TIME CHANGE

Did you wake up this morning and find you were late for church or that none of the television shows you watch were on when you expected them?

That's probably because you forgot to "fall back."

Texas and most other states changed from Daylight Saving Time to Central Standard Time. The change officially took place at 2 a.m. today.

INSIDE

STEERS WIN

Big Spring's Steers moved within one win of clinching a playoff berth with a 16-10 win over Levelland's Loboes.

LIFE

Poncho's Newstand, located at 312 Runnels, has been a part of downtown Big Spring since the late '30s. In the same location for more than 30 years, its wide variety of books, magazines and newspapers, and its rare pipe and tobacco selection has made the one room business a long time favorite with locals.

Herald distributing Halloween bags in NIE effort

By LYNDEL MOODY

Staff Writer

Halloween bags will be included in Tuesday's delivery of more than 1,000 copies of the Big Spring Herald, as part of the paper's Newspapers in Education program.

"This is a service the Herald is proud to provide toward the community," said Carlos Gonzales, Herald circulation manager. "The NIE program is growing strong and we hope to spread to area schools."

Each Tuesday, free copies of the Herald are delivered to Goliad Intermediate School along with Bauer, Kentwood, Moss and Washington elementary schools for use in the classroom.

Among school-based articles to appear in that day's edition, the paper contains the mini-page that has activities and information geared toward youth.

"We try to integrate the newspaper in all aspects of our curriculum objectives. For reading, we'll look at the story elements.

For social studies, we'll look at the news and events of the stories and try to decide if the story relates locally, state-wide or nationally."

Pam Morgan, a fifth-grade teacher at Goliad, said the free newspapers are being used as a tool in their curriculum objectives.

Santa Clauses, angels, bears, cowboys, Indians, fish, birds and animals of all kinds invaded the Dora Roberts Community Center this weekend.

Oh, and don't forget the men and women who carve them.

The event was the 12th annual Mustang Draw Wood Carvers Club "Sculptors In Wood" Show and Sale, held for the first time in Big Spring.

"We have 24 vendors here and people who have stuff on display," said Show Chairman James Fryar of Big Spring. "Some of them came for the sale and some just for the show. This is the first year to have it in Big Spring. We've had real good response and we hope to have it here next year as well."

Previously, the show has been held in Odessa.

"The cost of the building over there got to where we just couldn't

Safety important to everyone on Halloween

By ROGER CLINE

Staff Writer

Halloween is almost here again, and with eager trick-or-treaters working hard to fill those goody bags, their focus might not be on doing things safely.

Big Spring Fire Marshal Carl Condray urges all young goblins and their parents to think about safety this Halloween.

"Make sure you look left, right and then left again before you enter or cross a street," Condray urges children. "Try to walk on the sidewalks and if none are available and you must walk in the street, walk facing traffic. Don't cut across lawns or go through back yards, vacant lots or alleys. Don't hide behind cars or cross the street from between

"Make sure you look left, right and then left again before you enter or cross a street. Try to walk on the sidewalks and if none are available and you must walk in the street, walk facing traffic. Don't cut across lawns or go through back yards, vacant lots or alleys. Don't hide behind cars or cross the street from between parked cars, go to the corner."

Of course, children should never get in a car with someone they don't know, but Condray says that children should be more careful than that.

"Don't take candy from a person in an auto," he said. Predators often try to lure children with candy into or near a car so that they can abduct them.

Make sure drivers can see you and you can see them, Condray urges trick-or-treaters.

"Carry a flashlight when walking and make sure it has fresh batteries," he said. "Wear light-colored costumes and put some of those neat reflective strips on them. Try using face paint instead of a mask so you can see well, and avoid anything that covers your eyes."

Accidents and animals are other dangers on Halloween, Condray said.

"Wear comfortable shoes that fit, this is no time for high heels or big floppy shoes that are not safe to walk in," he explained. "Stay away from burning candles or any open flames. Be very careful around animals, even those you know well. They can be upset by your costume or loud and strange noises."

Of course, children should never eat any treat until their parent or guardian tells them it's OK.

Condray has some tips for adults as well.

"Buy costumes with a 'flame resistant' certification label inside the garment," he said.

Obituaries

Dr. Jill Harrison Ellsworth

After a long bout with cancer, Dr. Jill Harrison Ellsworth, wife of Paul Nabors of Big Spring, died peacefully Monday afternoon, Oct. 21, 2002, at Covenant Hospital in Lubbock.

Born in 1949, she had a distinguished career in higher education and as an internationally recognized best-selling author.

Dr. Ellsworth became a teacher as early as the fifth grade and continued throughout her life to be such.

She took degrees with honors and distinction from Michigan State University, the University of Texas at Austin and a Ph.D. from Syracuse University. She was the dean of the State University of New York in Pottsdam and later dean of Castleton State College in Vermont. After becoming a professor of adult education at Texas State University in San Marcos, she began to write books, 17 in all, on marketing on the Internet.

Dr. Ellsworth wrote the book "The Internet Business Book" in 1994, the first of its kind, after which all other books on marketing on the Internet, including her own, have been written. The first book became an international best seller going to three editions.

Her consulting expertise was in great demand.

A memorial service was held Tuesday afternoon at the First Presbyterian Church of Big Spring with the Rev. David Marx, pastor, conducting the service. Jill's father the Rev. Jack Harrison and the Rev. Flynn Long both offered memorial statements. Jill's husband Paul Nabors and an ensemble accompanied by guitars led the congregation in singing "Will the Circle Be Unbroken?"

Memorial gifts may be sent either to the American Cancer Society or to the Big Spring Humane Society, West Interstate 20, Big Spring, Texas, 79720.

were on display and for sale from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Just about anything you can dream up, somebody's carved it, Fryar said. "We're sitting right here by one of the best bird displays I've ever seen in my life," he said. "There's lots of Christmas stuff — lots of Santas, lots of elves this time of year. Across the aisle there is a guy that has some beautiful roses. The guy right down here is from down in the Killeen area. He has some mythical characters that are made out of butternut that are just beautiful. He won the Judge's Choice award with a carving of three bears."

Carlton Tanner carves birds out of wood and paints them so they look lifelike.

"I started out painting, mostly horses," he said. "In 1987 I carved my first piece with a friend and I enjoyed it. I started from there. I love birds. I've always liked birds, but once I began carving them, it just makes you watch them and love them that much more."

Tanner said it takes him about six weeks to carve and paint a bird in flight. Roosting birds are generally made from one piece of wood, while birds in flight require a piece for the body and another for each wing. The three pieces are then pinned together, he said.

"I also got into sculpting them," he said. "I sculpted this pheasant and this mockingbird here. The pheasant, it's bronze and it weighs 22 pounds. I did an edition of 30 of those and President George Bush has the No. 1 of that edition."

Further down the aisle, Marie Mullins, 13, of Odessa was watching Jim Stewart of Midland carve a flower in the "West Texas Fancy Flat" style. "It's sort of a semi-relief," he said. "Scandinavians used it to decorate their door panels and furniture families,

OUR VIEWS

Big Spring, Forsan bands earn applause

The long, long hours of practice have paid off. The Big Spring Steers Marching Band and the Forsan Marching Band were both the best they could be last week during University Interscholastic League marching contests in Odessa.

Both bands earned Division I ratings at the area contest, and that means a bid at a Sweepstakes Award at the end of the year.

A year ago, both Big Spring and Forsan entries advanced to state marching competition, but that isn't in the cards this year. That's not because the honor isn't warranted, but the UIL only holds state marching contests every other year for each classification.

The 140-member Big Spring band, led by drum major Synda Calobreves and assistant Julie Candenehead, garnered a second straight Division I UIL rating in the Class 4A division with a Latin rock show theme featuring "Malaguena," "Beautiful Maria of My Soul," and "When a Man Loves a Woman."

Not to be overshadowed, Forsan's band captured a fifth straight Division I rating under the guidance of drum majors Kristy Paul and Ashley Pierce. The impressive 131-member Class 2A band performed a tribute to the 1990s feature film "Robin Hood, Prince of Thieves," including the pieces "Robin Hood, Prince of Thieves," "Everything I Do, I Do For You" and "Robin Hood Finale."

Both schools should take extreme pride in these two fine organizations and in directors Rocky Harris and Jim Rhodes. We here at the Herald most certainly do.

We congratulate both bands, their directors and their schools.

Once again, you've all turned in a showing that's given our entire community something in which to be proud.

A SMALL PRAYER

By K. Rae Anderson

Dear Lord, we can sense your loving presence as you walk beside us through this life.

Amen

Bond's Broadcast

By Hank Bond

Last Tuesday morning I joined with several other members of the Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce for a community breakfast at the Dora Roberts Community Center.

The meeting was to kickoff the 2002 membership of the Chamber and a chance to grab breakfast together in a networking setting.

The breakfast was catered by Great Western Dining out of Howard College. It was a fine example of what is available locally. The food was ready and so was I by the time we had all gathered.

The Chamber of Commerce has such a big role in any community, and the office here is no different.

For many people, both individuals and business operators alike, the Chamber office is often the first point of contact. Thousands of times a year the Chamber office staff will field calls and provide that first impression . . . and the first link of success.

It is extremely important that we as a community always put our best foot forward. Debbie ValVerde, the Chamber exec, and assistant Liz Adamson provide this essential service every day.

From responding to nearly and local inquiries to answering e-mails from across the state and nation and sometimes around the world, this function is how we are received.

A strong Chamber membership offers our local residents a joint and combined effort of retail and commercial interests to drive the area's consumer base. The obvious direction of the Chamber is to maintain the local dollars directly into the local economy.

