"Starts the Day on the South Plains"

Marks Tumble As Cold Wave Spreads Afar

Lubbock And Plains Area Get Respite As Wind Shifts To South; Thermometers Show Low Figures Elsewhere

Heavy Snows Seen

Mother Nature Plays Tricks As November Blizzards Are Reported; Accidents Bring Death To Motorists

WINTER loosed its grip on Lubbock and the South Plains Wednesday, while the cold blast which sent the mercury diving for seasonal lows here early yesterday swept eastward. The Associated Press reported both the landscape and weather records were snowed under in large portions of the South and Middlewest.

The mercury dropped to a low of 16 at the experiment substation early Wednesday, climbed to 45 as the wind shifted to the south, and at 6 p. m. stood at 39. The airport reported a low of 12 degrees. At midnight the mercury reading at South Plains Pipe Line company plant was 35. Skies were overcast here. A very slight trace of snow fell here last night.

From North Dakota to Texas, the nation was a huge snowfield and skating rink, the Associated Press said. Thermometers tobogganed to new November lows.

Traffic crept along over highways glazed with ice and in some places was virtually at a standstill. Several deaths were attributed directly to hazardous driving conditions.

South Cold, Too

In the South thermometers generally dipped into the 30's. At Shreveport the temperature was 24 degrees, the lowest for that date since 1907. The cold wave swept through Texas and Oklahoma and into Arkansas, bringing with it snow and driving sleet. At Houston the mercury registered 28, the coldest November day since 1916.

In Kansas, where Chanute reported one degree above zero Tuesday night, forecasts predicted warmer weather for today. The West was assured of rising temperatures; the east warned to prepare itself for "snow and colder."

Ontario, Canada, dug itself out of the worst early season snow storm in years. Communication was disrupted, traffic accidents frequent and two persons the objects of searchers. It was 15 below zero at Horne Payne and Franz in the northern part of the province.

Snow Crushes Roof

Several sections of Michigan were blanketed with a layer of snow that varied from seven to ten inches, blasting all weather bureau records. In Detroit, the weight of snow crushed a church roof.

Northwestern Ohio presented the appearance of an almost unbroken snowdrift. Many sections were snowbound, traffic paralyzed, and highway maintenance crews shoveling overtime. Toledo reported a fall of nine inches, the heaviest on record.

The western Great Lakes region saw the vagaries of the weather do queer things to the mercury. Chicago was a veritable oasis of warmth in a region of snow and ice. A "nor'easter" blowing in from the lake reached some sort of meteorological compromise with the icy blasts from the Yukon, kept the mercury above the freezing point while many points in Wisconsin and downstate Illinois shivered in near-zero temperatures.

Aviatrix Safely Crosses Sahara

DAKAR, French West Africa, Nov. 16. (AP)—Amy Johnson, who is flying a tiny plane from England to the Cape in an effort to better the record of her husband, Captain J. A. Mollison, successfully crossed the Sahara desert yesterday and today she was speeding toward Douala, on the Gulf of Guinea.

Miss Johnson made the 1,400-mile flight from Oran, Algeria, to Gao, on the upper Niger in French West Africa, in a little more than 13 hours. She landed at Gao at 12:30 p. m. yesterday.

The flight to Douala from Gao is 1,200 miles.

Oklahoma's 25th Birthday Observed By Its Citizens

TULSA, Nov. 16. (AP)—Aged pioneers who watched Oklahoma grow from two territories joined hands with hundreds of younger citizens in a colorful all-day celebration in Oklahoma City today of the state's twenty-fifth birthday.

In pageantry and speech making was recalled that memorable day in 1907 when whistles shrieked, bells rang, crowds cheered and another star was added to the flag as President Roosevelt's statehood proclamation became effective.

HUNTERS START FIRES

LUFKIN, Nov. 16 (AP)—Carelessness of hunters with camp fires and cigarets was blamed by fire fighters today for starting flames which swept through pastures of the Southern Pine Lumber company, one in south and another in western Angelina county.

Garner Shoots First Buck Of Uvalde Season

(By The Associated Press)

UVALDE, Nov. 16.—Vice-President-elect John Garner and Ross Brumfield, Uvalde business man and "Cactus Jack's" hunting and fishing companion for many years, returned to Uvalde at 5 p. m. today with a large eight-point buck deer, one turkey and several ducks. They reported Garner killed the deer at a range of 200 yards.

The next vice-president was elated with the success of his hunting trip and told friends he wounded a large panther which was prowling about their camp Tuesday night. The hunters were unsuccessful in their efforts to trail the big cat.

Garner's deer was the first brought back to Uvalde this season.

Oil Suits Are Given Over To High Tribunal

East Texas Squabble Goes To Supreme Court Justices As Arguments Close; Case Is Reviewed At Capital

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16. — The controversy between Governor R. S. Sterling of Texas and the Federal courts, arising out of an order by the governor declaring martial law and restricting oil production in the East Texas field, is in the hands of the Supreme court.

Counsel today concluded oral arguments in two appeals brought by the governor and certain state militia officers from the decision of a three-judge Federal court prohibiting them from enforcing orders issued by Governor Sterling fixing the amount of oil to be produced in those fields.

Guards Called Out

With the price of oil falling and production daily increasing in the East Texas fields, the Texas Railroad commission sought to enforce a conservation act by pro-rating oil to prevent waste. When the commission's order was enjoined Governor Sterling declared martial law ordering out state troops to suppress what he stated was riot and insurrection.

Owners of land there, finding their royalties materially reduced by the fall in the price of oil threatened, the governor asserted, to force operators to reduce production.

"Riot" Is Claimed

On the ground the "riot and insurrection" could be surpressed only by a reduction in production, Governor Sterling instructed officers of the troops to restrict the output of the East Texas wells. The owners of the wells obtained an injunction from a three-judge Federal court and from that the two appeals were taken to the highest court.

Counsel for Governor Sterling contended the Federal courts had no jurisdiction to interfere in the enforcement by the governor any orders which in his discretion were necessary to restore peace and order, even though they included restriction of production.

The oil operators through their counsel charged the governor in ordering out the troops, declaring martial law and fixing production was attempting to circumvent the orders of the Federal court. They insisted the acts of the governor were a subterfuge and denied riots or insurrection prevailed.

Three Face Fort Worth Charge Of Mail Fraud

FORT WORTH, Nov. 16. (AP) — Arthur Heeman, Fort Worth attorney, Walter B. Dow of Los Angeles and W. S. Bailey of Chicago were charged with using the mails to defraud in a complaint filed with a United States commissioner here today. Howard Lee, charged in connection with the same transaction, furnished bond several days ago.

The complaint against Heeman, Dow and Bailey alleged a fraud was perpetrated on Mrs. Mary Guyton of Putman by soliciting an order of stocks and by failing to deliver them.

Hardy's Gavel Halts Baptist Meet Discord

Insurgent Cried Down By Big Crowd When He Attempts To Offer Resolution; Will Fight For Dry Law

BY R. W. BARRY

ABILENE, Nov. 16. (AP)—There was only a ripple of dissension today when the Baptist General convention of Texas, representing more than three thousand churches and one half million members of that denomination, organized and started its annual inventory of affairs.

The discord was short-lived under the stern gavel of Dr. J. C. Hardy, head of Baylor College for women at Belton, who was chosen president of the convention by a rising vote after two other church leaders, placed in nomination for that honor, requested their names be withdrawn.

Two Delegations Unseated

Status of messengers from the church at Happy and the Berry street Baptist church at Fort Worth, who were not permitted to participate in organization of the convention, still had not been determined.

Credentials to the messengers from these churches were withheld under a constitutions provision that only representatives of "co-operating Baptist churches" can be seated prior to organization. The church law provides that messengers turned back prior to organization may later be seated by a majority vote of the convention. It was uncertain whether the Happy and Fort Worth messengers would push their claims to seats in the convention.

Dr. Hardy succeeds Dr. Lee R. Scarborough of Fort Worth, president of Southwestern Baptist Theological seminary, who had a tenure of the customary maximum of three years.

White Is Nominated

Dr. J. B. Tidwell, professor of Bible at Baylor university, and Dr. W. R. White, pastor of the Broadway Baptist church at Fort Worth were presidential nominees who asked that Dr. Hardy's selection be made unanimous.

Vice-presidents chosen were W. H. Poole, professor of Latin in Baylor university, Dr. M. M. Wolfe of Houston and Rev. J. N. Marshall of Austin.

B. D. South of San Antonio and J. P. Truett of Whitewright, veteran recording secretaries were re-elected without opposition. Robert Coleman of Dallas was chosen secretary of the convention.

To Battle Wets

The convention, representing one-half million men and women of that denomination, tonight reaffirmed its "unrelenting hostility to the return of the legalized liquor traffic to this country in any form whatsoever."

The convention pledged the half million Baptists "as far as we can influence them by moral suasion" to support "our senators and con-

England, Germany And France Join In Fight To Reduce Unemployment

European Nations To Co-Operate To Aid One Another

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, Nov. 16.—The creation of an economic consortium by France, Germany and Great Britain, which is designed to assist in coping with the unemployed problem, was announced today by Raymond Patenotre, who will be in charge of its operations.

