CANDIDATES IN CONTESTED RACES

Voters in the First Democratic Primary election Saturday, May 1, face only two contested races on the local level, those of sheriff and commissioner of Precinct 3. John Rainey, left, and Billy Lindsey are seeking the office of sheriff of Collingsworth County. Third from left is Pat O'Hair, incumbent, and at right, Bill Lowe, candidates for Commissioner of Precinct 3.

Voters Face Different Ballot In Primary Election Saturday

Collingsworth County voters will go to the polls in the first Democratic Primary Saturday, May 1, and the ballot they use will be different to any they have used before.

First, they will vote for three delegates to the National Democratic Presidential Nominating Convention. Then, this will be the first bilingual ballot used in a primary election.

Mrs. John Coleman, county Democratic chairman, said election polls will be open from 7:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m.

All voters are required to bring their new blue voter registration certificates, she said.

"If you are confused on where to vote or wonder if you are registered to vote, call Frances Williams, county tax assessor-collector at her office in the court house. That office can check and give you the needed information. Do that before election day, as it is closed on Saturday," said Mrs. Coleman.

Those voting in Box 7, at Bura Handley Community Center will vote this time in the American Legion Building, as the other is being used for the 8th grade banquet.

Other polling places will be: Voting Box No. 1 Wellington High School, No. 2 Dodson American Legion building, No. 3 Courthouse, No. 4 Lutie Gin, No. 5 and 6

Samnorwood gymnasium, No. 7 Wellington American Legion building, No. 8 Wellington Elementary School, No. 9 Quail High School.

For the first time also, voters will not choose a governor and several other state officials--races that usually draw larger numbers to the polls. These won four-year terms in 1974.

Those participating in the presidential primary will elect delegates by senatorial districts. This, the 31st Dist., has three presidential candidates, Sen. Lloyd M. Bentsen, Jr., Jimmy Carter and Alabama Governor

The program will begin with three traditional numbers played by the Fifth Grade band, Mary's Little Lamb, Skaters Waltz, and Aura Lee.

Numbers to be given by the Junior High Band are "Men of Harlech," arranged by Edward McLin, "Telephone Tune" by Lloyd Conley, and "To A Wild Rose" by MacDowell. The final number will be "Crime Does Not Pay" by Fred Weber.

That Skyrocket Band will open its portion of the program with "Fandango" by Frank Perkins, followed by two more numbers in this part of the program, "I Honestly Love You," by Olivia Newton-John and "Lethbridge Overture," by James D. Ployhar.

The High School Chorus will sing four numbers with lyrics by contemporary vocalists: "Life is a Song Worth Singing," Johnny Mathis; "Let Me Be the One" and "Top of the World," The Carpenters, and "Let It Be Me," Mann Curtis.

"Love Will Keep Us Together," Captain and Tennille, will open the second part of the program by That Skyrocket Band, "Battaglia," by Francis McBeth.

Following the cake auction, the band will play "Sounds of The Carpenters" by that group, including "We've Only Just Begun," "For All We Know," and "Rainy Days and Mondays."

Freddie Chambers will be featured in a drum solo, "Festival Capers." The High School band will round out its program with "The Stars and Stripes Forever," Sousa, and its traditional ending, "The Blue and the Gray."

Methodists Plan Old-Time Fun-Filled Box Supper May 5

An old-fashioned box supper, the first staged in Wellington in many years, will be held by First United Methodist Church Wednesday, May 5, at 7:30 p.m. It will be in the church fellowship hall.

On one hand it is the church's tribute to the bicentennial. On the other, it is a fund raising event, and all monies cleared will go into the building fund.

Plans are being made by the new building finance committee, Mrs. Bill Hatch, Mrs. Richard Nall, and Mrs. Wayne Cudd.

"For the young ones, this will be a first. For you older ones, you can reminisce and remember when..." said the Rev. James Boswell, pastor.

Everyone who would like to come and enjoy an evening of old-fashioned fun is invited, said Rev. Boswell.

Women who attend will bring the gaily and elaborately decorated boxes. These will be auctioned, and eating the contents will follow.

There will be a special table for the boxes brought by teenagers, with a separate room where they may eat after the boxes are auctioned. There will be tables for junior high and elementary students also.

Experienced auctioneers will sell the boxes. Pies and cakes will be auctioned intermittently with the boxes, said Rev. Boswell.

Coffee and soft drinks will be sold separately. Mrs. Gorman Owens is in charge of this.

"A committee is at work to bestow a secret honor on some of you," said Rev. Boswell. "It might be the prettiest, the ugliest, the wittiest, the grumpiest--you will have an opportunity to cast your votes."

"The finance committee is enthusiastic about this project and with your cooperation we can make this that one giant step to reach our building goal," the pastor continued.

Mangum Church Presents New Cantata Here May First

The 32-member choir of First Baptist Church, Mangum, Oklahoma, will present its performance of "Alleluia" in Wellington's First Baptist Church Saturday, May 1, at 7:30 p.m.

This will be its second performance in recent weeks, the first having been in Mangum.

Bonnie Reed will direct the choir in the cantata written and orchestrated by Bill and Gloria Gaither and Ron Huff.

Orville Cunningham of Reed, Okla., and his daughter, Karen Cunningham, are choir members. Mr. Cunningham was superintendent of Schools at Samnorwood a number of years and Miss Cunningham graduated there and later taught music and directed the high school choir.

She will be a soloist with the Mangum choir. Other soloists and members of ensembles appearing will be Ron Gay, Roann Wicker, Casey Paxon, Danny Vaughn, Phyllis Parmer, Karol Clayton, Bobby Gee and Mr. Reed.

Mr. Reed, director of music education for the Mangum church, calls "Alleluia" a praise gathering for Believers.

The choir presented the "Alleluia" twice in 1974, in addition to the performances April 18 and 24 this year.

The Wellington concert is for the benefit and enjoyment of the public, according to Benny Kilgo, First Baptist Church music and youth minister, and there is no admission charge.

Demo Precinct Conventions To Be Saturday

All Democratic Precinct Conventions will be held Saturday, May 1, at 3:00 p.m., in the same building where the election is being held in each precinct.

Mrs. John Coleman, county Democratic Chairman, suggested that those having any questions, to ask their present precinct chairman for information.

During the meeting, delegates will be elected to the county convention, resolutions will be drawn up and other business attended to.

No Republican Primary Will Be Held Here

No Republican primary election is planned here, according to David Baumgardner, a former county chairman for that party.

There are no local candidates on the republican ticket, and little interest has been shown in any state races.

"We do not know what caused her deafness," says Mrs. Boswell. "We do not know if she was born with

Don't Act Hastily on Elementary Building, School Board Advised

Trustees of the Wellington Independent School District should not act hastily in their action on the elementary school building, Lyman Ellis, architect with the Texas Education Agency told the school board following his inspection of all facilities Thursday, April 22. He suggested that instead they go out and visit some facilities in the area, both remodeled and new, then draw their conclusions.

Mr. Ellis' inspection was requested by Supt. E.W. Clement and the school board to help them come to a decision on the elementary building. It's deteriorating condition has brought concern to both parents and the administration and board.

"He did not dictate anything the district should do. He did make recommendations, and first, he emphasized us to do nothing in haste," said Mr. Clement.

Mr. Ellis did not tell the board they could not remodel the elementary building, but he did point out that any time remodeling exceeds 40 per cent of the cost of new facilities, it is not financially sound to remodel.

The Wellington Independent School District now has a bonded indebtedness of around $601,000. The present assessed valuation of property within the district is $13,401,634, based on 50 per cent valuation.

As part of the survey with the TEA, the Wellington board presented what they considered the school's problem areas.

Mr. Ellis, who has done survey work for 15 of the 20 years he has been with Texas Education Agency, encouraged patrons of the Wellington Schools to visit the elementary building and see the condition.

"Not parents--they come, but others need to see the condition," he said.

There is no comparison to the structure of the high school and junior high to that of the elementary school, Mr. Ellis pointed out.

These--high school and junior high, are sound. They are adequate. They are not brand new but they serve the need.

The older building was much more soundly constructed to begin with, the architect emphasized.

In his meeting with the school board Thursday night, following the survey, he stated:

"You are not dealing with a product, cattle or wheat or cotton or grain sorghum. You are dealing with the most precious thing you have--your youth. You cannot look at them in dollars and cents. They are the future of your community and your country and they deserve the best you can offer them."

Sunday play will require a $1.00 gallery fee, according to Mr. Terry.

A buffet lunch will be served both Saturday and Sunday. An open pit barbecue will be served Sunday night. Tickets are available from A.B. or Charlotte Dean, Hay Camp owners.

His thinking concurred with that of the board, and visits to some of the new and remodeled facilities in the area will begin in the near future, Mr. Clement said.

