

Farm Bureau Plans
Queen Contest
On August 18

The Collingsworth County Farm Bureau will select its Queen Saturday evening, August 18, choosing her from a group of honest-to-goodness farm and ranch girls.

Rules of the contest on a statewide basis have been changed this year to provide that the winner must be the daughter or sister of a Farm Bureau member actively engaged in agricultural production, Ruel Alexander, service manager, announced.

The contest will be held at Elison Park beginning at 8 p. m. Garland Smith of Amarillo will be the master of ceremonies, and out-of-town judges will make the selection of Queen. An entertainment program is being planned.

A committee of eight women is compiling a list of eligible girls who are likely entrants from each community, and these will be invited to enter, although any girl who meets the requirements can become a contestant. The committee includes Mmes. J. W. Thomas, Puck Breeding, Jerry Nix, Monty Mitchell, Dudley Phipps, L. A. Davis, Ruel Alexander and Miss Kathryn Potter.

The girls will be judged on grace, poise, charm, vivaciousness and all the other qualities that go to make up winsome Texas future homemakers, Alexander said. There are three main points on which they will be judged: appearance, poise and personality.

To be eligible the entrant must be the daughter or sister of a Farm Bureau member actively engaged in agricultural production, with membership in the county of participation. She must be single, and between the ages of 16 and 22.

The county winner will participate in the district contest. District winners and an attendant will receive an expense paid trip to the state convention. The State Farm Bureau Queen and matron escort will be allowed $500 for expenses to the American Farm Bureau Convention in Miami, Florida in December, 1956, and the remaining 12 district queens will receive a watch.

Dalhart Accident
Victim Formerly
Lived in County

A former Collingsworth County man, George Boyd Irwen, 27, and his 17-months-old daughter, Jo Ann, were killed instantly in an auto collision near Dalhart about 1:30 a. m., Sunday, August 5. His wife, Cathy, was critically injured and there has been little improvement, attendants at Northwest Texas Hospital, Amarillo, said.

Irwen was born and grew up on the Boyd Ranch in the Needwood community. Both he and his wife, the former Catherine Kirkland, were graduated from Samnorwood high school.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Ray Irwen and moved with the family to Dalhart about 9 years ago. Both he and his father were employed on the ranch of R. C. Johnson, brother of Dr. J. Frank Johnson.

The accident in which Irwen and his daughter were killed also took the life of two youths, Michael Wayne Lawson, 20, of Keene, and John Wayne Davis, 16, of San Antonio. Investigating officers said the head-on collision occurred in Irwen's traffic lane. The family was en route home from the XIT reunion.

The feed must be used for cows that are for his foundation herd.

Democrats Name
Delegates, Pass
Tax Resolution

Delegates to the County Democratic Convention Saturday, August 4, named six delegates to the State Convention to have one-half vote each under the unit rule. The convention then approved a resolution that would curtail sharply income taxes, especially on lower-bracket incomes. This resolution will be introduced by the county group in the State Convention.

Named as delegates were Judge Luther Gribble, L. B. Bratten, J. A. Coleman of Dozier, Tom R. Cunningham of Samnorwood, Bess Owen and Judge R. H. Templeton.

The motion was passed that the name of some county woman be presented as a candidate for committeewoman on the State Executive Committee for the 30th District.

The liberally inclined delegates were described as in the majority at the convention, but the meeting while there was considerable discussion, was also harmonious.

The resolution, introduced by Judge Gribble, would exempt incomes of $5,000 per person or less from any income tax. The full resolution reads:

WHEREAS, 86 percent of the whole income taxes paid into the United States Treasury come from the people less able to pay, to wit: the portion of the tax falling within the 20 percent bracket; and

WHEREAS, the source of Federal power in encroachment upon the rights reserved to the States by the United States Constitution is the unlimited power to tax under the income tax amendment; and

WHEREAS, just as the power to tax is the power to destroy, the power to limit expenditures is the power to control; and

WHEREAS, the Congress of the United States is not the master of the people of this country; the people of this country are the master of Congress:

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED

That we, the Collingsworth County Convention duly assembled, this the 4th day of August A. D. 1956, urge the next Legislature of the State of Texas to pass the proper resolution and urge the other States to join it, in demanding submission of the Constitution Amendment which would exempt all incomes of $5,000 per person or less from any income tax, and limit such tax to 20 percent on all incomes from $10,000 to $25,000 and limit the tax to 33 1/3 percent on all incomes above $25,000.

Passed and approved this the 4th day of August A. D. 1956.

