrs. Grossman was written, "We expect $900 from you. B. F. C." On the back of one of her daughter's pictures was written in the same hand, "We expect $100 from you. B. F. C." In two previous visits to the house burglars have stolen several valuable pictures and more than $400 worth of silverware.

Miss Grossman's injuries are not believed to be dangerous.

GAMING CASES TO RUN THROUGH COURTS

Motion to Hold R. J. Allison in Contempt Is Filed at Waco--Appeal Declared Likely

WACO, Texas, Sept. 25.—A motion to hold R. J. Allison in contempt of court and alleging that he violated a temporary injunction restraining him from using certain premises for gaming purposes, was this morning filed in the Nineteenth district court by Minor L. Moore, who is pushing the war against gaming.

A temporary injunction was granted last week against Allison and, it is alleged, he has since used the inhibited premises for gaming. This is the first motion of the kind for contempt filed in Texas under the new law.

It is understood that attorneys of Allison have gone to Georgetown and will ask a habeas corpus before Judge Davidson of the court of criminal appeals. It looks like the case will run the gamut of the courts and the law will be tested thoroughly.

EARL OF STRATHMORE TOLD OF MYSTERY

Custom That Has Prevailed in House of Glamis Recalled by Young Man's Reaching Majority

(Special Cable. Copyright, 1905, by Hearst News Service.)

EDINBURG, Sept. 25.—Today Lord Glamis, the eldest son of the Earl of Strathmore is in possession of the terrible secret that has hung over Castle Glamis for centuries.

From time immemorial the holder of this Scotch earldom had on the day of his heir attaining his majority confided to him what dreadful thing it is that lies in the haunted room of Glamis castle, which is the ancestral home of the Earl of Strathmore.

Thus the secret is handed down from father to son and is never in the possession of more than two persons at the same time. It is a remarkable tribute to Scotch secretiveness that the dread confidence between father and son has never been betrayed and today but two persons know exactly what lies in the haunted room—the aged earl and Lord Gamis, who came of age yesterday.

GINNERS' REPORT WILL BE TELEGRAPHED

Chances of Leakage Believed Averted by New Method in Preparing Government Report

WACO, Texas, Sept. 25.—The first ginners' report for the present season will be telegraphed to Washington today by H. M. Minier, who has charge of this work for McLennan county. Mr. Minier says that he has had but little trouble about getting the reports from ginners, and has had to show the law to only one or two men. The law is very stringent, and being a Federal statute, becomes all the more formidable. He says the ginners and cotton men seem to think that this method of showing cotton produced and ginned will have the effect of knocking out much speculation, and as the reports are telegraphed in at the last moment before being bulletined no advance information can be given out.

GEORGE CLARK WILLING

Says He Will Go to Legislature If Friends Wish

WACO, Texas, Sept. 25.—George Clark, in response to inquiry on the part of friends, admitted that he is willing to go to the legislature if the people of this county really want him to do so. It is said that efforts may be made to get one or two other prominent men to agree to go to the legislature. Editor George C. Robinson is leading a crusade for the very best material to be sent to Austin and great interest is shown in the matter.

RAILROADS SLOW IN SENDING IN REPORTS

Auditor Askew of State Commission Receives Letters of Explanation From Delinquent Companies

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 25.—H. G. Askew, auditor of the railroad commission, has returned from a week's stay in Oklahoma and the Indian Territory. He found that during his absence only eight additional railroads had sent in their annual report as is required by law, but he also found a mass of letters from different lines that had not as yet sent in their reports, explaining and declaring that the reports will be forthcoming as soon as possible. There are about sixty railroads in the state and when Mr. Askew left, only about one-half had filed their reports. As stated in these columns at the time he sent the delinquents notice informing them that unless the reports were forthcoming the commission would take action in the matter. Auditor Askew also stated that all the express companies with one exception had sent in their annual reports for the fiscal year ending June 30. If the delinquent lines carry out their promises in their letters, no legal proceedings will be instituted to force them to comply with the law.

PAID CALL IN BALLOON

Mme. Rejane Receives Visitors from the Skies

PARIS, Sept. 25.—Madame Rejane was sitting in the garden of her home in Hermqueville when she was astonished to see a balloon descend on her property. In the car were Madame Henry Lettellen, wife of the proprietor of the Chicago Journal and the famous beauty of last year, and M. Jacques Faure, the author, who had come to pay a call. After thanking the actress for her contribution to a recent charity entertainment they threw out ballast and departed as they had come.

M. WITTE USES BACK DOOR TO DODGE CROWD

Throngs About Berlin Hotel So Great He Has Difficulty Getting About

BERLIN, Sept. 25.—Chancellor Von Buelow came to Berlin from Baden this morning and was received by M. Witte. They talked more than an hour. The Russian statesman lunched with Baron Von Richthofen, secretary for foreign affairs, the Russian charge d'affaires, M. Boulatzel, also being present. M. Witte and Baron Von Richthofen afterwards conversed for some time. They exchanged calls yesterday evening. Among those who saw M. Witte at the hotel were Ernest Von Mendelssohn Batholdy, whose house has been Russia's banker here for a century. Herr Medelssohn called as a friend and there is no reason to suppose the question of a loan was even mentioned. Arthur Fischer, partner in the house, saw M. Witte in Paris and it is reported a loan was discussed but it is definitely stated that such was not the case. M. Witte's coming and going are watched for at his hotel so continuously he used the private entrance on a back street.

When he arrived at the railway station yesterday, M. Witte said to the members of the Russian embassy who met him that he preferred to walk to the hotel. A great crowd had assembled in front of the hotel expecting to see him arrive in a carriage and he and his party made their way quietly through the crowded Unter Den Linden and into the hotel without their presence being noted.

M. Witte inquired of the hotel manager what caused the crowd. "The people are waiting to see your excellency," the manager replied. "Then let me go to my rooms as quickly as possible," said M. Witte.

ALHAMBRA CRUMBLING

Age and Decay Telling on Famous Moorish Palace

(Copyright, 1905, by the Hearst News Service.)

MADRID, Sept. 25.—A report, which will cause regret if not even something like consternation throughout the civilized world, has just come from Granada. The curator of the Alhamora, Don Miguel Gomez Terlesa, has warned the Spanish government that unless measures are immediately taken to preserve it, the ancient and celebrated residences of the Moorish kings will crumble to pieces. This news will especially strike a chord in the hearts of Americans who knew Washington Irving's famous descriptions of this and other monuments of the Moorish domination.

VENEZUELA UNLIKELY TO ARGUE WITH FRANCE

Believed That Castro Will Back Down and Apologize for Taigny Incident

BY PAUL VILLIERS.

(Special Cable. Copyright, 1905, by Hearst News Service.)

PARIS, Sept. 25.—It is generally believed that the Venezuelan difficulty will be settled peacefully and that the Castro government will avail itself of the first opportunity presented to gracefully back down from the position it has taken in refusing to recognize M. Taigny as the mouthpiece of the French govenment in Caracas. It was stated in the foreign office today that no steps had been taken to provide for the sending of warships to Venezuela, nor would there be until sufficient time has been afforded the Castro government to reply to the French demand for the recognition of M. Taigny.

It is also intimated that although no direct propositions to that end have been made, France and the United States will take concurrent action in the matters now in dispute in Caracas.

The Moroccan affair seems to be well on the way to settlement and it is hoped that the conclave in Algeria will be able satisfactorily to arrange the question of cemmercial rights in the sultanate. It has been intimated that Kaiser Wilhelm would be willing to acknowledge the supremacy of French and British commercial interests in Morocco and approve the candidacy of Prince Charles of Denmark for the Norwegian throne in return for England's acquiescence in his idea on the subject of Moroccan trade.

HEBREWS TO PUNISH MEN WHO LEAVE WIVES

Movement Started in New York East Side to Check Wholesale Abandonment

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Wife desertion on the East Side has become so common that a movement was started yesterday among leading Hebrews of that quarter to check the evil. Organizations with this end in view are to be formed and a system of following up and causing the arrest of men who desert their wives and families will be established.

It is intended that the real work of the organization shall begin at once, but that its best results will be effected early next year. An act has been passed by the legislature making wife desertion a felony, but it does not go into effect until the end of the present year. Under this act it will be possible to extradite deserting husbands from other states. All the charity organizations on the East Side which have been called on to care for thousands of women and children each year, will help in the campaign.

POLICY HOLDERS TO FIGHT McCALL

Attorney Employed by Western Members Who Will Attack Present New York Life Management

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Policyholders of the New York Life Insurance Company are preparing to make a determined fight against the continuance of the management by John A. McCall, George Walbridge Perkins and the retainers. Influential members of the company from a western state are taking the initiative in the movement, and already they have retained a prominent Wall street attorney to look after their interests. They are determined that these men shall join Hyde and Alexander in enforced retirement.

The fight will be largely a battle for proxies and in a short time policyholders will receive a request for proxies from a committee that is to be appointed for the purpose of arousing sentiment against the men at present in control of the company.

AMERICAN FIRMS TO HELP BUILD NAVY

Report That England Has Secured Bulk of Russian Contracts Is Declared Untrue

NEW YORK, Sept. 23. — Charles H. Flint, who recently returned from St. Petersburg, and who is familiar with the situation in reference to the building of the new navy, says on commenting upon the report cabled from London that British shipbuilders were to build all of the czar's new navy, that not only had the contracts for the bulk of the work not been let, but that Americans were sure to get a share of the work when the awards were finally made. As a matter of fact, he declared, some of the minor work had already been given to an American firm.

"As I understand it," said Mr. Flint, "no contract has been let by the Russian government in England except for one cruiser of 15,000 tons burden. That went to Maxim. A few small contracts were also let in France, and those, together with the contracts that went to an American firm, embrace all the work that has so far been given out by Russia for its new navy.

"I am not at liberty to tell the name of the American firm I refer to. Mr. Schwab has had considerable dealings of a business nature with the Russian government. He has sold them large quantities of armor plate and steel rails, and has thus established business relations with the czar's government, which, I am sure will secure for him consideration when the contracts for warships are let. I might add, from what I know of the situation, that not only will Mr. Schwab get part of the work, but other American yards will be favored in a like manner."

HUSBAND'S LAST WORD WAS BULLET IN BRAIN

Fired Fatal Shot While Wife Waited at Other End of Speaking Tube

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Assenting reluctantly to listen to one last word from her husband, from whom she was estranged, Mrs. Henry Koch pressed her ear yesterday to the speaking tube leading from the vestibule of the apartment house where she lives in East New York. A second later she heard a muffled report and sprang back with a cry of fear. Hurrying down stairs the woman found her husband lying on the vestibule floor, shot through the head. Ten minutes later the doctors pronounced him dead.

THIEF MAKES POLICE AID HIM IN WORK

Clever Hungarian Robber Baffles Department of Budapest by Boldness and Skill

BUDAPEST, Sept. 25.—Some particularly daring and ingenius thefts have recently been carried out in this capital under the very noses of the police.

The thief's first exploit was to carry off all the granite blocks with a side street was paved. He appeared one day with some carts and a number of workmen, told the policeman on duty that he was a municipal contractor who had the order to repave the street and requested him to keep a sharp eye on the workmen to see that they did not appropriate any of the stones for themselves. The imposition was only discovered when the street had been unpaved for some days. A few days later this hero netted all the fish in the lake of the Stadwaldchen Park, also with police assistance. He gave himself out as the new lessee of the fishing. His latest exploit was the most daring of all. He stole a summer villa from the wooded hill near Budapest. Again he appeared as a contractor, informed the residents of the district that the owner had decided to have it removed and then packed up and carried away not only the furniture, but the whole of the villa, which was built of wood.

