Huge gatherings feed U.S. hungry

by The Associated Press

Betty Boop and Kermit the Frog got soaked in New York, astronauts dined on irradiated turkey in space, dinner was served by the ton in Denver, and President Reagan got an airborne greeting as the nation marked Thanksgiving.

While millions of Americans feasted at well-laden tables with relatives, thousands of others made sure those in need were not forgotten on a holiday that celebrates the land's bounty.

Some dinners were huge affairs.

"Daddy" Bruce Randolph, who started out selling barbecue sandwiches for a dime apiece in Arkansas, estimated 100,000 people came to devour the 4 tons of turkey and ribs and 3,000 pounds of beans he served on a Denver street that was renamed in his honor.

The free Thanksgiving dinners, for which much of the food is donated, started shortly after Randolph, 85, came to town in the 1950s and opened Daddy Bruce's Bar-B-Q.

Israel cooperates in spy case

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Israel may allow two diplomats recalled from the United States to return for questioning by U.S. officials investigating the case of a Navy analyst accused of spying for Israel, a government source said today.

DAYS 'TIL CHRISTMAS

Meanwhile, The New York Times reported today that an internal Israeli inquiry was said to have determined that Jonathan J. Pollard, 31, the American arrested on charges of selling classified documents to Israel, was an operative for a secretive Israeli counterterrorism bureau.

The government source, who spoke on condition of anonymity, told The Associated Press that the diplomats would only be allowed to return if they kept their diplomatic immunity, which would shield them from providing answers that could compromise Israeli security interests.

A final decision on whether to allow the questioning was expected to be made by Prime Minister Shimon Peres, Foreign Minister Yitzhak Shamir and Defense Minister Yitzhak Rabin. They have been meeting daily on the controversy.

Several Israeli newspapers said today that FBI agents would be allowed to talk with the diplomats in Israel.

Israeli sources have identified the two diplomats as Yosef Yagur, the science attache at the consulate-general in New York, and Ilan Ravid, deputy science attache in the Washington embassy.

Israel radio said Peres has sent a message to Secretary of State George P. Shultz expressing Israel's willingness to return whatever documents it can find that may have been bought from Pollard.

An Israeli official denied that Peres sent a letter but refused to rule out any other communication between the premier and U.S. officials on the subject.

"We said from the beginning we are ready to cooperate with the United States, and I won't go into whether there have been diplomatic exchanges between us and the United States," the Israeli official said.

He refused to say when the investigation would be completed but said it would be "reported between the two governments and not publicly."

Q. — What is the highest barometer reading we have had, and the lowest?

A. — Such weather information, traditionally maintained by the National Weather Service regional office in Lubbock, is not kept for area reporting stations like Snyder.

In Brief

Saboteurs

TOKYO (AP) — Saboteurs firebombed a train station and sliced railroad communications cables today, paralyzing commuter rail lines in the Tokyo area and creating chaos for more than 10 million rush-hour travelers, officials said.

Acts of vandalism were reported at the same time in six other parts of the country, including the cities of Osaka, Kyoto and Hiroshima, but with less serious impact on rail service, the government-run Japan National Railways and National Police Agency reported.

No injuries were reported in any of the incidents. A national police spokesman said 48 people were arrested in Tokyo and Osaka in connection with the station firebombing.

The spokesman, speaking on condition of anonymity, said the wrecking was apparently carried out by radical leftists sympathetic with striking railway employees.

Delay trial

ABILENE, Texas (AP) — The lawyer for paroled swindler Billie Sol Estes, who now faces trial on a rape charge, says he and his defendant will fight "kicking and screaming" a move by prosecutors to postpone Estes' trial.

District Attorney Jorge Solis said he will file a motion to delay the trial on Monday and added that state District Judge Don Lane told him it would be granted.

Operator to change...

Monsanto plant in owner switch

Approximately 40 local staffers for Monsanto Oil Company operations here were officially informed Wednesday of the pending sale of Monsanto operations in the U.S. and Canada to Broken-Hill Petroleum (BHP), an Australian-based oil firm.

Locally, Monsanto is the operator and a 20 percent owner of the Diamond M gas processing plant and its related production operation.

Ken Bissett, plant manager, said Friday, "We were told Monsanto has signed a letter of intent with BHP." Bissett added, "We expect the transition to be very smooth."

He said the indication was that all current Monsanto staffers employed on a fulltime basis "will have their exact job and at the exact salary" after the change.

Monsanto Oil Company is a subsidiary of Monsanto Chemical.

Bissett said the announced dates to conclude the sale are Dec. 20 for all U.S. operations and later in January for those in Canada.

The quoted sale price for the operations in the two countries was $745 million.

Earlier this year, Monsanto Oil sold its holdings in the United Kingdom to Amerada Hess.

Bissett said the Diamond M plant employs 32 staffers. Less than 10 are said involved in the production work for the plant. This part of the local operation is headed by Derald Lambert.