As part of the survey, an assessment of the facilities was made by school administrators. Enrollment figures by grades from the 1968-69 through 1974-75 were furnished and the TEA will, after study, furnish the school with projected future enrollment.

All facilities were inventhis. She had a very high fever when she had chicken pox." High fever can cause deafness.

So well has Tami adjusted to her deafness that most of Wellington is not aware of it, church members, other adults who see her frequently, and some of the school faculty.

The hearing aid, which she must wear all the time, is attached to her glasses, and covered by her long blond hair.

After Tami was fitted with this, she also studied lip reading and pronunciation at hearing centers in Abilene, where Rev. Boswell was pastor several years, and in Amarillo, where he also was pastor.

She is a skilled lip-reader. "Reading lips is very important in a deaf and hard-of-hearing person's life," she says in her 4-H speech. "Because if he can't hear the words, he can see them." Then she says with emphasis: "But if you are talking to a deaf or hard of hearing person, please do not exaggerate your lips. If you do, it will make it very difficult for a person to understand and it will also make them feel very uneasy."

Unsafe Farm Practices Major Accident Cause

COLLEGE STATION--Accidents on Texas farms and ranches claim more than 200 lives each year. Nationally, there are about 1,400 accidental deaths and 140,000 disabling injuries per year involving farm residents.

An agricultural safety engineer for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service points out that recent studies show that many farm and ranch accidents are related to falls, use of tractors and other machinery, drownings, electrocutions, fire arms and motor vehicles used in work activities. About 30 per cent of all farm and ranch injuries result from falls. Dr. Gary Nelson cites tractor turnovers as causing the highest fatality rate involving farm machinery. In almost two-thirds of these tractor related accidental deaths, the victim first fell from the tractor. This points out the importance of a protective rollover cab and seat belt.

"Although accident prevention begins with the design of safe equipment and facilities to fit man's needs and capabilities, safe operating procedures are also paramount," emphasizes the Texas A&M University System engineer.

Agricultural workers need to recognize "high risk situations" and conduct their work accordingly to avoid accidents, maintains Nelson.

He lists a number of poor work procedures that often lead to accidents on the farm and ranch: failure to secure objects of machines from unexpected movement, operating at an unsafe speed, removing or making safety devices inoperative, using defective tools or equipment, using good tools or equipment improperly, assuming an unsafe position or posture, working with hazardous materials, using hands or feet instead of tools, creating dangerous combinations of objects or materials, and deviating from recommended job procedures.

"These are only a few of the many unsafe practices that occur on farms and ranches," points out Nelson. "Accident prevention involves correcting these practices as well as recognizing hazardous conditions."

Leadership Grants Will Aid Minorities

AUSTIN, TX.--A $205,000 grant from the Sid Richardson Foundation of Fort Worth will help women, Blacks and Chicanos prepare themselves at The University of Texas for leadership roles in community colleges.

The funds will provide fellowships for minorities and women seeking doctoral degrees in community college education. The grant also will help a UT internship program that trains Ph.D. candidates in various fields from community colleges.

UT's Community College Leadership Program is the oldest of its kind in the country.

Veterans of the American Revolution and their dependents received government benefits until 1911, according to the Veterans Administration.

Keep Good Family Records

COLLEGE STATION--- Keeping good family records is essential for realistic planning for the future, Mrs. Lina McCormack, a family resource management specialist, says.

She also mentioned income tax returns as another reason for keeping good records. Its easier to prepare the income tax return if the family business affairs are in order first.

Mrs. McCormack is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Although each family must work out its own home file system, some general guidelines may be helpful. Ask yourself a few questions for a starter," she said.

--How easy or difficult would it be for other family members to figure out your record system--or do you have a system?

--Who in the family besides you knows where to turn for necessary information about the family assets and obligations?

--Do you have a list of people who are important financial advisers?

"The list might include tax consultant, attorney, banker, insurance representatives, employer, all creditors and debtors," she suggested.

--What happens if your home is burglarized or if there is a fire and all records are destroyed? Which ones can be replaced, and how do you do so?

--Where is a copy of each individual will located?

--What documents are in the safe deposit box?

COLLEGE STATION--Despite claims and advertisements, waterless cooking isn't anything new or fantastic, one authority said this week.

"It simply involves cooking food by steam rather than water--so great quantities of liquid aren't necessary," Mrs. Lillian Chenoweth, family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, says.

Salesmen for "waterless cookware" have several sales pitches, the specialist cautioned.

Some include "reducing the amount of food needed" and "increasing flavor and nutritive value of food prepared."

"However, wise consumers know that cookware will not improve family health or decrease food bills."

Sometimes sales pitches offer additional temptations--"discounts" or "free bonuses" such as glassware or silverware.

"However, prices are usually set very high to allow the salesman to offer such so-called bonuses.

"Prospective brides, single women on their first jobs and young people in school also be attending. Keynote speakers and presentations by Future Homemakers will highlight the two-day convention.

The business of the Texas Association will be conducted at the House of Delegates session Thursday evening, followed by a talent show featuring representatives from Areas I-V. The theme of the show is "Parade of Patriotism."

Future Homemakers who have achieved unusual accomplishments by completing all levels of Encounter, a special growth and development program, will be honored at breakfast Friday morning.

A state choir, composed of 100 Future Homemakers, will be featured. Charles Duke, choral director at Castleberry High School, will lead the group.

Installation of the 1976-77 state officers will climax the Friday evening session. At this time, eleven officers elected through chapter participation throughout the state will be placed in office. A newly elected president will receive the gavel from Carolyn Robinson, Quitman, Texas, outgoing president.

The Future Homemakers of America is an organization sponsored by Homemaking Education, Texas Education Agency, with Mrs. Elizabeth F. Smith, director, and Mrs. Betty Romans, state advisor.

Actually, waterless cooking can be done in any heavy metal pan which has a tight-fitting lid, she noted. "The tight lid allows only a small amount of steam to escape."

"Utilizing low heat is extremely important in keeping vapor losses to a minimum."

IN general, waterless cookware is made of a heavier gauge metal than normally used in top-of-the-range pans.

However, it's usually sold in sets--so use caution when considering a purchase, the specialist advised.

"Pots included in a large set may not come in sizes needed.

Learn to Listen Most Effectively

COLLEGE STATION--A Conversation has to have at least two parties--the speaker and the listener. Nearly everyone can be a speaker, but it takes extra attention to be a good listener, Mrs. Ilene Miller, a family life education specialist, contends.

"Many people listen far below their potential. But following some guidelines can help improve listening ability at least 25 per cent," she said.

Mrs. Miller is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Develop a positive attitude about listening to what others are saying. Concentrate on the person who is talking--rather than be preoccupied with your own thoughts and problems. Also, it takes concentration on the message to understand exactly what the person is saying," she explained.

Listeners need to consider the accuracy and source of what is being said. Is the speaker stating facts or giving his own opinion? Analyze his ideas and try to determine whether the speaker's feelings, experiences or position are influencing his statements, she added.

"Keep an open mind--and let the speaker finish what he is saying. You may not always agree with what he

Mrs. Wright Brings Program

Mrs. Joe Thompson was hostess to the Belles Lettres Club Tuesday, April 20 in the Heritage Room.

Mrs. Lynn Wright reviewed the short story "Tapioca Surprise" by William Gaylen. She held the members spellbound as she related the events of the Paradise club meeting:

"Opal Duchaim, the club president, almost panicked when she saw a rain cloud coming up and the meeting was scheduled to meet at the football field to practice a program. She rushed to the phone to ask the telephone committee to call each member to come to her home instead. Her phone was out of order, so she hurried to her neighbor's to call. Then she dashed home to make a tapioca dessert," Mrs. Wright recounted.

As she was preparing the dessert her cat stuck his paw in the whipped cream topping and she chased him out of the house. Twelve ladies attended the meeting and enjoyed the tapioca dessert. After the members had gone she noticed her cat lay dead on the driveway. Mrs. Wright told of the hostess's decision to tell her guests they had been poisoned. They all rushed to the hospital only later to learn a friend had run over the cat.

Mrs. Thompson served a dessert plate to Mrs. E.F. Bartlett, Mrs. A.B. Clark, Mrs. Bryan Denley, Mrs. W.F. Harbin, Mrs. F.A. Hatch, Mrs. Bob Hightower, Mrs. Dick Richards, Mrs. Coy Vaughan, Mrs. F.L. White and guest, Mrs. Wright.

says, but it is important to keep an open mind and try to understand why the person thinks as he does. Asking questions may help him explain some statements which seem unclear to you.

"Be an active listener. Let the speaker know that you are interested in what he is saying by remaining alert and keeping eye contact. Facial expression often lets the speaker know whether he has his audience 'tuned in' or 'turned off,'" the specialist said.