Henry Sullivan

Secretary

APPROVED:

Approximately 20 delegates and two observers attended the convention, a good turnout for this county.

C. B. Anderson, a member of the county Democratic executive committee, presided at the opening, in the absence of Dick Sweat, who was attending a meeting of the board of directors of the Farmers Co-op Gin, of which he is manager. Anderson then was elected permanent chairman, and Henry Sullivan was elected secretary.

Two Friends Got an Idea

Ingenuous Car Takes
Welch Around Town

An ingenious little vehicle, battery-powered and hand crafted, has been given to Bernice Welch, who can now go alone where he wishes around town.

It was planned and made by Art Bickerstaff and Hubert Savage, friends of Welch.

Welch, who operates B&B News Stand, is a victim of Bergers disease, and has in a series of amputations lost both legs above the knee. For several years he has been in a wheel chair and this means that everywhere he goes, someone else has to go along.

"Now I can go get a cup of coffee by myself," Welch remarked with a broad grin. He does, too.

The car—that is probably the best name for it—is a simple metal framework welded together. The three wheels are the small sturdy, rubber-tired type used on heavy duty wheel barrows.

A bicycle handle set on end makes the lever with which Welch guides the vehicle. He presses a button in the end of the handle to start and pressure of his thumb controls the speed. When he removes his thumb it stops. A metal tube in inverted U shape is across the front as a grip-bar. The seat came out of an old Cadillac.

A car battery beneath the seat furnishes power and the friends have decided they should install another one, maybe two, so Welch won't get stranded. The machine is light but sturdy and almost noiseless. Since a ramp goes up to the front door of his home, Welch can and has taken it inside the house.

Bergers disease, from which Welch has suffered 12 years, is a disease of the circulatory system, affecting first the fingers or toes, then the arms or legs. Either one or both may be involved. The disease can be controlled in some cases, but in others amputation must be resorted to, as it has with Welch.

Welch worked with livestock before he was stricken and had to go into a completely different line of work. That he has been successful is proved by the popularity of B&B News Stand among Wellington folks.

VODKA OR MORALITY?

The miserable life being enforced upon the people behind the Iron Curtain by the present Communist leaders, and the true nature of those leaders, are clearly spotlighted by three events of the past few weeks: (1) the workers revolt in Poland against unbearable circumstances, (2) the dramatic airliner escape to Western Germany of seven Hungarian citizens, and (3) the escape of Ion Opris, Rumanian Olympic track star, while participating in a track meet in London.

Dramatic escapes from behind the Iron Curtain have been constantly occurring and there have been untold instances of spontaneous revolts, but these recent events are significant because they come at a time when Khrushchev, Bulganin and their cohorts are trying to convince the world that they are clean-cut, decent, peace-loving humanitarian political office holders spreading freedom, good cheer and plenty throughout the Communist empire.

VODKA PARTY BROADCAST
 Even more significant is the fact that these incidents of terror under brutal dictatorship have occurred while the press of the world was filled with pictures of American Air Force General Nathan Twining drinking toasts and smiling comradely with the Red leaders at parties in Moscow. Thoughtful citizens of the United States are moved to inquire of our government leaders: What code of morality permits vodka drinking with and the lending of prestige to Communist leaders Khrushchev, Bulganin and the rest?

Hanson W. Baldwin, military journalist of the New York TIMES was in Moscow to cover the Twining-Communist visit. Baldwin cabled to his paper: "The voice of the United States Air Force Chief of Staff, recorded on tape, has been broadcast repeatedly over the Moscow radio and it is evident that this Communist capital of the world is doing all it can to foster the impression of a 'tete-a-tete' between United States and Soviet leaders."

BLOW TO RESISTANCE
 In other words, by giving public social acceptance to Khrushchev, Bulganin and other Russian police state bosses — drinking toasts with them, beaming smiles at them while the cameras click—the United States, whether she means to or not, is giving prestige and additional international power to the Communist conspiracy. Resistance among the vast hordes of people behind the Iron Curtain diminishes to some extent, at least; momentous decisions by nations outside the Curtain are swayed toward acceptance of the Soviets.

Reporting on "Vodka diplomacy," the U. S. News and World Report said: "Soviet photographers were always eager to snap the General (Twining) drinking with a Red leader." When such photographs reach the Communist-run newspapers in Poland what will be the reaction of the workers of Poznan who rebelled against their Communist bosses? What will be the reaction of the widows and other relatives of the workers shot down in the streets by Red tanks? Is this good international relations? It is an expression of morality — to compromise with evil? Of course not.