"We foresee," said M. Patenotre, "a return of prosperity by the natural process of the development of industrialization.

"The unemployed in the smaller depressed countries will be given work, while the jobless in the larger countries will be relieved by the operation of factories."

Capital, Labor Combine

The plan was described as a combination of French capital and German industry, with guarantees covering the subjects of insurance, security and non-competition.

M. Patenotre, who was born in the United States and whose father served as French ambassador at Washington, is France's under secretary for national economy. As vice-president in actual charge of the operations of the consortium he will have headquarters in Paris. The German minister of national economy will serve as German vice-president of the organization.

The first project of the consortium will be the offer of a loan of 17,000,000,000 francs (currently $680,000,000) for the electrification of railways in Poland, Rumania, Irak and Portugal.

Loan Is Arranged

The Paris edition of the New York Herald-Tribune said France and England would provide forty per cent of this loan each, and Germany would furnish 20 per cent.

The consortium will consist of three syndicates — Franco-German financial experts; British, French and German bankers, and a Franco-German syndicate designed to carry out recommendations of the banking group in the electrification projects.

M. Patenotre said the organization was purely an economic arrangement. Premier Edouard Herriot will be its titular head in France and Chancellor Franz Von Papen in Germany.

The aviatrix says Johnson did not beat her and that she "ducked" when the fight between the two men started. Both Johnson and Holland are nursing black eyes while Miss Elder bears no marks.

Texas Vote In National Race Sets New High

Returns Trickling In Add Up To 771,616 Thus Far; Lead Of Ferguson Is 184,550 In Ballots Thus Far Counted

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Nov. 16.—Figures announced tonight by the Texas Election bureau on a tabulation of votes from 236 out of the state's 254 counties, with 161 complete, showed that the total vote of 771,616 counted thus far from the November 8 general election was the greatest Presidential election vote ever polled in Texas.

Officials of the bureau predicted the total vote, when all counties have accounted, will exceed 800,000. The previous high vote in a presidential year was 720,835 in 1928.

Ferguson Lead Big

The tabulation today showed Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, Democrat, received 477,697 votes and Orville Bullington, Republican nominee for governor, 293,147, a lead of 184,550 votes for the former.

Dr. George C. Butte, Republican, whom Mrs. Ferguson defeated for the governorship in 1924, polled 294,970 votes.

Republicans will be required to hold a primary before the next governorship election, the law making this mandatory in state election years following an election in which a party polled more than 100,000 votes for governor.

Duck Hunter Found Frozen In Boat; Partner Missing

BEAUMONT, Nov. 16. (AP)—Louis Henry Bond, jr., of Rusk was found today frozen to death in the salt marshes near High Island on the Gulf, slumped in an outboard motorboat adrift in East Bay Bayou. His brother-in-law, M. W. Hargrove of Beaumont, with whom he was visiting, was missing.

The two had built a hunting camp on the bayou. Bond was found between the camp and the duck blinds by a party of hunters whom Bond and Hargrove were to have met at High Island.

Searching parties combed the marshes for Hargrove and great anxiety was felt for his safety.

The speakership will become vacant next March 4 when John N. Garner of Texas leaves the House to take up his new post as vice-president. At least five candidates for the Democratic speakership nomination expect to announce their intentions soon.

Rainey, Byrns of Tennessee, McDuffie and Bankhead of Alabama and Rankin of Mississippi are outstanding contenders.

The first ballot was five to one for acquittal, and the verdict was reached on the second vote, it was said. Croft and Smith charged by Brown after they had arrested the Lubbock lawyer on a traffic law violation complaint, shook hands with the jurors.

Sixteen Give Testimony In Murder Trial

Herman Robinson's Case Near End In District Court; He Explains Shooting Of Two Blacks In Restaurant

Sixteen persons, all except three of them negroes, testified in 72nd district court here Wednesday afternoon in the trial of Herman ("Bub") Robinson, a 32-year-old negro, charged with murdering another negro, Will ("Sonny") Bruce, here January 19, 1930.

The charge to the jury was completed at 9 o'clock this morning. The state will not ask the death penalty, having waived that action to expedite the trial by using a regular summoned group of veniremen.

Self-Defense Plea Made

The defense contended Robinson, who was arrested last July near Bakersfield, Cal., shot Bruce and Thomas Hammond, another negro, who also died, in self defense. Robinson testified he fired a shotgun at Hammond on a street after Hammond drew a pistol; that he shot Bruce as Bruce wheeled on a stool in a restaurant and swung back his hand as if to reach for a gun. Robinson said Bruce had hit him with a pistol a few moments before; that he followed Bruce and Hammond after they took in excess of $30 from him in his room back of the restaurant.

States witnesses said they saw no gun in either Hammond's or Bruce's possession or near them after they were shot. The states witnesses, several of whom were called in rebuttal, said that Bruce did not move before he was shot.

Whiskey Deal Made

Robinson bought a pint of whiskey from Bruce the night of the shooting, according to testimony Robinson testified he did not drink any of it.

Robinson said he did not intend to shoot either of the men but meant to hold them at bay until peace officers could arrive to help him recover his money. Queried by District Attorney Durwood H. Bradley, the accused negro said he had lived in Detroit, Fort Worth, Phoenix Las Vegas, Nev., and Bakersfield, under an assumed name, before he

Repealists In Midwest Plan Their Attack

State Prohibition Laws Will Be Assaulted By Wets Who Will Wage Fights In Their Own Legislative Halls

General Election Results In Various States Claimed By Wets To Be Mandate Given Down To Them By Voters

BY R. P. HOWARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

CHICAGO, Nov. 16 (AP) — State prohibition laws in the middle west face attack by repeal and modification advocates as the 1933 legislatures convene.

Michigan and North Dakota repealed the liquor suppression clauses in their constitutions in referenda last week. Action was not taken then, however, on enforcement statutes.

Wisconsin, which is as traditionally wet as some of its neighbor states have been dry, has no prohibition laws.

To Urge Repeal

Interpreting the "landslide" election of Democrats under the national platform for repeal as a mandate for legalized liquor, Democratic leaders in Illinois, Indiana and Michigan have announced that repeal would be urged in the next session of their Democratic legislatures.

Incoming legislators have not made state modification an issue in Iowa, Nebraska and the Dakotas. Of these states, Nebraska and South Dakota have constitutional prohibition.

The Illinois House, still Republican, yesterday voted that a special session, the fifth for this legislature, be called to consider repeal of the state prohibition law and the search and seizure act. Repeal of the latter statute was vetoed in 1931, but Judge Henry Horner, Democratic governor-elect, is an announced "wet."

"To Be Charitable"

Horner said he would be "charitable" toward persons convicted under the seach and seizure act.

North Dakota's referendum removed the constitutional mandate for enforcement laws, which remain in force unless the legislature decides to repeal them.

The prohibition amendment to the Michigan constitution was repealed and Democratic leaders who will control the next legislature announced their intention to repeal the dry laws. William A. Comstock, incoming Democratic governor, said he would, if legal, free imprisoned violators after his inauguration.

Indiana Democrats, who will be in control of the legislature, have announced plans for early repeal of the stringent Wright "Bone Dry" law, one of the strictest in the nation. They also planned for a state constitutional convention if congress voted to resubmit the prohibition issue to the states.

Veto Is Threatened

While several Ohio legislators have indicated they favored modification of state laws, Gov. George White, who favors modification, said that prior to repeal or amendment of the Federal laws he would veto

Archeologists Seeking To Peer Behind Curtain Of Time In North Plains Section; Early Man Leaves Traces Behind

(By The Associated Press)

AMARILLO, Nov. 16. — The archeological ruins of the Panhandle "represent the highest development of ancient civilization confined solely to the state of Texas," said E. B. Sayles of the Texas Archeological society, after studying the ruins.

Sayles, who is working in cooperation with the Cila Pueblo of Globe, Arizona, visited the Panhandle while making an archeological survey of the Southwest. He came here intending to spend one week, but found the ruins so interesting and so numerous that he remained three.

"What part the north Panhandle of Texas played in early life in America has baffled scientists since ruins were first discovered in this part of the state," Sayles told Floyd V. Studer, Amarillo business man and amateur paleontologist and archeologist, who has been made director of the Panhandle-Plains Historical society museum at Canyon.

"Who were the people who lived here, built stone houses and carried on agriculture where none is carried on now? Where did they come from, and what became of them? These questions are among those we

Speaker Before Medical Meeting Asks If Malformed Babe Should Be Permitted To Die By Attending Physician

(By The Associated Press)

BALTIMORE, Nov. 16.—In an address described as "message to doctors and not to the public," Dr. W. A. Guild, of Chicago, called attention to the ancient Spartan practice of permitting deformed infants to die and made this statement before the convention of the Eastern and Southern Homepathic Medical associations:

"We cannot take life (except by way of punishment for crime) no matter how useless or pitiful its existence may be, nor however great the social and economic burden the total congenital defectives may be.

"Yet may there not be cases when the officiating obstetrician may legally and honorably and with sincere humanity turn his back and minimize his efforts to bring life into such misshapened products of twisted human formation?

"This, indeed, is one of the many difficult obstetrical problems which the individual physician must solve for himself alone. His conscience must be his guide. Perhaps he will be influenced by considering what he would want done if the mother were his wife and the child his offspring."

