(By Associated Press) METROPOLITAN AIRPORT, LOS ANGELES, June 27.—(AP)—Captain Frank Hawks landed here at 8:23 p. m. Pacific standard time, establishing a new transcontinental non-stop flight record of 19 hours, 16 minutes, 28 seconds from Roosevelt Field, New York.

METROPOLITAN AIRPORT, Los Angeles, Calif., June 27.—(AP)—Captain Frank Hawks' takeoff for his return trip to New York was delayed tonight when mechanics discovered the right streamline cowling of his plane's stabilizer had been cracked in the 19-hour, 16-minute, 28-second flight from New York.

Yest Field, New York. He left New York at 12:11 a. m. today. The plane was checked officially. The previous record, established by the late Capt. C. B. D. Collier and Harry Tucker, was 24 hours, 51 minutes.

Mystery Of Local Robberies Solved As Boys Confess

Three Youths, Arrested At Amarillo, Brought Back By Lubbock Officers; Admit Entering Homes Here

With the apprehension of three youths by the Amarillo police Wednesday night, the mystery which has shrouded the burglarizing of several Lubbock homes in recent months was thought to have been brought to light.

The three boys, who were brought to Lubbock late Thursday by Police Chief John Leonard and Sheriff Wade Hardy, were lodged in jail and charged with burglary filed against them. Two of them gave Lubbock as their home while the other stated that he lived in Levelland. Hearing of the intensive search being made for them they sought to dodge the law but were held up in their flight at Amarillo. News of their capture reached this city Wednesday night and Chief Leonard and Sheriff Hardy went after them Thursday.

A thorough questioning by police brought forth confessions from the prisoners and they admitted entering many homes in this city in the past few weeks. None of the loot was recovered, however, disposal already having been made of it.

One of the boys already in custody a suspended sentence at El Paso for theft.

Chief Leonard made the statement last night that the youngest of the three, 16 years, was an "old customer" of his, having been arrested in the police court off and on for the past two or three years.

Navy Conference Invitation Seen

WASHINGTON, June 27.—(AP)—An invitation by Prime Minister MacDonald to the United States for the latter's participation in a preliminary naval disarmament conference in London was regarded in American government circles tonight as a possible outcome of the five principal naval powers in the British capital.

Although no invitation has been extended to the American government to take part in such a conference and the administration has not been sounded out on the subject, a five power conference during the summer on the political aspect of the naval armament reduction question was looked on as a probability.

Wealthy Manufacturer Takes Stand In $250,000 Breach Of Promise Suit

(By Associated Press) CHICAGO, June 27.—Franklin Hardinge, wealthy manufacturer of oil burners took the stand today in the $250,000 breach of promise suit brought against him by Ann Livingston, formerly divorcee of Tulsa, Okla.

The 62 year old defendant was on the stand only long enough to tell how he came to Chicago from Toronto, Canada, at the age of 21 with $150 and a patent, when court adjourned for the day.

Defence attorneys, in closing cross examination, attempted to make her reveal herself as a "gold digger."

"Don't you remember," asked Attorney John Bussan for the defense, "of being at a New Year's party in 1927 where you

Attorneys For Defendant Change Mind And Order Sheriff Not To Serve Papers On Governor

Physician Misunderstands Question, Conveys Wrong Answer While On Stand; Alienists Disagree

(By Associated Press) SAN ANTONIO, June 27.—After a subpoena summoning Governor Moody as a witness in the sanity hearing of John M. ("Pete") McKenzie, under sentence of death for the murder of Sam Street, chief of San Antonio detectives, had been placed in the hands of the Travis county sheriff for service, McKenzie's attorneys tonight decided against summoning the governor and notified the sheriff not to serve the subpoena.

The governor was asked to bring with him all correspondence and records pertaining to the case, especially letters from doctors, who asked that the death sentence be commuted to life imprisonment.

It was also declared that Dr. C. M. Colham, who testified for the defense today, would be recalled tomorrow to correct a statement he made. Dr. Colham, after leaving the stand, declared he misunderstood a question asked by W. H. Stanton, attorney for the defendant, and that his answer had been the opposite of what he intended to say.

The question as finally asked was: "Do you believe that McKenzie is sane?"

The reply was: "I believe he does."

Questioned in regard to his answer after leaving the stand, Dr. Colham said he did not intend to convey the meaning that he believed McKenzie had the same conception of his "impending doom" as a sane man would have.

R. G. McFarland, utility man at the penitentiary, said he saw McKenzie every day for several weeks and believed him sane.

Dr. D. L. Angiers, prison physician was called by the state, but said he did not have sufficient data on which to base an opinion as to McKenzie's sanity and was excused.

Hennessy Tells Of Dissension In Patronage Probe

Former Coordinator Of 8th Corps Area Is Witness At San Antonio Before U. S. Senate Committee

(By Associated Press) SAN ANTONIO, June 27.—Thirty days after Col. P. J. Hennessy recommended an investigation into the lack of cooperation between federal departments in this area he was informed that he was to be relieved from his post as coordinator of the Eighth Corps area. He testified today at the U. S. senate patronage committee investigation.

Col. Hennessy said that immediately after his appointment as coordinator he began investigating law enforcement. He was informed he declared, that liquor, narcotics and aliens were being smuggled into the United States over the 1,200 miles of Rio Grande border.

Dissension had developed between William A. Whalen, superintendent of the district immigration office in San Antonio, and Roy Campbell, customs collector at Laredo, and the differences increased when the border patrol was established, the witness said.

In September of 1927 he wrote to the U. S. senate patronage committee investigation.

Explosion Of Gas Stove Demolishes Local Dairy Barn

Employee Injured As Blaze Razes Scoggins Dairy Near City; Loss Estimated At About $3,000

Explosion of a gas stove at Scoggins dairy, two miles north of Lubbock, at about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon started a fire which resulted in the complete destruction of a large dairy barn, and which badly burned the left hand of Joe Stewart, employee, who was attempting to extinguish the blaze.

The loss, resulting from the fire, was estimated to be in the neighborhood of $3,000. This was said to be covered by insurance.

A quantity of feed, office, and all dairy equipment, which were housed in the 100 by 40 foot building, were demolished by the blaze. No dairy cattle were in the barn at the time. Stewart was working in the structure at the time of the explosion.

President Hoover Favors Plan To Protect Both Producers And Consumers

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, June 27.—President Hoover favors a sugar tariff that will protect both the producers and consumers, although he has not expressed himself as advocating any particular form of duty.

This statement, first official pronouncement of the president's views since the subject was taken up by congress six months ago, was issued at the White House late today after testimony had been given before a senate finance sub-committee that the chief executive was "much interested in protection for the domestic sugar industry."

Mr. Legge would take the place set aside by the chief executive on advice of farm organizations and heads of agricultural colleges for an outstanding business man.