Jaycees again slating contest, Santa phone

Two annual Christmas projects sponsored by the Snyder Jaycees will be held again this Yuletide season.

This includes the residential Christmas decorating contest and the "Telephone Santa" night.

Deadline for entering the residential decorating event is Dec. 20 with judging to be held on the evening of Dec. 22.

There is no entry fee for the competition and prizes will be awarded to the first, second and third place entries.

Prizes for the 1985 contest will be either cash or gift certificates from local merchants in values of $50, $25 and $10.

In addition, next Dec. 10, Snyder and Scurry County youngsters will again have the opportunity to call Santa Claus via a special telephone hook-up to the North Pole arranged by the Jaycees.

The direct line to Santa will be open from 7 to 9 p.m. on Tuesday, Dec. 10. Santa can be reached that evening by dialing 573-3558.

Wreck ends brief chase

A brief chase ended here Thursday night with a pursued driver hitting a parked pickup — an incident which began after police were notified of a suspected intoxicated driver.

Officers were informed at 10:48 p.m. of a possible intoxicated driver in an older model Pontiac.

Police spotted and attempted to stop the vehicle near East Highway and Ave. E, but the driver reportedly refused to stop.

The brief chase ended at 10:52 p.m. when the 1976 Pontiac driven by Richard L. Villanueva of 1800 Scott St. collided with a parked 1973 Ford pickup owned by Fernando Puente of 2805 Ave. F. The vehicle was parked in front of Puente's residence.

The 39-year-old Villanueva was taken from the scene to Cogdell Memorial Hospital where he was admitted for examination for possible injuries.

Villanueva was also charged with driving while intoxicated, evading arrest and driving with a suspended license.

A 24-year-old male passenger in the Villanueva vehicle was treated for minor injuries and released from the local hospital. He was also charged with public intoxication.

Mid-winter classes planned by college

College students may earn three hours of college credits in a mid-winter session scheduled by Western Texas College from Jan. 2-14.

Classes will meet from 9-11:45 a.m. and 1-3 p.m. daily except on Jan. 4, 5, 11 and 12. Final examinations will start at 8 a.m. on Jan. 14.

Courses on the schedule are Business 232 (business law), Computer Science 130 (introduction to computer science), English 231 (American literature), English 232 (English literature), Government 231 and 232 (American, state and local government), History 132 (U. S. history since 1865), and Mathematics 134 (college trigonometry).

Fees will be $46 plus textbooks. Students enrolling in Computer Science 130 will also pay a $20 lab fee.

Registration for the mid-winter session will be held Dec. 17-20. Late registration will be held from 8-9 a.m. on Jan. 2. Registration forms will be available in the Student Services office in the administration building.

Students who have previously attended WTC and have an application for admission on file may register by mail by sending the required fee to the Student Services office. Students who have not attended WTC may request an application for admission to be sent to them by calling the office at 573-8511.

"Mid-winter classes are available for students with strong academic backgrounds," Dr. Duane Hood, dean of student services, noted. "Because of the stringent demand of the classes, students with grade point averages below 3.0 should carefully consider the course requirements before registration. For specific information about a course, students are encouraged to contact the instructor."

The feller on Deep Creek says, "Two reasons why a person can't get credit. He's either not known, or it's because he is."

Keeping tabs on our neighbors:

O. G. Nieman, in the Hereford Brand, tells about his seven-year-old neighbor Kathy who was trying to quiet her younger brother during the morning church service.

"Hush...hush," she warned him. You're not suppose to talk out loud in church."

"Why not?" he asked. "Who's going to stop me?"

Kathy pointed to the rear of the sanctuary. "You see those men standing back there? Well, they're the hushers."

Walter Buckel, in the Lamesa Press-Reporter, had a few leftovers from Thanksgiving Day.

"Anyone who isn't consused isn't well informed."

"A message on the wall in a nearby city reads, 'Is there intelligent life on Earth?' Beneath it, someone had added a reply. 'Yes, but I'm only visiting.'"

Right after Thanksgiving, James Roberts in the Andrews County News wonders why those women's magazines have 10 pages of recipes followed by 10 pages of new diets.

It was Roberts who added this to the list of situations when you know you're having a bad day.

"You're having a bad day in the oil patch when you take your new vice president on his first deer hunt and he shoots a 900-pound Charolais."

Two playoffs of AAA teams due Saturday

Snyder's Tiger Stadium will be the scene Saturday for two football playoff games.

Both will involve Class AAA schools in regional competition.

At 2 p.m., Vernon and Kermit will meet. Vernon will bring a season record of 10-2 while Kermit is 11-0.

The day's second game will be at 8 p.m. between neighboring Post versus Ballinger. Post is 10-2 for the year and Ballinger is 10-1-1.

Forecasters hope hurricane season is now finally over

MIAMI (AP) — Forecasters say this year's record-setting hurricane season was simply a return to normal following three years when hurricane development was prevented in part by a weather phenomenon called "El Nino."