Hobbs Family Holds Sixteenth Annual Reunion in Wellington

The annual Hobbs family reunion was held Sunday, April 25, at the Heritage Room, bringing together the descendants of the late Mr. and Mrs. J.H. Hobbs from four states.

Coming farthest was Mrs. Beth Orcutt of Aberdeen, Washington.

Mrs. Emma Jones, the last of the 12 Hobbs children, was the only one of her generation present Sunday. She was the youngest of the children, and in age a contemporary of a number of her nieces and nephews.

Mr. and Mrs. Hobbs were born in Georgia, and Mrs. Jones noted that if her father were living, he would be 127 years of age. He died about 40 years ago.

Mr. Hobbs brought his family to Hollis in 1895 and bought land near town. It was hard to get a well dug in those pioneer days, and three years later, in 1898, he moved his family to Vinson in order to get livestock water. Now, the land he owned at Hollis is in the rich irrigation belt.

The family grew up at Vinson, but after he retired, Mr. and Mrs. Hobbs returned to Hollis.

Mrs. Jones and a brother, J.H. Hobbs of Aberdeen and Ella communities, are the only children to live in Collingsworth County.

Wellington has been the location of the Hobb family reunion 16 years, and prior to that it was held at Amarillo or Hollis.

Dinner was served to the group Sunday, and in the afternoon they visited, took pictures, and looked at albums and pictures, some dating back to the 1800's.

Attending were Mrs. Jones; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hobbs of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Beck of Darrouzett;

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hobbs, Christy and Sherry, Mrs. Nancy Hobbs, Mr. and Mrs. Neldon Hobbs of Amarillo;

It's Time to Stock Up on Choice Beef

COLLEGE STATION--In the wake of current low beef prices, housewives are urged to stock their freezers. Things are destined to change.

"Current beef prices are lower now than they are going to be for the remainder of the year and possibly longer," points out Dr. Ernest Davis, a livestock marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The low prices for Choice beef are due to two reasons, notes the Texas A&M University System specialist. "First of all, both cattle and calf slaughter have climbed sharply in recent months--in February cattle slaughter was up 10 per cent and calf slaughter skyrocketed 33 per cent over the same month a year ago. Thus beef supplies increased sharply.

"The second reason for the drop in Choice beef prices was a decline in consumer demand. Consumers were besieged with Christmas bills the past two months and therefore had less money to spend on Choice beef," notes Davis.

Choice fed steers in Texas are currently bringing about $34 per hundredweight compared to $46.75 at the beginning of the year. At the same time, the retail price of Choice beef has dropped from $1.50 per pound to $1.42.

What does the future hold?

"The market has about bottomed out," believes the specialist. "Fed cattle marketings should be down during the second quarter of the year compared to the first three months. Also, fewer cows and calves will be moving to slaughter as pastures begin to flourish and provide grazing.

"This means there will be less beef on the market, and prices should move back up to where they were at the start of the year," contends Davis.

Texas Tech Builds Research Feed Mill

LUBBOCK---Construction of Phase I of Texas Tech University's ultimate $1.1 million research feedmill has begun at Texas Tech Agricultural Field Laboratories near New Deal, north of Lubbock.

When finished, the feedmill will provide Texas Tech's first facilities for feed processing education and research, a practical feed technology curriculum, feedmill management training and research feed ration production, according to Dr. Anson R. Bertrand, dean of the college of agricultural sciences.

The $500,000 first phase will produce an adaptable, seven-operation feedmill expected to begin operations in October.

"The mill will be especially welcomed for training managers in this High Plains region with its high concentration of feedmills," Bertrand said.

The Scientists Tell Me...

Future Livestock Breeders May Decide Sex of Animals Before Birth

By Robert L. Haney

TAES Science Writer

The future livestock producer may be able to control the sex of animals born in his herd. Scientists are working on techniques that would allow a breeder to choose the sex of his calf or lamb crop. Some benefits of choosing sex ratios are: 1) steers bring more as slaughter animals than heifers; 2) purebred bulls from prize cows are far more valuable as breeding animals than heifers; 3) a breeder with a herd low in females could re-stock his herd with females and therefore increase his production.

Recently, scientists have tried to change sex ratios by rearranging genetic information passed to offspring by their parents. Genetic information is found in the body in microscopic structures called chromosomes in the nucleus of each cell.

Each species has a certain number of chromosomes in its cells; man, for example, has 46. Egg and sperm cells, however, are produced when a cell containing 46 chromosomes divides to form two cells each containing half the normal number of chromosomes, 23. When an egg cell is fertilized by a sperm cell, the resulting ova (fertilized egg) has 46 chromosomes, half of which came from its mother and the other half from its father.

Out of the 46 chromosomes found in a fertilized human egg, two of them will determine the sex of the individual. Females have two sex chromosomes called X's, while males have one X and a smaller Y chromosome in their cells. All of the eggs produced by a female will contain one X chromosome, but only one-half of the sperm produced by a male will contain an X. The other one-half will contain a Y.

If an egg cell, which always has an X, is fertilized by a sperm cell that has an X, then the offspring will have two X chromosomes and will be a female. But if the egg is fertilized by a sperm that has a Y, then the offspring will be a male (XY). Since an egg cell always has an X and a sperm can have either an X or a Y, the male is said to determine the sex of the offspring.

At times scientists have found individuals that seem to deny their true sex chromosomal makeup; that is, they have the outward appearance of the opposite sex. Certain horses containing XY chromosomes (males) have behaved like stallions but have developed many of the physical characteristics of females (mares). These individuals have been unable to reproduce.

Livestock breeders have long known that in cattle, female (heifer) calves born twin to male (bull) calves almost always have abnormal reproductive tracts. These genetic females called free martins, occur because male hormone produced by the fetal testes of the male twin enters the female's blood circulation before birth and masculinizes her reproductive system. In rare cases the female may be born with a complete male reproductive system including a penis and testes. The organs, however, are not in the correct position.

Scientists with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station knew that hormones caused the heifer's male like appearance, so they attempted to duplicate the process by injecting fetuses with testosterone, a male hormone. Experiment station scientists Nat Kieffer, Maurice Shelton and Charles Boyd conducted experiments to convert genetic females to physical males by hormonal injections.

Manage Farm Pond for Higher Fish Yields

COLLEGE STATION--Texas boasts an abundance of farm ponds but most are producing fish far below their potential.

That assessment comes from Don Steinbach, fisheries specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

They used sheep as experimental animals and made surgical incisions on ewes that were 15 to 30 days pregnant. They then injected the exposed uterus with testosterone. Of 43 lambs born, all looked like males. All had a penis and a scrotum, but the scrotum did not contain testes. In some cases, the ovaries had changed and looked like partial testes.

The female lambs, while they appeared to be males, still contained two X chromosomes in their cells. If such individuals were fertile, when bred to ewes they would produce only female offspring because the sperm would contain only X chromosomes. It would be possible, using the genetic female (XX) for a sire, to produce a lamb crop composed entirely of females.

The advantages of a breeder being able to choose the sex of his animals are numerous; most importantly, he could control the sex ratios in order to obtain maximum production from his herd. Increased productivity would lead to more animals of breeding age being available and to more slaughter animals reaching the market.

vice. "Texas has about one-half million acres of small farm ponds. Stocked with channel or blue catfish, these ponds can produce up to a thousand pounds of fish per acre annually if managed properly," points out Steinbach.

"On the other hand, annual fish production may be only 50 to 75 pounds per acre for unmanaged ponds with such fish species as small sunfish.

As far as proper management of a farm pond is concerned, the Texas A&M University System specialist outlines these steps.

"Aquatic weed control is one of the first steps to a productive farm pond. Once weeds are identified, chemical treatment should be applied during the March through May period.

"When it comes to stocking a pond with fish, channel or blue catfish offer the best potential. Demonstrations have shown that a one-acre pond can produce up to a thousand pounds of this type of fish a year with supplementary feeding.

"For top production, fish must have food, and that comes from a commercial ration or proper use of fertilizer. Apply 100 to 150 pounds per acre in April or May to produce the phytoplankton (microscopic plants) which are vital to the food chain for fish."

Steinbach notes that there are three Extension Service publications available at any county Extension office that deal with control of aquatic weeds, catfish farming and management of the farm pond. County agents can also provide specific information that might affect farm pond fish production in particular counties.

