Dodson Farm Meeting Called Thursday Night

Farmers throughout the Dodson area are urged to attend an open meeting of the Veterans Vocational School Thursday night, Feb. 8, at 7:00 p. m., when John Coleman, county co-ordinator, and J. W. Thomas, county agent, will be the guest speakers.

Mr. Thomas will show slides of a variety of farm demonstrations carried on in Collingsworth County. These give visible proof of what soil conserving practices can do for crops, since part of these show fields in which crops on which conservation methods were used lie idle to those farmed in the usual way. These are from Mr. Thomas slide library.

Mr. Coleman will discuss "Bees on the Farm." He will give practical pointers on bee keeping, and explain why Collingsworth County is well adapted for that farm industry.

The meeting opens 7:00 p. m. and will be held at the barracks at the Dodson School. Billy J. Pegram is the veterans vocational instructor, and the class has approximately 25 members.

Rev. Quarterman Church Speaker

The Right Rev. George Quarterman of Amarillo, Bishop of the Episcopal Church of North Texas, will hold services at St. Michael's Episcopal Church on South Madison Street, Shamrock, Sunday morning, February 11, at 11:00 a. m.

Visitors and friends from the Wellington area are cordially invited. Mrs. Allen I. Smith, a member of St. Michael's, said this week.

One of the older Episcopal churches of the area, St. Michael's was rebuilt last year, with most of the work done by members and friends of the congregation, and with much of the lumber from the old church going into the new building. It is one of the most attractive of the smaller churches of the lower Panhandle.

St. Michael's has been without a rector for much of the last year, but services are held each Sunday under the direction of a lay leader.

The child was born Tuesday, January 31.

Surviving are the parents and grandparents, Mrs. Clara Olinghouse of Stillwell, Oklahoma, and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Kester of Erick, Oklahoma.

Miss Texas of Wellington A Standard Of Porcine Beauty, Breeders Agree

A Duroc sow that was all a sow should be won publicity for Collingsworth County at the Texas Duroc Breeders Association Type Conference held in Dallas, where she was shown by her owner. She was Miss Texas, owned and exhibited by D. T. Lowrie of Wellington. Nine months old, she was one of two Mr. Lowrie sold to a Bosque County breeder in the auction which followed the conference. Of her, The Dallas News had this to say on the front page of its Sunday Business Section:

"You can't make a silk purse out of a sow's ear, the poet fellow remarked, but he probably was wrong. At least, you can get a silk purse out of practically any other part of a sow."

"For the sow is rapidly changing standards of beauty in the world. Poets used to speak of beauty in terms of Helen of Troy or Greta Garbo."

"But the average human body is only worth about 23c. Practically any square inch of Miss Texas is worth that much. Bacon was up to 69 cents a pound, and bacon is only a tiny part of Miss Texas' worth."

"Beauty is as beauty does, as they say, and in this material age, it is the dollar that counts. Miss Texas weighs around 450 pounds. Alive on the auction block, she probably is worth from $150 to $200. Dead, in the grocery store, she is worth a sight more."

"Notice her grace of symmetry, the elfin aspect of her face, the Mona Lisa smile. 'Salute queen!'"

Wellington Boy Scouts Observe 41st Anniversary This Week

JOHN POUND

This week Wellington salutes its Boy Scouts, who with other scouts throughout the nation are observing the 41st anniversary of their organization's founding.

Boy Scout Week also marks the setting up of the Explorer Scouts as a separate post. Until now they have operated independently, but were still connected with Boy Scout Troop 32.

Highlight of Boy Scout Week will be the open house Thursday night at the Methodist Church by the new Explorer Post. On Sunday, the Boy Scouts of Troop 32 will attend services at the First Christian Church in a body. Throughout this week, Scouts are wearing their uniforms, both for school and dress occasions.

Wellington has three groups of Scouts: Explorer Post 32, sponsored by the Methodist Church; Scout Troop 32, sponsored by the Rotary Club; and Cub Pack 31, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club.

The Explorer Post Open House is for all youths of the county 14 years of age and over who are interested in Scouting. The event will be held in the basement of the Methodist Church and will begin at 7:30 p. m.

Information on Explorer Scouting, what it is, what Explorers do and how they do it will be given by John Pound, Field Scout Executive for the southern district of the Adobe Walls Council. Colored movies will be shown of the Canoe Trip in Canada by Explorers of the Adobe Walls Council in the summers of 1949 and 1950. Future activities of the post will be outlined.

Frank Jones, senior crew leader of the post, will be in charge of the meeting.

Refreshments will be served. Henry Sullivan is Post advisor. John Forbis is institutional representative, while Lester Smith is chairman of the Post committee, and John Glasscock and Lawrence Warrick are the members. More than 40 prospective members have been contacted personally by the 10 present members and invited to join. Previous Scouting membership is not necessary.