NEW YORKER OWNS FINEST DIAMOND

Weighs 460 Carats and Is Said to Be Practically Flawless—Property of George A. Kunze

(Special Cable to The Telegram—Copyright, 1905, by W. R. Hearst.)

LONDON, Sept. 25.—According to Sir William C. Crooke, the famous English chemist, the most remarkable diamond in the world is owned by George A. Kunze of New York. The gem in question is a "phosphorising diamond," and according to Sir William, this is one of the most remarkable finds in the Premier mine and weighs 460 carats and is reported to be practically flawless.

BUTTE, MONTANA, HAS MILLION DOLLAR FIRE

Five Blocks Totally Destroyed by Blaze Starting in Dry Goods Store

BUTTE, Mont., Sept. 25.—Fire causing a loss estimated at one million dollars yesterday consumed the entire business portion of Butte, lying between the Shodair block and Renshaw alley, on the south side of West Park street, and partially destroyed the public library.

The fire call was turned in at 8:40 a. m. At noon the four-story Symons store was a mass of flames and the public library and other places were burning simultaneously. At 1 o'clock Mayor MacGinniss announced the fire under control. Had the blaze once crossed Main street into the old buildings on the north side of Park street, or had it not been checked at the Renshaw block, the loss would have been much greater.

A cigar company occupied part of the ground floor and basement of the big Symons Dry Goods Company's building. At once the men realized that to keep the fire confined to the basement and away from the elevator shaft was the only hope of saving the block.

The men could not enter the seat of the flames, but several went through the rear sidewalk windows and held the hose as close as they could to the origin of the fire. Finally, with a favorable change in the wind, which kept the smoke back temporarily, the firemen broke in three doors on the ground floor and poured the water in the direction of the elevator shaft. A perfect geyser of sparks and burning shingles spouted across the roofs of other buildings, starting the flames in the Renshaw hall and in the Park building. From 11 o'clock until noon the Symons building burned free as a bonfire, and the firemen confined their labors to saving adjacent property.

The Miner, Broadway, Harvard, Argyle and other buildings were licked by the flames, but good work on the part of the owners and the firemen prevented what seemed for a time a general conflagration.

Some of the losses are as follows:

Blocks totally destroyed: Maule, York, Barrett, Woodworth and Ogden.

The following are among the estimated losses:

Symons store, Maule and York blocks, owned by the New York Realty Company, $600,000.

Library building, $70,000.

Walkover Shoe Company, $16,000.

Ogden block, total loss.

Atlantic Saloon, 11,000.

ROCKEFELLER ASKED TO STOP GAMBLING

Cleveland Chief of Police Calls Upon Oil King to Help Stop Playing in Property He Owns CLEVELAND, Sept. 25—"Three times this department has been called upon to raid rooms in the Weddell house.

"These rooms were used for gambling purposes by professional gamblers. I cannot believe that this has been done by the knowledge and consent of yourself as the proprietor, and I take this means of advising you of the situation and soliciting your cooperation in our effort to break up this most vicious and unlawful practice."

This is part of a letter John D. Rockefeller received today from Chief of Police Kohler, as the result of the raiding by the police last night of a gambling room in the Weddell house, a hotel owned by the oil king. Rockefeller has no longer anything to do with the place. He gave a ninety-year lease to others.

MIKADO GETTING KICKS

Even the moderates do not conceal their grief at the result of the negotiations.

BIG BANK CLOSES OWING $4,000,000

Another Kansas City Institution Fails

FOLLOWS SALMON CRASH

Checks Honored as Far as Presented to Fidelity Trust Company

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 25.—The Kansas City State Bank, Wiley O. Cox, president, failed to open its doors today, having gone into voluntary liquidation. The bank had loaned $168,000 to the Bank of Salmon, at Clinton, Mo., which failed last July, catching depositors for several thousand. The Kansas City State Bank was organized in 1888 and had a capital of $200,000. Its last statement showed loans of $4,000,000, deposits of $4,750,000 and surplus of $14,000. The following notice was posted on the door at the opening hour today.

"This bank has gone into voluntary liquidation through the Fidelity Trust Company. Checks drawn against the bank will be paid on presentation to the Fidelity Trust Company at Ninth and Walnut streets. Wiley O. Cox, President."

At the Fidelity Trust Company bank, checks on the Kansas City State Bank were honored as far as presented. There was no show of commotion and Charles Campbell, vice president of the Fidelity Trust Company, stated all checks drawn on the closed bank would be paid on demand.

NEW YORK CAMPAIGN BEGUN IN EARNEST

Republicans, Citizens' Union and Municipal Ownership League Will Attempt to Unite

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Campaigning for the control of the city administration for the next four years and for the election of the county and borough officials throughout the city will begin in earnest today. Leaders of the democratic forces will take active charge of the fight for Mayor McClellan's re-election.

Delegates from the republican organization, the Citizens' Union and the Municipal Ownership League will meet again tonight to make another attempt to agree upon candidates for mayor, comptroller and president of the board of aldermen. If it is successful, the fusion ticket will be placed in the field by the city convention of the Citizens' Union on Thursday. District Attorney Jerome held a consultation yesterday with his assistants regarding plans for his campaign.

Interest is centered chiefly in the fusion conference tonight, the first that will have been held with the Citizens' Union since that organization bolted more than a week ago. Three candidates for mayor will probably be discussed, representing the three important fusion elements, as follows: Martin W. Littleton, proposed by the Citizens' Union; Samuel Seabury, proposed by the Municipal Ownership League; John Ford, proposed by the republicans and indorsed by the German-American League.

All these candidates are stated to be advocates of municipal ownership or control of public utilities.

COTTON ON THE MOVE

Receipts at Hillsboro Large—Price Is 10 Cents

HILLSBORO, Texas, Sept. 25.—Cotton has been coming in very fast the past week and has bene sold mostly at 10 cents and upward. While the crops is at least 33 1-3 per cent short, the enhanced price will fully compensate the shortage in production, especially when it is taken into consideration the saving of expense in picking. A remarkable feature of the condition this season is the fact that as yet there is no complaint of shortness of help in picking, which is usually heard quite generally at this stage of the picking season.

Mac Stewart Recovering

HILLSBORO, Texas, Sept. 25.—R. M. Horne of Chillicothe, Texas, a kinsman of Mac Stewart, the ex-Confederate soldier recently released from a Mexican prison, where he was serving a life sentence, has been visiting friends in the county during the past week. He states that Stewart, who is residing with a sister in Chillicothe, is improving in health constantly and regaining his mental as well as physical vigor since he has been enjoying freedom.

FEVER DISTRICT NEWS CONTINUES HOPEFUL

Only 288 Cases Under Treatment in New Orleans—Situation in Country Better

FEVER RECORD TO NOON

New cases	20
Total to date	2,851
Deaths	2
Total to date	369

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 25.—With September practically gone and the fever under control New Orleans is looking to a rapid clean up of the prevailing fever here. The weather is now excellent and as the days grow cooler there will be a steady disappearance of mosquitoes even before frost comes. There is a steady inpour of people from all sections of the country, the general impression being the element of risk is now slight. What can be done by vigorous handling of the yellow fever situation under modern methods is shown in the case of Tallulah. Conditions are so much improved there Dr. Chassaignac considers that necessity no longer exists for his remaining there and is returning home. The disease is now principally confined to negroes and is steadily growing less among them. In less than a month it is expected there will not be a vestige of fever left there.

That the stegomyia is disappearing from New Orleans is shown by the report Dr. Berry, who is in charge of the originally infected district. Dr. Berry says that for a week he has found none of the fever breeding mosquitoes in his district.

Dr. Marcour, ex-naval surgeon, who has been at Leeville, has written a report of the situation there. Dr. Marcour says while conditions are bad there they are not as horrible as predicted in some sensational stories that were printed and that it was a godsend there was something in the nature of a food famine, because if there had been plenty to eat the mortality would have been terrific. The most favorable feature of the report for the past 24 hours for New Orleans is the small number of persons shown to be now under treatment, 288. This is the smallest number since Aug. 8, and gives hope to the authorities in their work of speedily stamping out the disease. Reports from Bayou Barataria show that while fever has been completely stamped out in some sections there still is considerable illness in the small area of the bayou. One of the worst sufferers in that section is Judge Kirner. He, his wife and nine children are ill. The mortality since physicians have been in charge has been light on the bayou. Acting Italian Consul Papini offered his services to the federal authorities to assist in restoring sanity on Pointe Celeste Plantation in Plaquemine parish. The Italians there are in a panic stricken frame of mind and have been threatening to use firearms against the doctors. Plaquemine's authorities have decided to throw an armed cordon about the settlement, but Mr. Papini believes if a number of Italian sisters are sent to Celeste they will be able to quiet the countrymen. The sisters are ready to go.

MINUS FIVE BULLETS MAN IS GETTING WELL

Railroad Detective Shot Twice in Head and Thrice in Body, Recovering

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—After the removal of five thirty-eight caliber bullets from his body, Joseph Guildivinski, a railroad detective shot Aug. 28 in a battle with a freight thief, was pronounced yesterday to be on the road to recovery. The detective, according to the Fordham hospital surgeons, presents one of the most remarkable cases of physical endurance that has ever come under their care. After his battle with the thief, Guildivinski was believed to be dead, but he was driven three miles to Fordham, where it was found he had been shot over the right eye, while another bullet had entered the forehead near the left temple, two lodged in the abdomen, and a fifth struck the left thigh, piercing the bone. He revived and was immediately put on the operating table. After three hours' work, two bullets were removed from his head. Two weeks later an attempt was made to reach the bullets in his abdomen. One had lodged in the wall of the stomach, but the other was in the spleen. This necessitated a long and extremely difficult operation. Two minor operations followed and the last piece of lead was removed yesterday.

Harmony prevailed throughout the meeting and officers and the executive committee for the new federation were elected, headed by Dr. Hubert Stratton of Chicago as president. The federation represents a membership of 80,000 men, 20,000 of whom are members of the Knights of St. Louis and the remainder members of the Catholic Knights of America. Tired, Nervous Mothers

Make Unhappy Homes—Their Condition Irritates Both Husband and Children—How Thousands of Mothers Have Been Saved From Nervous Prostration and Made Strong and Well.

Mrs. Chester Curry — Mrs. Chas. F. Brown

A nervous, irritable mother, often on the verge of hysterics, is unfit to care for children; it ruins a child's disposition and reacts upon herself. The trouble between children and their mothers too often is due to the fact that the mother has some female weakness, and she is entirely unfit to bear the strain upon her nerves that governing children involves; it is impossible for her to do anything calmly.

The ills of women act like a firebrand upon the nerves, consequently nine-tenths of the nervous prostration, nervous despondency, "the blues," sleeplessness, and nervous irritability of women arise from some derangement of the female organism.

Do you experience fits of depression with restlessness, alternating with extreme irritability? Are your spirits easily affected, so that one minute you laugh, and the next minute you feel like crying?

Do you feel something like a ball rising in your throat and threatening to choke you; all the senses perverted, morbidly sensitive to light and sound; pain in the ovaries, and especially between the shoulders; bearing down pains; nervous dyspepsia, and almost continually cross and snappy?