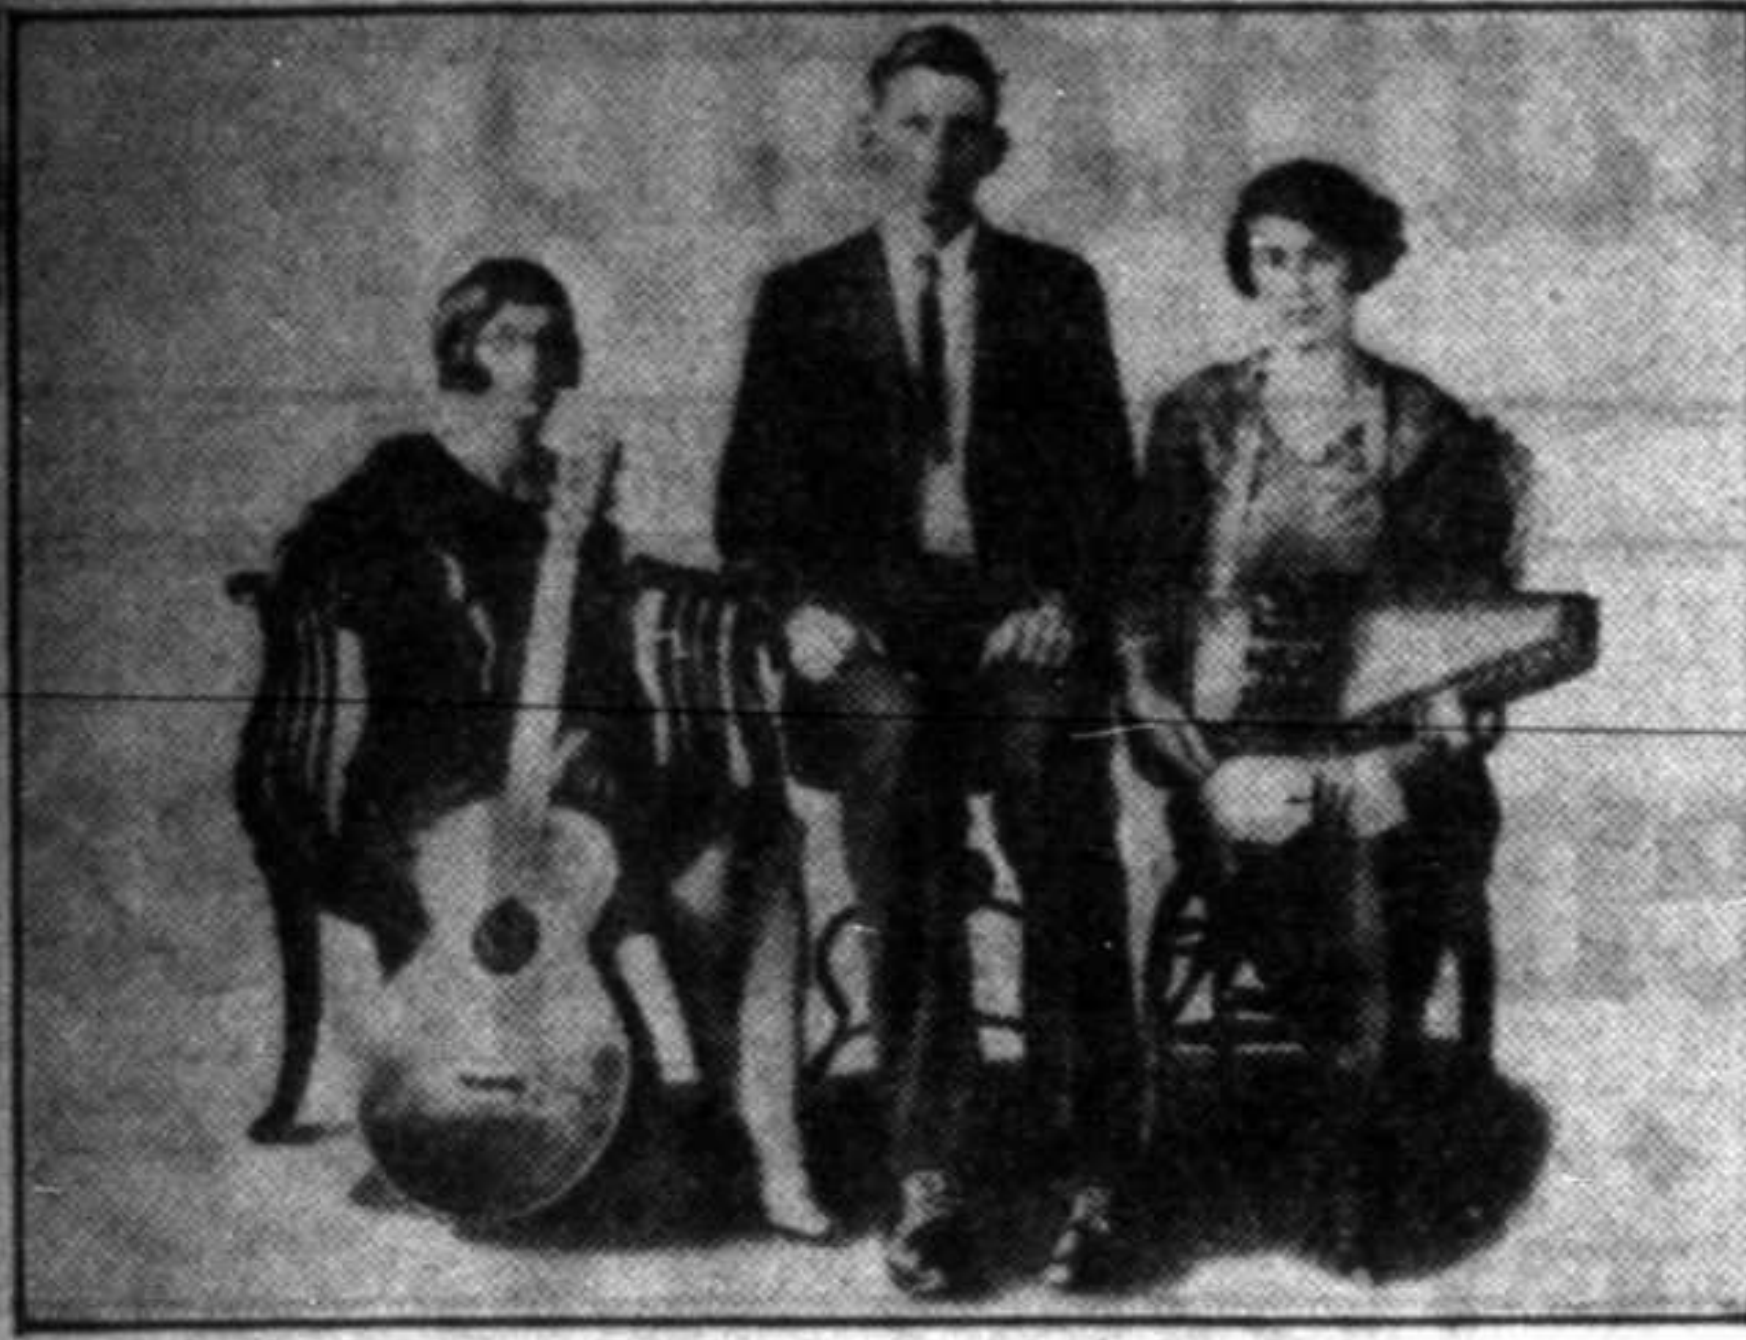

Another whose appointment is regarded as certain is Carl Williams of Oklahoma City, editor of the Oklahoma Farmer-Stockman.

Others on the preferred list are Arthur P. Knapp of Lake Charles, La., who as a banker has had wide experience in financing the exportation of rice.

$66,265 Is Lopped
From State Claims

AUSTIN, June 27. — (AP) — After lopping $66,265 from claims made against the state, represented largely by refunds on illegally collected taxes, the senate today passed a bill allowing $421,873 to cover accounts approved after investigations.

One of the items eliminated at the instance of Senator Tom DeBerry, Bogate, was a claim of heirs of Thomas F. McKinney, Galveston, who was purported to have been due $16,942 from the state for funds advanced when Texas was a republic.

Twenty claims made by farmers of Brewster county who were not allowed to raise cotton in 1928 on account of the pink boll worm quarantine were reduced from $24,096 to $12,448.

Battered Remains of Eighteen-Foot Boat In Which Grocer Crossed Ocean Set Ablaze After Storms

CHARLESTON, S. C., June 27. — (AP) — The beach at Kiawah Island, twenty miles south of here today, held the battered and burned remains of the Aga, eighteen-foot boat in which Paul Muller, Berlin grocer, crossed the Atlantic alone.

Her skipper, safe here after a shipwreck and night of exposure, told the story of the disastrous end of his Hamburg, New York voyage.

Beating his way up the coast from Miami, where he first touched the American shore, Muller ran into storms off the South Carolina coast, late Tuesday.

day. A squall struck the Aga, tore her sail to bits and tossed her on the rocky Kiawah shore.