Dr. Guild prefaced these remarks by giving his personal

OF course, it may be just as a lot of people suggest: "We feel this just cold weather the most." But I have a feeling that winter is here in earnest. I sigh for the good old days when the sidewalks fry and the hot dust hangs lazily over the yard, too sluggish to settle back down to earth again. Ah! For the good old summer time.

Just to make matters worse, a letter was dropped on my desk just as that last period above was written—a letter from Galveston telling of the people who are still going swimming.

IF your family is small and a whole turkey seems like too much, there is the newest venture in the poultry industry—the half turkey. Oh, it isn't a new kind of fowl that is being raised. You simply buy a half of a turkey instead of a whole one and then proceed as you would with the whole turkey. When it is all baked it is placed on the platter with the flat side down, dressing and garnishes are arranged and there it is all steaming for the little family.

Another depression and there is no telling how much we will be earning.

In the old days you had a whole turkey or two and invited the neighbors in to help eat. Now, you and the neighbor halve the turkey and then two families can have turkey a la king for the remainder of the week.

THOSE Leonid meteors may be a great display, but the first show is going to have to open earlier in the night if I attend.

IT IS strange how much material one can find for writing a column when there isn't a pencil available and there is too much doing to stop and hunt one up. It is equally surprising how these things are always forgotten before the writing is done.

For instance, there is a little jingle that I have been saving for a long time to use in this space when an occasion arose to make it appropriate. Last week I read something—just a paragraph in some paper—but it would have been a fine subject for comment and an occasion to use the verse. Today I can't for the life of me remember what was in that paragraph and a search of half an hour through the files has failed to reveal it.

The verse is too good to waste, and, anyway, here is a blank in which it fits, irrelevant as it is:

AN add to peeves: These people who say "Right" when some statement is being verified. I don't mind "That is right" or even "Uh huh", but that "Right" grates on my nerves. It comes in a class with "dearie" and "all rightie."

The 1930 census revealed that of these home-makers—and they were described as "that woman member of the family who is responsible for the care of the home and the family"—58.7 per cent live in urban territory, 21.9 percent in rural farm territory and 19.4 per cent in rural non-farm territory. Of this number, 16.4 per cent of the urban, 8.8 per cent of the rural-farm and 11.7 per cent of the rural non-farm home-makers are gainfully employed.

Miss Chitwood said anyone in Lubbock wishing to attend these demonstrations is invited to join any group which he or she desires. The tours are to be conducted by R. N. McClain, assistant county agent, O. G. Tumlinson, the county agent succeeding D. F. Eaton, and Miss Chitwood.

Have Filled Budgets

The demonstrators whose homes are to be visited have made a canned-food budget for the winter and have filled their pantries with well-balanced supply of home grown and prepared food to last their families during the winter months. The display in each case shows how large a supply of different types of food is needed in order to maintain a balanced diet. These budgets were planned as a part of a live-at-home program for individual families in the clubs.

The pantries of Mrs. A. L. Beavers, Broadview; Mrs. Roy Evans, Hardy; Mrs. Wayne Bums, County Line; Mrs. E. R. Slater, Union; Mrs. Jack Lokey, Slaton, and Mrs. B. Shearer, Idalou, will be on exhibition today. In some of these homes canned meat and gift tables will be on display. The Broadview club plans to distribute gifts to all visitors.

At Last.. a Really Different Coffee
.. Not Merely Different Advertising Claims!

Different because of rare coffees grown in tiny mountain districts on the West Coast of Central America where peculiar natural conditions create the world's finest coffee flavor

For a Real Change, try coffee from a Different Producing Region—You'll be amazed at its richer, rarer flavor

HAS it ever struck you that most coffees taste alike—despite the difference in labels and advertising claims? And—like so many other women—have you frequently wondered why it's almost impossible to find a coffee that's really better?

If so, here's something you'll be glad to know:

There is one kind of coffee that's really different—a rare coffee that's mountain-grown!

Produced chiefly along the West Coast of Central America, in isolated districts north of the Panama Canal, where an odd type of volcanic soil and clear mountain air give coffee a flavor that experts concede is not duplicated anywhere else in the world.

These are the unique coffees you find in Folger's—a revelation in coffee taste. Mellow-rich, with a rare, wine-like tang that can't be described in words. Brought to you with all their mountain-freshness faithfully preserved in key-opening, vacuum tins.

In order that you may try these rare coffees without delay, we make the unusual suggestion below. And please note, that because of greater richness and strength, you may allow 1-5th less when you're using Folger's.

The Folger Test

Just go to your grocer and get a pound of Folger's today. Drink it tomorrow morning.

The following morning serve the coffee you previously used. The third morning serve Folger's again. Then choose between them.

If, for any reason, you decide against Folger's, your grocer will refund your money. We'll pay him. That's fair, isn't it? 157

Charges Filed After Robbery

Two Youths, Both Now Under Suspended Sentences, Held In Jail Here After Levine Store Is Burglarizd

Leo Lynch 19, of Lubbock and Floyd Pitts, 20, of Los Angeles were charged with burglary of Levine's department store Wednesday in a complaint filed in Justice of the Peace J. S. Connell's court. The store, at 1009 Broadway, was burglarized of four suitcases, boots, shoes, suits, and other apparel late Saturday or early Sunday, the sheriff's department said.

The youths were arrested late Sunday night by Grady Harrist and Louie Moore, policemen, and Deputy Sheriff R. A. Metcalfe. The suitcases, stuffed with loot, were found in Yellowhouse canyon, east of Sanders school, Monday morning by Deputy Sheriff Joe Rieger and Metcalfe.

Both Under Sentence

Both Lynch and Pitts are under suspended sentences for burglary, Lynch in Johnson county, and Pitts in Potter county, police and sheriff's departments said. Both are held in county jail.

Johnie Jones, a negro, of Slaton, was charged with burglary in Connell's court Wednesday. He was alleged to have burglarized the Jim George residence at Slaton. Tom Abel, Slaton police chief and Lubbock county sheriff-elect, who arrested Jones, said loot from several Slaton residences was recovered in Plainview.

A Slaton negro, arrested Tuesday night as a suspect in the stabbing of Jimmie Jones, another negro, who was brought to Lubbock sanitarium for treatment Tuesday, was transferred to Lubbock county jail Wednesday by Abel and Deputy Sheriff R. L. Wicker of Slaton. Jones was stabbed in the back.

Greatest Realty Auction In History Is Held But Returns In Cash Are Lacking; Tax Woes At Bottom Of Action

BY JAMES C. LEARY
Associated Press Staff Writer

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.(AP)—The greatest realty auction ever held is on, but its cash returns are meager.

For most of the 400,000 parcels of Cook county real estate, worth more than $1,500,000 and ordered sold for $100,764,641 in 1930 taxes, are being forfeited to the state, since few will buy even at extremely low prices.

Only $10,000 Received

About a twentieth of the total has so far been offered by County Treasurer Joseph B. McDonough, but scarcely $10,000 in cash has been received, his office said today.

Detailed figures are not obtainable, but the property ordered sold includes about half the realty in the county; on the remainder $120,687,447 has been collected.

Interest in the sales were heightened this week when County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki ordered 56,000 parcels sold for $22,000,000 in taxes. This is owned by the 28,000 members of the Association of Real Estate taxpayers, who had filed objections and instituted a "tax strike." Jarecki dismissed the objections.

Cook county has fought through four attacks on its imposed taxes.

Frauds Charged

First was the Airich case, which bared frauds in 1928 realty taxes and resulted in a re-assessment, holding up tax bills until 1930, with $22,003,000 still owing.

Second was the Bistor case, which charged fraud in 1928 and 1929 re-assessments, claiming that $16,000,000,000 in personality had been omitted. Tax bills for 1929 were paid in 1931, with $59,310,778 still owing.

Third was another case dismissed by Jarecki, brought on the same basis as the Bistor case.

Fourth is a mandamus proceeding, the Koster case, still pending before the state Supreme court, asking an order requiring the assessors to include the personality. Refunds to realty taxpayers will be made if this order is won.

Meanwhile, the resultant chaos has been far-reaching. Public employes have gone unpaid for months. Cook county and its municipalities are heavily indebted for money loaned by Chicago and New York banks on anticipation warrants.

Finally, the legislature revised the whole assessing system a year ago; as a result, even the assessments for 1931 and 1932 have not been completed, so that these taxes are unpaid.

Ames Elected By Oil Group

American Petroleum Body, In Houston Convention, Names Texas Corporation Officer As President For 1932-33

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, Nov. 16—C. B. Ames, vice-president of the Texas corporation, today was elected president of the American Petroleum Institute, in annual convention here, succeeding Amos L. Beaty of New York.

The election was made by the board of directors after sessions extending nearly all day. A concerted fight against Mr. Beaty who had been in disagreement as to certain matters of policy with W. R. Boyd, jr., executive vice-president, was made.

The matter as to whether there will be any change of salary for the president, now $50,000 annually, was left to the executive committee for decision later.

Salary Is Opposed

The president received no salary until last year when Beaty was elected, and some opposition to continuing paying the president developed.

Ames formerly was an assistant United States attorney-general. His headquarters are in New York but his legal residence is in Oklahoma City.