New Freeze Branding Being Tried on Deer

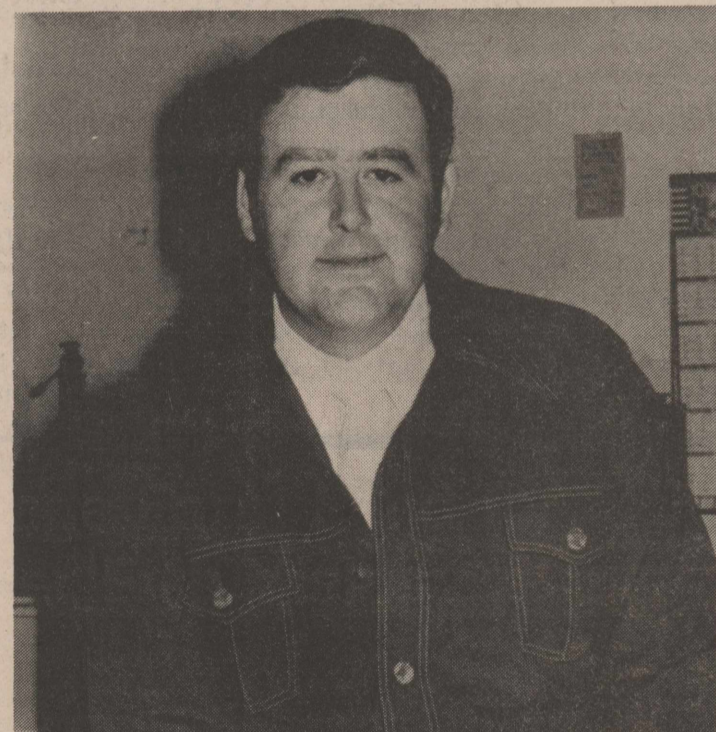

AUSTIN--The old branding iron, one of the time-honored symbols of the West, has a modernized version. Wildlife biologists of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department this year have been testing techniques of branding whitetail fawns--but using ice instead of fire.

Freeze branding was developed in 1966 for use in the cattle industry. The process kills hair pigment but not the hair itself, which grows out permanently white. Good results were obtained in Louisiana and Arizona with small numbers of adult white-tailed deer, but little work actually had been done on finding the best methods of application for deer.

Texas produced 1.3 billion barrels of crude oil in 1974; 39.4% of U.S.

We want to take this means of saying a simple and heartfelt thank you to all Collingsworth County organizations and residents who had a part in making the reception for us last Sunday a warm and memorable occasion.

Distinguished Service Awards Presented Sat.

WTSU--Former Collingsworth County residents Carol Blain and Argen Draper were among ten women to receive the first Texas Panhandle Awards for Distinguished Service.

The awards, presented by West Texas State University at a Bicentennial Luncheon April 24, honor women who have distinguished themselves in business, professional or volunteer capacities.

Presenting the keynote address at the luncheon was Texas Representative Sarah Weddington, who spoke on "Women: Past, Present and Future."

Miss Blain, a 1964 Wellington High School graduate, is director of Memphis bands. She began her music career in 1969 as director of the Wellington bands, which she led to top ratings on a regional and state-wide level.

Miss Blain has served as national treasurer, vice-president and president of Tau Beta Sigma, national honorary sorority for bands-women, and is now of the national board of trustees as well as a district advisor. She is one of three women to have conducted the national intercollegiate band which plays at the biennial meeting of Tau Beta Sigma and Kappa Kappa Psi, brother fraternity.

Mrs. Draper, a Deaf Smith County home demonstration agent for more than 20 years, began her long involvement with the youth of this region as a teacher in Collingsworth County schools from 1932-38. After moving to Deaf Smith County, Mrs. Draper became active in extension work, sponsoring numerous 4-H and women's home demonstration clubs, and worked with Water, Inc. and Community Action. Her work in family financial management has gained national attention.

Among Mrs. Draper's many awards are the Texas Agricultural Extension Superior Service Award in 1968 and the Lion's Club Citizen of the Year in 1957. Her retirement from the extension service in 1964 was honored by an "Argen Draper Day" and a Panhandle-wide retirement party.

Speaker Named For All-Sports Banquet May 7

East Texas State University head football coach Ernest Hawkins will be the guest speaker at the Wellington All-Sports Banquet Friday, May 7. Coach James Williams has announced.

Ticket sales started Monday, and may be bought from any coach or cheer leader. The price is $2.50 each.

Approximately 100 boy and girl athletes who represent Wellington High School will be honored.

The banquet will be held in the school cafeteria, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

SHARE THE FUN!

Organize Women's Softball Team Sat.

A meeting of women interested in playing softball this summer has been called for Saturday, May 1, at Ellison Park.

"We urge every woman in the county who wants to play to come and we will try to get organized for the season," said Mrs. Mike Pounds, one of those working on plans.

The women will try to have two teams this year. Carrolls will continue to sponsor its last year's team, and Mrs. Pounds said there are several others who are willing to sponsor a second team.

Officers will be elected at the meeting Saturday and coaches will be chosen.

Early Bloom Cotton Discourages Weevil

Narrow-row, short season cotton can provide the basis of a production system that uses less insecticide on boll weevils. Texas Agricultural Experiment Station cotton breeders have developed the Tamcot varieties that bloom early and get a good boll set.

Maximum earliness and yields were recorded with varieties planted two rows on 40-inch beds or single rows on 26 2/3-inch beds. Tractor wheels can accommodate to rows of this width, and the development of stripper harvest machines for the narrow rows is feasible.

Less nitrogen and irrigation water utilization are important benefits to this system because too much of either can extend growth period and lessen advantages of short season cotton.

Area-wide plantings for short season cottons grown in high density arrangements and managed in a way so as to enhance earliness would allow early harvest and stalk destruction.

Much previous experience in Texas shows this would result in greatly reduced boll weevil winter-time carry over.

Baby's Eating Habits Set Adult Patterns

AUSTIN--A baby's eating habits may help account for the pounds an adult later sees on his bathroom scale, a University of Texas psychologist suggests.

In quest of an answer to the larger question of how infancy feeding relates to later obesity, Dr. Ry Hawkins is studying the impact of infants' eating and sleeping habits on gain in weight and height in the first three months of life. If the study reveals that early eating patterns are learned, Dr. Hawkins says early intervention might prevent the life-long consequences of inappropriate eating habits.

Pre-Enrollment for Kindergarten Listed

Pre-enrollment for kindergarten will be held Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, May 10, 11 and 12, Bob Copeland, elementary school principal, has announced.

The hours will be 2:30 to 3:30 each afternoon.

Parents should bring their child's birth certificate and immunization records, he emphasized.

A child must be 5 years old on or before September 1, 1976, in order to attend school next year.

Mr. Copeland reminded that the 1976-77 school year will be the last in which kindergarten will be a half-day program. After that, children will attend for a full day.

He urged that all parents pre-enroll their children for kindergarten at this time. Since the scholastic census is no longer taken each year, it is hard to estimate the number of children to expect unless there is a full representation in the pre-enrollment period, Mr. Copeland said.

Bike-A-Thon Ready To Roll for Cancer

The Collingsworth County Bike-A-Thon for Cancer will be held Saturday, May 1, starting at 10:00 a.m.

Gary Archer, president of the county unit of the American Cancer Society, is in charge of Bike-A-Thon plans.

Bicycle riders are to secure sponsors; the more the better. Their contributions will be used to fight cancer through research, education and service to cancer patients.

The riders will leave from the court house square at 10:00 a.m. following registration. All participants must have a signed waiver form to enter.

The route will be to the Pioneer Park at Salt Fork

River, north of town and return, a distance of approximately 15 miles.

There will be prizes for the most money raised, most sponsors, oldest rider to finish and youngest rider to finish.

Check points will be set up between Wellington and the park.

For the safety of the riders, there will be an escort from the Sheriff's Department.

Visiting recently with Mr. and Mrs. F.C. Fuson were her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. L.O. Ivey. They were enroute to their home in Polo, Missouri after fishing four months in Port Aransas. Also visiting with them were Mrs. Bob Hardin of Canadian, Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Cook of Amarillo and their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Ray and Johnny of Plainview.

Publication Date of County Cemeteries Inventory, 1875-1975, Will Be July 1

La Paisana Chapter, National Society of Daughters of the American Revolution, together with the help of many interested volunteers, has completed a year's work on its Cemetery Inventory of Collingsworth County, 1875-1975. The publication date has been set for July 1.

Every effort has been made to correctly list every burial made in each of the county's seven cemeteries. Advance orders for the book are now being taken, and are urged, in order that the chapter can more nearly determine the number to have published, said Mrs. Les White, regent.

"We feel that every family with loved ones buried in the county would appreciate having this book for themselves and future generations. We know that all libraries in this area, museums and those county offices involved in record keeping, will also benefit because of the historical significance inherent in a work of this kind," the regent pointed out.

The book will be printed by Clarendon Office Supply and Printing Co.

Those sharing editorial duties are Mrs. Jack Davis and Mrs. H.H. Bowen, who were assisted in final checking, proof reading and indexing by Miss Hattie D. Wells, Mrs. J.D. Coleman and Mrs. Bura Handley.

Overall project historian is Mrs. Jennie Holcomb, while Mrs. Dan Langford and Mrs. Earl L. Bartlett are in charge of advertising and publicity. Orders will be accepted by any member.