"The Aga began to break up," said Muller. "So I decided to set her afire as a signal for help. I poured what was left of my lamp's petrol over the decks and touched a match."

When no help came, he related, he began swimming for John Island, seven miles away, where he could see a house. When he had covered part of the distance, Fritz Stogebel, of Charleston, drawn by the fire from Johns Island, picked him up in a rowboat.

FARMER AND HIS WIFE PRAISE IT

"Just Send 'Em To Me About Orgatone For This Medicine Is A Knock-out," Declares W. T. Shelton

East, West, North and South, all over Texas, Orgatone is the talk of the State. People by the thousands are now taking this famous medicine that is creating such a sensation at drug stores and are reporting remarkable results in stored health, strength and energy.

Statements such as the following from W. T. Shelton, of 420 Avenue E, Lubbock, Texas, well known retired farmer, while apparently amazing, are heard on all sides every day. In his statement of the remarkable results his wife has obtained from the use of Orgatone, Mr. Shelton says:

"I would not take $1,000.00 for what the first bottle has done for my wife and she praises it every day and will continue to do so for many a day for it has put her in the best of health again. I tell you after every meal she used to bust up with gas as tight as a drum and have sharp shooting pains through her stomach. It seemed like she couldn't digest a thing she would eat."

"Constipation caused her no end of trouble and she was bothered with biliousness and felt sluggish and tired all the time. Her sleep wasn't any good either and she just felt pretty much 'all in'."

"Well sir, when she began taking Orgatone this medicine lost no time in getting right down to the roots of her troubles, and now it has fixed her up so she can eat whatever she please, and lost of it, without a trace of gas pains, stomach cramps or indigestion afterwards. Everything agrees with her now—she sleeps good, feels good and is in A-1 condition in every way."

"I know dozens of people right here in this town who praise and boost Orgatone like I do and I don't hesitate to recommend this medicine to everybody. Just send 'em to me about it."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a new scientific bile treatment containing no alcohol or other false stimulating drugs and is sold in Lubbock exclusively by the Bowen's Drug Store who are direct laboratory agents. Adv.

No Milk Cows
Dairy Farm Uses
Only Goats

SAN ANTONIO, June 27. (AP) — Some 30 miles from San Antonio there is a dairy farm that hasn't a cow on the place. Its owner gets 30 cents a quart for milk.

The dairy, owned by Mrs. L.

O. Johnson, is just half a mile north of Lytle, Texas, in the San Antonio suburban farms district. The milk is supplied by goats—not cows—by purebred Nubian milk goats. Like Jersey cows they are noted more for the richness of their milk than for the quantity.

Goat milk is used in hospitals for invalids, young children and babies. It is easily digested since the fat globules are but one-fifth as large as those in cow's milk. It requires but 20 minutes for digestion, while cow's milk takes as much as two hours. And the demand exceeds the supply to such a degree that goat milk brings 30 cents a quart in San Antonio.

The sure way to remedy this condition is to restore the red blood-cells to normal.

This is why so many thousands have been enabled to free themselves of these unsightly blemishes and

Republicans Join Anti-Smith Demos

Forces Combine In Virginia In Effort To Take Control Of State From Old Democratic Party

RICHMOND, Va., June 27. (AP)—Virginia republicans have joined forces with the anti-Smith democrats in an effort to take control of the state government from the democratic party.

Dr. William Moseley Brown, 35-year-old professor of psychology, a democrat until the 1928 presidential campaign who asserted he was an "independent" in politics in accepting nominations for governor of fered him by two political conventions within eight days, heads the coalition ticket. Running with Dr. Brown are Walter Dickinson, south-west Virginia farmer and a republican, seeking the lieutenant governorship, and C. C. Berkeley, a Newport News lawyer and anti-Smith democrat, candidate for attorney general.

Brown was nominated by the republicans. C. Bascom Slemp, national committeeman and for a number of years a leader of republicanism in Virginia, in his address to the convention preceding his nomination of Dr. Brown, said "the democratic party has its Smith and its Raskob but no longer has the southern democracy."

The coalition ticket will oppose democratic nominees to be chosen in the democratic primary August 6.

The Woman's Day

By Allene Sumner

Here's a warning to all ladies who call other ladies "cows." None less than the one and only Fannie Ward, perennial flapper herself, is being sued for $50,000 for calling one Mrs. Laura Wilson "a cow."

By the way, have you ever noted the superior vocabulary which it comes to hurling epithets at other women which women have over men? Men do not go in for livestock terms as women do. Women prominently hurl about the word "cow," "old cat," "snake in the grass," etc.

Women are much more apt to use names against other women, anyway, than are men. Probably because male enemies have more of a motive of getting even.

ONE WAY OF GETTING IT

Old age pensions now being discussed by the federal government are one way of forcing offspring to care for their aged parents. The offspring do it through taxation because they must, but they can blind themselves to the spectacle of an aged parent's need if that parent won't invoke the law which says that children must support indigent parents.

One of the queerest streaks of nature is the way parents will fight to support their children while the children in turn never fight for their parents, but are concerned only in their own offspring.

OLD CLOTHES

New York police dragged the rivers the other day for the body of a 12-year-old girl who left a note saying, "I have committed suicide because the shabby hand-down clothes of my older sister which she was forced to wear. The girl was later found. The tale is unique inasmuch as there is any school child left who has to wear shabby clothes."

The general run of things is merely that the parents wear the shabby clothes while the kids run in silk stockings and silk dresses.

VITAL STATISTICS

Man has gained 20 years of life during the last 60 years, and married people live five years longer than unmarried ones. These are some recent facts found by a bureau of German experts studying the statistics of health for the past quarter century.

The only comment to the first part is a wonder what man is doing with his 20 extra years, though the same 20 years which gave him the extra 20 have also given him many more enjoyments for his time.

WHO CARES?

"Housewife" or "housekeeper" is not a fitting title for today's wife, according to Mrs. James J. Storror, chairman of the Massachusetts Better Homes Committee. She suggests "home hostess" or "budget-keeper," which seems awfully trivial.

Have you ever noticed that the very people in the midst, and thick of a job are the very ones who never care so much about their titles and rights, et al., as the ones on the outside observing them? I never heard a hard working wife and mother bother about her title, but I have heard dozens of club women with servants fuss about it.

HOW SHE SUFFERED:

Practical joking to the extent of letting his wife find him on the floor apparently dead, a knife by his side, and red paint spilled all about him, cost Mr. Lemone Higgs of Marion, Ind., a divorce from the wife on whom he played the practical joke. She got it on the grounds of mental anguish.

While the "joke" was a little far-fetched, one wonders that if the Mrs. wasn't sufficiently relieved to find it was only a joke to forgive anything.

City Folks Have Sky Garden

By LILIAN CAMPBELL

People who live in the country have all the fresh air, flowers and sunshine they need, but with city folks it is different. Their homes are often in apartment houses, with no gardens in which they can sun themselves. Gardens in the sky—or nearly so—on top of skyscrapers—are the newest fad for satisfying the deep-seated longing for the "great open spaces."

Bright awnings and vivid wicker furniture add their part to the sky garden picture.

For those who can afford such luxuries, designers plan exquisite formal gardens on top of huge buildings for these city dwellers, depending more on formal ornament than growing things for their picturesque effect. Bronze sculptures, pools, fountains, and colored tile pavements, with potted plants that may be removed and replaced readily, provide a setting that does not require constant care.

Towering 25 stories above New York's mid-town section is the garden pictured, a penthouse terrace, with Edith Parsons' "Piping Pan" as a fountain piece in bronze.

But most sky-garden owners will not be content with purely formal ornament, and will want to have plenty of growing things around. Experience has shown that not only will small plants, grown in pots and boxes, succeed, a great many large shrubs, and even some types of trees, will flourish happily in unbelievably small amounts of earth. Twelve inches of soil is enough for rhododendrons, forsythias and privet, provided it is well fertilized and changed frequently. Wisteria can be induced to cover a wall that begins 15 stories above ground, quite successfully.