Advice and encouragement was offered the oil industry this afternoon by speakers before the convention.

Henry I. Harriman of Boston, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce urged amendment of the Sherman Anti-Trust act to permit firms to legally obtain by agreement the benefits they may "by the device of merger."

Englishman Speaks

Sir John Cadman of the Anglo-Persian Oil company, Limited, of London, England, told the delegates the oil business stood today on firmer ground and had a more open path back to better conditions than any other.

Peter Molyneaux of Dallas, editor of the Texas Weekly, dwelt upon society's "stake" in oil, and asserted little progress could be expected in the matter of preventing economic waste so long as the present attitude of society toward the industry was maintained.

Tech Professor Is Seeking Answer To Botany Question

Wild gourd roots measuring seventeen feet three inches have been found at Buffalo Springs, near Lubbock, by Dr. E. L. Reed, professor of botony at Texas Technological college, who is seeking to determine how these plants live in semi-arid regions.

Length of the gourd roots indicates that these plants will grow down unusual distances to find moist soil, however, have their own water storage, it was said.

Paring Poundage From Ponderous Shin-Kicking Taught By Phantom Policemen New Job For Gibbons

ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 16 (AP) Mike the Phantom, teaching St. Paul policemen tricks new to them but old to him, has chang- ed his tune.

He's fighting kid crime today by proxie—325 proxies, the St. Paul police department's per- sonnel—and where it once was "poke him in the jaw," "clout him in the body," when the phantom Mike Gibbons was in the hey-day of his middleweight boxing career, it's now "one- two-three, then kick him in the shins if necessary."

During a moment of respite from his sparring with pen and pencil mapping out a program, Mike outlined his ideas on the job of physical director of the police department to which he has been provisionally appoint- ed to pare poundage from pond- erous policemen.

The girth control business will be his biggest job besides teach- ing boxing, wrestling, disarm- ing, running, kicking, and other tricks.

"I will teach them aggressive fighting" Mike explained, re- ferring to the younger athletic officers. "When one of the boys meets a tough mug in an alley he doesn't want to box an hour to win a decision. He wants to beat him quick."

If fists fail, the Phantom sug- gests a kick in the shins. "There is a right way and a wrong way to kick a man," he said, "the right way being to shoot the foot straight ahead, not up, as in booting a football."

The old time flash of the ring is going to take a civil service examination later for perma- nent assignment to the job.

The Smartest Play

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — The man who executed what Dr. Clarence Spears terms the smarest football play he ever saw later turned out to be a Rhodes scholar — which says Doc, is proof enough for him that football brains and book brains can be found in the same cranium.

Fred Hovde, quarterback of Spears' 1928 team at the Univer- sity of Minnesota, was the hero of this bit of strategy, and it kept the team Spears now coaches, Wisconsin, from the final game of the sea- son for both Minnesota and the Badgers. Early in the game Pulkra- bek, Minnesota guard, had recov- ered a Wisconsin fumble on the latter's 18 yard line and Bronko Nagurski, all-American fullback had scored a touchdown there- from.

Dr. Clarence Spears

It was Hovde's brilliant "basket ball guarding" that later save a Wisconsin touch- down that would surely have tied possibly beaten the Gophers, since they had failed to convert the extra point.

Frank Cuisinier, speedy Wisconsin quarterback, in the third period took a long pass from Sam Behr, Badger halfback. Nagurski, as- signed to cover Cuisinier on the play, had lost track of him and Hovde, playing safety man, realized the pass might go either to Cuisinier or an end, who also had gone down.

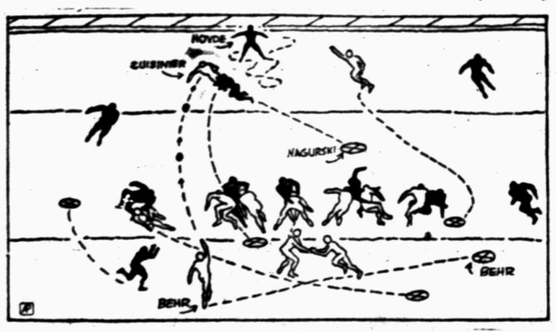

Much after the fashion of a bas- ketball guard, Hovde "played" both men, staying between them and the goal line.

When Cuisinier gathered in the ball he was well ahead of Nagurski. An unusually shifty runner, he was almost a cinch to elude any one man in an open field.

Consequently Hovde backed up, arms extended, dancing from side to side, giving ground but keeping Cuisinier from breaking past.

This slowed up the Badger quar- terback, sufficiently that Nagurski, who had belatedly "found" his man, was able to overhaul him from be- hind on the nine-yard line and the Gophers halted the Wisconsin run- ning game, winning, 6 to 0.

Hovde, after study at Oxford, re- turned to Minnesota and now is a member of the university faculty.

Steers Depart For Arkansas Leaving Two Regulars Behind

AUSTIN, Nov. 16 (AP)—Leaving two regulars at home to languish with injuries, Coach Clyde Littlefield and 26 members of his University of Texas Longhorns left here this af- ternoon for Fayetteville, where they are to meet the Arkansas Porkers Friday.

Hank Clewis, regular quarterback and Hershel Moody, regular tackle, were left behind. Clewis is suffering with an internal injury, and Moody is out with a hip injury.

Charley Bankhead or Ronald Fa- gan will start at quarterback in Clewis' place, while Arthur Neibuhr will likely start at tackle in Moody's place.

Coach Clyde Littlefield stated he expected a hard game from the Razorbacks and had warned his charges against over-confidence.

Three former West Pointers — Major Bob Neyland, Col. Paul Parker and Major Bill Britton — form the coaching staff of the Uni- versity of Tennessee.

What A Team This Crippled List Would Make!

By EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Although injuries and death on the football field this fall have trailed merci- fully behind the awesome totals of 1931, there seems never to have been a season in modern pigskin history when severe hurts struck so con- sistently at the outstanding play- ers of the game.

Out of a list a dozen stars badly hurt, "Pug" Rentner, of Northwest- ern, already had gained all-America fame and at least two others, Or- ville Mohler of Southern California, and Ed King of Army, were out- standing possibilities for this year's mythical eleven.

Rentner, placed at halfback in the Associated Press All-America last fall, hailed by no less an authority than "Red" Grange as the greatest college back he ever saw, came sud- denly to the end of his college foot- ball career Saturday when he suf- fered two broken ribs against Notre Dame.

Mohler Hurt Early

Mohler, Southern California's brilliant quarterback, was an even more serious casualty, being forced out of competition in his last, and what promised to be his greatest year, by a neck injury suffered against California Oct. 22. Doctors decided the sensational coast ball carrier would be risking death if he were to play again with the vertebrae in his neck in such a weakened condition.

King, Army's great end, was con- sidered the best wingman in the country and an almost certain all- America choice when he fractured a leg against Harvard.

But aside from these stalwarts, the toll of men who seemed certain for sectional, if not national hon- ors, has been equally great.

Minnesota Back Hurt

Almost before the season was un- der way, "My" Ubl, fine Minnesota back, suffered a fractured chest bone and developed complications that almost cost his life. Shortly afterward two crack Michigan backs were severely injured, one of them, Jack Heston, son of the famous Wil- lie Heston of line busting fame, bat- tered out of competition for the season with a broken leg. The other, Stan Fay, has recovered sufficiently from a side injury to rejoin Michi- gan's parade toward the Big Ten championship.

In the South the hopes and as- pirations of John "Hurry" Cain, Alabama fullback who was almost unanimous choice last season for the all-Southern team, were blasted by persistent hurts that have spoiled his play.

Bill Edgar, Virginia quarterback, became a major casualty with a broken leg and Buck Lecroix, Wil- liam and Mary halfback, with a fractured skull.

Equally heavy casualties have been added to that of King in the east. In rapid succession Art Lane, best of the Princeton tackles, was eliminated for the season with a broken shoulder; Tom Lombardi, giant Syracuse captain and tackle was forced out with a general breakdown, and Joe Johnson, Yale center, was hurt so badly about the head he had to quit the game.

Texas Aggies Plan A New Offense Against Longhorns

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 16. (AP) —The Texas A. & M. Farmers will present an entirely new offense with old players in new roles in the Thanksgiving day game against the University of Texas Longhorns, Coach Madison Bell said today. His squadmen are spending long hours behind locked gates learning the new plays.

Welded into the new alignment will be a number of players who have been on the injured list, in- cluding Captain Jimmy Aston and "Pete" Hewitt, lettermen, in the backfield. Ray Murray and "Bear" Wright, ends, will be in condition to play, as will "Peck" Merka, scrap- ping sophomore tackle. Only three men now are on the injury list.

Dan Salkeld Of T. C. U. Out For Remainder Of Grid Year

FORT WORTH, Nov. 16 (AP)—On the eve of their departure for their game with the Rice Owls Saturday at Houston the Texas Christian Un- iversity Horned Frogs today learned that one of their regular ends would be lost for the remainder of the conference season. An x-ray of Dan Salkeld's injured leg showed a broken bone and his only hope of being able to return to action will be in a post-season game if one is played by T. C. U.

Coaches Schmidt and Wolf will leave tomorrow night with 27 Horned Frogs for Houston. They will take a final workout there in the afternoon.