During the 1985 season, which began June 1 and ends Saturday, 11 storms formed including seven hurricanes, six of which hit land. Of the four other tropical storms, two sloshed ashore.

Records set in this year's season include the most storms to strike the U.S. coast since 1916, the largest evacuation, the costliest damage, and the first November storm to make landfall in 50 years.

But don't expect next year to be much better, hurricane forecasters warn.

"The El Nino phenomenon is believed to allow great heat releases in thunderstorms, which shear the tops off tropical waves, stunting their growth," said forecaster Gil Clark, a 30-year storm veteran at the National Hurricane Center in Coral Gables.

"In 1982, '83 and '84, we had very light hurricane seasons" because El Nino was present, Clark said. But El Nino appears only in three- to seven-year cycles and the rest of the time, Clark said, "we have an average 10 tropical storms and hurricanes a year," with an average of three hitting the United States."

Not since 1916, however, have as many as eight storms hit the U.S. coast, and never has the damage been costlier than this season. Preliminary estimates show more than $4 billion in hurricane and tropical storm damage this year, he said.

Damage estimates are so high because more people live on the coast now and coastal property costs more than in the past, he said.

Hurricane Kate, which recently dissolved in the Atlantic Ocean, caused the most damage this season. The final numbers aren't in, but forecasters are guessing at least $1 billion.

Kate was the first November storm to reach the U.S. coast in 50 years and the first in memory to push inland at hurricane strength through the northwest Florida Panhandle, destroying coastal roads and blacking out Tallahassee, Florida's capital.

Born Nov. 15 in the Atlantic Ocean north of Puerto Rico, the late-season storm slashed Cuba, brushed the Florida Keys and then headed directly for the Panhandle, where it came ashore between Panama City and Apalachicola.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov.22) Try not to to let yourself get into a rut today because a lack of activity could produce a negative outlook. Being busy will have the opposite effect.

Home for the Holidays: How Long Is Too Long?

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1985 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: Christmas will soon be here, and my annual visit to my parents is upcoming. (We live 600 miles apart.) I always look forward to my visits home, and I know they feel the same.

But by the time my stay is over, they seem relieved to see me and my three children leave. (The kids are fairly well-behaved.)

Abby, how long do you think is appropriate for a visit of this kind? And how many days would be overdoing it?

THEIR LOVING DAUGHTER

DEAR DAUGHTER: No one answer can apply to everyone. Much would depend on one's interpretation of "fairly well-behaved," as well as the tolerance level of the grandparents. Since you sense that the length of your stay may be "overdoing it," try cutting your visit a little shorter next time, and see if your parents try to talk you into staying longer.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: This is for the young mother who wanted to warn people against letting their children run down the sidewalk with glass baby bottles. (Hers fell and had to have stitches in her chest.)

Any child who is old enough to run is too old to be drinking milk from a bottle!

Bottles should be used for feeding infants—not as pacifiers to keep a child quiet or entertained. Doctors will tell you so.

SHARON IN PRINEVILLE, ORE.

DEAR SHARON: Several did. Read on:

DEAR ABBY: A few words from a dentist who has seen too many "baby-bottle cavities":

Mothers, please don't put your child to bed with a bottle containing milk, fruit juice or soft drinks. The sugar (yes, milk contains natural sugar) decays the child's teeth, causing needless pain and suffering and big dental bills. Infants' and children's teeth should be cleaned with a washcloth or soft bristled brush after each feeding.

Until a child is old enough to use a toothbrush, mothers are solely responsible for the care of their child's teeth. Baby teeth are important; they maintain a space for the permanent teeth and aid in proper digestion.

It is not a pleasant task to treat a 2-year-old for baby-bottle cavities. I know.

BETH PATTERSON, D.M.D., SEARCY, ARK.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Our son is 16 years old and wants to start shaving, but he has nothing to shave. There is a little bit of fuzz on his upper lip, but it's hardly noticeable. A few of his friends have started to shave already, so I suppose that is where he got the idea.

Should we let him? Abby, why would a boy who has nothing to shave want to start shaving?

FONTANA MOM

DEAR MOM: A boy who has nothing to shave wants to start shaving for the same reason a girl who has nothing to put into a brassiere wants to start wearing one: peer pressure. Give him your blessings. He'll be shaving for a long time. One more year won't make much difference.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I think I have hit upon a great idea to sharply reduce the number of unplanned teen-age pregnancies.

Change the euphemism for sexual intercourse from "making love" to "making babies." Maybe then the romantic fantasies young girls have would be replaced with reality, and they wouldn't take such foolish chances.

SYLVIA IN VENTURA

Man receives double transplant

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Doctors began transplanting the heart and lungs of an unidentified donor into the chest of a man who was alerted that the organs were available when a message flashed across his television screen.

Nina Trasoff, a spokeswoman for the University of Arizona Medical Center, said the message was flashed in a bid to find 32-year-old Terry May after doctors had tried to reach him at his home in Tempe, and then on the beeper he always carries.