One of the first activities of the troop will be a party Saturday, February 17, limited to members and those boys who attend the Explorer Open House.

Plans will be made for participating in the Explorer Bivouac at the end of March, and the vocational experience trip to the Amarillo Weather Station at the Amarillo Air Terminal.

Several personalities stand out in Wellington Scouting.

Leading this group is Sandy Parsons Jr., Scoutmaster for Troop 32 for 12 years. One year before that he was on the Rotary Club's Boy Scout committee. During that time, more than 400 boys have passed through Scouting in Wellington.

Miss Kallir Here February 15

Youth, Beauty, Talent Seen in Concert Artist

Lilian Kallir, young and beautiful pianist, who will appear here on Thursday, February 15, at the High School Auditorium at 7:30 p. m., although still in her teens, has already made a name for herself in the world of music.

A native of Prague, Lilian came to this country with her parents at the outbreak of the war and immediately resumed her general and musical education, which had been interrupted by a year of wandering through the war-torn European countries.

Settling in New York, Lilian began to study with the late Herman de Grab, first privately and later under a scholarship at the Mannes Music School. Young Lilian worked hard, dividing her time between music and academic studies, and subsequently entered the Sarah Lawrence College at Bronxville, New York.

Lilian Kallir appeared in many solo recitals, in radio programs and with chamber music ensembles. She also made numerous appearances as soloist with orchestra, including the New York Philharmonic at the opening night of the Carnegie Pops, the Waterbury Symphony, the Little Falls Symphony and the Wheeling Symphony.

Possessing a personality fully equaling her great musical gifts, Lilian Kallir has won high praise and enthusiastic acclaim for her extraordinary talent and has a

They'll Trade Your Socks Right Off Of Your Feet

A story of something new in trading is going the rounds in Wellington. The participants are mums, but their friends who saw it tell it this way:

J. B. Stevenson and J. W. Chapman were discussing trades in Cicero Gully's barber shop recently when the former remarked, "I'll trade socks with you."

Mr. Chapman thought a minute.

"I'll trade." Both men started pulling off their shoes.

"I'd better warn you, one of my socks has a hole in it," Mr. Chapman cautioned.

"Well, I still won't be the loser," replied Mr. Stevenson. The exchange took place and each man went on his way owner of a different pair of socks.

Father of Mrs. Pruden Dies

James Thomas Kelley of Eldorado, Oklahoma, the father of Mrs. Fleet Pruden of Wellington, died at his home Wednesday, January 31. The 81-year-old pioneer of that section had been ill since Thanksgiving, although he was able to be up part of the time. He was critically ill only a short time before his death.

Mr. Kelley was a retired farmer and carpenter. He had visited his daughter here many times, and three of his four children have been Wellington residents.

Mr. Kelley was born in Merriam, Mo., and when he was a youth, he came with his parents to Texas, living in Collin County for a short time, then moving on to the Eldorado area, in the Indian Territory at that time.

Coronation of the Mardi Gras queen, Miss Jo Ann Vitasek, of Our Lady of Victory College by Mayor Edgar Deen, and presentation of the 14 princesses including Miss Hartman, from the schools of the city, highlighted the celebration. Gilbert Bartosh, TCU football star, presided as King.

Miss Hartman's escort was James Weaver.

Dorothy Malone, movie actress, was presented to the 7,000 spectators as "Queen from the Land of Cinema."

Ted Weems and his orchestra provided music for the event.

Little Boys Matched

ROCKETS FACE SOME OF KEENEST COMPETITION WITH LEFORS FRI.

Skyrocket boxers will meet the Lefors Pirates in a match here Friday night at 8:00 p. m., in what Coach John Lee predicts will produce some of the best fights of the entire season.

"Lefors has the best little boys of any team we have met this year, and it will give our smaller youngsters an opportunity for the action they have been wanting all season, Coach Lee said."

In some of the bouts already matched, Dan Jamerson will fight Newsome, one of the Lefors better men in the 155 pound class. Newsome is remembered here as one of the district's outstanding football player.

For the Friday fight, Lefors, with Wellington's permission, is borrowing Wilhelm of Pampa, the boy who won the 195 pound regional golden glove fight from Gene Baird. The two boys will meet again in the Wellington ring, and Baird's fans are guessing that he'll win this time. Wilhelm went on to win the Amarillo Golden Glove championship in his weight.

One of the hardest fights will be that between Gary Phillips and the youth he fought in the Lefors tournament. Remaining Rocket fighters matched are Smoky Savage, 70 pounds; Don Hood, 75; and Jameson 80 pounds.

"We are anxious to have the fans out for these fights. There'll be plenty of thrills, from the smallest chaps up to the big boys. They'll be fighting hard and they need your support," Coach Lee said.

PMA Handbooks Sent to Farmers

The 1951 PMA Handbooks were distributed during the week end by the Wellington office staff, describing this year's agricultural conservation program for the county.