As I have written before, this unity is an essential part of maintaining Big Spring. Believe me, if for some uniformed reason you believe it will be business as usual, don't count on it.

I used to own a paper in a town where there were many active businesses, plus a downtown 2-block strip that served the community well. However, looming to the west, less than an hour's drive away, was a metro-area, which attracted a large hunk of the modest spendable income from the town.

In less than five years, as the metro continued to thrive, the small downtown diminished to a couple of struggling grocery stores, a couple of drug stores and the local banks.

That was it . . . While I will acknowledge there is a large enough population here, it won't get that bad, the business community can only be as strong as the people supporting it.

For those in business, support your Chamber of Commerce, and for those who work and shop, support your areas businesses.

And so, for another week, thanks and thirty.

YOUR VIEWS

TO THE EDITOR:

On behalf of the Wilderness Camp inmates we would like to say a big "thank you" to the Big Spring Rotary Clubs for a wonderful meal served on Oct. 21 at the Dora Roberts Community Center.

The Rotarians took turns in serving the meal of barbecued chicken, potato salad, red beans, slaw and banana pudding.

David Ward gave the opening prayer and Carl Condray recited some cowboy poetry during the meal which the inmates seemed to really enjoy. They always enjoy getting away from camp with different surroundings, and are grateful for a meal furnished by the citizens of Big Spring.

Anyone, church organization, or group of individuals that are interested in providing a meal to approximately 160 inmates and 20 officers, please contact me at 263-4607.

PAT SIMMONS

TO THE EDITOR:

To the electorate of the newly designed District 85: Do not be deceived.

Judy Strickland, the Republican candidate for this district, is for the ordinary people — the everyday worker, parents, teachers, small business owners and loyal Republicans. She will appreciate and honor your valuable vote as she represents you in Austin.

Her Democratic opponent, Pete Laney, is endorsed by big money, trial lawyers, bankers and big unions. Your vote counts!

MARGARITA DURAND-
HOLLIS,
COUNTY REPUBLICAN
CHAIRMAN
BIG SPRING.

TO THE EDITOR:

As a former public school teacher and a current taxpayer, I have viewed with some dismay the voting record of the Democratic candidate for state representative, Pete Laney.

In the 72nd Legislature Laney voted to reduce the state contribution to the Teacher Retirement System and to limit funding for vocational education which reaches so many students at risk for dropout. It currently costs $32,000 per year to keep a person in the state prison system far fewer dollars can be spent keeping students in school and training them to become productive citizens. Spend our dollars wisely, Mr. Laney.

Laney also voted to end your right to elect our State Board of Education and to replace it with a board appointed by the governor. The voters of Texas need to retain the right to elect this board and to hold directly accountable the people who choose the textbooks their children will be presented in school. Lobbyists from textbook publishers are always seeking to diminish the control of the State Board of Education. Protect our board, Mr. Laney.

In the 69th, 70th, 71st and 72nd legislative sessions, Laney voted consistently to increase and extend taxes in many areas. He voted to increase sales taxes and to extend them to new services such as dry cleaning, TV cable and car repair. He voted against allowing voters to ban a state income tax while the state lottery is operational and even voted to impose a tax on most insurance premiums. Give the taxpayers a break, Mr. Laney, and hold down and reform government spending.

Judy Strickland, the Republican candidate for state representative, has an enviable record in her service on the State Board of Education and is in farming and ranching herself. She well understands hard times for the voters of Texas and has realistic alternatives to offer to the tax and spend brand of legislation.

Despite all the training and first-hand experience, she still had much to learn, she now admits.

"There are signs of suicide and changes in behavior that people give off, and sometimes we just blow them off," Dunham said.

After attending a workshop this summer on identifying people with suicidal tendencies, she will never discard comments youth make about long stretches of sleeping or changes in grades.

"I don't think I ever realized how stressful it was for kids to come to my probation office and its consequences," she said.

Applied Suicide Intervention Skills Training or "ASIST" gives participants "emergency first aid" for preventing suicide, in adults as well as children, said Janet Payne, West Texas Centers for MHMR Mental Health Essential Services director. West Texas Centers for MHMR again will be offering the two-day workshop on Nov. 5-6 and Feb. 4-5 from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

The workshop is open to the general public, counselors, teachers and ministers, health care workers, community volunteers, emergency service workers and mental health practitioners, said Shannon Nabors, Director of Clinical Training and Critical Care Services.

The workshop costs $75 and includes lunch, snacks, CEU's and an ASIST manual and workbook. The workshop will be in the East Room at Howard College from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Dear Fellow West Texans:

When I first ran for Congress, I promised I would bring honest, disciplined leadership to the problems facing us. I have tried to do that.

During this Congress we passed many important pieces of legislation. We passed the largest tax reduction in history. We strengthened both our military and our homeland security against terrorism. We enacted a comprehensive farm bill and educational legislation. All of this, in my view, will benefit the people of West Texas.

While these accomplishments will improve the lives of people here in West Texas, I believe there are still great challenges ahead. We must have a comprehensive energy plan that promotes, not restricts, oil and gas production. We must provide our citizens with better access to affordable health care. I believe with the strong leadership of President George W. Bush, we can accomplish this. With your vote I believe these things can be accomplished.

Sincerely,

Texas Tech names new center for Marie Hall

Special to the Herald

LUBBOCK — Local resident F. Marie Hall was on hand to cut the ribbon of a new Synergistic Center named after her Tuesday. The center is located at the Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center.

"Marie Hall is a leader in West Texas and has demonstrated the vision and compassion needed to inspire future healers," said Dr. David R. Smith, chancellor of the Texas Tech University System. "She has changed the landscape of this university and our program in countless ways."

James Fay, president of the Health Sciences Center student government and a second-year medical student, said the student center is exciting for all of the school's students.

"A Health Science Center student's day begins at 8 a.m. and ends late at night," Fay said. "The type of classes and labs we have prevent us from going home or to the rec center. This Marie Hall Synergistic Center will give each student the opportunity to break away from our rigorous schedules."

The center is adjacent to the new classroom building under construction in the west wing of the Health Sciences Center. The student center is equipped with a workout room, showers, Internet cafe, lounge area with big screen television, an office for the student senate executive officers and a game room equipped with pool tables, foosball and table tennis.

"Ms. Hall wanted a place where all students from all disciplines could come together and study and relax," said Elmo Cavin, acting president of the Health Sciences Center. "She envisioned a place where students can interact and gain respect for each health care field. And in turn, this respect better prepares the students to deliver health care as a team."

The student center also will house several of the offices of student-related departments, such as the Health Sciences Center offices of Student Services, Registrar and Admissions and Student Financial Aid.

Texas Tech conferred an honorary doctor of humane letters degree on Hall during ceremonies on June 18.

Forsan principal Keith Stone takes Mrs. VAgabond title

HERALD Staff Report

Keith Stone, you never looked so good.

Grace, style and enough people to bribe the judges all led to the crowning of Stone as Mrs. VAgabond on Oct. 19.

"Each and every contestant deserved a title and crown for their good-natured, fun-filled participation in this worthwhile event," said Wanda Gamble, co-coordinator of the event.

The pageant, sponsored by the VAgabond Relay for Life team, brought in more than $3,800 for the American Cancer Society.

Twenty-two men strutted their stuff in sequins, leather, wigs, feathers and high heels to provide the large audience that filled the Big Spring Municipal Auditorium with a laughter-filled evening.

Contestants wore evening attire, biker leathers, a ballerina tutu and even one contestant was dressed in a full geisha attire.

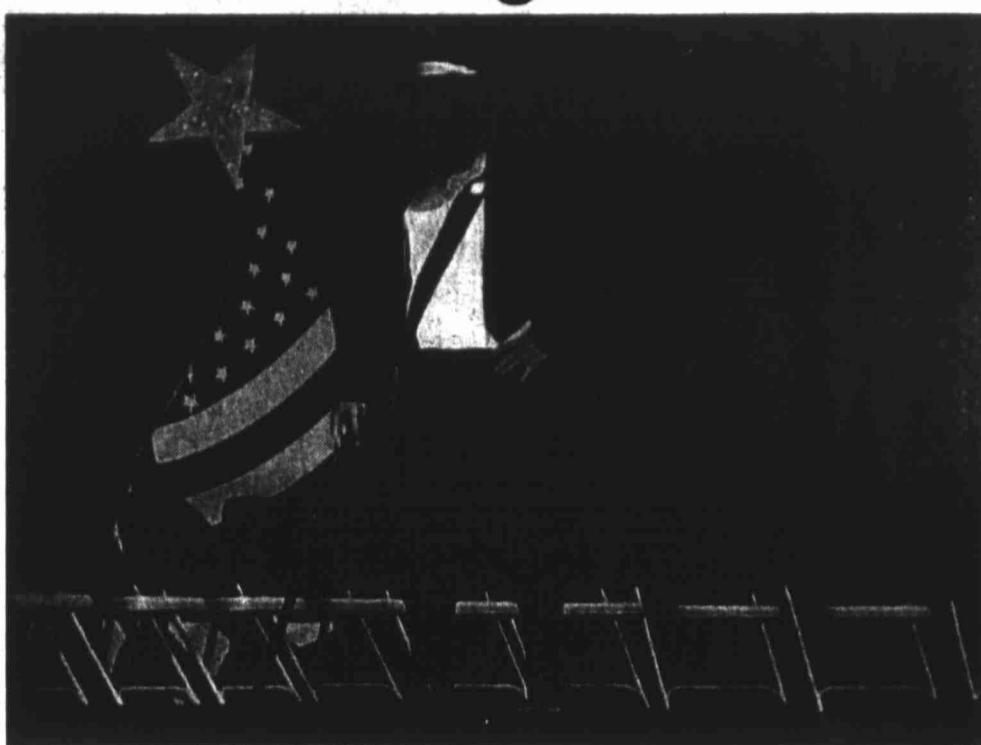

Judges evaluated each contestant on their poise, costume, answer, theme and how much bribe money each one could solicit from the audience.

