Reds Gain From 19 To 37 Miles In Four Days

Nazi Infantry And Tank Divisions Are Routed In Advance

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, March 9.—Premier Joseph Stalin in a special order of the day broadcast from Moscow announced today that the Russians have opened still another offensive on the Ukrainian front under General Rodion Malinovsky.

He said the offensive launched across the Ingulets river—which would be aimed at the German defense bastions of Nikolaev and Kherson on the lower Bug and Dnieper rivers—had gained from 19 to 37 miles along a 105-mile front in four days of fighting.

Kazanka and Novi Bug, 25 and 40 miles respectively west of Krivoi Rog, have fallen before the Russian forces in the new advance, said the announcement.

Three German tank and six infantry divisions, probably totaling more than 125,000 troops, have been routed in the course of the new advance, Stalin said.

Driving Toward Junction

Marshal Zhukov's Red army troops drove forward through the deep, sticky mud of the southwestern Ukraine today toward the important junction of Proskurov, capture of which, Moscow dispatches said would give the Russians a firm grip on a 40-mile stretch of the Odessa - Warsaw trunk railway between Proskurov and Volochisk.

A Soviet communique announced that Russian forces already had captured Chern-Ostrov, only 11 miles northwest of Proskurov, and said a furious battle was raging inside Staro-Konstantinov, which was described as a vital German base 25 miles to the north.

Field Marshal Fritz von Mannstein threw great reserves of tank forces and infantry against the surging Red army advance, Moscow said, but was hurled back on all sectors.

Over 3,000 Nazis Slain

More than 3,000 Nazis were slain during the day's operations, according to the communique, which also listed 100 additional towns and hamlets swept up by Zhukov's forces. Forty-two out of 100 tanks that Von Mannstein used in a single counter-drive were destroyed, the Russians said.

Staro-Konstantinov is the midway station on the railway run-

Pistol Hunt In Canadian River Is Discontinued

Sand Is Lowered Three Feet, But Gun Not Found

Efforts to find a pistol in the treacherous quicksands of the Canadian river north of Amarillo have been discontinued, at least temporarily, after discouraging results, it was announced this morning.

Sheriff Bill Adams of Potter county and Ranger Capt. Maney Gault of Lubbock authorized jointly the statement that engineers and officers Wednesday night had found no traces of the gun—a possible link in the Hunt murders—after having sucked water and changing sand from a hole in the watercourse.

"We were able to lower the sand three feet after pumping away the water," it was announced, "but found nothing but more sand."

Spot Pointed Out

The officers said an Amarilloan who had admitted having thrown the gun in the river several months ago when the stream was at low tide had reiterated his story and that he went to the place where heavy pumps and road machinery, supplemented by a gang of shovelers, were dredging late Wednesday and once more pointed out the spot where the weapon had been placed.

He had said—and his statement was corroborated by another Amarilloan who said he had seen the gun tossed into a stagnant pool in the river—he discarded his weapon there because he was afraid it could have been taken by the person who murdered Dr. and Mrs. Roy Hunt last October in their Littlefield residence.

Thomas Borrowed Car

He had lent Jim Thomas his car the night of the slayings, and Thomas had visited him the morning after the Littlefield physician and his wife were found slain and bound in their bed, he related in his statements.

He, not under charge, said his gun had been in a drawer of his quarters, where anyone might have gone in and taken it unknown to him.

Thomas, a convict, has been held in Lubbock county jail since a few days after the slayings.

Capt. Gault and Sheriff Adams said a hole a yard deep and approximately seven feet across had been excavated.

"There's so much old iron and other metallic foreign particles where the gun was placed that

Revised Reply Sent Russia

STOCKHOLM, March 9. (AP)—Finland has sent a revised reply to Russian armistice demands which may be a satisfactory basis for furthering the negotiations, it was strongly indicated here today.

Aftonbladet said the reply should be acceptable from the Russian viewpoint and declared it had the backing of Field Marshal Baron Carl Gustaf von Mannerheim and other high Finnish military officers.

Ready for delivery last Friday, but apparently because of its sharp tone it was held back for revision and modification and the final draft was not transmitted to the Russians until Tuesday.

Adopt Milder Tone

Aftonbladet said the modification was the result of objections raised in certain Swedish circles which persuaded the Finns to adopt a milder tone.

The new note was said to seek further explanation and a more precise statement of terms, whereas the first draft rejected Soviet demands for the internment of German troops in Finland, withdrawal of Finnish troops of some prisoners, particularly those residents of the Baltic states who went to Finland when the Russians occupied those countries in 1939.

TROOP DEMANDS PROVE STUMBLING BLOCK IN TERMS

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, March 9—Soviet demands that Finland withdraw her troops to the 1940 Russian-Finnish border and intern all German troops now in Finland appeared today to be the chief stumbling block barring the path to peace between the two nations.

White House Lustily Puffing Peace Pipe

Struggle On Price Controls Looming

WASHINGTON, March 9 (AP)—The smoke of the peace pipe wafted up Pennsylvania avenue to capitol hill today as President Roosevelt's most trusted lieutenants sought to mend the breach between Congress and the White House resulting from the tax bill battle.

What appeared to be a move to restore unity within the thinned Democratic ranks developed as a prelude to another struggle in the offing—this time over continuing wartime price controls.

There were these developments:

1. Price Stabilization Director Fred M. Vinson and OPA Administrator Chester Bowles called on Senate and House leaders, and Food Administrator Marvin Jones paid a visit to the capitol for chats with the lawmakers.

Treasury Aides Assailed

2. Treasury Secretary Morgenthau, who during the tax veto battle heard Democrats as well as Republicans call his aides "irresponsible theorists," went up the hill for huddles with Chairman Doughton (D-NC) of the House ways and means committee and George (D-Ga) of the Senate finance committee.

3. Senator O'Mahoney of Wyoming, new chairman of the Democratic senatorial campaign committee, invited Democratic senators to "get acquainted" with officers of the party's national committee at a luncheon Friday.

4. After a conference with President Roosevelt, Executive Advisor Jonathan W. Daniels agreed to testify fully before a Senate committee about a subject on which he previously had declined to answer questions; and James L. Fly, chairman of the Federal Communications commission, agreed to "cooperate fully" with a House committee investigation of his agency.

Knox Points To Big Offensives

WASHINGTON, March 9 (AP)—Navy Secretary Knox said today that the Allies are "on the threshhold of critical" offensives against the Axis which will dwarf all previous thrusts.

Thus, said Knox, this is the time for Congress to assure the partners of the United States that the final blow will be struck. That can be done, he told the House foreign committee, by continuing the lend-lease act which expires June 30. A three-year extension is being sought.

Appearing as the final witness at the committee hearings, Knox said "we are just now approaching the crisis" and if it had not been for lend-lease "we would not be approaching the decisive battles."

Teamwork Credited

"It was teamwork which enabled the United Nations forces to carry forward to success the greatest amphibian operations ever conducted in any war," he said, "and I can promise without revealing any military secrets that these combined operations will seem small when offensives now being planned take place."

Knox revealed that, under lend-lease, the U. S. has transferred 1,400 ships to the Allies, most of them to the British, though title is retained and they are to be returned when the war ends. Four

Murder Indictments Returned In Terry

(Special To The Journal)

BROWNFIELD, March 9.—Three indictments, all for murder, were returned by a 106th district grand jury that was impaneled Wednesday by Special Judge J. E. Orland of Lamesa.

Two of them named Woodrow Charles Brown, 29, held in Lubbock county jail, for the Feb. 2 double-slaying of Mr. Quinby Dunlap, about 40, and Mrs. Cora Smith, 67.

The other named Fred Estes, 30.

Brown was charged with murder with malice, Estes with murder without malice.

Estes' indictment set out he, when intoxicated, through accident killed Earl Houston, 51, by striking him Sunday with an automibile.

U. S. Subs Have Sunk 16 More Jap Vessels

Big Tanker, Five Transports Are Included In Toll

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 9—American submarines have sunk 16 more Japanese ships in enemy controlled waters.

The big bag, announced today by the Navy, included one large tanker which could have been loaded with badly needed fuel for enemy bases.

The toll brought to 627 the number of Japanese ships sunk, probably sunk or damaged by submarine action alone.

1,989 Vessels Are Sunk

Sinkings by other causes—airplanes and warships—boosts the total damage to Japanese shipping to 1,989 enemy vessels of all types.

Pursuant to policy, the Navy communique announcing the latest sinkings did not report the areas in which the submarines operated. However, our submarines are known to have been operating along the coastal waters of Japan itself.

Supply Ships Included

In addition to the large tanker, other ships sunk by the far-ranging undersea craft included five transports and ten cargo vessels, all of which presumably were endeavoring to keep men and materials moving to bases scattered over the Pacific.

A recapitulation of the damage done Japanese shipping by our submarines shows: Definitely sunk, 477 craft of all types; probably sunk, 36; and damaged, 114.

The totals for all types of action, including submarines, planes and surface ships are 1,065 sunk, 107 probably sunk and 817 damaged.

125 NAZI PLANES DOWNED

LONDON, March 9.—Bombers which attacked Berlin yesterday shot down 42 German planes, army headquarters announced today. With 83 planes shot down by fighters, this brought the day's total to 125, compared with 176 on Monday's Berlin attack. Thirty-eight bombers and 16 fighter planes were lost yesterday.

erators had hit the German capital, first attacked by American forces last Saturday and again set afire Monday.

Today's attack demonstrated the amazing reserve strength in equipment and the endurance of the Eighth Air force crews.

Strong forces of fighters from the Eighth and Ninth Air forces escorted the bombers.

The first announcement gave no hint as to how today's bomber formations compared in strength with

TOTAL LOSSES GIVEN

(By The Associated Press)

At least 316 German and 85 American planes had been destroyed in four operations against Berlin and related targets preceding the attack today.

American losses included 136 bombers and 55 fighters with a maximum of 1,355 men. The great majority of these were lost around Berlin.

yesterday's raid on the German capital by at least 850 four-engined bombers.

