Northwest Is Battered By Winds, Snow

(By The Associated Press)

NEW STORMS slammed into the western blizzard disaster areas, Monday, undoing much of the rescue work of men and machines. The situation was called "desperate" in the southwest part of the area.

Snow swirled over the eastern Nevada haylift, where 60 mile-an-hour winds grounded all planes on mercy flights to hungry sheep and cattle. Snow also blanketed Idaho, northern Arizona, and Utah—a disaster area created by earlier storms.

"The situation is desperate," said George Swallow, secretary of the United Stockmen's association. "Right now we're in the worst condition we've been in since the emergency set in."

Snow Plagues Disaster Area

Strong winds and drifting snow also plagued the Nebraska-North Dakota-Wyoming disaster zone, where the Army has been pressing the biggest bulldozer operation in history.

The "grublift" to the Navajo Indians reservation area in northern Arizona also was blocked by new storms.

As the new storms hit, another tempest gathered in the north Pacific ocean for another assault on the buffetted West coast.

Highway movement stopped in many areas. Trains were held up. Schools closed. Ski parties were trapped in mountain resorts. And additional families and herds faced isolation as transportation routes were blocked by ground blizzard drifts.

Hard hit were large areas of Oregon, California, Utah, Idaho, and Wyoming. The high winds threatened to reblock many roads opened by 4,000 Fifth Army workers in the Nebraska and South Dakota distress area.

Temperatures skidded quickly below zero in Montana as the winds whipped up blinding curtains of snow there.

In Utah, a federal range official said the multi-million dollar livestock industry faces disaster. There, virtually every main highway was closed after a month-long fight to reopen them since winter's first heavy snows.

"Unless we get abreak in the weather, the Utah livestock industry is in danger of being wiped out," said Chester P. Seeley, range management chief of the Bureau of Land Management.

This statement contrasted with a report made to President Truman in Washington Monday by Maj. Gen. Philip B. Fleming, Federal Works administration. Fleming said that original fears of sheep and cattle losses were "greatly exaggerated."

Government Reorganization Plan Is Approved By House

Reds Bolster Yangtze Force

By PETER LIU
INS Staff Correspondent

NANKING, Feb. 7 — Several hundred thousand Communist troops concentrated on the north bank of the Yangtze river today about midway between Nanking and Shanghai for a river-borne invasion of China's heartland.

The Reds were said to have massed a fleet of 1,000 wooden junks about 100 miles northeast of Nanking to reinforce the beachhead on the southern bank established by about 1,000 troops last week.

Nationalist military commanders rallied all available troops, gunboats and artillery to meet the anticipated Red surge across the two-mile wide Yangtze.

The new struggle shaping up on the Nanking-Shanghai lifeline further dimmed hopes for a quick peace on China's confused diplomatic front.

An unofficial "private" peace delegation scheduled to leave Shanghai for Communist - held Peiping appeared to be facing further delays as a result of a Communist rejection of one of the delegates.

The Reds, in a radio broadcast heard in Nanking, refused to agree to the presence of Kan Kai-Hou, acting President Li Tsung-Jen's personal "brain-truster" as a delegate.

Peace Mission Ready

The Reds, terming Kan a "political broker," warned him to confine his campaign to Nanking and Shanghai. The broadcast truculently declared:

"If he tries to sell second rate goods in Peiping, the people of Peiping may turn him out."

The broadcast said however that Peiping's mayor, Yeh Chien-Ying, would accept the Shanghai delegates headed by Dr. W. W. Yen as individuals for "talks on national affairs."

Another peace mission — this one from Nanking—is awaiting Communist approval of its proposed journey to Peiping.

Moslem Refuses Parley

At the same time the reported flat refusal of Moslem General Mahung Kwei to participate in a compromise peace with the Reds was believed to have further widened the split within the Nationalist government over the peace question.

South Plains Cotton Men Ask Congress To Stress Recent Crops In Determining Acreage Allotments

By TEX EASLEY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7—Spokesmen for western cotton growers urged today that particular weight be given crops of recent years in determining acreage allotments under prospective production controls.

A delegation from West Texas asked the House Agriculture subcommittee to draft legislation providing that 1947 and 1948 cotton crops be used as a base for fixing production quotas on 1950 planting.

Testifying before the committee were W. O. Fortenberry of Lubbock and W. H. Cunningham of Littlefield.

Others in the group, which strongly urged enactment of a 90 percent of parity price support program, were Fred McGinty and C. O. Carmack, both of Tahoka; G. L. Jackson, Abernathy; Terry County Judge Homer Winston, Brownfield; George Simmons and O. E. Key, both of Lubbock.

Earlier in the day the committee heard James B. Pattison, a member of the Texas legislature from Pattison, Texas, warn that unless Congress took steps to assure cotton growers of a fair income on their crop the South might turn to production of dairy products and heavy manufacturing in competition with northern states.

The committee expects to conclude its public hearings on a long range cotton program Thursday.

Pattison, testifying before a House Agricultural subcommittee considering a long range cotton program, appealed for a strong price support program for cotton.

He also identified himself as a "dirt farmer from down on the Brazos river."

HST May Get Broad Power

By STERLING F. GREEN
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 — The House voted tonight to give President Truman broad permanent powers to reorganize the approximately 1,800 government agencies as he chooses, subject to congressional veto.

House action was by 356 to 9 roll call. The bill now goes to the Senate.

The passage of the first major item in Mr. Truman's legislative program was a victory not only for him but for former President Herbert Hoover. Hoover, head of a commission studying government reorganization, has strongly supported the bill. He said today a $3,000,000,000 saving might result from a thorough overhaul of the government.

Administration leaders fought off a barrage of amendments to the proposal, most of them offered by Republicans, near the end of the day's debate on the measure.

Hoover Gives Warning

Most of them were designed to give preferred treatment to individual agencies or to revise the reorganization procedure which would be set up.

Hoover, at a news conference, had warned against exempting any agencies. He said "propagandists" are behind such moves and that if they are successful, the entire reorganization effort would be destroyed.

The size of the final vote for the bill pointed up general bipartisan support of its general objectives of economy and efficiency in the executive branch of the government.

Special Provisions Made

Under it, Mr. Truman or any succeeding president could send governmental reorganization plans to Congress, and they would become effective unless both Senate and House disapproved them within 60 days.

The bill makes special provisions for the Armed Forces and six "semi-judicial" agencies. It says that a reorganization plan affecting any one of them must be submitted in a separate package.

As it came from the House Expenditures committee, the bill provided for special treatment for the national defense establishment, Interstate Commerce com-

WTCC Demands Changes In Proposed Law

Agreement Is Seen On New Water Code

By GARTH JONES
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Feb. 7 — Guy C. Jackson, jr., president of the Texas Water Conservation association, said tonight that an agreement had been reached with the West Texas Chamber of Commerce over the proposed rewriting of Texas water laws.

"We've reached an agreement in principle on their protest to the bill," Jackson said, "and I believe without a doubt we will reach a final agreement."

He said a compromise meeting had disbanded. "We have turned the WTCC's 17 protests over to our water laws committee to make a final answer. We might need to have another meeting later, but I believe everything else can be settled by mail," he said.

Urge Protection

The answer of the TWCA water laws committee will be sent to John D. Mitchell of Odessa, WTCC president, for approval.

"We are definitely agreed that the water rights of all Texas cities must be protected," Jackson said.

Top officials of the two organizations passed the peace pipe here this afternoon.

"Amend the bill to protect West Texas and we'll support it," said John D. Mitchell of Odessa, WTCC president.

"If parts of this code are injurious to West Texas, we are as eager as you are to make corrections," said Guy C. Jackson, jr., of Anahuac, TWCA president.

Settlement Sought

However, both sides agreed also that a lot of details remain to be worked out.

Representatives of the TWCA took the 17 specific protests and suggested amendments handed them by the WTCC and promised to try to work them into the bill tonight. Jackson's announcement was made after the amendments had been studied.

Mitchell and D. A. Bandeen, WTCC manager, said they would be in Austin through tomorrow night if more compromise sessions are needed.

Jackson said he wanted to settle the controversy quickly so the proposed surface water code could be introduced in the legislature "right away."

Jackson presided over the ses-

Prices Plunge As Cattle Shipments Jam Stockyards

(By The Associated Press)

A heavy outpouring of cattle at the nation's livestock markets, today sent steer prices to the lowest levels since early 1947. Commodity markets were generally lower.

Kansas City stockyards were jammed with an estimated 19,000 head of cattle, including 300 loads of grain fed steers. Stockyards officials said it was the largest run of grain fed steers on record.

Steer and heifer prices at Chicago fell $1 to $2 a hundred pounds as farmers unloaded 18,000 head, largest since this Monday a year ago when the same number arrived. Hog and lamb prices also declined at Chicago.

Calf Prices Drop

At South St. Paul, the nation's largest center for trading in calves, prices of vealers dropped as much as $4 a hundred pounds. Top grades sold at $33 a hundred pounds.

Cash grain prices at Chicago held relatively steady, but loose lard fell 50 cents a hundred pounds in the cash market to a new six-year low of $11.50. This compared with a high of $39 in 1946.

In commodity futures trading, most prices were lower. Wheat, corn and soybeans fell two to as much as five cents a bushel in Chicago. Many contracts were at new lows since trading in them started.

Stocks were lower after a steady start at New York.

Other commodity futures were which declined included butter and eggs at Chicago, cotton, cottonseed oil, cocoa, hides, coffee and rubber at New York.

U. S. Air Attache, Staff Aboard Plane Reported Missing In Iran

TEHERAN, Feb. 7 (INS) — A United States embassy plane was reported missing today with six or seven Americans aboard.

The plane left Teheran yesterday for Abadan at the head of the Persian gulf 400 miles west of the Iranian capital. It carried an American Air attache and members of his staff. The Air attache was identified as "Colonel Christ."

Iranian airmen began a widespread search for the missing plane which earlier reports said crashed 120 miles south of Teheran. Bad weather and poor visibility handicapped the search.

Senate Demos Block Anti-Filibuster Move

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7. (AP) — Democrats asserted their new strength in the Senate today and slapped down a Republican move to force an immediate showdown on a filibuster-curbing change in the rules.

The vote was 56-31. The Democrats, 49 of whom voted, were joined by seven Republicans. The 31 who voted for immediate action were all Republicans.

Before the vote, Democratic leaders made plain they were intent on doing things their own way, and refused to have their schedule speeded up by Republicans. The filibuster curb is before the Senate Rules committee, which meets to consider and possibly approve it Wednesday.

Today's vote came on a motion by Senator Knowland (R-Cal) to discharge the Rules committee from further responsibility and force an immediate debate in the Senate.

U. S. And Norway Discuss Alliance

By JOHN SCALI
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7—Norway's foreign minister submitted personally to Secretary Acheson today questions his country wants answered before deciding whether to join in the North Atlantic security alliance.

Russia has brought pressure on Norway to stay out of the alliance.

Foreign Minister Helvard Lange of Norway talked with Acheson for 32 minutes at the State department. He told reporters afterward that he regards today's brief session as a preliminary to more intensive discussions later in the week. State department officials immediately threw a news blackout around the conversation.

Answer Declared Clear

In talking to reporters, however, the Norwegian diplomat took occasion to dispute Russia's assertion that Norway had failed to give a clear answer to a Soviet question about the possibility of foreign bases on Norway's soil.

Russia had raised the question whether western powers, under

Verdicts against the cardinal and six co-defendants will be announced by the peoples court of Communist - dominated Hungary at 9 a. m. (Budapest Time) tomorrow. The thin Roman Catholic primate and the others face possible death by hanging.

The Hungarian government rejected Britain's protest over the refusal of Hungarian authorities to allow British observers to attend the trial. There were no official United States observers at the trial either.

Plant Seizure Power Asked

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 — William H. Davis, former chairman of the War Labor board, today asked Congress to authorize government seizure of plants when a strike imperils the country's health or safety.

He also said he has never liked the Taft-Hartley act because it has too much "police power." He advised Congress to "back off now—now that things are cool." But in that connection he urged the senators to quit "arguing about whether it's Taft-Hartley or the Wagner act," and consider proposals on their merits.

Injunction Claimed Failure

Davis, a New York patent lawyer with long experience in the government, testified before the Senate Labor committee as it dragged even further behind its schedule. Thirty witnesses remain to be heard in the next three days and nights on the administration bill, which would scrap the Taft-Hartley act and revise the New Deal Wagner act in amended form.

He said the 80-day "national emergency" injunctions of the Taft-Hartley act should be dropped because they hinder settlements and don't end emergencies.

He also said the Truman administration's proposal for a 30-day voluntary cooling-off period, without injunctions, is inadequate because the American people need some "assurance" that the national health and safety can be protected.

This was what Davis suggested instead, when a labor dispute "really endangers the country":

Seizure Advocated

1. A 60-day cooling-off period, as in the Railway Labor act. During the first 30 days of this period an emergency board would study the case and make recommendations. Davis said no injunctions are needed to enforce the 60-day waiting period. To try to create a cooling-period by an injunction, he said, is like "putting more coal on the fire to cool the porridge."

2. Then, if the emergency still exists, the President should "take over the properties, call on every officer and every employe to remain at their jobs, and call on

Texas Search Craft Fail To Find Missing Banana Boat

CORPUS CHRISTI, Feb. 7 (AP) — A navy flying boat and three Coast Guard cutters today were unable to find a missing banana boat reported in distress off the coast near here. The airplane and one cutter are to resume search tomorrow.

The rescue craft searched the sea 50 to 60 miles east of here.

The boat, the SS San Salvador, reported at 2:40 a.m. Sunday she had a hole in her side.

Marine records have no records of a ship named San Salvador, but officials believe she is a banana boat.

Texas Drys Rap Sale-By-Drink Proposal

Drive For Statewide Prohibition Slated

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Feb. 7 — Prohibition advocates will try to dry up Texas with a state-wide prohibition bill, Dr. Walter H. McKenzie, United Texas Drys executive secretary, announced today.

Dr. McKenzie said such a bill will be presented to the present legislature.

He disclosed that Millard Jones, his assistant, is in Austin now to confer with legislators on the proposed measure.

Dr. McKenzie would give no further details of the drys' plan. He would not identify the legislators he expected to introduce the bill.

Wets Claimed "Scared"

The announcement of the plan was made in an interview after Dr. McKenzie issued a lengthy statement on the liquor situation.

His statement was issued in answer to proposals in the legislature to legalize sale of liquor by the drink. (Legislation to that effect was introduced in the House today.)

The statement said that "the wets are scared" and that a recent letter sent out by the Texas State Hotel association to its members questioned the wisdom of efforts to legalize sale of liquor by the drink.

Dr. McKenzie, who exhibited a copy of the hotel association letter, said "there is a strong probability that the state will end up completely dry . . . if the legislature should submit a constitutional amendment to the question."

Liquor Group Seeks Aid

The statement also recited that the dry organization had been asked by the Texas Retail Beverage association to support the liquor by the drink bill introduced in the House by Rep. Arnold J. Vale of Rio Grande City.

Dr. McKenzie declined in the interview to go into details or explain why the TRBA would seek the help of a dry organization on such a bill. He exhibited a letter written on TRBA stationery, but refused to let a reporter read it.

"The Texas Retail Beverage association," said the statement, "has contacted Dr. McKenzie and proposed that his organization and theirs get together and support the liquor by the drink bill."

Said the drys official, "Of

Federal Tidelands Bill Sent Congress

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7—(AP)—An administration bill providing for federal regulation of the oil-rich tidelands was forwarded to Congress today.

The secretary of the interior would be authorized to grant leases to the highest bidders. The amount of land that could be leased to one person or at one time would be limited. The government would get 12½ per cent royalty on oil and gas production.

It does not attempt to say how the government's income should be divided.

The legislation provides for issuance of leases by the federal government in exchange for oil and gas leases issued by states prior to June 23, 1947.