In the end Stone, Forsan High School's principal, earned the crown and coveted title. Justice of the Peace Bennie Green was first runner-up and Joe Conciene, ALON USA Big Spring site manager; Mike Ritchey, Big Spring High School principal; and Stan Feaster of Howard College rounded out the top five finalists.

Also participating were: Vince Clemons, VAMC food service director; Rich Allen

HC trustees set to discuss theater demolition plans

By LYNDEL MOODY
Staff Writer

Howard College trustees will discuss plans on how to tear down the college's current theater building during their regularly scheduled meeting Monday.

"(Project architect) Phil (Furquerson) will share the specifications for the demolition of the auditorium with the board," Howard College President Dr. Cheryl Sparks said. "We hope to get that information out to the interested parties by next week to start the bidding process. Our plans are to have bids ready to review at the November meeting."

Administrators want to begin demolishing the aging structure by the middle of December between semesters.

Removal of the current structure will mean a major step forward in a project put on hold for more than a year.

"Yesterday I was visiting with Phil about the demolition and we were both discussing the fact we are so excited to be at this point," Sparks said. "It seems like it has taken forever to be at this point. The fact we are actually talking about demolition and that move forward — it's exciting."

The privately-funded project to renovate the aging structure was halted shortly after administrators discovered the cost to renovate the building was almost the same as required to build a new facility.

After completing a lengthy study on the issue, trustees approved new construction during their Sept. 23 meeting. Administrators hope the new building will be a unique, cutting-edge performance area.

Rough draft construction plans will more than double the size of the existing structure and the building will center around a flexible performance area which is essentially a large, empty, square room.

Trustees will meet in closed session at the SouthWest Collegiate Institute for the Deaf's Student Union Building, 3200 Ave. C, at 11:30 a.m. then break for lunch before going back into open session.

Also on the agenda, trustees will consider bids for baseball field team lockers, computers, servers, a pick-up and a mini van.

"It's about listening."

My name is Judy Strickland and I'm the Republican candidate for State Representative here in the newly drawn House District 85. I've traveled all across this district and listened to the concerns of the hardworking folks who live, work, and raise their families here. You've told me what you want from your next State Representative and I've listened, and when I get to Austin I'll continue to listen, because I'll work for you—not the special interests.

No State Income Tax

You told me you are sick and tired of talk from liberals about the need for a State Income Tax in order to solve the "so-called" budget shortfall.

We won't have a budget shortfall unless the legislature convenes and passes a budget that spends more than the state takes in. When elected, I'll never vote for an income tax, and I'll make sure we cut state spending rather than raise your taxes. We can't spend, tax, or regulate our way to prosperity.

Protecting the Backbone of West Texas

You told me that you want a Legislator who will fight to bring jobs and opportunities to West Texas, and who will protect our precious private property and water rights.

Farming, ranching, and oil and gas are the backbone of our West Texas economy. We must protect our agriculture economy, strengthen the oil and gas industry, protect our private property rights, and defend our water. Water is the lifeblood of West Texas and we must protect it from the big cities selfish developers who would deplete it.

Strengthening Public Education

You told me you are sick and tired of unfunded mandates on our schools, mandates that force local school districts to raise your property taxes.

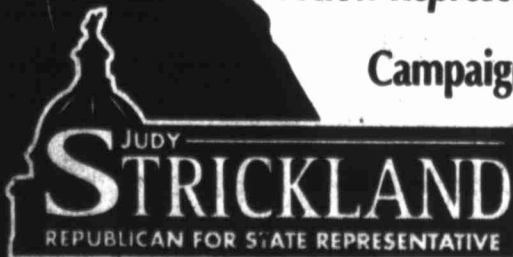

As an elected Member of the State Board of Education, I have worked hard to ensure a quality education for all of our children, but that doesn't mean simply spending more state money or mandating local districts to do so. It does mean cutting red tape, restoring discipline and parental involvement, and letting teachers do what they do best, and that is teach.

A proven conservative leader for West Texas.
A new Representative for our new District.

Big Spring YMCA celebrates 100 years

The Big Spring YMCA is one of the 14 local agencies that receives donations each year from the THIRTY United Way. The YMCA day care program is the recipient of funds donated by the United Way organization.

"The United Way money is utilized in the childcare program," explained YMCA director Pete Thiry.

"It lowers the fees for folks who can't afford to pay for childcare," he said.

The program currently has 56 children on its roster ranging in ages 5 to 12.

The children are picked up at the Big Spring schools and transported to the YMCA's location at 801 Owens.

Once at the Y the children are given a snack and then its time to work according to childcare director Rosie Franco. "They do their homework for 20 to 25 minutes, depending on their age, and then they have activity time," Franco explained.

Activities include arts and crafts, field trips, board games and physical activities as well.

The program continues year round and is offered during Christmas, Thanksgiving, summer and Spring Break.

Child care fees are $5 a day for members, $9 a day for non-members and scholarships are available based on number of family members and annual income.

Counselors are hired for groups of 12 or more and are certified in CPR, first aid, and are required to have eight hours preservice in childcare development, said Franco.

The Big Spring YMCA is celebrating its 100th year of service and a celebration is planned for December honoring long time members.

"It will be a luncheon or dinner," explained Thiry. "We will be recognizing members of 10 years or more."

The YMCA's roots go back to 1902 when an original charter was issued following a building gift by Helen Gould, daughter of the railroad magnate, Jay Gould.