First Berlin announcements failed to crow over the "great aerial battles" as during the previous American raids and today's formations may have reached the city with comparatively minor resistance from German fighters. It was certain that the German air arm was experiencing one of the most exhausting weeks of the war.

A Berlin broadcast acknowledged that "in the residential quarters of some part of the town damage was caused and there were some losses among the population."

Weather Unfavorable

"In spite of unfavorable weather German anti-aircraft defenses destroyed a number of four-engined bombers and fighters," it continued. "Enemy formations on the return flight ar still ceaselessly engaged by German anti-aircraft defenses."

The first bunch of Ninth Air force Mustang pilots back from the trip said they saw hardly one Nazi fighter and for the second day in a row did not lose a plane.

They reported two separate layers of cloud all the way over the continent and consequently they did not see the ground at any time after reaching operational height.

"Not once did we have to break formation," said Lt. Robert L. Goodnight of Twin Falls, Idaho. "We were with the big boys for over one hour right to the target and they were flying a nice form-

Nazi Casualties 40,000 In Italy

Enemy Loses 9,000 Men At Cassino

By EDWARD KENNEDY
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, March 9. — Fifth army forces have inflicted 9,000 casualties on the Germans in and around Cassino since the end of January, bringing total enemy losses in Italy for that period to approximately 40,000, Allied headquarters announced today.

The Cassino casualties, including 1,500 captured and the remainder killed or wounded, were disclosed as a communique told of the repulse of two new minor German thrusts against the American beachhead positions southeast of Carroceto.

German losses on the beachhead have been announced as about 24,000. In addition, the enemy has suffered other casualties at the hands of the British along the Garigliano, at the hands of the French in the mountains north of Cassino, and on the Eighth army front.

Fronts Relatively Quiet

Except for the two minor stabs on the beachhead, all fronts remained relatively quiet yesterday aside from routine patrolling, artillery duels, and a German night air raid on the beachhead in which anti-personnel bombs were dropped.

Eighth army Canadian patrols engaged in skirmishes with the enemy around the caves in the vicinity of Tollo and Polish artillery shelled enemy movements near Ateleta in the mountains of middle Italy.

The weather was fair to cloudy yesterday and Allied air craft got off on approximately 900 flights, including Marauder attacks on the harbor of Santo Stefano 80 miles northwest of Rome and Mitchell blows against the rail yards at Orte north of the capital.

More Work Is Due In Drive

Reports this morning have added little to the $47,031.41 announced late Wednesday as having been raised in the Lubbock drive for the Red Cross War fund, according to George P. Kuykendall, general chairman.

He said, however, that reports this afternoon will reveal more definitely just how much more work remains to be done to complete the county's quota of $78,500. Meanwhile, he urged all workers who have not completed their assignments to continue on the job until they finish.

Mrs. Morley Jennings, chairman of the women's division, asked anyone who may have been overlooked by the women in their house-to-house canvas to call drive headquarters, telephone 5511, in Kuykendall Chevrolet company, 1115 Thirteenth street. Someone will be sent for donations that anyone wishes to make.

Chairman Kuykendall also announced that collections for the Red Cross are to be taken in city schools Friday. This has been done, he said, because so many children have expressed the wish to have a part in the drive.

VOTE BILL DELAYED

WASHINGTON, March 9 (AP)—A Senate decision on the long-pending compromise servicemen's absentee vote bill was delayed further today when Senator Connally (D-Tex) announced he would not call it up until Monday because a number of interested senators are away from the capital.

Better Seats Being Installed In Gliders

SHEPPARD FIELD, March 9: (AP) — Pilots of American gliders will carry out their difficult missions in durable, fatigue-erasing seats designed and installed here.

The new seat, designed by Shirley L. Cates, civilian instructor, on the suggestion of Maj. E. A. LaSalle, director of the glider school here, sits the pilot slightly forward and at a "comfortable" angle. It is designed for the pilot to sit on his parachute, using it as a shock-absorbing cushion.

The old model seat was a "cheesebox" type. The pilot wore the pack on his back and often had to strain himself to reach the rudder pedals.

The wood fabricating department of the glider school already has turned out 300 of the new wooden seats.

Five Nazis Downed In Attack On Convoy

ALGIERS, March 9 (AP) — A strong force of German aircraft attacked an Allied convoy off the coast of North Africa, it was announced today, but Allied airmen knocked down five of the attackers and damage two others.

French pilots flying P-39's destroyed one Junkers-88 in the first wave and RAF Beaufighters entering the fray thereafter accounted for four more.

Algiers was alerted and a heavy anti-aircraft barrage was cast up.

An Allied spokesman said about 60 German planes took part in the attack but failed to damage any of the convoy ships. Two Allied planes were lost.

Flier Relates Rescue Of Elliott Roosevelt

SOUTHAMPTON, Ont., March 9. (AP)—Disclosing a hitherto unreported incident, Flying Officer John B. Kennedy, stationed with the RCAF in England, said in a letter to his parents that he helped find a lost plane on which Elliott Roosevelt, son of President Roosevelt, was aboard.

The parents, Rev. T. E. and Mrs. Kennedy, said that in one letter their son mentioned "getting one of the Roosevelt boys out of a bit of trouble" while in another he wrote:

"I was scrambled to find and bring back a lost plane. Just a routine business, but the fact that Elliott Roosevelt and Gen. Smith were aboard made it a bit more interesting."

The letter gave no other details and did not identify Gen. Smith.

Military Policy Gets Backing

WASHINGTON, March 9 (AP)—Influential bi-partisan backing assured clear sailing today for legislation to set up a special House committee to develop for this country a postwar military policy founded on the principle of compulsory military training.

Rep. Wadsworth (R-NY), author of the legislation, said it had the support of Speaker Sam Rayburn, Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts, Chairman May (D-Ky) of the military committee and Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) of the naval committee.

Requires House Approval

Requiring House approval only, the resolution would set up a 21-man committee appointed by the speaker.

Subjects likely to be considered by the committee were listed by Wadsworth as:

Whether there should be a unified command of all the arms of the fighting services.

How large a standing Army and how big a Navy should be kept in time of peace.

To what extent outlying fortifications should be maintained.

War Casualties Of U. S. Total 162,282

WASHINGTON, March 9 (AP)—American casualties in this war so far total 162,282, of whom 37,853 are dead.

Secretary of War Stimson, at a news conference today, announced that Army casualties (as of Feb. 23) totaled 121,458. Of this number, 20,592 were killed, 47,318 wounded, 26,326 are missing and 27,222 are prisoners of war.

The latest Navy total of 40,824, is made up of 17,261 killed, 9,910 wounded, 9,239 missing and 4,414 prisoners of war. These figures cover the Marine Corps and Coast Guard as well as the Navy proper. Of the total casualties the Navy has suffered 27,383, Marines 12,986 and the Coast Guard 455.

Stimson said that of the 47,318 Army wounded, 25,291 have been returned to duty or discharged. Of the 27,222 prisoners, Stimson said, the enemy has reported that 1,673 have died of disease in prison camps. These deaths, Stimson commented, occurred mostly in Japanese-occupied areas and the total probably is larger than reported by the enemy.

Chaplin Fails To Get Indictment Quashed

LOS ANGELES, March 9. (AP)—Charles Chaplin and six other defendants failed today in an attempt to set aside federal grand jury indictments charging them with conspiracy to deprive Joan Berry, the actor's former protege, of her civil rights.

U. S. Dist. Judge J. F. T. O'Connor denied their motions to quash the indictments, based on the arrest of Miss Berry and her subsequent release in Beverly Hills police court on a suspended sentence with the proviso that she leave the city.

The seven defendants, including Charles J. Griffin, Beverly Hills police judge, three police officers and two friends of the actor, based their motions on the ground that the grand jury included no women.

Gen. Holcomb Named Minister To Africa

WASHINGTON, March 9. (UP)—President Roosevelt today nominated 64-year-old Gen. Thomas Holcomb, recently retired as commandant of the Marine corps, to be U. S. minister to the Union of South Africa.

Holcomb, a native of New Castle, Del., retired on Jan. 1 after building up the Marines to the greatest peak of fighting efficiency and power in their history.

He will succeed Lincoln MacVeagh, who several months ago was made U. S. ambassador to the exiled Greek and Jugoslav governments at Cairo.

PROMINENT MINER DIES

WASHINGTON, March 9. (UP)—The Maritime commission today announced the sale of the San Jacinto ship yard at Houston, Texas, to E. I. Dupont de Nemours and Co., for $200,000.

Army's "Goon Gun" Effective Ace In Hole For Gas Warfare

WASHINGTON, March 9 (AP)—The Army disclosed some details today about its 4.2 inch mortar which has been used with great success both in the Pacific and in Italy, and which troops using it have dubbed the "Goon Gun."

It is new only with respect to certain refinements, because it was originally developed by the U. S. chemical warfare service some 20 years ago. Now, with improvements, it can lob a score of 24-pound projectiles as far as two and a half miles in 60 seconds, and some gun crews have gotten six shells in the air before the first landed.

It is currently being used for high explosive and white phosphorus shells and veterans back from Sicily have reported the Germans fear these latter more than any weapon employed by the Allies. Writing in the Infantry Journal, Brig. Gen. Alden H. Waitt reported that a single phosphorus shell fired by this mortar spreads its burst over an area 40 yards in diameter, setting fires as well as causing casualties.

One "Goon Gun" company in Italy was reported to have engaged a battery of German 88-

Fighting Irishman From Pittsburgh, Legend Of Italian Campaign, To Get Congressional Medal

WASHINGTON, March 9. (AP)—Technical Sergeant Charles E. Kelly, of Pittsburgh — is going to get the Congressional Medal of Honor.

Does he deserve it? Listen to the story the War department tells about the fighting Irishman whose friends call him "Commando," and judge for yourself.

Last September 13, near Altavilla, Kelly, who is 23, volunteered as a member of a patrol which located and put out of action some enemy machinegun positions, at considerable risk of life and limb.