Nap Near Mine Is Almost Permanent

Youth Is Tossed About By Series Of Fifteen Blasts After Fellow Workers Stop; Both Legs Broken

PICHER, Okla., June 27. (AP)—A nap in a drift of the number 7 mine of the Evans-Wallower Zinc and Lead Mine, west of here, almost became permanent for Walter Marberry, 22, machinist helper. Awakened late yesterday by the first of a series of 15 blasts set off by his fellow workers had gone off shift, Marberry was tossed about by the succeeding concussions. Both his legs were broken, but he pulled himself to a shaft where he signalled for help.

Buried by Blast.
The first blast buried the youth under a mass of earth and rocks and broke his legs. He dug himself out and sought safety under a ledge from the 14 explosions that he knew would follow. Each blew him from his position of refuge, but he succeeded in dragging himself back each time, although struck repeatedly by showers of rock. Crawling a few feet at a time, he traversed the 1,000 feet to a shaft, where he rang a signal bell which brought two miners to his aid. They took him to the surface and sent him to a hospital.

Charges Stories Of Pro Killings Are Propaganda

Rev. Atticus Webb, Head
Of Anti-Saloon League
Of Texas Says Newspaper
Stories Are Misleading

DALLAS, June 27. (AP)—The Rev. Atticus Webb, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League in Texas, in a statement to the Associated Press said that newspaper stories of "bootleggers" killings by prohibition officers are being "carefully phrased for propaganda purposes."

"In the Congressional Record of June 14, there is a complete list of all prohibition officers killed and all persons killed by them, with a detailed account of the facts of each case," the Rev. Mr. Webb said. "The Rev. Mr. Webb said the stories have made the public believe that these killings were all of 'innocent citizens.' In reporting what Senator Brookhart said upon the Senate floor recently, one agency stated that he was defending the killings of '154 innocent persons.'

Quoted Official Record

"The following facts taken from the Congressional Record will show how 'innocent' they were: Of the 154 killed, 55 were shooting at the federal officers when the officers began to fire, 10 others engaged in shooting with the officers, 32 others pulled their guns first but the officers were better shots, 12 others made attempts on the lives of officers with other instruments than guns. Most of the others were endeavoring to escape. In 149 cases of the 154 the 'innocent' citizen was known to be a bootlegger."

"Among the six innocent parties killed, one was a boy who was near a still when it was being raided, was not seen until after the fight was over, and then found wound 200 yards away. Another, when the officers were chasing a bootlegger, suddenly stepped out from behind a truck in front of the officers' car. The officers had no time to stop before striking him. The third case was not killed by federal officers, but by a man who was plotting the officers to a still, and who ran into another car and killed its driver. A man and his daughter were killed in a boat collision and another was killed as he handed a gun to his confederate, apparently for the purpose of killing the officers."

Progress Of Dairying In East Texas Told By K. M. Renner Following Trip

K. M. Renner, head of the department of dairying at Texas Tech, and A. B. Davis, manager of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, have recently returned from a trip to Tyler where they visited the opening celebration of the new $200,000 whole milk plant at that city. Mr. Renner, in a report of their trip, seems to think that this industry has come to East Texas to stay and that the people of that section are highly enthusiastic over prospects in this field.

"East Texas is rapidly developing into one of the leading dairy sections of the state," said Mr. Renner. "During the past year two whole milk plants have been established and another will soon be built."

"Last August the first powdered milk plant using the Guy Jensen spray system of powdering milk opened at Marshall. On June 22, another plant, using the same process, was formally opened at Tyler. There will be another plant erected at Mt. Pleasant in the near future."

Section Enthusiastic

"Farmers, business men and bankers alike are all enthusiastic over the new era in agriculture as they see the development of the dairy industry in that section of Texas. They have found that the one crop system of agriculture, formerly carried on is not a safe business proposition. Texas is still a large importer of dairy products so why not go into the business of producing these products at home? The citizens of Tyler and vicinity decided that they could and would produce their own dairy products, and in choosing a market decided that the whole milk market was best suited to their community. Sufficient funds were raised and they now have a $200,000 milk plant representing the latest type of manufacturing equipment."

Many Present

Mr. Renner stated that there were a large group of prominent people present at the opening of the Tyler plant pointing to the fact that the industry is being studied and that the different types of dairy plants are being weighed in the balance. "Governor Moody was present," said Mr. Renner. "The president of the T & P, and of the Cotton Belt railroads were there. Dr. Grey and Mr. Jensen, inventors of the different types of dairy plants, and patent holders on the milk powdering equipment, were there. Dr. Grey is also president of the California Golden State Milk Products company, which is perhaps the largest single organization of its kind in the world. Mr. Douthitt, president of the Douthitt Engineering company, Chicago, exclusive builders of the Grey-Jensen powder equipment, was also there. Delegates from Kansas, Missouri and Kentucky were to be seen while practically every section of Texas was represented. West Texas had the largest visiting delegation, composed of some 50 business men, county agents, chamber of commerce officials and farmers."

Tyler Plant Modern

"The plant at Tyler represents the latest and best in equipment. It has a capacity of 100,000 pounds of whole milk per day. No expense has been spared to insure the successful operation of this plant. Mr. Short, who is manager of the plant at Marshall, will also be manager of the one at Tyler. The superintendent was secured from New Zealand and is considered one of the best milk plant operators in this or any other country. The plant has a well equipped scientific laboratory for the chemical and bacteriological analysis of the milk which they receive and also for the manufactured products which they make."

The whole milk is received at the plant, separated and the cream churned into butter. The skim milk is manufactured into skim milk powder and the butter milk from the churn is also converted into butter milk powder. In this way there is no loss, the entire quantity of milk received is converted into some form of salable product.

The farmers are enthusiastic and in talking with numerous patrons of the plant they all seem to be well satisfied. The plant is carrying on an intensive educational program among the patrons. Bull circles are being organized and pure-bred bulls are being introduced to build up the quality of the dairy cattle. Arrangements are under way to secure a number of good dairy cows to add to the present existing herds.

Field Man Employed

"A full time field man is employed by the plant who has had special dairy training. He visits the patrons in their feeding problems, breeding problems and in any other way that he may. He instructs the farmers in the care and handling of their milk so that it will be of high quality at all times. In this manner the plant keeps in constant touch with the producers."

"Trucks gather the cream at each farm before daily. A nominal charge is made for hauling and the farmer is saved the expense of a daily trip to the city. Cooling stations will be erected in nearby towns and the milk received at these stations will be hauled to the Tyler plant. In this manner it is possible to reach out and cover a territory of twenty to thirty miles and still get the whole milk into the main plant in good condition."

"There is still much work to be done and some obstacles to be overcome before the plant will develop to its full capacity but the people of Tyler are working, they are enthusiastic and they are determined. There is no question that they are in the dairy business to stay and that they will be successful."

Oil Leasing In West Texas Active

Major Companies Centering
Work In Counties Over
Territory; Borden And
Pecos Getting Bulk

(Special To The Avalanche)

SNYDER, June 27.—Leasing in the West Texas district is the most active at the present that it has been for some time. Acquisition of acreage is under way in nearly every county which offers any semblance of a structure. Practically all the larger companies are participating with the F. H. Petroleum Corporation, Empire Gas and Fuel, Gulf Production company, Humble Oil and Refining company, Lion Oil and Refining company and Superior Oil Producing, taking the lead. Of these Shell Petroleum Corporation and the Superior Oil Producing companies have been the largest buyers.

Shell Petroleum has concentrated most of its buying in Borden and Scurry counties, and the Superior Oil Corporation through its subsidiary the Superior Oil Producing, scattered its buying over Borden, Dawson, Ector, Glasscock, Howard, Loving, Midland, Pecos, Reeves, Schleicher and Yoakum counties, with the bulk in Borden and Pecos counties, although its buying was extensive in Reeves county.