The handbooks were mailed to all farm owners and operators in the county.

The approved practices on which county farmers may draw money are erosion control through terracing, construction of diversion terraces, subsoiling, leaving stubble on the land, deep plowing, and construction of earthen dams; and addition of mineral elements through the application of potash and phosphate; planting cover crops such as winter legumes, turning under or leaving on the land winter rye; and range and pasture improvement through the control of sagebrush by mechanical or chemical treatment; establishing or improving permanent pastures by seeding grasses.

The handbooks were printed by The Wellington Leader, and were distributed to the farmers through the courtesy of a group of earth-moving contractors, truckers, farmers and business men. This group includes:

Shall We Lower the School age

The recent proposal that the age for Texas children entering school be lowered to five years, rather than the present six years, should receive much careful thought and consideration by parents and not only by parents, but by every person interested in education.

Some years back the age of a child to start to school in Texas was lowered from the traditional seven years to six years, and an additional grade added to the school system. While many persons felt this in itself was a mistake, it did bring the Texas system of grading in line with that of a large number of other states.

But the five year proposal is something else again.

Both teachers and parents are aware that a five-year-old child is still a baby, and by far the majority of these youngsters aren't ready yet to begin the process of learning. Many persons still believe it is better that be delayed until the child is seven years of age.

The Wellington Leader, along with many others, is of the firm opinion that a five-year-old needs to be at home with his mother and have the attention that only a mother can give him.

Aside from the fact that a five-year-old isn't ready to begin learning and needs to be at home, there are the complications that arise to a school system that is already overrun with problems. It will mean that these little folk will begin studying arithmetic and other subjects at an age when their minds are too young for it, or else the schools will have to revamp their teaching to give it the present equivalent of kindergarten. Again, there is the problem of overcrowded schools.

At the other end of the scale, unless a thirteenth grade is added it will mean that the school will be turning out graduates who are too young to know what they want to prepare themselves for. That is a currently common complaint.

Probably the most cinching argument is the attitude of those parents who themselves started to school at five years of age. By far the majority of them prefer to have their own children start to school at a later date.

English and Spelling Again

Recently a group of Wellington parents sat down and took a critical look at the school system and made some recommendations that will receive further study. Since some of the criticism was directed at the failure of high school students to learn such elemental things as English and spelling, Wellington parents will be interested in a step the Denver, Colorado, schools did about this very problem.

Now the Denver School System, by the modern methods of measuring such things, is supposed to be right up at the top in education. It teaches everything from sewing to sociology in includes "general education" classes that cover such things as driving, family living and health.

In spite of this, some Denver parents have made that familiar complaint that their children just can't read and write as well as they should.

Time Magazine reports that to settle this, Denver school men gave 4,672 of the high-school students a series of tests to find out just how much of these subjects the boys and girls did know.

And the school men had to admit that to an extent the parents knew what they were talking about. In math, the pupils scored three points below the national average; in spelling they were little better; and almost all the students were weak in grammar.

Superintendent Kenneth Oberholtzer, regarded as one of the leading school men in the nation, said that from now on, Denver students will take twice as much English as formerly, and more math and U. S. History. As for the required classes of "general education," they are taking a back seat.

Fighting Hearts

That El Paso schoolteacher got at the heart of true education in her talk to Dallas Kiwanians the other day. It is not mere book learning or the snaring of a college degree, according to Dr. Lucinda Templin, head of the Radford School for Girls. The goal to keep uppermost in mind is character. That means the development of moral as well as mental and physical fiber in your child that can stand up to the wear and tear of modern life.

Perhaps most of our educators agree with Dr. Templin. The trouble, as she points out, is that too many parents do not grasp this fundamental fact. Too often they pamper the child in the home. At the same time the child's elders do not always supply an example of scrupulous honesty and integrity. Yet such an example has far more weight with the growing child than all the lessons in his books. The fact that college students will cheat to pass their exams is one of the blackest indictments of the older generation.

Dr. Templin could not pick a better time to call us back to our senses. This cushioning of the child, this lack of common sense disciplining in the home, does not make for the youngster's happiness in the long run. It does not develop a "fighting heart," the one sure safeguard on the sea of adversity. We have need of more reliance on Dr. Templin's old-fashioned doctrine.

Rockets Defeat Quail, Lose to Lelia Lake

The Wellington Skyrockets had two of their tightest games of the season during the past week, defeating the Quail Quails by one point, 28 to 27, and losing to the Lelia Lake boys by two points, 42 to 40, Coach Maxey McKnight reported.

The Rockets took an early lead in their contest with Quail, and the score stood 10 to 2 at the end of the first quarter. By the half the margin had narrowed to 16 to 13. Quail took the lead during the last few minutes of the game, but the Rockets managed to scramble back to their lead position by one point when the game ended.