But that was just a start. He promptly volunteered to establish contact with a U. S. infantry battalion which was believed to be located on a hill a mile away. The route he had to follow was under enemy observation, plus sniper, mortar and artillery fire. But "Commando" got back with the information that the Americans weren't there — the hill was occupied by the Nazis in organized positions.

Volunteered For New Patrol

Kelly volunteered immediately for another patrol going after enemy machineguns, and "assisted materially" until he ran out of ammunition. So he got permission to go to an ammunition dump for more, and arrived to find the Germans attacking ferociously. He got his ammunition, plus an assignment to stay right there and protect the rear of an adjacent storehouse, which he did all night.

Next morning, when the Nazis resumed the attack, Kelly took a position at an open window where a machine gunner had been killed and several soldiers wounded. There he "delivered continuous aimed and effective fire" until his rifle locked from overheating.

Tenant Eviction Rules Listed

Regulations under which tenants may be evicted from rent houses were explained here Wednesday by Earl W. Heath, rent director in Lubbock district offices of the OPA.

In these cases the landlord is only required to give the tenant and the area rent office certain notices of the action. In other cases the landlord must obtain a certificate from the area office before he can bring eviction action. This certificate is not an order for eviction of the tenant, but simply an authorization to the landlord to pursue his normal eviction remedies in the local court.

Eviction Circumstances

There are various circumstances whereby a tenant may be evicted. They are:

(1) If the tenant refuses to renew his lease upon the same terms and conditions as in his expiring lease. This is a ground for eviction only where the renewal lease is for a term not longer than one year and contains no provisions contrary to the rent regulation.

(2) Where the tenant unreasonably refuses to allow his landlord access to the premises for the purpose of inspection or to show to a prospective purchaser. Such refusal is not a ground for eviction, however, if the inspection of the premises is contrary to the tenant's lease.

(3) Violation of a substantial obligation of his rental agreement, such as maintaining a fire hazard on the premises. However, the landlord must first give the tenant written notice to cease such violation.

(4) Committing a nuisance or using the dwelling unit for immoral or illegal purposes.

(5) Where the landlord wishes to do extensive remodeling or alteration which cannot be done while the tenant is occupying the property.

(6) When the landlord wants to use the dwelling for himself, provided he owned the property before rent control went into effect in the area.

(7) Where he fails to pay his legal rent.

(8) Where the tenant's lease has expired and at its expiration is subletting and is not occupying any portion of the dwelling himself.

Heath said that a definite date has not yet been set for the opening of the area rent office, 1415 Avenue Q, but he expected to be able to set a definite date within the next few days.

Hoax Sends 14 Boats On Futile Search

CHICAGO, March 9 (AP)—Coast Guard headquarters today said that an apparent hoax last night sent 14 boats from six ports out in bitter weather in search of four men reported adrift in a life boat in Lake Michigan after their tanker had foundered.

Early today, after a search of more than eight hours in 15 degree above weather, the search was called off, only two boats remaining at the scene, about 30 miles east of the Great Lakes Naval training station.

One Hundred Attend Legion's Barbecue

Approximately 100 guests attended a benefit chicken barbecue dinner at which Booker T. Washington negro post of the American Legion was host in Allen Bros. post Legion home, 910 Texas avenue, Wednesday night. Proceeds were placed in the negro post's building fund.

Henry Teubel of Tulia, district commander of the Legion, was one of the speakers and predicted the war may last until 1946 or 1947. The biggest job lies ahead, he cautioned.

J. A. Chatman, negro physician, and E. C. Struggs, who heads the negro schools, made the principal talks. Charley Sedberry, newly-elected president of Carver Heights Chamber of Commerce, also spoke, pledging cooperation of the citizens of that district in making a "greater Lubbock."

E. W. Crieglar, of the New Hope Baptist church, was master of ceremonies and leader of group singing. Pianist was Willie Mae Chandler.

Others Make Talks

Efforts to obtain funds for the building, to be located in the negro section, have been underway for two years.

Talks also were made by County Judge G. V. Pardue and Chas. A. Guy, editor of the Avalanche-Journal.

Out-of-town guests were present from Littlefield and Spur. Among those resent from Littlefield was O. K. Woodall, commander of the 19th Legion district. The visitors were introduced by Chas. Whitacre, former local and district commander.

H. D. Woods, past commander of the local post, was general chairman.

Fort Worth Concern Acquitted Of Charge

WASHINGTON, March 9 (AP)—A Fort Worth manufacturing company, its former president and a former Army officer stood acquitted today of government charges of conspiracy.

The verdict favoring the American Manufacturing company, its ex-president William Gourley, and former Lt. Col. August Cayouette was returned late yesterday after a lengthy trial before a federal district court jury.

Cayouette, who now is serving a prison term after being court-martialed at Ft. Myer, Va., last April, was accused in the indictment of accepting a $5,800 bribe from the company to expedite allocation of British machine tools to the Fort Worth firm for the manufacture of shells.

At the close of 1943 our production of planes was at the rate of 100,000 per year, or just over 8,000 a month.

Shrine Is To Buy Building

AMARILLO, March 9. (sp.) — Details have been completed for the purchase and early occupancy of Masonic building, members of Khiva Shrine temple were advised at an enthusiastic meeting here Wednesday night.

They also ratified resolutions naming elective divan trustees.

Plans for a spring ceremonial, May 22, were announced which will be the 20th anniversary of the organization. The ceremony will be dedicated to charter and pioneer members of the Temple and all past potentates or committeemen to the organization. An invitation to former members to get back into the work by re-enlisting was issued.

Bonds Are Released

Relief of mortgage indebtedness was made possible by relinquishment of $65,000 in bonds by various Masonic and Eastern Star bodies of the Panhandle territory. Khiva Temple surrendered more than $25,000 of their stock. The Commandery chapter and counsel, and Blue Lodges likewise gave up stock in Masonic Temple association from whom the building was bought on bid of $60,000. The action of Masonic bodies will enable eventual large returns to stockholders. Many of these have expressed a desire to contribute their stock either to Khiva building fund, or one of its charities. A committee was named to consider acceptance of offers. Khiva has assumed an RFC mortgage and borrowed from the bank.

Thanks of the Temple were expressed to Hugo Loewenstern, chairman. Past Potentates Bill Gilstrap and Arch Lidia worked on purchasing of the building.

Barbecue Is Held

Before the business session the Temple entertained with a barbecue for masters of 79 Blue Lodges in the Panhandle. More than 250 members and visitors were present from lodges in the territory. Guests of 731 AF&AM Amarillo Lodge exemplified the master's degree. Chief Rabban W. S. Norman reported on the membership campaign and W. W. Davis reported 234 rungs on ladder of baby smiles.

Tom May of Brownfield, high priest and prophet, a member for 20 years, made the trip especially to sign purchase papers. He said that he had never seen more interest in the organization than was evident tonight. He promised on behalf of early members of the Temple, a large attendance at the May ceremonial.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN
Of Tired Kidneys
If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.
The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.
If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Coal Strike Spreads In Great Britain

LONDON, March 9 (AP) — The Welsh coal strike assumed more alarming proportions today when a fresh wave of walkouts boosted the number of idle miners to 90,000—or about 90 per cent of the total in the coal fields.

A total of 165 mines now are idle as a result of the wage dispute, which is depriving Britain's war industries of sorely-needed fuel and threatening to cripple the transportation system.

The only tin smelter in South American is located in Argentina.

Re-Districting Said Shunned

CORPUS CHRISTI, March 9 (AP)—Gov. Coke Stevenson has written the Corpus Christi Chamber of Commerce president, W. O. Yarborough, that many members of the legislature aren't interested in legislative and judicial redistricting, and that they "expressed the decision not to vote themselves out of office."

Replying to Yarborough's request that the governor call a special legislative session to consider redistricting, Stevenson declined the request, adding in his letter:

Redistricting Plans Offered

"I submitted both legislative and judicial redistricting to the last session of the legislature and urged the passage of these bills in language as strong as I am able to express."

The letter, submitted by Yarborough to the chamber's board of directors yesterday, said the bills were not passed.

"I talked to many members personally about the matter and pointed out that the constitution requires legislative districting following each federal census. I found, however, that many members are satisfied with the present district and they expressed the decision not to vote themselves out of office."

"We had the best of help, including engineers. There's no telling where the gun is. It's 40 feet to rock where we've been working, and anyone who knows anything about quicksand can realize our problem."

They said their thanks for the work to Bell & Brady, bridge contractors, who furnished equipment and technical advice, and to the state highway department, Potter county road commissioners and to Sheriff M. E. Cantrell of Canyon for "invaluable assistance."

"This case eventually will be worked out, in spite of the discouragements," the sheriff and ranger captain said.

Revised Peace Reply

Stockholm last night said the Finns had advised Moscow that they were ready to accept most of the conditions imposed by the Russians as a perequisite to further peace negotiations but that they could not accede to these two demands.

Note Said Conciliatory

The Finnish note, however, was described as conciliatory and apparently left the door open for further exchanges.

The Finns were said to have taken the stand that compliance with the demands to which they took exception probably would result in a revolt of Finnish pro-German elements and action by German troops themselves leading to hostilities within Finland between the Finns and Germans.

Could Withdraw Troops

On the other hand, it was said, the Finns explained that if negotiations were pressed to a satisfactory conclusion and a peace treaty were signed, it would be possible to ease the German troops out of Finland and withdraw Finnish forces to the old border without incident. It is estimated there are about seven German divisions in Finland.

(A Berlin broadcast recorded last night by CBS quoted a German commentator as saying that only military force could dislodge the Nazi forces from Finland. He recalled what the Germans had done in Italy and added: "Independent of anything the Finnish government does the German troops are in Finland to defend Finnish territorial integrity.") thousand naval aircraft also were provided.

He had special comment for the French, and the Brazilians, in describing Allied cooperation. U. S. naval repair facilities have sent back into the war one French battleship, four cruisers, three destroyers, three submarines and six tankers. The carrier Bearn, is now being conditioned for action, he added.