The greater portion of the recent purchases by the Superior were 10 year leases bearing 25 cents annual rentals, it has been reported. With the properties which it has annexed, the company may now be listed as among one of the largest potential holders of West Texas acreage. The John R. Truss No. 1 well near Fluvanna, and the J. Wright Moor No. 1 test near Snyder are expected to get under way within the next two weeks.

ONE MINUTE PULPIT

He that is slow to anger is better than the mighty; and he that ruleth his spirit than he that taketh a city.

The lot is cast into the lap; but the whole disposing thereof is the Lord.—Proverbs, xvi, 32, 33.

THERE'S ALWAYS A SILVER LINING

ON the first page of today's paper will be found a news report to the effect that 20,000 acres of virgin pastureland, located in Hockley and Cochran counties, is soon to be subdivided into farms and colonized with forward-looking, progressive tillers of the soil and their families.

The acreage, designated as the George M. Slaughter block, is a portion of the once boundless "S's" ranch—a part of practically one million acres owned by the late Col. C. C. Slaughter, heralded as "The Cattle King of the West."

Once again the romantic cowboy and his herds are shunted westward. Once again the "man on the tractor"—not the antiquated "man with the hoe"—has taken a new objective. Progress pushes on as new people turn their faces toward the great South Plains of Texas—the greatest undeveloped agricultural empire remaining open for settlement.

Most of us—at least those of us who have been inoculated with that dauntless, pioneering spirit of the old West—will feel like dropping a tear at the news that tells us of still another victory for the farmer. Down deep in our hearts there is a genuine sadness as one by one the big ranches of yesterday are ruthlessly slashed into parcels and the herds which one day reigned supreme give way to snowy fields of cotton and waving acres of grain. The desolate cattleman's ranch, once a symbol of wealth and topped by a sleeping cowboy, has stepped aside for his more economic successor, not so romantic, yet more practical in this new age of ours. The world swirls on.

But wait for just a minute.

There is little time for romanticism when hard dollars are at stake and while we may permit ourselves to dream of a new era upon our very heartbeats, we must not for even a moment forget that the essentials of agriculture naturally make for more people and more profits than can be presented by the old method, large scale cattle raising industry.

The sale of the George M. Slaughter block will mean approximately 100 more farm families for Hockley and Cochran counties. One hundred more families located in those sections mean, roughly, 400 more people in the Lubbock trade territory to add their buying power to Lubbock, to Morton, to Levelland, to Lehman and other points in the immediate vicinity. This additional population in Hockley and Cochran counties will mean expansion among businesses in neighboring towns and more people will be needed to operate those businesses.

The Avalanche doesn't believe it is far wrong when it estimates that the sale of the 20,000 acres will mean an additional population of from 500 to 600 persons for the area we call Lubbock's western trade territory. And in this country there are infinitely more acres than there are people the buying power of 125 families means a great deal.

So while we're dropping figurative tears for the vanishing cowboy and his cause, there is a silver lining already shining through the cloud of sadness which the cattleman's pioneering has certainly entitled him to. The silver lining is the march, march toward the day when all the vast acres of West Texas will be dotted with modern farm homes filled with happy, contented people and those same people will be contributing to the development of one of the greatest areas under the shining sun.

WORK'S REASON

Can it be possible that Dr. Herbert Work, of whom it has been said that he was crowded out of the chairmanship of the republican national committee by President Hoover and other party leaders, resigned from that high position because he foresaw "President Hoover riding to a political fall"? These words are said to have come to a Washington newspaper correspondent through a close friend of Doctor Work.

Even if it can not be proved that the president's former campaign adviser made these dire predictions in so many words, they are, for all that, good sound Work doctrine. It is quite generally felt that the president has used him rather roughly. The silver lining is the march, march toward the day when all the vast acres of West Texas will be dotted with modern farm homes filled with happy, contented people and those same people will be contributing to the development of one of the greatest areas under the shining sun.

There is evidence that Doctor Work quit, perhaps without knowing that he was slated for the party kids. Would he not otherwise have made a great outcry against the ingratitude of politicians and Mr. Hoover's ruthlessness in getting rid of those who "Doctor Work" would be the last to deny this placed him in the White House? Has Doctor Work predicted dark days ahead for his president and party because of his resignation (?) the public might have listened to him with amused skepticism.

TARIFF RETALIATION

Nothing surely could be drier than the wry faces of American high protectionists over the compliment of imitation paid their "glorious policy" by other lands. Having, with much waving of the colors within the sacred precincts of the Home Market Club, adopted a tariff here that is prohibitive to the trade from foreign countries, they are shocked to find that it is a game at which two or even three or four, can play.

France, a few months ago, did us the honor of initiating us and we were hurt. Because she adopted a tariff which was prohibitive upon us, in retaliation for our tariff which was prohibitive upon her, the protectionists have cried out, a bit childishly, "fair play."

Several of the South American republics have issued ultimatums to the effect that if their trade is so important to the United States their goods should be admitted free to the United States. South America wants to buy the goods of North America, but she thinks the United States should buy in South America on the same basis.

During the last year Washington's tariff policy has been denounced on several occasions by Canadians. A Canadian economist describes our tariff policy toward his country as "penury and pound foolishness," in the sense that the more Canada can sell to the United States the more her people will buy below the international boundary line.

On the Firing Line at the Nation's Capital

STEWART CONTENDS "REVOLVING FUND" WILL BE BETTER KNOWN TO CITY FOLK AS SOON AS THEY START CONTRIBUTING

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 27.—Now that the farm bill really has been passed and President Hoover has signed it, and the thing actually is a law at last, the question arises:

What are the farmers going to get out of it?

In spite of all that the scheme's opponents said, while they were fighting it in congress, the farmers are due to get quite a chunk of money.

City folk who pay comparatively little attention to agricultural arguments, must nevertheless have overheard occasionally references, in the course of the debate, to what presently will be more widely known as a "revolving fund" as an important feature of the measure.

Only in all probability, the city folk did not know what was meant by a revolving fund and thought they did not care, either.

They will understand it better a bit later, because it is a fund which the whole country will have to put up—the city folk contributing—and it will amount to half a billion dollars.

The revolving fund is to be a jackpot out of which the government is to help the farmers to dispose of their crops to the best financial advantage to themselves, when they harvest them.

For instance, if a farmer has a lot of wheat on hand, and the price is pretty low, so that he would like to wait awhile for a better market, but he has to have some cash in hand immediately, the government will make him a loan out of the revolving fund.

Finally, when he does sell his wheat, he will repay the government out of the proceeds.

Thus the fund will revolve—from the government to the farmer and back again.

At least, such is the theory.

Suppose, however, that the farmer never repays the government—or repays it only in part. In fact, suppose that the government is stuck in this fashion by millions of farmers.

It is no reflection on the farmers to surmise that this may happen. Nobody can expect them to perform the impossible. With the best will in the world, they may be literally unable to keep the fund revolving. It has happened when they had to do their borrowing from banks—and the banks have busted.

The government will not bust, but the revolving fund may—and there will be nothing for the taxpayers to do but ante more money into it, or the whole scheme will go floozy.

Some city folk may say that it will take the farmers quite a while, anyway, to get away with half a billion.

Chairman Gilbert N. Haugen of the house of representatives committee on agriculture—who knows a great deal more about farmers than city folk do—thinks otherwise.

Congressman Haugen remarked to me a few weeks ago—he supported the recently enacted farm bill all right, but nevertheless he remarked to me: "The revolving fund is a very awkward thing. It will be extremely awkward if the entire fund is used up the very first season."

If American agriculture should run into the hole half a billion dollars deep—or even a hundred million or two—it simply would be out of the question for the government to get its money back by foreclosing on them. It would wreck the industry; heaven knows what all—maybe start a revolution.