If so, your nerves are in a shattered condition, and you are threatened with nervous prostration.

Proof is monumental that nothing in the world is better for nervous prostration than Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; thousands and thousands of women testify to this fact.

Mrs Chester Curry, Leader of the Ladies' Symphony Orchestra, 42 Saratoga Street, Boston, Mass., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"For eight years I was troubled with extreme nervousness and hysteria, brought on by irregularities. I could neither enjoy life nor sleep nights; I was very irritable, nervous and despondent.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended and proved to be the only remedy that helped me. I have daily improved in health until I am now strong and well, and all nervousness has disappeared."

Mrs. Charles F. Brown, Vice-President of the Mothers' Club, 21 Cedar Terrace, Hot Springs, Ark., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I dragged through nine years of miserable existence, worn out with pain and nervousness, until it seemed as though I should fly. I then noticed a statement of a woman troubled as I was, and the wonderful results she derived from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I decided to try it. I did so, and at the end of three months I was a different woman. My nervousness was all gone. I was no longer irritable, and my husband fell in love with me all over again."

Women should remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the medicine that holds the record for the greatest number of actual cures of female ills, and take no substitute.

Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write to her for advice. Mrs. Pinkham's vast experience with female troubles enables her to tell you just what is best for you, and she will charge you nothing for her advice.

ERA OF SELF-MADE MAN BELONGS TO THE PAST

Chicago Professor Says Home-Made Product Is Now Out of the Running

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—The era of the 'self-made" man is on the wane. Efficiency can no longer be manufactured or home-made. Competition of the present day is too much for the self-made man.

So holds Professor Nathaniel Butler, principal of the department of school training of the University of Chicago, who spoke yesterday at the closing session of the twentieth annual convention of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew in Mandell Hall at the University of Chicago. The subject of his address was "education as a factor of efficient manhood." Professor Butler spoke in the place of Professor W. R. Harper, who was too ill to attend the session.

"The term 'self-made men' is a mere fallacy," Professor Butler declared. "The 'self-made' man's success is due only to unusual ability. Efficient manhood—the manhood that ought to be offered to the world, no longer can be home made. In this time of competition the world is willing to pay the highest price for the efficient man just as for articles of commercial use."

Clifford Pinchot, head of the bureau of forest reserves, spoke on "Public ideals."

"I feel incapable of expressing the importance of the creation of a public spirit among young men," he said. "The one great thing that Theodore Roosevelt has done for the United States is not his service in the recent peace conference nor the use of the prestige of his great office in behalf of decency. The vital and important thing lies in the change which he has brought in the attitude of young men toward political life.

"The time is not long past when it was not considered respectable to go into politics. I hope the time is not far distant when it wont be respectable not to go into politics. When this time comes, this country will do things in the world that were never done before.

CHICAGO PUGS SAY LID IS OFF

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—As the result of a boxing bout Saturday night on North Side it is said the lid has been taken off for pugilism in Chicago for the first time since Mayor Harrison set his foot down on the game in 1904. The pugilists say the lid is off. The police are noncommital. There were several goes at a "benefit" which had all the earmarks of a regulation prize fight. Eight-ounce gloves were used in the contest, which went three rounds, and the fighters came from the ring badly bruised and with bloody faces. Women were allowed to see the bouts from vantage points where the male spectators could not see them. The police made no attempt to interfere.

SWINDLER RECAUGHT MUST SERVE OUT TERM

Successfully Effected Escape From Almost Impregnable Fortress in French Guiana

(Copyright, 1905, by the Hearst News Service.)

PARIS, Sept. 25.—Details of the extraordinary escape from an almost impregnable French fortress have been disclosed by the recapture of Joseph Sporn, a swindler, who after eight years of liberty, will soon be on his way back to French Guiana. The story of Sporn's escape is dramatic. Sporn was sentenced in 1896 to eight years' hard labor and twenty years exile for theft. The year after his deportation to French Guiana he was cutting rushes by the riverside close to the penal settlement. He gradually wandered out of sight of a warden, when he saw floating down the river the corpse of a sailor whom he knew had been murdered by some of his fellow convicts a few days before.

Sporn secured the corpse, changed clothing and sent it down the stream again, dressed in his convict garb. Then he made tracks towards the river's mouth. There he saw a small Dutch steamer and made desperate signs that he wanted help. A boat was put off and he was taken on board where, in broken German, he told the captain that he had been shipwrecked and wanted to go back either to Holland or to Dutch Guiana.

Sporn left the ship in Venezuela. There he made some money. Like all Frenchmen, the temptation to return to Paris was strong and he succumbed. He went into business here and prospered. His methods of business, however, attracted the attention of the police and he was taken to jail to explain. There a detective recognized him.

He is now in prison and in a few days will join a convoy of convicts being sent to Guiana.

CUNARDERS TO FIGHT FOR SEA SUPREMACY

Liners Now Being Constructed Will Be Largest and Fastest Boats Afloat

(Special Cable to The Telegram—Copyright, 1905, by W. R. Hearst.)

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 25.—With the two new ships now approaching completion the Cunard line hopes to wrest from the German-Lloyd line the supremacy of the sea. The Cunard liners will be the largest ships afloat, measuring 800 feet in length with eighty-eight feet beam and sixty feet in depth. The horsepower of the four turbines aggregates 75,000 and the speed will be twenty-five knots an hour, 23.5 being the present record. There are eight decks and an important feature on the lower deck, devoted largely to third-class passengers, is the subdivision into separate state rooms. The great dining saloon measures eighty feet by 125 feet and seats 500 persons.

BOMB MAKERS ARE BUSY

Odessa Police Unable to Solve the Reason

(Special Cable to The Telegram—Copyright, 1905, by W. R. Hearst.)

ODESSA, Sept. 25.—A secret which the police are anxious but unable to discover is the purpose for which all the bombs made in Odessa are intended. Not more than a score of bombs were thrown during the late disturbances here, but it is shown that the manufacture of these infernal machines has been steadily progressing. The police now naturally believe that the bombs are made and stored with specific future purposes, but that sinister secret appears to be inviolably kept despite the activity of a horde of spies.

FAMOUS PITCHERS TO MEET IN MIGHTY COMBAT

When the New York Nationals and Philadelphia Americans meet in the world's championship series two of the greatest pitchers the diamond has produced will be arrayed against each other. They are Christy Mathewson and "Rube" Waddell.

Both men have been doing remarkable pitching all season and when they face each other the contest should be one that will stand conspicuous in baseball annals of all times.

Many followers of the game predict that Mathewson will outrank the erratic left-hander, but "Rube" has scores of admirers who wait to be shown that he cannot equal the pitching record of the mighty Christie in the championship series. The men, it is figured, will pitch three of the games. Ames will probably fight it out with Coakley and Plank and McGinnity will contest for pitching honors.

Battling Nelson deposited $500 in 'Frisco to insure the appearance in court of a young woman accused of an inability to distinguish between her own and other people's money. She is the young woman over whom Nelson and his former manager, Teddy Murphy, had their disagreement. When a woman comes in at the door the average prize fighter's wits go into the cellar.

Billy Delaney thinks he has found a coming champion in Al Kaufman, aged 20, six feet tall, weight 190 pounds, and winner of half a dozen fights.

Over 180 stables are registered at the Louisville track.

Perry Werden wouldst be an umpire in the American Association.

Somebody has started the fabrication that James Jackson, of the Clevelands, may manage the St. Paul team next season.

"See those gray hairs," says W. H. Watkins, manager of Minneapolis, "they come from managing a team from the bench and not from staying up late at night counting my money. No more of it for me. I intend delegating the managerial power to a younger man—if I can find him."

President Shively says salaries will be trimmed in the Western Association next year.

Joe Walcott has been smoking again, and thinks he can get into shape to complicate the welterweight championship problem. He thinks he is in shape to fight anyone looking for the championship title.

Forfeits have been posted for a match between "Kid" Broad and Willie Hosey at 130 pounds on Oct. 17. Place of battle, before a private club in New York state.

"Boring in" is half the battle, according to Battling Nelson. The Dane has little use for fancy boxers who can't hit like Maud can kick.

Wiggs became an outlaw because Brooklyn sent him a contract for a smaller salary than he was receiving in a minor league. Now that he has been reinstated, Detroit is finding him a valuable acquisition to its pitching staff.

Seymour is heading the National League batting list, with one point over Wagner, with Donlin a close third.

Eastern followers of the track are calling for the moving start. They urge that a standing start does not give all horses an equal show, and that it is better all around to have the horses come up to the barrier walking and ready to be sent away on a line.

Joe Cantillon, manager of the Milwaukee baseball club, has about completed arrangements to take an all-star team to the Pacific coast. He is figuring upon such stars as Hans Wagner, Altrock, Lajoie, Hemphill, Billy Sullivan and Jiggs Donohue.

Tommy Corcoran expects to retire from baseball as soon as he has annexed $50,000. "Don't wake him up."

Baseball critics and players agree that Mathewson never had a better season. His speed and control have both improved.

Ames of the New York Nationals holds two records in his league. He has fanned the most players and he has uncorked the greatest number of wild pitches—22.

T. J. Gaynor, a Brooklyn horseman, paid $500 last season for a chestnut yearling filly by Orlando-Kismet. He called her Whimsical. A better name would have been Gold Mine. From comparative poverty Whimsical has raised her owner to wealth. Today Whimsical is considered the best 2-year-old of her sex in the country.

CHICAGO FANS UNRULY

Policemen at American League Game Use Clubs Freely

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—Twenty-six thousand persons saw the Chicago clubs defeat New York Sunday afternoon by the score of 10 to 7, and the violent pushing and jostling of the big crowd attracted more attention than the game itself.

The first excitement came when Umpire Emslie was toppled over with a hot liner that hit him above the heart. The crowd surged forward, thinking the umpire had been put out of business. It rushed upon the field and there began a hand-to-hand fight with a detail of policemen which did not end until many spectators had been struck over the heads with clubs.

Time and again the throng pushed forward, stubbornly trying to maintain the vantage points it had gained to watch the battle between Bob Wicker and McGinnity. Repeated warnings failed to serve the purpose of clearing the grounds that the game might proceed, and as a last resort the police ripped into the crowd right and left and showed little mercy to defiant ones.

There were many personal encounters among the spectators themselves.

Dan Patch and Audubon Boy May Go at Dallas

Charles A. Mangold, superintendent of the racing department of the state tracks, announces that the directors of the fair have authorized him to offer a purse of $10,000 to the winner of the contest, provided it can be arranged to take place on the Dallas track during the approaching fair in November.

LAND IN PANHANDLE BOUGHT FOR FARMS

A. B. Stone, Wealthy Capitalist Secures Large Tract in Moore County

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 25.—A. B. Stone, a wealthy resident of Fayetteville, Ark., was here Saturday and paid into the state treasury the sum of $5,125, that being the final payment of principal and interest on eight sections of land in Moore county, in the Panhandle country.

This land, or a greater portion of it, was bought by Stone from railroads and is for the purpose of making farms out of it. It is the intention of Mr. Stone to buy fifteen or twenty more sections of land in the Panhandle for farming purposes.

Mr. Stone believes in the future of Texas and especially of that section and thinks it is better investment than in United States bonds. This marks a new era for the Panhandle country of Texas, as heretofore the lands have been used almost exclusively for cattle raising.