Jesse Young of the Quails led the scoring with 9 points, while three rockets and a Quail came next with eight points each, Hoot Gibson, Tommy Wood, Seldon Wood, Wellington, and Jasper Peoples, Quail.

For the Rockets, Bobby Tinney and Irby Stout scored two points each, while George Stephens added 6 points for the Quails and Neeley four points.

It was a one-man team from Lelia Lake that beat the Rockets, Wilkinson, who scored 26 points during the game, most of them long shots from the outside.

The Rockets took the lead during the first part of the game, and at half time the Wellington boys led 26 to 18, with Wilkinson accounting for only 12 points at that time. Other Lelia Lake scorers were White, 8; Williams, 5; Ayers, two and Monk one, Hoot Gibson was high scorer for the Rockets with 11 points, McCutchen and Stout accounted for nine each; Tommy Wood 6 and Seldon Wood 5.

So far this season, the Rockets have won six games and lost nine. Coach McKnight isn't disappointed, however. He started the season with practically no experienced material, and set out to build basketball as a major sport after it had received only casual attention in the athletic set-up of the school for a number of years.

Results of the games played so far include:

Wellington, 19, Samnorwood 35.
Rockets 24, Quail 31.
Rockets 32, Clarendon 30.
Rockets 39, Groom 49.
Rockets 12, Clarendon 45.
Rockets 31, Shamrock, 49.
Rockets 27, Quanah 65.
Rockets 44, Childress B Team 23.
Rockets 23, Hollis, Okla., 53.
Rockets 37, Quail 35.
Rockets 33, Quail 31.
Rockets 30, Memphis 50.
Rockets 27, Lakeview 26.
Rockets 41, Shamrock 40.
Rockets 26, Lelia Lake 28.

The Rockets and Rockettes will take part in the district tournament to be played February 15, 16 and 17 at McLean. The boys will play a double elimination tournament and the girls a single elimination tournament.

Nine Suits Filed In District Court

Nine suits were filed in the 100th district court during January, Mrs. O. E. Dodson, district clerk, reported this week.

Five of these were suits for divorce; one was a suit for trespass to try title for damage; one asking a declaratory judgement; one petition to declare dependent and neglected children; and one damage suit.

Almanac information: Thursday, February 8, the sun will rise at 6:50 and set at 5:39. The full moon will come on February 21. A good night for courting. Stormy weather by the time you read this. Most likely time for rain in the month is February 19.

Edgar Wischkaemper was in to renew his paper and like hundreds of others wanted to know when it will rain. He has plowed up 200 acres of wheat and is watching his last 100 acres. If we do not get some good moisture by the latter part of February, my guess is that it will be the latter part of April or May before we get good rains.

The first meeting of the Civil Air Defense of this area will be held at the High School building at 7 p.m. Friday, February 9. Every one interested is invited to attend the meeting Friday night. Fifty-one adults are needed to make up a squadron.

Went over to see Pink Sullivan last Sunday evening and got into a heated argument with his daughter Patricia, who is now Mrs. Vernon Ratzlow of Borger. She was trying to defend this business of sending five-year old children to school. It is a lousy idea from the standpoint of the children. I told her that it was cooked up by lazy young mothers who did not want to take the time to give the proper attention to their children. And that is what it is folks. I speak from personal experience and from observing the effects on other children who were started to school at too early an age.

The reason I write this is that there is a serious effort being made at the present time to get a law passed forcing schools to take children at the age of five. Every able educator will tell you that it is fallacy.

Furthermore there is a financial angle to the matter of sending five year old children to school. It will add an extra burden and thus handicap children who are old enough to go to school and old enough to get the most out of it. Nuts to this idea of sending the five year old children to school. Write your representative Grainger McInaney, Austin; your senator — Grady Hazlewood, Austin; your congressman — Walter Rogers, Washington. To put it mildly, I am not in favor of sending five year old children to school.

Rumors to the contrary, Rev. Howard Jones will continue to make his residence in Wellington. He is not going to a larger pastorate although he was invited. That seems to me to be a blessing for the community.

Jack Gibson appointed one man on a Chamber of Commerce Committee who is working. He is Jimmie Cochran. His job is to promote the reunion of all graduates of Wellington High School at the time of the Old Settlers Reunion next summer. This one thing may be the one that will revitalize the annual event. It may make it exciting, interesting and important. Give Jimmie the help he asks you to give.

Here is part of a letter: "What do you mean, Mr. Wells, by the historic aggression of Russia? Did not that start with the Communist Revolution?" The letter comes from California.

No, good reader. In 1300 Russia was a tiny plot of ground between Europe and Asia, less than the British Isles in size. By 1500 they had expanded to a size about that of all Europe. By 1919 they had taken in all of Siberia. Now they have a much larger area. There is a map in Colliers of February 10 that will give you the idea. Russia has been on the march through the centuries.