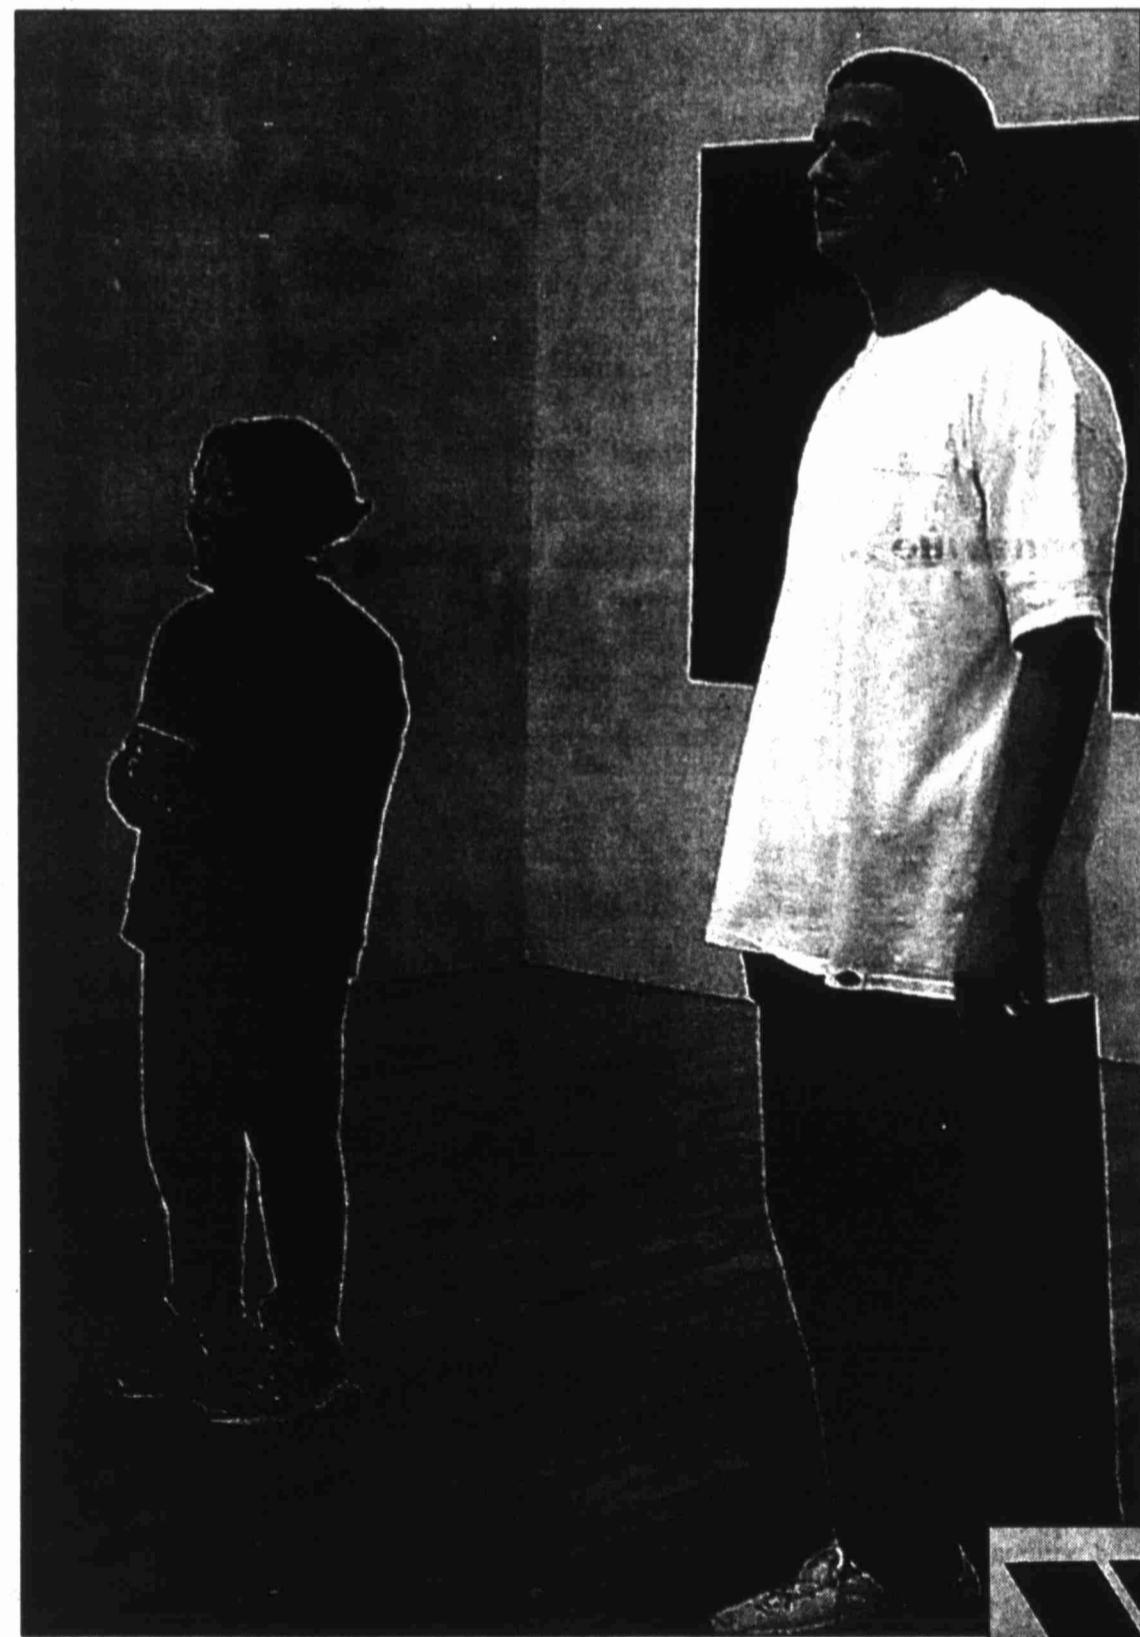

The first Y became a "Railroad YMCA" for the convenience of Texas and Pacific Railroad employees with J.E. Morris as the first general secretary.

With a donation of land by Carl Strom in 1956 and the establishment of a capital funds trust established in December 1957 the organization's future was certain.

The YMCA's philosophy is based on Christian beliefs and continues to be a vital part of the Big Spring community.

Lady Steers stun No. 8 Andrews in finale

By TOMMY WELLS
Sports Editor

The Big Spring Lady Steers avenged an earlier loss to the state-ranked Andrews Lady Mustangs Saturday afternoon, claiming a wild 16-14, 11-15, 16-14 win in front of a large crowd in the Steer Gym.

With the win, Big Spring closed out its 2002 regular season with a 22-11 record and, more importantly, nailed down the District 4-4A runner-up honors. Andrews, which had beat Big Spring in three games earlier this month at home, suffered its first league loss and fell to 27-8 and 9-1.

The Lady Steers, who are scheduled to face the No. 3 seed out of the District 3-4A race in the first round of the state playoffs, turned in a solid performance against Andrews, the No. 8-ranked team in the latest Texas Girls Coaches Association Class 4A poll. They rallied back from a huge deficit to win Game 1.

Big Spring, under the lead of head coach Traci Pierce, refused to buckle under in the opener.

After Andrews had seemingly taken complete control by opening with a 10-3 run, Sterling Burchett and LeKenya Wrightsil sparked a wild comeback as Big Spring outscored Andrews by a staggering 13-4 clip down the stretch.

The Lady Mustangs, the district champions, showed they had the ability to comeback in the second game.

After Big Spring had used the service of Lindsay Phillips and Erica Stewart to turn a 6-0 deficit into a 11-10 lead, Andrews scored a 5-1 run to even the game count at 1-1. Bane scored the Lady Mustangs' final two points.

The Lady Steers, who could face either Canyon Randall or Dumas in the bi-district round, jumped to a quick start in Game 3. Stormi Huff served up five straight points and Burchett added three more as the BSHS squad went on a 9-5 run. Leina Braxton, Huff, Phillips and Wrightsil each added points from there as Big Spring fought off a late AHS rally.

By virtue of the win, the Lady Steers avoided a playoff against Lake View for the No. 2 seed.

LEVELLAND — David won again.

In a district of big backs, Christian Coronado is the biggest of the big. Levelland's speedy running back was the chosen one — the one who would lead the Lobos to the high school football Promised Land. Hopes were high that Goliath would lead the Lobos a step closer to the playoffs Friday night. After all, here's a back that had averaged nearly 200 yards a game facing a Big Spring defense that was allowing almost 400 a night.

It didn't take a rocket scientist to know the Big Spring Steers defense was given about as much chance as a jellybean at a child's birthday party at stopping Coronado's assault.

There was only one problem. Someone forgot to tell the Steers they were supposed to roll over.

Big Spring, behind a stellar effort from a makeshift defense, rocked the Levelland Lobos by grinding out a 16-10 win that moved Big Spring into a second-place tie in the District 4-4A standings with Andrews. A Big Spring win over Lubbock Estacado this Friday would all but cement Big Spring their first berth in the state playoffs in two years.

"This was a big win for us," Big Spring head coach Dwight Butler said. "It was a hard-fought game and the defense really stepped up to the plate for us when we needed them and because of it this puts us in great shape heading into the final two weeks."

Big Spring, which clinched at least a .500 finish with the win, shook off any remnants of last week's loss to Frenship early against Levelland. The Steer offense put the Lobos on their heels on their first drive, marching 67 yards on six plays in the first 2:22 of the game to take a 7-0 lead.

Big Spring quarterback Tye Butler picked the Lobo secondary apart in the initial minutes. After the Steers had opened the game by returning the kick to their own 33, Butler tossed strikes to Ronnie Johnson and Mike Ornales to move the ball to the Levelland 46. Three plays later, he rifled a pass to Curtis Woodruff, who outleaped a Levelland defender for the ball and then danced his way into the end zone.

Jordan Cobb followed Woodruff's sixth touchdown catch of the year by successfully converting the point after attempt.

Big Spring threatened to blow the game open minutes later. After the BSHS defense forced the Lobos to punt their first possession away, Mathews put the Steers in striking distance again, taking a handoff from Butler and scampering 33 yards to the Lobo 18.

The Big Spring offense went into hibernation from there. The Steers managed minus-3 yards on their next three plays from center before turning the ball over on downs at the LHS 21.

"That first series we came out looking like a silver dollar," said coach Butler. "After that though, we looked more like a buffalo nickel. We just lost our focus."

Levelland, now 5-3 overall, seemed to get its offense in gear from there. Coronado reeled off six straight carries and moved the ball to the Lobo 48 before they self destructed. Levelland, after an incomplete pass and back-to-back penalties, found themselves facing a 4th-and-19 from their own 38.

The Big Spring offense, despite a short 23-yard punt, failed to take advantage of the opportunity. The Steers held the ball just five plays before Ornales unleashed a punting gem that pinned Levelland at its own 6.

With the Lobos in the shadow of their own end zone, David Lopez and the Big Spring defense came up big, giving Big Spring a third chance at a touch-

Big Spring harriers take second at district

By TOMMY WELLS
Sports Editor

The Big Spring Steers may not have won the District 4-4A title, but they did the next best thing: They gave themselves a chance to win the regional championship.

Big Spring, behind a solid run from Daniel Garza, placed second at the District 4-4A Cross Country Meet Saturday morning at Mae Simmons Park in Lubbock. Frenship earned the district title, scoring 31 points — 17 fewer than Big Spring. Both Frenship and Big Spring will advance to the regional meet, slated for next weekend in Lubbock.

Garza, despite competing with a slight injury, finished fifth in the individual standings. He completed the 3-mile course in a time of 16 minutes, 33.7 seconds.

Frenship's Josh Hawkins highlighted a 1-2-3-4 finish by the Tigers. He claimed the district title with a run of 15:51.0.

The Steers competed well. All five BSHS runners finished in the top 20.

Andy Cuellar and Daniel Leos joined Garza in the top 10, finishing eighth and 10th, respectively. Cuellar finished at 16:44.7. Leos checked in at 16:48.8 — seven seconds faster than teammate Andy Arguello, who finished 11th overall.

Jacob Marquez, Tony Arguello and David Garza finished 14th, 15th and 16th, respectively, for the Steers.

Eve Tobar garnered the Lady Steers' lone invitation to the regional meet with a solid effort in the girls event. She finished third with a time of 12:50.2.

The top two teams and top 10 individuals in each race advance to regional. The Big Spring did not compete in the girls team race due to a lack of runners.

Pricilla Franco and Patricia Franco finished 21st and 22. Tasha Rios was 25th.

Longorio leads FHS to win over Bulldogs in 'Howard Co. Bowl'

By BRANDON HALLFORD

FORSAN — On a night that felt like it was ordered by the football gods, Wes Longorio answered more than a few prayers. The Forsan senior rushed for 1991 yards and three touchdowns and carried the Buffaloes to a 34-20 victory in the "Howard County Bowl."