Jack Grossman, former Rutgers star playing his first season with Brooklyn, was the leading individual ground gainer in the opening weeks of the National professional football league.

University Of New Mexico To Play Host To Matadors With Game As Feature Homecoming Day On Campus

To take what is hoped will be the final decisive step toward their first conference championship, the Tex- as Tech Matadors hop a rattler this afternoon headed north to Albu- querque N. M., where they meet the University of New Mexico Lo- boes in a Homecoming and Border States Athletic conference game Saturday afternoon.

Coach Pete Cawthon called out the names of twenty-four players to be prepared to board the Santa Fe at 3:20 o'clock this afternoon Manager Bo Williams and Line Coach Dutchey Smith are included in the traveling party.

TICKET PRICES CUT

A reduction in the price of football tickets has been an- nounced by the Texas Tech ath- letic council through its cha'r- man, W. L. Stangel. The low rate will be effective next Thursday at the Tech-Simmons game.

Grandstand seat tickets have been reduced from $1.50 to $1, and may be purchased as re- served seats after Sunday. Bleachers remain at $1.

To Defend Lead

Holding undisputed lead in the conference race with one victory against no defeats, the Matadors can cinch the championship by de feating the New Mexico Loboes Saturday, although they will have played only two conference games The championship is based on the highest standing. All other teams of the conference have been defeat- ed, Tech having turned back the University of Arizona in its only other conference setto.

Several members of the usual starting lineup will be left at home today. Three of them are regular backfield men. Adrian Clark, quar- terback; Ed McKeever and Gwynn Dowell, halfbacks, are ineligible to play in conference games. The trio started against Baylor last week. Big Woodrow Wilson, tackle on the shock troops team, and Elmer Fort- ner, center, as well as Tackle Edle man, are also ineligible and will not make the trip. Carlton Luper, elevated to the first team after the Baylor game, is not eligible to play Saturday.

Because the shock troops team will be materially weakened, particular- ly in the backfield, Coach Cawthon does not anticipate an easy victory at Albuquerque. Knowing, too, that the Loboes will be putting out every effort in a three-fold pur- pose, the Tech coach appreciates the seriousness of the situation, and practice this week has been design- ed to impress upon the minds of the athletes the necessity of bear- ing down from here on out.

Three Reasons To Watch

The Loboes will be fighting to dislodge the Matadors, playing their first season in the conference, from the league leadership. Also they will be scrapping for revenge with the 32 to 6 defeat handed them here last year in mind. Too, a victory over Tech will be something no team outside the Southwest con- ference has accomplished this sea- son, and that only once, early in the season. A win over Tech would provide the necessary element in a Homecoming day celebration.

Players making the trip to Albu- querque are:

Bill Teal, Malcolm Martin, Matt Hitchcock and Yancy Price, ends. Bennie McWilliams, Truett Owen Elva Baker and Clarence Young, tackles; Lacey Turner, Toby Greer, Captain Ross Ayers and Lawrence Priddy, guards; Whacker Barton and Lester Tribble, centers; Johnny Beauchamp and Speed Moffett, quarterbacks; Lefty Sollis, D. M. McElroy, Lee Gaylor, Johnny Walk- er and W. N. Fuqua, halfbacks; Har- old Crites, Marion Harris and Leonard Curfman, fullbacks.

Lamesa Tornadoes Play Lubbock Gridders Friday

Last Home Game Of Season Is Slated For Tomorrow

In what may be their last home appearance this season, the Lubbock High school Westerners meet the Lamesa Golden Tornadoes, strong Class B football team of this dis- trict, tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the Texas Tech field.

The Tornadoes, who won a de- cision over Slaton's Tigers last Fri- day, are said to be making extra- ordinary plans with the hopes of up- setting the dope and emerging with a victory, or at least a close score, in Friday's game. Although the Slaton game resulted in a scoreless tie, Lamesa's offensive proved much stronger than Slaton's, and the Tornadoes pierced Slaton's 20- yard line a sufficient number of times to win a victory.

Hard Workout Wednesday

The Westerners indulged in a stiff workout yesterday. They will go lightly this afternoon but Coach Chapman will send his best lineup in against Lamesa tomorrow.

No more home games are sche- duled for the Westerners. Next Thursday finds them in Amarillo to fight for the District 1 champion- ship with the Amarillo Golden Sandstorm, with whom they are deadlocked for the leadership in the district. The Thanksgiving day clash at Butler field will definitely decide who shall wear the district crown, provided Amarillo is suc- cessful against Borger this week. The Sandies are overwhelming fa- vorites to take the Bulldogs, and thereby win their third conferen e victory.

Gridder Sews Way To Coed's Heart

Meet "The Mighty Pyland," Gridder Extraordinary, Whose Chief Indoor Sport Is Driving A Sewing Machine

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN MARCOS, Nov. 16. — Mighty gladiators of the grid- iron! You've read your reams of copy about them. Don't al- low this yarn to spoil any of your illusions about football's powerful he-man. 'Tis a true story about star football war- rior who can qualify for any old family sewing circle and doesn't blush when his quali- fications are mentioned.

He is Sidney Sublett Pyland. The owner of the moniker is a "versatile" quarterback and fullback for the Southwest Teachers college of this city and is an all-conference man. He has a swell cognomen — "The Mighty Pyland."

He knows as much about a pair of sciassors, a thimble and a sewing machine as the best seamstress in these United States His only "football in- juries" in four years at the teachers college have been needle wounds in his thumb.

Broad of shoulder, possessing a large, short neck, husky from the ground up and the ozone down, his physical make-up is ideal for stardom on the grid- iron, wrestling arena or the he- roic strong man in the footlight sketch

Pyland picked up the cogno- men "The Mighty" because he has always insisted on playing football minus head-gear or shoulder pads. He craves to pummel the opposing line with only the off-tackle smashing power that nature gave. Sure, he comes out of the games with his shoulders black and blue. He doesn't mind. But football is only a side-line with him. There's a real indoor sport he likes best of all—sewing.

He buys a flock of new shirts, rips them to pieces and re- makes them to suit his fancy. He makes his own suits and patches his own socks. The clothes always have plenty of buttons because he sews them on.

A Gridder In Need

He recently reached stardom in the sewing circle when a sweet and very young co-ed at Southwest suddenly discovered she had no new dress to wear to a party. She needed a new dress, made a certain way. She needed it quick and how! She rushed to a store, purchased the material and then back to school and to Pyland. He glanc- ed over the pattern, whipped out his scissors, needle, spool of thread, oiled his sewing ma- chine and started sewing. He finished the dress on the third down with an hour to go. It was a perfect fit and the co-ed's admiration lingers on and on.

Pyland is the football and sewing circle hero of the South- west Teachers college campus. The only guy who ever accus- ed Pyland of being a "softie" because of "The Mighty's" abil- ity to make a co-ed dress, is still trying to find a pair of false teeth that will fit a dilap- idated lower jaw.

Lowell Mason, Duke quarterback, and Zene Wall, Wake Forest field general, have called signals on op- posing teams since high school days. They met again this year.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 16. (AP)—Cotton was a dull and featureless affair today, fluctuating narrowly without definite trend and showing a spurt of activity only in the last half hour when some buying developed. The close was at net gains of one to 3 points.

The market opened steady as Liverpool cables came in 3 to 4 penny points better than due, December closed at 6.38, up 1 point net for the day and March closed at 6.45, up 3 points net.

Liverpool is due on New Orleans tomorrow unchanged to 1 penny point down.

Port receipts 44,307, for week 243,376, for season 3,906,422; last season 4,431,830. Exports 80,694, for week 139,894, for season 2,618,636, last season 2,270,883. Port stock 4,841,197, last year 4,679,531. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 145,666, last year 143,390. Spot sales at Southern markets 35,257, last year 37,483.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Nov. 16. (AP)—Trading in cotton was quiet today and the undertone was fairly steady. Reactions from an opening advance were followed by rallies at the close. December after selling off from 6.36@6.34 closed at 6.30, compared with 6.27 on Tuesday, the general market closing at net advances of 3 to 5 points.

A feature of trading was the increased evening-up of December contracts. Some liquidation of that position was absorbed by trade buying, presumably to fix prices, while there was considerable switching from December to later positions, without much change in differences between months.

Some thought the continent might be holding off for the development of international debt negotiations. Liverpool cables said light offerings in that market had been absorbed by trade and Bombay buying and reported an improving business in cotton goods at Manchester with a good far eastern inquiry.

Stock Market Finds Buyers Thinner And Prices Decline On Wall Street

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 16. (AP)—The stock market found buying thinner today and prices resumed their sluggish decline, leaders losing generally from 1 to 3 points in a turnover of less than a million shares.

With the line of least resistance downward professional traders, in whose hands the market appeared to be resisting, exhibited little interest in the day's developments. Perplexity as to the debt question, which President Hoover was discussing with important administration figures, and further evidence of seasonal easiness in trade doubtless contributed to the attitude of speculative aloofness which the share market reflected.

U. S. government bonds provided a bright spot in the investment market, selling higher on reports presumably, that there was to be no immediate change in the open market reserve policy by which the system is maintaining a portfolio of around $1,850,000,000 in federal securities. Wheat and corn closed steadily, while cotton was able to show some net appreciation.