SCOPE OF CHIROPRACTIC

It is a mistaken idea that the Chiropractor is of service only in those sicknesses where pain is in the spine. The great majority of human ailments have their origin in the spine even though they are manifest in remote parts of the body. Nor is it a well-founded belief that Chiropractors only care for those cases which are chronic in form and upon which all other methods have failed. He is equally efficient in eliminating the cause of acute conditions; and when one sees an acute condition disappear under the Chiropractor's care, it should be remembered that there is nothing mysterious or unusual in this fact. It is merely the expression of a normal, reasonable law of health upon which Chiropractic is built. Chiropractic stands upon its merits alone. In the past fifty years it has grown from an unknown system to one in which millions have absolute faith because of its achievements built upon the sound foundation of logical reason.

In candlelight council Saturday afternoon, January 26, their charter was presented to the girls of the Tejas Campfire Group. The ceremonial was held in the home of their counselor, Mrs. Clyde Drake.

The girls gathered around a table covered in campfire colors, and on which the campfire symbols were arranged. Centering it was a lighted candle, from which each girl lighted her own candle in honor of an honor bead she had won. As she did so, she recited an appropriate sentence of her own composition.

Officers for the next three months were elected, with Carolyn Joyce Wright as president; Mary Parsons, scribe and treasurer; and Madeline Eikenburg, reporter and corresponding secretary. Mothers of the girls automatically became officers of the Mother's Club, these include Mrs. Gabe Wright, president; Mrs. Sandy Parsons Jr., secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. Frank Eikenburg, reporter and corresponding secretary.

Outgoing Campfire officers are Janet Jones, president; Faye Pope, scribe; Vada Bell, treasurer; Carolyn Couch, reporter; and Francis Drake, corresponding secretary. Retiring officers of the Mother's Club were Mrs. E.K. Jones, Mrs. Frank Pope, Mrs. Paul Bell, Mrs. Orvil Couch; and

Mrs. Clyde Drake.

Mothers of the girls were guests at the Saturday ceremonial.

Service activities have highlighted the girls work since the last ceremonial. During the Christmas holidays, they sang carols at St. Joseph's Hospital, at the homes of each girl's grandparents, and for other friends. At each place a basket of candy, which was given the Campfire Girls by Mrs. A.L. Nowlin, was left.

More recently, the girls helped with arranging the community building for the Osta Concert, sponsored by the Concert Association. After Boy Scouts of the Flying Eagle Patrol of Troop 32 had arranged the chairs in the auditorium, the girls dusted these, and at the concert they gave each guest a program.

"Rocky Mountain blizzards couldn't stop me!"

says JACK W. SEEFELD
3030 Vrain St. Denver 12, Colorado

"The two winters I tested new Conoco Super Motor Oil—as one of a group picked to prove its winter wear-fighting ability—we had the worst weather in years. Blizzards came in on top of blizzards. The temperature went to the bottom and stayed there.

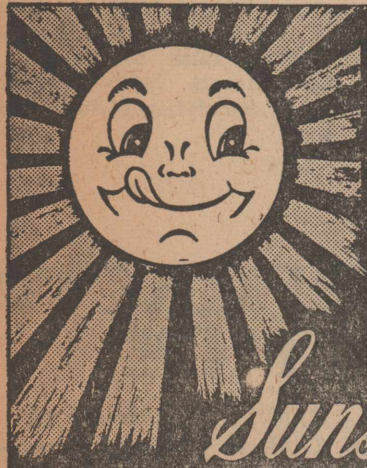

"BUT MY CAR ACTED LIKE IT THOUGHT IT WAS JULY! With new Conoco Super that car performed better than it ever had. At the end of the test, with proper drains and regular care, gasoline mileage was practically as good as at the beginning."

After a total of 386,422 miles, logged by Mr. Seefeld and other winter test drivers, Conoco engineers found no wear of any consequence! Analysis of drains showed this great oil actually stopped the dangerous accumulation of free water and acids, chief causes of winter wear. This test proved that new Conoco Super Motor Oil, with OIL-PLATING, fights off rust, corrosion and sludge. So, change to Conoco Super, now.

SALT FORK

By MRS. R. H. ISBELL

Everyone surely was glad for the cold weather to let up. But guess we were luckier than they were further south of us from the weather reports heard over the radio.

We had Sunday school again Sunday. Not as many were there as should have been. We had missed several Sundays due to sickness and bad weather. Just twenty were present Sunday but we had a very interesting lesson.

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Jayner are back from their trip to Calif., to visit his relatives. They report a grand trip and good luck all the way. Weather conditions were good going and coming back.

Charles Wright spent Saturday night with his grandmother Mrs. G. C. Wright.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Wright were hosts to a few relatives at noon Sunday. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Dee Harris, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gollighugh, Clyde and Jeanette, Mrs. G. C. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Isbell, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Maxwell and boys came in the afternoon.