Two Youths Held For Car Thefts

The arrest last night by city police of two youths, 17 and 16, was believed to have cleared up several recent car thefts and theft of goods from parked cars.

The two boys, arrested while allegedly in the act of "going through" a parked car, admitted under questioning at police headquarters that they had stolen at least three cars and pilfered a number of others, officers said.

Bond Is Posted

The older youth was locked in city jail to be held for further questioning and filing of formal charges. The 16-year-old was transferred to the juvenile ward of county jail.

Stephen Garcia, 30, a Mexican, who was charged with assault with intent to murder, posted $1,000 bond late yesterday, the sheriff's office reported.

Garcia was charged in connection with an early Monday morning shooting of two Mexicans in a Mexican woman's residence at 310 North Ave. O. He surrendered to the sheriff's department about 8:30 a. m., seven hours after the shooting.

One Seriously Hurt

Arcadio Arrendondo, 31, more seriously injured of the two shooting victims, underwent surgery and a blood transfusion at West Texas hospital, where it was learned he had been shot through the lower chest and abdomen. There were several perforations of the intestines, one of the liver. He was transferred later in the day to the veterans' hospital at Amarillo.

Tight Rent Law For U. S. Urged

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7. (AP) — The government's housing expediter told Congress today that unless rent controls are extended millions of Americans will have to pay 50 to 60 per cent higher rent.

Testifying before the House Banking committee, Federal Expediter Tighe E. Woods urged approval of the administration's bill to stiffen and extend rent control through March 31, 1951.

Unless Congress acts, the present rent control act expires next March 31.

But Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich), top-ranking GOP member of the House group, observed this weekend that lower prices and higher unemployment may eliminate any need for rent controls or "anti-inflation" measures.

Wolcott proposed a six-month "as is" extension of rent ceilings while Congress watches economic trends.

Woods disagreed. He quoted President Truman's views on the rent situation as follows:

"Even if the most optimistic interpretation is placed upon the slight reduction in the cost of living in recent months, it would be unwise to lift living costs again by rent increases even larger than the moderate ones taking place

Democratic Senator Calls For Top-Level Big Four Conference

By JAMES LEE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 — Sen. McMahon (D-Conn.), declared today that a peace meeting between President Truman, Soviet Premier Stalin, British Prime Minister Attlee and French Premier Queuille is "vitally urgent."

However McMahon introduced a resolution which would bar Mr. Truman from holding peace talks with other heads of state unless the "iron curtain" is lifted for dissimination of information on the conference.

McMahon, chairman of the joint congressional atomic committee, proposed direct radio talks by the President and the other heads of government to the Russian people on the eve of formal negotiations. The senator said:

"These talks should set forth plainly the proposals of the democratic governments for peace. There should be guarantees in advance for adequate translations into Russian and other Soviet languages.

"Mr. Stalin, in his turn, should be invited formally to address the American people either by radio

Committee Faced Hot Issues In Handling Leaders Of Youth Movement Playing Into Hands of Reds

By ROBERT E. STRIPLING
(Chief Investigator, House Un-American Activities Committee, 1938-1948; Edited By Bob Considine)

THE wildest ideological scrambling we shall probably ever see was that occasioned by the signing of the Hitler-Stalin Pact in August, 1939, and its subsequent rupture in 1941.

The House Un-American Activities Committee found itself playing a stormy and often unwelcome role in this historic course-changing.

Criticism of the Committee's inquiries into Communism, including our important hearing in which Earl Browder acknowledged under oath that he had twice traveled on false passports, decreased after pact-signing.

No. 6

But when Germany invaded Russia, we again came under fire for calling attention to a conspiracy which had never and has never ceased.

In the months before the pact was signed, the committee found itself in possession of two very hot potatoes: the American Youth Congress and American Student Union — both since judged Communist fronts by the Attorney General.

Our difficulty in pursuing this inquiry into the youth movements rested mainly in our accidentally giving offense to Mrs. Roosevelt, who was steadfastly attached to both organizations.

Joe Lash, a kind of protege of the First Lady, headed the American Student Union. Lash's good friend, Joe Cadden, headed the American Youth Congress.

Lash was a frequent visitor to

FORMER UN OFFICIAL AGAIN SHAPING FIGHT WITH WEST

Gromyko, Now Holding Down Important Post Inside Kremlin, Credited With Switch In Soviet Policy

By PIERRE J. HUSS
INS Staff Correspondent

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Feb. 7. Inside the Kremlin, skillful and astute Andrei A. Gromoko is putting into high gear the New Russian foreign policy toward the western world.

It can be stated authoritatively that the brain which conceived, engineered and sold the "peace offensive" scheme to the Russian Politburo was young Gromyko of Lake Success and Glen Cove, L. I., fame.

Gromyko is the man who up to his recall in 1948 practically set the pace at the United Nations as Russia's chief diplomatic representative. At the Security Council table, he handed out—and got back—more tongue-lashings than any other spokesman. He was even considered a "glamor boy" by the yardstick of those who brush lightly over the facts of life.

Steered Red Campaigns

In the three years of his unbroken activities for the Soviet Union at UN, Gromyko launched and steered against the West a constant barrage of peace offensives, hate campaigns, boycotts, indictments and propaganda blasts.

Atom control projects, arms litigation pacts and the accreditation of a dozen applicants for UN membership broke down under the unswerving exactness with which he carried out Kremlin instructions. His name is irrevocably linked to the two dozen votoes he wielded to block the will of the majority at UN.

Now Gromyko is in Moscow, cracking the whip against the West from a far more powerful position than at Lake Success.

I have it from competent and high-level sources—who make it their business to know what goes on behind the iron curtain—that taciturn Gromyko of the growling voice now is the right-handed adviser of Foreing Minister Molotov, who sits next to Stalin.

Gromyko's Power Increases

The same sources suspect, but aren't sure, that the sudden "health" trip of florid-faced and acid - tongued Andrei Y. Visinsky to Prague may have something to do with Gromyko's power in the Kremlin.

Vishinsky has been Russia's prosecutor against the West. Vishinsky's removal from the Kremlin scene conceivably could be to the benefit of any olive-branch approach to the West.

Those well informed about Russian tactics point out that the new Soviet approach seemingly is based on first-hand experience in the ways of western democracies. A frequent mistake in the Kremlin's attitude and propaganda in the past has been that it ignored the way of life and thinking in a free world. And various plans backfired. In other words, the Moscow line was blustery and challenging but never subtle.

Red Tactics Change

Gromyko evidently has succeeded in changing that. To do so, he had to have the ear of Molotov and he had to sell the plan to the Politburo. It must be said of him that in all his days at Lake Success, he never lacked courage or conviction. In the opinion of old-timers among UN diplomats and correspondent, it is unanimous that Gromyko was the most single-minded exponent of Soviet policy in the West.

We used to say that if all the Russian diplomats and clerks deserted their posts in a body to seek sanctuary in the United States, Gromyko alone would stick to the Kremlin. That conclusion has been borne out by his actions since leaving Lake Success.

Gromyko last summer sailed away with his family, saying he hoped never to see the U. S. again.

After a long holiday at Stalin's favorite seaside resort on the Black Sea, Gromyko showed up in Moscow and was slated for a trip to Paris as chief lieutenant in the Vishinsky line-up at the UN General Assembly. I can vouch for that, because I actually received a formal invitation from one of the iron curtain satellites to attend a welcoming reception for Gromyko.

The caviar, the sturgeon and the other delicacies which embellish such receptions must have been eaten in quiet privacy and with some embarrassment by that delegation.

Gromyko got as far as Berlin, where he was wined and dined by the Soviet people. A few weeks later, he was back in Moscow. Then he was decorated with the highest civilian medal in the Soviet Union for "meritorious service."

Subsequently he was frequently spotted leaving the Kremlin by car, which means he has been a busy man behind those foreboding walls.

So far as UN delegates are concerned — and that goes for his own outfit and the satellites—he can stay behind the Kremlin walls.

Kentucky Union Organizer Is Charged In Policeman's Death

HARLAN, Ky., Feb. 7 (INS) — A union organized was charged with murder today in the fatal shooting of a policeman outside the retail store operated by the United States Coal and Coke Co., in nearby Lynch.

Lawrence Pennington, 24, an organizer for the United Construction Workers, was accused of killing policeman John Yelonski, sr., 40, in a weekend gun battle at the mining town.

Pennington was shot by another policeman, Harry Carroll, himself wounded in the gunfire.

Both Carroll and Pennington were hospitalized in Harlan with Pennington under police guard.

Harlan police chief John Greenlee said Pennington fired at policemen Yelonski and Carroll as they approached a group of men demonstrating in front of the Union Supply Co., retail outfit of the U. S. Coal and Coke Co.

Pennington's trial was set for 10 a. m. Feb. 14 by county Judge Jesse R. Howard.

Deadline Is Set For March 3 In Chicken Of Tomorrow Contest

March 3 has been set as closing date for entries in the 1949 Chicken of Tomorrow contest, in which $1,200 in cash awards for both junior and senior divisions have been posted, according to announcement received here from F. Z. Beanblossom, of College Station, extension service poultry marketing specialist, who is state chairman of the contest.

The rules and regulations provide for no entry fee for juniors in the contest, but an entry fee of $100 is required in the senior division. Joint entries, defined as co-operation by a hatcheryman and a poultryman, are permissible, but must be so designated on entry form.

Only one exhibit from each breed or cross breed can be entered by an individual, and the number of chicks brooded will be 100 to 300 straight run, or 50 to 100 sexed chickens for each entry.

Wing Bands Available

Standard wing bands are available at $1 per hundred in connection with entries.

The rules provide that chicks must be hatched during the week of March 13 to 19, because chicks must be 11 weeks old at end of the contest. Those hatched before or after that week are not eligible.

Premium money in the junior division totals $200, exclusive of grand champion award. Premiums are to be paid on superior, excellent, and good ratings, with ribbons awarded for each class, as well as a suitable grand champion ribbon.

Winners in the senior contest, which is on a three-year basis, are to receive $1,000 in total awards. Records for three years are to be taken into account in determining grand champion. Trophies and ribbons are to be awarded top winners, the announcement said.

Reds' Offer Of Non-Aggression Pact Causes Shivers In Norway

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

Revival by Russia of that favorite weapon of the 1930's, the "non-agression" pack, brings an ominous note to the cold war.

"When the dictators talk about peace, small countries have to consider their defense," remarks a Copenhagen newspaper, remembering well what happened to Denmark when Hitler started tearing up treaties.

Reds Tore Up Treaties

But the lessons taught by Hitler were not the ones that caused shivers up and down Scandinavian spines as Russia applied the heat to Norway. All about were living reminders of what Russian treaties have meant to the neighbors of the Norwegians, the Swedes and the Danes.

They remember well Litvinov's definition of a treaty of neutrality as "nothing but one of the elements in the preparation for war."

Since her conception Soviet Russia has been making treaties to fit the tactics of the moment and then breaking them without compunction.

She swallowed Latvia, Lithuania and Estonia in the face of treaties of peace, mutual assistance and non-aggression with each.

In 1943 Russia pledged herself by treaty not to interfere in the international affairs of Czechoslovakia.

There must be 50 of these cases in which Soviet Russia has shown an absolute disregard for her international agreements. She has stacked treaty on treaty, just as she recently suggested another one with the United States on top of the United Nations peace pact.

Under the circumstances, her offer of a non-aggression pack to Norway can only be considered a direct threat.

But this time the small nations have an alternative which they did not have in the 30's. The western powers are offering an alliance designed to be so strong that it will prevent war by its unassailability.

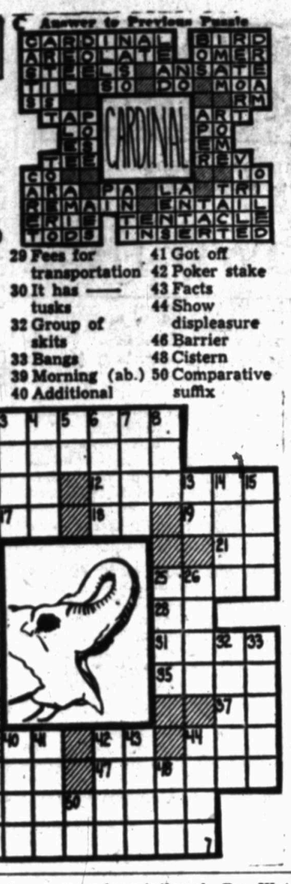

Stalin and Hitler used their pacts merely to hold the small nations still until they could be eaten at leisure. They made the term "non-aggression pact" an ominous one. The Kremlin can hardly be surprised if "defense alliance" sounds better.

Lubbock Welfare Agencies Say Emergency Is 'Levelling Off'

Levelling off of the emergency caused by the recent cold spell and a brighter picture in many cases were pictured by representatives from welfare agencies who attended a luncheon on the mezzanine of the Hilton hotel Monday. Mrs. Ross Settle, president of the Lubbock County Welfare council, presided.

One exception to the better outlook was voiced by Rev. John Moore, pastor of St. Joseph's Catholic church in the Mexican section. Although the current emergency may be passing, many Mexican families still are sadly in need of more adequate clothing, food, medicine and housing facilities, he reported.

Mrs. Tom Cannon, Methodist visiting nurse, said there is no serious illness in the section, although many children suffer with colds contracted because their diet and clothing are insufficient.

Mrs. Nancy Green of the City-County Welfare association; Capt. T. W. Gregory from the Salvation Army and Mrs. Charlotte Carter, representing a group from St. Paul's Episcopal church, also gave reports of progress of disbursements of food, fuel and clothing during the last three to five weeks.

Dr. J. E. Watkins, Prominent Henderson Physician, Claimed

HENDERSON, Feb. 7. (AP)—Dr J. E. Watkins, 87, one of the familiar physicians of this section, died at noon today at a hospital here.

He was noted for his work among underprivileged. Dr. Watkins had been an elder of the Central Presbyterian church for over 50 years.

Woman Will Remarry Her 'Lost' Husband

BRISTOW, OKLA., Feb. 7—(AP)—Mrs. Ella Mershon, 67, said today the husband she lost 42 years ago but sent away recently after they found each other, would return tomorrow to remarry her.

The husband is Barkeley Burris, 72, of Plainview, old-age pensioner.

Mrs. Mershon said they would be married as soon as possible after his arrival.

Changes Mind

Last week-end Burris returned to Plainview after several days here following their reunion. Mrs. Mershon said they had decided their limited incomes made it impossible for them to take up life again together.

But she changed her mind, saying "I want him back." Mrs. Mershon's Bristow neighbors were reported raising funds to put them together again.

The couple was separated in 1906 when Burris left his wife to seek work in Oklahoma. They lost contact and each came to believe the other dead. Mrs. Mershon remarried and reared a family. Her husband died three years ago.

They learned each other was still alive when Burris recently encountered Mrs. Mershon's younger brother in Texas.

Former Lubbock High Band Director Writes Article

CANYON, Feb. 7 (Special) — An article, "Why Fiddle Around?" by Lewis L. Stoelzing of the West Texas State Teachers College faculty, appears in the current issue of The Southwestern Musician.

Mr. Stoelzing's article urges teachers of stringed instruments, especially violin, to get out of the rut they are in concerning method of teaching. He stresses the emphasis on tone rather than technique for beginners.

Director of the college orchestra and a teacher of strings in the music department, he joined the faculty of W. T. last fall. He came here from Lubbock where he was director of the Lubbock High School band. He holds Bachelor and Master degrees in music.

AMERICAN FAMILY CLOSE-UP
As they go, so goes the nation!

Developing good Scouts and good citizens is Frank H. Bisping's big interest.

"I make the time to build boys, too!"