With the win, Forsan evened its season record at 4-4 and put itself in a position to clinch the District 3-2A No. 3 playoff berth next week against Seagraves. The Buffaloes are 2-1 in loop play. Coahoma, on the other hand, slipped to 1-7 and 0-3.

"We played good most of the night," said Coahoma head coach Robert Wood. "We just made some mistakes and they capitalized on them. You have to give them credit. My hat's off to them. It was a good hard-fought game ... and then Longorio was Wes."

Forsan's David Lee got the show started with a bang.

He took the opening kickoff at his own 20 and raced 80 yards the other direction for a touchdown and a 7-0 lead with just 14 seconds having expired.

The Bulldogs regained their form from there. Coahoma and Forsan settled into a defensive battle, as the both teams refused to allow the offenses to establish a rhythm.

With 9:13 left in the first half, Coahoma got its offense in gear. The

The Coahoma Cardinals and the Falcons each earn berths in the Crossroads Little Football League championship game Saturday afternoon by claiming semifinal victories.

The Cardinals, the 2002 regular season champions, earned a return trip to the finals by claiming a 20-0 win over the Eagles. Quarterback Tanner Ruiz enjoyed a solid performance.

The Falcons advanced via 2-0 forfeit win by the Steers.

Sports Editor
ACKERLY — Brandon Woods returned an interception 57 yards for a touchdown with less than a minute left in the first half to lead the Sands Mustangs to a 53-8 win over the Grady Wildcats Friday night.

The interception was one of two interceptions the Sands junior had in a game that was halted at the half because of the six-man 45-point rule.

"We didn't expect this," said Sands head coach Larry Reid. "We've been waiting for our team to put everything together for a whole game, but we never dreamed it would come together against a team like Grady."

"They're a good team," Reid said.

Josh Segundo opened the game with a bang for the Mustangs. The SHS senior returned the opening kickoff 71 yards for a touchdown.

Sands, now 7-1 overall and 3-0 in District 6 play, added to its lead less than three minutes later. After forcing Grady to punt away its first possession, Sands quarterback Jeremy Renteria hit running back Nate Looney with a short pass that he turned into a 56-yard scoring run.

The Wildcats, now 6-2 overall and 2-1 in league play, proved they had a strong offense, too, on their next series. GHS quarterback Trent May hooked up with T. Springer on a 67-yard touchdown play that cut the Mustangs' lead to 13-8 with 3:04 left in first quarter.

Sands regained the momentum quickly. After a diving catch by Woods put the Mustangs deep in Grady territory, Renteria took the snap from Catlin Barraza and lofted a 17-yard scoring pass to end Joe Luis Gonzales.

Gonzales' TD sent Sands into the second period holding a 21-8 lead.

The Mustang offense exploded in the second. Sands scored four times in the next 10 minutes to close out the contest.

Renteria, who surpassed the 1,000-yard passing plateau for a second straight year, opened the second period with an 8-yard scoring pass to senior Heath Webb.

Minutes later, Looney joined Renteria as a repeat 1,000-yard performer by breaking off a 58-yard run around the right end that gave the Mustangs a 37-8 advantage. Looney had entered the game needing just 54 yards to reach the 1,000 barrier.

Looney inflated Sands' lead to 45-8 with 2:42 left when he pulled in a pass from running back Heath Webb and raced 60 yards for a score.

Sands can claim at least a share if the District 6 title Friday night when they travel to Welch to face the Dawson Dragons. Grady faces Klondike.

Junior high football spirit remains in the air this coming week as the Big Spring Steer seventh graders face off against the Midland Greenwood Rangers on Thursday.

BSJHS 7th graders pop Levelland

The Big Spring Junior High School seventh grade "Black" team dealt the Levelland Lobos a tough 33-0 setback Tuesday.

The Steer defense was led by Brandy Hubbard, Chris Arista and Austin Hinojosa. Jason Walker aided the shutout effort with an interception return for a score.

Running backs Terrance Clemmons and Brandon Ontiveros also played well, as did linemen Chad Chalker and Hayden Phillips.

Ontiveros scored two twice, netting TDs on runs of 50 and 60 yards. Clemmons scored on a 12-yard run. Rudy Granados had an 18-yard TD reception for Big Spring, which improved to 5-1-1.

Bufs defense throttles Tech

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — For the entire week, Colorado's defensive players kept hearing how good Texas Tech quarterback Kliff Kingsbury was.

Kingsbury was the nation's leader in completions (286), attempts (419), passing yards (2,916) and touchdown passes (28).

Last week, he completed a whopping 49-of-70 passes for 510 yards — a Big 12 record — and five touchdowns in a 52-38 win over Missouri and was beginning to look like a certain first-round draft pick.

Kingsbury looked merely human Saturday after being pressured into a career-high four interceptions in Colorado's 37-13 win.

He completed 36-of-65 passes for 268 yards but failed to throw a touchdown pass for the first time in 13 games.

"We knew he was good, but we didn't need to hear it every day," said Buffaloes safety Clyde Surrell, who had one of the four interceptions. "It made us want it more. We've been called the weak link on this team, and we had to prove we weren't. We were hearing it from everybody."

Safety Medford Moorer had two interceptions, one of which he returned 51 yards in the third quarter to put Colorado ahead 30-13. Moorer broke three tackles on the return.

"I just read the quarterback's eyes and broke on the ball," he said. "My mind was set on getting into the end zone."

STEERS

down. After two short runs that moved the ball to the Lobo 9, Lopez gave Big Spring fans reason to smile when he sacked LHS quarterback Rocky Hartline at the Levelland 1 and forced punter Brandon Coronado to punt from his own end zone.

Coronado's punt traveled less than 30 yards, giving Big Spring a first down at the Lobo 28 with more than eight minutes left in the first half.

Once again, the Steer offense sputtered, moving just eight yards before Levelland's Daniel Mendoza killed the threat by stepping in front of a BSHS pass.

"We had a chance to put it away in the first half, but we just couldn't get it going," said Butler. "Would they (Levelland) have given up? Probably not. They were fighting for their playoff lives, but we could have made it easier on ourselves."

Levelland managed to close out the first half on a high note. The Loboes drove 45 yards in the final minute to set up a 38-yard field goal by Coronado that sent the game into the half with Big Spring holding a 7-3 cushion.

The Big Spring defense, which had been torched for more than 300 yards rushing a week earlier against Frenship, answered the buzzer for the third quarter with a vengeance. The Steers, courtesy of one of a penalty and a crucial third down sack by Lopez and Jeremy Cerda, held Coronado and the Levelland offense in check much of the third quarter despite being on the field for all but 1:32 of the first eight minutes of the second half.

After the BSHS defense had forced the Loboes to punt away their first series of the third quarter, the Big Spring offense continued to misfire. The Steers held the ball just three plays before having to punt.

Levelland, thanks in part to a personal foul penalty on the Steers, looked as if it would take advantage of the Steers' offensive woes. Following the punt, the Loboes reeled off eight plays to reach the Big Spring 29.

Linebacker Howard Johnson put Levelland's dreams of a lead to bed seconds later. After a one of 12 penalties against the Loboes had backed them to the Big Spring 34, Johnson stormed through the LHS line and delivered a hit that jarred the ball out of Hartline's hands. The SSSS star, alertly, pounced on the loose ball, giving the Steers a first down at the Levelland 48.

If Butler thought Big Spring's first-half offensive meltdown made them look like a nickel, he probably thought he was looking at a Mexican penny on the Steers' ensuing series. Big Spring lost 45 yards on its first plays from scrimmage on consecutive snaps over the quarterback's head. The two plays, resulting in losses of 19 and 21 yards, respectively, pinned the Steers at their own 7. A short 5-yard run by Mathews moved the ball to the Big Spring 12, allowing Ornales room to punt from his own end zone on a 4th-and-50 call.

The Steer defense, which had entered the game allowing more than 380 yards a game, was up to the challenge again. After Levelland had moved to the BSHS 38 on short run by Coronado, Jarod Boyd and Ornales caused more terror in the LHS backfield than Jason in the Halloween series. Boyd, on second down, forced Coronado to fumble at the Big Spring 31. Ornales recovered the fumble at the Steer 29.

This time, the Big Spring offense didn't sink.

On first down, Butler took the snap from Jeff Stanley, who was forced into action early when starting center Kaniel Miramontes re-injured his right shoulder, and lofted a 46 yard strike to Woodruff down the sideline to the Lobo 26. Two plays later, Butler kept the ball on an option play around the right end and followed the block of guard David Partlow to the Levelland 11.

The Steers shifted into low gear from there. Lining up in the Power I, Big Spring reeled off a 5-yard run by Mathews to the LHS 6. One play later, Boyd took and handoff and pushed his way to the Lobo 2, setting up a 2-yard scoring run by Mathews on the first play of the fourth quarter.

The Steers, despite having their PAT try blocked, carried a 13-3 lead into the final 11:57 of the contest.

The Big Spring defense, playing with a lineup that featured backup end Nick Rushing, backup linebacker Zack Angel and wide receivers Mendoza and Ornales splitting time in the secondary, came away with a defensive hat trick on the Loboes' first possession of the fourth quarter. The Steers, thanks to a crucial sack by Cerda and Boyd on third down, denied a 4th-and-18 fake punt attempt midway through the final stanza.

Tye Butler and Jordan Cobb all but iced the win from there. Butler, after the Steers had taken over the ball on downs at the Levelland 40, rushed for a gain of 14 yards and then hit Woodruff with a 4-yard pass play to move the ball to the Lobo 7. Levelland aided the effort by drawing a personal foul penalty for a late hit on Butler.