Little Patsy Isbell was absent from school last week on account of sore eyes.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Isbell and Billy spent Sunday with her sister and family Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Poteet near McLean.

There's a vacant chair in the Wright and Isbell home now. "Our Pop," as Mr. Wright was lovingly called, has moved over yonder.

We're very lonely without him, even our little white dog that loved him so much watches and listens for him all the time.

Our loss though is heaven's gain. We tell the small children that their Pop has gone home when they ask for him.

Mr. and Mrs. V. K. Orr of Wellington and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Guthrie of Childress attended the Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth last week.

World Day of Prayer Observed February 9

Of interest to every one in Wellington and the surrounding territory is the day set aside to observe the World Day of Prayer. Each year a day is designated by the United Council of Church Women as a day of prayer for our less fortunate neighbors, this year to be observed Friday, February 9.

The parlor of the First Methodist Church has been designated as the place of worship, Mrs. Lester L. Hill, chairman of the local arrangements, has announced. The devotional service will begin at 2:00 p.m., with the discussion at 3:00.

Ninety-three countries the world over will be praying with the people of America on this day, February 9, for peace, the close of the Korean conflict, and for our less fortunate neighbors.

Mrs. Lester Smith, program chairman, has asked ladies from the various churches to take parts on the two hour program. Mrs. Archie Gray will direct part of the devotional hour, with Mrs. Hill in charge during the latter part. The discussion hour will consist of talks given by chosen speakers, using the literature furnished by the United Council of Church Women in New York.

"We want to interest every one in Wellington in this day of prayer, so greatly needed at this time. This is the first time the churches of Wellington have attempted to give a combined program of this sort. We extend a most cordial invitation to every one to come and join us in our prayers for a better world," Mrs. Smith concluded.

Wheat Growers Schools Slated In Area Towns

Wheat growers, county agents, and agriculture teachers of this area are being invited to attend wheat production schools to be held at four Panhandle points in March, the Texas Oklahoma Wheat Improvement Association, Oklahoma City, has announced.

These schools will be at Perryton, March 5; Dumas, March 6; Plainview, March 7; and Crowell, March 8.

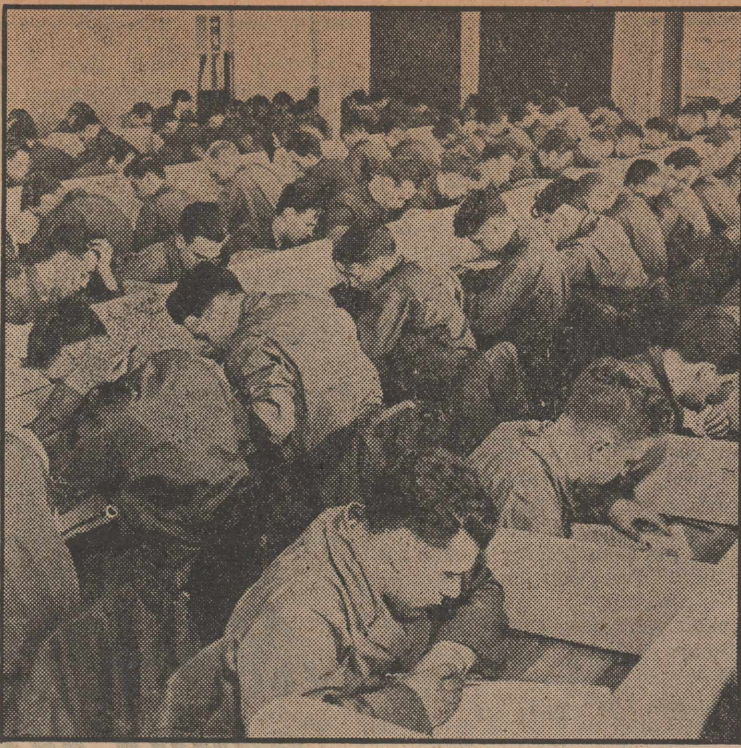

They will be under the direction of the Texas A&M Extension Service in cooperation with the experiment stations and the Wheat Improvement Association. The meetings will include a discussion of variety identification, listing of the recommended varieties for each area, discussion of cultural practices and rotations, seed certification, and insect and disease control, all from the growers' standpoint.

Grain dealers of this section will attend a school to be held in Amarillo February 8 and 9. Only two subjects will be considered: "Kernel Analysis of the Principal Texas Wheat Varieties," with instruction under the supervision of K. E. Soder, director of the Texas-Oklahoma Wheat Improvement Association, and Ed Grandstaff, regional Wheat Marketing Specialist for the Extension Service; and "Handling and Conditioning of Wheat in Storage and How to Prevent Damage." This will be covered by Claude Goodnight, chief inspector of the Amarillo Grain Exchange.