American Telephone failed to draw inspiration from the expected regular dividend. The stock was heavy prior to the announcement, firmed a little when the decision was given out and then fell back, losing more than three points.

R. H. Macy weakened severely when its directors voted for discontinuance of the 5 per cent annual stock dividend which had been a fixture for five years. The shares had a tumble 4 points. Rails were soggy on indications that a sizeable decline in freight traffic occurred last week, advance evidence thereof being given by New York Central's report. A number of carrier shares, including Central, Union Pacific, Santa Fe, Baltimore and Ohio and Norfolk and Western, sagged 1 to 3.

Industrials seemed to take little comfort in word that steel operations had eased only half a percentage point, or to 19 per cent of rated capacity.

Grain

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Nov. 16 (AP)—As an immediate market influence, southern hemisphere reports of better than average crop prospects more than outdid today adverse conditions for United States winter wheat.

Uncertainties connected with the new British preferential tariff militating against wheat shipments by way of United States ports were also a bearish factor. Overseas buying of upwards of 1,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat, however, had a somewhat steadying effect.

Wheat closed unsettled, 1-8 to 3-8 under yesterday's finish, corn 1-8 to 1-4 off, oats unchanged to 1-4 up, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 5 cents.

Wheat bulls gave stress to reports that drought regions Southwest and West had received little moisture and that with unseasonably cold weather further seeding was impossible. Predictions were current that the United States government report next month would show a larger reduction in domestic winter wheat acreage than private forecasts had pointed to and that low temperatures would be hard on young wheat, especially where the soil was dry or the plants were fly-infested.

Closing indemnities: Wheat—Dec. 44 1-8@1-4, 45 1 2; May 49 1-8@7-4, 50 1-4@3-8; July 50 1-4, 51 1-2. Corn—Dec. 26 1-8, 26 3-8; May 31 3-8, 31 1-2@5-8.

FT. WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Nov. 16. (AP) — Very light receipts featured the cash grain market here today but they were ample for the slow demand here.

Quotations rangged as follows, basis carloads on track at Fort Worth, freight paid, delivered Texas Gulf ports, export rate, or Texas common points: Wheat, No. 2 nominally 32@33. No. 3 nominally 31@32. Sorghums: No. 2 milo per 100 pounds 64@66; No. 2 kaffir 52@54.

We Need Those Highways!

REGARDLESS of whether or not the individual approves or disapproves of the present administration, it must be admitted that the highway department is humming along at top speed, doing Spartan work in its effort to give Texas a complete and connected system of hardsurface roads.

And regardless of how pro-Ferguson the individual may be, he must admit that the reigns of state government were not turned over to "Ma" and "Pa" upon the theory that the state highway department is to be junked, funds for its operation split into various and sundry ways and the present program, which means so much to the welfare of Texas, entirely forgotten.

Despite Jim Ferguson's plan to divvy up the gas tax and despite his past highway record, he was chosen to govern the state of Texas, in his wife's name, for the next two years. He was not chosen to fill the post of "chief cook and bottle washer" to the governor-in-name because of his ideas about highways. He was successful in the campaign simply because the majority of the Democrats of Texas wanted a change—and set out to get it.

That being the undisputed case, The Morning Avalanche wonders what Lubbock and the South Plains will do in the way of continuing—or helping to force a continuation of—the present highway program.

Since a system of paved roads means more to this area than any other one thing with the possible exception of greatly decreased taxes, will its citizens—Fergusonites and anti-Fergusonites alike—get on the firing line for the highway program and stay there until it is completed?

For our own good, we had better do just that.

We had better join with the newly created, non-political Texas Good Roads association in the effort to continue the project which is important to us all. We had better do what we can to secure the completion of the very commendable highway program which, if undisturbed, will make concrete or asphalt ribbons of hundreds of miles of South Plains roads which are now dirt highways.

Good roads—and by good roads we can mean nothing but hardsurface roads—mean pleasure, comfort and profit to us all.

We can't afford to let a change of administrations balk the program if we can help it.

AN ECONOMY PROPOSAL

Since governmental economy will again be a lively issue when congress reconvenes next month, the proposal of the United States Chamber of Commerce for a $400,000,000 annual cut in expenditures for veterans will attract wide attention. This proposal includes the denying of compensation or hospitalization for disabilities not attributable to service during the war and the placing of veterans' relief legislation on a scientific basis to reduce administrative costs.

This report favors generous compensation for all those disabled in defense of their country. But it insists that "ex-soldiers disabled after service by the hazards of civilian life have no more right to support by the government than any other citizen." Similar statements have been made by prominent veterans. On September 24 Admiral Sims said that a reduction of $450,000,000 could be made in the 1933 veterans' appropriation of about $690,000,000 and "still provide liberally and justly" to men disabled in service and to the dependents of those whose deaths were directly attributable to the war.

The United States Chamber of Commerce asks that this economy legislation be enacted during the short session. But both the attitude of members of the present congress, as revealed at the last session, and the history of legislation for veterans' compensation indicate that such reduction can be accomplished only if supported by an overwhelming body of public opinion.

Still, the more you see of some people the more you believe in birth control.

Negro Case Is Reviewed

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

White House

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16. — Between Communism and the case of the seven negroes whose death sentences by Judge J. A. Hawkins at Scottsboro (Ala.) the United States supreme court set aside the other day, it is hard to see any more connection than between Communism and the latest weather forecast or the record of the Scottsboro trial and Dr. Paul Heil's notes on the likeliest method of splitting atoms.

Not one of the negroes is or was a Communist or a political or economic radical of any sort whatever. All seven simply are illiterate darkies.

The charge against them had nothing to do with any attempt to subvert the government or undermine the capitalistic system. They were accused of attacking two young white women who were hoboing their way on a freight train that the negroes among others also were riding on.

For such an offense the Alabama law prescribes the extreme penalty.

THE ALABAMA law was not criticized as overly severe, either.

Objection to the seven negroes' electrocution, in accordance with Judge Hawkins' sentence, was raised solely on the ground that they had not had a fair trial.

Even at this stage in the proceedings no Communistic organization interested itself in the matter. No Communistic issue was at stake.

Complaint that the negroes were being "railroaded" did come from the American Civil Liberties Union—a body which, by its devotion to the defense of human rights, has won, indeed, something of a reputation for radicalism, but which, in fact, offers its services as readily to the victims of radical injustice as well as reactionary.

(For example the union created a sensation a few years ago by upholding, in anti-Ku Klux Klan communities, the right of Klan spokesmen to be heard, even as it was, at the same time, upholding the right of anti-Klansmen to be heard in communities where the Klan was strong.)

THE CIVIL LIBERTIES UNION, at all events, took up the Scottsboro negroes' fight.

Just how and why the case assumed a Communistic aspect immediately afterward is not at all clear. Nevertheless, within a few weeks Moscow notabilities had begun issuing appeals to the world in behalf of the condemned seven; young Communists had stoned American consulate windows in Berlin, Dresden and Cologne; Dr. Albert Einstein had joined nearly 2,000 fellow Germans in sending a protest to the United States against the negroes' execution, and the European press was full of the controversy.

The old negro mammy of one of the prisoners went to Russia and tried to tour other countries to stir up sentiment for her son. The state department, taking a hand, succeeded in getting her deported successively from Belgium, Czechoslovakia, Austria and Bulgaria. This advertised her crusade to such an extent that the expected septuple electrocution promised to cause repercussions throughout the world.

THE CIVIL LIBERTIES UNION, having carried an appeal to the Alabama supreme bench and lost, turned to the federal tribunal of last resort, arguing that the fashion of the negroes' trial had amounted to a disregard of their constitutional rights.

The supreme court's decision in favor of this contention was a signal triumph for the union.

It can hardly be said to have been so pleasing to Communistic leadership, which had planned a monster demonstration on the supposition that the Alabama verdict against the seven negroes would be sustained. Feeling among the colored folk had been fanned to a really dangerous degree of heat, they numbered probably a majority in the large crowd which had been marshalled on the Capitol grounds for the occasion and serious trouble actually was developing when word came from the court room that a new trial had been ordered.

The result naturally was the instant deflation of the entire affair, unquestionably to the acute disappointment of its organizers, but the enthusiastic applause of their negro followers.

This problem of unrest is a world problem. It's now your problem as well as ours, and we must feed the hungry. It's labor that fears the Communists, not the capitalists. We think that the best way to defeat the Communists is to let them get it off their chests.—Lady Astor, on visit to U. S.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

THE INDEFATIGABLE MAYOR:

Mr. Waller's family name, which is so prominent in Texas that Waller County is named after it, probably accounts for his success in getting his name on the ballots. Nineteen times he has run for office unsuccessfully, and at the time my cartoon was drawn Waller's name was posted for the twentieth time, in this case for office of State Representative, with full support and good wishes of his townspeople.

Coincidentally, for the last twenty years Mr. Waller has been mayor of Quintana, Texas, a town that does not exist. About 1910 Quintana ceased to function as a trade center, and its entire population of 3,000 moved elsewhere. But, as it still retains its legal status of an incorporated municipality, its last elected mayor is still in office.