Cobb, on fourth down, boosted the Steer lead to 16-6 with more than 4:30 to play when he split the uprights on a 24-yard field goal attempt.

The Loboes managed to get their offense untracked late in the contest. Sparked by a 28-yard run off a quarterback keeper and a 38-yard pass from Hartline to Daniel Mendoza, the Loboes drove to the Big Spring 7.

After two failed attempts by Christian Coronado to get into the end zone, Hartline called his own number and plunged in from a yard out.

Hartline's TD cut the Steers' lead to 16-10 with 3:01 remaining.

For the night, Coronado managed just 97 yards on 26 carries. His performance marked the first time this fall, the senior running back had failed to surpass the 100-yard plateau in a game. As a whole, the Steer defense allowed Levelland just 189 yards.

Ornales spoiled the Loboes' ensuing on-sides kick attempt by batting the ball to the ground and falling on top of it.

The Steers, thanks to a 2-yard run by Butler on a 4th-and-1 call from the Levelland 37, ran off the final two and a half minutes to seal the team's fifth win in their last six outings.

Big Spring will return to action this Friday when they face Lubbock Estacado at Memorial Stadium. The game will highlight Big Spring High School's 2002 homecoming activities.

Newsstand continues to draw customers after over 50 years in Big Spring

While other businesses, big and small, have come and gone in Big Spring Poncho's News and Tobacco Land has somehow outlived them all. Once flanked by the R-70 Theater on the south, Howard House on the north and the Greyhound Bus Station across the street to the east, Poncho's is one of two remaining businesses on the 300 block of Runnels.

The original owner R.L. (Pancho) Nall has been described as well liked and affable by those who remember him.

"He was very sweet," said Nila Allen who frequented the small news stand with her sister.

"We spent a lot of time in his store and it had all manner of magazines," said Allen. "My sister and I would buy music books to sing to and although it was small it seemed like it was always busy."

Depending on the weather, a customer could have his shoes shined and catch up on the daily news while he waited. If the weather was bad the shoe shine man would move his

The newsstand was purchased from the Nalls in 1966 and remained at the hotel until it was moved by the owner.

A bowling alley occupied the building where Poncho's has been located since 1970. The current owner is a resident of Big Spring but, due to health reasons, doesn't visit the store anymore, but is still involved with the operation of the business.

"I want to let the people of Big Spring know how much we appreciate them," said Maria who preferred to not reveal her last name.

On a given afternoon customers trickle in and out of the one room establishment. Some browse, some lean on the glass display case and visit with the clerk who rings up merchandise on an old cash register.

Inside the glass display cases are a variety of pipes. Most are the traditional with a dark wood bowl in several shapes and sizes and there are the pipes that have faces carved out of fossilized sea foam that, when polished, resembles ivory at heart can find Spider Man, Bat Man and the recent release of KISS comics.

"The Coke machine was there when we moved there in 1970," Maria said. The appearance of the store hasn't changed much including the feathered fellow who remains perched atop his cage snoozing peacefully most of the day.

The older generation would probably remember the pair of Minah Birds who once occupied the cages behind the counter.

"I had Minah birds at home so I had them there at the store," said Maria. "Bo' has been there for about 20 years now."

The paperback books range from those on the bestseller's list to the classics like the Iliad and the Odyssey by Homer to the western series by Elmer Kelton of San Angelo.

Having weathered the ups and down of the econ-wares to the back of the shop, said Allen.

In a time when printed news was a primary source of information and entertainment Nall's business grew and he was eventually able to move from his original location on Third Street, where it stood next to the Lyric Theater in the early late 20s early 30s, to a room at the back of the Douglas Hotel which later became the Howard House.

A vacant lot is all that is left of the Howard House. Poncho's sits next to that lot.

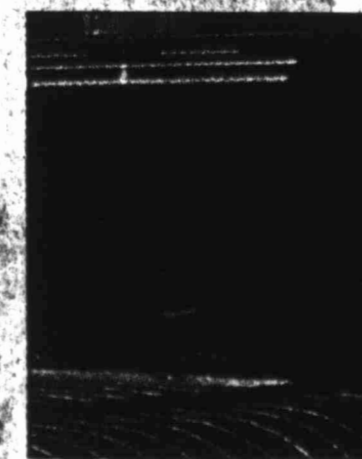

The business has been in existence for as long as anyone can remember at least since 1949 when Nall had his photo taken in front of his shop when it was at the back of the Douglas Hotel.

"The pipes come from Turkey," said Maria. "They used to be carved by the older generation, but not so much now and the young people don't have much appreciation for them. When they are smoked the stone changes color."

Cigars and pipe tobacco as well a selection of lighters are also available.

While other local businesses may have a larger selection of printed material Poncho's has always been a place where customers can find items, while not mainstream or big sellers, they need or desire.

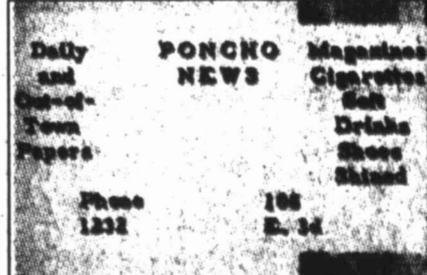

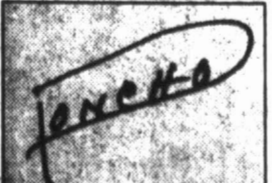

At the back of the shop next to the Coca Cola machine is the carousel rack of comic books where the young of young omy and the closing of Webb Air Force Base, the little news stand remains a constant with old and new customers.

"We still have people come in that used to be stationed at Webb," Maria said.

"They come by the store whenever they're in town."

ENGAGEMENT

KIRN AND HOUGE

Bill and Terry Sage of Big Spring are pleased to announce the engagement and upcoming wedding of their daughter, Katie Kirn to Travis Houge. Travis is the son of Toby and Barb Houge of Dolliver, Iowa.

Katie is a 1999 graduate of Forsan High School and in May 2002 she graduated with an Associates in Applied Science in dental hygiene from Howard College. She is currently employed as a dental hygienist by Dr. Bill Phelps of Spencer, Iowa and Dr. Mike Louscher of Emmetsburg, Iowa.

Travis is a 2000 graduate of Estherville Lincoln Central High School, in Estherville. Shortly after high school he worked with Don Prudhomme Racing and traveled on the race team of Ron Capps. He is now employed for Royster-Clark, of Maple Hill and will begin classes for professional firefighting/ EMT in the spring of 2003.

The couple now resides in Dolliver, Iowa and will be married in Estherville, Iowa on Nov. 30, at Trinity Lutheran Church. The ceremony will begin at 5 p.m. with a reception dinner and dance immediately following.

Justin Herrod remembers 9-11 while in military

HERALD Staff Report

While the world watched news coverage of the attacks on the world Trade Center and the Pentagon on Sept. 11, 2001, Big Spring's Nathan P. Herrod was serving his country.

HERROD

One year later Herrod is now aboard USS John Paul Jones (DDG 53) preparing for the time when they will be needed again.

Navy Petty Officer 3rd Class Herrod, the 23-year-old son of David and Lorinda Herrod of Big Spring, is an information systems technician on board the Arleigh Burke-class destroyer.

He operates and maintains global satellite telecommunications systems.

Even though one year has passed, Herrod is still able to remember what was going through his mind during the attacks.

"My initial reaction to the attacks was anger. However, it soon turned into sympathy for all of the innocent people that died," Herrod said.

In October the crew of the John Paul Jones got the chance to do their part.

They were the first ship to launch Tomahawk missiles at al-Qaeda targets in Afghanistan at the beginning of Operation Enduring Freedom.

Participating in the strike gave the crew a chance to put their training into action and contribute to the war on terrorism.

Herrod was able to answer the call when his country needed him the most, which is just part of his job that he is happy to do.

"I am very proud to serve my country," Herrod said.

A year after such a tragic event, Herrod and the crew of the John Paul Jones train and prepare for the next time when they will be called upon to defend their country.

MILITARY

Marine Corps Pvt. Cocton B. Jones, son of Angela R. and Jesse L. Jones of Big Spring, has completed basic training at Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego.

The recruits ended the training phase with The Crucible, a 54-hour team effort, problem solving evolution which culminated with an emotional ceremony in which the recruits were presented the Marine Corps Emblem, and were addressed at "Marines" for the first time since boot camp began.

Jones is a 2002 graduate of Coahoma High School.

ANNIVERSARY

ROY AND JEAN BAKER

Roy Baker and Jean Hansel were married Oct. 31, 1952, in Big Spring and honeymooned in New Orleans. The couple were introduced by Ray's youngest brother, Loren and were married 10 months later. According to Ray, he and Jane were sitting in a car one afternoon on scenic Drive in Big Spring when a big dog jumped up to the open window and scared him into saying, "Will you marry me?" They lived in Lee's Community the first five years and have been in Hennessey, Okla., since. The Bakers have two daughters, Becky and her husband, David Lippert of Edmond, Okla. and their two children, Derrick and Duncan, Bonye and Jim Newcomb of Fort Gibson, Okla., and their three children, Tyler, Tobin and Taylor. Ray served in the Navy for two years and worked for Rodman Oil Company in Big Spring. He has worked as a contract pumper for 38 years in Hennessey, Okla. Jane helped build B-25 Mitchell bombers during World War II. Later she was employed by Cities Service Oil Company and Phillip's Petroleum Company and has been a homemaker since moving to Hennessey, Okla. in 1962.

Church News and Club News should be turned in by Wednesday noon before the Friday they are to appear, are subject to editing and will run as space allows.