National Guard Completes Study Of Atom Bomb

Second Lieutenant Don Kutch has been added to the staff of officers of the Medical unit of the 142nd Infantry of the National Guard, Capt. Charles Allen, executive officer, said this week.

At the same time, Capt. Allen announced that six young Wellington men have enlisted in the guard, Donald L. Nunnelley, Billy D. Jones, Jackie T. Ward, Harold C. Scott, Edward Glenn Young and Clinton E. Childress.

The total strength is 68 enlisted men and four officers. Major Dale Watkins is the commanding officer.

Close order drill, along with calisthenics and other routine work takes up part of the weekly drill periods. The remainder, however, is devoted to lectures by the officers and men themselves on various subjects relative to the work of a medical company.

Capt. Allen only recently gave a series of six lectures on the atom bomb, stressing both the technical points of its construction, and the results to be expected from its use.

Farm and Ranch Hands Wanting GI Training Needed

John Coleman, co-ordinator for the county Veterans Vocational School, warned this week that as of July 1, 1951, the present GI education regulation is that if a veteran is not in training on that date, he will not have a chance to enroll in a Veterans Vocational School.

"There is a possibility that we may be able to offer a Class B agriculture course to veterans that are employed on farms and ranches that are working for wages. These men have not been eligible for Class A agriculture courses since they did not own or have a farm or ranch leased.

"These men will receive the same training as the ones enrolled in the Class A school. We would like to have the name and address of any man that might be interested in this type of training as soon as possible. We can then present the number from this county to the state office, so they will know if we would be justified in offering this course," Mr. Coleman said.

The More He BREAKS The More He MAKES

Texas motorists, Texas highways and Texas taxpayers should be protected against the ONE PER CENTERS.

ONE PER CENTERS are truck combinations weighing, loaded, 20,000 pounds or more. Only one of every 100 vehicles registered in Texas pays a license fee for 20,000 pounds or more. FEWER than three out of every 1,000 are registered for more than 40,000 pounds.*

Our highways should be SAFE for ALL the people—individuals, commercial users and the military alike.

Texas highway tax dollars should be conserved and used wisely. This can be done

- (1) by limiting the weight (gross load and axle load) that may be transported legally by the ONE PER CENTERS and
- (2) by enforcing the law against those who persist in overloading.

Texas highways are paid for by and belong to ALL THE PEOPLE. Highways adequate for 99% of Texas users—individual and commercial—can be constructed and maintained for about ONE-THIRD of the cost made necessary by the weight of the ONE PER CENTERS.*

PIGG TRACTOR SALES SPONSORS 'SALUTE AMERICAN AGRICULTURE'

Farmers, agricultural and civic leaders are invited to participate in an inspiration program — "We Salute American Agriculture" — which is being presented Friday, February 16, under the sponsorship of Kelly Pigg Tractor Sales. The program will be highlighted by a series of meetings at which the Technicolor motion picture, "Waves of Green," will be exhibited for the first time in this community, Kelly Pigg, owner, announced this week. The meeting will be held at the community building, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

"Waves of Green" tells the story of how American farmers and American farm industries have worked hand-in-hand with scientists and educators of the Nation's land-grant colleges to make this the greatest agricultural nation in the history of mankind. It was produced by Dearborn Motors Corporation as a non-commercial documentary film to pay a mid-century tribute to the men and women who have contributed so much to American agricultural progress since the Morrill Act, establishing land-grant colleges, was enacted in 1862.

"We Salute American Agriculture" programs are planned for farm people and agricultural leaders, and members of community service and civic organizations. Complimentary tickets for reserved seats may be secured by phoning, writing or calling upon Mr. Pigg at Kelly Pigg Tractor Sales, Telephone 228.

Coffee and doughnuts will be served, Mr. Pigg said.

He was married August 6, 1901, to Miss Ida Butler, whose family had come to Eldorado from Kentucky. The couple went to Mangum by wagon for their marriage.

Funeral services for Mr. Kelley were held at the Baptist Church at Eldorado Friday at 3 o'clock, with the Rev. Claude R. Withrow, pastor, officiating.

Mr. Kelley is survived by his wife and four children, Mrs. Pruden of Wellington; Mrs. Ned Stringfellow of Richland Springs; A. L. Kelley of Tucumcari, N. M.; and Eugene Kelley of Richland Springs. Mr. and Mrs. Stringfellow lived here about 26 years ago, and A. L. Kelley, a graduate of Wellington high school, left here about 14 years ago. Six grandchildren and five brothers also survive.

A few months ago, John Pound, Field Scout Executive for the Southern District of the Adobe Walls Council, was transferred from Pampa, where the council is located, to Wellington, to serve Collingsworth, Hall, Donley and Wheeler counties.

Mr. Pound took over this work April 25, 1949, after graduating from the University of Texas in January, 1949, with a BBA degree.