Those in charge of work at the various cemeteries are: Dodson was listed by Mrs. B.B. Martin and Mrs. Bob Birden.

Dozier was recorded by Mrs. W.R. Coleman, Mrs. W.R. Breeding and Miss Maudie Coffee.

Needwood and Plymouth were read by Mrs. H.H. Bowen.

Quail readers were Mrs. Delbert White, Mrs. John Carson, Mrs. John Alf Thomas and Mrs. W.L. White.

Rolla was recorded by Mrs. Melvin Seale.

The three Wellington cemeteries were listed by the late Mrs. John R. Henard, Sr., Mrs. Frank Fourmentin, Mrs. R.C. McNett, Mrs. Jack Davis, Mrs. H.H. Bowen, Mr. and Mrs. Earl L. Bartlett, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Drake, Mrs. Richard Fourmentin, Mrs. Seale, Mrs. Louis Templeton, Miss Rita Lowrie, Mrs. Handley, Mrs. Hiram Cudd, Miss Coffee and Mrs. White.

Others who assisted with work in and the histories of various cemeteries are Mrs. Bill Hill, Mrs. W.M. Boston, Mrs. Robert Lacy, Mrs. Martin, Delbert White, Clarence Blevins, Roy Thomason, Mrs. D.C. Camp and John Coleman.

"It would be impossible to express adequately our gratitude to the many, many people who have answered myriads of questions and have cooperated so graciously," said Mrs. White.

She noted especially the work of Jimmie Kelso and Guy Owens of Kelso Funeral Home in clearing up obscurities about doubtful points in recording.

Slow-Pitch Tournament To Begin Friday Night

Play opens in the newly re-built Marian Airpark ball park with an inter-squad slow pitch softball tournament Friday through Sunday, April 30-May 2. The 8 teams that make up the Wellington League will take part.

David Caison, president, announced arrangements for the double elimination event. He also said scheduled league play will start Monday, May 4.

The first tournament ball will be thrown at 7:00 p.m. Friday, with Owens Farm Supply meeting Childress A's. Other games will be: --8:00 p.m. Calvary Baptist, Childress, vs. Mote's Garage.

--9:00 p.m. Martin Seed vs. Davis Thriftway of Memphis.

--10:00 p.m. Langford Conoco vs. Dodson Co-op.

Seven games will be played Saturday. The first will begin at 4:00 p.m. and others will follow on the hour.

The three Sunday games will be played at 2:00, 3:00 and 4:00 p.m. These will determine first, second, and consolation winners.

The concession stand will be open, and when the city completes work on the swimming pool concession stand, rest rooms there will be opened to ball park visitors for scheduled games.

"We appreciate everyone who came out last year and who will attend the games this season," Caison said.

Scheduled play will include double headers Monday and Friday nights at 8:00 and 9:15 p.m., and Sunday afternoons. The first game will be at 1:30 p.m. and the second will follow immediately after the first ends.

The schedule for the first week will be:

Monday, May 3: Calvary Baptist, Childress vs. Childress A's; Martin Seed and Langford Conoco.

Friday, May 7: Davis Thriftway of Memphis vs. Mote's Garage; Dodson Co-op vs. Owens Farm Supply.

Sunday, May 9: Calvary Baptist vs. Martin Seed; Childress A's vs. Langford

Conoco.

The rebuilt stands are a joint project of the softball league and the City of Wellington and is the first major work on them since they were built shortly after World War II. Only the old covering remains and it has been repaired. Steel under-supports are used throughout, and the seats are of regulation wooden stadium seating.

New lights and light standards are being installed.

The softball association contributed $2,000 raised last year to the remodeling project, and the city council voted to make additional funds available.

There is no admission charge to the scheduled games, neither is there a charge for the inter-league tournament games this weekend.

There will be a donation box near the entry where those wishing to put in money may do so. "We really appreciate the donations made last year. They went to a good cause," said Caison.

In addition to improvements to the stadium, grounds were leveled where necessary and the grass was fertilized and watered, to insure a good turf.

Crop Reports From Farmers Due in Late May

During the last half of May, a random sample of some 24,000 Texas farmers will receive a crop acreage questionnaire from W.H. Walther, Agricultural Statistician In Charge of the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, Austin.

This information will be the basis for determining the planted acreage for the state of Texas and for each county. Texas covers such a wide area that state totals alone do not provide adequate information on Texas' most basic industry--agriculture. The Texas Legislature has provided a program of estimates for each county. This is a cooperative effort of USDA's Statistical Reporting Service and the Texas Department of Agriculture.

Accurate estimates are of great importance to farmers in planning production and marketings and in providing an unbiased picture of Texas agriculture. Farmers who receive questionnaires are urged to complete and return them by mail. All individual reports are confidential and are used only for state and county totals.

New Training Site for Guard

Men of Detachment 1, Headquarters Support, Co., National Guard, will have their last training period at the Silverton site on Saturday and Sunday, May 1 and 2. Sgt. Jim Harris has announced.

New training grounds will be located at Lake McClellan and it should be ready for use for the July training training.

Meanwhile, the men will be in summer camp at Fort Hood in June.

Not long ago I addressed a large group of school teachers on the subject of Coming World Shortages. Our world (for you and me it's basically the U.S.A.) is no longer a world of surplus of excess commodities as it once was. Now, our world has fast become one of shortages. We are not accustomed to another country telling us how much of a commodity we may have or what it will cost us. In short, we have been spoiled, taking our abundant natural resources for granted.

Now that the "Third World" nations control many essential resources, we as the largest single user of those resources, must find ways to work with those smaller countries in order to avoid embargoes. We have no choice while we seek alternative resources or other supplies.

The Third World countries have been caught in a squeeze of dropping demand for their resources during the recent worldwide recession, with an inflation spiral on goods which they import. They want relief.

The U.S. is offering a scheme in which a new international bank with billions in capital and resources would be formed to develop new sources of income for the poorer nations, hard hit by falling prices for such commodities as coffee, sugar, and copper. The manager of the new bank would be the World Bank. Oil-rich nations would put up half the $1 billion in capital and the industrialized nations would put up the other half. The U.S. ante would be around $200 million. The bank would then

Vote for EXPERIENCED LAW ENFORCEMENT

First, I want to thank the people of Collingsworth County for the support and co-operation you have given me in my work as a law enforcement officer since I have been your sheriff.

I am asking for re-election on basis of my record.

I have always tried to be fair and just in my dealings with all people handled by the sheriff's department. I will continue to operate the office on this principle as long as I am in office.