UNITED STATES MAY TAKE HAND IN CUBA

Island Must Show Ability to Conduct Affairs Peacefully or Action Will Be Taken

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—If the election riots in Cuba become aggravated, there is a possibility of the United States giving warning to the island government that it will have to conduct its election peacefully or forfeit its right of freedom—thenceforth becoming part and parcel of the United States. The state, war and navy departments are keeping their eyes upon the trend of events there, and if it seems to the administration that the war and internal strife that marked the island before the Spanish-American war are to become a regular institution in every election under the new republic, Uncle Sam will step in and take charge, appoint a military governor, declare the people incompetent to govern themselves and maintain by arms the peace that Cuba herself cannot maintain.

"The impression here is that Cuba will soon be under the stars and stripes," said an official of the war department today, anent the Cienfuegos riots. "No special preparations would have to be made by the department to deal with any situation that might arise in Cuba. We have the troops and the facilities to transport as many thousands of them as may be required, and a sufficiently large force could be thrown into the island without any delay. Should occasion develop, however, there is nlo doubt that the President would not hesitate to treat the situation with a firm hand.

LONDON, Sept. 25.—The society papers have not ceased to discuss commendingly the extreme simplicity that marked the Field-Haton wedding. That an American multi-millionaire should elect to be married with no more ostentation than might mark the wedding of one of his employes, is regarded as a pleasant offset to the extravagance and garish gorgeousness that have attended so many marriages of the overrich trans-Atlantics. Much is said also of the cheerful and unaffected family air that pervaded the ceremony. Some whisperings had been heard that there were domestic objections to the union on the part of the younger members, but everything showed that these hints were absolutely unfounded. Marshall Field Jr., acted as his father's best man, Mrs. Marshall Field Jr. beamed like a happy school girl and Mr. Field's daughter, Mrs. Beatty, was equally buoyant and everything was jolly.

Mr. Field has a beautiful home in Warwickshire, England, therefore, is likely to be favored as his place of residence for a part of the year at least.

THE BEST RANGE BREEDS

There is a marked diversity of opinion among Texas cattlemen as to the best breeds of cattle for range purposes, but it is an indisputable fact that the Herefords are considerably in the ascendancy so far as the range country is concerned. It is claimed for the Hereford breed that it is the best for all around range purposes, owing to the superior rustling qualities of the animals and their great stamina. It is claimed by the devotee at the Hereford shrine that this breed will prosper and flourish where other breeds will turn their little pink toes to the daisies. That they can stand more bad weather and general all around neglect than any other. Further than this, the Hereford is regarded as the typical beef animal, short-legged, blocky and furnishing a larger per cent of the choice beef cuts, the claim is made that there can be no improvement on the Hereford by comparison with any of the existing breeds. The fact that so many of these animals are found in the range country is pretty conclusive evidence that ranchmen are showing their faith in the Hereford by their works. The white face is in evidence on almost every one of the large ranches, and even the calves in the milk pen bunch are beginning to show a liberal per cent of white faces.

In the Shornhorn the Hereford is meeting a competitor that very often dons the blue ribbon. In fact, there are many of the leading ranchmen of the state who are just as devoted to this breed of cattle as others are to the Herefords and who sing their praises just as persistently. It is claimed for the Shorthorn that there is just as much stamina and just as good rustling qualities as are found in the Hereford, coupled with the fact that there is more rapid growth. Shorthorn mother cows are usually good milkers, and it is urged that the Shorthorn calf is so much more fortunate than his white-faced brother in this respect that he gets the lead early in life and maintains it unbrokenly until he reaches the block. It is also claimed that the Shorthorn distances the Hereford when it comes to the feed pen. Whether these alleged facts are true or not, it is certain that the Shorthorn is a very popular animal out in the range country and his tribe is constantly increasing.

The Aberdeen-Angus and Galloway cattle are not bred so extensively out in the range country as Herefords and Shorthorns, but experience has demonstrated that they are factors that will have to be reckoned with in the future. On a few of the big ranches they are almost totally in evidence, and one of the finest bunches of cattle that ever left West Texas was a solid train load of the black calves shipped out from Midland about two years ago from the famous C ranch. These black youngsters attracted favorable attention and comment wherever they were seen, and there can be no questioning the fact that the black muleys have invaded the range country to stay. They are an extremely hardy breed, make fine beef and run as smooth and even as it is possible for beef animals to shape up.

The Red Polls are fewer in number on the range than any of the others, but they are steadily growing in popular favor. There are some herds of Red Polls located on the Texas plains that would not be exchanged for a like number of any other breed in the state. The owners of these cattle claim they are just the thing that is needed for range purposes, and to a disinterested onlooker it appears plain that they are making good. The Red Poll is a handsome animal and the indications are that he has also come to the Texas range to stay.

It is gratifying to note that the tendency among all Texas ranchmen is to steadily improve the quality of their herds, and it does not make any difference what breed is used so long as it is one of the improved breeds that is recognized as a standard beef breed. All these breeds have their good qualities and are making good in the matter of results. If this were not so, Texas range bred stuff would not enjoy the reputation it does abroad. The feeder from the corn belt states would not come down among us every year and top our herds for feeding purposes if it were not true that the stuff now produced on the Texas ranges is the best on earth.

There is a growing tendency among these feeders, however, in favor of the cattle without horns. Ranchmen who are sticking to the horned breeds are recognizing this fact by dehorning their calves, and large numbers of Hereford and Shorthorn calves are showing up these days minus their hookers. The general tendency in the range country is to cater to the wants of this fancy eastern feeder trade to a very large extent by producing the very class of cattle that is desired. New blood is being constantly introduced and the herds are being constantly improved.

The question of which is the best all around range breed of cattle will probably never be unanimously determined, and the only thing to do is for the ranchman to stick to the breed that pleases him the most and the most nearly meets the requirements of his trade.

LIFE INSURANCE

It is reported that a great many people have become so greatly alarmed over the life insurance situation, as it is being developed by the New York investigation, that they are permitting their policies to lapse, evidently under the impression that the dishonesty already brought to light in the system of frenzied finance employed indicates there is nothing to be hoped for in the future. Of course, all this means that much clear loss to the policyholders, and the effect is just the same as if the big companies had been wrecked by mismanagement, so far as these particular policyholders are concerned.

While The Telegram deplores the conditions that have arisen in insurance circles, it advises its readers to hold on to their life insurance policies and not sacrifice them in the manner many are reported to have adopted. Instead of surrendering the policies by allowing them to lapse, it is better to seek some form of adjustment with the companies if it can possibly be arranged in the form of paid up insurance for the amount that has already been paid. If this is impossible, it is better to hold on and keep up the payments for a time until it becomes evident whether or not legislation will be enacted by congress for the better protection of the policyholders.

The Telegram would be pleased to see strong insurance companies organized and maintained in Texas for the purpose of taking care of all Texas business. We already have two or three organizations of the kind in this state, and it may be the proper thing for our people to begin turning to these home organizations in this hour of emergency and strive to build up and strengthen them by giving them the proper support and encouragement. The Old Line companies have done a large and extremely lucrative business in Texas for many years, and there are many good honest Texas dollars represented in the political slush funds that seem to have been so freely used in the east. The insurance record in this state for the past twenty-five years is as follows:

Premiums paid by Texans in 1880	$160,181
Amount returned in policy payments	110,211
Ratio of money returned to state to money paid out	68.52
Premiums paid in to companies in 1904	7,751,419
Amount paid back to policyholders	2,117,353
Ratio of money returned to that paid out	26.02

Average yearly per centage of money paid back to Texas to money paid out for premiums during twenty-five years, as shown by the records of the insurance commissioner at the city of Austin, 33.43.

In other words, Texas has only received back from all the life insurance companies patronized during the past twenty-five years, one-third of the amount that has been paid out for protection. This seems to demonstrate that there is a big profit in the insurance business, and it would have been much better for the state if this insurance business had been done with home companies and the money kept within the state.

Late reports from Washington indicate the President has decided not to appoint Cortelyou secretary of the treasury to succeed Shaw. The disclosures as to Cortelyou's methods of frying the fat out of the big corporations for campaign purposes is declared to have acted as a bar to his further immediate advancement.

John A. McCall says he was almost hounded to death by democrats begging a campaign contribution from the New York Life. It is a pity that democrats should have been so foolish as to importune a man who preferred to give money not his own to others.

Fort Worth is getting genuinely awake on the cotton market proposition, but the awakening should have occurred two months ago. Next season we will all be willing to start the ball rolling at the proper time.

Land Commissioner Terrell takes another fall out of Treasurer Robbins, and the indications are that the war of words at the state capital will be protracted indefinitely.

The Sunday Telegram never fails to please the people, from the fact that The Sunday Telegram is always a newspaper.

Fort Worth is growing faster than any other city in the southwest. This is the verdict of all our visitors.

MILLIONS OF MISCHIEF

By HEADON HILL

Copyright 1905 by The Newspaper Enterprise Association

"I think I am your only chance, Rivington, and probably Miss Chilmark's, too. If I knew why she went to London I might be able to help you, and her, too, poor girl, if Sir Giedon Marske has allowed her to live so long."

"Sir Gideon? Roger, you mean," said I in my blundering way. My dull wits could not grasp on the spur of the moment where Sir Gideon came in.

But Harzog's coul. "You forget the telegram I had from Sir Gideon this evening, cancelling the plot against the prime minister," he said. "That is evidence to me that Sir Gideon has become suddenly aware of these private complications. He can only have learned of them from our friend of window-scaling proclivities, and whatever his information may be, it almost certainly includes the fact of your innocence. Does it also include a knowledge of the guilty?"

He paused and looked at me, but I made no sign as yet. Herzog went on, still more impressively: "Take my word for it, Rivington, that whatever is wrong with Miss Chilmark, that old man is in it—up to the hilt. That attempt on you tonight shows that they have been hard hit by the girl, and that they want to silence you without recapture if possible, though, having failed with the knife they will probably fall back on the hangman's rope if we don't look slippy. And if they want to treat you like that, what sort of mercy is the girl to hope for—the girl to whom I figuratively take off my hat as a fat old terrier might do to a smart little ferret that has bolted the rat for him. Sir Gideon and Roger are my rats, Rivington, and they are on the run, but they will get clear away if you don't decide to trust me."

"You don't care a tinker's rap about me, or about Miss Chilmark," I said tentatively. "What's your motive?"

"Not revenge, my friend—nothing so crudely useless as that," he smiled at me. "I am an advocate for reciprocity in trade. In short, I want to reverse the lever, and have a pull over Sir Gideon, that is all; so that I may not be called upon to assist in assassinating any more premiers with blunt instruments. But if, in the process of reversing the lever, Roger Marske gets hanged instead of you, I shall not complain."

At that I hesitated no longer, as I should have done had he professed any but a selfish purpose in serving me. The man was a monster of iniquity, but his interests so clearly ran side by side with my own in confounding the Marskes that I judged it best to clutch at the only straw held out to me. Moreover, he had guessed and wormed out so much for himself that there remained but little to confide to him but Janet's solution of my poor sister's cryptic utterance, and our hope of connecting "Danvers Crane" with Roger Marske.

Herzog listened with increasing gravity, noting down the address of Mrs. Webley at Notting Hill, and of the Bloomsbury lodging house where Janet was to sleep, but he made no comment till at the close of my narrative I pressed him for his opinion.