Brazil Convoying Ships

Brazil is convoying merchant ships and helping to protect South American sea lanes. Its sailors on lend-lease patrol boats have rescued survivors of torpedoed vessels. Lend-lease aircraft with Brazilian pilots have sunk a Nazi submarine and damaged others.

Cuba, which has received some coast guard vessels on the same terms, has been contributing to the escort task also, he said.

Reverse lend-lease doesn't compare in dollars with what the U. S. has handed out, said Knox, but it is a considerable contribution. As an example, the U. S. naval base in Britain has operated for a year "without making a single cash expenditure."

"It is my hope that the effectiveness and scope of the lend-lease act will not be cut down or restricted," the secretary added.

New Cracking Unit Of Plant Dedicated

TEXAS CITY, March 9 (U.P.)—The Pan-American Refining corporation's new 20-story-high fluid catalyst cracking unit was formally dedicated today, another link in the growing chain of plants producing the fuel that powers the nation's warplanes.

In a congratulatory message to Pan-American officials, Petroleum Administrator Harold L. Ickes termed the new "cat cracker" an "Axis cracker."

Dr. Robert E. Wilson, New York, president of Pan-American, said the Texas City plant was about "middle way" in the nation's program of building 100-octane gasoline units.

Plant Buildings Bombed

In addition to the damage done Hitler's force in the air, a U. S. headquarters announcement said all four of the main buildings of the VKF ballbearing factory at Erkner in the suburbs of Berlin were bombed yesterday. At least one was seriously damaged and left burning, while smoke so obscured the other three that the damage could not be discerned.

Three buildings of a factory making torpedo parts also were set afire.

The German high command in its communique today admitted that damage was suffered from the attack but asserted 112 Allied aircraft, including 66 four-engined bombers, were brought down.

"Our very strong fighter escort defeated them again," a U. S. communique declared, however.

The second straight bombardment of Berlin and the third in four days emphasized the weight of the drive to stamp out the remaining military potential of the charred and pitted city and at the same time knock the luftwaffe out of the skies over its homeland.

The daylight offensive still was picking up momentum, and now rivaled the best three nights the RAF ever had against the most bombed capital in the world.

FIGHTER PILOTS CREDITED WITH 5 TO 1 VICTORY

LONDON, March 9 (AP)—American fighter plane pilots were officially credited today with a five-to-one victory in the series of bitter dogfights that swirled over Berlin as Nazi fliers vainly tried to break up yesterday's U. S. heavy bomber attack on the German capital.

"Our very strong fighter escort defeated them again," said a communique. The score was 83 German planes shot down against 16 American fighters listed as missing.

The announcement declared the enemy attempts to disrupt the formations of Flying Fortresses and Liberators were "without success."

Big Margin Of Victory

The margin of victory for the Yankee fighter planes was almost as great as the 83-to-11 score rung up in Monday's large-scale American daylight assault on Hitler's sered and crumbling capital.

Exclusive of the enemy fighters destroyed yesterday by bomber gunners, not yet tabulated, the American airmen claimed a total of 259 Nazi planes shot down in the two great punches at Berlin.

Bombers on Monday knocked down 93 enemy planes for a full day toll of 176.

While five more escorting fighters fell yesterday than on Monday, the bomber loss was almost halved—from 68 to 38 out of a force of possibly 850 to 1,000.

Ballbearing Plant Blasted

Yesterday's divisions of Fortresses and Liberators, hitting Berlin in the third U. S. heavy bomber attack since American Thunderbolt fighters made their pioneer sweep over the enemy capital last Friday, concentrated their explosives "with good results" on a ballbearing factory in suburban Erkner, the communique said.

On this and other industrial targets in the city the bombers poured more than 10,000 high explosives, then set the wreckage aflame with more than 350,000 incendiary bombs.

Stockholm dispatches to London morning newspapers quoted the Morgon Tidningen as reporting from Berlin that "thousands of persons were killed" and hundreds of fires started.

Crewmen told of seeing towers of black smoke still visible when they were 100 miles on their homeward journey.

British press commentators rolled out their superlatives in describing the attack, one calling it the most significant air victory of the entire war.

London's air raid sirens sounded last night but the all-clear came quickly and scarcely and gunfire was heard.

Driving For Air Strip

The Lethernecks are driving for the unused Talasea emergency landing strip five miles from the beachhead. The airstrip is 170 airline miles from Rabaul, main Japanese base on New Britain's northeast tip.

While small forces of Japanese planes darted through the night, a cluster of troop-filled enemy barges attempted to land on Los Negros island Tuesday, Gen. Douglas MacArthur communiqued. But American artillery caught the barges off-shore and every landing attempt was repulsed.

Allied forces leap-frogging up the coast of New Guinea have strengthened their positions west of Saidor and are now 23 airline miles from their objective, Madang.

Rabaul Pounded Again

South Pacific planes, some of them springing from the newly-carved Allied airfield on Green island at the north tip of the Solomon islands, pounded Rabaul with 55 tons of bombs, hit Kavieng, New Ireland, with 62 tons, and raked other targets throughout the Bismarck archipelago.

In Burma, American forces under young Brig. Gen. Frank Merrill have killed 650 Japanese since they entered the Burma fight, against a loss of seven killed and 37 wounded. Lt. Gen. Joseph Stilwell said the enemy's casualties in the Hukawng valley, where Americans are fighting, have reached 2,309 killed.

For the sixth time, Japan's installations on Paramushiro on the northern Kurile islands were raided Sunday, Pacific fleet headquarters reported. Other planes dropped 31 tons of bombs on enemy bases in the eastern Marshalls Monday.

Nazi Losses In Italy

Kittyhawks attacked road traffic in the Rome area, destroying 21 enemy vehicles and damaging 10.

Fighters and fighter-bombers attacked targets in the beachhead area and fighters made shipping sweeps over both the Adriatic and Tyrrhenian seas. Nine Allied planes were lost during the day and six enemy craft were destroyed.

Maj. Gordon Friday, of Woodland, Calif., a squadron commander, said that on the Tuesday Rome attacks "the only flak we had was when an ammunition warehouse beside the yards was hit."

Bombardier Lt. Vernon O. Darby, of Georgetown, Tex., said "our bombs hit among hundreds of freight cars and started numerous fires."

Lamesa Rites Set For Wreck Victim

SEMINOLE, March 9 (Special)—Funeral services were scheduled at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the First Methodist church at Lamesa for John M. Wickson, 52, who died Wednesday afternoon in a local hospital from injuries sustained in an automobile collision Tuesday afternoon near Seagraves. Rev. Preston Florence of Seminole will officiate with burial in Lamesa cemetery.

According to Singleton Funeral home, Wickson was in a car that was being turned around on the highway a mile south of Seagraves when it was in collision with another vehicle. The car in which Wickson was riding had been stopped for repairs.

Wickson, who lived five miles northeast of Seagraves, is survived by his wife; two daughters, Mrs. Jenna Beth Speights and Mrs. Barbara Ramsey, of Seagraves; one son, R. H. Wickson, of Seagraves; five brothers and four sisters, including Mrs. J. C. Keller, of Lubbock.

GERMAN PLANES USED TRYING TO SAVE ARMY

By EDDY GILMORE
Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, March 9. — The German army command in desperation has commandeered all available transport planes in a frantic attempt to save a large part of its mud-bound mechanized army in the southwestern Ukraine, Soviet dispatches said today.

Capt. Andrei Belaiev, front-line correspondent for the army newspaper Red Star told how the Nazis, flying in hundreds of their big transport planes, were trying to get supplies to the tanks, trucks, self-propelled guns and tractors so they may be extricated from what probably is the worst mud of the entire Russian campaign.

In some places, Belaiev declared, the Germans unable to land their transports because of the water-soaked terrain, dropped their cargoes of gasoline by parachute.

Dispatches said that German resistance had stiffened as fresh troops from other sectors had been thrown into the battle lines.

Policy On "Provoked" Discharges" Planned

WASHINGTON, March 9 (AP)—The problem of how to deal with workers who deliberately get themselves fired in order to take more desirable jobs is under discussion by the War Manpower commission, and officials said today a national policy on "provoked discharges" probably will be laid down soon.

They added that the situation is not serious in terms of numbers, however, and said they are also concerned about the "provoked quit."

The latter, they explained, is the case where an employer, angry at a worker and wanting to fire him without a statement of availability, makes things "so hot for him that he finally resigns."

Texas Battalion Gets Presidential Citation

WASHINGTON, March 9. (AP)—The Third battalion of the 141st infantry regiment, 36th infantry division—a Texas national guard unit when it went into federal service in 1940—has been awarded a presidential citation.

The War department made public the citation today. It said that the battalion landed in one of the initial assault waves at Salerno, Italy, on September 9, 1943 (when the original American landings were made in Italy), "in the face of withering artillery, machine-gun and mortar fire."

The battalion threw back a series of enemy counterattacks, including two assaults by Nazi tanks.

"Cut off from supplies and reinforcements by the deadly enemy fire," the citation said, "the assault units nevertheless continued their advance against enemy positions while under continual enemy shelling."

The citation added that "only through their courageous performance was the initial divisional objective achieved."

Rep. Stinson Will Not Run For Re-Election

DALLAS, March 9 (U.P.)—State Rep. Jeff D. Stinson said today he would not be a candidate for re-election as Dallas county representative—a post Stinson has held for 12 years.

The veteran legislator said he might seek the Senate seat which will be vacated if Sen. W. C. Graves is elected a district court judge. Graves is a holdover senator and Stinson would run for the unexpired term.

George Fulcher, charged in two cases, remained the only one of five negroes this morning who had not posted bail in connection with felony charges of grain theft, the sheriff's department said. Bond of $1,000 was set in each complaint, binding defendants over to await grand jury action.