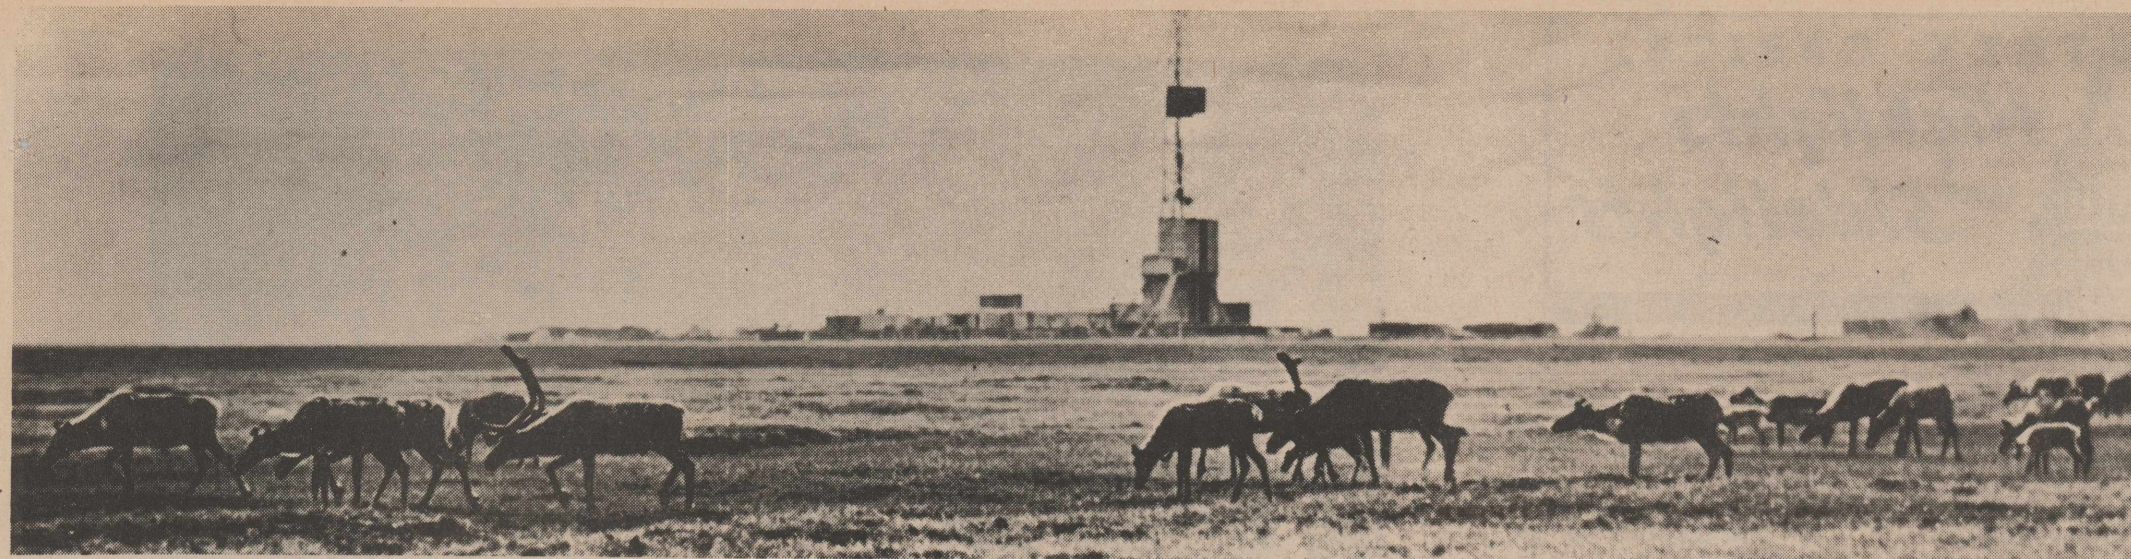

The new combined county-city law enforcement program has proved its effectiveness in giving every citizen greater protection 24 hours a day, and I believe it will continue to be a major deterrent to crime in Collingsworth County.

You are aware that crime is growing rapidly over the nation. You also know that there is less crime in Collingsworth County than in most counties of the area. I believe my experience as sheriff and the experience of the enlarged law enforcement staff can continue to hold down our crime rate.

Besides my knowledge of Collingsworth County and its people, I have worked with and have the complete co-operation of all sheriff and police departments of the Panhandle.

Fertilizer Efficiency Vital for Forages

COLLEGE STATION--Fertilizer must be used efficiently if forage production is to be a profitable business.

Dr. Charles Welch, soil chemist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says there are two essential requirements for forage fertilization to be profitable:

--Each nutrient in the fertilizer must increase production more than the nutrient's cost.

--The increased yield must be efficiently converted to a marketable product.

A costly error, Welch contends, is to include in a fertilizer a nutrient that does not boost yield. In many cases--phosphorus in particular--benefits are recovered in later years. The short-term effect, however, is to defray part of the cost from the value of increased yield produced by another nutrient, usually nitrogen.

"To say that fertilization is profitable is not good enough," emphasizes the Texas A&M University System specialist. "We must be able to identify the profit from nitrogen, profit from phosphorus, profit from liming, and so forth."

"Efficiency" in use of plant nutrients usually refers to the percentage of the nutrient applied that is recovered in the harvested crop. It implies that the nutrient is applied only to a deficient soil, points out Welch.

"Therefore, efficient use of plant nutrients means using soil tests and other information to identify the need for a nutrient before it is applied."

Efficient use of nutrients also means harvesting forages for maximum quality and applying nutrients at a rate below that needed for maximum yield. Recovery as a measure of efficiency generally decreases as the rate increases, says Welch.

THE WELLINGTON (TEXAS) LEADER
Thursday, April 29, 1976

AUSTIN — Major presidential candidates are making last minute appeals for support of Texas voters in the May 1 primary of both Democratic and Republican parties.

President Ford budgeted three days and a night to the Texas GOP primary battle with Ronald Reagan. Counting his two earlier days of campaigning, the president will have spent more time in Texas than any primary state this year.

Reagan also will make his third appearance in the state two days before the primary.

Democrat front-running Jimmy Carter will be back April 30. He made a fast trip to Houston April 20.

U. S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen is on the scene every day, combining his re-election and favorite son campaigns.

Alabama Gov. George Wallace, faltering as a national contender, was in Texas for a second wide-ranging swing last week to keep his potential delegates in line.

In addition to the presidential preference primary and the Senate fight, the May 1 Democratic ballot offers a hot contest for Railroad Commissioner and three statewide appellate court races. One of the latter is for the State Supreme Court and two for the Court of Criminal Appeals.

$50 Million "Wasted"

Unwise and outdated investment policies have cost the state at least $50 million over the last five years, Comptroller Bob Bullock claimed.

Bullock said a six-months study of state money management practices by his planning and research staff showed Texas has the worst problem with idle funds earning no interest of any state in the nation.

Most idle state money is kept in big city banks, with four banks alone keeping an average of $175 million and earning $10 million last year off the state deposits, the comptroller stated.

Texas, according to Bullock, has an average daily balance of more than $300 million in checking accounts earning no interest. He argued about 75 per cent of that money could be in time accounts drawing interest.

Allowable Set

Texas Railroad Commission for the 50th consecutive month set the state's oil allowable for May at 100 per cent.

While the allowable permits 3,931,778 barrels daily, estimated production actually is only 3,207,000.

Once again, the commission restricted the East Texas field and the Kelly Snyder field in Scurry County to an 86 per cent allowable.

Nominations by crude oil buyers declined by 16,368 barrels a day from the previous month.

The four-week average of crude oil imports, meanwhile, increased 458,000 barrels from the January 2 average and 1.3 million barrels from January 3, 1975.

Voters Have First Chance To Vote in Primary Saturday

Saturday, May 1, will be the first time for Texans to vote in a presidential primary.

Voters will not be casting ballots directly for any candidate. Instead they will vote for delegates to the national convention who are pledged to vote for specific candidates. The name of both the local delegate and the presidential candidate appear on the ballot.

Democrats will choose between delegates pledged to Alabama Governor George Wallace, Georgia's Jimmy Carter or Texas Senator Lloyd Bentsen.

Collingsworth Republicans will be denied a choice between California's Ronald Reagan and President Gerald Ford because no primary will be held by the Republican party in this county.

Wallace is expected to get only a small percentage of the votes, and the real contest here will be between Democratic front-runner Carter and Bentsen's favorite son candidacy. Bentsen remains in the primary, despite his withdrawal from the presidential race, in hopes of being a power broker before or during the national convention. A large block of Bentsen votes could give Bentsen more political muscle which might be used in Texas' interests. The race may be decided, however, long before Bentsen could throw his support behind one candidate or another.

Voters here should not miss their first opportunity to participate on the national level in the party process.

Important local races also deserve voters attention Saturday, May 1.

Other Editors Say . . .

Backing Estate Reform.

Pressure is building in support of a past-due reform in handling taxes on estates, particularly agricultural estates. But with inflation having a pronounced effect on values an adjustment is needed immediately, with more definitive action to come as soon as a well-thought-out bill can be drafted and passed.

Present law on estate taxes was passed in 1942. It set the maximum value of $60,000 for exemption from estate taxes, but proponents of updating cite inflation's effect, 224.1 percent, since that time in calling for an increase to $120,000 in the exemption. They say if the full effect of inflation were taken into account the exemption should be $198,000.

Then why not $198,000? The most common reason given in difficulty of passage for the larger figure. West Texas Chamber of Commerce (WTCC), which has just ended its convention, adopted a resolution in support of reforming the federal Small Business Estate Reform Act and citing the $120,000 figure.

Also sought is an increase in the amount that may be transferred to the surviving spouse. Present law allows a deduction for half of all property passing to a surviving spouse. With the exemption, this would mean $240,000 in property could be transferred free of estate tax and, in the view of WTCC, avoids double taxation since the surviving spouse ostensibly contributed 50 percent to building of the estate.

Other provisions supported by WTCC include an increase in lifetime gift tax exemption to $60,000, establishment of a 10-year deferral provision, extending the period for redemption of stock put up to pay death taxes to 10 years and re-writing the definition of "hardship" in administration of the tax law for estates.

It's time for citizens to demand that proposed legislation be speedily considered to make more equitable a law that has proven ruinous to many small businesses which are passed to other owners by death.

Many Veteran Benefits To Expire on May 31

Education benefits will be expiring on May 31, 1976, for many veterans who served in the Armed Forces between January 31, 1955, and May 31, 1966, Jack Coker, Waco Veterans Administration Regional Office Director, reported today.

"Veterans in this category who will be continuing their education should be seeking alternate educational financial assistance," said Coker. HEW Office of Education, Department of Labor, and state agencies have numerous financial assistance programs available. "School financial aid offices are also a good source of information on available assistance."

Coker stated. HEW has Basic Educational Opportunity Grants, High Education Act Insured Loans, and National Direct Student Loans. The Department of Labor has the CETA (Comprehensive Employment Training Act) program and the State of Texas has the Vocational Rehabilitation Program and the Hazlewood Act.