Says Contractor "Spike" Bisping of Clarksburg, West Virginia

● With three children of their own to bring up, Spike and Myrtle Bisping wanted to help make Clarksburg a better place for all children to grow up in. But what could they go into that would bring out the best in youngsters, help to build the best citizens?

Was Scout work the answer? Spike had the work of a new construction business on his shoulders. How would he manage to make the time to "build boys," too . . . ?

Busy as his own construction work is, Spike doesn't let it stop his helping Clarksburg's boys!

Spike devoted his vacation last summer to taking 11 boys on an exciting canoe trip down the Cheat River. When his son Jack was 9, Spike helped with neighborhood Cub Pack. Now he's chairman of the troop committee for the District Scout Council. Jack's now a Star Scout.

It's a Scout-minded family! Myrtle Bisping is a Girl Scout leader and camp counsellor. Daughters Nichy, 14, and Babe, 10, pack "Clothes for Friendship" for children abroad . . . a troop project. National goal is to send 100,000 bundles!

So in these days of high costs, careful money management's doubly important to the Bispings. Just as they must budget their time—the Bispings, like all of us, must plan their dollars carefully too. From the spendable income of $6400 a year, $1390 goes for their new house, $2100 for food. Spike's $50,000 of insurance is planned as protection for family and business, savings for college.

Spike's family loves outdoor life as much as he does! Camping's their main source of inexpensive fun together. So other young folk can enjoy it too, Spike and fellow Scout officials plan a camp on waterfront land outside town.

Because he sparks projects like this, Builder Bisping has become everybody's friend in Clarksburg. "I'm well repaid for the time it takes," he says, "when I see better citizens growing up along with my own kids." How do the Bispings find the time? As Myrtle says, "Some things can wait—but children can't. Not if we're to keep this the kind of country we all want!"

Jack, 15, hopes to be an expert gunsmith. His parents look forward to the fun of doing still more for their town.

THE LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES AND THEIR AGENTS

The Bispings, like other American families, prove to all of us that the only way we really solve our problems is by our own efforts!

These stories of real families much like yours also show how much more success, how much more happiness is possible when you have peace of mind . . . the sort of peace of mind that comes from wise management of money now, and from knowing that future security has been adequately provided for.

The Life Insurance Companies and their Agents bring you these American family close-ups because what this country amounts to depends upon what happens to its homes!

FAVORITE RECIPE

MRS. R. L. Campbell of Deaf Smith county, recently voted "woman of the year in Texas" by Progressive Farmer, finds time to look after her ranch home, her family, to do community activities, in addition to her duties as president of the Texas Home Demonstration association.

Her favorite recipe is for date cake. Here it is:

Two teaspoons soda, one pound seeded dates, two cups hot water, one and one-half cups fat, two cups sugar, two eggs, three cups flour, two cups nuts, two teaspoons vanilla extract.

Sprinkle soda over dates and cover with hot water. Cool and mash. Cream shortening and sugar. Add eggs, then date mixture and flour. Add nuts and vanilla. Bake 45 minutes in a moderate over.

CHILDREN AS POETS

IT HAS been said that the only poets are young children. The reason is that they are so free. Unlike adults, they have no verbal pattern to follow, so they feel free to develop their own.

"The Happy Home," a book written by Agnes Benedict and Adele Franklin, discusses how parents can help their children to use words creatively in expressing themselves.

A four-year-old said: "It's snowing so hard the men are leaving their feet behind!" Later he would say the commonplace: "How clear the footprints are in the snow." Another child said: "As quiet as closing your eyes." And in a few years this might become the old cliche, "deathly still."

The guidance of young children in the use of words, then, is simply a matter of helping them to keep the creative power with which they are born. A notable way of doing this is not telling them words until they themselves want to know and to use them.

If parents continually encourage children to assert themselves, they will put things in their own language, not that of grown-ups.

Youth Movement Claimed To Have Been Given Aid By Mrs. Roosevelt; FDR Once Heckled By Group

the White House and often a member of intimate family dinners. His friends, Cadden, Jack McMichael and one Abbott Simon, who had many Communist associations, were also entertained from time to time at Lash's request.

REP. Jerry Voorhis (D., Calif.), a good friend of the Roosevelt family and a member of the Un-American Activities Committee, was shocked one day on a visit to the White House when he saw Cadden and Simon occupying Lincoln's bedroom. He mentioned this to the President, and informed him of the nature of the Committee's file on Simon and on Cadden's youth movement.

Roosevelt was busy with other matters. "That's Mrs. Roosevelt's business," he said. "I can't do anything about it."

Under its acting chairman, Rep. Starnes, the Committee began hearing witnesses in the youth movement matter while Dies was in New York preparing to speak at Madison Square Garden.

The "Young people," as Mrs. Roosevelt called them in her column, arrived at the House Office Building in two White House cars, chaperoned by the beaming First Lady. They laughed a great deal, handed out literature asking for the youth of the world to unite to fight Fascism, and settled down for an interesting show.

The Committee's counsel at that time was Rhea Whitley, a former F. B. I. man accustomed to dealing only with the blunt, well-defined blacks and whites of interrogation. But here was something that, by design, was neither. It was closer to a circus.

Lash, on the witness stand, wrung a round of applause from the "young people" by suddenly bursting into a song which he identified as one he had sung to members of the Lincoln Brigade during the Spanish Civil War:

"If you see an Un-American come lurking near,
Why, alkalize with Martin Dies, and he will disappear."

The session stumbled to an uneasy halt with little accomplished. Starnes was soon on the long distance phone, calling Dies.

"We had a hell of a day," Starnes moaned. "For God's sake, hurry back . . . and bring Matthews with you."

Matthews was the same J. B. Matthews who had testified in the early days of the Committee. He had been retained as a Committee researcher and was a source of enormous information. He had made seven trips to Russia, had given up his Communist learnings after witnessing famine conditions in the Ukraine, spoke five languages and had many other qualifications for the job.

He and I went through Lash's record that night, upon our return from New York. The next morning I arranged for Matthews, rather than Whitley, to question Lash.

THE "young people" and Mrs. Roosevelt settled down for another day of fun. But Matthews, recognizing the tactics of Lash and the other leaders as an old and trusted Communist diversion —to which Mrs. Roosevelt was inadvertently lending her prestige— began taking Lash and the Student Union apart.

Rep. Rankin, not then a member of the Committee, but sitting just behind Mrs. Roosevelt in the caucus room as a spectator, leaned over to hear and remarked, "My, that examiner certainly has that fellow in a bad way."

"I certainly haven't noticed it," Mrs. Roosevelt said stoutly.

I got up from my place at the counsel table, walked over to Matthews and whispered in his ear, "You're going great, Doctor. Keep pouring it on."

Group Put In Place

It was a depressed and deflated little group of "young people" who returned to the White House for lunch. The tinsel had been removed from the hearing by Matthew's astute questioning. As Mrs. Roosevelt wrote in her column, the contrast between the first and second day of the hearing was "noticeable."

Whitley, she wrote, had been fair. Matthews, she added, was more of a persecutor than a prosecutor. The "secretary," she wrote, had to speak to Mr. Matthews to tone him down.

It was soon time to write the Committee's annual report, and the question of whether or not we should pronounce the American Youth Congress a Communist Front was at hand. Rep. Voorhis was opposed to such a labeling, explaining that he had promised Mrs. Roosevelt he would do his best to keep the Youth Congress off the front list.

The Committee compromised by reporting it had detected "evidence of Communism in the group's leadership."

THE report had been filed, Hitler and Stalin had signed their pact, and the American Youth Congress' annual convention was being held in Washington. Mrs. Roosevelt invited the "young people" — by now a large group — to a tea on the south lawn of the White House.

The President appeared on the balcony above them, in good time, and called upon them to denounce "all forms of dictatorship, whether found in Berlin or Moscow." At the mention of "Moscow" he was immediately heckled. He retired indoors, indignantly, and Mrs. Roosevelt thereafter cooled off toward the movement.

But the ultimate switch in loyalty was best epitomized by Joe Cadden.

The lovable young leader of the American Youth Congress moved from Lincoln's bed to a picket line of the American Peace Mobilization. Up and down, on the pavement before the White House, he carried placards denouncing the policies of his celebrated host and hostess.

Lubbock's Golden Gloves Team Loses Bickel And Sams

Seven-Man Team Leaves For State Meet In Ft. Worth

Lubbock's Golden Gloves team has lost two of its members, Middleweight James Bickel of Texas Tech and Bantamweight Elmo Sams of Plainview, but Calvin Pyle of Lockney, the great high school boxer, has replaced Bickel.

These developments took place over the week end, as the wearers of the Black and White colors of Lubbock prepared to leave for Ft. Worth and the state Golden Gloves tournament.

Teams Heads for Tourney

The seven-man Lubbock team gathered here last night, with two fighters from Roswell, two from Plainview and one from Levelland spending the night in local hotels. This morning at 8:30 they will leave for Ft. Worth.

The boys going to the state tourney reported to O. C. Foster's gym, 2417 Main street, for a light workout yesterday afternoon. Foster, who will accompany the team as trainer and second, said that the fighters working out here looked good.

Roswell sent Carlos Martinez, flyweight, and Mario Hernandez, welterweight, to Lubbock, where they were joined by Ismael Olvera of Levelland, lightweight. Doug Beedy and Calvin Pyle of Plainview, light heavyweight and middleweight respectively, worked out in Plainview before coming here.

Featherweight E. E. Sparks and Heavyweight Gene James, Lubbock members of the team, trained in the afternoon and will be on hand to leave this morning.

Bickel Stays Home

Bickel was not allowed to go by his parents, who thought that he was too young and inexperienced for the type of fighting he would meet in Ft. Worth. Sams, who won the bantam title, weighs only 109 pounds instead of the weight's 119 pound limit. He was not considered strong enough for the severe grind of Ft. Worth.

Headquarters for the team in Ft. Worth will be the Westchester hotel.

Will Take Exams

All fighters at the state tourna ment will report to Golden Gloves headquarters for physical examinations and weighing-in Tuesday afternoon and then will be free until Wednesday night when the first of five nights of fighting will begin.

Pairings and rankings of all the fighters from the regional centers will take place Tuesday morning at 10, when the Golden Gloves holds an executive session.

The 13th annual Golden Gloves tournament, which is sponsored throughout Texas by the Star-Telegram of Ft. Worth, will be headlined by four returning state champions. Two of the state crown holders come from Amarillo, Bantamweight Leon Palaco and Welterweight Eugene Cooper. The other two returning champions are Light Heavyweight Tom Adams of Brownfield, representing the Abilene team, and Flyweight Fred Morales, Temple.

Turned Professional

Bill Henderson of Levelland, Lubbock's featherweight state champion for two years, has turned professional, as has Charles Simmons of Dallas, three-time state heavyweight champion. Morris Milburn of Ft. Worth, middleweight titleholder, will not return nor will George Easterling, the lightweight champion.

The first round in the state championships will be fought Wednesday night, with the finals run off Monday night, Feb. 14. All fighting will be down in Will Rogers Coliseum.

Henderson Meets Rivers Thursday

Bill Henderson of Levelland, Texas Tech's great featherweight fighter, has been signed for two bouts this month against men he has already faced and beaten.

The Lubbock puncher, who trains at Foster's gym, will tangle with Dick Rivers in a rematch Thursday night in El Paso, and will face Sammy Galvan in a 10-round main event in Tucson, Ariz., Feb. 21.

Rivers was the victim of a third round knockout by Henderson last Thursday night, but howled "fast count" after the fight and for the ensuing days. As a result, Promoter Dick Griffin decided to pair the two fighters again in another six-round semi-final.

Henderson belted Rivers with ease from the first round on and had won all three cantos on points up to the point where he knocked Rivers down with a stunning right. Only the bell saved Rivers in the second round and Henderson had little trouble taking the fight.

Galvan and Henderson fought Jan. 14 in El Paso with the Lubbock fighter scoring a TKO at 2:45 of the sixth round. It was a scheduled six rounder.

Henderson had little trouble beating the fighter now ranked fourth in the state's official list of challengers for the crown worn by Lauro Salas. The Lubbock fighter won the first four rounds by clear margins, had no worse than a draw in the fifth and found the range in the sixth.

The most recent rankings of the state boxing commission fail to list Henderson, despite his kayo of the fourth-ranking challenger. Ahead of Galvan is Manny Ortega, who challenged Henderson following his victory over Galvan.

Morton Is Winner In Whiteface Meet

WHITEFACE, Feb. 7. (Special)—The Whiteface Grade school basketball tournament, a March of Dimes benefit affair, ended tonight with Morton beating Whitharral 33-9 for the boys championship and Pettit beating Whiteface 17-5 for the girls title.

Whiteface boys took third place with a 42-10 victory over Threeway and the Whitharral girls won third place with a 22-6 victory over Threeway.

Sportsmanship awards were given to Patterson of Morton for the girls and to Maynard of Threeway for the boys.

Bizzell of Whiteface was the leading boy scorer in the tourney with 46 points, while Jordan of Smyer led the girls with 27.

The boys all-tournament team was composed of Burke, Morton; Bizzell, Whiteface; Gage, Whitharral; Mahmood, Morton; and Dickerson, Whiteface. The girls team was Jordan, Smyer; Adams, Pettit: Hudson, Whitharral; Gunter, Threeway; Hogue, Pettit; and Fitzgerald, Whiteface.

Spur's Speedy Cagers Trounce Ralls Quint, 60-30 In 3-A Tilt

SPUR, Feb. 7 (Special)—Spur High's speedy cagers trounced the Ralls quint, 60-30, in a District 3-A clash here tonight as Joe Simpson tallied 28 points. Balander and Lynch racked up eight each for Spur.

The Spur schoolboys hit the basket with amazing accuracy to gain a 28-8 halftime margin, then eased to the victory.

Spur is scheduled to tangle with Paducah here Tuesday night in another district tussle.

Raider, Wildcat Game Set Feb. 11

Don't go to Tech gym tonight to see the Red Raiders of Texas Tech play Arizona university in basketball; there won't be any game until Friday night.

Due to a schedule change, the game has been moved up to Feb. 11, Friday night, at which time the Wildcats and the Raiders will collide in one of the most important Border Conference games of the year.

It will be a make or break game for the Raiders, who awoke after a three-game Arizona swing to find themselves barely clinging to second place. Hardin-Simmons is a game off Tech's pace and West Texas State Teachers college is only a game and a half behind.

Arizona, of course, has an ample margin of two big games over the Raiders. The Wildcats have yet to lose and have taken seven straight Border loop contests. Coach Fred Enke took a squad composed mainly of sophomores and squadmen from 1947-1948 and has moulded them into a combination that is rolling towara another conference crown.

The Raiders were going fine themselves, until they had to abandon the court for the books. Examinations took them away from practice so long that it apparently broke up their machine. They barely beat Hardin-Simmons 42-40 in the first game after the exam period and then experienced a disastrous road trip.

Arizona topped off the Raider road trip with a savage 49-25 victory. It was a more humiliating defeat than the one the outstanding Oklahoma Aggies slapped on them at the Oklahoma City tournament during Christmas vacation. The Aggies turned in a 47-26 licking at that time.

Coach Polk Robison isn't discouraged by the results of the last week, but he realizes that it will be a real stern chase now. The Raiders must win Tuesday night to stay in the race and to keep alive any remote chance for a title. If Arizona experiences a poor road trip, the Raiders might get at least a tie for the title.

The usual Raider squad will go against the Wildcats, which means that Whistle Banks and Gene Gibson will man the forward posts, Don Grove will handle the pivot duties and either Ardis Barton, Wimpy Hill or Jiggs Jackson will be at the guard positions.

Frenship High School Cagers Win Two Games From Slaton

FRENSHIP, Feb. 7. (Special)—Frenship High school won a pair of games tonight from the visiting Slaton High school cagers, the girls winning 22-21 and the boys winning 43-29.