Getting ready for bad news

By James Jacoby

Quite a few people play that jumping to three of a minor suit in response to an opening no-trump bid is either a weak bid or only invitational to game. When those players have a very strong hand with a long minor, they must first bid two clubs (ostensibly the Stayman convention) and at their next turn bid three of their long minor suit. That was what happened in today's bidding. According to North-South's system, South showed a very strong hand. Regardless, it was impulsive of South to go all the way to seven diamonds. However, his fine play justified his rash overbidding.

Declarer won the opening lead with dummy's club ace and trumped a club with his diamond seven. He played the eight of diamonds to the king (getting the bad news), and played dummy's six. That held the trick. He now ruffed another club, cashed the A-K of spades and led a heart to dummy's queen. One more club ruff reduced his diamond length to that of East. Now he led a heart to dummy's ace and cashed the queen of spades. If East ruffed, declarer would overruff and draw the last trump. If East discarded, so would South, and the lead would be in dummy at trick 12, with both East and South down to their last two diamonds.

Of course the bad trump split was unlikely, but it cost South nothing to prepare for the possibility. Thus, at trick two, trumping a club with an intermediate spot-card was crucial to the success of the hand.

BEAUTY BRIEFS

By Florence De Santis

Exercise

Exercise is necessary for good health, but its effects on the body vary.

The body structure remains the same in spite of exercise.

If your natural build is wide-hipped, you may reduce hip width by an inch or two through exercise that tightens up lax muscles — but the bone structure can't be narrowed.

The goal of an exercise regime should be general well-being, not remaking one's figure. Diet, in any case, will do a lot more for your shape by reducing the body fat.

Feature faults

Facial problems can often be minimized by using makeup correctly. Colorful eye makeup draws attention away from a wide and flat nose bridge.

A large nose can seem to recede when "framed," using eye makeup, blusher and lipstick.

To slenderize the nose, use a dark foundation on the sides, blend a light streak down the bridge. Reverse the colors to make a thin nose seem wider, with a bit of dark just under the tip to appear to shorten it.

It says the survey found that 44 percent of people treated for arthritis and chronic pain did not take medications as prescribed. Most of them indicated they stop taking medications when side-effects occur, without consulting their doctor. The leading reason for stopping drug use was stomach upset.

The foundation advised people to consult their doctors when they have concerns about their medications.

In 1958, Moscow unexpectedly released 21 German scientists and technicians who had been working in the Soviet Union since the end of World War II.

Aggies Cotton Bowl bound after 42-10 win over Texas

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) - Texas A&M's first Southwest Conference game this season turned the Aggies' season around, but it was the first quarter of Thursday's Thanksgiving Day massacre of Texas 42-10 that put them in the Cotton Bowl.

The 15th-ranked Aggies stopped No. 18 Texas on four downs inside their 4-yard line in the first quarter, held on for a 7-0 halftime lead and they blew the Longhorns away with a 21-point third quarter explosion over a 3:36 time span.

The victory gave the Aggies the outright Southwest Conference championship and the host berth in the Cotton Bowl for the first time since the 1968 event.

"Stopping them on the goal line was the turning point in the game," Aggie Coach Jackie Sherrill said. "When you go for it and don't make it, it takes something out of you. For this time and this program, it's probably the biggest victory I've had."

The Aggies, 9-2, will meet the Auburn Tigers in the New Year's Day Classic and the Longhorns will play Air Force in the Bluebonnet Bowl on New Year's Eve afternoon.

Murray also said stopping the fourth down plunge by Texas' Edwin Simmons in the first quarter was a key to the victory.

"Anytime you hold a team like Texas on the goal line it gives you a lift," Murray said. "This place was going wild."

A Kyle Field record 77,607 witnessed the Aggie victory and Sherrill thinks most of the Aggie fans in the crowd will follow their team to Dallas.

"We're trying to get the Cotton Bowl to put in 20,000 extra season," Sherrill said. "With us and (Auburn running back) Bo Jackson, they won't have any trouble selling tickets."

Murray threw touchdown passes of 10 yards to Jeff Nelson and went to freshman flanker Rod Harris for scoring shots of 9 and 32 yards.

Roger Vick had a pair of 11-yard touchdown runs and Ira Valentine scored the final Aggie touchdown on a 3-yard run with 4:10 left in the game.

The Aggies burst to a 28-0 lead before the Longhorns could break the shut out with a career long 57-yard field goal by Jeff Ward and Todd Dodge's 10-yard touchdown pass to Russell Hays in the fourth quarter.

"We played a good football team tonight and they had the best team tonight," Texas Coach Fred Akers said. "We tried to be at our best but we weren't."

The Longhorns, despite their somber mood, accepted the Bluebonnet Bowl invitation.

"Sure, we're let down," he said. "Like I told the Bluebonnet Bowl people, we wanted to go to the Cotton Bowl and we are disappointed.