No, no. More of the same would be the government's only way out of the difficulty—but it would be a mighty expensive way.

What our new farm bill is loaning out its initial half billion, the situation evidently is going to be perfectly lovely. But will it do anything more than postpone the evil day a season or so? The plan's opponents say not. We can tell better toward the end of 1930—because we're about to try it.

WRITER'S CRAMP ONE OF A SERIES OF OCCUPATIONAL AILMENTS

BY DR. MORRIS FISBEIN

Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

Any time a human muscle or ligament is used over and over again in the same process over a long period of time, it is likely to revolt.

There are numerous occupations in which such movements are required for sending messages with the Morse code. The result of overuse of the tissues involved in such sending is spasm, tremor and weakness of the muscles involved. If the work is persisted in without rest, not infrequently there will be associated with the muscle cramp a nervous instability due to the strain.

Writer's cramp is usually due to holding the arm and the muscles of the hand in the same position while writing by hand, although there may be similar cramps following long continued use of the typewriter at high speed. Among 8518 employees of the British postoffice 14 had to be transferred to other work because of the development of writer's cramp which did not improve under rest.

When writer's cramp occurs, the adoption of a different method of sitting or writing or the use of a different pen and desk will often bring relief. If the condition persists, it may be necessary, of course, to change employment.

Twister's cramp is an altered condition of the hand, particularly of the thumb, produced in people by the continued operation of twisting threads together. Sometimes overuse of the muscles ends in paralysis, so that the person is unable to carry on this work.

Associated with the use of pneumatic tools, there may be changes in the muscles and the blood vessels which have serious effects on workers. Thus the continued vibration and the pressure of the tool impedes circulation of the fingers and may cause the fingers, in the words of the operators, to "go dead." Included with the use of pneumatic tools, the form of the apparatus, the weight of the tool, the regulation of the air pressure and the noise must also be considered.

In miner's nystagmus the eyeballs oscillate. This condition was first discovered among miners working under conditions of bad illumination and was associated with too great a strain thrown on the tissues. When the condition occurs, the symptoms are dancing of lights and intolerance of bright light and backward inclination of the head.

Of course, the first step in the cure of any form of disorder due to fatigue of tissues is to take the worker away from the employment at least temporarily.

Shifts may come in British politics, but the Astor keeps running forever.

There's One Cool Spot Anyhow!

BATTLE OF MONMOUTH

One hundred and one years ago today, June 28, 1776, the British were defeated in the Revolutionary War battle of Monmouth by Americans under George Washington.

The English army under Sir Henry Clinton had evacuated Philadelphia and reached Freehold, Monmouth county, N. J., June 28, Washington, following closely, resolved to attack Clinton's left wing, 8000 strong marching in the rear, and detailed General Charles Lee with 6000 troops to assault the flank until the main division could come up.

Lee advanced accordingly, but instead of attacking, intentionally wasted time in feinting and futile maneuvers, and after a little skirmishing, ordered a general retreat.

Rushing forward, Washington, rebuked Lee, rallied the demoralized forces and checked the advance of the British.

The English then fell back and took up a strong position, but were forced to withdraw to the heights of Middletown.

The Americans lost 362 in killed, wounded and missing and the British 416.

Lee was shortly afterward tried by court-martial for his conduct, was found guilty of disobeying orders and of making a shameful retreat. He was suspended from command for a year.

Today's Poem

THE SEA GIPSY

I am fevered with the sunset,
I am fretful with the bay,
For the wander-thirst is on me
And my soul is in Cathay.
There's a schooner in the offing,
With her topsails shot with fire
And my heart has gone aboard her
For the islands of Desire.

I must forth again tomorrow!
With the sunset I must be
Hull down on the trail of rapture
In the wonder of the Sea.

MY ANSWER TO THE EDITORIAL

"A WORD OF WARNING."

As Paul of Tarsus was called upon to defend the Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ, I come as a minister of the Gospel to defend that which is a portion of the Gospel. First of all, I do not claim to be a divine healer, or a faith healer; anyone claiming such authority of the Divine, is an impostor. In Deut. 15-26 we read that God is the healer, and not man. "For I am the Lord that healeth thee." And again, we read in Ps. 103-2, "Who forgiveth all thine iniquities who healeth all thy diseases."

I am not responsible for what some man has done in the same line of work as mine because he claims to be a faith healer, and then a child with diphtheria dies after it has been prayed for. I do not feel that the Editor has misused me, but to clear the minds of the people who read the article in the Avalanche, June 26th entitled "A Word of Warning," I wish to state some real facts, and proof will be given to anyone desiring same in the Roswell News Mexico revival in July and August 1928 many were wonderfully healed. Among them was one special healing which I wish to mention Miss Marie Grimm was instantly healed in answer to prayer. The following is a part of her testimony published in the Roswell Daily Record, August 1928.

Miss Marie Grimm, 21 years of age was instantly healed of her afflictions in answer to prayer. She had been deaf and had used an ear-trumpet constantly for five years, but Sunday afternoon she said, "I am able to hear without it." She gave her testimony at last night's service before a crowd estimated at 1200 people. In talking with her after the service the reporter talked in an ordinary tone of voice and she heard distinctly. She said her home was in Caldwell, Kansas, and she came to Roswell one year ago for her health. As she had been suffering with tuberculosis for five years, most of the time of which had been spent in bed. She also had been afflicted with ulcers of the stomach for the past two years, giving her continual pain, but she states that when she was prayed for the pains in her stomach immediately ceased and have not returned. She had been wearing glasses for six years but laid them aside yesterday afternoon, and says her eyes were benefited also.

Miss Grimm still lives in Caldwell, Kansas, R. R. No. 4, anyone is welcome to write her. In a letter received recently she stated she was helping milk 19 cows, separating the milk, doing the family wash and helping in all household duties. She was a complete physical wreck before being prayed for.

In the revival that just closed in Roswell, June the 16th of this year, a baby was brought to us to be prayed for, and in the presence of about seven witnesses the baby actually died, but prayer restored life and health to the baby. The child's mother, Mrs. Sarah Darlington resides near Roswell, New Mexico. I could cite to many more such miraculous healings in answer to prayer. It is the program of the Gospel of Jesus Christ. Just as many if not more healings occur today as in the days of old when Christ walked the shores of Galilee. I defy any preacher, laymen, infidel, atheist, skeptic or agnostic or anyone to produce just one scripture to the effect that the day of miracles is past. The pastor of the great Calvary Baptist church of New York City, Dr. John Straton, prays for the sick and thousands are healed.

I pray for people regardless of ill or ailments. The doctor does not guarantee a cure, he does his duty and then nature does the rest. To those trusting in medicine the Bible says "Thou hast no healing medicines" Jer 30-13. Do not misunderstand me, doctors are essential in this day and age, and do great good. I am for them strong, but of all the doctors there is none to compare with Him who said, "I am the Lord who healeth thee."

Phillips Company To Construct Big Warehouse Here

Mammoth Storage Tanks
Also Planned Here; Will Serve Surrounding Territory With Products

According to a statement issued last night by T. E. May, local whole-sale representative of the Phillips Petroleum company, his company has negotiated a large fireproof warehouse and six mammoth storage tanks. These will be built at 4th and Avenue K.

The storage tanks will be erected and a district office established here, making Lubbock headquarters for the surrounding territory. Gasoline, kerosene, lubricants and the like will be handled in Lubbock and distributed to cities in this immediate vicinity.

While the definite date of starting construction could not be learned, Mr. May stated that it would be in the very near future. The cost of construction will approximate $30,000.

Mr. May also stated that an industrial track would be run through the property of the company as soon as the Santa Fe railway had assembled material on the ground sufficient to insure uninterrupted work. Some of the materials already have arrived and it was said that work probably would be started in a week or ten days.