WHO'S WHO

Anne Roberson of Big Spring has been named to the Dean's List at Lubbock Christian University for their most recent term in the Organizational Management Program.

In order to be considered a part of the dean's list, an OM student must be taking a minimum of 14 semester hours and achieve a 3.5 grade point average or better for the entire term.

Organizational Management is a program designed for working adults over 25 years of age who have at least 60 transferable hours and want to complete their bachelor's degree. Adult learners attend classes that are held one night per week, taking one course at a time. Class size is limited to 18.

These adult learners continue through the entire program together as a cohort. Students are able to finish a 48-hour major in an 18-month period without quitting their jobs.

The bachelor's degree earned is best described as a broad-based business degree and is fully accredited.

Pete Laney and I have worked side by side during my entire service as your State Representative. I know him well, trust him completely and highly recommend him to you.

I have enjoyed serving as your legislator, and while I am not running for re-election in Howard County, I have every confidence in asking you to make Pete Laney your choice for State Representative on Election Day.

As Speaker of the House and as State Representative, Pete Laney has been praised by Republicans and Democrats alike, as well he should be, for his fair leadership and even-handed approach at the Capitol building.

Pete Laney will give our area a strong respected voice in Austin.

Horoscope

BY JACQUELINE BIGAR
HAPPY BIRTHDAY for Sunday, Oct. 27, 2002:

Your creativity surges from out of nowhere. You certainly have one idea after another this year. Others seek out your knee-jerk response. Your career grows to a new level, allowing you to see life from a changed perspective. You gain professionally this year. You seem to have that magic touch. As a result, your financial standing will also change substantially. If you are single, your appeal draws someone very different, perhaps from another culture. You will learn a lot from this person, but you won't know the fate of this relationship until fall 2003. If you are attached, learn to relate on a far deeper level, expressing caring more often and more completely. Plan that special trip together you often talk about. CANCER opens doors for you.

The Stars Show the Kind of Day You'll Have: 5-Dynamic; 4-Positive; 3-Average; 2-So-so; 1-Difficult
ARIES (March 21-April 19) **** Ease up and put the brakes on your hectic pace. Others will understand. A loved one or a child could delight you with a special effort. Reach out for a distant friend or relative. Share recent news and events. Tonight: Show more caring.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) ***** Your efforts come back in multiples. Be generous in all ways with a special loved one or friend. You make peace where there has been contention. A purchase you have been putting off can wait a little longer. Tonight: Talk up a storm.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) **** Deal with a money matter. Recent indulgences just might be catching up with you. Know when to toss your hands in the air and find an easier and less expensive way. A partner goes out of his or her way and opens up a conversation. Tonight: Your treat.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) ***** Your personality melts associates' reservations. Initiate a fun project and treat others to pizza or a special meal for work done well. Your high energy carries you over many hurdles that others cannot jump right now. Be indulgent. Tonight: Whatever you want.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) **** Your buoyant personality helps a child or loved one come out of his or her shell. You might want to not say everything you think and hold back some. Take your time making decisions. Handle personal matters with kid gloves. Tonight: Get some extra sleep, if you can.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) ***** Friends encourage you to be a bon vivant. Still, you might go overboard making your opinions and feelings known. Enjoy someone for what he or she offers. Don't push a family member past his or her comfort level. Your instincts guide you. Tonight: Follow the gang.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) *** You're in the limelight. Carefully consider alternatives that revolve around a friendship or group. On some level, you might feel pressure between work and play. Only you can make the decision. Don't burn any bridges. Be sensitive to a friend's feelings. Tonight: A must appearance.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) ***** Reach out for a loved one at a distance. You will touch this person with your call and understanding. Use concern with a parent, boss or someone else you consider an authority figure. You might want to treat this person to tea or a snack. Tonight: Catch a movie.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) ***** Deal directly with a loved one or a friend. One-on-one relating takes you in a new direction. Your instincts help you with this person. You might overreact and take a comment personally. Know when to call it quits with an issue. Just let go. Tonight: Go for togetherness.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) ***** Defer to others. Friends call you left and right. It appears you would prefer to spend time with a special friend or loved one. One-on-one relating helps you open up and clear out a problem that could be weighing heavily on you. Tonight: Join your friends.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) **** Clear out a project. Your friends and your greatest hobby await you. Plans change, but a gathering still spells good times. You cannot under-estimate the gregarious quality of your sign. Tonight: In the middle of the party!

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) ***** Let your imagination rock and roll. Others delight in your suggestions. Don't forget to make an effort toward an in-law or someone at a distance. Your caring does make a difference. A celebration seems to happen naturally. Tonight: Play the night away.

Mention of other women big turn off

Dear Annie: I have been dating a wonderful man for about six months. Last night, while we were in the middle of making love, "Andy" asked me if I thought his buddy's new girlfriend was attractive. I was stunned.

Obviously, Andy thinks this girl is good-looking or he wouldn't have mentioned it, especially at that particular moment. We have an open and honest relationship, and I do not want Andy to think he cannot confide in me, but I am confused. The poor girl has no idea she entered our bedroom, but right now, I dislike her intensely. What should I do? — Resentful in California

Dear Resentful: Don't make assumptions about how attractive Andy found this girl. You could be wrong. And even if you are right, it doesn't mean Andy intends to act on the attraction. If you trust him, forget he opened his mouth. If he does it again, tell him it's a major turn-off to discuss other women in the bedroom.

Dear Annie: I am a freshman in high school and planning to attend homecoming with a nice guy who asked me. We are double-dating with my best friend and her date. Last night, she said we ought to go out for dinner together at a nice restaurant and asked me to phone my date for his OK, so she could confirm the reservations. It was 8:55 p.m., and I thought it would be acceptable to call his house.

When my date's mother picked up the phone, she asked (in an irritable voice) who was calling. I told her, and as she was handing the phone to my date, she imitated my voice mockingly, saying, "Hi. This is Amanda, and it's way too late to be calling anyone."

I was taught that it is acceptable to phone before 10:00 p.m. This was more than an hour earlier. In the future, I will phone his home before 8, but for the record, was I wrong? My date also has mentioned that his mother doesn't like me. I barely know this woman. Is there anything I can do to endear myself to her? — Confused Caller in Austin, Texas

Dear Caller: Unless someone has unusual work hours, it is perfectly acceptable to call by 9:00, and most people are happy to take calls until 10. Is your friend's mother an early riser? Does she have an infant who would be awakened by the ringing? Was Mom having a bad day?

It could be this woman would not like any girl her son is dating, especially since you are freshmen and rather young. Meanwhile, the best way to catch flies is with honey. Next time you see Mom, compliment her hair or outfit. Ask how she's doing. Tell her what a great son she has. And good luck.

Making a move: El Nopal Cafe open at new location

By ROGER CLINE
Staff Writer

The Cactus Cafe is blooming.

Known by most as El Nopal Cafe, the restaurant's Spanish name, which translates to "The Cactus Cafe," comes from its original location on Wasson Road, explains manager and co-owner Edward Urias.

"When we started out on Wasson Road, there were a bunch of cactus around, so that's what we named it," he said. "We've been around about 10 years."

Since the first incarnation, the cafe has moved to the 1700 block of Gregg Street and to its brand-new location in the 800 block of South Gregg. The new location, formerly an auto parts store and earlier a convenience store, has been open since Tuesday.