Dorothy Womack tossed in a free throw with less than half a minute remaining to win the girls game, after the score had been tied most of the game. Mary Hitt was the high scorer for Frenship with 14 points, while Carol Sue Sokell had 12 for the losers. It was a District 18-A (South) conference tilt.

The exhibition game by the boys went to Frenship easily. They were never headed, with Jimmy Wells hitting 12 points and Don Edwards 10 for the winners. Clarence Voight with seven and Ed Wells with six topped the losers.

BASEBALL'S SIZE IN THE SPRING—Bobby Thomson of the New York Giants says that the baseball looks this big when he opens training. Later it doesn't look as big as a golf ball. Lot of Hubber rookies are going to be saying the same thing soon.

Pioneers Invade Lubbock April 20

Hubber, Clovis Tilt To Open '49 Season

The Clovis Pioneers will invade Lubbock April 20 to open the 1949 West Texas-New Mexico League season for the Lubbock Hubbers, it was announced Sunday at the annual winter meeting held in Amarillo.

Paul Dean, manager and owner along with Jerome Herman "Dizzy" Dean, said that he was glad to play here in the first start of 1949. Approval of the schedule was the principal item of business on the agenda.

Clovis is here for two days, followed by Borger for two and concluded by two more against Albuquerque. The Hubbers then play two games in Clovis to open the season there, swing over to Albuquerque for two and conclude the road trip with two at Pampa.

Other Opening Games

Other opening games include Albuquerque at Lamesa, Borger at Pampa, Amarillo at Abilene for April 20 and Pampa at Albuquerque, Lamesa at Borger and Abilene at Amarillo on April 26.

The league's official schedule will be published Sunday morning, Feb. 20.

The team in first place on percentage points following games of June 22 will be host to the All-Star game, which will be played July 2.

Milton E. Price, loop president, who conducted the meeting, announced appointment of Troy Kegan as official league statistician. Kegan is a bookkeeper for the Abilene Reporter-News and official statistician for the Longhorn League.

The WT-NM League Baseball Writers association submitted a brief of recommendations, upon which action was taken. First, the league voted to adopt a suggestion that official scorers be paid $5 per game minimum.

Secondly, following lengthy discussion, it was voted to have each club owner meet with press and radio men to determine minimum adequate requirements to satisfy press and radio.

Further recommendations will be studied, with action being taken later. Price said that he saw no suggestion that was not reasonable and that he, personally, would investigate the recommendation that better publicity be furnished on umpire transactions, fines, suspensions and other matters of public interest.

Transfer of the Abilene franchise to a corporation headed by W. V. Young, president, and Joe Langston was approved, as was the transfer of the Clovis Baseball club to the Dean Brothers by the Clovis Sports Association.

Conducts Study

Price conducted a lengthy examination of played contracts and how club owners should fill them out, pointing out certain items of importance for the owners to know.

Texas Open Will Start Thursday

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 7. (AP)—Professional golfdom's nomads and a handful of footloose amateurs headed for Texas Monday where for the remainder of the month they'll ply their trade in three open invitational championships with prize money totaling $30,000.

The first stop on the Texas itinerary will be the $10,000 Texas Open, the oldest tournament in the winter circuit, that gets under way Thursday at Brackenridge Park and Fort Sam Houston courses.

From San Antonio the gold dust trail leads to Houston and another $10,000 open invitational Feb. 17-20; and then to Harlingen for the $10,000 Rio Grande Valley event.

As the contestants began to arrive on the scene, Jimmy Demaret, formerly of Houston, Texas, now of Ojai, Calif., became more firmly entrenched in the role of favorite for the 72-hole affair that winds up Sunday with a single 18-hole round.

With Lloyd Mangrum, the Tucson Open winner not entered in the San Antonio event, Demaret will have a golden opportunity to become the leading money winner for 1949.

Some of the early arrivals played in the 18-hole pro-amateur tournament at Brackenridge Park Monday sponsored by the San Antonio Golf Association. Phil George, assistant pro at the Austin country club, led the pros with a four-under par 67. Milton Ward of Corpus Christi, Texas, was second with a 68, one stroke ahead of Ray Gaford of Fort Worth, Texas, and Ernie Fortner of Joplin, Mo., who finished in the money with 69.

Team honors were won by the foursome composed of Ward, and amateurs Stanton Mozell and George Kalamaroff, both of San Antonio and Ray Goddard of Waco, Texas.

Thomas Tinker Five To Tangle With Sioux Indian Team Tonight

POST, Feb. 7. (Special)—An exhibition basketball game pairing the Thomas Tinkers of Lubbock and the Sioux Indian Travellers will be unreeled here at 8:30 o'clock Tuesday night, following a South District 4-A tilt between the Post and O'Donnell quints.

The Indians are led by Willie (Glamour Boy) Blacksmith, one of the top scorers in the nation last season, while the Tinkers are sparked by versatile Bob Galey. The Indians are reportedly one of the top independent teams now touring the nation.

The program will be opened with a Post-O'Donnell "B" game at 6:30.

Plainview's Bulldog Cagers Swamp Brownfield, 53 To 21

PLAINVIEW, Feb. 7. (Special)—Plainview High's surging Bulldog cagers turned in their best performance of the year here tonight as they swamped the battling Brownfield Cubs, 53-21, in a District 1-AA tilt.

The Bulldogs, who chalked up their first district win in seven starts, took the lead early in the game on the shooting of Bill Blair and Bobby Kay and coasted to the triumph.

DiMaggio Signs; Will Get Over $60,000 For Season

NEW YORK, Feb. 7—(AP)—Joe DiMaggio signed a contract approximately equal to Babe Ruth's best today in a setting slightly less gaudy than those in which the Babe usually concluded his salary negotiations.

Neither the Yankee officials nor their star centerfielder, would give the terms of the document, other than to say it was for one year only. The best guesses, based on what is known about DiMaggio's previous rates of pay, were that the contract called for a base salary of more than $60,000, plus a series of bonuses, based upon the club's home attendance. The bonuses could bring Joe's total income up around the $90,000 figure or even higher if the Yankees had an unusually good year.

The Yankee Clipper, emerging from a picture-shooting session which followed his third conference with president Dan Topping and general-manager George Weiss, termed it: "By far the best contract I ever had."

Topping confirmed that DiMaggio had received a raise over last year's pay, which brought him approximately $70,000, and that this year's contract was on similar terms.

It has been generally understood that DiMaggio received a base pay of $50,000 last season and attendance bonuses estimated at from $18,000 to $22,000. The exact figure never has been established, due to the Yankees' reticence to talk about salaries.

DiMaggio was the 20th Yankee to sign his 1949 contract. Shortly after the signing ceremonies were completed, outfielder Tommy Henrich dropped into the Yankee offices to discuss terms. He didn't sign.

Ruth, in his heyday, received a top pay of $80.000 under a two-year contract in 1930 and 1931. In addition he received a percentage of the gate receipts for the Yankees exhibition games which brought his total baseball income to above the $90,000 mark.

DiMaggio, it was understood after his first two conferences with the club owners, was asking a flat $100,000 salary, which would have made him the highest-paid baseball player of all time. The club's previous offer was a $60,000 base pay with bonuses starting when home attendance passed the 1,500,000 mark. Today's conference apparently resulted in a compromise.

"You can just say he got a one-year contract and a raise. It was the same sort of contract that he had last year." Topping explained after the conference. "It was all settled today. Nothing was agreed upon before this morning."

Pampa Faces Crucial 1-AA Tussle With Golden Sandies This Week

Sports Study

By Earl Scudday

No District 1-AA sports fans ever thought the Lubbock Westerners or their boosters would be hoping for an Amarillo Golden Sandstorm victory in athletics. But that's the present situation in the Hub city. Amarillo must beat the potent Pampa Harvester quint at Pampa Saturday night to give the Westerners a tie for the loop basketball championship.

The Harvesters all but clinched the crown last weekend, when they nosed out the Lubbock five, 34-32, and eked out another narrow win over Brownfield. But a single loss in any of their remaining games, against Plainview tonight or Amarillo Saturday night, would throw the Harvesters into a three-way deadlock with the Sandies and the Westerners.

If the race should end in a tie, a playoff series will be necessary to determine the district winner and the team to represent the loop in bi-district competition.

Westerners Busy

The Westerners and their coach, Roy Morris, were busy Monday afternoon, planning for their final games this weekend against Brownfield and Plainview, however. The Lubbock cagers must defeat both Brownfield and Plainview to protect their slender title hopes, and the Westerner quint is in its worst physical condition of the season.

Three Lubbock regulars, Center Jim Wilson, Forward Charles Galey and Guard Morris Turner, missed the Monday drill session and will probably be out of action several days as a result of influenza. Galey, Westerner scoring ace and field general, was forced to leave school at noon Monday and may not be in shape to play in the weekend tilts.

The other six squad members, including Forwards Jesse Fullerton and Jimmy Sexton and Guards Bob Rooker, Blair Hankins and Jack Hensley, went through a light workout at the Chapman field gymnasium. The Westerners practiced several shooting drills, then went to the showers early. There was no scrimmage, as is usually held on Mondays, and Coach Morris concentrated on shooting accuracy and keeping the boys in condition.

The Week's Schedule

The schedule this week, other than the Plainview-Brownfield setto last night and the Pampa-Plainview encounter tonight, will send Borger to Amarillo Friday night. At the same time Lubbock will play host to Brownfield. Saturday night Amarillo journeys to Pampa, Plainview invades Lubbock and Brownfield goes to Borger.

The district standings, not including Monday's game:

TEAMS	W	L	Pct.
Pampa	6	1	.857
Lubbock	6	2	.750
Amarillo	5	2	.714
Borger	2	4	.333
Brownfield	1	5	.166
Plainview	0	6	.000

Tuesday morning is our usual "statistics day," so we'll produce the latest figures on the Westerners and individual scorers without delay. But, along with all other loyal Lubbock fans, we certainly hope the Golden Sandies beat the Pampa Harvesters Saturday night. We never thought we would live long enough to hope for an Amarillo victory, but the time has now arrived. The Sandies defeated Pampa once before this season, maybe they can do it again.

The latest statistics show that the Westerners, in winning 18 games this season and losing six encounters, have scored a total of 963 points for an average of 40.1 points per game. The Lubbock schoolboys have allowed their opponents a total of 681 points, or an average of 28.3 points per game. Those figures compare favorably with the statistics of the first half of the season, although the Westerner offense has dropped a couple of points per game as a result of the tougher conference competition.

Charles Galey, the Westerners' sharp - shooting forward and guard, holds a clear lead in the individual scoring department with a total of 275 points in 23 games. Galey has scored 94 of his points in the eight district games. Although we have been unable to check with downstate sports officials, we feel certain that Galey is one of the top five or six scorers in the state in Class AA.

The runner-up Westerner in the scoring bracket is, of course, big Center Jim Wilson. Wilson has scored 188 points in 24 games, including 80 points in district play. Wilson has collected his total on 85 field goals and 18 free throws. He had his best performance Saturday night at Borger, where he tallied 24 points. Wilson is certain to rank in the top five in District 1-AA scoring this season.

We had a brief discussion with Tom Tipps, the Pampa Harvesters' grid mentor, last weekend, and found that the coach has not decided to shift from the "T" formation to the single wing. Tipps reported that he plans to stay with the "T", at least for a while. We had received reports, from other sources, that Tipps would make the switch this fall.

Lubbock fans are pleased that Westerner Coach Pat Pattison has been named to the committee that will select the schoolboy gridders who will represent the North in the annual All-Star game next summer at Beaumont. The selection is an honor for Lubbock, as well as "Coach Pat." The Lubbock mentor is well equipped for the job, since he saw many of the outstanding performers in the north bracket last fall.

South American Horse Pays $285.20 At Hialeah Park

Que Madito has never before won a race in this country. The horse is owned by H. W. Fincher of Miami.

Lamesa Gun Club Elects Officers

LAMESA, Feb. 7 (Special)—The Lamesa Gun Club elected officers at a recent meeting attended by 34 hunting and skeet enthusiasts. They are Dr. U. H. Lee, president; H. H. Wright, vice-president; and Connally Baldwin, secretary-treasurer.

Three committees were organized to make further plans for the club. Dr. Jack Alexander heads the rules committee, Maurice Lamphere the membership committee, and Olin Earnest the location committee.

Present plans call for a small bore and side-arms range indoors, a skeet range, and a 300-yard outside rifle range. The location of the ranges has not been decided, but the indoor range may be established in a building on the fair grounds. The skeet range will be located near Lamesa, and the rifle range will be built several miles from town for safety.

Sam Allen has offered land for the rifle range on his ranch approximately 15 miles east of Lamesa.

Membership in the club has topped the 50 mark and is expected to reach 100 by the time of the next meeting at 3 p. m. Sunday, February 13.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 7 (AP) —The Vanderbilt committee seeking a football coach to replace Henry R. (Red) Sanders will interview another Texan tomorrow.

He is Warren Woodson, coach of Hardin-Simmons college at Abilene.

Woodson, former coach at Arkansas State Teachers college and Texarkana high school, was recommended for the Vanderbilt coaching post by John Holman and Jack Jenkins, alumni now living in Texarkana.

The Vanderbilt committee already has interviewed two Texans, Coach Jess Neely of Rice Institute and his assistant, Joe Davis. It is due to a talk with H. N. (Rusty) Russell, backfield coach at SMU Wednesday.

Dean Fred J. Lewis, committee chairman, said he hopes the group will be ready to make a recommendation this week.

The search for a new Vanderbilt coach was started some two weeks ago when Sanders signed to go to the University of California at Los Angeles (UCLA).

Warren Mehretens, Assault's jockey, earned $8,340 in three days at Belmont Park recently, winning aboard Harmonica in the Suburban and Scattered in the Coaching Club American Oaks.

Named Top Border Conference Coach

Dell Morgan Will Be Given Award Tonight

DALLAS, Feb. 7—(Special)—Coaches and officials will gather here tomorrow night to pin awards on a great football star and eight coaches at the Annual Sports Achievement dinner.

Dell Morgan, head football coach at Texas Tech, will be given an award as the outstanding coach in the Border Conference during the 1948 grid season. Morgan, who left Lubbock over the week end to talk with high school football prospects, will arrive here during the day.

Principal award at the dinner will go to Gil Johnson, ace passer for the Southern Methodist Mustangs. He will be presented the "Southwesterner of the Year" award, voted him by the Texas Sports Writers association at their annual winter meeting.

Johnson earned the title by his stellar work on the Southwest Conference champion SMU team. Hiss passing gained a victory over Arkansas in the final second of play and his arm was a potent weapon all season. His work made the Mustangs dangerous all the time and he gained nationwide attention for his accurate passing.

Coach Bob Woodruff of Baylor will be given the "Coach of the Year" award, also voted him by the TSWA. Woodruff kept the Bears high up in the SWC football race after the "experts" had failed to pick them for any one of the top spots. He also coached the Bears to a bowl game victory Jan. 1.

Other coaches to be awarded as being outstanding in their leagues or conferences include Tonto Coleman, Abilene Christian college; Ken Clark, Navarro Junior college; George Vest, Southwest State Teachers college; Les Crantill, Denison High school; and Claude Gilstrap, Paris Junior college.

Youth Killed By Electrical Line

Carroll Cooper, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Cooper of 512 Ave. F, was killed at 12:50 p.m. Sunday when he came into contact with an exposed city electrical power line near Lee's cafe, in 300 Block Ave. H.

Funeral services are to be held at 3:30 this afternoon in the First Baptist church of Levelland, with Rev. J. H. Wright, pastor, officiating.

Burial is to follow in Levelland cemetery under direction of Plains Funeral home of Levelland.

The youth, a student in Carroll Thompson Junior High school, apparently picked up a section of a 120-volt service line which had earlier been knocked down, probably by a truck.