Shipment Of South Plains Turkeys Is Speeded; 32 Carloads Go North

A total of 32 car loads of turkeys from the South Plains have moved out from Lubbock and this section over the Santa Fe this week, it was stated yesterday with announcement of the movement last night of four cars, two from Lubbock, one from Clovis and one from Amarillo.

One car was shipped to New York Tuesday night by express. The rest have been handled in freight movement, a train of 23 cars moving Monday night.

Fast Shipment Made

Besides the train movement Monday, four cars were shipped Tuesday night; two to Pittsburgh, Pa., and two to Detroit, by fast freight.

Wednesday night four more cars went by fast freight. Destinations were not announced. Two of these cars were from Lubbock, one from Clovis and another from Amarillo.

Lubbock is the turkey concentration point for South Plains towns. Shipments have come in here from Littlefield, Snyder, Sweetwater and Lamesa, as well as from other points.

Total number of birds in the 32 cars is estimated at between 52,500 and 62,500. With an average price of 11 to 12 cents a pound, the net to the farmers will exceed $60,000 it is believed. Some estimates place the total as high as $70,000.

Net weight of the birds is estimated at from 525,000 to 625,000 pounds. There is a considerable shrinkage in picking.

Meteors Fail Plains People

Tech Astronomer Reports He Has Heard Of None Seen In This Area; Clouds Hamper View Wednesday Night

The celestial curtain was drawn here last night a few hours before the Leonid meteors, the most spectacular of stellar performers, were to take the stage in the southern sky.

Although the earth barges into the Leonid path annually, astronomers have calculated that it crosses the main body every 33 years, Prof. R. S. Underwood of Texas Tech mathematics department and student of astronomy said. This year will mark the first "full program" of the meteors in this century.

None Reported Yet

Although the early morning skies have been scanned by scientists and laymen since Monday, Professor Underwood last night had heard no one report the appearance of the Leonids. Chas. P. Oliver, astronomer of the University of Pennsylvania, had calculated that the best chances for the meteors were on the early morning hours of Nov. 16 and 17.

The Tech professor last night set his alarm clock for 3 a. m., and planned to look for the Leonids at that time.

"The meteors appear to radiate from the constellation of Leo, and for that reason they were given the name Leonid," Professor Underwood, who took his M. A. degree in astronomy, said. "The best chance to see the meteors is to face south."

Beware the Cough or Cold that Hangs On

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (Adv.)

Capone's Plea Given Hearing

Gangster Sits In Court With Lawyers But Is Taken Back To Cell In Three Hours As Judge Receives Case

(By The Associated Press)

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 16.—Al Capone emerged from his enforced retirement in the Atlantic Federal penitentiary long enough today to hear Federal Judge E. Marvin Underwood take under advisement the government motion to dismiss the habeas corpus petition brought by attorneys for the former gangster.

For three hours and fifteen minutes Capone sat in court with his counsel and listened to a maze of legal arguments involving his right to freedom under the statute of limitations.

Then Chicago's former Public Enemy No. 1 was hustled back into a prison car and hurried once again behind the steep gray walls where his identity is screened behind the number 40,886.

William E. Leahy and William J. Hughes, jr., Washington attorneys, appeared to argue Capone's connection that the three-year period under the statute of limitations had expired before Capone was indicted for violation of the Federal income tax laws.

changes because "chaos and confusion" would follow. Ohio has constitutional prohibition.

Another attempt to repeal the Minnesota prohibition act has been promised by State Rep. John J. McDonough, St. Paul Democrat who led several efforts in the past. McDonough said the election showed sufficient change in sentiment to insure repeal.

The 1931 legislature provided that the Minnesota law shall automatically conform to Federal statutes in case of a change.

Gov. Charles W. Bryan, Democrat, is depended upon by the anti-saloon league in Nebraska to defeat any wet legislation.

Prohibition was not a major issue in Iowa's gubernatorial and legislative campaigns and no announcements for repeal have been made. The Iowa law could be changed by legislative vote.

Economy rather than prohibition was the issue in South Dakota, where attempts were made in 1931 to repeal the dry clause in the state constitution. This clause was reinserted in 1916 by referendum after the original section of the basic law of 1889 had been repealed in 1896.

From a 120-acre cotton field Mr. Clark so far has picked and ginned 104 bales. He expected to get six or seven bales more.

Last year the same acreage yielded 90 bales. The Clark farm is six miles northwest of Lubbock on highway No. 7.

would like to answer," Sayles said.

"The ruins of the ancient inhabitants of the north Panhandle are astounding," he continued. "Their extent can not be pictured until they are studied on the ground. Interest in them will increase in the future, and the Panhandle is fortunate in having started the museum at Canyon, where material from these ruins may be studied by the archeologists and enjoyed by visitors."

Studer has located and mapped 193 of these ruins to which Sayles referred. The dwellings range in size from two or three rooms to 300 rooms, representing both vertical and horizontal masonry. Through the efforts of Dr. W. C. Holden, of Texas Technological college, working under auspices of the museum at Canyon, it was established this summer that the dwellings were occupied 600 years ago. But how much older than that the ruins may be is not known.

Baptist Meeting

gressmen in their efforts to resist the attack on the Eighteenth amendment and the dry laws."

"If the Baptist constituents, meaning actual members, be added adherents to the Baptist faith, but not members, the number will reach two million persons under baptist influence in Texas," the resolution stated.

A report on activities of Simmons university, one of the church's schools, located at Abilene, and of Buckner's Orphan home at Dallas also were on the program for discussion.

Morris Ruled Out

Rev. Sam Morris, pastor of the First Baptist church at Stamford, tried to get a series of motions before the convention without success. He was ruled out of order each time.

It was generally expected in the convention that the Rev. Mr. Morris had planned to press the adoption of resolutions directing criticism at Baylor university activities, particularly reception there last June as the commencement speaker of Kirby Page of New York. Rev. Mr. Morris objected to Page addressing Baylor graduates on grounds he was "modernistic and radical."

Rev. Mr. Morris first was ruled out of order when he proposed that the resolutions committee present its report to the convention tomorrow and that an hour's time be allotted to discussion of its recommendations.

Ruling Made Early

It previously had been moved that all resolutions be referred to the committee without being read to the convention.

Later Rev. Mr. Morris came to the platform and said: "I move that this convention express its regret at the action taken last June by Baylor university . . ."

That was as far as he got. His voice was drowned out by the pounding gavel of President Hardy, who held the motion out of order. The delegates cheered.

He's Persistent

Again, at the afternoon session, Rev. Mr. Morris tried to get his motion before the convention, but again he was put in his seat by the president. The convention cheered more enthusiastically than it did previously.

Dr. Hardy contended that the order of business could not be altered from the form recommended by the committee on order of business. It previously had been amended, however, to permit reception of the prohibition report tonight.

The convention exchanged messages of fellowship with Baptist assemblies in Alabama, Oklahoma, and Louisiana, now in session.

Missouri Youth Is Farm Leader

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 15 (AP)—Long and arduous hours spent in scientific farming have won for Clarence Goldsberry, 22-year-old Houston, Mo., boy the title of "Star American Farmer" and a cash prize of $1,000.

Goldsberry, whose achievements in the Ozarks ranked him as the year's leading member of the Future Farmers of America, received the award last night at the American Royal Livestock show.

Starting with $179 borrowed from his father, Goldsberry now has a working capital of $2,156. He owns eight registered Jersey cattle, 11 registered Hampshire hogs, 952 chickens and an interest in a community bull. His record includes 15 farm projects carried on as part of his vocational agriculture course, 19 supplementary farm jobs and skill in 12 farming operations.

Poor Roads In U. S.? Try Russia

They started out to tour Russia in an automobile—and finished up on a flatcar, did these two Atlanta, Ga., girls. At left is Alva Christensen and right, Mary L. Degive.

MOSCOW, Nov. 16. Two "motoring babes in the wood" of Russia have just met with difficulties which would make drivers back in the United States shudder with horror.

The young women are Alva Christensen and Mary L. Degive, society girls of Atlanta, Ga. A short time ago they set out on an auto tour of Russia to find out first hand what road conditions were. They found out!

They started out on the Poland-Soviet Union border. The Soviet consul at Warsaw drew maps for them and, escorted by a police guard, they went across the border. All previous cars which have gone over the line have had to drive on the rails of railroad tracks, because there is no road through this no man's land.

The girls didn't want to drive over the rails and detoured, breaking trail as it were for the first time over the border. They drove their car through stumps of a newly-cut forest, passing through camps bristling with armed guards and through entanglements of "charged" barbed wire.

Their trip through to Minsk was "terrible," and; on arrival here, they urged other American girls with a similar idea to "forget it."

Near Borisov they ran into a rainy season and, on the country roads, the car become so enmired that it took most of the men, women and children of a nearby village to free it. By the time they got out of the neighborhood they had three torn fenders, a split running board and a fan belt so caked with mud that it refused to turn.

Thoroughly disgusted with the trip, they put their car aboard a flat car near Smolensk and finished the trip to Moscow by railroad.

LOCAL BAPTISTS HONORED

Two Lubbock men were named on committees of the Baptist general convention at Abilene Wednesday. J. D. Carroll, former educational director of the First Baptist church here, was chosen for the Sunday school committee, and Dr. J. F. Frye was named on the seminaries committee.