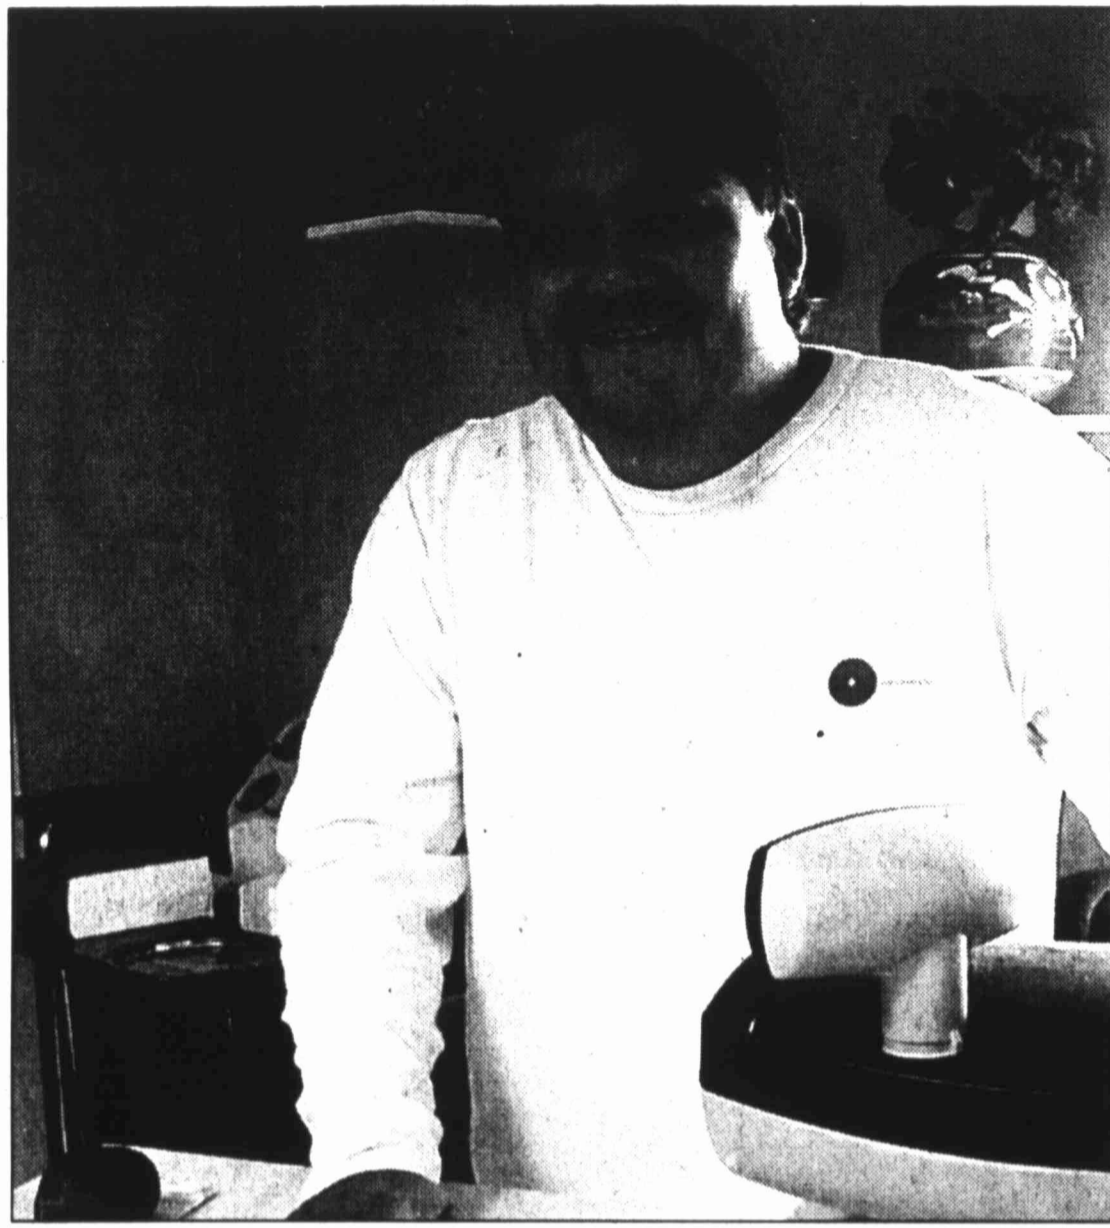

"We were just looking for a better place for our customers to park and everything, and we found this place right here," Urias said. "A friend of mine is an architect and he helped me redesign the interior."

Although the restaurant is open, no grand opening has been held.

"We haven't had one yet," Urias said. "We opened up Tuesday, and I'm hoping maybe next week we can have a little time to get that grand opening in."

Since the move, Urias said business has been great.

"I believe it's doubled so far," he said, adding that he sees about equal turnouts for breakfast, lunch and dinner. "I'd say it's about a toss up."

Edward Urias, manager and co-owner of the El Nopal Cafe, said business is booming at their new location in the 800 block of South Gregg Street. The restaurant, formerly located on Wasson Road and then in the 1700 block of South Gregg, serves authentic Mexican cuisine from 7 a.m. to 2 p.m. and 5 to 9 p.m. Monday through Saturday, and from 7 a.m. to 2 p.m. Sunday.

The cafe serves authentic Mexican food, with some dishes you can't find at most Tex-Mex restaurants.

"I guess it just tastes pretty good," he said. "I'd think it's more authentic Mexican than Tex-Mex. We've got some plates that other restaurants, as far as I know, they don't even serve. We've got a chile verde plate, and enchilada montadas. Those consist of enchiladas and they've got an over-easy egg on the top. You can either eat them for breakfast or for lunch."

The cafe is open 7 a.m. to 2 p.m. for breakfast and lunch, and then re-opens for supper from 5 to 9 p.m., he said.

"Then on Sunday I think we're just going to open up 7 a.m. to 2 p.m. and get the rest of the day off," he added.

Big Spring State Hospital Assistant Director of the Activity Therapies Department Jaime Sotelo, CEO Ed Moughon and Director of the Activity Therapies Department Gail Zilai congratulate Claudette Forward on being named ATD Employee of the Year during ceremonies Tuesday at the state hospital. Forward has worked for the state hospital for 26 years.

Claudette Forward receives BSSH honor

Big Spring State Hospital Therapist Technician Claudette Forward was named Activity Therapies Department Employee of the Year during ceremonies Tuesday in the ATD Multi-Purpose Room.

Forward, whom Director of Activity Therapies Department Gail Zilai called "a ray of sunshine and an inspiration to all of us," has worked for Big Spring State Hospital for 26 years.

She was among 11 employees nominated for the award, and a committee comprised of past winners selected her for the award.

Forward is known for her strong voice in which she uses to work with patients in the hospital's music department. She was cited for her "wonderful attitude with the patients. She always has time for the patients, and the patients just love her," according to her nomination.

The Activity Therapies Department provides instruction in many areas, including managing mental illness, planning leisure activities and job training.

Big Spring State Hospital is Big Spring's largest employer with a workforce of nearly 700 employees. The psychiatric hospital cares for people with severe mental illness in a 79-county area in West Texas and the Texas Panhandle.

Pizza Inn manager making changes

Cheryl Grigg took over the reins as manager of Big Spring's Pizza Inn in July and since then she's been making quite a few changes at the restaurant.

"On Thursday evening, our family night, we've expanded the menu a little bit for children," she explained. "We'll still have Wednesday evening when kids eat free with their parents and that's also senior citizens' night."

Grigg, a West Virginia native, spent 13 years in Florida before moving to Big Spring. She has nine years of experience in the pizza business.

Municipal Court Clerk Wilson certified

Court Clerk Jeanne Wilson of the Municipal Court in Big Spring has completed all of the requirements for Level II of the Municipal Court Clerk Certification Program and was awarded the certification on July 26, by the Texas Court Clerks Association (TCCA) in conjunction with the Texas Municipal Courts Education Center (TMCEC) and the Texas Municipal Courts Association (TMCA). Wilson has served in the Big Spring Municipal Court since 1991.

To qualify for level II certification, clerks must complete 40-hours of continuing education and pass a four-hour exam.

Areas covered by the examination include legal research, ethics, fairness and diversity, procedures before trial, trial procedures post-trial, failure to appear and warrants, code of criminal procedures and penal code, financial management/court costs, bond forfeitures domestic violence and computer literacy.

Aversion to risk could lead to tight supplies of natural gas, high prices

By BRAD FOSS

AP Business Writer

It used to be that when Long Petroleum LLC sought a deep-pocketed partner to pursue a hot natural gas prospect, money was relatively easy to come by and deals were put together in a matter of months. Today, the Shreveport, La.-based company is lucky if its phone calls are returned.

"People are afraid to take a risk," said Kevin Long, whose family owned business has been wildcatting since the 1930s. Other industry officials agree, and attribute the change to a complicated mix of economics, politics and geology.

The experience of Long Petroleum illustrates how this cautiousness is transforming an industry whose legend was built by people willing to bet the ranch in hopes of striking it rich. Furthermore, the aversion to risk could lead to tighter supplies and higher prices.

The prudence is palpable, experts said, and partly explains why there has not been a rush to drill new wells in recent months, despite a significant ascent in the price of natural gas, a mostly domestic fuel used to heat homes and produce electricity. It will almost certainly result in higher prices for homeowners this winter.

Mark Papa, the chairman and chief executive of EOG Resources Inc., a Houston-based oil and gas producer, said the industry trend points to a "very substantial decline" in domestic natural gas production over the next six months, possibly longer.

EOG Resources plans to buck the industry trend, increasing production now in anticipation of even higher prices, Papa said.

Papa said he expects the wholesale price of natural gas to range between $3.50 and $4.50 per 1,000 cubic feet over the next three years. By comparison, the average price from 1996-2000 was $2.46.

Others are less bullish, stressing that the current price — hovering above $4 — is due most notably to the threat of war in Iraq. They say current production levels are high enough because the economy is still weak and fuel demand is low.

Deciding when to boost production has always been tricky. Variables as unpredictable as the economy, the weather and changing environmental regulations can quickly change prices.

But attributing the widespread tentativeness to these factors alone, or the threat of war, would be to overlook recent changes in the industry's collective philosophy.

The reshaping of attitudes is owed largely to the dramatic surge and collapse of natural gas prices between late 2000 and early 2001. The memory of that experience has made companies leery about aggressively boosting output, even though the average price of natural gas has risen nearly 70 percent in the past year.

Master Gardener training to begin in January

Howard County Master Gardener Training Program to Begin in January 2003

Do you have a love for horticulture? Do you have a willingness to learn about horticulture? Do you have a desire to help others learn more about horticulture? If you have answered yes to any of the above questions, then the Master Gardener program may be for you!

The Howard County Master Gardener program is a volunteer educational program conducted by the Texas Cooperative Extension and the Texas A&M University System. The program will allow you to become knowledgeable about horticulture-based topics at a local level.

As a trainee in the Master Gardener program, you are required to attend 50 hours of instruction on a variety of topics including plant science, plant disease, ornamental color, landscape design, entomology, pruning and training trees, woody ornamentals, just to name a few. Once you have finished the training, you are required to volunteer 50 hours of community service in a horticultural-related area. The community service hours will not be a problem to obtain due to the many Master Gardeners projects in Howard County to volunteer your time to Heart of the City Park, Vietnam Memorial and many more.

There is a one-time registration fee of $75 due at the orientation meeting on Dec. 9. This fee will cover all materials and supplies, as well as assist with travel expenses for instructors.

For more details and information about the program, contact Ginger Anderson, Master Gardener Coordinator at the Howard County Extension Office at 264-2236 no later than Nov. 15.