"But we'll get over this. This team has too much character not to swallow disappointment."

White leads Cowboys past St. Louis Cardinals, 35-17

IRVING, Texas (AP) - Dallas quarterback Danny White winged four touchdown strikes, two to wide receiver Tony Hill who also turned passer, as the Cowboys outgunned the St. Louis Cardinals 35-17 Thanksgiving Day to seize a half-game lead in the National Conference East.

Dallas is 9-4 while the Cardinals are 4-9. The New York Giants can regain their co-leadership with the Cowboys in the NFC East by defeating Cleveland on Sunday.

The Cowboys, who lost to the Cardinals 21-10 on Nov. 4, used White's unerring marksmanship and a trick play to subdue the Cardinals and clinch a National Football League record 20th consecutive winning season.

White's fourth scoring pass was a 53-yarder to Hill in the third period. On Dallas' next possession, Hill threw a pass for only the second time in his career.

On a reverse, Hill hit tight end Doug Cosbie with a 42-yard shot to set up Tony Dorsett's three-yard scoring run.

White's three touchdown passes in the first half carried 18 yards to Mike Renfro, 19 yards to Cosbie and 16 yards to Hill.

Hill's catch with 1:08 to play gave Dallas a 21-17 halftime lead in a wild, pass-happy offensive show.

Dallas' lead at the time was a precarious one because Neil Lomax riddled the Cowboys' secondary with ease. Lomax had a five-yard scoring pass to Roy Green and setup Stump Mitchell's two-yard scoring run and Novo Bojovic's 38-yard field goal with his sharpshooting.

Dallas is 14-3-1 on Thanksgiving and 4-0 against the Cardinals on the holiday.

WTC Classic opens at coliseum tonight

The fourth annual WTC Classic opens tonight in the coliseum, beginning at 6 when the Hawk Queens of Howard College challenge a strong Cisco Junior College squad.

KELLY CHADWICK
...WTC Coach

At 8, the host Western Texas College Dusters battle Grayson County.

The four teams offer some of the region's best basketball. Cisco and Grayson finished 1-2 in the Northern JC Conference last season while the Dusters were second in the Western JC Conference. The Hawk Queens did not make the regional tournament last season, but that was a rarity under one of the conference's most respected coaches - Don Stevens.

Tickets are $3 for the two-day tournament, which continues Saturday with Howard facing Grayson at 6 and Western meeting Cisco at 8.

Western and Cisco have tangled twice already this season, with each team taking a victory.

For Coach Kelly Chadwick's Dusters, the classic will serve as a rugged tuneup to the conference season. The Dusters travel to Stephenville to meet Blinn Junior College of Brenham on Dec. 2, then open WJCAC competition against Howard here On Dec. 5.

Tonight's game marks only the third home game this season for the Dusters, who are 8-4 on the season.

Westerners bounce Laredo; test undefeated Chaps next

ODESSA – Western Texas College's Westerners slapped Laredo Junior College 83-75 in the first round here Thursday to advance in the Odessa Tournament.

Western, now 9-2, will play undefeated Midland in the semifinals at 6 this evening.

Midland, 8-0, ripped Trinidad of Colorado 110-72 Thursday while Odessa downed Texas State Technical Institute of Waco 79-62 and South Plains edged Hill County 69-68.

A pair of 17-point performances - by Alvin Hicks and James Dawn - led the Westerners. Cliff Langford punched in 16, Wally Manns 14 and John Lewis added 12.

Dawn, a 6-5 sophomore, completed his game with 11 rebounds and 7 assists. Langford also had 11 rebounds while Manns, a 6-6 freshman, yanked down 7 boards and blocked 4 shots.

In other individual efforts, Lee and Hicks also had 7 assists apiece.

The Westerners were 37 of 69 from the field while Laredo was 33 of 87.

Laredo got 24 points from 6-5 sophomore Pat Gilmore. Tim Hall and Carlos Reynolds scored 12 and 11, respectively.

It was Laredo's second loss to Western this season. The Palominos were felled in triple overtime in the finals of the Laredo Classic on Nov. 9.

In games here today, TSTI was to play Hill at 2 and Trinidad was to go against Laredo at 4. Following the WTC-Midland game at 6, Odessa meets South Plains at 8.

The championship game is scheduled for Saturday evening.

Snyder hosts AAA playoffs

Tiger Stadium will be the scene of two Class 3A regional playoffs Saturday.

Kermit and Vernon mix it up at 2 p.m. while Post and Ballinger are slated on the field at 8.

Tickets are $5 adults and $3 students for the afternoon contest. They'll go for $5 and $2 when the Antelopes and Bearcats clash later in the evening.

Tigers to entertain Levelland Saturday

Tip-off will be at 3 in Scurry County Coliseum. A junior varsity contest will precede the varsity game at 1:30.

Snyder is 2-1 for the season and comes into the game following a 67-33 win over Colorado City.