Slight acceleration of automotive vehicle registration was reported Wednesday in the office of H. B. Bryan, county tax assessor-collector. Bryan said 220 passenger and 15 commercial licenses were issued. Since there are only 20 more business days before the April 1 deadline and since a total of approximately 19,000 vehicles probably will be licensed, the figure is far short of the average of more than 900 vehicles that should be registered each day, it was pointed out. To avoid the last two weeks' rush, it was suggested that persons "hurry and get their automobiles and trucks registered and avoid the long lines and resultant wait."

Women who enlist in the Air-WAC can now expectd to be stationed at any one of the following fields, according to Warrant Officer L. W. He said that a quota is also expected shortly for the Dalhart field. The WAC section also reported that Mrs. Margaret Anna Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Sowder, Route 3, Lubbock, whose husband, J. R. Wilson, is held prisoner of war by Germany, has enlisted in the WAC.

Capt. R. T. Hammond of the Army recruiting office here announced this morning that Lester W. Lindsey, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Lindsey of Shallowater, was enlisted in the Army Air Forces Enlisted Reserves Wednesday.

Ruth Merriman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Merriman, 2414 Twenty-fifth street, has enlisted in the Marine Corps, according to S/Sgt. Charles G. Baker of the Marine recruiting office in the federal building. Miss Merriman is a graduate of Lubbock Senior High school and attended Texas Tech for two years. Eleven More Major Loop Players Sign

Spring Training Four Days Away

NEW YORK, March 9. (AP) — Eleven more major league baseball players put their names on the dotted line of 1944 contracts, two more were given 4-F draft classifications, two others were called for pre-induction physical examinations and Catcher Hal Wagner of the Philadelphia A's announced plans of becoming a part-time performer as spring training sessions loomed up only four days away.

While the clubs were getting generally satisfying news, Pitcher Jim Bagby of the Cleveland Indians was continuing his personal feud with Manager Lou Boudreau by asking for "voluntary retirement for the duration."

Vice President Roger Peckinpaugh of the Indians said he hadn't received any request from Bagby but "if Jim wants to retire, all we can do is put our O.K. on it and pass it along to Judge Landis."

Here are the latest developments:

AMERICAN LEAGUE

New York — President Ed Barrow of the Yankees announced that all players, signed or unsigned, were welcome at the Atlantic City camp in a sharp reversal of usual procedure. Signed contracts of Pitchers Atley Donald, Floyd Bevens and Johnny Johnson were received along with one from Coach Art Fletcher. Outfielder Russ Derry was reported "frozen" on his form for the season.

Boston — Pitcher Dick Newsome ordered to report for pre-induction examination March 13 by San Diego, Calif. board, planned to ask transfer to Winston, N. C.

"Limited Service"

Philadelphia — Wagner said he would stay in Philadelphia war plant, catch home games and make A's weekend trips to New York, and Washington.

Chicago — Pitcher Lee Ross signed contract, bringing White Sox list to 20 satisfied athletes.

Detroit — Paul Trout reported six days in advance of training routine at Evansville, Ind., received word to report Friday for draft physical and traveled on to Detroit. Trout had been reclassified 1-A Feb. 9.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

New York — Giants announced nine - game exhibition schedule including special Red Cross benefit tilt with Yankees at Polo Grounds, April 13. Signed Pitcher Walter Ockey, 23, a six-footer discharged from the Army who won 13 games for Milford, Del., in class D in 1941.

Boston — Outfielder Charles Workman signed contract.

Philadelphia — Pitcher Dick Barrett, Julius Homokay of Utica, N. P., Eastern league club and Charley Schanz of San Diego, Calif. Pacific Coast league club, all righthanders, signed contracts.

St. Louis — Whitey Kurowski, regular third baseman, came to terms with Cardinals in phone conversation.

Pittsburgh — Infielder Pete Coscarart signed.

Chicago — Outfielder Dominic Dallesandro announced he had been rejected by the Army and classified 4-F due to head injury suffered in baseball.

National Title Bouts Slated Friday Night For Golden Glovers

CHICAGO, March 9 (AP)—After a 10-day respite, 32 fighters will put up their dukes in the Chicago Stadium ring tomorrow night to seek amateur boxing's greatest honor—that of winning a Golden Gloves national title.

These survivors of earlier preliminary rounds in the tournament will run through 16-semi-final bouts, with the winners then battling for the titles of the light weight divisions. The eight champions will represent Chicago in the annual inter-city bouts at New York March 17.

A total of 26 bouts is on the Golden Gloves windup tomorrow night and a crowd of about 20,000 is expected to jam the stadium.

Although the individual championships are the objectives of the fighters, a team title and its accompanying trophy also is of high importance. Cleveland, coached by Johnny Papke, has won six trophies since the first team award was put up in 1933 and again is one of the favorites.

Other favored contenders for the team crown are St. Louis and Fort Worth, each represented by three fighters.

SPAAF Student Five Is Winner

Finals Played In Squadron League

The Student Detachment cagers were crowned kings of the South Plains Army Air field Squadron league last night at the SPAAF gym by winning 38-31 over the 356th Squadron in the tournament finals. The game was close all the way, the two teams battling within one and two points of each other, until the final five minutes.

Both clubs had spirited races for the scoring honors of the night, each with three men closely bunched for the honors. Six players in the game finished with five points difference between the first and sixth place man in the scoring parade.

The three top men were with the newly crowned champions, and spelled the championship margin for the Student Detachment cagers. Top honors of the night went to Walsh of the winners who dropped in six field goals for 12 points. Close on his heels were two teammates, Morgan with 11 points and DeSpaio with ten as the trio accounted for 33 of the team's 38 points.

Falling one point behind the Student Detachment leaders came the 356th Squadron trio with Hester setting the pace with three field goals and three donation tosses for nine points. Cotton followed Hester with a trio of field goals and a pair of donation tosses for eight points while McCullum flipped in three field goals and toed the foul line for another basket for seven points as this trio accounted for 24 for the loser's 31 points.

An all-star team will be named from the tournament to play the high scoring Winged Commandos, the hot shot post ball club. The team has not been named, or has the date for the game with the Winged Commandos been set.

Juan Zurita Takes Lightweight Title By Defeating Sam Angott

HOLLYWOOD, March 8. (AP) — Discouraged by a split - decision loss to Luther (Slugger) White here last summer and inability to get a lightweight championship bout, Juan Zurita returned to his native Mexico City, determined not to box in the United States again.

Today he holds the NBA title. He whipped the clever, rugged and stout-hearted Sammy Angott last night in Hollywood baseball park. It marked the first time in Sammy's long career that he had lost a fight at the lightweight limit.

But Sammy lost, and he lost by a wide margin. After the first round, when Zurita seemed puzzled by the titleholder's sytle of attack, the Mexican settled down, took the aggressive, and beat the Pennsylvania Italian to the punch through the next 14 rounds.

It was not an especially good fight. The 11,300 spectators clamored for more action and late in the contest Referee Mushy Callahan implored the fighters to speed up things. It was not Zurita's fault, however, that there were not more exchanges. Angott clinched after nearly every lead, and in the infighting, where usually he excels, he came out second best.

Angott looked nothing like the champion who came out here last fall and slammed Slugger White all over the ring in the same ball park to win every one of the 15 rounds. He was away off in his timing and he landed very few clean and solid punches.

That was partly due to Zurita's southpaw stance and his ability to keep Angott off balance, block his left hooks and uppercuts, and counter with rights to the head and body. The fight followed that pattern all the way from the second to the finish and there was little doubt of the outcome as early as the tenth.

The gross for last night's outdoor fight was $36,000, the net $31,000. Angott was guaranteed $17,500 and Zurita 17½ per cent of the net.

Sports Roundup

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, March 9—It isn't the holdouts as much as the holdups that are worrying baseball club owners . . . The demands of players have risen so that some minor leagues advocate lifting the salary limits so they can load their squads up to the player limit . . . At Buffalo John Stiglmeer recently figured out that if he paid 19 players all they wanted, he'd have a monthly payroll of $10,000 in a league with a $8,000 limit . . . And for that matter, the International league even has three umpire holdouts . . . The Houston gun club, which ran trapshoots every Sunday for 28 years, has shut down. No ammunition.

Track Meet Is Slated Here

Four High School Teams To Compete

Track teams from Tahoka and Idalou have indicated intentions of entering the practice meet Friday afternoon at Chapman Field with the Levelland Lobos and the Lubbock Westerners, it was announced today by Lubbock athletic officials.

It is early in the track season, and none of the four squads have had must chance to work out with the track boys and Friday's "get together" will be only a practice scrimmage. Points will not be counted on the outcome of the meet.

E. J. "Pinkey" Lowrey, athletic director of Lubbock schools, said Wednesday that any other squads in the area who wish to take part in the track work out are urged to do so.

Coach Marlin "Shorty" Hayhurst, Lubbock track coach, has had a number of his boys working out for some time, but the bulk of the experienced men for the track squad comes from the Westerner's District 1-AA basketball champions and have had but little time to limber up for track.

Just what the others will have has not been learned, but they have been held back by basketball playing and have just started track work, but a good meet is expected to be unreeled with possibly some other teams entered before meet time Friday.

The meet will get started about 4 o'clock Friday afternoon.

To move an American armored division with its approximately 3,700 vehicles by rail, 75 trains and 2,700 cars are needed.

Girls' Volleyball Team Is Organized

With physical education classes at Texas Tech, and maybe a few games with school teams of this area, planned as opposition, the Lubbock High school girls volleyball squad was chosen Wednesday. Eighteen girls are working out for places on the team.

The team will play in exhibition games, and will take no part in Interscholastic league tournaments.

The girls selected at the high school include Virginia Skiles, Betty Nance, Wanda Gail Tyson, Margaret Grizzle, Cordelia Ogden, Quepha Rawls, Aliene Hilton, Lola Brothers, Jean Popock, Jannette Click, Geraldine Cook, Dimples Peek, Merle Stewart, Eva Hope, Norma Waldin, Nancy Rea, Jean Isabell and Wanda Jo Martin.

These girls have been playing after school for the past week to get into shape for the battles with Texas Tech. Mrs. Hancock is wanting to arrange for the high school girls to play match games with out-of-town teams.