Police and a Sanders Funeral home ambulance were called to the scene when the boy was found in contact with the wire. Gordon Sanders, driver of the ambulance, said the youth was lying motionless on his back with the wire in his left hand when the ambulance arrived.

Sanders used a wood stick to knock the wire from the boy's hand, then carried the victim to West Texas hospital, where he was pronounced dead.

Truman Green, superintendent of the city electric department, said today that the wire, a service line running from a pole to a nearby building, evidently had been torn down, as several feet of the original wiring were missing, and the insulation had been stripped from a section of the wire. Also, an insulator from the pole was missing, he said.

Survivors include the parents; a sister, Miss Lucille Cooper of Lubbock; two step-sisters, Misses Aline and Rita Mae Creed, both of Lubbock; and six brothers, M. P., jr., Arnold, Calvin, and Jerry Don, all of Lubbock, and Wylie and Harold, both of San Francisco, Calif.

Big Four Talks Urged

or through the press, whichever method he prefers."

McMahon applauded Mr. Truman for rejecting the "peace" overtures made by Stalin in an exchange of messages with J. Kingsbury Smith, European general manager of International News Service.

But the Senator asserted that it would be a "tragic error to close the door entirely" because many people believe the Democratic nations "have not gone far enough to meet what they considered to be a peace bid by Stalin."

The Connecticut Democrat observed that a meeting between Mr. Truman and Stalin "would be worse than futile" until the iron curtain is lifted. He said there will be "no durable peace while the iron curtain remains in existence."

Emphasizing his belief that a top-level Big Four conference is necessary, McMahon suggested Sweden as a possible location. He said:

"We may accept in sincerity Stalin's statement that his health will not permit him a lengthy air or sea voyage.

"But a trip to nearby Stockholm could be made without endangering his health. Or, if he prefers, the place of meeting could be limited to his choice, provided always that there is guaranteed the right of access to the Russian people."

McMahon suggested that the United Nations handle all details of the proposed meeting, including the radio broadcasts by the heads of state.

Funeral Rites Pending For Former Resident Of Lubbock

Funeral arrangements for Grady Gibson Cline, 33, former Lubbock resident who was killed Friday in a traffic accident near Dupree, S. D., are pending arrival of the body, relatives here reported last night.

Cline, former employe of Moncrief-Lenore Manufacturing company who resided at Tech farm, was killed instantly when a pickup truck in which he, his wife and small son were riding was struck by a cattle truck. Mrs. Cline and the boy escaped with only slight injuries.

He lived in Lubbock from 1922 until 1948, when he moved to South Dakota to ranch there. He was a veteran of World War II, serving with the Fourth Army in Asia and Europe.

Survivors include the wife, two sons, Jerry Michael, 9, and Dennis Fred, 1; the parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Cline of Lubbock; a sister, Mrs. George T. Allen of Olton; three brothers, W. O. Foy and W. C., all of Lubbock; and the paternal grandfather, M. L. Cline of Trenton, Texas.

Pot-Luck Supper Is Served At Meeting of Scouts, Cubs

Parents and friends met with Boy Scout troop 7 and Cub Pack 7 last night in the recreation hall of Asbury Methodist church. A pot-luck supper was served.

Gene Quest, district scout commissioner, spoke on the history of scouting. George Holman, scoutmaster, reviewed the history of troop 7 since its organization in 1926.

Troop members gave demonstrations of first aid and signaling. The Cub Pack's three dens presented a minstrel program, assisted by Durwood Stephenson, cub master.

A tenderfoot investiture ceremony was held, after which a court of honor was conducted. At the court of honor, Jim Bill Taylor, John Mood, and Tom Lane received merit badges, while Jack Vaughn was advanced to first class scout.

Approximately 120 persons attended.

seriously injured and was released after treatment at the hospital.

A. W. Salyars, assistant district attorney, questioned Garcia at mid-morning.

Salyars and deputies sheriff said at that time they were given an account of the shooting.

Witnesses had told them only that the brothers Arrendondo had gone to the Ave. O address, where Juan Moreno, Elisa Garcia, a woman who lives there, and Stephen Garcia, the woman's brother, were.

After the Arrendondos had been there about 45 minutes, a "fuss came up."

Stephen Garcia said the brothers sought to force him to leave with them, and grappled with him. He told Salyars one of the brothers had a knife.

Several Shots Fired

Two or three shots were fired, Salyars said he had been informed.

The sheriff's department was asked to investigate a report of Willis Green, of Anton, that a negro had pulled a knife on him early Sunday and had taken money from him. He asked officials to meet him at a service station in Shallowater for a more detailed account of what had happened.

Dep. Sheriff Earl Horton and City Detective L. W. Forrester returned two men here in custody Sunday to face felony charges.

Suspects Named

They were Jim C. Cauffman, 42, of Big Spring, who was returned from Monahans on a theft by bailee warrant, and Carrett Ray Crawford, 21, of Lubbock, from Midland on a car theft indictment.

Fender skirts valued at $35 were reported stolen from the car of W. E. Grundy of 2010 Fifth.

A flashlight and six plugs of tobacco were reported taken from one car, an army blanket from another at a dine and dance place here. Officials said complainants had taken down the license number of an automobile believed occupied by those responsible.

A rock was reported to have been thrown through a plate glass window at 2109 Nineteenth.

A 17-year-old Slaton youth was fined $10 on a plea of guilty of breaking glass, a soft drink bottle, on a city street.

Sam E. Wilson, 41, a Plainview negro who, the sheriff's department said, is named here in two indictments charging forgery, was transferred from Plainview to Lubbock county jail today by Chief Dep. Sheriff George Eubank.

Wilson allegedly executed two signed statements admitting the two forgeries, the district attorneys office said.

Two Burglaries Probed

Two burglaries were reported to city police late Monday. A window at George R. Bean school was entered and $2 or $3 in cash taken from a filing cabinet in the principal's office.

Moore's bonded patrol said that Womble Olds car lot office had been entered, but nothing was reported missing last night.

Tools valued at $80 were stolen from the car of Carl Roberts of West Texas Gas company while parked at Nineteenth and Texas Avenue. A purse containing a billfold, personal papers and other small items was taken from the car of James Herrin of 2605 Thirty-first while parked at a theater on College Avenue.

Mexican Is Wounded

A 23-year-old Mexican, Paul Guerra, was treated at West Texas hospital for a gunshot wound through the bicep of the right arm Monday night. He said he and a woman were sitting in a car when the weapon, a 32 caliber revolver, was discharged accidentally. No charges were filed police said.

E. E. Ward, who operates Ward's garage at Idalou, informed the sheriff's department that three used batteries were stolen from a car and two trucks there.

Four tires and four wheels were reported stolen from C. C. Knott of Lubbock route 5, the sheriff's office said.

Hale County Sheriff Ted Andrews informed the sheriff's office here Monday that Haygood Drygoods store at Petersburg had been burglarized.

Loot removed, he said, was:

Six new metal suitcases filled with men and children's clothing and women's dresses, as well as a Remington portable typewriter. Entrance was at a rear door, officials were informed.

Northwest Battered

service on storm area routes. All Union Pacific trains headed north and west were flagged down at Denver. At Chicago, the Chicago and Northwestern line stopped west coast train departures.

15 Trains Halted

Fifteen eastbound Union Pacific passenger trains were held at Green River, Wyo., at noon Monday while efforts were made to clear the rail line between Rawlins and Wamsutter, 120 miles east. The trains were held at Green River so that steam and food would be available.

A railroad spokesman said the line had been blocked for 36 hours by gales blowing snow back onto the tracks as fast as they were cleared.

The storm made air lines shift routes but did not stop planes.

In Idaho, all main highways were clogged or opened only periodically behind snow plows as wind whipped up to one foot of new snow into drifts. U. S. highway 30, main east-west artery through southern Idaho was blocked at a half dozen places east of Boise. All north-south roads were barred to traffic. Schools in Pocatello and many rural areas were closed.

Gov. C. A. Robins proclaimed a state of emergency in Idaho in order to obtain Red Cross and federal help in relief work. He said state agencies lack sufficient equipment to cope with snow removal problems.

Highways Blocked

Oregon took stock of the worst snowstorm of the winter. Here, too, transportation was snarled and scores of public schools were closed. Union Pacific trains for the east were cancelled at Portland. U. S. Highway 30 was blocked between Union and Baker. Pacific highway 99 was choked north of Grant's Pass after two big plows broke through. Buses were held up at Pendleton and Medford. All schools in the Klamath basin were shut. Motorists were asked bluntly to stay home.

In California, U. S. highway 40 was closed through Donner Pass by huge drifts. Snow continued to fall in some of the mountain areas of the coast, and central California had heavy rains.

Weathermen said it was too early to assess the storm moving in from the Pacific. It was expected to reach the coast Tuesday, but its path was uncertain.

Fifth Army headquarters in the Wyoming - South Dakota - Nebraska emergency road opening operation reported 3,498 miles of roads cleared in a 24-hour period, bringing to more than 13,000 miles the highways opened since Jan. 29.

COOLER WEATHER IS SEEN FOR SOUTH PLAINS TODAY

Slightly cooler weather for the South Plains today and Wednesday was foreseen last night by the Weather station north of Lubbock.

Two cold fronts which were riding across Colorado and Kansas and Wyoming and the Dakotas last night will begin arriving about noon today the Weather station said, and the second will push into this area Wednesday morning. No extreme readings are expected, however, from either front, and no precipitation is foreseen.

The second warmest day of 1949 was chalked up yesterday when the mercury climbed to 59 degrees. The low for the morning was 30 degrees.

Today's reading probably will range from a low of 32 degrees to a high of 48 to 50 degrees, the forecaster said. The high is expected before the arrival of the front, as late afternoon readings probably will be in the low 40's, it was pointed out.

Wednesday's temperatures will be slightly cooler with a minimum of 25 and a maximum of 38 degrees foreseen. North to northwest winds of from 15 to 20 miles an hour are predicted for both days. Skies will be partly cloudy today, and cloudy tomorrow.

Alliance Discussed

the Atlantic pact, might not establish bases on Norway's territory.

Norway replied on Dec. 1 that she would never grant bases to foreign powers unless attacked or threatened with attack.

Russia termed this assurance unsatisfactory because "hastily concocted stories about a threat of attack would suffice to make Norway open her doors to foreign troops and grant bases."

Lange said today:

"To my mind it was a clear answer. I don't want at this moment to make any further comment."

The purpose of the next discussions, he said, will be to get the answers Norway's cabinet and parliament need before deciding on the next move to protect Norwegian borders against possible aggression.

STOCKS AGAIN SKID

NEW YORK, Feb. 7. (AP)—The stock market dropped with commodities today. Average prices of leading shares sank to the lowest in more than two months, with losses ranging to as much as 4 points.

The slide was an extension of the decline of last week. But it got under way only after the market rejected an attempt by some of the so-called "pivotal" motors and steels to lead an early rally.

Oils and rails first showed a tendency to join the recovery move. Then when support was shown to be lacking, they skidded fast, many to new 1948-49 low levels.

Pace of trading picked up on the decline to give the market its busiest day since Jan. 7, with a total of 1,330,000 shares changing hands. This compared with 1,060,000 in the previous full session Friday.

The Associated Press 60-stock average dropped .5 of a point to 62.9, the lowest point it has touched since Nov. 30. Rails had the widest slump, .7 of a point, while industrials were down .6.

It was the broadest market so far this year. Of 1,067 issues traded 627 declined and 176 advanced.

The morning effort to shake the market out of its downward trend found one of its leaders in General Motors. This stock stayed ahead throughout the day, even after steels faltered. After G. M closed up ½ of a point at 60, directors of the big automobile concern met and voted a $1.25 dividend.

This was along the favorable lines expected in financial circles. They noted that payments last year totaled $4.50 a share.

Santa Fe fell 2¾ to 92¾, Allied Chemical was off 4 at 180⅛.

Grain

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Feb. 7 (AP) — Selling pressure against grains, soybeans and lard increased toward the close on the board of trade today. Early gains were wiped out as the market developed an easier tone.

Liquidation started in lard, which tumbled quickly to new lows since trading in present contracts started. Soybeans followed, also going to new seasonal lows. Weakness in live hogs and cottonseed oil futures in the east caused some of the selling.

Wheat and corn, up more than a cent at one time, fell an equil amount below Saturday's cloce in the late dealings. A heavy influx of fed cattle into livestock markets would diminish demand for corn feeding on farms, traders said.

In the closing minutes selling increased and prices fell to new lows for the day. In addition to soybeans and lard, new seasonal lows were made by september wheat and May, and December corn.

Wheat closed 1 ⅝-2 ½ lower, May $2.16- -2.16, corn was 2 to 3 cents lower, May $1.24 ¼-½, oats were ⅜-⅛ lower May 66 ⅛-¾, rye was 1 ½ to 2 cents lower, May $1.29, soybeans were 4 ¾ to 5 cents lower, March $2.25-2.25 ½, and lard was 45 to 65 cents a hundred pounds lower, March $12.45.

Loose lard was offered at $11.50, a new low since June, 1942, when the price was $11.42 ½.

through drastic government restrictions and regulations our agricultural back is broken in the South, we will be able to compete with the canning industries, dairies and dairy products, automobile manufacturing, implement manufacturing and older manufacturing districts of the United States," he said.

He urged that Congress enact a law which would guarantee farmers at least 90 percent of parity for their cotton. Parity is a formula designed to give farmers the same purchasing power for his crop now as they received in a favorable base-year period, usually 1909-1914.

Louis J. Ivey of El Paso told the committee that under present law growers of long-staple American-Egyptian cotton get only 60 percent of parity support, compared with the present 90 percent for shorter staple growers.

After taking part in the hearings, the South Plains group lunched at the capitol with Rep. George H. Mahon of Lubbock and Colorado City, and Rep. W. R. Poage of Waco, member of the agriculture committee.

Legion Auxiliary To Continue Aid To Needy Vets, Families

At a regular business meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary, held last night at the American Legion hall, members voted to continue giving aid to needy veterans and their families.

It was also decided that the organization would contribute to the Heart Association research fund.

Mrs. Fred Kincaide, president, presided. Approximately 12 members attended.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Feb. 7 (AP)—Cotton futures declined today in nervous dealings under pressure of commission house liquidation and hedging. The market was unsettled by the reactionary trend in other commodities.

Early liquidation was also influenced by the ECA order suspending shipments of American cotton to China, although the ECA said that the sales already made to China, but not shipped, will eventually be cleared to some destination. Traders felt, however, that a good part of the potentially large market in China would be lost as an outlet for United States cotton.

Liquidation in cotton gathered momentum in late dealings and carried prices into new low ground for the day.

Futures closed $1.20 to $1.85 a bale lower than the previous close.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 7 (AP)—Cotton futures declined $1.30 to $1.75 a bale here today under general long liquidation. Closing prices were steady.

The principal reasons for the break were continued weakness in other markets and the suspension of cotton shipments to China by the Economic Cooperation administration.

under the present system of control.

"Such a course would inflict further hardship on the families who have already been the prime victims of inflation, and would make it harder to exercise moderation in wage demands."

Woods pleaded especially for authority to prevent "illegal" evictions and to mete out stiffer penalties to landlords who overcharge.

"The record reflects that many tenants have acceeded to landlords' demands because of eviction fears," he said.

The administration's bill would authorize the government to recontrol areas which have been decontrolled. It would also extend rent ceilings to several types of dwellings not now covered.

Woods told the committee that the end of rent controls now would "force millions to increase their rent payments at the expense of diets, medical care, clothing and other necessities of life."

Pleasure with a recent crackdown by the attorney general and liquor control board on private clubs in Dallas also was expressed. "If the courts do not sustain these officers," said Dr. McKenzie, "the whole liquor law should be repealed and one should be written that could be enforced."