TERROR IS REAL
 If we are to believe our own eyes, Khrushchev, Bulganin and their Communist apparatus are operating a police state, with police terror as their club over enslaved millions. Ion Opris, the Rumanian hurdler, is real. He took his life in his hands and escaped in London from his police state "chaperones." The seven Hungarians who overpowered the Communist crew of a Budapest airliner and flew it into West Germany and freedom on July 13 are real people. The police state enslavement from which they fled is real. They gambled their lives to escape from the men with whom U. S. leaders are being photographed, beaming and drinking vodka.

Two years ago I was in Washington when President Eisenhower made a great speech, thrilling to the whole world (except the Communist Party membership). In effect he said the USA was a friend and ally of all freedom-loving people on earth, and that she would never compromise with evil. Every American citizen should insist that this great pronouncement be re-established, undegirding our national morality and giving inspiration to the millions of miserable people under the yoke of Red tyranny.

Suttle-Gibson Reunion at Plainview Draws Relatives From Wide Area

The third annual Suttle and Gibson reunion was held Saturday and Sunday, July 21 and 22, at the Shelter House in Plainview. Gathering were the children of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Suttle and Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Gibson, along with grandchildren and great grandchildren.

The later couple brought their family to Collingsworth County from Fannin County in 1917, and they farmed at Loco until she passed away in 1940 and he in 1945.

Two daughters still live here, Mrs. Earl Reynolds of Fresno, and Mrs. John Bishop of Quail.

Guests of honor at the reunion were Mrs. Gibson's only sister, Mrs. O. H. Crumpacker and Mr. Crumpacker of Canolou, Missouri.

The centerpiece for the serving table was a miniature homestead, complete with a tiny house and buggy in front of the house. There was a tiny bridge near-by, and all this had a special significance to those attending. The older Gibson children did their courting with horse and buggy, and the sound of their crossing the bridge always told their mother they were coming home.

Sunday morning the group enjoyed an old-fashioned country breakfast.

All of the surviving children of Mr. and Mrs. Suttle were at the reunion with their families, as were the seven Gibson children and their families.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Thompson Live in Pampa After Early Summer Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Wade Thompson have established their home at 401 North Yeager, Pampa, after their early summer wedding which took place in the Baptist Church at Lutie. The bride is the former Miss Emma Le Don Terry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Terry of the Lutie community. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Thompson, 944 South Sumner, Pampa, formerly of the Samnorwood area.

The Rev. Harold Elliott officiated at the double ring ceremony, read at seven-thirty o'clock in the evening. Baskets of white corn-flowers and wrought iron candelabra holding lighted cathedral tapers were used in decorating the altar area.

Wedding music was played by Mrs. Jack Lowry, pianist, who also accompanied her daughter, Miss Harriett Maria Lowry, as she sang "Always", and "The Lord's Prayer." The traditional wedding marches were used.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She chose for her wedding a dress of white broad-ecord pongee, designed with a fitted elongated bodice, and sweetheart neckline. Over this she wore an eton jacket, with a small collar and short sleeves, and closed with tiny buttons. The full skirt was street length. Her small fitted hat was white, and she carried a bouquet of white carnations, atop a white Bible.

Miss Marilyn Cook was maid of honor. Her dress of pink broad-ecord pongee was styled identically to the bride's and she carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Flower girl was Terry Williams, of Detroit, Michigan, niece of the bride. She wore a light green broad-ecord pongee dress, which reproduced the bride's in miniature.

Jerry Thompson, brother of the groom, was best man, while the ushers were Charles Shields and John Lee Stevenson, cousin of the groom. They also lighted the candles.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Terry wore a navy print dress with white accessories, while Mrs. Thompson chose a navy dress with white accessories. Both had corsages of white carnations.

Miss Elaine Tate registered the guests in the white bride's book. Later the couple left for Pampa to make their home.

The bride, a life-long resident of the Lutie community, was graduated from high school at Samnorwood this year as valedictorian of her class. She was active in both scholastic and extra curricular affairs.

The groom attended school at Samnorwood also and was graduated there. He is now employed by the Flint Rig Company in Pampa.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

Talk about politics in Collingsworth County is practically non-existent. Occasionally some sweat soaked individual may accost you on the streets and ask something about politics; but in the main they are looking at the sky and down at the dry land.

Cheer up, folks. It is going to rain—and soon.

The late Co. William E. Hughes had a saying about summer weather and rainfall as it affected his ranges. He contended that if it rained in the mountains of Colorado and New Mexico that we could expect rain down here in August.