Snyder JV is also 2-1.

"We're going to have to play a lot better this Saturday against Levelland," he cautioned. "We're not playing consistantly. We're making far too many mistakes."

Levelland is 0-3. The Loboes lost by two points to Hereford, by six to Plainview and by 10, 51-41, to Dimmitt.

See specialist for bone spurs

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I have heel spurs on the back of both heels. This has caused tendinitis. Two podiatrists have told me surgery may not help. I do special exercises and have had whirlpool and ultrasound treatments. Any suggestions?

DEAR READER — I unqualifiedly recommend that you see an orthopedic surgeon. Your problem is best suited to this medical specialty.

I do not mean to knock podiatrists, but there are some facts you should be aware of. Podiatrists are not M.D.s. Their training is much less intense. Like many paramedical professionals, some podiatrists are attracted to the challenge of surgery. Frankly, it pays well, and podiatrists are just as eager as anyone else to increase their incomes. However, I do not believe that foot doctors are qualified to perform major surgery and, by extension, neither are they qualified to determine when and if surgery is indicated. Podiatrists perform many useful functions and are important members of the health-care team; nonetheless, they must recognize their limitations and, in my view, surgery — other than minor procedures — exceeds those limitations.

I know I am going to receive a bundle of letters from irate podiatrists, but I am firm in my belief.

Bone spurs can be downright painful and surgery can be curative. So can cortisone that is injected into the area of calcium deposits. I don't feel qualified to make that decision, however, in any given instance. Therefore, I routinely refer patients with bone spurs to orthopedic surgeons. I think this is in the patients' best interests, and I am curious why that option was not considered by your podiatrists.

In any case, see an orthopedist. You will be exploring the alternatives to a rather grim podiatric prognostication.

DEAR DR. GOTT — Will you please define and discuss Ormand's disease?

DEAR READER — You have stumped me. When I read your letter, I could not recall such a disease. Moreover, I could not find a condition by that name listed in the "gold standard" of medical terms, Stedman's Medical Dictionary. Any help out there?

Send your questions to Dr. Gott in care of this newspaper at P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101. Due to volume of mail, individual questions cannot be answered. Questions of general interest will be answered in future columns.

In 1775, Paul Revere made his famous ride from Charlestown to Lexington, Mass., to warn colonists that the British were coming.

Cases remain unsolved

DALLAS (AP) — Authorities in 18 states now say that nearly half the murder cases the Texas Rangers attributed to Henry Lee Lucas and Ottis Toole are now the object of renewed investigations or were never closed in the first place.

Some of those reopened investigations have led to new suspects, the Dallas Times Herald reported today.

A Times Herald survey of lawmen in charge of investigating 191 murder cases listed as closed or "cleared" by the Rangers-led Henry Lee Lucas Homicide Task Force shows that 90 now are considered unsolved.

Forty-three of those crimes had been attributed to Lucas, 14 to Toole and 33 to both men acting together.

Lucas, once considered the greatest serial killer in U.S. history, is now widely viewed as the perpetrator of a gigantic hoax who, in the words of Texas Attorney General Jim Mattox, "took a lot of people for a ride."

Case after case against Lucas and Toole began to unravel earlier this year after the Times Herald challenged the validity of their confessions in an investigative series that revealed evidence placing them far from the scenes of many of their alleged crimes.

Mattox, who has completed an investigation into the Lucas affair, said last week he believed "sloppy police work" made it possible for Lucas to pull off the hoax.

"If I were the police officers around this country, I would reopen virtually every case that was cleared by Henry Lucas' confessions," Mattox said. "I would rather have an uncleared case than to have one closed based on a Lucas confession."

Many officers are standing by their decisions to accept the confessions. And Col. Jim Adams, Texas Department of Public Safety chief and commander of the Texas Rangers, said he remains conviced that Lucas killed "a substantial number of people."

But nearly as many lawmen now acknowledge there were problems with those cases.

In San Antonio, for instance, the Bexar County Sheriff's Department recently reopened six murder cases it had attributed to Lucas last April.

Couple thankful for delivery aid

ABILENE, Texas (AP) — Neilan and Cynthia Anderson were thankful Thursday for Jim Bucherie Jr., Jan Davidson and the crew of Abilene Fire Department Truck No. 1.

Most of all the couple was thankful for the healthy 6-pound, 9-ounce baby girl all those people had a role in delivering on Thanksgiving Day.

Bucherie and Ms. Davidson are the Abilene Emergency Medical Service employees, who work with the fire department which gets emergency calls. The Andersons' call for help came shortly before 5 a.m.

"We got there, and four minutes later, we had a baby in our hands," said Bucherie, who delivered the fourth of his career in the Andersons' home.

Mother slain during robbery

DALLAS (AP) — Two gunmen fatally shot the 18-year-old wife of a south Dallas motel manager and pistol-whipped her husband in a pre-dawn robbery that netted only about $100, police say.