"It is impossible even to surmise what has happened," he replied, thoughtfully, as he flicked the ash from his cigar. "It seems tolerably certain that Roger Marske has either been so hard pressed by Miss Chilmark that he had to confess to Sir Gideon and seek his aid, or that the old man has nosed out the trouble for himself through the young lady's pursuit having led her into his neighborhood. Fortunately there is a good clew, which ought to be worked at once."

"What clew?" I asked breathlessly.

"Mrs. Webly should be called on without the loss of a single hour. She will be able to say what address, if any, she gave to Miss Chilmark, and if it is anywhere in the district which Sir Gideon Marske honors with his residence, there ought to be a pretty hot scent," said Herzog. "In any case, the institution of inquiries round about Marske Hall, near Brentwood, might lead to discoveries. It would be quite natural for me to go there to see that old scoundrel to report to him; in fact, I am rather surprised that the telegram did not contain a summons for me to wait upon him. The trouble is what to do with you."

"Do not let any consideration about me stand for one single moment in the way of your finding Miss Chilmark," I urged.

"But, my friend, it is just that that I must do if you are to be of any use to me," my new ally replied with a candor so brutal that it was bound to be genuine. "If you are caught and hanged before I can bring your alleged crime home to Roger Marske I shall never bring it home to him. I simply shouldn't be listened to if I came with the fullest proof. Every official nerve would be strained to cover up such an enormous miscarriage of justice. I know, because it has been done before, my friend. No; I must put you away somewhere while I go Marske hunting; and where to put you, God only knows."

"Well," I hazarded, with one of those gleams of reason which stupid people sometimes get at a pinch, "why should not I lay up in one of the empty houses here? I have noticed several, and it is too late in the season for them to be let to summer visitors now."

Herzog jumped up. "My friend," he wheezed, genially, "that is the first lucid suggestion you have made since our acquaintance began. Get into your clothes, while I get into mine. You must be out of this and safely ensconced before daylight breaks."

I DREW ASIDE THE BLIND A LITTLE.

CHAPTER XXIII.

A Risky Hiding Place.

The secrecy of our departure from Mrs. Krane's hospitable abode was aided by the fury of the storm, which drowned all other sounds but its own.

"Have you any particular house in your mind?" Herzog asked, when we had got into the rain-whipped road.

I told him I had noticed a furnished house, in its own grounds, beyond the green walk on the way to Warren. It had the advantage from my point of view of being some little distance from the populous parts of the village in a comparatively secluded position, and as its garden in the rear backed on the edge of the cliff there would be no fear of being surprised from that quarter. I should have only the front of the house to patrol in keeping watch for the officers of the law.

"One of those stone houses, eh?" said Herzog, with swift comprehension. "The very place of all others. Come along and take cover if we meet anyone."

Arrived at the house—a long, low, somewhat gloomy-looking structure, on its landward side, since all the best rooms faced the sea—we naturally found the doors locked against us, but Herzog's penknife soon slipped a window fastening, and we entered what from the feel of the furniture we judged to be the drawing room. Herzog would not risk lighting a match.

"Now I must return to 'Springfield' before dawn breaks," said my companion. "It will not do for that early bird, Mrs. Krance, to find me out, or the lies I mean to tell her about your having left by the first boat, when she comes in with the breakfast things will miss their mark. And, talking about breakfast, reminds me that you mustn't starve in your lonely citadel. As soon as the shops are open in the morning I shall buy a stock of provisions and bring it along before I start for London by the midday boat. So long."

He swung himself through the window and was gone. I felt about till I found a sofa, and, flinging myself on it, lay down and slept.

When I awoke it was 7 o'clock and broad daylight. My immediate surroundings claimed my first attention. The room in which I found myself was of moderate size, furnished with the unhomelike gimcrackery prevalent in houses which are let rather than lived in. Extending my explorations to the other rooms and floors, I found the same note struck everywhere. This was no man's home, but an investment, to be let with all its appurtenances, and made money out of. And, judging by the musty smell of unoccupation, it had not found favor with temporary tenants for a considerable time.

So much the better for me. There was less likelihood that an enterprising house agent would bring clients to look at it.

The front of the house abutted on a leafy lane, but from the back one got a glorious view of sea and sky, with an untended but luxuriant garden in the foreground.

Before long hunger turned my thoughts to Herzog's promised return with a supply of provisions, and I stationed myself at the window where we had effected our entrance. At about half-past 9 there came a tap on one of the lower panes, and I drew aside the blind a little—to start back in dismay.

He who stood without was a bearded, black-visaged man, whose blue guernsey and seafarer's cap stamped him either as a fisherman or one of the longshore loafers who pose as such.

On perceiving that it was not Herzog, I dropped the blind like lightning, but the man must have seen me, for he drummed lightly on the glass again, and kept on drumming while I racked my distraught brain for the best course to pursue.

AMONG EXCHANGES

A Gainesville man remarks that he was surprised to find that the insurance company in which he carries a policy for $35,000 was contributing money to the republican campaign while he was betting his money freely on Parker.—Gainesville Messenger.

It must have been a shock to the Gainesville man to find the candle was burning at both ends. But the act that he bet his money freely on Parker shows that he was a dead game sport and will soon recover.

* * *

The state comptroller recently received two letters concerning a subject rather out of the ordinary. They were from people who eat snakes for the edification of an admiring public, and each wanted to know if there was a law in Texas forbidding the practice. They were told that Texas has no such law.—Gainesville Signal.

There is no law against eating 'em alive in Texas. The pure food law was killed by the last state legislature.

* * *

The suggestion of the press generally that our best men volunteer services to sit in the next legislature and make laws for us, meets the approval of the Journal, though we hardly expect to see it done. Such men as Hogg, Terrell and W. D. Williams leave their impress on our laws, and in fact it is only from such as these that we can expect anything. Some are honest, but they are powerless among such a mob as the legislature and lobby has grown to be. Others have power and influence, but use it all in the promotion of personal schemes, and on local issues, and the state is not benefited by their work. By all means let us have at least a few old gray headed statesmen. They would be worth a cowpenful of boys "out for a good time."—Arlington Journal.

The idea is not to have these men volunteer to serve in the legislature, but for the people to call out the very best material in every district and nominate and elect it.

* * *

The next state legislature should be made up of the brains and wisdom of Texas, and to secure this result, the people must settle the matter by compelling the office to seek the man.—Fort Worth Telegram.

Exactly! When the people are educated up to the point that they will send only the best men in the country and thereby make it more of an honor to be a member of the legislature, the legislative problem confronting us will be solved.—Bonham News.

It is a proposition that is squarely up to the people. They can have the proper representation in the next legislature if they will only take advantage of the opportunity.

* * *

Bryan says he is not a candidate for the presidency, but it should be expressly noted that he does not say that under no circumstances will he be a candidate for the presidency.—Fort Worth Telegram.

No, and he won't. When the people call in one mighty voice in 1908 for the presidential candidate to please step forward, Billie Bryan will appear on the scene with a smile on his face that won't wear off—yea, it will get broader and broader until the Great Commoner enters the portals of the White House.—Bonham News.

And it will be a great day for this nation when William J. Bryan comes into his own. The prospects for democratic success are brightening and already it begins to appear that the star of republican success is growing dim on the political horizon.

* * *

Combinations in restraint of trade are outlawed in Texas, but that such exist in the state is susceptible of proof. Indeed, it is possible that in some cases the present administration has encouraged such combinations.—Beaumont Journal.

If there are combinations operating in restraint of trade in Texas it is the fault of those whose duty it is to enforce the law. We have an anti-trust law in Texas, the validity of which has been upheld by the supreme court of the United States.

* * *

During the six months ending June 30, 1905, there were exported from the United States 279,553 cattle, valued at $21,647,545, and during the same six months there were imported into the United States cattle to the number of 16,932, valued at $255,8457. A right handsome balance in Uncle Sam's favor, but why the imports at all?—Cleburne Enterprise.

The exports of cattle from the United States consist principally of beef animals, while those imported are breeding animals very largely intended to improve the quality of our great breeding herds through the introduction of new blood.

* * *

Referring to the democrats, "Democrat" McCall said: "Their shadows were across mine every move I made; I thank God Bryan and free silver were beaten and that I had a share in their defeat." That is exactly the way that "the great democratic paper of Texas and of the south" felt about it.—Houston Post.

"I consider the single gold standard irrevocably established," said Candidate Parker in that celebrated telegram to the St. Louis convention, and the Post was the Parker megaphone in Texas during that campaign. Why does the kettle continue to rub soot on the pot?

McLennan county might strike the happy medium by sending both Waller Baker and George Clark to the legislature. But then that would put the kibosh on Milt Kennedy's speakership aspirations.—Dallas Times-Herald.

Waller Baker and George Clark would both do credit to the state as members of the state legislature, and McLennan county would do the state and herself a great service by sending them.

The Fort Worth Telegram is advising the farmers to sell their cotton early this fall, and not hold it until it drops to 6 cents. If we remember aright, The Telegram is one of the papers that last year preached to the farmers to hold their cotton, and then, late in the season, when the bottom had dropped out, regretted that it had been so layish with its advice. The cotton market is a great big proposition.—Honey Grove Citizen.

You have another remembrance coming. The Telegram advised the farmers last fall to sell their cotton while it was bringing a good price, just as it is advising them to do the same thing at this time. The esteemed Citizen evidently has The Telegram confused with another Fort Worth paper.

THE PEACE CONFERENCE

Our neighborhood had been th' scene
Fer seven years er more
Uv rowin' sech uz civilized
Men never seen before;
It got so bad it seemed uz though
A knock-down-drag-out fight
Jist kep' our little neighborhood
Tore up both day an' night.

Th' man th't started all th' rows
Wuz Bill Lamar, a tough;
He'd fight for twenty-four hours straight
An' then not have enough.
I've seen that feller huntin' fun
By lickin' five good men,
An' out uv downright cussedness,
He'd lick 'em all again.

One day a stranger come along,
A quiet feller who
Informed th' boys his name wuz Knox—
B' gosh, it fitted, too;
No sooner'd Bill seen Knox he asked
Him how he'd like t' fight
But Knox allowed he'd rather not —
At that, Bill swung his right.

We never did find out th' way
Knox played that trick on Bill;
He kind o' tapped him on th' jaw
An' Bill spun 'round until
Knox gave his jaw another tap,
A tap th't made him stop
His spinnin' 'round an' then we heard
Him grunt an' seen him drop.

An' ev'ry time Bill got his feet
Knox landed on his jaw;
A more uneven fight th'n this
Nobody ever saw.
He punched eternal daylight out
Of Bill, an' done it, too,
So easy not a single scratch
Was seen when he was through.

Well, after that Bill dodged th' man
Th't ever whispered fight;
When anybody shook a fist
You'd see Bill take t' flight.
Bill often said, "No more fer me,
Nope, gentlemen, I'm through;
One lickin's made me stand for peace"—
Czar Nick feels that way, too.

"Oh, yes—but we was born to it."

"Sherieff levied on your crop?"

"Oh, yes—but that was 'cordin' to law."

"An' lightning burned your house down?"

"Yes; but ever since then I've been shoutin' hallelula that it didn't hit me."—Atlanta Constitution.

Verses That Ring

THREE MEALS A DAY

A man can't live on love alone,
A man can't live on the thought;
A man can't live on liberty,
No odds how dearly bought.
All these are nothing to a man—
I don't care what you say
Unless he manages to get
Three good square meals a day.