Louise and Henry and I have just concluded a cool ten day trip to New Mexico. It rained on us both days we were in Cloud Croft and all six days that we were in Ruidoso. We enjoyed a log fire every morning and every night. My mother and Mrs. Birchfield believe that the Old Col. was such an observer that he knew what he was talking about.

On our trip to New Mexico we went over the scenic drive from Memphis to Silverton—a short trip from here that you should take if you have not been over it. From Silverton we went on down through Floydada to Lubbock. The crops were wonderful and the irrigation and water conservation methods were superb. There was no waste of water that we could see in this entire area. We came back by a more northerly route namely through Bovina, Dimmitt, Tulia and on to Silverton. The crops were good here too and they are raising a tremendous amount of corn this year. There is nothing to be said in praise of how they use and conserve their precious water. We passed by farm after farm where they had allowed the irrigation water to run out of their fields and fill the bar ditches brim full. On two farms we saw two fields where the maize was burning up and the bar ditches were full of water. This waste of water borders on criminal negligence.

Irrigation farmers should take care of their water. Otherwise they are liable to wake up some day and find out that the bur-eau-rats in Austin and Washington are telling them how and when to use it.

Crossroads Report

Dear Editor:

I see where here a while back, ex-President Harry Truman recommended to one and all the application of woodshed psychology to the problem of checking juvenile delinquency.

Says he was brought up on woodshed conference on discipline and moral principles.

My Republican neighbor says if this method of handling children is liable to raise up any more like Mr. Truman, it had ought to be outlawed right now.

I see where the mail men in Detroit have tried passing out candy to the dogs living on their routes who wish something to bite on, such as mailmen's legs, but this plan didn't work very well.

They said the candy made the good dogs even more friendly nuisances, and the mean dogs, the more you gave them, the more they wanted, like people.

My hard neighbor says it looks like this worked out about the same as foreign aid. Proves you can't buy friends. Or that friends which can be bought the liable to take your arm off sometime while you are feeding them.

Texas Takes A Look At Ontario

This is another of a series of articles concerning Deskins Wells recent trip to the Province of Ontario.

Eighth Day

While rolling northeast to Algonquin Park Arnprior and then southeast to Ottawa, we did a brief rundown on our last day at Britannia Hotel and came up with the information that Eldon Lum of Wahpeton, North Dakota had won the 9-hole golf tournament with a score of 49. Next in line were Charlie Gerwig, Maryland, 50; Palmer Bateman, New Jersey, 51; and Lloyd McCutcheon, Iowa, 52. The scores wouldn't win any top-flight tournaments, but the boys had fun over a wet course.

Some editors not interested in fishing or golf drove into Huntsville, the nearest town, to see box lacrosse in the indoor community arena. From all reports the Canadian version of the game is somewhat different to that played in eastern US College. Our Huntsville scouts report that it is a rugged game with a two-fold purpose, either score or render the other guy hors de combat so he can't score. Apparently the players do both. And not that it matters, but Huntsville won over Whitby by a score of 9-6.

Angling champ during our stay at Britannia was our irresponsible Virginian, Curt Lyons, who came up with a 5-pound lake trout (caught more by luck than skill) and the boys had to eat it at breakfast this morning.

Huntsville is a town mid Muskoka's hills and lakes with a population of 3,271. Principal industries are lumbering and leather tanning. It is also the home of the world's smallest chartered railroad, which runs over a one-mile route, portaging passengers to Lake of Bays, and is also one of Ontario's best-known all-season vacation towns.

The natives proud boast of having "water washed air" in all parts of the Province is not an empty one. While the weather has been excellent for the most part, during the last couple of days rain has been getting in its licks here and there. However, such downpours did little to mar the enjoyment of the trip through this lovely land of sparkling forest-ringed lakes. Today we rode into Algonquin Park, one of the showplaces of this part of the world, which is 2,700 square miles of partial wilderness. This Provincial Park is larger than Canada's province of Prince Edward Island. Here the deer are so tame they allow you to get near enough to feed them and shoot closeups. Several times we saw the deer with their heads poked through open car windows being fed by the seated occupants. No hunting is allowed, and all weapons are marked and sealed in packages before the owners can tote them into the area. Some cottages and tourist establishments exist in the park, but at the present moment, the Ontario Government through its Land and Forests Department is trying to return it to its original pristine state. Fishing is allowed, but to fish here even residents have to take out a licence. It is possible to meet many tame animals here, even bear, but only deer and ravens were taking food from people as we went through.