Evangelism Theme Of Nazarene Meet

Seventy-Five Laymen and
Clergymen Of Plainview
Zone Gather In City For Conference Thursday

Laymen and members of the Nazarene church of the Plainview zone, numbering about 75, were in Lubbock Thursday attending a one day conference. The day with the arrival of three delegations of young people for the evening's program. Evangelism was the main theme of the meetings held throughout the day.

A very interesting afternoon session was well attended. The Rev. E. H. Erwin, pastor of the local church, spoke at this time on "The Best Methods of Home Mission and Evangelism."

Missionary Work Talked
"How the Woman's Missionary Societies May Do Home Mission Work" was the subject of a round table discussion by the ladies of the congregation. Following this discussion a paper was read by Rev. M. M. Short, of Slaton, on "The Organization of the Evangelistic Party."

In the absence of Rev. H. C. Cagle, district president, the Rev. Erwin again spoke to the gathering, stressing three main points in his address. "How to Begin and Close a Campaign and How to Organize a New Church."

"How Our Zone May Foster Home Missions" was the subject of a talk by Mr. Johnson, of Plainview.

Young People Meet
Mr. Johnson and the young people in attendance had charge of the services for the evening, at which time the Johnson quartet, of Plainview, sang several numbers. Rev. and Mrs. Vergene McCannles also rendered several selections.

The closing address of the conference, a short evangelistic message, was delivered by the Rev. M. M. Short.

Announcement was made that the next group meeting will be held in Slaton the last Thursday in September.

Nax is a St. Louis newspaper man. The defense sought to show that he was Ann's real sweetheart all the time she was waiting to marry Harding. She admitted Nax gave her a traveling clock.

Ann had testified that Harding bought her dresses, coats, shoes, pajamas, underwear, and other things and that he gave her rings from the family jewelry.

change of venue for Ocie Nix, 22, Bowie county farmer charged with the fatal poisoning of his wife, Viola Nix, 17, 18 days ago, was denied here late today. Selection of jurors for the trial was ordered by Judge George Johnson to start tomorrow.

The probability that Nix will plead insanity in the alleged poisoning was foreseen when defense attorneys introduced a statement by Nix's mother in a motion for postponement.

The statement of the youth's mother went into the record was what she would have said had she been able to attend court. She declared her son had been mentally deranged since 1935, when a physical disability affected his mind. She said he could not foresee the consequences of any act he might commit.

After three motions for postponement had been overruled, the three state-appointed defense attorneys entered the plea for change of venue.

LAREDO, June 27. (AP)—Before a court room crowded to the aisles, the state today began offering circumstantial evidence by which it expected to connect Tomas Hernandez and Raymond J. West, Laredo peace officers, with the death last February of Harry Williams, Laredo newspaper reporter.

Williams' body was found in the Rio Grande a month after his disappearance from the lobby of a local hotel. The examining physician, Dr. W. E. Lowry, testified today that the youth had been choked to death and then thrown into the river. He based his contention on the fact that Williams' tongue was protruding when the body was taken from the water.

Big Spring Pastor Conference Talker

Rev. W. H. Martin Speaks
Episcopal Session Here
Last Night; Subject Is Based On Experiences

The Rev. W. H. Martin, of Big Spring, was the principal speaker at Thursday night's session of the North Texas convention of the Protestant Episcopal church. Rev. Martin took as his subject "What I Have Found On Entering the Ministry in North Texas."

His talk was based on the experience and observations of a man of 25 years experience in mercantile and newspaper work in five states. Rev. Martin was only ordained to the ministry recently and now is in charge of the churches at Big Spring, Midland, Odessa and Barstow, a territory covering some 125 miles.

Responsibility Emphasized

The responsibility of church people was emphasized in his address, stating that the growing conditions of the great western expanse of Texas indicate a wonderful work ahead for all churches. The great distances, scattered and shifting population demand extensive planning in carrying out the program of God.

In speaking of the general restlessness of people of today, Rev. Martin said that "letters of transfer from congregation to congregation should be required. There are too many unattached people in all of our churches and a denominational growth requires a proper plant in which to function."

He stated that the women of the church now have more than their share of the financial expense to bear in the operation of the church and its work. "Most of the money which comes into the coffers is taken from the women of our congregations."

The final vote was taken at 8:20 p. m. After a continuous session from 9:30 a. m. with one and one half hours off for lunch.

Served 20 Years
Mr. Robison, 67, has been commissioner of the land office for 20 years, having been elected 11 times. Prior to his elevation to be head of the office he was a clerk there for 14 years.

Impeachment charges were proposed after an investigation of the land office by a joint legislative committee during the regular session last January. The controversy lasted last December when an effort was made by the governor, attorney general's department and board of regents of the University of Texas to have the commissioner postpone all sales of oil and gas rights in University lands he had advertised for January.

He agreed to the postponement of all except tracts aggregating about 53,000 acres which he maintained he was obliged to sell under a decision of the supreme court holding that when the commissioner had specific requests for land it was mandatory for him to advertise it.

An injunction was obtained by the board of regents restraining the sale, but this later was dissolved on final hearing in Travis county district court. An appeal now is pending in the supreme court.

100 families to the Lubbock trade territory.

Recently a 17,000 acre tract of Cochran county lands was placed on the market by C. C. Slaughter, of Dallas, and associates, which by the time sales have been completed is expected to add approximately 70 new families to Cochran county. A third tract, owned by Bob Slaughter and composed of 15,000 acres, has recently been sold out giving Hockley county an additional 70 families to its population.

The Lone Star Land company, with W. P. Soash, Lubbock, as its president, was organized in January of 1924 for the purpose of colonizing West Texas ranch lands with farmers. Mr. Soash reports. He is one of the pioneers in the immigration business in this section and associated with him in the sale of the George M. Slaughter block are Jo Dick Slaughter, sales manager; George W. Soash, secretary; E. C. London, field man, and Dr. George T. Veal, R. L. Slaughter and Bob Slaughter, directors. Main offices are located in Lubbock, while branches have been placed in Levelland, Lehman, Dallas and Vealmoor. The company has colonized extensive tracts in Hockley, Cochran, Lamb, Hale, Howard, Borden, and Martin counties, including large portions of the original C. C. Slaughter lands.

Cotton Is Dull In New Orleans Market Thursday

NEW ORLEANS, June 27. (AP)—Cotton was dull today and price fluctuations were limited for the most part to a spread of about 10 points. Such trend as developed was slightly downward although a flurry of covering in final trading caused the market to close slightly higher.

October eased off from an early high of 18.54 to 18.43 and closed at 18.48, or 6 points net higher. The general market closed steady 8 points net higher to one lower.