He was a member of Alpha Delta Sigma, national professional advertising fraternity for men, and Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity of former Boy Scouts. He has been a Boy Scout since he was 12 years of age and holds the rank of Life Scout, and Quartermaster Sea Scout, the top rank in that field of Scouting. Mr. Pound was skipper of a Sea Scout troop and Sea Scout Ship No. 43 in Houston, and outfit advisor for Senior Sea Scout Outfit No. 50 in Austin.

Mr. Pound is optimistic over Scouting prospects in Wellington. One new development is the interest in a Negro troop. Leading this work is Prof. W. E. Brown of Booker T. Washington School, and he believes from 20 to 25 boys can be included in the troop.

Present Scouting plans include two bivouacs, one in the spring and the other in the fall, for the Explorers; and Scout Camp activities at Camp Ki-O-Wah, which Wellington Scouts helped to build. Adobe Walls Council Explorers will have an opportunity for another canoe trip to Canada, and there will be at least two Explorer trips to Philmont.

Explorers will have one week at Camp Ki-O-Wah, from May 27 to June 2. Scouts will be there from June 3 to June 30.

Not Enough Men for Quota

AREA DRAFT BOARD DEVELOPS A PUZZLE TO SELECTIVE SERVICE

CHIDRESS—A squabble between the local draft board and Texas Selective Service officials about why Chidress can't meet its draft quota reached the "it is so—no it isn't—yes, it is" stage tonight.

It started yesterday with an announcement by Mrs. Frances Starkey, secretary of the Chidress board which is responsible for five West Texas counties. She said the board couldn't turn up its quota of 36 men for induction today.

In fact, said Mrs. Starkey, the board had "scraped the bottom of the manpower barrel" and managed to locate only 16 eligible men.

Maj. R. B. Hall, in charge of quotas and calls for Texas Selective Service headquarters in Austin, replied today with a denial that any such shortage of manpower existed in the Chidress area. It was only a lag in handling paper work, rather than a lack of manpower, he said.

But from Chidress came an exception to the majors conclusion and a corroboration of Mrs. Starkey's announcement.

It's true Chidress is lagging in paper work, W. I. Hughes, the Chidress board chairman said, but "that's not what's worrying our board. As far as we are concerned, there is definitely a manpower shortage."

Hughes said he was making a public statement despite the fact that he was instructed by telephone from Austin today not to say anything further for public consumption about the situation.

Hughes said he thought people should know what the true picture is. Not only was the local board unable to meet today's quota, Hughes said, but unless something is changed in present draft regulations, Chidress won't meet the next quota either.

There are only 373 19-year-olds now available as potential draftees in the five-county area the Chidress board covers," Hughes said. Of there, most are students or are married, he said.

Hughes said Austin officials told him that other places had missed their quotas, too, and it just hadn't been publicized.

But in Austin, Hall said that he knew of no other board like Chidress. The major added that he would not have known about Chidress "if everybody hadn't got excited about it."

Hall said Texas will meet its January call of 4,140 inductees and "as far as I know, we'll make our February call."

The Chidress draft board is responsible for Cottle, Chidress, Hall, Briscoe and Collingsworth Counties.

Board Chairman Hughes said he had no argument with anybody. "But unless we can draft some 18-year-olds, or some other changes are made in present regulations, we're on our last leg as far as available draftees are concerned."

THIS YEAR GET READY EARLY
SAVE TIME IN THE FIELD... SAVE CROPS... SAVE YOUR MACHINES

5-STAR SERVICE
You know, if a bird hunter had to load, cock and aim after the birds got up, he'd come home with a mighty slim bag. Same way about farming; the man who waits until the day he ought to start plowing to have his tractor and other implements overhauled, is going to get behind right on the start.
Bringing your Farmall to us—we'll get it loaded, cocked and aimed—so all you'll have to do is fire when you get up some morning and find it's time to start to work.
won't be any cheaper later on, if we have any at all. Read your newspapers and be smart, if your present refrigerator isn't good for a lot of years yet.
We price our used stuff so it goes out fast, and we don't have much. One pretty good '38 or somewhere along there Plymouth sedan for $125; one extra good Farmall Regular tractor with power lift, excellent tires, F20 steering gear, all equipment, priced right. And a good 22-36 tractor on rubber, worth twice what we will take for it.
up to now—what will happen later, we don't know. On hand now—one new FARMALL H, one W-9, one FARMALL C.
A few tractor mounted sprayers ON HAND now. We are not taking orders; just selling sprayers and delivering them, as long as we can get them. We have already ordered, and will get part of what we ordered. If you expect to need a sprayer any time this year, see us. We can put one aside for you with a moderate holding payment.
The new 1951 International Harvester refrigerators are here; we can make delivery now. We'll give you a good trade; and you can bet they