Last Monday a team under Merle Stewart won two straight games from Aliene Hilton's team, which is the only game competition seen this year by the girls.

The girls have been playing volleyball most of the year during their physical education classes, but have had no opportunity to test their strength against outside opposition.

Note to the lovers of high-brow music:

Frank Sinatra's net profit is running about the same as the New York Metropolitan Opera company's net deficit.

FROM a purely financial standpoint, it is interesting and even pleasant to note that it is harder on the average Jap to lose the war than it is on the average American to win it.

During 1944, 80 per cent of Japan's national income—about $13,800,000,000—will be spent on the Nip war against us and, as a result, the little so-and-so's are having to dig deep in order to pay the bill.

Jap taxes make ours look like nothing at all. Tojo's chumps pay 200 per cent on amusements; 70 per cent on hard and soft drinks; 39 per cent on tobacco. Cosmetics bring in very little taxes in Japan, because, since the beginning of the war, they have been practically unobtainable there.

Additional information trickling in from Japan via the underground is even more interesting, because it has a greater bearing on the fighting, itself.

According to reports received in New York, the iron-handed Jap censorship hasn't been entirely successful and the man in the Tokyo street has learned smatterings about our successes in various Pacific battles, starting with Guadalcanal and extending through to the Marshalls stroke.

As a result, these reports say, the Japs are becoming restless and downhearted.

These reports are given additional credence by Japanese radio broadcasts released by the Tojo government for home consumption. One recently monitored in this country contained this statement:

"We know that Imperial headquarters communiques are released only after a careful check of the circumstances. They are absolutely true. No one must doubt them. That anyone should not believe them is offensive and a crime."

This indicates that Jap authorities have whiffed the smoke of smouldering fires of doubt among the Nipponese populace and are attempting to stop pessimistic talk by a propaganda of fear.

THERE is some belief in Washington quarters that the American public will not do as good a Victory Garden and home canning job this year as it did last. Some of those in authority point out that Americans are great "faddists," but are as quick to drop innovations as they are to take them up.

This is undeniably true, and it may be there will be fewer Victory Gardens and home canning bees in 1944 than in 1943. But our guess is that this year will find more backyard production and more kitchen preservation than was the case during the past welvemonth.

Perhaps fewer families will have their own small gardens And perhaps fewer housewives will do their own canning. than was the case in 1943.

But 1944 is going to see much more co-operative effort in growing and preserving foodstuffs and the actual total raised and canned is almost sure to surpass that of last year.

People all over the country found that large gardens, co-operatively planted, tended and paid for by groups of families did better in ratio of cost and work required than individual family gardens.

They also found that groups of canners had less spoilage, did better and faster work, than the same number of canners working individually.

This year, therefore, there will be more "communal" efforts everywhere which, in The Plainsman's judgment, will be better all around.

BUT whether people stick to small, individual gardens and their correspondingly small canning projects at home; or whether there is more group work along those lines, the U. S. must continue a successful food-growing campaign, separate and distinct from professional growing and canning.

The amount of foodstuffs grown and canned by "amateurs" in this country last year may not have made the difference between plenty and hunger, but it did make the difference between plenty and shortage.

Whether he took part in a Victory Garden, or in canning, during 1943, every American is better off today than he would have been had the year not seen so much fruitful labor along food production lines.

We simply must go ahead this year as we did last; increase, if possible, the foods thus produced. Otherwise, we'll be in for trouble in the winter of 1945.

Even if the European theater of war should be closed by a United Nations victory tomorrow, we'd still need 1944 Victory Gardens and home canning in a great, big way.

Until long after the Japs capitulate—which is expected to be at least 18 months after Hitlerism folds up—this country will need to raise all the extra food it possibly can raise. We're going to have a big Army and Navy scattered over the world for years to come. Our allies are going to need food badly—not only for their troops, but for their civilians, as well. The unfortunates of the world—the peoples of the Axis-overrun lands—must be given enough food to keep bodies and souls together until they can re-order their lives and start anew.

So if you're thinking of not having a Victory Garden, and not doing any canning, this year, think again.

These projects cannot be dropped now!

EVERY once-in-awhile, some organization pops up to "demand" that the Dies Committee on Un-American Activities be disbanded. To the uninitiated citizen, it may seem that there is a good deal of dissatisfaction with the House investigatory committee, headed by Congressman Martin Dies, of Orange, Texas. It may also seem that the committee's work has been largely done, since un-American activities are at a low ebb and since the FBI and kindred services are functioning so efficiently.

But the situation takes on another color, altogether, when the citizen looks into the organizations and indivlduals who would like to see the Dies committee scrapped. Without exception, those crying the loudest against the Dies committee are left-wingers, if not out-and-out Reds, whose objects, principles and activities are offensive to all who believe in the American Way of Life.

Latest organization to howl for disbanding the Dies committee is the National Lawyers Guild, which is composed of barristers who, at the best, may be described as "parlor pinks." The guild is stacked with wild-eyed attorneys, many of whom are only one jump away from Europe and who worship at the shrine of European "isms" which are in direct conflict with the ideals of rank-and-file Americans.

In our book, the best recommendation the Dies committee possibly can have comes from its opposition. The committee should be continued if for no other reason than it is an "insurance policy" against the running amok of those who would force our country into complete national socialism — or worse.

Blood Runs Cold

BY ANN DEMAREST

(Copyright, 1944, By The Associated Press).

YESTERDAY: Chris and Dirck drive out on Long Island in a blizzard. They see Richard's mother and break the news of Richard's death. The storm has cut off communication.

Chapter 32

Back To The City

Once or twice I thought she was going to speak, her lips opened almost forming words, then with a half sigh she pressed her teeth against her lower lip without saying anything. In a few minutes a nurse appeared, a dour old soul, who looked at us suspiciously.

"Mr. MacDonald will see you," she said curtly.

We followed her up a wide, unlighted stairway to a room directly at the head of it, a room so large that even the massive walnut bed against the far wall seemed dwarfed.

I knew, of course, that Mr. MacDonald was ill, but I wans't expecting to see the frail, wasted figure that lay there on the bed.

"Friends of Richard's," he said in a high, quavery voice, the voice we'd heard down in the parlor.

He stretched a wrinkled, bony hand out to us. "Friends of Richard's," he repeated. "Why doesn't he come home? Why doesn't Joan come home to me?"

I felt my knees go weak. Dirck put an arm across my shoulders.

The poor old man hadn't been told, but it was probably better. He seemed close to death himself.

"I'm worried about Joan," he went on. "She isn't happy." Then suddenly his voice gained strength. "That man—that man—he means no good to her. I know."

Gasping, he turned his head on the pillow and as the nurse hurried to him, she motioned us to leave.

In the hall I clutched Dirck's arm. "What did he mean? Who was he talking about?"

We looked at each other, then Dirck shook his head and we started downstairs. At the foot of the stairway Mrs. MacDonald met us, and after a few words we told her good afternoon. Again I had the impression that she was going to say something, but as we left she only warned us about the snowy roads.

It was a relief to get away from that house, even though the path back to the car was enough to daunt a mountain climber. The wind was howling in the trees so we couldn't talk. And the path was only wide enough for one, so I just stumbled blindly after Dirck, cold and miserable. Snow got into my galoshes and down my neck. It melted under my collar and ran down my back in icy trickles. At last we crawled gratefully into the car.

It took Dirck a couple of minutes to get started, because the engine was cold. He seemed nervous and impatient. As we drove down the road he said, "I'm afraid we've been wasting time, Chris, I had no idea Mr. MacDonald was so ill." And then he added thoughtfully, "That is quite a house."

We'd gone half a mile or so when we came to a sharp curve in the road where the snow had drifted. Dirck raced the engine, but we stuck on an upgrade. We got out of the car and worked frantically, but the tires couldn't get any traction. Dirck seemed like a man possessed.

"We've got to get back," he kept repeating.

The snow was so thick and wet that it blinded us and the back road we were on was completely deserted. There didn't seem a chance in a thousand that anyone would come along on such a day. It was after four o'clock and snowing harder than ever. No one in their right mind would come out in a car in such weather.

Finally I got back in the car and Dirck left to go back to the MacDonalds' for help. I waited and waited, cold, damp, and anxious about Dirck. It seemed finally as though he'd had time to make the trip half a dozen times.

'Pretty Jittery'

Then I heard a shout and Dirck ran up with a strange man and a boy and I wondered how many servants they had at the MacDonalds'. Finally the three of them managed to get the car started and we were on our way again.

"A funny thing happened," Dirck told me as we got back to the comparative safety of the main road. "I went back to the MacDonalds' and couldn't get an answer to my knock. And I could swear I saw that old colored man looking out at me from the parlor window. It made me pretty jittery, I can tell you, when I saw him and he made no move to let me in. After all, we'd just left the house. Where was Mrs. MacDonald, do you suppose?"

I looked at him. "Good heavens, Dirck."

"Anyway," he continued, "I went on down the road to a farmhouse and got them to come back with me."

It was strange. Certainly Mrs. MacDonald wouldn't have refused to help us. Particularly since she'd mentioned the bad roads. I thought it over during the drive back to town, but got nowhere in my own inimitable fashion.

By the time we crossed the bridge the streets were fairly free of snow, so we made good time going downtown. Dirck was pretty much upset and when finally we reached 19 George Street he breathed a sigh of relief. The shop was brightly lighted and there were several policemen on the sidewalk in front of the house. Dirck turned to me and our eyes met.

Something had gone wrong while we were out on the Island.

Sergeant Long was standing in the doorway of the shop. When he spotted the yellow car he hurried over to us.

"What's up?" Dirck asked in a strained voice.

"Plenty," the Sergeant said. "We aren't through with this yet. He's skipped, but we'll find him."

Dirck's hands dropped from the wheel, but he said nothing. His eyes were fixed intently on the Sergeant.

"Who's skipped?" I asked, pulling off my wet gloves.

"Whitefield."