As present lease-holders end their tenure they will either sell or donate their land back to the Crown and the people. Youngsters would have a wonderful time in one of the continent's most noted wonderlands, and two of the many highlights of our trip here was a visit to the Nature Museum, containing many living and dead specimens of fish and game, and also a picnic at Cache Lake, with George Phillips, noted bush pilot and present park superintendent, representing our host, the Department of Lands and Forests. It is within 160 miles of Toronto, and can be reached by Highways 11 and 60.

ARNPRIOR ANECDOTES

We don't suppose everyone entering Arnprior is met with fish, the mayor, and entertained at the mayor's home, but on this tour, on which anything can happen—and usually does—we were met by Mayor Bob Simpson, who promptly regaled with the true yarn of a fish biting a man. And he backed it up with proof. It seems in this town the finny denizens fight back. In this case the local newspaper, the Arnprior Chronicle, thought enough of the incident to make a front page story out of it.

My Sincere Thanks

are extended to the people of Collingsworth County for the vote given me in the First Primary. It was a tribute to my sincere effort at cooperating with all county officials and grand juries in enforcing the law in Collingsworth County.

During the time I have been working in the court rooms of the District trying cases involving every type of person from street bums to church deacons, my opponent has been busy in Childress making uncontroversal speeches to every kind of clubs and organizations. He says that this race is a popularity contest and that people pay no attention to qualifications. I have faith in the people of Collingsworth County and know that you believe qualifications do mean something. I believe you realize that the full responsibility of representing the injured party - the people - rests squarely on the shoulders of the District Attorney. He is pitted in the court room against the best in defense attorneys, sometimes several of them, and what he studies and learns after the trial does not help in the prosecution.

It is my hope that those of you who believe that a District Attorney should be qualified will not only vote for me on election day but that you will work in my behalf from now until then.

Sincerely,

Allen Harp

Political Adv.

Coneghy, a local resident, sitting on a log boom thirty feet out from the shore line, cooling his pedal extremities, when a muskie nipped his leg about three inches above the ankle. The wounds created were big enough to insert the tip of the little finger, and left circular scars of some three and a half inches.

A buffet supper, and a reception in the mayor's lovely home, complete with prize draws (the loot is still piling up), was prologue to a tour of the town, and a visit to the Civil Defense College of Canada, where we were shown an impressive movie on Canadian-US civil defense. This essential school for national and international defense techniques has been in existence for over two years, covers some 15 acres, and has thirty buildings on it, including homes for the personnel. Some 5,000 pupils from all parts of Canada attend.

Arnprior, according to Mayor Simpson, has no unemployment and no unions, "For people here have everything any union could get them". Number of plants in this town of some 5,000 is roughly 25 covering a wide variety of industries. Agriculture in the area is mainly dairying, and livestock raising.

Rain marred our visit to some extent, but did not dampen the hospitality of our hosts, who topped off our stay with sandwiches and coffee in the local armories.

Darkness cloaked our entry into Ottawa, Canada's capital, but even such dim circumstances could not cover up the impressive Chateau Laurier and other buildings.

For eight years we have wrestled the old Used Car Business together. Nothing takes to the road like a Chevy!

Once in a blue moon a car like this comes along—a design so advanced in performance, so beautifully balanced that it stands out above every other car on the highway. It has a solid, sure-footed way of going that makes driving safer and more pleasant on any road. And you feel a very special sense of security in its rapid-fire response to your touch on the wheel, brakes and accelerator.

You can see that the '56 Chevy is a standout for style. But until you have driven one you're missing the best part of the news—the fact that Chevrolet is the smoothest, solidest, most wedded-to-the-road automobile you ever bossed. Try it and see.

America's largest selling car—2 million more owners than any other make!

You get more car when you buy it... more dollars when you sell it! Chevy has the highest resale value of the leading low-priced models!

Traffic StopperArkansas Highway Good Emergency Landing Field for County Flyer

From the Mena Evening Star, Mena, Ark.

Sheriff Hobart Hensley received a rather unusual call for help Friday morning when he was asked to halt traffic on the highway temporarily while an airplane which had made a forced landing, could make a take-off.

The plane, an Ercoupe two-place, was piloted by W. E. Patterson of Wellington, Texas who was en route to Cove Ark., where his brother the Rev. Walter Patterson of Waurika, Okla., is holding a revival meeting at the Nazarene Church.

Sheriff Hensley said Patterson had flown for about 30 minutes more time in the air and had intended to land at the Mena Municipal airfield, but he couldn't distinguish the field from the air and landed on highway 71 about 4 miles north. After highway traffic was halted, Patterson took off

I may get to visit Wellington when the cotton ginning starts.

Very truly yours,