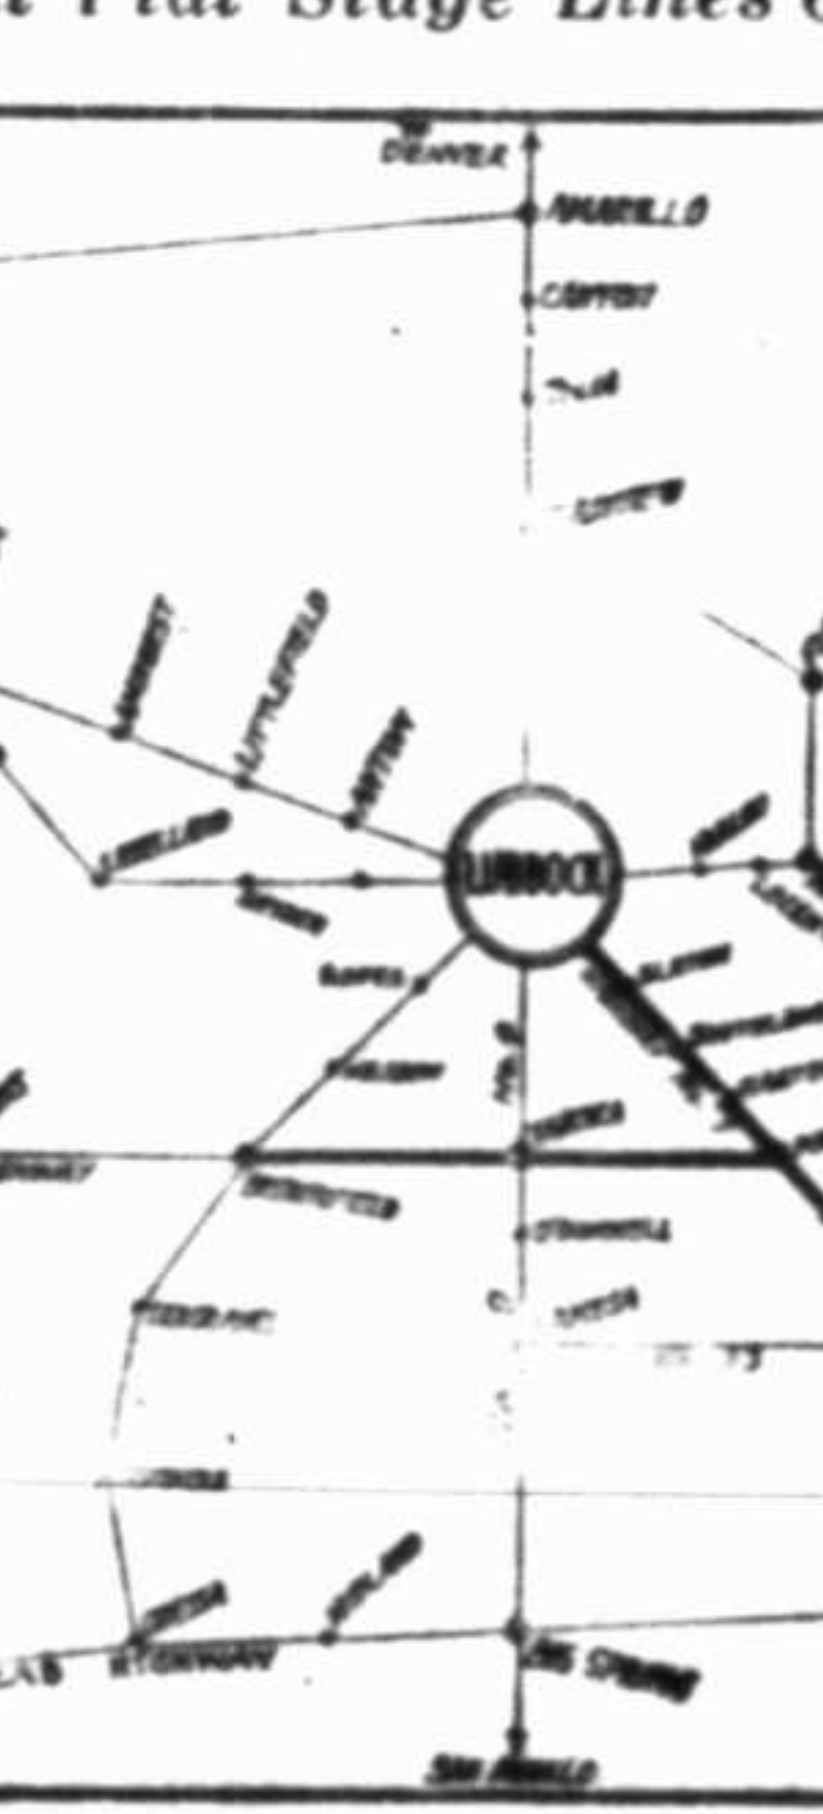

Liverpool cables were relatively steady and first trades here showed gains of 5 to 9 points.

Local Grain Men Purchase 125,000 Bushels Of Wheat

No Outlet Is Available Locally For High Protein Grain, Dealers Declare Here

Grain dealers who have purchased about 125,000 bushels of this season's wheat, say that wheat is not purchased locally on protein basis, due to increasingly high protein value of wheat in the northwest, created in dry weather in that section. In other words they say that there is not the normal outlet for protein wheat, and that wheat marketed in Texas at protein premiums was sold to special mills demanding high protein value. This came as information after a request by the Morning Avalanche.

Prof. H. J. Bower, of Texas Technological college, in a letter to Al Hill, editor of the South Plains Farmer, advocated the sale of wheat on protein content the same as the farmer sells his milk and cream on butterfat basis.

Included in his letter are clippings from state papers showing that premiums are being paid on wheat in other sections.

"The average wheat marketed in Lubbock this season has not rated high enough in protein value to command a premium" is the explanation of George M. Roach, who says further, "unless it is some isolated portion we know nothing about. Wheat marketed here has tested about 12 per cent protein, and premium is offered on none testing less than 13 per cent. A premium of one cent per bushel is offered on 13 per cent protein wheat."

Another article in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram concerned receipt last Sunday and Monday of 285 cars at the Fort Worth cash grain market. In part the article read: "This is a record for early receipts of wheat," declared Chief Federal Grain Inspector V. L. Nigh, "and the beauty of it is that 75 per cent of this early wheat is grading No. 1 and carrying an average of 13 1-2 per cent protein."

Whiteker Tells Of W.T.C.C. Journey
Soil Conservation Will Be Studied By Farmers On Summer Tour Of States On Coast

B. M. Whiteker, manager of the agricultural division of the West Texas chamber of commerce, was a business visitor in Lubbock Wednesday. Mr. Whiteker was here in the interest of the tour to be taken by West Texans to California for the study of soil conservation and marketing of products.

"We are selling our farm products in the form of chicken feed, which is kaffir corn," said Mr. Whiteker. "In California it is being manufactured into eggs and being sold back to us. Californians are getting more dollars for their eggs than we get for our feed."

Depleting Soil.
"We are depleting our soil to that extent, and they enrich theirs by putting on to their land fertilizer produced with our feed a dainty breakfast, food wrapped in egg shells, and getting the highest market price, because they are producing what the market demands. We are trying to sell what the market does not want."

The mere fact that a farmer has 1,000 good hens or 10 milch cows doesn't mean independence to him unless he knows how to care and feed them to get profitable production."

In reference to soil conservation, Mr. Whiteker said, "West Texas agricultural industry has a future and that is in conservation of fertility."

ility of soil and moisture as we get it, and that will be obtained by careful terracing of both farms and pastures and contouring roads in order to hold all the rainfall on the land. "If West Texans would study California we could step up 25 years in farm methods and marketing systems."

Mrs. Hoover Paid Wonderful Tribute

A beautiful tribute was paid the life of Mrs. A. J. Hoover in a recent issue of the Wynnewood, Okla., Gazette, when it printed a report of the funeral rites for deceased Mrs. Hoover, late of Norman, Oklahoma, was a sister of Miss Della Wilkinson, 1201 17th street, and Mrs. Oscar L. Slaton, Sr., 1212 Avenue R. pioneer residents of Lubbock. The two sisters, with the latter's daughter, Miss Ruth Slaton, attended the funeral services which were held at Oak Lawn cemetery, Wynnewood.

The Hoover family, composed of Doctor A. J. Hoover, his wife and five sons, resided in Wynnewood for 34 years, moving to Norman in 1922 to be near their sons while their education was being completed at the University of Oklahoma. Mrs. Hoover was in ill health for about a year preceding her death and she is survived by her husband and five sons, Joy, of Carlsbad, N. M., who had frequently visited in Lubbock; Andrew, of Seminole, Okla.; Hubert, of Washington, D. C.; Wilkins and Glen of Norman.

Known throughout the Wynnewood section as a highly accomplished musician, Mrs. Hoover for many years was choir leader, organist and soloist of the First Methodist church of Wynnewood. The Wynnewood Gazette, in its report of the interment, says of her "She was a noble woman, nobly planned to warn, to comfort and to command and her life was a benediction to every life she touched."

Miss Joe Vaughn, 1618 1-3 Fifteenth street, is convalescing after a recent illness.