"Whitefield!" I dropped the gloves.

The Sergeant rested an arm on the door of the car. "Yup, he beat it this morning. Two detectives traced him as far as his studio and from there on they drew a blank. He left there and they lost him in the crowd. They called me about it, but I didn't really get suspicious until he didn't turn up tonight." His voice rose. "I thought he was getting funny like that damn fool, Kincaid. He's been playing games with the detective all day. Half a dozen times Norton lost him, and Kincaid was doing it just for fun."

"So he's gone," Dirck said absently.

The Sergeant nodded. "Yes, and his car's gone, too. He made a clean getaway."

"I should think anyone would recognize him in that overcoat," I said. "It covered him like a shroud."

"Oh, he was smart," the Sergeant said. "Everyone got used to seeing him in that overcoat and he knew it. So he left it behind and wore a tan topcoat. You'd better come in, it's cold," he added.

Arctic Explorer

As Dirck and I got out of the car Mr. Kimball came to the door of the shop and invited us in for coffee. Dirck said that would be fine. We could go out for dinner later. Then I saw Mr. Kimball looking at me with curiosity and some amusement. I was dripping wet and gotten up like an Arctic explorer with Dirck's automobile robe still around my shoulders.

"You go upstairs and change, young lady," he said. "This evening I'll have Patrick build a fire in your room. You shouldn't have been out in weather like this."

I hurried upstairs, too tired and too excited to worry much about being soaked to the skin. But I took a hot shower and put on my blue knitted frock to ward off pneumonia and went back to the shop.

Tim Lathrop had come in while I was upstairs. He was standing by the window, looking out on the street, paying no apparent attention to Dirck and the Sergeant, arguing heatedly over something at Mr. Kimball's desk. He drew up a chair for me by the fireplace.

"I don't believe it." Dirck was saying positively. "He'd have no reason to harm Joan. Why, he barely knew her. Did he, Mr. Kimball?"

"I never even saw them speak to each other." Mr. Kimball said. "He can't be the one you're after, Sergeant."

"Who am I after, then?" the Sergeant roared. "Mrs. Evans keeps saying it's you."

"So you've told me."

"This won't get us anywhere, Dirck said hastily.

"Well, tell me why Whitefield is missing," the Sergeant snapped, tilting his chair back against the bookshelves. "I gave everyone in this house instructions not to leave unless they went to business, or left word where they were going. Not that anyone paid attention to my orders," he added with a sharp

FINLAND PICKED THE WRONG HORSE

As much as the American people admire Finland, there is no escaping the fact that the Finns occupy a bed of their own making in their attempts to negotiate peace with Russia.

There was no question as to where American sympathies lay when Finland was attacked by the Soviet before the outbreak of the global war. Those sympathies were wholly with Finland. Most Americans still share the opinion that Russia's attack at that time was unprovoked and cowardly. The Finns have no cause for love of Russia. They have every cause for hate.

But when the Finns decided to cast their lot with the Nazis in the present war, they did so with full knowledge that the consequences would be serious if they had chosen the losing side. To them it must have looked then that they had picked a sure winner. From the sidelines, it must have seemed that the Axis couldn't lose. So the Finns went into the war expecting to reap the rewards of victory.

They gambled, expecting to win. Instead, they have lost. They are faced with the genuine tragedy of defeat. Americans sympathize with them, of course.

But there isn't much that Americans can or should do in behalf of the Finns now. Finland took its chance. It must expect the consequences for having chosen the wrong side.

Why Mrs. Von Opel was freed recently is something you probably will never know . . . Oh, that Louise Atwill is a one, isn't she? When the colyum first reported she would marry an officer—she practically swore on Bibles she didn't even know him. So now she admits she'll marry him in a few days.

Mrs. Elliott Roosevelt is an adult, of course. When we long distance phoned and said: "The rumors in Washington insist you are divorcing Elliott — a man named Kimble claims he is your lawyer and that a property settlement's been arranged," she said: "My lawyer's not named Kimble. I don't know anyone by that name, I'm not getting a divorce—this week, at any rate" . . . "Okay," we told her, "I'll forget about it, then" . . . "No," she replied, "I won't lie to you. You were nice enough to call me about it. Just say I'm not getting any divorce lately—but where's there's fire there's always smoke."

Introducing Sgt. Steve Major, Who Gets Along All Right

Brawny Yank Armorer Philosophical About War

BY ERNIE PYLE

Journal War Correspondent

IN ITALY, March 9 (By Wireless)—Sgt. Steve Major is 6½ feet and weighs 222 pounds stripped. Despite that weight he looks slim, because he is so tall.

Steve is an armorer in the 47th Bombardment Group. He is 23, and comes from Monessen, Pa. He is good-looking and good-natured, and always has something to say. As he rides along in a truck he'll shake his fist at some tough-looking crew chief and yell at him, "You ugly so-and-so!" Nobody could possibly get mad at him.

ERNIE PYLE

Steve has been in the Army nearly six years, and is an excellent soldier. He quit high school and enlisted when he was 17, and served one shift in Panama. When his first three years were up, he stayed out just six days and then re-enlisted on the condition they send him to California. They did. Steve likes to see the world.

I asked him if he would stay in the Army after the war. He said, "No, the Army's all right, but I've had enough of it. I've got 3,000 coconuts in the bank, and I'm going to get some education after the war and be a salesman."

"Yeah, I'll bet," said another soldier. "You look like a 30-year man to me."

He's Philosophical

Steve has a good, calm philosophy about everything. He is even philosophical about his part in the war. He says, "I tried to be a pilot—too big. Tried to be a gunner—too big. So I'm an armorer. Okay, I'm happy. What the hell."

He says further, "This job is easy. We work hard for a little while every day, and then the rest of the day we don't do much. Any civilian could do this work after a little training. It's just like a regular job, only we're away from home.

"It's not like last winter in Tunisia when we lived on British rations and damned near froze to death and got raided every day. Everything's different now. We're living good here. Why, this is better than it was back home in camp."

STEVE doesn't go on missions. He's so big he'd be in the way. The plane of which he was armorer was lost several weeks ago, so now he helps out the other boys. He sleeps in a tent right out on the line, in order to be near his job.

Steve is cool in the pinches. They tell about one thing he did over here. His plane came back one day with its full load of bombs. When they dropped the unexploded bombs down to the ground, he discovered one of the fuses was on.

A few of the fuses that day had been set for 45 seconds' delay, but he didn't know how much of the 45 seconds had been used up before he made his discovery. The natural impulse would have been to run as fast and as far as he could before the bomb went off.

But Steve just sat there on the ground and unscrewed the fuse with his hands and then tossed it aside just as it went off—harmlessly.

Sergeant Major loves to travel. And I believe he gets more out of it than any soldier I've met. You can drop him down at a new field in any old country, and within a week he'll know half the natives in the adjoining village.

Steve's parents were Austrian and Yugoslavian, and he speaks four Slav dialects. In Panama he learned Spanish, and over here he writes down 20 new Italian words every night and memorizes them. He gets along fine in Italian.

On his afternoons off he gets a train or bus and goes out by himself seeing the country. Invariably he gets into conversations with the people.

HALF the time he winds up going to somebody's home for a meal. He says, "I've been in rich homes and poor homes over here. These are pretty good people, but they're so damned emotional. They get into the wildest arguments with each other over the most trivial things. But they're good-hearted."

Steve isn't obsessed like the average soldier about getting home. He takes the war as it comes, and doesn't fuss. He'd like to see home again, but he doesn't want to stay even when he gets there.

His big worry is that he'll meet some woman who'll have him married to her before he knows what's happened. He doesn't want to be tied down. He wants to travel and be free and roam around the world, talking to people, as soon as this little bombing job of his is finished.

Feed
PIG RATION
Today, more than ever before, it is extremely important to speed up growth and keep mortality down in young pigs. Feed is too precious to waste on the laggards and pork is too valuable to lose before it goes to market. Stanton's 20% pig ration provides extra protection against both. In hundreds of hog lots, it has consistently improved pig health, speeded up growth and reduced mortality because it gives little pigs the same kind of boost that chick starter gives to baby chicks. It is being fed widely to sows before farrowing and—preferably in "creeps" as illustrated—to pigs from 3-3 weeks of age on up.

MANAMAR
In Stanton's 20% Pig Ration supplies the hard-to-get feeding essentials—fish proteins, food minerals and vitamins, including the important Vitamin B "Complex," supplied by patented "B-G Plus."
* * *
ManAmar and B-G Plus have been developed and are produced in the laboratories of Philip R. Park, famed livestock nutrition authority. These laboratories have approved the formula for Stanton's 20% Pig Ration. Let the records of users tell the rest of the story. Get all the facts today.

Disposition Of Fleets To Wait

LONDON, March 9. (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill said today that disposition of "enemy or ex-enemy" fleets had best be left until the end of the war, but confirmed President Roosevelt's announcement that consideration was being given to reinforcement of the Soviet Navy by Italian or other warships.

Answering a flood of questions, some of which asked if such announcements should not be made in concert by London and Washington in the future, Churchill indicated to the house of Commons that the Italian warships still were being operated by the Italians under the old arrangements.

Subject For Discussion

"As President Roosevelt has said the question of the future employment and disposal of the Italian fleet has been a subject of some discussion and in particular consideration has been given to the immediate reinforcement of the Soviet Navy, either from Anglo-American or Italian resources," he said.

He added no details to these discussions other than to say that at present no change was contemplated in the arrangements with Italian naval authorities under which Italian ships and crews take part in the common struggle against the enemy in theatres where they now operate.

Diplomatic Backing For Tito By U. S., Britain Indicated

WASHINGTON, March 9. (AP)—Signs that the British government is about to back Marshal Josip Broz (Tito) with diplomatic as well as military support multiplied here today with the disclosure that King Peter of Yugoslavia is expected to go to London soon.

Responsible sources said the Allies have gone as far as they can in sending Tito military aid without prejudicing their relations with the Yugoslav government-in-exile, toward which the partisan leader has declared his hostility.