Dr. McKenzie said that in the last five years there have been elections on the liquor question in 78 counties. Fifty-seven counties counted dry victories, he said, and the rest were wet victories.

Now, he said, there are 141 counties totally dry, and 82 partly dry and 31 completely wet.

mission, Securities and Exchange commission and the Federal Reserve board.

Other Agencies Added

Rep. Bailey (D-WVa.) succeeded in having three other agencies added to this category. They are the National Mediation board, Railway Retirement board and Railway Adjustment board.

On the final vote, 226 Democrats, 129 Republicans and one American-Laborite favored the measure. Against it were eight Republicans and one Democrat. They were Reps. Mason, Nelson, O'Hara of Minnesota, O'Konski, Shafer, Short, Taber and Wolcott, all Republicans, and Rankin, Democrat.

Before final passage, Rep. Hoffman (R-Mich) sought unsuccessfully to provide that one branch of Congress alone, rather than both could defeat a reorganization plan by rejecting it.

Former President Hoover's support for the bill came in his role as chairman of a 12-man bipartisan commission which has been studying the entire reorganization problem. It began today sending its recommendations to Congress.

Bare of details, the Hoover report called for a gigantic squeeze-down of the 65 independent agencies now responsible to Mr. Truman, into a "workable" 21 or 22.

Ralls Chamber Of Commerce Okays Street Marking Plan

RALLS, Feb. 7 (Special) — A meeting of the Ralls Chamber of Commerce tonight resulted in a request to the Crosby County Commissioners court for a constable to be named for Ralls, according to Ernest Joiner, president of the group.

The group also voted to install street markers and set up a system for numbering houses in Ralls. Also approved was a proposal to work with county officials in seeking at least a year's closed season on hunting of various game in Crosby county. Approximately 52 persons were present.

sion and presented the first peace feeler.

"I am certain we are all seeking the same thing—the improvement of water laws in the state," he said. "I invited John Mitchell and the others here today because I was sure we could get together and work this thing out."

Bandeen sketched through the WTCC's 17 protests, pointing up several sections he believed would harm "our scarce water country."

Priority Rights Argued

"We think that water priority rights for cities and towns cease to exist in this bill as it is written," Bandeen said. "Right now it gives dams on the lower stretches of a stream priority rights over a dam upstream."

Bandeen said the WTCC objected to the making of time as the only basis for water priority. He suggested making both time and legal conditions the basis for priority rights.

He suggested that the TWCA consider writing in the bill a "more scientific formula" for allocation of surface water by basing water grants on the supply and demand within an area.

Recapture Clause Asked

He suggested the TWCA remove the word "storage" from a provision on the transportation of water. J. E. Sturrock, TWCA manager, said "storage" was in the section to allow the construction of check dams on a stream so water could be pumped out.

Bandeen warned if the provision was left in "some state board of water engineers, sometime, might say 'no, you fellows can't build a dam upstream because there is a dam on the lower Neches.'"

The WTCC manager said the essence of West Texas' request was that the recapture clause in the present law be added to the proposed code. This would make the right to take waters for domestic and municipal supply the highest priority.

The TWCA representatives said the present law was changed because some opinions had held that the recapture clause was unconstitutional.

Jackson said the TWCA would go ahead and introduce the bill "right away" and any changes decided on would be made as amendments to the original bill.

Army Secretary Sees Growing Unrest Among Soviet Satellites

By JOHN RICH
INS Staff Correspondent

TOKYO, Feb. 7.—Army Secretary Royall forecast today a sharp rise in the number of 'Tito-like" crises between Russia and her Communist dominated satellites.

In an extemporaneous talk before the United States Chamber of Commerce in Tokyo, Royall declared such nations will soon chafe under the Soviet yoke. He said:

"I believe those countries which fell under Russian domination since the war will in time—and I believe in a short time—realize that even if they label themselves communist, they will still have nothing to gain by association with the Soviet republic."

Royall Optimistic

Royall made his talk following a series of conferences with Gen. Douglas MacArthur while on a tour of American Army installations in the Far East.

Shortly afterwards he left Tokyo for a 24-hour visit with commanders of the American occupation forces in South Korea.

Royall was optimistic over the prospects that American democracy will win the ideological war with Russian Communism.

He based his belief on two reasons: (1). That every nation which has fallen under Russian power since the war "has gone down" and (2). The largest part of 12 million persons confined to Russian concentration camps have come from satellite nations.

Laborers Taken

Royall pointed to the millions in Soviet concentration camps saying:

"In large part, they came from the nations the Russians call satellites. Of these, the largest group is laborers. Thus the Russians hypocritically betray the very group they pretend to defend."

Royall warned his audience of businessmen that American democracy will prevail only if it continues guarding against the creation of any privileged group or class.

Scouting Anniversary Observed At Jaycees Luncheon Program

Observance of the 39th anniversary of the Boy Scout movement in America highlighted the program at Monday's Junior Chamber of Commerce luncheon in the Hilton hotel.

Fourteen members of Lubbock Troop 10 appeared on the Jaycee program as luncheon guests of the club. The group gave the Scout oath and Scout laws, and one Scout, Billy Harpole, presented a brief talk on the advantages offered by Scouting.

Troop members present were Jackie Don Williamson, John Wesley Chism, Lonnie Joe Holmes, Douglas Smith, Earl Dietering, jr., Billy Hallmark, Norman Kammerdiener, A. C. Pennington, James Alls, Clinton Smith, Frank French, Billy Ray Parker, Sammy Hallmark and Harpole.

Group Introduced

The group was introduced by Thomas Moore, neighborhood commissioner for Troop 10, which is sponsored by the Knights of Pythias. Moore briefly outlined some of the boys' achievements during 1948. The troop spent 29 days outdoors last year, he said, and nearly every member earned a merit badge in swimming in a troop swimming class conducted at the Mackenzie State park pool.

Gene Quest, district commissioner for the Plainsman district of the Boy Scouts, was in charge of the program. Quest gave a brief account of the transfer of the Scout movement to America from England in 1909 by D. Boyce, an American publisher who became interested in Scouting while visiting in London.

Reviewing the growth of the movement in this country, Quest pointed out that more than 1,000 boys currently are actively engaged in Scouting within the Plainsman district. There are 10 Cub packs with a total membership of 438 boys, 21 troops with a membership of 538, and two senior units with 30 members, he said.

T. A. Milam reported to the Jaycees on the Region 3-4 meeting last week at Sweetwater, which he attended, and urged members to attend the state convention in Galveston early in April.

Guests introduced included Jerry Stokes, John Harris, Adair Gossett, Ben Williams, Jack Crossen, Kenneth Wright, and Q. A. Stewart. New members present were L. B. Smith and Van White.

Club President Horace Gearhart presided, with invocation by the visiting Boy Scout group.

When a girl acts listless and half-alive, she's apt to be lonesome, too! A pale, tired face and a colorless personality can be a bar to romance.

True—and quite often it's just faded red blood cells that sap enthusiasm and pep. Quite often, it's a Borderline Anemia, due to a ferro-nutritional blood deficiency. Medical studies show that up to 68% of women—many men and children—have this tiring blood condition.

House And Senate Head Into Busy Week

New Measure Would Slow Down Flow Of Natural Gas From State

By DAVE CREAVENS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Feb. 7.—Both the House and Senate got down to work today in action-packed morning sessions starting the 51st legislature's fifth week.

Both houses plunged into a heavy afternoon of committee meetings and the senate finally passed and sent six bills to the house.

Aside from the routine expense bill both passed the first day of the session, these were the first measures to be finally approved by either branch of the legislature. None was controversial.

Would Slow Gas Export

The House heard and quickly referred to committee a resolution by Rep. W. R. Chambers of May, designed to slow down the increasing flow of Texas natural gas into the industrial north and east.

Dozens of red-hot bills were among the 256 formally introduced in the House. This was a strain on the reading clerk's vocal chords, but everybody knew about the bills in advance. They had been piling up in the chief clerk's office for four weeks, and most had been well-publicized.

One of them was the liquor sale-by-the-drink bill that drew a furious promise of battle to the last ditch from the woman's Christian Temperance union.

Compact Is Okayed

The Senate quickly complied with Gov. Beauford H. Jester's request for fast action on a bill to ratify the compact between Texas and New Mexico on division of Pecos river waters. It finally passed and sent the measure to the House.

New Mexico has already approved the compact. It must also be ratified by Congress before it becomes effective.

Jester's office announced he would submit emergency pay raises for state employees tomorrow as a topic for quick action by the legislature.

There were 23 constitutional amendments in the mass of proposed legislation dumped in the House's lap. A number of House committees, including the important Appropriations panel, held organization meetings prior to a start on considering bills.

Gas Conservation Asked

The Senate hacked away at its calendar of 31 committee-approved bills. Aside from the Pecos compact measure, they were of local nature. The Senate also received from Gov. Jester his request for confirmation of appointment of Brig. Gen. William H. Martin as assistant adjutant general.

Rep. Chambers, in his gas export curbing resolution, noted that this resource is the "key to Texas' industrial wealth." The resolution called on the legisla-

Floyd Meeting Slated Thursday

LOCKNEY, Feb. 7 (Special) — The annual Floyd county irrigation school, which Floyd county Farm Agent A. L. Hartzog said will have many things of interest to dry land farmers as well as users of irrigation, is to be held Thursday at the theater building here.

Starting at 9:30 o'clock, the program includes addresses by several who are outstanding in their particular field of agricultural development, and the gorup will be guests at noon of the Lockney Business Men's club luncheon, the announcement said.

Program Is Given

Stressing wide attendance at the meeting, Hartzog said that while the day-long meeting will be devoted primarily to problems of the irrigation farmer, "it will also contain much of interest to dry land operators who do not plan to irrigate."

The program starts with a welcome address by Marvin Cox, president of the Lockney Business Men's club, to be followed at the morning session by addesses on:

Irrigation practices, by Robert Thurmond, extension service irrigation specialist; Cotton breeding work and cultural methods at Lockview Farm, by Robert Stewart, farm manager and plant breeder; and fertilizers in irrigation, by Duke Thornton, extension service agricultural chemist.

Following the noon luncheon, the afternoon session, which is to close about 4 o'clock, includes talks on:

Mechanical harvesting of cotton, by Don L. Jones, superintendent of Lubbock experiment station; weed control in 1949, by Duke Thornton; production of certified seed, by W. A. Goeth, state field seed inspector; and a series of slides showing irrigation methods, presented by Thurmond.

Hartzog urged all Floyd county farmers to attend the meeting, and extended a cordial invitation to farmers and others in surrounding counties.

Texas Faces Discrimination Under Plan

Government Opposes Rail Rate Proposal

By SARAH McCLENDON
Avalanche-Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—The entire Southwest and South would be greatly affected by the injustices which would be created by rate-making agreements if the railroads of the nation are allowed to set up their proposed "private government" through rate bureaus, the Justice Department told the Interstate Commerce Commission today. Texas in particular would be denied voice and votes in rate making, it was pointed out.

The brief, protesting against approval of a series of regional applications by railroads of the South, Southwest, East and West, constitutes the first government fight against application of the Reed-Bulwinkle bill, passed by the 80th Congress.

James E. Kilday, former Texan and former official of the Texas Railroad Commission, filed the brief for the Justice Department. He is now chief, Transportation Section, Anti-Trust division of the Department.

The Reed-Bulwinkle bill said rate agreements may be worked out by groups of railroads without fear of prosecution under anti-trust laws if the ICC gives its approval. Justice Department charges that the regional applications for rate-making authorities by railroads are all closely integrated with the application of the American Association of Railroads, so that a virtual "private government" and total monopoly would ensue.

Would Affect Industry

Concerned are such matters as discrimination against the South and Southwest on freight rates, the future location of industry in those regions, and the possibility of eastern lines overriding southwestern rates on local products.

Affected to a major extent are the oil, steel, cement, fertilizer and other important industries whose pricing systems are often so constructed, that "railrates are utilized as an integral part of the pricing mechanisms prevailing in those industries and for those commodities," the brief said.

The Justice Department said that a large number of railroads in whole states or regions such as for example, Texas, would be "improperly denied rights, voice and votes in rate making."

Discrimination Is Charged

Kilday stated that the railroads through their regional applications have "fixed arbitrary and non-competitive rates and charges for railroad transportation of freight so as to prefer official territory (the East) over the South and West.

"A discriminatory rate structure has retarded the natural economic development of the South and West . . .

"Veto powers on interterritorial traffic matters have been and under the . . . agreements may be exercised by dominant railroads in the East to prevent rate reductions necessary to remove discriminations against the South and West.

"Approval of the proposed organizations and procedures by Interstate Commerce Commission would serve to perpetuate such

46 Cases Examined At Palsy Center

Forty-six cases were examined in a daylong clinic held at the Lubbock Cerebral Palsy center Monday according to Miss Ester Snell, director of treatment at the center.

Dr. Charles Sadler of Amarillo and Dr. Edward T. Driscoll of Plainview examined the patients, nine of whom were less than one year old. The youngest was born just five months ago. Thirty-one of the cases were in Lubbock for the first time. The remainder had been given a checkup in the clinic before.

Patients were brought in from as far away as Tucumcari, N. M. There were also cases from Big Spring, Sweetwater, Midland, Monahans, Sudan, Lockney, Crosbyton, Floydada, Abernathy, Brownfield, Snyder, Denver City, Levelland, O'Donnell and Littlefield.

The next clinic will be held early in April at the Lubbock center. The exact date will be announced later.

Hospital Exonerated In Veteran's Case

AMARILLO, Feb. 7. (AP)—An American Legion investigating committee today exonerated the Amarillo Veterans hospital of negligence charges following death of Billy Gene Smith Jan. 23. Smith was a Marine veteran.

The investigating committee of the 18th district American Legion released its report of the investigation today.

F. H. McGregor, Amarillo attorney heading the investigators, recommended a number of changes in the veterans hospital organization.

Testimony Kept Secret

The committee recommended expansion of the hospital, proper housing on the grounds for the medical staff and an increase in salary for some members.

Legion members began their investigation when relatives of the dead ex-Marine charged Smith was refused admittance to the veterans hospital the night of Jan. 20. He died of cerebral hemorrhage, an autopsy showed, the following Sunday in a local hospital where he was taken after leaving the VA facility.

Hearings began early Saturday and extended until after midnight. McGregor said testimony of 16 witnesses will not be made public.

The report said Smith was examined by three doctors, two at the VA and another at the local hospital. None of them were able to diagnose the case, the report said. The report further said the veteran's family was treated with respect at the VA.

AREA TOTALS ANNOUNCED

Lubbock Cotton Forecaster's Estimate Hits Near Bullseye

Lubbock boasts one forecaster who does not share the red faces of Doc Gallup, Elmo Roper and other prognosticators of crushing defeat for President Truman in the November election.

He is K. N. Clapp, area representative since 1923 of Anderson, Clayton & Co., Houston cotton merchants.

True, Clapp did not attempt to forecast election results. He tackled something even more difficult in attempting a long range advance estimate of the cotton crop in counties above the Caprock.

Virtually complete official ginning figures to Jan. 16, as announced Sunday, showed Clapp's final forecast of the 1948-49 crop, reported Nov. 26, was within two per cent of correct.

611,074 Bales Ginned

Ginnings reported for the Caprock counties were 611,074 bales. Clapp's estimate nearly two months previously was 599,000 bales. His forecast was made at a time when adverse weather could affect the harvest seriously and when uncertainty existed as to what portion of drouth-stricken dryland cotton could be gathered.

Clapp has been forecasting the Caprock cotton crop for 25 years and his final estimates have averaged within three per cent of the complete ginning figures. He termed the 1948-49 estimates the most difficult in his experience.

His territory does not include the Lubbock area counties of Dickens and Motley because they do not lie entirely above the Caprock. Their ginnings totaled 30,295 bales.