A man can lose his pile entire
And never turn a hair;
But if the ham and eggs are cold
There's brimstone in the air.
A man can lose his hair and teeth,
And friends, and still be gay,
If he is fixed so he can get
Three good square meals a day.

A man can wear a smiling face
Above a broken heart;
A man can gain and bear the pain
When fondest hopes depart.
The only thing that downs a man
And puts him out to stay
Is separating him for keeps
From three square meals a day.

Now, some want gold and some want fame,
And some want liberty;
But all mankind in ev'ry clime
On one great want agree.
For be they slaves or emperors,
Young lads or sages gray,
There's not a one of them but wants
Three good square meals a day.

JAPANESE PEOPLE STILL DISSATISFIED

Severity of Government and New Developments of Treaty Cause Recurrence of Bad Feeling

TOKIO, Sept. 25.—Considerable ill-feeling was stirred up against the government by reason of the large number of arrests made in connection with the recent rioting.

Several newspaper men have felt the displeasure of the government in this way and have been charged with complicity in the affair in Hibya park and the disorders which followed. A great number of working men have also been arrested on the same charge.

Expressions against the government are not so openly made as before but there can be no doubt that the sentiment is rapidly increasing.

Antagonism to Baron Komura and M. Takahira shows no signs of abatement and many covert threats have recently been made against both envoys, particularly since the discovery of the clause in the treaty forbidding Japan to fortify the Soya straits and the ominous declaration of M. Witte in Paris that the new treaty would result in no modification of Russia's policy which is open to the interpretation that another war against Japan is contemplated.

COMMITTEE TO HEAR MARKET HOUSE PLANS

Open Meeting Will Be Held Wednesday Morning to Hear All Persons Interested

An open meeting of the market house committee recently appointed by Mayor Powell to consider plans for the establishment of a farmers' market in the city, has been announced by Chairman Waggoman to take place Wednesday morning at 9:30 o'clock at city hall.

At this meeting Alderman Waggoman announces grocers of the city and all others interested are requested to be present and all persons will be heard regarding the matter.

As announced, W. J. Bailey has renewed his offer of several years ago in the matter. A site near the court house has also been offered by the market square company and a combined market house and auditorium as maintained in Indianapolis and many leading cities has also been suggested.

Recommendation will be made by the committee to council.

WAGGOMAN UNDECIDED

Alderman Not Yet Ready to Respond to Petition

Alderman Ben Waggoman of the Second ward is still undecided in the matter of entering the race for re-election. When seen this morning he declared the petition of voters of the ward as appearing in The Telegram of Sunday was indeed a thing to make him proud and that if he could be of real benefit it woud be difficult not to consent to the request. He declares, however, he has not yet decided that he is needed and cannot, therefore, make an answer to the petition.

"I had fully made up my mind not to run again before I saw the petition," he declared this morning.

MONUMENT DELAYED

Base for the Smith Shaft Broken in Loading

An accident while loading the base for the John Peter Smith monument at the quarries at Burnett will necessarily delay the final erection of the shaft in this city. The base is a monster stone 7x7x10½ feet and in hoisting it to the car the stone slipped and fell to the ground, breaking it into three parts. This accident will delay the work several weeks longer.

Captain B. B. Paddock, who has had this matter in charge for some months, said today that it was expected to have the monument ready to be erected soon had it not been for the accident. The shaft is to occupy a place on the triangle park near the Federal building, permission to use this spot of ground having been granted by the city council some months ago.

The monument will cost $2,800.

This meeting is to be held prior to the regular annual meeting of the board of directors, at which the new board and officers are to be chosen. This latter meeting is to take place on the first Tuesday in November. The meeting will be open to all, whether members of the organization or not.

DAVIDSON AUTHORITIES WORK ON THE FRISCO

Roadbed Between This City and Sherman to Be Heavily Ballasted

A party of Frisco officials arrived in the city Sunday from the north and left this morning for Dallas. In the party were President A. J. Davidson, Second Vice President and General Manager Gray, Freight Traffic Manager Middleton, General Passenger Agent Hilton, General Superintendent of Motive Power Nettleton, Assistant General Freight Agent Dunback and the private secretaries of Messrs. Davidson and Gray. Members of the party were entertained by friends in the city.

When seen President Davidson said that the trip was being made merely for inspection and that the officials will return to St. Louis Wednesday of this week.

President Davidson said that his trip thus far had proved to him that crops along the line in Texas were in fine shape and that cotton was looking well. He said that the company contemplated making substantial improvements in the way of betterments. The roadbed between Fort Worth and Sherman is to be ballasted and otherwise put in good shape. Gravel for ballast is to be secured from a new pit just opened up near Sherman, where a fine quality of ballast can be taken. This work, he said, will be done at once.

Other members of the party were well pleased with conditions as they find them in Texas. It is likely that a short trip will be made over the Rio Grande division from Fort Worth to Brady, about 175 miles, before the return to St. Louis of the party.

NEW THROUGH LINE

Kansas City Southern to Secure Territory Road

Information comes from Indian Territory that a deal is pending by which the Kansas City Southern may purchase the Missouri, Oklahoma and Gulf, thus giving the former a line running through the richest section of Indian Territory and tapping the coal fields of that country.

Colonel L. J. Polk of Galveston, accompanied by Chief Engineer Rust of the Kansas City Southern, spent several days last week in the territory investigating the situation as to traffic affairs, Colonel Polk being the traffic expert of the road. The negotiations will include the sale of the Missouri, Oklahoma and Gulf which extends from Pittsburg, Kan., to Shreveport, La., and it is said there is a fair chance of the deal being made. When this sale is made the line will, it is said, become the main line of the Kansas City Southern, while the present line of the prospective purchaser will be devoted to local traffic. This would give Muskogee and other territory towns a trunk line running through from Kansas City to the Gulf of Mexico.

The new route, if the deal is consummated, will run through Afton, Wagoner, Muskogee, Henrietta and Dustin, passing through the Coalgate coal fields and possibly through Atoka in Indian Territory, by way of Paris, Texas, in a southeasterly direction to Shreveport. The Kansas City Southern would be compelled to build south from Pittsburg, where the Missouri, Oklahoma and Gulf survey crosses the former road to Wagoner and from Dustin, the present southern terminus of the Missouri, Oklahoma and Gulf, to Shreveport. By making this purchase the Kansas City Southern would acquire a main line through the richest section of Indian Territory with six-tenths of 1 per cent maximum grade.

The Missouri Pacific has been endeavoring to buy the Missouri, Oklahoma and Gulf, but this deal, it is said, has been declared off, hence the attempts of the Kansas City Southern to buy it.

MORE ACCIDENTS ABROAD

British Statistics Show Roads in America Safer

Statistics recently published by the British board of trade explode the theory that there are more accidents on American than on British railways.

It appears from the figures that American railway travel is safer in proportion than railway travel in the British isles. According to the report for 1904, 137 passengers, 448 railroad employes and 573 other persons, a total of 1,158 persons, were killed and 18,802 injured in railway accidents in Great Britain. During the same time 441 passengers, 3,632 employes and 5,973 other persons were killed and 84,155 injured by railroad accidents in the United States. The total mileage of the British railways is 22,600 miles, while that of the American railway is 213,904 miles. The American mileage is nine and one-half times that of Great Britain, while the total of American railway fatalities is less than nine times the English total. The total of injured on American railways is less than four and one-half times the English total. In addition to that it must be considered that the passenger and freight mileage on American railways is far greater than that on British railways and that the amount of business done in this country and the speed of the trains is also far greater than the business and speed in Great Britain.

SLOAT PROMOTED

Rock Island Official Formerly Here Is Advanced

The general passenger department of the Rock Island here has received information of the promotion of Charles B. Sloat to be New England passenger agent of the company. He will be succeeded at Denver by E. L. Drew, who will be general agent of the passenger department in that territory.

This information will be received by the friends of Mr. Sloat with gratification. He is well known in Texas railroad circles. He was formerly general passenger agent of the Rock Island in Texas, with headquarters in Fort Worth.

Other promotions made by the Rock Island are: W. J. Leahy becomes first assistant general passenger agent with offices in Chicago; H. S. Ray to be assistant general passenger agent at St. Louis; K. E. Palmer receives the appointment of general eastern passenger agent with headquarters at New York city.

WAGE SCALE ADVANCED

Rock Island Boilermakers to Have Increase

It is learned here that the boilermakers of the Rock Island system are to receive a raise in their scale, the result of a conference held in Chicago between representatives of the employes and officials of that systm. One cent is to be the increase in wages per hour all over the Rock Island system.

At present the boilermakers are working on a nine-hour basis at $3.15 per day.

FREIGHT COMMITTEE MEETING

The regular bi-monthly meeting of the southwestern freight tariff committee will be held in St. Louis Tuesday and will be an important session, as many subjects of interest are to be considered, among them probably the emergency dry goods rate that was recently put into effect in Texas and against which there is decided opposition on the part of Texas roads. This meeting will be attended by General Freight Agents Preston of the Frisco, McCabe of the Rock Island and Sterley of the Denver Road.

NEW OIL LINE

A charter is to be issued for a new road to run from Dayton to the oil fields at Beaumont. The line is to be eight miles long and will connect with the Southern Pacific at Dayton. The road is to be constructed by Beaumont capital and work on it is to commence at once. The incorporators are Mally Eastham, R. A. Greer, Randall Silverman and T. H. Bass.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC EXTENSION

The Southern Pacific is building a new line between Cuero and Stockdale. Dirt was broken on the construction a week ago by Contractor Robinson, who has a force of laborers now at work pushing the line. In ten days the present working force will be increased to 150 men.

NOTES AND PERSONALS

The Frisco announced today that a special excursion will be run Oct. 11 from Brady to Fort Worth on account of Barnum & Bailey's circus.

General Freight Agent Preston and General Passenger Agent Strain of the Frisco accompanied the Frisco official party to Paris.

MAJESTIC THEATER TO OPEN ON TIME

Building Will Be Completed for First Performance to Be Given Nov. 27

H. F. McGarvie, president of the Interstate Amusement Company, for whose use the New Majestic theater is being erected in Jennings avenue, is in the city and announces that there will be no postponement of the original date—Nov. 27—announced for the opening of the vaudeville circuit in this city.

The new building is progressing rapidly and will be ready in ample time for the opening.

The opening performance will be a subscription affair, no tickets being sold at the box office.

The first theater in the new circuit, that at Hot Springs, will open Oct. 25. Dates arranged for openings in other cities are: Dallas, Oct. 30; Waco, Nov. 6; San Antonio, Nov. 15; Houston, Nov. 20; Fort Worth, Nov. 27, and Little Rock, Dec. 4.

Speaking of the matter President McGarvie saids: "This will be the first season any of these houses will be operated under our control. We have booked attractions, and are still booking attractions that are bound to please the southern people. We will give vaudeville strictly. But it will be clean, high-class, entertaining and snappy. Nothing coarse, low-flung, suggestive or the least bit vulgar will be permitted to show in any of our houses. We are catering to the very best people of every city. We realize that to secure patronage we must merit it. There is no business where the old adage of nothing succeeds like success is so completely exemplified as in the theatrical business. In the theatrical business when one starts losing money he must start spending money, as strange and as paradoxical as it may appear.