The government-in-exile, now in Cairo, is headed by Premier Bozidar Purich and its war minister is General Draja Mihailovic, leader of the main Serbian forces in Yugoslavia.

Both Prime Minister Churchill of England and the State department here have expressed strong approval of Tito's persistent battles with the Nazi occupiers, and from time to time the question has arisen whether Russia, Britain and the United States might extend political recognition to Tito.

Indications here are that the main project at the moment is to secure some kind of rapprochement between Tito and the young king. This undoubtedly would involve dropping at least some of the members of the king's government in Cairo.

Two of the cabinet members also are going to London, original seat of the government-in-exile, and are expected to be there, London dispatches said, when Undersecretary of State Edward R. Stettinius arrives.

Daily Markets

Stock Market

AVERAGES REACH HIGH

NEW YORK, March 9 (AP)—A little profit taking today stemmed the stock market rally that had pushed the averages to their highest level in eight months.

Narrow irregularity persisted at the start. Scattered strong spots cropped up after midday but losses were numerous near the close. Transfers were around 900,000 shares versus 1,692,575 in the previous session which were the largest since Nov. 8.

White Rock, Wilson and Co. and Johns-Manville were among issues posting peaks for 1944. Bids came in for Armour, Cudahy, N. Y. Central, Southern Pacific, Westinghouse and Montgomery Ward. Behind most of the time were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, Texas Co., Goodyear, Douglas Aircraft, Sperry, Anaconda, Southern Railway, Dow Chemical, Eastman Kodak and Du Pont.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, March 9 (AP)—After getting off to a firm start when short-covering stimulated an upturn in rye, all grains backed down in later trading today and closed with only minor price changes. The initial strength of rye was based on rumors the grain would be used in industrial alcohol production.

Interest in wheat was small, although a commission house with southwestern connections supported the July contract. Movement of the bread cereal to market has decreased. The Oklahoma state crop report said wheat production in that state might be around 60,000,000 bushels. The December 1 department of agriculture forecast was for 46,000,000 bushels.

At the close wheat was unchanged to ¼ higher, May $1.70 ⅝, oats were ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher, May 80 ⅝, rye was unchanged to ⅛ higher, May $1.22 ⅝.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, March 9 (AP)—The cotton market turned reactionary in quiet trading today as profit taking and hedge selling met only scale-down trade price fixing and commission house buying.

Traders believed the market had discounted large government textile buying and there was some sentiment that the rising prices would bring out a larger volume of cotton from the loan.

Futures closed 5 to 25 cents a bale higher.

whereupon he found another and kept up his shooting until the same thing happened to that one.

There wasn't another rifle handy, but the enemy was threatening to overrun the position, so Kelly picked up some 60 mm mortar shells, pulled the safety pins, and used the shells for grenades, killing at least five Germans.

Protected Withdrawal

"When it became imperative that the house be evacuated," the citation continues, "Corporal Kelly, despite his sergeant's injunctions, volunteered to hold the position until the remainder of the detachment could withdraw. As the detachment moved out, Corporal Kelly was observed deliberately loading and firing a rocket launcher from the window. He was successful in covering the withdrawal of the unit, and later injoining his own organization."

The citation ends there, with a bow to Kelly's "fighting determination and intrepidity in battle." But "Commando" hadn't stopped there. The boys learned later that, after firing the last bazooka shell, he slipped out of the storehouse, and started making cautious but speedy steps away from there, down a hill.

And what did he find? An abandoned 37 mm anti-tank gun, with shells. So as long as the shells lasted, he stayed with that gun, too.

Crossed Rapido Three Times

That was at Altavilla. Kelly was at San Pietro, too, as a corporal — the citation for the earlier actions was written while he was a corporal—and then as section sergeant. He crossed the Rapido river three times as a platoon sergeant, but had to come back each time because of overwhelming enemy strength. He has fought at Cassino, also. He's had a total of 70 days of active combat, and his only injuries have been a scraped nose and some tiny cuts on his hands from shell fragments. Officially he's credited with killing 40 Germans. Unofficially, he has become a legend of the Italian campaign.

His mother, Mrs. Irene Kelly, Pittsburgh, has six other sons in the fighting forces, too. One of "Commando's" brothers is in England, another in the South Pacific, a third in the Merchant Marine "somewhere," and three are in this country.

TVA Operation Is Criticized

WASHINGTON, March 9 (AP)—Acting Chairman McKellar (D-Tenn) of the Senate appropriations committee leveled a broad attack against the administration of the Tennessee Valley authority today, charging the giant government-owned agency with an "outrageous" discrimination in electric rates and with various expenditures unauthorized by Congress.

His charges were set forth in the printed record of hearings on the $8,500,000,000 independent offices appropriation bill, to which McKellar is advocating an amendment that would tighten congressional control over TVA funds.

TVA Chairman Criticized

Directing much of his criticism at TVA Chairman David E. Lilienthal, McKellar declared Lilienthal used TVA funds for newspaper advertising and made numerous public speeches in a "contemptible" effort to unseat him as senator.

Lilienthal vehemently denied that, the record shows, and all the other allegations during the course of the executive committee hearings. He declared his differences with McKellar concerned legislative policy alone.

The rate discrimination allegation, which the record reveals McKellar carried to President Roosevelt last December, concerned rates charged the Aluminum company of America and a competing firm, the Reynolds Metals company of Richmond, Va.

The rate differential, McKellar charged, cost the Reynolds firm approximately $7,000,000.

After McKellar's complaint to President Roosevelt—the text of which was not shown in the record—Lilienthal submitted to the late Marvin H. McIntyre, presidential secretary, a memorandum stating the Reynolds electric rate was two-tenths of a mill higher than that charged Alcoa, but that this was due to technical considerations and was "in no sense discriminatory."

The appropriations chairman introduced figures showing TVA had a net cash return of $53,700,000 from power operations for the 10-year period ended June 30, 1943, but that none of it went into the general funds of the Treasury.

Army's "Goon Gun"

mm. guns (which have four times the range and outweigh the 4.2 some 30 times), and to have destroyed the battery with 12 rounds.

The mortar is also a prime reserve weapon should the enemy provoke a gas war in the face of President Roosevelt's warning that gas attack will meet with retaliation in kind. General Waitt says the "Goon" can—if need arises—place nearly two tons of chemical agent "such as phosgene" on a target within two minutes — "enough gas to put completely out action every unprotected man in an area of a quarter of a million square yards."

The gun weighs about 300 pounds, can be dismantled for quick movement by its crew and is rifled like a field gun in contrast to the old smooth-bore stokes mortar. This provides tremendous accuracy.

"Obliteration" Of Cities Justified

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

When word came through that our Yankee airmen had dumped 350,000 incendiaries and 10,000 high-explosive bombs into an already shattered Berlin I was pondering the implications of the protest by some groups in America and Britain against so-called "obliteration" bombing of German cities.

A wise-cracking editor called across the room to me, "that ought to burn the fuehrer up." Bad puns sometimes carry great truths, and I promptly seized on this fresh bombing as a yardstick against which to measure the reasonableness of the plea that Hitlerite towns be spared. What's the justification for the assault on Berlin?

Chief Production Center

Well, there are two prime reasons, either of which is of vast military importance. One is that capital is among Europe's greatest industrial cities and therefore one of Hitler's chief centers for war production. The other and even more important reason is that Berlin is the hub of Germany's huge network of railways, and prior to the war the reich was operating a greater mileage than any other country in the world, in proportion to area.

Berlin is a bottle-neck for most of the main lines running across not only Germany but Europe. Obviously this bottle-neck renders Hitler highly vulnerable.

Has Military Objectives

Another important point about Berlin—and this is true of some other cities—is that the entire metropolis is filled from circumference to center with military objectives. If you wipe out these objectives you must just about destroy the town.

So with its railways and widespread industries Berlin is one vast military target. When American and British bombers attack the Nazi capital they aren't trying to bomb objectives which aren't of military importance. Most certainly they aren't hunting civilians. I know from personal acquaintance with their methods that they studiously try to avoid non-military bombing.

look at me.

"I took her out with me this afternoon," Dirck said quickly.

The Sergeant rested his feet on the desk. "Whitefield was running away. An innocent man doesn't leave buildings by fire escapes for no good reason. He found he was being followed this morning and ran upstairs to his studio, locked the door and left by the fire escape."

"Where is his studio?" Dirck asked.

"It's that place on West Tenth Street under the name of Leon Perry."

Dirck raised his eyebrows. "Where Miss Wells went yesterday?"

"Sure," the Sergeant said. "She went around to warn him. Perry is supposed to be a friend of Whitefield's, according to the old man who runs the apartments, but no one in the building has ever seen this guy Perry."

"And that's where he works?"

"Yup. It's all full of paints and stuff."

So Mr. Whitefield had another studio. Somehow it didn't sound right to me. I thought rapidly. "What exposure does his place on Tenth Street have, Sergeant?"

The Sergeant frowned. "The house is on the south side of the street," he said slowly, "and his studio is in the back. By gosh, it's southern!" He jumped to his feet. "That's right, Miss Howarth, you said yesterday that artists always have northern exposure." He patted me on the shoulder and reached for the telephone.

COLLEGE STATION, March 9 (AP)—April 21, anniversary of the battle of San Jacinto, will find some 10,000 Texas Aggies gathering in more than 600 separate musters for meetings over the world. It's been a custom since 1903 that Texas A&M college ex-students gather on that day.

The tradition arose from a student incident on April 21, 1903, when the college Cadet Corps held a protest strike because the day was not observed.

NIGHT RATES ON LONG DISTANCE BEGIN AT 6

Starting March 1, night rates on long distance telephone calls go into effect at 6 p.m., instead of 7 o'clock.

Moving the night rates forward an hour will be a help to the boys in service, most of whom have only the evening hours for their calls home.

But even so, the load on the lines is so heavy that there still will be delays on many calls. Your help will still be needed in making only necessary long distance calls, and in holding those necessary calls as brief as you can.