Ginnings for the entire Lubbock cotton - producing territory was approximately 641,000. Expectation was that ginnings after Jan. 15 would add 2,000 to 5,000 bales to the total.

Scout Troop Entertains Parents At Quarterly Dinner Meeting

Parents were special guests at a quarterly dinner meeting of Scout troop 3 which was held last night in the annex of First Baptist church. Approximately 103 persons attended.

Gene Quest, district scout commissioner, gave a talk on the history of scouting in observance of the 39th anniversary of scouting in America. Stunts were given by all troop patrols.

Sam Henry, scoutmaster, outlined a two-year scouting program, after which he introduced the following committee chairmen for the forthcoming year:

C. Alvin White, instructional representative; S. C. McCarty, troop committee; R. T. West, camping and activities committee; Howard Walker, finance committee; L. O. Tucker, relationship committee; and Bates Witt, advancement committee.

Henry also presented the troop the attendance banner which members had won at the annual district meeting.

A group of songs were led by Kenneth Cox.

LIMITS TO U. S. AID, SOLON SAYS

Connally Warns Western Europe Full Co-Operation Necessary

By H. K. REYNOLDS
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7. — Sen. Connally (D-Tex) warned western European governments tonight that there are limits to American economic assistance. He demanded their full co-operation to make the best use of Marshall plan aid.

Connally, as chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, is sponsoring the administration's request for $5,500,000,000 to continue the European recovery program for the next 15 months.

Bills for the new authorizations were introduced in the Senate and House today by Connally and Rep. Bloom (R-NY.) Public hearings will begin tomorrow with ECA Administrator Hoffman and Secretary of State Acheson as the first witnesses.

Obligation Pointed Out

Announcing plans for a thorough and comprehensive review of ERP operations during the first year, Connally said that self-help and mutual co-operation among European nations was of the highest importance. He reminded them that they entered into "solemn obligation" to work together for the benefit of all.

Pointing out that Marshall plan aid is scheduled to terminate in 1952, Connally declared:

"Already there are newspaper reports to the effect that some prominent Europeans are saying that they cannot get back on their feet by 1952, and that they must have additional assistance after that date.

Co-operation Urged

"The European countries must labor under no illusions. The United States does not possess the Midas touch. Its resources are limited. It is not a perpetual fountain of gold.

To add to the $5,000,000,000 provided for the first year of the program, ending April 2, ECA asked $1,150,000,000 to cover the costs until June 30, 1949, $4,280,000,000 for the next fiscal year, ending June 30, 1950, and $150,000,000 for forward contracting.

The Connally-Bloom bill proposed, as urged by President Truman, to undo the action of the 80th Congress in dipping into the 1948 Treasury surplus to pay three billion dollars of ERP costs during the 1949 fiscal year.

Effect of this, if approved by the present Congress, will shift the entire ERP burden for this year to current taxation, and an anticipated Treasury surplus of a billion dollars or more for this year may be turned into a deficit.

Rail Rate Proposal

discriminations in violation rather than in furtherance of the national transportation policy."

Blow At Competition

That policy, the brief explains, contemplates the development of an adequate national transportation system through competition in a free economy. Approval of these agreements would not further such development, the Department says. The brief points out that the railroads have been known to fight every other kind of transportation that is developed to rival the railroads. Also, the Justice Department states that the railroads have failed to modernize and to improve service and equipment where there has been no competition. It is in the national interest to develop an adequate system as was justified by the War, government attorneys point out.

Such power to control transportation rates "is of vital concern in connection with the development and location of industry in various localities and in important regions of the country such as the South and West."

"Rail rates constitute an important and often decisive factor in determining the practicability of establishing new industries, and the power to control such rates is a matter of life or death to the businesses and localities concerned," wrote Kilday in his brief.

ture to set up a state policy on gas conservation and suggested the railroad commission apply the same conservation policy to gas as it does to oil.

It asked the commission to appear before the Federal Power commission to oppose granting of additional certificates for interstate pipeline transmission of gas out of Texas.

"The FPC has almost without exception granted permits to companies to take out gas," the resolution said. It also noted that much of Texas' "irreplaceable, exhaustible" fuel has been "wantonly and flagrantly flared."

A bill to change the name of North Texas Junior Agricultural and Mechanical college at Arlington to North Texas State was passed on second reading in the Senate, but Sen. Keith Kelly of Fort Worth did not press for immediate final passage.

This delay came after Senator G. C. Morris of Greenville said if the bill was an "entering wedge" to make the school a four-year college, he was against it.

"We haven't figured out a way to properly take care of the four-year colleges we already have," Morris protested.

Other senate action included introduction of these measures:

By Warren McDonald of Tyler, proposed constitutional amendment to provide for creation of rural fire prevention districts to be financed by ad valorem tax in districts where created by vote of people.

By Jimmy Phelps of Angleton, would require all juries in civil cases tried in district courts to be kept together until discharged or a verdict reached after submission of the case to them.

Two bills by Senators William T. Moore of Bryan and W. A. Shofner of Temple would regulate county mutual insurance companies.

By Senator Grady Hazelwood of Amarillo, to authorize junior college districts to issue refunding bonds.

By Senator George Moffett of Chillicothe, to appropriate $10,000 to the Texas A. and M. Agricultural experiment station to gather and publish Texas agricultural statistics.

The council is sponsoring a competition to find a suitable national wedding march which should be "as light as a bride walking over the carpet, and fill the nervous bridegroom with courage."

When you buy Barcentrate, you buy a preparation for taking off weight. You do not pay for any printed diet or for vitamins to fortify you against weakness while on a starvation diet. You need never know a hungry moment while taking this preparation. Barcentrate is the original grapefruit juice recipe for weight reduction.

Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to take off ugly fat, return the empty bottle for your money back.

Lost 56 pounds

Here is what Mrs. L. J. Bryant, P. O. Box 56, Whitewright, Texas, wrote us:

"I want to tell you what Barcentrate has done for me. I weighed 268 pounds when I started taking it. I now weigh 212.

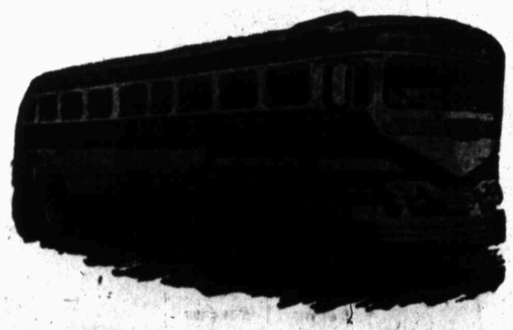

"I have taken my dress size down from size 50 to 44 and never felt better in my life and everybody tells me how much nicer I look than I did.

"I am still taking Barcentrate as I want to get my weight down to 165 or 170 pounds."

NEW MOVES ARE INDICATED

Observers Say Reds May Offer Pacts To Sweden And Denmark

MOSCOW, Feb. 7. (AP)—Foreign observers here say Russia may follow up her offer of a non-aggression pact to Norway by offering similar treaties to Sweden and Denmark.

The observers said they had no inside information as to Soviet plans but they predict the note to Norway would be followed by other important moves.

The note said Moscow could not agree that the proposed North Atlantic alliance meets the aim of the United Nations. It accused Norway of failing to "give a clear reply" as to whether she planned to permit other nations to have military bases on her soil.

Would Not Grant Bases

(Russia's first note to Norway, last week, asked whether Norway intended to choose sides in the East-West "cold war." Norway replied she would inquire into what conditions she would have to meet to join the Atlantic alliance, but said she would not grant bases on her soil to foreign powers. The nations now negotiating the Atlantic alliance are the U. S., Canada, Britain, France, Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg.)

Yesterday's Soviet press seemed to indicate quite clearly that the Russians do not intend to let this matter lie.

The newspapers delivered their strongest attack yet on the North Atlantic pact. The lead editorial in Pravda, official Communist newspaper, termed the pact "a concentrated expression of a policy of aggression and international risk-taking" and "the most important lever for preparing a new world war."

Other barometers of the great interest in the Atlantic pact negotiations involving Norway were publication of the complete text of the Soviet note to Norway and an item reporting that Norwegian Foreign Minister Lange had left for Washington to "receive information on the North Atlantic pact."

The observers here, who said Russia might offer non-aggresion pacts to Sweden and Denmark, pointed to the fact that both nations are close Baltic neighbors of the Soviet.

The Danish and Swedish missions here meanwhile studied the note to Norway carefully. They were just as interested in the statement as the Norwegian embassy, if not more so.

Observers from the Western embassies were declared after reading the note carefully that the Soviets clearly desire the most categorical and ironbound assurances from Norway that no Norwegian territory will be made available to American and British armed forces.

U. S. Criticized

They said the note also indicated Russia will regard any arrangements entered into by Norway (or by Sweden and Denmark) entailing such an obligation as an unfriendly act motivated by aggressive intentions toward the Soviet.

The Soviet note also made clear that Norway's participation in the North Atlantic pact—whether or not it entailed a publicity announced obligation to grant bases to Britain or the U. S.—would in any case be regarded as paving the way for such bases.

It is amply clear, therefore, that Norwegian acceptance of the Soviet invitation to conclude a non-aggression pact would mean rejection by Norway of any idea of joining the North Atlantic alliance.

Norway is the only nation on the Soviet's western boundary from Romania north which does not have a pact of friendship and mutual aid with Russia. A non-aggression pact presumably would be much less comprehensive than the mutual aid agreements.

Pravda also blasted at the United States in its editorial columns.

"Why did the United States reject the proposal for a peace pact?" an editorial asked.

It said the "refusal of American circles to conclude a pact of peace with the Soviet Union" could have "only one meaning; a peace pact cannot be fitted in with general course, character and direction of American foreign policy.

Injunction Issued Against Hotel Here

Emergency Job Registry Drops

Fewer than 20 additional men registered Monday for the emergency work provided by the city for those who have been jobless because of the recent blizzard, according to Gerald E. Jarvis, director of the city-county public health and welfare program.

Registrations will continue today in Allen Bros. post home of the American Legion, 910 Texas avenue, but indications are the project will be discontinued Wednesday, Jarvis said.

Many of the men registered Saturday went back to work Monday for contractors who resumed operations after a three weeks' interruption due to the bad weather. Private employment will absorb practically all the men on the emergency rolls by Wednesday if weather continues favorable, Jarvis believes.

Men on the emergency roll, he added, prefer private employment because of the higher pay than the 50 cents an hour on the city's made-work project. The emergency pay includes 25 cents an hour cash and 25 cents in grocery orders.

A final report on Saturday's operations, he said, showed the exactly 100 men registered. Of these, 64 worked and received their pay and grocery orders Saturday afternoon. Sixty-four also reported for work this morning, but many of these left the jobs for private employment during the day, as they were encouraged to do.

CRISIS IS MET

Relief Is Provided

LUBBOCK has been the scene during the past few days of a demonstration of one of the finest attributes of typical human nature.

This community has demonstrated anew that the more fortunate always spring almost spontaneously to the assistance of the less fortunate during periods of unusual distress. This living proof of the deep-rooted consciousness here of the Brotherhood of Man has been given by the response to appeals in behalf of the victims of bad-weather unemployment and the lost pay they could not afford.

There have been complaints that Lubbock agencies and individuals were slow to recognize the bad-weather problem when it first was arising, and to start their efforts to do something about it. There may be some basis for this criticism. Perhaps many Lubbock residents were slow to grasp the seriousness of the problem caused for many families of limited means by the idleness forced upon their bread-winner.

But, it is a fact beyond challenge that the response was instant and generous when the typical Lubbock resident was told of need that few had opportunity to observe for themselves. Hundreds contributed in one way or another to the relief efforts which started instantly and are continuing.

IN KEEPING with this spirit was the City Commission's action in providing jobs for all unemployed who want to work. True, the wage offered is not large—50 cents an hour payable 25 cents in cash and 25 cents in grocery orders.

But it is far better than nothing at all. To most families of limited means, it doubtless is and certainly should be of far more appeal than any charity.

We, for one, believe that most families in Lubbock, no matter how poor they may be, would prefer to work for what they get. The City has given those able to work the opportunity to do that, with assurance of adequate provision for those unable for any reason to take advantage of such an opportunity.

We believe that Lubbock citizens will approve overwhelmingly the action the City commission has taken. We believe also they will approve the policy which would deny relief to all chiselers, with particular reference to the able-bodied who refuse to work when given the opportunity.

Most Lubbock residents undoubtedly will agree, too, with the operating policy which calls for an investigation of all applications for relief as speedily as possible, with immediate discontinuance of help to those found to be unworthy and undeserving.

Lubbock, on the whole, has met the crisis in a manner which reflects credit upon the community. And it is pertinent to point out again that the "crisis" has been far less serious than many mild rumors have implied. But it has provided the means of demonstrating that this City takes care of its own, but with safeguards which attempt to guarantee that the generously available relief goes to those who need it, and not to loafers and chiselers.

Down Memory Lane

(From Files of The Lubbock Morning Avalanche of Feb. 8, 1929)

A social hour followed the program at the monthly meeting of the First Christian W.M.S. The program, led by Mrs. Tom Garrard, was in the home of Mrs. V. R. Dockray, and the social hour was in the home of Mrs. R. A. Mills. Mrs. Clyde F. Elkins, president, was in charge of the business session, with devotional led by Mrs. J. A. Raley. Mesdames C. C. Crenshaw, S. J. McFarland and K. M. Renner assisted Mrs. Garrard with the program. Others attending included Mesdames W. R. Blake, D. N. Leaverton, D. W. Robertson, J. E. Hartley, N. L. Benson, O. A. Terry, R. L. Howell, W. P. Casey, C. M. Whipp, W. P. Jennings, C. O. Marquart, James Robinson, Russell Morrison, S. S. McKay, J. D. Walker, Homer Pharr, Paul Barrier, Harry Meyers, E. L. Pitts, C. E. Gough, and A. T. Biggers.

Citizens in Lubbock, Hockley and Cochran counties were engaged in a concerted campaign for a state designation on a highway connecting the three counties on which work was expected to start soon. A committee of Levelland citizens met a similar group here to discuss the proposal in a session called by W. R. Blake, who had been named committee chairman. Other Lubbock men present at the conference were Clas. F. O'Neall, M. G. Abernathy, and Claude Hurlbut. The group from Levelland included County Judge D. E. McGee; John H. Doyle, president of First National bank; J. M. Mabe, former county judge in Crosby county; and Sam Combs, insurance men. Attending from Hurlwood were W. A. Fincher and G. K. Horton.

Had Enough?

Beware Of Romance

By ROBERTA COURTLAND
Distributed By NEA Service, Inc.

(THE STORY: The sumptuous way in which Lissa and Kin live leaves Merry a little breathless. Her first evening in New York, Lissa introduces her to Mike Channing. Next Lissa takes Merry shopping and buys her a beautiful wardrobe, including a fur coat. Merry is loath to accept the clothes but Lissa tells her that she'll need them.)

MIKE CHANNING was fun, and that first evening "on the town" with him would always stand out in Merry's memory. She had never had so much fun; she had never met so many gay, amusing people or seen so many interesting places. It was almost dawn when she came home, with a list of dates for the future beginning to form.

"You're practically a riot," Mike assured her in the taxi as he brought her home. "You've bowled over some of our most prominent wolves, and even the femmes like you—which is worthy of comment in several languages. But don't forget: I had a priority claim staked out even before you arrived. So when anybody asks you for a date, you have to say politely, like a good girl, 'I'll have to ask Mike. If he hasn't anything more exciting lined up, maybe I'll waste a few hours with you'."

Merry laughed. "That ought to make me tremendously popular."

Mike nodded. "Oh, it will—with me. And you're not really concerned with being popular with anyone else, of course."

Merry's eyebrows raised.

"Oh, am I not?"