The woman's 16-day-old daughter was almost smothered when the mother fell on her after being shot in the head and knee at about 6:40 a.m. Thursday, police said.

Sonja Aguilar, 18, who was visiting her husband at work, was pronounced dead at the scene after the shooting at the Southern Comfort Motel, homicide Lt. Ron Waldrop said.

"It was one of the most brutal robbery-murders I've seen," Waldrop said. "There was no provocation — and no explanation — why they started shooting. (Mrs. Aguilar) was sitting in the corner of the room holding her baby."

The infant, Desi Raie Marie Aguilar, was in critical condition early today at Methodist Medical Center, hospital spokesman Don Flaigg said. The baby, who was not breathing when police arrived at 6:45 a.m., was revived at the scene by firefighters.

The father, 21-year-old Louis Aguilar, suffered lacerations on the back of his head and was treated and released from the hospital, Flaigg said.

Aguilar was overpowered by two men who had asked for towels and then forced their way into the motel office, police said. The two men apparently fled on foot and were still at large early today.

"It was senseless — and for $110," said Aguilar's cousin, Rudy Hernandez, co-owner of the motel. "What a horrible way to spend Thanksgiving."

The robbers may have killed Mrs. Aguilar because she had a better look at them than did her husband, said her father, Manuel Cervantes.

Ask The Preacher

...about the Christians self-image.

By Randall Gray

Unfortunately, some people have confused a healthy self-image with arrogance and pride. Consequently, many sincere, Bible-believing Christians have real problems with their concepts of themselves.

We need to understand that there is a difference in a "holier-than-thou", comparative prideful attitude - and a healthy self-respect and understanding of self-worth.

Both Jesus and Paul had very clear statements about this subject. Jesus was talking about the worth of the individual when he said,

> "Are not two sparrows sold for a cent? And yet not one of them will fall to the ground apart from your Father.... Therefore, do not fear. You are of more value than many sparrows." Matt. 10:29-31

Jesus was saying that we are, individually, of great value to God, Himself! Should we not, then, value ourselves?

Paul said:
"Each one should test his own actions. Then he can take pride in himself, without comparing himself to somebody else." Gal. 6:4

These passages do not encourage us to be arrogant or boastful, but they certainly do encourage healthy self-respect and a balanced view of self-worth. A mature, spiritually developed Christian is the best example of mental health you can find.

Spacewalk next on agenda

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — After clearing their cargo bay of satellites with a perfect 3-for-3 launch record, the astronauts of Atlantis were ready today to send two spacewalkers outside to practice building a space station in what they call the "real fun" part of the mission.

Protected by space suits, Jerry Ross and Sherwood Spring were to move into the open bay late today to erect a 45-foot-tall beam and a small pyramid out of 99 aluminum struts that snap together like giant Tinkertoy segments.

The flight plan called for them to be outside six hours today and another six hours on Sunday to test construction concepts for the large permanent space station that the National Aeronautics and Space Administration plans to assemble in orbit early in the 1990s.

"The real fun starts tomorrow," Ross told Mission Control Thursday after the astronauts had emptied the cargo bay by launching the RCA Satcom K-2 communications satellite.

"Now we can look forward to some ground-breaking with your new construction technique tomorrow," Mission Control radioed.

The deployment was perfect, as were the releases on Wednesday of communications satellites for the Mexican and Australian governments. Rocket motors on all three payloads fired as planned to propel them toward stationary orbits 22,300 miles high.

Satcom K-2 is the most powerful domestic communications satellite ever built and it also is the first uninsured commercial payload released from a shuttle. RCA said it did not buy insurance for the $50 million craft because premiums increased steeply as a result of seven communications satellite failures over the last two years.

Following the launch of the RCA payload, the crew of six men and one woman gathered in the shuttle middeck for a Thanksgiving dinner of irradiated turkey, freeze-dried vegetables and cranberry sauce. Heating and rehydrating with warm water made them taste almost home-cooked, they reported.

Mission Control relayed this message from Kathleen Shaw, wife of mission commander Brewster Shaw: "Your families on Earth wish their loved ones aboard Atlantis a happy Thanksgiving."

Shaw responded: "This is one of the best Thanksgivings all of us ave spent. We hope the same is true for all of you down there, including our loved ones and friends."

Veteran is on hunger strike until Dec. 16

KENT, Wash. (AP) — If Gino Casanova's thoughts drift, whether from hunger or the bitter cold, he has only to look at his mail to remind him of why he's spending two months in a bamboo hut in the middle of a cow pasture.

One letter is addressed: "Vet in Bamboo Cage, Kent, Washington." Another: "Starving Veterans for Missing POWs."

"See? See how they address their mail to me?" said the former Marine, holding a handful of mail in his eight-foot-square hut, which he entered for a 61-day stay on Oct. 16.

Horns sounded outside as passing motorists responded to a sign asking them to honk in support of missing Americans.