"When we first came to Fort Worth and intimated that we would like to put up a theater here we were called exploiters, sharkers and confidence men. All that we asked was that our standing be investigated and our reputation ascertained. We are keeping every pledge that we have made with the people of Fort Worth so far, just as we have kept every pledge that we have made with every city in our circuit, and we will continue to keep these pledges. We know that by giving the same kind of bills that draw in Proctor's places in New York, which attractions will be booked through to us, we will be able to please the people of Fort Worth. All our attractions will be tried out on the dog in New York, instead of the 'provinces' having to stand the tryouts.

"When completed the Majestic will be the choicest and most completely furnished theater in the state."

AUTOMOBILES HAVE SEASON LIKE CROPS

City Records Show That no Permits Are Issued During Certain Part of Year—Opening Coming

Automobiles may not depend upon the weather report, but dealers can tell you nevertheless that they have a season and city records will prove it.

Just as surely as the oyster is in demand at certain times, so with the automobile. Just at present the off season is at hand, though rapidly nearing its close.

Record of automobile permits in the office of the city secretary will show September and even a part of October to be blanks in the permit line. During last year not a single permit was issued from Aug. 31 to Nov. 14. This year there has not been one issued since Aug. 24 to the present time.

Absence of people on summer vacations is set down as the main cause in determining the season. With a general return from mountains and watering places automobile demand begins especially in this section, where fine outing weather extends through the entire winter.

Wait a couple of weeks, then watch the automobile season come in.

OFFICER SHOOTS NEGRO WHO ATTACKED WIFE

Then Keeps Mob Away From Prisoner and Lands Him Safely in Jail

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 25.—A negro attempted to assault wife of Deputy Sheriff A. J. Shores at Clayton last night and was shot by Shores and badly wounded. The shooting attracted a mob of negroes from the congregation of a colored church, who attempted to lynch the negro, Robert Taylor, but were prevented and Taylor was safely landed in jail.

Deputy Shores had alighted from a street car and hearing a woman's scream and seeing a negro running, he fired and the negro fell.

Later he discovered it was his own wife whom the negro had seized as she was on her way home from a neighborhood visit. He found her in a faint lying on the sidewalk.

TEXAS GIRLS MAKE HIT IN COLORADO

Winners in Telegram Contest Receive Glorious Reception at Every Place

History of the trip of the winners in The Telegram popular voting contest to Colorado shows it to have been one full of interest and enjoyment from start to finish.

The eleven young women reached this city from their respective homes on the morning of Sept. 4 and were entertained at the Delaware hotel during the day. They attended the theater and took a tallyho drive over the city in the afternoon and left at 9 o'clock over the Rock Island for Cool Colorado. Before the party left this city they were given a royal reception by Mr. Phil A. Auer, general passenger agent of the Rock Island, and his chief clerk, Mr. Frank Jensen, in the offices of the company at Fifth and Main streets.

Attention paid the party by the Rock Island officials was duplicated throughout the trip, the young women being the recipients of many courtesies. Beautiful scenery and superb dining car and eating house service made the trip to Colorado free from the usual drag and enabled the party to reach Denver in that condition which caused the Colorado papers to herald them as Texas Beauties over the state.

The party arrived in Colorado Springs on the morning of Sept. 6 and remained there one week. While there they visited North and South Cheyenne Canyons, Seven Falls, Helen Hunt Jackson's Grave, Bear Creek, Manitou, Colorado City, Williams Canyon, Cave of the Winds, Grand Cavern, Garden of the Gods and Glen Eyrie. While in Colorado Springs the party were the guests of the Alta Vista Hotel.

On Wednesday, Sept. 13, they packed up and started for Pueblo, where they were entertained by Messrs. Dutton and Maher, proprietors of the Albany Hotel, at the State Fair. Members of the party were each remembered further, being presented with a handsome red ribbon badge apiece, bearing the word "Texas." A flag badge was also worn by each member of the party. Arrayed this way, they rode in a tallyho in the parade at Pueblo and were greeted by hearty applause along the line.

Leaving Pueblo, the party went to Denver, where they remained three days at the Albany Hotel, during which time they were entertained by the proprietors, one night at a dance, and another at Adams' Roof Garden. A tallyho ride about the city was also taken.

While in Denver a trip was taken through the offices of the Denver Post under the direction of Mr. Maloney, circulation manager, who insisted upon giving each a cut glass dish souvenir to take back to Texas.

From start to finish the Texas girls made a great hit and the trip made a great hit with them.

Members of the party were: Miss Ida Wilson, Miss Winnie Matchett, Miss Dessa Matchett, Miss Helen Gragg, Miss Moselle Clark, Miss Edna Killion, Miss Elva Friddell, Miss Vivian White, Miss May Williams, Miss Gladys Liddey, Miss Hattie Hafner and W. H. Calkins.

BRAVE MAN FAILS TO SAVE COMPANION

Tom N. Wise Struck and Killed by Cotton Belt Train

Despite efforts of an unknown fellow workman who plunged directly in front of a fast moving train in an effort to thrust him to a place of safety, Tom N. Wise, 55 years of age, was struck by a Cotton Belt passenger train this morning at Smithfield, Texas, receiving injuries in the left shoulder, back and head from the effects of which he died twenty minutes later while being hurried to this city.

The dead man was employed by the company on an extra gang as a track laborer, and was engaged in cutting grass at the time of the accident. A freight train was pulling into a switch on one side of him and it is supposed that the noise made by the freight caused him not to notice the approach of the passenger train.

His fellow workman, whose name cannot be learned, saw the situation when Wise steped on the track, the engine of the passenger train being not more than fifteen or twenty feet distant. He immediately jumped toward the doomed man, pushed him almost clear of the track and himself fell by the side of the rails as the engine struck Wise. Wise did not become conscious after the engine struck him, dying after being placed in the baggage car on a cot.

Justice Charles T. Rowland held an inquest upon the arrival of the train here, the verdict being that the man came to his death by being hit by engine No. 154 of the St. Louis Southwestern Railway Company.

Walter C. Wise, a son of the dead man, who is employed in the Rock Island shops at Shawnee, Okla., was notified of the accident by Foreman C. B. Holman of the extra gang, with whom the elder Wise was employed at the time of his death.

Undertaker L. P. Robertson will prepare the body for shipment to Holdenville, I. T., where Mrs. C. B. Mulholland, a sister of the dead man resides, and where the burial will take place.

INTERURBAN REPORT

Engineer Who Went Over Mineral Wells Route Writes

Captain Paddock said today that he had received a letter from Engineer Dunham, who is in Chicago making additional inquiries about matters connected with the Mineral Wells interurban proposition.

Mr. Dunham recently made an overland trip over the route, accompanied by Captain Paddock, and his inquiry, Captain Paddock says, would indicate that the matter is receiving serious consideration by the chief engineer.

OFFICERS MAKE RAID

Charges of Sunday Opening Follow Trip in Disguise

Police Captain Blanton and Officer Waller, disguised as farmers, Sunday night made three cases as a result of a tour of the city between 9 and 11 o'clock, charges of Sunday opening being made against the following named saloons: D. Gorman, Fourteenth and Rusk streets; J. Liston, Jones street, near Santa Fe depot; T. Sullivan, Sixteenth and Jones streets. The last mentioned entered a plea of guilty and was fined in the corporation court this morning. The two other cases were passed until Tuesday morning.

COTTON BEING PICKED

Good Yield Reported In Hardeman County

Although the cotton crop in North Texas is late this year, the demand for cotton pickers has now started in dead earnest and requests are being received from many places for this class of labor.

Senator D. E. Decker of Quanah, who is in the city, declares that they are wanted badly in Hardeman county and that in order to secure them prices as high as $1 per hundred pounds are being paid by the farmers. Those who are willing to pick cotton, he declares, can readily find work there.

The crop in that country, he reports to be good with an average near three-quarters of a bale to the acre.

PRICES OF LUMBER SCHEDULED FOR RISE

Four Advances Have Been Made in Past Six Months And Another Is Due

Lumber prices are going higher. The supply is short and the demand unusually great. As a consequence prices are creeping upward, not only in the south, but every other section of the country. Within the last six months the Southern Lumber Association has notified buyers of four advances in the price of cut lumber, the last of which went into effect last week, and another advance in a short time is expected.

To meet these series of increases the dealers have announced as many increases in the retail price, but declare that the raise is not proportionately as heavy as those imposed on them.

These increases have been pretty heavy. In Mexico it is said the increase has been extortionate, reaching approximately 40 per cent. Throughout Texas, Arkansas and other lumber-producing states in the south the ground was so soft from continuous rains last spring that it was impossible for the lumbermen to get any quantity of logs to the mills, and under this condition the supply rapidly disappeared. Even yet, it is said, the supply of logs is coming in slow and mills are not putting out nearly as much lumber as they once did.

The contention is made that this unprecedented demand for lumber is the result of prosperous conditions of industrial concerns and also of good times among farmers everywhere, particularly in the south. The big crops have put money into the pockets of farmers and others over the country and many of them are spending it for improvements.

While the demand is heavy in the United States much of the production of the United States is finding its way to Mexico, where there is a preference for yellow pine lumber over the native production. On this account the demand in this country is therefore pretty heavy, hence the increase in prices.

MONDAY'S REVIEW AND SALES

The week opens with about 3,200 cattle and calves in the pens, the proportion being as one to two. The general market was slow and weak.

Steers

No choice beeves were offered, but a few loads of very good cattle were seen. These were due to sell around $3.50. The market on steers was barely active, on a basis weak with last week's close. Tops brought $3.25. Several bunches of good feeders were in the pens, and these changed hands at steady prices to an active demand, selling at $2.40. Representative sales:

Cows and Heifers

Cows were out in full force for the opening of the week, with the quality but slightly improved. The market opened steady, but later declined 10c, after the best had been sold, buyers claiming that this market was out of line with markets north. Top cows sold at $2.35, with the bulk at $2@2.25. Canner stuff was lower, at $1.20@1.60. Sales today:

1.....	1,240	1.90	3.....	693	1.40

Calves

The supply of calves was not large enough to interfere with values very materially, and as the quality showed a betterment prices held level with those prevailing at the close of last week. Choice light vealers sold at $4.75, with the bulk at $4@4.25, and heavies around $3. Sales:

Hogs

The run of hogs was somewhat shrunken in numbers, the total reaching to about 800 head. The quality was very good, though the weights were scarcely equal to the good ones of last week. Buyers seemed to have orders for good hogs, for this kind sold quickly at strong figures. Lighter hogs steady, pigs steady. Sales:

TRADE NOTES

General dullness in the cattle trade, with a weak tendency.

There is no profit in a stand still system of hog feeding. The older the animals the longer they will stand the strain of one feed.

The market value determines the best time to sell the surplus of the flock.

It will often pay to feed a little grain for a few days before turning in the rams.

Keep the stables clean and well ventilated, and free from draught.

Nothing is more desirable in horse flesh than tractability and gentleness.

The executive committee of the Cattle Raisers' Association of Texas acted favorably on about one hundred applications for membership at their late meeting. The membership of the association have now listed about four million head of cattle.

The last clip of the Asotin and Wallowa sections of Idaho has been sold to the Alexander company of Lewiston, by Mr. Kingbury. The clip amounted to 33,000 pounds, and was of an exceptionally good grade. It is stated 22½c was paid, the highest price ever realized for that kind of wool.