"Of course not." Mike sounded almost cross. "I'm by far your best chance: eligible, free, 21 (and a little over), sound in wind and limb, broken to harness, a superb disposition. Why, any girl who had the chance to marry me would be an idiot not to jump at it."

Merry gasped. "You like you, don't you?"

"Naturally I have a normal sense of my own importance," Mike told her cheerfully, unabashed. "But to continue, I like fun and games; I could guarantee my wife would never be bored." He broke off, and suddenly he was studying her with a curious, startled intensity. "My wife."

Merry sat very still, for although she knew it was only a "line" her crazy young heart was pounding away much too fast.

"My wife," said Mike again, and there was an odd, unbelieving tone in his voice.

HE TURNED and stared down at her in the light of a street lamp where the taxi had suddenly been halted by a traffic light, and she saw that all trace of mocking laughter had vanished from his eyes, and that his face was taut.

"See here," he demanded of her sternly, in deadly earnest, "you don't suppose by any awful chance that this is it?"

Merry's cheeks were hot and she was deeply grateful that the taxi slid forward and that its interior was once more in shadow, lest Mike discover that her color was high.

"It?" she repeated idiotically.

"You don't think by any cockeyed chance that I've fallen in love with you? That would be pretty ghastly."

Merry caught her breath and anger stiffened her.

"Pretty ghastly and too silly for words," she told him sharply.

Another street lamp, as they slid by it, showed her his face, still grim and set.

"Funny. I can't recall ever feeling this way before." His voice was dry. "Well, I guess we might as well face it, Merry. I'm afraid this is love. Meet me at City Hall and we'll take the usual steps."

Merry was suddenly crazily, unreasonably angry.

"It would serve you right if I held you to that!" she snapped at him.

He stared at her, his eyebrows raised.

"But why should you have to hold me to it? I'm a man of my word, a gentleman of honor. I don't go around proposing matrimony unless I mean it."

THE TAXI had slid to a stop in front of the Sutton Place apartment and Merry was fumbling with the door, which just then swung open beneath the taxi driver's hand. Merry almost spiller her flustered, indignant young self out on the sidewalk.

"Hi, wait a minute—City Hall, at noon," protested Mike, following her to the steps.

She turned there and straightened, her eyes severe.

"Mike Channing, stop this silliness. You're tired, and you haven't the faintest idea what you're saying. Run along home and get some sleep. And don't be a dope."

"I resent that," said Mike stiffly. "When I propose to a girl the least I expect in return is a sensible answer."

"Then — no, thank you very much, Mr. Channing, but I'm not interested."

But before she could slip away from him, Mike's arms shot out, caught her close, held her tightly in spite of her instinctive struggle, and he kissed her hard. It was a half urgent, half angry kiss that was calculated to assert his masculine domination of the scene as much as his burning passion. And when he let her go at last, he was quite white beneath his sun-bronze and his eyes were blazing.

For a moment he stood still, staring down at her, his eyes wide and startled, and then he said under his breath, shocked, appalled, "Well, I'll be blowed!"

The next moment he had whipped away from her and into the taxi, and the taxi had swung into the street. For a stunned moment Merry continued to stand very still there on the apartment house steps in the thick, chill darkness of the house before dawn....

Looking At Life - - By Erich Brandeis

"GOSH darn those household bills," I said to my wife as I sat at my desk making out the month's checks

"Imagine, 474 gallons of oil in one month, and oil at 12½ cents a gallon.

"Imagine seven dollars a week for the cleaning woman, and $1 an hour for a handy man.

BRANDEIS

"Why it costs a fortune to keep house nowadays."

My wife didn't say anything.

She just handed me the morning paper and showed me an article telling about the lease of the 60-room Andrew Carnegie home to the New York School of Social Research.

The article gave a lengthy description of the steel king's home and certainly made me shut up.

It told how Mrs. Carnegie used to entertain 600 guests at some of her parties. It told of the drawing rooms, dining and breakfast rooms, and conservatory that took up almost an entire block front.

It told of the giant library and private study in which the furniture and doors were made specially to suit Mr. Carnegie's small stature.

This giant of industry apparently had enough of an inferiority complex not to want doors and desks and chairs that would emphasize his smallness.

In the upper part of the five story building there were bedrooms as large as many modern apartments, a billiard room, a private library paneled entirely in teakwood.

There were five elevators, and quarters for the 30 servants who once staffed the house.

The sub-basement, located 30 feet below the street level, looks like the engine room of an ocean liner.

The furnace consumed a ton and a half of coal a winter day, and the coal was carried to them from a 200-ton bunker in a regulation mine car, complete with tracks and turntable.

ACCORDING to Alexander Morrison, who started with the Carnegie family 44 years ago as house boy and rose to the position of chief steward, Mr. Carnegie used to buy his Scotch whisky in 50 or 60 gallon casks, and, in the wine room, there are still compartments labeled "Sparkling Mosell," "Sherry," "Champagne" and "Rhine Wine." But the compartments are empty and the wine is flowing no longer.

I read the article and handed the paper back to my wife.

"What did you say our oil bill was last month?" she asked sweetly.

I did not answer.

But one of these days I am going to talk to Mrs. Roswell Miller, the Carnegie's only child.

Mrs. Miller does not live in that big mansion any more. She hasn't for years. She lives in a country place in New York State.

I know that mansion in New York City was her father's dream house. He dreamed it when he was a poor Scotch immigrant.

I am going ask Mrs. Miller whether that magnificent house was really a dream-come-true or just a magnificent nightmare.

CIVIL RIGHTS PLAN

Shift In Population

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—President Truman's advocacy of the extreme Civil Rights program and philosophy incorporated in the Philadelphia platform by Senator Hubert Humprey of Minnesota over Administration protests has lifted the lid on a Pandora's box of political problems that endangers enactment of his legislative schedule.

Here are a few developments under way or in the offing that dismay his Democratic leaders on Capitol Hill:

TUCKER

(1). Only a few days after the Georgia Legislature formally commended him and Senator Walter F. George for their fight on anti-segregation proposals, Senator Richard B. Russell introduced a measure as revolutionary as Abraham Lincoln's pre-Civil War idea of deporting all negroes in the United States to Liberia.

NON-SEGREGATION: (2). Extreme advocates of the White House demand for federal aid to schools, hospitals and housing, as well as sly enemies of these alleged "socialistic" development, will propose at the opportune moment that there shall be no segregation in any such project financed in whole or in part by federal funds.

Despite the desire of Chicago politicians to cater to the tremendous colored vote in the Windy City, the suggestion of a non-segregation clause in a public housing bill there has held up passage, and led to fierce political exchanges. Oddly enough, the Civil Righters shy away from supporting a far-reaching principle of non-segregation.

SOLUTION: Although serious and studious Senator Russell may have spoken with a Southern tongue in his cheek, he did not crack a smile when he urged that northern, western and far western states show their sincerity for solution of the racial problem by absorbing about 4,000,000 of the 9,000,000 negroes who now live in the eleven Southern commonwealths.

He noted first that the people in states with a small colored population are far more "liberal and aggressive" in their efforts to change the "pattern of life" which prevails below the Mason and Dixon line. They do not have to face the problems, he continued, which confront people where the negroes outnumber or equal the white population.

Therefore, he proposes creation of a Volunteer Racial Relocation Commission, which shall try to redistribute white and black population. Negroes leaving the South for other sections, his bill provides, must be assured of a better job and improved living conditions.

Corporations which hire them at higher pay than they had received before emigration would be entitled to borrow $10,000 for each employee from the federal government.

MIGRATION: Here is the sort of migration, as well as the changes in the social, economic and political structure of the U.S., which Senator Russell envisages if the white and black races were equitably distributed under his proposed legislation. (He does not, of course, expect it to work out with mathematical exactness.)

Negroes would move from Southern states as follows: From Alabama, 700,000; Arkansas, 287,000; Florida, 324,000; Georgia, 772,000; Louisiana, 600,000; Maryland, 120,000; Mississippi, 850,000; North Carolina, 620,000; South Carolina, 624,000; Tennessee, 217,000; Texas, 282,000; Virginia, 393,000.

Other states would have the following influx of colored people: California, 566,000; Colorado, 100,000; Connecticut, 137,000; Illinois, 402,000; Indiana, 220,000; Iowa, 237,000; Massachusetts, 375,000; Michigan, 317,000; Minnesota, 269,000; Missouri, 134,000; Nebraska, 117,000; New Jersey, 189,000; New York, 776,900; Ohio, 351,000; Pennsylvania, 519,000; Washington, 160,000; Wisconsin, 301,000.

SCRAPPED: Organized labor has won its initial skirmishes with the White House over the kind of labor and housing legislation which President Truman will try to force through Congress.

When it appeared that Capitol Hill leaders, especially in the Senate, planned to give thorough and extended consideration to a substitute Taft-Hartley Act, President Truman sent orders to Majority Leader Lucas and his assistant, Senator Francis J. Myers of Pennsylvania, that this program be scrapped. They obeyed almost obsequiously.

"PERSUADED": Although Chairman Elbert D. Thomas of the Senate Labor committee had openly urged hearings extending through March, he agreed to terminate them on February 10. Not a clever prevaricator, he admitted that he had been "persuaded" to change his mind.

Although Majority Leader Lucas voted for the T-H Act, and still favors retention of its main provisions, he fell in line with Mr. Truman's wishes. He agreed to back the more elaborate program.

Similarly, with housing. The White House was at first willing to accept a compromise calling for construction of 500,000 or 600,000 low-cost units in five years, despite Mr. Truman's inaugural demand for 1,050,000. But when the labor bosses insisted on the larger number, he bowed to their demands.

"We must keep our pledges," explained President Truman."

LAWYERS: "What is your opinion of the Democrats' action in packing the House committee on Un-American Activities with lawyers?" queries R.F.C. of Chicago, Ill.

Answer: Although a reform in the conduct and procedure of this committee was necessary, I am not sympathetic toward the idea of loading down this or any other Congressional committee with lawyers. Too often they lack imagination, and are inclined to be so legalistic that they miss the main points. At least one layman with a broad, general viewpoint should have been kept on this body.

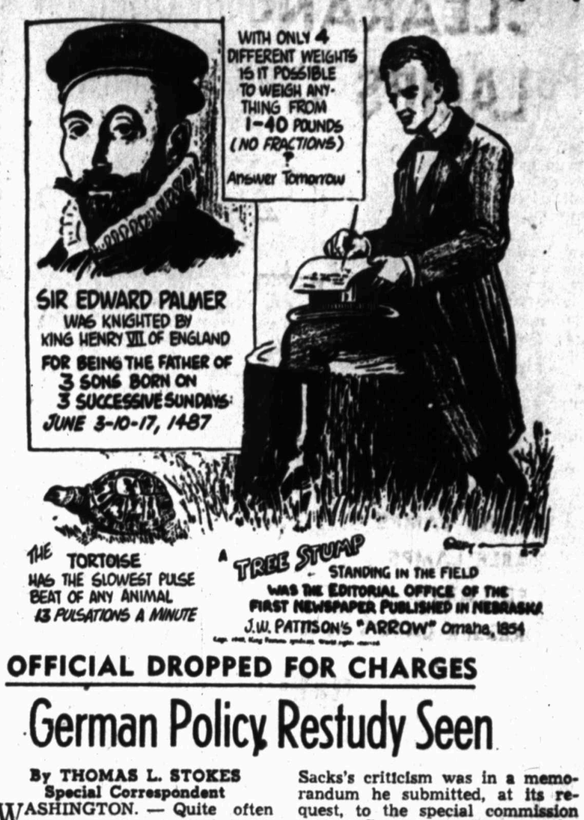

In fact, I think there are altogether too many lawyers in public life here and throughout the country. And too many pettifogging holders of an LL.B., who could not earn a living at their profession. For instance, there are sixty-six in the present Senate, and 235 in the House—a majority in each chamber.

PREDOMINANCE: Their predominance may explain why laws and regulations are so written that only a lawyer can understand or interpret them. It would save the American people a lot of time and money if the statutes were written in plain, precise English.

Last, if this precedent is followed, why not name nobody but professors to the Committee on Education, nobody but farmers to Agriculture, nobody but veterans to Armed Services etc. Any why, in view of this action, should "Andy" Somers of Brooklyn head the House Committee on Public Lands?

OFFICIAL DROPPED FOR CHARGES

German Policy Restudy Seen

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON. — Quite often the story of a single individual pitted against the system on a matter that he considers one of principle throws light on what goes on in the system, whether it be government, business or whatnot, and sometimes leads to necessary changes in basic policy.

That is, if a fellow dares to stick his neck out and take the consequences.

Such seems to be offered in the case of Alexander Sacks, a New York lawyer who has been on the staff of the decartelization branch of American military government in Germany for a year and a half. He first was suspended, as revealed by this reporter some time ago, and now he has been "separated" or dismissed or plain "fired," because of his criticism of William H. Draper, now Under Secretary of the Army and formerly chief of the Economics Division of Military government in Germany, and other officials whom he accused of hampering the program designed to break up the big German cartels or monopolies that supplied the Nazi war machine.

Friends of Mr. Sacks, who formerly was employed in the justice department's anti-trust division and other government agencies, have rallied to his defense, and Wendell Berge, formerly chief of the anti-trust division, no wa lawyer in private practice here, has taken his case as counsel before the War department.

The suspension order, effective January 10 and signed by General Charles Gailey, chief of staff of the Office of Military government for the United States in Germany, charged Mr. Sacks with "making statements attacking the integrity and good faith of the Under Secretary of the Army." The separation order, signed January 20 and effective January 29, broadens this to include attacks by Mr. Sacks also on the "good faith and integrity" of other "key U. S. military government officials charged with the formulation of policy and the implementation of the decartelization program in the U. S. zone of Germany." It was signed by John H. Tromer, chief of the civilian personnel branch. A hearing has been set in a so-called "grievance" case for February 10.

There is one circumstance of this case which, in the opinion of Mr. Berge, carries it beyond Mr. Sacks and his own actions into the larger field of public policy. Mr. Sacks's criticism was in a memorandum he submitted, at its request, to the special commission sent to Germany in December by Secretary of the Army, Kenneth Royall, to investigate the decartelization program as a result of a mass of documentary material he had received designed to show that the decartelization policy was not being carried out efficiently and enforced.

The whole record of the commission's investigation in Germany, including Mr. Sack's memorandum, was turned over to Lawrence Wilkinson, economic adviser to General Lucius D. Clay, American military governor in Germany, by Garland S. Ferguson, federal trade commission member and chairman of the special commission. He remained behind in Germany after the return home of the other two members of the commission—Samuel S. Isseks, New York lawyer, formerly in charge of the anti-trust division's New York office, and Arthur Kearney, Chicago business management expert. Mr. Wilkinson was included in Mr. Sack's criticism.

Seeks U. S. Hearing

Mr. Berge said such procedure strikes at the integrity of the investigating process and he asked how any investigation of any kind would be possible if witnesses are going to be intimidated in such a manner.

His aim is to have the hearing moved to the United States on the ground that a proceeding in Germany would be a "star-chamber" proceeding. Furthermore, many of the witnesses he would like to call include people now in this country, some of whom formerly were attached to the decartelization branch and left it after General Clay's order last March exempting heavy industry from decartelization. Mr. Sacks was one of 19 members of the decartelization branch staff who signed a protest at that time to General Clay that the order virtually repealed the decartelization act.

"The friends of Alexander Sacks are going to fight," Mr. Berge said.

Mr. Sacks's charges were, indeed, sweeping and scathing. He said bluntly that "no decartelization program has even been put into effect and practice" and that "the policy of the Roosevelt and Truman administrations had been flagrantly disregarded by the very individuals who were charged with the highest responsibility for carrying them out," among others strongly worded assertions.

The Royall commission's record and report have been requested by Senator Kilgore (D., W. Va.) who previously directed an investigation of cartels by a special Senate committee, and is thoroughly informed on the subject of cartels.