The veteran of two tours in Vietnam has vowed to go without food until Dec. 16 — each day representing one Washington state resident still missing in action in Southeast Asia — to publicize the plight of the 200 to 300 American soldiers and fliers he believes remain imprisoned. He drinks only water with lime juice.

Casanova, 34, a divorced father of an 8-year-old girl, is an organizer of West Coast Veterans, which promotes the cause of prisoners of war and those missing in action.

He said the group began circulating petitions a year ago asking the government to increase its efforts to gain return of Americans in Southeast Asia, including recruiting the help of allies to put economic pressure on Vietnam and Laos.

Interest was minimal, he said, until he took to his bed in the bamboo hut, which symbolizes cages used to hold American POWs in Vietnam.

"I wish we'd thought of it 10 years ago," he said.

Casanova said the petitions have been circulated up and down the West Coast and as far east as Illinois. "We want 4 million signatures," he said, adding that he plans to organize rallies and marches after his fast ends.

Twenty to 50 visitors a day trudge across the pasture covered by 8 inches of snow, in temperatures as low as 10 degrees. The bamboo cage is surrounded by bales of straw for insulation.

Sen. Slade Gorton, R-Wash., stopped by Wednesday and told Casanova he would carry his petitions to the White House.

There are 2,441 military and civilian personnel still listed as missing in action in Southeast Asia. In recent years, some bodies have been returned, including the remains of 26 people sent back by the Vietnamese in August.

No pass, no play hits hard

AUSTIN (AP) — The state's no pass, no play law cost some school districts nearly half their high school football players, according to reports prepared for a suit challenging the law.

The reports showed that 18 percent of the 35,500 football players from more than 300 school districts were ineligible to play during the second six-week grading period this fall.

Although 13 districts reported losing no players, other districts reported that up to 40 percent of the students had been sidelined for failing one or more classes.

One in seven students had to give up extracurricular activities such as band, cheerleading and student council because of the rule, according to the data supplied on orders of a state district judge in Houston and reported by the Dallas Morning News on Thursday.

Judge Marsha Anthony is hearing a class-action lawsuit challenging the legality of the rule.

The figures represent only about one-third of the state's 1,100 school districts, which had managed to comply with Ms. Anthony's order to give the data to the Texas Education Agency.

Shoplifting, bicycle theft noted with Thanksgiving

Police made one shoplifting arrest and began investigating a bicycle theft over the Thanksgiving holiday.

Employees of Furr's Supermarket called police at 4:57 p.m. Wednesday to report they had a shoplifting suspect in custody.

Barbara Ridling of 414 29th St. called police at 10:40 a.m. Thursday to report the bicycle theft.

She told officers that a BMX type bike had been taken from outside the residence sometime between 7 p.m. Wednesday and 9:30 a.m. Thursday.

City officers logged nine other misdemeanor arrests Wednesday and Thursday.

Three persons were jailed on warrants for unpaid fines while three were jailed on disorderly conduct charges.

One of those charged with disorderly conduct was also charged with misdemeanor possession of marijuana in a quantity less than two ounces.

Two suspects were jailed for driving while intoxicated and one for public intoxication.

Lawyers fears tragedy in singer's case

MILL VALLEY, Calif. (AP) — An attorney for rock singer David Crosby hopes the flight from justice of the author of such songs as "Long Time Gone" and "Guinnevere" doesn't end in tragedy.

Arrest warrants were issued in Dallas on Monday for Crosby, 44, when he failed to appear for a bond-revocation hearing in his appeal of drug and weapons convictions from 1983.

"I talked to him over the weekend and he was concerned about Texas," attorney David Vogelstein said on Wednesday.

"He didn't know what to do," the attorney said of Crosby, who lives in Mill Valley.

However, the lawyer said the former member of the music groups the Byrds and Crosby, Stills and Nash and Young gave no indication that he wouldn't show up for the hearing.

"My impression was that his failure to appear may have been a last-minute decision," said Vogelstein. "I hope it doesn't end tragically."

Vogelstein said Crosby performed over the weekend in the Bay area and "put on an excellent show. The places were packed."

At the hearing in Dallas, Crosby's Texas attorney, Jay Ethington, told State District Judge Pat McDowell he thought the singer was "frightened of the Texas penitentiary system."

McDowell revoked $15,000 in appeal bonds for Crosby, who was sentenced in August 1983 to five years in prison for possessing cocaine and three years for carrying a handgun at a nightclub where he was performing in April 1982.

Once before, Crosby was freed during an appeal of the conviction but was jailed for violating the terms of his bond after he fled a drug treatment center in New Jersey. He was arrested 26 hours later in Greenwich Village on charges of possession of cocaine.

He was returned to Texas and served two months in jail before he was released. His appeal is now before the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals.

Prosecutors sought Monday's hearing after Crosby was charged with hit-and-run driving and possession of a concealed weapon and drug paraphernalia earlier this month in Mill Valley.