Horse-Breaker's Leg Broken

HILLSBORO, Texas, Sept. 25.—While breaking a wild horse to a cart last Thursday evening John Reed of near Whitney got both bones of his left leg broken between the knee and ankle. The horse had hung one foot over the cart and was about to fall when Mr. Reed jumped from the cart to relieve it. The animal fell, however, catching Mr. Reed under it with one of the shafts across his leg.

RUDDY CRANBERRIES REACH LOCAL MARKET

First of New Season's Crop Arrives—Lemons Scheduled for a Decline

Turkey days are approaching. Celery and cranberries are now on the local market and the turkey we have always with us in Texas.

Turkey without cranberries does not appeal to the appetite. Therefore holiday menus must await the arrival of the little red tart globules.

With the cranberry on the market, however, housekeepers can start at any time to plan dinners on the Thanksgiving or Christmas plan, and by failing to look at the calendar enjoy the holiday season as soon as desired.

Both the cranberries and celery now offered are reported to be of extra fine quality and to be reasonable in price.

New crop Colorado potatoes are moving freely and new crop oats being offered.

Lemons, which have been scarce and small, causing the lemonade and other cooling beverages to wear mighty holes in pocketbooks, are also on the decline, after a long season of "coal in winter" prices, and a heavy drop all along the line is expected to be announced by the dealers at any time.

UNITED CHARITIES BOARD IS PLANNED

Ministers Discuss Plan for Systematizing Work Now Done Individually

First meeting of the Protestant Pastors' Association was held this morning in the study of the Taylor Street Cumberland Presbyterian church.

A number of members being absent from the city, no definite action was taken, a discussion, however, being had in regard to formation of a united charities association or some other organization by which charitable affairs in the city may be looked after in a systematic way, cases be investigated, help be given where necessary and fakers discovered. The plan as suggested would be participated in by all churches represented in the association. It will be discussed further at the meeting of the association next Monday.

SWEDISH-NORWEGIAN TREATY IS COMPLETED

Awaits Only Ratification by Parliaments of Two Countries

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 25.—The Associated Press has succeeded in securing the text of the protocol signed at Karlstad Saturday by the Norwegian-Swedish delegates appointed to arrange terms for the dissolution of the union of Norway and Sweden subject to ratification of the riksdag and storthing.

The historic document which will become a treaty when ratified by the two parliaments consists of five main articles and thirty-five sub clauses.

The first article deals with arbitration, the second with a neutral zone and the demolition of fortifications, the third with reindeer pastures, etc., the fourth with intertraffic and the fifth with common waterways. The agreement provides for compulsory arbitration before the Hague court of all disputes except matters of vital interest, for a period of a decade with the extensions for other periods of ten years unless two years previous notice is given of the intention to abrogate it.

TOWN CRIER HERE

Daily Proclamation Made from City Hall Balcony

Fort Worth has a town crier. Progressive in every other way, an old colonial sound may be heard issuing from the window balcony of the city hall every weekday morning.

Though the fashion is an old one, Fort Worth has just adopted it. The crier was formerly here, but his utterances were given behind closed doors and mortared walls. Now, like the king's herald, he calls from the balcony.

Romance plays no part in the establishment of the custom—merely the moving of the corporation court with its commonplace records of drunks, vagrants and others caught in the net.

Before forfeiture of bonds—which cannot be collected—it is necessary to make an outcry and give the prisoner an opportunity to appear before the court. A month ago the outcry was made to help stir the plaster from the ceiling of the basement hall. Now an officer appears on the balcony and startles passers with clarion tones.

Addition of a megaphone in the guise of a trumpet is alone needed to vie with the days of Good King Arthur and the Knights of the Round Table.

GRAIN RECEIPTS GROW

Territory and Kansas Wheat Coming to Local Market

The receipt of wheat in Fort Worth the past week shows a decided increase over the preceding six days, the total being 113 cars. There were two cars of corn and one of oats also received and passed upon by Inspector John Schulte. The receipts of wheat indicate a growth of consignments to this market, the bulk of which comes from the territory country. Some of the wheat is shipped from Kansas.

Principals in Madden Divorce Case Testimony, Which Has Just Ended

MRS JOHN E. MADDEN.

JOHN E. MADDEN, FAMOUS HORSEMAN.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Sept. 25.—The trial of the Madden alimony suit was concluded Saturday, but it may be several days or even weeks before Judge Swing announces his decision. In addressing the attorneys the judge said:

"Gentlemen, my mind is about made up as to the merits of this case, but as numerous citations have been made of the law, I will take time to give them careful consideration. It is my judgment that there is no great hurry in the matter. I will let you know when I have reached a decision. It may be in a few days and it may be longer."

The only arguments submitted at today's session were made by Attorney Dickson, representing the plaintiff. The speaker made a bitter and vehement denial of an implied charge that Mrs. Madden's attorneys had tried to hold up her husband for a $20,000 fee before listening to any proposals of an amicable settlement of their domestic difficulties. He charged that Madden had tried to trap his wife into agreeing to several proposals that would have put her in a disadvantage if her attorneys had consented. He also stated that every act of Madden had been to send Mrs. Madden out into the world helpless and penniless, branded as the associate of disreputable characters, a gambler's wife discredited and disgraced. The question of residence also received some attention, the attorney maintaining that Mrs. Madden is a resident of Ohio, a proposition the defense has strenuously denied.

COTTON PICKERS ARE NOW IN BIG DEMAND

Employment Agencies Report Requisitions Are Coming from All Sections

Cotton growers in Texas and the territories are up against a hard proposition in the way of adequate labor for gathering the staple. Up to this time there has been a dearth of pickers and farmers are hustling all over the state for men to do the work.

This shortage of labor is not confined to any special territory, but it exists wherever cotton is raised, according to a report given out here today by the employment agencies.

One firm which employs men for this class of labor said today that they could place 5,000 cotton pickers and railroad laborers. They want 600 pickers for territory along the Denver road, 300 at Vernon, 300 at Quanah, 300 at Snyder, Okla., and 500 in the Abilene country, where there is a plantation of 500 acres of cotton with practically no one to do the picking. Besides these demands pickers are wanted in other parts of the state and also in the two territories. As high as $1 per hundred pounds is being paid for picking.

One employment agency in this city last week shipped 312 men into New Mexico for railroad work and others are to leave today to the number of forty-five. "There is no need of laborers being idle at this time if they care to work," said a labor employment man today, "as there is an abundance of work for everybody all over this country."

The railroads are giving a reduced rate for this class of laborers and the movement is expected to be pretty heavy for some weeks to come.

VETERANS GATHER WAR MEMENTOS

Interesting Souvenirs Displayed at Camp Meeting and Suggestion Made That Relics Be Collected

Sunday was curio day at the meeting of Lee camp, United Confederate Veterans, several interesting articles being exhibited that have a history behind them. One was a souvenir postal card of the Soldiers' Home at Richmond, Va., showing the picture of Stonewall Jackson's "old sorrel." It was sent by F. M. Burrows to Commander E. W. Taylor of Lee Camp. Another curio is a picture belonging to Colonel Jim Cummins, commander of the camp at Bowie. It shows the colonel's mother sitting at a spinning wheel. She is spinning the cloth from which was made the clothes Colonel Cummins wore during the war.

On motion of Former Chaplain Pankey a committee is to be named to confer with the different undertakers in an effort to secure the best terms for the burial of Confederate veterans.

Chaplain J. I. Wright made a talk in reference to preserving the war relics as they fall into the hands of the camp.

A vote of thanks was tendered Dr. W. A. Duringer for professional service rendered old veterans of the camp.

Captain B. B. Paddock, who is at the head of the Fifth brigade, said that he was somewhat discouraged with the responses on the part of veterans of the brigade to his efforts to thoroughly reorganize the brigade. He said that Adjutant McRea had heard from only twenty of the eighty camps in the brigade. He deprecated this condition and said that it was no fault of his or his assistant. An effort has been made to compile a complete roster of the camps of the brigade, but thus far has not been successful.

The attendance at the meeting was good and the session was interesting throughout.

Dear Sir: Saved $30; might have been $90.

Mr C L Frost, builder, Portland, Me, built three houses in Deering, a suburb of Portland, exactly alike. Painted two lead-and-oil for $155 each, for paint and labor.

The third house, he painted Devoe at a cost of $125. (To be continued).

The rest of the story ought to be told a half-dozen years hence.

It will be: two houses rusty; one in good condition.

He didn't believe in Devoe. Our agents got him into it. Ask him now—enclose a stamp. Yours truly

CITY LEAGUE SEASON PROVED BIG SUCCESS

Will Be Continued Next Year With Four Clubs—Pennant Award to Be Made Tonight

Ray McKinley, who was at the head of the City League during the season just closed, said this morning that he was pleased with the general reception of the league during the season just closed and the patronage received at the various games played during the season.

"The league started," said Mr. McKinley, "with four clubs, Denvers, Kellers, Rosen Heights and Armours. There were fourteen games to have been played by the four clubs, but just before the beginning of the last series of three games, the Armours and Rosen Heights dropped out of the organization, inasmuch as there was no possible show for them to win the championship. Members of the different clubs have all expressed their sense of gratitude to Sam Rosen for the use of Rosen Heights park for the games of the league and to The Telegram for the magnificent pennant offered by that newspaper to the champions of the season.

"We do not intend to permit the City League to die after this season. Four clubs are assured for next year and I hope to be able to announce later that the games of at least half the clubs will be played in new parks which I understand are to be built as summer resorts about the suburbs of the city next year and with the managers of which I hope to make suitable arrangements as to games in 1906.

"If I am interested in amateur ball here next year as I now think it likely I will be, I will use every effort to make the City League a success in every way."

Pennant Award

The 1905 pennant given by The Telegram will be awarded to the Denvers at a meeting to be held in the parlors of the Worth hotel tonight at 8:30 o'clock. Members of all teams and their friends are cordially invited to be present at the meeting.

DENVER BOYS WIN CITY LEAGUE RACE

Tie Played Off with Kellers, Giving Them The Telegram Pennant

Deciding game for the championship of the City League took place Sunday afternoon at Haines park, resulting in a score of 4 to 3, in favor of the Denver team. Previous games had been played, leaving the two teams tied in the percentage column, the Denvers being compelled to win the last two of the series of three and also the final extra game, making three successive games won by that team to take the pennant awarded by The Telegram to the champions of the City League for 1905.

The first score made was by F. Pulliam, in the second inning, on a hit, followed by a sacrifice by Judkin and a safe hit by Robinson.

In the fourth the Kellers came up. Rogers walked, Leonard landed safe, Puckett went out by the fly route to T. Pulliam and Stribbles walked. Rogers and Leonard scored on an error by Stewart, and Stribbles scored on a safe hit by Curtis.

The Denvers added two more to the list in their half of the fifth. The winning run was scored by Robinson, on a hit by Judkin.

BAD BLOOD
INVITES DISEASE

The blood supplies nourishment and strength to every part of the body when it is rich, pure and healthy. When from any cause it becomes diseased or weak it cannot supply the nutriment the system needs, and the body is unable to resist the diseases and troubles that are constantly assailing it to break down the health.

I have used S. S. S. and found it to be an excellent blood purifier and tonic. My blood was weak and impure, and as a result my system became very much run down and debilitated. I lost twenty or more pounds in weight, had no appetite and was in bad shape. Seeing S. S. S. advertised I began its use, and am well pleased with the results after using it for some little while. My system and general health have been wonderfully built up, and I no not hesitate to give S. S. S. the credit for it. H. MARTIN.