Because of low prices this year, the farmers of northern and eastern Colorado will hold their crop of popcorn from the market and feed it to livestock.

The witnesses were, in addition to Robinson:

States—Anna Bell Jordan, wife of the operator of the restaurant; Eva Epperson; her husband, Jack Epperson; Dean Scott; Bob Milligan; George Eubank, police identifications officer; Calvin Quigley, negro undertaker; Dr. J. H. Stiles; Bruce Bryan, who accompanied an ambulance to the scene of the double shooting.

Defense—J. S. Netter; Phil Harper; Thelma Shields; Julia Robinson; Elmer Pyles; Adelade Robinson, mother of the defendant.

The Jordan woman, the Eppersons, Scott and Milligan said they were in the restaurant when the shooting occurred. Pyles said he saw Hammond shot.

Hoover And Roosevelt Keep Busy

Resounding Welcome Given President As He Returns To His Washington Duties; Democratic Leader Feeling Better

HOOVER

BY JOHN F. CURTIS
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16 (AP)—Gathering his advisors around him, President Hoover today plunged deep into consideration of the nation's war debt course and of the policies his administration will pursue until its March 4 conclusion.

Almost before the echoes of a returning-to-the capital reception for him had died, the chief executive called in one after another of his aides.

Mills Is First

Secretary Mills, after a half hour conference, let it be known he had discussed the policies to be outlined shortly in response to requests from foreign debtors for a review of their obligations and for a suspension of payments due December 15. Senator Reed of Pennsylvania followed, while Secretary Stimson discussed the debt problem, also, across the White House luncheon table.

Other cabinet and official callers, including Vice-President Curtis, reported they had spoken principally of more domestic problems and of other matters to be placed before Congress by the chief executive when it convenes December 5.

Although the President himself remained silent on debt matters, as possibly he may until the closer approach of his conference with President-Elect Roosevelt, Mr. Hoover was represented in authoritative quarters as definitely opposed to another year's moratorium.

Is Growing Harder

The President is not convinced, it was said, that all payments due the United States December 15, will not be made and feels that a more rigid attitude should be adopted than wholesale suspension of these payments.

Today the separate but similar requests of Great Britain, France and Belgium for a deferment of payments and a reopening of debt negotiations were reviewed by the President. Esthonia, Lativia and Poland previously had advised the Washington government they could not meet principal payments due in September, while Greece has defaulted upon a payment due recently and Hungary has said her payment due in December cannot be met.

While the president was discussing plans for meeting this situation, to be placed before Governor Roosevelt upon his arrival at the White House, probably early next week, Presidential aids awaited a call from the New York governor to set an exact hour for the parley. Up until near closing time for the executive offices, however, there was no call from Albany.

Proposals Not Set

The exact proposals to be discussed at this debt conference have not been outlined, although repeated opposition to cancellation has been expressed by the chief executive. He already has communicated to the President-elect, also, his belief that if concessions were made, concrete extentions of American markets abroad should be received in return.

Mr. Hoover has expressed to his successor-elect, also, the fact that debt matters must be dealt with in the final analysis by Congress, adding the view that if any negotiations are to be begun, the views of the Democratic leaders on Capitol hill who look to him as leader will play an important part.

Although he intends to confer with outstanding Democrats before submitting recommendations to Congress, the President has not taken definite action upon Mr. Roosevelt's suggestion that he hold a parley with these leaders.

Reception Is Given

Before returning to his desk this morning for the first time in two weeks, the chief executive was given a resounding reception as he stepped from his special train after a speedy trip across the continent from his Palo Alto, California, home.

Virtually the entire official family was on hand, and the President and Mrs. Hoover walked through a solid lane of officials, shaking hands on each side to a chorus of cheers and handclapping from a throng in the station concourse. Within half an hour after his train reached the capital at 8:30 a. m. Mr. Hoover was seated at his desk.

ROOSEVELT

BY WALTER T. BROWN
Associated Press Staff Writer

EXECUTIVE MANSION, Albany, N. Y., Nov. 16 (AP)—Governor Roosevelt, in a gray business suit, up from a sick bed after five days' illness, worked on the state budget at the mansion today, seeking ways of making up a deficit of "something under $80,000,000" in this year's revenue.

The President-elect held his regular press conference and saw a few visitors, among them Louis B. Wehle, a relative of Supreme Court Justice Louis B. Brandeis. Wehle, a former Louisville resident, now is an attorney in New York. His was a social call.

Appears Rested

Mr. Roosevelt, appearing rested and without an apparent trace of the cold that sent him to bed a few days after his election, said he felt "fine."

"Tomorrow I'll be down in my study on the first floor and perhaps the next day I'll go outside," he remarked. He is scheduled to go to Hyde Park Saturday and to leave for Warm Springs, Ga., early next week. He will stop off at Washington for an informal talk with President Hoover who invited him to the White House to discuss the foreign debt situation.

Time Not Set

"No, I don't know when I shall call the President," he replied to a question. The Governor asserted, in his answer to Mr. Hoover's invitation, that he would telephone him when he decided to leave for Georgia.

When the newspapermen entered the Governor's bedroom he was seated at a card table signing letters. Behind him on a bureau was a large model of a motor speedboat made by Harry Doremus, a convict at Great Meadow prison. Doremus had named it the "Pardon Me". In his note to Mr. Roosevelt he said he had done all the work on the model.

Praises Convict's Work

"Isn't it a beauty; complete in every detail, even to a motor," said Roosevelt.

"Oh, we'll balance the budget of the state," he declared pointing out that a provision of the state constitution required that a deficit one year must be made up the next.

"How will you do it," he was asked.

"By economies and perhaps taxes, but we haven't got down to that yet," he answered. The "we" referred to Mark Graves the budget director.

On last September 1, the deficit was estimated at $100,000,000 but since then increases in taxes, the Governor said, had reduced the prospective deficit to less than $80,000,000. Increased returns from stock transfer, corporation and inheritance taxes have helped the situation.

Mr. Roosevelt will present a complete budget to his successor Lelut.-Governor Herbert H. Lehman, he said.

Railways Seek Old Rate Back

Eight Texas Roads Urge ICC To Rescind Its Order Put Into Effect Last Week And Hiking Freight Charges

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Eight Texas railroads today asked the Interstate Commerce commission to rescind its order requiring rail carriers within the state to increase rates on less than carload freight.

The roads asserted in their petition that the old rates are wanted because the increases do not apply to motor-rail transport companies organized by five major trunk lines operating in the state. They said shippers have given notice that if the higher rates are charged they will use the motor-rail transport companies or give their business to trucks.

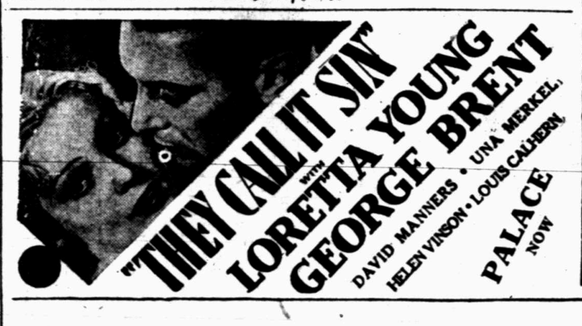

Rates In Effect

Increased freight rates went into effect in Texas last Tuesday under an order of the Interstate Commerce commission after the Texas Railroad commission had refused to raise rates in accordance with the emergency order of the Federal tribunal issued last December.

The railroads named in today's petition are Burlington-Rock Island, Chicago-Rock Island and Gulf, Fort Worth and Denver City, Fort Worth and Rio Grande, Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe, St. Louis-San Francisco Railway company of Texas, Wichita Falls and Southern, and the Wichita Valley Railway company.

SCHOOL FUND RECEIVED

LAMESA, Nov. 16—Dawson county has received its 12th apportionment for rural school children, according to W. T. Webb, county school superintendent. The entire county received $4,055, which leaves a balance of $1.50 per capita due this county.

Frank Vosburg's Illness Is Fatal

Frank E. Vosburg, 61, retired Lovington, N. M., rancher, and a landowner, died in a hospital here at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, of gangrene which last Monday necessitated amputation of his left leg near the hip.

A rare disease, which resulted in shriveling of the arteries, resulted in the infection, the attending physician said. Mr. Vosburg had been a victim of the disease for about 10 years.

The body was taken overland by Bynum-Stahler funeral home to Lovington last night. Funeral services will be held there this afternoon. Mr. Vosburg is survived by his widow, three sisters, and two brothers. He was brought to Lubbock for treatment Nov. 5.

"Dear Sirs: For 3 months I've been using your salts and am very much pleased with results. I've lost 45 lbs., 6 inches in hips and bust measure. I've taken 3 bottles—one lasting 5 weeks. I had often tried to reduce by dieting but never could keep it up, but by cutting down and taking Kruschen I've had splendid results. I highly recommend it to my friends."—Mrs. Carl Wilson, Manton, Mich.

To lose fat SAFELY and HARMLESSLY, take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—don't miss a morning. To hasten results go light on fatty meats, potatoes, cream and pastries—a bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle—but don't take chances—be sure it's Kruschen—your health comes first—get it at Clark Halsey Drug, City Drug, or any drugstore in America. If not joyfully satisfied after the first bottle—money back. Adv.