Information may be obtained from any VA office, Veterans Representatives on Campus, veterans service organizations, veterans county service officers, or school financial assistance offices.

CITY STATE BANK

The financial crisis of New York last year drew world wide attention in financial circles. The possibility of any metropolis collapsing into bankruptcy, however, has serious implications for every municipality in the country.

Most cities raise money for capital improvements, such as streets, sewer systems and water systems by selling bonds. These can be either general revenue bonds, paid off by general taxes, or revenue bonds, which are paid off by the users -- a water bill is a good example, since the revenue is used in part to pay off water bonds.

Banks are probably the largest single buyer of municipal bonds throughout the country. But, before banks, or any others buy bonds they must have confidence that the bonds will be paid off at the proper time and at the stated rate of interest.

While the city of New York may have brought on its financial crisis through profligate programs and spending -- plus some highly questionable bookkeeping practices -- its demise would throw all municipal bond users under a cloud. Ultimately, it could mean higher city taxes, because municipal bond money would be more expensive.

"Scalping," Fertilizing Improves Spring Lawn

COLLEGE STATION---About this time of the year home lawns need a boost to get them in shape for the spring season just around the corner.

A turfgrass specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service suggests three operations that can get a lawn off to a good start--scalping, fertilizing and applying a weed killer.

"Scalping a lawn in late winter serves to revitalize it and promote spring and summer plant growth," points out Dr. Richard Duple.

"Begin the operation by lowering the blade of your lawnmower one-half inch below the normal setting. Then mow the lawn in two directions that are at right angles to each other. Remove the clippings after each mowing."

Duple also recommends keeping the lawnmower blade lowered until mid-summer.

"After scalping the lawn, apply a complete fertilizer (one containing nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium) to promote leaf and root growth," advises the Texas A&M University System specialist. "Use one pound of nitrogen per 1,000 square feet of lawn area. This is equal to 12 pounds of an 8-8-8 fertilizer or 8 pounds of a 12-4-8 fertilizer. Repeat the application in the fall.

For a dark green lawn, Duple suggests applying nitrogen every 60 days at the rate of one pound to 1,000 square feet. Monthly applications of iron chelate or iron sulfate during the spring and summer promote a healthy color in St. Augustine grass lawns.

"To keep crabgrass or other unsightly weeds from appearing, apply a pre-emergence herbicide (weed killer) containing benefin, dacthal or bensulide early in the spring," says Duple. "Combinations of herbicides with fertilizers are available and convenient to use but should only be used according to instructions on the label. Formulations containing atrazine should not be applied around trees or shrubs," he cautions.

"Prober maintenance is essential for a healthy lawn, and these practices will give new life to a dormant, weedy lawn," notes Duple.

Cattle Numbers Moving Down

COLLEGE STATION--The passing of 1975 marked the passing of the peak year of the current cattle cycle, says Dr. Ed Uvacek, livestock marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. This year and the next will be years of cutting down cattle numbers.

Uvacek notes cattle numbers have already been reduced considerably through increased slaughter and a halt in expansion of breeding herds.

Out of a total of almost 13 million replacement heifers reported last year, only 81 per cent were added to the breeding herd, points out the Texas A&M University System specialist.

There was also a much lower calf crop in 1975 than in previous years because of a low calving rate, explains Uvacek. The final calf crop figure for 1975 was 50.4 million head.

About 11.5 million cows were slaughtered in 1975, reducing the cow herd by about 1.8 million head, Uvacek says. "If cow slaughter keeps up at that rate, the breeding herd size should be down to a favorable level by 1977. However, a sudden buildup in herd size this year could lengthen the recovery time."

Uvacek says that while numbers of calves, beef cows, milk cows and heifers are down on farms and ranches throughout the U.S., the number of cattle on feed is up about 38 percent.

Lower Poultry Profits Seen

COLLEGE STATION--A combination of over-production, higher feed prices and competition from red meats could result in lower profits for poultry producers in 1976, says a poultry specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

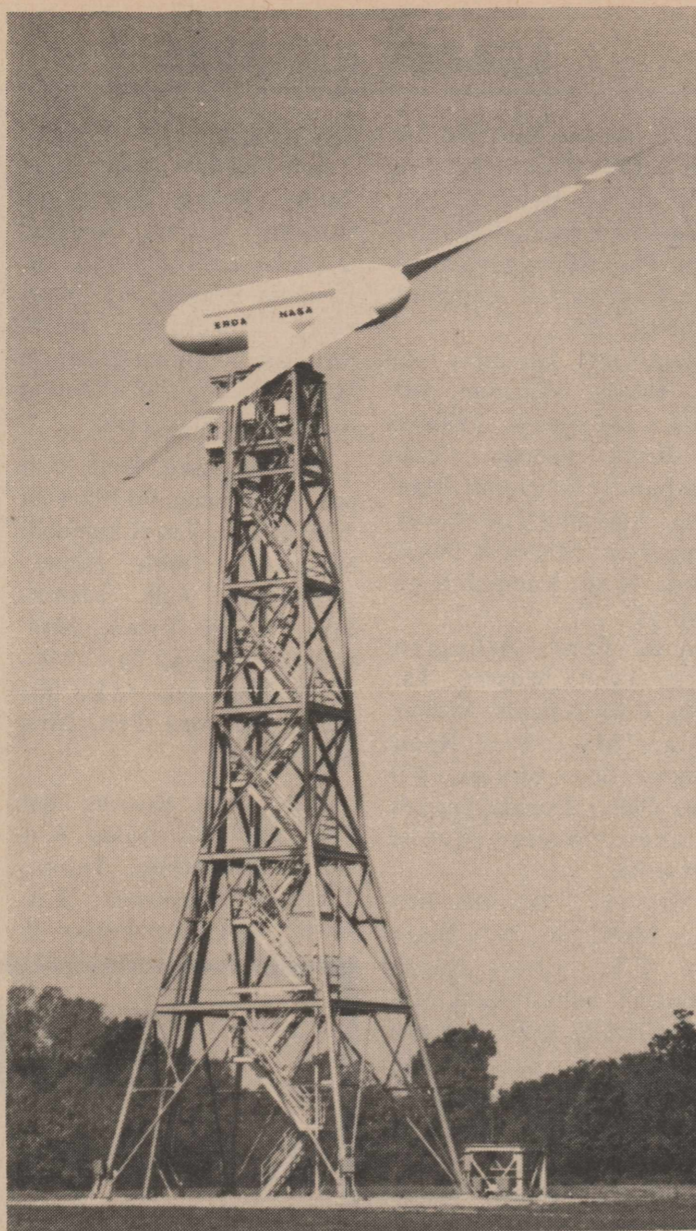

Dr. Fred Thornberry points out that 1975 was a good year for both poultry producers and consumers of poultry products, mainly because broiler and turkey production was at normal levels. However, broiler and turkey production for 1976 is expected to be much higher than 1975 levels.

Slaughter of broilers for the first quarter of 1976 is projected to be 13 per cent higher than the same quarter in 1975, points out Thornberry.

"Profits in the poultry business are closely tied to feed prices," says the Texas A&M University System specialist. "If the cost of feed goes up, the cost of raising poultry goes up also, and profits go down."

Extension Economist Named for Panhandle

COLLEGE STATION--Educational programs in farm and ranch management in the Panhandle will receive new leadership with the appointment of Dr. Ramon W. Sammons as area economist in management.

"Sammons will also play a key role in the continued implementation of the Panhandle Economic Program (PEP) designed to increase income from agriculture and related industries," added Kunkel.

Sammons will be headquartered at the Extension District 1 office in Amarillo. He fills the job vacated by William R. Masch who resigned several months earlier.

"The effective management of farm and ranch resources is vital for any type of agricultural enterprise," said Dr. H.O. Kunkel, dean of agriculture at Texas A&M University and acting director of the Extension Service, in announcing the appointment. "Sammons will give leadership to planning and conducting educational pro-

Feedlots Determine 1976 Cattle Prices

COLLEGE STATION--Cattle feedlots will play a dominant role throughout 1976 in determining prices of feed and feeder cattle.

That's the contention of Dr. Ernest Davis, livestock marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Fed cattle supplies have increased in recent months and continued growth will add further to this year's beef supplies, thus depressing prices, points out Davis.

Cattle going on feed last September were a whopping 87 per cent above the previous year. During the last quarter of 1975, cattle placements were up 27 per cent from the previous year while cattle on feed on January 1 showed an increase of 28 per cent above January 1, 1975.

What has brought about this resurgence in the cattle feeding industry?

"The main reason," says Davis, "is that cattle feeding has become profitable once again. Not only has the market for fed beef improved but feeding costs have declined due to a large feed grain crop last year. Also, many feeder cattle went directly into feedlots during the winter due to the lack of grazing on wheat pastures."

More recently, fed cattle prices have declined under pressure of a larger supply of fed beef and continued high cow slaughter. Presently, fed cattle prices are below break-even cost levels again, and this should slow cattle placements for a few weeks, notes the Texas A&M University specialist.

"Cow and non-fed cattle slaughter, however, is expected to seasonally decline this spring so the beef industry will be more dependent on feedlots for beef supplies. This should boost Choice fed cattle prices this spring. And continued pressure on feed grain prices should stimulate more cattle feeding," believes Davis.

Of course, there is always the problem of expanding too quickly. If fed cattle marketings exceed 6.2 or 6.3 million head per quarter during the last half of 1976, beef supplies will be at record levels. This will push prices below $40 per hundredweight. On the other hand, if feedlot operators are cautious and market cattle in an orderly fashion, fed cattle prices should hold up fairly well, contends the specialist.

Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Stuckey returned Sunday from a two week visit to Orland, Calif. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Stuckey of Houston. The four visited in the home of their brother, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stuckey, and their niece, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Royce, Randy and Kim. Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Stuckey returned to Houston on Monday.

Detachment Begins Recruitment Drive

A stepped-up recruiting program is under way to bring the National Guard Detachment 1, Headquarters Support Co. to 100, or even 120 per cent of full strength.

Sgt. Jim Harris, who came here recently as technician in charge of the Wellington unit, said that three men have been enlisted, all with prior service in the armed forces.

J.B. King, with almost 19 years service and only one and one half until retirement, has come from the Air Force Reserve. He holds the rating of Sgt. First Class.

Paul L. Gollighugh has had three years prior service and holds a sergeant's rating.

R.L. Hunnicutt comes to the Guard with 7 years prior service and he also is a sergeant.

The guard unit is presently down to around 24 men, as several have completed enlistments, Sgt. Harris said.

He said that any young man interested in joining the National Guard can see him between 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. at the National Guard Armory.

As part of the recruitment drive, two men from Detachment 1 will attend a division level school in Lubbock Saturday and Sunday, May 1 and 2.

The sergeant discussed some of the good benefits to be had in guard membership. An enlistee is paid $68 per month for four days service, and payment is now made each month.

A $20,000 insurance policy is available to each man joining. Besides this, there is an excellent retirement program.

National Guard retirees also are eligible for the Texas State Veterans Benefits and the GI bill, enabling them to buy houses or land with low-interest loans.

They also have partial PX privileges on Armed Services bases. The closest to Wellington is Altus Air Force Base.

Wayne Lacy Promoted in Army Reserve

Wayne Lacy of Overton was recently promoted to Lieutenant Colonel in the United State Army Reserve. He is a member of 362 Area B Civil Affairs Unit.

The Brackettville Lions Club, in affiliation with the Sweetwater Jaycees will hold its First Annual Rattlesnake Round-Up, Gun, Coin and Collectible Show on May 14, 15 and 16.

All proceeds will be used in the many charitable programs of the Lions Club. Such are the Crippled Children's Camp at Kerrville; the Institute for the Blind, providing eyeglasses for underprivileged children; assisting the needy of our community; and providing our support when and wherever needed.

The Brackettville Lions have affiliated with the Sweetwater Jaycees who will be handling a snake show. Professional handlers will be Jerry Ransberger, whose father, Bill Ransberger, has directed the Sweetwater event for 18 years and Larry Crosby, a man who in a short span of three years has become well-known in this business.

Health Tips Texas Medical Association Stomach Cancer

Some people will shorten their own lives because the early symptoms of stomach cancer are ignored, the Texas Medical Association says. Lack of appetite, persistent indigestion, nausea and stomach discomfort can be some of the symptoms of many problems, including stomach cancer. Often the symptoms are self-diagnosed as indigestion. Sometimes that is all it is. However, a doctor should be consulted if stomach pains and digestive discomfort last more than two weeks.

More extreme symptoms, such as blood in the stools, vomiting and pain, still may not be caused by stomach cancer but they do indicate something serious. Ulcers can have similar symptoms. They also need prompt treatment.

If stomach cancer is treated in its early stages, survival chances greatly increase. About 40 percent of those who get early treatment live at least five years afterward. Unfortunately, most people do not seek treatment soon enough. Only 10 percent of all stomach cancer cases are diagnosed before the disease has advanced to adjacent tissues and lymph nodes. Survival rate falls to 13 percent in the advanced stages. This year about 14,500 people in the U.S. will die from stomach cancer.

Texas has a higher stomach cancer rate than many areas of the nation, according to a Department of Health, Education and Welfare study. Other researchers say diet has a lot to do with stomach cancer. These scientists associate Mexican-Americans' diet with the disease. New Mexico, another state with a high stomach cancer rate, has a large population of Mexican-Americans.

There also is a high stomach cancer rate in the northern U.S. where there is a large concentration of Scandinavians. Still another study links stomach cancer with diet in Iceland.

The stomach cancer rate has dropped significantly in the last 50 years, starting about the same time great changes in U.S. food habits began. More citrus fruit and lettuce now is being consumed. In high income diets, larger amounts of beef, milk and green vegetables also are eaten.

Aside from diet, other factors may figure in stomach cancer causes. Non-whites get stomach cancer more often than whites. Males get it more often than females. Even people of certain countries, such as Japan, Chile and some Eastern European nations, have a higher stomach cancer rate than

Terrace Maintenance Essential Each Year

"The key to receiving full benefits from your terrace system is keeping all terraces and blocks maintained at very near their original height," states Neil Davis, Conservation Technician with the Soil Conservation Service in Wellington. Just one terrace that is not maintained can cause every terrace below it to fail.

"You should check your terrace maintenance needs and perform needed work before each crop year, preferably right after harvest of the preceding crop," states Davis. "This is a simple thing; yet it is very common for farmers to neglect to do this until it is too late," he adds.

Several techniques are useful in keeping terraces maintained. The basic thing is to farm on contour with the terraces (never across terraces).

Building up terraces and blocks with a breaking plow or terrace machine, and patching terrace breaks with a blade before each crop year will go a long way toward eliminating major repairs every few years.

Some farmers prefer to sow the terrace ridges to small grains or forage sorghums and row crop only the flat intervals between the terraces.

"Some people contend that the trend to six and eight-row equipment makes people in the U.S. Having a relative with stomach cancer doubles or triples the chances of stomach cancer.

However, just because someone is white or female, for instance, does not mean safety from stomach cancer. Scientists do not know for sure what causes the problem. One thing they definitely do know is that most people do not seek treatment soon enough.

farming and maintaining terraces too difficult," says Davis, "but terraces are now being built with wider bases to allow such equipment to farm terrace ridges." Several local farmers have widened the bases of old terrace systems to fit large modern equipment.

An additional incentive to annual terrace maintenance is that in some terrace restoration cost-share programs, terraces which failed due to lack of regular maintenance are not eligible for restoration under the programs.

"The old saying 'a stitch in time saves nine' is especially true in terrace maintenance. Once it is neglected to the point that Easter bunnies and Easter clothes lost none of their attraction because this year's Tiny Tot Revue was held two days after that holiday--Tuesday, April 20. Seventy-five tiny boys and girls took part, and winners were named in five age groups.

But seeing children on stage was only part of the entertainment. The remainder--songs and dancing--was provided by boys and girls who only a few years ago were themselves in the Tiny Tot Revue.

All seven of the "angels" were winners. These were children under one year old who were seated onstage with their mothers to open the program. Included were Keri Ann Moorhouse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Moorhouse (Linda Richardson) of Guthrie, Tiffany Jill Owens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Owens; Sharlie Nicole Rainey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Rainey; Martha Belinda Richards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W.Q. Winners from the five and six year old group were Stacey Lynn Fires, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Mark Fires, and Kevin McDanel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benny McDanel.

EQUINE INFLUENZA

"Horse flu" as it is commonly called is an acute viral disease affecting the respiratory tract of horses. The virus is of two Type A strains. These Type A strains are very similar to the human influenza virus and research shows cross infections between humans, horses, and swine is possible. This disease as with the other respiratory diseases of horses produces a very short immunity and another outbreak can follow the first in 3-6 months if vaccination is not implemented. The disease is transmitted rapidly through the air from nasal secretions, by direct contact, and contamination of food, water and equipment.

The clinical signs observed are seen in approximately 3 days after exposure and include a high fever, watering of the eyes and nose, a loss of appetite and fatigue. Some horses also show a slight swelling or edema in the legs. The most prevalent sign is a dry hacking cough which can persist up to 6 months if untreated.

Vaccines available contain both Type A strains and afford good protection. Colts and horses should receive two vaccinations 2-6 weeks apart and these should be repeated annually. Equine influenza can be a very explosive disease especially in the springtime when horses are congregated at shows, ropings, and play-days.
